MUENSTER, COOKE COUNTY, TEXAS

Was it coincidence or planning that brought forth a draft Goldwater movement at about the same time that a booklet appeared under the title "Why Rockefeller Can't Win", Con isn't able to say whether there is a direct relationship between the two developments but he's convinced that the two are most deserving of study in relation to next year's presidential campaign — and certainly in relation to the Republican convention that will precede the campaign.

It's assumed, of course, that the Democratic convention will be little more than a formality. Kennedy will be the selection. As the acknowledged leader of the party and the manipulator of an even stronger political machine than in 1960, he'll be practically impossible to stop. Besides the party could not possibly ditch him without an implied acknowledgement that its present administration has been a failure. There isn't a doubt anywhere that JFK has a cinch for the nomination.

From which it follows that the big concern of the GOP is selecting the man who they think can beat him. At this time Rockefeller and Goldwater are being most frequently mentioned as the nominees with the best chance of doing that job. Supporters of both men are already hard at work on the advance build-up which is intended to lead to nomination.

The race of those two men involves primarily the issue of conservatism and liberalism. The Republican convention will have to make that selection in naming its nominee. And in doing so party leaders will have to decide whether they prefer conducting the presidential campaign on the same issue or just claiming to have the more desirable of two liberal candidates.

The booklet on "Why Rockefeller Can't Win" deals at length with the latter type of race and concludes that the result would be a defeat for Republicans.

Eleven Southern states will be the deciding factor in the race, the booklet claims. All are predominantly conservative in political philosophy. And even though some of them have gone Republican for Eisenhower they are still Democratic by tradition. From that the booklet assumes that they would support a strong conservative candidate but would stick with their party in choosing between two liberals.

The rest of the nation, as the dopest figures it, is fairly evenly divided between the two parties. Neither could get far enough ahead to assure election, so the South will decide it. So the first concern of the GOP is to pick the man who can win in the South.

This column earnestly hopes the analysis is correct and will be accepted by the Republican party. It wants the next presidential race to be run on the clear cut issues of conservatism and liberalism so that voters will have the opportunity of getting down to fundamental political thinking instead of just choosing again between a liberal and a "me-too."

Furthermore this column is frank in admitting that it wishes success to the conservative. After all these years of

New City Council Sworn In Monday

Muenster's new city council went into business Monday night as Former Mayor Herbert Meurer swore in his successor, Earl Fisher, along with Aldermen Gene Hoedebeck and Ray Otto who were elected on April 2. Alderman Bill Luke, also elected then, was not present for the swearing in.

After routine business the council read a petition submitted by the Civic League and Garden Club asking for a study of unsanitary conditions and fire hazards resulting from garbage and trash and also asking consideration of a garbage and trash pick-up service. The subject was discussed but action was postponed.

The council also read applications for the position of city secretary and tabled them until the next meeting. The appointment is to be made by the mayor on recommendation of the council.

Electric Co-op Will Observe 25th Anniversary at General Meeting

This year's general meeting of the Cooke County Electric Cooperative Association, to be held next Monday night in the Auditorium of Muenster High School, will be something special.

It will observe the silver anniversary of the founding of the organization as an addition to the usual business and social activity of the meeting.

In keeping with the occasion the management and directors have engaged the Honorable Graham B. Purcell, Congressman of the 13th District of Texas as speaker to headline the program. An informal reception for him will be held in the afternoon at the co-op office.

Registration of members will be held from 7 to 8 o'clock at the Lone Star Playboys provide music. At 8 President Jack Crowover will call the meeting to order. Then Father Alcuin Kubis, pastor of Sacred Heart Church, will give an invocation and Mayor Earl Fisher will extend the city's welcome.

Secretary Doye Doty will read the official notice of annual meeting and proof of mailing and also the minutes of the last meeting, which will be followed by a business session and general discussion.

The principal business item of the meeting, the manager's report on operation and condition will be presented by Michael E. Sloan, manager of the co-op.

After that members will elect two directors for 3 year terms. J. A. Klement and Doye Doty, incumbents, have both been nominated for re-election by the nominating committee, and other nominations can be made from the floor by members.

After close of business Congressman Purcell will give his address.

Last on the program is the highly popular event which has become a tradition of the co-op's general meeting — the drawing for attendance prizes.

Diocesan Drive to Raise Funds for Univ. of Dallas

A funds campaign for expansion of the University of Dallas got its start in the northern section of the Dallas-Fort Worth Diocese Wednesday night at a special meeting of the Sherman Diocese in Muenster's parish hall.

It was a 7 o'clock dinner meeting at which the principal speakers were the Most Rev. Thomas K. Gorman, bishop of the diocese, and Dr. Donald A. Cowan, president of the university. Together they outlined plans of developing the institution into a great diocesan asset; bringing top educational opportunities to students of the area and spreading its benefits to all parishes of the diocese.

Date for diocesan-wide kickoff of the campaign has been set for May 5, and has been designated as University Sunday. All parishes are asked to participate in driving for a goal of $2.5 million.

Not all of that is to be raised by the parishes. In fact, the bishop explained, much is being raised by civic and industrial interests of the area, some of which are not Catholic. Actually it is an opportunity for Catholics to get behind a program that already has widespread local support.

Another factor mentioned by Dr. Cowan is the anticipated appropriation of substantial funds by a national foundation for the support of courses at the University. Funds from the drive are intended for construction and administration, creating facilities which will make the courses feasible.

Dr. Cowan pointed out that the aim is to create an outstanding Liberal Arts School with general acceptance over the entire nation as one which imparts a thorough course in basic knowledge, preparing graduates to continue with highly technical work in science and business administration. Benefits of that training will be realized not only by the graduates but also by the areas in which their talent is

The two new appointments were made in a special meeting of the city council Wednesday morning.

The revised list of directors of the hospital authority includes J. M. Weinzapfel, Mrs. John Mosman, Mrs. T. S. Myrick, J. W. Fisher, Al Felderhoff, Leo J. Haverkamp, J. H. Bayer, J. J. Wieler, R. N. Fette, Arthur Hess and Ray Voth.

Burglar Nabbed Promptly After Fina Station Job

A burglar who broke into the Coke vending machine at Luke's Fina Station last Saturday night was nabbed practically on the spot by Bill Pratt, city policeman.

About 9:45, after the station was closed, Pratt saw a trailer truck there and investigated. The driver said he was stopping for a rest and a Coke before driving on to Sherman. Pratt left, still suspicious, with the intention of being back soon. Moments later, he said, someone also told him that the truck and driver at the closed station seemed suspicious.

Pratt returned just as the truck was pulling away. A look at the machine revealed that it had been broken into and he went after the truck immediately.

The driver, Clyde Edwin Johnson, 27, of Sherman was taken to the county jail, and admitted that a collection of coins tied in a handkerchief had been taken from the vending machine.

Also found behind the seat of the truck were two more bundles of coins wrapped in handkerchiefs and about two dozen packages of cigarettes of several brands. The driver did not admit that those items are connected with any other burglaries.

BILL WEDEMEYER, director of research of the Texas Farm Bureau will be the speaker at a special meeting for county wheat farmers Tuesday night, April 23, in the Farm Bureau building. He will talk on this year's wheat referendum.

Meeting Tuesday Set to Explain Wheat Program

An open meeting to discuss the approaching wheat referendum will be held next Tuesday night, April 23, in the Cooke County Farm Bureau building. Everyone wishing to learn about provisions of the proposed new wheat program is urged to attend and hear an explanation by Bill Wedemeyer of Waco, director of information and research of the Texas Farm Bureau.

Burnie Almon, chairman of the Cooke County FB wheat committee, said that visitors are expected from Denton and Grayson counties, and that Cooke County FB members are especially urged to be there.

Special efforts are being made to get out the information on the proposed program because voting eligibility is more extensive than it was in former referendums. Any wheat grower and his wife can vote this year. In former referendums only farmers with more than 15 acres could vote.

Records show that Cooke County has 956 wheat growers of which 564 have less than 13.5 acres. Only 392 have more than 13.5 acres.

Flood Control on Clear Creek Past Half Way Mark

Construction of floodwater retarding structures in the Clear Creek Watershed project reached the half-way mark early in 1963.

52 structures were planned in this watershed in 1960 to reduce downstream flood damage. The twenty-sixth structure was started some two months ago. Ten sediment control structures have also been completed in this watershed and three more are now under construction.

Forty-one floodwater retarding structures are planned for that portion of the watershed which is located in the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation District. Twenty-two of these have been constructed. In the Montague County portion of the watershed, twelve of twenty-two planned have been built and ten of nineteen planned in Cooke County have been completed.

Easements have been secured for four additional structures in Montague County. These are sites 4, 6, 12 and 28, which will probably be built after July 1.

"We believe that this project will benefit everyone in the watershed," reports J. M. Weinzapfel, Chairman, Board of Directors, Clear Creek Watershed Authority. "We appreciate the help of all landowners who have helped us secure over a hundred easements necessary for construction."

hospital since April 4 following a serious attack at his home. Medical reports were that the first attack had caused severe damage to his heart and he was listed as critical with little chance of surviving another attack.

Until Tuesday family and friends had been holding to a faint hope that the intensive care he was receiving would prevent that attack.

Funeral service with requiem mass will be held Friday morning at 9:30 in Sacred Heart Church with Father Alcuin Kubis officiating.

Miller Funeral Home is in charge of burial in Sacred Heart Cemetery; Military rites will be conducted by a burial detail from Sheppard AFB.

Bearers will be nephews: Edward Pick, Joe Galloway, Francis Fisher, William Fisher, John Appel and Neil Fisher. Rosary was recited Wednesday night at 8 and will be recited Thursday at 4 and 8.

Colonel Taylor has been a resident of Muenster since his retirement from military service. He lived on a farm south of town, and was very active in community and parish projects. He was past president of Sacred Heart Home-School Society, past deputy grand knight of the KC council, chairman of the parish and hospital finance committees.

He was born in Chilton Wisconsin on June 26, 1913 and attended school in Hilbert and Milwaukee. He entered the service at 21 and served 21 years during which he advanced through every non-commissioned and commissioned rank up to lieutenant colonel. He retired in October 1956.

While stationed at Sheppard Field in 1942 he met Miss Lorena Fisher, who was teaching at Academy of Mary Immaculate in Wichita Falls. They were married in Muenster on Sept. 17, 1942. From then until his retirement he served in the Philippines and Korea as well as several bases in the United States. His principal duty was personnel officer and he was Chief of Staff of Personnel when retired at Dobbins AFB, Ga. in October 1956.

Survivors are his wife and four children: Roger, a student of the University of Dallas; Jerry, a student of Subiaco Academy; Virginia and Stephen of the home; and a brother, Don Taylor of Wisconsin.

RED FLAG

In the face of the Administration's softness on trading with the enemy, in fact the downright encouragement by the State and Commerce Departments of US trade with some Communist countries, the City Council of Columbus, O., has taken matters into its own hands in its own area.

On March 12, the Council passed an ordinance that requires any wholesaler or retailer who offers Communist-made or Communist-processed goods for sale in the city to get himself a license for that purpose and pay $100 a year for it. Not only that. He must also put up signs wherever such goods are displayed with five-inch letters declaring: "Communist Manufactured or Processed Goods Sold Here". And if he advertises such products, the Communist origin of each article or any part must be similarly clear. The penalty for violation is a fine up to $500 or as much as six months in jail, or both.

Iowa's Rep. H. R. Gross, a member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, has urged the towns of his state "and elsewhere" to do likewise; and Rep. Samuel Devine of Ohio placed the text of the Columbus ordinance in the Congressional Record of March 19 (page A 1541) - for easy reference. Or Mayor W. Ralston Westlake of Columbus will be glad to send you a copy. Ask for Ordinance No. 203-63.

Human Events quotes Congressman Gross as saying that adoption of this law would serve "notice that citizens of this country will no longer be used as pawns in the New Frontier appeasement and coddling of Communists."

LET'S ADMIT WE'VE MADE A MISTAKE

By Harry Browne

One of the most difficult tasks for a human being is to admit a mistake. Often, however, failure to make that admission can only compound the original mistake.

We, as a nation, have made a grave mistake. It happened in 1945 - when a horrible war was drawing to a close. We were so overcome by the brutality and destruction of World War II, we felt that a radical experiment must be made to prevent any similar catastrophe in the future. So we joined the United Nations.

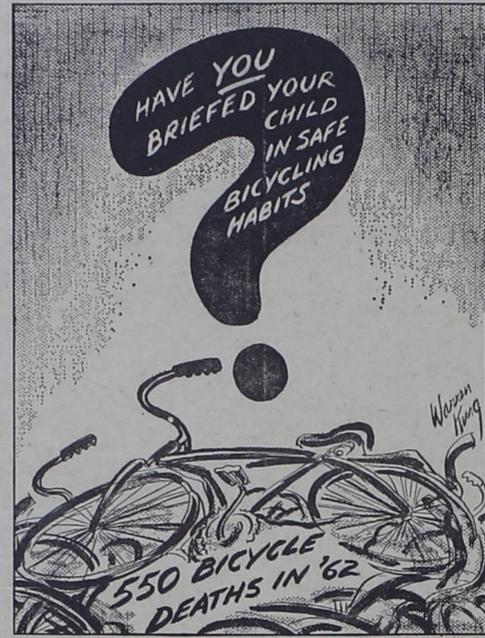

We Had No Idea But we had no idea what we were getting into.

Our Senators admitted that they didn't bother to read the charter.

And, although we felt we knew what we wanted, there were many things we didn't know about the United Nations.

We didn't know that it would mean an end to the policy for acting in the best interests of America.

We didn't know that the UN

TIMELY WARNING

Last year - the National Safety Council points out - 550 lives were lost in bicycle accidents, the heaviest toll since 1949.

Since the majority of the fatalities fell in the 5-to-14 age group it would seem to us that parents should insure that their children are fully aware of, and practice, safe bicycling habits. The Council particularly urges observance of the following rules:

Ride on the right side of the road; obey all traffic control regulations and use proper hand and arm signals for turns and stopping.

When cycling with others, ride in single file.

Save stunting and showing-off for yards or other untrafficked areas.

Never try to squeeze in between two lanes of traffic.

At busy intersections it is safest to dismount and walk the bike across.

At night the bike should be equipped with a front light and rear reflector.

would ignore the aggressions of our enemies and attack the defenses of our friends.

And We Didn't Know

We didn't know that the UN would force us to pay the largest share of the costs.

We didn't know that the UN would try to impose an alien way of life upon our free enterprise economy.

We didn't know that the UN would declare war on peace-loving Katanga.

We didn't know that an agreement had apparently been made to allow the Communists to occupy exclusively the important military post of Undersecretary for Political and Security Council Affairs.

We didn't know that the UN's presence in our country would become a haven for Communist spies and other fifth-column elements.

We didn't realize that the UN would become an agency of war against its enemies, and not an agency of peace.

We didn't know that the UN would become a channel through which our money would be distributed to Communist countries.

Now We Do Know

We didn't know many things about the UN - but we know them now.

We no longer have a rational excuse for remaining in the UN.

So let's admit our mistakes and get out while we still can. Congressman Utt's bill H. R. 427 will get the United States out of the UN. Let's support it with every resource we can muster!

Apparently the Amish of Independence, Iowa, are going to be fined or jailed again and again unless they bow down to the awesome might of the state. They must either send their children to the tax-supported institutions or must provide teachers approved by the state for their own church school. . . . It would seem that every individual who claims to believe in freedom would jump in to help these farm folk who seek to train their own young people in the way they believe they should. For, if those in the school hierarchy are successful in closing the 'unauthorized' schools of the Amish, they'll start next on the Free Methodists, the Baptists, the Seventh-Day Adventists, the Jews, Episcopalians, Lutherans and Catholics. - Odessa American

INCOME TAX & THE COMMUNIST MANIFESTO

What is the truth about a graduated and progressive income tax being a part of Communist Manifesto?

The truth is that it is the second item on the list. The perfect prelude to dictatorship is the graduated income tax; it destroys ambition, discourages investment, saps the nation's economy, and creates a more powerful centralized government. Many people believe the graduated income tax soaks the rich most of all, and so the middle income class is content to bear its share. But this is not so. . . .

Who really pays the majority of income taxes? The people of the low income group pay more than 80 per cent of the total taxes. The wealthy with incomes exceeding $100 thousand, pay less than half of one per cent. The remaining 19 1/2 per cent is paid by the people in the $10 thousand to $100 thousand group.

IT'S FOR EVERYONE

The Liberty Amendment is an item that most of us have heard little or nothing about but which may yet prove to be one of the most important pieces of legislation to appear in the United States since the Bill of Rights.

This proposed amendment to the constitution is as nearly non-political as a matter of its nature can be. It strikes at no political party nor any political philosophy. Its only aim is to strengthen the constitution by putting the operation of the government on a completely constitutional basis. It has the support of individual Democrats and Republicans from all parts of the nation.

This amendment already has the approval of the Texas Legislature and the Legislatures of 5 other states and is presently being considered by 22 other state Legislatures. If approved by some 34 state Legislatures, Congress would be forced to call a Constitutional Convention on the matter.

from kindling to kilowatts

The discovery of fire started us on the road to being civilized. Man's progress can be measured by his ability to convert dormant energy into mechanical and electrical energy and to control them for useful purposes.

Heat energy obtained from coal, oil and natural gas is used to power the generators which produce our nation's electric energy needs.

Costs of fuels represent the third largest item of the operating expenses of the investor-owned electric utility companies; only taxes and payroll cost more.

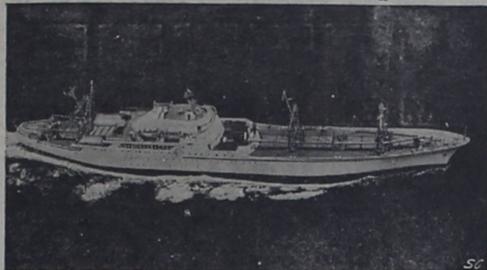

Looking to future fuel needs and in the interest of keeping fuel costs low, Texas Power & Light Company carries on long-range programs of fuel utilization, exploration and research.

Among the research programs is one aimed at the development of efficient and economical utilization of Texas lignite and another with respect to a fusion reaction for the production of useful power. The latter program is sponsored by the Texas Atomic Energy Research Foundation which was formed in 1957 by TP&L and 10 other investor-owned electric utility companies in Texas.

The search for conventional fuels and research into more efficient use of these fuels will be continued as will the effort to develop revolutionary new fuels . . . all to assure that the customers of Texas Power & Light Company will always have an abundant supply of low-cost electricity.

'Death boxes' — abandoned refrigerators — claimed the lives of 35 children, a record, in 1962, reports the National Safety Council. The danger season for refrigerator suffocations begins in the spring and remains crucial through the summer. Suggested precautions: remove the door, padlock it or insert a firmly fixed wood block that leaves a sliver of air between door and cabinet.

Asked a woman in an art shop, "You don't consider this horrible thing art, do you?" "No, madam," replied the dealer, "it's a mirror."

Facts About Income Tax

Ellis Campbell, Jr. of the Dallas Internal Revenue office explained today that exemptions on Federal tax returns are never prorated because of the birth or death of a dependent during the taxable year.

If a child was born alive at any time during the year, you can claim the full $600 exemption if all other dependency tests are met. This is true even though the child may have lived only momentarily. It is also true for a child born on the last day of the year. An exemption may not be claimed for a stillborn child.

If a dependent dies during the year and all other dependency test have been met, the full $600 exemption is allowable. For example: — Your mother died on January 15. — She had no income and you furnished all of her support until the date of her death. You may claim the full $600 exemption.

Spring is here and it's time to put away winter clothing and blankets. Woolen blankets, electric or non-electric, represent a large investment for many families. Properly cared for, they will remain light, fluffy, retain their "new look" and give years of good service.

Farm Facts

In a good year, the corn crop totals about 4 billion bushels or more. About 85% of it is fed to hogs, beef cattle, and poultry.

There are literally hundreds of uses for the remaining 15% of the corn crop. The "dry milling" industry, for instance, makes corn meal, hominy, and breakfast foods of many kinds.

Feed manufacturers take a lot of this 15% of the corn crop and put it into concentrated rations for livestock and poultry. Distillers turn their share into alcohol.

Corn refiners grind about 150 million bushels of corn a year and make starch, syrup, sugar, oil, and feeds.

Starch is one of the most important by-products of corn. According to the Corn Industries Research Foundation, about 8% of the average year's output of corn starch goes to U.S. consumers for food and laundry use.

Papermaking consumes about 23 pounds of corn starch per ton. Processing of a bale

Adult Checklist On Time Limits of Immunizations

Vaccination shots and boosters given to children don't last forever, as many people seem to think. Changing times, the Kiplinger Magazine, includes this checklist for up-to-date protection for adults.

Tetanus Immunity lasts three to five years and everyone should get a booster that often.

Smallpox. Immunity lasts about three years. Revaccination is necessary for travel abroad and desirable in other special circumstances.

Diphtheria. Booster shots recommended every three to four years.

Polio. The length of immunity is not known. At the very least, get a booster one year after the first series of shots and consult your doctor about needs in later years.

Influenza. When an epidemic is due — or better yet, routinely each fall — get the flu vaccination recommended by your doctor.

Whooping cough. Adults don't ordinarily need immunization against pertussis if a full course of shots and boosters were taken in childhood. Otherwise, it's not too late to start.

Three more, for foreign travelers, are: yellow fever —

a shot every six years for travel in areas where it is prevalent; typhoid fever — an annual booster after a primary course of three inoculations; typhus — a booster every four years after a primary course of two inoculations.

The first step toward a "win" policy in the United States is . . . a realistic estimate of the nature of the enemy. The second step could be to stop the ridiculous policy of sending soldiers to South Vietnam to be killed by guns supplied by American taxpayers to the communists of North Vietnam, via such communist countries as Poland.

TOTAL PERFORMANCE:

FORD GALAXIE 500/XL SPORTS HARDTOP

YOU'LL KNOW WHY SHE DOESN'T FEEL THE BUMPS...WHEN YOU TEST-DRIVE FORD'S NEW $10,000,000 RIDE

The 1963 Ford gives you a ride every bit as smooth as cars costing hundreds more, and for two reasons: a revolutionary new suspension system . . . and added road-hugging weight.

It took ten million dollars to develop the new Ford ride. We designed a revolutionary new suspension system for the '63 Ford. Where ordinary suspensions move only up and down to absorb road shock, the Ford suspension moves backward as well. In this double-action suspension system, coil springs up front and leaf springs in the rear combine to give you firmness in cornering and a special smoothness over the road.

We added weight, strength and stability. The new Ford is now actually hundreds of pounds more car than any other car in its class. This remarkable weight advantage is in the suspension, frame, and body. And, as you know, this added weight means a more stable ride.

But a solid, road-smoothing ride is only part of Ford's total performance story for 1963. Look how Ford swept the field this year in the grueling Daytona, Riverside and Atlanta 500's and in the demanding Pure Oil Performance Trials. Only a car with total performance — the best combination of strength, balance, precision control, braking power and road-clinging suspension — could roll up so many wins.

Before you buy any new car, test-drive a Super Torque Ford. If you haven't driven one lately, you can't really know what a new Ford is like. Make this important discovery — if it's built by Ford, it's built for performance . . . total performance.

Secular training is not the only aim, Bishop Gorman added. The university will continue the Catholic tradition of civic and moral training, emphasizing the importance of religious and moral values, applying knowledge in the service of God. Secular knowledge without the proper direction can be more harmful than helpful, he said.

On the other hand he also mentioned advantages of tempering religious with secular training. He mentioned the possibility of giving diocesan seminarians some of their training at the university in order to secure, through courses and associations, a better understanding of lay people's views and problems which they will encounter later.

During the eight years since its founding the University has made great progress scholastically and built its enrollment to over 700 students. The new goal is to further improve its standards and scope of acceptance and increase enrollment to 1800. New for the coming year is introduction of a year round schedule completing work for a bachelor's degree in three years and a doctor's degree in three more years.

drifting toward socialism and big centralized bureaucratic government, our country desperately needs a halt in its trend and a revival of principles on which it grew and thrived for a century and a half. But win or lose, it's important to the country's welfare that the issue be thoroughly discussed in a national campaign. Making the public more aware of it should bring a better brand of thinking to the deliberations of our next four years whoever happens to be in office.

Barry Goldwater, as the country's outstanding champion of conservatism, is the logical standard bearer of such a political crusade. He has left no doubt about the strength of his convictions on such matters as economy, state's rights, sacredness of the constitution, free enterprise unhampered by federal bureaucracy or labor monopoly. Likewise he has indicated a firm attitude in foreign affairs, especially in dealing with communism. He sees the global struggle in its true light and his aim in every encounter is to beat the reds, not to go along on their scheme of co-existence.

The decision to be made by the Republican party is a most critical one, perhaps the one that will determine whether our country will re-dedicate itself to forgotten ideals of personal dignity and freedom or whether it will continue its trend of paternalism and welfare stateism and eventual drift to total socialism.

The big problem is whether the party, already dangerously infiltrated with liberalism, has itself drifted so far to the left that it will decline to give the people a choice between conservative and liberal but insist on a choice between two liberals.

History will be in the making when the GOP convention comes to order. The course of our nation, possibly also its survival, will be hanging in the balance.

Desalted sea water, a potential answer to increasing consumption in the U.S., is being drunk by residents of St. Petersburg, Fla. where a conversion plant in Tampa Bay is turning out 40,000 gallons a day. Indications are that the plant is producing each 1,000 gallons for about 60 cents, a higher cost than hoped for but still lower than the price being paid by many cities for piped-in fresh water. The U.S., which consumed 40 billion gallons of water a day in 1900, now uses 325 billion and will probably use 500 billion a day by 1980.
