

According to the signs the good old virtue of American thrift seems to be in line for another beating. We are told that increases in steel prices can be expected as a result of wage increases which are generally taken for granted in settling the current steel strike.

And that's about all that needs to be said by way of predicting another loop in the inflation spiral. Steel is a basic industry. Its prices control the prices of many other products. Its wage scale is widely regarded as standard for other workers to follow. Already we are told that new model cars will cost more.

In general the situation is an evil omen for every individual who has savings of any kind put aside. It threatens to shrink the real value of every dollar in his bank account, his insurance policy, his savings bond account. It likewise threatens to lower the living standard of every fixed salary worker and every pension beneficiary in the country. Their money simply will not go as far as it used to.

Actually, the upward swing of wages and prices will hurt the vast majority of people in this country, except perhaps those whose property value increases will keep pace with the inflation. Even the average wage earner, who is intended to benefit by a boost in pay, will discover soon that higher living costs have caught up with his higher earning and he's back on the same level as before. . . . that is, in regard to his current receipts and expenditures. . . . but is the meantime he is a loser because of the depreciated value of his savings.

The whole sorry mess presents an appalling prospect for the country. Union big shots, who claim they are working for the best interests of their members, are double crossing every time they gleefully announce "we got you another raise in pay." In the last analysis they haven't done a thing but squander a portion of those members' savings. Economic experts in the government are equally derelict in their responsibility to the public at large. Those fellows have only one valid justification for occupying their places of influence. . . . to help direct the country's economy for the greatest good of the greatest number of people. Obviously they are failing when the economic trend continuously eats away the fruit of personal thrift.

One of the great hoaxes of our time is the claim of some union leaders to be the benefactors of working men. Too many are merely throwing their weight around in a pretense to strive for labor's welfare while actually their primary objective is to tighten their grip on the members and use them in forcing concessions in their own behalf from industry and politics.

A clear indication of that fact is seen in the constant agitation to nullify the right to work laws which still exist in many states. The bosses are not content to stand on their merits and seek voluntary membership. They insist on the closed shop so that every worker must submit to their control in order to hold his job. From there on the nature of their rule depends entirely upon their personal integrity. Many are using their near absolute power in a commendable way, but far too many others are using it to the detriment of both membership and society in general.

Millions of rank and file workers are aware of the situation and they do not like it. They prefer the old ideals of unionism in which they organized voluntarily for their own best interests instead of becoming mere pawns to be used by big shots in applying economic or political pressure.

This widespread attitude of workers is frequently apparent nowadays in the failure of union members to back the political favorites of their bosses at the ballot box. They resent being told to vote a certain way. They also fear the kind of legislation which the "labor" candidate is pledged to support. . . . being quite certain that it would be to the liking of bosses more than workers.

We saw cases of it in Texas two years ago. We will see more of it this year. When individuals reach the privacy of a ballot box they can vote as they please, and the result in many places will

Retreat Scheduled Here Next Week For Parish Adults

Plans have been completed and a schedule of services and conferences have been announced for a retreat for married people to be held July 16, 17, 18 at Sacred Heart church. Rev. Bede Mitchel of Fort Worth will be retreat master.

The opening conference will be held on Monday, July 16, at 7:30 p.m. On Tuesday services begin with mass at 6 a.m. followed by a conference. The retreat master will be available for private consultation between 9 and 11 a.m., and an afternoon service will be held from 3 to 5. Another conference with Benediction will be held at 7:30 p.m. On the third day the closing conference will be held following mass at 6 a.m. In planning the retreat schedule, morning and night services were arranged so that working people can attend without lost time from their jobs.

Braves Edge Sox, Tumble to Tigers In Little League

With a current record of five straight wins, and no losses the Tigers, sponsored by the Lions Club, continue a firm grip on the Muenster Little League leadership.

Next in line are the VFW Red Sox with a record of 2-2, the KC Braves with a record of 2-3 and the St. Joseph Yankees with a record of 0-4.

In games of the past week the Braves took the Red Sox for an 8-6 count and the Tigers bested the Braves 24-14.

Both were good contests. Friday night's event got exciting in the last two frames as the Sox got going and threatened to overcome the fairly comfortable 4 point lead set up earlier by the Braves. Tuesday's game was anybody's until the fifth and sixth when the Cats put on a barrage of hits netting 9 tallies. A 10 point margin at the end of the sixth ended the game.

Leading hitters Friday were Fette with 3 singles, Jackson with a double and a single and Harris with one triple. The trio accounted for all but one of the Braves 7 hits. Sox hits were scattered, 6 hits for 6 players. In the pitching department Hess and Hellman, for the VFW, got a total of 12 strike outs while allowing 3 walks. Miller handled the job alone for the KCs, fanning 4 and walking 3.

In the Lion-KC game Tuesday Harris, of the KCs continued his hot hitting record by banging out a triple and two doubles for exactly half of his teams total number of hits. The Lions slug fest added to 19 hits and the hot shots were Wimmer, a homer and a single; Mullins, Hellman and Hess, a triple and a single each, Flusche, a double and 2 singles; and Owens and Wolf, 3 singles each.

Owens for the Lions fanned 9 and walked 8, Miller for the KCs fanned 1 and walked 2.

No community, no country, can rise above the level of the land that supports it.

Crowd of 800 Sees Dedication Event At Swimming Pool

Before a crowd of about 800 persons Mayor Urban J. Endres Saturday night formally dedicated Muenster's municipal swimming pool "to the pleasure and health of our youth and all others in and around this community."

His brief talk of dedication was part of an hour program including an invocation by Father Christopher Paladino, a message of welcome by Lion President H. H. Homsley, a diving exhibition by Don Foglesang of NTSC and an aquanid contest for the titles of Miss Muenster and Miss Muenster Junior.

M. D. Kaderli as master of ceremonies kept the program in progress and also mentioned the various groups who helped toward the promotion and construction of the pool. He specifically named three groups for putting the project over: the Lions club for its enthusiastic support, the city's residents for approving it, and the city council for handling the details of construction.

The invocation given by Father Christopher, as the first event on the program, was in itself a fitting dedication. He asked for Divine blessing on the pool as a place of recreation in harmony with God's will and for His greater honor and glory.

Mr. Homsley extended a welcome to the visitors in behalf of the City and of the Lions Club, which sponsored the program.

The chief entertainment event, originally scheduled as a swimming and diving exhibition, was cut short when only one performer appeared. He was Don Foglesang, a physical education major at NTSC, winner of several diving championships and a prospective member of the American Olympics swimming team. He made ten dives including flips and twists and combinations of flips and twists. . . . both forward and backward. His last dive started as a cartwheel on the springboard and ended

Farm Bureau Group Plans Queen Contest

Cooke county's annual Farm Bureau picnic and queen's contest will be held in August this year and directors and committee chairmen made tentative plans for the event at their regular meeting Monday night. The complete program will be announced when chairmen in charge of events decide on exact date, place and other details of the affair.

Contestants for the queen's contest must be a daughter or sister of a Farm Bureau member living in Cooke county and actively engaged in farming. They must be single and be between the ages of 16 and 22. There will be no community contests this year. All entries will compete in the county contest.

Other business on the night's program was announcement that Joe Hundt and Melvin King will attend the Farm Bureau institute in Mineral Wells August 20 to Sept. 2, and announcement that the county Farm Bureau office will be open from 8 a.m. until noon five days a week during the summer.

Rural fire control came in for a discussion and the committee in charge was advised to work with the county commissioners court and the chamber of commerce.

Ten directors, six committees, County Agents Neil Tibbets and Gene Sears and five visitors attended the session.

Final Clearance Secured for Construction of 8 Reservoirs On Dry, Brushy Watersheds

The over all flood control program for the Muenster area is under control. The final hurdle in a big composite project including eight detention reservoirs on Brushy Elm and Dry Elm watersheds was cleared last week and technicians of the Soil Conservation Service are already at work coring the sites for the data to be shown on specification sheets.

According to information received from Emmitt Yoder of the local SCS work unit, all eight of the proposed reservoirs were grouped by SCS into a single project. No one of the dams could be built unless all were built. The final clearance consequently clears the way for more than $450,000 worthy of reservoir construction with total areas of permanent pools adding to about 120 acres. Considering the money already spent in surveying rites, the total cost of the eight reservoirs will be very near a half million dollars.

According to SCS standards those dams will have an economic value of at least one and a half million dollars to the watersheds every ten years, assuming that rainfall will be normal. The Department of Agriculture requires that the value of a project, as estimated by its engineers, must be at least three times its cost over a ten year period, otherwise it does not receive approval.

Of the eight sites, five are on the Dry Elm watershed and three on the Brushy watershed.

On the Dry Elm, near its source is the Johnson reservoir with a permanent pool of about 40 acres and an estimated cost of $105,707. Other reservoirs are on tributaries which drain into Dry. In order, following down the creek, they are on Winstead, a 10 acre pool costing $30,457; on Fisher, $75,159 and 20 acres; on Schilling, $36,340 and 8 acres; and on Campbell, $67,798 and 12 acres.

On Brushy Elm the main channel reservoir, costing $55,060 and measuring 12 acres, will be on the Meador Bros. farm. On tributaries down the creek are the Lutkenhaus reservoir, $36,594 and 10 acres; and the Weinzapfel reservoir, $49,423 and 12 acres.

This last mentioned will be a mere stone's throw from the west city limits and is welcomed as a possible city water supply if and when the present source should become inadequate. Along

Parish Members To Attend Jubilee Of Bishop Gorman

When the Most Rev. Thomas K. Gorman marks the 25th anniversary of his consecration with religious and civic observance on July 19 members of Sacred Heart parish will be in Dallas to offer felicitations and extend best wishes to their bishop.

Bishop Gorman will celebrate his jubilee mass in Sacred Heart Cathedral at 10 a.m. with James Francis Cardinal McIntyre, archbishop of Los Angeles, as presiding dignitary. The arch-bishop will deliver a congratulatory message from the Holy Father. Msgr. Bernard Dolan of Los Angeles, who preached at Bishop Gorman's consecration in 1931 as first bishop of Reno, will deliver the jubilee sermon.

The largest number of arch-bishops, bishops and priests ever to gather in the diocese will be present for the services. Among them will be Bishop Fulton Sheen.

A civic reception will be held from 7 to 9 p.m. in the Statler-Hilton Hotel. It is open to all of Bishop Gorman's friends and no invitation card is necessary for admission.

During his four years as bishop of the Dallas-Fort Worth diocese Bishop Gorman has attained an enviable record of accomplishments including establishment of a dozen new parishes, building of parochial schools, and extension of the Catholic Charities program. The first home for the aged, and the diocese's first weekly newspaper are among results of his work.

with the other two reservoirs it also provides very welcome protection to the park area, which has been flooded by the raging Brushy many times in the past.

The eight proposed dams, along with 15 on the Big Elm Watershed will bring flood control to practically all farmland in the Muenster community. Besides, they will bring more protection to other farms farther down the creek channel. All 23 of the dams are engineered to hold the kind of exceptional torrential rain that comes an average of once in 25 years. Only the rainfall exceeding that volume will gush over spillways and go down the creek. . . . and that isn't expected to cause much damage, if any, because of the tremendous volume kept out of the creek channels by the dams. Water from each reservoir is then released slowly through a small drain which is easily contained by the creek channel. In effect floodwater that used to gush down in a few hours will be detained to flow away slowly in a week or more, and all

Franklin Farmer Does Mission Work In Bahama Islands

From the Bahama Islands come greetings to all his friends from Franklin Farmer who is spending the summer there. A former teacher at Muenster High and now a student at the Baptist Seminary in Fort Worth, he is one of eight young men doing mission work in the Bahamas during the summer vacation.

The group left June 11 by car and drove to Miami. From there the trip was made by plane to Nassau. Mission headquarters for nine weeks. The seminarians also conduct mission schools on the islands of Eleuthera where they are the only white people in the entire community of James Cistern. Living conditions there are quite primitive with no facilities for sanitation and very little knowledge of health precautions. Food, while they give instructions there, is the native diet — rice, fish, bananas and pineapples.

Nassau, Franklin describes as a fascinating place with its wonderful beaches and scenic beauty. Though completely modern in many ways the city still has an old-world flavor. He comments on the leisurely tempo to which everything is keyed. Bicycles are the chief mode of transportation but there are horse drawn drays, surreys and carriages. And English and American automobiles. Traffic is directed by colorfully uniformed policemen.

The young men's work day consists of Bible classes and evangelistic services. Their leisure time permits them to browse through the shops and picturesque native markets, spend unhurried hours sightseeing and to enjoy bathing in the sea. Also, they are taking colored pictures. They will return to the USA on August 10.

TO STATE CONVENTION

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hess, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Herr and Father Patrick Hannon represented Muenster at the Catholic State League's convention in Nada this week. They left early Monday morning, the two couples going together, and Father Patrick going with Father Mark of Lindsay.

Walterscheid-Harris Vows are Exchanged In Church Ceremony

In a Saturday afternoon ceremony, Lynette Walterscheid became the bride of James Gay Harris in Sacred Heart church with Rev. Patrick Hannon officiating.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Walterscheid of Muenster and Mr. and Mrs. George B. Harris of Oklahoma City.

Vows in the double ring ceremony were exchanged at 4 o'clock before an altar banked with pink and white majestic daisies.

For her wedding Lynette wore a waltz length dress of pastel pink crystalline fashioned with a moulded bodice accented by a fitted cummerbund. The neckline was rounded and the sleeves were short. The bouffant skirt of eyelet silk embroidered crystalline was worn over hoops and layers of rainbow and pink net.

The short circular veil of pink illusion fell from a Juliet cap of pink lace ornamented with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of pink rosebuds.

In keeping with bridal tradition, Lynette wore a gold cross and chain borrowed from her mother, and for something old wore a gold wedding band that was her great-grandmother Richter's. She had a Mexican peso in her shoe.

Attendants

Matron of honor was the groom's sister, Mrs. Bob Brown of Dallas, wearing a dusty pink crystalline waltz length dress, its wide skirt over layers of matching net. She wore a small heart shaped pink hat and carried dusty pink rosebuds.

Shirley Walterscheid, as junior bridesmaid for her sister, wore a waltz length dress of dusty rose crystalline duplicating in design the dress worn by Mrs. Brown. Her matching hat was heart shaped and her flowers were deep rose colored rosebuds. Their jewelry, rhinestone bracelets and earrings, were gifts from the bride.

The groom's attendants were Lambert Walterscheid, brother of the bride, and her cousin Sheldon Lutkenhaus.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Walterscheid wore a charcoal and mauve figured silk dress with black accessories and a corsage of mauve tinted asters. Mrs. Harris, mother of the groom, wore a navy sheer dress with white accessories and a white aster corsage. Fathers of the couple and the bride's grandfather, W. T. Richter, had white carnation boutonnières.

Reception

After the church services, a reception for about 125 guests was held in the high school lunch room. The bride's table was centered with a three-tier cake topped with a tiny lace vase containing pink rosebuds. Pink and white carnations were the flowers used in decorating.

The reception preceded the newlyweds' departure on a honeymoon trip to Arkansas and other points of interest. The bride traveled in a sheath of burnt orange with accessories in natural and gold figured shantung.

When they return they will make their home in an apartment at Mrs. Ben Seyler's. Lynette was born and reared in Muenster, attended the local schools and is employed at the NTPA plant here in the book-keeping department. Jim is a native of Oklahoma City where he attended high school and college. He served in the Marine Corps with duty in Korea and came to Muenster in September, 1955, as music teacher and band director at Muenster High school.

Pre-Nuptial Party

A gift party honored Lynette as a pre-nuptial courtesy when Mmes. Hugo and Bill Lutkenhaus entertained in the school lunch room. Thirty guests were present and the hostesses served pink angel food cake with ice cream balls and coffee. Centerpiece for the gift table was a doll bride, dressed in pink, under a trellised arch entwined with pink rosebuds and ivy.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Weinzapfel of Denton were weekend visitors here with homefolks.

Pvt. and Mrs. Willie Walterscheid of Fort Carson, Colo., spent the weekend here with their parents, the Al Walterscheids and the H. H. Homsleys. Also visiting the Homsleys were their other daughters and sons-in-law, the Glenn McCanns and daughter Jeanette of Denton and the Wayne Finchers of Fort Worth. Mr. Homsley returned from Chicago Thursday. Mrs. Homsley and Margaret Milner who attended the national FHA convention there came back Saturday.

THE FIFTH COLUMN

The Fifth Column is like a malignant disease attacking the body of our nation — largely hidden and seldom properly diagnosed. When it seems that the American people are going to awaken to its dangers and stamp it out, it changes its appearance, like a chameleon, and many people are fooled again. Today the Fifth Column is working behind a carefully erected guise of respectability. It is trying to shape the course of events in America by leading unthinking people into actions detrimental to our security.

Organized In 1919

The first Communist cell in America was organized in Chicago in 1919. Since that time the Communists have penetrated every important segment of American society — education, religion, labor, industry, government, the movies, the press, and so forth. And the results of these penetrations have been staggering. It is now known, for instance, that the influence of the Fifth Column, in the Institute of Pacific Relations and elsewhere, was a dominant factor in the loss of China.

History will no doubt record that the loss of China to the Reds was America's worst defeat. This paved the way for the Korean War, its terrible cost and the final tragic compromise with the world-wide evil that calls itself Communism. An unbroken array of America's top military leaders who served in Korea have now testified before Congressional Committees that sinister forces were at work in this country manipulating decisions which overruled what was best for America in Korea — giving, in each instance, a victory to the Reds.

Other Examples

It is now known that Harry Dexter White in the Treasury Department was the architect of the Morgenthau Plan demanding unconditional surrender of Germany, an action which put the Russians into East Germany, put Poland, Austria, Czechoslovakia and others behind the Iron Curtain and made the Russians so secure in Europe that they could then concentrate on Asia. This resulted in the loss of China and the Korean War. And Attorney General Herbert Brownell has identified White as one of the most strategic Communist agents in America.

It is now known that Alger Hiss was stealing American secrets for the Communists at the very time he was shaping the organization of the United Nations so that Communist Russia would expand its power, its world prestige and its American base of spy operations. Just a few weeks ago, testimony was brought out identifying two Russian officials of the U. N. Delegation as active spies in America, recruiting an espionage corps, offering tempting big money payments for aid in their damaging work.

Stamp Out Evil

The Fifth Column is today secretly agitating and aggravating the race problem in the U. S. In fact the Reds seek to create trouble over any question, anywhere. It's their business to make trouble and they are certainly at it in our country. They are concentrating, however, at two points: First, to create misunderstandings and bad relations between employers and employees; and, secondly, to un-sell an oncoming generation of American youth on the fundamentals of our way of life — faith in God, constitutional government, and the private enterprise economic system.

When any force is loose in a nation, threatening the security of the people, the people should get together and stamp it out. We would not think of permitting a carrier of diphtheria, scarlet fever, or any deadly disease to run at large — claiming freedom to infect and kill. We shouldn't permit Red Fifth Columnists freedom to infect and to work for the destruction of our nation and the mass killings to which the Communists are dedicated. We should defeat this menace; we should stamp out the last vestige of its operation in our nation.

Pause For Reflection

... with James C. Ingebretsen President, Spiritual Mobilization

The other day I read in the paper that there are lost of termites in Washington. No wonder — with all the dead wood there is lying around there. As you probably know, termites, if left alone long enough, build little tunnels from the ground, via the foundation, up to the wood part of a house. They don't have to destroy the foundation to destroy the house.

And neither do the political termites have to destroy the Constitution to destroy our constitutional liberty. They simply build little tunnels of "interpretation" right on the Constitution itself and proceed to eat out the essence of our freedom.

So we shouldn't be lulled into saying, "As long as the Constitution is there, we are safe." Termites given enough time, can cause the whole house to collapse while leaving the foundation completely intact.

Taking The Free Out Of Freedom

About Bigness—

The Federal Government is the biggest landowner in our country — also the biggest house builder, the biggest employer, the biggest banker and insurance company, the biggest consumer, the biggest borrower and the biggest lender, and the biggest spender!

Why Worship God?

By Bishop Fulton J. Sheen

How do you think of God? Do you think of God as Someone on a throne who sulks and pouts and becomes angry if you do not worship and glorify Him, and who is happy and grateful to you when you go to Church and pray to Him?

If you do, then you cannot understand why you should worship God. Let me explain.

The word "worship" is a contraction of "worth-ship." It is a manifestation of the worth in which we hold another person. When you applaud an actor on the stage, or a returning hero, you are "worshipping" him. Now to worship God means to Sheen acknowledge in some way His Worth, His Power, His Goodness, and His Truth.

But does God need our worship? We have a duty to worship God, not because He will be imperfect and unhappy if we do not, but because we will be imperfect and unhappy.

If you are a father, do you not like to receive a penny chocolate from your boy? Why do you value it more than a box of Corona Coronas from your insurance agent? If you are a mother, does not your heart find a greater joy in a handful of yellow dandelions from your little daughter, than in a bouquet of roses from a dinner guest?

Do these trivialities make you richer? Do you need them? Would you be imperfect without them? Of course not, they are absolutely of no utility to you. And yet you love them. And why?

Because by these gifts your children are "worshipping" you; they are acknowledging your goodness, and by doing so they are perfecting themselves—developing along the lines of love rather than hate, thankfulness rather than ingratitude, and therefore becoming more perfect children and more happy children.

As you do not need dandelions and chocolate, neither does God need your worship. But if their giving is a sign of your worth in your children's eyes, then is not prayer, adoration, and worship a sign of God's worth in your eyes? And if the worship of your children is for their perfection, not yours, then is not your worship of God for your perfection, not His?

Worship is your opportunity to express devotion, dependence, and love, and in doing that you make your self happy. It is fulfilling of your duty to God who has created you, who even now holds you in existence, and who is the source of all goodness and blessings which you have received in this life and can look forward to in the next.

"Keep The Change"

If you've seen "Mac" Johnson this week, chances are he's told you his waitress story. For those who haven't heard:

"Mac" recently stopped at an out-of-town diner. He ordered the chef's special—and his waitress (brand new on the job) made every possible mistake. She confused the order, spilled the soup, dropped the rolls, brought him a wrong dessert.

Despite it all, "Mac" left a substantial tip. But she smiled and handed the money back. "Keep it, Mister—you've sure earned it more than I have," she said. From where I sit, that girl deserves credit for admitting her shortcomings—something not everyone is big enough to do. For instance, I'm convinced lots of folks know they're wrong when they deny me the right to a glass of beer with my supper... just because they happen to prefer some other beverage. They wouldn't like me ordering them to accept my choice.

"Flying Ants" May Be Termites

Take a good, close look at the "flying ants" that you may find glistening in the warm sunlight these days near your house or buildings. Chances are they are termites heading for a wedding in your woodwork.
Spring's mating call sends the ants and termites soaring on their frail wings, and it's only the royalty that flies. When they pair off, though, it means a new colony is beginning.
Look at the wings. If they are transparent with distinct, heavy veins, are tapered and only slightly longer than the insect's body, protruding from the sides of the body when folded, it is a winged ant with ambitions for an ant hill. If the wings are long and narrow with tiny, barely visible veins, and if they lie back parallel when folded, you are looking at a termite with designs on your doorsill.

Tremendously Tiny

Not so long ago, sober citizens were arguing about how many angels could stand on the head of a pin. Their civilization, for better or worse, was not as scientific as ours. It was a nice problem — without the slightest chance of a solution.

More recently, science posed an equally intriguing question — with a positive solution: How many miniature ball bearings — essential to radar, to dentistry, to musical instruments — can you put in a thimble?

The answer is 502 (of the tiniest ones), weighing a total of 1/2 of an ounce, or 22.720 to the pound! Each is smaller than the period at the end of this sentence.

Yet the manufacture of these tiny precision bearings is one of the most important industrial operations in the United States. Up in Keene, N.H., in the shadow of Mt. Monadnock, 400 men and women of Miniature Precision Bearings, Inc., toil day and night to turn out a few tablespoonfuls of these components — vital to the radar gear of a giant aircraft carrier, to the moving parts of a dental drill, and to the delicate lift of a clarinet's keys.

Microscopic as these precision bearings are, each one is mechanically complete. It has its inner and outer "race," or rim, with metal balls set in between, polished with infinite care to insure smooth operation. Lubrication with a highly refined oil is administered with a hypodermic syringe. Each day's output is dispatched in airtight vials or in transparent plastic strips like pills, with each bearing in an individual airtight pocket. A mote of dust, invisible to the naked eye, would amount to a monkey wrench in this Lilliputian machinery.

The baby of them all has a 1/10th inch outside diameter. It costs $6. Other bearings average about $1.75 each. An annual output of over a million bearings makes this big business. And when this pioneer producer, the originator of miniature precision bearings, moves into his new plant — the first ever to be designed and built for this (very) particular product — his business will be considerably bigger, since he'll be able to make still more of these miniscule miniatures for his more than 5,000 customers.

The moral of this story would seem to be that the biggest is not always the best, and that you can build a business bigger by making things LITTLER.

Human erosion goes hand in hand with soil erosion.

YOU GET SAFE, FAST COOLING

and
No Frozen Milk

with a DARI-KOOL
BULK MILK COOLER

The Cooler That Leads Them All!

In a variety of sizes from 100- to 700-gallon capacities.

- Cuts Work and Handling Costs
- Improves Milk Quality —

Dari-Kool cools faster because it has a larger cooling surface than any other cooler. The milk cannot freeze because the coolant is ice water. Dari-Kool units are complete — ready to operate — nothing else to buy or install. All tanks are stainless steel inside and out. Get the cooler that leads in sales — leads in value — leads in performance!

DARI-KOOL MEETS ALL 3-A SANITARY STANDARDS

- ... Cools Faster
- ... Easier Cleaning
- ... Ready to Operate
- ... Complete Service Available
- ... Milk Cannot Freeze
- ... Stainless Steel Tank
- ... Lower Bacteria Count

The DARI-KOOL will pay for itself in use. HERE'S HOW...

The cost of hauling milk in cans is 40 cent per 100 pounds as compared with 25 cents per 100 pounds for hauling tank milk, thus a saving of 15 cents per hundred.

Elimination of wastage of milk spilled or left in the can at the plant is 7 cent per 100 pounds.

Improved butterfat test gained by selling all the cream instead of leaving some of it sticking to the can and lid account for another 6 cents per hundred.

THIS GIVES A TOTAL SAVING OF 28 CENTS FOR EACH 100 POUNDS OF MILK HANDLED. THIS 28-CENT A HUNDRED SAVING WILL PAY FOR YOUR DARI-KOOL.

A producer with an average of 10 cans of milk (86 pounds each) a day will sell 25,800 pounds per month. At 28 cents per hundred saving, he will be ahead by $72.24 each month.

The approximate cost of a 250-gallon tank installed is $2,400 with interest of $216 for a total of $2,616. This can be divided into 36 monthly installments of $72.11 each. THUS YOUR SAVINGS MAKE YOUR PAYMENTS FOR YOU. This estimate is without down payment or trade-in, which would cut the principal and monthly payment substantially.

All sizes of good USED CAN COOLERS for sale.

The thing most frequently opened by mistake is the human mouth.

One of the reasons why you can't take it with you is that it usually goes before you do

BOTTOMS UP!

Did you ever have a soup cocktail? It may sound funny — but it doesn't taste funny. On a good, blistering-hot summer day, it tastes like nothing else can. What you do is take an old-fashioned glass, or a tumbler, or the old oaken bucket, if you want to be sentimental about it — put some ice-cubes in, punch a hole in a can of beef broth and pour it over the ice. Let that icy chill soak in for a minute or two. Then dip your bill into it and see for yourself.

This procedure, if carefully followed, will explain why soup-on-the-rocks — that some genius invented just last summer — is now on the hot-weather menus of swank hotels, ritzy clubs, lunch-rooms and cross-roads diners from coast to coast. Last year, this beef broth cocktail was the fashionable appetite-sharpener at dinner — whether at noon or night. This year, our spies report, soup-on-the-rocks is becoming the favorite between-meals picker-upper — whether morning, afternoon or both. Scientifically speaking, this makes quite a lot of sense, considering that it provides a shot of fresh energy plus replacing salt lost through perspiration. We might also mention there are those who fancy it for a hot-weather breakfast.

And besides, it's a great comfort to feel you're in style — whether you are in a boiled shirt at the Waldorf, or a sport shirt at the corner beanery or without a shirt on the water or the beach or in your own backyard.

Now they are developing the "chick-stick" — cooked, ground-up chicken, frozen on a stick like a popsicle.

MEDICINE CABINET O.K.?

When's the last time you inspected the family medicine chest? If you take a minute to take a look, you will probably find half-empty medicine bottles that should have been thrown out months ago, rusty razor blades and other miscellaneous items that have been 'long' forgotten. For safety's sake, clean it out and, at the same time, make sure you have stocked the basic necessities that are needed to protect your family — iodine and first aid bandages, eye drops, aspirin, smelling salts and salve for treating household burns.

1957 CARS — BIG CHANGES

Get set for some real surprises in the 1957 cars. Bodies will be lower-slung and smaller wheels will give a smoother ride. More extravagant use of glass will mean thinner body posts. Car interiors will stress comfort and class and swivel seats will add luxury. Motors will be even more powerful with automatic transmissions standard equipment on even the lower-priced models. Gadgets will abound: hi-fidelity phonographs, pint-sized radios, electric locks that secure all doors, built in sander for icy roads. Radical innovations, reserved for luxurious models, may include disc brakes, fuel-injection motors, and maybe air-cushion suspensions that eliminate springs.

Not Courage, Just Habit

"Madam," remarked the sheriff, "I'm amazed that you had the courage to attack a burglar — and in the dark at that." "Oh," replied the woman, a little embarrassed, "I thought he was my husband."

FOR THE RECORD—The man inside this streamliner motorcycle is Wilhelm Noll, who hopes he's set new motorcycle speed records for both the mile and the kilometer. Racing on the autobahn near Munich, Germany, he made two runs from a flying start. His unofficial 282 k.p.h. (170 m.p.h.), for the kilometer bests the existing record by 20 k.p.h. For the mile, Noll set up a blurring 177 m.p.h., also believed to be a new record.

These terraces will also empty onto Bermuda grass waterways which were planted to serve as safe outlets and provide good pasture. SOIL CONSERVATION
DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

The cost of terracing is down. It will cost the farmer only a penny a foot for terrace construction. This is one of the few jobs that a farmer can get done cheap this year. Though the 1956 Agricultural Conservation program, the Federal Government will share with Texas farmers and ranchers the cost of approved conservation practices.

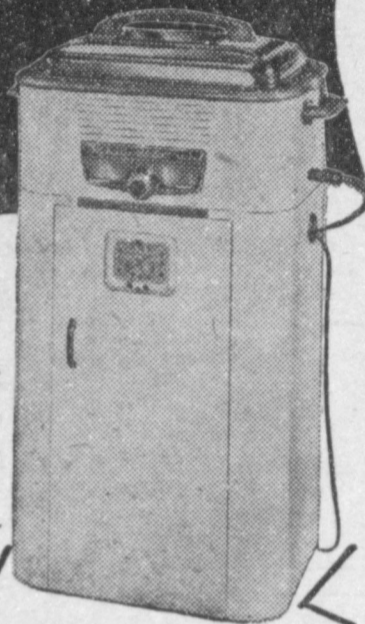

This cost share on terraces is two cents a foot on field terraces. Dirt moving contractors are building field terraces to specifications for three cents a foot. This leaves the landowner's cost only one cent a foot for terrace construction.

Cooperators of the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation district need over 1900 miles of terraces to protect sloping fields in the Muenster-Saint Jo area. Now is the time to get terracing done. The time to protect precious topsoil is before it washes away in a flash rainstorm.

Over 15,000 feet of channel type field terraces have been completed on Mrs. W. W. Sickling's farm at Myra. These terraces will give added protection to some 60 acres of sloping farmland. The water from the terraces will empty onto wide Bermuda grass waterways which

Over eight miles of its labyrinthian splendor have been explored without an end being reached and the lowest point on the guided tour is an eerie 120 feet below the surface. The cavern is a popular attraction for tourists and sightseers, especially in the summertime, because it is a real cool cave. The temperature inside remains at a comfortable 64 degrees even in the hottest summer weather. Longhorn Cavern is located off U. S. Highway 281 four miles south of Burnet.

Detention Dams

While the stream is well within the channel's capacity.

The flood prevention program along Big Elm is well advanced. Ten sites are either complete or under construction. Three have just been contracted and two more will be submitted for bids soon.

Those dams control the main channels and tributaries to the confluence of Big and Brushy Elm creeks. From there on other reservoirs will check the tributaries along the creek all the way to Lake Dallas.

Though initial construction was delayed until only a year ago, the Elm watershed project is one of the oldest on the Agriculture Department's records. It originated shortly after the department started its flood prevention work. As one of the early applicants it came under the provision which allows 100 per cent appropriations. Had its appropriation not been made promptly it would have come under the later provision which requires that 10 per cent of the cost be absorbed by the area concerned. Subject to that provision the local project might never have developed, and if so it would have cost the watershed several hundred thousand dollars.

Pool Dedication

with a flip and twist.

Misses Virginia Otto and Carolyn Cain shared the distinction of being named queens of the dedication. They were senior and junior winners respectively in the aquamaid contest which presented 56 entries sponsored by business firms of Muenster. The senior division included girls in the 16-19 year group, the junior division was made up of the 13-15 year group.

Second and third place honors in the senior contest went to Jeanette Haverkamp and Norma Klement respectively. Ann Luke and Judy Cain were second and third in the junior division. The two queens were crowned by Mayor Endres and all six received bouquets of red roses from the VFW Auxiliary, which directed the contest. Judges were three Gainesville ladies, Mmes. Paul Shobe, W. T. Tuggle and Peter Robinson.

Out of town visitors recognized were Mayor Weldon Cowan of Nocona, Mayor and Mrs. S. L. Greenwood of Bowie, Judge and Mrs. Shelby Fletcher of Gainesville, Sheriff O. E. Whisnand and Commissioner Earl Taylor.

Mayor Endres extended the city council's special thanks to Commissioners Taylor and Klement for their help in park improvement work around the swimming pool.

Confetti . . . show that the endorsement of a boss does not necessarily assure the support of members.

One of the greatest needs in our nation today is integrity and sound judgment in labor leadership . . . a genuine concern for the working man's personal rights and an understanding of all the elements of his welfare including those factors which affect the over all economy of the nation.

Rank and file workers are faceted with the challenge of correcting this situation. There is the job of cleaning up within the organization and of voting according to the standards of freedom and conscience.
