VOLUME XX

MUENSTER, COOKE COUNTY, TEXAS,

AUGUST 3, 1956

NUMBER 37

It could have been better, but the turnout of local voters for last Saturday's Primary is definitely not a record to be ashamed of. In the South box it figured to about 98 per cent of the listed eligible voters and in both boxes it figured to about 88 percent of the listed eligibles.

Of course, the record isn't nearly as good when we consider over-age eligibles, who are not listed, but even then it probably figures at close to 75 per cent. Not a bad record of democracy in action! And Muenster people most certainly are in line for congratulations on their good citizenship.

They might be congratulated also on an exceptional record of voting with the winners. With very few exceptions their favorites were either the winners or the leaders in the run-off. For what it's worth, the column hereby makes the claim that Muenster had the state's best record of selecting county, district and state leaders. The claim probably will not stand up, but if not, it will satisfy our curiosity somewhat to learn who had the better record.

Who knows, we may be close to having the "typical town," like in the movie some years ago. If politicians are convinced of that, look out. They'll be around with sample polls to let us tell them how future elections will come out. One thing will save us from that fate, however. While picking winners very accurately we loused up on our percentages. We're not nearly close enough to inspire a prognosticator's confidence.

In keeping with good old Texas tradition, the dose of politics we have had in the governor's race so far was a whopper. But it's a trifle compared with the serving that is coming up. The habitual candidate, Yarborough, took off on his second lap by asking Daniel to "tell Texans whether he will again deliver Texas to the Republican Party . . . as he did in 1952."

Obviously that is intended as a blow to really stagger the opponent, because, according to the man's thinking, party loyalty should come before state loyalty. Chances are however, that this attempted haymaker will serve to expose him rather than hurt the opponent. Perhaps Yarborough has not considered that his remark will likely be resented by Texans who voted Republican in 1952 . . . and that was a majority of Texans. We can mark down that intended squelcher as a dud, the first mis-fire in his run-off-battle. If that's to be his line of campaign propaganda he will get more voters for Daniel than for himself.

A development of the next day makes Yarborough's remark all the more significant. When Senator Kefauver withdrew Tuesday from the race for Democratic national nominee and shifted his support to Stevenson, he practically assured that Stevenson will make the race again. So, in effect, Yarborough is again asking Texans to support the man who advocates taking away their tidelands. It begins to seem as though party loyalty is a mighty poor subject for him to preach on.

Another interesting political development these days in Harold Stassen's frantic effort to dump Nixon as the Republican nominee for vice president. The affair has its perplexing angles, not the least of which is the president's willingness to let such political horse play go on. A person wonders whether Ike is willing to accept another running mate or whether he is using a convenient opportunity to let Stassen commit political suicide. As things are going now, the latter result seems more likely.

If that is the case, the present squabble is serving a good purpose. Thinking people of the nation will gladly welcome any development which will reduce the influence of the pink and liberal fringe in the GOP. America has no use for the ADA darlings, the anti anti-communists, the Soviet supporters and other breeds of second rate Americans that make up the liberal clique.

On both sides of the Republican squabble men are looking squarely at the possibility that the vice president may become president. The liberal fringe cannot bear the thought of Nixon in that position. They remember him as a young senator who made quite a record of smoking

Contract Awarded For Construction Of Two Reservoirs

Contracts have been let for the construction of two more flood prevention reservoirs on the Elm Creek Watershed. According to J. W. Hess, chairman of the board of supervisors, the contract to build the two structures was awarded to Vilbig Construction Company of Dallas, whose bid for the contract was $68,474.40.

The two flood retarding structures are located on the Hellman-Trubench farm south of Myra, the farm operated by Al Walter; and on the Joe Parker and Johnny Sicking farms south of Myra.

The reservoir on the Hellman-Trubench farm will have a permanent pool area of eight surface acres with a flood water detention capacity of 251 acre feet of water. The sediment pool area of the Parker-Sicking reservoir will be 13 surface acres of water with a flood water detention capacity of 407 acre feet.

The two dams will contain 168,900 cubic yards of dirt and will average about 35 feet in height.

Construction of the two reservoirs will bring to 15 the number of flood prevention structures on Elm Creek. The Upper Elm-Red District flood prevention program has made good progress. Remaining to be done in the Muenster area are three reservoirs on Brushy Elm Creek and four on Upper Dry Elm Creek. Work on these creeks is expected to begin this fall.

This series of reservoirs is part of an upstream flood prevention program designed to: first, keep the water where it falls on the land by installing good soil conserving practices on all the land and second, control any excess run-off from the land by the small upstream reservoir system that holds back the flood waters and releases them slowly so that channels below will not be flooded. All bottomlands, bridges and other property below these structures will be protected from damaging floods.

Building And Improvement Notes

With a sudden spurge of new home construction, Lindsay temporarily competes with Muenster in the building and improvement line. Four new homes are in the making there. They are a 3 bedroom house with attached garage for John Louis Hess, 3 bedroom house for Harold Schmitz and Henry Kuhn, and a 2 bedroom house and attached garage for Raymond Sandmann. The Sandmann and Kuhn jobs are near completion.

Here only two new houses, Rufus Henschel's and Community Lumber Company's are under construction. Paul Luke's and R. M. Zipper's are just completed. Another new home near completion is Roy Townsley's, south-east of Myra.

Remodel and repair work are also in progress. Alfons Koester Sr. is completely working over the house he recently bought on Seventh. He's added a room changed partitions, built cabinets and closets and cement porches. James Eckart is making similar interior changes and adding new siding to his house recently bought from the Stoffels estate. Earl Koelzer has built a 14x16 addition to his house. Edd McGannon is installing new asbestos siding. The Benedictine Sisters home is getting a general repair job, mostly screens and paint.

On the farms, Marty Becker has a new Grade A dairy barn and Emmett Sicking apparently is making good on his second attempt to build a hay barn. A storm wrecked the other just before it was finished and Sicking had to clean up and start over.

Continued work on the Luke and Weinzapfel buildings and the Muenster Mill dominates business building in town. Both store buildings are due for completion early in October. The Mill has finished its grain bins and has started on the feed processing department.

Tony's Seed Store has added space for an oats crimping machine and an enlarged sacking area.

SENATOR PRICE DANIEL AND RALPH YARBOROUGH, leaders in the race for governor in last Saturday's Democratic primary election, will continue their hot contest for the run-off election. Daniel led Yarborough by more than 160,000 votes.

Mrs. H. E. Ramsey, Former Resident of Marysville, Dies

Mrs. Hiram E. Ramsey, 64, long-time resident of Marysville, died Monday morning in a Gainesville hospital following an illness. She had lived in Gainesville since 1949.

Funeral services were held at 3 p.m. Tuesday in the Harvey Street Baptist church, Gainesville, with the Rev. Roy L. Cook of Saint Jo officiating. Burial in Rest Haven Memorial Park was directed by Scott Brothers Funeral Home.

Bearers were Buford Whitt, Ernest and Reagan McElreath, Lester Reeves, Melton Ramsey, Junior Reeves, Winford Reeves and Robert Lynden Reeves.

Mrs. Ramsey was born in Georgia. She was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Marion Reeves, and came with them to Cooke county, settling in the Marysville community, when she was a young girl. She married Mr. Ramsey in Marysville on July 3, 1910, and they farmed there until they moved to Gainesville seven years ago.

Survivors are her husband, two daughters, Mrs. S. C. Thompson of Gladewater and Miss Vinya Ramsey of Gainesville; a son, Gilbert Ramsey of Whitesboro; her step-mother, Mrs. F. M. Reeves of Gainesville; five brothers; two half-brothers; three half-sisters including Mrs. Ethel Davidson of Marysville, and two grandchildren.

Prevailing Policy Put Into Writing At Public School

A formal statement of policy pertaining to trustees, faculty members, students and the general public was officially approved last Thursday night by members of the Muenster school board.

In general the statement only specifies in writing the policies which have been in effect for many years, but offers the added advantage of presenting them as a concise document available to any person who is interested.

Such written policies, long encouraged by the Texas Education Agency, are now required as one of the essentials for the accreditation of public schools. The requirement was made after its need was shown in recent years by serious school administration problems resulting from misunderstandings by boards and faculties. The TEA now insists on a clear written statement of policy to avoid such misunderstandings.

The local statement is divided into five sections, as it concerns the trustees, the superintendent, the other faculty members, the students and the general public.

Concerning the public, the policy refers principally to use of school property and is intended as a precaution against loss and damage. Rental fees set for the use of facilities are $15 for the lunch room and $10 for the auditorium or gymnasium. Fees are due at the time reservation is made and are to be paid to the superintendent.

Copies of the policy are available in the superintendent's office.

Lone Star Farmer Degree Awarded to Lewis and Biffle

Wylie Corbin Lewis and Jimmy Jack Biffle, members of the Muenster High FFA chapter, received the degree of Lone Star Farmer at the 28th annual state convention of Future Farmers of America the past weekend in Dallas. The boys are sons of Messrs. and Mmes. Mims Lewis and Jack Biffle.

Awards were presented on the night of July 26 at a banquet honoring award winners from Texas. There were 716 from the state receiving the degree, including 79 from Area V to which Muenster belongs.

The title of Lone Star Farmer is the highest state honor that can be won by an FFA member. It is based on records of the boys' agricultural projects and also their participation in chapter activity. Eligibility is determined by the executive committee of the Texas Association of Future Farmers of America. Only one FFA honor is higher, that of American Farmer which requires a greater record of achievement.

Others from here attending the convention with the two honored members were Glenn Hellman, chapter adviser, Jerry Wimmer, David Walterscheid and Hubert Richey.

This is the second time the Muenster chapter has produced Lone Star Farmers. In 1952 Wilfred Klement and Billy Whitt received the coveted degree.

In order for a boy to be eligible for the award he must have held the degree of chapter farmer preceding election to the degree of State Farmer, have been an active member of the FFA for at least two years, and have a satisfactory record of participation in activities of the local chapter. He must have in operation

Homecoming Set at Forestburg Aug. 12

Forestburg's annual homecoming celebration will be held this year on Sunday, August 12, and everybody is invited to attend. Dinner will be served picnic fashion at noon under the shady grove on the lawn of the Church of Christ. Those attending are reminded to bring basket lunches.

The committees in charge of the day's festivities are planning to make this year's homecoming the best ever they said.

Burglary Loss and Damage is $400 at Walter Lumber Co.

Loss of $152 in cash plus property damage estimated at $250 was sustained in a burglary at Joe Walter Lumber Company of Gainesville last Friday night.

Evidence the next morning indicated that the burglar, or burglars, entered the building by breaking down a back door, then proceeded to open the safe with tools taken out of stock. Items used were chisels, hatchets and a crow bar. Several chisels were dulled by cutting a portion of the door to get at the lock.

County Listed for Drought Relief

Cooke County has been designated as a drought disaster area and has been declared eligible for feed grain assistance and for grazing on land under the soil bank program, according to a message sent out Tuesday by Congressman Frank Kard.

The county is one of 61 in Texas to which the Department of Agriculture has extended the federal emergency relief program.

Under the program eligible farmers may buy feed grain at a reduction of $1 per hundred pounds for feeding to basic livestock herds. They may also graze cropland that has been taken out of production in compliance with the new soil bank program.

Participating farmers can make application for the federal assistance through August 31 for sufficient feed to last through September 30.

Lions Wallop VFW 26-15 and 10-2 in Pee Wee League

The Lions Club pee wees continued their winning ways through two more games the past week stretching their league record to 8 straight wins. Victims in both games were the VFW kids, by a score of 26-15 Friday night and 10-2 Tuesday night.

Standings of other teams in the loop as of August 1 are VFW 4-4, KC 3-4 and St. Joseph 0-7.

Both teams were hitting heavy Friday night to account for the big 26-15 score. The Lions combined 22 safe blows with 5 walks while the VFW got 18 and 4 walks. Leading hitters for the Lions were Russell, 5 singles; and Hellman, Flusche, Cain and Mullins, 3 singles each. VFW leading hitters were Hoenig and Bayer, a double and 2 singles each; E. Hess, a triple and 2 singles; T. Vogel, a triple; G. Hess, Yosten, Huchtons and D. Vogel, 2 singles each. Russell, pitching for the Lions, fanned 4 and E. Hess, for VFW fanned 3.

Slugging on both sides calmed down considerably for the second game. Owens, besides pitching the winning game led the Lions at the plate by cracking out 3 of their 5 singles. T. Vogel with a homer and 2 singles and Reiter with a double, accounted for all the VFW hits. Owens, for the Lions, fanned 11 and walked 4; E. Hess fanned 5 and walked 6.

Next Little League games on schedule are KCs and St. Joseph's Friday night and VFW and KCs Tuesday.

NEWS OF SICK AND INJURED

Mrs. Ray Sicking was dismissed from Gainesville Sanitarium Saturday and is recovering normally from an operation performed on July 19. Also dismissed during the weekend were Mrs. Eddie Krahl and Mrs. Alfons Felderhoff.

Mrs. George Mollenkopf Jr. entered M&S Hospital Sunday for medical care.

Joaline Mollenkopf spent several days of this week as a patient at M&S Hospital for treatment of a throat infection.

Kenny Fleitman, three year old son of the Ben Fleitmans, is convalescing at home after being a patient at Gainesville Sanitarium eight days for treatment of virus pneumonia.

Darlene Hess, four year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hess, was dismissed Saturday from M&S Hospital where she underwent surgery on her right eye July 25. The operation removed a sticker that had penetrated the eyeball.

Muenster Voters Favor Winners in Saturday Election

Returns from the two Muenster voting boxes last Saturday could almost have served as a preview of the final outcome in all races . . . state, district and county. Down the line, with only a few exceptions, the leading candidates in local voting were also the leaders in their respective races.

Muenster favored Daniel for governor, Ramsey for lieutenant governor, Wilson for attorney general, James for treasurer, Rudder for land commissioner, White for agriculture commissioner, Dies for congressman at large, Koriath for representative, Gray for district judge, Henry for county attorney, Whismard for sheriff and Taylor for precinct commissioner.

The only offices on which local majorities lost were for the two state judicial jobs. Norvell trailed here but won the supreme court race; Morrison trailed here but won the criminal appeals seat.

As regards run-off races the leading man in each campaign was the leading candidate here, and in all but one the second high man was second high here. It was O'Daniel rather than Yarborough who ran second here. In percentages, however, Muenster votes did not match the final results. Every run-off leader had a stout majority here, whereas next high candidates got less than their proportional part of the local vote.

The total number of votes cast was 153 in the south box and 476 in the north box, a very creditable total of 623. By comparison with the recorded voting strength of the two boxes that figures to a percentage of almost 88. The south box especially had a good record . . . 153 voters out of 156 listed eligibles. Considering, however that unlisted over-age eligibles increases local voting

U. S. Supermarket Scores Big Hit at Roman Food Show

As a result of cooperative action between a group of American food chains and the Department of Agriculture, a typical U. S.-type supermarket was exhibited at the International Congress on Food Distribution in Rome. Response, it is now reported, exceeded all expectations. Some 17,500 people visited the market on the opening night alone. The Paris Herald Tribune described the exhibition as "one of the hit shows of the Rome season." It then said: "The show is almost too good judging from preview reactions. Some of the Italian newspapermen and their wives at the preview walked through the sample store in stunned silence. It was so different from the pushcart-buying which kills hours each day for most Roman housewives, resident Americans included, that many were at a loss for words."

One enthusiastic observer said the market "will do more for American prestige than millions in giveaways." And an enterprising Italian group has offered to buy the market and everything in it, right down to the mirrors, with the intent of duplicating it.

A typical modern American store dealing in commodities other than food would receive an equally rapturous reception. The American system of mass distribution — based on big volume at a very low unit profit — has no comparable counterpart abroad. For the most part, European merchandising is many years behind this country. And that helps to explain why our living standards so far exceed those of the rest of the world.

Back from Month's Car Trip to Alaska

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Weinzapfel, their daughter Mary Elizabeth, and her classmate Mary Parrish of Fort Worth, returned Saturday night from a vacation trip to Fairbanks, Alaska, where they spent ten days with their daughter and family, the David Brights. It was their first time to see their grandson, Joe Bright who joined the family since they live at Eielson AFB. Father Joseph Weinzapfel of Dallas made the trip going with his parents but returned by plane on June 18.

The tourists report a most enjoyable vacation with sight-seeing enroute and returning, also stopping for visits with relatives and friends. The trip covered 9,565 miles.

Leaving here on June 25, they went to Colorado stopping with W. L. Meurer at Slaton, the John Hellmans at Portalis, friends at Taos and Mrs. Lucy Jensen in Canon City, Colo., another sister, Mrs. Frank Wolf, at Stratton, Mr. and Mrs. Clem Fladung (Ida Fisher) at Longmont, and Father Anthony Weinzapfel at Denver.

Following sight-seeing in Colorado they visited Yellowstone National Park where they saw Old Faithful erupt and fed the bears. From there to Idaho, Washington, and into Canada. Cherries were at their finest in Canada, beautiful on the trees, delicious to eat.

In Alaska there was almost no night with the long, long days stretching almost around the clock. They visited Antonio Chantre at the base, but missed his wife, the former Frances Streng, who was in the hospital. The Chantres' baby daughter had just arrived.

Returning there was sight-seeing at Edmonton, Canada.

Convention Report Heard at Meeting

At a regular meeting Sunday night members of Saint Joseph's Society heard a detailed account of the Catholic State League convention held recently in Nada. Frank Herr who attended as a delegate gave the report.

Father Christopher, spiritual adviser, talked to the group, commending the members on attendance at the three-day retreat for married people held here last month. The retreat was a society sponsored event with Rev. Bede Mitchell of Fort Worth as retreat master. About 150 people attended each of the conferences.

Among new business was discussion of a membership drive and tentative plans were made. Present membership totals 90.

Ed Endres, president, conducted the meeting and Alois Hess, secretary-treasurer, gave a financial report. Refreshments were served during a social hour after adjournment.

100 ATTEND "VOCATION GET-TOGETHER" IN PARK

About 100 people attended a picnic in the parish park last Thursday night. Called a "Vocation Get-Together" the party was for couples having children studying for the priesthood, sisterhood or lay brotherhood, and for the young people studying who are at home for the summer.

A barbecue supper was served at 8 o'clock. The local Confraternity of Christian Doctrine sponsored the get-together. On the committee of arrangements and serving as hostesses were Mmes. Arnold Rohmer, J. W. Fisher, Frank Schilling, Gary Hess and Miss Elizabeth Herr.

through South Dakota and Idaho and Nebraska. Of special interest was a visit at Speerfish, S.D., where an outdoor passion play was being held, at Mount Rushmore and at Boystown.

Mrs. Weinzapfel's sister, Mrs. Jensen, broke her hip last February and is still not recovered. She was up some on crutches but was to have surgery again on the broken bone. It had failed to knit properly.

The A. J. Higgins Celebrate Golden Wedding Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Higgins of Myra who were married in the home of her parents south of Muenster on July 29, 1906, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Sunday. The day's celebration included a family reunion and dinner party in the home of a daughter, Mrs. W. H. Acker in Gainesville with another daughter, Mrs. John Bell, also of Gainesville, as co-hostess.

The golden-weds have two other children, a son A. J. Higgins of Sherman who was present with his wife and their two children Jerry and Becky, and another daughter, Mrs. C. W. Burks of Gainesville. They have eight grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Others at the reunion were their sons-in-law, W. H. Acker, John Bell and C. W. Burks and a grandson Jerry Wayne Acker of Gainesville. Joining them were Mr. Higgins' sister, Mrs. Pearl Crow of Sherman who was present at the wedding 50 years ago; grandsons, Robert Bell and his wife and children Joy Lynn and Bob of Ardmore and John Bell and his wife and son Bruce of Fort Worth, two nieces Mrs. Dorothy Beckham and daughter Carol and Mrs. Juanita Kidd all of Sherman, and C. E. Burks of Hood.

Mr. and Mrs. Higgins have lived at Myra for 43 years. Both are formerly of Muenster. Their families, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Higgins and Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Meads, moved to Muenster when Maggie and Jack were children. The Meads came from Arkansas, the Higgins from Pittsburg, Camp County, Texas.

Maggie Meads and Jack Higgins were married in her parents' home. A baptist minister from Rosston performed the ceremony. They farmed north of Muenster for two years, then spent five years in Wheeler county in West Texas, before settling at Myra where they farmed until he went to work, under civil service, at Camp Howze. After that he was employed by the Cooke County Electric Co-operative for about five years. He is retired now.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Higgins are 70 — but look much younger. Their calendar age belies the years inside them. They are active and jolly, a happy couple who enjoy doing things together. Mrs. Higgins sells insurance which she says is her hobby. And together they work in their yard and garden.

The anniversary dinner was served on a large table covered with a gold cloth and overlaid with lace. A decorated cake was the centerpiece. Gold mums and glads were floral complements on the board and in the home. Mrs. Higgins wore a navy and white dress with white accessories and a gold mum corsage. Pictures were taken of the honorees, the family, and party scenes.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Searcy of Eagle Pass arrived Monday afternoon for a visit with the Walter Rawleys. Tuesday evening the two couples went to Lake Texoma for an overnight through Wednesday outing.

FLETCHERS BACK FROM 4000 MILE CAR TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Fletcher are back at home after a 4000 mile trip to the west coast. They were gone 13 days. Both report a wonderful time sight-seeing and visiting with relatives going and returning.

Their first stop after leaving Muenster was in Lubbock to see their daughter and son-in-law, the W. M. Terrells and children Toni and Terry. At Ropesville they visited Mrs. Fletcher's aunt, Mrs. John Honssinger; and at Farmington, N.M., they were guests of another daughter and her husband, the Jack Reeds and children Jan and Donny.

From there they drove to California by way of Bakersfield and Oakland. They crossed the Bay Bridge into San Francisco and did extensive sight-seeing including Mission Dolores over 200 years old, Chinatown, parks, and crossed the Golden Gate Bridge.

They drove down to Los Angeles and visited Mr. Fletcher's aunt, Mrs. Rose Brown, there. They hadn't seen each other in 17 years. After more sight-seeing they returned to Texas, spending one night with the Terrells in Lubbock.

While Mr. Fletcher was on vacation Frank Schilling substituted for him as rural mail carrier on route one.

BULK MILK COOLER
Than Any Other Brand!

Milk is cooled to well below 40° in less than one hour — assuring a lower bacteria count and better milk. The milk cannot freeze — because the coolant is ice water.

Dari-Kool tanks are easy to clean and may be sanitized with hot water without damage. Units are ready to operate — no expensive, remote compressors to install or service.

Every Dari-Kool is built around a rugged 10-gauge steel frame — providing rigid support for the bulge-proof stainless steel milk tank. This assures accurate calibration and correct payment.

HERE'S HOW . . .

The cost of hauling milk in cans is 40 cent per 100 pounds as compared with 25 cents per 100 pounds for hauling tank milk, thus a saving of 15 cents per hundred.

Elimination of wastage of milk spilled or left in the can at the plant is 7 cents per 100 pounds.

Improved butterfat test gained by selling all the cream instead of leaving some of it sticking to the can and lid account for another 6 cents per hundred.

THIS GIVES A TOTAL SAVING OF 28 CENTS FOR EACH 100 POUNDS OF MILK HANDLED. THIS 28-CENT A HUNDRED SAVING WILL PAY FOR YOUR DARI-KOOL.

A producer with an average of 10 cans of milk (86 pounds each) a day will sell 25,800 pounds per month. At 28 cents per hundred saving, he will be ahead by $72.24 each month.

The approximate cost of a 250-gallon tank installed is $2,400 with interest of $216 for a total of $2,616. This can be divided into 36 monthly installments of $72.11 each. THUS YOUR SAVINGS MAKE YOUR PAYMENTS FOR YOU. This estimate is without down payment or trade-in, which would cut the principal and monthly payment substantially.

the Iron Curtain by the present Communist leaders, and the true nature of those leaders, are clearly spotlighted by three events of the past few weeks: (1) the workers revolt in Poland against unbearable circumstances, (2) the dramatic airliner escape to Western Germany of seven Hungarian citizens, and (3) the escape of Ion Opris, Romanian Olympic track star, while participating in a track meet in London.

Dramatic escapes from behind the Iron Curtain have been constantly occurring and there have been untold instances of spontaneous revolts, but these recent events are significant because they come at a time when Khrushchev, Bulganin and their cohorts are trying to convince the world that they are clean-cut decent peace-loving, humanitarian political office holders spreading freedom, good cheer and plenty throughout the Communist empire.

Vodka Party Broadcast
 Even more significant is the fact that these incidents of terror under brutal dictatorship have occurred while the press of the world was filled with pictures of American Air Force General Nathan Twining drinking toasts and smiling comradely with the Red leaders at parties in Moscow. Thoughtful citizens of the United States are moved to inquire of our governmental leaders: What code of morality permits vodka drinking with and the lending of prestige to Communist leaders Khrushchev, Bulganin and the rest?

Hanson W. Baldwin, military journalist of the New York TIMES, was in Moscow to cover the Twining-Communist visit. Baldwin cabled to his paper: "The voice of the United States Air Force Chief of Staff, recorded on tape, has been broadcast repeatedly over the Moscow radio and it is evident that this Communist capital of the world is doing all it can to foster the impression of a 'tete-a-tete' between United States and Soviet leaders."

Blow To Resistance
 In other words, by giving public social acceptance to Khrushchev, Bulganin and other Russian police state bosses — drinking toasts with them, beaming smiles at them while the cameras click — the United States, whether she means to or not, is giving prestige and additional international power to the Communist conspiracy. Resistance among the vast hordes of people behind the Iron Curtain diminishes to some extent, at least; momentous decisions by nations outside the Curtain are swayed toward acceptance of the Soviets.

Reporting on "Vodka diplomacy," the U. S. News and World Report said: "Soviet photographers were always eager to snap the Generay (Twining) drinking with a Red leader." When such photographs reach the Communist-run newspapers in Poland what will be the reaction of the workers of Poznan who rebelled against their Communist bosses? What will be the reaction of the widows and other er relatives of the workers shot down in the streets by Red tanks? Is this good international relations? Is it an expression of morality — to compromise with evil? Of course not.

Terror Is Real
 If we are to believe our own eyes, Khrushchev, Bulganin and their Communist apparatus are operating a police state, with police terror as their club over enslaved millions. Ion Opris, the Romanian hurdler, is real. He took his life in his hands and escaped in London from his police state "chaperones." The seven Hungarians who overpowered the Communist crew of a Budapest airliner and flew it into West Germany and freedom on July 13 are real people. The police state enslavement from which they fled is real. They gambled their lives to escape from the men with whom U. S. leaders are being photographed, beaming and drinking-vodka. Two years ago I was in Washington when President Eisenhower made a great speech, thrilling to the whole world (except the Communist Party membership). In effect he said the U. S. A. was a friend and ally of all freedom-loving people on earth, and that she would never compromise with evil. Every American citizen should insist that this great pronouncement be re-established, undergirding our national morality and giving inspiration to the millions of miserable people under the yoke of Red tyranny.

We Americans eat an average of 65 million pounds of meat every day — enough to fill 2,500 railroad refrigerator cars.

God Gave Us A Yardstick

By Rev. Vincent F. Holden, author of CONFLICTING MORAL STANDARDS and other works.

THE BUREAU OF STANDARDS in Washington, D. C., is important in American life. When you buy a yard of wire, the store-clerk reels off the wire to the length of a yard measure. How was the length of that yardstick decided? It was ultimately based on a carefully guarded bar of platinum-iridium — the standard yard — kept in the Bureau of Standards.

How confusing it would be if there were no standard measure. Suppose the electrician measured his wire using 40 inches as a yard, and the carpenter sawing his lumber estimated 30 inches as his yard? If the house they were building were ever finished, it would be weird to look at and dangerous to live in.

BUT IT ISN'T only in weights and measures that we must have universal standards. We must have them in the field of human conduct or morals. If we allow every human being to decide for himself what is right and wrong we would have as much chaos in daily life as we would have in building a house without a uniform yard.

But who can set the standard for the morality of human conduct? The only one who can give us a clear-cut and unchangeable code of morals is Almighty God. After all, He made man and gave him his human nature. He knows what is good and bad for that nature.

ISN'T IT ALWAYS true that when a person makes something, he makes it for a reason? Atomic scientists who have perfected the A-bomb know exactly how to explode it. What a tragedy it would be for any amateur to toy with an atom bomb to "see what would happen."

Yet how much more of a tragedy it is for man to toy with the complicated human nature that God has made. God created man in a particular way to achieve a particular destiny — union with God in heaven.

GOD KNOWS HOW man should use his nature to get to heaven. He has written the instructions on the fleshy tablets of our hearts, and this is the law of nature, or natural law. He has made the natural law more explicit in the Ten Commandments. And in the teachings of the God-man, Jesus Christ, He has given us His final word on attaining our destiny.

The natural law, the Ten Commandments, and the teachings of Christ are the source of the unchangeable standard of human conduct. We must guard this standard just as we guard the bar of platinum-iridium in the Bureau of Standards in Washington. It is only by measuring every action against our Creator that we can achieve this unchangeable standard of the purpose of our existence.

THERE'D BE NO RAINCHECKS—The future home games of the Brooklyn Dodgers may be played under a huge plastic dome, if current plans are followed through. Architect Buckminster Fuller claims the huge, cup-shaped roof over the baseball field would be 300 feet high and 750 feet in diameter. The air-conditioned, all-weather sports center would have a seating capacity of more than 55,000, as compared to 32,000 for Ebbets Field. Yes, you get bonus heat on top of the stove as well as in the oven when you cook electrically. *What is "bonus heat?" It's the heat that remains in the electric element after the switch is turned off. It's the free heat that continues to cook until the element cools off. An electric range oven is insulated on all six sides. As a result you get bonus heat every time you use your electric range because you cook with the electricity off much of the time. You also get extra dividends when you cook electrically because of the economies in cleaning materials, laundry and decorating expenses.

The Story Behind A Statistic

Considerable publicity has been given to the arrival in this country of the 25,000th refugee from behind the Iron Curtain. But, far more significant than being the 25,000th to achieve freedom, is the fact that Karoly Acs and his sweetheart — who is now his wife and the mother of his two children — deliberately faced death rather than abandon their faith, hopes and convictions.

The Acs story begins in the fall of 1951, when young Karoly, resigned to the misery and uncertainty of life under the Communist regime in his native Hungary, asked his sweetheart, Mathilde, to go shopping with him for wedding rings. But there had to be two certificates before the jeweler could sell wedding rings, one from the government-operated building industry where Acs worked as a carpenter, the other from the mayor — who was also Communist boss of the town. The first certificate was no problem, but the second required that he sign a statement renouncing a religious wedding ceremony. "If you refuse to sign," said the mayor, "you may find someone waiting for you when you return to your home."

The young Hungarian had seen his father's carpenter shop seized by the Communists in 1949, had seen his brother sent off to ten years imprisonment for his anti-Communist views, had spent months in jail himself on groundless sabotage charges. All this he had somehow taken in stride, but the thought of marrying and raising a family outside of his church was more than he could bear.

That very night, in mortal terror, Karoly and Mathilde swam a border moat, crawled silently under the barbed wire barricades almost under the noses of guards who would shoot first and challenge afterward. Safe in Austria, they made their way to Vienna and the shelter of the U. S. Escapee reception center. The wedding rings they could buy at home, but at too great a price, were provided the courageous couple by Catholic Relief Services — National Catholic Welfare Conference and they were married in the revered ritual of their own church — for which they had risked their lives.

Last month, after four-and-a-half years of living in refugee camps, Mr. and Mrs. Acs, and their son, Ernoe-Geza and their daughter, Elizabeth, were processed through the Austria Mission of Catholic Relief Services — N.C.W.C., and joined 72 other Iron Curtain escapees who left Munich on a special "Freedom Flight" arranged by USEP.

In Chicago, where Karoly Acs is working for a tool manufacturer, he described his deliverance as "a dream come true." And the Acs saga should suggest to the rest of us, surrounded by the freedom, comforts and opportunity of America, that a small part of the conviction, courage and determination displayed by Karoly and Mathilde could make our own dreams come true also.

The Army engineering team under the command of a young second lieutenant ran into a problem. How to cross into a deep, muddy swamp too wide to bridge with their ordinary spans.

Advising his commander of the predicament, the young officer was told: "Nonsense! Nothing is impossible. Requisition what you need and I'll see that you get it."

Shortly afterwards he received a standard requisition form from the team leader. It read: "Need 15 men 18 feet tall to cross swamp 16 feet deep."

Women can keep a secret just as well as men, but it generally takes more of them to do it.

The "Mechanical Mule," modern gasoline burning version of the traditional old Army hay-burner, is going into service to "take the load off the foot soldier's back." Equipped with 4-wheel drive, it can carry more than its own weight up hills, across streams and over the roughest terrain. It also can be transported by helicopter and dropped by parachute for airborne troop operations. Designed by Willys Motors, Inc., under Army Ordnance supervision, the Mechanical Mule will go into production at the Willys Jeep plant in Toledo with first deliveries scheduled to be made to the famed "Screaming Eagles" 101st Airborne Division.

40% of Gasoline Price Goes for Tax

On July 1, the price of gasoline went up. The reason was a one-cent-a-gallon increase in the federal gasoline tax, raising it from two to three cents, as provided for in the new highway construction bill.

A sales executive of a leading oil company had something important to say about this development: "We certainly agree that good highways are highly desirable. But we do feel that motorists should realize that the new tax rate on gasoline is the highest in the nation on any essential commodity."

"The total gasoline tax paid by motorists has now risen to 40 per cent of the retail price of gasoline. The combined national average state and federal taxes have now climbed to 8.8 cents on every gallon of gasoline. On the average for instance, when motorists buy a 15 gallon tankful of gasoline . . . about $1.35 of what they pay is taxes for highways, not for the supplier's products."

"A motorist should look on these taxes as an investment in building better highways for his own use. The average motorist, who uses about 750 gallons of gasoline a year, pays about $66 a year in state and federal taxes on it."

There has been, and will continue to be, much debate as to how the huge federal road program should be financed. There are many who believe the higher gas tax is not the right way. But, whatever you believe, one thing is sure: that tax is entirely beyond the control of the oil industry and the industry has no choice but to add it to the price of your gas.

If you want to be sure you will hear the phone ringing while you're upstairs, put the instrument on top of an overturned tin pan.

Irate father to son — "I sacrificed everything I had so you could study medicine and now that you are a doctor, you tell me I have to quit smoking!"

Is THIS TRIP NECESSARY?

As the time draws near for the long-heralded visit of India's Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru, we hope that Washington will remember whom he is neutral toward.

Under a Moscow dateline of June 22, one year ago, Clifton Daniel writes in The New York Times: "Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru of India and Premier Nikolai A. Bulbanin of the Soviet Union signed tonight a joint declaration of common aims in international affairs."

"Accompanying the declaration . . . was an agreement on Soviet economic and technical assistance to India."

Both of which — we might add — India has also been receiving from us — with no strings.

The document which was signed in "the Great Kremlin Palace," and made public next day formalized Premier Nehru's endorsement of, among other things, the peaceful settlement of the "legitimate" claims of Red China to Formosa, and a seat for Red China in the UN.

India's "neutrality" should be a great help when, after our election, the United Nations votes on the admission of Mao Tse Tung & Co.

But not to us.

Mothers' Society at Lindsay Celebrates St. Anne's Feast Day

The Christian Mothers' Society of Lindsay celebrated St. Anne's Day with enrollment of new members, attendance at mass and reception of the Eucharist in a body, and a business meeting.

The group received Communion during the 7 o'clock mass. Afterwards eight new members were enrolled. They are Mmes. Ray Laux, Albert Hoelker, Ralph Esker, Bernard Gieb, Leroy Metzler, Adam Wolf, Julius Sandmann and Ewald Fuhrmann.

About 80 members attended the breakfast in the school cafeteria. Seven members named Anne were especially honored. Gifts were presented to Mrs. Lena Schmitt, the oldest member present; Mrs. Adam Wolf, the youngest; and Mrs. Joe Prescher for having the most children and also the most grandchildren. Mrs. Ben Hermes received a prize for having the "Lucky Plate."

During the business meeting Mrs. Nick Block gave a report on the recent convention of the Catholic State League in Nada, and Father Mark addressed the assemblage. He concluded with a thank-you to the ladies for their cooperation and help in parish undertakings.

Likewise aware of possible developments, the GOP conservatives are determined to keep Nixon on the ticket. They know that, in case of Eisenhower's death, Nixon would be more dependable than any man favored by the liberal fringe. As a matter of plain fact, Nixon could even be counted on to strengthen the government's anti-communist policy. He has the better record of dealing with reds. And the present hassle indicates he is not altogether friendly with the gang which advocates friendliness with the reds.
