Hornets Will Meet P' Point Bearcats Here Friday Night

Coach John Hosea is pleased with the early season appearance of his 1956 Muenster High Hornets but he concedes, nevertheless, that they will have the odds stacked at least slightly against them Friday night when they take on the Pilot Point Bearcats in the season opener. The game will be played here, starting at 8 p.m.

Comparison of the two starting lineups reveals a weight advantage of about ten pounds per man in favor of the visitors. Another factor is the greater abundance of talent on the Bearcat team. Listed as a Class A school, Pilot Point has a larger enrollment and a larger group of boys from which to select its players.

Some of that advantage is offset, however, by the loss of the team's first string quarterback. He sustained a fractured cheek bone in a practice scrimmage with Whitesboro last Friday night and is due to be out of uniform for at least a month.

Hosea's confidence in his boys is based on their showing in a scrimmage session with the Sacred Heart Tigers Tuesday night. Both teams looked good, he said, especially after only a week of practice. Each team got loose for a few nice gains but the outstanding feature was the alert defensive play on both sides.

Offensively the Hornets need practice to improve their timing and coordination, and they are concentrating on that part of the game in the last few days before tackling the Bearcats.

Considering the situation in general, Hosea said he likes the looks of his team. Their spirit is tops, their stage of development is about a week ahead of last year, the material is good and shows signs of working into a well coordinated outfit.

Eddie Green Dies Of Heart Attack

E. R. (Eddie) Green, a native of Marysville and former resident of Myra died at about 10 p.m. Saturday after suffering a heart attack at his home in Gainesville. He was 53 years old.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock in Grand Avenue Baptist church, Gainesville, with Rev. John P. Stepp, pastor officiating. Burial in Rest Haven Memorial Park was directed by George J. Carroll and Son Funeral Home.

Bearers were Dewey Riley, J. H. Riley, Leslie Robison, R. A. West, L. H. Hutcheson and Sterling McCool.

Mr. Green was serving as credit manager for Firestone Home and Auto Supply at the time of his death. He was born Aug. 14, 1903, at Marysville and was married to Miss Willodyne Woodruff on Dec. 31, 1930.

In addition to his wife he is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Homer Dorman of Champaign, Ill.; two brothers, Tony Green of Gary, Ind., and Lloyd Green of Dallas; five sisters, Mrs. Delmer Langley, Mrs. Calvin Hatcher, Mrs. Ewell Lemons and Miss Zada Green all of Gainesville, and Mrs. Lee Livingston of Myra, and two grandchildren.

For more than a year he has been an agent of the company, selling insurance after his regular working hours at the Douglas Dispatch. In July he decided to accept the company's offer as its Cooke County representative.

THE HORNETS OF MUENSTER HIGH SCHOOL will open their 1956 football season with the Pilot Point Bearcats Friday night at 8 on the Hornet field. Members of the squad are: TOP ROW Mgr. Johnny Fette, Co-captain Hubert Richey, Dee Kaderli, Co-captain Dickie Cain, Dan Hamric, C. J. Hellman, Jerry Wimmer, Mgr. Nolan Hammer. ## NEWS OF SICK AND INJURED

Mrs. Oscar Miller underwent major surgery at Gainesville Sanitarium Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Vincent Felderhoff is a patient in Baylor Hospital, Dallas, where Wednesday she had an operation to remove a cyst from her lung. She'll be hospitalized about 10 days. She is in Room 287.

Mrs. Joe Swingler is recovering from a slight stroke that affected the right side of her face and left her without vision in her right eye. She will return to an eye specialist this weekend for a checkup and treatment. Meanwhile she is permitted to have company.

Cindy Cain, 9, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Cain, spent Tuesday night and Wednesday at Gainesville Sanitarium for treatment of a throat infection. She will not be back in classes the rest of this week.

Mrs. Albert Henscheid was dismissed from Gainesville Sanitarium Wednesday after undergoing major surgery August 28 and is convalescing at her home.

Mrs. E. M. McDaniel who makes her home with her son and daughter-in-law, the Herbert McDaniels, fell Monday while she was visiting a daughter, Mrs. Barney Samek near Hood, and broke two bones in her right ankle. She has the fracture in a temporary cast until the swelling goes down, then will have another cast put on.

Victor Hartman attended First Saturday services in Sacred Heart church for his first time out since he was hurt in an accident last May. He is on crutches now.

Mrs. Mattie Mathews of Myra is a surgical patient at Gainesville Sanitarium.

Earl Robison was in Gainesville Thursday for examination of a knee injury he received in a fall Wednesday evening while he was loading hay.

John Mosman was bruised and scratched Sunday afternoon in an accident about five miles south of town. The mishap occurred when the brakes on the winch truck he was driving for V&R Drilling company failed on a down-hill stretch. When he tried to change gears the motor stopped and he jumped from the cab. The truck, out of control, jumped a ditch and came to a stop in some brush. It was damaged considerably. John was taken to Gainesville Sanitarium for x-rays and was dismissed when it was discovered no bones were broken. The bruises kept him from work several days.

A boy, weight eight pounds seven ounces, was born at the Muenster Clinic to Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bailey of Bonita Friday, Aug. 31, at 1:30 a.m. The couple has four other boys and three girls.

16 Register Late, Boost Enrollment To New High of 687

Enrollment at the two Muenster schools reached a new high this week as the addition of 16 students raised the total count to 687. The previous record was last year's 683.

This week's enrollment figure also corrects an error in last week's opening day report. The original enrollment was first trimmed from 672 to 671 and this week's addition of 16 accounts for the present total.

Most of the gain occurred at the public school, which received 12 of the new students. Ten entered the elementary department and two entered high school. Correcting the original MHS report from 90 to 89 and adding two accounts for the present enrollment of 91. The elementary count now is 120.

The parochial school's additions are four special students enrolled in the high school on a part time schedule. They increased the Sacred Heart High count to 97. Sacred Heart Elementary enrollment is unchanged at 379.

10-B Loop Policy Is Unchanged for '56 Football Season

Admission prices, game schedules, and policies pertaining to free admission remain unchanged in District 10-B during the coming football season.

Coaches and other school officials of the seven member loop in their annual pre-season meeting at Muenster Wednesday night decided to follow last year's policies in practically all respects.

The admission charge will be 75c for adults and 35c for children at all district games. Visiting band and pep squad members in uniform or accompanied by a school official will be admitted free.

The courtesy of free admission is also extended to players whenever their schedule allows them to attend some other district game. The only requirement is that they be identified by their coach or some other faculty member.

Kickoff time is 8 p.m. for the early part of the season and 7:30 on Oct. 19 and dates thereafter.

The customary district meeting to award the district championship and name all-district selections has been set for Nov. 17. Coaches will submit their lists of nominees for the mythical eleven in sealed envelopes as they report for the meeting.

Something new at the powwow was a meeting of junior team coaches. They have arranged a schedule for kids in the ninth grade and under. Superintendent Homsley, current district chairman, presided at the meeting.

Faculty Complete At Public School

Mrs. Bessie Miller of Gainesville is the new first and second grade teacher at Muenster Public School. She accepted the job late last week and reported Monday for her first day of duty. She fills the vacancy created the day before school started when a Brownwood lady sent a telegram advising she would not be here. Mrs. Fred Savage, wife of the English and Journalism teacher served as substitute teacher last week.

Mrs. Miller has had several years of experience teaching in Cooke County schools and taught the past two years in Douglasville, Cass County. She and her husband, a disabled veteran moved to Muenster during the weekend. They are living on North Main Street.

Muenster Will Host Water, Sanitation Men of North Texas

The City of Muenster will be host next Wednesday night to waterworks and sewer superintendents of about 30 North Texas cities. The event is a regular meeting of the North Texas Water and Sanitation Association preceded by a dinner in the Main Cafe.

Members of the organization meet monthly to consider their mutual problems and also to present new ideas or procedures in their line of work. Programs usually present films or talks by experts along with discussions on problems brought up by the members.

The association is affiliated with the Texas Water and Sanitation Association and also with the Texas Health Department. Attendance at the meetings entitles a member to credit points which are accepted by the health department as part qualification for a license to operate a municipal waterworks or sewer plant.

Barthold Vacation Ends in Accident; Two Hospitalized

A trip that began Monday as a happy vacation tour to the Rio Grande Valley ended abruptly for Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Barthold and their two children a few hours after they left Muenster. At Waco they were in an automobile accident that sent Mrs. Barthold and Brenda, eight-months-old, to the hospital. Wednesday they were moved from Waco to M&S Hospital in Gainesville for continued treatment.

The baby is suffering from a head injury and concussion. Mrs. Barthold has a back or leg injury — x-rays are still being made — and is unable to walk. Mr. Barthold and Bobby, 3, were not hurt.

The accident happened when the Barthold automobile collided with a car that pulled out in front of it. The four occupants of that car were not injured.

Profit Shown on 1956 Operation of Swimming Pool

That the swimming pool is a valued asset for Muenster was revealed Wednesday night in an end-of-season report submitted to the city council by the pool manager, L. B. Bruns.

His figures showed a net profit of $55.30 on the pool operation. The city realized a small income along with the recreational and physical benefits enjoyed by its people.

The council's attitude all along has been that the pool's greatest value is in the benefits derived from it, and that it is a wonderful bargain if it only pays its own way. To receive cash benefits as well as the others was especially pleasing.

Figures submitted by Bruns indicate that June was the best month with receipts of $1083.00. July, with $998.35, was almost as good and August, with several days of cool weather dropped to $661.70. The season's total income was $2743.05.

Total expenses added to $1887.75. The largest expense item was $1425 in salaries to Bruns and Laurence Saye for operating the pool. Water treating chemicals cost $256 and other items of expense came to $206.75.

Actually the item on cost of chemicals could be reduced by about 25 per cent. The figure submitted indicates the full cost of a shipment which will last about another month into next summer's swim season. Also included in the expense are several items of permanent fixtures which will be useful in coming seasons. Under those circumstances the pool's season profit can be conservatively estimated at over $900.

Less tangible but far more important are the other benefits of the pool. A class of 189 enrolled there for Red Cross supervised swimming instructions early in the summer. Youngsters and oldsters alike found refreshing recreation there during the summer heat.

Meanwhile pool supervision was superb. Bruns and Saye maintained excellent discipline and also kept the water in excellent condition.

Martin W. Klement Buys Interest in Endres Motor Co.

Martin W. Klement, a member of the Endres Motor Company personnel since the firm was organized in December 1946, revealed this week that he is officially a partner in the business.

His status as part owner has been in effect for several weeks but the announcement was delayed pending official approval by Ford Motor Company of the new partnership as authorized Ford dealer. Word from Ford last week indicates that the firms change has been recorded and okayed in all departments.

Marty, a member of the 1940 graduating class at Sacred Heart and a member of the armed forces for 3 years during the second world war, is one of the original members of the Endres Motor Co. personnel. He started as manager of the parts and service department and advanced to the position of assistant manager and head salesman.

He has had a vital part in the growth of Endres Motor Company from a small beginning in a frame building to the present well staffed, well stocked dealership in a well equipped modern building. The firm has sold more than 2000 new cars and trucks during its ten years of service to Muenster. It built its present building in 1951.

Urban J. Endres, former owner and now co-owner, has served four years as city alderman and is now serving his fourth year as mayor of Muenster.

SCHEDULE OF COMING EVENTS

MONDAY, Sept. 10, Garden Club meeting in the home of Mrs. R. R. Endres, 8 p.m.

MONDAY, Sept. 10, VFW Auxiliary meeting, VFW Hall, TUESDAY, Sept. 11, VFW meeting, 8 p.m.

FRIDAY, Sept. 7, Football, MHS vs Pilot Point, here, 8 p.m.

Hidden away in obscure corners of last week's papers and introduced by small type headlines was the story of an event which really should have rivaled the two big party political conventions in national interest.

It was another political convention, held in Fort Worth by the Constitution Party of the United States. It received very little notice and it probably will draw a very minimum of public attention in the coming big campaign, even though, very ironically, it offers a platform more suited to solid American thinking than either of the other two.

Some of the planks in that platform are: 1. Recognize each state as an independent and sovereign republic. 2. Recognize that powers not delegated to the United States or prohibited to the states by the constitution are reserved to the states. 3. Adopt laws to compel a balanced budget and retirement of the national debt. . . also to repeal federal income tax laws. 4. Provide absolute protection of the Constitution and internal economy from treaties and executive agreements. 5. Eliminate government ownership or operation of any business.

Let's suppose that this platform and the other two political platforms were submitted to the qualified voters of the United States . . . without the pressure of big political machines or the appeal of important political personalities. Suppose all three had an equal chance for popular consideration. Which do you think would be the favorite?

The group which presents this platform chose very appropriately in naming itself the Constitution party. It is entirely correct in its claim of adhering more closely to that great document which is claimed as the foundation of our way of life but which, over the past few decades, has been ignored for the sake of party advantage. This platform harmonizes with the old principle "he governs best who governs least," a delightful concept in the light of our present widespread attitude "and still we're not getting all the government we pay for."

In spite of its merits, the new party at this time doesn't seem destined to go far. Buried under the avalanche of politicking from the other two parties, it has a very slim chance to emerge from the campaign as a recognized political entity. In fact, as matters stand now, a mere fair showing can actually defeat the party's purpose and prove detrimental to the general welfare of the country.

That's because any considerable strength of this party would come from the more conservative of the other two, possibly handing the victory to the more radical party. From that angle it may be best if the Constitution party remains in obscurity. It would be tragic indeed to weaken the chances of the next best party just to register approval of this party's policies.

Enthusiasts of the Constitution party, however have a more optimistic outlook, as indicated by reports that are coming out this week. Another organizational get-together is scheduled for Memphis in the near future and its purpose will be to work toward achieving a balance of power in the coming election. If, as the leaders hope, it can win enough electoral votes to keep either of the main candidates from receiving a majority it can exert some real influence on the actual selection of the president.

Headline speaker for the Memphis pow wow is Clarence Manion, former dean of the Notre Dame Law School and a high ranking official in the Eisenhower administration until he ran into trouble for supporting the Bricker Amendment. He is conceded to be one of the country's most eminent authorities on the constitution. Favorite for the party's presidential candidate is T. Coleman Andrews, former internal revenue collector, who has been quite outspoken on the country's tax structure since quitting that job.

Definitely the party is not a crackpot outfit. It has some of the best minds in the country, and it has policies which appeal to straight thinking Americans. It can possibly bring a wholesome influence to American politics.

Perhaps it will even grow in.

Old Timers Recall Days Gone By at Bulcher Reunion

Men and women who lived at Bulcher at the turn of the century were busy renewing old acquaintances and recounting early day events Sunday at the community's annual homecoming and first Old Settlers Reunion.

The event, without a rodeo or any special attraction for outsiders, drew a crowd estimated at 500, mostly residents and ex-residents, and this gave the affair the atmosphere of a big family reunion.

The party was held in the Bulcher Park which had a fresh, inviting look. Citizens had spent several weeks working on the grounds, painting tables and benches, whitewashing trees and making things comfortable for guests.

Following a morning hour of registering, visiting and exchanging stories, W. S. Cannon of Nacogdoches, a professor at State Teachers College there, gave the welcome address. A picnic dinner followed with J. W. Fletcher of Muenster giving the invocation. After the meal there was Gospel singing and more visiting.

Persons who traveled the longest distance to attend the reunion were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Dennis and family of Downey, Calif., and Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Williams of Maxwell, Calif. They are descendants of some of the first settlers who moved to the community in 1872. Mr. and Mrs. Otis Cox of Nampa, Idaho, were also among those farthest from their present home. His family, likewise, moved to Bulcher in 1872.

It seemed as though everyone was trying to shake hands with D. O. Robison, 84, now of Gainesville, who was the oldest person present. While still a teen-ager Mr. Robison carried mail on muleback from Indian Territory, Okla., to Bulcher and Marysville. He moved to the community in the fall of 1892.

Present-day observers who wondered why the early settlers chose the hilly timbered land and the heavily timbered creek bottoms rather than the black prairie land which is not far off, got an explanation from oldtimers. There was no lumber for houses, no wire for fences, and the black land was not considered suitable for diversified farming. The timber offered protection from winter cold and bands of hostile Indians.

Earlier settlers tell of an old fort built east of where Bulcher now stands, near Red River, where families went for protection from the Indians. There were several raids in which homes and barns were destroyed and some white people killed. There is no evidence however that Indians actually lived in the locality.

Bulcher got its name, first store and post office in 1875. The name was furnished by the Post-office Department.

In the year 1926 Bulcher was placed in big letters on the map. It was on June 24 when the first oil well was brought in on the August Hyman farm. With this the community took on new life. Many of the wells drilled are still producing and give employment to dozens of residents. In addition to the stockmen and farmers of the early days, Bulcher has been the home of hundreds of families associated with the oil industry. The oil business has gradually replaced farming until today the community is made up almost entirely of oil field workers.

Sunday was a great day for those gathering at the reunion. By a unanimous vote they decided to make the event an annual affair and hold it on the Sunday preceding Labor Day. A love offering of more than one hundred dollars was given to help on expenses connected with the affair.

Among guests registered in addition to those from nearby were those from Olton, Plainview, Kress, Hereford, Morton, Wichita Falls, Nacogdoches, Kilgore, Anton, Pampa, Elkhart, Collinsville, Lockney, Lake View, Morgan, Corpus Christi, Saginaw, Denton, Sweetwater, Houston, Cleburne, Fort Worth, Dallas, Ida Lou, Keller, Snyder, White Deer, Afton, Lubbock, Denison, Ector, and Grand Prairie.

Downey and Maxwell, Calif., Nampa, Idaho, Augusta, Kansas, Oklahoma City, Seminole, Cyril, Marietta, Lindsay, Strong City, Wannette, Ada, Duncan, Sapulpa, Tishomingo, Tulsa, Burneyville, Albert, and Ardmore, Okla.

SIX OF THE BEST!
Sydney, Australia, like many an American community has been plagued with juvenile crime. Duck-tailed teen-agers, called bodgie-boys Down Under, have wantonly destroyed automobiles, engaged in gang wars, and beaten innocent bystanders. Sydney's answer takes the form of a two-pronged ordinance. First, the parents must pay for the damage done by their delinquent offspring. Second, as Robert Ruark vividly phrases it, "A father must, in the presence of a police officer, apply six of the best to sonny boy's stern—with a police whip, and to the satisfaction of the attending officer."

Sydney has set a precedent that every city and town could profitably follow.

Everything in the modern home seems to be controlled with switches, except the children.

HERE'S HOW ...

The cost of hauling milk in cans is 40 cent per 100 pounds as compared with 25 cents per 100 pounds for hauling tank milk, thus a saving of 15 cents per hundred.

Elimination of wastage of milk spilled or left in the can at the plant is 7 cents per 100 pounds.

Improved butterfat test gained by selling all the cream instead of leaving some of it sticking to the can and lid account for another 6 cents per hundred.

THIS GIVES A TOTAL SAVING OF 28 CENTS FOR EACH 100 POUNDS OF MILK HANDLED. THIS 28-CENT A HUNDRED SAVING WILL PAY FOR YOUR DARI-KOOL.

A producer with an average of 10 cans of milk (86 pounds each) a day will sell 25,800 pounds per month. At 28 cents per hundred saving, he will be ahead by $72.24 each month.

The approximate cost of a 250-gallon tank installed is $2,400 with interest of $216 for a total of $2,616. This can be divided into 36 monthly installments of $72.11 each. THUS YOUR SAVINGS MAKE YOUR PAYMENTS FOR YOU. This estimate is without down payment or trade-in, which would cut the principal and monthly payment substantially.

Father Patrick is Speaker at Sunday Meeting of Society

Members of St. Anne's Society Sunday afternoon heard an informative discussion on "Baptism" with Father Patrick Hannon as speaker. He added to his talk by illustrating the correct way to baptize in an emergency when a priest is not available.

He used a doll to demonstrate. Mrs. Paul Fisher, local NCCW president, told about the diocesan convention to be held in Fort Worth on October 14-15-16 and also reminded members that Muenster women will be hostesses for the next quarterly meeting in December. She urged an early date for the meeting so as not to conflict with customary Christmas activity and programs.

Mrs. Victor Hartman conducted the meeting in the parish hall following a regular prayer service in church. She thanked all those who helped re-decorate the Sisters' home and all who participated in their annual shower.

Thirty-five members were present and Mrs. John Fisher won the attendance prize.

Jerry Fette of Waco was here for a holiday weekend visit with his family, the Henry Fettes.

Costumes worn by the mourners are coincidental with the Civil War era—Duluth is in the midst of a centennial observance this year.

Janis Chandler is Married in Dallas

Janis Chandler became the bride of Anthony James Smith in a ceremony at Blessed Sacrament church in Dallas on Aug. 25. The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Paul A. Charcut officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Chandler, formerly of Muenster. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. R. Boyd Smith of Dallas.

Jan was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle over satin, the fitted bodice complemented by a portrait neckline and sleeves that tapered to points over her hands. Her fingertip veil was held by a crown of seed pearls and she carried carnations centered with an orchid.

Carol Chandler, sister of the bride, as junior bridesmaid was one of the bride's four attendants.

After the ceremony a reception was held in the Chandler home, 1115 Forrester.

Since they have returned from a short wedding trip to Galveston the couple is at home in Dallas. Jan was graduated from Our Lady of Good Counsel Academy in that city.

Alvin Fuhrman is New President of Alumni Association

Alvin Fuhrman heads the Sacred Heart Alumni Association as president for the coming year. Members elected him at their first meeting of the new school term.

Serving with him are Alfons Koessler Jr., vice president, and Mrs. Julius Hermes, secretary, and Paul Luke, treasurer. The latter two were returned to office for another year.

Teddy Gremminger, retiring president, conducted the meeting and Father Christopher led the opening prayer.

The group decided to have a benefit trap shoot on October 7 and named a committee to take charge.

The association's financial report was read by the treasurer who gave a detailed listing of last year's receipts and expenditures. Last year's project—equipping the commercial department at Sacred Heart High—will continue as the group's principal project for the coming year. Through benefit socials the association has raised $1100 for equipment. At the meeting a unanimous vote favored the immediate purchase of four new typewriters.

Members decided to take over the sale of football tickets at the six home games and women of the association will be in charge of the concession stand. Mrs. Frank Herr was named general manager of the eats and drinks stand for the year.

Members also decided to invite this year's seniors to all the meetings. They will not be required to pay dues and will not be eligible to vote until the April meeting.

Teddy Gremminger, in a short address, thanked everyone for their cooperation and help and their attendance at meetings during the time he was president.

Coach and Mrs. Jerry Vernon were introduced to the members and were special guests for the meeting. Also present were Sisters Theresina, Patricia, Celine and Jerome. About 50 members attended.

After adjournment there was a social hour with refreshments served by Mrs. Jim Hermes.

RIGHT-TO-WORK

The Republican gubernatorial primary in Kansas was hard fought. A dominant issue was the right-to-work law — the law which provides that a man can join or not join a union if he so chooses, and that he shall have the right to work at his trade in either case. In this Kansas primary, the incumbent governor opposed the law. He was beaten by a man who supported it. Long ago, the indefensible practice followed by some employers of blackballing union members was outlawed. The practice of making a man join a union in order to support himself and his family is blackballing the equally indefensible.

BRACE YOURSELF!

The movement to shift our non-religious holidays around so they will fall on a Monday is gathering considerable headway. This scheme of the National Association of Travel Organizations would give us five long weekends every year. Since Lincoln's and Washington's birthdays are variously observed, these would be merged and called "President's Day," which would fall on the third Monday in February. The last Monday in May would always be Memorial Day. The Fourth of July would not be the fourth very often, since it would inflexibly be the first Monday in that month. Thanksgiving (shades of the pilgrim Fathers!) would also be on Monday, the fourth one in November. Labor Day, of course, would require no juggling.

Swallowing our respect for tradition, this sounds pretty exciting. Practically everyone who has to meet a payroll is all for it. But still, could the human animal stand it — on top of the five-day week? Do we have enough ambulances, hospital beds, tow-trucks, life-guards and liniment to cope with so much leisure? Do we have enough people to spare?

ALICE-IN-TAXLAND

There is an Alice-In-Wonderland quality about our federal income tax laws, with their extremely high upper-bracket rates. U. S. News & World Report gives an example. The magazine says: "A baseball player's angry gesture, during a ball game, may cost the Federal Government $4,200 in income taxes. It also may bring the athlete a personal profit of $4,200."

Does that sound absurd? Well, here's the true story. The world's highest-salaried ballplayer ($100,000 a year) was fined $5,000 by his club for a display of temper toward the fans. This is considered a business expense, for the reason that the fine must be paid if the player is to keep on practicing his profession. Thus, his taxable income is reduced by the $5,000.

After deductions, the top tax rate on this player's income is 84 per cent. So the fine gives him a tax reduction of $4,200, leaving him only $800 out of pocket.

The Hocus - Pocus That Produces Cheap Public (Political) Power

But that isn't all. Admirers of the player are reported to be making up a fund to pay the fine. U. S. News says: "If they give him $5,000, that amount is not taxable at all. In that case, the ballplayer would stand an $800 loss and a $5,000 gain, for a net profit of $4,200."

Very few of us have any personal experience with either $100,000 incomes or $5,000 fines. But this factual illustration indicates just how confused, inequitable, and generally unsound our tax laws are. Like Topsy, they just grew — and grew into a crazy-quilt. That's why sentiment for a complete overhaul has been snowballing.

Plumber (arriving three hours after emergency call) "How's things, Mr. Brown?"

The happy Mr. Brown: "Not so bad. While we were waiting for you to come repair the bursted pipe, I have been teaching the maid to swim."

SMALL WORLD

A group of American tourists were being guided through an ancient castle in Europe. "This place," they were told, "is 600 years old. Not a stone in it has been touched, nothing altered, nothing replaced in all those years."

"Well," said one woman drily, "they must have the same landlord I have."

A cowpuncher stranger came saunterin' into town. Everybody kept staring at him.

Finally someone, pointing at his legs, asked, "How come?" The stranger mumbled, "Skinny horse."

Johnny Needs A Fourth "R"

A Special "Back To School" Release

THE LONG LINES on the way back to school these days contain more than America's sad-faced little Johnnies. More and more civic leaders and parents are taking a real interest in Johnny's education, and want to know what he is learning.

All over the country, Parent Teachers Associations are growing, in which parents and teachers share in planning the educaneed for some program of religious and spiritual training for young students. State Superintendent of Schools, Thomas Bailey, has drawn up a preliminary plan for giving students an appreciation of the fact that America is based on a belief in God and His unchanging law.

Other leading American churchmen and educators are seeking ways to reintegrate religion and education. Dr. Daniel Poling has called for some kind of instruction in schools that would at least give students an appreciation of religion's place in our country and our lives. Dr. Russell Kirk has said "Leave religion out of education and you have left the heart out of the body."

ALL THESE MEN and organizations have realized one thing: you can't train a student all day in what look like important things of life, make no mention of religion, and still expect him to consider religion meaningful for every-day living. The same motives that move many American citizens to support private church schools for the education of their children are moving Americans everywhere to look a bit more deeply into the place of religion in education. All seem agreed on one big thing—we have to find some way of adding a fourth "R" to school courses. Reading, writing, and arithmetic won't of themselves lead to a happy, God-fearing life. Religion is the fourth "R" needed in producing any well-trained, well educated boy or girl.

tions of tomorrow's citizens. One of the big questions they are asking is: Is there enough religion in Johnny's education?

EVERYONE REALIZES that in our country, the public schools can't teach any one creed. But people are wondering if there isn't some place for religion in education.

In New York City the Board of Education has prepared a program for instilling religious and spiritual principles into children. Both Catholic and Protestant leaders endorsed the plan. People in New York have realized you cannot train students in citizenship as if God and religion had no place in their life.

Regardless of Pay Working Student Is Still Dependent

Parents of youngsters who are working during the summer vacation are reminded by H. P. Moore, Administrative Officer of the Fort Worth, Texas Office of Internal Revenue Service, that under certain circumstances their children may still be claimed as full exemptions for Federal income tax purposes. And the children themselves may be entitled to refunds in whole or part of income taxes withheld from their wages during their employment. The special exemption rule, Mr. H. P. Moore explained, applies to children who will still be under 19 years of age at the end of the year and to children who are full-time students, regardless of their age.

Exemption may be claimed by the parents if they contribute more than half the child's support, regardless of the amount earned by the child. This new law was passed by Congress in 1954, Mr. H. P. Moore explained. Prior to 1954, no person earning $600 or more could be claimed as a dependent by another taxpayer. Inquiries received, however, indicate that many who are entitled to this benefit are not aware of it. And some parents continue to have their dependent children stop work before earning $600.

Children 19 and over must be engaged in full-time study at a recognized educational institution for at least five months of the year or must be pursuing a full-time accredited on-farm training program.

Mr. H. P. Moore said that any questions regarding individual cases should be referred to the Fort Worth office.

PAIR OF BIRDIES—Nate Feeman, golf pro at the Nevele Country Club in Nevele Falls, N.Y., demonstrates his sure-feather "birdie" technique for novice golfers. Nate has trained a pair of parakeets to sit on the rims of his pupil's glasses. If the novice keeps his eye on the ball while he swings, his head will not tilt, and the birds will remain in place. If he moves his head, however, the feathered pair will take to the air.

Underground Water Supply in Texas Is Falling Fast

by JOHN C. WHITE
Agriculture Commissioner

An underground desert is in the making in Texas—which may eventually swallow such cities and towns as Amarillo, Dalhart, Plainview, Lubbock and Muleshoe.

These population centers are located atop a vast formation of moisture-laden sands from which water is being pumped at a faster rate than nature can replenish it. The situation was created by nature and aggravated by man.

These sands of the Ogallala formation depend partly upon rainfall and the water and snow sheds of the Colorado and New Mexico mountains to replenish the underground flow. For several years, snow in these sister states have been insufficient to feed the formation at a rate greater than water usage.

The sand strata is thick in some places, thin in others. In some sections of the Texas Panhandle, the saturated thickness of sand is 50 and 60 percent less than a short six years ago.

The boom in irrigation on the High Plains sparked the increase in water consumption. Municipal supplies account for only about 15 percent of water withdrawals. Records show that of all water pumped—since 1938, over 60% of it was used since 1950, due mainly to an expansion in irrigated acreages.

Irrigation cannot be called the "culprit," in this case, however. Rather, it is merely the victim of a natural situation—drouth. Weather conditions have failed to keep our water supply in balance during a period of great demand by the farmers.

The lowering water tables are a matter of concern in other sections of the state, also. Natural springs in Central and South Texas are at their lowest ebb or have ceased flowing altogether for the first time in the history of white settlements.

Comal Springs in the San Marcos-New Braunfels area ordinarily flows about 317 cubic feet of water per second. Early this summer, the spring went dry for the first time.

Barton Springs in Austin, a natural water source that fluctuates rapidly with rains, was producing only 12 cubic feet per second in late August. Its usual flow varies between a maximum of 180 cubic feet to a minimum of 5 1/2 cubic feet according to seasonal changes.

Primarily, Texas' greatest need is rain—in the state and on the watersheds of the Continental Divide. Secondly, the state needs comprehensive soil and water conservation measures which will keep the water in the vicinity in which it falls.

Surface tanks, small check dams and storage dams in the small streams and rivers, coupled with soil conservation work in the fields will help save our precious water, and aid in replenishing the underground supply.

Heredity is when a teen-age boy winds up with his mother's big brown eyes and his father's long yellow convertible.

MONORAIL TO BE INSTALLED AT FAIR

The nation's first commercial operating Monorail line, latest development in modern express transportation, will be installed as a top feature of the 1956 State Fair of Texas in Dallas, October 6-21. The 4,000-foot line will run from the front of the fairgrounds to the main parking lot on the rear. The Monorail will be "safe, silent and swift," according to Monorail, Inc., of Houston, which will construct this line.

State Fair Installs Monorail Service

America's first commercial operating Monorail line will be installed at State Fair Park in Dallas in time for the 1956 State Fair of Texas, Oct. 6-21.

Monorail is the latest development in express transportation. A short demonstration line has been in operation in Houston since February. The Houston line will be dismantled and parts of it will be used in construction of the State Fair line; thus the Dallas Monorail will become the only one operating in the nation. Officials said the transportation it will provide will be "safe, silent and swift." Monorail utilizes a fiber-glass coach suspended from an overhead beam supported by a system of inverted J-shaped towers. The 60-passenger coach which has been used in Houston will be completely remodeled for its State Fair debut.

The State Fair line will be approximately 4,000 feet long. It will extend from a point near the Automobile Building and the Auditorium through the fairgrounds to the main parking lot on the rear of the grounds.

The beam on which the Monorail will run on its pneumatic tires will be supported by 40 steel towers, 30 feet high, and spaced approximately 100 feet apart.

There will be ground-level loading stations at each end of the line and one intermediate stop — an elevated loading platform on the Midway plaza near the main entrance to the Cotton Bowl.

To be known as the "Monorail Skyway," it will serve both as an unusual exhibit demonstrating the most modern type of fast transportation and also is expected to have a novelty appeal comparable to that of a giant Midway ride.

Although the Monorail coach is capable of attaining speeds up to 250 miles per hour, the short distances it will travel on the fairgrounds will limit its speed. It will probably take about two minutes to travel from the front part of the fairgrounds to the back, exclusive of the time it takes to load passengers at the intermediate stop.

The line will be operated by the Texas Skyways Co., a subsidiary of Monorail, Inc., under terms of a six-year contract with the State Fair. A 25-cent fare will be charged. After the Fair, the Monorail will be operated throughout the year on week-ends and at other times.

Giants Win at Last! Nudge Orioles 9-8 In Season Finale

Little League baseball came to an end at Muenster last week with the Lions Club Pirates sacking up their eleventh win and the St. Joseph Giants finally breaking their season-long jinx.

The 9-8 triumph of the Giants, over the second-place KC Orioles was the game to remember. Not only because of the supreme satisfaction it gave the formerly winless kids but also because of the dramatic finish. The Giants were working for their decision from the very start. They scored 1 each in the first and second and 2 in the third. Then it seemed like more of the same old stuff as the Orioles brought in 5 and 3 in the third and fourth to jump four ahead. However 3 Giant tallies in the fifth made it close and another in the sixth knotted the count and a thrilling seventh inning run brought the long sought win.

Knabe's fine pitching plus the team's best batting of the year combined to bring the win. Knabe fanned 16 and walked 3 while allowing 5 hits. Harris for the Orioles struck out 9, walked 3 and gave up 13 hits.

Leading Giant batters were Danglemayr, a triple and 3 singles; B. Hess, a triple, a double and a single; R. Endres, a double and a single; and C. Endres, 2 singles. Owen cracked out 2 singles for the KC's.

The season curtain dropper was just another routine win for the Lions Club Pirates, the VFW Red Sox being the victims by a count of 19-5. The feature of the game was the Pirates' final inning slugfest for six safe blows including three home runs. In all the team had 18 hits including five homers. The Sox got 8 hits including 2 homers, making a total of 7 home runs for the game.

Pirate hurler Owens pitched his usual steady game fanning 17 and walking 8. Hess and Reiter shared the Sox record of 10 strikeouts and 8 walks.

Leading VFW hitters were T. Vogel, a homer and 2 singles; Hellman, a homer and 1 single and Reiter a double.

Pirate sluggers were Wimmer, 2 homers and a single; Hellman 2 doubles and 2 singles; Russell a triple and a single; Owens, 3 singles; Cain, 2 singles; Mullins, Flusche and Monday, a home run each.

Final standings of the teams are Pirates 11-1, Orioles 7-5, Red Sox 5-7, Giants 1-11.

Next to knowing when to seize an opportunity, the most important thing in life is to know when to forego an advantage.

RAILROADS ACT TO SAVE LIVES

Motorists will have a better chance of surviving because of a new and unusually effective device being used by several American railroads. Born of tragic need, the device combats a problem that has caused many deaths, stirred Congressional discussion and caused many influential groups to demand action.

The device — reflective markings on the sides of railroad equipment — is being used to reduce the number of instances in which motorists unknowingly speed to their deaths at night against the side of dark boxcars.

Forty-six percent of all night collisions between trains and motor vehicles occur when a motor vehicle crashes into the side of a train — not when the train hits the car or truck. Perhaps more significant is the fact that 26 percent of the night railroad-crossing accidents occur when a motor vehicle hits the train behind the engine. This compares with only five percent of this type of accident during the day, when the train is easy to see. Several railroads, rightfully concerned about these tragedies, have recognized the value of reflectorization as a means of preventing these accidents.

Several railroads — including the Chicago and North Western, the Burlington and the Great Northern — have quietly embarked on extensive programs of reflectorization that have made their equipment much easier to see at crossings at night. Now motorists can see such reflectorized equipment several hundred feet away, providing increased warning and stopping distance to avoid accidents that only a few months ago would have been fatal. All railroads could be commended if they followed suit.

Rosalie Beyer and Raymond Sandmann United at Lindsay

Rosalie Beyer became the bride of Raymond Sandmann at nuptial mass Saturday in St. Peter's church at 4 p.m. with Rev. Mark Berger officiating and performing the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Adam Beyer and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Sandmann, all of Lindsay. Mrs. William Schmitz, organist, and the church choir presented the wedding music. White gladioli and pompon mums, greenery and candles adorned the altar.

The bride wore a floor length gown of white embroidered nylon tulle over satin. The bouffant skirt had a scalloped hemline and the moulded bodice had a V-neckline and long petal point sleeves. A crown of seed pearls held her veil and she carried a white orchid on top of a prayerbook which was a gift from the groom.

Adding sentiment to her wedding, Rosalie wore a gold cross and chain worn by her mother at her own wedding 49 years ago. She also wore a bracelet belonging to her cousin Ruth Loerwald of Hereford and carried a blue rosary belonging to her sister, Mrs. Richard Swirczynski of Muenster.

Aileen Schmitz, in blue embroidered crystalline, was maid of honor for her cousin and Bessie Franklin, in rose, was bridesmaid. Their dresses were identical in ballerina length with scalloped hemline, V-neck and fitted bodice. They wore matching hats and mitts and carried nosegays of carnations, pink and blue respectively.

Barbara Sandmann and Pamela Stoffels, nieces of the couple, were flower girls. They wore open blue taffeta dresses and carried baskets of rose-colored pompon mums.

Edward Sandmann attended his brother as best man and Weldon Bezner, cousin of the bride, was groomsman. Lambert Beyer and Tony Rohmer ushered.

A reception and buffet supper in the Lindsay hall followed the church services. Mrs. Joe Lehnertz catered the meal and Bitzy Bezner and Billie Biggar registered the guests. About 275 were present. Rose and blue were the colors stressed in decorations and the tiered wedding cake was served by sisters of the bride.

For her wedding trip the bride chose a brown dressmaker suit with pleated skirt and beige and brown accessories. When they return they will occupy their new home in Lindsay. Both were graduated from Lindsay High school and both are employed by National Supply. Mr. Sandmann is also attending Gainesville College.

Give Prompt Care To Crossed Eyes, Says Health Office

AUSTIN — Don't assume that a child will outgrow crossed eyes, warns Dr. Henry A. Holle, Commissioner of Health. Crossed eyes are a serious defect. Vision in the crossed eye may fail to develop and the child will grow up without useful sight in that eye. In later years, the eye may straighten and appear normal, yet the person will be partially blind — often without knowing it.

Various factors may be responsible for crossed eyes: near or far-sightedness, faulty muscles and excessive nervous incoordination; a blow on the head; heredity or disease. Any one of these may affect the ability of the two eyes to work together, causing one of the eyes to turn in, out, or upward. As a result, the two eyes are unable to focus on the same object at the same time. The youngster sees double, because his crossed eyes view an object from widely different angles. The child is disturbed, but often too young to explain his difficulty. He squints his eyes and tilts his head, unconsciously trying either to combine the two images into one, or simply to ignore one image altogether. But neither attempt succeeds. So he finally gives up trying to see with both eyes. He subconsciously eliminates the image in one eye, now sees only one image, and actually becomes accustomed to "one-eyed" sight.

The longer a child is cross-eyed, the more difficult it is to improve his vision. If treated early — preferably before the age of four — crossed eyes can usually be corrected. Some forms of treatment can be started as early as the age of one year. And even cross-eyed children up to nine or later can occasionally regain normal sight if they receive competent medical treatment. The specialist may first recommend glasses if the youngster is near- or far-sighted; in some few cases that alone will do the job.

Exercises for the eye muscles may be used to teach the two eyes to work together again as a team. These do not take the place of surgery or glasses, but are valuable. Sometimes an operation is necessary to line up the crossed eye with the normal one. One operation may be all that's needed but it sometimes takes two or three before the eyes are exactly straight, since several eye muscles may be involved. Complete correction may take a year or more.

One set of eyes can last a lifetime but it takes responsible care by parents during the years of childhood. Habits formed then will carry over into adulthood.

to a major party, gathering its strength from the conservative elements of both other parties, which lately seem to be competing with each other in liberalism. That is the set-up the public is waiting for . . . conservative and liberal (each serving as a check on the other, not two parties trying to outdo each other in liberalism).
