

.79 Inch Rain Fails To Relieve Strain In Record Drought

The people of Texas learned a lesson during the past weekend, and they almost learned it the hard way. Their failure to get out and support their favorite candidate almost resulted in the election of an opponent who clearly rated as second choice with the over-all population of the state.

Price Daniel, in his campaign speeches, was emphatic in pointing out that his very comfortable lead of about 165,000 votes in the first primary did not by any means cinch his election in the run-off. He warned that complacency on the part of over-confident supporters would work to the advantage of his opponent. In spite of that, his friends by the thousands stayed away from the polls... then worried through the next few days as election returns indicated the possible price of their lethargy. Texans almost learned to their sorrow that "bad people are put into office by good people who fail to vote."

Let's hope that the lesson to be learned from this incident will spread to every corner of the state. Let's hope also that we of Muenster will profit by it. The drop in local voting from 638 in the July primary to 544 last Saturday gives an idea of the community's decline in responsible citizenship.

Of course, there are other factors which had a strong effect on the election. Yarborough's supporters, fully conscious of the immensity of their job, were not handicapped by delusions. They hustled for additional votes and they reported in full force at the polls. Their enthusiasm is responsible for part of the phenomenal gain made by Yarborough in the second primary.

Still another factor in the election is the highly unorthodox course taken by Pappy O'Daniel in his desperate attempt to get back into the governor's mansion. Without endorsing Yarborough he urged his still sizeable group of supporters to vote for him, saying that "with Yarborough on the Democratic ticket, O'Daniel can win on an Independent ticket in November." His proposition implied the admission that Daniel is a better man than either himself or Yarborough, but still thousands of his supporters went for it in a big way. The Pied Piper who can sway 'em with his pie-in-the-sky chatter can also sell 'em on his absurd political shenanigans. The effect was apparent. Yarborough made big gains in many areas that formerly went for Pappy.

Fortunately O'Daniel's political stunt did not have the desired effect... which actually would have been a political tragedy for the very people who supported him as well as other people of the state. Regardless of Pappy's wild ideas, this election is it. The winner will be the winner in November. And electing Yarborough now would have meant an administration leaning to the policies of CIO, ADA, NAACP and various other outfits of the radical fringe.

Very likely O'Daniel was sincere in the course he took. Self-esteem probably convinced him that he is the best man for the job and unbounded optimism probably convinced him that he had a chance. Nevertheless the chance he was taking with Texas welfare should have terrified him. If he's half the statesman he claims to be he should have realized that his maneuver threatened to lose far more than it could gain for the state.

In two respects the election serves as a valuable lesson to Texans. Don't take things for granted and don't listen to a Pied Piper who will risk leading his followers anywhere in a vague hope of coming out all right in the end.

Traditional Texas standards of freedom and conservation have survived a serious threat, not because we were alert but because we were lucky. It's time to take more stock in the old saying, "Eternal vigilance is the price of freedom."

Mrs. Jim Stockman and three children returned to their home in Dallas Thursday after being here since Saturday to visit her parents, the R. M. Zippers while Jim was in Amarillo taking a special course of training for his work with the telephone company. Mr. Zipper went to Dallas for his daughter and grandchildren and took them back home by car.

The drought was not broken in the Muenster area but it was bent ever so slightly Tuesday night by a rain measuring .79 of an inch.

The rain moved in shortly after 7 o'clock with a heavy gusty wind which broke a large plate glass window in the city hall. No other wind damage has been reported here.

Though far short of the community's needs, the rain was almost 100 per cent effective. After a few minutes of fairly heavy downpour it settled down to a light drizzle, allowing ample time to soak into the ground.

Unless followed by more moisture in the near future the rain will bring little benefit. It was not enough to sustain substantial growth in the area's powder dry pastures and hay fields nor to provide a seed bed for fall planting.

Reports from north and south of town indicate that the measure of rain in those directions was fairly uniform. Marysville had .80 and Freemound .90. To the east and west, however, it was lighter. Saint Jo and Gainesville had about .30 each.

Tuesday's rain combined with .09 earlier in the month brings the August measure at Muenster to .88 and the year's measure so far to a pitifully low 11.44. The past 11 months, beginning Oct. 1, 1955, have had only 11.99 inches... barely more than one third of the normal rainfall for this area.

Meanwhile Mrs. Fred Savage is serving as temporary teacher.

KC Team Cinches Runner-up Spot in Pee Wee League

The KC Orioles cinched second place in Muenster's Little League Friday night by dumping the VFW Red Sox 15-3 in a four and a half inning game. The game automatically ended when the Sox trailed by at least 10 runs after their fifth time at bat.

Two more games are on the Pee Wee schedule, however they will not affect the final team standings, regardless of which team wins or loses. Present team records are Lions 10-1, KC 7-4, VFW 5-6 and St. Joseph 0-11. The Lions and VFW will end their respective seasons with their regular schedule game. A KC-St. Joseph game, which was rained out Tuesday night... the first rained-out game of the summer... will be played Thursday night.

An explosive third inning salted the game away for the Orioles Friday night. Combining a barrage of seven hits with walks and errors the KCs romped in with 12 runs, smothering the 3-0 lead gained by the Sox in the first two innings. Three more Oriole tallies in the fourth brought the count to 15-3.

Leading Oriole hitters were D. Swirczynski with a triple, a double and a single; Miller with a double and a single and Fuhrman with a triple. T. Vogel and G. Hess, with a triple each, were the only Sox hitters. Harris, the winning pitcher fanned 8 and allowed 2 hits and no walks. E. Hess struck out 8 and gave up 11 hits and 3 walks.

PRICE DANIEL is the winner by a slim margin over Ralph Yarborough in last Saturday's run-off to determine the Democratic nominee for governor.

Daniel, Wilson and Koriath Favored by Muenster Voters

Price Daniel, Will Wilson and Tony Koriath, all winners in the unofficial tabulation of votes by the Texas Election Bureau, were strong favorites of Muenster voters in last Saturday's Democratic Primary run-off.

Totals in the north and south boxes respectively were as follows:

For Governor	North	South
Daniel	335	119
Yarborough	54	12
For Attorney General
Moore	105	32
Wilson	282	91
For State Representative
VanZandt	67	23
Koriath	338	108

An official canvass in the governor's race Tuesday confirmed Daniel as the winner over Yarborough in one of the hottest gubernatorial contests in the history of the state. Figures released by the Texas Election Bureau late Monday gave Daniel the slim lead of only 3,547 votes out of almost 1.4 million. Totals were Daniel 698,125 and Yarborough 694,578. Daniel's percentage was 50.12.

Results in the other two races were decisive enough to eliminate the need of official checking. Wilson was an 8-5 winner over Moore in the race for Attorney General and Koriath got a substantial majority over VanZandt in the race for state representative of Cooke and Grayson counties.

Final count in the representative contest favored Koriath 11,421 to 9,776. Results in Cooke County were Koriath 2,673, VanZandt 1,891. Results in Grayson county were Koriath 8,748, VanZandt 7,885.

County results in the two state races were as follows: Daniel 2,809, Yarborough 1,881, Moore 1,334, Wilson 3,069.

Voting in both of the Muenster boxes was down about 15 percent from that of the first primary. North Muenster polled 410 and South Muenster 134. Turnouts in July were 477 and 161 respectively.

He arrived here last Thursday in the company of Sheriff Whisnand and spent most of his time here until Tuesday morning when he returned to Houston to help with the family's move to Muenster. The family is expected here Friday.

Wilson is 51 years old and has been a law enforcement officer for 27 years. His family includes his wife, two sons, 11 and 16, and his 81 year old mother. He also has a married son.

The Wilsons will live in the Felderhoff house a mile east of Muenster, opposite the Tony Felderhoff home.

Lindsay Women are Hostesses at NCCW Quarterly Meeting

About one hundred women, members of the National Council of Catholic Women of the Sherman deanery including 20 from Muenster, gathered last Thursday afternoon at Lindsay for their quarterly meeting with the women of St. Peter's parish as hostesses in the parish hall.

Rev. Mark Berger of Lindsay, as keynote speaker, chose as his topic the timely subject "Home and School." He also introduced the parish pastors present, Rev. Louis Deuster of Muenster, Rev. Emil Gerlich of Gainesville and Rt. Rev. Msgr. Thomas Zachry of Denison.

Principal new business was a discussion of the diocesan convention to be held in Fort Worth on October 14-15-16 in Hotel Texas. The Sherman deanery has been asked to set up an exhibit depicting the activity and projects of the organization's Social and Charitable Welfare committee.

Mrs. Pete Stoffels, president of the host council, welcomed those attending and Mrs. A. J. Koriath of Sherman, deanery president, brought her message.

A musical program was presented by Cecilia and Beatrice Zimmerer, accordionists. Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament was held in church and the group returned to the hall for refreshments.

The autumn meeting, in December, will be held in Muenster.

WITH THE MEN IN SERVICE

End Boot Training

Donald Flusche and Tommy Herr arrived home Thursday night from San Diego where they have finished boot training at Naval Training Station. They have 14-day leaves to spend with their families, the J. P. Flusches and Frank Herrs, before reporting for new assignment.

Tommy will go back to California, to El Centro to study photography. It's the same course his brother Melvin took a few years ago. Don will report to Great Lakes Training Center in Illinois for three months of specialized training. Family members met the boys at Dallas Thursday. They were among 18 Texans in their company who finished training and made the trip to Dallas in a chartered bus.

Ends Special Training

S.Sgt Ernest Sicking arrived here Sunday night to spend a 30-day leave with his family, the Ben Sicking, before returning to the Azores Islands for another year. He had been serving on the Islands as an airplane mechanic and was called back to the states to take a special course at Charleston AFB, South Carolina, where he spent six weeks.

Move To Maryland

Word from the Frank Swans — she's the former Mildred Becker of Lindsay — reveals that they will be moving about the first of September from Pensacola, Fla., to Patuxent River, Maryland. Mildred writes that her husband has recently been promoted to lieutenant commander. They will live about 50 miles from Washington, D.C., and are planning sight-seeing in that area. Plans also include a trip to Texas to visit relatives on Thanksgiving, she added.

Eddie Collins who worked here with the soil conservation personnel during the summer has been transferred to Dumas.

Muenster Schools Lose 11; Combined Enrollment is 672

Opening day enrollment at the Muenster schools has dropped 11 from last year's all time high of 683, according to figures released Wednesday afternoon.

Sacred Heart parochial school has an enrollment of 472 and the Muenster public school has 200 for a combined total of 672.

This is the smallest opening enrollment recorded here since 1953. Prior to last year's top figure the counts were 675 in '54, 682 in '53, 654 in '52 and 612 in '51.

Two factors account for this year's drop in school population. A larger number of local boys and girls of high school age will be attending private schools away from here, and the district has also lost several children in the moves of families to and from the community.

A break down of the figures shows a drop in parochial enrollment from 495 to 472, and a gain at the public school from 188 to 200. The parochial school has 93 in high school and 379 in the grades. The public school has 90 in high school and 110 in the grades.

Enrollment by grades, as reported by the two schools, is as follows:

	Sacred Heart	Public School
First	48	13
Second	46	9
Third	45	10
Fourth	45	18
Fifth	50	15
Sixth	47	12
Seventh	51	14
Eighth	37	19
Ninth	26	26
Tenth	23	18
Eleventh	22	19
Twelfth	22	27

Homecoming, Old Settlers Reunion At Bulcher Sunday

Pioneer Bulcher residents will recall days of the past next Sunday when they gather for the Old Settlers Reunion and Homecoming. And the younger generation will listen as they rest from the more active program features of the day.

At one o'clock a picnic lunch will be spread on the park tables under the trees. Everyone will be asked to register.

More than 300 invitations were mailed to former residents living now at distances from Bulcher and word was passed around that everybody is invited to attend.

The old timers will recount how things were when the first settlers came to the rural community, before Muenster was founded, situated ten miles northeast of Saint Jo and 27 miles northwest of Gainesville.

Much of the early history of Bulcher is recorded only in the memories of its older citizens.

Only one of the very early settlers still remains. She's Mrs. Mollie Montgomery who was 97 years old last May. She plans to be at the reunion and discuss happenings of the past 78 years since she has lived there. Her present home is the one she moved to in 1878.

The homecoming has been an annual event for many years, the old settlers reunion is an added feature this year. Most of the several hundred persons expected for the day will be either residents or ex-residents of the community and this will give the affair the atmosphere of a giant family reunion.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hoedebeck and children of Irving were here Tuesday for a visit with his father. Sunday Ray Hoedebeck and three daughters of Denison visited his parents. Mr. Hoedebeck is recovering from a recent serious illness of virus pneumonia. He is out of bed now for short periods each days.

Return from 4,300 Mile, 11 State Trip

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Fuhrman and their son and his wife, the Alvin Fuhrmans, have returned from a 4,300 mile trip to 11 states. They saw all of Mr. Fuhrman's brothers and sisters except one brother who lives in Calgary, Canada.

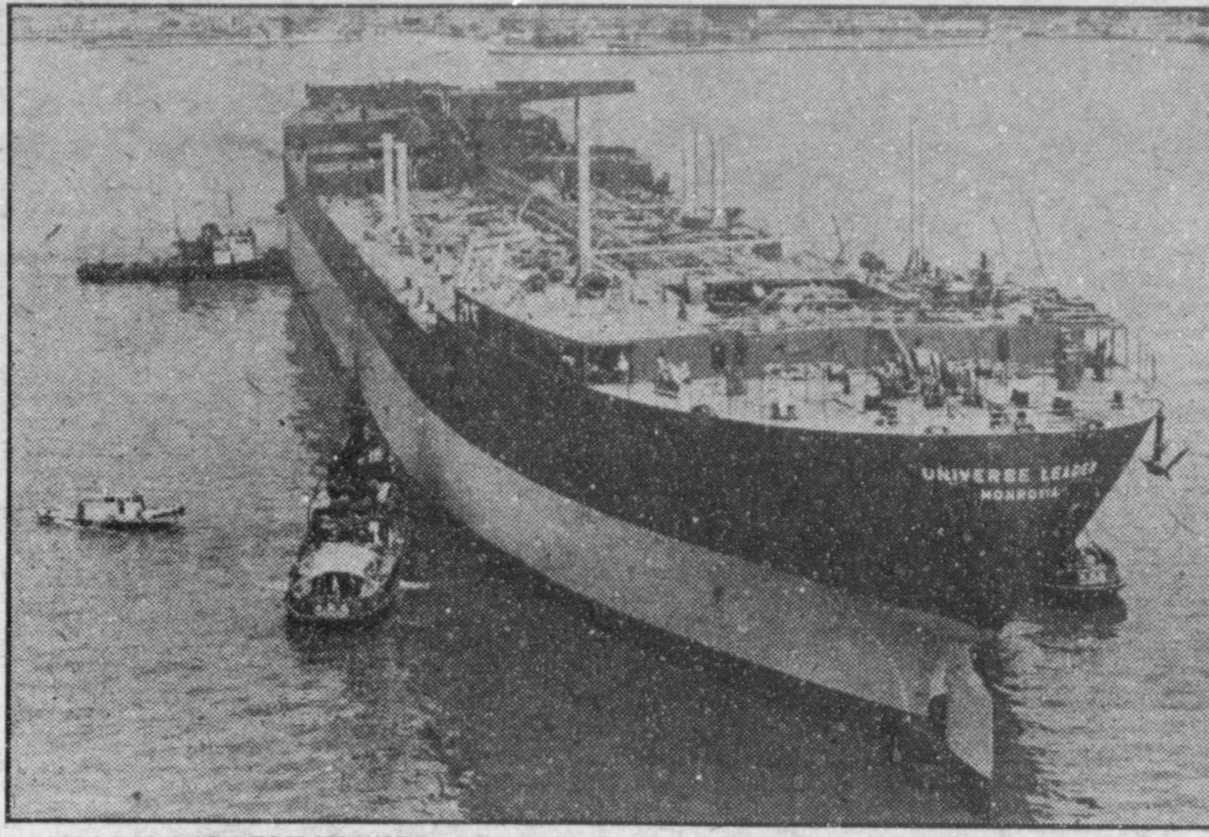

The two couples began their vacation tour after attending the wedding of Bill Fuhrman in St. Louis on Aug. 11. Their first stop was in Chicago to see a brother, Joseph Fuhrmann and his family, then to Iowa City, Iowa, to visit cousins. In Algonia they were guests of a brother, Louis Fuhrman, and in St. Jo they visited a sister, Mrs. Matt Faber and family, and a brother-in-law, Peter Erpelding, and the Charles Plathe family.

At West Bend they saw the Grotto of the Redemption, then drove to Fairbault, Minn., to visit Mr. Fuhrman's only living uncle, Val Engert, 86 years old. His wife, "Aunt Lizzie" is 84. Both, spry and jolly, the couple is looking forward to celebrating their 60th wedding anniversary next year. The visitors found Uncle Val on a ladder painting the ceiling of a room in his home.

In Minneapolis they visited a nephew and his family, and at Casselton, N. D., they visited another sister, Mrs. Henry Faber. They drove through the Black Hills of South Dakota, saw the famous Passion Play grounds, toured the Bad Lands, and turned homeward driving through Nebraska, Kansas and Oklahoma.

Engineers Predict Early Changes in Car Engine Design

The first automobile manufacturer to produce a workable, powerful and economical successor to the present internal-combustion gasoline engine may put his competitors in the shade, say the editors of CHANGING TIMES, The Kiplinger Magazine.

Three types of engines may fill the bill: the gas-turbine engine, the free-piston engine and the fuel-injection engine. Only the latter type can claim any relationship to engines now in use. Luxury cars, such as Continentals and Cadillacs, may be equipped with it next year. A refinement of the motor in your present car, it has no carburetor; the fuel is sprayed directly into the cylinders. The result is fuel economy, improved acceleration and smoother operation.

Experimentation with the gas turbine has been extensive, but you won't see it in cars for at least another five years. It requires only one-fifth the number of parts in a piston engine and weighs a third as much, needs only one spark plug, gets along without a radiator or conventional cooling system and uses a cheap fuel. At present, the cost of producing the motors is prohibitive since fantastically expensive metals are needed to sustain the 1,600-degree heat created.

The free-piston engine has been successfully operated with cheap fuels, including peanut oil. It needs even fewer parts than a gas-turbine engine and is almost vibration-free. And it can be made of conventional metals, since it does not work up excessive heat. But it still has lots of bugs in it.

What about atomic-powered engines? Scientists brush off any suggestions that atomic-powered cars are just over the horizon. They are not even sure such cars are possible. It's hard enough, they say, to harness atoms for locomotives, airplanes and steamships.

SOCIALISM IN NORWAY

Norwegian socialists maintain that the socialistic economy they have foisted on their country has caused no loss of individual political freedoms and civil liberties. Either their vision is faulty or they are careless with the truth as the following item which appeared in "Farmand," published at Oslo, Norway, would seem to indicate:

A Norwegian workman living with his wife and three children in overcrowded quarters decided to build an addition to his one-room house. He felled the timber on his own land, had it sawed and built the addition entirely himself.

"But the State's Price and Rationing Inspectorate came along on a round of inspection before the man had obtained a building permit. He was reported to the police and ordered to pay Kr. 1000 in fines and costs. When he refused to do so, he was taken to court.

"The prosecuting counsel, in summing up for the State, made the following pronouncement: 'The law says that it is not the individual's place to consider his own particular housing situation and decide that he ought to build. The State has taken over the in-

The Brush, Not The Toothpaste, Adds Lustre to Smiles

For years beauty and health experts have stressed the need for frequent brushing to maintain healthy teeth and a beautiful smile.

Today, because of the great emphasis given new types of dentifrices in advertising and promotion, some of us may be apt to think that we can get by with less brushing. Not so!

We won't question the value of our modern toothpastes and powders, but dental authorities maintain that no dentifrice is so good that it eliminates the need for brushing at least twice a day.

Dentists will tell you that it is the act of brushing, and not a quality within a toothpaste, that prevents decay.

So, with this in mind, let's brush up on the proper steps to follow in brushing the teeth:

1. First brush the chewing surfaces of the upper and lower back teeth.
2. Then brush the inside surfaces of the upper and lower back teeth.
3. Next brush the inside surfaces of the upper front teeth.
4. Now brush the inside surfaces of the lower front teeth.
5. Move the brush to the outside surfaces of the upper and lower back teeth, brushing vigorously.
6. Finally, brush the outside surfaces of the upper and lower front teeth.

Allow at least three minutes for the brushing job, experts say, brushing the lower teeth up and the upper teeth down.

And, most important, always be sure that your toothbrush is clean and has firm, undamaged bristles.

A final reminder: Regular and proper brushing is the best preventive against tooth decay and the finest insurance for an attractive and healthy smile.

Individual's authority to make decisions for himself."

The lesson to be learned here is that we must protect "The American Way" against the socialists, American style, who are trying to destroy it.

Ignorance is so hard to conceal because people always try to hide it in a public place.

O. D. Robison Observe Sixtieth Wedding Anniversary

A large number of Muenster and near-Muenster residents attended the 60th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. D. O.

Robison at their Gainesville home, 601 Hall street, August 19. The Robisons are parents of Earl and Earnest Robison of Muenster, Leslie and Willis Robison of Gainesville; Mrs. Calvin Dennis, Dallas, and Mrs. Otha Whaley of Fritch.

The anniversary celebrants also have 22 grandchildren and 15 great grandchildren.

Over 150 persons called during the afternoon. The refreshment table was covered with a hand-crocheted cloth of orchid and centered with an arrangement of orchid gladioli. Mrs. Earl Robison and Mrs. Harold Otts served as hostesses assisted by other relatives. Rosalee Dennis and Peggy Whaley registered the guests.

Mr. Robison was born in Huntington, Tenn., May 30, 1872 and moved to Indian territory near Jim Town, Okla., with his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. John Poyner. He came to Bulcher community in the fall of 1892 where he engaged in farming until he moved to Gainesville upon retirement in 1948. For years he was a mail carrier from Oklahoma to Bulcher and Marysville. He made his rounds on a mule.

He and Mrs. Robison, the former Miss Jewell Smith, were married August 16, 1896. She was born and reared in the Bulcher community, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Smith. She was born Jan. 20, 1877.

Mr. Robison has one sister who resides in Pauls Valley, Okla., but she was unable to attend the celebration. Mrs. Robison has four sisters: Mrs. Jim Embry, Saint Jo; Mrs. Claude Miller, Gainesville; Mrs. Leo Skinner, Wirt, Okla.; and Mrs. Frank Hines of Long Beach, Calif., the only one of the four who could not be present.

Unable to attend, but telephoning best wishes was the couples' grandson, Douglas Robison of Graham.

maize for the bridesmaids. Their matching picture hats were trimmed with velvet extending into streamers and they carried fan shaped bouquets of roses.

Jerry Fuhrman was best man for his brother and another brother Alvin Fuhrman was one of the groomsmen. His other attendants included his roommate while attending St. Louis University, Charles D. Joerger of Hayward, Wis., and Edwin Eigel Jr., the bride's brother. Three of the bride's six brothers and Bill's cousin, Ben Theisen Jr. of St. Louis, were ushers.

Members of the immediate families and the bridal party attended a breakfast at the Missouri Athletic Club and in the afternoon additional guests were entertained at a reception in the Eigel home.

The couple's wedding trip took them to Colorado.

Mrs. Fuhrman received her bachelor of science degree in nursing from St. Louis University. Her husband received his science degree in electrical engineering from the same college. He is employed by Convair in Fort Worth.

Attending the wedding from here were the groom's parents, his brother Jerry, his brother Alvin and his wife, and his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Endres.

Bill Fuhrmans at Home in Ft. Worth Following Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. William J. (Bill) Fuhrman are making their home in Fort Worth since they returned from their wedding trip following their marriage in Saint Louis on August 11.

Mrs. Fuhrman is the former Katherine Louise (Kay) Eigel, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Edwin G. Eigel. Mr. Fuhrman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Fuhrman of Muenster.

St. Margaret of Scotland church was the scene of the double ring ceremony and nuptial mass with Father Charles W. Hofer officiating.

The bride wore a white chiffon dress with a fitted bodice of crushed chiffon and a wide skirt. Alencon lace at the neckline formed a yoke and short cap sleeves. Her tulle veil, reaching below her fingertips, was secured by a tiny lace cap ornamented with pearls. She carried white orchids with valley lilies and gardenias. Her father gave her in marriage.

WHO IS TO BE THE SERVANT?

For years, a needed hydroelectric development on the Niagara River in New York has been held up for political reasons. This is a huge project, in the $400 million class. A group of taxpaying, publicly regulated, independent utility companies has long been ready to go ahead with it. But these utilities haven't been able to get the necessary Congressional authorization because of the "blockading" tactics of those who want the project to be undertaken by government — either federal or state — on the usual tax-free, tax-subsidized basis.

On July 1, a full-page advertisement appeared in the New York Times. It came out solidly against government development — and solidly in favor of private enterprise development. That advertisement was not signed and paid for by the utility companies, or by any business organization. It was, instead, signed and paid for by the Electrical Workers Union of the AFL-CIO.

This union pointed out that hundreds of thousands of electrical workers earn their livelihood in the light and power industry — and that hundreds of thousands of other citizens receive income from investments in that industry. It added: "Truly this is one of the basic industries of the country. On its record it deserves to be protected."

Then the union went into a matter which is even more important: "As members of organized labor we do not propose to have our welfare directed or determined by any bureaucratic official of the government . . . Government ownership would tend to make the American worker a servant to his government, whereas his government should be a servant to him."

That great principle overshadows the Niagara controversy or any other such controversy. Unless it is followed, individual freedom will become a dead letter.

SPREADING THANKSGIVING AROUND

Since the beginning of operations in 1943, the Catholic Relief Services, National Catholic Welfare Conference, have shipped overseas 800,000 tons of relief supplies valued at nearly 485 million dollars, according to the over-all report of James J. Norris, European director of the organization at Geneva.

The voluminous summary of activities received at the New York Headquarters this week reveals that from October 1955 through May 1956, the Catholic agency distributed more than 462 million pounds of relief supplies in 30 countries, exceeding shipments for all of 1954, and valued at over 90 million dollars. This increase, said Mr. Norris, was largely possible through release of surplus food by the US Government.

But the most amazing statistic of all, we think, covers the 11,250,000 pounds of clothing and shoes donated and collected by American Catholics last Thanksgiving for the needy abroad. This is being neighborly — on a grand scale.

THE FIRST TO BE FIRED

Is a minimum wage law a sound way to help people in the bottom-earning brackets?

If you think so, an article by Bettina Bien, in The Freeman, may give you another slant on the problem. The article states: "If the minimum wage rate is set higher than the market rate, it hurts the very person it is designed to help — the lowest producers, and hence the lowest earners. The first to be fired, when a new minimum wage rate is set, are those who cannot contribute enough to the market to cover the cost of their wage."

The barometer of earning

power must be productivity — which is the measure of the worker's value to the employer and to the public. No law, no matter how well intentioned, can cancel out that fact.

THE COST OF CRIME

J. Edgar Hoover of the FBI states: "We complain about high taxes, but last year crime cost every man, woman and child in the United States $122.00, or a staggering estimated total of twenty billions of dollars. Perhaps this figure could become more meaningful if we realized that for every $1.00 spent on education, crime cost $1.46; and for every $1.00 which went to the churches of the nation, $13.00 went to crime."

Mr. Hoover said this in a speech urging improvement in crime control — especially as it affects the parole system and the problem of the repeater. And the challenge of this, he added, "is a challenge to all of us."

Obscenity Is Poison

By Hon. Charles S. Desmond, New York Court of Appeals

IN 1954 a New York State committee displayed a collection of so-called "comic books." These wildly lurid picture stories opened our eyes to a serious public evil. How could we keep the lurid pictures and filthy literature from reaching our newsstands?

The only effective way to keep obscenity from reaching the public is by some kind of restraint. Yet printers and distributors of filth resist restraint under the "freedom of the press" guarantee in our Constitution. The U. S. Supreme Court has never given a flat "yes" or "no" to the question of whether we can stop obscene matter from reaching the newsstands.

LEGAL THINKERS take opposing views. One group says that our Founding Fathers wanted all prior restraint to be unconstitutional. But it seems to me that if our Founding Fathers gave the government the power to protect its citizens from poison food harmful to the body, certainly it can protect its citizens from poisonous literature harmful to the mind.

The other group, and I include myself among them, argues that prior restraint of obscene literature is not offensive to the historic American tradition of freedom of publication. Our Founding Fathers were fearful only of the existence of a governmental power which might choke off political criticism and the freedom to express opinion.

THE SUPREME COURT in the Zorach case said, "We are a religious people whose institutions presuppose a Supreme Being." Our legislators have always had respect for God's moral law. Our government has from its first days excluded from the mails matter injurious to public morals. U. S. Customs laws as well authorize the banning of obscene books.

After all, isn't it a prime and proper function of government to protect its citizens against pollution and harm from physical objects, against poisons and dangerous and offensive nuisances? I have never understood how similar protection against filthy books could be unconstitutional.

IN 1847 Justice Swane of the U. S. Supreme Court said, "The foundation of a republic is the virtue of its citizens." Today obscenity is a serious public evil undermining the virtue of young and old alike. When obscenity requires effective control, and such control is consistent with our American heritage, I see no reason why democratic government should not use democratic processes to eliminate obscenity.

† Puellist Feature Service, Washington 17, D. C.

"Oh, yes," said the other. "You said it was in a busy locality where there were plenty of passers-by."

"Well!" queried the agent. "What is wrong with that?"

"There were too many passers-by."

Work Scholarships Are Available at Gainesville College

Among the privileges offered to students of Gainesville College is the availability of an ample number of working scholarships.

The majority of these scholarships come from the Mary Josephine Cox Estate. Willed to the college by Miss Cox, former teacher of English, these are designed to aid worthy students who make application and are willing to do regular work in some department, usually of the student's choice and interest, during the time of attendance. Thus only the payment of special laboratory fees remain for the student to pay. Upon graduation, the student can, therefore, leave the college debt-free.

Some loan funds provide a more limited number of scholarships which have been set up by local civic clubs.

High honor scholarships will be accepted by the college.

There are available, also, through the State Board of Vocational Education, special schooling and medical assistance to students physically handicapped.

The use of these funds will be explained to the student upon his application at the office of Dean J. H. Parker.

Through the scholarships, Dean Parker emphasizes, no student need feel that two years of higher education has to be denied him.

The Dean suggests early contact with his office prior to the opening of the regular school term for more information and allocation of scholarship funds.

Registration for the Fall Semester begins September 4, 1956, and continues through the day of opening of classes, September 6. The college office will be open on full-time basis for two weeks in advance of that date.

Carol Voth, Bride Of Alfons Koesler In Rites Tuesday

Sacred Heart church was the scene Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock for the marriage of Carol Ann Voth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Voth, to Alfons Koesler Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfons Koesler.

Rev. Leo Koesler of Subiaco, Ark., brother of the groom, read the double ring service and officiated at the nuptial high mass. Pink gladioli and greenery adorned the altar and baskets of summer flowers in the sanctuary completed the decor.

While the guests assembled, Mrs. Rody Klement sang "On This Day" with Anthony Luke, organist, playing the accompaniment. He remained at the console, assisting the men's choir in singing the mass. After the services Mrs. Klement sang "Mother at Your Feet" while the couple recited an act of consecration to Mary at the Blessed Virgin's shrine.

Given By Father
Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a lovely gown of white gossamer Chantilly lace and tulle underlined with satin. The figurine bodice of lace was designed with a scalloped Sabrina neckline and long tapering sleeves. The very bouffant skirt of tulle, worn over hoops and crinolines, was accented with two deep tiers of scalloped lace extending to the hemline and terminating in a chapel sweep.

The waist length veil of illusion was attached to a pill box of lace embroidered with seed pearls. She carried an orchid surrounded by stephanotis on top of a white prayerbook, a gift from the groom and wore a single strand of pearls and matching earrings, also gifts from the groom. For something old she wore a gold wedding band that was worn by her great-grandmother, Mrs. Thaddeus Truebenbach.

Ruth Voth attended her sister as maid of honor and Veronica Koesler was bridesmaid. They wore identical dresses of ceil blue chiffon. The shirred bodices had sweetheart necklines and short sleeves. Drapes of self material extended from the back neckline to the hemline. Their headresses of latticed matching material were ornamented with seed pearls and had pompadour veils. They carried pale pink carnations. Their matching pearl and rhinestone necklaces and earrings were gifts from the bride.

Herbert Yosten was best man and Cecil Hermes of Lindsay was groomsman for his cousin. Cyril Hermes and Gilbert Kubis of Lindsay, cousins of the couple, were ushers.

Wedding Day Festivities
Wedding day festivities included breakfast for the bridal party and immediate members of both families in the home of the bride's parents and an afternoon reception with a buffet supper in the parish hall for about 250 guests. A dance was held in the VFW Hall at night.

When Mr. and Mrs. Koesler left on their wedding trip she was wearing a brown sheath dress with brown velvet accessories.

They will make their home on a farm north of Muenster.

The bride was graduated from Sacred Heart High school with the class of 1956. She was prefect of the school's Blessed Virgin Sodality. The groom attended Sacred Heart High and served in the army two years with duty in Korea.

Oval Lee Mages and Melvin Herr Marry Saturday Afternoon

Oval Lee Mages and Melvin Herr were married during a nuptial high mass in St. Mary's church at Gainesville Saturday afternoon. Father Emil Gerlich officiated and performed the double ring ceremony at 4 o'clock.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mages Jr. of Gainesville and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Herr of Muenster.

Providing music for the wedding were Miss Ann Gallagher, organist, and the church choir.

Mr. Mages gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a formal gown of white gossamer Chantilly lace and tulle over satin fashioned with a figurine bodice of the lace, a sweetheart neckline embroidered with seed pearls and short sleeves complemented with elbow length mitts pointed over the wrists. The very bou-fant skirt was formed of alternating bands of lace and shirred tulle and was accented with front and back panels of lace. It was worn over hoops and crinolines and terminated in an aisle-wide court sweep.

Her fingertip veil of illusion was secured to a queen's crown of pearlized orange blossoms and rhinestones and she carried a colonial bouquet of white roses. Her white prayerbook was a gift from the groom.

For something blue she carried a rosary given her by her paternal grandmother, Mrs. Frank Mages Sr. of Lindsay, and for something old and borrowed she wore a gold cross and chain belonging to her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Pete Mosman of Gainesville, who wore it at her wedding. The bride's great-grandmother, Mrs. Mary Krebs, also wore it at her wedding.

Attendants
Joanie Herr, Melvin's sister, and Gwen Friske, Oval Lee's cousin, were the bride's attendants wearing carnation pink dresses of lace and net over taffeta made similar to the bridal gown and topped with short jackets. They wore matching small hats and carried Japanese fans of pink lace with pink baby doll roses.

Frank Mages III and Ronnie Herr, the couple's brothers, were Melvin's attendants.

Mrs. Mages attended her daughter's wedding in a navy blue voile dress over taffeta. She wore white accessories and a white mum corsage. Mrs. Herr wore navy and white linen with a navy velvet hat and other accessories in white and a white mum corsage.

A reception and buffet supper was held in the Muenster parish hall for about 250 guests. They were registered by Jo Ann Weber and Joan Roberg. A dance in the VFW hall concluded wedding festivities.

After their return from their honeymoon the newlyweds will live in Gainesville. He is attending Gainesville College and is employed here at Stockmen's Feed Store. He served four years in the Navy. His bride was graduated from Gainesville High school and is employed in Paul Campbell's accounting office. She is secretary for her parish CYC council, was 1955 Circus Queen and represented Gainesville in the Texoma contest.

Out Of Town Guests
Among out of town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Luke, Joan Roberg, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Kuhn; Mr. and Mrs. Gene LaGesse, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Mages, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Mages, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Mosmans, the Don Andersons, the Morris Hansons and Buddy Mosman, all of Dallas; Jerry Fette and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Mages of Waco; Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Herr of Lubbock and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Tischler of Pilot Point.

Party Compliments Mrs. J. Mollenkopf

Mrs. James Mollenkopf was honor guest at a gift party last Wednesday night when a quintet of hostesses entertained in the parish hall.

Mmes. C. M. Walterscheid, Leo Lawson, Earl, Ervin and Donald Walterscheid shared hostess duties and directed appropriate games. Prize winners LaQuita Cain, Mrs. William Hermes and Mrs. Lawrence Wimmer gave their awards to the honoree.

Shower gifts were presented in a decorated bassinet, frilly and be-bowed in pink and blue. Special decorations included a table centerpiece of a miniature cradle with a tiny baby doll and miniature bottles and rattlers. Refreshment tables held floral arrangements. Place cards were miniature announcements of the coming event.

The hostesses served angel cake with blue icing, jello with whipped cream, and pink lemonade to 22 guests and the honoree.

Gus Lutkenhaus and his mother Mrs. George Lutkenhaus were Fort Worth visitors Tuesday.

Straight A Student

Burt Hamric has been awarded high honors for his work during the spring semester at Texas Western College in El Paso. The college is a branch of Texas University. Burt was one of 27 students, from the more than 3,700 students enrolled, receiving the honor. He accumulated a straight A average during the semester. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Hamric and is majoring in Geology. He will be a senior at the college this year.

Gladys Wiesman spent the weekend in Dallas as the guest of Wanda Welch.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sandmann and children LaQuita, Kevin and Gary of Valley View, joined by their mothers, Mrs. Ben Sandmann of Lindsay and Mrs. George Lutkenhaus of Muenster, have returned from a week's trip to Colorado. Going, they visited at Nazareth with relatives, the Steve, Louis and Ed Brockman families and the L. C. Burts. SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

Temperatures this summer have been very much in the news and in everyday conversation hereabouts. With the weather-talk, discussion of ways and means to beat the heat became a favorite pastime. The sweltering days and prolonged drought combined to make living something of a problem.

The same problem is found on farms and ranches where soil temperatures very greatly determine the season's growth and in many cases foretell what can be expected to grow next year.

Grasses and other plants do not grow when soil temperature rises above the 90 degree mark. Soil bacteria, nitrification and every factor that contributes to rapid plant growth is decreased at temperature over 90 degrees. Millions of beneficial soil bacteria that make plant food available are wiped out when the ground gets too hot.

Soil cover in the form of living plants or the remains of plants to form a mulch over the soil provide protection against excessive soil temperatures and also serve to prevent erosion from rainfall.

Results of soil temperature readings taken near Muenster August 16 point up the importance of a cover on the soil surface. When the readings were taken the air temperature was 111 degrees. Soil temperatures under a one-inch cover of crop remains registered 99 degrees and in some still green switchgrass it was 98 degrees. On bare ground the soil temperature soared to 119 degrees — 20 degrees hotter than under the crop litter.

Soil under a one-inch growth of Buffalo grass was running a temperature of 112 degrees which is 13 degrees hotter than the cropland with the crop remains left on the surface. Another reading showed soil temperatures of 98 degrees under a fair litter of native grass, while an adjoining pasture with overgrazed grass and no old grass on the ground ran a fever of 117 degrees — a difference of 19 degrees.

When the soil runs a fever the landowner loses money, plants quit growing and soon die. Organisms that make plant food available in the soil are destroyed. High temperatures mean more moisture evaporated out of the ground. All these things can be prevented by managing cropland and pastures so as always to have a mulch of plant remains left on the soil surface.

Other benefits will be increased organic matter in the soil, better soil condition, therefore less crusty, faster water intake into the ground, and better protection of the land from water and wind erosion. It pays to keep a cover on the land.

Coastal Bermuda is holding its own in spite of the drought. Landowners cooperating with the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation District who planted Coastal last spring report that it is still green and very much alive. Nursery plots of this grass on Lonnie Young, Roy Atteberry, Fred Hennigan, Mrs. Tom Agee and D. R. Carver farms are alive and hopes are high that they will survive his drought, one of the worst in this area's history.

DARI-KOOL

BULK MILK COOLER

Than Any Other Brand!

Milk is cooled to well below 40° in less than one hour — assuring a lower bacteria count and better milk. The milk cannot freeze — because the coolant is ice water.

Dari-Kool tanks are easy to clean and may be sanitized with hot water without damage. Units are ready to operate — no expensive, remote compressors to install or service.

Every Dari-Kool is built around a rugged 10-gauge steel frame — providing rigid support for the bulge-proof stainless steel milk tank. This assures accurate calibration and correct payment.

Get the cooler that leads in sales — leads in value — and leads in performance!

Meets All 3A Sanitary Standards

- ... Cools Faster
- ... Easier Cleaning
- ... Ready to Operate
- ... Milk Cannot Freeze
- ... Stainless Steel Tank
- ... Lower Bacteria Count
- ... Complete Service Available

DARI-KOOL will pay for itself in use.

HERE'S HOW ...

The cost of hauling milk in cans is 40 cent per 100 pounds as compared with 25 cents per 100 pounds for hauling tank milk, thus a saving of 15 cents per hundred.

Elimination of wastage of milk spilled or left in the can at the plant is 7 cents per 100 pounds.

Improved butterfat test gained by selling all the cream instead of leaving some of it sticking to the can and lid account for another 6 cents per hundred.

THIS GIVES A TOTAL SAVING OF 28 CENTS FOR EACH 100 POUNDS OF MILK HANDLED. THIS 28-CENT A HUNDRED SAVING WILL PAY FOR YOUR DARI-KOOL.

A producer with an average of 10 cans of milk (86 pounds each) a day will sell 25,800 pounds per month. At 28 cents per hundred saving, he will be ahead by $72.24 each month.

The approximate cost of a 250-gallon tank installed is $2,400 with interest of $216 for a total of $2,616. This can be divided into 36 monthly installments of $72.11 each. THUS YOUR SAVINGS MAKE YOUR PAYMENTS FOR YOU. This estimate is without down payment or trade-in, which would cut the principal and monthly payment substantially.

Pause For Reflection
... with James C. Ingebretsen, President, Spiritual Mobilization Says the Alexander Co-operator: "In people, as in machines, tolerance permits a maximum of efficiency with a minimum of friction."

Well, this is one of those truths that sound good at first hearing but that won't stand close analysis.

In a machine, tolerances above a certain point subtract from efficiency rather than add to it — and too great tolerances will wreck the machine.

Moreover, it is the lubricant that fills the space created by the tolerances that holds down friction.

In human terms, this lubricant is love. Without it, even our finest human machinery will break down. With it, even a rather poorly put-together mechanism can be made to run passably well and for a much longer period of time than many of us would suppose possible.

Season Opening Finds Fewer Doves For Texas Hunters

AUSTIN, — Mourning dove hunting prospects in Texas seem "rather mediocre" barring scattered areas favored by moisture, according to the Executive Secretary of the Game and Fish Commission.

He said field reports indicate that native birds which comprise the bulk of the present population have been "cut down somewhat" by lack of water and feed.

The Executive Secretary pointed out, however, that where water and feed exist there should be "pretty good hunting" for the north zone opening at noon Saturday, September 1. South zone hunting of mourning dove opens October 12.

"Our field men agree," he added, "that there probably will be tremendous concentrations of doves around tanks still containing water, especially if there is feed nearby."

"This condition will work hardships on the bulk of the hunters since the fleet birds simply will not be scattered enough to accommodate the majority of them."

He went on to say that substantial general rainfall could have a bearing on the situation and relieve the crowded conditions around the sparse water supplies.

The Executive Secretary said the depressed dove population prevails particularly in the south central part of the north zone, which comprises about three-fifths of the state.

"Reports indicate that a strip across the northern part of the state is more favorable," he said. "The Panhandle while dry in places still is lush as compared to the areas hardest hit by the drought."

The Executive Secretary emphasized that hunters "should keep a few routine things in mind," citing: Hunting is from twelve o'clock noon until sunset; Daily and possession limits both call for ten doves; Danger from fires is very high; Permission should be obtained from land owners at all times; Game should be promptly drawn to avoid spoilage in heat; Great care should be taken NOT to shoot in the vicinity of field workers or livestock; Texans may hunt doves in their own home county without the usual $2.15 hunting license; Persons over sixty five or under seventeen do not need dove licenses; Rules of safety should be observed; Guns must be plugged to restrict shell content to three; Hunting on public roads is unlawful.

Concluding, the Executive Secretary suggested: "Watch your bag limits, particularly you fellows hunting around a popular water hole. You can knock ten birds quicker than you think. Our wardens stand instructed to cover these concentrations closely. They have no other choice than to file on those caught abusing the limit. Federal wardens who operate in Texas, since mourning doves are migratory game, have like responsibilities." Hunters are also urged to send in any bands found on the doves they shoot. By doing so they can assist in official studies of wildlife and possibly assist also in improving future hunting conditions. Bands may be mailed to the Austin or Washington D.C. office of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Commission or to the local game warden.

Parish Shower for Nuns Brings Gifts For Home, Pantry

More than 150 members of the parish attended the community shower for the Benedictine Sisters Sunday afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock bringing gifts for the home and for the convent pantry. Many other parishioners who could not attend sent their gifts.

This year's party differed slightly from the usual annual event in that it was a come-and-go affair and was held in the Sisters' home instead of the parish hall.

Fifteen of the 18 Sisters were there to welcome visitors, to get acquainted or to renew friendships and to show guests through the recently re-decorated house. Summer flowers decorated the rooms and were used as centerpieces on the gift tables.

Hostesses for the afternoon, members of St. Anne's Society, served punch and cookies.

Furrows plowed up and down hill become race tracks for rain drops.

Building And Improvement Notes

A temporary slump continues in residential and rural building activity in and around Muenster, while most of the work is concentrating on three local business buildings and a boom at Lindsay. Another factor possibly delaying new construction is the heat.

Business construction includes the new Luke and Weinzapfel stores and extensive expansion at the Muenster Mill. At Lindsay new homes for Harold Schmitz, John Louis Hess, Ed Schad, Robert Beyer and Henry Kuhn are all nearing completion. At the same time M. R. Arend is well advanced on a remodeling job which almost amounts to a new home.

New work here consists of a 30x40 quonset machine shed for Tony Felderhoff and a garage for Emil Rohmer.

Ed Pels is putting on asbestos siding, outside paint and a concrete porch at his home. Dick Trachta is modernizing his walls, replacing wall paper with sheet rock and textone.

Amateur Rodeo at Nocona Will Revive Old Frontier Days

It will soon be time for the thrilling explosive action of the old frontier days that live again with husky cowboys testing their skill and ability against outlaw horses, plunging bulls, and bawling calves, as the fifth annual Chisholm Trail Rodeo gets under way in Nocona. The big celebration will start on Friday, August 31, will continue Saturday and Monday (Labor Day) September 3.

This year the rodeo will be amateur, will have local cowboys competing in all the events. The show is being staged by Goat Mayo veteran rodeo producer from Petrolia, Texas.

The opening event of the giant celebration will be a parade Friday, August 31 at 4 p.m. Immediately after the parade at the rodeo arena the Queen for the annual round-up will be selected. The evening performance starts at 8 o'clock.

There will be six big events, bareback riding, double mugging, saddle bronc, calf roping, bull riding and girls barrel race.

Miss Enid Justin, president of the Nocona rodeo association, states that the rodeo this year will be bigger than ever.

The big parade will be Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock when riding clubs, bands and floats, compete for prizes.

Nocona has the only celebration along the entire Chisholm trail honoring the cowboys that rode the trail.

Sister Irma, accompanied by six other Sisters from Saint Joseph's Academy in Sherman, visited her mother, Mrs. M. J. Endres, Sunday afternoon. The Herbert Meurers spent the weekend in Lubbock visiting her sister and family, the C. W. Ratliffs and made arrangements for their son Robert to enter Texas Tech when the fall term opens.
