

City bumps up three service fees, sets .3431 tax rate

By Janet Felderhoff
Residents of Muenster will soon see slight increases in the cost of services provided by the City. With a full Council present at the Monday, Sept. 13 meeting, the City Council voted to raise fees for water, sewer, and solid waste removal. They also adopted the FY 2010-11 budget and tax rate.

Explaining how the proposed increase was determined for the water rates, Muenster Mayor John Pagel said, "Assuming that about 25% of the residents were in the first bracket of the water rate schedule, 50% were in the second bracket, and the final 25% were above the second bracket, we dealt with those two brackets primarily. We left the minimum alone. In the first bracket, there was 9,000 gallons at $1.50. We reduced the number of gallons to 5,000 instead of 9,000, and we raised the price to $1.65, increasing it 15¢. That pushed those other 4,000 gallons into the next bracket and we raised that bracket from $1.80 to $1.85. The net result is about $2.50 a month possibly."

The sewer minimum is currently $11. That is much less than any other city in the area charges. Examples given were a high of $24.48 at Collinsville to $19 in Lindsay, and $22 in Valley View. The proposal was to increase the minimum for sewer to $13 per month. Those two increases would bring in about an additional $20,000, said City Administrator Stan Endres.

The Council approved the City's first rate increase in those two areas in about five years with a unanimous vote.

Another rate increase found approval in the solid waste removal schedule. Last month, IESI increased the fees to the City by 3.32%. The City operates on a 10% mark up on IESI's charges to cover the cost of billing, collections, and non payments. The increase of 4.5% will mean an increase of about 75¢ per month for residential customers. That same rate will be applied to businesses with dumpsters. The businesses have the option of reducing the size of their dumpster or the number of times it is picked up to reduce their costs.

A budget for the City was adopted for FY 2010-11. That is for $1,058,684 in the General Fund with expenses estimated at $1,079,287 and $418,200 in the Water & Sewer Fund with expenses budgeted at $420,525. The budget includes the purchase of two new vehicles - one for the police department and the other for service use by City employees, and for City employees a meritorious raise that averages about 2.5%.

Endres noted that will still leave a shortfall of $21,000 for expenses over income.

To help fund the budget, the Council voted on a tax rate of $0.3431. This is the effective tax rate or the rate required to collect the same tax revenues as last year when the tax rate was $0.34 for $100 valuation. This year's tax base is $91,327,474 to an adjusted tax base down about $800,000. Pagel noted, "What we've enjoyed in previous years in increase in the tax base each year, we're not experiencing this year. So, in order just to maintain the same tax revenue, the tax rate went up 31 hundredths of 1¢ per $100 valuation."

Don Abney with Atmos Energy approached the Council with a proposed rate increase and a two year extension of their current three-year contract. A steering committee and a coalition panel from 200 cities arbitrated the rate increase. Abney said it started as $3.80, and $1.40 was agreed upon for the increase this year. The increase includes a 16¢ charge for steel line replacement. This allows for an upgrade of the systems that have been in place since the 40s, 50s, and 60s. Steel pipes are being replaced with poly pipe.

The coalition was formed to negotiate increases and avoid the cost of attorney and legal fees that were being paid by each city individually when they wished to protest a rate increase. The rate increase being proposed for Muenster is the rate agreed on by the 200 cities. There are about 30 towns in the North Texas area that are being asked to approve the proposed increase. Those who choose not to accept it will be able to protest, but must pay legal fees.

There was no change in the rate last year. Two years ago, the increase was $1.25.

Ordinance 139 regarding the contract extension and rate increase was approved. In July, a lease agreement was made between the City and IMAC to lease property on the corner of Main and Division Streets at a cost of $1. A lease agreement between the City and the Muenster Chamber of Commerce got approval Monday night. The Chamber plans to use the property for a corner market

Sale of K2 banned

By Janet Felderhoff

Muenster joined other cities in north Texas taking a proactive stance by banning the sale of K-2 and other similar substances. They approved Ordinance 315, which banned its sale, at the Sept. 13 meeting of the Muenster City Council.

City Administrator Stan Endres remarked that he expects the Texas Legislature will pass a law outlawing it across the State.

K-2 is an herbal incense that when smoked mimics marijuana, and sometimes causes hallucinations. It is not intended for human consumption and is meant to be burned as an incense.

The ordinance that Muenster approved was modeled after the one recently adopted by the City of Gainesville. Muenster Mayor John Pagel noted that Lindsay, Gainesville, Sherman, Pottsboro, and several Metroplex cities have already banned sale of the substance.

Muenster Police Officer Gary Amburn said, "They don't know what the long-term affects are because of the chemicals that they put in it. I know the people that I've dealt with that were smoking this were one minute talking like this and the next minute they were off the wall."

Alderman Pat Stelzer noted that there has been one known death in Texas from it so far. He recommend banning its sale.

The Ordinance forbids the use, purchase, or possession, and sale of the synthetic cannabinoids or salvia divinorum distributed, sold, and marketed under such names as K2, K-2 Summit, K-2 Sex, Genie, Descents, Zohai, Sage, Ko-Knock-Out 2, Spice Gold, Spice Diamond, Yucatan Fire, Solar Flare, Pep Spice, Fire N' Ice, and Sal Via Divinorum for public health purposes.

The Ordinance noted that these unregulated synthetic cannabinoid substances produce a very potent, intoxicating effect which is estimated by the medical community to produce effects ranging from three to 100 times greater and more potent than THC, the active ingredient in marijuana.

Any person violating the ordinance may be punished by a fine not to exceed $500. The ban became effective with its passage at the meeting on Monday.

Korner target of thieves

By Janet Felderhoff

According to Muenster Police Officer Gary Amburn, two suspects broke into the Kountry Korner about 3:40 a.m. on Tuesday, Sept. 14. He said that they broke a bolt on the back door to gain entry into the convenience store.

Once inside, the two did considerable damage including damaging an ATM machine. They took nothing from the convenience store. The duo also broke into the building next to Kountry Korner and damaged game machines and stole the cash the machines held.

Officer Amburn reported that they have some leads as to who the burglars are and plan to question them.

Other thefts occurred in Muenster over the weekend, but were investigated by the Cooke County Sheriff's Department.

Court urges keep lines out of County

By Janet Felderhoff

Cooke County Commissioners Court took a stand regarding the Riley-Krum West 345kV CREZ Transmission Line Monday at their regular meeting. They unanimously approved a resolution urging the PUC (Public Utility Commission) of Texas to approve the settlement route 1025. The 1025 route does not come into Cooke County and is currently the first proposed route.

The resolution noted in part that, "the southwestern portion of Cooke County comprises a mixed landscape of undeveloped oaks and savannah rich with wildlife and scenic rolling hills, and placing 160' transmission line right-of-way through this section of Cooke County would involve clear-cutting many acres of undisturbed hardwood forests causing riparian zones which are sensitive to environmental disturbances and erosion."

County Judge John Roane noted that the overwhelming majority of people who had contacted him regarding the transmission lines asked that the County do whatever is necessary to not allow that to come into the County. Several citizens made their wishes known during public comments.

Dick Sparkman, who resides at 787 FM 1201 in Precinct #4, spoke in favor of the transmission lines. "If you are going to look at developing anything in Cooke County, like wind farms, you will need this line," he said. "I actually favor this because eventually they will want to put a wind farm out there. You've got to look at developing the County again on something besides cotton that passed away a long time ago." Van Adamson of 2180 CR 211 strongly recommended against the Oncor towers. He remarked, "They represent a terrible financial hardship to landowners in Cooke County. Wise County and Denton County Commissioners Courts have both recommended that they not be in their counties." Marvin Rauschuber of 329

Hockley Creek Road spoke of the negatives of the lines on farm property. He said that you can't build anything within 150' of them, can't farm around them, can't aerial spray crops because the pilots won't take the chance, and when they work on the lines, crops can be destroyed in the process without sufficient compensation.

From the desk of MMH Administrator Lynn Heller

By Lynn Heller,
MMH Administrator

The interior of the construction/renovation project is completed. Our new state of the art, Cybex, NuStep, and SciFit equipment has been installed and is now being used to treat our patients. As many of you know, we have delayed the opening of the Center to the public for "fitness" activities. We are working on a strategy to be able to open it in the coming months, but first have to have our auditors do an interim Medicare cost report to see what the effect on our Medicare reimbursement might be.

A simple way to explain this situation is that for every minute a non-patient is using the equipment and the facilities, Medicare will reduce how much they pay us for inpatient care, for swing bed care, and for outpatient care. This does not sound logical, but it is just the way it is for Critical Access Hospitals.

During the next several weeks, we, along with our auditors, will be analyzing our cost for therapy services in the center. We will then be able to impute some fitness/wellness visits and calculate how much that Medicare will reduce our payments. This will help us determine how much we have to charge for the fitness services to at least break even on the program.

The federal government wants hospitals to positively impact the health of the citizens of our communities, and at the same time will reduce our payments if we do so. They can't have it both ways. I have contacted Congressman Thornberry's office to open dialogue to hopefully have the law changed.

We very much regret this delay, but we must fully determine the impact of the decrease in reimbursement before opening the Center for fitness/wellness activities.

On a brighter note, our staff is very excited about this equipment, the facilities, and how they are enhancing the level of services for our patients.

We appreciate the wonderful support we have received from the community during this project and very much look forward to showcasing it to you in the near future.

that allows vendors to sell produce, crafts, and foods. The Chamber and IMAC are being added to the City's insurance to provide liability insurance. There is no added cost to the City to do this. The Council approved the sublease with a vote of 3-1 with Jack Flusche voting no. He indicated that another area might be a more appropriate choice.

A resolution passed authorizing the submission of an application to the Texas Department of Rural Affairs requesting grant funds from the Community Development Fund of the Texas Community Development Block for the replacement of old sewer lines. The lines are in the area of Weinzapfel Lake dam, Sixth Street, off of Maple and Eighth Streets, and by Cherry Lane.

The cost would be $127,000. It is hoped to get a grant for $125,000 with the City paying the remainder. Work is not expected to take place until 2012 if the grant is approved.

A survey of residents in the proposed areas took place and the results showed that 51% of the citizens fell below the medium income, making the grant application possible.

The City heard it did not get approved for the Texas Parks & Wildlife grant it applied for to do park improvements at the Muenster pool.

Pool Manager ? Walterscheid submitted his end of year report. He received praise on the report and how it well was done.

Endres reported that the sales tax returns were up for only the second month this year. Pagel said that the City is 4.15% behind in sales tax.

In other business, the City Council:

- Approved bills totaling $105,665.21.
- Approved contract with Steve Gilland for auditing services for FY 2009-10 at an estimated cost of $17,100.

that there are two phases - the Riley to Krum phase and the Krum to Anna phase, which will be addressed at a future Court meeting.

Commissioner Smith said that in meetings he attended, they said the one from Wiley to Krum was to bring the wind power that currently exists out in West Texas to the Krum switching station that supplies DFW. It's a major switching station. In the second phase, the line from Krum to Anna is designed to supply power to Anna or when the wind farm is not producing in West Texas, to supply power from the generators located in East Texas back to Krum for distribution into the Metroplex. Cooke County would not use the power from that switching station, he said.

Commissioner Leon Klement added he was told that there are areas in West Texas that would be developed to supply more wind power, but there is no lines to carry the power to the Metroplex.

Dr. Walter Knight agreed that a great number of landowners in the County would suffer if the lines were to cross the County. He said, "I think the long-term detriment to the County would outweigh any short-term benefit."

Commissioner Smith stressed, "The strongest voice that we have against things that are controlled by commissions like the PUC is individuals, along with the local government, saying this is not what we want to do in our area. I don't think that we can overemphasize the need for individuals to be involved with these commissions and individual actions to be involved with these commissions. They listen to that more than they listen to those they believe are strictly political beings."

Commissioner Klement reminded the audience that the newly adopted resolution only addressed the Riley to Krum line, and the Krum to Anna was a separate issue. Commissioner Smith explained that two separate resolutions are being done because there will be two separate State hearings and two separate phases. Some of the proposed routes go north of Gainesville and circle back around. One preferred route would go south of the Lake Ray Roberts dam and another would go north of Lindsay going nearly to Callisburg, Myra, and Era. That one will be discussed at another meeting.

To be an intervener speaking for or against the transmission line from Krum to Anna, one must sign up by Oct. 1. "We need people to continue to stay involved where they can speak about the line going up through Myra and so on. We need to get individuals signed up so we can oppose that line," said Smith.

Peggy Shelley of TCOG (Texoma Council of Governments) 9-1-1 GIS program assured Commissioners that they would find the services meeting or exceeding industry standards for accuracy and information with mapping. The County decided to contract with the TCOG 9-1-1 GIS program during the recent budgeting cycle. This service has been done in-house with Cooke County EMS. Commissioner Smith noted of the change, "There is quite a savings to us in doing this." Grayson and Fannin counties already participate. The contract was approved.

The week of Sept. 19-25 was proclaimed RC&D Week in Cooke County. RC&D (Resource Conservation & Development) Councils have contributed countless hours of community service to help people care for and protect their natural resources in ways that improve the area's economy, environment, and living standards since 1964. Cooke County is a member of the Chisholm Trail RC&D Council and pays annual dues of $50 to belong. The office is in Bowie. Besides Cooke County, Grayson, Collin, Denton, Montague, Wise, Clay, Archer, and Wichita are a few other of its member counties.

Precinct #3 Commissioner Al Smith commented, "Our local RC&D does many things. The major activity thing that it does is help us with grant writing for various resources conservation projects that we might have. They are also an effective quasi lobbying organization to keep us abreast and to influence good legislation where it comes to conservation issues." He added that they were instrumental in getting assistance for projects at Muenster Lake and Hood's Community Center grants.

In other business, Commissioners Court:

- Approved election judges for the Nov. 2, 2010 General Election as submitted by County Clerk Rebecca Lawson.
- Approved Joint Election Agreement with Era ISD and Cooke County for the Nov. 2, 2010 elections and approved voting machine rental services agreement with Era ISD.

NCTC to open extension campus in Flower Mound

North Central Texas College will expand its service to Denton County this spring with the opening of a new extension campus at Parker Square in Flower Mound.

Now serving nearly 6,000 students at its Corinth Campus, open since 1999, NCTC had already been offering credit courses at various temporary Denton County locations since the early 1970s.

The Parker Square location is intended to better meet the needs of residents of the southern portion of the county, a region that NCTC President Eddie Hadlock said has been underserved by NCTC up to now.

"And, frankly, our Corinth Campus is rapidly nearing a state of being maxed out," said Dr. Hadlock. "It's likely that over the next year or so we'll be doing some kind of expansion there as well, not only to increase capacity but also to improve services."

The College's governing board, in a recently called special meeting, formally approved the 10-year lease agreement with a group of private investors on a 32,000-square-foot, building at Parker Square. The contract includes an option to buy at the end of the term.

Formal closing is expected to be complete by no later than Oct. 1, according to Dr. Lee Ann Nutt, vice president of instruction. It was she who first identified the property as a potential campus location, and she was a key player in the lease negotiations.

"The entire two-story, stand-alone structure is essentially just a shell right now," said Roy Culberson, dean of the NCTC Corinth Campus who is currently acting as coordinator of the Parker Square project, "so we are really under the gun to get the finish-out completed, get all the computer network cabling installed, and get all the classroom and office furnishings and equipment in place in time to start classes in January."

On Oct. 15, NCTC will open a temporary office in Suite 908 in Parker Square to provide prospective students with enrollment information, academic advising, assistance with financial aid applications, and even computer stations for submitting admission applications and registering for classes online.

When finish-out work on the building is completed, it will have 10 conventional classrooms, lecture hall, two computer labs, science lab, library/learning resources center, bookstore, student lounge/study areas, and faculty/staff offices.

Initially, about 118 individual course sections will be offered, primarily in traditional university transfer subjects like English, math, government, history, and biology.

"But we'll be adding a few technical courses to the curriculum as well," Dr. Nutt said.

"The brief delay in offering a full range of courses, including two-year associate degree programs, is due to a requirement that approval be given by our accrediting agency for complete degree tracks at a new campus location."

Opening of the new NCTC extension campus is expected to significantly improve the economic vitality of the Parker Square complex, which has for some time been struggling with vacancies due to a shortage of daytime customer traffic to its retail shops, restaurants, and other businesses.

With NCTC daytime enrollment expected eventually to reach 1,000 students and beyond, this should change dramatically.

"The location is ideal for us, and this makes it a win-win for both NCTC and the Parker Square area business community," Dr. Nutt said.

She pointed out, however, that although expanding service to this particular part of Denton County is of prime importance, the Parker Square extension campus is part of a broader ongoing plan to enhance and expand NCTC's presence throughout the county.

Along with Montague County and Cooke County, as well as the Graham ISD in Young County, Denton County is part of the geographic "service area" that NCTC is mandated by state statute (Senate Bill 397, 1995) to serve.

McKnight, Wolf marry in Immaculate Conception Church

Delaney Renee McKnight of Stephenville became the bride of Paul Andrew Wolf of Stephenville on Saturday, Aug. 14, 2010 at 7 p.m. in Immaculate Conception Catholic Church of Denton. Msgr. Charles King officiated for the double ring vows.

Bride's mother is Lee-ane Munger of Ponder. Her grandparents are George and Dede Munger and Ruth Francis. Parents of the groom are Kent and Lori Wolf of Denton. His grandparents are Ray and Toni Stinedurf and Ernest and Bea Wolf.

Given in marriage by her mother, the bride was attired in a strapless, ivory beaded gown with a four foot train. She carried a bouquet of ivory roses and lilies.

ATTENDANTS
Tia Johnson of Ponder, friend of the bride, served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Brandy Brown of Austin, bride's friend, and Michelle Wolf and Amy Wolf of Krum, sisters of the groom. They wore tea-length, A-line dresses in black, accented with sashes of seamist in the color of teal. Their bouquets were of ivory and peach flowers.

Brother of the groom, Steven Wolf of Lubbock, was best man. Groomsmen were Bryan Wolf of Krum, brother of the groom and Terry Dear of Ponder, friend of the groom. They wore black tuxedos with teal vests and ivory colored roses on the lapel.

Ushers were Chris Munger of Dallas, cousin of the bride, and Mark Wolf of Krum, cousin of the groom.

Sarah Munger, bride's cousin, provided piano and vocal music. Readers were Kelli Wolf, sister of the groom, Meredith Wolf, sister-in-law of the groom, and Kent Wolf, father of the groom. Two mixed flower arrangements completed the church decorations.

RECEPTION
A dinner reception and dance for 150 guests was held at Immaculate Conception's Knights of Columbus Hall. Globe lanterns hung from the ceiling, with lighted globe lanterns over the dance floor. The tables were beautifully decorated.

Reception assistants were Ashley Shepherd, Amber Stinedurf, and Ashleigh Wolf, all groom's cousins, and Kelli Wolf, groom's sister. The three-tier wedding cake was adorned with black scrolls and seamist layer lining. The German chocolate groom's cake held chocolate-dipped strawberries.

Rehearsal dinner, hosted by the parents of the groom, was held at Metzler's BBQ in Denton.

The bride attended North Central Texas College and plans to graduate from Tarleton State University in May 2011 where she is majoring in Animal Industries. The groom also attended North Central Texas College and plans to graduate in May 2011 from Tarleton State University. He is majoring in Ag Education.

Following a road trip to New Mexico and Colorado, the couple is residing in Stephenville.

Sr. Elizabeth Mary Fuhrmann to make Profession of Vows Sept. 25

Sister Elizabeth Mary of the Heart of Jesus, O.C.D. (Elizabeth Fuhrmann) a native of Muenster, of the Discalced Carmelite Nuns of Arlington, will make her First Profession of Vows on Saturday, Sept. 25, at 10 a.m. at the Carmelite Monastery Chapel at 5801 Mount Carmel Drive in Arlington.

Most Reverend Kevin W. Vann, bishop of Fort Worth, will be concelebrating the Mass along with the provincial of the Discalced Carmelites, Reverend Gregory Ross, O.C.D., and several priests.

The Profession of Vows will take place during the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass as a public witness to the consecrated life and for the good of the Church. The novice kneels before the Reverend Mother Prioress and reads the formula of Profession, which she has written out beforehand. The Sister thus makes her vows to God, according to the Rule and Constitutions of the Discalced Carmelite Order. In her official position as Mother Superior of the Community, the Prioress accepts her vows in the name of God and of the Church.

Family, relatives, and friends participating in the Mass will be witnessing Sister Elizabeth Mary professing her Holy Vows.

Sr. Elizabeth Mary Fuhrmann

After the Mass and later in the afternoon from 3 to 5 p.m., both on Saturday and Sunday, there will be visiting hours in the Monastery parlor.

Sister Elizabeth Mary is the daughter of Leon and Sandra Fuhrmann of Muenster. Sister grew up in Muenster and attended Sacred Heart School and was a member of Sacred Heart Parish. In September 2007, Sister Elizabeth Mary entered the Carmel of the Most Holy Trinity in Arlington as a postulant. In 2008, she was clothed in the holy habit of Our Lady of Mt. Carmel and began her novitiate. On Sept. 25, she will profess her First Vows for a period of three years.

A First Profession is a very joyful occasion for the Discalced Carmelite Nuns and for Sister's family, relatives, and friends as she takes a further step in her formation as a Carmelite. The nuns ask with joy to keep Sister Elizabeth Mary and the community in prayer during this special time of celebration for their Community, for the Diocese of Fort Worth, and for the whole Church.

Hardy Cemetery organizational meeting set for Sept. 18

A meeting for the Hardy Cemetery Working Fund will be held Saturday, Sept. 18 from 10 a.m. to noon at the Forestburg Community Center. It will be a planning and organizational meeting, with election of officers. At least one representative from each concerned family is asked to be present. For more questions, call Leo Orrell, president, at 964-2404.

Reiter attains rank of Eagle Scout

Austin Reiter, son of Lloyd and Mary Reiter of Lindsay, formally received the rank of Eagle Scout from the Boy Scouts of America organization. The ceremony was held on Aug. 8 at First Baptist Church Activity Center. First Baptist Church is the sponsor for Troop 668 of Gainesville, where Austin has been a member since 2003. Austin's Scoutmasters were Alex Cummings and Darrell Timmins.

During the ceremony, Austin presented his mentor award to his first Scoutmaster, Alex Cummings, who instilled the love of Scouting that prompted Austin to stay with Scouts all the way to Eagle. Progressing through the ranks in Boy Scouts included Tenderfoot, 2nd Class, 1st Class, Star, Life, and finally Eagle. Only 3% of boys who join Boy Scouts of America ever reach the highest rank of Eagle.

For his Eagle project, Austin organized and planned the restoration of the fences and gates that surround the Danny Schad Memorial Softball Field at the Lindsay City Park in June of 2008. The project included wire brushing 25 years of rust off of the gates and metal pipes that support the fences around the softball field. After all preparation work was completed, Austin organized a workday where he led and supervised 17 fellow Boy Scouts who helped with the painting process. They used socks on their hands to paint the fences.

Austin learned some valuable leadership skills during this project as he quickly discovered how much fun the younger Scouts could have with fresh paint, a wet sock, and a "Let's have fun attitude." The project involved 80 hours of work for Austin and a total of 200 hours for the troop as a whole.

While a Boy Scout, Austin received awards including Arrow of Light, Kyle Mountain Sunrise, Pope Pius XII Award, Snorkeling, and the Wrangler Award four consecutive years from 2003 through 2006. Austin also served three terms as Troop Guide, one term as Assistant Senior Patrol, one term as Assistant Patrol Leader, and one term as Chaplain's Aide.

Some of Austin's favorite activities in Boy Scouts included campouts, canoeing, summer camps, and most of all, his two week trip to Philmont Scout Ranch in Cimmaron, New Mexico, where he and 11 fellow Scouts hiked 86 miles with everything they needed in a backpack. This was truly the highlight of his Scouting endeavors.

Upon completion of all requirements for Eagle Scout in August 2009, Austin returned to his Troop 668 as an adult merit badge counselor until he left for Texas Tech to begin his new adventure as a Red Raider majoring in Business this fall.

Austin's grandparents are Julius and Marcella Metzler of Lindsay and Wilfred Reiter of Muenster and the late Polly Reiter.

Sacred Heart School students honored as published authors

Nine sixth grade students have recently been notified that their short stories were chosen for publication in the Anthology of Short Stories by Young Americans®. They carefully wrote their stories last spring when they were in the fifth grade and submitted them in hopes of being published. This week, that hard work was rewarded for these young authors when they received a letter congratulating them for being selected for publication. Their teacher last year was Barbara LaChance.

The Anthology of Short

Stories by Young Americans® provides a forum through which selected young authors can see their work and the work of other students published in an actual book. Students in grades K - 12, write short stories that are selected for publication. Submissions are received from young writers who live throughout the United States. The Anthology of Poetry, Inc.'s editors review each submission. Works are selected for publication based upon their character and plot development, originality, and audience appeal.

The Anthology of Poetry, Inc. dedicates itself to nurturing the beauty, self-expression, and fun of writing. Working with educators in all 50 states, The Anthology of Poetry, Inc. fosters the creativity expressed through writing, and honors some of the country's finest young writers by publishing their works.

Tigers conquer Calvary

The Calvary Conquerors traveled up to Muenster from Fort Worth last Friday to compete on the battlefield with the Tigers of Sacred Heart. It didn't take long to realize the Tigers intended to send the non-conquering Conquerors home in defeat. The first three of four Sacred Heart possessions finished in the end zone in the Tigers' 40-0 shutout of the Metroplex team.

"We played good on both sides of the ball," Tiger Coach Dale Schilling noted. "The boys were so ready to play that they executed our game plan offensively and defensively. We took Calvary out of their game plan."

After an exchange of possessions, the Tigers starting on their own 45, took only three plays to find the end zone. A 17 yard run by Matt Hesse followed by a Hesse to Josh Biffle pass put the first points on the board. Hesse added the extra kick for a 7-0 score 2 1/2 minutes into the game.

Holding the Conquerors, Sacred Heart forced another punt. After gaining 2, the Tigers went airborne. A Hesse throw was tipped by a Calvary defender and caught by Mark Bartush who went the remaining yards for an 80 yard touchdown play. Hesse's PAT put the Tigers in the lead 14-0 halfway through the period.

A 53 yard kick return put Calvary in Tiger territory, but tackles by Michael Davis, M. Hesse, John Paul Hesse, Alex Turner, Phillip Vogel, and Justin Brown held the city boys at the 29. A pass to Biffle and runs by Biffle, M. Hesse, and Bob Bartush took the Tigers to the 1 yard line. With 18.7 seconds on the clock, Biffle scored. The PAT failed for a 20-0 score.

Calvary got in a few plays and punted. An M. Hesse to Davis pass quickly moved the Tigers from their own 39 to the Conqueror 20. Five plays later, Biffle crossed into the end zone. Add on Hesse's PAT and Sacred Heart had a 27-0 lead.

The Tigers' next drive ended profitably, taking Sacred Heart six plays to score. M. Hesse found paydirt with 2 minutes on the clock. He added the extra point and the Tigers took a 33-0 halftime lead into the fieldhouse.

The 3rd quarter was scoreless, with Calvary getting in 13 plays to Sacred Heart's eight plays.

The teams exchanged possessions. Vogel blocked a punt, placing the Tigers 28 yard from the end zone. Hesse and Biffle ran a few plays with M. Hesse finishing the drive with an 11 yard TD run. The PAT by Hesse cleared the uprights for the final 40-0 score with 2:10 remaining in the game.

The game ended when M. Hesse intercepted a Calvary pass.

The Tigers will host the Hornets of Era this Friday night. "Era has been plagued with injuries early on," noted Coach Schilling on why the Hornets haven't been successful so far this season. "When they get everyone healthy, they will be a threat." Schilling believes the Hornets may have their two big backs ready to play this Friday night against the Tigers. Kickoff is at 7:30 p.m.

Hornets take win from Bells

For the third straight week, the Muenster Hornets defeated a larger 2A team on the football field. Their latest victim last Friday was the Panther team from Bells High School, sent home with a 42-21 beating.

"I'm very happy the way we came out with lots of fire and intensity. That's what we needed to do," commented Coach Brady Carney. "They were bigger, so we had to come out and set the tone. And that's what we did."

The Hornet passing game surpassed the Panthers by 166 yards. A fumble recovery helped set up a touchdown, with a punt return for 6 points putting the final icing on the cake.

Josiah Flaming had a good opening kickoff, but a 34 yard return placed the Panthers near midfield. The Hornet defense held Bells to just 6 yards. A short punt put the Hornets on their own 32 yard line. Six plays later, Chase Hammer scored from 27 yards out. Flaming boot the extra point for a 7-0 score with 7:13 on the clock. Bells bounced back, taking only three plays to tie the game 7-7.

Muenster's next drive ended with a lost fumble. Two plays later, Bells fumbled the ball. Hammer covered on the Panther 35. Hammer ran for 14 yards, and Garrett Walterscheid for 4. Add a 16 yard Tyler Anderle to Andy Flusche pass play and the Hornets were on the 1 yard line. An Anderle to Jason Luke pass gave Muenster a 13-7 lead with 40 seconds on the clock.

It was three plays and punt for the Panthers. The Hornets moved the ball 45 yards, punting, out of downs, at the 17. The teams exchanged a couple of punts before the halftime break.

It was Hammer time as the 3rd quarter got underway. Hammer gained 45 yards, Walterscheid 4, and an Anderle to Dalton Koelzer pass 20 to get the ball to the 3 yard line. Hammer pounded into the end zone to give Muenster a 19-7 lead.

Again, Bells bounced back, taking 10 runs to get to the Hornet 40, then scoring with 5:11 remaining on the 3rd quarter clock for a 19-13 score.

Muenster didn't let up. Hammer ran for 23, a Walterscheid to Luke pass picked up 23 more, with the final play of the drive, an Anderle to Luke pass play finding the end zone. Walterscheid ran in the PAT for a 27-13 score.

Bells got in 11 plays, but an interception by Scott Porter in the 4th period gave Muenster possession on their own 34 yard line.

The teams exchanged punts. A short 7 yard boot by Bells put the Hornets 25 yards from paydirt. With 6:44 on the clock, Trevor Hess scored. Garrett Hanes added the extra points to give Muenster a 35-13 lead.

Unable to get a 1st down, Bells punted the ball away.

Luke returned the ball 60 yards for the Hornets' final TD of the game. Flaming's kick was good for a 42-13 score.

Bells found the end zone one more time with 3:25 remaining in the game, scoring on a 3 yard run. The PAT made the final 42-21 score. The game ended with a sack by the Hornet defense.

"As always, there are still some things we need to work on and get better at," Coach Carney noted, adding that the defense has been giving up big plays, the offense needs to play all four quarters, not just three out of four, and the special team blockers are having problems on field goals and extra point kicks. "But overall, I was pleased with the performance on both sides of the ball."

The Hornets travel to S&S this Friday to take on the Rams, another 2A football team. "The numbers still worry me," said Coach Carney. "We're about playing four quarters of football. Our players have to be in good condition to play against bigger numbered teams."

Carney added that the Rams are big up front and that it's just a matter of the Hornets playing harder than their opponent.

Game time is 7:30 p.m.

Sacred Heart JV

The JV Tigers were handed a 20-6 loss in Collinsville last Thursday. The Pirates had a 20 point lead at halftime. John Paul Hesse intercepted a pass in the 1st period, but the Tiger drive ended with a fumble. Another lost ball early in the 2nd quarter set up a Pirate touchdown.

Early in the 3rd quarter, the Tigers scored on a 47 yard run by Hesse. The PAT failed for a 20-6 score.

Sacred Heart ran the ball into the final quarter, getting stopped at the 1 yard line. The teams exchanged possessions several times before time ticked off the clock.

Sacred Heart 7th
The Sacred Heart 7th Grade Cubs had a 20 minute match with Collinsville last Thursday evening. The only score came on the first drive with a 54 yard run by Kason Reeves. A Reeves pass to Brady Endres was good for the PAT.

The young Pirates got in 13 runs, keeping the Cub defense busy. Getting tackles included Isac Walterscheid, Reeves, James Dangelmayr, Hayden Schilling, Grant Springer, Daniel Hesse, and Darian Peters.

The first play of the Cubs' second possession was a lost fumble. The Cub defense held Collinsville to a loss and ended the contest when Endres intercepted a Pirate pass.

Sacred Heart 8th
The 8th Grade Cubs had an exciting come-from-behind 22-16 victory in Collinsville last week. The first Pirate points came at 22 seconds remaining in the 1st quarter, and at halftime the score remained 8-0.

The Pirates scored again the third play of the 3rd quarter to take a 16 point lead. Runs by Isac Walterscheid, and a Kason Reeves pass to Walterscheid took the Cubs into the final period. A Walterscheid run with 5:49 remaining closed the score to 16-6.

After stopping the Pirate offense, two runs by Walterscheid took the Cubs to the 20 yard line. A Reeves to Zach Flusche pass put 6 more points on the board. Walterscheid ran in the extra points for a 16-14 score.

Two plays later, Chris Jackson covered a Collinsville fumble 14 yards from the end zone. After a couple of flags and fumbled play, a Reeves to Walterscheid pass play put Sacred Heart in the lead. Walterscheid ran in the extra points for a 22-16 score with 1:19 remaining in the game.

The Pirates' final attempt to score ended when Brady Endres intercepted the ball.

Whitewright hands Knights 42-14 loss

The Whitewright Tigers played a game of ball control Friday against the Lindsay Knights, taking home the 42-14 victory.

Both teams came to Henry B. Schroeder Knight Field in Lindsay with a 2-0 record, and Whitewright quarterback Tyrone Swoopes made sure that it was his team that stayed undefeated.

The good news is that the Knights were able to hold the Tigers to only six points in the second half, but the bad news is that Madison Parkhill and Drew Cooney sat out the second half with injuries.

"It just wasn't our night," Lindsay Coach Cody Bounds said. "They took the wind out of our sails." Bounds said he would be following the Tigers to see how they end up in advanced play.

The absence of running back Robert Arend hurt the Knights more than Bounds had counted on.

"Robert is a leader," Bounds said. "We missed him more than I thought we would." Arend will be out again next week.

The Tigers started the scoring attack on their first drive at the Knight 34. With a third and 10 at the Knight 42, Swoopes completed a 22-yard pass to Gerran Ballard, who ran 20 yards for the first score of the night with 6:21 left in the first quarter.

On their first possession, the Knights could not move the ball, and after a Lindsay punt, Whitewright took over at their own 31. Whitewright's Blane Wortham made a 42-yard run to get the ball into Knight territory. Another run took the ball inside the five-yard line but an unnecessary roughness penalty for the Tigers put the ball back out on the 19. On fourth down, Swoopes ran 13 yards for the score. The Tigers' first attempt at the PAT was no good, but an off-side penalty on the Knights gave the Tigers the chance to rekick, with the second kick good to make the score 14-0 with just over 3 minutes in the first quarter.

The Tigers recovered a fumble at the 10-line to set up their next score, but the kick failed, bringing the score to 20-0.

Travis Skinner gave Knight fans some excitement when he ran 86 yards for a touchdown late in the first quarter. Garrett Yancey's PAT was good, for a 20-7 score.

Early in the second quarter, the Tigers recovered a Yancey fumble in the end zone for a safety. The free kick after the safety put the Tigers in good field position and on the next play, Wortham ran 43 yards to the Lindsay 18-yard line. Swoopes scored the Tiger touchdown on a quarterback keeper, and with the good PAT, the score was 29-7 with 9:02 left in the first half.

After the touchdown, Yancey returned the ball 58 yards to set up the Knights' next score. Jace Wann ran standing up into the end zone from six yards out with 7:37 in the second quarter to bring the score to 29-14.

The Tigers would score another touchdown on their next possession after the kickoff, bringing the score to 36-14.

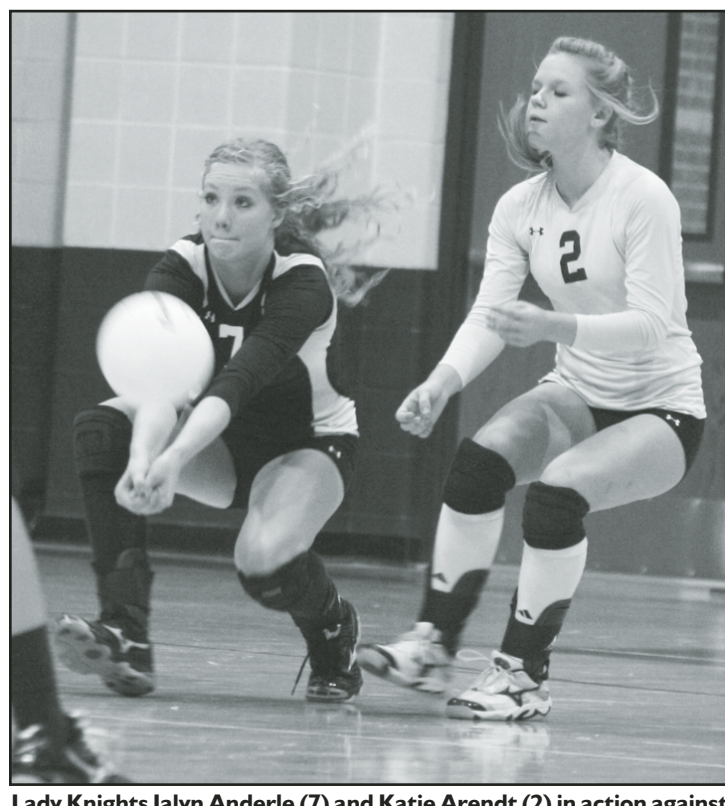

Lindsay's Dean Fleitman intercepted a Swoopes pass late in the second quarter to halt another Tiger drive.

After the half, the Knights were able to stop the Tiger drives, especially on the ground. The Tigers took 14 plays to move the ball 83 yards to make their only score of the second half, bringing the score to 42-14. The PAT was no good.

Lindsay recovered a fumble late in the game, but ran out of time to capitalize on the possession inside the Tiger 20-yard line.

Next up for the Knights is their third Tiger opponent, their homecoming game against the Leonard Tigers. The return Parkhill and Cooney is questionable.

OFFENSE DEFENSE...

...You have to play both

Making money is offense: Touchdowns, "yahoos", and "read about it in tomorrow's newspaper". Saving money is defense: Grunts, bruises and "getting clobbered, but having the discipline to hang in there no matter what". If you want to win, you have to play on both ends of the field.

FARM & RANCH

National Farm Safety and Health Week, Sept. 19-25

Responsible agriculture requires keen attention to safety and health practices. The National Education Center for Agriculture Safety (NECAS) encourages farmers and ranchers to review their operation's safety practices during National Farm Safety and Health Week, Sept. 19-25.

The theme is "ATVs—Work Smart. Ride Safe." All-terrain vehicles (ATVs) have become a popular mode of transportation on American farms and ranches. They also are used for recreation, often ridden by children and young adults.

According to the U.S. Consumer Product and Safety Commission, 410 deaths were attributed to ATV use in 2008 and approximately 135,000 injuries from ATV-related accidents were treated at local emergency rooms. The NECAS chose ATV safety as this year's theme to alert ATV operators of proper safety precautions.

National Farm Safety and Health Week was established by the National Safety Council in 1944. Since that time, it has been proclaimed annually by each sitting U.S. President.

Agricultural machinery systems website launched by OSU

Agriculturalists needing information regarding the efficient use of agricultural machinery now have a new resource to consult.

Oklahoma State University's Agricultural Machinery Systems website at <http://www.agmachinery.okstate.edu/> contains information from the department of biosystems and agricultural engineering as well as educational material generated at other universities.

Randy Taylor, OSU Cooperative Extension engineer, machinery systems, said agriculture machinery represents one of the largest costs associated with growing crops in the Great Plains.

"Furthermore, ag machinery is common across the country, so information generated in other states can be just as valuable as that generated in Oklahoma. This makes sharing information between states more feasible," Taylor said.

Information on the site can be found on applications systems, engines, grain harvesting, hay and forage harvesting, machinery management, power transfer, precision agriculture technology, tillage systems management and tractors.

"This website was established as a source of information regarding the efficient use of agriculture machinery. The material is organized in a manner that lets users find their needed information," Taylor said. "This site is unique in that material from many sources can be accessed in one location. There are also links to other useful sites."

Consumers still food frugal

A new survey released by ConAgra Foods shows that despite the recent improvement in the nation's economy overall, Americans will not be changing their shopping habits any time soon. Four out of five people surveyed (79%) said they do not feel like the recession is over, and most (71%) plan to continue the savings habits they developed during the economic downturn.

The recession continues to affect the way people shop for and prepare food. During the past year, 75% of Americans said they cooked more meals at home and they plan to keep doing so. About two-thirds (68%) said cooking has helped bring their family together, and just over 60% said they enjoy cooking now more than ever. About 80% of those surveyed will continue to save money by using coupons, following a budget, or taking advantage of store specials. Two-thirds (63%) will continue to cut back on

TDA market recap

For the week ending Sept. 11, feeder cattle prices at Texas auctions were mostly steady to $5 lower per hundredweight, but remain well above where they were this time last year. Concerns about future feed grain prices added to seasonal declines. Fed cattle were higher in spite of lower wholesale beef prices.

Wheat prices were higher for the week amid ongoing concerns about European production, but were lower on Friday after USDA reported ample global supplies. As for futures markets, wheat, corn, and lumber were higher while feeder cattle, fed cattle, and cotton were lower.

The corn crop was 50% harvested, behind the normal 66% by this date, and 73% of the crop was rated mature. Grain sorghum harvest was 45% complete and rice harvest was nearing completion. Wheat seeding was 9% complete and some acreage has emerged.

County Agent's Report

Fall to early winter cultural practices for turfgrasses in home lawns

Fertilization

Dr. James McAfee is the region's turf grass specialist for Texas AgriLife Extension Service. He has pointed out that fall is one of the most important times of the year to make an application of fertilizer to the warm season turfgrasses such as bermudagrass, St. Augustinegrass, zoysiagrass, centipedegrass and buffalograss. Dr. McAfee says that in fall and early winter months, the number one priority for food produced by the turfgrass plant is stored carbohydrates. Generally, late September to mid-October is the ideal time to fertilize our warm season turfgrasses in this area of the state.

For bermudagrass, apply approximately 1.0 lb. of nitrogen per 1,000 sq.ft., and for the rest of the warm season turfgrasses apply approximately 0.5 to 0.75 lbs. of nitrogen per 1,000 sq. ft. If the soil level of phosphorus and potassium is high to very high, then all you need to apply is nitrogen in the fall. If the soil is low to moderate in phosphorus and/or potassium or if the homeowner doesn't know how much phosphorus or potassium is in the soil, then use a 3-1-2 to 4-1-2 fertilizer ratio.

For cool season turfgrasses such as tall fescue, apply 1.0 lb. of nitrogen per 1,000 sq.ft. in mid to late September and then apply 1.5 lb. of nitrogen per 1,000 sq. ft. in late November to early December. In the September application, if phosphorus and potassium levels are high to very high, then apply nitrogen only. Otherwise, use a 3-1-2 to 4-1-2 fertilizer ratio. In the late November to early December application, apply nitrogen only regardless of the phosphorus and potassium status in the soil.

Mowing

With recent rainfall and drop in temperatures, the growth rate for the warm season turfgrasses is starting to increase over the growth rate for the late summer months. It is very important to mow these warm season turfgrasses at the proper height and frequency to avoid placing stress on the turfgrass plants going into winter dormancy. Mowing at the proper height and frequency will produce a denser stand of turfgrass in the lawn and will encourage a better root to shoot ratio. A dense stand of turfgrass will aid greatly in helping to reduce the amount of winter weeds in the lawn.

Mow often enough so that you do not remove more than 30 to 40% of the leaf tissue. For most warm season grasses, this will mean mowing at least once per week in early to mid-fall months. However, for some grasses such as hybrid bermudagrasses, it may be necessary to mow twice per week to prevent removing excess leaf tissue.

Seminar slated for weed and brush management

On Tuesday, Sept. 28, a weed and brush seminar will be held in Sherman. This two hour evening seminar will be held at the Grayson County Courthouse in the 2nd floor Assembly Room 100 West Houston Street, Sherman.

The event was planned to meet the needs of people managing pastures of all types for hay production or livestock grazing. Learn how to control the most difficult weed and tree/brush species, when and at what rates to apply herbicides, about calibrating sprayers and purchasing herbicide products with and without a private applicators license.

The seminar fee will be $5 per attendee. The seminar begins at 6 p.m. and concludes at 8 p.m. Two CEUs (one - law and regs, and one - drift minimization) will be offered for those having private applicators license. If you have any questions, contact Chuck at 903-813-4202.
