

MUENSTER ENTERPRISE

VOLUME XIII

MUENSTER, COOKE COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY MARCH 11, 1949

NUMBER 16

About 250 persons attending the Gainesville Chamber of Commerce dinner last Thursday night got the low-down on communism straight from the shoulder as James M. Floyd sounded an emphatic warning that the red menace is known to be operating in North Texas and very likely is active in Cooke County.

He wasn't talking on theory but quoting facts based on his personal knowledge and official documents. He quoted the testimony of William Z. Foster, communist leader in this country, to the effect that when communism takes over our present form of government will cease to exist and we will be ruled by a dictatorship backed by the Red Army. He quoted a disillusioned young communist to the effect that entry in the party is subject to the denial of belief in God and a solemn oath to accept dictates of communist superiors and work for the overthrow of the government of the United States.

There was no mincing of words. Floyd proved beyond the shadow of a doubt that recent exposures of red activity are not just red herrings but authenticated cases in a nation-wide conspiracy to turn this country over to Jo Stalin and his gang of unscrupulous cutthroats.

Furthermore he proved that the cancerous menace to American democracy is by no means confined to the more turbulent areas of the north and east. Stating that it is also happening in Texas, he produced evidence of communist activity in Fort Worth, Dallas and Austin.

The reds are with us, he declared, and they're striving day and night with fanatical zeal to destroy the sacred ideals and institutions by which we live. To survive we must first recognize the danger and then combat it by adhering conscientiously to the principles of democracy and Christianity.

Floyd's remarks were specially significant coming the day after communist leaders in at least six nations asserted simultaneously that in case of war they would support Soviet Russia rather than their own countries.

If there was ever any doubt that the reds take their orders from a central authority it certainly cannot stand up under the force of that circumstance. By a long stretch of the imagination a person might concede that simultaneous and similar statements by two leaders can possibly be a coincidence. But when six say the same thing at the same time there can be only one explanation. Those six are under somebody's thumb. Guess whose.

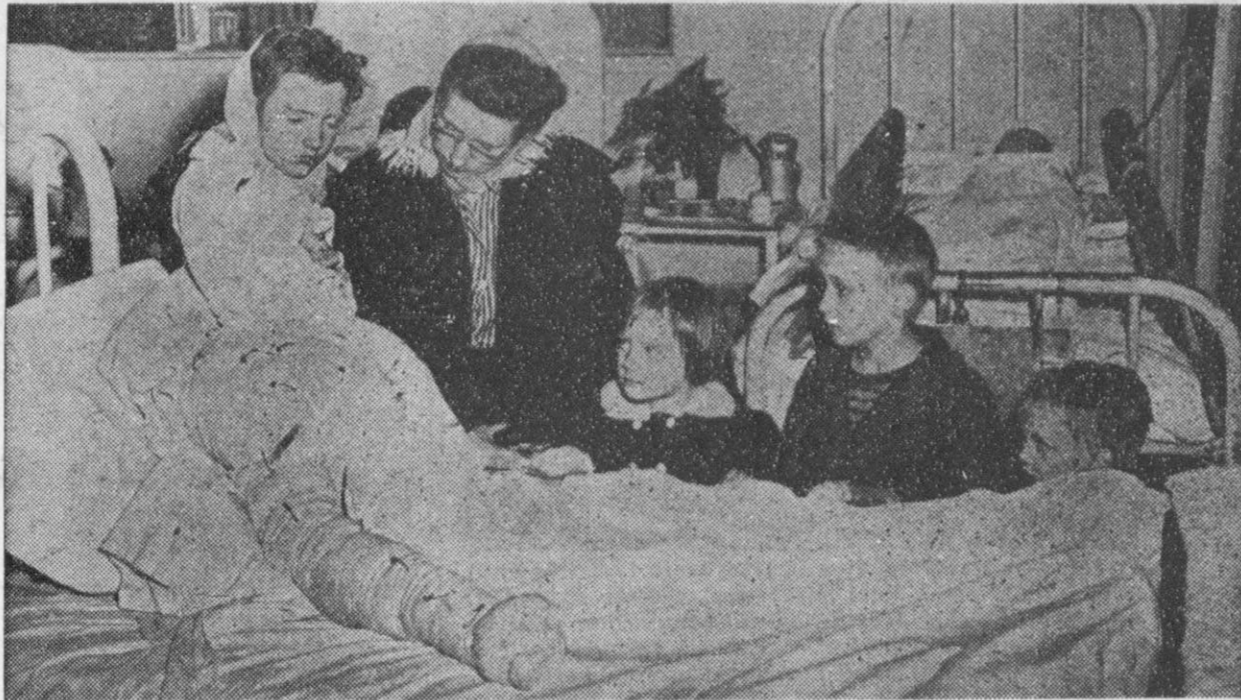

What's the meaning behind it all? There's a question that has been asked thousands of times in the past week, but apparently nothing has developed so far to suggest the answer. Does it mean that Joe and Company are becoming panicky and choose this means of threatening all potential enemies? Or does it mean they are getting so cocky that they are ready to tell the world how big they are?

Whatever the intention, the statement had at least a few favorable results; that is, favorable from the viewpoint of our loyal citizens. It proved to any who might still be in doubt that communism in America is not just a political party but a unit in an international system dedicated to the aims of Soviet Russia and the overthrow of our government. It also awakened some easy going legislators to a realization that this nation is in drastic need of measures to cope with the treachery of reds here and in Moscow.

The reaction so far is most satisfying. Monday the House passed almost unanimously a bill to suspend immigration restrictions in favor of foreigners who reveal vital information about Russia. America is ready to fight fire with fire. As an answer to Russia's treacherous and contemptible spy activity over here it is openly bidding for the aid of any conscientious Russian who wants to see an end to the Kremlin reign of terror.

Another reaction is the expressed intention to pass legislation which will put clamps on American reds. How severe the laws will be remains to be seen, but we might observe here that Congress would be well within reason in designating every communist activity as treason punishable by deportation or death. And of the two penalties, let's hope it will be the former. If they are so enthusiastic about Stalin's ways let them live with him.

'Friends of Land' Leader To Be Here on Electrification Day

Progress on the first week of preparations indicates that a big day is in store for members of the Cooke County Electric Co-operative and other visitors who gather here for Rural Electrification Day on March 29.

Sponsored jointly by the electric co-op and business people of Muenster, the event will be held in connection with the annual membership meeting of the co-operative.

One outstanding feature announced Tuesday by J. M. Weinzapfel of the program committee is the appearance of A. C. Spencer of Huntsville, Southwestern representative of the nation wide Friends of the Land Society. The identity of other invited speakers will be revealed as soon as the committee receives their acceptance, Weinzapfel said.

Dick Cain, general chairman, stated that arrangements have been made to have the big tent of the Gainesville Community Circus here for the occasion. Providing ample seating capacity it will be used for the co-op meeting, the speeches and the entertainment numbers. The large area in the center normally used for circus performances will be used for dealer displays. John Wieler, in charge of the display space, said Wednesday that about half the inside space has been leased and suggested that any others who plan displays see him as soon as possible. The early birds have the better choice of location, he added.

Other attractions of the day include drawings for prizes offered by the electric co-op and merchants, movie shorts in the K of C hall and entertainment numbers. A sandwich and cold drink concession will be run by the boy scouts.

Mr. Spencer's message at the program will be on conservation which is the one objective of the Friends of the Land Society. In view of the appalling loss of precious top soil and the enormous damage caused by floods every year, conservation leaders have organized to bring the problem before all walks of American life through lectures, publicity, movies, school courses and any other means of getting their messages across.

Rural electrification members will find the speech as vital to their interests as any of the official proceedings of their general meeting.

FILLS AND GRADER WORK REPAIR CITY STREET CASUALTIES

The best news to Muenster automobile drivers since the rugged weather of January and February is the street repair work which got under way in the city this week.

Bog holes at various spots around town have had their gravel fillings and county road maintainers have touched up the surface.

Though still not up to the desired standard, all streets are vastly improved... all except Main which at this time awaits the contractor's grader to knock down rough spots developed during the last two rains.

Patsy Nieball of Dallas is here for a visit with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Nieball.

COUNCIL APPOINTS F. J. HESS JUDGE FOR ELECTION ON APRIL 5

Final preparations for what appears to be one of the least exciting elections in the history of Muenster were made at the city council meeting last Monday night when F. J. Hess was appointed as election judge. Date of the election is Tuesday, April 5.

Up to the time of the meeting there were no candidates for any of the four places on the ballot. Noting the absence of interest Mayor Weinzapfel cautioned that names must be submitted to the city secretary on or before March 25. Council members whose terms expire this year are Mayor J. M. Weinzapfel and Aldermen John Fisher, Andy Hofbauer and Dick Cain.

Notes On Soil Conservation

Grass seeding and sodding got underway last week with Co-operators of the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation district revegetating pastures and preparing waterways.

Frank Hacker seeded a meadow to a bluestem grass mixture last week. The area was not handy for grazing and Mr. Hacker can utilize it for a small meadow strip.

J. H. Coursey worked out his conservation farm plan last fall and is preparing to seed waterways in the field to a bluestem grass mixture. Some wet, silted-in areas will be sodded to bermuda grass and added to the pasture. Mr. Coursey said he had farmed these wet areas for years and could remember only two years in which he was able to harvest the crop.

Tony Klement, T. Miller, Albert Knabe, Henry Wiesman and Bill Jones, who operates the Dr. Holland farm, are sodding waterways to bermuda grass. These waterways were planned to receive runoff water from cultivated land. Sprigs are being harvested near Gainesville in a sandy pasture. They are planted in lister furrows and covered by dragging the lister beds flat. This has proven to be the fastest, most economical method of establishing the bermuda grass sod.

Establishing grassed waterways is an important conservation practice in the Muenster Work Unit area. Grassed waterways will carry runoff water and hold the soil. Building terraces before protected outlets were prepared has caused severe damage to some fields of the area and these are a good example of what we should not do in the future.

V. W. Redman of Saint Jo has seeded 30 acres of bluestem grass on old field areas being developed into range pasture. These old field areas were abandoned when Mr. Redman bought the farm a few years ago. He planted them to vetch and rye and has produced several good crops of vetch. He thinks the bluestem grass should do good on these fields now. Mr. Redman also planted 3 acres of King Ranch bluestem for a seed lot. He hopes to produce enough seed to plant other areas on his farm and ranch to this grass.

Ralph Donnell has completed planting about 50 acres of an old field to bluestem grass on his ranch. He seeded part of the area with seed hay harvested near Nocona and part of it with a bluestem seed mixture.

Private Loans May Ease Financial Strain Of Phone Company

After more than two hours of grappling with telephone company problems some sixty stockholders in a special session, at the parish hall Tuesday night voted in favor of trying to pull the company through its present financial strain by means of individual loans and agreed on R. R. Endres as their representative to solicit the money in the community.

Forced into financial embarrassment through a series of unusual circumstances, the directors had called the meeting in order to drop their problem into the laps of stockholders. Their intention was to reorganize and refinance or to sell the business.

But the discussion soon revealed that the general sentiment was opposed to parting with the system and reluctant to subscribe the requested additional capital needed to clear obligations and make desired improvements.

As explained by former secretary J. M. Weinzapfel the company had always been proud of its abnormally low rates and therefore had failed to build up a sufficient reserve. Then it bought additional property and equipment. Next came expensive line moving jobs followed by the devastating effects of two ice storms. Under normal conditions the company is set up to operate at a profit, he said, but it needs a financial lift to restore it to that status.

After several proposals had been by-passed R. R. Endres offered to donate a week of his time soliciting private loans to put the company back on its feet. He was confident of raising as much as $4000 which, in the opinion of directors would be sufficient to pull through the emergency. The money is to be borrowed on 2 per cent notes due on or before 3 years.

Results of his drive are to be submitted to directors at a meeting next Tuesday. If the sum is sufficient it will be put to work. If not checks are to be returned and directors will start worrying all over again.

Plenty of Candidates In School Trustee Race, Says Rumor, Not Record

According to the grapevine information source there will be no shortage of candidates for school trustee positions in the election of April 2. However, according to Herbert Meurer, school board secretary, no person has officially put his name on the ballot to date.

The deadline for attending to that detail is March 22, ten days before the election date. Official notices posted by Albert Henschel specify that the election will be held at the public school between 8 a.m. and 7 p.m. Three trustees will be elected.

Persons whose terms expire this year are Albert Henschel, F. J. Yosten and Meinrad Hesse. Those who will continue to serve are E. S. Lawson, C. G. Clayton, Frank Klement and C. M. Walterscheid.

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Mitchell and daughter, and his father J. D. Mitchell, visited in Marlow, Okla. Sunday with the latter's sisters. The day marked the seventy-fourth birthday of J. D. Mitchell.

Reburial Service for Sgt. Frank J. Moster Held Here Thursday

Reburial services were held here Thursday morning at 9 o'clock in Sacred Heart church for Sgt. Frank J. Moster, 26, who died on December 9, 1943, as the result of wounds received in action in Italy. He was a member of the fighting 36th division of the Fifth Army.

The body arrived in Gainesville at 9:14 a.m. Wednesday and was met by Johnny Rohmer, Herbie Herr, Harry Fisher and Walter Becker, members of the Muenster VFW post. Rosary was recited at the home of his mother, Mrs. Leo Moster, at 8:15 p.m. From the time the body arrived in Muenster until the funeral service members of the local VFW burial detail served as guards of honor.

Rev. Bernard Roemer of Galina Park, Moster's former chaplain, in the states and overseas, officiated at the requiem high mass and at burial in the Muenster cemetery. Frank was a close friend of the chaplain and his mass server at all services he was able to attend.

Members of the Muenster VFW burial detail performed the military services. Those who participated were W. J. Hess, Frank and Vincent Felderhoff, Ted and Ray Voth, Herbie Herr, Harry Fisher and Andy Yosten, rifle squad; Frank Hennigan and Walter Becker, color bearers; Eugene Klement and Tony Yosten, color guards, Anthony Luke and Val Fuhrmann, buglers.

Pallbearers, also members of the VFW post, were Wilfred Bindel, Johnny Rohmer, Joe Hess, Alphonse Pautler, Arnold Swirczynski and Elmer Fette. Nick Miller was in charge of funeral arrangements.

Sgt. Moster was born at Mount Kisco, N.Y., on July 12, 1917, and as an infant was adopted by Mr. and Mrs. Moster, along with a brother Steve, shortly after their parents died. Two other children of the family, Tony and Theresa, were adopted at the same time by Mr. and Mrs. Joe Sicking of Gainesville.

Frank grew up here, attended Sacred Heart school for a few years, then moved with his parents to Wichita Falls. He went to Gainesville in 1933, attended St. Mary's high school and engaged in farming. In 1940 he was employed by the refinery and the electric cooperative here.

He enlisted in the army in Feb. 1941, trained at Camp Bowie, Camp Blanding, Fla., and Camp Edwards, Miss., and went overseas with the 36th in March 1943. He was stationed in Africa before going into action in Italy, where he served as a member of a reconnaissance company.

Frank was well known throughout Cooke county and received nationwide publicity in 1938, when he and his brother, Tony, made a trip across the continent on bicycles. They pedaled 8,480 miles from July 5 to Dec. 9, visiting 21 states and Canada.

Survivors are his foster mother and two brothers, Steve Moster, Muenster and Tony Sicking, Gainesville, one sister, Miss Theresa Sicking, Gainesville, a foster sister, Miss Florence Moster, and three foster brothers, Joe, Charles and Tommy Moster of Muenster.

By Congressman Ed Gossett

Washington, D. C., March 4.—One of the controversial bills to come before the House in a few days, is the so-called Rankin bill. This bill proposes to give pensions of $90.00 per month to all veterans of both World Wars when they reach the age of 65, regardless of need or length of service. I would be glad to have any constituent write me his views of this bill. It is estimated that eventually 18 million veterans will be covered by such Act.

Southern Senators continue their filibuster this week against a change in the Senate rules to end filibusters. Under the rules of the House of Representatives, filibusters are not possible. All measures are considered in the House under an agreement as to the time of debate. However, under Senate rules, no limit can be placed on the time that a Senator can talk except through so-called cloture. Cloture can only be invoked by a 2-3 vote of the Senate. Hence, filibusters take place only in the Senate. The Administration is now seeking to have the Senate rules changed so that a simple majority vote can cut off all debate. This change in rules in the Senate is aimed at Southern Senators and is intended to cut off their right to filibuster against the so-called Civil Rights bills. The so-called Civil Rights bills are: (1) the antilynching bill, (2) the anti-poll tax bill, (3) the so-called FEPC (Fair Employment Practices Commission), the various measures proposing to outlaw segregation. Most Southern Representatives and Senators, like myself, are very much opposed to all of these proposals. In this instance, we feel that the filibuster keeps a majority from running over a minority. We, therefore, are hoping that the Senate filibuster will be successful.

The Hoover Commission was set up by the last Congress to recommend measures of efficiency and economy in the Executive Branch of the Government. Such Commission filed its 9th report this week. Its report points out that the Veterans Administration has 15,432 employees handling its 7 million policies of insurance in the total amount of 40 billion dollars, whereas private insurance firms use only 1-5 this many employees to handle the same volume of insurance. Subcommittee No. 1 of the House Judiciary Committee, of which I am a member, has begun hearings on a new Displaced Persons bill sponsored by Mr. Emanuel Celler of New York. Mr. Celler's bill proposes to raise the number of DPs to be admitted to this country from 200,000 to 400,000. The present bill provides that no one coming into our DP camps after December 22, 1945, can be classified as a DP. Mr. Celler's bill proposes to change this date to July 1, 1947. Mr. Celler's bill would make eligible for DP registration more than 100,000 coming into our camps from behind the iron curtain over 18 months after the war was over. Mr. Celler complains that the present legislation discriminates against persons of Jewish faith. While 25% of the DPs were of Jewish faith, DPs admitted since the war and prior to the DP Act of 1948, were 66-2-3% of Jewish faith. Of those admitted under the present act so far, nearly 50% have been persons of Jewish faith. Thus, it is hard to see how any discrimination has been practiced against the Jews. In the allied military zones of Europe are more than 14 million Displaced Persons of German blood. These are people from Yugoslavia, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Poland, Rumania, and countries under Russian domination who have been forcibly expelled from their ancestral homes because of their German blood. The constitution of the IRO (International Refugee Organization) forbids anyone to be classified as a DP who is of German ethnic origin. Thus, the proposed bill gives no consideration to any of these people. Again, I have numerous wires this week from Greek organizations in this country asking us to permit the entry of 50,000 Greek refugees. Just this week, a State Department spokesman told me that more than 800,000 Arabs had been displaced by the Jewish forces of Israel and that more than 250 of these displaced Arabs were dying daily from starvation and disease.

Among the many books and pamphlets coming to my office this week, is Blum's Almanac. It was sent by Congressman Thurmond Chatham of North Carolina, who says of it; "In my home district of North Carolina, we live and die by Blum's almanac. We plan our trips according to the weather forecast, we do our teeth pulling when the sign is in the feet, expect our babies on the full of the moon, and plant our turnips on the dark nights of August. We also use it for weaning calves, docking sheep, and killing hogs. The splendid anecdotes, jokes and stories have been used by generations of teachers, preachers, and politicians. This is the 121st year of publication by the same family group."

The American Way

To Direct and Control

By DeWitt Emery

No matter what it's called or how it may be dressed up or how thick or thin you slice it, the real purpose behind federal aid to education is to direct and control what is taught in all of the schools in this country and to select those who do the teaching.

It's part and parcel of the determined effort now being made by our labor Administration to substitute national socialism for pure Republican form of government.

The claims made by the supporters of this program, that federal control will not go along with the money, are poppycock, plain everyday, ordinary poppycock. This is exactly the same as saying that the government takes your money, my money and the money of other taxpayers and throws it around without paying any attention to who gets it or what they do with it. I know that's the way it looks to some of us, with the cost of government going up and up and up, but that isn't the way it is.

Actually, and without exception, in the whole record of national experience the strings of supervision are inseparable from any form of federal expenditures and it is only natural and logical that this should be true.

The government has an obligation to see that when some of the peoples' money is committed for a definite and specific purpose that the money is used for that purpose. The Supreme Court has held on numerous occasions that it is both the right and obligation of the government to exercise control where it makes expenditures.

The "do-gooders" whose hearts bleed for the poor kids who do not have adequate educational opportunities really don't give a continental about the kids. What they want is control over another large and important segment of our population, with an ever increasing number of bureaucrats on the federal payroll. Federal aid to education would be a Roman holiday for the bureaucrats. There would be hordes of them watching over and messing up the school systems in every village and crossroads hamlet in the entire country.

This program is typical of the "fool the people" type of government which has been popularized in the last generation. It professes one objective while actually having an entirely different objective.

Assuring more children a better education is the stated objective. The actual purpose is to let a handful of people in Washington determine what all children in the United States shall be taught. Ideological control of the schools, and through them of the children, is a basic step of all totalitarian forms of government. It's always the number one objective of the communists.

So, mothers and fathers, if you want to have anything to say about what your children get in school; if you want your schools run by local people; want control of what is taught and by whom, to rest in the hands of your local board of education, which can be voted out and a new board voted in whenever you and your fellow citizens wish; then you'd better become articulate in opposition to federal aid to education right now.

Express your views on this important matter to the Congressman representing your district and both of the Senators representing your state in our national legislature in Washington.

THE LOWDOWN FROM HICKORY GROVE

You know, getting down to brass tacks — we are a passel of buck passers. We blame the mayor — and congress — and Uncle Harry for our aches and pains, and especially at tax-paying time. We forget how we voted for more playground and leap-frog directors, and another half dozen dams on Cow Creek.

Until this nation gets over listening to the barkers telling us how wonderful it is on the inside — and it costs a mere nothing to get in — we are going to have aches and pains on tax day. It is easy to get into all these side-shows but getting out, there is the bad news — our gold watch is missing.

If you even slow down on Main Street somebody will collar you with his idea on how to fix everything. And at the lunch club, if you have no problem for the guy to solve, he will cook one up and tell how to fix it.

In one month's time, if every Mr. and Mrs. Good Citizen would write their mayor, and congressman, and Uncle Harry — 3 post-cards in all — and tell the old sports to act their age, and that you can hardly wait until next election, the atmosphere would clear up quick.

Yours with the low down,
JO SERRA

USDA Research Develops Chigger-Proof Clothing

Chigger-proof clothing that will stay that way for the life of the garment is a definite possibility as the result of U. S. department of agriculture research that has continued since the end of the war. Two organic compounds which can be used to impregnate cloth from which garments are made have remained deadly to chiggers after seven launderings. This would ordinarily cover most of the life of working clothes, hunting and outing garments and military uniforms for which chigger protection is most needed. The most promising compounds are listed as phenyl carbonate and x, x-dichlorodiphenyl ether. Pearl Harbor was the signal for intensive research in chigger protection. The army had to prepare for the Pacific campaign. Army doctors knew that one of the perils of the South Pacific was a disease known as scrub typhus which results from the bite of an infected mite that is a close relative of the American chigger. Research got underway immediately at the Orlando, Fla., laboratory of the bureau of entomology and plant quarantine.

By early 1944 Raymond C. Bushland, as an officer in the sanitary corps of the army, carried his findings in Orlando to New Guinea. There he showed soldiers how to make their uniforms chigger proof by dipping them in a 5 per cent emulsion of dimethyl phthalate and hanging them to dry. This would protect a soldier from the mites for up to a month — or until the uniform was laundered.

Sod Outlets Before Terrace Construction

Gullyng, excess terrace grade, and damage to roads, fences and other farm improvements usually results where terrace outlets are not protected with sod. Sodding with Bermuda grass is the most economical method of protecting terrace outlets. The area to be sodded and used for outletting terrace water should be located by running trial terrace lines. After the outlet has been located, follow the steps listed below in establishing permanent terrace outlets.

Twelve to eighteen months are usually required for growth and spread of grass before the field is terraced. Where Bermuda grass roots are hard to harvest contact members of your Soil Conservation Board of Supervisors for the name and location of sandy land farmers who will furnish Bermuda grass roots at a reasonable cost.

RESULTS OF TERRACING BEFORE OUTLETS WERE SODDED. Terraces without sodded outlets often do more harm than good.

FIVE STEPS IN SODDING TERRACE OUTLETS

STEP 1. PREPARE LAND FOR SODDING BY BEDDING AND RE-BEDDING. Good land preparation is as necessary for successful growth of Bermuda grass as for other crops.

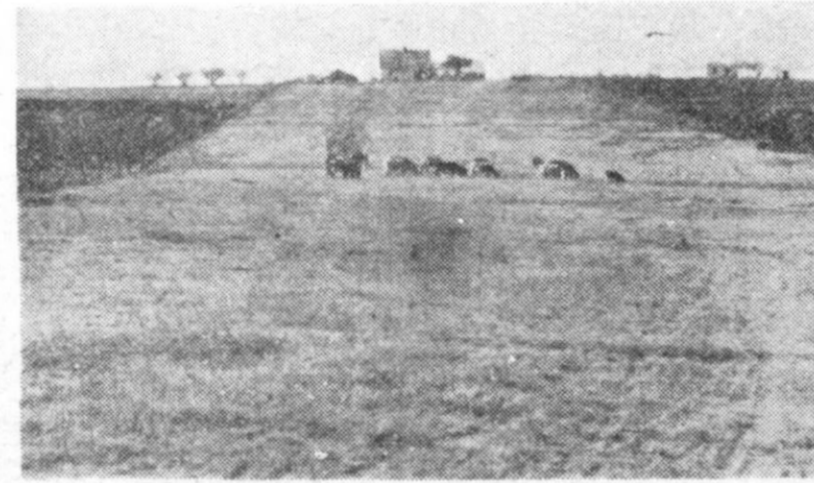

STEP 2. HARVEST BERMUDA GRASS ROOTS by plowing and following with a spring-tooth harrow, side-delivery rake, tiller tool, or other similar equipment which can be used for raking roots into piles or windrows. Roots should be kept damp until planted.

STEP 3. PLANT FRESHLY HARVESTED BERMUDA GRASS ROOTS in moist soil at 18 to 24 inch intervals and cover immediately by rebedding. Sodding may be done at any time of year when moisture is available. A sodded outlet is the foundation of a successful terrace system.

STEP 4. READY FOR TERRACE CONSTRUCTION. An excellent cover of Bermuda grass is usually present by the fall of the second year and ready to be used as a terrace outlet. Narrow outlets usually cause gullyng, therefore the outlet area should be from 100 to 300 feet wide to provide ample space for spreading of water.

STEP 5. FENCE THE BERMUDA GRASS TERRACE OUTLET soon after terrace construction. All sodded outlets should be used for pasture or meadow. Livestock help to maintain the outlets and provide additional income.

First 1949 Fish Story

The first odd fish story of 1949 concerns a Kerrville man who went fishing on the Llano River. He cast a jitterbug out in the water and was all set to pull in a big catfish or bass. He got a terrific strike, and battled for 15 minutes, to bring in what he thought was the biggest fish he had ever caught. When he finally landed his catch, he found he had a 40-pound beaver. The animal had drowned in the struggle.

PROPER TREATMENT
 IN EARLY STAGES
 CAN CURE PYORRHEA

AUSTIN.— Contrary to the popular belief that pyorrhea is always incurable, this is only true in the most advanced cases, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. His advice to persons who even suspect the presence of pyorrhea is to seek an early diagnosis from their dentist so that proper treatment can be instituted while the disease is still curable.

"Early detection and proper treatment of pyorrhea represent the formula for a successful cure. This means that the dentist must have an opportunity to discover the presence of the disease at the earliest possible moment. Since the symptoms are often so vague that the patient is unaware of having pyorrhea," Dr. Cox said, "regular visits to the family dentist are extremely important in the control of this disease."

The treatment of pyorrhea is not an involved procedure. In the average early case one of

The art of making fine glassware is the oldest industry in this country. Quality American glass is made entirely by hand. Each operation is performed by a skilled craftsman. The picture shows one of the final processes — putting on the delicate cut-work which distinguishes much handmade American glass.

National 4-H Club Week Report Shows 13 County Clubs And 344 Members

Girls of Cooke county's 4-H clubs observed National 4-H Club Week this week by analyzing their problems, making reports and determining what course should be followed to achieve the greatest results. Reports show that there are 13 clubs in the county with a total membership of 344.

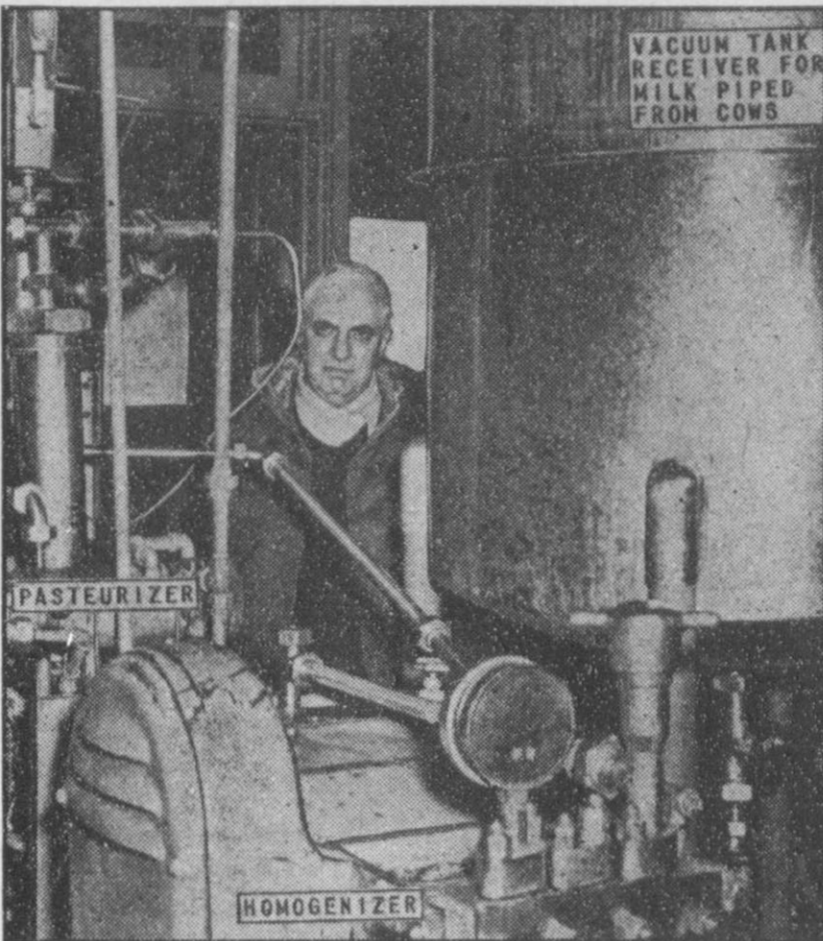

Results checked showed that the Muenster public school 4-H club has 20 members, three of them new. They have had all of their meetings for the year with good attendance at each meeting. The club is directed by Bonnie Nell Hammer, president, Merle Tivis, vice president, and Janie Reeves secretary.

Reports on the Lindsay club show a membership of 40. Five are new members. Rita Block is president, Gaynell Lea Medlock, vice president, and Juliana Fuhrmann, secretary.

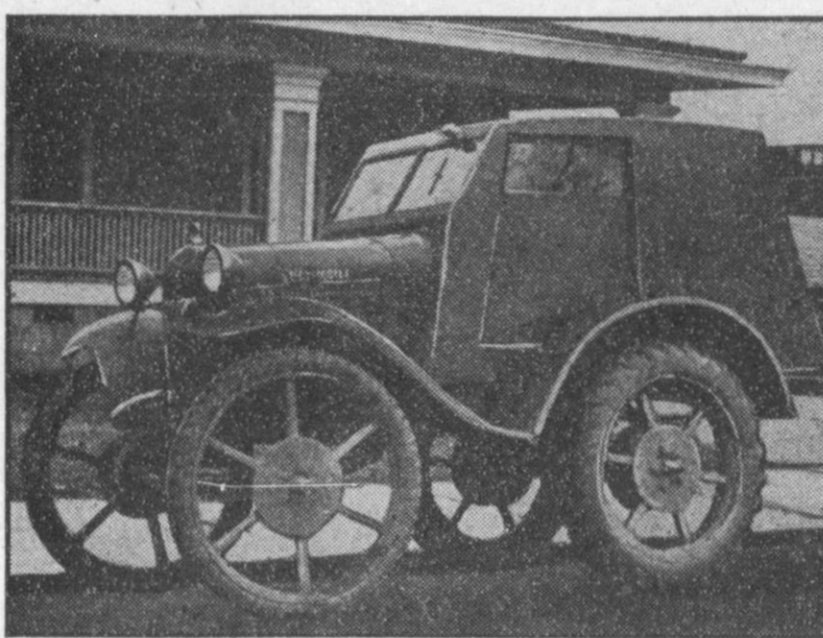

Demonstrations this year have taught the girls the principals of cooking and the fundamentals of sewing. At each meeting one girl gives a short demonstration and one member conducts a brief recreational period.

Other clubs of the county are St. Mary's senior, St. Mary's junior, Burton, Downard-Fairplains, Union Grove, Rad Ware, Ross Point, Callisburg, Walnut Bend, Valley View and Era.

Buz Bezner, little son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Bezner of Gainesville, is spending this week with Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Schmitz.

Dr. Roy Graves, formerly a top scientist in the Department of Agriculture, inspects machinery for canning fresh milk on a dairy farm near Valparaiso, Ind. Dr. Graves developed his idea in conjunction with Roy Stambaugh, Valparaiso dairy farmer, and the two claim it could bring about an economic revolution in the dairy industry. Both said, however, much remains to be done on process.

This exalted vehicle was retired from a Texico, Ill., rural mail route after serving its owner, Joseph S. Spangler, faithfully for several years. The tractor tires helped put the mail carrier over soggy farm roads that bogged down more conventional autos. Now the roads have been improved and Spangler is planning to retire, so the "Stiltmobile" has been sold.

City Speeds Ball Park Work to Accommodate Homeless Gainesville Owls

Because the Gainesville Owls are homeless for their pre-season practice sessions, baseball and softball players of this community are getting a lucky break. Contemplated work on the local ball park has been speeded up to make the place available to the pro-team for some of its early workouts.

Work now in progress at the Gainesville park will not be finished before the playing season opens. Accordingly the Owl management has arranged to hold its practice sessions on the diamonds of neighboring cities.

The first improvement on the Muenster field was to level off several dozen loads of fill-in dirt that had been dumped in the low area of center field. Other improvements to be made soon include more fill-in, work on the infield, construction of a backstop and installation of a drinking fountain. All were planned before, but action on them were hastened after two representatives of the Owls conferred with Mayor Weinzapfel here Sunday afternoon.

Cooperating in the good-neighbor policy, Father John Walbe offered the Owls the facilities of the Hornets' shower and dressing room.

A young Chinese student was living in a boarding house which was anything but clean. In view of the dirty premises he was greatly surprised one day to find a card tacked on the front door by his landlady.

'Clean Your Feet,' it said in big letters. The Chinese student took a pencil and on the same card, immediately underneath, he wrote, 'Before Going Out.'
