

Muenster P.O. readies changes ...

911 addressing system offers swifter response

by Janet Felderhoff
It's the middle of the night and someone in your household is having a medical emergency. You place a 911 call to Cooke County EMS. In your dazed state it is difficult to give directions to your residence which is in the country. In the dark landmarks will be difficult to find. Time is wasted as you struggle to give clear directions to the dispatcher. Should the EMS crew get a miscue in directions they could become lost, taking more time to reach the person in need of medical attention.

This or similar circumstances have occurred due to lack of an adequate means of locating rural residences. That is changing. Cooke County has been working towards implementing a 911 Rural Addressing system for about four years now. That system will soon be up and running.

"A route and box number doesn't tell you where anyone lives so this is actually city style addressing for everyone in the county," said EMS Director Bob Harbin. It is being done in conjunction with the telephone companies and the U. S. Postal Service. Instead of a route and box number, an address will give an exact location.

All residents in unincorporated areas of the county will have new physical addresses. Those with boxes at the post office will retain their mailing address. All rural residents on rural mail routes will have new mailing addresses. Those who live within the city limits, but receive their mail on a route will not be affected since their street address is used.

"If your address is a route and box, it will change," said Muenster Postmaster Virgil Henscheid. He estimates that roughly 400 people will be affected locally. By postal regulations people have up to one year to get their addresses changed. That should give them time to use up checks letterheads, etc.

"It will greatly speed up the ability for emergency services, fire, police, and EMS, to get to the person," remarked Mr. Harbin. "It will also give a better addressing system to companies like UPS, Airborne Express and all those who deliver packages. It will greatly enhance the U. S. Postal Service's ability to deliver the mail. This was actually started a number of years ago to help the U. S. Postal Service. There needed to be a system to enhance the emergency services and the Postal Service came up with this brilliant plan to re-address everything in the United States."

Muenster routes should receive notification of their new addresses within the next two to three weeks. The addresses have already been approved by the local post office. Once approved by the Fort Worth office and returned, the letters noting the change will be sent.

Along with the letter advising them of the new address, residents will receive a postage-paid card which gives the telephone company permission to change their address in the PSAP (answering point for all 911 calls). Failure to return this card will slow down the entry process and could even result in someone being missed in the 911 Addressing system. That would mean that the old system would have to be used to locate them in an emergency.

Before utilities can be turned on to any new home, the owner must visit the Rural Addressing office at 303 S. Chestnut Street in Gainesville to be assigned their correct address. All addresses are being set at 1,000 per mile.

Buildings that are used as businesses were also assigned addresses.

At the Nov. 10 Commissioners Court meeting the county decided to purchase a GPS rover unit to use in addressing new subdivisions. The cost was just under $8,000. With that piece of equipment future addresses in the county will be kept accurate. A GPS unit receives every two seconds a reading longitude and latitude allowing very accurate addresses.

"This data base currently has the citizens' names in it, but all we're really interested in is the residence and the telephone number," Harbin explained. "We're not going to try to keep up with who lives where."

When the new 911 system is fully operational, a call placed to 911 will show up on the dispatcher's computer screen. A red circle will identify the location of the call. With the simple movement of the computer's mouse, an enlargement of the area shows the dispatcher the location and the roads leading to it. EMS Director Bob Harbin said that they hope to be using the Cooke County EMS Dispatcher Kellie Sanders will soon have a more efficient means of directing emergency vehicles to the aid of those who call for assistance. When 911 Rural Addressing is completed, the computer will show the location from which a call is being placed and also which route to take to reach the scene.

Holiday celebrations scheduled by Cooke County Republicans

The Cooke County Republican Party is going to celebrate the Holiday Season with a dinner and dance and the Honorable Sam Johnson, Congressman from the 3rd District (parts of Dallas and Collin Counties) as their speaker. This will take place in the Sacred Heart Community Center on Saturday, Dec. 6 with the reception beginning at 6 p.m., dinner at 7 p.m., and at 8 p.m. a dance with music by Vintage Country.

Tickets are $35 each with eight at a table. Underwriters are $800 per table (they will have pictures with Congressman Johnson and their name in the program). Sponsors are $400 per table (they will have their name in the program).

Congressman Johnson, a "Top Gun", who was shot down in Vietnam, was a POW in "Hotel Hanoi" for seven years, of that three and a half years in solitary confinement. He received two Silver Stars, two Legion of Merit, Distinguished Flying Cross, one Bronze Star with Valor, two Purple Hearts, four Air Medals, and three outstanding Unit Awards.

As a small businessman who began a home building company, Congressman Johnson has brought that experience to Washington and because of this experience has also been recognized for his leadership in the Congress with the U. S. Chamber of Commerce "Spirit of Enterprise" Award, the Watchdog of the Treasury

Award, and the National Federation of Independent Business "Guardian of Small Business" Award. He has high ratings from the National Taxpayers Union, Citizens for a Sound Economy, the Christian Coalition and Citizens Against Government Waste.

Congressman Johnson serves as Assistant Whip to Majority Whip Tom DeLay. As a member of the Whip organization, Johnson works to "grow the vote" for Republican initiatives in the House. He will speak to those initiatives and the concerns we in Cooke County have.

For further information or reservations please call: Republican Headquarters, 665-VOTE (8683), invitations not necessary.

Muenster Volunteer Firemen prepare to re-enter the smoky residence of Lois Cook at 609 N. Main. Local firemen were called to the scene at 11:45 a.m. Wednesday to extinguish a fire which started in the southwest bedroom. Muenster Fire Chief Herbie Knabe reported that the fire didn't take long to put out because it was oxygen deprived.

There was extensive damage in the bedroom and heat and smoke damage to the rest of the house, especially the back. An investigation revealed that the fire was started from an electric blanket on the bed which was left on for some time. There was nobody at home at the time of the fire.

Muenster ISD ranks higher than state, regional counterparts in 30 categories

by Steve Cooper
Muenster ISD recently received its yearly Academic Excellence Indicator System Report (AEIS) from the Texas Education Agency. This report is sent, annually, to each school district in the state. It analyzes academics, finances, staffing patterns, etc., and compares these with state and regional numbers. Out of 30 areas of academic comparison, MISD ranked higher (substantially so in most categories) than their state and regional counterparts in each of the 30 categories mentioned. An example would be the sum of all tests taken in grades 3-8 and 10 as listed below:

These scores and other indicators, such as MISD's attendance rate of 97.7% and MISD's drop out rate of 0%, contribute to Muenster Schools being ranked exemplary for the 1996-97 school year. MISD's academic performance is particularly impressive when considering the large margin in score comparisons. It is also important to point out consistency, as MISD has enjoyed higher comparative scores for the past 4 years which is as long as the rating system has been comparing school districts with their state and regional counterparts. Financial information found in the report gives Muenster ISD a very low cost per pupil expenditure as compared to state, regional, and other groups. This low cost per pupil expenditure always means the taxpayer is getting a good return on their tax dollar. This report is for public viewing and can be found in the administration offices on each campus, the superintendent's office, the high school library and copy has been given to our local paper, the Muenster Enterprise.

system by this coming January or February.

Mr. Harbin noted that all EMS vehicles, sheriff's department vehicles, and rural fire department vehicles will carry detailed maps of the county. Calls from cellular phones to report fires or accidents will not indicate a location at first. The present system in which the caller gives directions will then be used. Within two years it is anticipated that it will be possible to pick up to within 500 feet the location from which a cellular call is placed, said Harbin.

Rural residents are asked to post their address at their drive. It is hoped that everyone will willingly comply. If not the County Court could impose fines for failure to properly post addresses. "What we are wanting is a house-style number either put on a post or the house itself, if the house is visible from the road," remarked Harbin. Address signs must be in contrasting colors at least four feet off the ground. They can be put on the mailbox or on signposts. The county will make signs at cost for citizens who request them.

Residents can help speed up the completion of this system by returning their cards promptly. Those who wish to order their signs from the county should contact the Rural Addressing office for more information. Failure to post the new address or to return the card could result in difficulty getting prompt response from the EMS or Sheriff's Department due to difficulty in locating the residence.

New county maps can be purchased at this time. They are large color maps and there is a charge. Smaller maps will be printed by the county as soon as all of the data is entered into the PSAP. The smaller maps will be given free of charge. All citizens are encouraged to pick one up since they need to become familiar with the new road names and with their new address.

"We're very excited about this," noted Bob Harbin. "I think this is really going to help the emergency services and the citizens in Cooke County. We're looking forward to it."

From My Side of the Fence

by Ed Cler

After living in the town of Garland for some six and a half years, Aileen and I and our two oldest children moved to the Lehnertz farm three miles west of Muenster.

We had gotten used to paved roads, and the "roads" here were, after a wet spell, just about impossible.

Road commissioners had done almost nothing to improve, or even maintain, the dirt roads that turned to quagmire after a protracted rainy spell.

Just getting to Muenster to buy our necessities got to be a big problem. But then we worked out a deal between Alphonse Hoeng, a neighbor to the south, and Walter and Leo Becker. Alphonse would drive his pickup, and the rest of us rode along to push, when it became necessary.

This arrangement, though far from being satisfactory, allowed us to take care of our needs.

In the fall of '48, we elected Earle Taylor Commissioner of Precinct 3. Frankly, most didn't expect Earle to make any real changes, but we soon realized we had a man who at least wanted to help, and was willing to work for us.

Earle's big problem was a lack of funds. After he took over the reins of our precinct, he found he had some loading equipment and a few trucks, but couldn't afford to buy material to improve our roads.

He finally asked some of the landowners in the area to take down fences, and allow him to haul gravel and material from the Calichi rock formations that are so plentiful in the area.

Well, it didn't take long to lay a fence down, and Earle and his crew went to work. Mr. Taylor told me he covered about five miles of roads with material from our place. The material was coarse and rough, but after T. Vogel worked it over repeatedly with a maintainer, it made a usable and passable road, in any weather.

With the blessing of his constituents, Earle held his position for, I believe, 26 years, and many of us were not happy to see him retire, although we all wished him the best.

It was not unusual for Earle to haul a few yards of gravel for a farmer now and then, when they were in need of it.

After going into the A grade dairy business, Mr. Taylor filled some spots for me, at my request.

Since then this practice is taboo. No longer can we get a load in our driveway, or have the county drag our private lane occasionally. The main cause of this ban is a few folks who feel that this county is spending tax money on private property, but have forgotten what private landowners have done for the County.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

In the past month as word has spread about a new youth center for Sacred Heart Parish, I have been asked a couple times about the need of a youth center at all. The answer is a definite yes. Those people who have had anything to do with youth ministry in the past twelve years can attest to the fact that many people have been asking for one all down through those years and even before as well.

The constantly recurring theme of the need of a youth center is simple: "We just have to have a place where our young people can just go and hang out." I have heard this countless times in my brief ten years of living in Muenster. Students themselves have expressed the desire to have some place in town where they could go. Students in the past have written about it in the Muenster Enterprise, as well as have spoken about it amongst themselves and in school and in the youth ministry. Students today are still saying that they would definitely go to such a place.

Such a hang-out as the St. Joseph Youth Center would have games like pool, ping-pong, pinball machines, board games and more available to the students. It would have a television, wholesome videos, stereo/CD/tape player for tunes to fill the air, pizza and snacks for a nominal price, and more.

It would be a place where they could come and enjoy it after school or an evening of what time they had.

A common question with these few people wondering about a youth center and this is why can't the Community Center or KC Hall work for this? The Community Center is definitely out because it is already being used so much, it is literally impossible to try to establish some kind of regularity needed for a youth center. Also, it is rather difficult to set up and take down things like pool table pinball machines, sound equipment and the like, and likewise hard on the equipment. The KC Hall would work mainly because there is no chance of a regular place there either, as the Knights of use it, as do the Catholic Daughters when they prepare meals for funerals. These places, although they make excellent meeting halls for the occasional retreat or youth event, are not at all conducive to being a youth center. Besides, as we all know, paying customers always get the building ahead of the youth ministry. In short, these buildings won't do.

There are some thoughts for you. If you have any questions, don't be afraid of contacting me!

Sincerely in Christ
Eric B. Gra
Coordinator of Youth Ministry

Dear Editor:

I would like to tell the mean teenagers who egged our pickup and front porch off. We didn't know our porch was egged for 2 weeks as everyone uses our back door and you can imagine how hard it is to get that egg yolks off the screens and trim around the windows and the porch floor. These kids have no respect for other peoples property. I hope when they are senior citizens someone gets even with them, what goes around comes around. We gave out candy to at least 50 kids before we turned off the porch light. wish trick or treating was banned from our town after 4 years of giving out candy and running to the front door, I'm sick of it. You kids who did it you're not cute showing off to the kids you run around with who won't think any more of you, and in fact, will think less and less of you as time goes by. You probably laughed after you did it and you thought you were cool and in fact, you were very stupid and ignorant.

Hennigan, Nervo marry in Denton Oct. 19

Donna Louise Hennigan and Nicholas Jean-Paul Nervo of Arlington were married in a traditional double-ring wedding ceremony on Sunday, Oct. 19, 1997 at 3:00 p.m., at the Little Chapel-In-The-Woods at Texas Woman's University in Denton. Chaplain Larry Davis of Denton officiated.

Daughter of Arthur and Rachel Hennigan of Muenster, and granddaughter of Odilia Lutkenhaus of Muenster, the bride is a Registered Nurse; she is a graduate of the University of Texas at Arlington with a Bachelor of Science Degree in Nursing.

The groom is the son of Louise Nervo of New York City, and the foster son of Joy Jordan of Tequesta, Florida. He is currently a student at the University of North Texas at Denton, and is in his final year of the Master's Degree program in Finance.

The bride was attired in a long ballgown of white satin, which featured sweetheart neckline and beaded Basque waist. Short puffed sleeves were accented with Alencon lace, sequins and pearls. The skirt extended into a chapel-length train enhanced with lace window-pane cutouts, which were gathered to the center back of the train by a large satin bow. The back of the dress had a heart-shaped keyhole neckline accented with hanging pearl strands. A bow embellished the back of the waist.

Her matching veil of tulle was held by a floral wreath adorned with Alencon lace, pearls, roses, and sequins, with a pouf in back that flowed gracefully into triple, fingertip layers of tulle with scattered pearls.

She carried a long cascading all-white bouquet of roses, lilies, stephanotis, lily-of-the-valley, and gypsophila, with satin ribbons. A white, heirloom lace handkerchief, gift from her mother, was carried for "something old." A garter was "something blue" and her pearl and rhinestone necklace and earrings were "something new."

ATTENDANTS

Linda Coursey of Gainesville, bride's aunt was matron of honor. She wore a peach, teal-length flowing organza gown with Grecian-styled bodice embossed with metallic gold threading. A rhinestone bow was attached at the front waistline. Her white, picture hat was trimmed with gold ribbon, pearls and an attached gold bow at the back. The hat was a gift from the bride. She held a nosegay of peach Gerber daisies, white roses, peach mini-carnations and gypsophila.

Neil Mansfield of Denton, friend of the groom, was best man.

Robert Coursey of Gainesville, bride's uncle was usher.

The chapel altar was decorated with white candelabra and arrangements of peach mums, Gerber daisies and white gladioli. White satin bows marked pews.

Wedding music presented by Ruth Felderhoff pianist and Christy Hesse vocalist, both of Muenster, included: "Wind Beneath My Wings," "Twelfth of Never," "Somewhere, My Love," and music from "Thornbirds" as the prelude. "Sunrise, Sunset" for the mother's song; "Eres Tu" instrumental for entrance of the matron of honor; Wagner's "Wedding March" for the bride's entry; and "Amazing Grace," and "How Great Thou Art," which were sung following Readings from a Bible belonging to the groom, a gift from Joy Jordan and her late husband Tom Jordan. The recessional was Purcell's "Trumpet Tune."

RECEPTION

A reception followed at Hubbard Hall on campus. Attending the guest book were Lisa Hess of Hurst, bride's sister, and Rose Imbawi of Arlington, friend of the bride. The bridal portrait and a white floral arrangement graced the registration table. Adding special sentiment was a personalized white leather marriage Bible and a crystal wedding bell, gifts from the matron-of-honor.

The dining room area was decorated with an array of peach and yellow flowers, bells, candles, and tulle, accented with gold. An elegant gourmet meal was served, while harp music was played in the background.

The all white, three-tiered wedding cake was accented with peach and white flowers, encircled with ivy.

Atop the keepsake layer was a ceramic bride and groom figurine, the chocolate groom's cake was covered with chocolate-dipped strawberries.

Lending special significance at the cake table was a blessed, gold rosary, gift from the matron-of-honor.

Dancing followed dinner. The couple's first dance was to an instrumental selection "Europa" by Santana.

Upon return from their wedding trip, the couple will reside in Arlington.

Home Hospice plans Light Up A Life program

Members of Home Hospice of Cooke County, the only locally based non-profit branch of Hospice, held their monthly meeting Thursday, Nov. 6, at Whaley Methodist Church. Linda Lira reported that thirty-five people are addressing over fifteen hundred invitations to Cooke County residents to participate in Hospice's annual Light Up A Life campaign, which supports the Hospice program throughout the year, as does its 307 members.

Light Up A Life trees will be at Tom Thumb's, Beall's, and the Factory Shops Mall. For contributions of ten dollars or more, a loved one may be remembered with an angel on one of the trees, and a note will be sent to the family of the person remembered, whether living or deceased. Many husbands, wives, parents, and other family members, as well as friends may be honored in a way which helps member of the community spend their final months in security and with dignity. For those with a terminal illness, Hospice provides, either at home or in a home-like setting, the treatment and care necessary for physical, emotional and spiritual well being.

For more information about Hospice or Light Up A Life, you may call the Hospice office, 665-9891.

Theresa Mae Walterscheid is the Muenster representative on the Light Up A Life campaign.

Library Book Review

by Kay Broyles

"Change of Heart" by Claire Sylvia - This is a true story of a woman who receives a heart and lung transplant, and how this surgery changed her life. Claire gives us a full account of her emotional and psychological responses by sharing her life with us. She tells us how she lived before during and after the surgery.

How does it feel to know that someone had to die in order for you to be alive? This is an aspect that doctors are usually unwilling to discuss. But Claire and other transplant patients grapple with this issue and more. Many feel that they are sharing their bodies with that of their donor's. They experience the donor's likes and dislikes, memories and dreams. Claire's story explains how she confirmed that her new attitudes were in fact traits of her donor and not just her own fantasies.

This book is well worth reading, especially for anyone who has had any type of replacement surgery. The question that the book poses and explores is: Is the heart just a pump, or do our organs have cellular, genetic memory that transfers from body to body? This is a topic that we will be hearing more about as more and more transplant patients report this type of experience.

Destin turns two!!

Destin Kirby Fleitman

Destin Kirby Fleitman was honored with two recent birthday celebrations. The first was held on Friday, November 7 at Tender Loving Care, where she shared cupcakes and treat bags with friends and staff. Her second party was held on her actual birthdate of November 8 at the home of her parents, Jerry and Billie Fleitman. After a celebration hamburger dinner, Destin enjoyed sharing her "Barney" cake with her parents, her brothers Daniel and David, her grandmothers Aileen Dyer and Bertha Fleitman, and her godparents Sara and Don Lester. Her sister, Dobe was out of town, and unable to attend. However she phoned with special birthday greetings.

Mu Epsilon Chapter holds meeting, plan Dec. 2 party

Mu Epsilon Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma held its regular meeting on Wednesday, November 5 in the Lyceum at North Central Texas College. Hostesses for the afternoon meeting were the Callisburg ISD members.

The meeting was called to order by President Susan Terry. Twenty-two members were present. A devotional was presented by Mary Ann Foster. During the short business meeting the nominations committee was appointed. The members are Delores Glenn, Nelda Hudspeth, Shellie Brule, and Mary Ann Foster. The door prize was won by Ann Ford.

Program Chairman Patsy Wilson introduced Dr. Ron Delys, a member of the NCTC Psychology Department. Dr. Delys presented a program on Birth Order. Dr. Delys reported that in 1920 Dr. Alfred Adler said that birth order affects personality. Members took a test to see if they fit the "characteristics of their birth order." Dr. Delys then discussed the differences between the first born, middle born, later born and last born. Dr. Delys said that in fact discussing Birth Order is fun, but there is very little scientific evidence to support that birth order has a great impact on one's personality or achievement. Many factors contribute to who we are and how we turn out.

The next meeting will be the Christmas party at the Wooden Spoon Restaurant on Dec. 2 at 6 p.m. There will be fashion show, "Dress for Success", a gift exchange with an ABC theme. Members are urged to bring donation for Friends of the Family.

Refreshments were served during the social held after the program.

Muenster Band prepares for the Christmas holidays

The Muenster Band Booster Club met November 17 to decide on their holiday fundraisers.

There will be a bake sale on November 29 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. It will be in front of the Muenster School of Dance on Main Street. The band will perform there also at 1 p.m. and 2 p.m.

On Sunday, November 30, the Crafty Olde German will be sponsoring a fund-raiser along with the band. With a discount coupon, you may receive 20% off any purchase in the store. The 20% you save will then go directly to the band. The coupons will be sent home with all MISD students or you may pick one up at the store that day.

A Christmas Concert is planned for December 16 at school.

The Muenster Band Boosters ask you to come to Main Street and help support the kids who want to make the band one we can all be proud of!

Tiger Cubs learn about each other and Muenster heritage

The Tiger Cubs had their second den meeting November 11 at the Knights of Columbus Hall. Den leader, Ben Bindel, brought the meeting to order with all cubs and a parent present.

The cubs earned their tiger paw to wear on their belt for learning the motto and the promise. They also received their first orange and white beads to put on the tiger paw.

For big idea "Getting to know you," each boy stood up and told a little about himself.

An interesting tour of the Muenster museum was given by Christine Weinzapfel for big idea "Know your community."

The snack was brought by Tiger Cub John Rohmer.

Lindsay 8th grader will sing with All-Regional UIL Choir

Lindsay ISD eighth grader Kristan Tucker will sing with the All-Regional University Interscholastic League choir November 22 in Wichita Falls following her finish as sixth chair in the alto section during recent UIL music competition.

Kristan is the daughter of Johnny and Phyllis Tucker. She was named to the choir as a result of competition in the junior high Regional Choir Competition held November 1 in Wichita Falls. Representing Lindsay Middle School, Kristan sang cuts from the four prepared pieces. She has been preparing for this competition for about eight weeks. Lindsay ISD Music Teacher Fran Schully has been working with Kristan.

Kristan competed against seventh, eighth and ninth graders. Each student sang the identical cuts. She competed against approximately 100 other altos in attaining her sixth position chair in the alto section.

It is Kristan's intent to compete next year for UIL district high school choir. As a high school freshman, a singer can compete as a junior high or high school level singer. As a high school level singer, a soloist has the opportunity to advance to the All-State Choir.

Health Notes Infants thrive on stimulation

Peek-a-boo isn't just entertainment for your baby; it can be critical mental stimulation. "It's becoming more and more clear that infants must be stimulated or they will regress," said Dr. Charles Ginsburg, chairman of pediatrics at UT Southwestern Medical Center. He was one of the first physicians to campaign for greater public understanding of infant brain development.

Ginsburg said newborns need auditory, tactile and visual stimulation. So talk to babies, play with them — for the sake of their mental development.

Tigers finish football season

The Sacred Heart Tigers qualified for the TAPPS 2A football playoff as the third place team in district 1AA, taking on Saint Paul's of Shiner, 2AA runner-up. The Friday night contest, held at Marlin, proved to be a one-sided game, as the Cardinals defeated the Tigers 39-0.

"This was a tough loss. It eliminates us from the playoffs," noted Coach John Nasche. "We got beat by a better team. They out-played us and took advantage of all the opportunities. We had a hard time moving the ball and a hard time stopping them. They beat us on both sides of the ball."

The Tiger offense began the game, but couldn't move on the drive. Punting to the Tiger 35, it took only seven plays for the Cardinals to score. Aaron Hess blocked the extra point for a 6-0 score with 7:27 on the clock.

The Tigers next drive ended on the 3rd play with an intercepted pass. The next play though, Sacred Heart got the ball back when Matt Muller covered a fumbled ball. Again the Tigers punted, after gaining only 5 yards.

Saint Paul's quickly moved inside the Tiger 20 yard line, but defensive plays by Josh Walterscheid and Charlie Moster turned the ball over to Sacred Heart.

The Tigers began the second quarter with a punt on 4th and 16. From their opponents' 41, it took six plays to give the Cardinals a 13-0 lead after the extra point with 9:12 remaining in the first half.

The Tigers got their first drive down the next drive. A Matthew Fuhrmann pass to Jeff Yosten gained 8, then Yosten picked up another two on a fourth down call. The next plays went backwards and Sacred Heart punted.

Three plays later, Matthew Fuhrmann picked off a Cardinal pass, but three Tiger plays later saw Sacred Heart fumble the ball back to Saint Paul's. Shiner took advantage of the turnover and scored after three runs. The kick failed for a 19-0 game with 1:42 on the clock.

Sacred Heart got their second first down with a 15 yard Yosten run. A Fuhrmann to Moster pass gained another 9, then an intercepted pass stopped the drive. Four runs later, the Cardinals scored again 25-0, at the half-time.

Saint Paul's began the third quarter with a quick touchdown. On 4th and one, a 40 yard run stopped in the end zone. The PAT gave the Cardinals a 32-0 lead with 9:31 on the clock.

The Tigers second play of the second half was intercepted. Shiner moved the line to the Tiger 15, but flags kept the Cardinals from getting into the end zone. An attempted field goal went wide and the Tigers took over on the 20.

Again unable to gain any ground, the Tigers punted, putting Saint Paul on the Tiger 32. Shiner carried the ball into the final quarter and scored for a 39-0 lead.

The teams exchanged punts with Jeff Yosten getting in runs for 12, 9, 10, and 7 yards, helping the Tigers get two first downs before coming up short.

Shiner played out the remaining time to take the 39-0 victory.

"Injuries plagued us all year long. We missed as many as six starters at a time," Coach Nasche said, noting that Jeff Yosten, Jeff Hartman and Josh Walterscheid all played with dislocated shoulders.

Nasche named Aaron Hess, Jeff Yosten and Jon Grewing as offensive standouts in the game. On defense, Derek Fuhrmann, Matt Mueller and Waylan Hess were named.

"We will miss our talented group of seniors," the Coach continued. Jeff Yosten ended the season with 978 rushing yards. The "Hogs," Jon Grewing, Aaron Hess, Waylan Hess, David Hesse and Derek Fuhrmann, "will be an area lost with graduation." Matthew Fuhrmann "was a quarterback and an excellent defensive back. I hope some of these seniors will pursue football in college if they desire." Nasche concluded that he is looking forward to next season, where team speed should be better.

Knights win Bi-District, prepare to battle Bangs Dragons for Area

The Lindsay Knights pulled out a 30-14 bi-district championship win last Thursday night defeating the Haskell Indians from district 9AA. The victory advances the Knights into Area competition against 12AA leaders, the Bangs Dragons.

Bi-district action began with Adrian Anderle returning the opening kick 25 yards, then the Knights stalled. Haskell began their first drive on their 41 yard line, controlling the ball for a dozen plays, the final a 3 yard touchdown fumble covered by IV Burson. Michael Rodriguez added the extra point for a 7-0 game with 4:58 on the clock.

The Knights came right back, when Adrian Anderle returned the kick 80 yards for a Lindsay touchdown. Zach Fuhrmann added the extra point for a tied 7-7 game.

The Knight defense, led by Blake Crutsinger, Lambert Hess and Michael Mosman held the Indians to five yards, forcing the punt. A bad snap saw Mosman catch the punter for a 21 yard loss, giving Lindsay the ball on the 14 yard line. Corey Neu picked up five, then a pass was dropped in the end zone. Anderle gained four and on fourth and one, Neu got to the one yard line. With 56 seconds on the first quarter clock, Steven Tepera scored over the middle. Fuhrmann's kick gave the Knights a 14-7 lead.

Haskell carried the ball into the second quarter, once again taking a dozen plays to score. A 20 yard touchdown pass from John Abila to Cory Ivy and a Rodriguez kick tied the game 14-14 with 7:45 left on the clock.

Lindsay fumbled their first play after the kick return, but four plays later Bryan Covington intercepted a pass. Neu, Jeff Bezner and Tepera exchanged runs, but a quarterback sack and a flag forced a punt on 4th and 12.

The Indians got in a few good runs to the 11 yard line. Lindsay's defense stiffened, with Cody Secrest, Crutsinger, Chris Garner and Hess holding Haskell to one yard. A fourth down field goal failed and Lindsay played out the remaining 1:11 for a tied 14-14 half-time score.

"We had a couple of problems the first half, then played good the second," noted Lindsay Coach Charlie Meurer. "The second half we got the ball, controlled the ball and made the game."

Haskell's offense took to the field, but could not move against the Knight defense. A quarterback sack by Michael Mosman forced a punt.

The Knights took the ball on their 40 yard line. Runs by Anderle, Neu and Tepera moved the ball to the 37. A fourth and two fake punt saw Neu gain 6 yards, keeping the drive alive. Anderle, Neu and Bezner continued to move down field to the two yard line. The Knight offense then struggled and on 4th and goal, Zach Fuhrmann kicked a field goal to give Lindsay a 17-14 lead.

The Indians moved the ball into the fourth quarter, but a 4th down punt attempt again saw a bad snap. Dylan Newberry covered the ball for the Knights on the 9 yard line. Adrian Anderle picked up five, with Corey Neu going in the final four for the touchdown. Fuhrmann's kick was good to extend the Knight lead 24-14 with 11:09 remaining in the game.

Haskell's offense went to the air with Richie Alfrey breaking up two passes, making the Indians punt.

Starting on their seven yard line, Anderle picked up 11, 14 and 8 yards to the 40 yard line. Three runs by Corey Neu took Lindsay to Haskell's 42. Anderle gained another 11, then topped the drive with a 31 yard touchdown run. The PAT failed for a 30-14 score with

Tigerettes open season with win and loss

The Sacred Heart Tigerettes opened the 1997-98 basketball season on November 11, when Liberty Christian came to town.

"We scrimmaged them a week earlier and they really put it on us, but I felt we would step up and get them this game," Coach Jon LeBrasseur said. "The girls played extremely hard and that is the way they have been practicing. I am a little disappointed that we didn't get the win, but am very pleased with the effort."

Kayla Felderhoff led the Tigerettes with 18 points. Crystal Klement added 14. Getting 7 points apiece were Leah Rigler and Joanna Gehrig. Jennifer Hess added 5 and Sarah Hess two from the free throw line. Felderhoff and S. Hess were leading rebounders.

The Tigerettes traveled to Dallas last Thursday to tangle with Lutheran and brought home a 47-40 victory.

"I think we forgot to get off the bus," said Coach Jon. "We missed the first half offensively. Our defense kept us from being blown out and in the second half, led us to victory."

Kayla Felderhoff was the game's leading scorer with 26 points, 10 from the free throw line the second half. Crystal Klement dropped in 12, with Jenny Hess getting four. Rounding out the scoring were Joanna Gehrig and Leah Rigler, two each, and Sarah Hess one.

Gehrig led the team with 11 rebounds, five assists and seven steals.

"It was a big win for us on the road against another TAPPS 4A," Coach Jon concluded.

Tigerettes tear up Gold-Burg 64-25

Kayla Felderhoff pumped in 33 points to lead the Tigerettes to a 64-25 victory over Gold-Burg Tuesday night.

"Kayla really stepped up tonight. This was an outstanding performance as she had a great defensive game along with a very solid offensive performance," commented Coach Jon LeBrasseur. "It seems like we are headed in the right direction as this team understands the importance of defense and the attitude of getting to the free throw line."

Also scoring in Sacred Heart's victory were Crystal Klement with 9 points, Leah Rigler 8, Jennifer Hess 6, Joanna Gehrig 5, and Sarah Hess 3.

Playoffs continue ... Contest continues

As we go into week 12 of the Football Contest, the Lindsay Knights keep the competition alive, as they advance into the Area playoffs.

Week eleven saw Randy Tankersley take first place, guessing 33 winners correctly. Three entries picked 32, with Ted Heers taking 2nd place with a 3 point spread on the tie-breaker. Edgar Dyer finished third with a 7 point difference and Wayne Klement settled for a fourth place, missing the tie-breaker by 13 points. Cash prizes can be picked up at Walterscheid Oil (Randy), Gainesville Livestock (Ted), and Schumacher and Krahl (Edgar).

Guessing 31 games were Charles Edwards, Bonnie Stoffels, Mickey Haverkamp, and Mike Stoffels. Missing 10 were Nick Stoffels, Jon LeBrasseur and Neil Hesse. Low score of the week was 24.

On the season, Mike Stoffels continues to lead with a 77.8 percentage. Ted Heers is second at 75.5% followed by Edgar Dyer at 75%. Wayne Klement is close at 74.5%, with Nick Stoffels at 74%, Charles Edwards 73%, Edna Hermes 72.5%, Neil Hesse 72%, and John Sandmann at 71.5%.

Scoring 71% are Brian Herr, Peachie Huchton, Barbie Barnhill and Doug Stoffels. Mark Grewing and Jon LeBrasseur have 70.8% and John Nasche 70%.

The contest will continue as long as Lindsay continues in the playoffs.

Next Action - Bangs Area Playoffs

The Lindsay Knights will travel to Pirate Stadium in Granbury this Saturday night to take on the Bangs Dragons. From district 12AA, the Dragons advance with a 10-1 season record after defeating De Leon in the first round of the state playoffs.

Bangs has two "very talented" running backs, Jerry Morales and Marcus McDowell, both with "good foot speed and size." Then there's Demetrius Tucker, the Dragons' 6'7", 270 pound end. "He's big - tall and heavy," noted Meurer. "We'll have to jump high to defend him."

Meurer concluded that the Knights are playing well, but so are the Dragons. "Whoever makes the mistakes - loses. Whoever plays a clean game - wins. It will be a hard fought ball game."

Action begins at 7:30.

Directions to the Game

Take 35W to Fort Worth and take 820W to US 377-Granbury exit. Take 377W about 25 miles to Granbury. Stay on 377 under the overpass. Watch for water tower with Pirate mascot and First Assembly of God Church. Turn right on Pirate Drive to Pearl Drive. Football field is behind the high school. Lindsay will be the visiting team. The best parking lot will be the "West" parking lot on Howard Clemmons Road.

EPA wants to label crops poisonous

Global warming treaty gets cool reception

President Clinton has proposed a plan to reduce carbon-dioxide emissions in the United States to 1990 levels as early as 2010. Some economists believe that could raise gasoline prices by 25 cents to 50 cents a gallon and electricity bills by 20 percent to 40 percent. The total price tag would equal a tax increase of $100 billion to $200 billion a year.

The American Farm Bureau Federation estimates that farm costs could rise $10 billion and net farm income could fall 24 percent as a result. Farmers use fuel directly in machinery, but higher energy costs would also be passed on by manufacturers of fertilizer, pesticides and other chemicals.

Worldwide climate talks are planned in December in Kyoto, Japan, to negotiate a final treaty. It will address what many scientists believe is the slow warming of Earth by increased industrialization and the emission of such gases as carbon dioxide, nitrous oxide and methane. Many developing countries would be exempt from the restrictions in the treaty, which has raised much opposition in the United States.

Texas would be hit hard if cutbacks on emissions become mandatory. Texas produces almost twice as much carbon dioxide as any other state, representing about 10 percent of the U.S. total. If Texas were a nation it would rank seventh in world carbon dioxide production, according to a task force study on climate change in Texas. Most comes from industry and automobiles.

EPA has proposed a new regulation - crops that have been genetically engineered for pest resistance, such as B+ corn, would be categorized as "plant-pesticides."

"If consumers are told that the EPA, an agency that governs toxins, is now governing food, they're going to assume it's worthy of concern," comments Roger Beachy of the Scripps Research Institute, La Jolla, CA.

"And I think this new regulation will certainly slow down innovation, particularly in minor crops," says Beachy, the scientist who developed the world's first genetically engineered food crop with resistance to disease.

The proposal, issued in November 1994, has come under heavy attack from the scientific community.

"It is scientifically indefensible to regulate the inherited traits of plants for pest and disease resistance under statutes developed specifically for chemical pesticides applied externally to plants," states the report. "Evaluation of the safety of the substances in plants should be based on the toxicological and exposure characteristics of the substance and not on whether the substance confers protection against a plant pest."

The report continues,

"Apparently, the intent is to regulate only those pest-defense traits conferred by genes deployed using recombinant DNA techniques, even though these techniques are least likely to introduce extraneous genes into the new plant variety."

There's really no way to put a price tag on what the cost of such a regulation might be to agriculture in terms of reduced research efforts, economic barriers to innovation and consumer resistance.

But it doesn't cost much to make your opinion known. Write or call your local representatives or those on the following list: Dr. Lynn T. Goldman, Assistant Administrator, Office of Prevention, Pesticides and Toxic Substances, U.S. EPA, Waterside Mall, Room E610, 401 M Street, SW, Washington, D.C. 20460; or Mr. Richard L. Rominger, Deputy Secretary of Agriculture, U.S. Department of Agriculture, 14th St. and Independence Ave., S.W., Washington, D.C. 20250-1000.

County Agent's Report by Craig Rosenbaum

Greenbugs and winter grain mites

In visiting with producers this past week we learned that greenbugs are present in several wheat fields and increasing in numbers the past few days in Cooke County. A few of the infestations south of Muenster are heavy enough to need treating but all fields need to be inspected.

Greenbugs can cause economic damage to 3 to 4 inch tall small grain, when a population goes above 100 per foot of drill row. If small grain is 6 to 10 inches tall, the infestation can go as high as 200 per foot of drill row before economic damage occurs.

Greenbug damage can show up as yellowed circular spots of dead plants.

One way of checking infested plants for greenbugs is to mark off a foot of drill row, and slap plants vigorously to dislodge greenbugs onto the ground where they can be counted. Placing a white piece of paper or a piece of plastic under plants before the aphids are dislodged will also help in counting the number of aphids.

Greenbug numbers increase fast when the temperature is about 50 degrees at night and about 72 degrees in the day. During this range of temperature, insects that normally feed on greenbugs are not active but greenbugs can still give birth to young aphids, and will continue to feed on plants. If the temperature goes below 40 degrees, aphids stop feeding, cease all activity, and fall to the ground for protection from the cold. When warm weather returns the aphids crawl back upon the plant and start feeding again.

Use chemicals according to directions given on label. Be sure and read labels before applying any pesticide to check all restrictions. For those producers grazing, follow the waiting periods for grazing. According to the product, there can be periods ranging from 7 to 70 days or no grazing at all with some products.

In addition to the greenbugs some producers are having problems with winter grain mites in the county.

This pest feeds primarily at night, remaining around the base of the plant during the day. The mite's activity is retarded during periods of hot, dry weather, and greatest damage occurs during winter and early spring. Mites cause leaf tips to turn brown and plants to become stunted with a silvery-gray appearance. These symptoms and the presence of mites indicate the need for control.

The winter grain mite may damage oats, wheat and barley. Mites are small and the adult has four pairs of reddish-orange legs, and the body is dark brown to black. Mite damage is generally more severe on grain growing on land planted in small grains in previous years. Crop rotation with crops other than small grains reduces infestations.

Cooke County Farm Bureau sponsored Bert Walterscheid, who represented our county at the 68th annual Firemen's Training School at Texas A&M. County Farm Bureau President Tim Hartman, at right, presented Muenster Volunteer Fireman Walterscheid the check.

Clinton offers to fight ag trade barriers abroad

The White House has offered to fight ag trade barriers abroad in a bid to gain support for fast-track authority.

The president's "fast-track" authority expired three years ago. Clinton wants it renewed so he can negotiate new trade deals with other nations, particularly a free-trade agreement with Chile. Under fast-track the president can negotiate trade agreements and submit them to Congress for approval or rejection only. Congress cannot amend them.

The president has gained little support for fast-track within his own party. To woo farm-state lawmakers, Clinton has offered to endorse a bill which would set up procedures to identify and confront nations that erect unfair barriers to U.S. agricultural products.

Food & Drug Administration reformed

Legislation to reform the Food and Drug Administration has passed both houses of Congress, and the next step is a House-Senate conference to work out disagreements. The legislation would speed up drug, medical device and food product reviews by FDA. Companies seeking FDA permission to market medical devices would have the option of using outside contractors for review. The House version of the bill directs the FDA to act within 60 days on a petition to permit the use of radiation in processing red meat. The senate bill does not contain the irradiation language.

Gore's water plan targets ag runoff

On Oct. 18, Vice President Al Gore asked the U.S. Department of Agriculture and the Environmental Protection Agency to expand the goals of the Clean Water Act. He specifically asked the USDA to develop a strategy for non-point source pollution in watersheds which consist of a mix of public and private lands. NCBA warns that the plan could undermine the rights of private landowners.
