Sacred Heart runners take both state crowns

Sacred Heart High School track teams literally blew away the competition last weekend in Waco. The TAPPS 1A State Track and Field Meet, held at the Baylor Track, was won by the Tigerettes and the Tigers.

The Tigers ran for 144 points to win their first state track title. Second-place finisher, Waco Parkview, scored only 66 points. The Tigers also set 3 meet records. Aaron Berres set records in the 3200m and 1600m run, improving the times from 10:31 to 10:04.73 and 4:43 to 4:32. The mile relay team of Michael Becker, Jason Hess, Scott Frost and Neil Berres also set a state record from 3:40 to 3:37.13.

Jake McCoy also set a new school record in the triple jump. His jump of 40'9" beat the old record of 39'8-1/3."

"These boys are very deserving, they trained hard all season," said Tiger Coach John Nasche. "It's a great feeling being state champs. All that hard work really paid off."

The Tigerettes will lose two seniors to graduation. "Watch out for us next year, we will probably be even stronger," said Nasche.

Scott Frost was the Tigers' high point man at the meet with 26 points. Aaron Berres dominated the distance races and ends his high school career with 2 school records and 2 state meet records.

"We accomplished every one of our personal goals," concluded Nasche. "To beat every 1A public school in the area, to break our season total of 109 personal records and to win the state title."

Senior Tigerette Erica Schilling brought home 3 state gold medals, in the 800m, 3200m and as a member of the state-winning 1600m relay team. Jennie Endres, Sarina Fuhrmann and Anna Fette rounded out the relay team. Freshman Kelly Rigler earned two gold and a silver, in the 200m, 100m and placed 2nd as a member of the 400m relay team. Another Tigerette freshman, Dobe Fleitman, earned the gold in the 1600m run.

"The girls really pulled together and gave a great team effort," commented Coach Jon LeBrasseur. "I have high respect for the seniors for leading the run for the state title." Senior members are Kelly Dangelmayr, Jennie Endres, Donetta Hess and Erica Schilling. "All members are to be commended for an outstanding effort to get the job done," continued LeBrasseur. "We have a very young track team and look forward to next year." Kelly Rigler leads the list as she only lost once this year, in the 100m dash. See RESULTS, Page 9

Lindsay High School wins State UIL Meet

Lindsay High School students, for the third consecutive year, brought home the State UIL Academic Championship. Twenty-six students participated last weekend in Austin and returned with 35 gold, 3 silver and 2 bronze medals and numerous ribbons.

Lindsay officially scored 183-1/2 points, the most points a school has ever accumulated at the state level. Second-place winner, Rule High School, earned 61 points.

A big win for the students was the One-Act Play, "The Rimers of Eldritch," by Lanford Wilson. This was the first time the school won state in that event. The All-Star Cast included Christine Fuhrmann, Tanner Neidhardt and Rachelle Sharp. Brandy Bezner and Keleigh O'Dell took honorable mentions. Other winning cast members were Mark Tepera, Allison Walterscheid, Mary Tepera, Janet Person, Darren Hundt, Sara Flusche, Doug Hellinger, Matthew Murrell, Erin Eberhart and Greg Arendt. The crew included Michelle DeBorde, Danah Hellinger, Stephanie Sandmann and Elizabeth Cler.

The school's Science team of Doug Hellinger, Darren Hundt and Michael Schmidkofer took the state's top honors, with Hellinger taking top honors in Biology, Hundt in Physics and Schmidkofer in Chemistry. Individually, the three also took the higher places with Hellinger taking 1st, Hundt 2nd and Schmidkofer 3rd.

Another team gold winner was the Current Event team of Greg Arendt, Julie Zimmerer and Jennifer Hoberer. Arendt individually finished 2nd and Zimmerer 6th.

The Math team of Darren Hundt, Doug Hellinger and Tisha Wang also took the gold medals. Separately, Hundt took 2nd and Hellinger 4th.

The team of Janine Sorrenson and Tisha Wang finished in second place with Sorrenson tying for 1st and Wang in a 3rd-place tie.

Other placers included a 4th place by Darren Hundt in Number Sense and Allison Walterscheid placing 6th in Informative Speaking.

Also contributing to the championship score was the Debate team of Darren Hundt and Tanner Neidhardt, who finished 1st place in March.

The school's UIL coordinator, Craig Hertel, also coached the One-Act Play, Speaking, Spelling and Writing events. Carol Hyatt led the Current Events and Issues, with Troy Edes and Ken Lawrence coaching Maths and Sciences.

Lindsay High School Principal Jim Anderson credits Lindsay's academic success to the hard work of the students, teachers and especially the parents.

Area elections boast narrow races

by Elaine Schad

School boards, city councils and the North Central Texas College District will see a host of new faces following elections held throughout the county last week.

In the Muenster School Board race, Harold Bindel narrowly retained his seat on the board of trustees for a fifth term, defeating challenger Neil Huchton by a two-vote margin, 199 to 197, for the Place 5 position. Peggy Lutkenhaus comfortably won her race for the Place 2 seat over Jeff Gerstberger, 267 to 115. Lutkenhaus will complete the one-year unexpired term of Dennis Hess, who resigned last August. Two incumbents were re-elected to their positions in unopposed races. Tom Hartman tallied 355 votes for the Place 6 seat while Leon Klement received 338 votes for the Place 7 position.

In Lindsay, Mayor Robert Walterscheid was returned to the mayor's chair in an uncontested race, receiving 110 votes. Paul Sandmann ran unopposed for the one-year unexpired term of Councilman Andy Arendt who resigned earlier this year and received 112 votes. Meanwhile, two incumbent councilmen were returned to their positions for another two years in an open race. Wilbert Block received 93 votes and Danny Zwingski received 70 votes to win back their seats, while challenger Matt Bezner received 40 votes.

In the Lindsay School Board race, incumbent Joe O'Dell won back his seat for another three-year term and will be joined by newcomer Rudy Zimmerer, who will replace Carol Fuhrmann who decided not to seek re-election. O'Dell received 145 votes, Zimmerer received 104 votes, while unsuccessful challengers Diane Hermes Neu received 82 votes and Richard Alfrey tallied 72 votes.

Rudy Zimmerer will head the Lindsay School Board as its new president. He was elected board president during a special meeting this week in which votes were canvassed and new members received the oath of office. Joe O'Dell will serve as vice president, and Susan Metzler has been elected board secretary.

In the board of trustees race for North Central Texas Community College, Charles Draper narrowly defeated Phil Slater in an election that took a two-day counting period to decide. Draper received 681 votes to Slater's 623 votes for the Place 1 seat, according to returns canvassed by the board on Tuesday. Draper, former president of the Gainesville School Board, will serve a six-year term and will replace Ron Underwood who chose not to seek another term. Incumbent Neil Tibbets retained his Place 2 position in an unopposed race, receiving 1,131 votes. Two newcomers will serve three-year terms on the Era School Board. Walt Stevens received 48 votes, running unopposed for the Place 7 position. In Place 6, Joe Myers defeated Wayne Lyons by a vote of 61 to 15. Incumbents Harold Brown and Lanny Lewter did not seek re-election.

In Valley View, incumbents John Kubicek and Jimmy Meyer were returned to their seats and will be joined by newcomer Denise Martin Pearce on the board of aldermen for two-year terms. All ran unopposed in an open race with Kubicek receiving 44 votes, Meyer tallying 39 votes, and Pearce receiving 29 votes. Incumbent Eugene Miller has decided not to seek another term. The Valley View School Board returned one incumbent to the board in a race featuring five candidates for two positions serving three-year terms. Grant Krahl narrowly retained his seat by a four-vote margin over the next highest vote getter JoAnn Sessums, while Jimmy Kupper received the highest number of votes in the open election. Kupper received 90 votes, Krahl received 68 votes and Sessums received 64 votes. Other challengers were Larry Wolf with 52 votes and Barbara Burks with 25 votes.

Walterscheid replaces Voth on City Council, new well okayed

by Dave Fette

Mayor Bill Miller pressed the issue again Monday night and the City Council turned him down again. Although the specially-called meeting was to canvass the city election, most of the meeting concerned financing alternatives for Muenster's water system improvements. The mayor asked again to include grants in the money picture. "We will be committing the city to too much debt," he said. He indicated that the next application would put Muenster in a much better position. Mike Trubenbach said, "We can't wait any longer." Miller answered, "We've waited five or six years already."

Discussion went to a compromise of working on a new water well now and postponing the water tower. Henry Weinzapfel explained financing alternatives offered by Muenster State Bank and how they related to bond financing from the Greater Texoma Utility Authority. The mayor said for eight years the city has been operating in the red and is only recently more healthy. He estimated the cost of a new water well, pipeline, engineering and legal costs at around $200,000.00 and felt Muenster could not afford it. Fire Chief Herb Knabe said the tower is not nearly as important as the well and felt from what he's heard that the city could have the well paid for in four years. The council agreed.

The city council voted to authorize the Greater Texoma Utility Authority to assemble a bond package including Muenster for information only. Their financing package will not be binding at this time. But the council also voted to get started on the water well project with hopes of financing through reserves on hand, projected surpluses and some financing through Muenster State Bank. The city will enlist Mack Barnhart of Gainesville for legal proceedings and Rady & Associates of Fort Worth for engineering the project.

The council took no action on the water tower but emphasized they were postponing, not canceling the project. They want more study on the effects of increased pressure on existing pipes and how to feed the tower. The council initiated steps to sell the farm property owned by the city with hopes it might help with the water system financing.

Saturday's city election placed Bert Walterscheid on the council by a wide margin over incumbent Fran Voth. Walterscheid got 244 votes versus Voth's 96. Henry Weinzapfel received 297 votes to replace Rick Stewart, who did not seek re-election. Arthur Hennigan was not challenged and stays on the council with 252 votes. The new city council will be sworn in at another special meeting set for tonight, Friday, May 13, at 7:30 p.m.

The council must be seated in order to start street paving procedures for this year and they don't want to lose any time. A resolution is needed to notify property owners of the time and legal requirements for paving projects.

Other agenda items included: - Thompson's bid of $4.95 per ton for crushed rock was approved.

- The fire department received permission to purchase 1,050 feet of new 5-inch fire hose from Mile High Company and put their old 3-inch hose up for sale.

- The council approved Muenster Telephone Corporation's offer to install cable TV in the fire station free of charge.

- The council overrode Mayor Miller's previous veto of the resolution introduced at last week's meeting. The result is that any three council members may call a special meeting at any time if they deem necessary, whether the mayor approves or not. The meeting must have at least 72 hours posted notice, the mayor has the same privilege.

- The council will send a letter to RMI, Inc., offering 60 days to work out materials storage problems. The council is reacting to an unsigned letter of complaint.

- City Attorney Chuck Bartush Jr. confirmed that this year's street paving resolution will follow the property value assessment procedure.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Mr. Fette:

As you may know, the debate on reforming our nation's health care system was initiated for two reasons: to contain the explosive cost of medical care and to protect those who are presently uninsured. Unfortunately, the plan that President Clinton has proposed will, in my opinion, do nothing to control costs and will go a long way toward eroding the quality of America's health care system. The hostility of the proposal toward small businesses, including newspapers, is another solid reason to oppose it, and I do.

There are real problems with the President's proposal, beginning with the fact that the Clinton plan mandates that our nation's small businesses provide health coverage with new costs reaching as much as 7.9 percent of payroll. Small businesses like yours are already drowning in a sea of government regulations and mandates, and I am concerned that these expensive mandates on businesses will cost us millions of American jobs.

In my fifteen years in Congress, many issues have raised passion in my heart, and some have created fear, but none were more important to the future of the country than health care. Because this issue is so critical, I have introduced two bills to reform our health care system without imposing mandates on small businesses and held more than fifty public forums across America to stimulate debate on this issue.

You may be sure that I am working to see that not only the employer mandate provisions are eliminated, but that the whole Clinton plan is defeated in its current form. I welcome your comments and observations as the health care debate continues to unfold.

Yours respectfully,
Phil Gramin
United States Senator

Valley View City Council begins meeting with new aldermen

by Elaine Schad

Valley View town aldermen took care of routine business during their regular May meeting after newly-elected aldermen took the oath of office.

The council canvassed the votes from Saturday's town aldermen election in which John Kubicek, Jimmy Meyer and Denise Martin Pearce were elected for two-year terms.

The council set a special meeting for May 16 to interview three finalists for the job of city police officer. The city has received 27 applications to date to replace Officer Jerry Brown who resigned last month to take a deputy position with the Cooke County Sheriff's Department. The police report for April listed 27 calls in which the department responded during the month.

In another matter, aldermen voted to lower the deductible on the city's liability insurance from $5,000 to $1,000 and to raise the liability insurance coverage from $1 million to $2 million. The additional annual premium cost to the city will be $439.

Aldermen also approved road repairs for the town square and around the school, which will be completed this summer. Aldermen tabled a request from Patty Moody to discuss a community blood drive for the town because Moody was unable to attend. That item will be placed on May's agenda, City Secretary Jane Alexander said.

In My Opinion

by Elfreda Fette

When the Cooke County Chorale presents its next program on Tuesday, May 17, don't miss the opportunity to hear some of the most melodic "easy-listening" music of modern times.

Go, avail yourself of an experience provided by the lilting music of composers like Andrew Lloyd Weber (a medley from "Phantom of the Opera"); Meredith Wilson (Till There Was You from "The Music Man"); Lerner and Loewe (selections from "Camelot"); and Leonard Bernstein (a medley from "West Side Story").

Although earlier concerts by the Cooke County Chorale have been artistically polished and professional presentations of master classics by great composers, this next concert will include modern and familiar melodies so musically satisfying as to tempt the audience to "sing along."

So, take an hour's vacation! No one deserves a vacation more than people who work long hours day after day in offices; fields; factories; filling stations; schools; stores; cafes; hospitals; as homemakers ... everyday people. "Us"!

Come and listen! You'll enjoy the time. And you will understand why Chorale members enjoy singing. The program will be held in the Gainesville Middle School Auditorium on 421 North Denton Street in Gainesville on May 17 at 7:30 p.m. The 50-voice chorale group includes more than 10 members from Muenster.

Germanfest report presented at C of C breakfast meeting

There was a guest speaker at the May 10 regular breakfast meeting of the Muenster Chamber of Commerce held in The Center Restaurant. Also of special interest was a preliminary report on income and expenses of the 1994 Germanfest.

Sandra Cavallo, public relations administrator for Lincoln Technical Institute in Grand Prairie, spoke on the vocational technical training program offered by the Lincoln Technical Institute. She told about their accelerated and concentrated classes in automotive mechanics, diesel mechanics and air conditioning/refrigeration.

Cooke County Judge Ray Russell introduced Greg Solomon. Mr. Solomon is the new executive director of the Gainesville Chamber of Commerce. Before coming to Gainesville the Abilene native was assistant city manager in Addison. The preliminary report on Germanfest was prepared by Margie Starke and Jewel Otto. It is incomplete awaiting reports from some of the major events such as the Metric Century Bicycle Rally and the German Fun Run.

At present the income is $95,671.78. Expenses now shown are $54,535.00. Chamber officials estimate that the 1994 Germanfest income will be close to $50,000.00. This will be used to run the Chamber office and finance the 1995 Germanfest.

Profit from the Germanfest pickup raffle was $5,148.77. Booth receipts brought in $9,422.72. Advance ticket sales totaled $5,824.00 and gate receipts $72,189.97.

It was noted that the Saturday crowd was probably the best ever. Sunday's crowd was down and sponsors weren't sure what the reason was for the drop in attendance.

Stenholm expresses opposition to ban on assault weapons

Every night on the evening news we are forced to face the blight of violent crime infecting our nation. Even closer to home than the television, more and more Americans find themselves touched in some way by crime, whether the victim is a relative, a neighbor, a coworker or even themselves.

I am alarmed by violent crime involving any gun. Unfortunately, the so-called Schumer/Feinstein "assault weapon" ban considered by the House of Representatives is misdirected.

The first problem is that it attempts to control certain semi-automatic weapons and not the criminals who use them. The second problem is that this effort has focused on these undefined "assault weapons" which account for less than 1 percent of recorded violent crimes, while handguns or other means of violence continue to be the preferred tools of most gang members, drive-by shooters, muggers and other criminals.

Thirdly, and perhaps of greatest concern to me, is that this bill is just one more example of legislation which goes beyond the rhetoric used to advertise it. For example, there may be 19 weapons identified in the Schumer/Feinstein ban, but BATF already has identified 26 weapons which it will add to the list of prohibited guns. Opening the door further to this sort of "government by unelected bureaucrat" shatters my confidence that the Second Constitutional Amendment actually will be protected in the future.

Unfortunately, sensationalism from both sides of this issue has crowded out the central issues at the crux of our crime problem. I voted "no" in this instance, while continuing my commitment to addressing the crime problems which trouble us all.

NOTE: H.R. 4296 passed the House of Representatives on May 5, 1994 by a vote of 216-214. The legislation now will be considered as part of the anti-crime conference with the Senate.

"Civic Outlook"

by Mayor Bill Miller

As of April 1, 1994, it is unlawful to discard used oil filters and waste oil in the Texas landfills.

Used oil filters and waste oil can be taken to a service station where EPA-approved trucks will pick them up. There will be a $1.00 recycling fee charged for disposal of a filter.

If the city were to haul our own trash to a landfill in the future, the city would be responsible for the separation of hazardous waste from the regular fill.

Even though the city does not operate a recycling center, there are a lot of items we can recycle on our own and get paid for it, too. Fulton Supply & Recycling, Inc. in Gainesville purchases such items as used glass, aluminum, metal, disassembled appliances, iron, copper, brass and tin cans if all the food has been rinsed out and the label is removed from the can.

A compost can be used to recycle grass clippings, sawdust, leaves and food scraps which materialize as a mulch or fertilizer.

Your used automobile batteries are not allowed in a landfill. When you purchase a new battery, be sure to trade in the old one. There is an additional $3.00 added to the purchase of the new battery whether or not you turn in the old one.

Used tires cannot be dumped into a landfill. There is a $2.00 charge added to the cost of new tires and you can also turn in your old tires if you will no longer be using them.

Paint, thinner, lacquer, insecticide, products containing lead, etc. are not allowed in the landfills.

Newspapers are being collected in Gainesville on Fair Avenue. The newspapers are to be tied in a bundle with cord or twine and placed inside the provided weather-protected storage van.

Governor Richards calls for stripper well tax credits

Governor Ann Richards, pledging to make Texas' voice heard in Washington, recently called for federal tax credits for stripper wells.

"I want you to know that you have a governor who is in this fight with you every step of the way. Real people are counting on us. And we are not about to let them down," Governor Richards said.

Governor Richards, during a speech to the spring meeting of the North Texas Oil and Gas Association in Wichita Falls, outlined energy initiatives she was pursuing at the state and federal level.

"The last time I was up here, you told me that independents needed me to go to bat for them in Washington on this. I am committing to you, whenever and wherever there is a forum in Washington to air these proposals, I'm going to be your advocate," said Governor Richards.

"It is time for Washington to understand that when you pay less for a barrel of oil than it costs to pump it, taxing the producers really is like trying to get blood out of a turnip," she said.

In February, Governor Richards met with Larry Hulsey, president of NTOGA; Joey Aboussie, NTOGA executive director; and other North Texas oil and gas leaders. During that meeting, Hulsey and Aboussie asked the governor to argue the oil industry's case before federal lawmakers.

Her staff already is working to convince U.S. Energy Secretary Hazel O'Leary to buy stripper well oil at specific floor price to fill the Strategic Petroleum Reserve.

MMH election results announced

There were 395 ballots cast in the May 9 election for Muenster Memorial Hospital Board candidates. Five terms expire this year. Those are presently held by Werner Becker, Jr., David Bright, Sharon Felderhoff, Don Flusche, and Lora Hennigan. David Bright and Sharon Felderhoff chose not to seek another term.

Charles Bayer and Duane Knabe joined incumbents Becker, Flusche and Hennigan.

Candidates received the following votes: Werner Becker, Jr. - 348; Lora Hennigan - 347; Charles Bayer - 346; and Duane Knabe and Don Flusche each 345.

They will be sworn in as board members at the next regular board meeting which is May 25 at 7:30 p.m. in the MMH administrator's office.

THANKS

For your vote in electing me to the Muenster City Council. Your vote is deeply appreciated and I will do my very best to justify your confidence in me. Sincerely, Bert Walterscheid

Tax Talk
by: Duane Knabe, CPA
This week's topic is medical deductions for nursing home expenses. Deductions for nursing home care fall into a gray area of tax law. The types of expenses that can be taken as medical deductions depend on the reasons for being in the nursing home. The entire cost for nursing home care - including meals and lodging - is deductible if a principal reason for being in the home is to receive continual medical services. In situations where medical need is not a principal reason for being in a home, expenses attributable only to medical care can be deducted.

Cooke County donations help their own relief effort

by Elaine Schad
Cooke County residents who votedly donate year after year to help fund a North Texas disaster relief vehicle saw their donations put to work right here in Cooke County this past week as the seventh day Adventist Disaster Van rolled into Gainesville to assist tornado victims who suffered losses.

The disaster van is one of two in Texas that has been assisting disaster victims since the deadly Waco tornado in 1953. Both vans are still very busy, as one van spent a week in Gainesville at the Red Cross Center located at the Hillcrest Church of Christ while the other was in Lancaster, site of a deadly tornado which hit just a few days earlier than the Cooke County tornadoes. Both vans are now in Lancaster, since immediate relief work is coming to completion for Cooke County.

"This is what we're here for—to serve people really in need," said Barb Oliver, assistant director for the Seventh Day Adventist disaster effort for North Texas. "Anytime anyone loses a home, it's major," he said.

During their weeklong stay in Cooke County, the disaster van provided more than 120 tornado victims with clothing, blankets, towels, bed linens and toiletries. The 18-wheeler truck is a complete disaster operation, offering immediate assistance in a comprehensively organized manner. For example, if a child wearing size 4 clothing is in need, the inside of the van is compartmentalized so that those assisting may go to the size 4 compartment and immediately select a plastic bag complete with a new set of clothing and underclothes.

When a disaster victim comes to the van, volunteers load up a plastic bag containing the clothing needs for the individual or family, along with new towels, blankets and other items needed. Time is a critical factor in helping most victims of a natural disaster, as many have been left with no home or belongings, said disaster volunteers. The truck is loaded to provide for the needs of as many as 3,000 people on any given trip, Oliver said.

The Seventh Day Adventist Van has provided direct victim assistance to 58 major and minor disasters since the 1950s. The last stop before this year's tornadoes was last year in Waco, the site of a devastating tornado. Prominently displayed on each side of the truck is the location and year during which the van responded to a disaster. Among noteworthy responses were the famous Dallas tornado in 1957, Hurricane Andrew in 1992 and virtually every other major disaster which has occurred since the truck took to the road in 1953.

The disaster vans are a result of the hard work of many individuals, both members of the Seventh Day Adventist Church and those donors representing many denominations who wish to help those in need, said Paula Reiter, one of the Cooke County volunteers. Church members annually seek donations for the disaster van from area businesses and individuals during the Christmas season. Reiter said the people of Cooke County, including the Muenster area, are very regular contributors to the effort along with those within the church fellowship itself. "We just want the people of Muenster and Cooke County to know how grateful we are that they have allowed the disaster van to continue to provide help to the disaster victims," Reiter said.

Please!...

The staff of The Muenster Enterprise requests the cooperation of our readers. For many years, The Enterprise has had a deadline for copy and advertising as of Tuesday at 5 p.m. Classified advertising deadline is Wednesday at noon. However, many weeks we are asked to take articles and advertising after deadline. We know that sometimes things come up at the last minute and we make exceptions for truly necessary items.

But... if we are already swamped with work and/or we receive many late requests, then we are at work until 3 or 4 a.m. Thursday getting the paper ready to go to press. And, yes, we're back at work Thursday morning so our readers can get their papers on time.

So, with your cooperation, we can avoid so many late nights and produce a higher quality newspaper.

Thank you!

Texas author speaks to writing contest winners

"I'm telling you to listen," said Texas author Joyce Roach. "Listening is a lost art." Cooke County College recently awarded certificates and cash prizes to the winners of the creative writing contest held every spring at CCC.

"Part of the joy of being here is seeing that you are a town, community and family," said Roach. "I value that in CCC and Gainesville."

Roach explained to contest winners that nothing is as heavy as entering a contest. "The joy of all who write is knowing inside that something is good enough to enter," added Roach.

Most of the material that Roach writes about in her books comes from her own heritage and background. Roach is from Jacksonville, a small town in East Texas.

"I listened to n.y grandmother, preachers and small town neighbors to learn the rhythm," added Roach. She knew as she listened to all the sounds of Texas that she wanted to write about them. "I wanted to write about something that was easy to read."

"Reading out loud and listening to what I was saying helped me," Roach suggested for teachers to let their students read out loud. "Write about who you are, what you are and where you come from," said Roach.

Following her address, 1994 creative writing contest winners were announced and presented certificates by Dr. Doug Crawford, CCC dean of instruction. "One of the roles of CCC is to be a culture center for the community," said Crawford.

Contestants were awarded in the following categories: CCC Regional Poetry: 1. Mary (Rags) Phelps, "Aging Axioms;" 2. Nancy Fitzgerald Viens, "Beyond Here There Do Be Dragons;" 3. Henry D. Glenn, "Morning Walk."

CCC Regional Short Story: 1. Jan Parsons, "Backlash;" 2. Sandra Yanez, "Who's Coming to Dinner;" 3. Rosalee Strayhorn, "One More Yesterday;" and Honorable Mention to Reagan Vestal, "The Surprise Legacy."

Jack Joyce Essay: 1. Judy Reidy, "The Dime;" 2. Brad Kimbrell, "What Have They Done To My Hometown?;" 3. Jennifer Miles, "Tradition Shmadition;" and Honorable Mention to Michael Sanders, "Funky;" and Terry Eldredge, "Was Sue Crazy?"

Layuna Hicks Poetry: 1. Angie Young, "Marshmallow Malcontent;" 2. Jan Brearley, "Sir, I Was Watching;" 3. Keri Fry, "From a Tomboy;" and Honorable Mention, Judy Reidy, "Sailing."

Layuna Hicks Short Story: 1. Angie Young, "The Gift;" 2. Mike Moore, "To Brand a Maverick;" 3. Bonita J. Botkin-Turnbull, "The Antiquity;" and Honorable Mention, Britt Canary, "I Really Do Love Kids."

Brad Dill Poetry: 1. Melanie Anne Koenig, "Existence;" 2. Jennifer Johnson, "The Search;" 3. Carolyn Alva, "Untitled;" and Honorable Mention, Meredith Sicking, "Spring Break;" Kristina Hendrix, "Encountering Insanity;" Christina Wu, "Oriental Eyes."

Brad Dill Short Story: 1. Tim Snyder, "Darkness;" 2. Fred Baker, "Blood Is Thicker Than Water;" 3. Rebecca J. Baumann, "Dandelions;" and Honorable Mention, Robin Onema Campbell, "Rodeo Dreams."

Jerry Simpson Poetry: 1. Noella Needham, "Musings;" 2. Ashley Davenport, "Rainbow;" 3. Mindy Delaney, "Memories of Mom."

Jerry Simpson Short Story: 1. Valerie J. Bartush, "Grandma's Ivy;" 2. Andy Smith, "The Broken Summer;" 3. Summerlynn Twyman, "Running Away;" and Honorable Mention, Russell B. Fette, "Spearing a Seal."

MARGARET KATINA RENÉ BELL and Terry Robert Bartel, both of Muenster, will be married on June 11, 1994 in Sacred Heart Church, with Father Victor Gillespie officiating at 5 p.m. The engagement and approaching marriage have been announced by parents of the bride-elect, Roland and Zoe Ann Bell of Rt. 1, Muenster. Parents of the future-groom are Walter and Celine Bartel of Rt. 2, Muenster. The bride-elect is a 1990 graduate of Carroll High School in Southlake and a 1993 graduate of Texas Woman's University and is a Certified Teacher. Bartel is a 1987 graduate of Sacred Heart High School and is employed by G and H Backhoe. Attendants in the wedding will be Carrie Frost; Zonya Dyess; Tana Booker; Bernice Bartel; Juline Bartel; Richard Trubenbach; Karl Trubenbach; Tim Bartel; Jeff Dudley; and Bob Dillard. ## Lindsay Franciscans plan benefit dinner/raffle

Lindsay Secular Franciscans meeting in the home of Henry and Ollie Kuhn on April 12 developed plans for several future activities, principally a benefit dinner on Sunday, May 15, after the 10 a.m. Mass. It will be held in the Parish hall of Lindsay and followed by a raffle. Everyone is invited.

Communications read during the fraternity meeting included a letter from Bishop Peter Chenaporampal of Kerala, India. He told them he had been to Germany, where he helped plan a Commission for youth programs that will be held in India later this year.

A card of thanks was received from Anthony Vadackel, the Lindsay fraternity's adopted family in India. Other communications included a letter from the Sacred Heart District of Chicago, informing the local fraternity that they will be merged with a different district. Due to cultural diversity, the name will be changed to "Los Tres Companeros;" "The Three Companions," so decided by an executive council vote in Irving, Texas.

Another letter from Father Martin Wolters, OFM, of St. Louis told that he had been to Bonn, Germany to visit his 80-year-old brother. They attended a conference on Blessed John Duns Scotus, a famous theologian. He told with interest that many local people in Bonn still favor traditional foods like sauerkraut, sausage, local beer and Rhenish wine.

Announcement was made of a Franciscan Marian Pilgrimage to Mexico Oct. 5-13, 1994. Famous shrines will be included. More information may be obtained from 414-383-9870.

The meeting opened with the St. Francis Song, Holy Spirit Prayer, Healing Prayer and ritual Franciscan prayer and a Scripture Reading by Jean Haverkamp. It closed with ritual prayers, petitions, Consecration to the Immaculate Heart of Mary. The hostess, Ollie Kuhn, served refreshments of cake with topping, fruit, cheese and coffee.

A local teacher has been awarded a fellowship by the National Endowment for the Humanities (NEH), a federal grant-making agency, to participate in the 1994 program of Summer Seminars for School Teachers. Joseph Caserta of Sacred Heart School will be an NEH Summer Fellow in a seminar entitled "Transformations of Electra: from Aeschylus to O'Neill." The seminar, to be given from July 11 to Aug. 5, 1994, will be led by Peter Schaeffer, Professor of German, Comparative Literature and Classics, of the University of California at Davis. Teachers selected for the program receive each a stipend to cover travel, study and living expenses. Teachers and other educators of grades K-12 at educational institutions within the United States and its possessions are eligible for the more-than 70 NEH seminars held on campuses across the country and abroad.

Three cousins baptized

Three cousins were baptized in Sacred Heart Church by Father Victor Gillespie, OSB, on March 27, 1994, following the 10:30 a.m. Mass. They are Joshua Arthur Biffle, Dylan Joshua Hess and Jacob Arthur Hess.

Joshua Arthur is the son of Jim and Donna Biffle. Godparents are an aunt, Linda (Hess) Growing, and an uncle, Ron Trubenbach. Joshua Arthur wore his brother, Jack's, christening suit. His blanket was handmade by his late great-grandmother, Mildred Biffle.

Dylan Joshua is the son of Fanny Hess and Wayne Kelly. Godparents are Sharen and Cris Aston. Dylan's christening gown was a gift from Aunt Donna Biffle and family. His white blanket was a gift from Aunt Linda Growing.

Jacob Arthur is the son of Howard Hess and Darlene Hess. His mother was unable to attend. Godparents are his uncle, Brent Hess, and aunt, Mary Hess. Jacob wore a white suit and a light blue bow tie.

Dinner at The Center Restaurant followed the church service. There was a special cake, decorated with "Welcome to God's Family, Jacob, Joshua and Dylan." Pictures and movies were made and gifts exchanged, followed by an afternoon of visiting.

Attending were parents and godparents; Joshua's brother and sister, Jack and Jayna; grandparents, Jimmy Jack and Collette Biffle and Emma Lou Hess; Aunt Judy Trubenbach and daughter Alley; Aunt Cindy Biffle and son Jacob. Also Jacob Arthur's brother and sister, Waylon and Tanya, and Great-Aunt Leona Eberhart; Sharen and Cris Aston and Justin, Crystal and Kathy; and cousins Ashley, Kristen, Haylee and Andrea Hess.

St. Peter's celebrates First Communion

First Holy Communion was celebrated at St. Peter's Catholic Church in Lindsay on Sunday, April 17, 1994, at the 10 a.m. Mass by Rev. Eugene Luke and 22 members of the second grade CCD class.

The theme, "Let the children come..." was displayed on a banner with a figure of Jesus with small children gathered around Him. Mrs. Pam Hoberer designed the banner. The altars were decorated in all white flowers and lighted votive candles - one for each child. Greenery and Easter lilies accented the pulpit and the base of the banner.

During the reception of the Holy Eucharist by the First Communicants and the community, the choir sang "Bread of Life" and "Abba, Father."

After Communion, the children recited their Prayer of Thanksgiving and then gathered at the altar to sing "We Believe" for those present and to affirm their belief in Jesus Christ.

Assisting during Mass were: Eucharistic Ministers - Pam Hoberer, Brenda Fuhrmann, Alice Kendall and Judy Secest. Ushers - Glenn Hellman, Wilfred Hess, Walter Lutkenhaus and Bill Metzler. Choir - Sharon Arendt, Roger Dieter, Betsy Fleitman, Cindy Hellinger, Judy Hoberer, Patty Eberhart and Susan Metzler. Musicians - Carla Metzler and Tom Eberhart.

Singing in the Children's Choir were Anna and John Bayer; John and Sarah Eberhart; Andrea, DeeAnn and Dominic Fuhrmann; Stacie Gieb; Amy and Josh Hoberer; Jenny Huchton; Casey Metzler; Bobby Joe Rohmer; and Amy Sandmann.

Preschool Parents Group plans year-end activities

Sacred Heart Preschool Parents and children will be busy as the school year draws to a close. Teacher Pam Dangelmayr announced the dates for upcoming events at the April 25 meeting of the Sacred Heart Preschool Parents group.

The Preschool's End of the Year party will be held on May 20 in the home of Kenny and Kim Felderhoff. Parents are invited to attend and lunch will be included. On May 25 at 7 p.m. the Preschool children will celebrate their Moving On.

Jack Murdock, Sacred Heart principal, led the opening prayer. Kim Felderhoff gave the financial report. Both the Walk-a-thon and Artfest were very successful.

For the evening's program Charlotte Bartush and Chad Tempel exhibited work they have accomplished in the Math area. Both children used manipulatives (beads and cards) to display the number they were working with. Chad went to the "bank" to borrow beads equivalent to the number displayed on his cards. Charlotte used colored beads to demonstrate the numbers displayed on her cards.

by Ed Cler

When I see eighth-grade-age children today, they look too young and innocent to get into all the shenanigans I and some of my classmates managed to engage in when we were that age.

We were pretty much of a fun-loving group and just didn't seem able to pass up an opportunity to pull a prank on someone.

One of our classmates had a bad habit of tattling, which sometimes got one or more of us in hot water. This gave us cause to be on the lookout for a chance to "sock it to 'im" whenever the opportunity presented itself.

The red brick school was built in '24 and although modern plumbing was included in its structure, it took a few years before all remnants of the past and old habits were gone.

It happened that one of the old conveniences still stood about 100 yards northeast of the school, and we boys would often take advantage of its presence to find relief, rather than walk the distance to the school. One day, just a few minutes before noon recess was over, some of us boys observed our tattler enter the little building and, just about as soon as the door was closed, we all had the same idea. With one mind, we quietly ran to the back of the privy and on three, we pushed hard and sure enough we were successful. The sturdy little building fell flat on the door, trapping our prey just as we had hoped.

About that time the bell rang and we all returned to our classroom, where we boys very quietly went about our work. In a short while, Sr. Lucy asked if anyone knew where the missing boy was. Needless to say, no one had an answer, but the cat was soon out of the bag.

Through the open window, we could hear our prisoner yelling and kicking the walls of his prison and Sr. Lucy, seeing the upset privy, soon knew what had happened and sent every boy in the class out to set the little building up again and release our prey.

Well, there was no longer anyone in the outhouse, but there were a number of us in the dog house.

Baptism

Benjamin Joseph Yosten, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Yosten, was baptized on Sunday, May 1, 1994, at 2 p.m. in Sacred Heart Church by Father Victor Gillespie, OSB. To make the day more special, the entire family attended the 10:30 morning Mass together, including the infant's brothers, Jeffrey Robert, Jeremy John, Joshua Jared and twins Josiah James and Gene Robert Jr.

Benjamin Joseph wore a new white baptismal gown and cap, and matching blanket that were designed and handmade by his mother, and new white bootie socks. Baptismal sponsors are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Fleitman of Muenster.

Grandparents are Lawrence Knabe Sr. of the Saint Jo Nursing Home, and Mrs. Lawrence Knabe Sr. of Gainesville, and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Roy (Buddy) Yosten of Muenster.

Attending the baptism were the parents, Gene and Linda Yosten; the five brothers; the godparents, Ray and Dorothy Fleitman; the grandparents, Mrs. Knabe and Buddy and Dorothy Mae Yosten; cousins Becky, Barry, Brian and Justin Fleitman; uncle and aunt, Paul and Susie Fleitman and cousins P.J., A.J. and Brianna Fleitman, all of Muenster; and an uncle, Dominic Knabe of Gainesville.

An informal celebration was held in the Gene Yosten home to honor the infant and his godparents. Grilled hamburgers and all the trimmings were served.

A christening cake, decorated by Betty Rose Walterscheid with white frosting, blue roses, a little boy angel, a white Bible and the lettering "Welcome to God's Family, Benjamin Joseph," was used as the table centerpiece. Cake and ice cream were served after the meal; guests visited, viewed tapes, children played and special attention was given to the baby. All of the above were guests for the afternoon, except Dominic Knabe who was unable to remain.

Get home water tested... EPA says private water wells may contain lead

The Environmental Protection Agency, on April 18, advised hundreds of thousands of people who drink from private wells to switch temporarily to bottled water and to test for possible lead contamination from pumps installed the past year.

Citing new experimental data, the agency recommended that millions of other households with older pumps should also have the tests done while continuing to use well water.

The agency said the pumps in question, which are submerged in the wells and contain components made of lead alloys, were more likely to cause pollution when they were new.

Consuming even small amounts of lead can cause irreversible brain damage, intellectual and developmental problems, and other ailments, especially in fetuses or young children, EPA said. Lead poisoning is widely regarded as the most serious environmental problem facing children in this country.

People who do not know if their water supplies are affected should probably have their water tested if they do not pay water bills to a public water system, environmental groups suing some pump manufacturers advised. EPA estimates that water tests usually cost from $20 to $70.

It is important to remember that public water systems are already tested by law.

For more information, contact the EPA's safe drinking water hotline at 1-800-426-4791. The National Lead Information Center provides general information about lead poisoning at 1-800-532-3394.

Applications are available to adopt wild mustangs

Applications for the adoption of wild horses may now be obtained from one of over 500 offices around the four-state area of Kansas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Texas.

In an effort to promote the adopt-a-horse or burro program and to provide a convenience for the public, the U.S. Department of Agriculture, Soil Conservation Service (SCS) has joined with the Bureau of Land Management (BLM) in providing an application packet which includes BLM adoption requirements to proposed adopters. Individuals interested in adopting a wild horse or burro may obtain this packet by visiting a local SCS or BLM office in the four-state area.

The schedule of adoptions proposed through fiscal year 1995 include Lindsey, Oklahoma, June 1994; and Fort Worth, Texas, January 1995.

'94 Awards Banquet honors Soil Stewards

Last year's conservation championships of the Upper Elm-Red Soil and Water Conservation District were honored guests Monday at the 45th Annual Awards Banquet. The event was held at the VFW Post #8789 in Bowie and is sponsored by banks, newspapers and businesses of the district.

The program has a twofold purpose of presenting awards to winning conservationists and to encourage interest in conservation practices.

The awards were the traditional carved wooden plaques. The champions of each of the five zones received one, presented by a sponsor from that zone.

Zone I winner, Ronnie Ogle of Bowie, received his award from Rick Howard of the Nocona Branch of the First National Bank of Bowie; Zone II, Wayne Porter, also of Bowie, presented by Lynn Gray

Official hopes to stop fire ants with Brazil fly

Attempts to snuff out the fire ant with chemical poisons have been ineffective. So University of Texas scientists say it may be time to bring in a fly from Brazil, according to the Associated Press.

"The fly is not a threat to anything else," said UT-Austin entomologist Larry Gilbert. "It doesn't do anything else but impact the ants," which have caused a "major ecological disaster" since invading the United States 40 years ago.

The small flies of the Phoridae family keep the fire ants in check in Brazil, he said. The parasitic fly lays its eggs in the head of the worker ants, and the larvae then attack the brain of the ants until they emerge as adult flies.

Gilbert, director of UT's Brackenridge Field Laboratory, said it will take years to cut through the bureaucratic red tape to bring the flies to Texas.

In the meantime, laboratory researchers are studying a short-term fix to control fire ants including a chemical trigger within the ants that could coerce the ant colonies into self-destructive behavior.

Those dairy farmers attending from the Southern Region represented AMPI members in Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Kansas, Missouri, Colorado, Nebraska, Tennessee, Louisiana, Kentucky and Mississippi.

The Southern Region will host AMPI's 26th annual meeting in Nashville, Tennessee on March 29-April 1, 1995.

Do It Naturally

When disease and insect problems crop up in home gardens all over the county, there is always interest among a number of gardeners in controlling these problems organically. Its safe to say the control of diseases and insects by natural means alone is very difficult. Invariably those gardeners who report success with organic pest control generally are operating on a small rather than on a large scale. However, there are methods which will help reduce losses and should be practiced by organic gardeners, as well as, conventional gardeners. Some of these practices include:

- * Plant resistant varieties.
- * When selecting transplants, use - only those which appear to be pest free.

- * Mulch your garden to reduce weed problems.
- * Do not allow overmature crops to remain in the garden.
- * Water in the morning so that plants are not wet at night which is favorable for development of diseases.
- * Dispose of obviously diseased plants before they contaminate others.
- * Rotate plant families in the garden.
- * Stay out of the garden when the plants are wet to prevent spreading of plant disease.
- * Hand pick insect and egg masses.
- * Control insects using biological methods and natural products.
- * Bacillus thuringiensis is recommended for most worms.
- * Spade garden well before planting so vegetation has time to decompose.
- * If seed are saved from garden plants, make sure they are from disease free plants.
