Harrison's Grand Champion Steer Brings $3,000 At Odessa Show

Troy Harrison, Donley County 4-H Club boy had a big day at the Odessa Sandhills Hereford show this past week. His big 1120 pound Hereford was judged grand champion of the show over a field of 195 steers from all over Texas and New Mexico. The steer was sold at auction last Saturday morning for $3,000.00. The steer was bred by W. H. Cooke III of Hedley, Texas and fed under the direction of County Agent M. M. Breedlove.

Gene Floyd of Hedley, Texas also sold a light weight Hereford steer for $475.00 and Rod Stone sold a Hereford steer for $267.00. Breedlove says that six steers were brought home to take on to other shows.

The next show for the 4-H Club boys will be the Amarillo Fat Stock Show. They will move their cattle to this show on Friday the 17th. After Amarillo comes El Paso and the last is the Houston Show. Sixteen steers will be shown at Amarillo by the Donley County 4-H Club. Breedlove will start shearing and getting the steers in show shape again next Tuesday.

Many people ask Troy what he intended to do with his money for his champion steers and his answer is that he is going to College. He plans to feed for two more years and attend Clarendon Junior College and then take his money and go to a major college and take Animal Husbandry.

Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Whitlock of Amarillo visited in the G. W. Estlack and Frank Whitlock homes Monday evening.

First Snow of 1958 Nets .58 Inch Moisture

Residents of this area didn't have to wait very long for the first snow of 1958 as big fluffy flakes started drifting down about dusk January 4th and fell intermittently throughout the night and part of Sunday. It was one of the most beautiful snows in recent years as there was no wind and the snow stacked wherever it fell. The snow measured from 4 1/2 to 7 inches in this immediate area with a much heavier fall down on the south plains and southeastern New Mexico. It was wet also as .58 inch of moisture was melted out of the snow.

The moisture was most welcome at this time as practically all crops are out and wheat and other winter pasture was beginning to need the moisture. At any rate this .58 inch of moisture is a good start for the new year and will help maintain the good submoisture we already have.

G. A. ANDERSON ANNOUNCES FOR RE-ELECTION JUSTICE OF THE PEACE

The word "appreciation" is commonly used to express gratitude, for favors granted by friends, but in announcing my candidacy for another term for the office of "Justice of Peace" in precinct No. 2, I do not find a word that expresses the deep feeling I have for my friends who have supported me in the past.

In the above mentioned spirit, I ask for your continued support. I not only ask in this manner, but I will try to express, in person, my interest in your support and influence.

Respectfully, G. A. Anderson

Superintendent of Schools W. W. Pinkerton left Clarendon Wednesday for Austin where he will attend the annual Mid-Winter Conference on Education which begins on Thursday morning and continues through Friday afternoon.

Cotton Harvest Near Completion

In checking with the various gins in the county, we were able to learn that the cotton harvest is near completion with an unofficial total of 9,000 bales ginned to date at the two gins here, one at Lelia Lake and two at Hedley. This figure does not include cotton grown in the county that was carried to Collingsworth, Hall or Gray county to be ginned. With the remaining cotton to be gathered and ginned and that which was ginned elsewhere, our grand total should go well above the 10,000 mark for the 1957 crop.

Mayor Warns Dog Poisoner

It has been called to our attention that someone is poisoning dogs in our city and to date thirteen have been poisoned in the current spree. We feel sure that whoever is doing this has not thought the thing through. There is a state law against destroying people's property and also there is great danger of some small child picking up some of the poisoned bait and putting it in its mouth and thereby causing its death. Surely no one would want to poison a small child. Anyone found guilty of this deed will certainly be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law.

The Donley County Show Barn is a scene of busy activity this week as over sixty members of the Clarendon Future Farmer Chapter are busy clipping, weighing, and training their barrows to ready them for the County Show to be held there on January 17th. The local youths expect to exhibit approximately 250 barrows and the Hedley and Lelia Lake Chapters will exhibit over 50 head making a total of over 300 head of barrows that will be paraded before Judge L. M. Hargrave of Texas Tech. Hargrave will also judge the Amarillo Show on Tuesday, January 21st.

Approximately 25 lambs will also be exhibited by the Clarendon and Hedley Future Farmers. Classes will be placed for fine wool and mutton lambs.

Light and heavyweight barrows in the Berkshire, Chester white, duroc, Hampshire, Poland China, Spotted Poland China, and Yorkshire breeds of swine will be shown. Adviser J. R. Gillham of the Clarendon Chapter stated that he believed the group of swine to be exhibited by the local group would be the best that had ever been shown by students under his direction.

The Clarendon Chapter purchased materials and has been busy this week building panels in order to be able to pen and show their swine as no facilities for caring for the hogs were available at the show barn except a limited number of metal panels that were built two years ago by the chapter from materials purchased by adviser Gillham.

This will be the first newsletter of the New Year. I wish it were possible for me to correctly predict everything that would happen during the next 12 months and that all of my predictions could be good news for the good fortune of each and every one of you. However, God in His infinite wisdom denied man the power to see into the future, and although we constantly worry about what the future will bring, I am sure that none of us would change the pattern if we had the power. Our best estimates of what the future holds must come from the past. Looking backward only a few short years, we awaken to the fact that yesterday's miracles are today's commonplace. What appeared to be insurmountable obstacles only a few years back developed into nothing more than challenges to the ingenuity of man. Challenges that served to spur on rather than retard. Challenges that have resulted in tremendous achievements and unheard of advances in our civilization. I daresay that anyone in 1858 who was foolhardy enough to predict automobiles, aircraft, radio, television, frozen foods and countless other benefits that we enjoy in 1958, would have been tried for practicing witchcraft and undoubtedly flogged in the public square. Yet, 1958 is the year that will probably produce the first trip of man into outer space. It will probably be the year in which the door of the universe is opened slightly, and vast new fields of opportunity made available to the inhabitants of the earth.

With these new fields of opportunity and these new achievements, there will be many new complex problems. Problems in law, in medicine, in government activities in engineering, in industry, in business and in every segment of our economy. They will be difficult problems that will challenge the souls of men, but they will not be impossible of solution. They must be taken one at a time and properly solved to the best interest of this country and our people. Their solution must not require the sacrifice of individual human dignity nor the basic freedoms upon which our government was founded.

1958 holds one of the greatest challenges ever faced by man. Can we solve these problems and maintain and preserve our basic freedoms and human dignity without war? If history writes an affirmative answer to this question, our generation can say that it has met a part of its responsibility to the future.

THE SUPREME COURT

Among the many things that will be attacked in the new session of Congress will be the question, "What to do with the unlimited power of the Supreme Court?" Although there are many suggested answers that range all the way from "abolishing the Supreme Court" to "acknowledging the unlimited power of the Court and underwrite it by statute". You can readily see that neither of these extremes would serve our best interests. The true answer lies in the spelling out of the intention of the framers of the Constitution, so that the Judicial shall not have the right or the power to override the intent of the Congress. The three divisions of our government, to wit, the Legislature, the Executive and the Judicial were unquestionably intended as balances, one against the other. Yet, speaking from a frank and realistic standpoint, the Supreme Court is presently vested with powers, based upon precedent, that actually could constitute it a dictatorial tribunal from which there is no appeal. Some of these powers have been exercised in recent years, and it is this exercise of power that is causing great alarm in many phases of our economy.

The Indianapolis Star has recently published a booklet containing editorials that were published in that newspaper in the fall of 1957. Mr. Eugene C. Pulliam, publisher of that newspaper, states that the editorials were written after a long and careful study of recent Court decisions and of the historical relationships between the Supreme Court, the Congress and the Presidency. He refers to the issue as the most critical Constitutional issue of our times. The editorials contain information indicating excellent research on the part of the writer. They contain excellent criticisms of the usurpation of power by the Court, but fail to come forth with any concrete suggestions for a permanent solution.

One of these editorials contains the following statement: "No Federal Court has any legal authority whatsoever to rule out or alter a law passed by Congress unless the law violates the Constitution". This statement is true, but grossly misleading. The truth is that the Supreme Court now has and frequently exercises the final power to determine whether or not the law violates the Constitution. The key to the problem therefore lies in the limitation of that power. There is a serious question whether this can be done effectively by a statute passed by the Congress. Simply because if such a statute were passed, the Supreme Court would have the power to declare it unconstitutional and of no force and effect. Therefore, it may be necessary for the several states constituting this Union to amend the Federal Constitution in that regard.

It is my intention during the early days of the coming session of Congress to introduce legislation designed to limiting that power of the Supreme Court. This I propose to do by making provision that the declaration by the Supreme Court of the unconstitutionality of any public law passed by the Congress may be overridden by the Congress in the same manner as Presidential vetoes of laws passed by the Congress are overridden. It is my feeling that such procedure will provide a true voice of the people and slow down the trend toward concentration of power in Washington.

It is my further intention to present this matter not only as a proposed bill that could become a statute if passed by the Congress and signed by the President, but also as a Constitutional Amendment.

Immediately following the ceremony the bridal party was honored at a reception. The refreshment table was laid with a white lace cloth and a floral arrangement of aqua and white carnations. Miss Pat Spurgeon served the wedding cake, a double wedding bell centered with a miniature bride and groom and decorated to carry out the aqua and pink motif. Miss Margaret Cushing dispensed punch from the crystal service.

For the trip to Dallas, the bride traveled in an aqua knit suit accented by white accessories and the orchid from her wedding bouquet.

Mrs. Hicks is a graduate of Clarendon High School and is employed by the General Telephone Company. Mr. Hicks is also a graduate of Clarendon High School and is attending Clarendon Junior College while working for the State Highway Construction. The couple are at home in Clarendon.

THE LIONS DEN or The Roar of the Lions

By the Liontamer

The Clarendon Lions Club in its regular luncheon meeting Tuesday January 7, enjoyed the showing of a picture on the Miracle of Plant Food. Our thanks to Jay Gould for bringing the picture to us as a part of our program.

A very noticeable element of the meeting was the enthusiasm and vigor with which the officers and members entered into the meeting as a beginning of the new year. Meeting was opened with some very spirited singing and squarely on time. Needless to say the punctual opening of the meeting made it possible for the taitwister to enrich the kitty from the fines for late arrivals. Too, the taitwister is doing a wonderful job of taxing those few who waive their attendance during the regularly scheduled programs.

The Club was happy to entertain two guests at the Tuesday luncheon, guest of Juniors Food Market, James Moore representing Proctor and Gamble, and guest of Bill Todd, Floyd Weatherall of Amarillo.

With the club spirit at such a high pitch today we anticipate the early beginning of beneficial civic projects being initiated as soon as the January meeting of the Board of Directors is held.

C. B. Stephenson Jr. of Houston, enroute to California, stopped here for a short visit with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Crockett Taylor. C. B. will receive his degree in political science in June from Stanford University.

22 Purebred Breeding Animals As Prizes To Be Awarded 4-H And FFA Members At Fort Worth Fat Stock Show

FORT WORTH — American Cyanamid Company has announced that it will award 22 purebred breeding animals as prizes to 4-H Club and Future Farmers of America members exhibiting livestock at the 62nd Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show.

The show will run Jan. 24 thru Feb. 2nd in Fort Worth.

The animals will be presented to boys and girls showing the best animals in various cattle, swine and sheep classes in the junior division, reported I. O. Sturkie of Dallas, regional manager of Cyanamid's farm and home division. Prizes also will go to certified 4-H and FFA members from any state exhibiting in the open breeding sheep and swine show.

According to rules of the Fort Worth show, the junior division is open only to FFA and 4-H Club members from Texas. Certified 4-H and 4-H Club boys from any state may show in the open division and compete for the Cyanamid awards.

Sturkie said a purebred heifer will be given to the 4-H or FFA boy exhibiting the champion heifer in the three divisions, Aberdeen-Angus, Shorthorn and Hereford, in the junior breeding beef heifer show.

Six registered breeding ewes will be awarded to club members who place first in various classes of the junior and open sheep breeding show.

A total of 13 registered bred gilts will go to eligible FFA and 4-H Club boys whose animals are tops in the junior pig and open swine show.

Deadline for livestock entries in the Fort Worth show is Dec. 15.

"The FFA, with its guidance program for young men on their own farm, and the 4-H Club, with its wide variety of livestock projects, are doing much to develop farm boys and girls into future farm leaders," said Mr. Sturkie.

The boys defeated Lelia Lake 41 to 20 in their first game and lost their second game to Wellington by a score of 55 to 45.

In the girls games, Joan Bennett was high scorer in both games, making 28 points in the Mangum game and 15 in the Shamrock game. Virginia Taylor made 11 points in the Shamrock game. Winterizing The Home Will Cut Fuel Bills

College Station — With winter weather already here and more just around the corner, many homeowners are making plans to winterize their homes for increased winter comfort and economy.

A good place to start this job is with the doors and windows, advises W. S. Allen, extension agricultural engineer. Many windows and doors fit loosely but can be tightened easily with weather stripping.

Storm sashes can be very helpful in reducing heat loss from the house. In northern areas, addition of storm windows, doors and weather stripping can reduce the fuel bill considerably, tests have shown.

Proper insulation in the unheated attic will also cut fuel bills, says Allen. Place the insulation between the attic floor joists. This helps reduce heat loss from the rooms below. With this insulation there should be ventilation in the attic, which means vents should be placed in the gable ends of the house, under the eaves or installed in the roof. There should be about four square feet of clear openings for each 1000 square feet of attic floor, suggests the engineer.

Storm doors, storm windows and attic insulation not only cut heat loss and save fuel but they also reduce drafts, according to Allen. This means a more uniform heating system throughout the house. Next summer the insulation in the attic will help keep the house cooler, too.

TAX-MAN SAM SEZ:
 Most folks don't worry about how much income tax they owe until it's too late to do something about it. Cash basis farmers, businessmen, and even individuals can affect the amount of tax they pay during the year on a small scale the same as a lot of big corporations do. The corporations simply plan their business to make a sale during this year or next, or on the other hand, to incur an expense for this tax year or the next. Since most taxpayers are on a cash basis, it may not cost you very much to pay the preacher a lot more for the rest of the year than you ordinarily would if you have a lot of income or are going to itemize your tax deductions for the year. On the other hand, you may want to wait until January 1 and just give the preacher enough to get by on until next year since you can better

Is There A Single Biggest Cause For Juvenile Delinquency?

(Ed. Note: This is the third of a series of articles on the state's growing problem of juvenile delinquency by one of Texas' foremost authorities on the subject, District Judge Sara T. Hughes of Dallas, who has handled more than 25,000 juvenile and family relations cases, along with an even greater number of other civil cases in 22 years on the bench. "Family law is probably the most important phase of the law," says this internationally known jurist, whose work has been honored in Europe and Asia as well as the United States, and whose name was put in nomination for the vice presidency of the United States in 1952. A discussion of a different aspect of the problem will appear every other week.)
Plain to see is the fact that our increasing juvenile delinquency has many different and complex causes. There is no single factor which brings it about, and therefore no single cure.
But is there, perhaps, any one factor which is bigger than any other of its many causes? I think there is.
WE ALL NEED IT

Every person, adult or child, needs—most of all—a sense of his own significance, his own individuality. A grown person wants to be recognized in his home, his church, or his club, or he loses interest. A husband who comes home and tells his wife about a good business deal he has made wants her to listen and be interested. A wife who cooks a special treat is disappointed if she isn't complimented.
It is even more important for boys and girls to have a sense of their own significance. Failing to get it starts many upon the road to delinquency, running with gangs, committing acts of vandalism so as to be considered "smart"—to be recognized by someone. A few may even get that sense of importance through robbery, rape, murder.

NO RECOGNITION
I have had many cases in the Juvenile Court where I thought the principal reason for the boy or girl being there was that he or she had been given no recognition as an individual, no feeling of significance.
One of my vandalism cases involved a stepfather who gave all his attention to his own children, while the mother loved her husband more than her son by her previous marriage. This made him feel left out, and he satisfied his need for recognition by joining a gang of boys in destruction of property.

FELT HUMILIATED
Another boy, living with his father and stepmother, was required to clean house, wash dishes, and dress his younger sisters. If his mother had been tired from working all day he would not have minded being called on to help, but for a boy of 14 to be constantly required to do what he considered "girls' work" made him feel very insignificant in the eyes of his friends. So he began to stay out late at night, breaking into empty box cars and vacant buildings and taking what didn't belong to him.
A third little fellow of 11, with superior intelligence, had the hobnobbing instinct and frequently ran away from home. He landed in jail in various Texas towns, but being confined didn't bother him, because he could brag to his friends about having been in jail.

SOMETHING TO BE PROUD OF
Then his mother tied him to the bed for nine days, but that didn't faze him either—he could brag about that.
Finally, his mother prayed over him, and that would have been all right if she hadn't prayed out loud that "the devil be taken out of Charles." That pleased him very much because he didn't know of any other boy who had the devil in him.

SCIENCE IN YOUR LIFE

Burping A Cow

As many farmers and all ranchers are painfully aware, ruminants—animals which chew a cud—are subject to a serious digestive upset called "bloat." This blunty-named disorder arises when an accumulation of gases in the rumen (the "storage stomach") creates a frothy mass of bubbles in this organ, distending it and sometimes killing the animal.
Apparently these gas bubbles are produced by bacterial action. But whatever their origin, they must be eliminated if the disorder is to be cured.

Burping a cow, however, is not as easy as burping a baby. Until recently, farmers did it mechanically—which sometimes required heroic measures, some of them as dangerous to the animal as the bloat itself.
Modern veterinary medicine has now evolved two different but effective approaches for the control of bloat. One of these is the administration of the broad-range antibiotic Terramycin to destroy the bacteria generating the gas. This treatment has the advantage of halting the bloating process at its source.

Once the frothy mass has formed, however, the gas must be released. A derivative of a citrus fruit acid called Bio-Trol is used for this purpose. It goes to work within three to six minutes, and after twenty minutes the afflicted animal is completely "bubbled." Since it is derived from a substance common in foodstuffs, it is completely digestible.

I'll always remember how Charles fairly beamed in court when the officer said that he had stolen 25 bicycles. He was quite sure that this was a feat no other little boy of 11 had accomplished.
"BELOGING"
The principal factor bringing all three of these boys to court was a failure in the home to make them feel that they, as individuals, had any significance. There is always something to compliment a child for—to make him feel important and wanted. There is always the chance to LISTEN with interest and affection to what he has to say, always the chance to make him feel that he "belongs," to make him feel appreciated for himself.

The story is told of the prisoner who escaped and was found by police standing in front of a poster with his picture on it. When he was asked by the officer why he was standing where he could be so readily identified, he said, "Oh, it's so wonderful to be wanted by somebody!"

"TO KNOW THAT I MATTER"

That is what these youngsters need—to be wanted by somebody, to be recognized as individuals, to be important to their friends and parents.
A young boy, recently asked what he thought could be done to stop juvenile delinquency, said, "People give many answers to that—larger playgrounds, stricter law enforcement, more scout troops, but I say what we need MOST is someone to really believe in us."
The recognition children need, their sense of belonging, comes chiefly from parents who love them; and that love which is necessary for children to grow into worthwhile citizens will be discussed in my next article.

A man has tact who won't change his mind but will change the subject.

PRE-MEASUREMENT OF COTTON

Applications may be made now for pre-measuring your cotton covering 1958 cotton allotment. The rate will be $10.00 per farm plus $4.00 for each plot over one. The closing date for this service will be April 1, 1958.

Farm operators who desire pre-measurements shall file with the County Committee a written request and pay into the office the amounts as stated above. It shall also be the responsibility of the farm operator to provide assistance to the reporter in the measurement of the acreage for which pre-measurement is requested. Also to furnish necessary stakes to identify the pre-measured area.

ALLOCATION OF FUNDS FOR EMERGENCY CONSERVATION PRACTICES

Information is received that Donley County has an allotment of $15,000.00 to be used for emergency conservation measures to rehabilitate damaged farm lands by 1957 floods. It will be noted that the above allocation of funds is for repair of flood damage only, and will not be or can not be used for wind erosion control.

SEEDING RYE FOR CONTROL OF WIND EROSION

We are glad to report that a great number of our producers have taken advantage of the rye seeding practice under Agricultural Conservation Practices, and to date quite a large acreage is planted to this crop in the County. One of the provisions with reference to complying with requirements relative to this practice was non-grazing of this crop prior to February 1, 1958. Grazing after February 1, will be permitted provided a good cover is maintained on the land through the blow season.

Bulldogs Win One, Lose Two On Kansas Basketball Trip

Coach Buddy Travis took his Clarendon Junior College Bulldogs to Kansas last week for three games and won one game while dropping two. The Bulldogs defeated Garden City on Saturday night 71 to 70. They lost to Dodge City 71 to 69 in an overtime on Thursday night, and lost to Pratt 73 to 67 on Friday night.

In the Dodge City game, Steve Jarnigan led the scorers with 23 points. Bub Eldridge and Dennis Love made 11 each. Loyd Stephens and Layne Cushenberry made 8 each and Bill Schneider and Don Johnson made 4 each. The Bulldogs were trailing 26 to 23 at the half and had dropped behind 50 to 37 with nine minutes remaining. They put on a spirited rally and caught the home team 63-63 at the end of the regulation game. The 5-minute overtime saw Dodge City score a field goal with 8 seconds remaining to win the game.

The Pratt game was close all the way with the Bulldogs falling behind in the last three minutes of the game. Pratt led 49 to 46 at the half. Stephens paced the scorers with 18 points followed by Jarnigan with 14, Love 12, Schneider 10, Johnson 6, Eldridge 5 and Cushenberry 2.

In Saturday night's game with Garden City, the tired Bulldogs managed to win their only game of the trip. The Bulldogs were trailing 34 to 33 at the half, but rallied in the second half and led most of the way. Jarnigan again paced the point-makers with 20, Schneider had 14, Johnson 11, Stephens 10, Cushenberry 7, Eldridge 5, Love and Lesley 2 each.

Coach Travis was well pleased with the way the boys played during this trip. Those Kansas teams are plenty hard to beat at home and the coach felt that they did well to win one of the three and play the others close.

More Cottonseed Than Last Year

AUSTIN—Texas cotton growers have some 183,000 tons more cottonseed to sell this year than they did in 1956. University of Texas Cotton Economic Research scientists report.

The report, based on October crop conditions, predicted the increase for the 1957-58 season would remain steady, "if conditions for the rest of the season" remain unchanged.

Seed available for sale in the High Plains country will be about 74,000 tons greater than in 1956-57. A 94,000-ton increase was noted in the Rolling Plains; a 44,000-ton rise in the Blacklands; a 4,000-ton increase in East Texas; 5,000 more tons in the Gulf Coast and Interior Coastal Plains, and 3,000 more tons in the El Paso and Pecos country.

Only decrease in cottonseed for sale is predicted for the Lower Rio Grande Valley and adjacent areas. This section's cottonseed production will be about 51,000 tons less than in the 1956-57 season.

Goldfish originated in China.

Alaska is more than twice the size of Texas.

PLOWIN' Out the CORNERS

by Uncle Zeb

Several years ago we started to try and drum up some interest for a move to get Congress to set up one more Department in Washington. This one which we wanted was to be known as the Department of Truth. Our idea was to have an impartial board to which we could go and find out just what the score was on any issue without first having to peel away the political sugar coating from everything.

Anyhow, we got several comments from our readers and from other columns over the Panhandle; mostly we were discouraged from the idea by the advice we received. Quite a few agreed that in principle it was a good thought but that the Department could not help but bear the same flavor as the party that appointed it. Maybe so. But we had in mind a sort-of test tube laboratory run by some of our best brains which could have access to all the files and could come up with the proof of the pudding on any issue.

One thing for sure we are still just as Kon-fused as to What Is Truth as St. Peter ever dared to be. What, with the wrong Sputniks sputtering, and knowing all about football failing to make scientists out of our youth, we just don't know what to believe. So, we are renewing our plea for a Department of Truth. How about it some of you fire-eating columnists? Can you help me out?

Speaking of The Truth; Dr. E. S. James says that "The Bible gives us one ground for divorce, but I know of no occasion given for getting drunk." This sounds like the truth to me.

"No man stands so straight as when he stoops to help some one else."

It is said that; "No one is too old to learn." Someone said this could very well be the reason most of us keep putting it off."

"The taste of salt can really be improved by sprinkling it on top of a good juicy steak."

Pretty often someone says; "This is free advice and you can take it for what it's worth." Most things that are free are not worth very much. But, free advice if it is the wrong kind can be pretty expensive if we take it.

In our opinion one of the best boosters for the keeping alive of rural neighborhoods is Reagan Brown of the Texas Extension Service. If you listen to him for five minutes you will be wanting to go back again to an old time get together in the little school house on the hill. To all of us that little red school house does hold some pretty fond memories.

Anyway, to quote from Neighborhood Notes, a little mimeographed paper which our friend Reagan puts out we find the following: "No one can make a place for yourself." You are right, my friend, and why don't you come by to visit with us?

GABIE BETTS BURTON LIBRARY NOTES

By May L. Prewitt

There has been a miscellaneous collection of books given us recently, and we are quite grateful for them.

Some one gave us a copy of "Pioneer Days In the Southwest" of which we are very happy as our copy had become impossible to keep together. This was published in 1909, and contributed material by Charles Goodnight, Emmanuel Dubbs, and John A. Hart and others.

"Bugles & Tiger" by John Masters is a 1956 edition. It is a story of an English school boy and his career as a professional soldier in the Indian army. "The objectivity and honesty of the writing clarify the book's importance as a permanent contribution to our understanding of some of the people and events that have made our world what it is." The book by John Masters we announced for 1957 is "Far, Far The Mountain Peak."

The Book Club book received this month is "A Family Affair" by Roger Eddy. It is a novel that "is about a marriage, a business, and a way of life." The Library received a Christmas Greeting of three novels: Alice Ross Colver's "There Is A Season," Phyllis A. Whitney's "The Trembling Hills", and Anne Miller Downe's "Speak To Me, Brother." Each of these is a delightful romance that you readers will enjoy thoroughly. The Library is elated to receive so much enjoyable material as was given us this Christmas. Another copy of "The Believers" by Janice Holt Giles was given us, too.

Rocket Power & Space Flight by G. Harry Stine is a third book of the memorial list for Edward McDaniel. Those interested in this modern science will appreciate this book.

A book in memory of James Patman is "The Rawhide Tree" which is illustrated by our artist Harold Bugbee, and written by Terry and Wilson. This book was recently announced in the Cattleman. There are several photographic plates of Florence M. Reynolds and horses. This is a book that will be thoroughly appreciated by our readers.

DONLEY COUNTY SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

Windbreaks around farmsteads and homes have been used many years by farmers and ranchers of the Donley County Soil Conservation District. The use of windbreaks have been an important factor in the control of blowing dust around the farm home. Windbreaks will also make a farm home look more comfortable, convenient, and in general, more attractive.

Good stands of shrubs and trees on the south, west, and north sides of the home will help to control the effects of wind erosion. Windbreaks are particularly needed to protect farm homes that are surrounded by cropland. This is especially true since most of our soils in the District will blow if left bare during the blowing season.

Cooperators who wish to plan and plant windbreaks are invited to contact technicians of the Soil Conservation Service for additional information.

January Proclaimed As March of Dimes Month

AUSTIN — Gov. Price Daniel has proclaimed January, 1958, as "March of Dimes Month" in tribute to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis and its 20 years of service to Texas and the nation.

Praising the Foundation's continuing effort to restore to useful living the thousands of polio handicapped, Gov. Daniel urged the support of all Texans for the annual March of Dimes, Jan. 2 through Jan. 31.

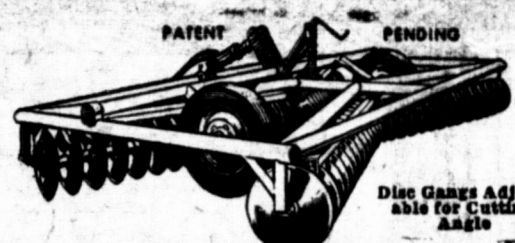

Gov. Daniel's proclamation text: "The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis has reached its twentieth anniversary of service to Texas and the Nation.

"In January, 1958, this organization will again sponsor the March of Dimes to provide the means by which polio patients may avail themselves of the newest medical treatment and rehabilitation techniques, and also provide for continuation of scientific research and the training of urgently needed medical workers. "Survival is Not Enough" is the slogan for the 1958 March of Dimes campaign, meaning that the many thousands of cruelly handicapped polio victims alive today must still be restored to a useful and productive life.

"THEREFORE, I, as Governor of Texas, do hereby designate the month of January, 1958, as MARCH OF DIMES MONTH in Texas, and urge every Texan to share in this worthy campaign."

Highlights and Sidelights FROM Your State CAPITOL

By VERN SANFORD Texas Press Association

AUSTIN — Gov. Price Daniel took a look backward and a look forward and focused on two issues as crucial to Texans: water conservation (1957) and tidelands defense (1958).

Daniel named the newly-passed water conservation and planning measures as the most significant accomplishment during the first year of his administration. Texas is 25 years behind its neighbor states in this field, said the governor, but now can "begin to catch up."

Looking ahead, the governor called on fellow citizens to square off for another round with the federal government. Two-thirds of Texas' multi-million-dollar tidelands are at stake. Latest suit in the decade-long struggle was filed recently by the U. S. attorney general and likely will be considered in the Supreme Court sometime this year. It contends that Texas owns land three miles from shore, rather than three leagues (10 1/2 miles) claimed by the state.

Daniel said he would cooperate with Texas Attorney General Will Wilson in every way in preparing the state's defense. As attorney general and U. S. senator, Daniel has twice before, in court and Congress, led Texas' fight for its oil-rich tidelands.

HART TO HELP

Former Supreme Court Justice James P. Hart of Austin will serve the Attorney General's Department as special counsel in preparation of Texas' defense against the tidelands suit.

Wilson said he'll give all his time during the next two months to the case. He also announced that his assistants, James N. Ludlum and James H. Rogers, and Austin attorney Chrys Dougherty will work on the case.

RUDDER RESIGNS Land Commissioner Earl Rudder will leave the Capital City Feb. 1 to become vice president of his alma mater, Texas A&M.

He will be succeeded by Bill Allcorn, fraud-fighting district attorney of Brown County (Brownwood.) Rudder was appointed land commissioner by Gov. Allan Shivers, early in 1955, to replace Bascom Giles. In resigning, Rudder said he felt "in all sincerity" he had accomplished his "mission to restore the land office to a place of confidence and respect."

Allcorn, while district attorney, secured the conviction of Mario (El Turko) Sapet for a murder arising from South Texas' political troubles. He also served as a special assistant to the attorney general in ferreting out veterans land swindlers.

After naming Allcorn, Gov. Daniel also announced appointment of David J. Morris of Brownwood to be Brown County DA.

BIG TURNOVER Besides those above, some 85 other Texans will have new jobs in the new year.
