

Major Thomas Nial, commenting on the recently proposed bill for compulsory military training, observes that already there is considerable opposition to it. As if he is surprised by that fact! At this stage it is hard to imagine anything but opposition. The measure is so premature. It sets forth a method by which future security is to be assured before anyone knows whether that method will harmonize with post war conditions in the rest of the world.

Compulsory military training has been talked up a great deal the past few years. That's because, admitting it is prevalent in other countries, we assumed we would need it too in order to be as well prepared just in case another war should break out.

But too little thought has been given to another method of keeping even with the other nations—to see that they are as poorly prepared as we for future wars. Let it be one of the provisions of the peace treaty that no country will continue military training. Then we won't need it either.

Or do we want military training regardless of the security feature? Do the people who favor it regard it as a program worth pursuing for its own sake, that is for what it will contribute to the improvement of our youth?

In that connection the author states he has often heard mothers say "I'm in favor of a year's compulsory training. It will make men out of our boys of 18." True, that statement has been repeated hundreds of times, very often by persons who realized that the seriousness of the situation, not military training itself, was responsible for the youth's improvement. Take the case of any youngster in the service. Which will hasten his maturity more, the spit and polish of military life and a little practice at handling military equipment, or the realization that his survival will depend on the thoroughness of his training? After thinking it over most of us will agree that responsibility has more to do with a boy's development than mere subjection to discipline and routine. In most cases he will make more progress holding his own in business or industry than he will coasting along in the army.

Another little hint on the merits of military training can be gleaned from the fact that church groups generally are offering the greatest opposition to it. Apparently they do not think much of it as a character builder. Probably they do not approve of regimentation either, or of the excessive expense.

So, before adopting compulsory military training, we need to give serious thought to a few very important points. If it is not worth having for its own sake and if it does not furnish the best means of assuring national security why have it at all?

Something else about the military: It is being urged that military men be given seats at the peace table. Before considering the merits of the idea we would like to take a guess at the motive that prompted it. Was somebody expecting military men to make greater efforts for just settlement and lasting peace because they are so sick of the horrors of war? Or does he expect them to enter the conference in a more vindictive spirit and impose greater humiliation on the defeated nations?

Whatever that answer might be, the only reasonable course is to select delegates on their ability as statesmen. If a military man meets the qualification he should be acceptable otherwise not. Drawing up peace terms is not the job of a soldier but of one who knows enough about international conditions in general to derive a fair working agreement out of the hedge of claims and counter claims. Proper attitude alone is not enough.

One thing we would bet on is that Argentina will not have much influence at the peace conference. In fact we'd be very much pleased if she were booted out altogether, perhaps even held accountable for all the trouble she caused the allies during her extended pro-Axis neutrality. In spite of the fact that she is now on our side, we do not like her ways. It's the system of a Mussolini or a Jackal to wait until the foe is helpless and then jump in for a share of the spoils.

After the article in Life about the inferiority of American tanks it was rather refreshing to read Patton's reply. And who should be better qualified than he to discuss the relative merits of tanks? He was not just spouting off either. He offers figures to show his Third Army accounted for 2,287 of the "superior" German tanks while losing 1,136 of its own.

Old Blood and Guts admits that the American Sherman is no match for the German Tiger in a slugging duel—but he does not use them to swap blows. His

S. Sgt. Earl Lehertz left Wednesday to report at Santa Anna, Calif., for orders. He spent a furlough here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lehertz, after returning to the states from the Pacific war zone where he served three years with the ground forces of the army air corps. He is to be reassigned to duty in this country.

RETURNS TO DUTY

S. Sgt. Joe Hess left Thursday after a furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hess and family. He reported at Fort Sam Houston, and from there will be re-assigned to duty in the ETO. He returned to the states in February after being overseas with the 36th Infantry for 26 months. He has been transferred out of the infantry and is a member of a military police company.

SLIGHTLY WOUNDED

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Linn received a telegram from the War Department Saturday advising that their son, Pvt. Jeff Linn, had been slightly wounded in action on Luzon, March 13. The parents also had a letter from their son written from a field hospital, stating that his injury was in the foot and that he was recovering rapidly.

AT HARLINGEN FIELD

Lt. Pat Stelzer is now stationed at Harlingen Army Air Field as an instructor. He has advised his father, G. A. Stelzer.

AT MIDLAND AIR FIELD

Sgt. W. P. Bratcher, recently transferred from Independence, Kansas, is now stationed at Midland, Texas, army air field. In a letter to the Enterprise giving his change of address, he added: "I assure you I enjoy receiving the paper each week. Was in Muenster long enough to know so many of you." He was manager of Frick Reid supply company before entering the service.

LOADS BLOCK-BUSTERS

The Enterprise this week received a picture from the Public Relations Office of the Mediterranean Allied Air Forces on which is depicted Pfc. Thomas N. Linn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russ Linn of this community, with three buddies. The four men are veterans of a B-24 Liberator Bomber Group in the ETO and are posed beside a 2000 pound bomb. Inscribed on the bomb are the words, "Easter Egg to Adolph." The crew was preparing to load this block-buster on the Liberator, shown in the background, just as the picture was snapped.

AWARDED BADGE

Pvt. Andy Stelzer was recently awarded the Combat Infantryman Badge for service rendered in Germany by his mother, Mrs. Matt Stelzer reported this week after receiving a letter from him. Andy has been in the service since last August and in Germany for about 6 weeks.

HERE ON LEAVE

IN THE MARIANNAS

Pvt. Wilfred Walterscheid has written his parents, Mr. and Mrs. August Walterscheid, that he is now in the Marianna Islands following a recent transfer from Hawaii. He went overseas in February.

COMPLETES FURLOUGH

Pvt. Hugo Wilde was in Muenster Tuesday telling old friends "so long, 'till I see you again." Wednesday he left for Fort Benning, Ga., for re-assignment. Pvt. Wilde had been on furlough for 30 days following his return from Persia. He spent his furlough with his wife and daughter, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Wilde at Gainesville.

Pfc. Pete Stoffels Cited In Germany And Awarded Badge

WITH THE 36th INFANTRY DIVISION IN GERMANY—A litter on skis, conceived and built by Private First Class Peter G. Stoffels, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry F. Stoffels of Muenster, proved invaluable to hard-working medical aid men evacuating the wounded in the snow-covered terrain outside of Harlange, Belgium. It enabled one man to do what four men were required to do previously.

Pfc. Stoffels, who is a member of the ammunition and pioneer platoon, 3rd Battalion, 320th Infantry, improvised the litter as a better means of hauling ammo and chow to the front line troops. Medics of the battalion immediately saw the device's value to them, and built themselves some. Simply constructed by attaching the skis to the metal legs of a litter and by tying ropes to the front and rear of the litter, the whole apparatus fits readily into the litter rack on a medical jeep.

The Texan has been in the Army since February 1942, and has participated in all of the 320th's bitterly fought battles—St. Lo, Mortain, Chateau-Salins, Saar River, and in the battle for Harlange, which some veteran officers described as the hardest and roughest of all. Pfc. Stoffels has been awarded the Combat Infantryman Badge.

Sgt. Alois Rohmer Cited For Service With Army In ETO

S. Sgt. Alois Rohmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Rohmer, has been cited for conspicuous meritorious and outstanding performance in military duty, the parents learned last week.

Sgt. Rohmer serves with an armed engineers battalion with the First Army in the ETO. He has been overseas 19 months. The citation reads in part: "For outstanding service and devotion to duty while engaged with the enemy during period 7 August, 1944, to 31 December, 1944."

Sgt. Rohmer entered the army in December, 1941, and trained at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., Camp Polk, La., and Fort Benning, Ga. He recently met his brother, Pfc. Albert Rohmer, in Belgium, and since then both are stationed in Germany.

CAR BADLY DAMAGED BY FIRE MONDAY

Johnny Moser's car was badly damaged by fire Monday in an accident at a local garage. Moser was outing the garage's welding equipment to mend a door and a spark from the torch ignited the upholstery. It was only a minor flame and he was intending to brush it out, but called instead to a garage employee to bring a bucket of water to make sure the blaze was put out.

The employee, in the rush, grabbed a bucket and flung the contents on the small burning spot. There was a zip and the entire interior was a mass of flame. The bucket had contained gasoline.

GERMAN SOUVENIR

Pvt. Richard Swirczynski sent his parents a swastika souvenir from Germany removed from a Focke-Wulf 190 after the plane had been downed by the ack-ack of the 552nd AAA AW Battalion of which he is a member.

TRANSFERRED TO ILL.

Cpl. Paul Yosten was recently transferred from Aberdeen, Maryland, to Rock Island, Illinois, his wife reported this week. He is connected with Ordnance.

BACK IN STATES

Joe Cason, seaman first class, with the Navy, telegraphed his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Cason Monday from San Francisco, advising that he is back in the states and will be home on leave soon. He serves as a gunner aboard a Merchant Marine ship and has been doing sea duty for almost a year.

SOUVENIRS FROM FRANCE

Mrs. Joe Felderhoff and daughters have received a number of interesting souvenirs from their son and brother, Arthur Felderhoff, SIC, from France. The package contained statuettes of the Eiffel Tower, bracelets, necklaces, foreign coins and an assortment of pictures. Arthur, member of the Seabees, is at present in England.

Frank Yosten was back at Waples Painter company this week after a week's absence on account of illness.

City Goes Dry As Water System Fails Sunday

Supply Back To Normal As City Pump Repairs Are Made Wednesday

Muenster was without city water this week when its deep well pump failed to deliver. The pump's mechanism went out at 9 p. m. Sunday and the supply in the tower went down rapidly Monday morning. By noon the tank was empty and water from the reservoir was exhausted by night.

This is the first time since 1939 that the city's pump failed to deliver.

A crew of men worked feverishly to repair the pump and the city used water sparingly. An order for pump parts was rushed to Houston by Ben Seyler who left by auto during the night Sunday. While the pump was idle Monday pumping equipment was removed and it was discovered, going down into the well, that other pump parts were worn and needed re-placements and another order went out by telephone for repairs. These parts were expected by Wednesday noon and a return to regular pumping schedule was anticipated by Thursday.

Meanwhile water was pumped, during the night on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, into the city tank from the FMA's well while the cheese plant was not operating and it took care of most necessities for use in homes.

This is the second time since the city installed its water system in 1932 that the supply failed.

The city council at its February meeting authorized the drilling of a new deep well and the installation of a new large pump and plans for the project go forward as quickly as present existing war conditions permit.

The council is of the opinion that with the present repair job being made the city well and pump will be on a par with a new one and no further trouble will result. This well and pump will be retained as an auxiliary after the new one is operating.

Local Grand Knight Arthur Endres presided as chairman and at the conclusion of the evening refreshments were served to some 150 members and guests.

GRAIN CROPS SUFFER FROM RAIN WHILE MILK RECEIPTS RISE

Rain is getting to be a serious problem to most farmers in this community. Grain crops suffer from too much moisture and fields are too wet to work for other crops.

Another rain Tuesday night brought one inch of precipitation making rainfall since March first total 11 1-2 inches.

Pastures, however, are thriving on the wet weather and milk production is up at the FMA cheese plant. Receipts at the plant Tuesday were 52,157 pounds as compared with 44,736 pounds for the corresponding day last year.

T-5 Michael J. Kupper Is War Casualty In Germany February 14

Pfc. Ted Voth Is Home After 3 Years In S W Pacific

Pfc. Theodore C. Voth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Barney Voth, arrived in Muenster Sunday for a 21-day furlough after spending 34 months overseas in the South West Pacific theatre of operations, where he served with the 24th Infantry Division.

Ted, as he is best known to his friends, looks well and says he feels fit, in spite of all the long and strenuous fighting he has gone through. Most of his conversation is removed from the battle field, it centers chiefly around his friends and acquaintances here and about progress the home town has made since he's been away. "I've never been so glad to get anywhere as I am right now, being home," he emphasized, grinning, and added, "Let's talk about Muenster, not the Philippines, I'm way behind on news," and he becomes the question asker, not the answerer.

Ted entered the service in February, 1942, and trained at Camp Wolters, leaving in July of the same year for Hawaii. After 7 months there he was sent to Australia and then to New Guinea, and went on through the hard fought battles of the 24th Division which led the island-hopping doughboys to the invasion of the Philippines. His last station before returning home was at Leyte.

On completion of his furlough he will report to Hot Springs, Ark., and then to a station for re-assignment in the states.

Memorial Services And Military Rites Set For 9 A. M. This Friday At Lindsay Church

Technician Fifth Grade Michael J. Kupper 35, son of Joe Kupper, Lindsay, is a casualty of war, the father learned Sunday through a telegram from the War Department.

According to the telegram death occurred on February 14 in Germany. The message stated further that this information was released through the International Red Cross. Early in January this year T-5 Kupper was reported missing in action and it is conceded that he died in a German prisoner of war camp, possibly from wounds received in action before being taken prisoner. Details, as yet, are not available.

Memorial services with full military honors will be held at Saint Peter's church, Lindsay, at 9 a. m. this Friday morning with Rev. Conrad Herda, pastor, officiating at the requiem high mass, and with a detachment of soldiers from Camp Howze in charge of the military services.

Surviving T-5 Kupper are his father, four brothers: Sgt. Raymond Kupper and Cpl. Andrew Kupper in the European theatre of operations, John and Robert Kupper, Lindsay, and two sisters, Mrs. Adolph Fuhrmann, Bode, Iowa, and Miss Anna Kupper, Lindsay.

The deceased was born in Lindsay on April 13, 1910, and attended the Lindsay school. He farmed with his father until 1940 then spent two years in Dallas working in a war plant. He was called to join the army in January, 1942, and began his basic training at Camp Wolters. From there training with a tank division took him to Fort Knox, Ky., Camp Polk, La., Camp Rice, Calif., and Camp Pickett, Pa. He called for overseas duty from Indian Town Gap, Pa., and was stationed in England before entering the field of action.

Mrs. Fuhrmann and little daughter, Marjorie Rose, left Iowa immediately after receiving the message of her brother's death and are here with her father. They were accompanied by her niece, Miss Bernice Thill.

7TH WAR LOAN DRIVE TO OPEN MAY 14TH; GOAL 14 BILLIONS

The Treasury will open the Seventh War Loan Drive on May 14, with a goal of 14 billion dollars, the Department announces. One objective of this drive will be the sale of seven billion dollars worth of Government Securities to individuals. This is the largest quota ever set for individuals in a war loan drive.

As a part of the campaign to raise this amount, an intensive program for the sale of Series E Bonds began Monday, April 9, in plants and factories.

"It is clear," Secretary Morgenthau said, "that federal expenditures are going to remain at a high level for some time to come. It is also apparent that funds in the hands of non-bank investors will continue to increase sharply under present conditions. It is highly desirable to channel as much of these funds as possible into Government security investment, and to put them to work in the prosecution of the war."

MOSAICS
of Sacred Heart High

By Jewel Marie Hoffman and Theresa Mae Peis

The high school boys and girls payed their respects to Sister Geraldine Thursday, April 5, on her feast day. After some of the boys succeeded in getting her to go to the parish hall, the entire student body gathered in the senior-junior room, where they remained until her return. On her arrival, she was greeted with a Feast Day song. She was then presented with a box of fruit and candy. Jewel Marie Hoffman made the presentation and thanked Sister Geraldine, in behalf of all the students, for her kindness and help to us during the course of the year. We hope that we will be able to celebrate many more feast days with her.

What's wrong Juniors and Seniors? Why so studious during the noon hour? Could the poem "Crossing the Bar" be the cause of it all?

The sophomore class learned all about roots in botany: fibrous, aquatic, adventitious, tap, and aerial roots. When asked in Geometry class whether they knew anything about square roots, the reply was: "No, we have not had that kind of root in Botany yet."

Several members of the Latin II class again participated in the Latin contest sponsored by the National Association for the Promotion of the study of Latin.

At last! The solution to the problem that has been harassing us all year. We have solved the problem for having such heavy assignments all year. The extra books serve as weights to keep the students from being blown away by the wind.

Billy Joe has had the misfortune of losing his new class ring. We can understand your grief, Billy Joe. So anyone finding a 1945 Sacred Heart class ring with the initials W. J. M. please return it to him.

SENIORS ON PARADE

This week we have chosen to give a short history of two of our nine wonderful seniors of 1945. They are none other than Dolores Lehnerz and Mildred Wiesman.

Dolores Lehnerz
 She is just simply 'Dolly' to all who know her. Her winning smile and jovial, apparently carefree disposition combined with her slightly shy, good natured manner, make her a very lovable character to all the students. She is not the star of her class in her A. B. and C's; yet Dolly holds a most enviable record, that few can boast of or be proud of. She holds a perfect attendance record for all four years of her high school career. She is small; but in athletics we say "she may be small, but she is mighty."

Mildred Wiesman
 A tall blonde is this note-worthy senior. She has always been the leader of her class in her studies, during the four years of her high school. She is our senior "A" student. We might call her our bookworm for her hobby seems to be reading. But she is not one-sided by any means. She is just as serious in the spiritual as in the material as one observes from her almost daily attendance at the Altar Table. On the volley-ball courts, she is number one.

School Daze

MÜNSTER PUBLIC SCHOOL.

The nice spring days, scarce as they have been this year, have been thoroughly enjoyed at school. The softball teams are working up quite a lot of competition. Mrs. Thompson's room has a lot of trouble with the older boys when they play together. An onlooker can't see why the little boys fuss at them because they seem to be able to hold their own playing ball.

The boys think maybe Joan Sanner, Pat Ezell and Alene Moore are improving as ball players. The only trouble is that they dislike fish so much they are afraid to catch a fly.

Donald Brent who has been suffering from a felon on his thumb is getting practice as umpire. All of the classes had a good time on their Easter egg hunts. Miss Luke's room was entertained by Mrs. Edelen and Mrs. Standefer, who went to a lot of work to plan the party.

Mrs. Robertson, Mrs. Evans and Mrs. Thompson arranged the egg hunt and weiner roast for their room at Mrs. Thompson's home. The whole room wishes to take this opportunity to thank them for the party.

The Junior and Senior classes had a fine time at their party. If some of the townspeople wonder why they were scurrying around so far, it was to find c'ues to where the eggs were hidden and where the food was.

Miss Luke's room has a new pupil, Donald Ray Harris, from Providence, Rhode Island. Welcome to our school Donald.

The Primary rooms have the P. T. A. Program this Friday. The Rhythm Band will play "Amerville" and the children will dance folk dances, including "Children's Polka," "Colonial Dance" and "Come and Dance in a Circle."

Tuesday, April 10, Mrs. Edelen entertained Miss Luke's room with a birthday party in honor of Klough. The children enjoyed the lovely cake and refreshments. Additional guests were June Edelen, Louis Edelen, Donald Joe Fisher, Mary Lynn Mitchell and Della Nell Burchfield.

The fourth, fifth and sixth grades worked on themes and poems on the Easter theme. One of the best follows:

EGG HUNT AT NIGHT
By Murlin Joe Evans
Easter comes in early spring and with it little children sing.
The children hunt the eggs so gay along the fence and in the hay.
The eggs colored so pretty and bright,
each one looks like a colored light.
Red and yellow, blue and white
I hope I find a lot tonight.

CHEMICAL SEED TREATMENT
By Albert Brient, County Agent
Chemical treatment of cotton, peanut, and grain and sweet sorghum seeds selected for planting this year is a proved means of obtaining a better stand of plants and increased yields. According to Albert Brient, county agent, treatment of cotton planting seed also reduces damage from seedling diseases, such as damping off, sore shin and anthracnose. Other benefits are reduction of damage from angular leaf spot and bacterial boll rot, along with increased seedling vigor. Plants which are vigorous and healthy during the first few weeks make possible early cultivation to control grass and weeds.
Tests at the Temple Experiment sub-station with cerasan, arasan, spergon and other chemicals during a two-year period showed an average increase of 168 pounds of seed cotton per acre with fuzzy seed. Brient says the cost was about ten cents an acre for the chemical. Directions on the container of the chemical should be followed closely.

Grain and sweet sorghum seed always should be treated if kernel smut is present. But Brient says it usually pays also to treat seed which is free of smut. It gives better germination, especially with heavy and fetterite seed which do not germinate well unless moisture and soil temperature conditions are favorable.

Brient believes it is a wise practice to treat peanut seed chemically for better stands and yield. But tests show it is more important to apply the treatment to machine shelled seed than to hand shelled or unshelled seed. For this purpose, he recommends either two ounces of arasan or three ounces of two per cent cerasan or spergon per hundred pounds of seed. But he cautions against using the five per cent cerasan on peanuts because it causes seed injury.

Further details of chemical seed treatment can be obtained at the county agents office.

Two GOOD Reasons
Whenever you are sorely tempted to cash in a War Bond—for whatever reason—think for a moment.
There are many great reasons why you should not cash in your Bonds before they mature—before they pay you back $4 for every $3 you've invested.
The first—and greatest—reason is that you are an American, and you have pledged yourself to back American fighting men with all your strength, courage and character.
The second greatest reason is that by cashing in Bonds you may be risking the future of your children.
For the War Bonds you keep today can spell the security of your child's tomorrow.
Don't depend on tomorrow to take care of itself. Remember—no job is as sure as your Bond. Don't cash in a single one before its time.

Coming: "Thirty Seconds Over Tokyo"

This year the district camp will be at Glen Rose, we were notified. A special meeting is pending for April 25.

And now we introduce another of our honorable seniors. Our next in line is a very familiar figure on the campus, our own Beatrice Block. She is better known as "Tootsie." In her disposition she is cheerful and friendly, and she has been voted the prettiest girl of the 1945 senior group. She is president of the 4-H Club and as such has proved her ability and leadership. In social circles Beatrice is popular. As a student at Lindsay High she has done steady, solid work during the four years.

The next introduction is Mary Louise Bezner. Vivacity blended with friendliness, and the ability to derive pleasure from the simple things of life make Mary Louise a sure success in social affairs. She is the "willow" senior who loves to entertain her companion on the volley-ball courts with her charming dances. In school she is noted for her interruptions during classes, especially during chemistry class. She serves on the county committee as a representative of the 4-H Club and is food demonstrator for the club. We know Mary Louise will make a big success of herself.

Wonder why Typing I class is so anxious to get the Junior O.A.T. tests? And what happened to the green freshies and the silly sophs last Thursday? Surely they weren't naughty! Why was Wm. Hermes so very happy one early morning last week? Because his report card was good? No, no, because he has a new twin brother and sister. How lucky!

The Seniors and Juniors enjoyed their Easter egg hunt immensely. Sincerest thanks to the sponsors.

'WILSON' SHOWING AT RELAX THEATRE IN MUESTER

'Wilson,' Darryl F. Zanuck's 20th Century Fox Picture in Technicolor, coming to the Relax Theatre, Muenster, this Thursday and Friday, is a heart-warming story of a family—an era—a nation—a world! The story is told in the rousing rhythms of 87 beloved songs, ringing against a vast backdrop of spectacle, romance and excitement, unprecedented, as 12,000 players sweep through 200 mighty scenes.

Heading the gigantic cast in the title role is Alexander Knox. Charles Coburn is Henry Holmes, Ruth Nelson the first Mrs. Wilson, and Geraldine Fitzgerald, the second wife. Thomas Mitchell is cast as the secretary, Sir Cedric Hardwicke as Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, William Eythe as a Princeton student, Mary Anderson, Ruth Ford and Madeline Forbes as the daughters, and Vincent Price as William McAdoo are just a few of the many familiar characters of the era.

The story is as truthfully and as honestly told, as any man's story can be told. And for the future of the League of Nations conceived by Wilson as a preventative against future wars, the blame is clearly laid at our own door, that of the American people.

There will be two matinees and two night shows, the Relax management has announced. The Thursday matinee, a special show, is exclusively for students. The Friday matinee, for general patronage, begins at 2:30, and both night shows, Thursday and Friday are set for 8 o'clock. Prices: Friday matinee: adults 76 cents, children 40 cents. Nights: Adults 1.10, children 55c.

FARMERS HAVE UNTIL APRIL 25 TO PLACE COTTON INSURANCE

Cooke County farmers have until April 25 to place their 1945 crop of American Upland cotton under protection of the all-risk Federal crop insurance program, according to J. T. Biffle, Jr., chairman of the county AAA committee.

Under the new insurance program, farmers will have a choice of two insurance contracts, one providing coverage up to 75 per cent of the average yield, and the other up to 50 per cent. The insurance provides coverage against crop losses from drought, floods, hail, wind, frost, winter-kill, wild-life, hurricanes, insects, plant diseases and other hazards determined by the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation to be unavoidable.

Contracts are now being written by county AAA committeemen and other authorized agents in the county. Mr. Biffle said, Contracts must be signed before the crop is planted, and at least 50 applications must be made before crop insurance becomes effective in the county.

The stage of the cotton crop's development will determine the maximum indemnity to be recovered in the event of loss. Mr. Biffle said, If a loss occurs after it's too late to replant to cotton, but prior to the first cultivation, the indemnity would be 40 per cent of the maximum insured production. The land, of course, would be released for another crop. Losses occurring after the first cultivation and the end of harvest would be indemnified to the extent of 75 per cent of the maximum covered indemnity for losses occurring after harvest, but before delivery to the gin would be 100 per cent of the maximum coverage. Indemnities payable under the program may be used as collateral security for government sponsored commodity loans.

Crop insurance is the only means of protecting crop investments from the innumerable hazards that go with cotton growing," Mr. Biffle explained. "It offers assured production returns from planting to delivery at the gin. It seems to me that most farmers who need returns from their cotton crops, need crop insurance."

Pennies are legal tender only up to 25 cents. Therefore, a creditor cannot be forced to accept more than 25 pennies in payment of a debt.

strategy is like that of the feather weight against the heavyweight—take a poke when there isn't much danger of getting one in return. Something else he pointed out is that the primary purpose of his tanks is to meet enemy infantry, and the Sherman did that job very well while accounting for quite a number of enemy tanks in the bargain. And we can see by the trend of events in Europe that his system got results.

After pointing out that he did fairly well with the light tanks, Patton gives the critics a few ideas to mull over: Tanks as heavy as the Tiger would have seriously

He also states that the Tiger, being so heavy and unwieldy, has many features of a good gun, but too few features of real armor.
