

MUENSTER ENTERPRISE

VOLUME XIV

MUENSTER, COOKE COUNTY, TEXAS, JULY 28, 1950

NUMBER 36

In view of all the burglaries we've had around here lately, Muenster people are becoming conscious of an urgent need for police protection . . . specifically somebody to patrol the town during the wee hours in search of unwelcome visitors to business houses.

In view of a run-off primary campaign for the office of county sheriff this seems like an opportune time to do a bit of pressure politicking and get a definite commitment from either or both of the candidates to locate a deputy sheriff here.

A few years ago members of the city council proposed that arrangement but got no response. The difficulty at that time, it seems, was that the sheriff could not place a deputy in one end of the county without doing as much for another end, and that sending out two men would have left him short handed at the court house . . . unless the county was willing to stand the expense of another deputy.

As far as we know that same problem still exists. But it is secondary to the more urgent problem of doing something about burglaries. We need the law's protection here, so whether the sheriff finds it inconvenient or otherwise we think he should work out a way to help us.

According to the present setup the city of Gainesville has officers to spare and the rest of the county has none. What's more the sheriff's department has little to do but wait around the court house until it receives a call for help, and in nine cases out of ten it arrives on the scene too late to do anything more aggressive than investigating.

Let's see what we can do to change that system. Let's put up a solid front and insist that we want a deputy stationed here to patrol the town and put an end to burglaries. For that matter he could also be useful in nabbing a few reckless drivers.

The time to do it is now, when two candidates are in a hot race for the job. We can let it be known that this community's support will go solid for the man who will make a reasonable effort to solve our crime problem.

To make the appeal a bit stronger we might go in cahoots with Valley View. Fellows there are entitled to a deputy just as we are. And probably they are also interested in favoring the candidate who is willing to favor them.

Reports from Korea this week continue to be anything but good. About all we can say in favor of our campaign is that gallant and resourceful American soldiers are demanding a stiff price in Communist blood and material for every foot of ground they yield. But the significant fact is that they are yielding. Life is cheap and equipment is plentiful to the Korean reds, and it is possible that they have enough of it to push the Yanks completely off the peninsula.

The gravity of the situation is revealed by the concern of top officials in Washington. Confident predictions of a few weeks ago that the "orderly holding action" would soon be followed by a drive to the Thirty Eighth Parallel have since been replaced by doubts. Our government today is not so sure its troops will remain on the peninsula.

Almost as sad as the military reverses is the wishy-washy attitude toward the Soviet appeasing crowd whose bungling, if not treacherous, policy of the past several years has been responsible for our entire mess. This is no time, they say, to point an accusing finger. We have an emergency on our hands and the thing to do is put our total effort in the job ahead.

Well, it so happens that the nation is not in full agreement on that opinion. Quite a number of us believe that men who bungled or betrayed, whichever

400 Attend Annual Meeting of State League at Lindsay

With a plea for fraternal charity, justice and loyalty, and a warning against socialistic trends, the Catholic State League of Texas, meeting at Lindsay this week, brought inspiring addresses to more than 400 delegates and visitors gathered for the 51st annual convention of the organization.

The convention objected strongly against the exclusion of parochial school children from public school buses and passed a resolution empowering its executive committee to work with other groups on this issue. State Senator Gus J. Strauss and John P. Pfeiffer were the principal speakers on this topic.

The League warned of social dangers flowing from education without religion and commended Catholic schools for their efforts despite inadequate support. Another resolution dealt with loyalty to the Sovereign Pontiff.

Rural life received a boost from a national authority on the subject when Rev. A. J. Adams, S. J., of Missouri addressed the convention on rural life matters. He spoke on "Rural America in the World Crisis". Mrs. Rose Rohman of Saint Louis, Mo., spoke on "A New Meaning to Charity." Both these addresses highlighted Wednesday.

Urgent Farm Work Delayed by Rain

Another week of persistent rainy weather, which makes this July one of the wettest in the history of the community, has farmers here wondering if and when they will ever catch up with urgent work.

Several fields of grain which should have been threshed early in the month are still in the shock and in danger of sprouting. Alfalfa is past the cutting stage and weeds are growing profusely.

With a total of more than 4 inches the 3-day period ending Wednesday at 8 was the wettest of this wet month. According to readings taken by I. A. Schoech, who is pinch hitting as weather recorder for Steve Mosler this week, the measures on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday were .55, 2.5 and 1.25 respectively.

Readings on other gauges scattered about the community added to 6 inches and more. Three persons southwest of town reported that their measures for Monday's rain were more than 4 inches.

Muenster FFA Unit Sends Delegates to State Convention

Emmett Walterscheid and Glenn Hellman and Ralph Maglaughlin represented the Muenster chapter last week Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at the state convention of Future Farmers of America in San Antonio. Glenn Hellman was the voting member of the trio.

The outstanding feature of the convention was the state FFA public speaking contest which was easily won by a 15 year old boy, Harold Dunk, speaking on "The Marshall Plan vs. Communism." His prizes for an inspiring address were $250 in cash, a medal, and the honor of representing Texas in the national contest.

Other events besides business sessions and the annual election of officers were talks by the national FFA president, George Lewis of Illinois, and a British exchange student, election of a state FFA sweetheart, candle-light installation of new state officers and visits to the Alamo, San Jose Mission, Straus Medina hereford ranch and the Rio Vista dairy farm. Returning home the trio saw the state capitol and drove through the University of Texas campus.

SGT. BILL EBERHART ENCOUNTERS RUGGED FIGHTING IN KOREAN WAR

Cedric Foster's radio broadcast last Friday conveyed the first information received here on Sgt. William Eberhart since his entry in the Korean war. A dispatch read by Foster related that some Communist tanks are being disguised with American insignia but Sgt. Eberhart and a Corporal were not taken in by the treachery. Two such tanks were approaching a small group of GIs when Eberhart and his companion destroyed them with heavy infantry weapons.

More of Sgt. Eberhart's war activity was related in a front line story written by War Correspondent Edward Wilson under date of July 22. His story, published last Saturday in the Dallas Times Herald, is as follows:

With U. S. Forces on the Korean Front, July 22 (Reuters).—A tough Texas sergeant who fought his way back to American lines told how he escaped from the fallen communications center of Taejon.

"I saw plenty in the last war, but I never saw anything as hot as this Taejon show," said Sgt. William E. Eberhart of Muenster, Tex., a rugged veteran of the parachute troops in the European theater.

Eberhart said he thought he was a goner several times on his way out of the Communist-captured rice town, especially when one enemy tank turned its big gun on him at point-blank range.

"Then for some reason the tank turned and made off without firing," he said.

The Texan said he left Taejon with two companies of American infantry near sundown Thursday. They got two miles outside the city, which by that time was a raging inferno, and ran into a Commie roadblock.

"The gooks knocked out the jeep ahead of us," he continued. "We stopped and hit the ditches."

"The enemy was on high ground on both sides of us and they let us have it with all they had."

"Before we all could unload from our truck, a bazooka shell hit our vehicle and we lost some men."

Eberhart told how the survivors reorganized, sending out two platoons to protect the flanks.

"At darkness the platoons returned and we set off again," he said, "but the enemy returned and encircled us."

"They had bugles and started playing 'taps' for our benefit. This only stimulated our morale."

"We unloaded three truckloads of our wounded and carried them on our backs around the second roadblock until we reached some trucks ahead. Then we got moving quick with enemy fire still following us."

"The gooks were still on our tail when we climbed into the hills, but we shook them off and reached an American company command post."

H. H. Schniederjan, 82, Passes Monday

Herman Henry Schniederjan, 82, retired farmer, passed away Monday in Gainesville at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Bernice Cox, where he had lived for some time.

Funeral services were held Wednesday morning in Saint Mary's church with Rev. Peter Molloy officiating and burial was in Fairview cemetery.

Mr. Schniederjan was born in Teutopolis, Ill., on April 9, 1868. He came to Cooke county as a young man and farmed near Gainesville for many years.

Survivors are eight children, Herman of Gainesville and Theodore of Tulsa; Mmes. Henry Pagel of Muskogee, Okla., Freda Davis, Bernice Cox and Eleanor Flusche of Gainesville, and Nellie and Marceline Schniederjan of Fort Worth, 12 grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Phone "Explodes" As Lightning Hits

At least three homes were struck by lightning during the electrical storm which accompanied the heavy downpour of early Monday morning.

The worst of those, according to reports reaching the Enterprise, was the flash which wrecked the electrical and telephone systems in L. R. Long's home on the Phillips lease.

It literally exploded the telephone blowing the hand set into dozens of pieces and scattering them all over the room. One piece of wire was found dangling from the ceiling. Another with a piece of the phone at either end was wound around a reading lamp. The bakelite cover for the base set was blown off and shattered. The frazzled end of the hand set cord looked as though it had been blasted apart.

In addition the electric meter and multi-breaker and most of the light globes in the house were burned out. One night light was blown from a wall plug-in completely across the room.

Less spectacular were the damages at the other two places. A transformer was burned out at Joe Swirczynski's and the telephone wire was burned off the outside of the house at Meinrad Hesse's.

Attend Relative's Funeral

Mrs. Eva Gottlob of Azle, visiting here last week, joined Mrs. Tillie Barrier and Pat Stelzer Friday on a trip to Randolph, Nebraska, to attend funeral services for Fred Lipold, 58, who died on Thursday. The deceased was the only cousin of Mrs. Gottlob, and of Nick, T. and Matt Miller. Mr. Lipold visited here two years ago and had a number of acquaintances in this city.

Soil District Men Meet Here Friday To Plan Contest

Vocational agriculture teachers, county agents and district supervisors of the Upper Elm-Red soil conservation district will meet here Friday, July 28, at 10 a.m. in the new public school to discuss plans and rules for the district-wide grass judging contest scheduled for early fall.

Last year 21 teams of five boys each competed in the local district contest and 13 of the teams represented the Upper Elm-Red district in the state contest held at the Dallas Fair in October.

Board Chairman J. W. Hess said the board is anxious to get plans completed as the contest is about two months off.

Vocational agriculture departments and counties in the district are Whitesboro, Sherman, Denison, Southmayd, White-wright, Bells, Tom Bean, Collinsville, Gunter, Tioga, Saint Jo, Bowie, Nocona, Era, Gainesville, Valley View and Muenster, in the counties of Montague, Grayson and Cooke.

VFW Begins Work On Park Project

While weather permits the VFW park improvement project moves ahead steadily.

According to a report this week from Doyle Hood, program chairman, underbrush has been cleared away from almost all the west side of the site, dozers have leveled the ground and most materials are procured for the 50x100 concrete platform which is to be used for square dancing and roller skating. Actual construction on that job will begin soon.

Meanwhile Muenster continues to respond to the request for materials and money. The list of contributions since last week

News of Sick And Injured

Sandra Kay, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Sicking, is improving after being seriously ill and receiving treatment in Saint Vincent's hospital in Sherman. She is back at home since Monday.

Jerry Klement, son of the J. A. Klements, had his tonsils removed at the local clinic Tuesday.

Miss Mary Evelyn Hofbauer is quite ill since Monday suffering with the mumps.

Mrs. August Friske received medical treatment at Gainesville sanitarium Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

Ted Probst remains a patient at M & S hospital in Gainesville. He entered the hospital last week Tuesday after suffering a heart attack.

Word from Rev. Richard Eveld this week advises that he is recovering from a heart ailment that has confined him to Spohn Hospital in Corpus Christi for several weeks. He wrote that he will still have to take it easy for another six weeks. A former assistant pastor here, Father Richard is chaplain at the Corpus Christi hospital.

Garden Club Set For Big Clean-up

Everything is in order for what the Civic League ladies hope will be a big cleanup day in Muenster next Saturday. If the weather permits the truck to pick up trash will begin its rounds early in the morning.

The truck for hauling is available through the courtesy of the FMA and local boy scouts will do the pick up work. The small charge made to citizens will benefit the scout treasury.

Members of the sponsor group ask that citizens have their trash either boxed or sacked and placed at curbs or in alleys for convenient loading.

Klement, Owens Enter Run-off in Precinct 4 Race

In last Saturday's primary election John Klement led all opposition in the race for commissioner of Precinct 4 and entered the run-off with J. E. "Buck" Owens. Totals for the four contenders in that race, which took the lion's share of local political interest, were as follows: Klement 351, Owens 320, Henscheid 236, Wyatt 233.

Of the district, county and precinct races concerning this area eleven were decided and three will be determined in the run-off.

Contenders still running besides Klement and Owens are Tom Blount and Coy Shaw for the office of County Clerk; Emory Horn and Albert Biffle for Sheriff.

Those who won the democratic nomination, with or without opposition are as follows: Ed Gossett as District 13 Congressman; Joe Carter as State Senator of Cooke, Grayson and Fannin Counties; Austin Westbrook as State Representative of Cooke County. John Atchison as County Judge; Carroll Sullivant as County Attorney; Woodrow Clegg as District Clerk; M. L. Helm as Tax Assessor-Collector; Willie Mae Grundy as County Treasurer; Hubert Moss as County Superintendent; Hugh Morgan as Public Weigher; and J. E. Taylor as Commissioner of Precinct 3.

With a total of 555 ballots in its two boxes Muenster voted approximately 90 per cent of its total recorded voting strength. The south box fell considerably under that percentage with 96 out of 130 but the north box, where interest in the commissioner race ran high, polled 459

Waterway Contest Ends Friday With Tour and Awards

The two year Waterways Improvement contest sponsored by the Muenster State Bank will be closed Friday with an inspection tour to the waterways of the three top winners followed by the presentation of awards to winners of the first seven places.

Edward Helton, chairman of the day's program announced this week that the tour will leave the public school at 1:30. All who wish to make it are requested to be at the school before that time. Plenty of transportation will be there.

Helton also announced that each person making the trip will receive a mimeographed sheet describing improvement projects in the order they will be visited.

After inspecting the waterways the party will also see two clover fields. The trip is scheduled to end at the bank at 3 and will be followed by presentation of a total of $200 in prizes in the following order: $80, $50, $20, $16, $14, $10, $10. Names of winners will not be revealed until the program.

Contest judges were Ted Neu, Gainesville farmer; Gene Foster, vocational agriculture instructor of Whitesboro; and C. G. Brock, agronomist of the soil conservation service at Denton.

Building and Improvement Notes

Recently begun improvement jobs around town are those of J. J. Haverkamp, J. H. Otto and Muenster Livestock Auction.

Haverkamp is making general repairs and remodeling the house purchased lately from Herbert McDaniel who moved out last week into the new home just completed next door on the west.

J. H. Otto is building an extension to the garage at his home, making more room for his car as well as additional storage space.

At the Livestock Auction Dick Cain is nearing completion of an addition to the northwest side of the building to be used for an office. The former office inside the main building will be converted into rest rooms.

KC's TO SEE HISTORICAL MOVIE ON WORLD WAR II

TOWER TUMBLES—In Germany's Soviet sector, Communist authorities ordered the famous Georgen Church destroyed, charging that the historic tower was near collapse. Days later, sticks of TNT beneath the church were detonated by the Reds. The resulting explosion muffled the protests of irate Evangelical clergymen, and their beloved bell tower toppled to the ground.

Raymond Poirot. When Sister James left Friday she was accompanied by Sister Christine of the parochial school. Both went to the motherhouse in Jonesboro, Ark.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bell and daughter, Lynn, spent the weekend in Grand Saline with relatives and when they returned home their son and brother, Kenny, accompanied them. He had been staying with his grandparents while he was recovering from a broken left leg sustained while he was there on a visit in May. Kenny is doing fine and is almost ready to discard his crutches.

Ensign Rita Voth left Tuesday for California from where she will leave for navy nurse's duty on Guam. She went by car to San Francisco in company of her brother, Ted, and a nurse from Dallas who will also be stationed on Guam. Ted will spend some time on the west coast sight-seeing before returning home. Sunday Rita was honored with a family reunion at the home of her mother, Mrs. Barney Voth. She had been here a month after leaving the naval base hospital in Corpus Christi.

Miss Dorothy Sicking returned home Thursday after spending two weeks at Gainesville with her sister, Mrs. Pete Prescher and family. A new baby, David Eugene, joined the Prescher family two weeks ago.

Public Employment Up 525%

In 1900 about one million persons were employed by the Federal, state and local governments combined. The 1950 figure exceeds 6,250,000. The nation's governmental payroll today total $22,000,000,000.

Lucky Seven

The number, seven, seems to have held significance in all ages and culture. Japanese mythology mentions the Seven Gods of Luck, Buddhists believe that seven spirits watch over human happiness, and Mohammedans consider Heaven to consist of seven realms. In the Middle Ages, all science was grouped under seven headings and ancient astrologers believed there were seven planets.

The city of Rome was founded upon seven hills. Shakespeare divided man's life into seven stages. The Wonders of the Ancient World, as well as those of the Middle Ages, are numbered in sevens. And moderns have arbitrarily divided the world's waters into Seven Seas. Now, do you still wonder why the number is given such importance in a dice game?

A lot of people who wouldn't talk with full mouths will go around talking with empty heads.

The American Way HOKUM

By George Peck

In the final paragraph of a recent column discussing the invasion of Government into the power manufacturing and distributing business, I said this:

"If no project is plotted for your particular vicinity, serve notice on your Legislators that you have a great aversion to being forced to pay part of the cost of furnishing 'juice' to citizens in other parts of the nation."

From a reader out on the Pacific Coast comes a letter inquiring as to just what I meant by that statement. As the same question may be in the minds of other readers, I have chosen to answer the inquiry via my column. Here goes:

The Tennessee Valley Authority is one of the largest power developments so far completed by our Federal Government. The socialistic planners point with great pride to this project; in fact, glibly cite it as a glowing example to prove that the Federal Government is able to furnish power and light to consumers at lower rates than privately-owned companies. What hokum!

As the late Al Smith was wont to say, "Let's look at the record." So, let's you and I turn to the 1949 Annual Report of TVA. We find that it operated in 1949 at a net loss of $7,042,000. That loss was paid by tax payers in every state of the Union, only a small part by tax payers served by the TVA. In other words both my Pacific Coast reader friend and I paid part of the cost of furnishing "juice" to consumers in the Tennessee Valley.

Now, I have nothing against the good citizens in the Tennessee Valley who are served by TVA. They are nice people, but much as I admire and esteem them, I do object to paying part of their electric light bills. There is no more valid reason for my paying part of their light bills than their paying part of my rent, food or laundry bills.

Since it was begun in 1933, the American tax payers have invested about $800,000,000 in TVA. It has consistently failed to earn its interest charges on the money borrowed from the National Treasury; even at the low Government rates. If a privately-owned company operated on such a basis it would soon be bankrupt. The TVA manages to stay in business only because it passes the loss on to you and me and the other tax payers.

So, this claim of cheapness of public power rates turns out to be a myth from a national standpoint. The taxpayer at large is called upon to shoulder the taxes that the public power agencies escape paying, as well as to provide cheap or free capital to them. While certain areas which are beneficiaries of Federal power programs enjoy lower electric rates, they do so at the expense of taxpayers of the country as a whole. What one citizen saves on his electric rate, another citizen makes up in his tax.

But, here is the worst feature of this Government invasion into the power and light business. In 1949, while TVA was taking $7,042,000 out of Uncle Sam's Treasury to meet its deficit, the privately-owned power companies paid in taxes into that same treasury the tidy sum of approximately $451,000,000.

From this, it is apparent that we get "nicked" twice when Government steps out of line and goes into business. We taxpayers have to dig down to meet the deficits incurred; and no longer is there tax revenue from the privately-owned companies squeezed out by Government.

And so I repeat: If Federal Government is "cooking up" a power project for your section of the country, let your Congressman and Senators know that you prefer to buy "juice" from a privately-owned company; if no project is plotted for your particular vicinity, serve notice on them that you have a great aversion to being forced to pay part of the cost of furnishing "juice" to consumers in other parts of the nation.

There is no valid reason for the Government to enter the utility business. The privately-owned companies are doing a magnificent job. Why then all this maneuvering to have the Government displace them?

Up or Down?

That is not even a $64 question; the answer is so simple. The socialistic planners believe that government should run everything—schools, medicine, building, steel mills, railroads, even us, in plain language they would force us into state socialism. Transferring the ownership of the utilities to government is the entering wedge a major step on the way toward complete socialization of our economy.

Who Am I?

"I am more deadly than bullets, and I have wrecked more homes than the mightiest of siege guns."
 "I steal, in the United States alone, over five billion dollars each year."
 "I spare no one, and I find my victims among the rich and poor alike, the young and old, the strong and weak. Widows and orphans know me."

"I loom up to such proportions that I cast my shadow over every field of labor, from the turning of the grindstone to the moving of every railroad train."
 "I massacre thousands upon thousands of wage-earners a year."
 "I lurk in unseen places, and do most of my work silently. You are warned against me, but you heed not."
 "I am everywhere — in the house, on the street, in the factory, at railroad crossings, and on the sea."
 "I bring sickness, degradation, and death, and yet few seek to avoid me."
 "I destroy, crush, or maim. I give nothing, but take all."
 "I am your worst enemy. I am CARELESSNESS."

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Take Your Choice

Sitting around last Friday evening, the talk turned to the best way of getting to sleep when it seems you just can't. "The way I always do," says Sandy Johnson, "is to breathe deep and make believe I weigh a ton."

"Just throw away the pillow—it works every time," says Buzz Ellis. When counting sheep came up, right away was the question: What kind of sheep?

From where I sit, you could argue 'til Doomsday and never get complete agreement on a lot of things. Now, take me. I'm all for having a glass of beer or ale on occasion. Your "sociable beverage" may be a "Coke"—or buttermilk or maybe a cup of hot coffee.

But enjoying our preferences is a right in this country and each of us is entitled to his own. The important thing is to respect that right in the true democratic spirit of understanding! As a matter of fact, what a tiresome old world this would be if we all did have the same likes and dislikes!

To the people of Precinct No. 4

I am grateful to all who voted for me or supported me in any way in the recent primary. Through your assistance I am in the run-off for Commissioner of Precinct No. 4.

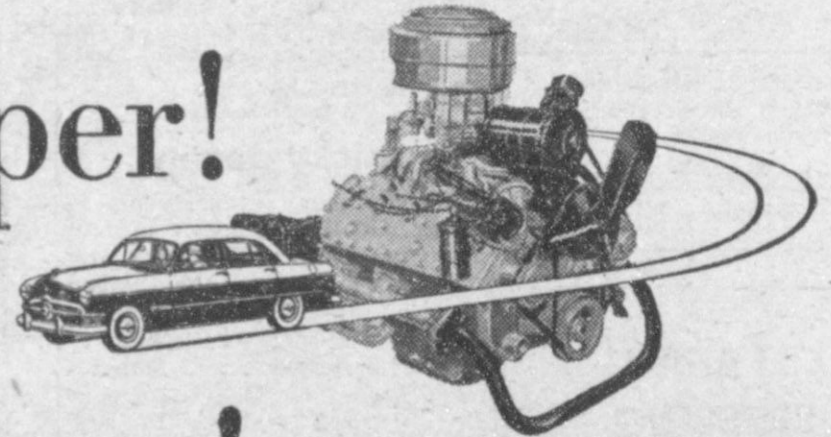

I also appreciate the clean race my opponents ran in the first primary.

I shall strive to merit your continued confidence and support.

What a stepper!

Just hint to the gas pedal and she steps out like no other low-priced car. And that's true whether you're driving a Ford V-8 or "Six". But this high-stepper is a low spender when it comes to costs. You can own a V-8, for example, for hundreds less than most "Sixes"—and a Ford "Six" for even less.

What a stopper!

This '50 Ford actually helps you apply the brakes. They're 35% easier-acting King-Size Brakes that use car momentum to help you stop. Like Ford's extra-rugged "Lifeguard" Body, they give you the kind of protection you'd expect only of costliest cars. And for added safety and comfort, you ride low and level in the "Mid Ship" section of the car, between the wheels—not over them. You're cradled in comfort on "Hydra-Coil" front springs and "Para-Flex" rear springs that give a road-bugging smoothness truly amazing.

What a looker!

Yes, again in '50, Ford received the Fashion Academy Gold Medal as "Fashion Car of the Year." And Fords stay good looking because their baked-on finish is "made to live outdoors." That means high resale value which, together with Ford's low running costs, puts Ford further out front as America's savingest car.

Child Should See His Dentist During Summer Vacation

AUSTIN — "Now is an excellent time for school children of all ages to make a trip to their dentists' offices," Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer reminds Texas parents. Since school progress is influenced by the pupil's health, which is in turn affected by mouth conditions, it is wise to visit the dentist during the summer vacation and obtain any needed treatment before school starts.

"It is dangerous to assume that there is no need for dental attention simply because a child does not complain of a tooth ache or the parent does not notice any cavities. Only careful examination by a dentist can justify such a conclusion.

"Children entering school for the first time are particularly in need of dental attention. Usually they are at the age when the first four permanent teeth, the sixth year molars, appear. Because these erupt before the shedding of any baby teeth, they are often mistaken for baby teeth. Since these are important teeth they should receive early and regular attention by the family dentist.

"Postponement of a visit to the dentist may result in pain and discomfort for the child later on. To avoid such suffering and to prevent the development of conditions that may require more extensive dental services at a later date, parents are strongly urged to take their children to the dentist for an examination now. Prompt action will allow time to complete any needed corrections before school opens."

Speedometer Cheats For Public Safety

Detroit.—That speedometer in your automobile doesn't really lie. It just cheats a little in the interest of keeping you alive.

Buzzing along the open highway at 82 miles an hour?

That's what the speed indicator on your dashboard may say, but chances are you're only doing 75. When the speedometer reads 65, you're getting where you're going at an even mile a minute.

Speedometers themselves are built with watchlike precision, as accurate as humanly possible. But auto manufacturers set them to read, at higher speeds, a few miles faster than actual road speed.

Besides the safety factor, there are several good reasons for this. It's something like gas gauges, which usually insure a motorist an extra gallon of gas even when it says "empty."

Speedometers have flexible drive cables geared to the car's transmission. Each 1,000 turns of the cable registers one mile on the mileage indicator.

The speed indicator, however, has no gears. It is moved by magnetic currents which increase in force as the cable spins faster. Some parts in the device are so small they're put together by the sense of touch and checked later by microscope.

Anything that changes the size of the tire affects the accuracy of the delicate device. At high speeds and hot temperatures, the tires swell, increasing in circumference. One turn of the wheel moves a car a varying distance, depending upon the tire's outer measurement.

One major auto producer changed its mind about speedometers two years ago. Until 1948, the company boasted that speed indicators in its cars were the most accurate in the business.

Then it decided its customers would live longer if it faked speedometer readings a bit at high speeds.

Typical of other car makers, its speedometers are set for close accuracy up to 30 miles an hour. At a 60-mile-an-hour road speed, the indicator reads from 63 to 66. At 75, the reading is from 78 to 82. And at 90, it says you're traveling from 93 to 97.

Since fewer turns of the wheel cover more miles when tires are expanded, mileage readings, also vary considerably. For instance, a 400-mile trip at an over-60 miles an hour average might put only 390 miles on the indicator.

At lower speeds and in cold weather, it might add up to a 410-mile trip on the mileage clock.

The magnetic pull of the speedometer, adjusted to a hair-spring trying constantly to pull the speed indicator back to zero, loses some of its power as the magnet ages. The loss is about one mile an hour per year.

If you want to see for yourself, find a stretch of measured highway, hit it at 60 miles an hour and keep the speed constant for an even minute. You probably won't get quite a mile in the allotted time.

4-H CLUBBERS MAKE PLANS FOR COUNTY ENCAMPMENT

Ernest Bayer, Billy Whitt and Douglas Robison of the local 4-H Clubs were in Gainesville Saturday to attend a meeting of the county 4-H council. County Agent B. T. Haws conducted the meeting at the courthouse.

Principal business was the formation of plans for the county 4-H encampment to be held at Leonard Park in Gainesville on August 18. Activities scheduled for the day include swimming, square dancing and art craft. A general committee was appointed to make further plans and work out details.

SCHMITZ FAMILIES HAVE REUNION AT RAY WILDES

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wilde was the scene of a reunion for members of Mrs. Wilde's family Sunday bringing together the four girls in the family for the first time in four years.

Present for the all-day reunion were Mrs. Wilde's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Schmitz of Austin, the Martin Theimers of Oklahoma City, the Al Horns of Harlingen, the Grant Coxes and Leonard Schmitzes and two daughters of Dallas, and Freddie Schmitz and Oleta Bezner of Gainesville.

Johnnie and Leroy Schmitz of Austin missed the reunion on Sunday but saw most of the family members when they got here Tuesday. Most of them stayed over to attend the convention at Lindsay and visited back and forth between Muenster and Lindsay.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Helton and daughter spent the weekend and through Tuesday in Waco visiting their parents.

6 Boy Scouts Pass Advancement Tests

Six boys of the Muenster Scout troop passed tests Monday night to advance them in scouting. Billy Ben Boyles and Jerry Henscheid became first class scouts and Larry Hennigan, Clifford Swirczynski, Jimmy Hellman and Carl Walterscheid qualified as second class scouts.

The boys passed their examinations before the scout board composed of Ben Seyler, Herman Swirczynski, Andy Hofbauer, Martin Bayer, Charley Hellman and Sponsor Rev. Anthony Schroeder.

Other business during the meeting was the election of patrol leaders and their assistants. Leaders named are Joseph Felderhoff, senior patrol leader and assistant to Scoutmaster Nick Miller, Carl Walterscheid and Jerry Henscheid. Assistants to the latter two are Robert Meurer and Billy Ben Boyles.

Built right from the heart!

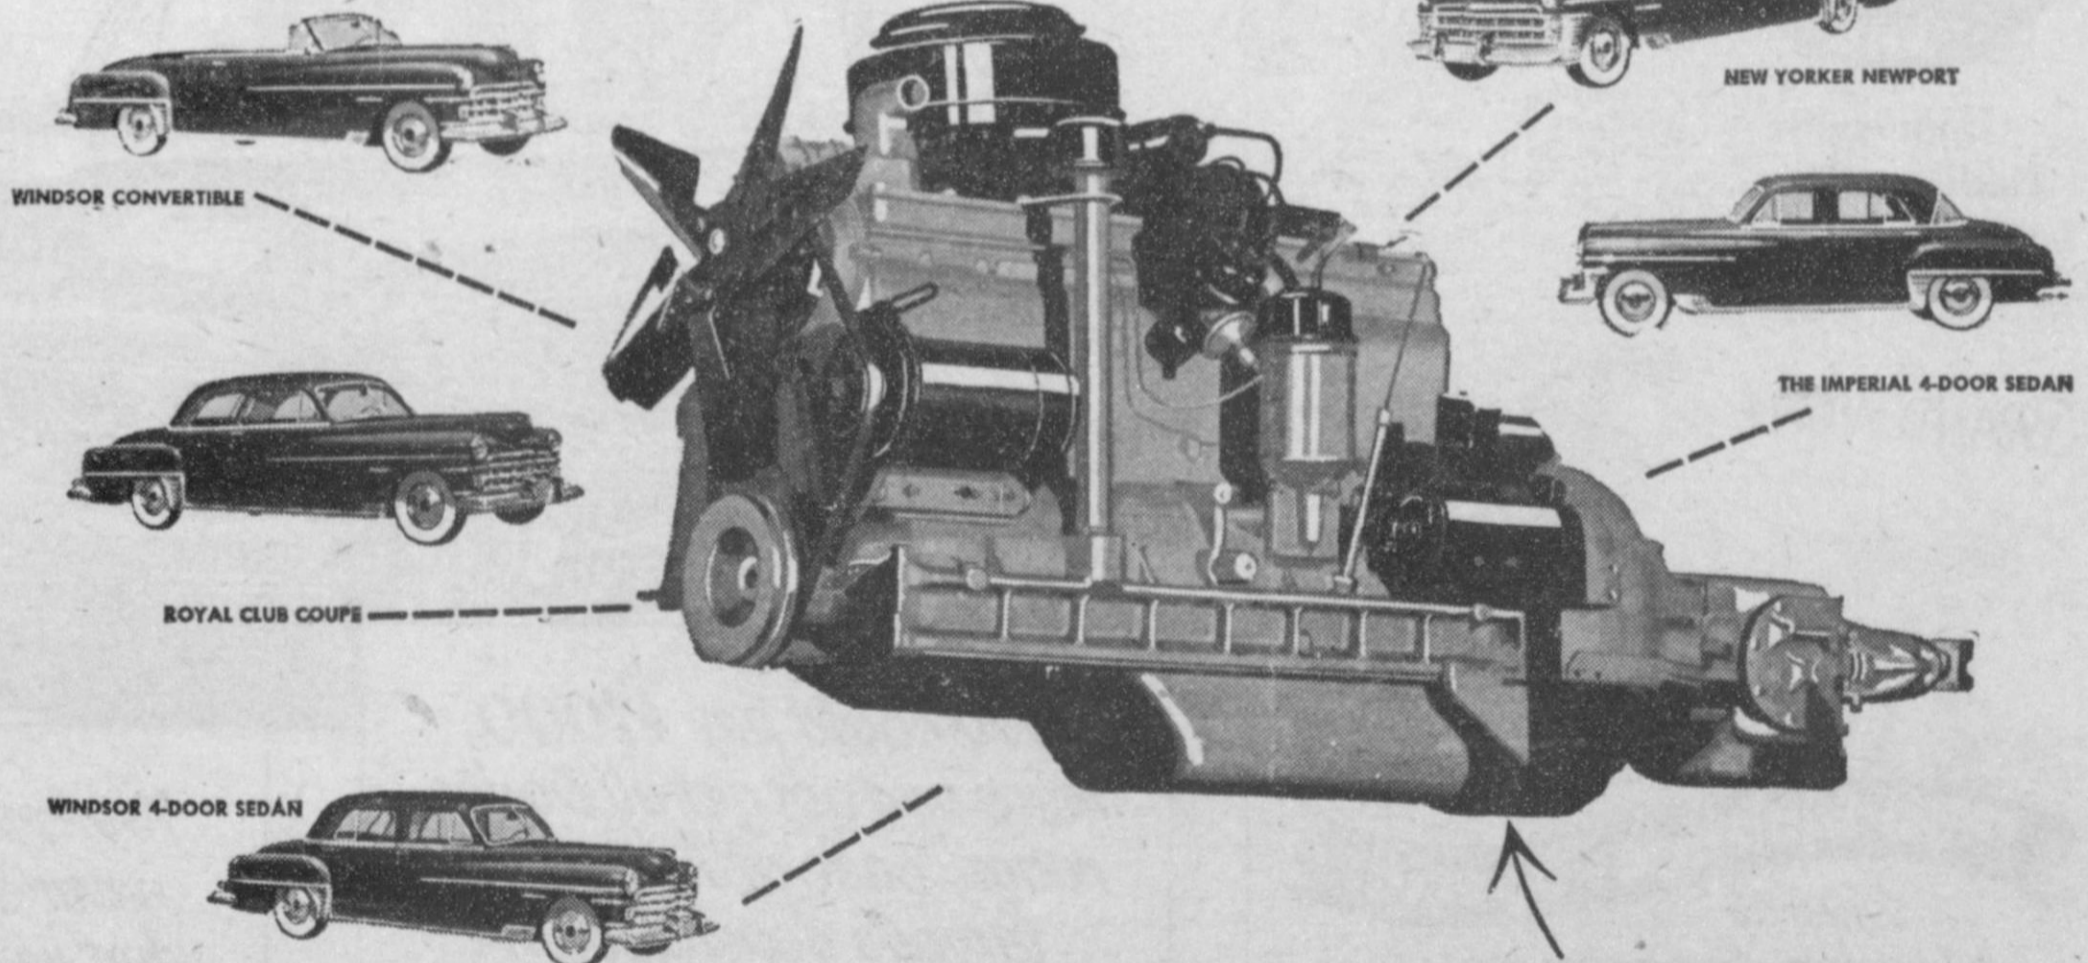

Mrs. Ann Poling, 609 Delaware St., Indianapolis, Indiana, who was suffering from deficiencies of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron, and Niacin, smiles as she pours herself another cup of coffee. Mrs. Poling says life lately is like it used to be years ago... "that is, of course, since I've been taking HADACOL." She can't get over what a difference HADACOL has made in her outlook on life.

Mrs. Poling says: "Three months ago a good friend of mine told me about HADACOL—she knew how much stomach distress I have had. Any type of food that was fried or that had acid in it I just couldn't eat. It affected my sleep, too. In fact, I couldn't have been in a worse condition. When I ate what I wanted to I felt miserable and when I didn't eat these things—I didn't have a proper diet and still felt bad. Then, when I started taking HADACOL, I felt better immediately. I've got a bottle in the house now—and will continue to keep HADACOL from now on. I have told many folks about HADACOL—and they all thank me for telling them about HADACOL. They all have gotten wonderful results from HADACOL like I have. Now I eat anything I want and get a good night's sleep. I can't praise HADACOL enough."

HADACOL Can Help You, Too!... as it has helped thousands of others whose systems lacked Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron and Niacin. Yes, even hundreds of doctors have recommended HADACOL to their patients. The HADACOL formula is so effective for stomach distress, nervousness, insomnia, constipation, aches and pains of neuritis, and a general run-down condition caused by such deficiencies.

Make Up Your Mind... to give HADACOL a chance to help you, as it has helped countless thousands of others. Remember, there are no substitutes for HADACOL. Always insist on the genuine HADACOL. No risk involved. Buy a bottle of HADACOL, either the trial size, $1.25, or the large family or hospital size, $3.50, and if HADACOL does not help you your money will be refunded.

Step into a POWERglide Chevrolet and enjoy the big driving thrill of the day

... smooth, effortless, no-shift driving at lowest cost!

SET THE LEVER IN "DRIVE" AND GO!

Sit in a Powerglide Chevrolet and enjoy finest no-shift driving at lowest cost. All you have to do is: Set the lever in "DRIVE"—press on the accelerator—and go!

NO CLUTCH PEDAL—NO GEARSHIFTING!

You'll move smoothly, silently, effortlessly from standstill to top speed, and back to standstill again, depending on the pressure of your foot on the accelerator.

3 DRIVING OPERATIONS INSTEAD OF 15!

Start the engine... set the control lever... press the accelerator... and that's all there is to it! With Powerglide Automatic Transmission, you steer, accelerate and brake as desired with no clutch to touch!

SMOOTH POWER-FLOW AT ALL SPEEDS!

You'll enjoy an absolutely smooth flow of power at all speeds. You'll have unlimited flexibility and change of pace from 1 m.p.h. to top driving speed, without any lag, drag or roughness.

MUCH FASTER ACCELERATION, TOO!

The traffic light says "Go"... you press on the accelerator... and you're away in a flash on a smooth, ever-mounting wave of power, while others are shifting gears.

LEVELS HILLS—MULTIPLIES THRILLS!

You have a 105-h.p. Valve-in-Head Engine* under that hood—most powerful in its field. It flattens hills and boosts thrills, while Powerglide adds safety and ease!

MORE EFFICIENT ON ICE OR SNOW!

Yes, you can rock out of snow or icy ruts with this automatic drive, changing from forward to reverse instantly, without clashing. Other advantages include Emergency Low for extra braking power.

SO MUCH SIMPLER—SO MUCH SAFER!

What ease—and what safety—compared with other drives! Your left foot has nothing to do. Your right foot operates accelerator or brake pedal, as desired. Both hands are free to steer!

FULL CHEVROLET THRIFT IN OVER-ALL DRIVING!

In addition to all these advantages, the new Chevrolet with Powerglide Automatic Transmission brings you traditional Chevrolet economy in over-all motoring. It's extremely thrifty to operate and maintain.

CUTS DRIVER FATIGUE—INCREASES CAR LIFE!

You'll be much more relaxed on both long and short trips. Powerglide makes driving easier than ever before. Moreover, it greatly reduces car wear and greatly increases car life!

*Combination of Powerglide Automatic Transmission and 105-h.p. engine optional on De Luxe models at extra cost.

Come in... drive a Chevrolet... and you'll understand why it's

40,000 PEOPLE WITNESS KATY'S GREAT TEXAS TRAIN WRECK

It was inevitable that the two trains would crash! The red and green locomotives, resplendent in the afternoon September sun, were careening toward each other at terrific speed. Sparks spewing from their balloon stacks, bells clanging and whistles blasting, the wildly racing engines pulled their cars to certain destruction. Closer and closer until only seconds remained before the great moment when steel would meet steel in an awful, sickening fusion. Then an ear-splitting detonation as the Titans of the rails merged and rolled onto their sides. After a brief interval the locomotives' boilers exploded sending broken metal and wood high into the air to rain down upon the countryside.

A memorable spectacle indeed — this Great Texas Train Wreck! A display of unbridled power and frightful destruction seldom seen by man. BUT 40,000 people actually witnessed this historic event!

Here is the complete story: Whatever the reason — to publicize the Katy, to sell a large number of railroad tickets, or what — William G. Crush, assistant to the vice president, was the instigator of the plan. Noting how quickly a crowd gathered from out of nowhere at the scene of an eastern train crash, Crush convinced Katy officials that to stage a "Monster Wreck" of two trains would be good business for the line. (It was fall in 1896 and the months of depression were sorely felt.)

Delighted as a child with a new toy, Crush pitched into the task of organizing the mammoth spectacle. A straight stretch on the Katy's main line 16 miles north of Waco, Texas, was selected as the logical site for the event. Scores of tents were set up including one huge circus tent to house a super restaurant. A more durable edifice of wood was erected to serve as "jail" for the sure-to-be-present "bad actors." A 2,100-foot platform and station were built to accommodate the multitude of travelers. Eight tank cars equipped with necessary piping, faucets and tin cups were provided to cater to the thirst of the visitors. (As it happened, however, untold gallons of lemonade . . . and harder beverages . . . were also consumed by the thirsty throng!) The Katy built a veritable "City for a Day" and it was christened "Crush", Texas.

The unprecedented attraction was a publicity natural, and while the Katy announced it in posters and small advertisements, free publicity in magazines, newspapers and railroad journals ran into amazing lineage. Interest snowballed until it was a main topic of conversation. Yes, everyone talked about the Katy!

The great day, September 15, 1896, dawned. All day special trains steamed into Crush, Texas, and by four in the afternoon more than 40,000 gay, jostling, shouting spectators populated the "city". (Katy brought most of them, and that record still stands for the most M-K-T special trains run to one point in a single day.)

As the appointed hour drew near, the multitude of people became wild with excitement. Katy engines 999 and 1000 slowly steamed along the track until they were pilot-to-pilot at the point of collision. Photographers swarmed around the locomotives snapping pictures of the historic scene. Then the trains backed away to take their places at starting points on opposite hills two miles apart.

It took almost an hour for 200 deputy sheriffs to herd the boisterous mob back to the safety zone. When this was accomplished, Mr. Crush dramatically stepped up to the point of collision, raised his arms and shouted instructions to his telegrapher to flash the starting signal. A mighty roar went up from the great mass of humanity as $64 QUESTION—Even expert veterinarians were stumped when Arthur Thorne asked them to identify this newcomer to his stables in Pontiac, Mich. The product of an ass and a palomino stallion, the animal weighs 45 pounds and is about the size of a small colt. Resembling neither horse nor mule, the creature may be the first of its kind.

the engineers opened the throttles and the belching locomotives started on their mad journeys to destruction. The train crews jumped from the cabs . . . Mr. Crush and the telegrapher dashed to safety and the blood pressure of thousands of on-lookers skyrocketed for the show was on! What happened next is described in the first paragraph of this story. It was a terrific spectacle that thrilled every person in the vast audience. And, as was to be expected, there were casualties; several people were killed, many more injured by flying pieces of wood and steel. The city of Crush disappeared almost immediately after the event which was pronounced a success, financially and scientific-cally speaking. Mr. Crush of the Katy had indeed promoted one of the greatest publicity scoops in all of railroading's colorful history.

DISTRICT SUPERVISORS

J. W. Hess, Muenster V. W. Redman, Saint Jo
John Rice, Collinsville Ed Blackmon, Bowie
Willard Kempfin, Valley View

The Muenster State Bank waterway-pasture sodding contest is over and the winners have been determined. There will be a tour to see some of the winning waterways and other conservation practices on Friday, July 28. The tour will leave from the public school at 1:30 P. M. and will last until 3 o'clock. All who are interested in practices that save and rebuild the soil are invited to make the tour and see soil conservation practices being applied. Cash awards will be made to the winners in the contest but all who have sodded waterways on their farms will continue to receive the benefits of the grassed waterways for many years as the grass acts as the first line of defense against the ravages of erosion in the safe disposal of terrace water.

The long and often delayed threshing job is almost completed in the Muenster area and some of the cooperators of the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation district are already well started on the job of building terraces before fall planting time. Terraces to empty on waterways that were sodded last year have been started on the Hellman & Truebenbach farm operated by Al Walter, on the Alfred Sicking farm near Myra and on the Tony Klement farm near Muenster. Thomas Sicking and Dick Harris are building terraces to empty on pasture sod.

Chinese Red Peas have been planted by Eddie Sicking on the Anna Trachta farm and by Jim Dennison on his farm northeast of Saint Jo. The peas make a fast growth and are planted between grain crops to obtain green manure to be plowed under prior to fall seeding. The soil is enriched by the peas and the following crop is greatly benefited and yields are higher.

J. H. Embry of Saint Jo has combined 3000 pounds of vetch from his farmland northeast of Saint Jo.

Man Dies While on Visit in Lindsay

Albert J. Addington, 73, father of Mrs. Addie Medlock of Lindsay, died Monday while he was a guest in the Medlock home. He had come to Lindsay to visit his daughter and family about a week previous.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday at Nolia, Okla., with burial there. Addington was a native of Arkansas and a retired farmer of Nashoba, Okla.

Survivors include in addition to Mrs. Medlock, five daughters and two sons, 20 grandchildren and 14 great-grandchildren. The sons are F. H. and T. J. Addington of Gainesville.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gruber of Dallas were here for a week-end visit with his parents.

Mrs. Lena Arend, her son, Richard, and her daughter, Mrs. Larry Yosten, spent Saturday in Duncan, Okla., at the home of their son and brother, William Arend, where they made the acquaintance of William John Jr., infant son of the William Arends who arrived on July 20 weighing 6 pounds 7 ounces. Also accompanying them on the trip was Charlotte Rauschuber, granddaughter of Mrs. Arend, whose home is in Wichita Falls, and enroute back to Lindsay they stopped there for a short visit. Charlotte remained there after having visited her grandmother several weeks.

ly. And like Senator McCarthy we firmly believe that the skunks should be sought out and removed.

Meanwhile there are other alarming facts for us to face. Russia has maneuvered us into a costly war with one of her expendable satellites. We are straining ourselves against communism while the big mogul of communism sits by smugly and laughs. And at the same time we face the prospect of a similar trick in Germany where a Russian trained and equipped army of East German Reds is preparing to take over West Germany.

Any day we can become involved in a second version of the Korean affair while Stalin and his thugs go on laughing at us. And they have plenty of reason to laugh. They have expendable dupes to do their dirty work while we are caught single handed with the job of keeping order all over the world. Over fifty nations condemn the aggression in Korea but only one does something about it. Early hopes that this would be a localized fight get dimmer and dimmer as we realize that too many circumstances are developing in Stalin's favor. No wonder the men in Washington are worried.

State League - - -

day night's "Catholic Day Program."

The convention opened officially on Tuesday afternoon with a general meeting followed by sectional meetings for men, women and youth. The youth rally was held in the evening.

Wednesday's program began with a pontifical high mass by Most Rev. A. Dangelmayr of Dallas, and a sermon by Rev. Fred Mosman of Dallas. Using as his text the parable of the prodigal son Father Mosman likened the wandering of Western civilization away from its spiritual roots to the wandering of the wastrel who found himself in poverty and misery as a result of shirking his duty.

The Most Rev. Bishop Joseph P. Lynch of Dallas extended welcome at the "Catholic Day Program."

Thursday, the closing day of the convention, is set aside for the election of officers and selection of next year's convention city, and the final passing of resolutions and amendments.

The Catholic Life Insurance Union, held its first meeting on Monday night along with its annual banquet for officers and secretaries. A social evening and a home talent play by Lindsay young people followed Tuesday night's meeting.

Nocona Leads In Softball Play-off

In the first game of the Cooke-Montague softball league playoff here Tuesday Nocona came up from behind in the last inning to beat the Chicks 8 to 7. Yeargin did the trick by blasting a homer with the bases loaded.

The second game, scheduled for Wednesday between Muenster and Valley View, was rained out.

The Ruffnecks' only activity of the week was two practice games, with Nocona there last Thursday and the Chicks here Friday. At Nocona the game went scoreless until the fourth when Muenster got 2 and Nocona 1. Muenster added 1 each in the fifth and sixth for a 4-1 win. Hartman pitched for Muenster allowing 3 hits.

Against the Chicks the Ruffnecks started early and slugged regularly to keep a comfortable lead all the way. The final count was 11-5. Cain, Schmitz and Bruns hit homers and Cain pitched.

the case may be, can hardly be accepted as competent or reliable leaders for the future. The very first demand of prudence, it seems to us, is to weed out the questionable characters.

Of course the Tydings whitewash would have us believe that all is right in the state department even after the department sabotaged this government's efforts to check the spread of communism in Asia. Just the same we ordinary citizens will always wonder how that is possible in the light of established facts.

Starting back in the last war, and ever since, Stalin has put the big pants on Uncle Sam because some dumb clucks or double crossers of our own have yielded to his every treacherous demand. There was the sell-out of Poland, the stall allowing Red troops to enter Berlin first, the dumb agreement to let the Russian sector isolate us in a section of Berlin, the absurd settlement giving Stalin all Japanese equipment in Manchuria and a toe hold in Korea after he had declared himself into the war only 8 days.

Likewise there was our humble submission to every aggressive expansion in the Balkans and the Far East. Like Chamberlain at Munich our state department appeased and appeared and tried to block every effort of real statesman to check the red menace. And as a final touch it neglected to carry out orders it did not like... such as when Congress in last October appropriated 10.5 million for military aid to South Korea and total deliveries in 8 months amounted to $52,000 worth of baling wire.

Tydings and his whitewashers can go on with their absurdities but we'll still go on believing that only the presence of skunks could make the state department's record so terribly smel-
