Muenster denied grant, Council calms down

The Muenster City Council meeting Monday night was calm, subdued and quick moving. In contrast to recent meetings punctuated with long, heated arguments and thinly-veiled accusations, there were none. One reason is probably because Muenster did not qualify for a share of federal grant money available from the state to apply toward the municipal water system. Much of the recent controversy centered around the application for the grant and all its possible ramifications.

Council members Arthur Hennigan, Marianne Grant and Mike Trubenbach repeatedly tried to cancel the application while Fran Voth and Mayor Bill Miller refused to let it die. Side issues were frequently dragged into the fray.

Trubenbach said during Monday's meeting that he wanted a letter sent to any applicable agency or individual stating that Muenster would not re-apply for the grant or any part of it. "I think we can do the job cheaper than with government involvement," he said. "I want Mr. Lewis' firm notified that we do not intend to re-apply for the water grant or the housing assistance grants."

Arthur Hennigan said, "Mistakes were made using a consultant and doing city business outside City Hall." The mayor replied, "I don't know what you're talking about and I don't agree with your accusations." Miller said the city should not turn down the opportunity to get future grant money if it is available.

The council voted 3-1 to send the letters denying re-application of the grants in question and required that any future applications must be voted on by the full council.

More discussion was held on proposed paving of South Walnut Street and West Cross Street. The council is still studying the drainage problems in the Walnut Street-Eddy Street area and would like to combine all possible areas in one project to get a better price. The item was tabled for more study.

Discussion was held on the February council resolutions that all city business must be handled at, and/or through City Hall. City Attorney Chuck Bartush Jr. has advised that the resolution is binding on all council members but that individuals could seek information on their own time and expense. Material so gathered may not be binding on the council.

City Administrator Chris Yosten reported that the city may not need to employ a special engineer to oversee drilling and finishing of a new water well. "We need to send our plans to the state and they may let us proceed on our own," he said.

Further study is continuing and a workshop meeting will be held Monday, March 28, 7:30 p.m. at City Hall. Yosten said that recovering the storage tank on North Main Street would not help the low pressure problem on the north side of town. He explained that elevated storage, a water tower, is really needed. State Water Commission standards specify 70,000 gallons of elevated storage for a city of Muenster's size. Muenster's single water tower holds only 50,000 gallons. "They have been letting us get by but the only way to solve the problem and get proper pressure for residents and storage for fire protection is to build the water tower," said Yosten.

The mayor repeated his question, "Where is the money coming from? Our taxes are already higher than some nearby towns and I'm not in favor of raising them any further."

Other action and discussion by the City Council included:

- Jim Roark was reappointed and Bob Bauer was newly appointed to the Muenster Water District Board.

- The City will not pay for damages done at Community Lumber Company when a city sewer main stopped up and backed up and repairs were made. The mayor said, "We haven't been paying for these in the past and we don't want to set a precedent. The council agreed."

- The city audit presented at the February meeting was approved.

- A request from the Kiwanis Club to close Maple Street from Division to Cross for Germanfest was tabled pending a plan for emergency vehicle access.

- Fire Chief Herbie Knabe received permission to seek bids for 1,000 feet of new fire hose.

- A resolution to have the agenda for any regular meeting prepared, posted and submitted to the local newspaper at least six days before the meeting date was approved. The agenda will be published verbatim in the paper by council direction

Lindsay City Council has light agenda

by Elaine Schad

The Lindsay city council had a light agenda during its February meeting in which Dick Alfrey was reappointed to a two-year term on the planning and zoning commission.

In a council-related matter, Councilman Andy Arendt has submitted his resignation due to a job change. Lindsay Mayor Robert Walterscheid said Arendt's one-year unexpired term will be up for election on May 7.

No one has yet filed for seats for the May 7 election. The two-year terms of Mayor Robert Walterscheid, City Secretary Wilbert Block, and Councilman Danny Zwinggi are set to expire and the one-year unexpired term of Arendt will be open. Those interested in filing for the mayor's spot or a council position should contact Block. Deadline for filing is 5 p.m. March 23.

In an unrelated matter, Norb Mages addressed the council concerning the cable television service and about repairs to Henry Street. Walterscheid said he will be contacting the city attorney to get an update on the status of the city's problems with the cable company. Henry Street is on the town's summer schedule for repairs, he said.

Hall Care-Flited after self-inflicted gunshot

Larry Hall, 27, of 410 North Pecan in Muenster was brought to Muenster Memorial Hospital on Thursday, March 10 by Cooke County EMS. According to a report by Muenster Police Chief Helen Tompkins, Hall reportedly had shot himself in the chest with a .22 caliber pistol in a suicide attempt. The Muenster Police Department answered the call at 7:45 p.m.

From Muenster Memorial Hospital Hall was transferred by Care-Flite to Harris Hospital in Fort Worth. After undergoing surgery he is doing fine.

In other police reports over the weekend, there was an accident at Main and Third in Muenster on Sunday at about 2:20 p.m. involving two pickup trucks.

The accident occurred when a truck driven by Gary Dankesreiter of Gainesville collided head-on with a truck driven by Amy Fisher, 17, of Muenster. Dankesreiter was traveling southbound in the northbound lane when he struck the vehicle driven northbound by Fisher in the northbound lane.

Dankesreiter received a laceration to his forehead. His passenger Kurt Hermes had a lip laceration and the other passenger was uninjured. Amy Fisher suffered a mild concussion. Her passenger Lorrie Klement received minor head lacerations and a broken foot. All four went to the local hospital by private vehicles.

Muenster Police Officer Bill Bivin investigated the accident.

Home Care Agency offers independence to many

by Janet Felderhoff

With the opening of Muenster Memorial Hospital Home Care many people will have the advantage of specialized nursing care without leaving home. It is a home health agency developed for home-bound people.

"Homebound doesn't mean that they are bed-bound or that they can't walk outside or that they can't go somewhere, but there cannot be a pattern to their outings," explained Linda Hess—Grewing director of MMH Home Care. "If they're going to church every Sunday, having their hair fixed on Wednesdays—things like that, they aren't considered home-bound." She stressed that there would be instances when patients would get out or spend the week-end with family that would be alright. "Leaving the home and getting places with great difficulty are taken into consideration. A lot of time it is due to their mind or a physical handicap. It can't be because lack of transportation," she said.

Home Care is part-time intermittent care. The agency doesn't pick up patients who require 24 hour care. Some families choose to keep the person at home and hire someone to stay with them when the family isn't able to be there. Home Care can then do the skilled nursing care or physical therapy, speech therapy, occupational therapy or provide a medical social worker.

"It really seems to make a difference," noted Ms. Grewing. "There are a lot of people who don't have to be in the nursing home. They're O.K. with a little help at home. Even those with private caretakers paid by the family benefit since we can complement their services by having an aide to help with the bath or walking or with eating, etc."

Home Care aides can help with other things such as going to the grocery store for them if there is nobody to help, with light meal preparation and other personal needs. All aides can take vital signs and if they are out of range the aide will call the R.N. and she will go to the patient's home and make an assessment.

Usually the time spent with a patient ranges from one to two hours per visit. Caretakers can take a break from the patient during the time the Home Care staff are in the home.

Muenster Memorial Hospital Home Care is Medicare certified. They follow Medicare standards of care. Most of the patients that Home Care will have will be Medicare recipients, but there are some who aren't and many of these are covered under private insurance. MMH Home Care can accept patients within a 25 mile radius of Muenster.

The number of times a week that the home health agency would visit a patient's home each week depends on the patient's needs. "If you have somebody who just came out of the hospital with a heart problem or some type of illness you're probably going to see them daily for a while as a nurse," explained Linda. "Then See HOME CARE, Page 8

Eagles needed at Muenster Hospital

Muenster Memorial Hospital is very pleased to announce its plans to resume delivering babies by the end of this year. It has been more than five years since obstetrical services have been provided in Muenster, but with the addition of

Dr. Thomas Currier, M.D. to the staff, it is once again possible to offer this important service in Muenster.

In keeping with Muenster Memorial Hospital's commitment to provide quality, state of the art care to its patients, new equipment must be obtained and remodeling must be completed in the next few months. The cost of these improvements will be approximately $300,000. The hospital is asking you to help make its maternity care the best in North Texas.

This is where the Eagles come in. The Financial Planning and Endowment Fund Committee headed by Jerry Hess, Arthur Felderhoff, Stan Endres, Frank Cromcens, Werner Becker, Jr. and Chuck Bartush, Jr. have established an Eagles Club.

A Golden Eagle will contribute $10,000 or more, a Silver Eagle will contribute $5,000 or more and an Eagle will contribute $1,000 or more. At least 250 Eagles will be needed to accomplish a goal of $250,000 and the balance of $50,000 will be made up of contributors of Silver and Golden Eagles.

Each committee member has at least five volunteers working with them and these volunteers will soon begin contacting people in the Muenster area.

Muenster Memorial Hospital was established more than 30 years ago for the benefit of all and your support is vital to continue the health care mission in Muenster. Your support and consideration will be appreciated, commented Jack Endres MMH administrator.

Cooke County Chorale will present Easter Concert

The Cooke County Chorale will present its Easter Concert Monday, March 28, at 7:30 p.m. in First Baptist Church of Gainesville. Under direction of Dr. Michael Linder, the 50-member chorus will perform Johann Sebastian Bach's Cantata No. 4, "Christ Lay in Death's Dark Prison."

Accompanist and organist for the Chorale is John Dill. Soloists are Brenda Marmaduke, Terry DeGarmo, Susan Earle Shasteen, Billy Brasfield and Kevin Beall. A string quartet from Wichita Falls will accompany the chorus.

"Christ Lay in Death's Dark Prison" was written in 1724 as a cantata for Easter Sunday with words by Martin Luther. This is Bach's only cantata where the hymn melody and its verses are used exclusively throughout the entire work.

The choir will also perform "Locus Iste" by Anton Bruckner and Psalm 150 by César Franck. John Dill will open the program by performing Bach's Prelude and Fugue in E Flat Major.

There is no charge for the concert and the public is invited to share the spirit of Holy Week with the Chorale.

Cooke County Chorale is a member of the Cooke County Arts Council. Dr. Michael Linder is director and Dr. Martin Kralick is president.

Era VFD invites public to Annual Barbecue March 19

by Elaine Schad

The Era Volunteer Fire Department will host their annual barbecue with all the trimmings and dessert from 5 to 8 p.m. on Saturday, March 19, at the Era school cafeteria.

Tickets are $5 for adults and $3 for children. Proceeds will go toward upkeep of the volunteer fire department. A drawing will also be held to give away a half beef processed courtesy of Fisher's Meat Market in Muenster.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:
The Clinton "health care" proposal MUST be defeated! Health care rationing and mandatory abortion coverage are only two of the many reasons why Clinton's package would be disastrous.

Older people are particularly vulnerable to the "quality of life"-based denial of treatment that would be caused by the Clinton "health care rationing plan." Health plan managers would be forced to ration treatment, using the Clinton proposal's authority to deny any treatment deemed "not medically appropriate." When rationing occurs, older people are among the first to have their "quality of life" deemed too poor for treatment. Hillary Clinton has used the example of an older person who received heart surgery as one who should not get treatment!

Clinton's plan requires the funding of abortions with tax dollars and government-mandated "premiums" for health insurance. Under the Clinton plan, all state limits on abortion (such as parental consent laws, waiting periods, or restrictions on third-trimester abortions) would be wiped out, because they would be regarded as barriers to a federally-guaranteed "health benefit." ALL health insurance plans would be required to pay for abortion on demand as a "routine method of birth control." Read this carefully, folks: YOUR tax dollars AND YOUR health insurance premiums would be used to pay for elective abortions!

ALL concerned citizens should write or call their congressional representatives and voice strong opposition to this or ANY "health care" proposal which includes government-sponsored rationing of lifesaving medical care or includes abortion as part of its "benefits package." Call your representative's office through the Capitol Switchboard at 202-224-3121 or 202-225-3121. Or, call 1-800-543-3937 (1-800-LIFE YES). For $11.25, send to your phone, you can send two pre-written messages, one against abortion coverage and the other against health care rationing, to your elected officials.

Sincerely,

Dear Friend of Agriculture,

National Agriculture Day, March 20, and National Agriculture Week, March 14-20, coincide with the beginning of spring, when thousands of farmers across the country are preparing their fields for planting. The annual observance directs attention to the important contributions made by the food and agriculture industry, which are often overlooked in the hustle and bustle of modern America.

Few people realize the U.S. agriculture industry represents nearly 16 percent of the Gross Domestic Product and an estimated 21 million jobs. In Texas, agriculture is the second largest industry. Our state's food and fiber system generates almost $12 billion a year in sales and pumps more than $36 billion dollars into Texas' economy.

In observance of this great tradition, we've prepared an information kit that will help your readers focus on the greatest production miracle in the world - American agriculture.

Please join me in honoring the men and women who provide the bounty that allows us all to enjoy a way of life filled with plenty.

RRC assesses $66,500 in well plugging and pollution penalties

The Railroad Commission assessed $66,500 in administrative penalties the week of Feb. 17 to 13 oil and gas operators for violations under Commission well plugging and pollution rules.

To date in 1994, the Railroad Commission has assessed $779,600 in well plugging and pollution penalties, compared to $349,768 in such penalties levied during the same period last year.

Record preservation discussed by Cooke County Commissioners

by Elaine Schad
Cooke County Commissioners decided this week that, with the exception of the County Clerk's Office, county records will be preserved by training county personnel to perform the task rather than hiring an outside firm to do the job.

County Judge Ray Russell told commissioners that a special fund totaling $55,000 that has built up for record preservation through fees collected in the County Clerk's Office can only be used to preserve records for that office and not any other county offices. The county earlier this year entered into a contract with Government Records, Inc., for $2,500 to preserve the records of the County Clerk's Office. A similar fund has been started through fees collected in the District Clerk's Office, but that fund started in September and only has $700 accumulated, Russell said.

Russell said he has recently attended workshops where record preservation was discussed and said the process wasn't all that difficult to learn. He said workshops are available to train county personnel to complete the task. "If we learn it ourselves, then the employees could keep up with it," Russell said. Commissioners authorized Judge Russell to contact the appropriate county department heads to see how much interest there would be in arranging a seminar for county employees to learn how to preserve records.

Bob Summers from Government Records, Inc., addressed the court two weeks ago requesting that his company expand their project of preserving county records. All Texas counties are facing a January 1995 deadline for preserving records according to regulations set down by the Texas State Library. Summers said his company does an inventory and assesses all records, does all record scheduling, submits all pertinent data to the state and then makes recommendations to the county for efficient records management. Summers said his company would do all county offices, such as the district clerk, justice of the peace, commissioners court, for $1,000 per office. Commissioner Virgil Hess estimated it would cost about $12,000 to do the remaining county offices if the county contracted with the company, most of which will be saved by county employees doing the work in-house.

In another matter, Bob Heying addressed the court about enforcement of zoning regulations within the Ray Roberts Lake area. Heying is chairman of the Lake Ray Roberts Planning and Zoning Commission, which is an advisory body that functions under the auspices of the commissioners court and regulates an area within 5,000 feet of Ray Roberts Lake in southeastern Cooke County. Heying said the commission is having difficulty getting the word out to people that they need to comply with county and lake zoning standards when building within the lake area. "It's important to get the information out," he said. The zoning board meets quarterly at Valley View Town Hall. Heying said there is a five-acre minimum within the lake area for construction, and that anyone falling under that minimum must appear before the commission in order to comply with zoning regulations. Heying can be contacted at 637-2360.

Heying told commissioners that two projects now underway within the lake area may not be in compliance with zoning standards. A convenience store-gas station has been approved for almost two years, but site work has barely begun, Heying said. Commissioner Kenneth Alexander said the court will contact the individual and seek a timeline and estimated completion date. "We need to keep the lake area as attractive as possible," he said. "We need to make sure that construction sites move along. A second problem the zoning board is facing is the placement of a mobile home within the lake area that currently does not comply with zoning or county subdivision regulations. Commissioners decided to send the county's environmental officer to inspect the site and turn the matter over to the county attorney, who will write a letter and proceed further if necessary.

In other business, commissioners: --Drew names for the county salary grievance committee from a list of those serving on the grand jury within the last year. The committee would meet if there is a salary grievance concerning county elected officials. Judge Russell drew the names at random and will contact the individuals to see if they are interested in serving. They include Mary Gill, Rudy Zimmerman, Marsha Goss, Darrell Sutton, Michael Loch, Wanda Brittain, Layton Kitterman, Harold Deem and Debra K. Norwood.

--Approved sheriff department bonds for employees and reserve officers Joe Stout, Harold Ellinger and David Tharp.

--Awarded a plat for the Fox Creek Subdivision in Precinct 1.

--Approved the re-platting of lot 3 in the Prairie Estates in Precinct 3.

--Approved a preliminary plat of 5 lots of the Pine Meadows Subdivision, located in Precinct 1 near Tabernacle Road.

--Awarded a bid to M. H. Dreshzo of Valley View for the sale of a Precinct 2 surplus dump truck. Dreshzo's bid of $1,065 was the second highest bid and was accepted after the high bidder declined to purchase the truck.

Tax Talk
by: Duane Knabe, CPA

This week's topic is Simplified Employee Pensions (SEPs), which are basically group IRAs established by employers.

A SEP is a retirement plan that is ideal for small businesses. Even if there are no employees, the owner may be covered. Payments into a SEP are deductible by the business and deferred by the recipient.

The employer makes equal contributions for each employee (limited to 15% of pay or $30,000). All employees who are at least 21 years of age and have worked in 3 of the last 5 years must be covered. The employer decides each year whether to make contributions to the SEP.

There is also a salary reduction SEP available to employers with less than 26 employees. The employees themselves can choose to set aside part of their earnings tax-free (until withdrawn).

To the Editor:

I wish to thank the voters of Cooke County for their vote and support during the Primary Election. As the Republican nominee for County Judge, I will continue to seek support from the people of Cooke County in my campaign to be elected in the November General Election.

before the meeting.

- A resolution adopting Roberts' Rules of Order for conduct of council meetings was approved.

- Monthly bills totaling $39,020.52 were approved for payment.

- The final date for filing as a candidate for election to a City Council position is Wednesday, March 23. As of now, only Council member Fran Voth has filed for re-election. No one has filed for the other two seats open - Place 2 now held by Rick Stewart and Place 4 now held by Arthur Hennigan.

Memories of 1941-44...

50 Years Ago in WWII

Muenster residents, not unlike other Americans in 1941-44 experienced the same fears, loneliness and crushing losses, overshadowed by the blessings of pride and patriotism.

Pride, patriotism and prayer came as healing graces to support and guide families and their young men.

In respectful memory, and in observance of the 50th anniversary 1944-1994, we are requesting stories and memories from relatives to be printed as special features in The Muenster Enterprise. Several relatives have called to say their stories are not quite complete but will be forthcoming. We appeal for more responses in succeeding weeks, from parents, or brothers, or sisters, or friends, to honor the young men who served. Response from readers, young and old, has been gratifying.

THE BLOOD IS A WITNESS

We are told, in 1 John 5:8, that the blood is a witness. A witness is expected to speak. Hebrews 12:24 tells us that the blood does speak, and that it speaks better things than Abel's blood, though the cry of Abel's blood caused God to work for it; so the speaking of Jesus' blood causes God to work for us.

A witness or his testimony is always taken to the place of trial. Col. 1:12 tells us that God "hath made us meet to be partakers of the inheritance" in Christ. If Satan disputes this and seeks to keep us out of any part of this great inheritance, we are to ask that the witness, the blood of Jesus, be allowed to speak, and the blood will declare that Jesus bought it for us on the cross, and that it is ours. The next verse says that God "hath delivered us from the POWER of darkness." If Satan tries to use his power over our spirit, soul or body, we must call for the witness, and the blood will again speak to God for us and declare that Jesus, on the Cross, fully delivered us from all the power of the enemy, so that he now has no power to put sin, sickness, pain or disease upon us. Neither has he power to hold or keep any of the curse upon us, which we have had upon us before, all his power toward us and over us was broken by Jesus on the Cross, and we are absolutely free and can "stand fast" in the "liberty wherewith Christ hath made us free." Notice again, that Col. 1:13 says that God "hath translated us" spirit, soul and body into the kingdom of His dear Son, where only Jesus rules. If Satan tries to get us to disobey the rule of Jesus, and to get under Satan's law, we are to call for the blood, and again it will speak and declare that we are in a kingdom where Satan cannot use power, though he may seek to entice us to fail God; but, as we look to Jesus, He will rule in His own kingdom, and Satan will be powerless. The fourteenth verse says "we have redemption" the moment we enter Christ by the new birth. If Satan tries to put some of the curse upon us, or keep us from getting rid of some of the curse we had upon us, we are to call for the witness, the blood of Jesus, and it will again testify that Christ set us free from all the curse when He was made a curse for us on the Cross; that because He bore the curse in full, we are entirely free from it. The blood testifies that because Jesus was my substitute, and was accepted in my place, Satan has no more claim upon me. Like the usurper, and deceiver that he is, he pretends to have a claim on me, and power over me, but the blood witnesses that I am made free, and that Satan cannot hold any part of the curse upon me, unless I consent to it. God forbids me to do this when He says, "neither give place to the devil," "resist the devil, and he will flee."

It is the blood of the new covenant, the pledge that we are to have all that is promised in it. If Satan tries to keep us out of a promise of God, we are to call for the witness, and the blood will testify that Jesus bought the things promised and His precious blood was the price paid. He, Who purchased, has a right to give. II Peter 1:3 says, He "hath given unto us all things that pertain unto life and Godliness." This includes all we can ever need for spirit, soul, or body, and the blood will witness in the New Covenant that the blood has purchased all for us. If Satan tells us that we are unworthy to receive the things of God, we are to call the blood to witness that Jesus took our sins away, bore them in His own body on the tree; that He put away sin by the offering up of Himself—that He crucified our old man, our fallen, perverted, sinful nature, inherited from Adam; forgave our sins, blotted them out, and said He would remember them no more. He put the righteousness of Christ upon us—made the Lord to be "our righteousness;" and it is a perfect righteousness. The moment we were born again He made old things pass away, and the new things of God to take their place. The blood will witness that we are in Christ, because we have been born again, that we are "complete in Him," and that there is "no condemnation to them which are in Christ."

Do we pray and seem to get no hearing from God? Again, the blood is the witness. It is the blood of the Everlasting Covenant. Since God "spared not His own Son, but delivered Him up for us all, how shall He not with Him also, freely give us all things?" The shed blood is the proof that He has done the first, and the true witness that He will surely do all other things for His children that they need. It is the pledge that "my God shall supply all your needs." It is so wonderful and so precious to just meet all conditions fully, ask God for what you desire, and then fix your inner eyes on Jesus, and refuse to see, hear, or think of anything but Him. By faith, steadfastly hold the witnessing blood just where you want God to work, and let the precious blood of His dear Son speak, testify, cry unto God for us. God worked mightily when the blood of Abel cried unto Him—how much more powerfully He will work, when it is the blood of His well-beloved Son that cries. None but Christ Himself can move God to work and do; and His precious blood can. How pain, sickness, disease and weakness will move out. How the power of temptation moves. How sin, with all its fetters is broken, and passions, appetites and powers of darkness leave us. How Satan himself flees. How the presence and things of God appear, and every fetter is broken. "Oh, the blood, the blood is all my plea." God will never fail to honor His own witness, the blood of His dearly beloved Son.

School Finance: 1994-95 vintage

by Steve Cooper
MISD Superintendent

If you thought it couldn't get worse, then you were wrong. I will attempt to explain what the Legislature did to the taxpayer via SB7 (our last school finance bill) in this article.

School superintendents, this past week, received from the state a packet called Foundation School Program Information. Now that we are in the second year of this fiasco that we call school finance, the bitter reality has come home. Last year, they (TEA Finance Division) were just beginning to see the absurdity in the bill - this year, that has been unequivocally confirmed. A source from TEA has indicated that if a person were to sit down and purposely write as bad a finance bill as possible, they could not have done a better job than SB7. The source goes on to say that the animosity this bill has created between the wealthy districts and the state is worse than they have ever seen.

Schools receive funding based on their average daily attendance (ADA); also included in this average are additional monies for vocational students and special education students. These monies are generated according to what the state calls full-time equivalent students (FTEs). The above are the major aspects of what is called the Foundation School Program. Each school in the state must have a minimum tax rate of $.86 to participate in the Foundation School Program. The money comes from legislative appropriation called the State Share. The local fund assignment or local share of this program comes from the local property owner. Schools also receive money from the Available School Fund. These monies are generated from interest earned on the State Trust Fund for Education that was established years ago.

Available monies are distributed according to the number of students in a school system. This amount varies from year to year and is dependent on how the investments in this trust fund have done. Available school funding for '93-94 was a little over $300 for each student in our schools statewide. We need not concern ourselves with the Available School Fund as this is not what the state has magnificently messed up - it is the Foundation Program that merits that distinction.

In October of 1992, the state asked all school districts to submit an estimate of their ADA for the '92-93 school year; also included was a request for special education and vocational education FTEs. Now, this was in October, a little over a month after school started. This was to be an estimate, little did we know at that time that Foundation School Funding for the next two years would be tied to this obscure 1992 estimate. Using this estimate to determine school district monies for '93-94 and '94-95 is absolutely ludicrous, especially in light of the fact that actual figures are available, not an estimate, for all of '92-93 and the fall of '93-94. These figures are tabulated by each district in the state and submitted twice a year over what the state calls its Peims Accounting System. The actual figures are not being used because the legislative mandate in 1993 stated that this estimate was to be the guiding light in school finance for 1993-95. This estimate is now called, in state lingo, Model 401. To make matters worse, if a district's estimate was low or if the agency made a mistake with those figures, then the only way the funding mechanism could be changed was through a waiver request to change the incorrect data. The agency indicated that few waivers would be granted as there was simply not enough money available to grant all the waiver requests. So, we are saddled with the 1992 estimates (Model 401) and the state system of finance revolves around this model. If a school district's actual data (ADA, FTEs, etc.) at year's end indicate that the Model 401 payments were too much for that district (in other words, actual data is less than projected amounts on the 401), then that district will have that amount of overpayment subtracted from its '94-95 401 payment schedule. No problem with this scenario - the state always gets what is coming to it. However, if your actual data indicates that the 401 payments were too low (actual data was more than projected amounts on the 401 payment schedule), then the state is supposed to increase your payments by that amount in its '94-95 payment schedule. Here is the catch. If the state owes you money, the question then comes up "what if there is not enough money?" - the answer there should be "but, if not, you won't get any or all of your money depending upon the shortage." For the past five years or so, the state has prorated school districts every year (that means that district didn't get all the state money promised because there never was quite enough money to go around). We are now supposed to believe all this has changed and the money will be there. The awful part about this is that in the past you could plan a little. You knew approximately what the pro rationing might be and it all took place the same year. Now, it takes place the next year and school districts will have no idea of the final figures until September of the following year (1993-94 final figures determined by the state in September of 1994). School starts in August, budgets need to be in place before school starts and districts won't have final state figures until September a full month, at least, after school begins. If a district has applied for a waiver on wrong information generated in the State 401, they will not have information on that waiver until January of 1995.

In addition to all this nonsense, the state is using '93-94 state comptroller's figures for the districts' tax base for '94-95 funding. Always in the past, current figures were used, not figures that were a year old. MISD's comptroller's figure in '93-94 was approximately $88 million - those figures for '94-95 should be approximately $82 million. This figure is vital to each school district because it determines the Local Fund Assignment (LFA) which, in turn, directly translates into the amount of state money a district gets. The higher the LFA, the less state money a district receives. Preliminary figures indicate about a $50-60 thousand loss in state funding to our district if this $88 million figure is used. We have been told to appeal this figure to the state comptroller's office, which we will do. If it takes until January to get our answer, then one can readily see what this does to a district's immediate planning needs.

Planning has become very, very difficult. No business I know of has to wait for its final figures like the schools do. Also, how many businesses are asked to make plans now on information they won't have for at least a year and perhaps as long as a year and a half?

SB7 was simply a smokescreen. The Legislature promised no more pro ration. That is simply not true. There may be no more pro ration, but they will make up shortages in other ways. Even now, I'm hearing from TEA Finance that the basic allotment will be lowered again in 1995 as it was in 1993. If that is true, it will mean, once again, the state has put an additional burden on the local taxpayer.

Of course, all districts are not unhappy with the new bill because they are getting more money. But I would venture to say that most are certainly wanting more definitive and timely information for their planning purposes.

Someone made the statement recently that things may not be as bad as they seem - that person was right - they're worse than bad when it comes to school finance.

In the fall of 1944, Marge (Walterscheid) Sicking will observe 25 years of full time continuous employment at Fischer's Market. She has been a part of a number of remodelings and changes over that period of time. At one time, she headed all departments and did all the ordering, until it became necessary to departmentalize.

Fischer's Market has chosen its 67th birthday to honor Marge and invites everyone to stop in and visit with her, and have cake and coffee on Saturday, March 19.

Unemployment rates continue to decline in Cooke County

by Elaine Schad

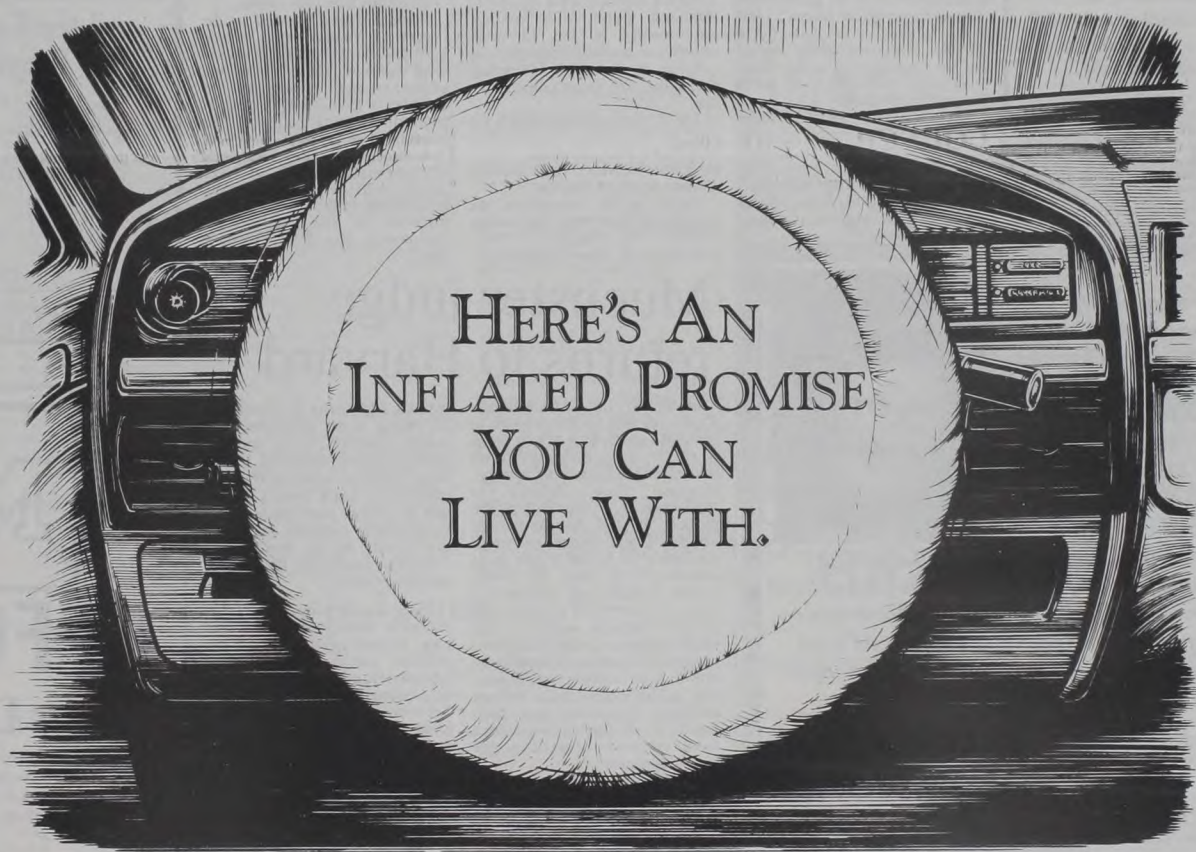

The latest employment statistics released by the Texas Employment Commission in Austin shows a continuing decline in the unemployment rate for Cooke County compared to totals for the preceding three months.

Cooke County's January unemployment rate is 5.1 percent, compared to a 5.3 percent rate for December, 5.9 percent for November and 6.5 percent for October.

The county's January labor force was 15,204 people, with 14,435 of those employed and 769 unemployed for the 5.1 percent unemployment rate. That compares to a December labor force of 13,166 people, with 12,473 employed and 693 unemployed for the 5.3 percent unemployment rate.

Cooke County's unemployment rate dipped below all of its neighboring counties with the exception of Denton County which shows a January unemployment rate of 4.4 percent. Cooke County remains well below the Texas unemployment rate of 6.8 percent, which is an increase from December's rate of 6.3 percent.

Wise County's January unemployment rate was 6.1 percent, compared to 6.2 percent of December. Montague County had a 6.4 percent, a jump from a 5.8 percent unemployment rate for December. Grayson County's January rate was 6.9 percent, a jump from the 5.6 percent December rate. Denton County's January rate of 4.4 percent is slightly up from the 4.1 percent unemployment rate for December. The monthly employment figures calculated by the TEC in Austin is based on a 40-step analysis to determine the unemployment rates for the 254 Texas counties. A heavy emphasis is placed on the number of unemployment insurance claims that were filed during the month.

Birthe Hess dies March 10

Birthe Nielsen Hess, wife of James D. Hess and mother of two daughters, Gina Tanner of Highland Shores, Texas and Una Johnson of Muenster, and one son, James Gary Hess of Muenster, died on Thursday, March 10, 1994, at 9:15 a.m.

She was 54 years of age and had been a patient in Presbyterian Hospital of Dallas for almost five weeks for treatment of pneumonia and complications.

Other survivors, in addition to her husband and children, are two grandchildren, Erik Tanner and Ashley Johnson; one sister, Sonja Jensen of Denver, Colorado; and one brother, Borge Nielsen of Copenhagen, Denmark.

Birthe Hess was born on Aug. 6, 1939 in Copenhagen, Denmark to Holger Hjalmar Nielsen and Mary Ann (Solak) Nielsen. She married James D. Hess on Jan. 25, 1959 at Sacred Heart Church in Copenhagen, Denmark, while he was in the military.

They moved to Muenster and built a new home on "Hess Hill" in 1961 near the home of his parents, Gary and Caroline Hess. In January 1967, Birthe and their three children went to Denmark to be with her father in his serious illness. After her father's death, Birthe, James and the children moved to Kuwait where he was employed. While in the Middle East, they lived in Kuwait, Saudia Arabia and Lebanon. They returned to Muenster in 1976.

Birthe Nielsen Hess

Birthe was a homemaker, a devoted wife and loving mother. She was a member of Sacred Heart Parish, and for several years belonged to the Muenster Garden Club.

Mass of Christian Burial was offered on Saturday, March 12, at 10:30 a.m. in Sacred Heart Church, with Father Victor Gillespie, OSB, officiating, assisted by Father Frowin Schoech OSB and Father Joe Weinzapfel.

Participants in the funeral liturgy were Leslie Hess Eddleman and Sondra Hess with Readings, respectively, the Homily by Father Victor Gillespie; Prayers of the Faithful by Barbie Hess; Offertory Gifts presented by Lisa Endres and Liliana Nasche.

Eucharistic Ministers were

Fathers Victor and Frowin; Mary Bayer; Carol Grewing; Raymond Walterscheid; and Paul Hesse.

Mass servers were Luke Endres, Chris Fuhrmann and David Hesse.

Music Ministers were Ruth Felderhoff, Christy Hesse and Emily Klement. They sang, "The Lord Is My Shepherd," "Be Not Afraid," "Only This I Want," "When We Will Want No More," "Songs of the Angels" and "How Great Thou Art."

Burial in Sacred Heart Cemetery was directed by McCoy Funeral Home of Muenster. Pallbearers were Angelo Nasche, Mark Nasche, Chris Hess, Greg Hess, Ryan Hess and Gary Hess.

A Rosary Service was held in McCoy Chapel on Friday at 4 p.m. and a Vigil at 7 p.m. in the chapel.

Among out-of-town relatives and friends attending were Kurt and Sonja Jensen of Englewood, Colorado; Bill and Loretta Buckner of Buffalo Springs, Texas; John and Bobbie Davis of Amarillo; Charles and Janie Davis of Gainesville; Paul and Clyde Hastings of Arlington; Ronnie and Janet Hess of Bridgeport; Bob and Judy Roth, LaCresha Roth McGehee of Amber, Oklahoma; Joey and Gail Schroeder, Lucille Schroeder, Richard Schroeder, all of Windthorst; J.W. and Lanette Trammell of Gainesville; Joe and Linda Bayer of Southlake; Ben and Juanita Hardy of Gainesville; Darrell Swirczynski of Grapevine; Steve Hess of Irving; Edgar and Julie Evans of Pilot Point; Barbie Hess of Dallas; Mark Nasche of Shawnee, Missouri; Angelo and Les Nasche of Lewisville; Sondra Hess of Dallas; and Leslie Eddleman of Denton.

Loretta Hartman Mason dies

Loretta Hartman Mason

Mass of Christian Burial, officiated by Father Victor Gillespie, OSB, and assisted by Fathers Joe Weinzapfel and Harry Fisher, was offered in Sacred Heart Church on Wednesday, March 16, 1944 at 10:30 a.m. for Loretta (Hartman) Mason of Houston and native of Muenster. She died Sunday, March 13, at 3:50 a.m. in a Houston hospital.

Loretta Mason was born on Sept. 17, 1921 to John and Helen (Hess) Hartman. On Sept. 3, 1951 she married Edward Mason in Sacred Heart Church.

Completing nursing school in 1943 at St. Vincent de Paul Nursing School in Dallas, she remained in the profession for 44 years - of these, 23 years were spent at Memorial Southwest of Houston and at St. Joseph's Hospital. She began her nursing career as a night nurse in Dr. Myrick's clinic, endearing herself to many, many mothers and babies. She had a wonderful sense of humor and was a joy to everyone around her. In Houston, she was a member of Holy Ghost Parish. She was a loving and devoted wife and mother, widowed when her oldest child was preparing to enter college and her youngest child was three years old; and a beloved grandmother. She saw all of her children finish college and become established in business.

Survivors include four daughters, Kathy Thompson of Grapevine, Nancy Johnson of Pasadena, Barbara Moronko of Deer Park, Regina Fuller of Sugarland; and two sons, John Mason of Sugarland and Christopher Mason of Sugarland; and 12 grandchildren, including two sets of twins.

Also two sisters, Betty

Participants in the special funeral liturgy were Russell Moronko and Bobby Johnson with Readings from Book of Wisdom, 3:1-9, Old Testament; and Romans 5:5-11, New Testament, respectively; also Prayers of the Faithful by David Thompson; and presentation of Offertory gifts at the altar by Ashley Johnson, Tracy Mason and Cliff Thompson.

Eucharistic Ministers were nephews Sam Endres, Don Hartman and Roy Hartman, and nieces Judy Flusche and Jane Taylor, Mass servers were great-nephews, Craig Hartman, Grant Hartman and Jeff Hartman.

Music Ministers were Ruth Felderhoff, Christy Hesse and Emily Klement. They sang "On Eagles' Wings," "Psalm of the Good Shepherd," "Amazing Grace," "I Am the Bread of Life," "Songs of the Angels," and "How Great Thou Art."

A Meditation was delivered by Brad Thompson, oldest grandchild, after Communion. He recalled that his grandmother always looked on the bright side and encouraged her grandchildren to do so also. "She always showed concern for others ... Our best memory of our grandmother is that she loved us dearly."

Burial in Sacred Heart Cemetery was directed by McCoy Funeral Home of Muenster. Pallbearers were Roger Taylor, Bill Karr, John Dangelmayr, Jim Dangelmayr, Tom Hartman and Tim Hartman.

Come learn about taxpayers' rights at March 25 meeting

The League of Women Voters will sponsor a public meeting on Taxpayers' Rights, Remedies, and Responsibilities at the Chamber of Commerce on Friday, March 25 at 7 p.m. League President Betty Butolph announced that the speaker for the evening will be Mr. Don Rowlett, president of DRA Enterprises of Austin.

Mr. Rowlett has 25 years experience in real estate appraisal, 18 of which were spent as Staff Appraiser, Appraisal Supervisor, Tax Assessor and Chief Appraiser. He has been assisting districts in all areas of administration including staff training; implementing systems and procedures for development of appraisal manual utilizing market approach and/or income approach; challenge state ratio studies. Additionally, he has 12 years experience teaching state required courses in appraisal, assessing, collecting, and Texas property tax law.

Mr. Rowlett's clients include the City of The Colony, Denton ISD, Fort Worth ISD, Galveston County Appraisal District, and Denton County Appraisal District.

Topics to be covered in the meeting include: How the System Works; The Taxpayer's Role; Exemptions; How Property is Valued; How to Appeal; Setting Tax Rates.

All interested citizens are urged to attend this important meeting.

Other activities planned by the League of Women Voters include Candidate Forums for candidates in local elections. These forums will be held on April 21 and 28 at the Chamber of Commerce. Candidates who will be participating will be announced at a later date. All candidates who are running in local elections will be invited.

Information concerning membership in the League may be directed to the membership chairperson, Mrs. Betty Guest, at 668-2757.

Muenster judge returns to Harvard

Municipal Judge Christopher Kepler has been invited to return to Harvard Law School March 26 to April 2, to participate in an intensive Mediation Workshop. Harvard Law School is internationally recognized as the pioneer in the instruction of alternate dispute resolution of which mediation is probably the most common form used by Texas Courts. Classes will consist of a blend of theory and practice, and examine various stages of the mediation process with participants engaging in a number of simulations drawn from commercial, family, and public policy legal dispute settings. Enrollment has been limited to 45 participants chosen from numerous American and foreign applicants.

The mediation process has been strongly encouraged by legal scholars and jurists as a means of increasing court efficiency and judicial economy. The Harvard Law School Library, operating in two major facilities, Langdell Hall and International Legal Studies Library will be open to participants. These two facilities compose the largest law library in the world. The collections exceed one million four hundred volumes.

Judge Kepler participated in an extensive coursework at Harvard Law School in the June 1993 program for the Instruction of Lawyers. He attended courses given in Commercial Arbitration and Securities Law. He is also a graduate of the General Jurisdiction course given by the National Judicial College, University of Nevada and sponsored by the American Bar Association.

Nine health leaders receive Dr. Nathan Davis Award

Nine of America's pioneers in the fields of health research and policy were honored by hundreds of political, business and medical leaders on Tuesday, Feb. 1, at a gala celebration in Washington, D.C., at the Stouffer Mayflower Hotel.

The prestigious 1993 Dr. Nathan Davis Awards, presented by the American Medical Association (AMA), are given to public officials who have made significant contributions to further the public health.

The 1993 Dr. Nathan Davis winners included Congressman Charles W. Stenholm of the 17th District of Texas. Congressman Stenholm is a member of the White House Health Care Task Force and serves as one of the co-chairmen of the House Rural Health Care Coalition, a special committee which addresses the problems of health care in less populated areas. He was nominated by the American Veterinary Medical Association and the American Association of Food Hygiene Veterinarians for his support of animal research as a vital component of medical progress in treating and healing humans, as well as his efforts to ensure that America's food supply is safe.

Other winners were U.S. Senator Christopher J. Dodd; Philip R. Lee, M.D., Assistant Secretary for Health, U.S. Department of Health and Human Services; Samuel Broder, M.D., Director of the National Cancer Institute, National Institutes of Health; Brereton D. Jones, Governor of Kentucky; Senator Sheila Sorensen, B.S.N., Idaho State Senate; John C. Lewin, M.C., Director of Health for the State of Hawaii; Ellen Leahy, M.N. Director of the Missoula City-County Health Department, Montana; John J. Potterat, Manager of the STD/AIDS Control Program.

I, Connie Welch am proud to announce that my candidacy for Justice of the Peace Pct. 1, Place 2 is being endorsed by the Gainesville Police Association and the Cooke County Deputy Reserve Association.

Nuptial Mass unites couple on March 12

Vicki Walterscheid of Irving and Curtis Eldridge of Lewisville were married in Sacred Heart Church of Muenster on Saturday, March 12, 1994, with Father Victor Gillespie, OSB, celebrant of the Nuptial Mass and double-ring vows at 5 p.m.

The bride is the daughter of Raymond and Peggy Walterscheid of Muenster and the groom is the son of Ed and Phyllis Eldridge of Lewisville.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white satin wedding gown designed by Demetrios with a high neck adorned with pearls and clear sequins with illusion; long sleeves with appliques of lace, sequins and pearls. The Basque waistline emphasized the bodice, embellished with Schiffler lace, pearls and clear sequins. The cathedral-length train had lace appliques with beading and sequins throughout. For the total look, the back waistline was accented with a butterfly bow adorned with lace and clear sequins. The scooped back neckline was lined with illusion and marked with tiny buttons. Schiffler lace and clear sequins edged the entire hemline.

For sentiment, she had a 1970 penny placed in her shoe by her father, and borrowed the rosary her mother carried on her wedding day 35 years ago, and she wore the traditional blue garter.

Her fingertip veil drifted from a crown of pearls, with a pouf of illusion with an applique of pearls and strands of pearls.

The bride carried a cascade of Casa Blanca lilies, white roses, freesia, stephanotis and lily of the valley, English ivy, entwined with her mother's rosary.

ATTENDANTS

Paige Clawson of San Antonio, a friend of the bride, was maid of honor. Julie Rohmer of San Antonio, Brenda Bruggeman of Dallas, both friends of the bride; Carol Grewing and Ramona Felderhoff, both of Muenster and sisters of the bride; Yvette Eldridge of Lewisville, sister of the groom; and Kelly Felderhoff, bride's niece, were bridesmaids.

They wore tea-length red satin sleeveless dresses with a pleated shawl collar, fitted bodice and V-shaped waistline and matching red satin shoes. A pearl and rhinestone pendant enhanced the collar front. A strand of pearls and pearl and rhinestone earrings were gifts from the bride.

Each carried a single stem sapphire magnolia tied with a soft white tulle bow.

Rebecca Grewing, bride's niece, was flower girl, wearing a royal blue satin dress designed similar to the bridesmaids. Travis Felderhoff, bride's godchild, was ring bearer.

Brian Shorter of Lewisville, friend of the groom, was best man. Groomsmen were John Lawton of Ashville, North Carolina; Mel Walterscheid of Muenster, bride's brother; Bruce Van Derven of Plano, Jeremy Stout of Dallas, Cary Brannam of Plano, Ron Hagan of Arlington, all friends of the groom.

Ushers were Glenn and Lloyd Walterscheid of Muenster, bride's brothers; Mark Martinez of Houston and Roby Risko of Athens, friends of the groom.

Mass servers were John Bartush and David Hesse.

Presenting Readings in the wedding liturgy were Molly Koelzer and Danna Hess of Muenster, friends of the bride. Offertory gifts were presented by Fritz and Charlotte Hermes, godparents of the bride. Eucharistic Ministers were Norb and Mary Ann Walterscheid, Sandra Reeves, Anne and Neil Hesse, Laurie Rohmer and Imelda Rohmer. Collin Walterscheid and Derek Felderhoff, bride's nephews, handed programs to the guests as they entered the church.

Presenting wedding music were Ruth Felderhoff, organist, and the following: Shawna Herr, singing "The Rose"; "Always" sung by LaQuenda Medford and Jason Kula; "Sunrise, Sunset" by Shawna Herr; attendants entered at the organ solo, "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring." The bride entered to "Trumpet Voluntary" played by Dave Edmund on the trumpet. Shawna Herr sang "Cross My Heart," "The Greatest Gift" and "Wedding Song" for the Unity Candle lighting and at Offertory. "Wind Beneath My Wings" was sung by LaQuenda Medford after Communion. Diane Grewing sang "Mother Dear" as the couple placed a rose at the Blessed Virgin Mary's altar. The recessional was "Trumpet Tune" by Dave Edmund.

Church decorations included white tulle and white bows on the altar railing, lighted candles and Boston ferns on the altar and spiraled candelabra entwined with greenery in the altar space. Banisters at the church doors were draped with white tulle and white bows.

RECEPTION

A reception, dinner and dance followed in Sacred Heart Community Center, hosted by parents of the couple for 450 guests.

Jean Walterscheid, bride's sister-in-law, and April Truenebach, a friend, presided at the bride's book.

Dinner was catered by Rohmer's Restaurant and Deejay David Muller played for dancing.

A royal blue wall decoration behind the bride's table was decorated with puffs of tulle and two red satin hearts. Six white pedestals held Boston ferns. The reception hall was decorated with hurricane globes and red candles and table decorations of red foil, blue stars and confetti. Red and blue balloons were added decorations.

MRS. CURTIS ELDRIDGE
...nee Vicki Walterscheid...

A five-layered all-white wedding cake was decorated with fresh flowers and strands of pearls. The two-layered chocolate groom's cake was decorated with chocolate-dipped strawberries and sliced almonds.

Cake servers were Lisa Felderhoff, Melinda Walterscheid, bride's nieces; Leah and Kimberly Hermes of Lindsay, bride's cousins; Jana Truenebach of Muenster and Leslie Felderhoff of Garland, friends.

The rehearsal dinner on March 11 was hosted by the groom's parents at The Smokehouse in Lindsay.

Following a wedding trip to Montego Bay, Jamaica, the couple will reside in Irving.

The bride is a 1988 graduate of Sacred Heart High School and a 1993 graduate of Southern Methodist University. She is employed as staffing coordinator by Lakewood Placement Agency.

The groom is a 1989 graduate of Marcus High School and a 1993 graduate of Southern Methodist University. He is a teacher and coach at Lewisville Independent School District.

Preschool parents plan spring fundraisers

During the Feb. 28 meeting of the Sacred Heart Preschool Parents' Group members decided to send pledge sheets home on April 4 for the Walk-A-Thon scheduled for April 14. T-shirts for the Walk-A-Thon will be blue and decorated with yellow using the same sunshine logo as last year.

Artfest is scheduled for Tuesday, April 19 from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. Jeff Gerstberger offered the use of his wishing well for the Artfest. With the assistance of Sacred Heart 7th and 8th grade students, the Preschool parents will provide activities and refreshments for Artfest.

The meeting program included Jenna Gerstberger demonstrating her ability to match pictures of different bird parts to each other and their names. Sarah Twyman used color tablet cards and was able to match the colors and their names. Kristina Koessler chose work from the sensory area and matched wooden circles in a variety of manners to their appropriate size.

Rev. John Twyman, president of the group, opened the meeting with a prayer. There were seven parents and two teachers present. The next meeting is scheduled for March 28 at 7 p.m.

Howsen Kwan receives top ranking in band competition

Howsen Kwan, Lindsay High School freshman, received a top ranking - a Division I - in the Region 5 Solo and Ensemble Contest at Martin High School.

The contest was held in Arlington on Saturday, Feb. 19. The UIL competition consisted of about 23 participants. Howsen played Album for the Young by Schumann, which he selected from a judge-approved music list.

MMH Auxiliary prepares for upcoming activities

The Muenster Memorial Hospital Auxiliary held its regular meeting Feb. 24, in the administrator's office, with 21 members attending. Joan Walterscheid gave a program on laparoscopic surgery. She showed a video and demonstrated some of the equipment used during surgery.

The minutes were read by Denise Pagel, with no corrections made. Laura Pagel gave the treasurer's report.

In old business, Jane Monday gave a report on the 30th anniversary party. Committees for Open House were as follows: Carol Klement, publicity; Betty Rose Walterscheid, tablecloths; Dorothy Fisher, food; Deb Klement, workers; Cheryl Rohmer, poster contest; Denise Pagel, set-up.

Denise Pagel gave a report on the Red Cross Blood Drive. There were 57 donors with 2 deferrals. Laura Pagel reported on the membership drive. Doctors' Day is March 30.

Germanfest is April 22, 23 and 24. The Auxiliary will have a different chairman for each day; Deb Klement is in charge of scheduling workers.

In new business, dates for the Auxiliary dance are still being checked out and will be discussed at the next meeting. Texas Hospital Week is May 8-14 and will be discussed at a later date.

The next meeting is March 24 at 7:30 p.m. A program will be given by Polly Brumfield from the American Red Cross. The program will be on the volunteer blood donors and their importance to our community.

New Handmade Jewelry

By Texas Artisan
Kenneth Grey Wilson

Kenneth Grey Wilson is a sixth-generation Texan who made his first piece of jewelry with one of his mother's good spoons and his father's hacksaw. Rooted in rural Texas and the southwest influence his work, but his interest in all types of primitive and folk art is evident in his jewelry.

Ken's work is hand-made, with careful attention to detail and craftsmanship. The lines and marks on each piece are executed one at a time by striking hand-made stamps and chasing tools with a hammer. A single item may have hundreds of individually applied marks, and no two pieces are exactly alike. He marks his jewelry with a "living heart."

Art is most meaningful when it comes from minds, hearts and hands, without inhibition, and Ken tries to work with the free hand of the folk artist.

Partnership's 2nd Addiction Institute proves successful

Mental health and social service professionals and students had the opportunity Thursday and Friday to gain insight as well as receive continuing education credits at the 2nd Annual Regional Institute on Addictions. The Training Institute was held at the First Baptist Church Family Life Center in Sherman. "Burnout in the Helping Professions" was presented by Dr. David J. Welsh, Ph.D., a psychologist and licensed chemical dependency counselor from Fort Worth. Dr. Welsh, a popular lecturer and trainer incorporated humor into his presentations thereby keeping the audience laughing throughout Thursday, a good stress management exercise in itself. Friday morning, attendees enjoyed Dr. Sue Bratton, Ph.D. She is the director of the Child and Family Resource Clinic at the University of North Texas. Dr. Bratton presented on the topic of play therapy and family violence. Dr. Bratton studied under Dr. Gary Landreth, a leading expert in play therapy. Friday afternoon, Detective Steve Spradling, a Dallas police officer with 16 years of experience, updated participants on the latest information concerning gang culture and environment. Spradling is currently a detective in the Youth Division Gang Unit of the Dallas Police Department. He has traveled throughout the United States extensively researching the violent urban youth activity that is becoming more prevalent even in smaller community settings, such as the Texoma area.

4-H Club hears program on Cooke County EMS

The 4-H Club had their regular meeting March 8 in the Sacred Heart School, with 21 members present. President Emily Felderhoff called the meeting to order. The Pledge and 4-H Motto were recited. Yvonne Martin, 1st vice-president, introduced the program on the Cooke County EMS service. Trey Rickett and Matt Kilgore told about the service and answered questions. They encouraged the 4-H'ers to get good grades in school and to maintain a good driving record, then everyone went outside to view the ambulance. They explained the function of the different sirens and some of the procedures they may perform in the ambulance.

Reports given during the meeting included: Ceramics, Kelly Fettsch; 4-H and Muenster Stock Shows, Jason Vogel, Jack Biffle and Matthew Fleitman.

Danny Felderhoff reported on the fundraiser to benefit 4-H special programs. The club will sell raffle tickets for 3 prizes: 1st prize, $150 meat certificate; 2nd prize, $100 meat certificate; 3rd prize, 1/2 hog (processed). Tickets are $1 each or 6 for $5. Contact any 4-H'er or call 759-4884 or 665-9686 to obtain tickets. Drawing will be April 14 during County Roundup.

Gene Vogel has scheduled a trash pick-up for April 16 at 1:30, the Saturday before Germanfest.

Matt York, 2nd vice-president, led recreation. He led the 4-H'ers in a Chinese mind game.

Becky Felderhoff introduced the new assistant County Agent, Mrs. DeAnn Fisher.

Matthew Fleitman won the door prize. The next meeting will be April 12.

Childhood screening set for March 25 in Gainesville

On March 25, from 8:30 to 12:00, an early childhood screening will be held at B.T. Washington School to identify children who may have handicapping conditions or might have low potential for success in school.

A child who needs to be screened is one who does not appear to act, see, hear, speak, understand or learn as others of his age.

Children who are handicapped are eligible to attend school from age 3, from birth if visually or hearing impaired. If you have a child who is suspected of having a handicapping condition and is three (3) years old, please call the special education office at 665-0773 for an appointment. If your child is younger than three but you are concerned, call Project Kind at 665-1464. The tests include vision and hearing and motor ability procedures, as well as some learning tests.

Before screening each child must have a permission slip, signed by a parent, giving consent for screening. Forms are available at the Special Education Office located at 1420

Rice Avenue or Booker T. Washington School located at 701 Muller. Babysitter may bring child to be screened, but the form signed by the parent is a necessity.

If your child is enrolled at Headstart, there is no need to attend this screening.

Lindsay to compete in State Debate Tourney

Three named MISD Students for February

Honored as Kiwanis Students of the Month for February were Deann Dangelmayr of the elementary school, Jesse Luke from junior high, and Andrea Klement of the high school.

Deann is a second grade honor student in Lisa Hettler's class. She is the daughter of Richard and Melissa Dangelmayr. Deann is always kind and considerate of all her classmates and teacher. She plans to be a kindergarten teacher when she grows up because she enjoys helping little children.

Mathematics is her favorite subject because she likes to add, subtract, and count things. She makes good use of her counting skills, counting her paper napkin collection. Deann has more than 100 different napkins in her collection.

Deann also likes to go swimming, ride bikes and have sleep overs with her friends.

Jesse Luke, son of Melvin and Terri Luke, is a seventh grader. He loves to play sports such as football and basketball. Jesse especially enjoys running track and is looking forward to the upcoming track season. This is his first year at Muenster ISD.

Andrea Klement is a sophomore who is very active in all aspects of school life. She has participated in several U.I.L. competitions and this year is involved in persuasive speaking, team debate, and one-act play. She also participates in sports activities such as basketball. Her hobbies include playing the piano and reading. Her favorite class in school is English.

CCC hosts Gainesville Visual Arts League Show

Cooke County College art department will be hosting an art show featuring the membership of the Gainesville Area Visual Arts League. The event will take place March 23-25 from 10:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. in the CCC Library Lyceum. The public is invited to view an exciting and diverse collection from a very talented and professional group.

"We are very excited about hosting this event for the first time," said Mary Frances VanPelt, CCC art instructor. "It will give the students of CCC and the community a chance to see just how much talent we have in this community."

Members of the G.A.V.A.L. are urged to bring one of their favorite works of art to exhibit.

The G.A.V.A.L. was organized two years ago and the membership has grown to 52-- including members from Gainesville and the surrounding region. "The members are accomplished in a variety of mediums including oil, acrylic, pastel and watercolor painting, ceramics, sculpture, stained glass, china painting, and fabrics," said VanPelt.

"This is a good opportunity to view work done by their friends and neighbors," said VanPelt.

Defensive Driving offered by CCC Continuing Education

New dates for Defensive Driving courses to be offered this spring by Cooke County College were announced this week by Linda Mast, dean of continuing education. The requirements mandated by the state of Texas have changed from eight hours of instruction to six, Mast explained.

Defensive Driving is offered throughout the months of March, April and May. The course can be taken in two sessions, on Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m., or in one session on Saturdays from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Nancy Herrington of the CCC support staff has been teaching Defensive Driving for seven years and says she encourages student participation.

Bill Caver, director of CCC's Counseling Center has been teaching Defensive Driving for four years and has a background in police and ambulance work.

Several advantages can be gained by taking Defensive Driving, Mast said. It can, for example, help lower the cost of a traffic violation. "If a student is in this situation, they can only take Defensive Driving once a year," she said. "Most insurance companies will lower their premiums if a client has had a Defensive Driving course within a two-year period."

Edward Schad receives Sacramento of Confirmation

Edward Daramy Schad received the sacrament of Confirmation during a special liturgy March 13 at St. Benedict's Church in Subiaco, Ark. Edward, the son of E. J. and Elaine Schad of Valley View, is a freshman at Subiaco Academy.

The Most Reverend Andrew J. McDonald, D. D., bishop of Little Rock, was main celebrant during the ceremony in which 80 young people from throughout the northern deanery of Arkansas received the sacrament of Confirmation during a special afternoon Mass. Bishop McDonald was assisted by various pastors from the parishes, including Rev. Denis Soerries, former pastor at Sacred Heart in Muenster, and by Rev. Stephen Eckart, who provided the religious preparation for the Subiaco students.

Eddie's Confirmation sponsor was his grandfather, Martin Krahl of Valley View. Also attending the ceremony was Eddie's grandmother, Nancy Krahl; his parents, as well as brothers and sisters Emmy, Tommy and Angela Schad. Eddie is the grandson of Ed and Louise Schad of Lindsay.

Hospital Auxiliary membership drive continues

Members are still needed and being accepted for the Muenster Memorial Hospital Auxiliary for the 1994 year. Dues are only $6.

Your membership and support are encouraged by Kathy Bauer membership drive chairwoman. "We hope everyone contributes to the hospital by supporting the auxiliary," she remarked. "You can be an active or supportive member. The important thing is to join and let us know how involved you want to become. With Germanfest coming up and plans for delivering babies here in Muenster soon we can't get enough help."

Please bring your dues by the hospital or mail them to MMH % Laura Pagel, treasurer, P.O. Box 641, Muenster, TX. 76252. Anyone in the hospital office will accept the dues and give them to Laura.

The next meeting will be on Thursday, March 24 at 7:30 p.m. in the hospital. Come and bring a friend.

DANELL REITER and SHELLEY KLEMENT

Two Muenster students selected Soroptimist Girls of the Month

Shelley Klement and Danell Reiter were chosen as February Soroptimist Girls of the Month. The Gainesville Soroptimist Club honored the girls at a luncheon meeting held Feb. 28 at noon at the Stanford House in Gainesville.

Both girls are seniors at Muenster ISD. Shelley is the daughter of Robert G. and Gloria Klement. Danell is the daughter of Roy and Paula Reiter.

Shelley is involved in many school activities and extra-curricular activities. She is a member of FHA and served as secretary and president; National Honor Society serving as secretary/treasurer; Student Council as treasurer.

She was class treasurer, played basketball, participated in UIL Spelling and Feature Writing (competed in district and regional) and UIL Ready Writing, school newsletter and band.

Volunteer work that Shelley has done includes teaching Vacation Bible School helping at the Red Cross Blood Drive and with Germanfest. With her FHA group Shelley has gone Christmas caroling at the local rest home and hospital and devoted time shopping for the Littlest Angel Program.

Shelley is currently employed at Bayer's Kolonialwaren. She plans to attend Cooke County College for two years and then Texas Woman's University with a major in physical therapy.

Danell's activities include being president of the school's National Honor Society, Student Council senior representative, FHA reporter, gifted and talented class member, NNHS Plus member, class secretary and treasurer her sophomore and junior year, class secretary this year, Academic UIL participating in Headline Writing, Editorial Writing, Math Contest and Literary Criticism, freshman band representative and plays basketball, tennis and track.

Danell has been honored by being voted Most Likely To Succeed, Homecoming Queen nominee, and Who's Who Math nominee. She was also a member of the 1992-93 state runner-up basketball team and the 1993-94 regional qualifying team. She advanced to regional last year in the discus.

Danell has helped in the community with the blood drive, Germanfest, and Vacation Bible School nursery. She has gone Christmas caroling at the local rest home and hospital and done shopping for the Littlest Angel Program.

Future plans for Danell include attending Stephen F. Austin College with a major in pre-optometry. She then plans to attend medical school and become an ophthalmologist.

you kind of back off and start cutting back. Everything goes through the doctor."

Individuals who think they might benefit from Home Care can contact the agency to see if they are eligible. A friend, neighbor or relative can make the contact for them. Many patients are referred by their physician or by a hospital from which they are being dismissed. Interested persons can find out more about Muenster Memorial Home Care by calling the Muenster Hospital (817)759-2271, Ext. 36.

"Every individual has a right to be on whatever service (home health care) they want so when they go into a hospital situation and someone mentions that they might need some help in the home when they go home, they have a right to choose where they want that help to come from," stressed Ms. Grewing. If a person wants the Muenster agency then they should make that clear to their doctor. Since Muenster Home Care is new not everyone is aware that Muenster has this service.

Kim Gerstberger is the Home Care office manager and Melinda Coughenour is the nurses aide. The agency is located in Muenster Memorial Hospital in the suite of offices formerly used by Dr. Enrique Juarez and Dr. Marvin P. Knight.

Director Grewing and her staff work closely with a patient's physician. The doctor doesn't have to be one on staff at the Muenster Hospital. If that patient's doctor is out of town and can't be reached when a question arises then the nurse will contact MMH Home Care's medical director for temporary orders.

Bake Sale April 1 set for St. Anne's

St. Anne's Society of Sacred Heart Parish will sponsor a Bake Sale on Good Friday, April 1, at Fischer's Market. All members are asked to bring any baked items or give a donation of $7.00. Members are also asked to volunteer some time to work at the bake sale. Please call 759-4245 if you are able to work. Reminder: "Mother Love" Prayer Books have arrived. Call 759-4245 or 759-2732.

LUCIEN GEHRIG, a student in the Sacred Heart seventh grade class, takes an opportunity to practice one of the class' Lenten activities at a prayer station in the back of the classroom. Their teacher Sister Mary John Seyler encourages the students to individually visit the prayer station once daily, locate a Scripture verse from a card, read the verse, say the prayer on the card and later do the practice suggested such as helping someone in need. This project is designed to provide each student the opportunity to individually practice a Lenten activity, promote their prayer opportunities and to do the Lenten practice freely at their own initiative.

CCC offers mini-courses for small businesses

Cooke County College's Small Business Development Center is offering several new business-related mini-courses this spring. "These courses will assist owners and managers in making their businesses become more successful in government regulations as well as customer relations," said Cathy Keeler, SBDC director.

"The Texas Hospitality Program is designed to train both employees and the owners and managers of businesses supporting the tourism trade in ways to enhance the delivery of quality service," said Keeler. "Texas Hospitality-Customer Relations" is a course that will address how being more of a guest-oriented company will improve business as well as a company's importance to its community. Some other courses include: Introduction to ISO-9000; Occupational Safety and Health Act; How to do Business With the Government; Going International With a Focus On NAFTA; IRS Tax Essential For a Small Business; and Basic Supervision.

Back by popular demand is Using Your Computer for a Home Based Business, beginning Tuesday, April 12, and Introduction To Starting a Ratite Business (Emu and Ostrich farming) which will be offered Saturday, April 30.

Stop by the CCC Registrar's Office in the main building to register, or for further information call the Small Development Center at (817) 668-4220.

CCC Home Improvement mini-courses

"Person's wanting to do some spring time fixing up, don't want to miss this opportunity to take one or more of our home improvement non-credit mini-courses," said Kay Moody, Cooke County College continuing education coordinator.

CCC's Division of Continuing Education has started to fill up their spring non-credit mini-courses. Courses begin as early as March 24. Included in the list of available mini-courses are: Landscape for the Layman, Dream Home Design, Home Decorating Made Easy, No Sew Window Treatments, Antique Seminar-Shopping Secrets & Decorating Tips, Cracking the Mysteries of an Older Home, and the Spring Bloom Tour.

To register please go by the CCC Registrar's Office or for additional information call Continuing Education at (817)668-4272.

Tigers finish third

Coach John Nasche's Sacred Heart Tigers finished a promising 3rd place at the Paradise Track Meet last Saturday. "Everything would have been perfect if we would have beaten Lindsay," commented Nasche. "That small setback will motivate us in practice. As hard as these boys work, we will eat Lindsay in the near future." The Tigers have beaten every IA school in the area at the last 3 meets, except Lindsay "and it was only by a 1-point margin."

Jacksboro won the boys' division with 111 points, followed by Lindsay at 78 and Sacred Heart with 77. Valley View finished 10th with 14 points and Muenster 13th with 6.

Mrs. Evelyn Brown, 79, of Greenwood, formerly of Leo, died on Friday, March 11, in Decatur Community Hospital. Services were held Monday at 11 a.m. in Rosston Methodist Church, conducted by Rev. Hollis Parsons of Eastside Nazarene Church. Burial was in Rosston Cemetery, under direction of Clement-Keel Funeral Home.

Evelyn Wright Brown was born on Jan. 11, 1914 in New Harp, Texas to Robert and Bertha Davis Wright. She married Joe Wesley Brown in Waurika, Oklahoma on July 9, 1932. She was a houseparent for Denton State School before retiring, and was a member of Prairie Point Church of the Nazarene.

Survivors include three sons, Harold C. Brown of Era, Billy K. Brown of Leo and Larry D. Brown of Greenwood; and one daughter, Barbara Jo Pierce of Fort Worth; and seven grandchildren; and five great-grandchildren.

She was preceded in death by her husband on May 14, 1983 and a granddaughter on May 9, 1987.

Pallbearers were John Puckett, Charles Steadham, Jerry Kindiger, Gene Malone, Steve Stevens and Nick Muller.

The service for Evelyn Brown opened with songs: "What a Friend We Have in Jesus," and "Beyond the Sunset," presented by friends of the family. The minister referred to her as a "woman of prayer" who especially loved the admonition, "Cease Not To Give Thanks." She was a devoted wife. Their first possessions were a cow and a calf, horse and saddle and 25¢. Together, she and Joe had a hobby of collecting bottles and rocks. She often said she was "ready to go home to meet Joe." She loved to garden, loved plants, flowers and trees, liked to feed birds and was sometimes referred to as "The Flower Lady." She owned a great number of container-grown plants in Leo. Living by her convictions, she truly loved God.

ANNOUNCEMENTS
The Rosston Baptist Church will have a men's quartet from Lewisville to sing at the church Sunday, March 20. It will start at 10:30. They will not have Sunday School or church - after the singing they will have dinner at the Ross Point Community Center. Everyone is invited to come and hear good singing and stay for dinner.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. C.H. Christian during the weekend were their son, Bill, and wife, Dorothy, of Stephenville, also Miss Donna Christian of Lewisville.

Bill Christian will have extensive surgery in the Harris Hospital in Fort Worth, entering on March 21 and having surgery on March 22.

Mrs. Della Maberry attended the DAR meeting at the Era Masonic Building Saturday evening.
Faye and Lee McKown of Dallas visited Jack and Odessa Berry Tuesday and Wednesday.

Bill and Ginny Shults of Denton and Beth and Kenneth Ford visited Mrs. Louise Shults Saturday evening and attended the benefit supper and auction for Rev. Marshall Stewart and family.

Stockers/grain prices ... all in production management

A big jump in grain or protein prices narrows the margin that a stocker cattle producer has to operate, reminded Frank Brazle, Extension livestock production specialist, Kansas State University.

Margin is the difference between the cost and the selling value of cattle, he pointed out. When feed costs are high, producers can take these steps to reduce feed costs or increase total pounds of gain to maintain margin:

- Check ration for a balance of protein to energy. Check mineral levels to assure that rate of gain supported by protein and energy will not be reduced by other limiting nutrients.
- Check rate of gain (pounds per day) and amount of gain (total pounds of gain in program) to determine if these are cost-efficient when higher feed costs are figured.
- Check pasture and type of grass-grazing program to determine if adjustment in stocking rate and other considerations are needed.
- Check other feedstuffs to determine if grain (corn or milo) can be replaced in a growing ration. Examples may be light weight grain and grain byproducts.
- Check the protein source to determine if it is the lowest cost. Also, check to determine if urea can be added to the ration to lower cost.

When grain prices go up, Brazle said, many byproducts may price themselves into a growing ration. Many times, the cost of some byproducts are controlled by the cost of trucking, which will not change during high grain prices.

Off-weight or grade grain can be used in a growing program. Forty-five pound test weight grain is normally higher in protein and lower in starch than 56-pound test weight grain. Because of the lack of starch, it has less value in a feedlot diet, but not in a growing diet on a pound-per-pound basis, where natural protein is needed, compared to urea used in a feedlot diet.

Brazle said backgrounders near big cities may be able to buy such things as pasta byproducts and cook's byproducts, that become more attractive when grain costs 5- to 5 1/2-cents per pound, compared to 3 1/2- to 4-cent grain.

"When grain is high priced, alternate feeds price themselves into the market and supplement feeding to cattle on grass changes."

4th Annual Texoma Farm and Ranch Expo set for March 25-26 in Wichita Falls

The 4th Annual Texoma Farm & Ranch Expo will be held at the Wichita Falls Activities Center and is expected to be the biggest yet. An estimated 5,000 people attended in 1993 and this is still the only Farm and Ranch Expo within 100 miles of Wichita Falls. Entrance to the Expo and seminars is free.

The Expo is held for those in the agriculture industry and to share with everyone the importance of this industry. All the latest products and services from giant tractors to feed and seed will be displayed by more than 70 exhibitors.

Those attending the seminars will have an opportunity to hear updated information and ask questions of the experts. Speakers will cover such timely information as implementation of the new EPA regulations on pesticides handling which become effective April 15.

Congressman Charles Stenholm will speak at Friday's barbecue luncheon, tickets are $8. There is also some great family entertainment Friday evening with recording artist Don Edwards singing traditional cowboy songs. Tickets for his 6:30 p.m. performance are $5 per family and will be available at the door.

FEDERAL CROP INSURANCE

This past week we had a Crop Insurance Meeting and from the information presented, producers who have signed up for disaster payments on soybeans will need to apply for Federal Multi-Peril Crop Insurance by March 31. In order to assist you with any questions that you might have, an agent for Federal Crop Insurance will be at the Red River Farm Co-Op on March 23 and 25. He will be there from 9 a.m. until closing time. Call the Red River Co-Op to set up an appointment. Our local ASCS has a list of crop insurance agents that serve our area.

SPRING RECERTIFICATION SHORT COURSE

Don't forget the Spring Recertification Short Course for Private Applicators will be held March 22 and 23 from 6 a.m. to 9 p.m. at the Cooke County College Little Theatre. Producers will be offered three hours for recertification on each of the two nights. Program topics will include Worker Protection Standards, Private Applicator Record Keeping, Pasture Fertility, Weed and Brush Control, and Crop Weed ID and Control.

If you do not have a Private Applicators License, a training will be held at either 8 a.m. or 5 p.m. on March 21 in the Cooke County Extension Office. Testing will be at 5 p.m. on Tuesday, March 22. You must call the office to reserve space for the Pesticide License Training and Testing. The County Extension Office number is 668-5412.

SOYBEAN PLANTING DRAWING NEAR

The rains have delayed much of the field work in the county and hopefully they will stop for a short period of time in order to plant corn, soybeans, and grain sorghum.

Soybean plantings of early maturing varieties (Group 4) are fastly approaching. Most producers plan to plant these beans from the latter part of March to about the 10th of April. Soybeans are fairly tolerant to freeze injury.

Last year Russell Sutton, Assistant Research Scientist with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Dallas, conducted a Soybean Spacing Study at the Prosper Research Station. These soybeans were planted around April 20 and consisted of Group 3 and 4's primarily. According to Russell, in every instance, there was an increase in yield with the narrow rows (7 inch) over the conventional row spacing (28 inch). Russell points out that you cannot rank the varieties due to the 1993 drought and the high variance levels. The increase in yield is attributed to the narrow rows being able to shade and hold moisture better than the conventional row spacings.

The enclosed chart is the results of Russell Sutton's research and producers should not evaluate yield of varieties but yield of spacings.

There are some drought conditions to consider when growing soybeans. If weather turns dry as it did last summer, the Group 4 soybeans can degrade rapidly if we begin to see leaf yellowing. At each node on a soybean plant, there is a potential for 5 to 7 blooms. If the weather becomes too dry, then these blooms will drop. If the beans have already begun to set pods when the drought comes, then the most potential is if the pods are one-half to three-fourths full. In either instance, rain is needed in the very near future. Soybeans can recover with a rain but the potential is very small. In these drought cases, producers should be ready to bale the soybeans. Soybean hay makes excellent feed and in past county hay shows, soybean hay entries have consistently tested around 14 to 15 percent crude protein.

Soybean seed will be in short supply this year and producers planning to plant soybeans need to contact their seed dealers as soon as possible

ASCS News

Committee Election Results

Frank Sandmann is the newly-elected County Committee member and was elected to serve a 3-year term. Katie Price and Taylor Vestal will serve as alternates. Also serving on the committee in 1994 will be Gene Schumacher and Joe Myers. The election of responsible farmers and ranchers is important to all involved and we appreciate all who voted and especially those who agreed to be on the ballot. The committee system is what makes ASCS work.

Dairy Refund Payment Program (DRPP)

Applications for refund payments under the DRPP will be accepted from Jan. 1 through March 15. Refund payments are available only to those producers who: 1) were commercial producers of milk at the farm level; 2) received milk proceeds that were reduced by statutory reduction; 3) did not, during the year for which reduction was made, exceed their milk marketings from the preceding year. 1994 ARP Requirements

Secretary of Agriculture Espy has announced the acreage reduction percentages (lay-out acres), target price and price support rates for 1994 program crops as follows: Commodity: Wheat; ACR: 0%; Target Price: $4.00. Oats, 0%; $1.45. Corn, 0%; $2.75. Grain Sorghum, 0%; $2.61.

The 0/92 and 50/92 program has been changed to 0/85 and 50/85. Other provisions will be announced at a later date. Still no word on sign-up dates or payment dates.

From My Side of the Fence

by Ed Cler

My earliest recollections of Highway 5 is of a long mud hole, after a rainy spell, and then a rutted, ough roadway when it had dried. Later, farmers living along the road would hitch four horses or mules to trags that were furnished by the county or state and smooth out the uts as well as could be done with he equipment available to them. Drags were furnished to farmers very so many miles so that, in a reasonable length of time, the entire ad would be worked. Eventually, he state moved in a large aterpillar tractor and a road grader. his was slow and cumbersome, but id a better job than the horse-owered drags. Later, we were rprised to see what looked like a ybrid cross" between a Fordson actor and a smaller road grader.

The inventors removed the front xle and wheels of the Fordson and Iso the rear axle and wheels of the rader, then joined the two into a single unit, and the first road "maintainers" were born.

All of the adjustments necessary to operate the grader were done by hand, by the operator, who also had to steer the rig by mechanical means. Hydraulics were still a thing of the future.

The operators of these machines would often park them in the farmyard of the Charlie Cler place, so that my brothers and I would often see the men ready them for another day's work, and then hand-crank the tractors to get them started. Many times, I believe, the men did more work getting those machines going than they did the rest of the day.

As time passed, the road was reshaped and graveled, the "maintainers" were continuously improved upon, and traveling the highway became a much more pleasant experience.

NIOSH Warns Farmers of Deadly Risk of Grain Suffocation

Grain bins are extremely hazardous. Grain can cake together and form bridges over the spaces which develop as grain is removed from the bottom of the bin. Farmers attempting to break up bridged material or separate clumps have fallen through the surface and become engulfed in grain. Others have been buried after entering a bin to dislodge grain caked on the sides.

The risk of suffocation increases if grain spoils because it gives off carbon dioxide, which may displace oxygen in the bin. Even if a worker is not completely buried, he or she can suffocate because of the lack of oxygen above the grain surface.

To prevent future deaths, workers must be told of the hazards they face and the methods of preventing injury and death.

Anhydrous Ammonia Hazard
Anhydrous ammonia is used extensively by farmers as a fertilizer. Inadvertent release of anhydrous ammonia can cause blindness, lung disease, burns and death.

NIOSH recently conducted a hazard assessment of anhydrous ammonia application equipment to evaluate the potential hazards of the equipment and common handling practices. The Institute convened a panel of individuals who were familiar with various processes and types of equipment used with anhydrous ammonia. The panel consisted of representatives from government, chemical processes firms, engineering professionals, trade associations and farmers.

These important procedures for the safe use of anhydrous ammonia were identified:

- Wear personal protective equipment
- Always have an ample water supply

- Inspect and replace hoses and valves as needed
- Never fill a tank over 85% of capacity
- Bleed off hose pressure before disconnecting
- Stay clear of hose and valve openings
- Follow regulations when using equipment
- Have qualified technician repair tank
- Use proper hitch, safety chains and Slow Moving Vehicle sign when towing.

Protecting Farmers' Hearing

Recent studies reveal that hearing conservation information campaigns can be extremely effective in stimulating behavior change among farmers. While engineering controls remain the most efficient method for reducing noise exposure, hearing protection devices, when used properly, can be quite useful in protecting workers from hearing loss. But since farmers often fail to recognize the hazards posed by excessive noise, they rarely use hearing protection.

Noise-induced hearing loss affects approximately half of older farmers and as many as 25% of younger farmers, who may sustain a significant communication handicap by the time they are 30 years old. The Environmental Protection Agency has estimated that 10% of the 3.6 million U.S. farm workers are exposed to hazardous noise levels. Because of the insidious onset of noise-induced hearing loss, an impairment often exists before the farmer is aware of any change.

"When you run your own business, you watch every dime. With an electric cooperative providing my service, it's the lights that keep burning, not my money."

Ever since I can remember, I always wanted to own my own cabinet making business. Starting any business is a challenge, but for me, the timing was perfect. It's been 18 years now, and I haven't regretted it once.

I set up shop in an area served by the electric cooperative. I was amazed at the way the cooperative representative worked with me on how to best meet my electricity needs—I thought that kind of service went out years ago. And now, one of the biggest advantages is the competitive edge I've gained: electric cooperative rates are the best around.

Most important of all, my electric service has been reliable—which is pretty important when you make your living with a power saw.
