LIBRARY NOTES

By Mrs. C. A. Burton

The U. S. Children's Bureau says "Good books help to widen a child's horizon. They develop his sympathy and understanding, and give him information on which his growingly thoughtful mind can go to work."

Julian Fast, younger brother of Howard Fast, author of "The American," was given the first Edgar Allen Poe Award by the Mystery Writers of America for his first book, published last year, "Watchful at Night." His new crime story, just out, is "The Bright Face of Danger."

The Nobel Peace Prize committee have just announced that the 1946 prize will be divided between Emily Greene Balch of Boston and John R. Mott. The prize amounts to $34,000. Miss Balch, an economist who lives at Wellesley, Mass. long has been prominent in international movements. In 1915 she was a delegate to the Congress at the Hague. Dr. Mott is the author of many religious books—has made several world tours in the interest of the world mission of Christianity.

The Clare Tree Major Children's Theater will be in Amarillo again this week—with "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs"—sponsored by the Association for Childhood Education. They have made Amarillo for several years.

The University of Oklahoma Press has just released the book "The Texas Republic" by William R. Hogan which is said to be very true to the happenings and the spirit which made Texas great.

Wendell Wilkie's brother H. Frederick Wilkie has written a book on industry and labor.

John Roy Carlson, author of the sensational book, "Under Cover," has a new book which promises to be as sensational as the first—dealing with all sorts of government questions. It is "The Plotters"

Green Peyton won the $1,000 Texas Institute of Letters award last week for "San Antonio: City in the Sun." He has another book ready for the publishers—a biography of Texas' colorful Presbyterian minister and captain of the Texas Rangers, Dr. P. B. Hill.

Why Bert Won First Prize

Folks weren't surprised when Bert Childers won first prize for his corn at the county fair.

Yet the judges admit it wasn't just because Bert had the finest ears of corn. He knew how to display them: neatly arranged, with the husks cleanly trimmed, and the booth white and spotless.

"Trimnings" sure make a difference no matter what you're offering—as Andy Botkin, keeper of the Garden Tavern, well knows. Andy doesn't just sell good beer. He sells it in a place that's clean and attractive... in nice surroundings that belong with the enjoyment of a wholesome beverage of moderation.

And Andy, of course, is a whole-hearted supporter of "Self Regulation." That's the system by which the Brewers and tavern keepers themselves make sure that taverns selling beer are clean and orderly.

From where I sit, people like Andy also rate a "First prize." Not just for the quality of the product—but for the "trimmings" too.

GOOD NEWS! To Our Dealer Friends:

Even Though the O.P.A. has Removed the Price Ceiling on Soft Drinks -- Our Wholesale Price to the Trade, for the Present, Has Not Been Raised

You Can Still

Retail Dr. Pepper

At the Same Old Price of 5¢ With the Same % of Gross Profit

All during the war, in spite of higher costs, Dr. Pepper Company has sold us syrup, and we have sold you bottled Dr. Pepper at the pre-war price. We have always resisted and will continue to resist every influence which may threaten the traditional privilege of the American people to enjoy Dr. Pepper for a nickel. Every dealer who values consumer good will should strive to preserve this American tradition.

While the ceiling on soft drinks is off, the ceiling on sugar remains. To remove the ceiling on sugar will not make available sugar that does not exist or replace sugar that is being diverted to foreign lands. Our sugar ration is still limited to 60 per cent of 1941 usage.

Since we have not and will not use inferior substitute ingredients, the shortage of Dr. Pepper will continue until sugar is plentiful again.

In these uncertain times manufacturing costs are subject to drastic change but we do not feel that the present situation justifies increase in our wholesale price at this time.

Tilling with a Hundred Teams of Steel

MORE power on the farm means more food for more jobs.

If a farmer had three teams of horses twenty-five years ago he was well equipped. Now, with over two million tractors and thousands of other power producers, most farmers command the equivalent of : : : a HUNDRED TEAMS.

Wise use of their power, which can be packed into a few tons of steel, is enabling U.S. farmers to keep abreast of unprecedented food requirements. It is one of the secrets of national progress.

Steel horsepower does more than produce bigger crops with less labor. It has released, for production of human food, millions of acres once needed to feed horses and mules, and has created thousands of new jobs for town and city people who process and sell the increased harvests.

The benefits of farming with steel are the result of teamwork between farmers and industry. The farmer knows what he needs; industry knows how to supply it at a price he can afford. This teamwork must continue if America is to remain a land of abundance.

Farmers need still more power. The country needs still more food. Uninterrupted industrial production will permit industry to catch up with the pent-up need for more farm power.

THE TEMPLE OF TRUTH
By the Apostle

SUPERSTITION.

One thing the house shortage has done, it has exploded the idea of haunted houses. They are all occupied now and gladly.

REVOLUTIONARY.

When a certain rancher got on the oil wagon in the Panhandle, his first thought was of his wife. "Mollie," he said, "here is the first oil money. Go to town and get yourself some decent clothes." The old lady who had thawed out many a doggy calf in the oven of the cook stove, took the bills. "Now I want to tell you that I have been wearing decent clothes all these years, but with this money I am going to dress like other women!" she yelled.

EVOLUTIONARY.

There was a time when any man of energy could "bring home the bacon," but only a millionaire can do that stuff these days.

EXPLORATORY.

The old Apostle is losing a lot of time these days looking for the Big Three. No, it has nothing to do with UN meeting. It is toilet tissue, laundry soap and cooking fat.

FOLLOWED DIRECTIONS.

The metal strips used to band birds are used by the Washington Biological Service, abbreviated to "Wash. Biol.Surv. Recently the Washington office received a letter from an old friend of the Apostle living down in Jack county. The letter: Dear Sirs: I shot one of your pet crows the other day and followed instructions attached to it. I washed it and boiled it and served it. It was terrible if you want to know what I think about your dabbled OPA making fools of the people like this.

MISS ANNA MOORES SWIFT BECOMES BRIDE OF MR. EMMETT O. SIMMONS

Miss Anna Moores Swift, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James D. Swift of this city, was united in marriage Tuesday afternoon to Emmett O. Simmons, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nollie Simmons of Clarendon, in a double ring ceremony at the First Baptist church by Rev. J. Perry King of Mesquite, assisted by Rev. Hal Upchurch.

The bride was given away by her father. The bride wore a gown of white slipper satin with a bertha of Princess lace that gave the off-the-shoulder effect to the deep net yoke. A draped fold of the fabric formed a double bustle at the low waist line of the fitted bodice. The full skirt terminated into a cathedral train. A long imported illusion veil fell from a tiara of seed pearls. She carried a small white Bible topped with gardenias and showered with white rose buds and stephanotis.

The bride's mother wore a royal blue velvet dress and a velvet hat with a fuchsia feather trim and a corsage of American Beauty roses. The groom's mother wore a black crepe dress with a velvet hat with gold trim and a corsage of gardenias.

Miss Maxine Ellis was maid of honor and Mrs. William L. Sasser Jr. of Lubbock brides maid, wore dresses of pink tulle and carried muffs of burgundy velvet. They wore boudeaux of pink carnations in their hair. The flower girls were Myra Anne Stanley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Stanley of Amarillo, cousin of the bride and Sara SoRelle, daughter of Mrs. Jack SoRelle of Amarillo, cousin of the groom. They wore long white dresses of satin with net yokes.

Homer Charles Speed was best man. W. K. Hardin, Jno. M. Bass Jr., Joe Jones and Powell Combs of Amarillo were ushers.

Mr. T. E. Noel of Memphis sang "Oh Promise Me"—De Koven and "At Dawning"—Cadman. Mrs. Allen J. Bryan, organist, played the traditional wedding marches.

At the altar behind the arch, rows of palms formed a background for large pink chrysanthemums and clusters of Celasia and candles.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the parlors of the church. Miss Anna Moores, aunt of the bride, cut the four tiered wedding cake. Mrs. Frank White, Jr. poured punch. Mrs. U. J. Boston presided at the Brides book. Others assisting were Mesdames Simmons Powell, Lloyd Benson, Harold Phelps, Harper Scoggins, B. N. Head, Barnes, and Misses Betty Ann Rhodes and Chloe Darden. Mrs. Dee Wilson of Claude gave several violin numbers.

The couple left immediately after the reception for a short wedding trip. The bride was wearing an original model, buff gaberdine suit with brown accessories.

The bride was graduated from Clarendon Jr. College and Baylor University. The bridegroom was graduated from Clarendon High School, Clarendon Jr. College and U. S. Naval Academy Post Graduate School, Annapolis, Md. He spent five years in Naval service. He is now Assistant Cashier of the Farmers State Bank of Clarendon.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
 Rev. Charley B. Robinson, Pastor
 Phone 267-M

Every member of our church is urged to try to overcome all hindrances and attend church services every Sunday between now and Christmas. We had very fine attendance last Sunday. Let us plan, arrange, look ahead, and see that we do attend every Sunday.

9:45 a. m.—Sunday School for all ages.

11:00 a. m.—Morning Worship

6:00 p. m.—Young Peoples Fellowship.

7:00 p. m.—Evening Evangelistic Services.

Christ has given His followers a great honor to carry out His work. He has sent us out to live for Him and do all things to extend His church purchased by His blood.

Thanksgiving Union Services will be held at the Methodist Church at 7 p. m. Tuesday night. Everyone please attend.

METHODIST CHURCH
 H. W. Hanks, Pastor

Sunday was indeed a good day with us. Let each one be in place next Sunday. Sunday school at 9:45. Preaching at 10:55. The Young people and Intermediates meet at 6:15. Preaching at seven. By whole hearted cooperation and prayerful effort we can make this the best year of our lives. God is depending upon each of us. Let none of us fail Him. Pray for me.

PLOWIN' Out the CORNERS
by Uncle Zeb

The Democrats couldn't hold on to the "hot potato" any longer. But I wouldn't be surprised that unless the Republicans use gloves that they will have trouble holding on to it for more than two years.

Just heard about some of the Government operated Ordinance plants getting all mixed up in some of the Government labor regulations. It seems some cross roads lawyer found the loophole, and started a whole round of lawsuits. Looks like the fellows that pile up all this redtape for the Government would throw in some instructions with it on how to keep them from being sued.

One farmer was telling me that we had better stick pretty close to our non-partisan Farm Organization in the South the next two years. That they might help us more than anyone else, by their cooperation with like groups all over the nation. It does sound kinda reasonable.

The O.P.A. seems to even want to take credit for taking their fingers out of the peoples pie when they remove something from control. That sounds a lot like a thief taking all your money, and then wanting you to brag on him for not shooting you. Looks like they just as well say "excuse me please" for being reborn, and try to get another job while they are available. Landlord's Inc. say that if even if an O.P.A. worker moved out of his house they wouldn't rent it to another one until the controls go off.

Talked to one woman that was a little stirred up about a recent article, by a prominent newspaper columnist, stating among other things that little babies, even his own granddaughter, was ugly and red faced when they were young. She said that probably the reason she was so red faced was her embarrassment at seeing what her grandfather looked like. A columnist that has the nerve to write about babies or women is really sticking out his neck. To me, a farmer, little babies are the most innocent, the sweetest, and the most beautiful creatures in the world. However probably a hundred people wrote him for saying what he did, and I doubt if I get one little thank you.

Let's keep the talk going on about paved roads and paved streets, every time a man gets stuck in the mud, he will probably decide to vote for them. Anyway I did.

LET'S HAVE A
Heart-to-Heart
TALK ABOUT THIS

You believe in life insurance. That's why you are a policyowner. And you believe in your family, too. You want that little girl to grow up in the neighborhood where you've built your home. You want your wife to have that home as long as she wishes to keep it. And if anything should happen to you, you want her to be able to bring your little girl up under the teaching and guidance that only a mother could give her. You don't want your wife to have to leave your child in some day nursery all day long while she works—or looks for work.

That's why you bought your life insurance, isn't it—to take care of them.

Well, let's look at your life insurance. Will it do the things you want it to do? If you have $2,500 of life insurance, it will provide your beneficiary with $50 a month for about four and a half years. Is that enough? Will that assure them of that home—give them food and clothing, and the necessities of life you'd want them to have if you were not here to provide them? Is that enough to give that little girl the start in life you want your daughter to have?

Let's have a heart-to-heart talk about your life insurance today. Helping you to outline a plan of protection to do the real job you want life insurance to do for you is a part of our service, and a request for detailed information will not obligate you.

time to call his coal strike, but if the Republicans are as hot on the labor issue, as they have been telling the Democrats they were, they will have their chance in January to warm things up a bit, as a good Democrat we can risk at least one eye each way.

I knew a man once, that was always giving advice and telling you how to do this and that. I am sure in his heart he thought he was helping people out, but few people seemed to appreciate it, and some seemed to resent it to the point of disliking him for it. I guess the old saying about "advice not asked for is advice not wanted" is one of the truest of the old saying.

Veterans' News

Dietitians arranging meals for the 7,500 veteran-patients in the 11 Veterans Administration hospitals of Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi can sympathize with housewives about rising food prices.

It now costs VA 14.9 per cent more to buy food for a patient than it did in April of this year, a survey by the VA dietetic division shows.

Nine of the hospitals reported increases in per-patient food costs since April. One hospital reported its food costs up 50 per cent.

Two of the larger hospitals showed reductions in food costs, but the decreases were slight.

GI Joe and GI Jane have gone back to school in a big way.

Veterans Administration says nearly as many veterans have applied for World War II education and training as served in the armed forces during World War I.

By September 30th a total of 4,549,654 of the nation's World War II veterans had asked for school, college or job training benefits.

This is an increase of more than 133,000 over the August 31 figure.

Mrs. Charlie Myers has been visiting her son and family in Vernon.

Mrs. C. T. McMurtry and Mrs. L. B. Noble attended the funeral of an old friend, Mrs. Loftin, at Alameed last Sunday.

Geo. Watson and Odell Davis who are attending school at Canyon spent the weekend with homefolks.

Ben L. Rose

Rev. Ben L. Rose, pastor of the Central Presbyterian Church of Bristol, Virginia, will be the speaker on the Presbyterian Hour, next Sunday morning, November 24, at 7:30 a. m., over an independent network of southeastern radio stations.

A North Carolinian by birth, Mr. Rose was graduated from Davidson College in 1935. He took his theological training in Union Seminary in Richmond, and after graduating there became pastor of several churches in Wilmington, North Carolina. He entered the chaplaincy in 1941 and served with distinction in the European theater of operations. Mr. Rose, after the war, secured an interview with the famous German pastor, Martin Niemöller, and his interview was published in the Christian Century and several other church periodicals. Mr. Rose went to his pastorate in Bristol early this year.

The subject of his address next Sunday morning will be "The Bravest Thing in Life."

This radio broadcast can be heard in Clarendon over radio station KGNC, Amarillo.

Mrs. L. B. Noble returned last week from a six weeks visit to Cleburne, Granbury, Ft. Worth and Dallas.

Freddie Chamberlain of Amarillo spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Chamberlain.

Integration Into Regular Army

Congress has authorized an increase in size of the Regular Army Officer Corps from 25,000 to 50,000. Applications for regular Army commissions will be received until 31 December 1946. These applications must, however, be postmarked prior to 31 December 1946, to receive consideration. Former officers of World War II, whether now on active duty or who have returned to a civilian status, may apply. Application forms and detailed information may be obtained at any Army post, camp, station, airbase, recruiting office, or from Organized Reserve Corps Area Headquarters, 115 E. 4th St., Amarillo, Texas.

The Adjutant General has mailed letters requesting additional information to those officers who applied for a RA commission under the first integration program. In case an officer who applied under the first program has not received a letter from The Adjutant General, he may write The Adjutant General direct, Attention: AGSO-R, War Department, Washington, D. C., giving his present address and requesting the supplemental information form. The submission of this supplemented information form must be completed, forwarded or postmarked prior to 30 November 1946 for an applicant's consideration under the second integration program.

Ada Sue Smith and Ruth Patman of Canyon visited homefolks over the weekend.

Mrs. J. T. Storey from McLean spent the weekend with her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Lowry.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Holland left Sunday for Ft. Worth to attend a reunion and visit relatives.
