Hedley FFA shines at Houston

Each year Hedley FFA livestock exhibitors look forward to competing at the World's largest livestock show and rodeo in Houston, and this year was no exception.

The junior market competition began in Brenham with the swine shift, February 24-28. This year 3,900 barrows arrived at Brenham with only 660 head making it into Houston.

After the first day of sifting, Hedley FFA had five of eleven pigs survive the first sift. Of the five pigs, three were able to survive the second sift and compete at Houston.

In the middleweight Poland class, Lowell Ellerbrook placed eighth. In the heavy weigh Poland class, Travis Hrbacek placed tenth, and Paul Monroe placed 20th in the lightweight Hamp class.

Other swine exhibitors include LaRae Shaw, Dustin Knowles, Jason Conatser, Devon Monroe, Jennifer Williams, Jeremy Tunnell, and Matt

For steer exhibitors there is no sifting involved; therefore all youth exhibit their steers in Houston. Competing in the steer show were Jared Patterson and Joe Don Patterson.

'Walk Across Texas' program gets underway

By Sue Church, County FCS Agent

The Donley County "Walk Across Texas" Campaign received its official start at the kickoff last Thursday evening following the Health and Saints Roost Jamboree performers serenaded approximately 40 walkers as they warmed up to laps around the Clarendon College Gymnasium.

Their captain introduced each team's members. To date there are twelve teams participating in this event. They include: The Donley County State Bank Loaners — "Walking with Your Interest at Heart," the Herring National Bank "The Shufflers" and "The After Thoughts," Community Bank "Y-2-K Hustlers," "Let's Go," St. Mary's "Streakers," "Fifth Avenue Walkers," "The Young and the Old," "Street Walkers," "The Nook Knockouts," "The Strowlers," and the "Retired & Senior Volunteer Program."

Walking away with both participation and spirit awards for the evening were the Donley County State Bank Loaners. However, not to be outdone, other teams have since been seen logging miles around town attempting to reach Houston

Maps tracking the progress of each team can be found at any of the three banks in Clarendon as well as the Courthouse. Also, results will be published in The Clarendon Enterprise weekly. Mileage updates for the teams will be posted at the beginning of each week starting Monday, April 5,

Teams may still sign up. Join the fun by getting into one of those healthy habits that can last a

Clarendon cancels city election

The Clarendon Board of Aldermen met in regular session on March 23, 1999, at 7 p.m. in the Board Room of City Hall.

The board passed an ordinance canceling the General Election on May 1, 1999, since all candidates were running unopposed. Mayor Tex Selvidge and Alderman James Owens will each serve another term, and Kent Womack will join the board as alder-

The board also passed a resolution authorizing the submission of a Texas Community Development Program to the Texas Department of Housing and Community Affairs.

A request for more streetlights on Highway 287 near the Clarendon Outpost was considered and approved.

Grass seeding was discussed for the completion of the sewer plant grant. Che Shadle with OJD Engineering was asked to work up a proposal and specifications needed for the area. The board also voted to have OJD Engineering check on the flood structures south of town.

The aviation contract with the Texas Department of Transportation

The sprinkler system at the park was discussed along with other work to be done. The board approved extending the slab at the canopy by eight feet and repairing the sidewalk and retaining wall near the stairway.

After meeting in closed session, the board voted to add insurance for the airport to their existing policy.

CC Alumni Reunion set for April 10

The Clarendon College Ex-Students Association will host the 61st annual Alumni Reunion on Saturday, April 10 and Sunday, April 11, in Clarendon.

The 50th, 25th, and 10th anniversary honor classes will be recognized throughout the weekend. All members of the Class of 1949, 1974, and 1989 are encouraged to attend the weekend's events.

Reunion registration begins Saturday, April 10, at 9 a.m. in the Bairfield Activity Center followed by the annual Spring Intramural and Alumni Rodeo scheduled to begin at 1 p.m. at the Clarendon Outdoor

The Alumni Honor Banquet will begin at 6 p.m. in the Bairfield Activity Center. Outstanding Clarendon College students will be recognized during the banquet. Tickets for the banquet are $8.50 per person.

Following the banquet the CC Fine Arts Department will feature a Fine Arts Showcase beginning at 8 p.m. in the Harned Sisters Auditorium.

The Ex-Students Association will meet on Sunday, April 11, in the Bairfield Activity Center for a luncheon and business meeting. During the meeting the association will be electing officers and discussing Clarendon College goals and the search for the new college president.

For more information about the Alumni Reunion, please contact Clarendon College at (806) 874-3571.

Museum to hold open house April 11

The Saints' Roost Museum Board invites everyone to come out to the museum between 2 and 5 p.m. on Sunday, April 11, for an Open House.

On display will be the bison exhibit currently on loan from Mason and Hanger. The bones of the bison bull are estimated to be 650 to 1,200 years old and were found near a playa lake on the Pantex property

State working hard to eradicate bangs in cattle

Nearly anyone who's been in the bacterial infection that has stricken thousands of Texas cattle herds during the past 50 years. Now with only a handful of diagnosed infected herds in the U.S., interest in eradicating the disease can be expected to lag.

"Football games are lost in the last seconds when momentum is lost. Likewise, eradication efforts can fail if the level of effort is not maintained," said Dr. Terry Beals, head of the Texas Animal Health Commission (TAHC), the state's livestock health regulatory agency.

"We've 'upped the ante' in the cattle business has had experience final drive to eradicate 'bangs' in with cattle brucellosis, or "bangs," a Texas," he said. "When Texas had 1,100 infected herds a decade ago, most ranchers -- and even some TAHC'ers -- thought we'd never get so close to cleaning up infection. Now we have to convince everyone that, working together, we can finish eradicating this disease.'

Can't we all just get along?

While our impeached president was speaking to the nation from the Oval Office last week, I wondered two things.

First, as he spoke about moral imperatives in Kosovo, I wondered if the man was wearing any pants.

But secondly, I noticed the bust of Abraham Lincoln that Clinton keeps on a credenza behind his desk. My thoughts turned to the War Between the States. Imagine if you will, the year is 1861, several Southern states have declared themselves independent from the United States, and President Lincoln is leading a war of aggression against the Confederate States of America to "preserve the union." I wonder how President Lincoln would have felt if a coalition of Great Britain, France, and Spain had tried to intervene. What if, as the war dragged on, those nations had invited the president to Paris to "accept" a peace accord to basically grant the CSA some autonomy if not outright independence?

Lincoln probably would have balked at such a notion and continued making war on the South. At that point, the British-French-Spanish Alliance could have led an assault on Washington saying, "If Lincoln will not accept peace, we will limit his ability to make war."

This scenario could have had two potential outcomes. First, the alliance could have gotten its way, in which case all those lives in the South as well as the North could have been saved. Think of the horrors and atrocities that could have been prevented.

In the second outcome, while this American "powder keg" explodes, neighboring Mexico sees its opportunity to reclaim all of its old stomping grounds from Texas to California. The Mexican Army marches across the Rio Grande, and the war escalates. Meanwhile in Canada, well... nothing ever happens in Canada, but the rest of Western world would have become embroiled in what would have been the First World War.

As we all know, this did not happen. There was no military intervention from the world's superpowers in the War for Southern Independence. The result of course was that the United States won the war by decimating the South.

The American Civil War was decisively decided on the battlefield. and the nation was re-united. Peace came to the United States of America at a high price - more lives were lost in that conflict than in any other war since then. But it has been a lasting peace. To be sure there have been some lingering hard feelings over the whole conflict, but never again have we taken up arms - state against state and brother against brother.

By contrast, "peace agreements" don't work that well in settling conflicts. Forced peace agreements are even worse because they don't settle the underlying problems between the peoples involved.

Likewise, the civil war in the Balkans will never be settled permanently until there is a clear, decisive winner – at the point where the horrors of war overtake the people involved and make them realize the value of peace.

This "Rodney King" foreign policy of the Clinton Administration is flawed and dangerous

Can't we all just get along? No, some people around the globe can't. Some will just have to fight it out. And it is not the place of the United States to stop them.

Remember children's welfare

Dear Editor:

Many of us look back on our childhood as a time when we didn't have a worry in the world. Unfortunately, an increasing number of Texas children are not having it so easy because they are the victims of child

Last year in Texas, more than 29,000 children were victims of abuse and neglect. In our own county, Child Protection Services investigated 12 reports of child abuse and neglect and four were confirmed as victims.

Abuse and neglected children often carry the burden of their experiences into adulthood in the form of substance abuse, depression, physical disabilities, learning difficulties, criminal activity, and the continued cycle of child abuse. This cost to the lives of children also means increasing costs of care systems such as child welfare, education, health care, and juvenile justice. Clearly, when a child suffers, our community suffers.

Kosovo turning US into the world's policeman

Issue

Update

On The

For over 50 years, the US has been the beacon of democracy around the world. Now, it seems, we are in danger of becoming the world's police-

The decision to use US forces in the strike ously suggests against Kosovo is the latest in a series of ill-considered moves to inject our military into situations they do not belong.

There was Somalia. Then, it was Haiti. Next, it was Bosnia. In each of these situations, the President failed to explain how vital American interests would be put at risk if we did not act militarily. Kosovo is no different. No one disputes the fact that President Milosevic is a murderous thug. But no one serithat the situation in Kosovo presents a threat to our national security.

Some say we have a moral obligation to take action. Well, there are currently over 60-armed conflicts underway across the globe. Horrible things happen somewhere in the world every day. We cannot get involved in all of these situations, so we have to decide when we will get involved and when we won't.

These decisions should not be based on the amount of coverage a conflict happens to receive on CNN. They should be based upon the national interests of the United States. Right now, it is hard to see how our security or vital national interests are threatened by the violence in Kosovo.

It's even harder to see what our policy is with regard to using our military in these types of situations. With bombs dropping daily and the possibility of ground troops being used, it's something we'd better figure out - and soon.

Need help? Call 1-800-UNITED

The United States, in conjunction with NATO, has bombed Yugoslavia stating that dictator Slobodan Milosevic refused to sign on to a peace plan that would end a year-long war between Yugoslav forces and ethnic Albanians.

The war between the Yugoslavs and the Albanians has left more than 2,000 men, women, and children dead. Journalists and Western peacekeepers both claim that many are victims of "ethnic cleansing."

The depth of those two little words immediately bring to mind horrific images of concentration camps and Jewish Holocaust casualties.

In fear of this happening again, President Bill Clinton gave his okay on the proposed NATO airstrike and put American troops over foreign soil, again. US ships and planes were deployed to the region and were used to fire cruise missiles and drop bombs from B-52s and stealth bombers.

In its 50 years of existence, this attack is the first military action in which NATO, a defensive alliance of 19 nations, has gone to war against a Western government.

Although we may be saving thousands of Albanians, what is the long-range mission of this action? We know how we got into this situation, but how are we going to get out?

Helping humanity is nothing new for the United States. However, when did we become the world's police force? Whenever there is a crisis anywhere, you can almost guarantee that the United States will be there to "help clean up the mess." Remember Bosnia, Iraq, Grenada, Somalia, Panama, Vietnam, and Korea?

Milosevic is a mock Adolf Hitler, and we cannot allow him to continue his murderous rampage across the Balkans. He started the war Bosnia.

Mark with Christi Ross moved

Kosovo, and could easily progress to Albania, Macedonia, Greece, Montenegro, and Turkey. These are delicate areas to begin with, and an influx of Kosovar Albanians could upset this fragile

The Russians are traditional allies of the Serbs, and this fact has many worried. World War I began after a 1914 conflict in the Balkans, and the events of the NATO airstrike are just too similar to provide any comfort.

The NATO forces outweigh the Serbs in both manpower and weapons. Milosevic's army only has 400 tanks and 60 air-to-missile batteries, and the air force flies older Soviet planes and has fewer

In 1995, Milosevic realized he was over-powered in Bosnia, and after 11 days of bombardment, he sought peace. Could we hope to get this lucky again? Even though we defeated his regime in Bosnia, American troops are still stationed in that European country.

What are we going to do if the NATO attack encourages an Albanian nationalist movement and spreads into neighboring countries? Then NATO and the United States will be dragged into an even larger Balkan conflict.

Russia has made it very clear that they are against the NATO action. They have even declared that the airstrike was an "act of aggression" and will not support any of the proposed measures.

China is upset with our actions, also. They chair the UN Security Council and were not involved in the decision to provide force to Yugoslavia. United Nations protocol requires that the Security Council be included in the decision making process, and China, being definite about the situation, was conveniently left out of the decision making process.

The United States must now be careful in dealing with Russia and China, all while rushing to Yugoslavia's side to prevent further "ethnic cleansing." The United States also has another concern with the Balkan situation - refugees. Thousands of Bosnians have already relocated to the US, and thousands of Kosovar Albanians could possibly enter our borders, too.

If the bombing does not prevail, NATO will either end the mission and allow Milosevic to continue his murderous rampage or will send in ground troops. President Clinton was right to support this mission, however; if the administration had paid closer attention to the region this event might not have even happened. Instead, Yugoslavia's neighbors are now guarding their borders to prevent an influx of Albanian refugees. American troops may soon be patrolling Yugoslavia in an effort to provide peace in a fledgling democracy.

Like or not, the United States is now the world's police force. If you are in need of help, give us a call. We will help you whether or not our own citizens know all of the facts and reasons about

Clarendon citizens turn bad situation into good experience

Dear Editor:

Saturday, March 13, a group of 20, mostly teenagers, on a church bus loaded with luggage made an unexpected stop in the town of Clarendon. I was the leader of that group. The bus we were traveling on broke down in front of Cornell Shell Station. Perhaps you can imagine the frustration of realizing that you are stuck, in an unfamiliar place 15 hours from home, with a group of teenagers anxious to get home after a week of skiing. Not to mention the mothers and fathers awaiting their arrival. What could have been a frustrating and very difficult experience proved to be a bless-

The people of Clarendon went out of their way to help us. We pulled the bus into Cornell Shell station, where Mr. Cornell was extremely kind and very helpful to us as we tried to make decisions about how to get home to Union, Mississippi. He allowed us to use his office telephone and offered suggestions that proved very helpful. We sent the kids across the street to Mary's Country Kitchen where they were fed and made to feel welcome. ## Health and Wealth Fair another annual success

Health and finances are still considered important issues to Donley County residents as many took advantage of health screenings and financial advice at the recent "Be a Champion of Your Health and Wealth Fair II" hosted at Clarendon College last Thursday.

Savings in excess of $19,000 were reported as shared with the public through the free services offered by the exhibitors.

In addition to free financial advice provided by the three Clarendon banks sponsoring the event, the Internal Revenue Service, Consumer Credit Counseling Service and the Credit Bureau of Amarillo, area residents had the opportunity to undergo glucose, blood oxygen, anemia, prostate, cholesterol, HIV, podiatry, child developmental screenings, breast mammograms, hepatitis B and tetanus-diphtheria immunizations and blood pressure screenings.

"Time is running out for cattle brucellosis eradication," stressed Dr. Beals. "As of November, Texas has four quarantined herds, and South Dakota has one privately owned infected bison herd. The day is coming when the country will consider cattle brucellosis to be a 'foreign' or 'exotic' disease, and other states could take appropriate, protective action to prevent the movement of Texas cattle across their boundaries.

"Kentucky animal health officials took similar action last spring, when Texas had two horses on a premise affected by vesicular stomatitis, a viral blistering disease. The authorities embargoed, or prevented, all Texas

"Nearly two million cattle are moved out of Texas each year. Brucellosis movement restrictions would wreak further havoc on our state's ranching economy, already challenged by the 1998 drought and floods."

"One infected herd will keep Texas from successful eradication of the disease," he said. "Does your herd need a test? It could, if your cows have aborted or delivered weak calves, or if your neighbor had an infected herd and your herd was tested only once. Ranchers whose herd has a history of infection, or producers who have neglected to have 'new' cattle tested before adding them to the herd should be especially concerned, as these animals may have introduced infection to the herd."

By Leon Church, County Agent

The Donley County Marketing Club will meet on Monday April 5. This is the second meeting of this club. They will meet at 7:00 a.m. in the Paymaster Gin office located in Lelia Lake. Agricultural producers are invited to attend this meeting.

The goal of the Marketing Club is to increase producers' knowledge of marketing and other risk management concepts. Clubs often trade futures and options (especially options) as a group to gain experience in a limited risk environment. Members put into action the principles learned in class by applying them to real-life situ-

TOP 10 REASONS TO VOTE AGAINST BOLL WEEVIL ERADICATION.

- 10. Boll Weevil Resistant Cotton is currently being developed. This cotton may be available as early as 2002.
- 9. Program may be started any year if really needed. Once the program starts, it is almost impossible to stop. i.e., Cotton Board with a CEO salary of $325,000 annually.
- 8. Can you afford this program with 45 cent cotton? Congress promises no more POP or PFC payments after 2002.
- 7. Excessive Administrative Expense. About half of the $32 million budget will be spent even if there is not one acre sprayed.
- 6. In 40 years, John Q. Smith has never sprayed for weevils. On his 1500 acres of dryland cotton, he will pay $165,000 in eleven years, even if there is no economic weevil damage on his farm.
- 5. The Ballot makes us Debtors for an Unspecified Time. The program lasts four years, and the assessment continues for eleven years. Cotton acres may decline as farmers avoid the assessment by planting other crops, thereby extending the payout period. Not included in this assessment is the maintenance program that begins
- 4. Convert your assessment into cost per bale. If dryland cotton produces 250 lbs.,/acre, your cost will be $20 per bale; at 125 lbs./acre, it will be $40 per bale.
- 3. Secondary Pest Problems On top of the assessment, there will be the added expense of controling secondary pests such as worms and aphids. Historically, 100% crop losses have occurred during eradication programs.
- 2. Farmers with weevil spray programs are pushing for eradication. They are asking those who never spray to subsidize their operation.
- 1. You will have no control over this program. CEO Salary ($100,000+), Zone Director's Salary ($53,000+); In-season sprayings, Spray Triggers; Competence of field inspectors, etc.

IMMEDIATE OPPORTUNITIES TO HELP KIDS

For some of the most important jobs in America, all you need is the determination to make the world a better place for kids. And some time and talent. With this winning combination, you can fill an important job in a working mom's life by driving a sick child to the doctor. Or use your parenting skills to check on latchkey kids for a worried parent. Or put your letter-writing talents to work by sharing your perspective with a public official. You can help a child learn to read or mentor a math whiz. Organize a teen center or support a foster father with a gift of sports equipment.

THANK YOU

made our spaghetti supper fundraiser a big success. A special thank you to our members who gave and worked so hard to make this fund-raiser such a success and to our non-resident members for being a part of our fund-raiser. May God bless each of you.

Floyd Ramsey, Chairman Jaunita Meador, Worthy Matron Billy Powell, Worthy Patron

Having friends is no accident. We would like to thank all those who helped us in anyway when our storefront was damaged. We especially would like to thank Earl Hartman, Dave Sims, Phillip Vargas, Jim Mincey, and Steve for their assistance in cleaning up and closing off the damaged area. Most of all we would like to thank God that no one was injured. Without these kinds of friends, we don't know what we would have done. The Henson Family

Farm Bureau to launch market education program

Risk is something Texas farmers live with on a daily basis, and the state's largest farm organization will Myrick, currently a TFB Field Sersoon have a new program designed to help farmers manage their risk.

The Texas Farm Bureau will begin a new Agricultural Market Education Program on April 1 of this year. The program will offer basic and intermediate education on futures market hedging, options trading, and other risk management techniques.

prices and weather related disasters has left much of Texas agriculture in a real financial bind," said Vernie Glasson, TFB Executive Director. "There is just too much risk in agriculture, and we believe this program will give our members more risk management tools. It will focus on the basics and the 'how to get started' questions that many producers have about the futures market."

be implemented as a result of Farm Bureau delegate action to adopt the "Project 2000" plan. The Project 2000 plan is the result of a special Farm direction to the organization for the tural producers." Glasson said. year 2000 and beyond. Other new pro-Glasson said. "Risk management education for agricultural producers is so important, however, the Texas Farm program should be started immedito improve their profitability."

Glasson announced that Bryce vices Representative, will lead the Agricultural Marketing Education Program. Myrick resides in Abilene and has served as liaison between the state organization and Farm Bureau members in that part of Texas for almost ten years.

The program will feature initial seminars and follow up sessions that "A combination of low market will be offered to producers free of charge. It will also serve as a source of information and dialogue for Farm Bureau members who implement risk management techniques.

Myrick, a 1978 graduate of Texas Christian University, with a degree in Finance, has extensive experience in agriculture and commodity markets. He was a licensed commodity broker for nine years and served as a workshop instructor when ag options first Glasson said the program is the began trading in the early 1980s. #### Cancer Center's mobile mammogram passes inspection

The Don and Sybil Harrington Cancer Center announces that the Harrington Cancer Center/Baptist St. Anthony's Healthcare System Outreach Mammography Vans and In-House Units passed the Department of Health and Human Services MQSA (Mammogram Quality Standards Act) Facility Inspection in full compliance for the third year.

The FDA (Food and Drug Administration), which conducts the inspection, reported a flawless review. Criteria for the review include the following: Personnel, Equipment, Reporting and Record Keeping, Quality Assurance (General, Equipment and Mammography Medical Outcomes Audit), Mammographic Procedures and Techniques for Patients with Breast Implants, Consumer Complaint Mechanism, Clinical Image Quality and Additional Mammography Review and Patient Notification.

In addition to meeting these criteria, the mammography units are already in compliance with additional requirements for facilities, which must be in place effective April 28, 1999. These additional criteria include, direct communication of results to the patient by the mammography facility, standardized assessment categories of mammography results and retention of mammography records with a provision for the woman to have ability to obtain her original mammograms should she choose
