Large Number Attends Open House Sunday of Adair Hospital

Adair Hospital was officially opened Sunday, October 14th, with an open house to which a crowd of around 1,000 interested persons came to inspect the modern hospital plant that will serve their medical needs.

Interest in the hospital was shown by citizens from all over the Panhandle. Guests at the open house were from Brice, Lesley, Memphis, Hedley, Lelia Lake, Goodnight, Claude, Groom, Amarillo, Pampa, Dumas, and Clarendon. Part of Cotton John's Sunday TV program was devoted to the Adair Hospital, the staff, and board of directors.

Guests were introduced to the hospital staff as they entered the main foyer. Members of the hospital board introduced guests to the staff. Board members were Carl Almond, Frank White, Jr., Walter Taylor, Odos Caraway, J. T. Patman, and Lee Bell. Mrs. J. R. Porter took her husband's place in the receiving line. Judge Porter is chairman of the board. Staff members and their wives were Dr. and Mrs. George Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Richardson, Miss Nancy Henry, and Mrs. Troy Broome.

After signing a guest register, presided over by Miss Sharon Smith and Miss Janice Smith, guests were conducted through the hospital by Mrs. Jean Hester and Mrs. Roy Beverly, nurses; Kirk Doshier, office manager; Kirk Doshier, maintenance superintendent; Mrs. Kirk Doshier, dietitian; other employees helping were Billy Ray Johnston and Melba Langley.

The hospital was decorated throughout with beautiful cut flowers from local business firms and from clubwomen of the town. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Phelan, Jr. served Cokes to all the guests.

Facilities at the hospital include a fully equipped operating room, sterilizing, delivery, examining and emergency operating rooms. All of these rooms are on the east wing of the hospital.

In the center section south of the reception office is the laboratory and technician headquarters, nurses quarters, baths, doctors lounge, dining room and kitchen.

The west wing is devoted to the maternity ward, nursery, nurses station, and individual patient rooms. In this section are half baths, one bath with tub and shower, and one with shower. Each room is air conditioned.

Floors are covered with a vinyl tile and each room is painted a pastel shade. Venetian blinds cover the extra large windows which are in every room.

Grounds of the hospital have been well cared for and a large new parking area has been built at the east of the building. Roads surrounding the grounds have been topped with gravel.

Citizens of this county now have access to a hospital which equals any in this area. It is better equipped than any between Amarillo and Wichita Falls.

Persons contributing to the hospital remodeling fund include D. I. Barnett, Amarillo; Kelly Chamberlain, F. E. Chamberlain, Jr., Walter B. Knorr, Bob Moss, Bill Todd, J. G. McAnear, William Lewis Jr., W. J. Lewis Sr., Frank Thomas, Mrs. J. W. Murphy, Mrs. Louise Payne, Marjorie Harlan, J. L. McMurtry, Mrs. Mae Shaver, Mrs. C. T. McMurtry, W. W. Taylor, F. Phelan Sr., and Pete Kunz.

Organizations contributing included the Donley County State Bank, Dr. Walter Purviance and M. K. Brown, trustees of the Gray-Pampa Foundation Inc., West Texas Utilities Co., Memphis Coca-Cola Bottling Co., Shoe Nail Cattle Co. and the Farmers State Bank.

Mr and Mrs. Charles L. Hamrick announce the arrival of a daughter, Charlotte Matilda, Oct. 14th at Stewart Clinic. She weighed 8 lbs. and 12 oz. The grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Hamrick of Clarendon and Rev. T. S. Howell of Cutler, Calif.

Emergency Feed Grain Program Extended

Walter T. McKay, State Director, Farmers Home Administration advised James D. Gouldy, County Supervisor of the extension of the Emergency Feed Grain Program in Donley County. Under this extension, farmers and ranchers may now file applications through December 31, 1956 for a supply of feed grain necessary to carry basic livestock herds through December 31, 1956. This extension of the Emergency Feed Grain program now coincides with the assistance available under the Roughage Program for Texas, and enables county FFA committees to consider total feed requirements, both roughage and grain, through December 31, 1956.

Talley And Allee Show Champions At Fall Lamb And Pig Show

Carl Talley exhibited the grand champion barrow and Douglas Allee showed the grand champion lamb at the 1956 Donley County Fall Pig and Lamb Show at Clarendon last Saturday. Judge Clodus R. Smith, Panhandle Vocational Agriculture teacher, stated that the show was the best county show he had ever seen. 114 barrows and 9 lambs were exhibited by over sixty F.F.A. members from Clarendon, Lelia Lake and Hedley.

Jimmy Phillely showed his 1st place lightweight Poland China to the reserve championship in the pig show and Pat Roberson exhibited the reserve champion of the lamb show. Talley's heavy-weight Poland China that was grand champion had previously been 1st place heavyweight at the Tri-State Fair and at the State Barrow Show. Milton Mann exhibited the champion Berkshire, Sammy Wells exhibited the champion duroc, Bobby Longan exhibited the champion chester white, Gene Elmore exhibited the champion yorkshire, and Longan and Bradshaw exhibited the top Hampshire barrows.

Wells had the top pen of three barrows over all breeds; Talley was second, Bill Durham third, James Mahaffey fourth, and Wayne Aten fifth on pens of three. The top eighty-five barrows of the show and the nine lambs were trucked to Dallas Sunday to enter the junior show at the 1956 Texas State Fair.

Hedley Reports Very Successful Cotton Festival

She succeeded Miss Peggy Clay who has assisted with the advertising and planning of the current festival. An additional report of the festival may be found in the Hedley Items on page two of the Leader.

Greenbelt Municipal And Industrial Water Authority Meeting Set For Oct. 23rd

R. M. Dixon, member of the State Board of Water Engineers, will meet with those interested in creating the Greenbelt Municipal and Industrial Water Authority. The City Commission and City Attorney for each city will be the spokesmen for their communities at the meeting to be held in the District Court Room in the Childress County Courthouse on Tuesday, October 23rd at 7:30 P. M.

A member of the Fort Worth engineering firm of Fresse and Nichols, engineers to the authority, will accompany Dixon to the meeting. "While the public is invited to attend the meeting and learn of the progress in this important area wide water project, the floor will not be opened to general discussion because of the full agenda of business which must be taken care of by the various City Commissions at that time", Dr. S. H. Townsend, Authority president stated.

"We feel that this is an outstanding opportunity in our efforts to retain the water rights on the Salt Fork of the Red River", Townsend said. "Mr. Dixon will be able to carry back to the State Board of Water Engineers a first hand report on the interest of the various communities in this water area and the efforts being made to make the water available to the communities of this area", he concluded.

1957 Chevrolets Go On Display Friday

Fuel injection and a new triple-turbine automatic transmission will make their debut on the 1957 Chevrolets.

The 1957 Chevrolets go on display at Alderson Chevrolet, Friday, October 19. In addition to the trail-blazing RAMJET fuel injection and the new transmission, the latest models present a multitude of other styling and performance features that promise greater owner satisfaction than ever before.

In eye-appeal the 1957 Chevrolets differ strikingly from 1956 models. While two and one-half inches have been added to overall lengths, the horizontal sweep of new styling motif gives the impression that the car is even longer than its 200 inches. All bodies are lower, with a reduction of an inch and a half in height of the cowl and substantially increased windshield areas.

To power its 1957 line, Chevrolet will build one six and four new V8s ranging in output from 140-horsepower for the six to a sensational one-horsepower per cubic inch of displacement for the "Corvette V8." The Corvette engine develops 283-horsepower with the RAMJET fuel injection system.

JUDGE J. R. PORTER

Services Today For J. R. Porter

Judge J. R. Porter, 63, prominent lawyer and civic worker, passed away at his home here Tuesday evening following another heart attack. With his passing from this life, Clarendon and Donley County has lost one of its foremost citizens as Judge Porter was connected with many other persons in our community. He was always generous with his time, efforts and legal advice wherever or whenever anything concerning this community or this area was concerned.

Funeral services for Mr. Porter will be held at 4 p. m. this afternoon in the First Methodist Church with Rev. C. N. Ryan, pastor, officiating, assisted by Dr. E. D. Landreth of Amarillo and Dr. E. E. White of Childress. Interment will be in Citizens Cemetery with the Murphy Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Survivors include his wife Mrs. Carrie Porter of Clarendon; three daughters, Mrs. Helen Lowe, Clarendon; Mrs. Ann Stuckman, Pontiac, Michigan; Mrs. Jean Landreth, Dumas; one son, William M. Porter, Las Cruces, N. M.; five grandchildren, Porter Landreth, Jennie Landreth, Cindy Lowe, Will Lowe and Cathy Stuckman; two brothers, Earl Porter of Tulia, Conway Porter, Clovis, N. M., and one sister, Mrs. Vera Glenn, Silver City, N. M.

John Ralph Porter was born January 3, 1893 at Alvarado, Texas. He moved to the Panhandle with his parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. William A. Porter in a covered wagon in 1897 where the family settled on ranch land which is now Ceta Canyon.

Mr. Porter first went to public school at the age of 11 in Tulia. He came to Clarendon to finish high school and attended Clarendon College. He received his B.A. degree from Southwestern University in Georgetown and taught school in Plainview a few years. He volunteered for service in World War I and rose from rank of private to First Lt. Later in the reserves, he obtained the rank of Captain.

After the war he went to the University of Texas where he received his LL.B. degree in 1922. During the summer of 1921 he did graduate work at Northwestern University in Chicago.

Mr. Porter married Jennie Dale Powell, Nov. 16, 1923. Five children were born to this union, Annie Ree, Helen Frances, Jean Dale, Ralph Powell and William M. Ralph Powell died at 3 years in 1932 and Mrs. Porter died in 1950. He married Carrie Davis May 13, 1951.

The Bronchos have had it plenty rough the first part of the season, facing several strong non-conference foes but have a pretty fair record considering their opposition. The time has arrived though when a win will amount to more as the game Friday night with McLean will mark the first of their four conference games.

The Tigers are considered a weaker club this year but they always seem to come up with unknown qualities when they tangle with the Bronchos and Coach Jinks is looking forward to his squad overcoming this obstacle when the two teams get together Friday night. According to comparative scores, the Bronchos hold a slight edge over the Tigers; the same was true last year but remember what happened.

Sickness and injuries have hampered the Bronchos the past two weeks but the squad looks some better for this affair, stated Jinks. In releasing his possible starting line-up, he pointed out that illness or injuries could change the deal considerably by game time. Probable starters, beginning with left end are Baten, Hudson, Lefew, Richerson, Jitter Graham, Pittman, Donald Mills or Cosper at end. In the backfield will be Payne at quarter, Phillely left half, Vallance right half and Behrens full.

Remember game time is 7:30, and be sure to go along and give the Bronchos your support.

KICK-OFF PEP RALLY TONIGHT

The Clarendon High School Student Council is sponsoring a Kick-off Pep Rally tonight in preparation for the Bronchos first conference game with McLean Friday night.

The Rally will begin at the south end of main street at 7:30 tonight (Thursday). A parade and bonfire will follow. All Broncho fans are urged to come down and participate with the high school groups. This Rally is scheduled as the kick-off the Bronchos need to start them on the road to conference victory.

RELATIVE DIES SUDDENLY IN ILLINOIS FRIDAY

Relatives here were greatly shocked Friday upon receipt of a wire that Robert G. Corder of Waukegan, Ill. had died suddenly from a heart attack.

He was a cousin of Mrs. Edith Longan and Mrs. J. C. Estlack, and had visited here some years ago where he made a number of friends. He was a traveling salesman for years and was popular with all classes. Several here will recall his visit here some years ago.

HEDLEY NEWS

Mrs. Paul Duncan

Hedley's Fifth Cotton Festival was well attended. Old man weather was not so kind as on other festival days. The weather interfered but everyone had fun both old and young.

A good program with a lot of fine entertainment filled both days until 12 o'clock at night. The parade was a credit to a much larger town, even though the wind tore up some of the floats before reaching main street. Hedley people are happy over the festival and express thanks to our friends and neighbors out of who who attended and helped in any way to make it a success.

Out of town visitors for the Cotton Festival were Congressman Walter Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland Lowery and James of Texline, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Wall of Hereford; Messrs. and Messdames C. A. Wood, Joe Crawford, Joe Thomas, Ted Myers and Monte, Burt Ursery and son, Buford Adcock and children, Geo. Owens, Jiggs Land, Loyd Moreman, Joe Blake, H. Harrison, Buster Baker and children, all of Amarillo; Mrs. Adderney DeBose of Amarillo, Mrs. Day-ton Shelton of Amarillo, Mrs. Hershell Swinney and children of Perryton, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Thomas and children of Canyon, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Douvall of Lakeview; Mrs. Davenport of Lakeview; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Owens, John Forbis, Andy Rogers, Will Ehrle, all of Childress; Mrs. Emma Ayers, Mr. and Mrs. Pickering, Mr. and Mrs. Rasco Land and Jerry, all of Clarendon; Mr. and Mrs. Herman Harchelar of Meadows, Texas and many others your reporter was too busy to see.

An unusual get together. No one knew the other was attending the festival was the Land family of Zeb Land (deceased). Eleven of the twelve children were in Hedley Saturday—Rosco and Pete Land of Clarendon, Jiggs and Jack Land of Amarillo, Zeb Land Jr. of Pampa, Mrs. Clarence Cason of Wellington, Mrs. Bill Scates, Mrs. Elmore Bailey, Mrs. Terry Hill, all of Hedley; Misses Millie and Ellen Faye

A fine speech was made expressing her appreciation for a happy birthday and friends who helped to make it the "best birthday" she ever had.

See you next week.

GABIE BETTS BURTON LIBRARY NOTES

By May L. Prewitt

We recently received a book, "Toasts for All Occasions." The toasts are very brief, but the book may be helpful. An autumn issue of Readers' Digest Condensed Books has been received. This week we found several books at the old farm house of ours. Some Spanish, reference, Canterbury Tales, and various kinds of books. These have been made ready for use, but a stack of books of the month detective stories are not catalogued.

We received a gift book today. It is by Leonora Barret and is entitled "So Green the Spring Pastures." She was found dead in her rose garden very soon after the completion of the book in which love, humor and excitement abound, as well as memories gone by that will warm the heart of the true born Texan. Miss Barret's last and finest work is a splendid chapter in the history of the Lone Star State, and a stirring American novel. I am quite anxious to read the book.

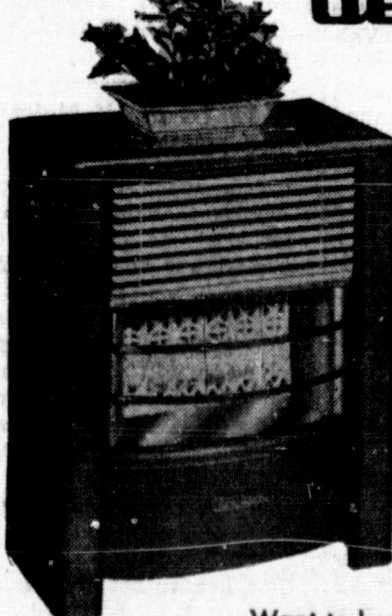

We have some excellent reading for you this winter. Although the colonies had only 6 frigates and 10 small vessels to oppose more than 600 fighting ships of the enemy in the War of 1812, history shows that America's victory depended on the Navy.

Texas Underground Water Grows Short

John C. White, Commissioner Texas Department of Agriculture

An underground desert is in the making in Texas which may eventually swallow such cities and towns as Amarillo, Dalhart, Plainview, Lubbock and Muleshoe.

These population centers are located atop a vast formation of moisture-laden sands from which water is being pumped at a faster rate than nature can replenish it. The situation was created by nature and aggravated by man.

These sands of the Ogallala formation depend partly upon rainfall and the water and snow sheds of the Colorado and New Mexico mountains to replenish the underground flow. For several years, snow in these sister states have been insufficient to feed the formation at a rate greater than water usage.

The sand strata is thick in some places, thin in others. In some sections of the Texas Panhandle, the saturated thickness of sand is 50 and 60 percent less than a short six years ago.

The boom in irrigation on the High Plains sparked the increase in water consumption. Municipal supplies account for only about 15 percent of water withdrawals. Records show that of all water pumped since 1938, over 60 percent of it was used since 1950, due mainly to an expansion in irrigated acreages.

Irrigation cannot be called the "culprit", in this case, however. Rather, it is merely the victim of a natural situation—drought. Weather conditions have failed to keep our water supply in balance during a period of great demand by the farmers.

The lowering water tables are a matter of concern in other sections of the state, also. Natural springs in Central and South Texas are at their lowest ebb or have ceased flowing altogether for the first time in the history of white settlements.

Comal Springs in the San Marcos-New Braunfels area ordinarily flows about 317 cubic feet of water per second. Early this summer, the spring went dry for the first time.

Barton Springs in Austin, a natural water source that fluctuates rapidly with rains, was producing only 12 cubic feet per second in late August. Its usual flow varies between a maximum of 180 cubic feet to a minimum of 5 1/2 cubic feet according to seasonal changes.

Primarily, Texas' greatest need is rain—in the state and on the watersheds of the Continental Divide. Secondly, the state needs comprehensive soil and water conservation measures which will keep the water in the vicinity in which it falls.

Surface tanks, small check dams and storage dams in the small streams and rivers, coupled with soil conservation work in the fields will help save our precious water, and aid in replenishing the underground supply.

The first Navy regulation covering sailors' clothes provided that in washing the deck, they were to be barefooted and their trousers rolled up. "This regulation is frequently quoted as the reason for sailors' bell-bottom trousers, i.e., they were made so the bottoms could be pulled over the knees.

During 1948 beneficial suggestions earned Navy civilian employees cash awards totaling $270,600.

Veterans News

Veterans separated from active service since September 4, 1956, will NOT have 120 days in which to apply for 5-year term non-convertible GI insurance; they will have ONLY until December 31, 1956.

Robert W. Sisson, manager of the Veterans Administration regional office at Lubbock, Texas, said the new application deadline was set by the recently enacted Servicemen's and Veterans' Survivor Benefits Act (Public Law 881, 84th Congress).

Before this law was enacted, Mr. Sisson said, eligible veterans had 120 days from separation in which to apply for the post-service five-year term nonconvertible policy.

The new law ends issuance of this insurance effective January 1, 1957 and thereby established December 31, 1956 as the deadline for application, even though less than 120 days have elapsed since separation, Mr. Sisson said.

Cotton And Other Crop Prospects

John C. White, Commissioner Texas Department of Agriculture

Texas' prospective cotton crop estimate has been whittled down by 140,000 bales since the United States Department of Agriculture's previous guess of August 1. The new prediction is for 3,460,000 bales this season.

Observers point out that dry weather in unirrigated sections has taken its toll and the production outlook is smaller than for any year since 1950, and is 2 percent below average. Acreage allotments are a big factor in the reduction.

TURKEY growers in Texas are raising an estimated 4,457,000 birds this year. This increase of 47 percent over the 1955 output has trade nervously wondering whether the market will absorb such an increase and still provide any kind of profit for the grower. The turkey crop is bigger than at any time since records were begun in 1934.

Over the United States as a whole, the number of turkeys is put at 76 million, or 16 percent above last year.

As a result of this increase and the unsettled condition of the market, the U.S.D.A. has inaugurated a turkey purchase program to prop up the anticipated sag in demand. Turkeys which the government buys will be distributed to non-profit school lunch and institutional programs.

PECANS, the fruit of our state tree, may amount to 26,800,000 pounds, according to the Crop Reporting Board. The estimators, remembering a bad miss in their guess of last year, cautiously add that the casebearer insect is busy on the crop and may reduce it somewhat. Drouth is also cited as a factor that may cut his figure down before harvest time.

BROOMCORN, a minor state crop but one of importance in South Texas, is estimated at a low of 2,500 tons this season. This is only 26 percent of the 9,500 tons of last year and 36 percent of the 10-year average.

A record-low crop of 25,800 tons is expected for the entire United States.

Production details for any of the above crops or other state production may be obtained by writing John C. White, Commissioner, Texas Department of Agriculture, Austin, Texas.

Do You Respect Child Pedestrian Safety?

"I'd like to give every parent and every automobile driver a chance to sit behind the steering wheel of a school bus for just one day. Believe me, they'd learn plenty about child pedestrian safety."

That observation was made today by E. C. McFadden of Dallas, Vice-President of Employers Casualty Company and President of the Texas Safety Association. He was discussing the child safety program which is being conducted in Texas this month by the Texas Safety Association, the Department of Public Safety in cooperation with the National Safety Council.

McFadden is pretty sure that driving a school bus would convince the adults of one thing—that the responsibility for the safety of children in traffic rests largely on the shoulders of grown ups.

"Sure, we have problem kids on the bus," he said. "But it's my opinion that the problem of most problem children is their parents."

He believes that the youngsters who get out of control on the school bus, or who disregard safety rules when getting on or off the bus, haven't been taught at home to respect others or to respect law and order.

So much for the adults who are an indirect cause of many child pedestrian accidents. He also had plenty to say about the adults who are a direct factor—the automobile drivers.

"Some of them are in such a hurry to get where they're going that they can't spare the time to stop while the school bus is loading or unloading," he said. "There are others who stop, but who don't make sure that all the children are safely across the street before they start up again. Drivers like these risk the lives of children just to save a few seconds time."

For these drivers and for those who don't slow down near schools and playgrounds or who don't keep a constant eye out for children in traffic, McFadden had this reminder:

"It's one of the responsibilities of an automobile driver to look out for kids in traffic. If you're not ready to accept this responsibility, you're not ready to drive a car."

Here's what put the magic in the new kind of FORD!

What put the magic in the new kind of FORD?

The new Ford Fairlane 500 (118-inch wheelbase). Longer, lower, larger than many medium-priced cars, yet lower in price than most of them!

The roof got lower. And it's designed to let you make the easy entries and graceful exits you've always known.

The body got quieter. It's the strongest body built for a low-priced car. No car in Ford's field has such generous sound-proofing.

The room got bigger. There's head room to spare for a tycoon-type hat. There's real stretch-out leg room, too.

The lines got sweeter. They have the Touch of Tomorrow. Each graceful contour says, "Let's go!"

The style got smarter. With this new-look Ford you have a car that belongs anywhere! All Fairlane models look like hardtops.

The value got greater... the price is still Ford-low.

PLOWIN' Out the CORNERS

The following sign appeared on a poster put out by a funeral home; "Why live and be miserable when you can be buried comfortably for only three hundred dollars?? This ad must have been written before inflation, but things are looking up again because only the other day we saw an ad from another like place and they were offering to put you away comfortably and let you pay for it in eighteen easy installments. This No Money Down business is getting out of hand.

"The editor won't believe it, I am sure, but we did hear about the following incident. A farmer was coming down the street carrying one of the new fangled soil bank checks, whistling like all get out. A neighbor asked him who he was going to vote for this November to which he replied; "Why, Adlai Stevenson of course. I voted for him last election and I have had good times every since."

No Comment, editor please. The happiest miser on earth would be the person who hoards friends. Every time that we see some person sort of deserted and alone and without friends or even relatives we pledge ourselves anew to try and take better care of our friends. In our opinion one of the most enviable talents in the world is that of being able to make friends easily, and even more coveted than that would be that of keeping our friends to the end.

Several have asked why we didn't use more jokes in our column. The main reason is; It's tough to find for love or money. A joke that's clean and also funny.

But we really do enjoy a good clean joke. If you have one please loan it to us.

One of our good friends likes the following poem, and for that matter so do we.

I KNOW SOMETHING GOOD ABOUT YOU

Wouldn't this old world be better, If the folks we meet would say; I know something good about you, And then treat us just that way.

Wouldn't it be fine and dandy, If each handclasp warm and true, Carried with it this assurance, I know something good about you.

Wouldn't things here be more pleasant If the good that's in us all, Were the only things about us, That folks bothered to recall.

Wouldn't life be lots more happy If we'd praise the good we see, For there's such a lot of goodness In the worst of you and me.

This fine way of thinking too; Wouldn't it be nice to practice You know something good about me, And I know something good about you.

—Author unknown.

One of our regular readers handed us the following and we didn't ask permission to use his name so we won't do so just now;

"Pants were made for men and not for women. Women were made for men and not for pants. When a man pants for a woman, and a woman pants for a man, that's a pair of pants. Such pants do not always last, and then they are breeches of promise. This often turns into a suit. When two couples are mixed up in a suit, all panting, it is a suit with two pairs of pants!! Boy, am I Konfused.

THE STATE OF TEXAS COUNTY OF DONLEY

BE IT REMEMBERED, that the Honorable Commissioner's Court in and for Donley County, Texas, convened in regular recessed session, on this the 28th day of September A. D. 1956, at the Courthouse in Clarendon, Donley County, Texas, with the following members present, to-wit: Jack E. Gray, county judge, presiding; Hubert Rhoades, County Commissioner, Prec. No. 1; F. M. Murray, County Commissioner, Prec. No. 3; Jess Finley, Commissioner, Prec. No. 4, and P. C. Messer, County Clerk, and Ex-Officio Clerk of the Commissioners' Court.

Among other business transacted, the following order was passed and ordered as record in the Commissioners' Court Minutes. Motion made by Jess Finley and second received by F. M. Murray that "There will be no exploration of any type in or on the Right-Of-Way of Donley County Roads, at any time or place in the future." Motion carried by unanimous vote. (36-3c)

AFBF Seeks To Obtain Accurate Classing Of Cotton By Gov't.

WACO — Efforts of Farm Bureau leaders in Texas to insure accurate classing of cotton by the government now has the wholehearted support of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

Charles B. Shuman, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, today announced the reactivation of the AFBF Cotton Committee to give specific study of the establishment of a non-governmental cotton classing review board for the purpose of reviewing controversies over cotton classing.

This action is a direct result of efforts by Texas Farm Bureau leaders to obtain accurate classing of cotton by the government's Smith-Doxey classing service. A Congressional hearing—requested by Farm Bureau leaders—was held Sept. 18 in Greenville. One result of the hearing was a promise by members of the cotton subcommittee of the House Agriculture Committee that the Congress will act immediately after it convenes in January to get a "light spots" classification for cotton put in the government loan.

Shuman also revealed that the AFBF Cotton Committee would study the question of whether present cotton grades adequately reflect the value of machine-picked cotton—and also whether producer interests are adequately represented on the International Cotton Grades Committee.

The Farm Bureau group will also give specific study to the Commodity Credit Corporation export program, with a view of developing market policies that would permit private stocks to move directly into the export market. The present export program permits buyers to purchase surplus cotton for export at a price several cents a pound below the loan price for sale to domestic mills, providing that the buyer exports a like quantity and quality of surplus cotton within 12 months. The net result of this has been that most of this year's cotton crop has been forced into the government loan.

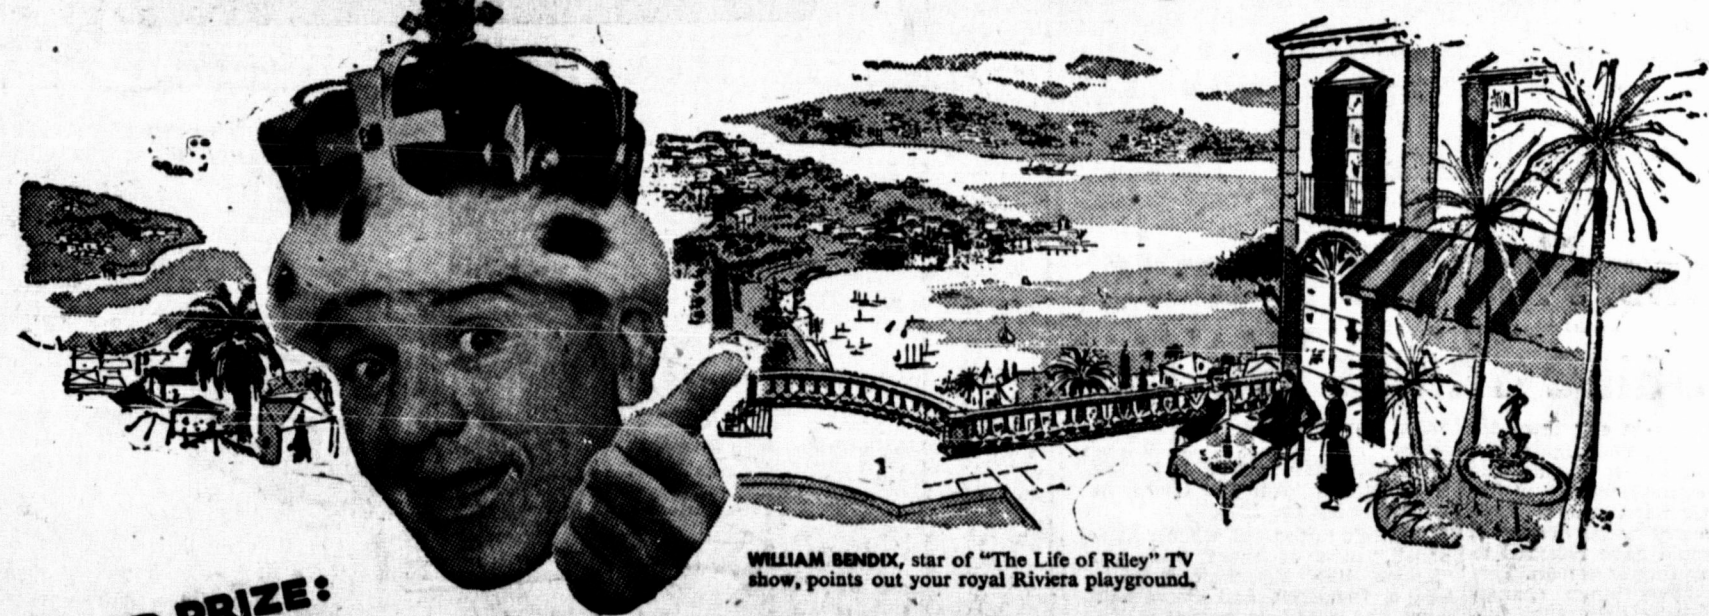

Our loneliness, my friends, you'll find Is only just a frame of mind; If loneliness has claimed your time, Then kindly analyze this rhyme; To render service day by day, Will drive all loneliness away; It has no place for its abode, Where we will share our neighbor's load.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh Barnyard "WHOOdonit" The Barn Owl Controversy still rages in our town. One group claims owls should be protected because they eat vermin. The other faction holds that those little howlers also eat chickens... and should be shot. Now Pops Parker claims both parties are right. All owls clean up vermin. Some owls also clean out an occasional hen yard. The way to spot a bad owl, according to Pops, is to put up a 10-foot pole in the chicken run with a No. 2 trap on it. A marauding bird generally perches to look over the situation before he strikes, giving you your evidence, and the culprit! From where I sit, I doubt if this will end the owl argument. People have different opinions on the subject—just as they have different opinions about whether beer, tea or what-have-you makes the best thirst quencher. Examine the facts and make up your own mind, I say... and be thankful we live where that's possible. Joe Marsh Copyright, 1956, United States Brewers Foundation

MIDDLE EAST OIL

The Suez situation has pinpointed the question concerning Middle East oil. The continent of Europe is primarily dependent upon this source of fuel. Frankly, taking ships around the continent of Africa and by-passing the Suez Canal was simply out of reason. It might have worked with many items, but it could not have worked with Middle East oil for several reasons. The main one being the additional expense and the time element involved in going around Africa. In the second place, the dependence of Europe on this source of fuel would demand a continuous supply. It would have been almost impossible to have provided enough tankers to have kept such a continuous supply going if the trip had to be made around the Cape of Good Hope. Another reason that was not talked about too much, is the fact that there are many shipping interests throughout the world who would have been happy to have picked up a lot of this business and used the Suez Canal. They were not under the domination of the British, French, American or other government that might have been in sympathy with the position of the United States, France and Britain. I hate to say this, and if it were not a well-known fact throughout the world, it is something that should not be openly discussed. Nasser, however, knows better than anyone the dependence of the European continent on this fuel supply. He also knows that Europe uses Middle East oil, a tremendous amount of it must come through the Suez Canal. The reason being that a great deal more is needed to supply the demand than can be provided at the Mediterranean pipeline outlets. Therefore, the talk about

ain. Needless to say, these shipping interests would have had no difficulty in obtaining cargo because the governments under which this oil is produced, if not in full sympathy with Nasser's action, are certainly willing to acquiesce therein.

In fact, there are many who believe that the nationalization of these oil fields will come about in the not too distant future. It must be remembered that these fields are all relatively new fields and are producing oil in great quantities. For instance, let us look at the country of Iraq. The first gusher came in 1947 at a depth of 1521 feet. It flowed nearly one hundred thousand barrels per day until brought under control. In 1951 this field was producing approximately 62 million barrels of oil out of 11 wells. By 1955 this production had been stepped up to 250 million barrels. In Kuwait we had a similar situation. In 1951 the production was approximately 210 million barrels. By 1955 this was almost 400 million barrels. The Saudi Arabian production in 1951 was approximately 280 million barrels. In 1955 it was 355 million barrels. In Qatar a 17 million barrel production in 1951 was stepped up to 40 million barrels by 1955. With all of this tremendous increase in the Near East production there is one situation that points up the difference between free enterprise and nationalization. In the country of Iran the 1951 production was approximately 117 million barrels. You will remember that it was in Iran that the oil fields were nationalized. Immediately production fell off. The end result of the policies that were followed by Mossadegh in his nationalization policies, was that Iran was the only country that did not increase its production between 1951 and 1955. In fact, the production in Iran fell off by approximately 7 million barrels.

Although it was estimated in 1950 that 42 per cent of the world's total oil reserves were located in this Middle East area approximated at that time at about 33 billion barrels, it was recognized that the potential oil production there could not be determined with any great degree of accuracy. Subsequent developments have proven the estimated reserve and much more. In this respect it might also be pointed out that subsequent developments should have proven something else to those Middle East governments. I refer to the situation in which Iran finds itself. If these other governments who are blessed with oil potentialities will look at the record, they will readily see that nationalization is not the answer to obtaining sufficient funds from their natural resources to provide a better way of life for their peoples. In comparing the production of Iraq with Iran in the 4 years from 1951 to 1955, we find that a country that did not have nationalization, Iraq, is now enjoying a production of 4 times its 1951 production. While in Iran, the country that did have nationalization, we saw a decline in the production as herein above pointed out.

It might also be pointed out in this respect that in 1949 although the Middle East had the potential it was producing only 512 million barrels from about 208 wells. The United States on the other hand in 1949 produced 1 billion, 840 million barrels of oil although it took 449,545 wells to do it. The life in the United States had been geared to industrial output and our requirements in 1948 were 2 billion, 243 million barrels of oil. The United States needed the oil and produced it. It did so under an unregimented economy and by free enterprise. The same thing can be done in other countries without nationalization. Let us hope that the Middle East countries will realize the fallacy of the nationalization theory and will so conduct themselves that these vast oil reserves and resources may be used for the betterment of mankind and not for his enslavement.

Texans Find Ike Stands For Same Things We Do

A fellow was in our town the other day selling men's suits. He was from St. Louis, and he said he was a manufacturer's representative. Grandpa would have called him a dry goods drummer, and Papa would have referred to him as a traveling salesman. This shows you how things change with time. But actually that fellow from St. Louis was doing just about what the earlier visitors did—trying to sell suits.

You might say that he stayed in the same place but the names went off and left him. Reminded me some of the political situation in Texas.

I was reading a letter in the daily newspaper last week, from a man who said he was going to vote for Eisenhower. "I am a Democrat," he wrote to the editor of the paper, "but I feel like the party has run off and left me."

Come to think of it, a lot of conservative-type Texas Democrats are in that shape today. They haven't changed their views much on such things as local control, government spending, bureaucratic red tape, and freedom of the individual; they still travel down the same road they did 20 or 30 years ago, even if they do it at 70 miles an hour instead of 25.

They grew up believing that a man could live down nearly any thing except voting for a Republican. They always voted "er straight, until a good many of them jumped over the traces in '52 and went for Ike.

"I can't figure out what's happened," one of them told me. "Seems like Eisenhower talks like a Democrat and Stevenson talks like a college professor."

The other day this same fellow said: "I think I've got it figured out. Ike stands for the things us Texas Democrats have always stood for. Adlai is too thick with Walter Reuther and that crowd to suit me. I'm going for Ike again."

That's the way with most folks in our town. They decided to give Ike a try at it in '52, and they like the way he has gone about the job. There are some things they wished he'd done a little different, but by and large they think he has made us a fine President. At least all the hometown boys are back from Korea, and as far as we can tell the government is being run honestly.

Somebody asked that Missouri suit salesman how Mr. Truman was getting along, and he said he didn't know. "He isn't in the clothing business any more," he explained. "In fact, as far as I can tell, he is clear out of all kinds of business."

Yours Truly,
Tex

LET'S MEASURE AN OIL WELL

... in West Texas

You can measure an oil well by its depth, by its production, or in any of a number of ways. But the real "measure" of an oil well is to be found in the jobs it creates, in the schools and highways it provides, in the stores, shops and industries it supports... in short, the real measure of an oil well is in the benefits it brings to all the people of an area. The West Texas Utilities Company, too, can be measured in the record it has made in helping the West Texas Oil Industry serve the people of West Texas.

AUSTIN—W. Lee O'Daniel is back in the saddle again, riding the range for votes. This time it's a big bus and the Hillbilly Boys. Twice refused a place on the general election ballot, "Pappy" is campaigning as a write-in candidate for Governor. He reports receipt of thousands of letters asking instructions as to how to vote "the write-in way."

First big bomb to be tossed by the former Democratic Governor was his endorsement of Republican Dwight D. Eisenhower for re-election as President of the United States.

Proof that O'Daniel means business is evidenced by the fact that he is advertising consistently by press and radio, statewide.

OTHER CAMPAIGNERS

Texas strategists for Ike and Adlai will send fresh recruits into the field this week as campaigns enter the final month.

For Adlai, a "Democratic Victory Van," loaded with buttons, literature and speakers was launched from Austin over the weekend. It will make a 30-day, 10,000 mile trek "to the forks of the creek."

Democrats for Eisenhower added a one-time Stevenson supporter to their crew. He is Johnston Murray, former Democratic governor of Oklahoma, now a Ft. Worth businessman. Murray, a long-time friend of Gov. Allan Shivers, speaks Spanish fluently, and will make speeches mostly in South Texas.

RESIGNATIONS

James H. Blundell of Dallas, chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee for less than a month, has resigned. His reasons were both personal and business.

Succeeding Blundell is Jim Lindsey, former speaker of the House of Representatives and State Representative from Texas.

L. C. Pake of Tyler, also a member of the committee, has resigned. He gave as his reason Stevenson's statement that he favored an end to the draft.

HOUSE INVESTIGATORS TO MEET

A loaded agenda awaits the House Investigating Committee meeting, beginning here Oct. 19.

Scheduled are: (1) Extensive inquiry into tideland leasing procedures, as instructed by the last Legislature; (2) Preliminary consideration of a report to be made to the next session on insurance companies; (3) A report on the committee's inquiry into absentee voting in Webb County; (4) Discussion of possible recommendations that powers of any future investigating committee be limited lest it be "used as a political tool."

PRISON EXPANSION URGED

Texas Prison System is in for

"serious trouble" unless it gets more money for buildings and salaries.

Gen. Mgr. O. B. Ellis warned that the prisons cannot continue to "stack men up the way they are now." Also, said Ellis, the system is understaffed by 58 guards, and lacks even one psychiatrist to deal with the increasing numbers of "mentally irresponsible troublemakers."

In an Austin speech Ellis gave an advance outline of the expansion program he will seek from the next Legislature. His proposed "bare minimum" budget: $4,825,000 for new buildings and an $870,000 increase for operating costs, including salaries.

THREE MILLION JOBS SEEN

Three million jobholders in the state by 1957 is foreseen by the Texas Employment Commission. TEC also predicted steadily rising employment through the fall with a peak in December well above last year's figure of 2,862,000.

Even before school openings brought a bustling upsurge, non-farm employment had swelled to 2,901,500. Agricultural laborers totaled 273,600, which, despite drought, was 12,000 more than in 1955.

BUSINESS RECORD IN DOUBT

Economic experts are backing off from earlier predictions that Texas business in 1956 will top the 1955 record.

Retail merchants entered the fall months with the sales index off 8 per cent from a year ago. Automobile sales lagged 20 per cent.

Overall business activity for 1956 still is slightly higher than '55, says the UT Bureau of Business Research. But if the downward trends continue, hopes for a new record may be too optimistic.

Credit tightening has slowed, but not "seriously affected" Texas' rapid industrial expansion, says Dr. John Stockton, head of the research bureau.

Many Texas merchants look to a big holiday boom to bring up the year's average.

Less than seven years after Kitty Hawk, on November 14, 1910, an airplane was flown from the deck of a Navy warship for the first time.

DONLEY COUNTY SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

There has been considerable publicity on this new "Wonder Grass" called Sorghum Alnum. All the publicity has been good—in fact so good that there almost certainly must be something wrong with it somewhere. It has been grown near Wellington for four years, and to date some of its advantages appear to be:

1. Unlike most perennial grass, it can be planted deep enough to come up on the moisture in the ground; it is apparently as easy to get up to a stand as sudan or cane.
2. Grows off fast and makes a good seed crop the first year.
3. Is very well adapted to our dry weather and will stay green when most other grasses become dormant.

4. Grows well on our sandier soils on which a perennial grass is certainly needed.

5. Livestock like and eat it readily, both while green and when it is cured out.

6. High carrying capacity. The major disadvantage so far appears to be the fact that the seed needs to be hand harvested. Although the price of the seed is high, the small amount of seed planted (from 3/4 to 1 pound per acre) makes the actual cost of planting less than most perennial grasses.

For those living near Clarendon, who wish to see some Sorghum Alnum, there is about fifteen acres on Winfred and Donald Dollar's farm three miles south of the cemetery on the Brice Highway. One strip of grass is on the west side of the highway and north of the road going to Mark Allen's ranch. A second strip is a few hundred yards south of the first strip.

The Dollar brothers planted this grass about June 10th of this year. They planted it with a lister planter and maize plate drilled to drop two or three seed every sixteen to twenty-four inches. The land was cultivated twice after planting. There are some skips in the stand, and some of the grass has burned for lack of moisture, but some of it reached a height of about eight feet and was still green the first week in October. The Dollar brothers hand headed the grass the first week in September, and obtained an average of one hundred pounds of recleaned seed per acre. Since then they have harvested it again and estimate that the second crop will yield about fifty pounds of recleaned seed per acre. They plan to pulverize the stalks this fall and work the residue into the surface of the soil just enough to keep it in place.

Besides this grass, the Dollar brothers and their father have three more patches near Quail on sandier soil. They say that their Sorghum Alnum has stood up better to the dry weather and still looked green. They have seed for sale, and for anyone wishing to contact them, their address is:

Winfred and Donald Dollar, Route 2, Wellington, Texas

Their home is one mile south and one half mile east of Quail. Because one of the big jobs to be done in the Donley Soil Conservation District is returning soil not suitable for cultivation to grass, the District Supervisors and the SCS technicians assisting the District are interested in learning as much about Sorghum alnum as possible to see if it will help in meeting this need.

FROM WARM SPRINGS FACT & FANCY

by W. H. Reutter

(Wherein the director of public relations at the Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation tells of Texas' own physical rehab center and also throws in a little tongue-in-cheek palaver for which, incidentally, the management is not responsible.)

Perhaps one of the most widely-held misconceptions about the Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation is that it is a center for the treatment of polio only.

This is not the case. The treatment program is designed, in the language of the doctors, for long-term care of neuro-muscular diseases and musculo-skeletal disorders. While polio patients have been in the majority for some-time, many victims of muscular dystrophy, cerebral palsy, multiple sclerosis, and even arthritis, have been treated. Also, we have many patients whose handicaps stem from falls, auto accidents, diving into shallow pools, and the like. There will be more on admission procedures later.

I see by the papers that they're going to start training Texas teachers by television. People holding bachelors degrees but lacking the required courses in education may watch a series of 26 TV broadcasts, take a few tests, do a little reading on the side, and qualify for a teaching certificate.

While I have some small misgivings about this arrangement, I shall not stand in the way of progress—if that's what it is—but shall adopt a wait and see attitude toward the whole thing. I'll admit there are a few obvious advantages.

Almost all long-suffering students have suppressed the desire in a class-room at one time and another to say "Oh why don't you dry up, you pompous pedagogue" or make other appropriate comments about the lecture and the lecturer. This TV teaching, you can see, opens up a whole new avenue for the elimination of such repressions and frustrations.

On the other hand, I can see some of the lecturers succumbing to the temptation to ham it up in the hope that some talent scout might happen to be tuned in. Considering what teachers are paid, even on the college level, I can assure you that a lot of them are looking for a better shake.

This development will probably be the final blow to the old-time disciplinarians who feel that modern education already gives the student too much freedom of movement and expression. Imagine no classroom restraint on gum-chewing, smoking, shoe-shedding, belching, and even snoozing a little in the middle of the lecture! What a switch!

I can just hear some female recounting to her friends in the manner of Marilyn Monroe, "Do you know something? I attended class yesterday with absolutely nothing on but the teevee!" Education, where is thy sting?

In the humane field of medical research the Eisenhower Administration has attained a new high by making available $113 million in 1955 as compared to $73 million in 1952.

GATE-CLOSERS

Dear Friends

A farmer friend of ours paid Humble's field men a fine compliment recently. He said, "There's one thing about you Humble people, you close gates." Well, of course we do.

All of us at Humble want the good will of the folks with whom we do business. And among those folks, the farmers and ranchers who lease their land to us for exploration and production are right at the top of the list.

In fact, you farmers are partners with us in the development of a vital natural resource. If our efforts are successful then everyone involved benefits.

Keeping the gates closed and the fences mended—things like that are the least we can do.

We know. A lot of us grew up on farms and ranches.
