FFA Members Plan Extensive Project Program

Pork Production, Cotton, and Poultry are the most popular projects with members of the Clarendon Future Farmer Chapter this year. Each member of the vocational agriculture classes has just finished planning his supervised practice program for the year, and the summary shows an extensive and ambitious program has been planned by the members. The newly established chapter farm has enabled chapter members living in town to be able to carry on livestock production programs on a large scale for the first time in the history of the local vocational agriculture program.

Forty boys are feeding and plan to feed 210 pigs for the 1956 spring and fall shows; eighteen boys plan to plant 100 acres of cotton; 14 boys plan to feed 14 head of beef animals; six boys have eight beef cows; eight boys have eight dairy cows; one boy has one dairy heifer; twenty-four boys have twenty eight gilts and sows; twelve boys plan to produce 550 pullets; eight boys plan to have 44 acres of milo; nine boys are feeding eighteen lambs, and one boy has a breeding sheep project consisting of four ewes and one buck. The chapter members will exhibit most of their pig, poultry, and lamb projects at the local and regional shows as a means of showing the people in the local community and the region as a whole the type of projects they have.

Cut In Donley County Cotton Acreage Is Big Blow To Cotton Farmers

Donley County cotton farmers are faced with an even greater problem in 1956 — less cotton acreage combined with other associated deductions. The local ASC office received the 1956 cotton acreage quota over the week end which was set at 28,006 acres, a decrease of 2,112.2 acres from the 1955 total figure.

The total acreage for 1955 was 31,312.2 which included 2,801 acres for adjustment of trend and 834 extra for hardship cases and small farms. The present quota did not include any adjustment for trend but did allow 1,194 acres for hardship and small farms. This figure brings the grand total for 1956 to 29,200 acres.

This quota was divided up among the 769 cotton farms in Donley County and individual quotas were sent out by the local ASC office Monday of this week. The quota for each farm was figured on a percentage of average acreage in 1953-54 and '55. The county quota was set by the state and the number of acres for adjustment of trend that we received last year was given to east and south Texas by the state committee.

Beautiful Snow Blankets Area Sunday Night

One of the most beautiful snows in years blanketed this area Sunday night and Monday morning. The snow started drifting down about 9:30 Sunday night, and with no wind, it stacked high on every exposed surface.

The depth of the snow was estimated at 3½ inches and measured out 26 inch of moisture according to Tommy Saye, official weather observer. This was the first beautiful snow of the winter and everyone is looking forward to more of the same.

Saye reported the following temperature variations for the month so far: low of 23 degrees Monday night, coldest day, 37 on the 5th; hottest day, 65 on the 1st; hottest night, 41 on the 2nd.

The snow contained enough moisture to be quite beneficial to winter wheat and rye and was most beneficial in settling the dust that had accumulated everywhere.

Ruth Sawyer of Houston is a guest this week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Forest Sawyer.

Reserve Forces Act of 1955

FACT SHEET NO. 3

Recruiting and Training

For the Army Reserve
 The Reserve Forces Act of 1955, which became effective August 9, 1955, provides several means for direct entry into the Army Reserve. The Army is currently implementing the following programs for direct entry:

1. SIX MONTHS' ACTIVE DUTY PROGRAM

Until August 1, 1959, a qualified young man from 17 to 18½ years of age may enlist in the Army Reserve for eight years, undergo six months' training at a Regular Army post or camp at $50.00 per month, and be deferred from induction so long as he satisfactorily takes part in Reserve training during the period of his enlistment. The Department of the Army has been authorized a quota of 90,000 for enlistments of this type during the remainder of Fiscal Year 1955 which ends on July 1st, 1956.

High school students may defer the six months' active duty for training at a Regular Army post or camp until they are graduated, cease making satisfactory grades, or become 20, whichever is first. The Act does not make similar provisions for college students.

A volunteer for the six-months training program will receive training in three phases, with the initial phase of combat training to be conducted at six posts or camps.

In the first phase, which lasts eight weeks, a volunteer will receive training at one of the following posts or camps: Ford Ord, Calif.; Fort Jackson, S. C.; Camp Chaffe, Ark.; Fort Knox, Ky.; Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.; and Fort Bliss, Texas.

Upon completion of basic training, he will take advanced individual and basic unit training. In the second and third phases of the program, depending on the type of unit he joins, he will receive advanced individual and unit training at basic training camp or he will be transferred to another post or camp.

The second and third phases will be conducted as follows: Infantry at Fort Ord and Fort Jackson; Antiaircraft Artillery at Fort Bliss; Armor at Fort Knox; Engineer at Fort Leonard Wood; Signal and Military Police at Camp Gordon, Ga.; Ordnance at Aberdeen Proving Ground, Md.; Transportation at Fort Eustis, Va.; Medical at Fort Sam Houston, Tex. (Brooke Army Medical Center); and Quartermaster at Fort Lee, Va.

During the six months' active duty for training, a volunteer will receive 15 days of ordinary leave.

The law requires that during the seven and one-half years a volunteer under this program has obligated himself to serve in an Army Reserve unit he will attend 48 drill periods and a 15-day summer camp each year.

An enlistee under the six months' active duty for training program is a member of the Ready Reserve throughout his eight-year enlistment. A member of the Ready Reserve will be paid a full day's pay, in the grade in which he is serving, for each week's two-hour drill and a full day's pay for each day of his summer camp duty.

This six months' active duty for training program is ideal for high school students desiring to attend college and thereafter become established in the business world as quickly as possible. Unless war should develop, a volunteer under this program will have completed his obligation with only a six months' interruption in his plans.

2. SIX-YEAR ENLISTMENT PROGRAM

The Army is accepting immediate enlistments for six years in the Army Reserve of men under 26 who have not yet been ordered to report for induction.

They will be required to serve two years on active duty at a Regular Army post or camp, participate with a local (Ready Reserve) unit for three years, and serve one year in the Standby Reserve where no Reserve training is required.

Unit training consists of 48 drill periods of two hours each and 15 days of summer camp duty annually.

A member of the Army Reserve who is precluded by distance, geography, or occupation from a 48-drill program may apply for 30 days' active duty for training each year.

3. SHORTENED RESERVE ENLISTMENT PROGRAM

A shortened Reserve enlistment is offered men with a Reserve obligation who complete their term of active service after the date of the Act, August 9, 1955, and before July 1, 1957. Individuals in this category can fulfill their Ready Reserve obligation by serving satisfactorily for one year with an Army Reserve unit. Any remaining military obligation will be completed in the Standby Reserve, in which participation in Reserve training is not required.

Unit training consists of 48 drill periods of two hours each and 15 days of summer camp duty annually.

A member of the Army Reserve who is precluded by distance, geography, or occupation from a 48-drill program may apply for 30 days' active duty for training each year.

4. MODIFIED ENLISTMENT PROGRAM

Enlistments in the Army Reserve are still being accepted under the Armed Forces Reserve Act of 1952 with modification as required by the Reserve Forces Act of 1955. Men with no prior military experience and under

"HONORED GLORY"—For 34 years, men in the uniform of the U.S. Army have kept watch at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Arlington National Cemetery. Here Sergeant Walter A. G. Strohmaier, Corporal of the Guard, center, performs the ritual of the changing of the guard as Private Herbert F. Weiland, Mt. Vernon, N.Y., right, replaces Private First Class John D. Gira of Yonkers, N.Y. Each sentinel walks guard for an hour, his solitary vigil a living reminder of the tribute a nation inscribed on the tomb: "Here Rests In Honored Glory A Soldier Known But to God."

26 may enlist in the Army Reserve for six years without agreeing to serve on active duty.

Men enlisting under this program must serve six years with an Army Reserve unit; however, if an individual performs a tour of active duty during his enlistment he will be eligible to transfer to the Standby Reserve for his final year of obligation.

Unit training consists of 48 drill periods of two hours each and 15 days of summer camp duty annually.

Parent - Teacher Talk

The Executive Board of the Sims P.T.A. held its December meeting in the school cafeteria on Thursday afternoon of December 1st, at 1:15 p. m. Plans were completed at that time for the regular December meeting which will be an old-fashioned Christmas Party. It is to be held on the night of December 20 at 7:30 p. m. at the Jr. High Auditorium. There will be no business meeting as the entire hour is to be devoted to the party. There will be a big tree with Santa on hand to distribute the gifts. Everyone will join in singing Christmas Carols, and Bro. Vanderburg will tell the Christmas Story. There's a good time in store for everyone.

The board decided to fix Christmas baskets for the needy families of our community who have children in school. By giving and sharing with those less fortunate than ourselves we can truly have a grand Christmas.

At a later date there will be more information on the Christmas Party so be watching for it and plan to attend.—Reporter.

PLOWIN' Out the CORNERS

by Uncle Zeb

This and That from our Mail Bag.
A nice letter from one of our shut-in in friends who lives way up on Rt. 1, Box 276 at Cassopolis, Michigan. Until I knew this pen-friend by the name of Art Hokanson, I had never known of any town by any such name. Art is shut-in and can't get out and work, so he learned to cook and keep house from his wheelchair and he and his lovely wife sort of changed places. This kind of courage can solve any problem.

Tom Henry Miller, another shut-in, who has gone a long way in solving his problem through his great courage, lives in Claude, Texas and helps earn his way by making leather goods such as belts, pocketbooks and purses along with taking subscriptions to all magazines and papers, takes quite a "Cut" at me. In a letter to some friends he tells them that Uncle Zeb has just recently passed his 87th birthday and that he made a belt for him, and goes on to say that if he had charged by the yard, he could have then and now, retired for life. W-h-e-w, anyway - what have I done to rate this? We like him no how.

Our good friend Mrs. Jim Christian, in response to what we had to say about Boys Ranch, writes us that she never forgets the boys in December and that she has already joined our Honor Roll by sending in her gift. Thanks to this Good Friend who is always doing so many Good Deeds.

All of yoh know this next person, write to her right now this week. She is the probably best known lady in all the Panhandle. Anyhow we are talking about Miss Laura V. Hamner, whose address for the next several weeks will be at a hospital located at 2720 North 12th Avenue in Birmingham, Alabama. As you know she is having eye trouble and may not be able to answer all letters, but write to her please, and tell her Zebo told you.

Mrs. Oscar Howard who is one of our readers down on Rt. 1, Gorman, Texas writes us and among other things gives us a list of the things she has in her deep freeze, to wit; fryers, old hens, peas, squash, believe it or not turtle, a tame rabbit, and of all things an armadillo. Now, is she kidding me, I have heard of eating turtle and possum, but never an armadillo. Anyway, it sounds like the Howards won't get hungry this winter for use.

Mrs. Ruth B. Davis, Box 183, Springlake, Texas writes to ask if we are the one and same fellow. We are. Something that we wrote about gave her an idea as to who Uncle Zeb was in real life. Now it turns out that we are related by marriage. As one of her Hobbies Mrs. Davis writes poetry. Living down in the cotton country the following could naturally have well been her poetic thoughts.

By Ruth B. Davis
In the wake of the fall the artist emerges
From the mechanical monster called a gin;
He sets up his easel on the eastern side
And paints his winter landscape ag'in.
His brush is the hearty west wind
His oil the lint from the saws;
That elfin Jack Frost was his tutor
Is evident in each picture he draws.
His canvas is provided by mother nature
With props of buildings, fences, and trees;
Around them he fashions a wintry snowfall
With drifts piled high by the breeze.
He can create a grinning snow man
From Lodged prairie tumbleweeds;

Or simulate a modern Christmas tree
All silver sprayed with ornaments of seeds.
He hangs the roof of neighboring houses
With icicles formed on exposed wires;

His touch on garden fences equals
The beauty of windows in church spires.
You must enjoy this scenery instantly
For the mood of the artist will change;

He'll flourish his impulsive brush in a moment
And clear the canvas, to rearrange.
Have you ever witnessed this scene near a cotton gin???

Quail Hunt To Be Good In Places

AUSTIN—Wildlife authorities generally and quail hunters in particular will eagerly observe the coming quail season because of the hubbub over habitat improvement according to the Executive Director of the Game and Fish Commission.

He said all are interested in an apparent increase in bobwhite as well as other quail species, and will seek the connection, if any, in the results of presumed food and cover development.

"Our reports indicate there is a definite pickup in quail numbers in many parts of the state," said the Executive Secretary. "This improvement seems particularly noticeable in the Panhandle as well as in northwest Texas generally.

"There also are reportedly more quail in north Texas and in spotted areas in East Texas. Some south Texas counties likewise seem to have more quail this fall.

"But the state as a whole still is suffering from the double knockout blow dealt quail by the prolonged drought, which accentuated the chronic harassment to wildlife from curtailed cover and food.

"We are convinced some hunters and landowners have gotten together to deliberately plan habitat growth and this will be the first time we will be in position to judge the results. We naturally hope that sportsmen will have better shooting and will be encouraged in their own cooperative efforts from the things—both good and bad—they see in the field this fall."

The Executive Secretary pointed out for the benefit of hunters unfamiliar with regulations that a state as big as Texas naturally comprises a patchwork of seasons and details covering quail hunting.

Under the General Law, the season begins December 1 and runs through January 16. The bag limit is twelve a day and not more than thirty-six in possession. But there are large blocks of counties under varying regulations, as to dates, shooting hours and bag limits.

In the Panhandle block of 28 counties under regulatory responsibility so that the Commission may each year adjust the harvest to current conditions, the season dates are the same as the state at large but the limits are ten per day and twenty in possession.

DONLEY COUNTY SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

Looking out the window now one can behold a sight that should make all the residents of this District happier. Big wet flakes of snow are falling at a rate that should put some effective moisture in the ground. This will allow farmers to do farming operations which should reduce soil blowing materially.

Where there is some cover present to help hold the soil temporarily and sufficient moisture is received to make the moisture meet, a rye cover crop will likely give the most lasting protection, and at the same time improve the soil condition. According to Mrs. Ritter of the Donley County ASC office, the county committee has extended the planting date for the rye cover crop practice to December 15th. This will give those who intended to plant a rye cover crop a chance to get it in and receive a share of the cost. The Donley Soil Conservation District has two drills available suitable for drilling rye.

Where the land is likely to blow before rye seeded this late will make sufficient growth to hold, deep listing on the sandier soils or chiseling on the heavier soils, might be the safest practice to follow.

Now that the crops are about harvested, technicians of the Soil Conservation Service, assisting the District, have started running terrace lines again. Considerable more terrace construction is expected in 1956 than was done in 1955.

THE LION'S TALE

By Carl Allmond

The singing of Christmas carols at our luncheon Tuesday reminded us of the fact that some shopping must be done. It was also a reminder that we should not consider our hearts as "standard equipment."

Boss Lion Lowe still thinks we are going to have a wrestling match Thursday, Dec. 15th. He also announced a Ladies' night for sometime before Christmas. You gals get ready; it could be turkey.

Program chairman Drennan asked our presence at two Basketball games Friday night, 7 o'clock—boys and girls to play. Junior Spier put on a "One Mans' Family" program. He brought his three sons, Mike, Bill, and Dub who entertained us with several piano numbers. The only classical number we remember was "The Ballad of Davy Crockett." Junior said the only reason he couldn't play was that the boys just wouldn't allow him time to practice.

Four or five men have been busy the past few days getting in the application, and contacting the State Board of Health in Austin, for funds to repair the Adair Hospital. The chances are slim, but it's never too late to try. A good crowd Tuesday, but no guests.

Proves Valuable In Emergency

ST. LOUIS—Emergency value of a new tractor-mounted electric generator was demonstrated at Washington Community Fair, near here, when a power failure plunged the fairgrounds into darkness.

Festivities were resumed and food saved from spoiling when fair officials called upon the service of the new generator-equipped tractor.

Providing a transportable source of electricity for the fair, the tractor had been on exhibit operating a freezer and an air conditioner when the blackout came.

The tractor was driven to the main ten which housed the fair office and food and beverage stands. Placed into operation, its electrical system provided emergency service for an hour. The system uses a General Electric generator mounted on the side of an International Harvester tractor.

Fair officials estimated that during the period of emergency service, sandwich and beverage sales which otherwise would have lost, amounted to $1,000.

By 1735 there were five newspapers in Boston, a town of less than 20,000 population.

The first printing press in Philadelphia was set up by William Bradford in 1685 just two years after the town was settled.

FARM NEWS

from the County ASC Committee

DECEMBER 13th SET FOR COTTON VOTE

Cotton growers have an important decision to make on Tuesday, December 13, Ross Springer, Chairman of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, reminds farmers.

On that day, growers will vote in a referendum to decide whether marketing quotas will be in effect for their 1956 upland cotton crop.

"If at least two-thirds of the growers voting approve the quotas," Mr. Springer explains, "marketing quotas will be in effect on all farms growing upland cotton in 1956, penalties will apply on 'excess' cotton, and price supports to those growers who comply with their cotton acreage allotments will be available at the full level of effective supports. Under current legislation, this support will be between 75 and 90 percent of parity, the level depending upon the supply situation at the time the determination is made.

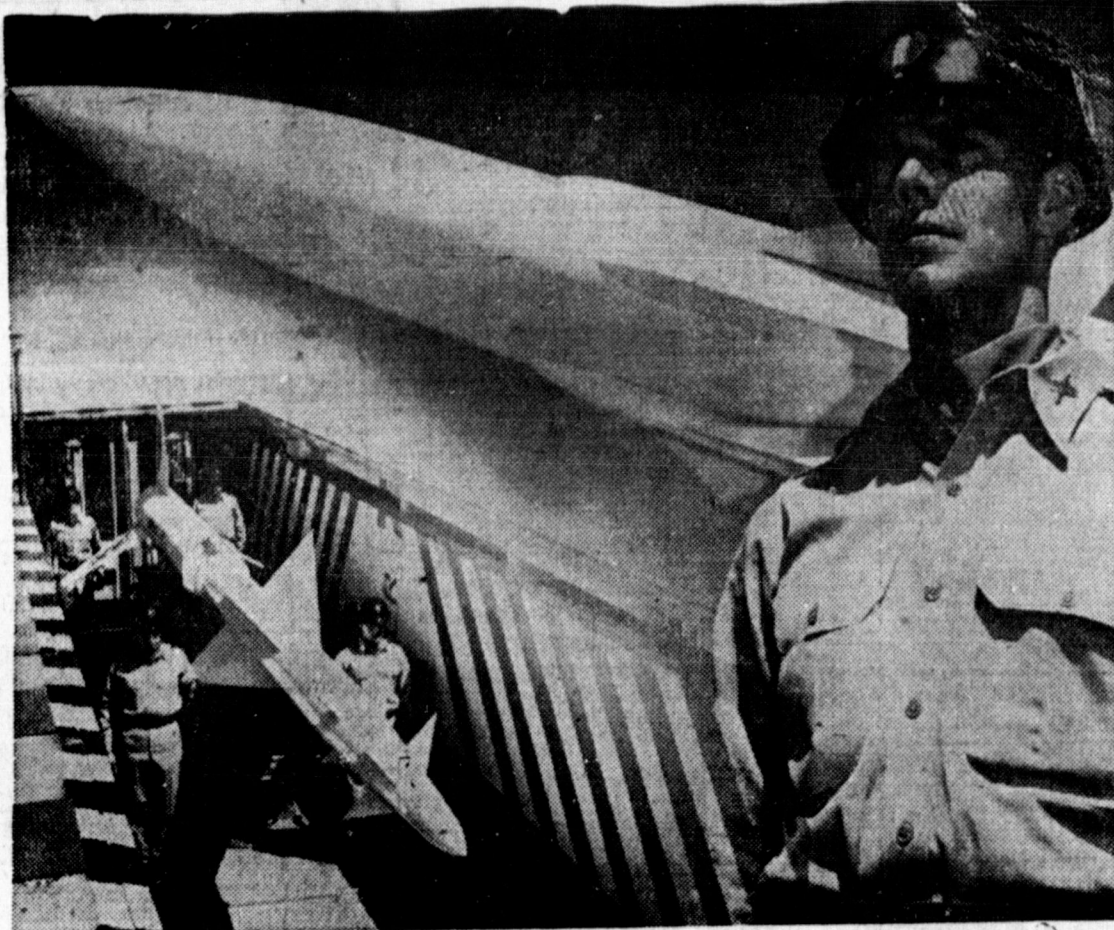

"If more than one-third of the growers disapprove quotas, there will be no marketing quotas or penalties, but price supports to eligible growers (who comply with their allotments) will be available at 50 percent of parity. "In either case, acreage allotments will continue in effect for the 1956 cotton crop."

The Chairman pointed out that the Secretary of Agriculture is directed to proclaim marketing quotas for the next upland cotton crop when the cotton supply exceeds normal. Quotas are not put into operation, however, unless they are approved by at least two-thirds of the growers voting in a national referendum on the question.

All farmers who produced cotton in 1955 are eligible to vote in the referendum.

By this time all producers should have received their 1956 cotton allotment as they were mailed out the first of the week.

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18TH DISTRICT

By Congressman Walter Rogers

MOSCOW

Moscow is a city of tremendous size. The Russians estimate the population at from five to seven million. All of the housing is apartment type. I asked a number of times about seeing the private residential sections. Each time I was told that there were no private residential sections, that private individuals did not own land in Russia. Living space is assigned upon application of the individual. The amount of living space allowed is determined by the number of individuals in the family group. This may include people from four generations. I was told that some people owned houses that were located away from the city, to which they took their families each summer. The house was owned by the individual as personal property, but he did not own the land. Most of the housing is in buildings that are built flush with the sidewalk. Entry to the different living units is gained by going through a gate that extends into a center courtyard from which you have access to the several apartments. There is an acute housing shortage at the present time and much of the building that is going on in Moscow is multiple unit housing. We saw many of these buildings under construction and observed the type of workmanship. The brick laying does not appear to be even fair by our standards. The plastering work does seem to be fair. Much of this work is done by women who can be seen on each and every job. They appeared to be very strong and hard workers. Many of them are also seen doing much of the street work. That is the cleaning of the streets and also the repairing thereof. Many are working as park attendants and as cleaning women on the sidewalks and other portions of the public parks.

The Kremlin is a tremendous walled area in which there are many buildings, including a fabulous palace which was built by the czars. A part of this structure has been made over and houses the Supreme Soviet. This is made up of the Soviet of Nationalities of 708 members and the Soviet of the Union of 639 members. All of these are seated in one hall at desks. The chamber is much longer than it is broad and has the appearance of many of the lecture rooms in some of our universities, although much larger. The Russian Government has converted one of the buildings inside the Kremlin into a museum. This museum houses a great number of items concerning Russian history, including the czarist days, even back to suits of armor worn by men and also used on the horses. Many of the coaches, which are very ornate, have been preserved. Many intricate works of art and royal jewels are also on display. The Kremlin fronts on Red Square. This is where the tomb of Lenin and Stalin is located. It is a square, dark red, marble structure just outside the Kremlin wall on the Square. The tomb is opened at certain times for visitors to view the remains of Lenin and Stalin. You pass through a door at ground level at which is stationed guards. You turn to the left and go down several flights of stairs below the earth and turn into a chamber which houses the bodies of Lenin and Stalin. They are in a glass case and seem to be perfectly preserved. There is a pinkish or orange glow around them. Lenin's body is the first that you see, although you can see them both at the same time. They both appear to be asleep. Lenin has his fists doubled up and seems to have his jaw set. Stalin, however, has his hands folded across his mid-section in a very calm manner and his physical appearance seems to be calm and relaxed. Great numbers of people pass through this tomb every time it is opened. I had watched these throngs from my hotel window but did not know where they were going or what they were doing. We were told by some of the Russians that the crowds seem to get larger rather than smaller. Across the Red Square from the tomb is the large store of Moscow. It is called Gumm. I asked one of the interpreters if that was the place to go to get the best prices. He laughed and said that the prices were the same everywhere because they were fixed by the state. He told me that it made no difference whether you bought a pair of socks in a Black Sea port or in an isolated town in Siberia. If the socks were the same, then the price was the same. Most of the shops have a picture in the window indicating what they are selling. If it is fish, then there is a picture of several fish in the raw. The picture is rather colorful. However, it occurred to me that since the state owns everything and the prices are all the same, a lot of colored paint could have been saved if they had just written "fish" across the window. I guess I just don't understand that type of economy.

The streets are all very wide and there are many wide squares. One fellow ventured that if New York had Moscow's wide streets there wouldn't be a traffic jam. It might also be pointed out that if Moscow had New York's narrow streets they wouldn't have any traffic jam. Actually, I can see more automobiles from my office window in Washington than I saw in all of Russia, including an automobile factory which we went through. This was the Stalin Auto Works which I will talk more about next week.

Safety Official Cautions Texas Pedestrians

So you don't drive a car—hardly ever ride in one? Well, don't let this fact give you any false assurance. You can still end up as a traffic accident fatality!

That warning was passed along by Mr. E. C. McFadden, Vice President, Employers' Casualty Company, Dallas, Texas and President, Texas Safety Association, Inc., today as he cautioned Texas pedestrians that traveling on foot is no guarantee against involvement in traffic accidents.

Mr. McFadden spoke on behalf of the pedestrian safety program being sponsored by the Texas Safety Association, Department of Public Safety and the National Safety Council this month.

"A great many pedestrians killed each year are non-drivers," he said. "Being non-drivers they don't realize the problems the driver faces when he sits behind the wheel of his car, and so they guess wild when they try to figure out his reactions."

Mr. McFadden pointed out that even people who can drive have a tendency to drop the driver's point of view when they step out of their cars and become pedestrians.

"The pedestrian's best safeguard is always to figure that the driver can't see him," he said. "Then he won't expect the driver to watch out for him."

Mr. McFadden advised walkers to observe the following rules to stay safe in traffic.

1. Cross streets at corners only.
2. Never walk into the street from between parked cars.
3. Obey traffic signs and signals—cross on GREEN or WALK only.
4. Wait on the sidewalk—not in the street—for the GREEN or WALK or for a gap in traffic if the corner has no traffic signal.

5. Cross streets in crosswalks.
6. Look LEFT and then RIGHT for traffic while crossing. Watch sharply for turning cars. (Be especially careful at one-way streets to check the direction of approaching traffic.)
7. After getting off a bus or streetcar, don't go around it, front or rear. Wait until it leaves before crossing.
8. If you're not feeling well or are in poor health, allow extra time or get help if you must cross streets. Get glasses if your sight is poor.
9. At night when walking on poorly lighted streets or country roads, wear or carry something white or reflectorized.
10. Walk on LEFT facing traffic where there are no sidewalks.

Have you ever wondered why your neighbor's outdoor Christmas lighting seems to have a more professional result than yours? Maybe he's following a simple tip from holiday lighting specialists to position bulbs close together.

For greater effectiveness, lay three separate strings of outdoor lights on the ground and stagger them so that sockets and bulbs are about six inches rather than the usual 18 inches apart. Tape them together with weatherproof electrical tape and hang them in place in the usual manner, say General Electric holiday specialists.

Hang Christmas Lights Close For Professional Results

Good neighbors often find that by planning their holiday decorations together the result seems twice as effective. Stringing lights from one house to another can often make small houses look larger and give a more uniform effect to each decorating design.

treatment or to feel that new power ranging up to 205 H.P.

There's so much fresh new styling in the "One-Fifty" it's hard to believe the car costs so little. It has new chrome—including both windshield and back window reveals—and its own distinctive two-toning. It stretches long and clean from grille to taillights (the left one hides the gas cap). It offers new power, V8 or 6, steering and handling ease few cars can match, plus all of Chevrolet's great performance and safety features. Directional signals and safety door locks are standard equipment. Seat belts, with or without shoulder harnesses, and instrument panel padding are available at extra cost. Truly, the "One-Fifty" represents more quality than before. # Highlights and Sidelights FROM Your State CAPITOL

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN— Pieces of the Texas political puzzle begin to fall into place. Who will run for what may be largely developed by the end of the year, months ahead of the usual schedule.

State Sen. Jimmy Phillips of Angleton held a press conference Monday in Austin to announce formally his candidacy for governor.

Interested observers also are watching for an announcement from Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd. But chances are it won't be of a political nature. Reports have it that Shepperd may announce his retirement from politics at the end of his present term, to accept a position in West Texas.

For now, Shepperd said "no comment," when asked about his plans, but promised an announcement "later." At present he says he has plenty to do, filling his job as attorney general. "I've got some hot potatoes cooking, and I intend to finish cooking them," he commented.

Another possibility is that former University of Texas Chancellor James P. Hart would announce his gubernatorial plans in mid-December.

Supreme Court Justice Will Wilson is being talked more and more as a candidate for attorney general. State Sen. Searcy Bracewell of Houston is considered a prospect either for this post, or for lieutenant governor.

And a one-sentence card in the mails prophesies: "Obie Jones will be your next state treasurer." Jones is a state representative from Travis County.

Daniel Drive Grows Movements to persuade U. S. Sen. Price Daniel to run for governor apparently are breaking out over the state. In Navarro County, Democratic leaders who split over Shivers and Yarborough and over Eisenhower and Stevenson united in signing a petition endorsing Daniel. A similar situation developed in Childress.

A poll of the heavily conservative Dallas County Democratic Executive Committee by the Dallas Morning News showed Daniel a strong favorite.

Observers felt this increasing activity indicated Daniel has given his supporters encouragement.

Lindsey To Leave Politics
House Speaker Jim Lindsey apparently has rejected the lure of higher political office.

He is to succeed Gen. Ike Ashburn as executive vice president of the Texas Good Roads Association on Jan. 1. Ashburn, retiring from that position, will take over as chairman of the board.

Lindsey will complete his present term in the legislature, he said, but will not seek elective office next year. Elected speaker before his 28th birthday, he had been considered a possible candidate for attorney general.

Tax Portion for Schools Asked
Texans attending the White House Conference on Education this week planned to plug for a new school-financing idea developed in a report on the preliminary state conference held in Austin recently. Their goal: "A percentage of all federal income taxes collected in each state should be left in the state for school support."

Another possibility suggested in the report was to extend the tax-supported educational period for all students from 12 to 14 years.

Labor Poll Tax Drive
A drive to get a half-million union labor members to buy poll taxes is in high gear, says one of its leaders.

Poll taxes of union members are as much as 70 per cent in some areas, said Jerry Holleman of Austin, executive secretary of the Texas Federation of Labor.

CIO, railroad brotherhood and Federation groups are working together on the project, according to Holleman.

Teacher Retirement Pushed
Some 8,000 Texas teachers bypassed traditional turkey dinners to spend their holiday studying professional objectives.

Topping their convention agenda were plans for an organized campaign to gain voter approval for the teacher retirement constitutional amendment which will appear on next November's general election ballot.

Passage of the amendment is necessary, said the Texas State Teachers Association resolution, "to insure teachers for the flood of additional pupils enrolling in Texas public schools."

Citizen Arrest Upheld
Sometimes even a private citizen can legally make an arrest, says the Court of Criminal Appeals.

One such instance involved an Air Force captain who stopped a weaving car and detained the intoxicated driver until police arrived.

A 2-to-1 court decision affirmed the resultant jail sentence and fine against the driver. Donley County Leader, $2.50 year

LIBRARY NOTES

If you have any copies of U. S.

Histories, English Literature and science books we can use them for reference books. It is not likely you will ever use them. These gifts will be appreciated, and used.

We have not received any new books and only 7c in funds this week. Every body is busy with "rushing" duties.

Robert Penn Warren is the Literary attraction for the Library of Congress' fourth literary program of the season. He will read from some of his poems. We have only one of his books—

"World Enough and Time" which was published several years ago. "All the King's Men" was his Pulitzer prize for fiction and the Southern Author's award as the most distinguished book of 1946 by a Southern writer.

Just before going to print we received a donation of $10.00 from Les Beaux Art Club to the Library. This was joyously accepted as our funds were sadly diminished. This has been a quiet season for income as TV has caused a loss of adult readers.

Carl Talley and Keith Covington spent Saturday night and Sunday with Pat Roberson.

Mrs. Ray Godbey of Quail visited Tuesday eve in the Roy Roberson home.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Moss are the proud grandparents of a new grandson born Thursday to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gerner of Amarillo.

Bobby Phillely who is stationed in California is home on leave visiting his folks, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Phillely, Jimmy and Kay.

Every one remember little Nancy Ann Bible. She is now at the Scottish Rite Hospital in Dallas having a series of operations. Any one wishing to send her cards or letters, her address is Nancy Ann Bible, Scottish Rite Hospital, 2201 Welborn St., Dallas 19, Texas. We wish her a speedy recovery and that she will soon be able to run and play with the other little girls and boys.

HEALTH NOTES

Texas State Dept. of Health

AUSTIN — Milk is both saint and sinner among human foods, the State Health Department said today in a statement favoring compulsory pasteurization of all milk offered for public sale.

The statement was directed to cities planning milk ordinances or milk production codes.

Said the Department: "Milk is the best single food available for human consumption, and also one of the most dangerous— unless it is handled right."

"Milk contains the essentials of a balanced diet. It is rich in vitamins. It has an especially good quality of protein and fat, and a high content of readily usable calcium.

"But unless it is pasteurized, it might also contain germs of tuberculosis, typhoid and paratyphoid fevers, gastro-enteritis, diphtheria, streptococcal infections, undulant fever, foot and mouth disease, diarrhea, dysentery, and perhaps even polio."

Pasteurization means holding milk at a temperature of 143 degrees Fahrenheit for 30 minutes or at 161 degrees for 15 seconds.

State Health Commissioner Henry A. Holle credits pasteurization with being the most important single disease preventive measure in the field of sanitation, next to water purification.

Health officials at all levels of authority view pasteurization as the best insurance for the industry and consumer, the simplest, least objectionable, and most trustworthy method of rendering milk safe.

These same officials say that while good milk has done more than any other single food to obtain and maintain health, bad milk formerly was responsible for more sickness and death than all other foods combined.

Statistics compiled by the U. S.

Public Health Service on epidemics of milk-borne diseases indicate the risk of contracting an illness from raw milk is approximately 50 times as great as from pasteurized milk. There is no record of a milk-borne disease outbreak attributable to properly pasteurized milk.

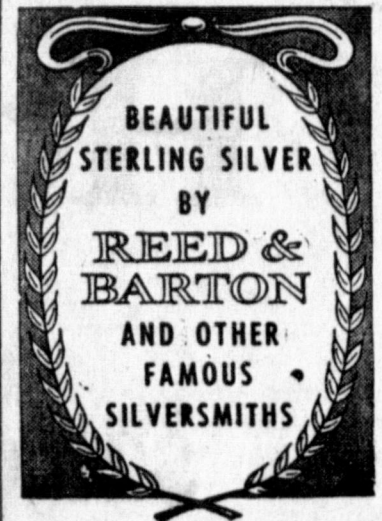

"Pasteurization is the only practical commercial method of destroying all disease organisms in milk," Dr. Holle concluded.
