DONLEY COUNTY AGRICULTURAL FAIR FOR 1928 WILL BE GREATLY ENLARGED

DONLEY CO. FAIR PLANS IN MAKING

FAIR COMMITTEE IS LAYING PLANS FOR ENLARGED DONLEY CO. EXHIBIT

Donley County's Free Fair will be held in 1928 according to the decision of the fair committee of the Clarendon Chamber of Commerce in its initial meeting last night. After a review of the benefits in an educational way from preceding fairs, the committee voted unanimously to hold the fair this fall and to extend its scope.

President Patman of the organization and chairman of the fair committee named G. L. Boykin, Walter Taylor and Paul Shelton as a committee to prepare the tentative premium lists, including individual and community agricultural exhibits; poultry, dairy cattle and swine divisions; women's department in number of sections and the usual home economics division. When the tentative premium lists are ready the committee will again meet and set a tentative budget to cover the cost of the entire fair project and a finance committee will be named to raise the needed funds.

Very probably the fair will be held earlier than last year according to the seasons of the summer months. It is proposed to hold the fair in the school building and on the grounds at the head of Kearney Street, as last year, but additional exhibit facilities will be provided, probably by the rental of a large circus tent.

Another feature of the fair to be added this fall will be a division of school exhibits from the rural schools of Donley County and information relative to this contest will go out to the schools so that much of the exhibits may be assembled in the spring term.

The fair committee is composed of J. T. Patman, chairman; H. J. Edington, Odos Caraway, Walter Taylor, Homer Mulkey and S. M. Braswell, with Secretary Boykin as ex-officio member.

"THE NOOK" IS NAME OF NEWEST CONFECTIONERY

Opening Saturday of this week with a completely remodeled plant, the name of Clarendon's latest venture in the confectionery line will be called "The Nook". The new place of business will be operated by L. H. Skelton, who will be assisted by Otis Naylor as part owner of the business. The location is the first door to the North of the First National Bank, in the former location of other like places of business. An announcement of their opening is to be found in another part of the paper, where a treat for all visitors is promised on Saturday, when the new business is opened. Both partners in the business are well known in the city of Clarendon, having been here for a number of years.

FURTHER CONTRIBUTIONS ADDED TO FIREMAN FUND

Fire Chief James Trent stated this week that two further contributions had been received to be added to the fund already in hand for use of the department. These two came entirely unsolicited and acknowledgement of them is made here. They are Mrs. Kate Hildebrand, $5.00 and D. P. Ross, $2.50. For the information of those who have not already made their contribution to the fund, it is open and will remain in that condition for some weeks yet. All funds will be turned to Mr. Trent and proper credit will be given.

Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey Taylor spent Sunday with friends in Lubbock.

NEW STATION IS HOUSING TRUCKS

BOTH UNITS OF FIGHTING EQUIPMENT ARE IN PERMANENT LOCATION

The fire trucks of the City of Clarendon have been removed from the old station in the Ice Plant building to their new home in the lower floor of the City Hall. The move was affected the fore part of this week and the equipment is ready at all times and may be brought into action on short notice. The third unit, the old Winton Truck that was formerly the fastest and largest unit in the service of the city will be remodeled and used as a secondary unit to displace the Ford now located in the station. Work has been going forward on the change all this week and it is thought that the unit will be ready for use in the very near future.

Practically all changes needed to make the city ready for an inspection are complete. All work has been finished on the inside of the station and all that remains to be done is the clearing away of the rubbish and litter that is ordinarily left by builders. The crews of the departments have been enlarged and now include 21 men, in addition to the one who will be secured to stay on the job at all times.

METHODIST PULPIT FILLED BY DR. COLE SUNDAY A. M.

Dr. Cole, editor of the Texas Christian Advocate of Dallas, preached to a good congregation at the Methodist Church last Sunday morning. The Advocate is the official organ for the Methodists of Texas and New Mexico, and Dr. Cole is a splendid preacher as well as a successful editor. His message here was well received.

J. H. Hendrick attended to business matters in Amarillo Wednesday.

Late reports from the bedside of J. O. Quattlebaum state that his condition is little improved from the relapse of pneumonia.

DENTISTS TO BE MEDICOS GUESTS

FOUR COUNTY ASSOCIATION TO HEAR DENTISTS IN MONTHLY MEETING

The Four County Medical Association will hold its regular monthly meeting in the Antro Hotel in the Lions Club room, beginning with the luncheon at noon on Friday of this week. The association is composed of the doctors in the counties of Donley, Hall, Childress and Collingsworth and is one of the most active in the Panhandle.

On the occasion of the meeting Friday of this week, the dentists of the four counties are to be the guests of the medicos and a part of the program is to be devoted to their work as found to be in connection with the medical end of the matter. Immediately following the luncheon in the Lions Club room, the meeting will be called to order and the following program will be given: Clinical case reports.

"Gentio-Urinary Tuberculosis" with case reports—Dr. W. J. Shudde of Amarillo.

"Delayed Rickets," with report of cases—Dr. George Cultra of Amarillo.

"Must the Public Continue to Regard Purgatives as the Panacea for All Ills"—Dr. Fred H. Carraker of Childress.

"Dental Diagnoses, with Relation to Systematic Diseases"—Dr. George Ingham of Amarillo.

HI-Y BOYS TO WICHITA FALLS

CLARENDON LADS LEAVE FRIDAY FOR OLDER BOYS CONFERENCE

Clarendon's Hi-Y Club will have seven representatives at the annual Older Boys Conference which opens at Wichita Falls Friday. For a number of years members of the Hi-Y Club have had representation at these annual conferences and this year they will be accompanied by Carl Parsons, as no member of the high school faculty is able to make the trip. The boys will drive through, leaving here early Friday morning. Those in the party will be Fred Bourland, John Blevins, D. Garner, Phillip Couch, Glen Allison, Leonard Darnell and Carl Parsons. They will return Sunday afternoon, after having attended the Sunday morning services at one of the Wichita Falls churches.

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Regular services in all departments of the church Sunday, March 11th. Rev. Wilson of Truscott, Texas will preach at the morning and evening services. The public is cordially invited to attend any or all of the services.

COUNTY'S FINANCE IN GOOD CONDITION

On page seven of this issue of the News will be found the annual report of the county's finances as issued by the office of the County Clerk. This is a matter of real interest to every citizen of Donley County and from County Clerk Lane's report much satisfaction may be had on the splendid condition of every fund maintained by the county. It is also a matter of special interest at this particular time that the bonded or warranted indebtedness of Donley County amounts to only $112,536.61, amazingly low when indebtedness of other counties is of no greater valuation than Donley is considered. From this total sum there is to be deducted an accumulated sinking fund of about $8,000 on the Jail Bonds. It will also be noted that the road and bridge fund is retiring in excess of $10,000 bonds and interest each year.

County taxable values are now in excess of $7,000,000.

A. A. Mayes returned Wednesday evening of this week from Clarendon where he was engaged by the death of an uncle. He visited in Wichita Falls en route home.

LEGION TO MEET MONDAY EVENING

ELECTION AND COMPLETE REORGANIZATION TO BE HELD IN ANTRIO

The nomination and membership committees of the Aubyn E. Clark Post of the American Legion of Clarendon have been actively engaged in their work for the past week and have their plans well worked out for the meeting to be held in the Lions Club room of the Antro Hotel on next Monday. Letters are going out to all members and prospects this week with enclosures of nominations for all offices to be filled.

Interest in the revival of the Legion Post is better at this time than it has ever been and it is thought that a good membership and a live attendance will be had in the organization meeting. Late rulings have made it possible for some who were ineligible before this time to belong to the organization and this will boost the membership quite a bit.

CLARENDON BAND ASKED TO ASSIST IN ELECTION

The services of the Clarendon Municipal Band will be in demand today and tomorrow in Pampa, where they will play at various times for the purpose of assisting in matters political in Gray County. The band, under the management of G. L. Boykin, will leave today for Pampa in the school bus of that city, will stay in the Schneider Hotel over tonight and will return Friday evening in the same manner. The band was hired by the city of Pampa will probably create much interest in the election that is to be held in Gray County this week.

NEW BUSINESS HOMES RISING

HOLLAND AND TOMB BUILDINGS NEARING DATE OF COMPLETION

The two outstanding building ventures of the past few months are rapidly nearing the completion date and the time when they will be occupied. On First Street, at the corner of Gorst, the Holland Building will be completed in the next few weeks, and is to be occupied by a filling station and the Bartlett Nash Company. This is one of the finest and most up-to-date buildings of the sort in the city and completes the erection of a block of buildings in that block in the past few months.

The building to house the Tomb Motor Company is rapidly taking shape at the hands of the workmen and will probably be ready for use shortly after the fifteenth of the month. The place is practically ready for use, with the exception of the tile that will be placed on the front to complete the Spanish style of architecture.

The Lott Building at the intersection of Second and Kearney Streets is receiving attention in the removal of a part of the sidewalk to allow for cars to stand still in their drive in station. The paving is being torn out and is to be replaced in a very short time.

Mrs. Russell Clark of Canyon and their two small sons visited with Mrs. Will Johnson last week.

LOCAL LIONS GO TO BORGER TODAY

CLARENDON LIONS CLUB SEND MEMBERS TO BORGER GROUP MEET AT BORGER

Seven members of the Clarendon Lions Club, headed by club president, Homer Mulkey, left this morning for Borger, where they will attend the first scheduled meeting of the Panhandle group of Lions Clubs organized here in Clarendon in early February. Morning, luncheon and afternoon programs will be held and entertainment provided for those who will stay over tonight. Amarillo, Dalhart or Pampa will probably be selected for the next group meeting. Those in attendance from Clarendon are: Pres. H. Mulkey, Secretary F. L. Stallings, O. C. Watson, A. L. Chase, O. L. Fink, Odos Caraway and W. C. Stewart.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Nowlin motored to Lubbock Friday of last week.

Mrs. M. D. Stephens is visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Ozier. Mr. and Mrs. Stephens are changing their place of residence from Wichita Falls to San Angelo, Texas.

ACCREDITED ENGINEER AND CORPS START FROM HALL COUNTY LINE

SURVEY OF HIGHWAY TO BE COMPLETED IN TWO TO THREE WEEKS AND LONG DISPUTED QUESTIONS TO BE SETTLED AS TO LOCATION OF ROUTE. END OF PAVING IN HALL COUNTY IS STARTING PLACE FOR SURVEY. WILL GO THROUGH COUNTY TO WESTERN JUNCTION WITH ARMSTRONG.

ART EXHIBIT DRAWS CROWDS

SPLENDID RECEPTION OF PRINTS ELICITS MUCH PRAISE FROM CLUB

The exhibition of prints from Old Masters that has been held in the pack part of the Goldston Building this week has drawn more than the ordinary amount of attention from the people of Clarendon. Members of the Beaux Arts Club who have been in charge stated late Wednesday that more people had seen this collection than had ever seen a showing of the like nature in the city.

Practically all of the school children have seen the pictures, especially those from the lower grades of the school. The attendance of these would naturally swell the number seeing the pictures to a large number, and this has been augmented by more grown people than has been the case in past months when pictures were shown in the school buildings.

An interesting feature has been a part of the work of the club and that is the interest the youngest students of the city schools have shown in the really old masters in preference to the more modern paintings. When each of the rooms of smaller children have passed through the room, a vote is taken, each of the children making his own selection of the picture he likes best. With few exceptions, the youngsters have selected some of the prints from the oldest and most classical pictures. It has been noted that the older the child, the more modern he will prefer his pictures.

Due credit should be given Les Beaux Arts Club for bringing the collection to Clarendon. Not any part of the funds collected will go for purposes other than to provide pictures for the various rooms of the schools of the city. The citizens of Clarendon are also to be congratulated on the perception they have in matters of art. They are showing more interest than has been seen in almost all of the cities where the collection has been on display. The final count on attendance will probably mean that almost 1,000 people have visited and seen the selection of prints.

The second step in the program to paved roads in Donley was begun the fore part of this week when P. S. Bailey of the State Highway Department and his crew started from the Hall County line with a survey that will definitely settle a dispute of long standing as to the location of Highway 5 in Donley County. Late advice from the County officials in charge of the roads would indicate that the movements of the engineers will be closely watched and that interest in road matters will be higher in Donley County in the coming few weeks than has been the case before.

The latest maps available will be thrown into the discard when the survey is completed, for the reason that the survey is made by an accredited engineer working with full sanction of the State Highway Department.

The former theory that the road is to miss all towns in the county with the exception of Clarendon has been thrown aside long past as being unauthentic and not authorized by any official who had matters of roads in their control. Many routes and much conjecture will be in evidence while the survey is being run. As was stated in the last issue of the News, other roads of the county have been designated and there is no doubt in the minds of any of the citizens as to their routing. Highway 66 and Highway 88 have never bothered the people of the county in the least. A continuation of the designation of Highway 88 is to be asked in the near future, which would extend this road into Silverton and open a great empire of fertile country that has long laid waiting for the touch that brings prosperity. The railroad into Silverton will also aid materially in bringing the designation of this road to the attention of the Highway bodies of the state.

DISPLAY WINDOWS ARE REFINISHED THIS WEEK

The display windows of the Rathjen building were refinished and present a new spring total effect for the Rathjen's Shoe Store and the Hanna-Pope Dry Goods Co. A two tone effect of Cream and Ivory is the new idea being carried out, which will improve the facilities of display for these two firms. A lot of other store front and window painting and overhauling is expected in the Spring months, which will increase Clarendon's reputation for modern business houses.

Dairying, Poultry, Good Hogs, Exploited As Adjuncts To Safe Farming In Donley

LION PATRICK SAYS THAT WE MUST SELL IDEA LOCALLY

With a full attendance of Lions and representatives from a great many of the grocery stores and produce houses of the city, the Lions heard a discussion of the diversification problems in Donley County with much interest in the luncheon Tuesday of this week. In the absence of the Boss Lion and his two assistants, Lion Watson opened that program as immediate past president, introducing Lion Sam M. Braswell, who had control of the floor from that time until the closing hour.

Routine matters pertaining to the conduct of the club and its interests were attended with a minimum of time to allow Lion Patrick as much time as was needed to put his ideas into words. The committee named to secure a delegation to Borger asked for those who would attend. A telegram was read from the Borger Club asking that a definite answer be given by Tuesday. In the introduction of guests, the following were presented to the club as guests for the day. J. J. McFadden, Armour representative of Clarendon, R. I. Hart, Pastor on Clarendon Circuit, T. A. Messer of Plaska, Ben Hardy, Pastor at Floydada, A. Giddens gin man of Lakeview, F. E. Chamberlain, Vice President of the Donley County State Bank, E. P. Shelton of Shelton & Sanford, Walter Clifford of Clifford & Ray and S. W. Lowe of Lowe's Grocery and Market.

Lion Patrick was then introduced and took the greater part of the remainder of the hour in the presentation of the diversification problems as they confront Donley County. Statement was made that a Lions Club was a great benefit to any community for the reason that it brought the men together in a weekly forum for the interchanging of ideas and for the fellowship it affords.

"Communities," said Mr. Patrick "Are Good, Medium and Mediocore, in so far as the citizenship lend themselves to cooperation." In the main, Clarendon and Donley County are agricultural communities, depending on this source of revenue for the existence of the residents. All present have seen the time when livestock, grain and cotton have all been produced on so large a scale as to prevent their sale for a profit. These conditions result in an unstable condition which may be stabilized to a great extent by diversification in any one of its many forms. Adverse years are usually hard on everyone in the community so afflicted. Donley County, with special reference to the western portion, has withstood in 1927, the hardest drouth that has been recorded in this county since the first settlements some forty years past. Many of the largest producers of the county have made nothing, and the time is right when these men will listen to a plan whereby they may be able to derive revenue steadily through the most adverse years.

For the reason that Donley County has been a crop producer for years on end, the plan of diversification has fallen behind in this section to such an extent that this county is far behind many of the neighboring counties. A notable example is found in Swisher County, where prosperity is found at all times of the year for the reason that this county is the most widely developed dairying section in the Panhandle

LIONS CONSIDER DIVERSIFICATION

A plan must be worked out for the diversification of the county, in which everyone will be interested. This plan should call for the further promotion of chickens, hogs and dairy cows. The matter must be taken into consideration that it will do no good for the Chamber of Commerce, the banks or the Lions or any other organization to buy the stock and give them to the producers. It is vitally important that these high grade producers must be gotten to the hands of an interested party rather than into the hands of one who cares little for the particular branch of diversification he is given. A man who is interested in hogs or dairy cows would not be interested in chickens, and vice versa.

The first and most vital consideration to be had is the fact that the men of the town must first sell themselves on the idea—then it will be a comparatively simple matter to sell other interested parties. The benefits of the diversification idea is then easily shown to the producer, or no good is accomplished in the first educational program.

The financing of these matters is easily arranged if the man can be convinced of the plan making money. The moral sense of the obligation and the credit condition of the risk is to be taken into consideration above all else. It is a foolish and impractical move to take on a man who is not interested enough in his development to have a small cash surplus to put into the proposition when it is first started. Two examples were given where Donley County farmers have made good through a program of this nature. Further statement was made that there should be at least fifty farmers who would be interested in one or more of the three means to increase his income. Another item to be taken into consideration, and that is the condition of the farm on which this diversification is to be practised. Some of them are entirely unfitted for the matter and this should also be considered before the interested person is approached on the matters.

With the idea taking root as it has, another query will arise, especially in the matter of over-production of the commodities made from milk. An excerpt from a government bulletin was read, stating that milk products were imported in the past year the equaling one billion pounds of raw milk. So long as this condition is found to be existent, there is little opportunity for a surplus to be produced. Canada is also furnishing a great part of her surplus to the United States. These imports are coming under a heavy tariff and will be increased unless the demand is cared for at home.

Increase in production in the United States is to be found only in more intensive feeding rather than in the increase in the number and size of dairy herds. Eggs are found scarcer than at any time in the past few years, and the same will apply to dressed poultry in cold storage as of January 1st, 1928. Prices were predicted to be steady, with an increase over what have prevailed during the past year. Furley clippings from the Amarillo Daily News and the Manufacturers

Record were read to back up the assertions of the Government Bulletin.

Hope was expressed that the Lions would be thoroughly sold on the idea and that they would work at the job all hours of the day. A milk route to bring in three tons of sweet cream each day would add materially to the financial status of the producers of the county. Lion Patrick is thoroughly sold on the idea, and is able to back his statements by figures when an interested person calls on him for data and facts.

In direct connection with the discussion had by Lion Patrick, Lion Patman announced the attendance of four Clarendon men on the preliminary meeting of the first Dairy Show in the South on April 3, 4, 5, and 6. This is the first time a project of this nature has been tried and fifty counties of the Panhandle are casting their eyes towards Plainview and are watching the outcome with much interest. A sale of registered, tested dairy cows will be held on the third day of the show, and a number of interested Donley County farmers will be in attendance.

NATIONAL EDITORIAL ASSOCIATION — PANHANDLE PRESS ASSOCIATION

Work begun this week on the survey of Highway 5 through Donley County by state highway engineers. We craved action. We got it.

Increased dairying. More diversification. Paved highways. A county agent. What county has more heroic, dramatic or romantic program than that? Viva Donley!

Many men and women who do not claim to be religious, personally, are finding themselves more and more actuated and constrained by the principles of the Christian religion. Thus, America may be called a religious country, even though church membership falls a long way short of accounting for the population. The march of Christianity is irresistible, though sometimes slow as humans reckon.

Clarendon's unpaved streets are being put in splendid condition by the city dads, and when the gas company gets the ditches all smoothed up and the holes in the paving replaced, our city will present its wonted appearance of the best kept streets and alleys of any Panhandle town. Take a little trip and look 'em over and you'll be proud and happy in the comparison. Just another way of saying that Clarendon is the best town in all this section, from every angle, size considered. You can give odds, too.

Clarendon members of the Chamber of Commerce are planning to run a motorcade to Plainview for one day of the Panhandle Dairy Show, which will be held there April 3-4-5-6. Donley County farmers interested in dairying and more milk production will be invited to go as guests of the local organization, as another step in its earnest effort to promote dairying and other forms of diversified farming in this county. Many of our progressive farmers will know what to expect in the exhibits at Plainview, but most of us Clarendon boys are going to see things we never dreamed of in the big dairy show. So the trip will be educational and will mean an advanced program of dairying in Donley. Several hundred head of grade and registered cows will be on sale in the auction ring, and it is to be hoped that a good per cent of them will be bought and brought to this county since extension of dairying must mean importation of more and better cows. The 1928 Panhandle Dairy Show is one of the great constructive events of the year. Let us hope that we get our full share of the benefits.

"Show me a man carrying home a billboard. Then I'll admit that news papers have competition."—Exchange.

Big doin's on at Fort Worth over the week-end. The Fat Stock Show will be in full blast, and the Panther City with the show management are to be hosts to the newspaper boys of West Texas. Hoping to get there is this editor's chief occupation, right now.

Only a miracle man will be able to compose the extreme views to be reckoned with at the national Democratic convention at Houston in June. It looks as if a party house-cleaning must come before any harmony is possible. There is and has been no hope for a party wearing two or three entirely different faces in as many sections of the nation.

Cash grocery stores are rapidly challenging the dry goods business as leaders in advertising. The great cash systems have returned the verdict that there is no success without steady use of newspaper space and are demonstrating all over again the profits that may be had by modern methods in selling. Advertising means customers. It means increased turnover. It means steady profits.

The last remaining low priced farm lands on the continent are in the Southwest with much of its area in West Texas. Therefore large development based on agricultural wealth must come in our section of the country. The pessimist is a hopeless misfit in the Panhandle and West Texas, and the man who sits too contentedly in his present circumstances will someday be adjudged guilty of "misfeasance".

Judge Lindsey of Denver has created a good deal of criticism of his advocacy of the "Companionate marriage". He is quite a prominent lecturer and has some of the heavy weight church preachers on his back. He vehemently denies favoring trial marriages or free love. He defines the companionate marriage as one to be childless for five years and if the couple then have learned to love each other, the marriage to stand permanently, other a separation by agreement and without prejudice, each to be at liberty to hunt another five year partner. We see very little difference between that and the trial marriage, with the exception that in the trial marriage there may be children. The Judge will stand better with the world if he will drop that question and talk prohibition and tell us just how to successfully enforce the Eighteenth Amendment. The divorce schedule is complete enough as it now stands.—Clayton Citiz'n.

The organization of the Upper Pease-Red River Valley Association should be able to do great good. But, the newspapers of the district have been used to writing it "The Green Belt," and it will be hard for them to quit. It is believed the name was given by a Clarendon citizen and first used by the Clarendon News many years ago. The Index accepted the name as being about the best which would describe this association of Northwest Texas and at once adopted the name and has used it with considerable frequency. Sure, The Daily Index will make an effort to break the old habit of writing it "The Green Belt" of northwest Texas, but it will be mighty hard to do.—Childress Index.

The News editor hasn't lived in Clarendon but a little over ten years and he doesn't know a lot about the beginning of the title "Green Belt", but we have been taught that it is a translation of the term used by the Indians to describe this country lying just under the Cap Rock. Honestly, we have always felt just a little like somebody was trying to get in on our "thunder" when some counties a little south and east, called themselves in the "Green Belt". However, we'll join with them in this new "Upper Pease-Red River Valley Association", and they'll just have to pardon us if, now and then, we refer to Donley County as the "Heart of the Green Belt". Pride and habit have lots to do with us.

TWO VIEWS—BOTH WRONG

Probably no branch of business today is more misunderstood than advertising. Its steady growth is evidence enough that advertising will be able to bear up beneath this burden of misunderstanding. But there are two diametrically opposed views fairly prevalent, that need to be corrected.

The loose-lipped, sawdust-brained critic of advertising holds that it is "hot air, bunk, applesauce." He regards advertising as just so much waste, and the advertising man as a parasite on the nation's business. This fellow does some harm, of course, because any misconception of anything harms it somewhat. But after all, it's easy enough to answer him, for the evidence is at hand, although it isn't so easy to convince him.

Then there is the man who regards advertising as a 1,000,000,000 candle-power modern Aladdin's Lamp, and the advertising man as a performer of miracles who can cure the ills of any business by a mere laying on of hands. He thinks all he needs to do is put up a plant, start making some article—no matter what it is or how it is made—place his account with an advertising expert and, presto, he can buy ten Rolls Royces and a shipload of champagne.

Of course, both these views are wrong. Advertising does pay—when the articles advertised are good and the advertising is properly done. That's such a self-evident statement that it looks a bit foolish, now that it's written. But advertising needs to spread a little further just such a gospel.—The American Press.

WEST TEXAS BODY WARNS AGAINST ADVERTISING BUNK

A simultaneous explosion of advertising bunk of all natures is to be expected in Texas with the holding of a series of major conventions in the state according to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in a letter received the latter part of last week from Stamford. The West Texas body states that they are not discrediting the use of advertising in all legal respects, but urge that all schemes of any nature be given a thorough investigation before they are accepted and hard cash is paid for them. The letter goes further and states that a part of the advertising presented for the use is quite acceptable, but that the larger per cent is only in the nature of matter enriching a few and leaving the results as nil.

Why Build A Home?

Many reasons present themselves for the person who is considering the erection of a home, and probably first on the list will come the question asked above. A list of the reasons for the building of a home would be too long to give here but a few of them could be given easily.

You can build a home of your own for the rent you are paying, with a very little more added.

You will take more interest in a place to call your own than in a rented house.

It will make a real citizen and a booster for the town in which you decide to live.

"KING or COMMONER?" No. 6

ECONOMIC SIGNIFICANCE OF THE AMERICAN COTTON INDUSTRY—From latest volume in Manhattan Library of Popular Economics, republished in serial form through courtesy of Bank of the Manhattan Company, New York.

ARTICLE SIX COTTON'S MANY PARTNERS

VERY much as each of the many processes having to do with cotton is part of a great interdependent whole, so this gigantic industry itself is a portion of the still vaster structure of American business. To some extent it is dependent upon other industries but, to an extraordinary extent, other business of many kinds, big and little, in the greatest variety, is dependent upon cotton. Here is an even larger unity calling for a still wider view.

It is meant in no disparaging sense if we say that many people are "fly-eyed" and some few are "eagle-eyed," for really all people should be something of both. The fly with its many lenses sees an intensity of detail from a distance of a fraction of an inch; while the eagle, high aloft, has a range of miles. For ages humanity has been living "close to its job" and travelling, when at all, upon the surface; and this has been most necessary because effectiveness calls for close attention to details. But latterly man has begun to emulate the eagle in the air, and many who have not yet ventured physical flight, have learned to rise mentally into the heights of larger view. Then, when they descend again to their tasks, they bring a consciousness of important relations that previously had not been fully appreciated.

This viewpoint has an especial value in considering cotton, for the grower and the ginner are engaged in many kinds of business of which they rarely even think. So also are the manufacturer and distributor.

For example, the American manufacturer of automobile tires produces some 102,655,000 per year, according to the Census of 1923. Less than one per cent of these are made entirely of rubber; the balance consist of a rubber facing applied to a cotton base. Tire manufacture in this country consumes the equivalent of 500,000 bales annually.

Thousands of bales more go into automobile upholstery, including the large quantity of cotton fabric that is converted into artificial leather. Fifteen million Ford cars alone are said to have required a million bales. Other bales of cotton go into the upholstering of furniture, the binding of books and the many other applications of artificial leather.

America produces 645,000,000 pairs of boots and shoes per year. Nearly all of these are lined with cotton duck, or have cotton fabric in their composition. A similar thing is true with the product of the large baggage industry.

And then there are the manufacturers of towels and other household cloths, of sails and tents, or awnings, flags, draperies, wall coverings and road markers, or hoses and of certain kinds of machinery belting—these could not operate at all if their supply of cotton fabric were cut off. The same thing is true of many apparently incidental uses while as to the almost universal clothing industry—imagination hesitates to picture what would result from a sudden termination of the flow of cotton goods; hundreds of thousands of sewing machines would be stilled and the great factories that produce them would be driven into bankruptcy; millions of needles would cease to flash and armies of hungry workers would vainly storm at the gates of other industries or riot in the streets; stores would close; banks would crash and the entire American public would discover that it had been unconsciously a partner in the cotton industry upon whose welfare its own welfare is so closely dependent.

Other business of many kinds, big and little, in the greatest variety, is dependent upon cotton

Cotton furnishes the cellulose from which high explosives are made. America's first line of defense is found in the cotton fields of the South. The peacetime employment of explosives in mining, engineering, building and agriculture also is large and constant. The manufacture of the versatile celluloid and the enormous motion picture industry arise from the same field, and so also do the various other industries dependent upon the linters and seed, not overlooking that very new activity, the making of rayon.

Nor must sight be lost of the far-reaching effect of the annual inflow of approximately nine hundred million dollars, on the average, which comes to America in exchange for cotton shipped abroad.

In no small degree, therefore, American agriculture, industry and foreign trade are dependent upon the South's production of cotton.

The foregoing list is not exhaustive, only suggestive, but it indicates that the cotton industry must be regarded as one of the most essential factors in the great unity of American welfare. In all of this the need for a constant and conscientious spirit of cooperation is primary.

SUBSCRIPTIONS TO NEWS RECEIVED EVERY WEEK

Despite the fact that the News closed a very successful canvass of the available territory in the early Fall of last year, new subscriptions are arriving every week. A steady growth has been recorded since the close of the campaign and each week sees more names added to the list than are removed in the natural process of time. We of the News are taking this as a great compliment to the quality of the News and attribute the growth to our service and the increase in the population of the county.

Clarendon Chamber of Commerce
G. L. BOYKIN, Secretary

With the survey of highway 5 thru this county being run by a state highway engineer it will soon be definitely known the exact location of this road thru Donley county. The Chamber of Commerce highway committee in requesting the county commissioners to have this work done before a road election was called felt that it represented the wishes of the people in this matter and that any voter in the county should know where the road would run before he was asked to vote on such an issue. We believe a road should run where it best serves the uses and needs of the people. The commissioners we believe are looking out for the best interests of the people when they set aside money for this survey to be run.

CLARENDON TEXAS EXES ATTEND CHILDRESS MEET

Celebrating the annual March second event that is held by the University of Texas Ex-Students with a meeting in Childress, fifty-five of the students met in Childress in the Methodist Church. Clarendon registered a splendid attendance on the meeting, being represented by twelve former students of the school. One of the outstanding features of the occasion was the appearance of Dean Moore of the University, who has charge of the Student Activities. He told of the appearance of the well beloved members of the faculty, of their actions and the manner in which time was taking its toll on their looks. Special emphasis was laid on the appearance of President Benedict T. U. Taylor and others who are best known on the campus. The destruction of Beck's Lake by the erection of an addition to the library and the consequent loss to the former students of the school was mentioned. The demolition of shacks in one part of the campus, only to have them appear in another guise in a removed section of the forty acres was another item that was mentioned. The power plant has been moved and is now in the southeast part of Clark field and is shielded on the west by the shops of the Mechanical Engineering Department so effectively that the beauty is lost to the observer. New buildings for the campus in the next few years will include a new chemistry building and the extension of the library. Future needs are most felt in the engineering department where 700 students are literally hanging out of the windows of their building. Dean Moore stated that the Law students were not asking for anything at the present time, but that when they learned of the fruitful efforts of the Engineers, they would immediately ask for building or some expansive buildings.

Other speakers on the program were H. Deskins Wells of Wellington, Charles H. Dean of Clarendon and Dr. H. L. Wilder of Clarendon. Wells told of the March second celebrations on the campus. Chas. Dean Spoke of the outstanding ability of every law student in the school. Dr. Wilder told of some of the trials and tribulations of the Medical school at Galveston and of the subsequent growth of this department to make it recognized as one of the leading medical schools of the United States.

The following were in attendance from this city: Dr. and Mrs. H. L. Wilder, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Dean, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Clyde J. Douglas, Misses Katherine Cole, Mary Stocking, Helen Beck, Lucy Lee Aiken and Messrs Jerome Stocking and F. L. Stallings.

COLLEGE DONORS RECEIVE LAST PAYMENT ON REFRUND

Clarendon citizens who contributed to the now famous $21,437 fund to raise Clarendon College to senior rank and settle any question as to permanency of location back in 1925, are this week receiving an additional cent of the final payment of 14 cents on the dollar, being distributed by the local board of trustees acting under orders of the whole board of trustees and special authority of the called session of the Northwest Texas Methodist conference held in Amarillo last Spring.

Along in October of last year a payment of 60 cents on the dollar to contributors was made by the local board, on the completion of the transfer of certain buildings and grounds to the Clarendon Independent School District for the sum of $42,000. Subsequent sales of odds and ends of the property left only the boys dormitory to be disposed of, and when it was finally purchased by J. W. Gordon the final payment was held up until this time by some title adjustments on certain parts of the property sold at private sale.

Many citizens join the local board in the feeling that paying all the indebtedness of the institution and making a final return of 74 cents on the dollar to the donors of the $21,437 senior college fund, was a good piece of management, considering the financial conditions which obtained during the period of liquidation.

Assets of the school, consisting of several thousand dollars in notes, were removed to Amarillo by Dr. Morgan, late president of Clarendon College and now president of the proposed Amarillo College, and were not, therefore, available for liquidation by the local board.

PEASE-RED RIVER VALLEY IS COMING TO DIVERSIFICATION

That dairying is being increased in this section of the Panhandle is evidenced by the amount of cream that is being sold at local stations in the various centers of Hall, Hardeman, and Childress counties, according to H. D. Cuykendall, field representative and educational worker for the cotton oil mill of Childress, Quanah, Memphis and Chillicothe and the Gate City Creamery of Childress and Quanah.

At Childress there are about 600 farmers selling cream to three cream stations, including the Gate City Creamery. These 600 farmers are making their living off their dairy cows and having their profit crop each year in cotton.

At Memphis there are large numbers of farmers either turning voluntarily into the business of the farm dairy, or are being diverted by the banks into that channel of work.

At Quitaque the local cream station reports about 125 farmers in its territory and 75 of them on the books of the company, bringing in cream regularly. On two days this cream station received 22 10-gallon cans of cream and expected to ship, during February 125 10-gallon cans.

At Turkey, Jim Sharpe, banker, is turning his customers into dairy farmers. When a man calls at the bank and asks to borrow money to pay his groceries and dry goods through the summer months, Jim discourages them from this practice. He says that he is not in favor of loaning money for such purposes but that he will loan money for the farmer to purchase a dairy herd so that he can make his own living and have something to show for his investment at the end of the period of time when the note falls due. In this way the farmer is made to be self-supporting. He buys his dairy cows and pays off his note with his cotton crop. He then has his dairy cows to support him the next year without the necessity of borrowing money.

At Quanah great strides are being made in dairying. It is believed that that section will make wonderful progress during the next two years. Already the farmers are beginning to adopt the dairy program in increasing numbers and others have evidenced an interest in this work. Hardeman County is going to give Childress County a hard race for honors in dairying during the next 24 months.

CLARENDON MEN HANDLE DISTRICT TOURNAMENT

The District Basketball Meet for District 3 was held in Childress Friday and Saturday of last week with Estelline as the outstanding club of the District. Estelline is to play the Wichita Falls team for the Bi-District championship. H. T. Burton, Director in this District, was in charge of the entire match, with Coaches Stocking and Hutton as officials in charge of the handling of the matches. The Donley County representative, Hedley, was eliminated in the first round, having drawn Estelline in their first match. Hedley would have made a much better showing had their team not been crippled by the absence of their two best men. The Hedley team is a snappy bunch and easily eliminated the Clarendon team in the first part of the season.

CLARENDON MEN ATTEND PLAINVIEW SHOW MEETING

J. T. Patman, Chamber of Commerce President, G. L. Boykin, Secretary-Manager, H. J. Edington, Director and J. W. Martin, all of this city attended the meeting of directors of the Dairy Show held in Plainview Saturday of last week. These gentlemen state that Plainview has underwritten the show, furnished all prizes and that the men who show will only be out the amount they spend for feeding their stock while they are in Plainview. Many exhibitors of the Panhandle country are planning to send a large showing to this first Panhandle-wide show and it is thought to be one of the largest events of this nature that has ever been held in this part of the state. In commenting on the trip, all of the gentlemen in question were more than impressed with the far-reaching condition of the dairy industry in the country they passed through. Particularly is Swisher County developed along dairy lines with other counties coming along closely and keeping in step with the progress these progressive men are making. More than twenty counties were represented at the meeting last Saturday.

FREDERICK DAIRIES PAY FARMERS $162,660

Annual value of dairy products coming from Frederick and surrounding territory was estimated at $162,660 in a survey of conditions here by D. E. Boyett, Lawton, representative of the Southwestern Light and Power company. A total of 5422 head of dairy cattle, valued at $341,586, are maintained here, the survey shows. The survey further points out that the average per capita wealth of Frederick, Oklahoma's 5500 population is $532.22—Wichita Falls Record-News.

Mr. Landrum stated that Harley was planning to return to Clarendon in the early part of the summer and that at the present time, he was in New York making selections of new plays, new materials, and signing up new numbers for his show. Mr. Landrum stated that the show would be new from start to finish and that it would bring Clarendon and vicinity something they could appreciate. When Harley's golf game was mentioned, the field manager stated that a boy in the troupe would show some of the golfers in Clarendon what the game was when he reached the city.

MARCH IS MEASLES MONTH

March is the month in the year when epidemics of measles usually reach their height. These are some suggestions urged upon first indication of the disorder:

1. Put patient to bed and summon physician.
 2. Keep other members of the family away from the afflicted one.
 3. Nasal and throat discharges should be put into paper bags until such time as the clothes may be washed or burned.
- Remember the hands of a person caring for patient should be kept scrupulously clean. Parents should learn to recognize measles before the skin eruption begins, which is about the fourth day, for by that time other children will have become infected. Make every effort to keep children away from any possible contact with measles until after they have passed their 2nd birthday as measles are especially dangerous for the very young and very old.
