STARNES SERVICES GAIN IN INTEREST

ATTENDANCE ON MEETINGS CONTINUE GROWTH AS END APPROACHES

Proof of the popularity of Rev. V. B. Starnes is found in the continued growth of the crowds on attendance on all the services held in the big tent on the Grammar school grounds at the head of Kearney Street. Both services of the day show that the people of Clarendon are interested in things above the ordinary and that the interest is growing from day to day.

The business houses of the city are showing their co-operation in the manner in which they are closing their doors from ten to eleven each morning. A great increase has been noted in these services, made up primarily of the business men and their employees. Other citizens of the city are also attending these services to make them one of the most interesting services of the day.

Saturday afternoon of last week, the first demonstration of the Booster Band was held on Kearney Street. These little ones are working under the direction of Lee Baum, choir director and worker for the revival. In the parade that was staged by these, Rev. Starnes acted in the capacity of general of the forces while Charles Miller was his first hand aid. Rev. Miller made a short address to the folk who gathered to witness the work of the little ones.

Rev. Starnes delivered one of the most striking messages of the entire series on Monday evening of this week when the crucifixion of Christ was depicted in a most impressive manner. A large audience heard the message and it is thought that the work will live long after the series of services have closed here. The evening hours are devoted to the greater messages of the day, while the morning hours are made short to accommodate the business men of the town.

Services are announced as follows for the remaining part of the week:

Friday evening: "Has Clarendon sold out to the Devil?" "Who will referee the game?" A message especially to the young people. A section will be roped off for them. Sunday morning: "Where is Heaven and what is it like?" Sunday afternoon: 3:45, "Entangling alliances." This message is especially designed to be presented to the voters of Donley county and is a resume of the candidacy of Gov. Al Smith based on a personal interview with him, made by Rev. Starnes.

Sunday evening: "Life's most vital question." The results of the services have been gratifying of all churches of the city, especially in the matter of securing memberships from folk who have been making their home here and who have left their memberships elsewhere. 102 memberships to the various churches of the city have resulted from this intensive campaign that has been staged by Rev. Starnes. Sixteen have been consecrated but have not signified their church preference. Twenty-two have been reclaimed and nine have consecrated themselves for Life Service work.

The financial end of the series has been handled more smoothly than has ever been the case in the past. The final work on the incidental expenses of the meeting was done the fore part of this week and the audiences will not be hampered in this manner further. The services have been scheduled to close with the evening services Sunday and the party expects to leave for other fields immediately following the close of the work here.

Services may be expected as follows at the Presbyterian Church next Sabbath: Sabbath School at ten o'clock. Congregational worship at 11 A. M. There will be no service at night. You have a hearty invitation to worship with us. J. T. Sims and family have returned from a fishing trip made to New Mexico.

Ernest Pope left early Monday for the annual buying trip of the Associated Stores to New York City. The Paul Shelton family have moved to the home of Mrs. J. A. Shelton where they will spend the next few weeks in order to have their home remodeled. J. Roy Bartlett and family moved to Childress Wednesday where they have erected a new home and Mr. Bartlett will again be in the Studio business.

Miss Nina Boyett returned Monday from a two weeks vacation and visit with relatives in Salis, Mississippi. She enjoyed a family reunion while she was out of the city.

CHECKER PLAYERS HERE AUGUST 14TH

PANHANDLE GROUP TO MEET AND REORGANIZE IN TOURNEY HERE

Plans are under way in the checker club of Clarendon to hold a Panhandle tournament for checker players in this section of the state in this city on August 14th. The rooms of the Clarendon club will be used for the play, which is to start at 1:00 o'clock on the date set for the tournament. A business session will be held in the morning at 10:00 o'clock in the club rooms, at which time the old organization will be reformed and such business attended as will be necessary.

In the play, the round robin method will be used, thus giving every player an opportunity to meet the other players in the meet. Games will be scored with 2 for a win, 1 for a draw and the losses naturally tallying nothing. Three classes will be used, the man with the highest percentage of wins after the first round taking first class, and so on from there to the last one-third of the group. Wins will be determined on a percentage basis as was used in determining the class the player will take.

Prizes will be offered in all three of the classes, the Globe cup being used as first prize, with other prizes being offered to the winners and runners-up of the three groups. The two move restriction style of play will be used. A large attendance is expected from all parts of the Panhandle to compete for the prizes offered. The Globe cup is now held by E. M. Lindsey, who won it in the Panhandle tourney some two years past. No tournament has been held in the past two years.

PASTIME TO RESUME MATINEES NEXT WEEK

According to an announcement in the regular advertising space of the Pastime Theatre, Manager Mulkey will re-instate his regular daily matinees, beginning Monday of next week. The daily matinees were discontinued with the exception of Saturdays about the first of June this year on account of an apparent slump in business, but Mr. Mulkey reports such a demand for the daily program in the afternoon that he has determined to put them on again, with the resolve to save himself that mistake in the future. He says there is a transient patronage here every day besides the small but regular attendance. Pastime matinees will begin at 2 o'clock, except on Saturday when the hour will be 1:30 as usual.

SPECIAL MEET IS CALLED NEXT WEEK

LEGION MEMBERS CALLED TO FIRST REGULAR MEETING IN AUGUST

A special meeting for the "Knife and Fork" members of the American Legion has been called for Tuesday evening of next week. A special program of entertainment has been planned and will be assisted at the close by serving some refreshments of a light nature. The hall has been furnished since the last meeting that some of the members attended and they will be surprised to learn that it is one of the most complete places in the city. A promise was made that the new Legion curtains would be installed before the meeting next Tuesday evening and that the windows would be washed and that all other necessary measures would be attended. Since the Aubyn E. Clark Post has decided to sponsor a troop of Boy Scouts, it is thought that every effort possible will be put forth to secure a good attendance. Cards will be mailed to the members urging that a special effort be put forth to have a complete attendance on this meeting. The doors will be opened shortly before eight o'clock and the meeting will not last too long to be uninteresting.

TEXAS BUSINESS FINE FIRST HALF

ALL PARTS OF STATE SHOW BUSINESS GOOD FOR FIRST SIX MONTHS

Business and industrial conditions at the end of the first half of the year were encouraging, according to Bernard Nichols, editor of the Texas Business Review, issued monthly by the Bureau of Business Research at the University of Texas. "Favorable influences outweigh the unfavorable factors," he said. "Prosperity over the entire United States so far this year has been due largely to three important industries—automobiles, steel and building. Since only one of these, building, is important in Texas, this state has had to look to other lines to account for the half-year's progress.

"The outstanding development has probably been the improvement in agriculture, which shows favorable weather conditions, high prices and ample labor supply. Live stock is in good condition. "Business is active, as is indicated by the large volume of checks cashed. Loans and discounts at member banks of the Federal Reserve system have increased seasonally. Interest rates are higher, but there is no change in the four and one-half per cent discount rate at the Dallas Federal Reserve Bank. "A new high record was established in the number of charters granted during the first six months of the year, with a total of 1,414 new companies being capitalized at $234,000,000. "Petroleum as an industry still improves. Textile mills curtailed output seasonally. Cotton sales fell off. Spinners' margin also decreased one point. Seasonal curtailment is general in the lumber industry. Wholesale prices were downward."

A. M. Smith of Plainview spent the week end in the home of his son, O. T. Smith.

COUNTY CHAIRMAN SAYS PARTY IS APPRECIATED

The County Democratic Chairman, R. H. Beville, in a letter to the News on the returns received last Saturday has the following to say in part: "I believe we have gotten fuller returns in earlier in the night, than had been done in several years, and this is due to cooperation on the part of the election officials and others working toward this end, you and your force being principally among those who greatly assisted." The cooperation of the News was asked in the August primary and the News feels that it is nothing but right that we should assist in all possible manners to apprise the folk of the county of the results on Saturday, August 25th.

HEDLEY MAN DIES FROM BAD BURNS

UNTIMELY DEATH OF HEDLEY MAN CASTS PALL ON ENTIRE COUNTY

Raymond Earl, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Bain of Hedley, died in Clarendon early Sunday morning from burns he received Saturday morning at the place of George Bain near Claude. Raymond had started a fire in the gasoline stove used for cooking and had learned that not sufficient gasoline was present to cook the morning meal. He secured a supply of the gasoline in a bucket after he had turned the fire out and was adding the fuel to the supply tank when an unseen flame ignited the contents of the bucket. To keep the blazing material from setting fire to the house, an attempt was made to run from the house and it is supposed that the bucket struck the screen door as he was leaving the house. The blazing contents of the bucket were thrown back on his head and shoulders and he was burned so badly that nothing could be done to save his life although he was brought to Clarendon for treatment.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon in the Methodist Church at Hedley, Rev. R. I. Hart officiating. One of the largest crowds ever seen at a service of this nature was present at the rites, showing the esteem in which the young man was held in his home community. Friends from Lockney, Foydada, Memphis, Wellington and Claude were in attendance, one of the special friends from Lockney stating that he figured that Raymond had not an enemy any where.

Raymond was born in January 1904 and died July 29th, 1928, a little more than twenty-four years of age. He had never married. He leaves his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Bain of Hedley and seven brothers and two sisters to mourn his passing. Interment was had in the Hedley Cemetery.

Miss Lelia Clifford returned Monday from Wichita Falls, where she has been for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Patrick had as their guests this past week Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Jones and H. B. Jones, Jr., of Amarillo; Miss Velta Pardue and Mr. Frank F. Taylor of Hamlin; Miss Ruth Silvey and Miss Carolyn Shawver of Dallas and Mr. John Mayberry of Sayre, Oklahoma.

HIGHWAY 88 TO RECEIVE WORK

LOW PLACES IN ROADWAY TO BE FILLED TO PREVENT STANDING WATER

The News has been informed that some intensive work is to be done on Highway 88, leading to Jericho in the next few days. This work has been made imperative by the recent rainfall which has shown that there are a number of low places in the roadway which become pools when the rains come as they have in the past few weeks. Residents of the Goldston community have stated that they would take immediate steps to remedy the situation unless the Highway Department should take some action. W. A. French stated that work would be done in this section immediately to make the road passable at all times and that the residents of that particular community would not be disturbed by the condition of the road in the future.

David Warren of Pampa, business manager of the Nunn-Warren interests, was in Clarendon Tuesday morning of this week enroute to Silverton. Mr. Warren stated that the recent boost in the price of Panhandle crude should assist materially in the work in the Pampa fields.

FOUR TO RUN-OFF COUNTY OFFICES

FOUR OFFICERS WILL HAVE PLACES IN SECOND PRIMARY IN AUGUST

Four offices in Donley County will have run-off races to fill the nomination for the general election in November. The commissioners will not have any run off in their places. Sid Harris was chosen in Precinct 1 and Stiles was given the place in Precinct 3. The District Clerk's race will be run-off between Mrs. Flora G. White and A. H. Baker. Mr. Baker led the race and will continue to run through the second primary on August 25th. The County Clerk's race will be run-off between Mrs. B. G. Smith and W. G. Word. Mrs. Smith lacked little more than one hundred votes having a majority over the remaining two contestants in the race.

In the race for Sheriff and Tax Collector, the run-off will be had between M. W. Moseley and J. H. Rutherford.

In the Tax Assessor's office, the race for this position will be run-off between W. A. Armstrong and Miss Eula Naylor.

This week's issue of the News carries a complete return of the races in the county. This list contains all those whose offices were contested, and the names of the candidates who had no opposition are not contained in the tabulation. The returns as given are not official, but will be so nearly correct that the official list will have very little change to make in the final analysis.

MORRIS REPORTS FINE CHECKER MEET IN DALLAS

Morris was in the final play with the man who was proclaimed champion and lost by the slim margin of one game. The committee named by the surbs, gutters and street improvement made the observation that the streets should be cleaned of their burden of sand after the recent rains. They state that the outlet for these streets should be given the North side that the sand should not be allowed to settle on the streets, but could be carried off to another place where it would not obstruct traffic on the streets named in the observations. The committee was referred to the street commissioner with their suggestion.

Lions Allison and Merchant made short reports of the fishing trips they had while they were on their recent vacations. Lion Allison stated that he had found fish aplenty, saying that one member of the party had stood in one place and filled his creel in a very short time. He also said that Clarendon looked mighty good to him after he had been gone for even a short three weeks. Lion Merchant reported that he had found the ideal location for his business other than in Clarendon. The location found was in Thompson's Canyon some sixty-five miles northwest of Denver.

Lion Sherman stated that he would make up his luncheon's in Jackson and Battle Creek, Michigan while he was out of town with the Clarendon club.

LIONS TALK OF GROUP MEETING

PLANS LAID FOR ATTENDANCE ON MEETING IN DALHART MONDAY

Few of the Clarendon Lions were present at the luncheon Tuesday of this week, it seeming that the greater part of them have left the city for their vacations and that they will be out of pocket for the week or two just ahead. The vacation slump has just now taken possession of the Lions, the major part of the summer having passed with little effect felt in that direction. The opening of the program was turned to Lee Baum, group leader of the rival that is in the city. Mr. Baum gave three selections on the cornet, accompanied by Mrs. Allen Bryan. He also captivated the club by a solo. Due to other engagements during the noon hours, the guests could not remain for the luncheon, and were excused with the thanks of the club for the courtesies shown.

The Panhandle group of the Lions will hold their meeting in Dalhart Monday of next week, and a good delegation is expected to be there from the Clarendon Club. Some little fun was had at the expense of one of the Lions who purchased a new car just recently, he having been selected as the man to furnish the transportation for the Lions to this meeting.

The meeting with the Memphis Lions Club was reported by Lion Braagwell, who stated that the neighbor organization was slated to be one of the best in the Panhandle section of the state. Their president is a live wire and their secretary is one of the liveliest young men of that town. In all, the Memphis Lions are promising to give Clarendon some opposition in the matter of work when they get well under way with their organization and work.

The Quitaque Lions called Clarendon earlier in the day, asking when they could receive their charter and asking if the meeting should be held at noon or in the evening with the ladies present. A telephone call later Tuesday was authorized, at which time the present situation was explained and the suggestion made that the charter presentation be held at night. A delegation from Clarendon was promised when the date should be set, with some numbers for the program on that evening.

Lion Chase appointed the Committee to work on the air port situation, naming the following Lions: G. G. Kemp, J. T. Patman, G. L. Boykin to meet with the Golf Club and see what could be done in this connection.

The committee named by the surbs, gutters and street improvement made the observation that the streets should be cleaned of their burden of sand after the recent rains. NATIONAL EDITORIAL ASSOCIATION — PANHANDLE PRESS ASSOCIATION

Clarendon is to entertain the Panhandle Checker Tournament. Our city continues to remain in the ranks of the distinguished.

New ballast is being put on the Fort Worth & Denver roadbed between Clarendon and Amarillo. The "Denver" is giving superior rail service these days, with heavy engines, new rolling stock and faster schedules.

Recent advances in crude oil here in the Panhandle means nine million dollars new profit for this section annually, based on the present low production. Higher prices are coming and that will mean more production. Higher prices, more production, greater profits.

Earle Mayfield's lead over Tom Connally will probably reach twenty-five thousand votes by the time all returns are in, and the run-off between these men is certain to be a warm affair. Earle Mayfield has made one of the greatest records any Texas senator ever made in his first term, and he should be returned for a second term. He will probably lead Connally by forty thousand votes on August 25th.

Dan Moody's splendid majority over his field of opponents was a stinging rebuke to the chronic "achers" against the young governor. Dan Moody has made Texas a good governor and his second term will be even better. One thing Dan has learned, and that is not to trust every fellow that shows up at Austin pretending to be a friend.

Splendid cooperation on the part of election judges in every precinct in Donley County, with the election bureau machinery set up here by County Chairman Beville and The News, brought earlier returns on the election last Saturday than has ever been known here before. The same personnel will handle the second primary returns on Saturday, August 25th.

There's lots of camafloge in the story of the break between Amon Carter and Dan Moody. There is a fundamental difference between the two men which precludes a political friendship, and renders improbable any close personal friendship. The facts are that Dan Moody is too "dry" for Amon Carter. The appointment episode is only an incident, for the break would have come between them as soon by some other route. A "wet" as wet as Carter and a "dry" as dry as Moody, just don't mix in Texas or anywhere else.

These birds that go around asserting that there is more drinking now than before national prohibition went into effect should check up on themselves now and then. Last Saturday was election day and here in Clarendon, just an average high grade Texas community, not a single drunk man was noted, no fights or brawls, and very few liquor breaths were noticed, if any at all. All the old folks remember how it used to be on election days when we had the saloons, and most of us younger folks, do too. One may be well suspicious of the self-styled political leader who cries out for a change in our liquor laws. They need no change. Better enforcement is the only possible improvement.

Gene Tunney, brainy world champion, announces his retirement from the ring and vacates the championship. Mr. Tunney recently received some splendid advice from Henry Ford, when the wealthy manufacturer told the champion that a million dollars would serve him well the rest of his life, but if he attempted to roll up many millions the money would drive him as a slave. It seems Gene has decided to quit the fight game with his million and half dollars, go into some kind of business, and devote himself to his hobbies of literature and preaching clean living to the young life of America. It is refreshing to see one come out of the fight game with such high ideals and with purpose to put them in practice.

The Panhandle and West Texas faces the brightest future it has ever known. Cattle is selling at new high levels, with little signs of lower prices. Crude oil prices have just been increased to a point which enables the industry to take on new life, and with all prospect of still further rises in the market. Fine general rains have brought us the greatest crop prospects we have known in years, and progress and development is on us in every line. With all these material blessings on every hand the Panhandle country is on the verge of the greatest development in the next five years ever to be recorded in this section. If we would profit fully by this prosperity coming our way we must gear our minds and physical forces to the new tempo. The higher the gear the greater the profit.

A MAJOR ACTIVITY WORTHY OF UNANIMOUS SUPPORT

Every year the Clarendon Lions Club, along with every other club in the international organization, adopts some major activity along the line of unselfish community advancement.

Last week the Clarendon Lions Club adopted as its major activity for the coming year, the securing of a community auditorium for Clarendon.

This is a matter that has held public attention for some years, and every passing day accents the need for such an auditorium in our city.

The local chamber of commerce, the American Legion and other local organizations in Clarendon recognize the growing need and have a place in their programs for such a movement, and the Lions Club action comes as an added impetus to the movement to provide for our schools, our churches, our clubs adequate auditorium facilities within the coming twelve months.

It is hoped by the proponents of the movement that some plan can be worked out whereby the old grammar school property at the head of Kearney Street can be used as the location of the auditorium and the school board has expressed itself in an informal way as being favorable to such a step. The school has grown past its auditorium facilities and would use the proposed accommodations more than any other local institution or group.

Then for a number of years there has been a growing shame in the hearts of Clarendon people that there has been no memorial of monument erected to the memory of the boys who fought for us in the World War, so it may be that an aroused civic conscience will enable us to fill our material need while at the same time wiping out our shame, by building this auditorium as a living memorial to the heroic deeds of those from this county who wore the khaki.

The city administration is in sympathy with the movement to provide for the auditorium, as is our churches and other organizations, so it seems highly probable that in the multiplicity of minds favorable to the project that some wise and workable plan may be found in the coming months which will result in an auditorium which will be a community center for a large radius about Clarendon.

The News feels that the Lions Club has adopted for its major work on its club calendar the providing of the greatest single need of the town and community—a need that is essentially unselfish, and one worthy of the sympathy and support of the whole community.

"BEACH-GOLF", NEWEST FAD

A new idea in summer sports has developed itself among this season's bathers who also happen to be golf enthusiasts. It is called "Beach-Golf" and is played on the same principles as the original game of golf, excepting that instead of link greens the beach sands replace it. The golf sticks are somewhat larger of a special design for that particular game. Photo shows the girls of "Sunny Days" giving an exhibition of "Beach Golf" at the Clarendon beach, Chicago.

COLORADO WHEAT MAKING SIXTY BUSHELS IS SEEN

W. D. Clampitt returned the latter part of last week from Colorado, where he stopped long enough to bring in a sample of Colorado wheat. The sample shown in the News office came from a field that was making sixty bushels to the acre. The heads were immense as compared to the wheat yield in this section of the country, and were full of grain to the very top of the head. Mr. Clampitt stated that the stalks stood just underneath his arms when he held them horizontally. Although the sample brought into the News office was a trifle green, he stated that the harvest was well under way and would be completed shortly.

MORRIS PREDICTS BUMPER COTTON CROP FOR DONLEY

R. F. Morris, Cotton Buyer of long experience, stated to a member of the News force the latter part of last week that Donley County should produce the largest cotton crop that has ever been raised and marketed in the confines of the territory mentioned. He stated that he had been pretty well over the county and that baring a very few spots that he noticed had been blown out, the crop was now in a better condition and had more promise than he had ever seen. Much of the cotton was planted late in May and wind-stood the hottest, driest and windiest June that has ever been recorded in this section of the state. Baring further accidents, the Donley County cotton crop is promising much, and will be welcomed by the producers in this section.

Mr. W. W. Buck was greeting old friends on the streets of Clarendon, Friday and Saturday of last week.

'SHAVINGS' SALVAGED IN OAKLAND FACTORY

There used to be a saying that the packing houses utilized every bit of an animal but the squeal, yet even that doesn't give the packer the slightest advantage over the modern automobile manufacturer.

Visitors going through the plants of the Oakland Motor Car company, at Pontiac, Mich., have noticed small piles of machine turnings, or shavings, accumulating every few minutes under various machines used in the building of Oakland and Pontiac Sixes. Several men go from place to place carefully shoveling these turnings into steel containers. Not one visitor in fifty thinks to ask what becomes of them, presupposing that eventually they reach the scrap heap.

The fact is those shavings represent potential automobiles. Far from being scrapped, they are carefully salvaged and put through a reclaiming process. After sorting, they are run through a crusher and then placed in wire mesh baskets in a centrifugal motion machine which extracts 100 per cent of the grinding oil. This is filtered and used again.

The crushed turnings are fed into a conveyor which carries them to a gondola railroad car ready for shipment back to the steel mills. Lowered freight charges result from the crushing. Un-crushed, about twelve tons will go into a car; crushed, more than forty tons.

Fifteen carloads are salvaged a month, or twenty tons a day. This reclaiming process has been in effect at the Oakland plant for several years. It is another instance of the efficient mass production methods which make possible so much automobile for so little money.

WHEN MAKING REPAIRS CAR SHOULD BE OFF HIGHWAY

This season of heavy traffic on rural highways brings with it the need for repeating a warning against a practice that causes many avoidable accidents. The condition referred to is that created by the motorist's failure to pull entirely off the road when changing a tire or making a similar small adjustment or repair to the car.

Many states have a specific regulation requiring that the car be driven at least half off the highway in such circumstances. Of course, it is impossible to station motorcycle policemen in positions to enforce this on every mile of the extensive highway system. It is a regulation, however, that should need no police enforcement. Based upon a sound principle of safety, the individual car owner should be willing to abide by it under every condition.

"With states lifting their speed limits, it becomes more and more imperative that the car owner who needs to make a roadside repair take the precaution to move his car from the path of the fast moving traffic. The motorist has been demanding higher speed limits because he knows they are safe, but he defeats their undeniable safety by such practices as this."

The 1065 clubs affiliated with the American Automobile Association have records of many accidents that are to be attributed directly to the ignorance or carelessness of car owners in this respect. A new season of heavy travel is at hand. It is up to the individual whether this condition shall maintain throughout another year.

"The wisdom of the warning, however, should be obvious to a way as to assure an improvement in conditions. If we demand high speeds, we must be willing to make our practices conform to the conditions they establish."

1927 ANNUAL REPORT IS READY TO DISTRIBUTE

The 40th Annual Report of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station has just come from the press. This report states concisely the progress made during 1927 upon nearly one hundred and fifty projects, in each of which a large number of farmers and ranchmen are directly interested. Some three hundred topics are discussed in its one hundred and twenty-five pages. More than one hundred A. & M. College research workers have contributed to the results reported in this small volume and it is a summary of their most important findings during the year. Valuable new information is reported on the feeding and breeding of livestock and the combat of diseases and pests of livestock, poultry and field crops. The behavior of numerous varieties and strains of the various crops grown in Texas are reported in each of the sixteen regions where tests have been made with these crops. Practices for date of planting, rate of seeding and character of cultivation are indicated for each region.

After the supply for free distribution has been exhausted a small supply will be retained to lend to those requesting a copy of this report. Address A. B. Connor, Director, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, College Station, Texas.

TRUCKS DEMAND BEST HIGHWAYS

HAULING BY MOTOR IS NEW BIG BUSINESS AWAITING FULL RECOGNITION

Hauling goods and produce by motor truck has become such a business in the United States that communities can no longer afford to build highways that will not bear the full traffic burden economically.

Farmers, for instance, have increased their market radius during that not-so-long-ago period when ten miles was a good day's hauling distance for two or four horses, to the present when loads weighing two or three times as much may be carried fifty miles or more over good roads by motor trucks.

Quickness in transportation means money to the farmer in more ways than one, as this instance cited in a recent report of the Interstate Commerce Commission indicates. A farmer in Minnesota notes that when his poultry shipments are made by rail there is a shrinkage in weight of five or six pounds per crate. Delivery by truck, accomplished quickly over the fifty mile highway leading to Minneapolis, brings a shrinkage of only one pound.

Trucking by motor is such a new thing, comparatively speaking, that for the most part there is ignorance of its extent. In many communities the bulk of short haul shipments is made by motor truck. An analysis of shipping between Columbus and 30 Ohio cities, according to the Interstate Commerce Commission report, shows that for hauls of less than 20 miles about 85 per cent of the total is by truck. For longer distances, truck hauling naturally decreases, but up to 30 miles trucks absorb more than half of the business.

The importance of the motor truck is emphatically stressed in the business of hauling live stock to market. Three and a third million hogs were carted by motor truck in 1925 to 15 markets, slightly more than one-tenth of all shipments. Also six per cent of the calves, more than 12 per cent of the cattle traveled de luxe in rubber-tired trucks. In Indianapolis in 1913 only 4.5 per cent of the hogs coming into market were shipped by truck; in 1923, one-third.

This tremendous industry of using the public highways for trucking the nation's produce must be given prime consideration in planning future road programs. Substantial roads that will not succumb to heavy pounding truck wheels must be built by each community so that it may not only compete on an even basis with its neighbor, not only so that the individuals actively engaged in hauling may profit, but also in order that the public itself may attain the full advantages that go with cheap and rapid transportation. Motor trucks are here to stay; roads should be built to carry them.

A large portion of eggs for 'ham and' is used in the East, may be seen at their job eating West Texas maize etc. There will be many side trips, including side-trips to San Jauquin and Sacramento irrigated valleys, Burbank gardens and orchards, all for the sum of $50 round-trip covering fully all transportation. Meals can be arranged at .50 per plate and hotel accommodations for rooms for farmers for $1.00 each person; the entire trip taking from fourteen to seventeen days to go and return, making an average cost of $90 to $100 per farmer. Will start the first trip just as soon as twenty five farmers are ready with weeks notice to arrange for bus. To those who wish to go, will be glad to have them write, call or wire the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, Stamford, Texas.

Respectfully,
B. M. Whiteker
Agricultural Manager

George Bagby attended to business affairs in Amarillo Wednesday.

William Craig, now stationed at White Deer, spent the fore part of the week in Clarendon.

Mrs. Manley Ozier and son, Edward Blair, returned Thursday from Waco where they have spent the past three weeks visiting with relatives.

SIDELIGHTS ON BAPTIST REVIVAL

Bro. Starnes expresses himself as being particularly pleased over the generous response of the business men to the invitation to close the morning services for Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week.

Monday night showed the largest crowd of the meeting to that date. Figuring the seating capacity of the tent, the added temporary seats outside and those seated on the ground and standing, the ushers say that approximately twenty-five hundred people were present.

The big crowd Monday night was attracted principally by the announcement of the partial dramatization of the Crucifixion as the sermon topic of the evening. The dramatization of the subject took great physical toll of the evangelist, but it was worth his efforts in results. The lights, flares and shadows with appropriate music were powerful aids in the presentation.

Musical Director Lee Baum and local Band Director Lindsey presented a very pleasing cornet duet as an offertory Monday night. That Baum person seems to be a pretty fair musician on any instrument and on any occasion.

The Phalanx parade of the Booster Band of children Saturday afternoon on the streets of Clarendon attracted wide interest. Their songs, yells and banners were conceived and directed by Mr. Baum.

Mrs. Hunt, wife of the tent manager of the party, came in the first of the week and will be here until the close of the meeting. Mrs. Hunt is a splendid personal worker and is already busy at the job.

No more "skillet" collections. The expenses of the meeting are out of the way and the whole offensive is now against the Devil and his works.

Bro. Charley Miller has been out of town for a day or two getting the machinery oiled up for a meeting in some other Panhandle town which location will be announced in a few days. Charley's never still.

One noticeable thing about the meeting is the large attendance and participation of the members of other Clarendon churches. There is a wonderful spirit of Christian fellowship in Clarendon now, and plans are under way to make it more effective in the years to come.

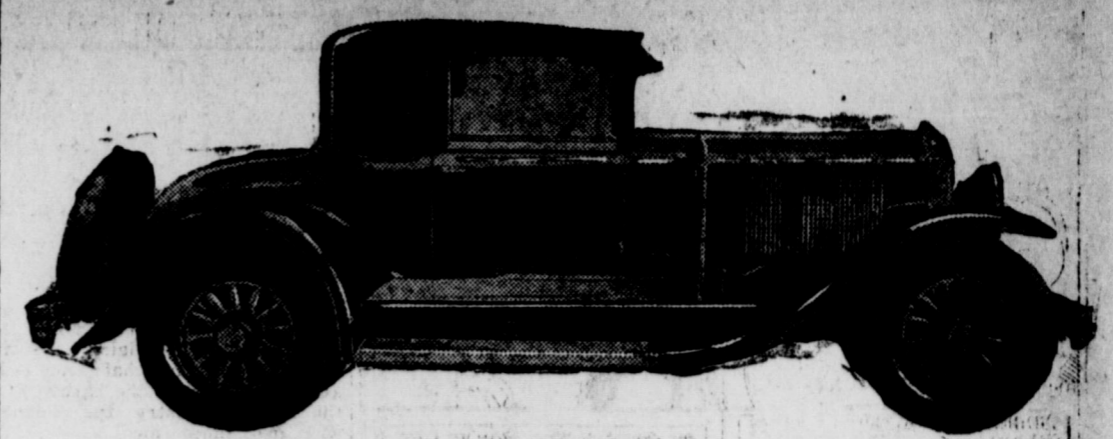

Bro. Starnes is one of the hardest pulpit workers ever to come to Clarendon. He never spares himself and his messages wring the perspiration from him in streams. It takes a collar and a shirt for each service. He'd just about get fat if he should quit preaching for a few months.

Not many evangelists bear down so hard on the church member who has his church letter in his trunk or who has failed to transfer his letter to his home church. "Line up for Christ" is his plea.

Mrs. Moreman of Hedley spent Sunday with her sister Mrs. Eula Cox and attended the Starnes Revival now in progress.

Miss Willie Buster of Dallas arrived Wednesday to be the guest of her sister, Mrs. B. L. Jenkins, and Dr. Jenkins.

Mrs. J. W. Williamson and son, James and daughter, Miss Sarah of Iowa Park left for their home Friday after a visit in the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Antrobus.

TRAGEDY MAY BE OFTEN AVERTED

WICKS TO TEACH METHODS AT COUNTRY CLUB AUGUST 15 AND 16

One of the most tragic stories ever told was related by a South Carolina doctor. He was called to attend a man who had suffered a severe cut on the back of the neck by a falling window pane. When he arrived, the man had bled to death. His family was frantic, grief-stricken. Between sobs the little widow said: "And I could have saved him so easily if I had just had a compress. The poor woman does not know to this day that on her hands she has two of the most effective compresses in the world. She knew nothing about first aid and lost her husband because she did not know where to place her thumb to save him. A gang of workmen were putting in a large plate-glass window in Atlanta. The glass slipped and severed an artery in one of the workman's arms. The victim, writhing in pain, was immediately surrounded by the other men who offered much sympathy but no assistance. His life was ebbing in a crimson stream on the sidewalk. A little dirty-faced newsboy wriggled his way through the crowd, bent on satisfying his curiosity. But with one glance at the bleeding man he dropped his papers and whipped out a handkerchief. In another moment he had applied a tourniquet to the spurting artery. The bleeding ceased. The man's life was saved. He was a Boy Scout who had taken a Red Cross course in First Aid. It was a simple matter of course, but had he not known what to do the workman probably would have bled to death before a doctor arrived. Two Boy Scouts on a hike came upon a road camp near Birmingham soon after a negro had been dragged from a pond, presumably dead. A tarpaulin had been spread over the "dead" negro to protect him from the inquisitive gaze of passersby. "How long has he been dead?" asked one Scout. "Oh, he has been in de water about fifteen minutes. We just got him out." The tarpaulin was jerked aside, and in a moment two Scouts were applying the Prone Pressure Method of Artificial Respiration. In another fifteen minutes the "dead" negro was breathing normally, to the surprise of the other men. The Scouts had taken a Red Cross course in Life Saving. A human life was thus saved through the application of a few simple processes. The only equipment used was two good hands and a level head. A Kansas farmer arrived home one night with a pair of frozen ears. His affectionate family immediately proceeded to commiserate with him. With due celerity they prepared some nice hot water, tenderly bathed the man's frozen ears, and produced mortification. Today he is a unique specimen; he has no ears. Had they brought back the circulation by slowly rubbing the ears with snow or cold water, then with warm water, a mere pair of frozen ears should have caused no trouble. But they didn't know what NOT to do. Another case of ignorance that cost two lives is the account of two line men who were working on high voltage wires. One of them touched a live wire, and was held fast. To save him from electrocution, the other man could easily have whipped off his coat and stood on it, protected his hands with his vest or other thick clothing and cautiously freed the victim. Instead, he frantically grabbed both the man's hands, and was himself held fast and killed. SATURDAY MARKET The Presbyterian Woman's Auxiliary will hold a market Saturday, August 4, beginning at 11:00 o'clock in the Hokus Pokus market. Your patronage is solicited. (31c) Mrs. Mable Jones and children of Childress returned to their home Sunday night after a visit with her sister, Mrs. Flem Caraway.

Red Cross Life Saving Methods

"OUT goes the bad air; in comes the good," these girls are saying as they practice the prone pressure method of resuscitation, taught by the American Red Cross. This method needs only "two good hands and a level head," and is the most effective and simplest method of reviving water victims. In the oval, the Red Cross life saving instructor is demonstrating the "cross-chest carry," taught life savers for bringing drowning people safely to shore.

COTTON OIL MILLS URGE TRADE PLAN

EXCHANGE PLAN WORKS TO ADVANTAGE OF BOTH THE FARMER AND MILL MAN

The cotton oil mills have both a selfish and an unselfish object in promoting the dairy industry. It is selfish in that the mills know that with the growth of the dairy industry the farmers will use more meal and hulls. They know that meal and hulls are the best and cheapest feed that the farmers can use and therefore the consumption will be in direct ratio to the amount of dairying that is done.

The work is unselfish in that the mills know that the farmers will be benefited by the growth of dairying. Not only will the farmers prosper but the business men as well. Everyone reaps a benefit and none suffer.

That the work is making some progress is evidenced by the fact that the Childress mill started the season with 40 customers, built up through two years that the mill has been in operation, through newspaper advertising—these customers exchanging their cottonseed for meal and hulls. The field representative was placed on the job on October 20 and at the close of the season the latter part of January the mill had 100 customers.

At Memphis there were no exchange customers at the beginning of the season and they now have 110. At Chillicothe there were about 30 customers and they now have about 130. At Quannah the number has been increased about 100. This indicates that the farmers are learning that they lose money when they feed cottonseed. The A. & M. College of Texas has found out that it takes 203 pounds of cottonseed to equal the feed value of 100 pounds of meal. Since there is not that much disparity in the price of the two commodities, the farmers lose money directly when they feed seed and furthermore the oil in the seed makes it a poor feed. The dairy cow is injured by the digestive tract of the animal. Next year the business is expected to boom even more as the foundation has now been laid and also the local gins handling the sale and exchange will cause the consumption to be greater.

DELAYED ROADS MEAN CASH LOSS

MUST SPEED UP ROAD PROGRAMS TO BRING CHEAP CAR TRAVEL

Speed in the actual process of building roads is now expected. Road builders can easily construct a concrete highway from five to ten times as fast as they could fifteen years ago. Unfortunately, a study shows that much of the possible benefit of this rapid building is lost through delays and inaction on the part of citizens and their legislative representatives.

Short-sighted policies in road building have been costly to many states in the past, and neglect of the road problem is right now permitting vast numbers of good road building dollars to escape through that hole in the sack—the bad road.

In the thoroughly modern road building program adopted a short time ago in North Carolina, an important item was slashed that other states are still somewhat unconsciously combating. This is the item of time. An interrogator recently asked Frank Page, chairman of North Carolina's highway commission, what in his judgment was the advantage of building roads as the vehicle receipts come in, rather than having to pay interest on bonds.

He replied: "I don't know. We never tried it because the waste in time would have cost us more than the interest on bonds."

To say that the motorists of this nation collectively travel 100 billion miles yearly does not mean a great deal to the individual in this age of big figures. But let each person ascertain the mileage made each year in his own community by multiplying the number of cars by 5,000, the expected yearly mileage. A community with 10,000 motor vehicles will pile up a mileage of 50 million miles in twelve months. If the automobile operating costs can be reduced a cent or two a mile through the provision of better road surfaces, the yearly saving will be $500,000 or $1,000,000. This is $50 to $100 per car owner.

But such accounting as this does not tell half of the story. In North Carolina for instance, a vitalization of dormant natural resources was needed. Illiteracy persisted. One crop farming was the style. The 2,000 miles of concrete highways threading the state have changed all that.

Despite the fact that there is now one automobile for every six persons, traffic is getting heavier. Minnesota reports a ten per cent increase each year on an average road. Economists declare that an automobile registration of Photographs of children never grow up.

TICKET AND BERD DO GODORADO

NOT FOREIGN OR PROFANE LANGUAGE—JUST HAY FEVER PRESCRIPTION

A railroad ticket office may not be a drug store, nor the agent a master of languages, but there is one prescription which is being frequently filled at the ticket offices, and while it sounds like Latin, the agents understand perfectly. "Ticked Ad Berd Do Godorodo," translated from the language of the "Hay Fever Tongue" simply means—Ticket and Berd to Colorado.

It is the one prescription that doctors and patients alike know as the only sure relief from this miserable summer affliction. In place of humid pollen-laden air, Colorado's high, cool breezes are scented with soothing balm of pine and balsam, bringing relief as blessed as the first frost. Victims are always particular to specify tickets via Fort Worth & Denver, since this route is the most direct, reaching higher altitudes quicker, and is free from smoke, cinders and excessive dust.

Mrs. J. H. Clark and Miss Ella attended to business matters in Amarillo Thursday of last week.

Miss Frances Cooke spent the last week with friends in Amarillo, returning to her home on Monday.

30,000,000 vehicles may be expected shortly.

This means one thing. More good roads will have to be built, for these millions of motorists will insist on permanent roads, if not for comfort's sake alone, then for economy's sake.

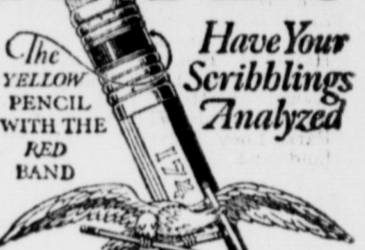

THANK YOU

BUICK'S LATEST MODELS DRAW INTERESTED CROWDS

Buick's thousands of women admirers will find the Silver Anniversary Buick a car over which to exclaim in wonder and delight. Not only in its captivating style, but in its remarkable ease of handling and its generous provision for the comfort of driver and passengers, the new Buick is without a peer anywhere.

The numerous refinements made in the driving compartment of the 1928 Buick are now supplemented by additional changes, every one of which will appeal to women as well as to men. Its adjustable steering column, introduced last year, is retained and the front seat in every closed model is now adjustable also. It may be shifted 3 1/2 inches to accommodate a driver of any stature. This adjustment is accomplished with one hand by means of a small knob located just below the front edge of the seat cushion and can be made without disturbing either driver or passenger.

Still another driving compartment improvement is the new Buick instrument panel with its new grouping of instruments. The panel is provided with two-way illumination and accommodates the 90-mile speedometer, directly in front of the driver, the oil gauge, water temperature gauge, and new hydrostatic gasoline gauge, the most accurate instrument of the sort obtainable. The gearshift lever in the new Buick is of graceful design, and curves back toward the driver. As in the 1928 Buick, there is no control for which the driver must reach. Everything is within easy distance of hand or foot. Light controls are centralized atop the steering column as formerly, along with the horn button.

Buick is introducing something new in the way of theft-resisting door handles, in the Silver Anniversary line. While a would-be thief may force the handle with a wrench or piece of pipe, it will give without allowing access to the car and the owner may still unlock the door with this key.

A new and pleasing pattern has been worked out for the interior hardware, and improved robe and foot rails are provided in the rear compartment. Easier cushions, wider rear seat, and carpets and side wall lining of high grade materials complete the most comfortable and luxurious ensemble Buick has ever offered.

METHODS USED SHOW ANY TENANT FARMER MAY OWN FARM IF HE WILL WORK

It was fourteen years ago that Mr. and Mrs. Hey Compton first started in the dairy business as a sideline to help out the farm profits. Mrs. Compton says that she always liked to work around cows and that she wanted to help Mr. Compton provide farm revenue. At that time they were tenant farmers on the Rice farm, then known as the Cunningham place, nine miles west of Childress. A story of their dairy industry is a story of how they came to own their own farm, not being tenant farmers now.

They started in with just one cow and bought a couple of heifers just a short time before they came in fresh. They still have one of these cows. This gave them three cows to milk at first. These three cows were good ones and supplied far more than the family requirements and the surplus was sold, first as cream and later in the form of butter. One of the cows, now 15 years old, will give 40 pounds of milk per day. The cream was shipped to Trinidad, Colorado, and the skim milk was fed to hogs and chickens. Mr. Compton says that the hogs and chickens brought in a steady revenue, in fact he made about as much off of them as he did off his cream checks, thereby making his skim milk, almost, if not, as valuable as his cream.

He sold about five gallons of cream per week at that time, the cream bringing from $4 to $5 per can, depending on the test, which ran from 32 to 35 and 36. They were using a cream separator, having purchased one when they first began operating a farm dairy. With the small beginning above stated the Comptons have built up their own dairy herd, purchasing but a very few animals since that time.

They lived on the Rice farm about nine years, moving in 1917 to McLean, Texas, where they lived on a farm and operated a dairy herd on quite extensive scales. When they returned to Childress County in 1918 they sold off their dairy cows, except five head of the very best. They then purchased the Harper place, three miles north of town, where the road bends. The farm is 160 acres, 150 of which are in cultivation. They have made this farm their home ever since.

Mrs. Compton stated to H. D. Cuykendall, field representative of the cotton oil mill and Gate City Creamery, that they did not make anything in 1918 as they did not grow a sprig of anything on the farm. In the fall they sold two cows for lack of feed to give them. The next year they sold 900 pounds of butter off the three remaining cows at 50 cents per pound, on the average, though it brought 75 cents per pound during the winter months. In the spring of 1920 Mr. Compton bought the first of their registered Jersey cows, buying two of them. This made a total of five cows on the farm. They started building up a young dairy herd with the two registered mother Jerseys to begin on, and using only good sires. No records were kept for the profits of 1920 but Mrs. Compton stated that the cows paid a good profit over and above the cost of their care and feed.

When the Comptons bought this farm they paid $3,000 down and owed $8,000 balance. The place is not as yet clear but would be had they not seen 't' t. expand about $3,000 in improvements. The improvements were very poor when they came on the place and they thought it good policy to better them, since they had the place in good shape where their payments were not burdensome.

They kept all the offsprings of the best heifers of the herd, which, last fall, numbered 34. They then sold nine of them, as there were too many to take care of. They are now milking 12 cows. They sell whole milk to the Pittman and Ivey & Sanders dairies and average selling about three cans of cream per week. The 15 gallons bring them about $20 per week and the whole milk returns are about $1.50 per day, making the total weekly receipts something more than $30.00.

During the course of the years the farm has also sold hogs and chickens to help defray the expenses and pay off the indebtedness, in addition to having the major crops in the clear. They did not borrow any money to make the crops on—only for improvements on the place. They do not run store accounts, but pay as they go. About 50 acres is planted to cotton and last year they made 19 bales off of it; the year

TEXAS DOING LITTLE TO CONSERVE FISH AND GAME

That Texas is spending little in comparison to other progressive states for the protection of fish and game was revealed in a statement today by Commissioner Wm. J. Tucker, showing that the State with an area one-twelfth that of the United States is spending less than one-fifth as much annually as is spent in a similar area comprising the states of California, Pennsylvania, New Hampshire and New York for fish and game protection as shown in recent annual reports.

The average territory for the game deputies in Texas to patrol is 2,890 square miles per man while the average per man for the wardens in New York is 328 square miles. A Texas deputy must cover more area than the entire state of Delaware, twice as much as the state of Rhode Island, or one half the area of the state of Connecticut.

Texas with an area of 265,896 miles spends $423,322 a year. The other states mentioned have a combined area of 261,968 square miles with an annual expenditure of $2,456,068.

Dairy utensils can be sterilized efficiently and at little cost in a galvanized iron box sterilizer where a steam boiler is not available. This sterilizer consists simply of a box with a tightly fitting lid, which can be made at reasonable cost by any tinsmith. The box is set on a gas or oil stove, or on a concrete, brick, or stone foundation to serve as a fire box. A little water is placed in the box and the utensils put on a slatted rack high enough to hold them out of the water. If enough heat is applied under the box to boil the water, steam will be generated and the temperature within the box will be raised high enough to kill practically all the bacteria. TO THE VOTERS OF DONLEY COUNTY

At this early opportunity it is my desire to extend my hearty thanks to the hundreds of voters of Donley County who gave me their vote and confidence in the primary of last Saturday. While I am sincerely sorry that my vote fell a few short of a majority, I come to you now with the determination to make a vigorous and painstaking campaign to see every voter in the county and to solicit your support in the second primary on August 25th. Recognizing that the office of county clerk belongs to the sovereign voters of Donley County to bestow as they see fit, I base my continued campaign on a sincere belief in my qualifications to fill the office with efficiency and to your satisfaction. Accordingly I solicit your vote with the intent to serve and to merit your confidence.

Yours sincerely,
Mrs. B. G. (Bessie) Smith

TO THE VOTERS OF PREC. 2

I wish to thank you for the hearty co-operation and support that you have given me during my tenure of office. It has been, indeed a pleasure to serve you. I hope that you will give my successor the same consideration.

Respectfully,
J. H. Hurn.

THANKS FOR PAST FAVORS AND A FURTHER ASKING

If I could do so personally, I would thank every voter in the county who gave me their support in the recent primary, but I will thank you through the News now and see you as fast as I can, to thank you and to ask for your votes in the run-off, Saturday, August 25th. I have no new promises to make. I'll make you the best district clerk my capabilities and experience will permit, if you will honor me with a majority of the votes in the second primary. With good will toward all and an earnest solicitation for your support, I am Yours very truly,

SECRETARIAL SCREENINGS

Clarendon Chamber of Commerce
G. L. BOYKIN, Secretary

Such an array of exhibits of agricultural products as has not been seen in these parts for years will be seen this year at the Donley county fair. Donley county will also be represented at Amarillo and Dallas. If you have something to exhibit let us know, we can use it.

Are you grasping the opportunity for service which is offered by your local organization—the Chamber of Commerce? It is being supported by your money—are you getting your money's worth? If not, why not? Do you attend its meetings and advance your ideas as to work to be done by the organization? Do you work on committees when appointed? Do you bring before the directors and the body problems that you can plainly see should be handled by them? Or, do you speak disparagingly of your Chamber of Commerce and belittle efforts being put forth for the promotion of worth while movements in your city and community? How about it—are you taking advantage of the opportunity offered thru your organization?

The Pease-Red River association of counties will meet in Clarendon this month to perfect plans for a combined exhibit at the Dallas Fair this fall from all the counties in this section. The meeting date will be announced, the meeting held in the Chamber of Commerce offices, you are invited to attend. Other plans for the benefit of this section of counties will be discussed also. The South Plains counties are widely known brought about by a combined effort, why not the Pease-Red River valley counties as well known. Any farmer would prefer valley to plains land.

The trade committee of the Chamber of Commerce is planning some trade days for this fall. When the plan is announced your cooperation will be greatly appreciated.

HOOVER AND SMITH ARE DIFFERENT IN TASTE

Al Smith and Herbert Hoover, outside of blue eyes, well-filled waists and a mutual fondness for cigars and fishing, differ on every count. In background, education, food tastes, manners, amusements and underwear, their records are diametrically opposed. The side lights on the conflicting tastes of two leading presidential candidates are revealed by Frazier Hunt, political expert, in an article written for the July issue of McClure's Magazine.

"Governor Smith is an old-fashioned gentleman, who still wears suspenders and long underwear, winter and summer, while Herbert Hoover sticks to B. V. D.'s and a belt," he reports, indicating the far reaching differences between the two popular figures.

Governor Smith is a "natty dresser" who goes in for complete ensembles on all occasions, the McClure writer points out. When he comes out in brown he is all brown from his derby to his shoes. He never wears a dress suit if he can help it. Hoover, for more than twenty-five years, has worn only double-breasted blue suits and dresses for dinner every night except Sunday.

The favorite dish of Al is reported to be lamb stew. It takes chocolate ice cream to tickle Hoover's palate and a dish of salted nuts is said to be a sure method of eliciting his most agreeable conversation. Hoover's lunch consists of four or five pieces of cornbread and a small meat dish. The governor contents himself with graham crackers and a bowl of milk at noon-time.

The governor is noted for his boisterously seasoned, riproaring stories. Even his enemies admit freely that as a raconteur he is in a class by himself, the McClure article says. Hoover, on the other hand, is noted for brilliant talk of people and events in far-flung corners of the earth. "He talks as Kipling writes," his friends say.

Smith appears much more formally religious than Hoover. A sincere and devout communicant of the Catholic church, he never misses mass. "But when I enter the doors of the executive office I am neither Catholic, Protestant nor Jew—I am governor of New York," he says. Hoover, still Quaker by faith, does not strictly follow his rituals.

Smith reads few books and depends largely on personal contacts for his knowledge of men and affairs. Hoover reads constantly with a preference for philosophy and detective stories. Smith's personal fortune is estimated at $150,000. Hoover is reputed to be a millionaire.

"They were both poor boys, born within eighteen months of each other, but 1,000 miles apart," comments the McClure writer. Governor Smith first saw the light in an Irish-Catholic tenement district of East Side New York; Hoover's family lived in a Quaker settlement in Iowa. While Al earned his F. F. M. Degree in the Fulton Fish Market and learning the ways of Tammany Hall, Hoover worked his way through Leland-Stanford and prepared for his spectacular career as an international engineer."

During their 30's Smith began his long term of service as New York State Assemblyman, while Hoover made a reputation and a million dollars as one of the world's ablest mining engineers. During their early 40's Hoover was called the "saviour" of Belgium and Smith was leader of the Democratic minority in the lower house of the New York State Legislature. Now, in the 50's, Hoover, man of the world, has turned politician, and Smith, politician, has turned more man of the world.

Anyway, it's a safe prediction

THAT advertising brings business.
