

LOCATION IS CHOSEN BY COMMITTEE

TWO DAY SESSION ENDS WITH SELECTION OF SITE ON WASHINGTON STREET.

The Amarillo University will be located south of Amarillo. A donation in fee simple of one entire section of land and options on an adjoining section and two other tracts of land south of Thirty-fourth street, were accepted Tuesday afternoon by the special committee to establish Amarillo Methodist University.

The tract of land, known as the Marrs section, one mile south of Thirty-fourth on Washington street will be deeded outright to the Northwest Texas Conference and options to acquire at least a section and a half additional were given by a group of Amarillo citizens interested in the establishment of the school. Paved boulevards will be laid to the immediate building site wherever it may be selected on the property held and under option by the church officials.

The selection of the University site came after two strenuous days of work on the part of the special locating commission. The report of the commission is to be presented for ratification to a special session of the Northwest Texas Conference to be held in Amarillo, March 29. More than 300 ministers and laymen of the church will attend for the conference.

Selection of the site to the south of Amarillo was made after several attractive propositions had been presented. Mayor Lee Bivins had offered a section of land north of the city and good offers were made by the Castle Cliffs representatives on property northwest of the city. Then a tract of land owned by the Bush interests and a section owned by Howell and Howell, three miles west on the paved highway, commanded much consideration on the part of the commissioners.

An offer was made by citizens of East-Amarillo and several other propositions were presented to the locating body. All offers were carefully considered by the commission from every angle.

Many expressions of pleasure at the action of the commission have been made and pledges of support for the institution given by hundreds of citizens.

The establishment of an institution of senior and high school which will link favorably with Southern Methodist University at Dallas, and other colleges of the south, is the hope of the church leaders.

Plans of financing the institution and the development of the property will be launched as soon as possible after the action of the committee has been ratified. The locating commission headed by Dr. O. P. Clark, chairman, included: L. N. Lipscomb, Plainview; E. E. White, Lubbock; J. E. Swenson, Tullia; G. A. F. Parker, Hereford.

At Monday night's meeting, the committee heard Amarillo citizens give their views on the most logical direction for the school to be located. At midnight the committee was adjourned until Tuesday morning.

Dr. R. E. L. Morgan, president of Clarendon College, and who will head the new Amarillo University,

MAYOR TAYLOR TO BE IN 1927 RACE

PRESENT HOLDER OF OFFICE STATES THAT HE WILL BE CANDIDATE FOR OFFICE.

On being interviewed by a News reporter this week, Mayor H. W. Taylor, incumbent of the office for the past three years, stated that he would again ask the people of the city for the office of Mayor of the city.

Mayor Taylor has made some great strides in the matter of city government since he has held office. A great paving program has been started and is now even on the way to a completion that will give the city more than three miles of paving. A plan for the extension of the water system has been started that will give Clarendon a water supply that will meet all demands for years to come. The books of the city were given a thorough audit and a new system was installed that will save much work and worry in handling the matters passing through the office. Other smaller details have been worked out by the Mayor and he is devoting his entire time to the job and has made the city a good officer.

It is not known whether there will be any other candidate for the office of Mayor at this time.

Miss Viola Joss and Miss Viola Hitchcock spent the week-end in the latter's home at Claude. Both are students in the College.

TRUSTEES VISIT THREE PUBLIC SCHOOLS OF CITY

Six members of the Board of Trustees of the Clarendon Public Schools spent Wednesday morning inspecting the grounds and buildings of the three schools of the city and in visiting every room of each school. They also attended chapel exercises at the South Ward and the High School. The visit ended in the luncheon which was served the trustees by the students of the Home Economics Department of the High School, under the supervision of Miss Helen Beck, instructor. The seventh member of the Board was out of town on business and was unable to join the other members in the visit.

STATE AID RURAL SCHOOL INSPECTOR IN DONLEY NOW

William Eilers, State Aid Rural School Inspector, is in Clarendon this week, and with County Superintendent J. E. Porter is visiting the rural schools of Donley County. He will report of the amount of state aid he can recommend for each school Saturday. DOCTORS EXAMINE YOUNGER PUPILS

ALL STUDENTS OF PUBLIC SCHOOLS TO BE EXAMINED IN FREE INSPECTION.

Superintendent Paul Morgan reports that parents of public school pupils are co-operating with teachers and doctors in the physical examinations that are being given to all pupils of the three schools, and that the inspection is progressing satisfactorily in every way. Five physicians of the city are giving their services free of charge to the inspection, and every child is given the privilege of visiting his family's physician. The inspection includes examination for eye, ear, nose, throat, lung, heart, and skin defects. The teachers are assisting by making a record of each child's defects, which will be kept in the permanent files. A duplicate copy is sent to the child's parents, that they may take measures for removing defects.

Regular physical examinations for students is now considered an essential part of the school's business in the more advanced systems. The need of a general health inspection has long been felt in the Clarendon schools, and it is to the credit of Superintendent Morgan, his corps of teachers, and the local physicians that it has been secured at this time. Up to the present time, the hours which the doctors can give to the work have been devoted to the examination of the Central Ward pupils—the grade school children. Later, the examinations will be repeated for the South Ward and High School students.

The physicians who are donating their services in the inspection are: Dr. B. Jenkins, Dr. T. H. Ellis, and Dr. H. L. Wilder.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh B. Skiles are visiting in Ft. Worth this week.

GOLDSTON STARTS BUILDING SOON

OLD PLACE TO BE DEMOLISHED TO MAKE ROOM FOR NEW BUSINESS HOME.

Workmen are even now at work on the place of business at the corner of Kearney and First Street, tearing out the partition walls and making ready to move the Douglas and Goldston store and the stock of Goldston Brothers into their temporary home. Holes will be left in the partition to facilitate the move into their adjoining building. The plans have been completed and the work will move on at once under the direction of H. C. Brumley, who will superintend the erection of the new building. One half will be built at a time, leaving the southern half of the building for the finishing touches. The new structure will be ready for occupancy some time after the first of June. The original plans will be followed in the construction of the building and the story as carried some time past in the News will show what the plans will be made of. Some minor changes in the interior fittings of the building will be made but the exterior will be made to conform as nearly as possible to the original.

The building occupied by this firm for the past few years was one of the oldest in the business section of the city and its passing will mark

COL. GOODNIGHT WEDS SATURDAY

FAMOUS PIONEER MARRIED ON NINETY-FIRST BIRTHDAY TO MISS GOODNIGHT.

Colonel Charles Goodnight, distinguished frontiersman and pioneer of the Southwest, was married on his ninety-first birthday to Miss Corinne Goodnight, who came from Butte, Montana five months ago to be his companion. The wedding took place Saturday morning at the home of Colonel Goodnight's nephew, Mayor H. W. Taylor. Reverend J. T. Griswold performed the ceremony, which was witnessed by only relatives and close friends.

Colonel Goodnight moved from the famous Goodnight Ranch to Clarendon last fall, and had taken up residence here among relatives and a few old friends. After the death of the former Mrs. Goodnight, last year, he had been left alone on the ranch, except for his foster son, Cleo Hubbard, now active manager of the old estate. Some months ago he invited Miss Corinne Goodnight to visit him. They became acquainted a few years ago when Miss Goodnight read a story of the Colonel's interesting life on the plains and wrote to him. It was thought at that time that perhaps they were distant relatives, but no kinship has been established. Miss Goodnight came on the Colonel's invitation and at his request remained to care for him. She came with him to Clarendon and has kept house for him here. She was formerly a telegraph operator and was most recently employed by the Northern Pacific Railway, with headquarters at Butte. She has traveled throughout America. Miss Goodnight and a younger brother were left orphans when the sister was seventeen years old. She sent the boy through high school and the Montana State University.

Colonel Charles Goodnight is perhaps the most picturesque of the remaining pioneers of the great Southwest. His life story equals in interest that of any living American. Before settling on the Goodnight Ranch in 1876, he had lived an adventurous youth on the wild Texas frontier. During the Civil War he patrolled the Mexican border, acting as scout over a vast stretch of territory. Afterward, he blazed cow trails throughout the Southwest and established ranches in Texas, Colorado, and New Mexico. The great J. A. Ranch was established by him and John A. Adair. He is known in all parts of the continent as the owner and preserver of one of the greatest buffalo herds herds in the world.

Colonel Goodnight and Mrs. Goodnight will live in Clarendon.

The end of the old-time structures of the city. This building will add much to the central block of the city and will do much to keep up the morale of the city in general. It is the first big change that has been made in the business section for 1927 and is expected to start the ball to rolling for further and greater developments than have been seen for quite a time.

NEWS IS FIRST TO ORDER REYNOLDS CHECK HOLDER

An industry that promises to be one that will add much to the city of Clarendon has recently been established by Dr. F. N. Reynolds of Clarendon. This represents a considerable amount of work on the part of Dr. Reynolds on a patent that he has recently had completed. Constructed of metal, the holder will care for three pads of checks and two pencils and a calendar pad. The dies have been made for the little piece of desk equipment and they will shortly be on sale. The News placed the first order for this equipment at 4:45 p. m. Tuesday, March 8th and will receive the first completed piece of equipment.

CHAMBERLAIN CLUB HEARS MRS. SKINNER THURSDAY

The Chamberlain Home Demonstration Club met Thursday afternoon, March 3, in the home of Mrs. L. R. Dean. Mrs. C. R. Skinner of Clarendon gave a most interesting and instructive talk on home nursing, demonstrating the several uses of surgical pads.

The next meeting of the club will be held in the home of Miss Mamie Dingler, March 17.

EPWORTH LEAGUE ASSEMBLES HERE

EPWORTH LEAGUE AND SUNDAY SCHOOL WORKERS OF N. W. TEXAS TO CONVENE.

Between May 30th and June 3rd, inclusive, the Epworth League Assembly and the Sunday School Institute of the Northwest Texas Conference will be in session in Clarendon, holding meetings in the Auditorium of Clarendon College. Plans for the convention have been in the making for some months, with many of the foremost leaders in the young peoples' religious work exerting their energies and efforts toward making the Clarendon meeting the best in the history of the Assembly. It is expected that there will be 250 or more young people here for the five days of the convention. It will be observed that the dates have been so arranged that the meeting will be held between Commencement and the opening of the summer school.

Class work will be done at the College during the morning hours. The afternoons will be spent in recreation, and the evenings will be given to special sermons and to concerts. The Clarendon Municipal Band has been asked to form the nucleus around which a great band, composed of musicians from all towns of the Conference, will be formed to furnish music for the convention. Leaders who are making arrangements for the convention say that great interest in the band work is being shown in all the towns. The interest that is being shown by local people in the Spring meeting indicates that the visiting Leaguers and Sunday School workers will be well entertained while they are in the city. Prize of the delegates and visitors will stay in the dormitories of the College, while others will be entertained in the homes of Clarendon people.

SCHOOL BOARD ELECTION SOON

FOUR MEMBERS TO BE NAMED IN ELECTION, SATURDAY, APRIL SECOND.

In the annual election on the First Saturday in April, four members of the board of trustees of the Clarendon Independent School District are to be named. Last year three members were elected and will be holdovers for another year. The four trustees whose time expires this year are Mess. Youngblood, Martin, Montgomery and Watson. These men have served faithfully and well and there seems to be very little intention to do otherwise than reelect them for another term. If there is any opposition the News staff has not heard of it.

Reverend and Mrs. Thurman Morgan of Hereford are guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hayter this week. They are here to attend the Leadership Training School which is being conducted at the First Christian Church.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Degraffenreid, formerly of Paducah, Kentucky, spent last week-end here with Billy Belcher. Mr. Degraffenreid has recently prepared a new business location in Paducah and has come west for a new business location.

LIONS MEET WITH MEMPHIS TUESDAY

SPLENDID ATTENDANCE IS HAD FROM CLARENDON IN ROTARY MEETING.

The Clarendon Lions met Tuesday noon in the Masonic Hall at Memphis for their regular luncheon. The invitation had been extended the Lions Club for some time and Tuesday was the day set for paying off the obligation. Twenty-five Lions and the orchestra left Clarendon during the morning and were in place when the luncheon gong was rung to call the place to attention. The meal was eaten during a number of selections from the Lions orchestra and the remainder of the program was turned to the Lions for their consideration. The first matter to be brought to the attention of the club was the introduction of Boss Lion Watson by the Boss Rotarian, Mr. Jeff Watson. He stated in the beginning that there was no relationship between the two and that the two clubs would meet affably on this ground if on no other.

The address to the Clarendon Lions from the Rotarians viewpoint was made by Lion Porter of Clarendon, who welcomed the Lions in no uncertain manner. He was received with great acclaim and with no little surprise from the Rotarians. The Lions were welcomed in a manner that made them feel that they were much at home and that they were very glad to be in Memphis.

The response to this welcome was made by Lion Homer Mulkey and sounded the key note of the meeting in stating that the Lions were only too glad to be with the Memphis Rotarians. The invitation was extended the Rotarians to meet in Clarendon in the very near future. More music was forthcoming from the recently adopted orchestra of the Lions Club and was met with hearty applause from the entire gathering.

From this period of time to the end of the program a demonstration was held of the famous truth machine that was demonstrated here with such deadly results some months past. Boss Lion Watson explained that the machine had originated in the mind of a Rotarian, had been in Clarendon in the very near future. More music was forthcoming from the recently adopted orchestra of the Lions Club and was met with hearty applause from the entire gathering.

It is expected that the Memphis Club will make a return visit here in the very near future. One of the closing features of the program was the presentation of a prize to the dumbest person among the Rotarians in the Memphis organization. This prize was awarded to the Boss Rotarian after some respectful reservations of Boss Lion Watson had been removed.

KNIGHT NOW SOLE OWNER OF DAIRY

C. L. Knight, formerly of Electra, who bought out a partnership in the J. P. Parks dairy of Clarendon has just recently purchased the other interest and will be sole owner of the entire dairy herd.

Mr. Knight has had many years experience as a dairyman. He was for several years connected with the Alliance dairy of Sherman before going to Electra where he had a dairy of his own. Knight has been with the Parks dairy since November 1926, during which time the herd has been built up to sixty-one fine jerseys with a total of more than 300 customers in Clarendon. Every cow belonging to the Parks-Knight herd was tested for tuberculosis ninety days ago and not one showed any signs of being infected. Mr. Knight has recently purchased a new truck to care for the deliveries and will continue to give the same good service that has been given in the past.

Mr. Parks is planning to go to Mineral Wells for three or four months to recover his health before coming back to Clarendon where he expects to make his home.

MACDOWELL CLUB BEGINS NEW WORK AT PRACTICE

The MacDowell Club met in the auditorium of Clarendon College, Monday evening, for its first practice since the Club's most recent concert. The evening was spent in practice on new songs which the choral club will prepare for a spring event. Intense interest was shown in the new work. The attendance was good and some excellent work was done.

TAYLOR CHOSEN HEAD GOLF CLUB

POPULAR PLAYER IS SELECTED TO PILOT ORGANIZATION THROUGH 1927.

The annual meeting of the Hillcroft Golf Club was held in the club room of the Antro Hotel Wednesday evening of this week with the largest attendance ever registered at a meeting of the club. More than twenty members were present and took an active part in the discussions that were a part of the meeting.

The financial report from the secretary-treasurer of the organization was the first to come to the attention of the gathering. It was learned that there are more than fifty members in the club and that the treasury is in possession of a neat balance in the bank. The reason for the meeting was not for a financial reason. The dues of the club were set at $3.50 per month last fall and the balance has grown steadily since that time. The club is not indebted to any one but there are some expenditures that will be made in the near future to make the course ready for the summer months.

The house being opened for nominations for the officers and directors for the ensuing year, the following were elected to their respective positions: President, Forrest Taylor; Vice President, Walter A. Wilson; Secretary-Treasurer, Holman Kennedy; Directors, Meredith Gentry, Ira Merchant, A. N. Wood and Phillips Gentry.

The keeper of the grounds was complimented very highly on the work he has done to make the course one of the best in this section of the state. The club voted to raise the salary of the keeper as he had done a great deal of good work there in the past few months, making the raise retroactive to the first of March.

Two shelters are to be erected on the course, one of them to be 1812 feet on the start of the course near No. 1 tee and the other to be on the top of the hill near No. 4 green and number 5 and number 8 tees. These are to be sheds with a top and no side. The first of the two will be equipped with a bulletin board and a rack for score cards.

Messrs. V. A. Kent and Walter Wilson were selected to be captains of the two sides to hold a tournament for a feed similar to the one held here two years back. The dates for the tournament are to be set by the captains and all other details of the match will be made by them. The affair is to be held at some time in the coming three weeks.

Other matters pertaining to the playing of non-members were raised, as was the question of men playing here for the summer months alone. These items will be settled at a later date. Many other matters were also discussed at length and adjournment was had at a late hour in the evening.

Mrs. Monty Garrison and Miss Catherine Cole of the local Central Power and Light office attended the meeting of the Women's Committee in Memphis, Monday.

PAVING PROGRAM MOVING NICELY

LATEST WORK NEARS COMPLETION. TO BE WITHOUT A LEAVE-OUT. A RECORD.

The workmen of the Panhandle Construction Company are fast winding up their final bit of work here in Clarendon in the completion of the last seven blocks of paving that will be laid here for a time. Curb and gutter has been laid over a great part of the project and the excavation is proceeding apace and is keeping step with the curb and gutter matters.

The ditch on Gorst Street has been completed with the exception of one or two places where the wall has not been installed. These will be completed in the very near future. Third Street from Gorst Street to Kearney has been excavated and will be ready for the concrete in a short time. Front Street from Sully to Jefferson has been excavated and will receive the concrete some time the latter part of this week. Jefferson Street from Front Street to Second Street has received the curb and gutter and will be started on the way to excavation shortly. First Street from Jefferson to Sully has been prepared for the concrete. The other two stretches, that from Kearney to Sully on Third and that from Second to Third on Sully Street remains untouched but will be started in the very near future. The intersection on Kearney and Third will also be one of the matters handled.

Clarendon building goes steadily forward. There is no backward trend here. 1927 will be a wonder year for this community.

The Texas Safe Farming Association says "Safe Farming brings wealth, health and happiness, a good home, comforts and educated children. All cotton brings poverty, ill health and despair, a poor home, no comfort and ignorant children." May Donley County always steer clear of "all cotton."

One of the "sportiest" and most inviting golf courses in the entire Panhandle is being developed by the Hillcroft Golf Club of Clarendon. The grounds are in charge of a man who "knows his onions" when it comes to fine fairways, hazardous approaches and splendid greens, and the season of 1927 will find more devotees of the ancient game in this community than ever before. Better golf, too.

Clarendon's Municipal Band has never entered a contest in its two years' history without winning prize-money. Down at Wichita Falls at the annual convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, in May of this year will be held one of the greatest band contests ever staged in the South. If the proper finance can be arranged so Clarendon's band can attend, there is no reason why our band shall not win money and fame for our city again. Let's send the band.

Clarendon Lions visited Memphis Rotarians Tuesday of this week and will entertain the Memphis club in return some time in April. The clubs of different name and order are actuated by the same principles of community service and personal citizenship and these inter-city meetings are of much value in interchange of ideas and general good fellowship. The News hopes these exchange programs will be made an annual feature between Clarendon Lions and Memphis Rotarians. The results are altogether worthwhile.

CRIMINALS HELPING

The criminals of Texas are helping those citizens who demand a reformation of our court procedure to the end that punishment for lawbreakers shall be easier and more certain to secure.

The wave of outlawry—robberies, hijackings, burglaries, petty theft—is arousing a public sentiment that, if it continues, cannot be denied, even by those interests who make precedent sacrosanct and who believe that freeing a guilty criminal by chicane and deceit is a moral victory.

There is strong opposition from interested groups against court reform. These would continue to make court trials a test of skill, losing sight of the protection of the great majority who are lawabiding.

Business interests and citizens generally are awakening to the fact that they have been grossly injured by the failure of the criminal law effectively to function. Awakened, their demands cannot be ignored or frustrated.

And the criminal element of Texas, by its activity while the Legislature is in session, is helping materially to that end.—Denton Record-Chronicle.

KIND WORDS FROM NEIGHBORS CONCERNING THE MOVE OF CLARENDON COLLEGE

Below we reproduce editorial expression from the newspapers of the Panhandle in regard to the removal of Clarendon College to Amarillo. Varying ideas are expressed, but the great majority are of the opinion that, while Clarendon has not been fairly dealt with, yet the loss of the school will be of no disadvantage to the growth and prosperity of the community. - Clarendon people will appreciate the friendly and neighborly spirit of the following paragraphs:

If moving Clarendon College is not an Irish trick to play on Clarendon citizens, we have never heard of one. Maybe Amarillo can make both an industrial city and a school town, but it is seldom done successfully.—McLean News.

Clarendon College goes to Amarillo. If Clarendon will land a cotton mill that will mean a pay roll—an income. A College is an outgo every month in the year for both the city in which it is located and the patrons.—Childress Index.

Showing Good Sense

Clarendon college is to be moved to Amarillo, and, strange to say, there is but little objection on the part of Clarendon people. They realize that since that institution has become a Class A college an annual contribution of at least $25,000 is too much for their town.

Amarillo can easily make up such shortage, and in that oil city the collegians should soon number three thousand, which in the smaller town probably never would happen.—Quannah Tribune-Chief.

They voted to move Clarendon College to Amarillo, and the Clarendon people who had given their money liberally to keep it going, were left holding the sack; but the people of Clarendon don't seem to be worried greatly over the change. Their attitude seems to be: "Now that you have it, what are you going to do with it?" It will be funny if Clarendon gets rich in oil about the time the College is actually moved.—Wellington Leader.

Clarendon College will be moved to Amarillo, is the decision of the Methodist locating board. While we sympathize with Clarendon in the loss of the college, yet we believe it will finally work out to the good of Clarendon. It will cause her people to work harder for a business town, since losing the college, and will really make a better town in the years to come than it would otherwise. Clarendon citizens are loyal; they are progressive; they are not easily dismayed; and since losing the college they will buckle on the armor and work for a greater Clarendon—Memphis Democrat.

A committee appointed at the Northwest Texas Conference last fall to decide the matter of relocating Clarendon College met Monday and voted almost unanimously in favor of removing the institution to Amarillo. The fact that fourteen out of fifteen favored the change of location is pretty strong evidence that there were some mighty good reasons for the change. To one not very much interested in the matter it appears to be a wise decision. Continued growth for the institution could not be expected in a town so small as Clarendon. Besides, Clarendon is not a railroad center, which fact is a drawback to the college. In all probability, too, the committee had the assurance of stronger financial support for the college at Amarillo. We judge that Clarendon has done its best by the college, and that it has been no small part for a town of its size. It has been to many of them a thing of pride, but the future will be more promising and it will gain prestige with its expansion and usefulness and influence amid new environments.—Foard County News.

While Clarendon citizens may feel bad at first at the removal of Clarendon College from their city to Amarillo, we believe that, in the long run this will prove to be the best thing which has ever happened to our neighbor to the north. There is little doubt that finances necessary to sustain the college did not bring sufficient returns to make the school a paying investment for the city, and with it out of the way, we feel that the citizenship of Clarendon can devote an equal amount of energy and financial assistance to other projects and enterprises which will mean much more for the growth and advancement of the city. No school or college or university ever built a city, and a small, struggling college can often be a positive drawback and a source of constant financial drain to the citizenship.

On the other hand, we believe that the move will be for the best interest of the college, and that at Amarillo a bigger, better institution can be built than was possible at the smaller city.

We extend congratulations to both cities and to the college, believing that the best interests of each of the three have been served by the move.—Hall County Herald.

And another thing. If we were in a college town we would support that college to the best of our ability. Yet there are people who do not see the benefit of a home institution. They knock and patronize a foreign concern instead of helping the home institution and making it a success. But this can not be said of Clarendon. Clarendon stood by her school and for the past twenty-five years has done her best to make the best of every opportunity to push the school forward. And now that the powers that be have moved the college to Amarillo, Clarendon has nothing to regret. She has done her best. While the removal of the college will hurt Clarendon, yet at the same time the people of that progressive town will not have to dig up for the school. And it takes a lot of digging out of the home purse to keep a school going. We were hoping that the committee would see it a privilege as well as a duty to let the school remain at Clarendon, but it seems as if there was too much opposition and the college will have to start all over again. Clarendon put up a good fight, but lost. Now she is going to take her medicine and go right on sawing wood. And that is the wise thing to do.—Higgins News.

The News man spoke the mind of a good many Plains people in general and Canyon people in particular last week in discussing the Clarendon College situation. That he should be ridiculed by certain writers was to be expected. One was imported by the locating committee for the purpose of forcing Amarillo to take the College whether the people of Amarillo wanted it or not. The two writers are artists in throwing ridicule. Of course, ridicule is the easiest way to turn any kind of an argument, and is especially adapted to the needs of a preacher and a lawyer. However, the News was convinced before the article was written that Amarillo was going to get Clarendon College unless a decided stand was taken by Amarillo business men against the removal from Clarendon, as the commission was known to be strongly in favor of the change. The News man simply set out some facts which were facts, as any one who has studied the situation knew, and presented them in an unbiased manner. That facts should be met with ridicule is the easiest way out, and the most logical coming from the professions represented by the two challengers. The News man has no apology to make to any one for having spoken the minds of a lot of people of the Plains, especially those belonging to the Methodist church. We wish well for Clarendon College, and trust that in its new home in Amarillo it may annex an oil well or two and live long and prosper. Amarillo has a commendable way of getting behind the things in which she is interested, and the News believes that since she will acquire Clarendon College she will do her part in making it a great college.—Canyon News.

HIGH SCHOOL BAND PLAYED IN CHAPEL AT COLLEGE.

The Clarendon High School Band met with most enthusiastic response when they played for the students and teachers of Clarendon College at the chapel exercise Tuesday. Under the direction of Mr. E. M. Lindsey the twenty odd members of the Band have accomplished much this year. Musical talent and excellent training were shown in the five numbers they gave Tuesday. Every number was heartily enjoyed by the audience.

Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Moreman have as guests this week Miss Josephine Walker of Ft. Worth and Miss Ethel Johnson of Wichita, Kansas. Both these young ladies are here in the interest of the training school at the First Christian Church.

Hi-Y Meeting

The Hi-Y met Tuesday evening, March 1, at seven o'clock in its regular meeting. There were some twenty-five or thirty members present.

The following program seemed to have pleased all who were there.

Debate: Resolved, That it is bad luck for a black cat to cross your trail.

Affirmative: Doak Smith, J. L. Bain, Negative: Ralph Summers, Lawrence Spitzer.

The affirmative captured the judges' votes with their hot and entertaining discussion.

Charleston contest: Ross Beville, Neil McKellop.

Kangaroo Court: Doak Smith was tried for stealing fertilizer. He was found guilty and was sentenced to take at least one bath a month.

Visitors are always invited to attend the Hi-Y meetings, which occur every Tuesday night at seven o'clock in the high school auditorium.

Gone But Not Forgotten

When the 7:38 train goes north, Saturday March 12, you may rest assured that the last pages of your annual are on their way to the press. We do not suppose that anyone but the members of this Annual Staff realize the story that is told in these few words—words dear to no one's ears but ours—of the work and pleasure that one more deed, or task, has been accomplished by us, and within a short time will become a reality to you, and a dream come true for us.

It tells this story for us, that the buzz of the pens of the editor and her assistants will be silenced, the "pecking" of typewriters will be over, as far as producing finished copy sheets of this book is concerned. No more you will see the members of the staff searching high and low for material, going hither and yonder collecting new thoughts and new ideas, and news of recent happenings. It means the art editors have designed the cover, the die has been cut, and the covers are also on their way to the printer. The engravings have also been made and are ready for the printer to print and assemble your book.

This is welcome news to your ears. It is also a joy to us, but yet that joy has a tinge of sorrow for some of us, for we have believed to publish the last annual we will ever have the pleasure of publishing for dear old C. H. S. And we might pause here to say if you think one tenth as much as your copy of your annual as the members of this staff think of theirs, then we will feel amply repaid for our labor.

Some time during the month of May a train will come back from the north, bringing to you the gains of our labor and worry. We all shall be glad to see the greatest annual ever published by C. H. S.

Mr. G. L. Smith made a talk on "Beautifulizing the Homestead," which was very interesting as well as instructive.

The Return of Peter Grimm One of the outstanding features of last week was the motion picture "The Return of Peter Grimm." Many of the students of C. H. S. saw the picture last Wednesday and Thursday because it is a modern drama that is recognized by the State Department of Education. The drama portrayed the return of the spirit of an old benefactor desirous of rectifying a mistake made before his death. The plot of the drama was unusual and the silence that prevailed the theatre testified to the effectiveness of the dramatists' art. Those who went for entertainment only received more than they anticipated.

This play is considered one of the best that David Belasco, a contemporary actor, playwright, producer and theatre owner has given to the world.

Mr. Mulkey is due great honor for bringing such a picture here. He is always on the alert for something that will interest and at the same time benefit the students of the high school and the people of Clarendon.

He gave several beneficial tips on indexing, deeds, mortgages and other things everyone should know, including how to get a marriage license. Then the class members were given the privilege of asking questions concerning any phase of the office work in which they were interested. The class appreciated this talk and extends a sincere invitation to any business man who will give the class members a few points to success in his line of business.

WOMEN OF CLARENDON PRAY.

March 4th was the day designated for all the women of the world to pray, so the Woman's Missionary Societies from all the local churches met at the Methodist Church Friday morning at ten o'clock with Mrs. R. E. L. Morgan presiding. Reports of the year's work of all the societies had been written on the blackboard and each president gave an inspirational talk on the work they had accomplished. Mrs. W. T. Hayter read Mark 16:15 as the devotional. Mrs. Loyd Stallings brought a message in song. Mrs. Morgan having made the missionary fields a special study through the years was well fitted to present each field. Each woman felt closer drawn to this splendid work as Mrs. Morgan presented the different subjects for prayer:

- Russia—"That the sacredness of the home be restored," Mrs. Will McDonald.
- "That the intellectual and social unrest of Russia may be met and satisfied in Him who came to give a peace which the world cannot give and cannot take away," Mrs. Charlton.
- China—"That the lives of the missionaries be spared," Mrs. Moreman.
- "That in choosing her destiny China may choose Christ," Mrs. Crocker.
- Africa—"That the missionaries in Africa may embody the spirit of Christ and hasten the coming of God," Mrs. R. E. White.
- "That we may give to Africa the love we give to other nations," Mrs. Paul Shelton.
- America—"That the intellectual and social unrest of America may be met and satisfied in Him who came to give a peace which the world cannot give and cannot take away," Mrs. Charlton.

There was a short interval for a social meeting, then lunch was served to about eighty-five women and ministers of the town. Here, again Mrs. Morgan gracefully and delightfully presided. The invocation was given by Mrs. A. L. Moore, then the following toasts were given: "Christian Fellowship," Mrs. H. Faulkner; "Hindrances to Christian Fellowship," Mrs. McCree; "Methods of Strengthening this Fellowship," Mrs. Paul Shelton; "Fruits of this Fellowship," Mrs. Herd.

Music during the lunch was ably rendered by Miss G. Gibbons, vocal. Mrs. Lester Boykin, violin. Miss Josephine Pounds, vocal. Ensemble singing led by Miss Gibbons ("The End of a Perfect Day" (Paraphrase to suit occasion). Accompanists for the day were Mrs. Chas. Dean, Jr., Miss Fray Stallings and Mr. Grover C. Morris.

CIRCLE NUMBER TWO MET WITH MRS. O. W. LATSON

Circle Number 2 of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church met Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. O. W. Latson with Mrs. J. B. McCarley assistant hostess. Fifteen members and five visitors were present for the short social meeting. Following this, Mrs. Paul Shelton led the very excellent lesson from the Missionary Voice. The hostesses served excellent refreshments and the meeting adjourned to meet in the regular business session at the church on March 16th.

16 ACRES TO FEED FOR AVERAGE FARM

College Station, Tex., Mar. 8—If every farmer should grow enough feedstuffs to feed his teams and stock and produce all of the family living possible on the farm, the solution of the present agricultural difficulties, brought on by the depression of the price of cotton, would be near at hand, in the opinion of S. A. McMillan, head of the department of farm and ranch management, School of Agriculture, A. & M. College of Texas. In a recent discussion of "Planning the Farm Business for 1927," broadcast by Station WTAW, the A. & M. College radio station, Mr. McMillan submitted an estimate of the feed requirements for an ordinary farm, suggesting that sixteen acres in feed crops would provide a safe minimum to take care of the least number of stock that ought to be found on a well balanced farm.

"The kind and amount of feed to grow are going to depend upon the locality and the needs of the farm," he said. "To feed a horse or mule doing ordinary farm work requires about 1 1/2 pounds of grain a day for each 100 pounds of weight. The exact amounts will vary because the amount of feed needed largely depends on the quality of the pasture and the length of time it can be used. It is considered safe to figure on feeding at least 150 days of the year. For feeding ordinary teams, therefore, one needs to provide approximately 1/2 acre of corn to the work animal and about two acres of hay. We usually think of five work animals as the most efficient number because many farm operations require five horses or mules. This number permits a division of one three-horse and one two-horse teams or two two-horse teams with one animal to work singly or to be held in reserve."

Mr. McMillan suggested that the feed estimates of an ordinary farm might be based as follows: Five work animals, 7 1/2 acres of corn; two milk cows, two acres of corn; one brood sow to raise at least six pigs, five acres of corn; fifty head of poultry, 1 1/2 acres corn. This would give a total of 16 acres in corn. In addition it was suggested that the five work animals would require 10 acres of hay; two cows, 2 acres hay; brood sow, 2 acres pasture; and free range for poultry.

"The number acres of cotton to be raised varies widely with the different sections of Texas," he said. "Thirty to forty acres of cotton in areas where rainfall is abundant and weeds and grass grow rapidly require considerably more work than one hundred acres in West Texas. Perhaps sixty acres cotton to the farm is about normal for the black land and South Texas. If farmers who have been growing sixty acres of cotton with no food stuffs would plant sixteen acres to feed crops and cut cotton acreage by that amount, then the acreage reduction for cotton would be saved. However, the feed crop program ought to be regarded as elastic enough to meet regional conditions."

Tea at Home
Leading Event of Week

One of the most delightful affairs of the week was the prettily arranged tea given Saturday afternoon by Mrs. C. C. Powell, Mrs. B. G. Smith, and Miss Mamie McLean, at Mrs. Powell's home in West Clarendon. A color scheme of yellow and white was followed in the decoration of the dining room. Calendula and freshia formed the centerpiece of the tea table, which was softly lighted by yellow tapers. Three small tables, at which the guests were served, were centered with bowls of lovely jonquils and lighted with yellow candles.

A program consisting of vocal solos by Miss Sara Thompson and Miss Georgia Belle Gibbens, a number by the Carl Venth Quintette, and a piano solo by little Miss Joy McCamie was enjoyed between the hours of three and five, by a hundred guests.

Members of the house party, besides the hostesses, were: Mrs. J. L. McMurtry and Mrs. Selden Bagby who poured tea during the first hour; Mrs. Frank McCrary and Miss Nora Headrick who poured during the second hour; and Mrs. A. A. Mayes, Mrs. Homer Glascoe, Mrs. Eva Rhodes, Mrs. Ralph Fortner, Mrs. Sam M. Braswell and Mrs. J. D. Swift, Miss Wilma Ernst, Miss Julia Dean, and Miss Carolyn Laney assisted in the dining room.

SENIORS OF BAPTIST SUNDAY SCHOOL MAKE FINE RECORD

The rapid growth in the interest in the Senior Department of the Baptist Sunday School was shown Sunday, when the Department had only two absences in its four classes. Two classes had one hundred percent attendance. The Fidelis Class, composed of young ladies, had fourteen members present and two visitors. They also enrolled one new member. This class cordially invites every young lady who is not already enrolled in another Sunday School class to join the Fidelis. The members are planning an interesting social affair for the near future.

The Young Men's Class of the Department also had an unusually large attendance, a number of visitors, and one new member. Enthusiasm and interest are increasing rapidly and it is thought that the class will soon require larger quarters. All young men between the ages of seventeen and twenty-one years, who are not members of another class, are welcomed as members or visitors to the class.

Mrs. John Neely, her daughter, Miss Edna Neely, and her sons, Walter and Martel, all of Claude, were business visitors and shoppers in Clarendon Thursday.

Miss Lonie Hunt and Miss Mildred True, students of Clarendon College, spent the week-end at their homes in Wheeler.

What Would 60,000 Miles Do to Your Car Engine?

THAT depends to a large extent on the quality of the motor oil you are using.

If you have been running your car for a considerable time on ordinary oil, then you already must have been put to a good deal of expense and frequently been deprived of the use of your car.

For the sizable volume of impurities in oil of the common grade breeds mischief.

The carbon that has to be ground out from time to time; all the trouble you've had with the motor skipping, running unevenly, or knocking on the hills; those badly worn bearings; the scored cylinders; the sticking valves; those cylinders pumping oil; the piston-rings that have had to be replaced; these and many other engine troubles are the direct result of the 25% or more of undesirable elements left in motor oil as usually refined.

owner of only one car. And as the single pleasure car is multiplied into the sizable fleet of commercial trucks, taxis, or motor buses, then the expense, the trouble and the loss of time are greatly increased.

Note how heartily the garage man endorses your choice of Quaker State. "A good old oil," he calls. Fill your crankcase with it, watch your performance go up, and your repair bills go down.

Quaker State sets so high a standard of motor oil proficiency that there is no good second choice. Comparative results prove it. The makers of the finest cars we have today fully realize this, and recommend the use of Quaker State. Its record of performance is little short of amazing.

You need this oil. And it's convenient to get. Almost any garage or service station in this vicinity can supply it to you. If for any reason yours can't, tear out and mail this coupon, and let us help you. That's just a moment's work, yet it's the first important step towards a lifetime of more economical and more resultful motor car lubrication for you.

Agricultural Opportunities

By Roger W. Babson

Authentic Statement by ROGER W. BABSON, to Be Quoted Only By THE CLARENDON NEWS

Babson Recommends Agriculture Only for the Son of the Farmer.

Babson Park, Fla., Mar. 4, 1927.—Roger W. Babson continues his discussion of present day opportunities for young men this week discussing the opportunities in farming.

Importance of Farming

Agriculture is the basis of both life and prosperity. Not only without agriculture would we starve, but agriculture is the surest and most economical method of creating wealth. The billions of real wealth coming each year from the farmers of America are the foundation of prosperity. The farmer must be upheld and protected by all who want real prosperity.

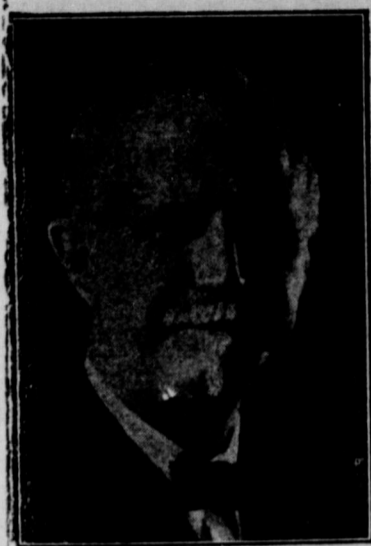

Moreover—we owe to agriculture something far more important than good business. We owe our manhood to the farms. A large proportion of the great manufacturers, merchants and bankers of this country were born on farms. Big cities—like New York—are furnaces which feed on the country both literally and figuratively. These furnaces use for fuel the boys from the farms who go to New York and become bank presidents, and great captains of industry. The reason farm boys are wanted is because they are trained in the fundamentals of integrity, industry, thrift and initiative. President Coolidge once said to me, "The ultimate result to be desired is not the making of money, but the making of people. Industry, thrift, and self-control are the prime products of the farm. We who have seen it and lived it know. It is this life which the nation is so solicitous to maintain and improve." Henry Ford gave as one reason why he voted for Coolidge the fact that Coolidge was born on a farm.

Truth About Farming.

There have been times when agriculture offered the best opportunity to a certain class of young men. When land was cheap in the West, and farmers were able to profit greatly by the increase in land values—which was sure to come—farming offered real opportunities. Farming still offers some opportunities for men with strong physique, sufficient capital and proper locations. Just now, however, the "cream is off" and I strongly hesitate advising a young man to pioneer or to start a new farm. Enough land has been broken for agriculture in the United States and Canada for the immediate present. The supply of many farm products exceeds the demand for them today. There is no profit in raising cattle, the margin of profit in raising wheat and corn is very small; while in most agricultural lines the competition is exceedingly strong.

It is hard enough to be obliged to compete with all others in an industry, but in addition a farmer must also compete with the weather. A farmer must not only guess as to what and how much other farmers are to plant, what and how much other people are going to buy; but in addition must gamble on the weather. No stock broker takes the chances that a farmer takes! However hard a farmer may work or whatever judgment a farmer may have, a burning sun or an early freeze or a wet season may ruin his crops. It truly seems to me that a young man who today could start a farm and make money raising anything from pigs to potatoes could make more money doing anything else! Another thing, the few farmers who have made money have generally done so, not directly through what they have raised, but through benefiting from increased land values or the services of a large family to whom they did not have to pay wages.

Best Farming Opportunities
Statistics show that the best farming opportunities today are either in market gardens, just outside large cities, supplying legumes, lettuce, cabbage, celery, milk, cream, chickens, eggs, tomatoes, etc., or else in great tracts of cheap land where wheat, corn, potatoes, etc. are raised in very large quantities with machinery exclusively doing the work.

ROGER W. BABSON

Both of these kinds of farming require executive ability, marked intelligence and considerable capital. Both groups of farmers stand a chance of making a good profit by the increasing value of the land. The market gardener's land should be near enough to be sold for house lots as the city grows; while the big operator will have land purchased very cheaply which must increase in value by the mere improvements made.

The above warning need not be considered by young men who are to inherit farms from their fathers. Although there is no need of more farms at present, there must not be any desertion of farms already in operation. The solution of the farm problem will come through the improvement and consolidation of those already existing. Young men who have a chance to co-operate in this evolution should grasp it. They should go to a good agricultural school and then return to the farm. The pessimistic advice I gave above is against starting new farms at this time. If you can stay on a good farm which your father has made pay, do so. You'll be happier staying on the farm than by leaving the farm and becoming fuel for large city bankers and business men. Besides, so many are leaving the farms for the cities and so many farms are going backward that those who remain may have a real worth-while business. Personally, I cannot imagine a better life than to farm in the north from April to November and spend the winters in Florida or California. Only the farmer has a business where such an ideal life is possible.

Agricultural Investments.

Those who wish to have a hand in "raising things" but are not thoroughly trained and able to make farming a real business should either confine themselves to back-yard gardens with a few hens or else be content to invest in some of the standard companies. For instance, it is fine to raise enough fruit for your own table; but don't attempt to do more unless you are ready to go at it scientifically and make it your sole business. You had far better buy stock in the United Fruit Company or one of the other established concerns which are operating scientifically and making a real business of raising and marketing fruit. Many such companies will be organized during the next few years as independent growers of citrus fruit, apples, melons, peaches, etc., especially as men find that ten acres as a side line is likely to be a luxury rather than an investment.

Gradually the raising of wheat, corn, potatoes, etc., will be consolidated into big companies as has the raising of sugar, rubber, or tobacco. Until such a time comes one will probably be far better off to invest his money in securities of the Cuban-American Sugar Company or the Intercontinental Rubber Company. Personally, I feel that the best future is in connection with raising dairy products. Milk, cream, butter and cheese are the safest things to raise; while eggs, chickens and early vegetables come next. These, demand modern dairy plants, hot houses, irrigation systems and other capital investments. Hence unless one is able to adopt these most modern methods it is better to invest one's money in securities of the California Packing Company, the Kraft Cheese Company, the National Dairy Company or even the Southern Dairies all of which securities are now listed on the New York Exchange. The fact that they are listed on the Exchange, however, means that they doubtless will sell lower when the next downward swing in the stock market occurs. Hence, I do not suggest buying these issues at the moment while the market as a whole is very high.

General business however does not much affect the farmer, although agricultural conditions are a great factor in making general business good or bad. For instance, bad crops result in bad industrial and mercantile conditions because the farmers have less purchasing power; but Wall Street can have a panic and manufacturing plants be shut down when the individual farmers may know nothing about it. Often poor business in the East helps the western farmer because it enables him to get labor and supplies at lower prices. This fact is helping farmers now to keep up their courage. They believe that before long industrial conditions are to become more quiet in Detroit, Chicago, and St. Louis and other cities which have been taking labor away from the farms and that this labor will come back to the farmer. A study of the Babson chart which has declined from 15 percent above normal the latter part of 1926 to 7 percent above normal today suggests that these farmers may be right.

FAVORING FARMERS

Farmers have at least two things in their favor towards making a good living from the soil.

First—The agricultural resources of this community.

Second—Good, helpful banking service such as they are sure to find at this bank. Our resources are adequate to protect farmers; our facilities are more than adequate for serving them.

LOCAL BAPTISTS BUSY ON CONQUEST CAMPAIGN

Members of the First Baptist Church of this city are busy this week raising the local church's quota of the two million dollars which Baptists of Texas are attempting to collect this year in a Conquest Campaign. The two million dollars, when raised, will be used toward removing a six million indebtedness against schools, hospitals, and other institutions maintained in Texas by the Baptist Church.

The local campaign began last Sunday morning when a call was made by Reverend S. R. McClung and the committee appointed to attend to the business. Approximately $1,500 was pledged at the service. Members of the committee have been calling on members who were not present at the church service. Responses have been immediate and generous, say the committee members, and it is expected that by next Sunday $2,000 will have been given. Dr. George Truett's visit here two weeks ago was made largely in the interest of the campaign; and although there was no collection made at the time of his visit here, it is known that his splendid talk inspired a greater sense of responsibility in all those who heard it and thus facilitated the work of the committee.

Overdoing?

Hurry, Worry and Overwork Bring Heavy Strain.

MODERN life throws a heavy burden on our bodily machinery. The eliminative organs, especially the kidneys, are apt to become sluggish. Retention of excess uric acid and other poisonous waste often gives rise to a dull, languid feeling and, sometimes, toxic backaches and headaches. That the kidneys are not functioning perfectly is often shown by burning or scanty passage of secretions. More and more people are learning to assist their kidneys by the occasional use of Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic. Ask your neighbor!

MRS. MARY ENOCHS DEAD. WAS WELL KNOWN HERE.

The following item, taken from The Tyler Daily Courier Times, is an account of the death of Mrs. Mary Enochs, the mother of Mrs. O. T. Smith, Mrs. Joe Shields and Mrs. R. T. Darnell of Clarendon. Mrs. Enochs was herself well known in this city, as she had spent some months here in the homes of her daughters. She had many friends here who mourn her death and sympathize with the members of the deceased's family.

"Mrs. Mary Enochs, wife of J. E. Enochs, well known farmer living at Swan, five miles north of Tyler, on the Jim Hogg Highway, passed away at 3:30 Wednesday afternoon at the family home, following an illness of several months.

Funeral services were held Thursday at Hopewell under the direction of Rev. J. H. Griffin, Baptist preacher. Pall bearers were Emmet Richardson, W. A. Martin, Joe Morris, O. O. Lewis, Charles Jackson, J. F. Horton. Many relatives and friends from various sections of the county attended the funeral.

Mrs. Enochs was 60 years of age and was born in Mississippi. She has resided in Smith county for over 25 years. She was a faithful member of the Methodist church, having united with the church when she was 14 years of age.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Enochs is survived by nine children as follows: C. C. and L. W. Enochs of White Deer, Texas; Ed. Enochs of Amarillo, Grady Enochs of Pampa, Texas, John Enochs of Tyler; Mrs. R. T. Darnell, Mrs. Joe Shields and Mrs. O. T. Smith of Clarendon, Texas, and Mrs. Earl Horton of Tyler. One brother, W. OUR SEC. SAYS

In the olden times one of the greatest leaders was counselled to appoint captains of the different peoples and races and for the carrying out of special duties.

This method transcribed into the present day method of doing things in towns and cities means the working out and placing into practice of the committee system of work.

During the past year the committee system of chamber of commerce work was put into practice by using some twenty-five or thirty different members of the chamber of commerce with the result that practically every man who was asked to work did so with a willing hand. Much good was obtained during the year by the co-operation and effort put forth by these and many other members who were pressed into service on a minute's notice.

The work this year has been changed a bit but the same number of ready workers and others besides are to be asked for in the successful consummation of the many projects outlined for the year.

Following is a list of the committees with some of the projects listed under each committee department in which the personnel of the committee could render a real service to the town and to the country adjacent to Clarendon.

Agricultural Committee

Aiding rural boys and girls in the financing of broods of pure bred chicks and young pigs for the farms of Donley county. Introduction of pure bred milo and kafir seed of the dwarf variety that is popular already with the farmers. Better marketing facilities for the produce from the farms. An agricultural short course, poultry show and a county fair.

Publicity Committee

Tell the tidings of successful farmers and farm women of the county through the newspapers and magazines. Advertise the vast resources of the county through state fair exhibits, roadside signs and personal visits.

Industrial Committee

Interesting the proper capital in a cheese factory, peanut butter factory, an up-to-date creamery, ice cream factory, wholesale fruit and produce house, a wholesale grocery house, poultry hatchery for the county.

Membership Committee

A strong committee that is sold on the city of Clarendon and Donley county enough to tell others about it and ask their active financial and moral support in making this a better place in which to live. See that every new comer and prospective citizen is given an opportunity to invest in the best city in the Panhandle of Texas through the Chamber of Commerce.

Trade Extension

Hold business already in the territory and get acquainted with all new citizens of the trade territory. Make frequent booster trips to adjacent towns and communities.

Good Roads Committee

Arrange for all neighboring towns to be well represented at the C-G Highway convention to be held in Clarendon during April. Further designation of state highways through the county. Investigate new proposals of opening up of new roads and to see that proper care is taken of present roads of the county.

Civic Improvement Committee

Tree planting campaign, placing of street names on all streets. More curb and gutter work. Conduct campaign for city of Clarendon Public Utilities committee.

Public Utilities Committee

Natural gas supply for Clarendon, city mail delivery, co-operate with the city commission in the furthering of the water system in the city.

Convention and Entertainment Committee

See that all conventions scheduled for Clarendon are well cared for and to secure other conventions that would be profitable for the county.

Holiday Closing Committee

This committee has rendered very efficient service and has won the compliments of many citizens. It is the duty of this committee to see that the merchants co-operate with one another in a uniform closing hour for all special occasions and for the proper holidays.

The Legislative and Oil Development Committee are new ones and are to be worked out at once.

Another committee whose names are not made public has done a wonderful work in examining the credentials of so many fly by night skin game, wildcat advertising schemes that have heretofore fleeced many unwary merchants of money.

TO THE BAPTISTS OF TEXAS—

As your servants and fellow-workers, pressed into an extraordinary emergency task a few months ago when our beloved denomination had assuredly come to a supreme crisis, we address you now. We remind you that after earnest consideration, prolonged through a year, in which every other possibility in the way of relief was critically examined and wisely rejected, at the Convention all of you felt the awe of a vast and momentous decision, and you determined to stand together, even to the point of utter sacrifice, in order to shake off the incubus of debt that threatened the very life not only of all our institutions, but of the denomination itself. We shall never forget that occasion, because while our hearts were burdened almost to breaking, we were strangely thrilled by the sense of fellowship, unanimous in every token, and more, by a sure feeling of divine approval. Since then, the weeks of campaigning, certainly the most intensive and extensive ever undertaken by us, have thoroughly convinced us that Texas Baptists have not wavered from their high resolve of that decisive hour, but on the contrary have steadily strengthened in their demand that these debts must be paid. No such meetings of Baptists, anywhere throughout the state, in such a spirit of consecration, have we ever seen before. From one end of the state to the other, our people, even in those sections where conditions are unusually hard have said insistently and without equivocation, that we must make this necessary start as proposed, viz.: subscribe every dollar of the $2,000,000 agreed upon this year, one million to be paid by March 15 and the second million by September 1, as a start toward the $6,000,000 we owe.

Your Executive Committee is impressed with the fact that we have every desirable thing in the Conquest Campaign except the money subscribed. Texas Baptists have the essential conviction, the proper understanding, the suitable organization, the requisite unity, the willing impulse—everything except the actual money subscribed. Shall we provide it now? Provide it next Sunday and the Sunday thereafter? Right away, now?

It is no spasmodic to which we are brought, but a sober, poignant sense of our real situation. Our institutions and Executive Board, by our most reluctant admission are in jeopardy every hour. The interest we are paying, if allowed to go on without diminishment, would mean denominational suicide. As the other day in another state, when a little bank, belonging to a chain of banks failed, caused every other in the chain to fail, so our causes are so bound up together that disaster to one would menace the life of all. We take it that the situation is so obvious that it would be needless to argue it and worse than folly to minimize it.

On the other hand with the requirement of the pressing obligations on all our absolutely worthy institutions, with the glorious unity and concord of action in which our people are now moving, with the unmeasured blessings of God invariably showered upon His people when engaged in spiritual conquest, especially with the great and unflinching outpour of riches upon His people when they sacrifice for His cause, and with the foregleams of victory already vouchsafed unto us, we give as our sincere and joyous conviction that Texas Baptists now stand at the threshold of an unprecedented new era. Shall we not enter in? God's clock of destiny apparently has struck. It strikes for a choice. What shall that strike mean? That we turn back into a wilderness of despair, or enter now into God's own new promised land for us?

With what good judgment we possess, with all the earnestness of which we are capable, with the keenest sense of the issues of these few days immediately ahead of us, in

JOHN M. WARREN BURIED HERE SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Mr. John M. Warren of this city, who died in San Antonio, March the third, was buried here in the Citizen's Cemetery last Sunday afternoon. The funeral services were held at the family home and were conducted by Reverend S. B. McClung, pastor of the First Baptist Church.

John Munroe Warren was born in Mississippi, November 19, 1852. He came to Texas in his boyhood and lived in Navarro County for many years. He was married to Miss Kate Jones in 1887. To their union were born eight children, six of whom survive their father. Mrs. Kate Jones Warren died here a few years ago. Mr. Warren was a member of the Missionary Baptist Church, and in the active years of his life took a leading part in the work of the church.

Mr. Warren had lived in Donley County twenty-two years and in Clarendon for more than ten years. He engaged in farming most of his life. He retired from active work some years ago. In 1926 he married Mrs. Aycock. They lived in Clarendon until a few months ago, when they went to San Antonio in the interest of Mr. Warren's health. Asthma and a stroke of apoplexy caused his death. He was seventy-four years of age.

In the large concourse of friends who attended the funeral were many from out of town. The offering of beautiful flowers covered the grave.

The late Mr. Warren is survived by his wife; four daughters, Mrs. C. J. Talley of Clarendon, Mrs. H. Vett and Mrs. Frank Mace of Amarillo, and Mrs. Lee Alley of Panhandle; and two sons, J. A. Warren and Ray Warren of Amarillo. All of Mrs. Warren's relatives were here at the funeral.
