Klement, a senior, at offensive end, had 27 catches for 410 receiving yards and one touchdown. Coach Randy Tankersley noted that Aaron added out at 90 percent for blocking and carrying out all his assignments. Both Klement and Bryan Miller, pictured here, had the honor of earning a position on the Ft Worth Star Telegram's All-Star team. See last week's Muenster Enterprise for the story.

Commissioners approve one deputy constable, nix one as assistant for Pct. 1 ConstableTharp

by Janet Felderhoff
Cooke County Commissioners Court met for the first time in 1999 with two new officials. Bill Harris occupied the county judge's seat, taking over for Russell Duncan and Bill Cox stepped into the Precinct #2 commissioner's position taking over for Richard Brown.

Precinct #1 Constable David Tharp requested approval for two non-paid deputies to assist him. Terry Gilbert and Taylor Vestal approached Tharp volunteering their assistance as deputy constables when needed. Both are presently serving as reserve deputies with the Cooke County Sheriff's Department.

"I believe it would be very beneficial for me," Tharp explained to Commissioners Court. "A lot of times when I have to serve executions and writs of possession I have to go out by myself and take possession of property. It can get to be kind of hairy situations." Tharp noted that it would be good to have someone to fall back on and help him at those times.

Another benefit, said Tharp, would be that as one man serving two departments, it would help to have assistance at times to bailiff the JP Courts and serve civil papers at times. Last week he was sick for several days and if he had the deputies, one of them could have served in his place.

There would no additional cost to the county since the deputies would work for no pay. Gilbert has served for 20 years with the Sheriff's Reserves and Vestal for two years, said Tharp. They're experienced men and could come in and do the work without a lot of training, he concluded.

Commissioner Precinct #3 Jerry Lewis said that he didn't think that it would be right to take them away from the Sheriff's department since there is already a shortage there. Tharp noted that Sheriff Compton had already given his blessing to the move. There was some discussion as to whether the bond already in place for the Sheriff's Reserves would also cover the men if they acted as constables.

Lewis again voiced concern over taking help away from the Sheriff's office. Compton responded, "You won't be taking them away from me. They'll be leaving on their own. You can't make them stay and like I said they haven't been very active here (Sheriff's Reserves) recently. They've indicated that they would like to move their commission over to the constables."

Tharp offered to pay the bond fee out of his constable budget if necessary. "These men feel that they can put more time into doing the job of constable than they can as far as Reserves," said Tharp. "It's more suitable for them."

Precinct #4 Commissioner Virgil Hess objected to appointing Vestal to the constable job. "Taylor Vestal ran for that position and was not elected," said Hess. "I don't think we should turn around and appoint him as deputy. That's my personal opinion."

Tharp countered that the men had paid for their training with no cost to the county. He queried, "Are you going to risk losing them totally as volunteers to the county? They paid for their training. That's several thousand dollars which they donated to this county. Anytime we've got somebody volunteer their time and volunteer their money, they're an asset to the county."

Precinct #2 Commissioner Cox suggested a compromise. He recommended that they approve Terry Gilbert as deputy constable and wait on a decision about Vestal until it could be further discussed. In a 5-0 vote the Court approved the appointment of Gilbert as a non paid deputy constable to Precinct #1.

Nine names and three alternates were drawn from the 1998 grand jury pool to serve on the Salary Grievance Committee. Those drawn to serve included Duwayna Cullum, Dick Haagen, Andy Bezner, Beverly Kelley, Ken Case, Karl Maughn, Mary Onugha, Danny Aikin, Alice Clark. Alternates drawn were Kim Lewis, Cynthia Teague, and Larry Smith. All of these were approved by Commissioners Court.

Appointments were made to the Cooke County Historical Commission, including two new members, Barbara Pybas and Mary Katherine Smith.

Robert Heying, Glen Fisk, John Kubicek, Jerry Acker, Lynn Vowel, and David Isbell were all re-appointed to serve two years terms on the Lake Ray Roberts Planning and Zoning Commission.

In other business Commissioners Court approved an indigent burial for Ruth Ann Hutchinson; approved monthly bills, minutes of last meeting, and all monthly reports that were turned in.

January designated School Board Recognition Month

by Steve Cooper
Muenster ISD Superintendent

January has been designated School Board Recognition month. This is done annually to build awareness of the vital role an elected board of education plays in our town and in the lives of our kids.

The Muenster Independent School District is joining other school districts throughout the state to recognize the important contributions trustees make to our communities.

"Texans benefit everyday from the dedicated energies and countless hours devoted by a group of more than 7,000 men and women across the state. These public servants are elected to serve by local citizens and receive no compensation for their tireless efforts. These men and women are the local school board members of Texas. These members unselfishly contribute their time and talents toward the advancement of public education and they represent a continuing commitment to local citizen control and decision making in education.

Even though we are making special effort during January to show appreciation to our school board members, we recognize their contributions reflect a year-round commitment on their part. They are dedicated individuals who are committed to the continuing success of our school district and students.

The men and women serving on MISD's School Board are: Clifford Sicking, President; Tom Hartman, VP; Peggy Lutkenhaus, Secretary; Annette Anderle, Tom Flusche, Neil Huchton, and Jim Endres. We can thank these board members for the success that MISD enjoys. MISD's high academic standing, efficient use of the tax dollar, and low tax rate all speak volumes of this board's ability to make good decisions. The next time you see one of our board members, give them a word of encouragement and appreciation on the job they do.

Jane and Urban Endres donated a stock certificate in value of $10,000 to Nancy Walter, chairperson of the Muenster Library Building Fund Committee. This gift to the community, in memory of their son, Stephen, is a partial re-payment to the people of Muenster and Cooke County for their support to Urban and Jane during the 50 plus years they were in business in Muenster.

Rylander sends tax rebates ... Muenster up almost 9%

State Comptroller Carole Keeton Rylander delivered her first sales tax rebates, kicking off 1999 with a total of $163.8 million in monthly sales tax payments to 1,096 Texas cities and 118 counties, a 5.1 percent increase over the $155.7 million allocated to cities and counties in January 1998.

"I'm delighted to begin serving in the office of Comptroller as the State of Texas begins another promising year," Comptroller Rylander said. "Sales tax rebates to cities and counties are 5.1 percent higher this January than those for the first month of last year, as consumers continue to show their confidence in the growing Texas economy."

January's payments include local sales taxes collected by monthly filers in November, at the start of the traditional holiday shopping season, and reported to the Comptroller in December.

Monthly sales tax rebates totaling $150.5 million were sent to Texas cities, 5.6 percent higher than last January's payments of $142.4 million. A total of $262,418.96 went to cities in Cooke County. That was up 0.90 percent from this time last year.

Muenster's rebate of $12,515.22 is an increase of 8.95 percent from January 1998. Lindsay received $5,108.30, an improvement of 15.03 percent. Oak Ridge's $5,215.42 check was up 31.97 percent. Valley View saw the most change with an increase of 135.46 percent in the $2,926.35 rebate check. Gainesville was the only city in the county to see a decrease in the 1999 January rebate. The $236,653.67 rebate was down 0.95 percent from last January.

Rebates of $13.3 million to Texas counties were virtually unchanged from those paid in January 1998. Cooke County received a check for $91,760.34 which was an improvement of 0.82 percent from a year ago.

Saint Jo soon a local call

All telephone calls to Saint Jo will be considered a local call beginning this Spring. At the request of local customers, Muenster Telephone asked local phone subscribers to vote to include Saint Jo as part of the expanded local calling area. Phone subscribers voted overwhelmingly to pass the measure. Saint Jo will join Iyra, Rosston, Forestburg, Valley View, Valley View East and Gainesville as part of the local calling area.

Muenster Telephone mailed ballots to every phone customer at the end of November. Phone subscribers considered the measure and then sent their ballots to the Texas Public Utility Commission (PUC) who tallied the responses. The measure had to pass by 70 percent of the respondents. Over 750 ballots were returned with 87 percent voting for expanded local calling to Saint Jo. With the passage of the measure, Muenster Telephone will begin to work with Saint Jo's telephone provider and the PUC to enable local calling to Saint Jo.

The addition of Saint Jo to the local calling area will have no effect on the expanded local calling charges that are now on our current phone bill. Also, if you make calls to Saint Jo, you can expect to see a lower phone bill. If you would like more information about the Saint Jo addition or about Expanded Local Calling, please call Muenster Telephone at 759-2251 or contact the Texas Public Utility Commission at 512/936-7136.

NCTC Continuing Ed. has something for everyone

Registration for Spring 1999 Continuing Education classes at North Central Texas College is underway.

Continuing Education classes offer a way to learn something new or enhance skills you already have without the hassle or expense of attending traditional classes.

This Spring classes fall into nine main categories: Business and Professional, Senior Programs, Community Programs, Public Service and Personal Growth, Food/Nutrition, Hobbies and Recreation, Technical Training, and Equine Programs.

In addition to regular offerings many new classes are making their debut this Spring. Continuing Education Director Kay Moody said, "The continuing education division at NCTC went to local business and industry leaders and asked what type of training they would most like their employees to have. Much of this spring's offerings are a direct result of that research. Moody said that research showed employees could benefit from enhanced interpersonal communication skills, and computer training. NCTC has reacted to this need by offering individual and specialized classes.

Five classes were designed to enhance communication techniques: Effective Communication, Phone Skills, Dealing with Difficult Situations, Motivation, and Presentation Enhancement.

Classes are being offered for those who don't know how to turn a computer on to advanced Webmaster and software training. NCTC Work force Computer Training Specialist Scott Casey said, "Our most popular class is Intro to Personal Computers which is designed for people with little or no computer experience." This class demonstrates and explains the function of various hardware and introduces them to the Windows 95 operating system, said Casey. "It's a great

DASH honors Frankie Schmitz

Delivering and Servicing the Homebound (DASH) is now celebrating its fifth anniversary. This program began five years ago with a desire to help the homebound and elderly on weekends, holidays and emergency days, with host meal delivery, when federally funded SNAP and Meals On Wheels programs did not provide this needed community service.

With an average cost of $250 per day, DASH now feeds approximately 100 individuals per day and is funded through local churches and local fund-raisers. With only one paid employee, the route and meal coordinator, DASH boasts a church and civic membership roster including Temple Baptist Church, Lake Kiowa Chapel, First Baptist Youth Group, Whaley United Methodist Church, Rotary Club, Gamesville Knights of Columbus, Hillcrest Church of Christ, First Presbyterian Church, Southside Baptist, First Baptist Church, and St. Mary's Catholic Church. Each civic and church group boasts a healthy list of volunteers. It is estimated that there are almost 500 volunteers and they have delivered more than 46,000 meals from its inception through June 30, 1998.

Recently the DASH Board of Directors announced its 1998 Volunteer of the Year, Frankie Schmitz. Frankie has been a volunteer since DASH began in June 1993. He never seems to be too busy to help, especially when called on late notice, noted Board members.

He prefers his familiar route, but will do whatever it takes for the DASH program to get the meals to the meal patron, they said.

To learn more about the DASH meal program, please contact Mary Klement at (940)665-0661.

From My Side of the Fence

by Ed Cler

Anyone who took the time to read a Letter to the Editor, by Angelo Nasche, in the Muenster Enterprise of Jan. 8, 1999, will see that it is more truth than poetry.

It is surely food for thought when one recalls some of the events of the past seven or eight years.

Under the present Administration, abortion has become commonplace, and Clinton has vetoed any attempt to ban even the most horrendous type of abortion - the method of turning the fetus so it is presented feet first, then when all but the head is delivered, and it partially, to put it bluntly, the baby is killed.

Take a moment to consider that if the baby was allowed to move another few inches, and the individuals responsible didn't make every attempt to save it's life, the same government that condones the abortion would prosecute them for murder by neglect.

So why isn't the procedure called what it is - MURDER???

Our Senators are having quite a problem deciding how to go about trying Bill Clinton. Sometimes I don't think they are up to the job. The can't seem to decide if they want to call witnesses or not. Liberals NO, conservatives YES.

The liberals don't want witnesses and neither does Clinton who still denies perjury. A story in the Gainesville Register, Jan. 10, 1999, tells of a couple convicted of one count of perjury in a federal court in Sherman, Texas. They lied to a federal grand jury and are now facing a possible 5 years in prison, plus a $250,000.00 fine.

Is Clinton above the law, or are some people more equal than others?

Gainesville Daily Register:

"After being gone for 24 years, my family and I came home in November, to spend Thanksgiving with my mother in Myra. I could not believe that what used to be such a clean community, is now a disaster. It looked as if a tornado had swept through the whole town. What happened to the community cleanup they used to have? After driving around and showing my husband and my 2 daughters where I grew up, all there was to see now was trash scattered all over town, and junk piled up everywhere. People Please! Get together as a community and help each other. Form a cleanup community and clean Myra back up again." Harriette Johnson, Auburn, Washington.

I have a couple of questions for us to think about. What did happen to Myra? In its current condition, what is its future? No doubt, since it once was clean, its deterioration started one piece of trash at a time ... one piece of junk at a time.

Studies show that trash attracts trash and junk attracts more junk. We still have some areas in Muenster that look like Myra. Let's get it under control before it's too late.

As for Myra, it too can become a "Proud Community" and if it's concerned enough, Muenster Proud will be delighted to share information on how to get started.

TEXAS HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

RON CLARK

HOUSE DISTRICT 62

County Subdivision Regulation, School Board Month

I would like your comments on a bill proposed by Representative Bob Turner (D-Voss) that would give Texas counties broader authority to regulate land development. As a result of rapid growth in Texas, many subdivisions have been developed with lots that do not make provisions for basic infrastructure such as right of way, water/wastewater connections, and roads. Residents of these subdivisions then look to the county to resolve these problems at the expense of all county taxpayers.

Turner's bill would require anyone subdividing their property into two or more lots, for the purposes of selling the lots to others as a residence, to file a plat of that subdivision with the county for approval. The county commissioners court would then have 60 days to approve or deny the plat. If the application for the plat is denied, the landowner would be prohibited from subdividing the property. This would give the commissioners court the ability to ensure that any plat makes provisions for basic infrastructure. The bill contains an exemption for land to be divided into tracts greater than 10 acres, for agricultural land that will remain in such use and for dividing land among members of a family.

Supporters state that such a measure is necessary to prevent subdivisions with "third-world" type conditions from cropping up around urban counties and retirement communities. Opponents feel that counties should not be given city-like authority for land development.

Governor George W. Bush has proclaimed January "School Board Recognition Month." It is important for us to recognize with appreciation the dedication and diligence of school board members and to work together with teachers and local school boards to help our children reach their highest potential.

Texans can access the Senate and House websites to watch their lawmakers in action via live video and audio from the Floor of both chambers. The Senate will archive its audio feed for one week, and the House will archive both video and audio for 60 days. Also available on the websites are biographies of members, committee rosters, and information on legislation. Hall introduces Social Security legislation

As the 106th Congress convened, Rep. Ralph Hall (D-TX) reinforced his commitment to Social Security protection by introducing legislation that would preserve the Social Security trust fund and by voting for a new rule in the House of Representatives that would enforce off-budget treatment for Social Security.

"For too long Social Security trust funds have been used to offset the deficit - and recently these funds were targeted for proposed tax cuts," Hall said. "While I strongly favor deficit reduction and tax cuts, I do not want to accomplish these by tapping into the Social Security trust funds. The only way to prevent this is to take the trust funds off budget."

"While Social Security is already officially off-budget, we have no enforcement mechanism to guarantee this," Hall added. "My bill would enforce this needed discipline."

Hall's bill, the Social Security Preservation Act of 1999, would prevent the Federal government from using Social Security surpluses for anything other than the preservation of Social Security. "Future generations will need this trust fund money as the baby boomer generation begins to retire," Hall said. "We want Social Security to remain solvent for our children and our grandchildren."

Hall's bill also requires the Social Security surplus to be invested in either marketable interest-bearing obligations of the United States or certificates of deposit in insured depository institutions. "This will enhance the trust fund while providing the protection we need," Hall said.

Hall also voted for a new House rule proposed by the Democratic leadership that would protect the Social Security trust fund and also prohibit using surpluses of any kind until the Social Security Trustees certify that Social Security is in 75-year actuarial balance. The vote failed along strict party lines.

"This is just the beginning of our efforts to preserve and protect Social Security," Hall said. "The American people deserve this protection - and this Congress needs to deliver."

The groom is the son of Susan Winter and Bruce Winter, both residing in Boca Raton, Florida. He is the grandson of Abraham and Gloria Glasser.

Enjoy Good Health RESOLVE ... To LOSE! I am going to lose 50 pounds this year!

Is this a perpetual New Year's resolution? Is it begun with much hope and promise, but ends in discouragement, little weight loss and perhaps weight gain!

Weight loss is probably one of the hardest things to do. Drugs, diets or yearly affirmations cannot effectively help you lose the weight you want. The simple key is to walk briskly for 45 minutes a day.

While millions of pounds are lost every year to dieters, it is mainly walkers who keep it off. Walking is the key to staying slimmer and it is highly unlikely anyone will keep weight off without increasing activity.

The average 150-pound person walking 15 minutes per mile will burn up to 300 calories during a three-mile, 45-minute walk. 3,500 calories equals one pound of body fat, in theory that means the typical 150-pounder could lose as much as a pound every 11 to 13 days.

Daily walkers may start out wanting to lose weight, but something else keeps them going: the emotional payoffs they reap. Many studies reveal that walking has yielded enormous number of psychological benefits, including lowering anxiety and tension level after just one 40-minute walk.

In 1996, the Surgeon General report states that if you get more than 30 minutes of physical activity a day, you lower your risk of every ailment from heart disease to osteoporosis. And besides, you see a whole lot more of life when you're walking.

MHS students sport "Totally Awesome" shirts

Totally Awesome T-shirts from the Muenster Parent Teacher Organization (PTO) brought delighted smiles to Muenster Elementary student's faces recently. The PTO honored the students with the red T-shirts to celebrate earning the Texas Education Agency's Exemplary rating. To be rated Exemplary, by the Texas Education Agency, an elementary school must maintain high average daily attendance rates and high scores on the Texas Assessment Academic Skills Test, (TAAS Test).

students maintained 98% average daily attendance. Student passing rate: Reading 96%, Mathematics 93.4% and Writing 95.8% on the TAAS test. The Texas Assessment of Academic Skills test, (TAAS) is a criterion-referenced test measuring student achievement in reading and mathematics in grades 3 through 8. The Writing test is given in grades 4, 8 and 10. The TAAS test is a tough accountability test of each student's achievement in reading, mathematics and writing.

Deadline nears for Foundation scholarship

Graduating seniors planning to enter college in Fall 1999 whose families have been Texas Farm Bureau members since at least March 15, 1997, are eligible to apply for the organization's sixth annual Youth Foundation Scholarship.

A scholarship in the amount of $1,000 per year, renewable up to four years, will be awarded by May 1999, on the basis of academic achievement, extracurricular activity involvement and other considerations, including recommendations and financial need.

The 1999 scholarship recipient will be selected by a committee of college faculty and administrators from Baylor University and McLennan Community College, Waco.

The Youth Foundation, a charitable organization, was established by board action in response to the Blue Ribbon Goals Report for the purpose of awarding scholarships and agricultural grants for TFB youth.

The Foundation accepts donations of $25, $50, $100 or more, which are tax deductible, from individuals interested in furthering the youth mission. Bequests and insurance proceeds can also assist the Foundation. The number of students receiving financial help from the Foundation will vary according to the generosity and scope of members.

Muenster succeeds in Texas reading inventory

In the past few weeks of school, Muenster Elementary has been testing the first and second graders with an informal reading assessment entitled, "Texas Primary Reading Inventory (TPRI)." The Commissioner of Education, under the direction of Governor Bush, has been concentrating on the push for all children to learn to read by the third grade. This instrument is given by the teacher to help direct instruction and monitor the progress of students. The items addressed include phonological awareness, word reading, oral reading, and comprehension of text.

The state requires that the TPRI be given in the fall and spring for first and second grade, and mid-year and spring for kindergarten. After each testing, the results for each grade level are reported to the Superintendent and the board of trustees. Individual scores are not reported.

"Muenster Elementary is quite pleased with the students' performance on the TPRI," said JoEll Kemp, MISD Content Mastery Teacher. "We can contribute the success to our current reading curriculum, our strong parental support, and children whom love to learn."

WANT TO BUY: I am a lover of history and I have a somewhat unusual hobby. I collect old tokens used by stores, barber shops, saloons, and other businesses years ago. The tokens were "good for" 5¢, 10¢ or such in trade or merchandise. They were usually made of metal and, while having the general appearance of a coin, they were made in all shapes and sizes. I have reason to believe that some of these tokens were used in your area and I would be most interested in obtaining some of them for my collection. I would like to hear from anyone having one or more of these tokens. My address is: Travis Roberts, Box 1168, Bellaire, Texas 77402.

County Agent's Report by Craig Rosenbaum

Grain Sorghum Plantings

Here in Cooke county, producers grow grain sorghum on about 40,000 acres. Most of our soils are suitable ranging from sandy loams to heavy black clays. Our soil types are going to have an effect on variety selection. The earlier maturing varieties are planted on the drier type soils whereas longer season, higher producing varieties can benefit from the deeper, heavier soil types. Most full season hybrids have greater yield potential but our summer dry periods can cause problems with these varieties. Now is a good time to visit with seed representatives and dealers to discuss recommended varieties for our county. When selecting a variety consider yield, stand ability, tolerance to insects and maturity.

Fertility through long term data has shown grain sorghum in the blacklands should reach optimum yield with a 80-40-0 fertilization program. Generally nitrogen is applied pre plant in our area. This usually means one to two weeks before planting. You can apply zinc if soil tests indicate a need. Many of our heavier soils will respond to zinc. With high soil phosphorus levels and high pH you can have a tie up of zinc in the soil. Plants will take on a white whorl and leaf appearance. We see this more often in corn but it can also take place in grain sorghum.

Planting date is going to be dependent on soil temperature.

and facilitate relationships with international buyers.

"We add about 78 million people to the world each year," Combs said. "I want Texas agriculture to be at the forefront as the industry to feed and clothe this growing global community."

"I also want to encourage young Texans to work in agriculture," Combs said. "I am excited about the bright future of Texas agriculture. Our industry offers hopes, dreams, and promise for all Texans."

Combs has challenged everyone in agriculture to speak up for the industry.

"Texas agriculture speaks with many different voices," Combs said. "But only by speaking with a united voice and working together will we keep our industry strong and growing to meet the challenges of the 21st century."

Combs is the 10th commissioner of agriculture and the first woman to hold the office in the state's history.

Promising to be an advocate for agriculture and a strong voice for the industry, Combs said the Texas Department of Agriculture is going to put greater emphasis on marketing Texas agriculture.

One of Combs' initiatives is to cultivate world markets for Texas agricultural products. By working closely with producers and processors, TDA will pursue global opportunities and facilitate relationships with international buyers.

Early planted sorghum has risks from cool, damp soils; late frosts; early slowed growth rate; uneven stands; and, as many have experienced, the need for replanting. Seeding should not be done before soil temperatures have reached that 55 to 60°F. range. Check soils in the morning at about 3-inches for five to seven days prior to planting. Sorghum seed usually runs about 10,000 - 14,000 per pound. Check seed size when planting and for our dryland conditions most seed companies will recommend about 55,000 to 60,000 plants per acre at harvest. On good soil conditions and moisture potential you might add 5-10%. If soils are cloddy, then increased seeding rates would also help.

Weed and grass control can always be a problem. Many products are available and work well under proper moisture and growth conditions. Failure usually results for environmental problems, incorporation, rate adjustment, or timing. Read those labels and pay close attention to recropping intervals, especially if you plan to double crop back to small grains following sorghum harvest.

Insect control is available both pre and post. Insect problems causing crop failures include wireworms, green bugs, and sugarcane aphids. In certain areas of the county, chinch bugs have become a real problem. Remember your field histories and plan for potential problems by using insecticides according to label and frequent field scouting.

Grant boosts federal funds for sorghum studies 30%

Staying competitive in the global marketplace by being able to efficiently grow a high-yielding, quality product can be challenging in the face of environmental and weather-related obstacles. But, U.S. researchers are closer to helping sorghum producers reach this goal with a $3.2 million grant recently awarded by the National Science Foundation (NSF) for plant genome research focusing on grain sorghum.

"We congratulate the National Science Foundation for their foresight in making such a valuable investment in the future of our industry," said Ken Rose, NGSF Research/Education Committee chairman.

Rose added that this latest funding represents a 30 percent increase in federal dollars dedicated to sorghum research. "This project could help scientists make significant strides in sorghum research and advance genetic improvements in other grain crops while helping to keep accomplishments in this area of biotechnology in the public sector," Rose said.

Grain sorghum is an excellent crop on which to conduct genetic studies associated with tolerance to environmental stress such as drought. The sorghum genome project will involve several scientists across the nation as they work to vertically integrate rather than duplicate their research.

Sorghum is a leading cereal crop in arid and semi-arid areas of the world, ranking fifth in importance among the world's grain crops. The crop is becoming a significant source of food for human consumption worldwide.

SWCD sponsors seedling program

The Upper Elm-Red Soil and Water Conservation District (SWCD) is sponsoring its annual conservation seedling tree program for area land users. The purpose of the program is to encourage the planting of trees for conservation and wildlife benefits.

Hardwood and conifer trees are available. Adapted hardwood species include Green ash, Red oak (Shumard oak), Lacebark elm, Russian olive and Flameleaf sumac. Conifers available include Afghanistan pine, Red cedar, Austrian pine and Pinyon pine. Wildlife packets are also available to enhance wildlife habitat and provide food for quail, deer, turkey and squirrels.

The cost of the seedlings is $25.00 for a bundle of 50 hardwoods or $48.00 for 100 and $1.75 to $2.50 per tree for the conifers. The wildlife packets are $48.00 for 100 trees.

In addition to trees, the district also sells grass and wildflower seed.

The USDA Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS), formerly the Soil Conservation Service, is the technical agency that assists the Upper Elm-Red SWCD in carrying out its programs. For information on the tree program, contact the NRCS or SWCD in Gainesville at (940) 668-7794.
