Another thing we want to ask: Is the new golf course going to be ready for the skillful golfers of the Panhandle Press when they foregather in Childress next month?

Clarendon's band continues to be numbered among the winners. Pampa hired our band to help them in their campaign to move the court house from Lefors. The court house removal won by a handsome margin. McLean will probably regret that she didn't hire our band.

The News believes that some plan can be worked out whereby the lateral roads in Donley County can be properly built, improved and maintained as well as pave the highways. Smart men can always work out ways and means for the public good. As bad as we need the roads, we still need county unity and amity more.

Business conditions are getting better every day. Bank statements carried in this week's issue of The News show most satisfactory conditions and a comparison with a year ago, proves that the finances of the county are in much better shape than in 1927. Our lowest ebb was in January and the first two weeks of February, since then the trend has been upward and promises to continue upward right on through the year. The fall of 1928 is going to be one of the best falls Donley County ever saw Texas Democracy is in for some stirring times this year. The state committee provided a brass-collared pledge to those participating in the primaries—a pledge that extended to the nominees of the national convention. Now comes Attorney General Pollard with a ruling that under the Terrell election law, the pledge is not binding insofar as the nominees of the national party is concerned, holding only on nominees of the Texas Democracy. It seems that the state committee forgot that their functions were directed and bound by the laws of the State of Texas. Now, what are you going to do about it?

The greatest opportunities in the world today are in the Panhandle and West Texas. Grit, foresight and hard work will win, just as it has always won.

Having done a lot of cleaning up on his own premises, this editor is about steamed up to write a ringing preachment on the annual Spring Clean-Up Day for Clarendon. Get out your rakes and wheelbarrows.

Donley County Commissioners have ordered a survey of the proposed hard surfaced road through that county. After the survey a vote will be taken on voting bonds to build this hard surfaced road. Next in line is Armstrong county. The C. G. Highway from the Potter county line to the west side of Donley county, passing through Armstrong county should be hard surfaced, and line up with other counties that are hard surfacing their inter-state highways throughout the State of Texas.—Claude News.

WHEN IS A MAN A SUCCESS?

When is a man a success? He may be a failure financially, but when is he a success? A man is a success:

- When he refuses to slander even his enemies.
- When he does not expect to get pay for poor service.
- When he spends more time fixing his own faults than on trying to mend the mistakes of his neighbors.
- When he does not wait until tomorrow to do the things that should be done today.
- When he is loyal to his employer and not false to the ones with whom he works.
- When he intelligently co-operates with the other members of the organization.
- When he is studying and preparing himself for a higher position and better pay.—The Silent Partner.

THE BIG THING IN LIFE

It happened on an east bound train in Indiana on the day after New Year's. On the observation car was gathered a group of college boys and girls returning to an Eastern university.

About half of these young people, including the girls were smoking. Most of them were expensively dressed. The best dressed and prettiest girl in the party had refused to smoke and was being joshed for being a prude.

Of course, I just had to listen in. "What's the big idea, Sally?" asked a husky young shiek from Omaha. "Afraid you'll spoil that rose-pink complexion?"

"My, that isn't it!" said a snappy-eyed little brunette, wearing the same sorority pin as Sally. It's just that Sally has more sense than most of us. Sally isn't a prude and she does just about as she pleases."

"I'll bet it's because Bill does not approve," said another one of the young men. "You know Bill is captain of the foot ball team for the next year and he does not believe that girls should smoke."

"Defend yourself, Sally," said another of the girls. "Tell these dubs why you don't smoke."

"Of course it's none of their business," said Sally, "but it's just because smoking doesn't fit in with my idea of living. Neither does drinking nor necking, if you want to know."

"I think it is simply stupid to do things that don't give you any special pleasure and that spoil you for enjoying something better."

"It seems to me that there are just two ways to live if one thinks at all and has any individuality."

"You can live as clean and fine as you know how and fit yourself to do real things like Lindbergh is doing. Or you can follow along with the kind of folks that are trying to get a kick out of doing something just a little wicked."

"Then you kid yourself into thinking you are in the swim and are a good sport and all that. And I notice a lot of good sports can't stand the pressure and go rotten, as Hickman did. As a matter of fact it takes real nerve to be decent these days, and I always did hate a weak sister."

"It's just a case of deciding what kind of person you want to be. I'm no reformer, I hate reformers. But while I have no objection to your doing just as you please, I can't see any sense in throwing away my chance to get a real kick out of the big things of life just to have a few foolish little vices."

"There's all there is to it." "Ouch!" said the young shiek from Omaha. "So that's all, is it Sally? I am glad there isn't any more. I'll be hanged if I don't believe you're right. I wish there were more girls like you."

And there are; millions of them.—Peoples Pop. Monthly

CAMERON LUMBER MANAGER MOVES INTO NEW HOME

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Miller moved the latter part of last week to their new home west of the college. The new structure is of the latest and most modern construction, bearing all modern conveniences found in the homes of the present day. Finished with brick veneer, it is one of the most striking buildings in that part of town and is the center of attraction for the folk of the city. Mr. and Mrs. Miller are to be congratulated in the erection of this new home. Mr. Miller is manager of the Wm. Cameron Lumber yard in this city.

WHO PAYS?

Under the head of "Whose Advertising Do You Pay?" we find the following in a recent issue of the Sheldon, Iowa, Sun. We take it that the "quotes" mean that it first appeared elsewhere.

The merchant who does not advertise pays the advertising bill for the one who does.

"Every merchant business pays for advertising whether he uses it or not. If a competitor's advertising takes any business away from him, the profit he would have made on the lost sale is what his competitor's advertising cost him.

"You have, perhaps, wondered how some stores can afford to spend such enormous sums for advertising. That is easy to fathom. Their competitors, who don't advertise, and whose business they take, pay for their advertising.

"Say the Smith family is a customer of yours. They have sixty dollars they intend to spend with you. They read the advertising of your competitor and are induced to spend their sixty dollars with him instead of spending it with you. The store makes twenty per cent, or twelve dollars, on the sale. They deduct, we will say one dollar advertising cost and have eleven dollars profit left.

The advertising has cost them nothing. They got back its cost and had eleven dollars profit they would not have had only for their advertising.

"Who paid for this advertising?"

"Did the advertising merchant pay? No, got the cost and profit besides.

"Did the purchaser pay? No, he paid only the regular price.

"Then who did pay?"

"The merchant that did not advertise paid for his competitor's advertising. He not only paid for the other fellows advertising but he paid out of his cashdrawer the profit his competitor made on the sale. The merchant that does not advertise pays the advertising bill for the one that does. He pays in loss of sales and loss of profits.

"The merchant that loses business through not advertising has such high overhead and unit sale cost that he cannot possibly sell goods as cheaply as the store that increases its sales and reduces its cost with advertising."

FEW DAYS LEFT TO PASS OKAY ON DAIRY MEETING

With only six weeks left until the first Panhandle Plains Dairy Show, D. F. Eaton, Lubbock County Agricultural Agent, president of the dairy show association is sending out an appeal to over 2,000 citizens of the section to cooperate in making the first show which will be held at Plainview, April 3, 4, 5, and 6, a big success.

The association which was first discussed at a meeting at Tulia, Nov. 19 and later formed at Tulia, Dec. 16 was organized to foster an annual dairy show to promote the dairy industry on the Plains and to advertise the quality of the plains dairy cattle to outside buyers.

Eaton is calling a meeting of directors, for March 3 to be held in Plainview. He hopes to have not only the directors from each of the 54 Panhandle Plains counties present at the meeting but also hopes to have a number of interested citizens accompany the directors from each county. A number of important measures will be taken up at the meeting.

The section that is expected to join in the association forms a square with corners at Lipscomb, Dallam, Andrews, and Nolan counties. Each county is allowed one director on the board and Eaton is writing a number of Chambers of Commerce secretaries, county agents and others in counties where no directors have been appointed urging that they appoint a director, get him to agree to attend the meeting at Plainview, March 3 and to notify, Bob Anglin, Tulia, secretary of the association the name of the director.

The executive committee of the association has already worked out a number of details for the first show. The catalog is going to press in the near future and is expected to be off the press and ready for distribution by the time of the directors meeting at Plainview, March 3.

W. L. Stangel, Lubbock has been appointed manager of the first show and is working with Maury Hopkins, secretary of the Plainview Chamber of Commerce to get everything in readiness.

The first show will have a premium list amounting to over $4,000 and will include classes for pure bred Jersey, Holstein, Guernseys, and Ayrshires, a class for grade cattle, and a milking or production contest.

CENTURY BRINGS DOUBLE SOCIETY

PRESENT PERMANENT IMPROVEMENTS TO REDUCE WORRIES OF THE FUTURE

By the year 2000 the population of the United States, if the present rate of increase is continued, will be double the 1920 figure, or 210,000,000 people. By 1950, only 22 years from now, 145,000,000 people will inhabit this country.

Where will these people live? Will the great cities of today become even larger? Can New York City, Chicago, Detroit, Philadelphia and other larger centers build outward and upward, to contain even more thickly massed populations? Or will the smaller communities and the country absorb them? The question arises also as to what will become of the automobile. Small cities and towns as well as large, are already writhing in the toils of traffic congestion. What will be the condition in the city of the future, when perhaps the aim of automobile manufacturers will be realized with every third person running a car? Seventy millions of them are anticipated for the year 2000.

Population increase is inevitable. History shows that transportation definitely affects the rate of increase. Before the coming of the steam engine, bringing with it rapid travel, population growth was slow. As soon as the great steam liners began to plough the sea and "Iron Horses" the prairies, people who had been confined to congested communities packed up the "old kit bag and lit out" for greener-pastures where freedom and possession of more of the world's goods induced greater parenthood.

When steam became of widespread use in about 1850, the population of the world was just half what it is today. Japan has doubled its population in fifty years. With improved sanitary conditions and medical science, the United States bids fair to grow substantially. But where this growth will lead, to or from the city, is both meat and dessert for speculation. The recently published report of the Chicago Regional Planning Commission reveals that suburban communities are gaining citizens more rapidly than Chicago proper. This indicates a tendency to avoid the crowded large city with its skyscraping office structures and towering apartment buildings.

Considering the definite trend toward more people and all the problems they may bring with them, it may be good business for the larger cities to stimulate suburban growth rather than growth inside the metropolis. Even now parks, swimming pools, lake fronts and other municipal out-door recreational facilities are fully occupied. Sunlight and fresh air allotments are already subdivided into niggardly pieces. By spreading its population over larger areas, even though this trend to decentralize business, it is believed that the city will profit through a happier, healthier and more productive citizenry.

Small cities, too, should cast a weather eye to the future. Perhaps the population trend will be

Formula for Stomach Medicine Brings Large Sum

This is G. M. Gordon, widely known Dallas, Texas, pharmacist, who spent twenty years developing "Gordon's," an Internal Antiseptic for the stomach and bowels, for which he received $80,000 for the rights to the secret process of compounding.

"The greatest obstacle to the successful treatment of stomach troubles," said Mr. Gordon, "was fermentation (souring of food matter in the stomach and bowels), which inflames and irritates these organs and produces gas that causes much distress. Fermentation can be stopped only with an antiseptic."

"Gordon's" goes right to the seat of the trouble, as it exercises a distinctly antiseptic as well as a digestive effect. It stops and prevents fermentation, soothes and heals any irritated or inflamed condition and will bring quick relief in cases of gas, dyspepsia, heartburn, bloating after meals, excess acid, bad breath, constipation, sick headache, nervousness, when caused by faulty digestion, tone up the digestive organs and stimulate the stomach and bowels to their normal functions. A few doses will convince you. Sold by good druggists, 71.50 per bottle of sixty-four doses—less than three cents a dose.

towards the villages and towns of today, making them equal in size to some of the present large communities.

With more people, more automobiles and everything else, starting an expectant world in the face, it is mandatory that plans be made to forestall top-heaviness. The automobile, the real progenitor of this twentieth century prosperity and progressiveness, will be most important factor in distributing any future population increases.

It is not a human trait to worry over the future, especially the future of other people. Fortunately, in providing permanent and substantial facilities for present use, the future will be benefited. Communities now engaged in widening streets, building better highway outlets, the country, and zoning city property for logical and sensible growth, not only will make more things comfortable for themselves but the generations just ahead will have less to worry about.

CHILDRESS COUNTY FARMER PROVES DIVERSIFICATION

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Wilcox of Community Center community, in Childress County, have found the secret of farm success in diversification. Mr. Wilcox says that he would not consider for a moment returning to the one-crop system. He says that there is money in diversified farming and has proven it to his own satisfaction.

During the month of January he sold cream to a creamery at Childress and netted $60 above his feed bill and the family living expenses (a large family) off just twelve Jersey cows. He says that he went to East Texas and bought a car of Jerseys and has increased his own herd now to 30 cows. He is now in a position to sell good Jersey stock to his neighbors.

The dairy is conducted as a regular farm enterprise and in connection with the major crops. The acreage of cotton has been reduced to about half of the normal production, giving the extra land over to the growing of feed for the cows and chickens.

Mr. Wilcox states further that the skim milk fed to hogs and chickens is just about as profitable as is the cream check returns. He says that the family raised all its own meat during the past year, having put up about 1800 pounds, either cured or canned. In addition he sold three pigs, six-months old, for $46.20 and kept all his brood sows to enable him to raise more hogs the coming year.

Mr. Wilcox adds that in addition to the money he made off his dairy herd, he is finding that pure-bred poultry is profitable. Selling pure-bred Buff Orpington

C. I. A. NOTES

By Nedra Cooper

Seventy-two new students have enrolled at C. I. A. for the second semester. All of these students are from Texas with the exception of two from Oklahoma, one from New Mexico, and one from Minnesota.

Swaying a most capricious audience with every change of tone, every sweep of bow, Renee Chemet, the French violinist, who appeared at the C. I. A. auditorium last Thursday night as the fourth number of the Artists, Course, scored one of the most distinct successes of any visiting artist. The program which was a very heavy one, was enthusiastically received and Miss Chemet was obliged to give an encore after each group.

The joint celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of C. I. A. and the home-coming of former students of the college which is to be held on Saturday, June 2, is expected to be one of the most elaborate occasions in the history of the college.

All former presidents of the institution have been invited to attend and invitations will be extended to the Woman's College.

"KING or COMMONER?" No. 7

ECONOMIC SIGNIFICANCE OF THE AMERICAN COTTON INDUSTRY—From latest volume in Manhattan Library of Popular Economics, republished in serial form through courtesy of Bank of the Manhattan Company, New York.

MENTION has been made of a remarkable incident of which the real significance should not be overlooked. A multitude of growers received less for their cotton than it cost them to produce it, because of "over-production," yet, within eight months, they saw the staple selling at a figure that would have given them a substantial profit. Clearly, therefore, the condition could not have been one of real, but only of apparent over-production.

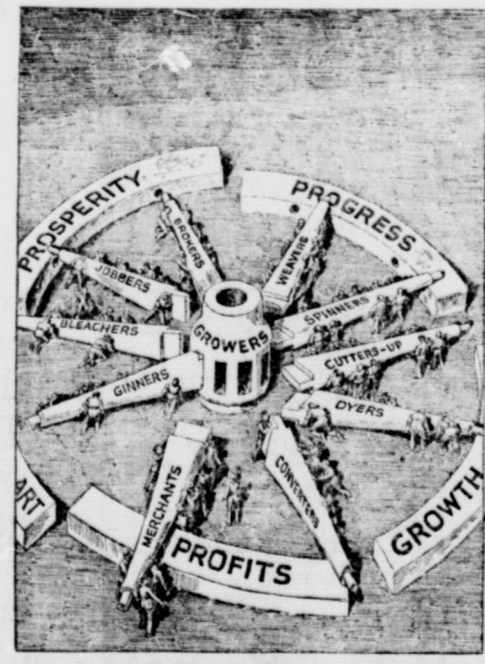

If cotton "brought tears instead of cash," as has been said of that tragic moment, those tears should cleanse the eyes to clearer vision. Such vision would show that a really glutted market could not rebound so swiftly into a desire to buy. The world must possess a power to absorb which did not appear on the surface.

This great unsaturated market actually was waiting, quite unconsciously, to save the situation by buying cotton at a living figure, yet nobody seemed to be aware of the fact until it slowly discovered itself and then it was too late to prevent severe hardship. Herein was furnished a striking example of that rather newly-discovered branch of the Law of Supply and Demand, viz., that supply may create demand. Manufacturers who were pioneers in low-priced quantity production had already stumbled upon the fact; one of them created a market for fifteen million automobiles and another developed a sale for sixty million watches. In neither case had such a possibility been known to exist, but in both cases price was the determining influence, plus the fact that the potential market really existed—such quantities actually could be used if the figures were sufficiently attractive.

Similarly, in the case of the 1926 cotton crop, when the price of the staple fell to such an astonishingly low figure, buyers everywhere felt the urge to take advantage of the opportunity, and the sum of their demands slowly restored the price. This was in accordance with the great impersonal laws of economics, which are the financial equivalent of gravitation, the movements of the tides or any of the other laws of the physical world.

By the Autumn of 1927, there came a jolt of a different kind and again many were caught unprepared. The price of the staple shot up to double that of the year before because it had become evident that the oncoming crop would amount to only a little more than two-thirds of the previous one, and eleven million bales of that had already been shipped to foreign users.

It is easy enough to see all this now in looking backwards, but such violent fluctuation might have been foreseen and provided for if adequate means for that purpose had been in existence. Research, interpretation, comprehensive marketing, adequate publicity—these are now recognized tools of the business world, but they are quite beyond the reach of a small farmer

All these will prosper best and most permanently when all may prosper together the cotton-grower members of the cooperative associations.

It may be thought that such a break in the price of raw cotton as that of 1926 would work to the advantage of manufacturers. In a small way, this might be the case, but in a large way its effect upon them would be harmful. The making of textiles is not a gamble but a permanent business which requires an unceasing flow of cotton at dependable prices. Farmers cannot continue to grow the staple at a loss; either they will adopt some of the panic measures of crop restriction that have been so widely advocated, or they will be forced into other occupations. Either way the mills will suffer. Farmers, ginners, warehousemen, shippers, manufacturers—all these will prosper best and most permanently when all may prosper together. This was one of the great lessons of 1926. It taught a wider appreciation of voluntary cooperation.

"BRIGHT CARS HERE TO STAY"

FEMINE TASTE, WHICH DECRES CAR FASHIONS, SEEKS CONTINUANCE

The vogue of bright colors which has featured automobile fashions for the past year, shows no sign of passing, and has been strongly emphasized at the 1928 New York and Chicago national shows. Experienced judges seem to agree that the vivid and picturesque named shadings which replaced the former somber and monotonous finish of motor cars are destined to occupy a permanent place in public preference.

However, say Chrysler color technicians, the trend is toward a more harmonious use of color, in chromatic blends which employ various related shades of the same basic color, rather than toward sharp contrasts.

Feminine taste largely guides the selection of new automobiles just as it shapes the great majority of expenditures by American families, and it has evidently decreed a permanent vogue for the light, luscious tones which have been so popular of late in home furnishings, in dress and in hosiery, though of course the more restrained finishes are still available for their adherents.

WARFARE WITH INDIANS IN PARKER COUNTY

Much of the warfare of Texas settlers with Indians was with tribes who lived across Red River in what was then the Indian Territory. There were good Indians and bad Indians in that section and conditions were almost as primitive as when white men first came to America.

During the last two years of the Civil War many settlers dropped back from the frontier that had been established in West Texas. Many of the settlers were away fighting in the armies of the Confederacy and only the older men and younger boys were left to protect the women and children.

FEEDING AND CARE OF THE BABY CHICKS

The chicks are in a well built brooder house, with a wood floor, equipped with a good brooder, that will keep them warm in the coldest weather. We have a nice, fresh and clean litter on the floor, and the chicks are healthy and doing well. Our next problem is to keep them healthy, vigorous and strong. Feed hoppers and drinking vessels have been provided, a good commercial baby chick starter is being fed.

Early in the morning, about six o'clock, examine the heater replenish fuel supply and make sure the chicks are comfortable. Raise the hover, remove all litter, dirt and droppings and replace with fresh material. Note the chicks closely, kill weaklings or sick ones. Examine the feed hoppers and be sure they contain a supply of feed. The feed hoppers should never be allowed to go dry for even a few minutes. Keep hoppers clean. If the chicks crowd around the feed hoppers, provide more hoppers. At eight examine all water dishes, clean all drinking vessels and refill with fresh water. If you are feeding milk provide a new supply of milk in clean containers at this time. If possible keep sour milk or buttermilk before the chicks all the time. Feeding milk spasmodically is not as satisfactory as keeping it before them all the time. It is best to feed all milk sour, and in containers not made out of galvanized iron. Milk is a wonderful drink for baby chicks and growing chicks. At noon or twelve o'clock we make another trip around all the houses, if the sun shines and the windows or shutters have not already been opened all the way back, we do so, because we want the direct sunshine to strike the chicks. We again examine the heater in case of kerosene burners, in hot weather, especially the burner needs watching to keep flame from creeping up too high and causing trouble. Also examine feed hoppers and water vessels. Use your eyes, look for dirt and trouble, but don't stop there. Remove it. About the middle of the afternoon another round is made to all the houses, feed hoppers and drinking vessels are cleaned and replenished. Note the heater flame and etc. At six o'clock the windows or shutters are lowered, to keep inside of house comfortable. The hover is examined to be sure it is capable of keeping chicks warm for the night. At this time also burner and wick are cleaned and fuel tank is refilled. Keep everything in and about the burner, clean, free from dirt, dust or kerosene. Two things cause fires, one is to turn burner up too high and the other is to keep burner dirty and kerosene spilled all around the burner. At nine o'clock we make another trip, we glance at the burner, note size of flame and also amount of kerosene in tank, a good look at the chicks to see if they are comfortable. They should hover around outer edge of hover all the way around the hover. We are now ready to lock up the house for the night.

THREE LIFE MEMBERS ADDED TO HISTORICAL SOCIETY

Three life members have been added to the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society during the past week. They are: Miss Anna I. Hibbets of Canyon, Mrs. Sam Isaacs of Canadian, and Frank Kell of Wichita Falls.

The annual meeting of the Historical Society which was scheduled for February 17 has been postponed until March 30. The program will be carried out at that date as planned originally, according to T. D. Hobart, president of the Society.

It is thought that the attendance at the postponed meeting will be even larger than if it had been held on the Seventeenth of February, as the weather will be less uncertain at this later date.

There is no Performance like Chrysler "72" Performance

Demonstration Will Prove it to You

There is a new performance sweeping the land—Chrysler "72" performance—obsoleting everything in its field today as completely as did the first Chrysler four years ago.
75 horsepower from an engine of surprisingly small size for such capabilities, through Chrysler's special genius in design and precision manufacturing.
72 miles and more an hour—now made still more smoothly, more easily because of the counterweighted 7-bearing crankshaft.

In traffic, it whisks to the fore in a way that out-Chryslers even Chrysler. Mountain grades literally melt before it.
You owe it to yourself to know this superb Chrysler performance. A demonstration entails no other obligation.

New Chrysler "Red-Head" Engine—designed to take full advantage of high-compression gas, giving 12% greater torque with greater speed, power and hill climbing ability; standard equipment on all body models of the 112 h. p. Imperial "80," also standard on the roadsters, and available at slight extra cost for other body types, of the "62" and "72."

LARGER CAPITALIZATION IS FOUND IN FEBRUARY FIRMS

There were 238 corporations, having a capitalization of $75,691,000, which were granted charters to operate in Texas by the secretary of state during February, according to information gathered by Bernard Nichols, editor of the Texas Business Review published by the Bureau of Business Research of the University of Texas. This, according to Mr. Nichols, was a new high record in both numbers and amount of capitalization.

There were 259 companies having a capitalization of $23,147,000 given charters in January and 177 enterprises with capitalization of $7,809,000 in February a year ago, according to Mr. Nichols, who believes that the number of new corporations is a fairly good indication of the general outlook and reflects to a certain extent the present business sentiment.

The session opened with a short business session and the reading of the minutes, which was followed by an interesting program on "Travels" with Mrs. John Sims in charge.

The most important points of interest East, West, North and South were discussed by Mrs. Sims, Mrs. G. L. Boykin, and Mrs. A. T. Cole with a round table discussion following.
At the close of the program a most delicious plate luncheon was served by the hostesses.

Juniors and Their Parents Enjoy Party Friday Eve.

The children of the Junior department of the Methodist Church and their parents were delightfully entertained in the basement of the church Friday evening, by the superintendent of that department, Miss Fannie Perry, and her corps of teachers.
The rooms were profusely and artistically decorated in green and white which made a very pretty setting for the affair.

The program opened with a welcome greeting by Mary Preston Powell, after which a short comic play interspersed by piano solos was presented by one of the girl's classes of this department.
Games and contests were greatly enjoyed. Later refreshments were served to about fifty persons.

Kill Kare Kneecle Klub Are Guests of Mrs. Killough

Mrs. C. E. Killough was the charming hostess to the members of the Kill Kare Kneecle Klub Thursday afternoon, March 8th, at her lovely home in East Clarendon.
Ideas on fancy stitches and needle work in general were exchanged and much work was accomplished during the afternoon.
Delectable refreshments were served later to Mrs. Eva Rhode, Mrs. H. Mulkey, Mrs. C. E. Hurd, Mrs. H. B. Kerbow, Mrs. W. W. Massie, Mrs. Eva Draffen, Mrs. G. G. Kemp, Mrs. U. J. Boston, Mrs. S. W. A Lovely St. Patrick's Party

The loveliest party of the season was given Saturday evening when Mr. and Mrs. J. L. McMurtry were hosts to a number of their friends with a dinner bridge party at their palatial home on College Hill.
A sumptuous three-course dinner was served to the guests in the dining room from a table made lovely with a centerpiece of sweet peas with pink candles in holders tied with large bows of green maline on either side. Table favors for the men were green hats while the ladies were given a small caricature of a hod carrier with his bricks. Place cards and tallies were large shamrock leaves which furthered the St. Patrick's color scheme.
In the games of auction bridge which followed, Miss Anna Bourland won high score favor for ladies and Mr. W. C. McDonald for the gentlemen.

Those enjoying this lovely party were: Dr. and Mrs. T. H. Ellis, Dr. and Mrs. M. H. Rhoads, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Chamberlain, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Jefferies, Mrs. B. G. Smith, Miss Anna Bourland, Miss May Lumpkin, Mr. Buck Calhoun, Mr. J. Sherman Bugbee and Mr. Louis Hallaway.

Thursday Evening Bridge Club Honored with Dinner Bridge

Numbering among the extremely enjoyable social affairs of the week was the dinner bridge party given by Mr. and Mrs. Forest Taylor, at their home Thursday evening.
The guests were served a most appetizing dinner at the small tables in rooms made very attractive by the use of numerous pot plants and ferneries. Two huge geraniums in particular drawing the admiration of all.

Later covers were removed for the game of auction bridge. Mrs. Charles Trent was presented high score favor for ladies at the conclusion of the evening's entertainment. Dr. O. L. Jenkins for the gentlemen while Mrs. H. Kennedy was fortunate in the cut.
Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Trent, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Dyer, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. M. Gentry, Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Gentry, Mr. and Mrs. Nat Perrine, Mr. and Mrs. H. Kennedy and Dr. and Mrs. O. L. Jenkins.

Mr. and Mrs. Mayes Hosts With Forty-Two Party
Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Mayes were the congenial hosts to a number of their friends Thursday evening, March 8th with a forty-two party. Gaiety and good humor prevailed throughout the evening and reached its zenith when Mrs. J. T. Patman was presented a small box bearing this inscription, "You are to favor us with a vocal solo for holding high score", and Mr. M. M. Noble was given a small whistle for holding low score, with the request that he accompany the soloist.

T. E. L. Sunday School Class in Congenial Social

That the T. E. L. Class of the Baptist Sunday School is one of the most active and wide awake classes in the Sunday School is shown by their cooperation and congeniality in social as well as business affairs.
One of the most enjoyable socials they have had in sometime was held at the home of Mrs. F. C. Whipple, Tuesday afternoon, with Mrs. Whipple and Mrs. Marvin Land as hostesses.
As the guests arrived they were met at the door by the hostesses and asked to register after which the afternoon was spent in contests and games supervised by Mrs. W. A. Land and Mrs. W. C. Stewart.

Mrs. H. C. Brumley very proudly carried off the banner in a marshmallow eating contest followed closely by Mrs. Sue Lindsey.
Another feature of the afternoon was an interesting trip taken by Mrs. Joe Goldston and Mrs. Stewart. These two were very stylishly dressed as was attested by all present, the trip took some time to don their costumes.
After the games and contests interesting talks were made by members of the class on "Methods by which the Class Could Accomplish Greater Things."
After the talks a delicious two course luncheon was served to the following: Mesdames W. C. Stewart, Hugh Lusk, J. B. Turnbow, H. C. Brumley, R. R. Dawkins, Joe Goldston, Cap Lane, J. H. Harris, Sue Lindsey, G. M. McClesky, Ed Barnes, W. A. Land, Jack Morrow, Frank Whitlock, Buel Sanford, W. B. Sims, J. E. Ryan, Joe Cluck, Eva Draffen and the hostesses, Mrs. F. C. Whipple and Mrs. Marvin Land.

RELATIONS CHAIRMAN ASKS WOMEN TO STUDY—END WAR

Dear Club Women:

The nations are slowly but surely developing world consciences—as examples of this notice America's proposition to discard submarines, the growing sentiment against the use of poison gasses, the Lacarno treaties, the recent renewed and strengthened treaty between France and America, the League Assembly resolution that wars of aggression are crimes and therefore forbidden, the move in the recent Pan-American Conference to use compulsory arbitration, the proposal of Russia for national disarmament, etc.

What are you and I to do about it? World welfare lies largely in our hands. We are the chief moral mentors of our children and all friendly relations must begin in the individual heart.

No nation can compel others to settle their disputes amicably but even you and I can help wonderfully to create an "international goodwill atmosphere".

Read the January number of Current History. Make your plans to attend the International Relations Conference to be held in Lubbock early in April.

SOCIETY NOTES

Circles Meet

"China Then and Now" was the study for the four circles of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church, Wednesday afternoon when they met in the homes of the different members of the society.

A social hour was enjoyed by each group following the business session and presentation of the program.

Following is the report from each circle.

Circle Number One met in the home of Mrs. W. M. Murrell with twelve present.

Mrs. Pierce was leader for the afternoon and those assisting on the program were: Mrs. E. Price, Mrs. R. H. Beville, Mrs. Otis Barnes, Mrs. C. Whitlock, and Mrs. Latson.

During the business session it was decided to piece a quilt in order to raise funds to be used by the Circle.

Circle Number Two had eleven members and one visitor present when they met in the home of Mrs. G. L. Boykin with Mrs. R. C. Vinson, Mrs. S. E. Allison, Mrs. B. C. Antrobus, Mrs. G. L. Boykin, Mrs. Trostle and Mrs. F. L. Bourland presenting the program.

AVOID THE FLY MENACE THIS SUMMER

The annoyance and danger to farm health caused by swarms of flies can be avoided to a large extent this summer if proper precautions are taken this spring to clean up refuse around barns and barnyards, suggests the research department of the National Association of Farm Equipment Manufacturers. In addition, much valuable fertility can be added to the fields, resulting in larger yields and more profits from the year's crops.

All manure heaps and other refuse should be hauled to the field and spread evenly with a manure spreader before warm weather comes, and if possible, before spring work commences in the fields. If there is much straw in the manure, it should be spread rather thinly if it is to be plowed under this spring in order to prevent bunches of straw being turned under and preventing passage of moisture from the subsoil to the surface, thus keeping the crop plants from obtaining sufficient moisture. The dairymen who produce high quality clean milk haul the refuse and litter from the barn every day and spread it on their fields, or else store it in covered concrete manure pits, and by so doing destroy potential breeding places for millions of flies.

TOO THIN BY FAR

"High School and University girls, most of them, look starved to death. The craze for being thin is carried to an extreme and it seems impossible to teach the girls to be 'bonnie' instead of 'bony', says Dr. Anderson, who further says 'that the matter is of more importance than mere looks, for these fragile (not to say skinny specimens) must know that a starved body has no resistance to disease, and tuberculosis, pneumonia and all the deadly fevers find a ready victim in the underfed, emaciated flapper of the present day.'"

PUBLIC TAKES TO BUS TRAVEL

TWO AND A HALF BILLION FARES PAID IN 1927; BETTER ROADS IS CAUSE

Going from here to there by highway is getting to be quite a business. Last year 23,000,000 automobile owners traveled over 100 billion miles. In addition, 2,525,000,000 passengers went for bus rides, probably bringing the total vehicle mileage to 150 billion miles.

Buses in operation in 1927 exceeded the registration of the previous year by 5,830 vehicles. This is a slight falling off in the rate of gain. Of the 85,636 buses in service, 35,900 were school buses. Common bus carriers increased by 2,680 vehicles while school buses gained 3,100 in numbers.

Bus operation, at one time the most speculative of business ventures, is now on a sound footing with every state in the union well threaded with motor coach lines.

The wide spread development of these bus systems, of which there are more than 7,000 in this country, is due in a great measure to improved roads, through riding comforts and adherence to schedules. A highway authority recently pointed out that so far as he knew there wasn't a single lengthy stretch of rural concrete in the United States over which a bus line was not operated.

Modern motor coaches weighing as much as five tons may deal the roadways blows of two and a half tons per wheel as it spins along the highway. Naturally earth roads or other low types thoroughfares cannot stand the strain. Highway builders now consider the expected bus traffic in designing roads. If this were not done, cheaper roadways entirely inadequate for heavy traffic might be installed, causing a great deal of road sorrow later on.

Bus travel so far has been largely confined to short trip passengers. There is a growing indication, however, that lengthened pavement systems will bring about a greater radius of travel for the bus. One transcontinental bus system reports that the average length of trip per passenger out of the San Francisco terminal last year was 1,711 miles. This is of course unusual. Present day motor coaches with their easy riding equipment will doubtless sharpen the appetite of the moving public for motor travel.

DENVER GANG LAYS RAILS TO SOUTH PLAINS

Denver rail gangs have completed their work through South Plains, the first city on top of the caprock. Contractors state that their camps will be moved from under the caprock to South Plains and the work will proceed from that place at the rate of two miles a day, inclusive of switch and passing tracks.

Some delay has been experienced in the rail-laying activities due to the lack of available materials, but with the moving of the camps to the plains, that difficulty will be overcome as plenty of trackage for storage may be had.

Approximately 18 miles of ballasting has been completed from the Brown gravel pit, just under the caprock, toward Estelline. Definite plans as to which route will be taken by the workmen from the junction, six miles north-east of Lockney, have not yet been announced, however, contractors say that all track-laying activities on all lines will be finished by June 1.

MAGNATE BUILDS FIRST STEEL HOME

Walter Bates, president of a steel company of Gary, Indiana is building the first steel home for himself. The house will be proof against fire, tornado and earthquake. Mr. Bates forecasts that the steel home will come into general use just as steel cars on trains and all-steel bodies on automobiles have supplanted wooden coaches and wooden automobile bodies. The new house will have eight rooms with a foundation of drawn steel and sills, girders, joists, braces, rafters, doors and window frames of the same material.

Maybe you have a High Compression Motor—RIGHT NOW!

THERE are two kinds of high-compression motors. In one the compression ratio has been raised purposefully by the car manufacturer to produce more power; the other is a high-compression condition caused by the natural formation of carbon in the combustion chamber. This condition exists, to some extent, in every motor.

But in either case there is one best fuel to release the full power caused by high compression. That fuel is Winter Conoco Ethyl Gasoline, the super-gasoline that knocks out the "knock," turns carbon into power and assures a smooth-running motor at any speed and under practically all operating conditions. It gives the extra pull you need for snow and slush and muddy roads. It is the last word in motor fuels.

Drive up to a Conoco Ethyl pump—and convince yourself.

JOSH BILLINGS GIVES A TALK ON MARRIAGE

By awl means, Joe, get married, if you have a fair show. Don't stand shivering on the bank, but pitch rite in, stick your head under and shiver it out. There ain't any more trick in getting married than there is in eating peanuts. Many a man has stood shivering on the bank until the river run out. Don't expect to marry an angel—they have all been picked up long ago. Remember, Joe, you ain't a saint yourself. Do not marry for beauty exclusively; beauty is like ice, awful slippery and thaws dreadful easy. Don't marry for love, neither; love is like a cooking stove, good for nothing when the fuel gives out. But let the mixture be some beauty, becomingly dressed, with about $250 in her pocket, a good speller, handy and neat in her house, plenty of good sense, tough constitution and by-laws, small feet, a light step; add to this sound teeth and a warm heart. The mixture will keep in any climate and will not evaporate. Don't marry for pedigree unless it's backed by bank notes. A family with nothing but pedigree generally lacks sense.

DRUGGIST IN BALL STORE DIED SUDDENLY TUESDAY

After coming to work apparently in the best of health Tuesday morning of this week, David L. Hooper, druggist in the employ of the Ball Drug Company of this city was called by death suddenly shortly after nine o'clock as he went about his duties in the store. Heart failure has been given as the cause of the death since no other cause can be given for his sudden demise.

The deceased is forty-eight years of age. Besides his family, Mr. Hooper leaves a brother, W. F. Hooper of Wautunga, Oklahoma, and a sister, Mrs. W. A. Morter of Plainview.

Following the inquest, the body was taken to the funeral parlors of P. A. Buntin & Sons, where it remained until the arrival of his brother from Oklahoma. Burial was had in Plainview, where the body was shipped Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Herd returned Tuesday evening from an extended trip to Lubbock, Brownfield and Levelland.

SECRETARIAL SCREENINGS

Clarendon Chamber of Commerce G. L. BOYKIN, Secretary

Now is the time to get ready for the Donley County fair of 1928. The catalogue will be published and ready for distribution by June 1st. A number of prizes will be offered on individual exhibits which will be stressed more this year.

The second play sponsored by the chamber of Commerce and the Clarendon Grain Company will be given in the College Auditorium April 12th. The title of the play will be "Joe Guess Runs a Boarding House" and will be a dairy play. It will consist of four acts and four characters, and will be educational and entertaining from the beginning.

We now have three "bites" for a milk products concern of some kind for this county. These things come slow and production must be here before they will set up. With the help of the producer we will be able to induce one of these plants here within the next year.

NEW PONTIAC AGENCY OPENS

TOMB MOTOR COMPANY ANNOUNCED AS OAKLAND ALLIED CAR DEALERS

The Oakland Motor Car Company, announces another addition to its rapidly-growing dealer organization in the appointment of The Tomb Motor Company as Oakland-Pontiac dealers here for the Oakland All-American Six and its companion car, the smart New Series Pontiac Six.

The remarkable growth in Oakland-Pontiac sales is the most convincing endorsement of the company's policy of pioneering important new developments. Such features as Duco, four-wheel brakes, the rubber-silenced chassis, oil and fuel filters, air cleaners, crankcase ventilation, automatic spark control and depressible beam headlights operated by foot control have contributed greatly to the fame and prestige of the Oakland Six.

Both the G-M-R cylinder head and the fuel pump proved so effective upon the All-American Oakland Six that they were included on the New Series Pontiac Six introduced at the automobile shows early in the year. The Pontiac Six also adopted four-wheel brakes and other mechanical advancements such as crankcase ventilation, improved carburetion and manifold, new clutch and steering assembly. The higher compression made possible by the new cylinder head and the highly perfected carburetion has greatly increased the power of the New Series Pontiac without alteration of piston displacement.

Other new Pontiac details are semi-coincident lock, dash gasoline gauge and a combination backing, tail and stop light which enables the driver to illuminate the street behind his car while backing up.

The most radical improvement in the New Series Pontiac Six is the "cross flow" radiator, controlled by a thermostatic unit which permits water to circulate only after it has reached the temperature at which the engine operates most satisfactorily.

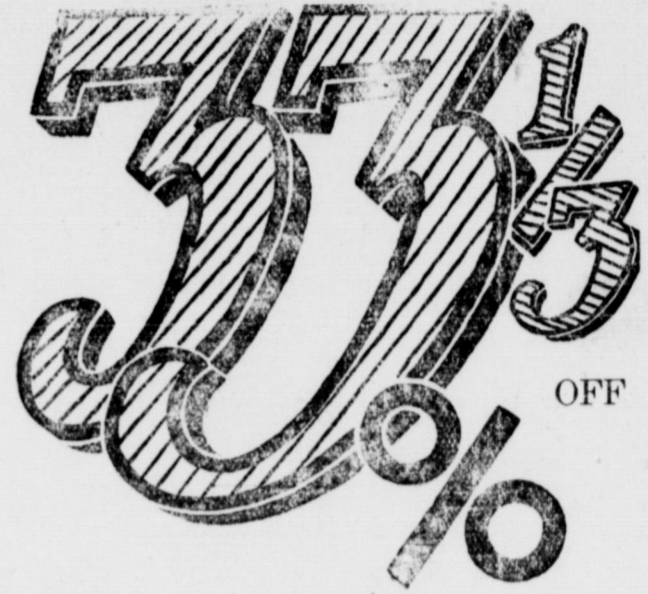

The most important advantage afforded by this new system is the practical elimination of evaporation. Even alcohol and other volatile anti-freeze fluids are retained in the cooling system with a surprisingly small loss. This is due to the fact that the hot water and vaporized water or alcohol coming from the engine pass through completely closed passages which leaves no access to the outside air. The hot water tank is not connected with the radiator filling cap from which the conventional radiation systems often permit vapor to escape.

Instead the "cross flow" system forces the hot water and any accompanying vapors completely across the full width of the radiator core, cooling and condensing the vapors which thus returns to the fluid state before reaching the cool water tank on the opposite side of the core. This cool water tank extends up along the side and across the top of the core to the filling cap. Incidentally, the core of the new "cross flow" radiator is made of copper instead of brass.

The Tomb Motor company is presenting the New Series Pontiac Six and the Oakland All American Six to the public, offers the best word in up-to-date engineering practice and skillful body-building at a price range of from $745 to $1,295 f.o.b. factory. Besides the above prices for the standard models of the Pontiac and Oakland Sixes motorists who demand the ultimate degree of dash and appearance may obtain at extra cost any Oakland Six model equipped with a collapsible rear trunk and six wire wheels, the two spares being carried in special wells on the front fenders.

"THE BIG DAYLIGHT STORE"

AMARILLO TEXANS ARE ROUNDING INTO FORM

March 2nd was the official opening day of spring training at Texan park and found Mgr. Allen with three catchers not counting himself and thirteen pitchers. The catchers were, Mike Wiley from Kansas, Nairn from Berger and Hal Waggoner a semi-pro from Amarillo. Four pitchers, Buck Freeman, who has had experience with the Chicago Cubs, Wichita Falls, Denver and Beaumont, along with Dick Morgan, Herb Sanders and Charlie Lyons all of last years club were the veterans to report. Fonken, Lewis, Maxwell and young Sanders a brother of Herb were the southpaws to show up and with Smith, Harwood, Hunter and Whited and Quackenbush made up the squad that Sled put through the paces. Storti, listed as in fielder last season, is on hand and will give some one a run for a hurling position. Jim Pierce, catcher obtained from Denver, will be in about March 8th. Bobby Goff, infielder with Palestine last year and Weber who will battle with Swansboro for 1st base are here and are getting the jump on the other infield candidates. After arriving from the Hotel on foot, Sled starts the day with setting up exercises; then comes a jog of twice around the park, then pepper games and the baseballs start thudding in the big mits. Batting practice and fungo hitting mixed with a light infield workout makes up a program that gives even the best of them a day of real exercise. Then comes the walk back to the hotel where a real home cooked meal awaits them at the private training table. Anyone who has the idea that baseball is a mere pastime is invited to put in a day with the Texans and any such doubt will soon be dispelled.

EXTRA MONEY ON THE FARM

"I was dragging along in a listless, don't-care way, and it took me a long time to learn that farm life is pleasant, healthful and profitable if undertaken in the right manner. To be first to look upon the bright, young morning and to behold the sparkling dew diamonds in the fresh, stimulating breeze finally made an ambitious farmer of me and filled me with the determination to make the most of opportunities."

"Extra Pennies on the Farm" is the experience of a Texas farmer. It is well worth your reading and will be published in the Monthly Magazine Section of the Clarendon News, March 15th. Stratford—Farmers in the Stratford section, through specializing in wheat, are making remarkable profits in poultry and dairying. Olney—A complete tree survey of Young County has been made under auspices of the local chamber of commerce and county agents.

Flag presented to Headquarters of the Maryland Federation in honor of their State Director, Mrs. John F. Sippel, who is a candidate for President of the General Federation.

MARYLAND WOMAN HONORED IN PRESENTATION OF FLAG

The Executive Board of the Maryland Federation of Women's Clubs has presented an American flag to General Federation Headquarters in honor of Mrs. John F. Sippel, Director from Maryland in the General Federation. Mrs. John L. Alcock in presenting the flag said, "It seems especially fitting that Maryland, where the Star Spangled Banner was written, should present a flag to the General Federation, than which there is no more patriotic organization in the entire country."

"In doing this we wish to honor our beloved General Federation Director, Mrs. John F. Sippel, who has for twenty years carried the banner of leadership for the women of Maryland in religious, patriotic, civic, legislative, educational and club work and is accounted by men and women alike Maryland's outstanding woman citizen.

"To honor Mrs. Sippel by the presentation of a flag, seems especially appropriate, because of her long and conspicuous connection with the Baltimore Chapters, Daughters of the American Revolution, which she served as Regent for five years during the World War period. Therefore, Madam President, in behalf of the Executive Board of the Maryland Federation of Women's Clubs, I have the very great privilege to present to the General Federation Headquarters, in honor of Mrs. John F. Sippel of Baltimore, an American flag, the emblem of our country. May our nation endure for all time and may the traditions of the flag ever be an inspiration to the women of America."
