NOTICE—Any erroneous reflections upon the character, standing or reputation of any person, firm or corporation which may appear in the columns of The News will be gladly corrected upon its being brought to the attention of the publisher.

With the great opportunities of 1927 before us, the Clarendon Chamber of Commerce has a tremendous task before it. President Patman and Secretary Holcomb have the right to expect full co-operation from the citizenship of this community in forwarding the work projected by the organization. Let us not fail them. We owe it to ourselves.

Clarendon's Municipal Band is emerging from its winter training under Director Lindsey in splendid tune and greatly increased ability. Our band has brought much honor and credit to Clarendon and the city should realize much more from its efforts in 1927. The band is worth three times its cost to our business men and The News hopes to see it supported more liberally and more generally by our citizenship.

Notice of election of a mayor for the city of Clarendon appears in another column of this issue of The News. The News feels that Mayor Taylor should be re-elected as we believe no good purpose could be served by a change in administrations at this time. If Mayor Taylor will accept the office again, he should be re-elected unanimously. He has made Clarendon one of the best mayors she has ever had.

Ingratitude is one of the greatest curses of the world. Not so long ago we learned of a fellow who was under great obligations to a certain friend because of business accommodations and because of owing his daughter's education largely to this friend. Came a time when he had opportunity to stand for his friend or play the traitor to his interests. He played the traitor. Now he has the balance of this life and maybe the eternity of life to come in which to be haunted by memories of his perfidy. Ingratitude is the basest of sins.

A few days ago Clarendon was honored by the presence and appearance of one of the outstanding ministers of the South, when Dr. George Truett, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Dallas came here and delivered a sermon at the Baptist Church of this city. Dr. Truett has won for himself a large place in the hearts and in the esteem of Texas people by reason of his unassuming life of Christian service, and his sincere tolerance. He believes that the Baptist faith is the best faith in the wide world, but he extends a brotherly hand to those of other faiths, and bids them God-speed in their work for the Kingdom of God. The coming of such men to our city is an event really worth while, and the great congregation which heard his message will long remember its teachings plus the life that illumined its phrases.

ANNUAL SPRING CLEAN-UP APPROACHES

With the advent of March we are reminded that soon the time for Clarendon's annual Spring Clean-Up campaign will be upon us. As the warm days come around we should begin the cleaning of our premises, piling the rubbish in convenient places for ready removal when the city wagons come for it.

Clarendon boasts of its natural beauty and civic attractiveness, and it is up to us to keep up its reputation for cleanliness as well.

A clean city is a happy, prosperous city.

CLARENDON CONTINUES TO GROW AND PROSPER

In spite of those persons who feel that the loss of Clarendon College is an irreparable injury to this community, many of the leading business men of Clarendon declare that the town and community will continue to grow and prosper as it has heretofore done.

The News is inclined to the latter view. It is unlikely that anyone will contend that the city's great building program of the past fifteen or twenty months was caused by the presence of Clarendon College. Not that we do not realize to the fullest extent the worth of the school in a cultural sense to this community, but we believe that since the agitation among the members of the Northwest Texas Conference, we have lost support where we had a right to expect it, and any shrinkage in student body is directly chargeable to this lack of conference-wide support. Our great building program came to us by reason of the natural growth and progress of the Panhandle, and it will continue on the same basis.

The Spring of 1927 will see the greatest advance this section has made within the memory of man, and Clarendon will get her share of this growth, because her citizenship is made up of men and women who refuse to be hampered by circumstances which are mainly sentimental in their scope.

Clarendon citizens and business firms have mapped out new building enterprises for 1927, and they are being put into execution with a faith in the future of the Panhandle of Texas—a faith that will not be denied.

Clarendon continues to grow and prosper, in spite of any psychological set-back, which is unreal in its practical effect.

BEING INDEPENDENT

No man can go through life living entirely independent of others with whom he is thrown in daily contact.

No woman can live sufficiently alone in our present complex civilization to be wholly independent of her neighbors and friends.

Yet we find men and women who take the attitude that whatever they do concerns no one else and who believe that they should be permitted to follow solely the dictates of their own judgment.

When a reformer or a radical agitator starts out to rule the world, he finds certain established rules and practices developed because of the inborn traits of human nature, and he can not do just as he pleases.

Individuals find themselves in the same plight when they attempt to go their own way without regard for their rights or wishes of others.

Adopting a policy of respecting the opinions of others, and at the same time being firm in your own convictions, need not crush in your initiative or kill ambition.

Some of the most courteous people are at the same time the most pronounced in their own views, yet they do not attempt to enforce them on others, neither do they try to travel their willful way through life, stamping out all who disagree with them.

Human rights are human rights, the world around, whether it be in the seats of the mighty or the humblest homes of the smallest community.

And where human rights are respected and where people are friendly and considerate of others—that's where we like to live.

That's the kind of a place that attracts desirable people and that's the kind of a place we all want to make our home communities.—Ladonia News.

FAMILY RELIC IS IN HEAD-RICK FAMILY 104 YEARS

Quite by accident, The News stumbled this week on the story of an interesting little antique that is owned by a family of this city. Mr. M. W. Headrick has a small red glazed jug that has been in his family one hundred and four years. It was made in Hawkins County, Tennessee and was given to the present owner's father in 1823. Mr. Headrick's first memory of the jug dates back to his early childhood, when he saw the jug serving the purpose of a candle holder. It sat in a saucer which caught the drippings from the hand dipped candle. Mr. Headrick thinks the jug was made by hand, by a local potter, as were so many of the earthenware articles found in the earlier days in Tennessee. An odd thing about the jug is its size: it holds between a pint and a quart. Mr. Headrick came into the office of The Clarendon News to have the history of the jug put on its own surface in permanent lettering, and in discussing the matter, he told the above story.

COURTHOUSE TANK AND WELL MAKES WAY FOR PROGRESS

Following out the line of progress in all points, the Donley County Commissioners Court ordered the tearing down of the old water tower and windmill that has stood many years service on the Northwest corner of the square. The well had come to be a constant source of trouble and expense and it was thought to be an economy to tear the thing down to make way for a better decorated lawn. City water will be used in all parts of the place. Some of the residents of the city have stated their regret at the loss of the cool water that was obtainable during the summer months.

Yell Leaders Presented Sweaters

This is the first year that C. H. S. has ever had an organized 'pep' squad. As an appreciation of their fine spirit, Mr. Wickline, representative of the Athletic Association, presented Julia Taylor, yell leader, and Miss Helen Beck, Pep Squad sponsor, with beautiful maroon and white sweaters. These sweaters have a tufted 'C' on one side and a megaphone on the other.

In a short talk, Mr. Wickline explained that it was just a few active, wide-awake students that made C. H. S. famous, not the entire student body. At any rate, we all aspire to be yell leaders now.

Basketball Sweaters Ordered

Our basketball girls have selected their sweaters and are anticipating their arrival with much delight. The girls have not been playing any lately because of the soreness occasioned by the vaccination to which the entire squad was subjected at the same time. The sweaters ordered are maroon and white coat sweaters with a tufted 'C' similar to those awarded the football squad.

The following lettered and will receive sweaters: Gladys Noble, captain and guard; Margaret Strawn, forward; Sallie Smith, forward; Delia Barnes, jump center; Frances Chapman, side center; Verna Latson, guard; Maude Bledsoe, guard; and Miss Estelle Wood, coach.

Camp Fire Program Soon

The Camp Fire Girls of the Sacajawea troop are planning to give a forty-five minute program Friday, March 5, at the eighth period in the high school auditorium. All who bring their money will be allowed to cut classes to attend.

This program contains two one-act plays and musical numbers promising full returns for both time and money expended.

Sacajawea Girls Hike 20 Miles

The girls in Miss Stegall's class went on a sunrise breakfast to Gunboat Mountain on Tuesday, February 22. They left town at six-thirty and hiked across a field, thereby losing the road and forcing the group to go farther than if they had not tried to take the short cut. They estimate that on their journey they walked at least twenty miles.

The girls had a wonderful breakfast and several adventures before they were forced to return home. A short business session was held, but as the "Captain" could not "call the house to order" she finally called the prairie to order successfully. This troop is making wonderful progress and having such good times, too, that the girls wish they had been Camp Fire Girls for years.

Clarendon Teachers Meet

Monday afternoon, February 28, the teachers of Clarendon came together in the regular monthly meeting at the high school building.

After preliminary mention of matters of specific interest pertaining to present problems in the Clarendon School System, several interesting papers were presented.

Miss Allison gave arguments for and against free text books. The presented data showed that the majority of states have uniformly in text books used in their respective jurisdiction, and stated that the consensus of opinion is in favor of free texts.

Interscholastic league work, its history, organization, and accomplishments, was discussed by Mrs. Smith.

Stimulated by Mrs. Smith's paper, the teachers held an informal discussion of general training versus specialized training, particularly in the field of athletics. The teachers seemed to feel that the whole group of students should benefit by expert training rather than that the time and effort should be employed for the special training of a few students of outstanding ability in order to produce record makers.

Mrs. Boykin's subject was "Romance Languages in High School," and her report proved to be most interesting, emphasizing the subject especially from the standpoint of the Spanish instructor, since Spanish is taught in the majority of the Texas high schools. Mrs. Boykin's subject was comparatively new to many of her audience and was highly instructive to the group.

Spanish Club

El Jarno met February 18, 1927. Each member answered with the name of a city in Mexico when the roll was called. Interesting curiosities learned that most inventions were passed among the members. Miss Helen Beck gave a very interesting talk on her visit to Old Mexico. Refreshments were served in conclusion.

-C.H.S.-

The Science and Math Club

The main discussion carried on by the Science and Math Club at its last meeting was "Scientific Inventions and How they Came to be Invented." Different students expressed their opinions concerning the subject. All seemed very interested in the discussion. Mr. Wickline talked the remaining part of the period, and greatly broadened the scope of the subject. From the talks made, the members learned that most inventions came about through someone's trying to make his work easier, or because of the necessity of the handier thing. Although sometimes an invention is chanced upon without the inventor realizing what he has discovered, most inventions are the result of long and patient labor undertaken because the inventor feels the need of improvement in his field of work.

Music Club

The Music Club met last Friday evening during the interscholastic period. The program consisted of Indian legends, piano solos, vocal numbers, and a very interesting talk was given by Miss Gibbens. Mr. Lindsey told of the costumes of the Indian tribes that he had seen. The officers of this club feel that the music club is the best similar organization in C. H. S.

BRONCHOS ENTER TRI-CITY MEET FIVE CLUBS HOLD RALLY THURSDAY

CLARENDON HIGH SCHOOL TO HAVE ENTRANTS IN MEET WITH THREE SCHOOLS.

Plans have been crystallizing for the last few days by the coaches and other authorities of the Interscholastic League in this section of the state for a meet to be composed of the prospective contestants for honors in the District meet which will be held in Canyon late in the month of April. The date for this meet has been set for March 12, and the town where the meet will be held has not yet been designated. Memphis Childress and Clarendon will be the three towns represented in this meet. Another and much larger meet is to be held here on March 25th between five towns of the Panhandle in an invitation meet for practice purposes; Amarillo, Claude, Memphis, McLean and Clarendon will be in this meet of five cities. Coach Boykin states that there are twenty boys coming out for the track and field events here and that there is some very excellent material that will need little development to make a real track team from among the Bronchos.

The meet held here on March 26 will include all of the fourteen items set out in the rule book for Interscholastic League. The meet will be held for practice purposes only and the final results will have little or no bearing on the work done in the final contests of the district at Canyon.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lowry and little daughter spent Sunday in McLean. Mrs. Lowry and the little girl remained there for a visit with the former's mother, Mrs. S. A. Cousins.

COUNTY KITCHEN APRON CONTEST ENDS IN STYLE SHOW AND PEPPY MEETING.

The much talked of Kitchen Apron contest that has been carried on among the Home Demonstration Clubs of this county ended Thursday with a rally in the office of the County Home Demonstration Agent and a style show of the aprons entered in the contest. About seventy-five women, representing five clubs of Donley County, attended the all-day meeting and profited by both the business sessions and the social hours. Miss Key, the Home Demonstration Agent, had made careful plans for the entertainment of the crowd, and the success of her efforts was seen in the fact that all those present heartily endorse, even urge, a rally or get together of all the clubs once each month or every six weeks.

The style show of the aprons, worn by their makers, was held at one o'clock. All five clubs represented in the meeting were also represented in the contest which added much to the interest of the show. Mrs. W. P. Holley of Ashtola won first prize for her entry, while Mrs. J. A. Meador of the Clarendon Club won second prize. The first prize was a hand painted bread board and knife, given by Bartlett's Art Studio and Gift Shop, and the second prize was a nest of three mixing bowls, given by H. C. Kerbow and Sons. The judges for the contest were Miss Bertha Garlock, Head of the Home Economics Department of Clarendon College, and Miss Helen Beck, teacher of Home Economics in Clarendon High School. Both judges praised the entire array of aprons from which they had to choose the best.

Suitability of material and pattern, appearance on wearer, and general finish were points on which the aprons were judged.

The contest was the most important event of the day, of course, but there were a number of fine entertainment features. Each club prepared a special dish and during the morning the "Knock Down Racket Makers" from C. H. S. entertained with a group of songs and stunts. A basket dinner was served at noon and was much enjoyed by the ladies present and the specially invited guests. Each club prepared a special dish and the combination furnished an appetizing meal. The meeting was very successful, and according to Miss Key, very peppy.

GAS DISPLACES GASOLINE IN TESTING OF MOTORS

Automobile manufacturers are now using gas instead of gasoline for testing the wear in motors, says the Texas Public Service Information Committee.

Block testing and wearing in are essential to the finished car and it has been discovered that the use of gas insures perfect combustion. It also does away with the danger arising from the monoxide gas that develops from the use of gasoline.

It is estimated that gasoline would have to sell at two and one-half cents a gallon to bring it down to the level of economy secured from gas.

Seven of the larger automobile factories are now using more than twenty-five million cubic feet of manufactured gas for this purpose every month.

Miss Madge Elizabeth Howard and Earl H. Hillyard Married

Miss Madge Elizabeth Howard of New Smyrna, Florida and Earl H. Hillyard of Princeton, Kentucky were married Sunday evening in a simple and beautiful wedding at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Oscar Jenkins, friends the bride coming here as a guest for the past few days. The Reverend A. B. Crocker, pastor of the First Christian Church, performed the ceremony in his usual impressive manner. The following intimate friends of the bride and the groom gathered in the attractive new home of Dr. and Mrs. Jenkins to witness the ceremony: Dr. and Mrs. B. L. Jenkins, Dr. and Mrs. Oscar Jenkins, Mr. and Mrs. Frank White, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Holcomb, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn White, Miss Marjorie White, Miss Dorothy White, Mrs. Verma Jescke, Miss Beth Harrington, Miss Gail Hamilton, and H. C. Lewis.

The wedding hour was 9 p. m., and the bridal couple left on the 12:50 a. m. train Monday for Princeton, Kentucky, to visit Mr. Hillyard's parents. Later, they will go to Madisonville, Kentucky, where Mr. Hillyard will join his brother in the Hillyard Drug Company.

The bride has lived in both Amarillo and Canadian, Texas, and both cities enjoyed wide popularity. An exceptionally charming young lady, she has won many friends during her brief visit to Clarendon. She attended Saint Mary's College of Terre Haute, Indiana. Mr. Hillyard has an equally engaging personality, which has attracted many warm friends since his coming here a few months ago as an employee of the Fort Worth and Denver Railway. He was respected and well liked by all who knew him. The romance started last summer in Florida. The Clarendon News joins the other friends of the young couple in wishing Dr. and Mrs. Jenkins long, prosperous and happy life together.

H. C. Lewis accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Hillyard to Kentucky and will visit his mother in Prattville, Alabama. During a twenty day leave of absence he will also visit in New Orleans, Galveston and a number of South Texas cities.

Miss Beulah Baird Gives Bridge-Luncheon Saturday

One of the greatly enjoyed parties of the week was the bridge-luncheon given by Miss Beulah Baird, Saturday afternoon. American Beauty rose buds in slender vases centered each small table, and larger bouquets of the same flowers were used throughout the house. The individual nut baskets were of floral design and were tied with tulle bows. A three course luncheon was served at one o'clock, after which bridge was played at five tables. Miss Opal Pyle played high and received a beautiful picture as favor. Mrs. Parke Chamberlain was consoled for low score with a pretty bud vase, and Mrs. J. H. Morris, who drew high in the cut, received an artistically decorated candle holder with a matching candle. The guest list included, besides those already mentioned: Mrs. L. B. Merrell, Mrs. Clarence Miller, Mrs. Homer Ellis, Dorr Ellis, Mrs. Selden Bagby, Mrs. Carl W. Bennett, Jr., Mrs. Charles Trent, Mrs. Sam Dyer, Mrs. Richard B. Hill, Mrs. Ira Merchant, Miss Norma Rhodes, Miss Willie Davis, Miss Mary Cooke, Miss Anne Myra Bennett, Miss Willette Cole, Miss Flora Belle Arbuckle, and Miss Mary Stocking.

Mrs. Holman Kennedy Hostess To Thursday Dinner-Bridge

The Dinner-Bridge Club was entertained Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Holman Kennedy. There were also a number of special guests present. A delicious three course dinner was served, at small tables of Dalhart and pretty in decorations suggestive of Washington's birthday.

The game was played by the following club members and other guests: Miss Elizabeth Howard of New Smyrna, Florida, Dr. and Mrs. Oscar Jenkins, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Merchant, Mr. and Mrs. Park Chamberlain, Mr. and Mrs. Selden Bagby, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Dyer, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Trent, Mr. and Mrs. Nat Perrine, Mr. and Mrs. Forest Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Ellis, and Earl H. Hillyard. The high-score favors for guests were won by Mrs. Chamberlain and Mr. Hillyard, while the high-score favors for club members went to Mrs. Jenkins and Mr. Taylor.

Mrs. Caraway Entertains With Bridge Saturday

Mrs. Odos Carway gave a delightful bridge party Saturday afternoon, entertaining members of her afternoon club and a number of special guests. Plate favors and other decorations developed the Washington's birthday suggestion. At the end of the game, a dainty luncheon was served. Mrs. Caraway's guests were: Mrs. F. E. Chamberlain, Mrs. W. H. Patrick, Mrs. A. L. Chase, Mrs. A. R. Letts, Mrs. George Ryan, Mrs. Charles H. Bugbee, Mrs. Homer Glascoe, and Mrs. Eva Rhodes. Mrs. Bugbee made the high score and received a lovely favor. BANKING AS A LIFE WORK

By Roger W. Babson

Authentic Statement by ROGER W. BABSON, to Be Quoted Only By THE CLARENDON NEWS

Babson Park, Fla., Feb. 25, 1927.—Mr. Babson continues his comments on the ten leading groups of banks...

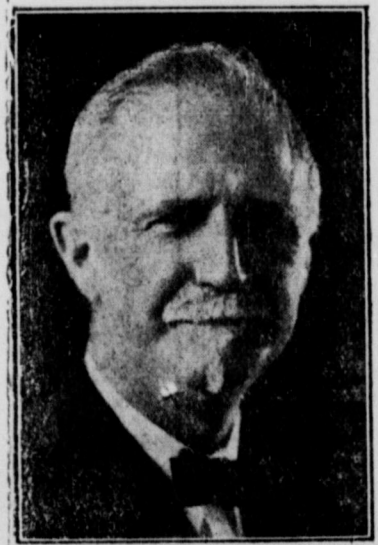

ing banking always remain clerks. Either they are popular and lack the confidence of the bank officials, or are hard working grinds without much of an acquaintance.

Capital Not Needed. Strange to say there are better opportunities in banking for poor boys than for rich boys.

City vs. Country Banks. It is very debatable whether a large city bank or a small country bank offers the greatest opportunity either for young men or investors.

Banking, however, offers a fine opportunity for young men of integrity, judgment, and energy who have not capital.

Bank losses are directly affected by business conditions. When panics occur, banks which are not conservatively managed suffer—but the earnings of well managed banks need not be affected by business changes as much as one would think.
