County Reports Big Demand for Poll Tax Receipts

Now brewing at Austin is proposed legislation to improve some of the unreasonable features of the state's present car insurance regulations.

Foremost is the change basing rates on a driver's record since January 1960, when the merit system went into effect, instead of a three year period. Ever since the law was passed, people have wondered about that three year record, and how it could stand up in the courts. According to our understanding of the constitution a law's penalty cannot be made retroactive. For instance, if a law is passed today specifying a fine for improper parking a person cannot be fined for that offense yesterday or anytime before. But that was the case in the insurance regulation. The law's penalty was applied to traffic violations that occurred before the law was passed. Let's hope the legislators will see the prize boner in that one.

Also considered are elimination of some needlessly harsh features of the law. For instance, the insurance rate penalty on speeding less than 15 miles per hour over the legal limit, on stop-light violations involving amber rather than red lights, and "creeping" at stop signs. Another proposed change is to discontinue applying the rate penalty on trifling accidents of $25 or less and excuse from penalty those up to $100. All look like good suggestions which will add merit to the insurance merit system.

A letter sent out during the past weekend by the Cooke County Hospital Committee makes a stout effort to sell Muenster people on the fairness and practicability of supporting the proposed bond election for a county hospital.

Vary truthfully it claims that the small 15 cent tax on county valuations would not be a great strain on the average taxpayer. A 500 acre farm would be taxed less than $15 a year and a $10,000 home, assessed at $2500 or less on the county rolls, would have to pay $3.75 or less a year. It is a fact that the average taxpayer, if stuck with the obligation, could adjust himself to it and hardly notice it.

By the same line of reasoning it might be said that the people of Gainesville, who account for almost 60 per cent of the county population, could assume the same obligation without much more strain.

For a better look at that solution let's estimate the average cost per taxpayer. From the county's listed population of over 22,000 let's make allowance for wives and children and persons not paying tax. A fair guess would be 6,000 taxpayers and their average to raise the $60,000 needed annually would be about $10.

Assuming that Gainesville has almost 60 percent of the taxpayers... as it does of the total county population... there should be about 3500 of them. Their average tax to raise the $60,000 would be slightly over $17 a year. So, if the county tax average is only a trifle, the Gainesville tax average would be somewhat less than two trifles.

The real issue as far as Muenster is concerned is not the amount of tax but whether or not it should pay any tax. People here are making a voluntary sacrifice to provide their own facilities and are justifiably opposed to being taxed for someone else's facilities... especially since the tax over the 30 year period would equal about 75 per cent of their voluntary contribution... and since they expect to get very little use from the other facility.

Many of us here feel that the county hospital, located at Gainesville, of course, will be a particular asset to the city of Gainesville, just as Muenster's hospital will be a particular asset to Muenster. While providing medical service to people from miles around it has a special local value in its payroll, the business created by its own needs, the additional business it attracts, and the possibility of attracting new financial ventures. These added values are well worth the immediate community's support, and Gainesville as well as Muenster should be willing to provide for them.

The committee's letter also implies that Muenster should feel indebted because it is receiving the entire county's share of Hill-Burton aid. It

Despite the political "off-year" interest in voting is running high in Cooke County. An estimate Wednesday by Tax Assessor-Collector Rafe Piper was that the total number of poll tax receipts and exemptions will be near that of last year.

The number at least is far more than expected. The tax office ran out of its receipt blanks about noon Tuesday. Its original supply was 4500.

Persons not receiving the blanks left their application slips and should receive their poll tax receipts by mail within two weeks. Piper estimated Wednesday that the office has about 700 of the applications, so the county's total number of poll tax payments will be about 5200. Last year's total was 5989. About the same ratio applies to poll tax exemptions. 1862 have been issued. 1990 were issued last year.

Burglars Return To Liquor Store After Two Weeks

For the second time in just a little over two weeks the Grady Jones Liquor Store was burglarized early Monday morning. The previous break-in was Thursday, Jan. 12.

In its main details the job was a carbon copy of the one before. Burglars broke into the front door, went through and unlocked the rear door, and confined their haul to pints and half pints. Preference for the small bottles seems to indicate that the thieves are bootleggers or are dealing with bootleggers.

Those facts plus a few others support a belief that the job was done by the same persons. They seemed to be thoroughly familiar with the set up. This time they did not attempt a back door break-in. Nor did they waste time forcing the difficult front door lock. They just smashed the plate glass door and walked through.

The haul took was about the same size. According to an inventory check they took pints and half pints valued at $631.25. They also took $15.65 in change from the cash drawer. The only damage was the broken door glass valued at $35.

The break-in occurred after a.m. on Monday morning. At that time Deputy Sheriff Bill Pratt checked the place finding both the front and the back door intact.

Remodeling Adds Space at Rohmer's

First stage of a remodeling program at Rohmer's Restaurant eliminates a partition and a counter, making a big dining room out of the former separate rooms. The new arrangement increases the seating space. Double windows were also replaced by single large windows.

Next installment of the change-over will be removal of another partition, further enlarging the single room, and changes in the kitchen.

Work so far was done Monday and Tuesday. The rest will be done when convenient to the workers and Rohmer.

Unofficial Count In School Census Is 658, Loss of 31

A sharp drop in the scholastic census of the Muenster School District is indicated in an unofficial report by Superintendent L. B. Bruns Wednesday afternoon.

The first check of his records shows 658 school age children as of Sept. 1, 1961, a loss of 31 from last year's official total.

Bruns explained that the figure is a result of a preliminary count and may change after tabulation and final checking are complete. Furthermore, after his report is finished the figure may be changed by further checking in county and state school offices. Last year the local count was 686 and the official count was changed to 687 as two names were added and one deleted.

Hosting Rad Ware last Friday they were nosed out 25-24. Monday again on the local court, they beat Forestburg's youngsters 29-23. Wilson and Reiter were top Muenster scorers in both games. Wilson hit 15 in the first game and 17 in the next. Reiter made 8 and 7.

In girls games preceding both of these contests the Muenster team was the loser. It bowed 37-21 to Rad Ware and 27-19 to Forestburg. Cindy Cain led local scorers with 10 for each game.

PTA Announces Parent-Teacher Conferences Set

Plans for holding parent-teacher conferences were discussed at the Public School's PTA meeting Monday night and arrangements are being made to have parents meet with teachers next week. Parents will be notified regarding their appointments.

Plans were also announced for the annual Valentine Festival on Feb. 14 and both students and teachers are making arrangements, with parents helping, for a variety of carnival attractions, games, eats and drinks. The party will be a two-hour event, from 7 to 9 p.m. and everybody is being invited to attend. This is the yearly benefit in which the classes and clubs work to raise funds for their treasuries.

Other discussions concerned changing meeting time from night to afternoon but no decision was reached and this subject will come before the next meeting for further consideration. A printed PTA yearbook was favored for next year and there was a suggestion that teachers present a short program at each meeting, showing accomplishments of students in the various phases of education.

Mrs. Paul Fisher, president, conducted the business session which was followed by a short social period and refreshments of cookies and coffee.

Hospital Drive Reaches $185,485

Additions to the Muenster Memorial Hospital fund in the amount of $2,580 during the past week brings the total to $185,485, Secretary Dorothy Hartman reported at a meeting of directors and workers Wednesday night.

President J. M. Weinzapfel stated that the drive is moving slowly but steadily at this time and prospects of reaching the goal are still encouraging.

The immediate need, he said, is to meet the requirement of one third cash on hand so that the hospital authority can proceed with details of clearing plans with the state health department and federal authorities to get construction under way. He urges all subscribers to make the current year's payments as early as possible so the work can be speeded up.

Money on hand has been placed in a savings account and draws interest while waiting to be used.

Hornets Divide Games With Era And Valley View

Muenster's Hornets almost got back into the 37-B title race last Friday but missed by the slim margin of 54-51. That's how close they came to dumping the favored Valley View Eagles, who have since wallowed Callisburg to claim a share of the district's top spot.

Muenster's strong final quarter gave the visitors a real scare. After trailing by scores of 15-11, 31-22 and 41-33 in the previous periods the Hornets moved up and tied it at 51-51 shortly before the end. Three charity shots after that decided the game. Scoring for Muenster were Harris 17, M. Hellman 10, Flusche 9, J. Hellman 8, McElreath 7.

Tuesday night's game with Era on the local court was a cinch. Muenster improved as the game advanced for counts of 7-3, 19-9, and 35-12 in three periods. Playing Muenster reserves in the last quarter Era trimmed the margin for a final count of 39-24. Top MHS scorers were Harris 12, McElreath 10, Flusche 8.

MHS girls likewise had a thriller and came close to advancing a notch in the loop standing. They lost 35-31 to Era here Tuesday night, and can charge their loss to a puny percentage on free shots. They hit only 9 out of 28 tries. After a slow start Muenster was behind 13-5 ending the first quarter, and gained for a 15-12 half time score and a 25-25 tie ending the third quarter. Then the visitors pulled ahead again. Cain made 14 for MHS and Tuggle made 11.

Playing Valley View, the Hornets gained a little in each period for a win of 42-32. Counts ending the first three quarters were 6-2, 15-9 and 29-22. Cain scored 15, Tuggle 14, and Hellman 13.

Two more dates are on the loop schedule. MHS teams will go to Callisburg Friday and to Saint Jo Tuesday.

LAMBERT F. HESS

Lambert Hess, 23, Dies Instantly in Car Crash in Fog

Lambert F. Hess, 23-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hess of Lindsay, was fatally injured in a car-school bus crash in the dense fog Wednesday morning.

The accident happened about 8 o'clock one-half mile southwest of Gainesville College on Highway 51 and young Hess died instantly after the impact. His car went under the stopped bus shearing the front off even with the motor.

Nineteen students aboard the school bus escaped injury. The driver, Erwin Kaps, 60, was out of the bus when the accident occurred.

Highway Patrolman Bill Gardner said Kaps stopped the bus on the highway to pick up Vickie and Timothy Threadgill, children of Mr. and Mrs. Darwin Threadgill. Kaps left the bus to help the children across the highway.

The Hess car is reported to have knocked the bus 80 feet. A wrecker had to pull the car from the bus before the body could be freed.

Mrs. Threadgill was standing on the opposite side of the highway with her two children. She said she did not make an effort to cross over to the bus when she saw the oncoming car. She said she doubted the driver ever saw the bus in the thick fog.

The traffic fatality is the first to be recorded in Cooke County for 1961.

Funeral services are set for Friday morning at 10 o'clock in St. Peter Church at Lindsay. Officiating at the solemn requiem mass will be the pastor, Rev. Damian Wewers, Rev. Alvin Kubis of Muenster and Rev. William Lane of Gainesville. George J. Carroll and son Funeral home will direct burial in Lindsay Cemetery.

Rosary service was held at the Carroll Chapel Wednesday night and will be held again Thursday night at 7:30 and 8:15.

Lambert Frederick Hess was born May 21, 1937. He attended Lindsay school and was a member of the Gainesville National Guard Unit. The past September he completed six months of active duty at Fort Knox, Ky. He was an employee of Southland Naval Stores in Gainesville.

Survivors in addition to his parents are four sisters: Rose Mary, Margie, Clara and Nellie Ann Hess and three brothers: Julius, Paul and Henry Hess Jr., all of Lindsay.

Hornets Divide Games With Era And Valley View

Muenster's Hornets almost got back into the 37-B title race last Friday but missed by the slim margin of 54-51. That's how close they came to dumping the favored Valley View Eagles, who have since wallowed Callisburg to claim a share of the district's top spot.

Muenster's strong final quarter gave the visitors a real scare. After trailing by scores of 15-11, 31-22 and 41-33 in the previous periods the Hornets moved up and tied it at 51-51 shortly before the end. Three charity shots after that decided the game. Scoring for Muenster were Harris 17, M. Hellman 10, Flusche 9, J. Hellman 8, McElreath 7.

Tuesday night's game with Era on the local court was a cinch. Muenster improved as the game advanced for counts of 7-3, 19-9, and 35-12 in three periods. Playing Muenster reserves in the last quarter Era trimmed the margin for a final count of 39-24. Top MHS scorers were Harris 12, McElreath 10, Flusche 8.

MHS girls likewise had a thriller and came close to advancing a notch in the loop standing. They lost 35-31 to Era here Tuesday night, and can charge their loss to a puny percentage on free shots. They hit only 9 out of 28 tries. After a slow start Muenster was behind 13-5 ending the first quarter, and gained for a 15-12 half time score and a 25-25 tie ending the third quarter. Then the visitors pulled ahead again. Cain made 14 for MHS and Tuggle made 11.

Playing Valley View, the Hornets gained a little in each period for a win of 42-32. Counts ending the first three quarters were 6-2, 15-9 and 29-22. Cain scored 15, Tuggle 14, and Hellman 13.

Two more dates are on the loop schedule. MHS teams will go to Callisburg Friday and to Saint Jo Tuesday.

Robisons Report Fine Florida Visit

Reporting a most enjoyable time during their ten-day visit in St. Petersburg, Florida, were Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Robison when they visited his parents, the Earl Robisons, after their return. Douglas was a speaker at an agricultural meeting and the couple took some time for sight-seeing and visiting. They made the trip both ways by plane, leaving from and returning to Dallas. The flight back was rough on account of the weather and arrived five hours late. Waiting anxiously for them at the airport were Earl Robison and son Jimmy and grandson Mark. Little Mark and Jan stayed with their grandparents while their parents were away. After a visit here, the Douglas Robisons and children returned to Spur.

Plainview Rites Unite Ina Daws And James Fisher

Celebration of nuptial mass read by Father James Fitzgerald in St. Alice Catholic Church at Plainview united in marriage Miss Ina Daws and James Fisher at 9 a.m. Saturday, Jan. 28. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Daws of Plainview and Mr. and Mrs. Joe W. Fisher of Muenster. Vows were exchanged at the church's center altar which was flanked with baskets of white gladioli and tropical foliage. Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a gown she designed and made herself. It was full-length, princess style, of candlelight peau de soie. The wide skirt swept into a chapel length train. The mantilla veil, also fashioned by the bride, was of silk illusion edged with Alencon lace and was held in place by a gold hair pin.

The bride carried a bouquet of white roses surrounded by stephanotis and feathered carnations atop a white prayer book, a gift from the groom's mother. For something old she wore an heirloom lace petticoat which belonged to her great-aunt. Her only jewelry was a gold chain with a pearl drop, a gift from the groom, and she had a new penny in her shoe.

Maid of honor was Miss Theresa Fisher of Muenster, sister of the groom, and bridesmaid was Miss Nadine Daws, sister of the bride. They wore identical dresses of ice blue velvet with bracelet length sleeves and pleated skirt caught at the waist by a cummerbund. Headpieces matched their dresses and they carried a single long-stemmed pastel pink rose.

Brothers of the pair were the groom's attendants. Neil Fisher of Houston was best man and Ted Daws was groomsman. Wayne Schmitt and Robert Meurer of Lubbock were ushers.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Daws chose a dress of starlight blue silk with black and white accessories and Mrs. Fisher, mother of the groom, wore a gold knit dress with brown and beige accessories. Both had pink rose corsages.

The wedding reception was held in St. Alice School lunch room where friends of the bride presided at the three-tier wedding cake, the crystal punch bowl and the silver coffee service.

When the newlyweds return from a wedding trip into New Mexico they will be at home in Lubbock at 2123 Eighth Street. For traveling Mrs. Fisher wore an arctic ice green wool suit with fur collar and black and white accessories.

She was graduated from Plainview High School and is a January graduate of Texas Tech in Lubbock where her major was home economics education. She will work as a substitute teacher in the Lubbock Public schools for the coming year.

Mr. Fisher, graduate of Muenster High, is also a January graduate of Texas Tech with a major in park management. He will be associated with Texas Tech.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Fisher were hosts for the rehearsal dinner Friday night in a Plainview restaurant. Others from here attending the wedding were Miss Jo Ann Fisher and Joe Fisher Sr.

introduced, is it not fair to let the American Medical Association work just as hard against it?

This observation should be made. The medical profession does not oppose giving aid to the needy. Furthermore, it is perfectly willing for the federal government to assist the states in this project, but it is unwilling for the federal government to hand out indiscriminately free medical care to any group.

It should be remembered that there are recipients of social security who have incomes which are larger than those which the doctors receive. Furthermore, it should be remembered that there are many on the relief rolls of the states who do not receive social security payments.

When there is an indiscriminate handout of medical assistance to those receiving social security, there is bound to be injustice, and Sen. McNamara should realize this.

The Kennedy plan for medical aid to the aged should be opposed not only by the AMA but also by those on our relief rolls who have no social security income. There is no equity in any plan which gives socialized medicine to one group while another—even more needy group—receives none.

REVOLT

There are indications that the welfare state concept and its "liberal promoters may face a revolt among younger people. According to The American Economic Foundation, the tide of opposition is rising on college campuses from coast to coast. An example of the thinking of thousands of young Americans is found in the following statement of a conservative inter-collegiate group that met last fall at Sharon, Connecticut: "We as young conservatives believe: That foremost among the transcendent values is the individual's use of his God-given free will, whence derives his right to be free from the restrictions of arbitrary force; that liberty is indivisible, and that political freedom cannot long without economic freedom; that the purposes of government are to protect these freedoms through the preservation of internal order, the provision of national defense, and the administration of justice; that when government ventures beyond these rightful functions, it accumulates power which tends to diminish order and liberty."

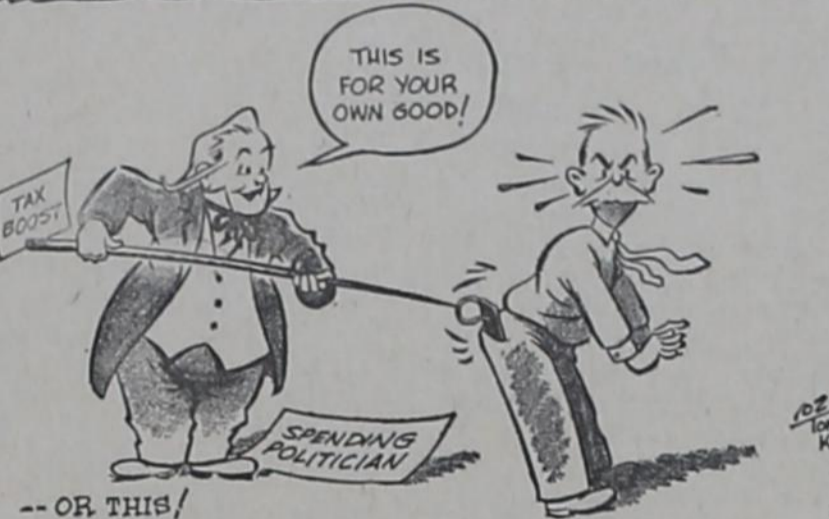

The Edison Electric Institute has issued a review of the industry's experience during 1960. As in other years, it tells a story of constant and dramatic progress. Production records have been set; the industry has reached another new high and the lead over the Soviet Union has been further extended, and by a big margin. Use of power by the average family has jumped again, and during the year the utilities spent the tremendous total of $3.35 billion on new construction. Moreover, the outlook for coming years is for more new records of every nature. By 1970 the investor-owned companies plan to double their present capability and their production. By 1980, they expect both capability and production to be nearly quadrupled.

RECORDS SOARING

There is one more phase of this industry's operations that deserves heavy emphasis—taxes. Its total 1960 tax bill was about $2.35 billion, $160 million more than in 1959. The payments went to government at all levels from the community on up, with the federal government receiving the greatest share. If the electric industry were socialized and free of taxes, as the public power zealots devoutly wish, that huge sum would

NINTH WORLD WONDER

The Ancients listed seven wonders of the world—the Pyramids, the Hanging Gardens of Babylon, Phidias' Statue of Zeus, the Temple of Ephesus, the Tomb of Mausolus, the Colossus of Rhodes and the Pharos of Alexandria. Now the New Haven, Missouri, Leader, suggests that two additional wonders be added—"The American Economic System" and the "Lack of Understanding About How It Operates".

That economic system has brought us unprecedented material benefits—and a degree of personal freedom never before experienced in organized society.

But the Leader says: "The ninth wonder of the world might be described as an apparent willingness of the American people to give up this system because of a lack of appreciation and understanding of how the system works!... there is an increasing dependency upon the very thing (Government) which leads to socialism, restricts our freedom, and hinders the incentive which made this country successful."

The history of our time has been a sorry record of the destruction of freedom and of every human right and privilege by all-powerful govern-

ARE OLD FOLKS USELESS?

by Paschal Botz, Benedictine monk

Our typical attitude toward old people today is one of forgetfulness. The old man on the street or in a crowd commands no attention. He must step aside to save himself from the onrush of youth.

Newspapers and movies idolize youth and the strength and energy that go with it. This catering to our old folks feel useless and unwanted.

REMEMBER the older people at every turn that they cannot compete with youth, and they will soon feel unimportant. Keep before the public eye only the disorders of old age, and you are using an effective device for bringing on those very defects. Hold up to the aged this mirror and small wonder that they become strangers to themselves and to their families and friends.

This is not the Christian outlook.

THE VALUE of every human person, no matter how young or how old, how healthy or sick, is an age-old truth of Christian living. The value of every life, and of each day given us to live on this earth, comes not from the various philosophies of mankind, but from what Jesus Christ has taught us.

Old age is not a calamity, but a blessing. Each day of life comes from God. So old age is a sign of honor and wisdom, a sign of God's blessing.

We must see and love Christ in the aged, the feeble, and the sick. And our love of them must be the same as for Christ. Otherwise we commit treason to Christ, for Christ lives in His followers.

JESUS did not come to abolish death, nor to make old people young, nor to make the poor rich. He came to unite men to God forever. When leaving the earth He said He would return and abide with us forever. This means that He has not forgotten or abandoned anyone. He has not made orphans of the aged.

Christ has taught us that true love means giving God and ourselves to others. That means living and dying for others. The greatest undertaking of old age is the work of praying, suffering and dying for others in union with Christ. This is the glorious new usefulness of the aged. They have important work to do, tasks that no one else can do for them.

Our homes and hospitals for the aged can be great spiritual powerhouses. Love can make time, once heavy on their hands, a welcome instrument of patience for the conversion of all kinds of sinners.

OLD AGE can and must become the savior of our times. Hidden lives, offered in love for a forgetful and young generation, will flower and bear fruit once more.

Miss Betty Rose Kupper and Gerald Walterscheid were married here in a double ring ceremony at nuptial high mass Saturday morning at 10:30 with Father Anthony Gajda, pastor of St. John's Church in Valley View officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Kupper of Valley View and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Tony Walterscheid of Muenster.

Mr. Kupper gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a floor length bouffant dress, the skirt featuring tiers of white tulle over taffeta, overlaid with Chantilly lace which fashioned the moulded bodice with its petal point sleeves and scalloped Sabrina neckline re-embroidered with pearls and iridescents. A crown pearl held her elbow-length veil and her flowers were a cascade of feathered carnations.

Miss Joan Kupper of Dallas was her sister's maid of honor and Mrs. Frank Mages III of Dallas, sister of the groom was bridesmatron. Their identical dresses were of sapphire blue velvet, street length, with round necklines and softly-pleated skirts. Their headpieces matched their dresses and they carried colonial bouquets of white mums.

Gene and Emmett Walterscheid were their brother's attendants. Cyril Walterscheid and Tommy Kupper, brothers of the couple, were ushers.

Sacred Heart Church men's choir sang the mass with Anthony Luke at the organ. He also played for a post-nuptial vocal solo, Mrs. Norbert Walterscheid presenting "Mother at Your Feet" while the bride placed a bouquet of white gladioli on the Blessed Virgin's altar. The altar before which the couple pledged vows was adorned with white glads, greenery and candles.

A reception was held at 5:30 in the Parish Hall for some 225 wedding guests. Miss Mary Nell Bierschenk of Valley View and Miss Charlotte Trubenbach presided at the bride's book.

After a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Walterscheid will be at home here on a farm. For traveling she wore a blue wool jersey sheath with black accessories.

The bride is a graduate of Valley View High School and is employed at Tyler & Simpson Company in Gainesville. Mr. Walterscheid was graduated from Muenster High served with army, doing overseas duty in France, and is employed at the NTPA plant here.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Sanders spent several days of the past week in Waukita, Okla., on business.

Miss Brenda McLaughlin spent the weekend in Tacker-ville with her parents and family.

Class Contests at SH High End With Winners Revealed

Class contests at Sacred Heart High in Latin and mathematics have come to a close and winners have been announced. Contest minded classes vied for high scores by dividing into groups and matching wits. Sister Theresia is class sponsor.

In Algebra I, the scores netted a neat 98 for both groups. There was no tie-breaking assignment. Thus the Einsteins and the Descartes feel equally accomplished.

In Algebra II, the final count showed the Descartes topping the Einsteins by nine points. Claiming the victory is the team composed of Carol Henscheid, James Otto, Loretta Schmitt, Carol Wimmer, Veronica Hess, Roger Taylor and Betty Dangelmayr.

In Geometry the team named Pythagoras outfigured the team named Euclid by a score of 127 to 123. The winners are Judy Walter, Betty Landsfeld, Annette Knauf and Mildred Starke.

In Latin I, the Caesars outsmarted the Ciceronians. The score: 226 and 216. The winners: Rose Vogel, Eileen Knauf, Jeannine Hofbauer, Shirley Wimmer and Patsy Streng.

In Latin II, the teams ran neck and neck, finally granting the Ciceronians a meager victory of three points, their total being 120. Team mates on the winning side are Janice Vogel, Mildred Starke, Peggy Reiter, Betty Landsfeld, Joan Kaiser, Ruth Wimmer, Judy Walter and Sandra Walter.

Another contest begins with the new semester. Additional competition will be evidenced in a new series: Freshman and Sophomore Bible classes. In this there will be four teams, the boys vying against the girls. The boys have named their teams Peter and Paul; the girls selected Mary and Martha.

Topics of contests will include quotations of Christ from the Gospels, quotations of St. Paul, names and deeds of Old Testament or New Testament characters, and items of current reading in the Texas Catholic, Sunday Visitor and other publications.

These contests fill in after the regular class work has been finished. Both instructor and students find them interesting and helpful.

S.Sgt. Walter Schmitz left Tuesday, going by plane from Fort Worth, to return to Air Force duty in Westover, Mass. He was the last of family members from out of town to leave after attending the bedside and funeral of their father, Joe Schmitz. The Richard Schmitz family, here from San Antonio, returned home Saturday. Others left Thursday and Friday.

Miss Ethel Sandmann is in Dallas visiting in the home of her brother, Max Sandmann, and getting acquainted with her new nephew, infant Mark David Sandmann.

Out of Town Kin At Schmitz Rites

Among out of town relatives and friends at the funeral of Joe Schmitz in addition to those from Muenster and Gainesville were Mrs. Henry Schmitz, Al Bezner and Messrs and Mmes. J. T. Lynch and Harold Griter, all of Irving; Messrs. and Mmes. Henry Lueb and Bob Metcalf and son of Oklahoma City.

Mrs. S. H. Weatherford Sr., Miss Pat Sparger, Paul J. Schmitz and Mr. and Mrs. Al Kuntz Jr., all of Fort Worth; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gimple, Mr. and Mrs. John Kuntz and Al Kuntz, all of Valley View; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Metzler of Pottsboro.

Officer Election Features Meeting

At the regular meeting of the seventh and eighth graders of Lindsay School the mid-term election of class club officers took place.

Heading the group as president is Diane Zimmerer. Other officers are Jimmy Eberhart, vice president, Linda Hoelker, secretary; Edward Schad, treasurer; Bernadette Bezner, reporter; and Andy Arendt and Leroy Sandmann, sergeants-at-arms.

For the program, David Aitchison, Clarence Fleitman, Ronald Fuhrmann, Ronald Krebs, Ronald Zimmerer and Leroy Sandmann entertained with "A Day in Town." This program, members voted the best to date.

Twenty Muenster Students Enroll At G'ville College

Twenty students from the Muenster area are at present on the rolls at Gainesville College with registration still in progress.

They are Mary L. Dennis, Linda A. Dennis, Joseph M. Felderhoff, Johnny H. Fette, William Fisher, Douglas Hellman, Helen Hess, Ronny Kathman, Jeanette Klement, Thomas Moster, James Myrick, William R. Otto, Gerald Pels, Henry J. Pels, James Schumacher, Mary A. Stoffels, Roy A. Swirczynski, Judy Trubenbach, James D. Walterscheid and Eddie Joe Schmitt.

According to the honor rolls just released from the offices, Linda A. Dennis was one of three to make the President's Honor Roll. Linda is a sophomore and vice-president of Texas Student Education Association. She maintained an A average and carried a full class load.

Bill Otto, Student Body President and member of the graduating class, and Gerald Pels, both made the Dean's Honor Roll, which indicates that these two students carried a full load and made nothing lower than a B.

Another merit student is Brother Thomas Moster, a graduating sophomore. He is publications editor, program chairman for TSEA, member of the student council, president of the press club and the class selection as Mr. Future Teacher of TSEA.

Douglas Hellman is a member of the Lion basketball team in addition to doing a full time course load.

Eddie Schmitt has been elected TSEA president for next year.

Students are still reporting for enrollment and can continue to enroll for full time loads until February 3.

Progress Group Meets and Dines

Appointments of two committees and a safety film and talk made up the program at a dinner meeting of Community Progress Association members and wives Wednesday night of last week at Rohmer's Restaurant.

One committee will work on having additional Muenster signs placed on FM roads of the area. The other will revive activity in behalf of a youth program.

The film was on safety and efficiency in the use of tires and the talk, by Graham Burns of Gainesville, was on the same subject.

Present were 43 persons, including the speaker and his wife.

A successful substitute for wooden railroad crossties has not yet been found, though some 2,500 patents have been granted in the search.

Knights Upset Scent Jo 35-26

Lindsay High's basketball teams reversed their custom at Saint Jo Tuesday night when the boys rather than the girls walked off with the win.

The Knights, in the loop's lower bracket, breezed past the Panthers 35-26. Zimmerer and Sandmann accounted for 13 and 12 of the points.

Lindsay girls, in the district top bracket, did not fare as well, losing 43-37 in their half of the program. Hess hit 20 points for Lindsay.

Last Friday night Lindsay dropped both games of its double header with the district leading Callisburg teams. The girls lost 62-35, getting most of their score from the free throw line as the champ defense limited them to only 4 field goals. Schmitz made 15 and Hermes 12.

The boys were equally helpless against Callisburg's defense and finally settled for a 66-15 count.

would be equally correct to claim that federal taxes paid here over the years easily justify our request for the fund. Or it could be said that we are getting a part of funds available to the whole state. There is no such thing as a fund specifically designated for any county and available to only that county.

Our application, like all others, was judged on its merit, and it was approved because of two factors... a sound program and a need for hospital facilities in this area. If Gainesville cannot get a similar grant it is not because Muenster has gobbled up the county's quota of funds but because Gainesville cannot show the need of it. According to Health Department standards Gainesville already has over forty beds of approved hospital accommodation. Besides, it has other facilities which, though short of Health Department recommendation, are currently serving the area very well. The simplest and least expensive solution to the problem there is to work out a program of cooperation and improvement in order to make better use of what is already available.

A Laughing Matter

Sister Theresina's chemistry class at Sacred Heart High thought it was a laughing matter — and it turned out beyond their expectations — the day the students made laughing gas. One of the girl chemists who "whiffed" more than the rest of the class set off the merriment, almost becoming hysterical momentarily. The class was elated. It proved the experiment was successful.

SHH Sophs Slate Saturday Bake Sale

Sophomores of Sacred Heart High have announced they will sponsor a bake sale Saturday with headquarters at Hofbauer's and Fisher's. The sale slated for last Saturday was postponed on account of the weather.

Students said they will have a variety of baked goods including bread, rolls and pastries and that they will be ready for customers at 9 a.m. They plan to have supplies to last all day.
