

Water plays role in many October City Council topics

By Janet Felderhoff
Whether the discussion was protecting it, piping it, or future surface use, water played a role in many of the topics touched on by the Muenster City Council at the regular meeting held Monday, Oct. 4. City Administrator Stan Endres updated the City Council on a request from several months ago to extend water lines to Ninth and Cherry streets. It was decided to take on the project if the property owners were willing to pay the majority of the cost, he said. Over time, all involved decided they were not willing to be annexed into the City at the present time and didn't need the water extended. During the planning process for the possible extension, it was determined that an extension in that area will be necessary in the future to Ash Street, possibly to Muenster Lake, and to bring more water to loop to the Sicking addition as more homes are built there.

Alderman Jack Flusche found some poly pipe to use instead of putting a steel casing across two creeks that must be crossed to get there. Endres said Flusche also approached Steve Orr, owner of Orr Construction (an oil field pipe construction company), to see if he would help the City with the installation. Orr has said he would be willing to help the City with a project as a payback for allowing the company to move its yard and office into town. Orr agreed to take on the project.

Mayor John Pagel said that there is a 300 foot crossing with solid rock to go through. The cost estimate for the project with Orr's help is $10,000 and without Orr Construction donating help, it would be about $25,000. Although the project does not have to be done right now, he asked the Council if they wanted to proceed while help was offered.

There is money in the budget for water improvement, but not any especially designated for the water extension line. The Council unanimously approved going ahead with the water line extension.

Germanfest, Inc. asked the City to assist them as much as possible with the expense of bringing the water and sewer line extensions to Germanfest Park, such as possibly supplying the materials. It is the City's policy to pay for the first 100 feet and for the developer or landowner to pay the remaining expenses.

According to estimates by engineer John Bezner, it will require 5,400 feet of water line and 6,900 feet of sewer line to go all the way through the property. Administrator Endres noted that it would be about 2,500 feet for the water line and 2,500 feet for the sewer line just to take the lines to Ash Street. The estimated cost is $30,000 for the PVC pipe and materials for the 2,500 feet to Ash Street.

It was noted that an exception was made for developers in the Sicking addition just north of Muenster. The City paid for the materials and Sicking's installed them.

Alderman Pat Stelzer said that they were looking at 90 possible customers out there plus taxpayers, and only one with Germanfest, Inc. Alderman Greg Bohl added that

Muenster Lake park improvements continue

Crews installed the new restrooms just north of the parking lot near the boat ramp at the west lake access area last week. Called a Tioga Special, the concrete building and vaults weigh 73,200 pounds. Black vent pipes (pictured being installed) are located on the back side (south) of the building in order to be heated by the sun, to create a positive continual air flow from the vaults. The cost of the restroom was $24,228 and will be paid 75% by the TPWD Boating Access Grant and 25% by Muenster Water District funds. Courtesy photo

Local Litter Index best ever

Members of Keep Muenster Beautiful conducted its annual Litter Index Survey for Keep America Beautiful on Saturday, Oct. 2. The City's overall score was 1.22, and the previous low score was 1.47. This was the BEST score that Muenster has ever received. Even the public access areas like routes 82 and 373 were improved. The community has NO GRAFFITI!

The town is divided into 10 areas (see chart on pg.2). Each area is rated for the amount of visible litter there.

A rating of 1 indicates no litter, 2 is slightly littered, 3 is littered, and 4 is extremely littered.

The ratings from each scorer was averaged to get the subarea score, and the subarea scores were averaged.

Keeping Muenster Beautiful Fall Planting Day

Keep Muenster Beautiful had a good turnout for its Fall Planting Day event last Saturday to prepare the town's planting beds for new flowers. Trees and bushes were trimmed and plants growing between the curbs and sidewalks were removed. Ant-infested flower beds were treated organically with instant grits. Above, Cub Scout Jack Broyles works flower bed. Flowers will be planted this Saturday, Oct. 9, after the Make a Difference Day community cleanup. The cleanup/litter pick up will start at 9 a.m. at the KMB Haus in City Park. KMB photo

Muenster VFD encourages use of smoke/fire detectors

In conjunction with Fire Prevention Week Oct. 3-9, the Muenster Volunteer Fire Department seeks to help citizens with keeping the smoke detectors, fire alarms, and carbon monoxide detectors operational. Muenster Fire Chief Herbie Knabe said that anyone who is concerned about their device is invited to contact the Muenster Fire Department and they will be happy to come check it out and change batteries for them if needed. To contact the MVFD for this assistance, call Muenster City Hall at 759-2236.

Smoke and carbon monoxide detectors and fire alarms are considered so valuable in saving lives that the theme of Fire Prevention Week is Smoke Alarms: A Sound You Can Live With.

Smoke alarms are a very important means of preventing home fire fatalities by providing an early warning signal so you and your families can escape. According to the U.S. Fire Administration (USFA), an estimated 385,500 fires occur in residential buildings every year resulting in 2,770 civilian deaths and 13,250 injuries. When a smoke alarm sounds, it is time for you to spring into action.

You can prevent tragedy simply by testing and maintaining your smoke alarms and practicing a fire escape plan. Make sure your home fire escape plan is up to date and everyone in the home knows what to do when the smoke alarm sounds. Practice your plan often.

Visit the USFA's Focus on Fire Safety web page to watch an educational video on smoke alarms and to test your smoke alarm knowledge through an interactive quiz. Also, find links to valuable fire prevention resources available from USFA.

Cooke County United Way plans Blitz Day for Muenster

By Janet Felderhoff

Cooke County United Way set its 2011 Campaign goal at $360,000 to help with funding 18 agencies serving Cooke County citizens. On Wednesday, Oct. 13 beginning at 10 a.m., dozens of United Way volunteers will visit the Muenster area to pick up donation envelopes containing pledges and contributions.

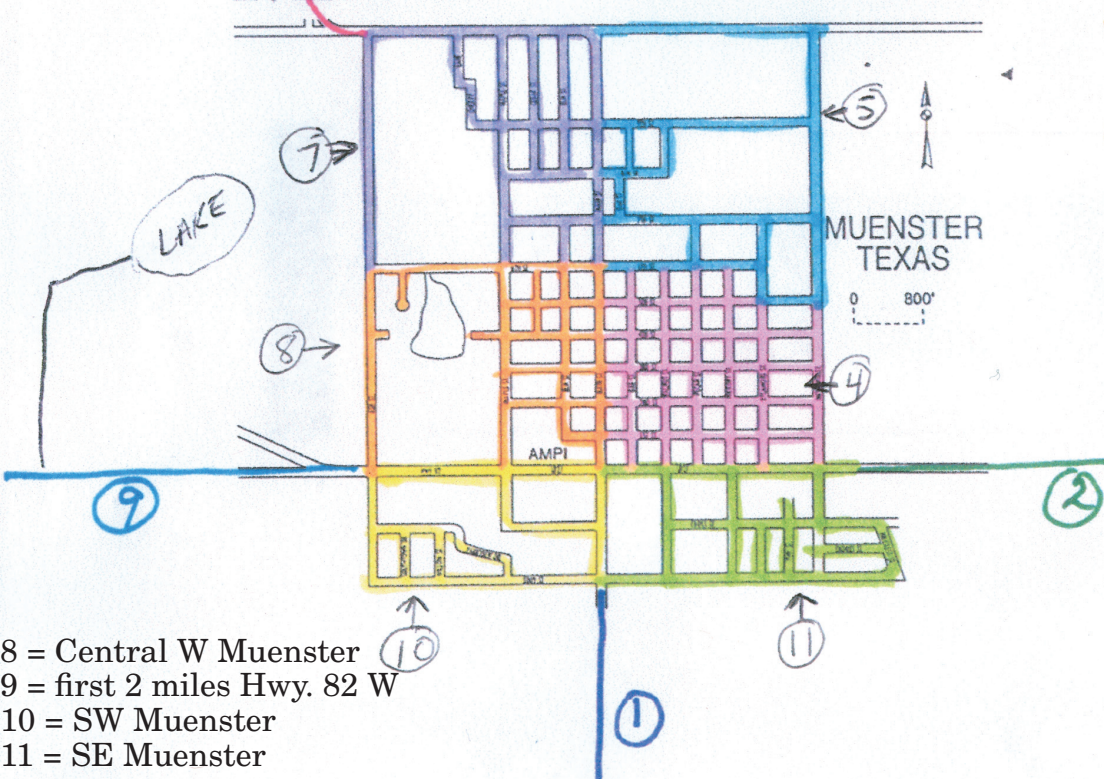

Debbie Hess serves as Muenster campaign 2011 division leader. This is the first year that a Blitz headquarters has been set up for a special day in Muenster. Headquarters will be located in front of Muenster State Bank. Muenster Health and Rehab will be set up in front of MSB, cooking up free hotdogs for the public to enjoy.

United Way's theme this year is LIVE UNITED, selected for the organization's commitment to make Cooke County a better place to live and work by helping others every day. It is giving back to the community around you and making it a better place to live, work, and grow. Money raised in Cooke County stays here, and out of every dollar contributed, 93¢ goes directly to the agencies.

aged to get the City's overall score. The group also notes illegal signs, graffiti, junked vehicles, overgrown lots and yards, unsightly outdoor storage, broken windows, and any other condition which detracts from the beauty of the community. Check the chart to see how your neighborhood scored. The biggest problem is unmowed vacant lots and yards. There were 45 overgrown lots and that is the most that have ever been noted during an Index Litter Survey. The number of junked cars has been greatly reduced with only four sighted. Six areas were noted with unsightly/unorganized outdoor storage/junk in their yards. Most of these were businesses. "Overall, the town and surrounding areas look really great," observed KMB members.

Germanfest is also non taxable. Endres commented, "This should bring in a lot of sales tax revenue plus a lot of people to come to town for different events that would spend a lot of money in town, not necessarily out there, but at the local restaurants, convenience stores, and things like that. It has a lot of potential to bringing in a lot of sales tax revenues." Stelzer said that the $30,000 is not in the budget this year and the City is already $27,000 in costs over estimates revenues. Mayor Pagel wondered if the money could come from the 1/2% sales tax being collected for the Muenster Industrial Development Board. Some of that money is committed to paying on a loan at Muenster State Bank for the Muenster Lake. About $100,000 in revenues is collected each year and the loan payment is about $70,000 per year. The tax is for the purpose of developing industry in Muenster. It was agreed that would be more appropriate. The Mayor then polled the Council to see how they felt about Germanfest, Inc.'s request. Joey Anderson favored assisting them in some way besides dipping into the City's reserve fund. Jack Flusche said he was against it until he could see that it would bring more revenues into the City. Pat Stelzer noted that he was for Germanfest, but added, "I'm against spending any taxpayers' money to subsidize it. Germanfest has been going on 30 years and this is the first time that they've come to ask for taxpayers' money for assistance. The tax rate is higher now. I don't want to spend out of reserves now - it's a rainy day fund. I can't see spending any tax money at this point for one customer." Greg Bohl and Jewel Otto agreed with Stelzer. Pagel added that he would do what he could to support the project, but would like more definite information. Saint Jo Mayor Tom Weger contacted Mayor Pagel seeking Muenster's support in opposing an application filed by Fenco Contractors Group LLC with the Texas Railroad Commission (TRC). Fenco is seeking permission to put in an oil field waste disposal facility in an area of Montague County. That location is near what Muenster perceives to be "an environmentally sensitive area near the outcrop of the Trinity Aquifer formation." Muenster draws its water supply from the Trinity aquifer. Administrator Endres confirmed that he had written and sent a letter to the TRC expressing the City's concern in regard to the proposed disposal facility. He has not received any response from them. Pagel remarked, "This is unique in how it compares to other disposal wells. He's going to have an above ground disposal operation. If it were a disposal well that went down into the Ellenberger, or something like that which is five or six thousand feet below the water table, that's an altogether different issue." He added that there would not be much separation from the disposal facility and the outcropping of the Trinity. "What he's doing is basically a pretty tricky kind of a thing as far as our water supply is concerned. He's been turned down twice by the Railroad Commission and he just keeps coming with more attorneys and more engineers. I don't think it's the place for it," Pagel noted. Muenster City Council unanimously adopted the resolution opposing the disposal site. A vacancy exists on the Muenster Water District's Board of Directors since the resignation of Dwayne Rohmer whose term was not yet completed. Tim Schneider was the only candidate nominated by the Board. The City Council unanimously approved Schneider to complete Rohmer's term. Muenster's 15-year-old phone system, now obsolete, needs updating. It can't be equipped with caller ID and has been giving some problems. The phone system is used by City Hall staff, Muenster Police Department, and Muenster VFD. The cost given for a new system was $3,858, and the Council approved the purchase. The vote was 4-0-1, with Nortex Communications employee Joey Anderson abstaining. In his Administrator's report, Endres explained that the Muenster KCs are putting a new parking lot in and want to extend the concrete all the way to the Fire Department. Endres noted that the City decided to replace the sewer line in the area of Third to Fourth Street before the cement is poured. Endres attended a public hearing held by the North Texas Groundwater Conservation District (NTGCD) on Sept. 22 in Denton. He said that the NTGCD is in the process of adopting its permanent rules for the operation of the District which consists of Cooke, Collin, and Denton counties. It is not a taxing district and will raise money by charging fees for the use of groundwater starting in 2012. Currently, wells used for livestock and individuals' homes are exempt from the fees. By April 2011, registration of wells is required. Any well, domestic or commercial, drilled after that date will have to first apply for a drilling permit. Stelzer observed, "The whole goal is to encourage the cities to go on surface water. We should probably be thinking about Muenster for the long-term using the Lake water." Endres agreed that is the reason the Muenster Lake was built, and that time will probably be here sooner than later. The wastewater department must re-apply to TCEQ for a new permit. The renewal application is due 180 days before the current permit expires. Muenster's expires on Sept. 1, 2011. In other business, the City Council: • Held a public hearing on "Specific Use Permit" for a Bed & Breakfast at 221 N. Pecan Street. Only neighbor

Jim Fuhrmann commented and he had no objections. The Council approved the request from Chuck and June Bartush to allow the home to be used as a bed and breakfast. • Heard quarterly activities report from Muenster Police Chief Bob Stovall who said it had been busy and that there have been a number of thefts, mostly outside the City limits. • Welcomed Scout Darrian Peters who attended as he worked toward one of his badges. • Approved payment of bills totaling $130,883.68.

Fill lunch boxes with food for thought

With childhood obesity rates rising, what you put in your child's lunch box is more important than ever, say nutrition experts at UT Southwestern Medical Center.

Lona Sandon, a registered dietitian, said to look for protein from lean lunch meats, low-fat cheese, or peanut butter on whole-grain bread. Other good lunch box items include fresh fruits and vegetables, fruit cups, yogurt in a tube, single serving containers of cottage cheese, and pudding cups made from skim milk.

"A healthy lunch not only keeps the body going but also the brain," said Ms. Sandon. "Kids who eat regular healthy meals often do better in school."

If your kids insist on chips and candy, use baked chips and offer fun-sized candy bars instead of full-sized bars.

NCTC event to "Round Up" scholarships for Ag students

This year's annual "Friends of Agriculture Round-Up" at North Central Texas College is set for Saturday, Oct. 16, and the goal remains the same—to round up funds for scholarships.

The event will get underway in the NCTC Field House (gymnasium) with a barbecue dinner to begin serving at 5 p.m. The silent auction also starts at 5, and it offers buyers the opportunity to bid on a wide variety of merchandise, services, and even baked goods donated by area businesses and individuals.

The event's popular live auction will start at 6 p.m. under the gavel of auctioneers Ken Pearse and Herkie Biffle.

Admission to get into the Field House for the Round-Up is free, and the event is open to the general public. The meal will be catered by Dieter Brothers of Lindsay and is sponsored by Richard Klement Investments.

There will also be door prizes, and winning bidders will have their names placed in the hopper for drawings for one of the buyers' premium prizes to be awarded.

Among the items to be offered for bid are livestock feed, hunting and fishing trips, gates, loads of concrete, and shop projects from area high school FFA chapters. The auction catalog, containing a complete list of all live and silent auction items, will be available the week of the auction. It can be seen online at www.nctc.edu/agriculture <<http://www.nctc.edu/agriculture>>.

For many students, this financial assistance allows them to complete their degree or certificate in a shorter period of time by allowing them to take a full academic load and concentrate on their studies. Some scholarship recipients would have had difficulty enrolling at all without scholarship assistance.

Lions and Tigers and scares

Sacred Heart falls to speedy Dallas Lutheran team, 53-32

It was Homecoming night at Tiger Field last Friday and with most area teams having the night off, the home team sideline was even more packed to watch the Tigers of Sacred Heart take on the Lions of Dallas Lutheran. The Lions brought with them the speed and passing talents of Ben Hartley, who ran over 100 yards to score three touchdowns and completed passes for two more TDs in the Tigers' 53-32 loss to the Big D school.

"We went toe to toe with them for 46 minutes," commented Tiger Coach Dale Schilling. "We had to deal with an injury to a key player, but the team never quit. We played our best game against the best team we've faced this season."

The game began with Lutheran finding the end zone on the first snap of the ball, but a flag brought the play back. Two more penalties delayed the Lions. A 4th down play inside the Tiger 20 was stopped by Michael Davis and Matt Hesse for Sacred Heart to start their offense on their own 12 yard line. Two penalties charged against the Lions assisted Sacred Heart's offense, but too many incomplete passes forced a punt. The next play, Lutheran scored on a 55 yard pass play. The PAT run gave the visitors an 8-0 lead with 5:50 on the clock.

The Tigers, with two good runs from Josh Biffle and M. Hesse, quickly moved the ball to the Lion 11. Two Biffle carries later and Sacred Heart was on the scoreboard. With 3:56 remaining in the 1st period, the score was 8-6 after the PAT kick failed.

Lutheran threatened to score again, but their drive ended when Biffle intercepted a pass on the Tiger 5 yard line.

The Tigers got in good runs from M. Hesse and Davis to get to midfield. But a loose ball was covered by the Lions. The next play, the Dallas team scored and extended their lead to 16-6.

Bad luck hit the Tigers again when the Lions picked off a pass and threatened to score as the 2nd quarter began. Tackles by Mark Bartush, Austin Miller, Kevin Flusche, Justin Brown, and Davis stopped the Lions on the Tiger 20.

The teams exchanged a few punts before Davis picked off a Lion pass to set up Sacred Heart's next score, a 39 yard touchdown pass from Hesse to Davis. The PAT failed for a 16-12 score with 2:40 on the clock.

Lutheran bounced right back the next snap, scoring on a 46 yard pass play to increase their lead 24-12 at the 2:17 mark.

Sacred Heart's next drive was assisted by two flags. With 1:21 on the clock, a Mark Bartush to Bob Bartush pass play found the end zone to cut the Lion lead to 24-18.

Phillip Vogel covered a fumble, with M. Hesse, Alex Turner, and B. Bartush all getting key tackles before the half.

A return to the 35 by M. Bartush started the 3rd quarter. The Tigers moved the ball inside the Lion 20, but fumbled. Tackles by Austin Springer, Turner, Brown, Biffle, and Davis forced a punt. Three plays later, the Tigers fumbled again, setting up the next Lutheran score. At 4:46 remaining in the period, the Lions took a 31-18 lead.

A good return by B. Bartush, a major penalty, and a Hesse to B. Bartush pass moved the Tigers to the Lion 14 yard line. Two plays later, a Hesse to B. Bartush connection hit paydirt. Austin Aldriedge added the extra kick for a 31-25 score with 3:34 on the 3rd quarter clock.

Lutheran carried the ball into the final period and into the end zone to extend their lead to 38-25.

The teams took turns under the center before Springer covered a loose ball near midfield. A Hess/Davis drive began with a pass that took the Tigers to the Lion 29. A Davis and a Hesse run gained 10, with a Hesse to Davis pass and a flag moving the ball to the 1. A keeper by Hesse was good for 6 points. Aldriedge booted the point after for a 38-32 score with 1:48 remaining in the game.

An onside kick gave the Lions the ball near midfield. The next snap, a 54 yard TD run for a 46-32 score.

Biffle got in two 1st down runs before the Lions picked off a Tiger pass and returned it 66 yards for another touchdown. With 50 seconds remaining in the game, Lutheran had their 53-32 victory score over Sacred Heart.

Next Action
 This Friday, the Tigers begin Division IV District 1 play with a long road trip to Amarillo to face another Lion team, Arbor Christian. The Lions enter conference play with a 5-1 record, their only loss by 3 points.

"Going to Amarillo will be a key factor," noted Coach Schilling. "We have to stop their quarterback and tight-end to bring home a victory."

Arbor had a 7-4 season/2-1 District Quarter-Final season in 2009. Texas Football magazine noted that "depth and experience will make the Lions a force, enough so that a district title might be a reasonable expectation." Game time is 7:30 p.m.

Muenster Chamber golf results

The annual Muenster Chamber of Commerce Golf Tournament at Turtle Hill was a great day of golf and friendship. Fourteen teams participated in the event that helped raise about $1,400 for the Chamber. The Chamber uses these funds to help promote the city of Muenster and the local businesses.

John Pollard of Bayer's Kolonialwaren and Chamber President Matt Sicking were on hand to cook hamburgers and hotdogs for the players. Chamber Ambassadors Angie Hare and Michelle Sandmann along with Debbie Hess, Margie Starke, Tamara Broyles, and Michelle Sicking helped with registration and organized the awarding of prizes.

SUB-VARSITY VOLLEYBALL

JUNIOR VARSITY

The JV Lady Knights dropped their first District game on Friday against Chico. Scores were 25-23, 21-25, 24-26. Megan Schumacher and Rebecca Manon had 6 kills apiece. Kassidy Gum had 4 assists. "We stopped doing the good things for spells in the game, and that is what hurt us," said Coach Robin Hess.

The Freshmen team struggled Friday night against Chico, losing in two games 18-25, 23-25. Coach Donald Neu commented, "The girls played better in game two, but came up a little short."

JUNIOR VARSITY

The Lindsay JV Lady Knights lost a non-district game to Krum on Tuesday. Scores were 22-25, 15-25. "We did some good things, but defensively we were a little slow getting to our spots," stated Coach Robin Hess.

FRESHMEN

The Lindsay Freshmen fell to Krum in three games by scores of 12-25, 25-13, 15-25. Coach Neu said, "The girls did not play as well as they could have. In game 2 the girls played well, but just couldn't stay consistent in 1 and 3."

Felderhoff in Redman Triathlon

Amanda Felderhoff placed second in the 25-29 age division in the 6th Annual Redman Triathlon in Oklahoma City on Sept. 25. Felderhoff completed the course in 12:41:47 and placed sixth overall in the woman's division of the ironman event. There were 41 females competing in the full triathlon division.

She competed against athletes from around the country in the iron-distance (full-distance) triathlon event comprising a 2.4 mile swim, 112-mile bike, and 26.2 mile run. Favorable weather conditions prevailed as over 250 individuals competed in the ironman event along the shore of Lake Hefner. Her event splits were as follows: Swim - 1:24:31, Bike - 6:16:28, and 4:45:25 for the marathon run.

"I was happy to finish and then was surprised that I did so well in my first iron distance event. It really all started as a dare that turned into a bet," Amanda commented after the race. "My goal was to finish in less than 13 hours."

Amanda was one of a number of athletes from Dallas competing at the event, including close friends Raymond Powers and Stacey Welsh. On hand to cheer them on were family Ronnie and Sharon Felderhoff, Chad and Elizabeth Felderhoff, and Mitch and Aubree Felderhoff, along with several friends.

The Redman is a super qualifier for the USAT/ Athlmax Long Course National Championships. Athletes finishing in the top 44% of their age group will qualify for the championships. Amanda qualified for the New York City Marathon last year at the White Rock Marathon and will be running that race the first weekend of November.

Muenster JV vs Aubrey

The Muenster Hornet JV Football team traveled to Aubrey to face the 3A Aubrey Chaparrals for their fifth game of the season and came out with an impressive 34-6 victory to improve their record to 4-1.

The Hornets jumped out to a 14-0 lead in the 1st quarter and never looked back. Quarterback Mason Binder hooked up with Colton Lang for a 45 yard gain to get the ball down to the 2 yard line on the second play of the game. Binder scored on a 2 yard run to give the Hornets a 6-0 lead.

On the Hornets second offensive possession, Binder connected with Cole Walterscheid for a 45 yard touchdown pass to make the score 14-0. Steven Flusche and Colton Lang also had touchdown catches from Binder. Quarterback Hunter Klement came in and led a 70 yard scoring drive that ended with a 5 yard pass from Klement to Clint Sidwell. Klement ran the 2 point conversion in to make the final score 34-6. The defense only gave up 6 points and were dominant all night.

The Muenster Hornet JV Football team traveled to Petrolia Thursday to start District play.

Always tell the truth, and The secret of handling stress is to release it. you won't have to remember what you said.

Instead of wasting our lives pursuing what we think will make us happy, we should concentrate on the things that money can't buy - the things God gives us freely.

FARM & RANCH

Trouble on the Hoof

By Gene Hall

Social scientists tell us that most of the country is now at least two, perhaps three generations removed from direct family ties to farms and ranches. Maybe that explains the intense interest many folks have in farm life. My generation of Halls is the first to live somewhere other than an East Texas farm. My tale today is about an experiment conducted by my grandfather on that farm. He was not exactly a geneticist, but he had an eye for creating some mighty fine beef animals with the selection of a herd bull. This particular experiment created some mixed results.

We were in the dairy business for awhile, an enterprise that low milk prices forced us out of in 1962. We were left with some Holstein cows. Before they were sold, Paw decided to get a calf out of them.

Paw thought crossing a gentle Brahman bull with those Holsteins might make for some fine calves. He reasoned they would be good milkers, well suited to growing out quality young calves.

The calves were pretty, all right. As they began to grow, they displayed characteristics of both breeds. They had the large inward curving and potentially dangerous Brahman horns. They produced milk like Holsteins. And they were wild, nervous, edgy and just plain mean. They were also tall, well muscled, long legged, and as athletic as most horses. All of them could run like the wind and a couple of them could clear a five strand barbed wire fence with ease. Mostly though, when agitated, they went through fences.

What Paw Hall's genetic experiment perhaps did not take into account was this: Somewhere in the DNA of our Holstein herd lurked the genes of a bull we call Mr. Ed. He was the meanest animal of any species that I've ever laid eyes on. Those genes came to life in the female hides of this Brahman and Holstein cross.

There were about half a dozen of them. I remember some of the names—Fanny, Clara, Hornet, Big Brown, and the meanest of them all, a quite contrary lady named Independence. No name ever described any creature more completely. If I walked by her—thankfully with a fence between us—I would catch her staring at me. I'm certain she wanted very much to kill me.

Our adventures with this rowdy group of bovines began when they had calves. A cow's mammary system is an udder with four "quarters." In these four-legged milk factories, one quarter was plenty for the hungriest of calves and milk not removed from a fresh cow causes all sorts of problems for her. So—you guessed it—we had to catch them, put them in a chute, immobilize them, and milk out the other three quarters. This was not a popular approach with Independence and her sisterhood. Add the natural mothering instinct of a cow with a young calf to this troublesome equation and you see the dangers all around.

One spring, we were rounding up the cows to relieve them of that unused milk. They and the rest of the 100 or so cows were in the middle of the field with their calves. When they saw the horses, true to form, they broke for the trees and swamps a quarter mile away. We headed off all but one of them—Independence. She disappeared into the trees.

I was on my horse, Smokey, who I've written about in this blog before. I was about 14 at the time. I located Independence's calf and reasoned that if I took it to the barn she would follow. I got down, picked up the calf and draped it over the saddle in front of me. We headed for the barn at a leisurely pace. I looked over my shoulder and saw Independence boil out of the tree line in a wall-eyed rage. We headed for the barn and I saw Independence in a long-legged loping run that looked like Secretariat at the Belmont.

Smokey was plenty fast, but he was loaded down with me and a good size calf. I couldn't let him run all out because I'd surely drop the calf. The devil cow was gaining. It was the better part of a mile to the barn. I considered dropping the calf—no way would I get off. My dad saw the situation, galloped to the barn and opened the first of two gates. I galloped through, deposited the calf as gently as possible and headed for the second gate. Smokey cleared the metal gate and it was slammed shut in time for Independence to careen into it, leaving a sizable dent.

Not long after that, the cow named Fanny tried to get to my sister as we rounded up the cows yet again. That was pretty much it for our wild cows. They were gone soon after. I miss many things and animals from my youth on the farm. These unpleasant girls are not on that list.

County Agent's Report

Watch body condition of beef cattle

For many area cattlemen, this fall has been a very enjoyable time to be raising beef cattle. Rain and forage have both been adequate. Because of this, most cattle are in good body condition going into the winter. Even so, it is time to consider the cow herd and their condition; winter management must start in the fall, before cold weather.

Producers are encouraged to carefully assess body condition on pregnant cows when calves are weaned, and develop a plan to provide sufficient nutrition to allow cows to maintain moderate-to-good condition before their next calving. Variation in the condition of beef cows has a number of practical implications. The condition of cows at calving is associated with length of post partum interval, subsequent lactation performance, health and vigor of the newborn calf, and the incidence of calving difficulties in extremely fat heifers.

Keeping your animals in condition and providing an adequate, balanced diet may merely mean adding a trace-mineral supplement to native pasture, some good hay, a protein supplement if grass becomes too dry, or hay if the grass becomes depleted. Research has found if a cow is deficient in protein or phosphorus through fall and winter, she won't rebreed on time after calving.

If you manage pastures to eliminate overgrazing, most forage-efficient cows will sustain their body weight during fall and winter grazing. Many will even gain weight after weaning calves and go into winter with fat reserves. Cattle that are still nursing calves will require closer monitoring; their energy needs are even more important.

To help cattle maintain health and body condition during winter, vaccinations should be up to date, parasite populations assessed, and cattle dewormed and de-loused, if necessary.

Here in Cooke County we have several different types of winter feeding programs. These include winter annual pastures, dormant grasses, and/or hay. If you have cattle that are thin, it is logical that supplementation with hay and/or an energy source may be needed, especially if your cattle are lactating. How much hay or supplement a cow needs depends on weather conditions, cow age and body condition, available pasture or crop residue, and reproductive stage of the cow.

In cold or stormy weather, cattle need more energy to maintain body heat. This can be adequately supplied by forages, since fermentation breakdown of roughage in the rumen produces heat. If cattle aren't fed additional energy, they rob body fat to keep warm, and lose weight.

It's most profitable to match the cattle to your feed sources rather than try to create a feeding program to fit cattle that won't do well on their own in your environment. Several excellent resources can be found at the Texas AgriLife Extension Library at: <https://agrilife-bookstore.org>. Once you are there, you can find publication B-1526, Body Condition, Nutrition and Reproduction of Beef Cows or B-6067, Supplementation Strategies for Beef Cattle. If you would prefer, you can obtain a copy through our office.
