Welcome Rain and Unwelcome Storm Hit Here Tuesday

For military reasons, the president says, this country is changing its attitude toward Spain. The immense strategic value of naval bases on the Mediterranean and air bases behind the Pyrenees mountains impressed military leaders so much that Truman was forced at last to over-ride old pro-leftist sympathy and prejudice in the interest of common sense.

On the basis of plain expediency the administration deserves credit for a wise decision. On the basis of principle it deserves no credit whatever. If anything it deserves sharp censure for a shabby attitude.

First of all it admits that we are acting from a completely selfish motive and makes the situation worse by insinuating that we are compromising principle to do so. It continues with the sanctimonious criticism of Franco's dictatorship even though we have maintained friendly relations with far worse governments.

Let's take a brief glance at our record of ignorance and unfairness regarding the Spanish situation. By now every person who claims to be a little informed knows how the Spanish civil war started. Communists strong armed their way into power as they have done several times since to take over the present group of satellite countries. But Franco did not submit as others did. He organized a resistance army. Reds from Russia along with reds and misguided volunteers from other countries threw their support behind the so called Loyalists. Hitler and Mussolini supported Franco. Franco won. Then he took over as dictator and has succeeded ever since in checking a red comeback in Spain.

Before going farther let's stop for a moment and consider. Was there anything wrong in what he did? Suppose communists were to take over our government. Wouldn't we be grateful for an American Franco to kick them out? And suppose this American Franco continued to rule as our dictator. Wouldn't we prefer him to one of Stalin's brand? Wouldn't we understand that such anti-communist dictatorship is even necessary for a while as the most effective way of preventing the return of the reds?

Of course some of our people never tire of yapping about the dictator Franco and his iron rule. But does the record substantiate their charges? We get no stories about atrocities, sham trials, slave labor camps, blood purges or other outrages from Spain. And in view of some people's eagerness to publicize the faults of Spain we can reasonably assume that they do not happen or we would know about them.

We might note also that Franco has not planted subversives in this or any other country. He is not plotting any government's overthrow. On the contrary he has served all of humanity by keeping the strategic advantage of Spain out of communist hands. The only charge that can be directed against him is that he is a dictator, and that gets rather weak when we consider that he has been the most benevolent dictator of them all and has been fighting our side of this communist fight long before official Washington realized what the score was.

The facts are plain to see. Franco has been our friend all along. Every major move he has made since 1936, including his refusal to help the Axis powers in World War II, shapes up as direct or indirect help to the United States. But still our top policy makers say they are willing to deal with him only because we want Spain for our air and naval bases. Why can't they wake up and admit that on the basis of merit alone Franco deserves the most courteous and most generous consideration. Not a man in Europe has done as much in support of our side in the present world wide conflict.

A welcome break in the drought and heat wave that has been hanging over this community the past week came Tuesday afternoon in a combined rain and windstorm that struck with considerable force south of town but tapered off as it moved north.

The wind apparently did its worst in the Dub Trew, Arthur Hellman and Henry Grewing neighborhood. At Trew's it scattered chicken houses, peeled sheet iron off a barn and moved another building off its foundation. At Hellman's it tore off barn doors and blew down a sheep shed. At Grewing's it tore off a section of barn roof and broke windows. All over the area the wind flattened row crops. In the city wind was rough, but no damage has been reported.

Rain likewise played out as it came north. Measures up to 3 inches were reported 5 miles south. In Muenster the measure was 1.6 5 miles north the storm had fizzled to a light drizzle and heavy breeze.

The rain was the first this community has had since July 1 and 2 when the official gauge reading was 2.19. Total measure for the month to date is 3.79.

Austin Westbrook Quits Legislature

Austin Westbrook of Gainesville has resigned as Cooke county's member in the Texas House of Representatives to take a position as sales representative for Humble Oil and Refining company in Wichita Falls.

He was elected by the voters of Cooke county last year and served his first term this year in the 53rd legislature. He had another year to serve but wouldn't be active unless the governor calls a special session between now and January 1, 1953.

Westbrook, now on his new job in Wichita Falls, stated that he wouldn't have resigned unless he felt "reasonably certain" that there would be no special session called. Gov. Allan Shivers, the only person who can call a special session, was quoted recently to the effect that he didn't foresee any need of a special session.

Next year a new representative will be elected, but Cooke won't have a single representative as in the past. Under the new redistricting law, Cooke and Grayson counties will share a flatorial representative. Grayson county will have an additional representative.

Considering the populations of the two counties, it is possible that Grayson county's overwhelming advantage in the number of voters may mean that Westbrook will be the last Cooke county man to serve as state representative.

Westbrook said: "My reason for resigning is to take what I consider an advanced position with the Humble company. The new job offers me a degree of permanency and what I believe to be a good future. Though the resignation is rather embarrassing to myself, and possibly to Cooke county voters, I believe they will understand my position and will hold nothing against me for my action."

He said he had considered making the move for a "long, long time" and was very reluctant to resign. "I would have remained if I thought a special session was forthcoming and the people of Cooke county would need representation."

Unless there is a special session of the legislature, there will be no special election to replace Westbrook for his unexpired term. In event of a special session, Governor Shivers will call the special election for Cooke county, announcing it 30 days in advance of the election or a minimum of 20 days advance notice, according to County Judge John Athison.

Rain Relieves City Water Emergency

Tuesday's 1.6 inch rain came just in time to relieve an emergency in the Muenster Water Department.

I. A. Schoech, pinch hitting as water superintendent while Steve Moser is on vacation, said Wednesday that the city has a good chance of filling all tanks and reservoirs by the time the demand becomes heavy again. Unless more trouble develops people can resume their normal use of water now and continue it for some time to come.

A pump failure on the No. 2 well, in North Muenster, brought on the water emergency Tuesday morning. Before then the supply was gradually diminishing and the city issued a request Sunday that people cut down on consumption, watering lawns and gardens only on Tuesday and Friday. After the breakdown the city asked that lawn and garden watering be discontinued until further notice.

Before Moser left last week he said that the water supply was diminishing daily. Each day found the level in the No. 2 supply tank a little lower.

To relieve the strain the FMA pump was connected to the system Friday, but rationing was requested nevertheless in order to maintain an adequate supply in case of fire.

Ben Seyler drove to Dallas early Wednesday to get replacement bearings for the broken pump. He returned about noon, and installation was due to be complete some time during the night. After that, with all wells pumping and the demand reduced, Schoech expects to have everything brim full before sprinklers start running again.

Funeral services were held at Sacred Heart church Monday morning at 8:30 with Father Anthony Schroeder officiating at the requiem high mass and at the grave-side ritual. Burial was in Sacred Heart cemetery under direction of Vernie Keel Funeral Home.

Six grandsons were bearers: Basil Reiter, Douglas and Gene Reiter, David Reiter, Melvin Klement and Herbert Otto.

Rosary services were held at Mrs. Reiter's home Sunday afternoon at 3:30 by members of the Third Order of St. Francis, and at 8 p.m.

Mrs. Reiter, the former Mary Walter, was born in Saint Louis Mo., a daughter of Christopher and Anna Walter, and as a young girl moved to Arkansas with them. She married August Reiter in St. Vincent, Ark. in August 1895, and they moved to Muenster in 1901.

Mr. Reiter was a farmer, rancher and cattle man. The family lived northwest of town. Mr. Reiter retired from active work in 1942 and built a new home in the city. He died March 7, 1943.

Night Work Starts On Baptist Church

Activity at the new Baptist church is picking up these days . . . or rather, these nights. Dissatisfied with their progress to date, workers this week started working under electric lights. The building is being erected by volunteer workers, most of whom are tied down by their own work during the day.

The church, started about a month ago, has been going slowly until now. Foundation, floor sills and joists are finished and work on the walls is now under way.

SCHEDULE OF COMING EVENTS

MONDAY, July 30, Boy Scout Court of Honor and pot luck supper, the K of C hall, 8 p.m.
WEDNESDAY, August 1, Get-Together Club, in Mrs. Joe Horn's home, 2 p.m.

Both Schools Will Open September 4

Vacation for the Muenster school children will end on Sept. 4. According to word this week from Father Anthony Schroeder and Superintendent Weldon Cowan, both local schools will open on that date. Details concerning early registrations are to be announced within the next few weeks.

In making his announcement Superintendent Cowan reminded parents of children enrolling for the first time to see that their children have diphtheria shots and small pox vaccinations. It is recommended that pupils be immunized well in advance of the opening date so that they will have time to recover from the usual discomforts. Cowan requested parents to secure immunization certificates from their family doctor for presentation at enrollment time. This certificate is needed to complete a child's health record.

Another requirement for first grade children is birth certificates. Its purpose is to make certain that each child's personal record is started correctly as well as to determine that each child has reached the scholastic age.

In most cases that precaution will not be necessary at the parochial school because the parish has the information in its baptismal record. Children not listed on the record, however, are expected to show birth or baptismal certificates.

Another reminder concerns children from other districts who will attend the public school. They must file their application for transfer at the county superintendent's office before August 1. Transfer forms are available at the public school and the county superintendent's office. The transfer is important because it is the only means by which a student's per capita allotment can be transferred from one district to another.

Hospital Dismisses Child Hurt in Crash

The five-month-old daughter of the Wilfred Sicking was dismissed from Gainesville sanitarium Tuesday after being a patient since last Wednesday as the result of injuries in a car accident. The infant suffered a deep cut the length of her nose, and body bruises.

Mrs. Sicking and the infant were in a pickup truck leaving Mrs. Henry Sicking's home at about 6 p.m. when the accident occurred. The Sicking car collided with a pickup driven by Cecil Rathburn who was traveling east. Neither Rathburn nor Mrs. Sicking suffered injuries.

Damage to each vehicle was estimated at about $400 by Highway Patrolman Lester Robertson.

Do As I Say, Not As I Do

By DeWitt Emery

In a series of statements and speeches since the outbreak of the "police action" in Korea, President Truman has told us what we must all do working together to avert the danger of inflation during this crucial time when defense production must have first call on our economic resources.

He told consumers to buy only what they need. He told business men to cut down and hold down inventories, to increase the efficiency of their operations as much as possible and to conserve manpower. He asked everyone to work harder and longer and to forget about increased wages or profits.

The President said his proposals call for "patriotism and self restraint" and added, "if we all work together as a team, if everyone does his part, we can beat inflation, we can secure the defenses of this nation and keep down the cost of living for the average family."

No one can quarrel with the President's suggestions, but it seems to me that he, as the head of the executive branch of our government, should see to it that every department, bureau and agency of the government puts his suggestions into effect. It seems to me further that since he is commander-in-chief of our armed forces that he should also insist that the Department of Defense follow his recommendations. So, let's look at the record.

All departments, bureaus and agencies of the executive branch of our federal government are spending more money today than a year ago and almost without exception have more people on their payrolls than they had when the shooting started in Korea. Some of these non-defense departments spent more than 1,400 times as much in 1950 as they spent in 1940.

During the past year an average of 6,073 new employees per week were added to the federal payroll in the executive branch of our government. It costs you and me and the other taxpayers eight billion three hundred million dollars per year to pay the salaries of these bureaucrats.

Does this indicate that the President is following the advice he gave the American people on combating inflation, on conserving manpower, on increasing efficiency, on working harder and working longer hours? Or is it a case of "You do as I say, not as I do?" Or is it a continuing application of the Hopkins formula, "The people are too dumb to understand anyway so we'll tax and tax, spend and spend, elect and elect?"

The Department of Defense doesn't seem to have taken the President's advice very seriously. Here are a few examples which will show why I make that statement.

Since the start of the Korean campaign, with less than two million men under arms, the Army has purchased 68,000,000 can openers.

During the nine months ended March 31, 1951, the quartermaster corps bought 1,917,000 pounds of black pepper. Maybe this is a new weapon which is used by sneaking up on the Reds and throwing it in their eyes.

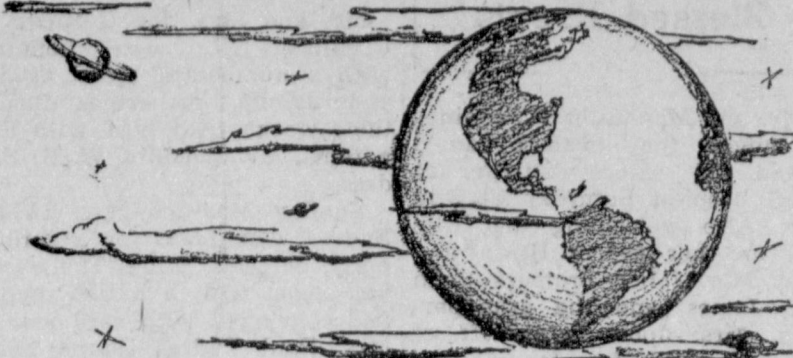

The Army set up requirements of 4,636,000 web belts for 1951. This is approximately three belts per man although only one belt is issued per man per year.

On combat boots the Army requirement for 1951 was set at 11,753,000 pairs, of which it expected to use 4,800,000 pairs during the year.

Last January while the quartermaster was buying 5,000,000 pounds of olemargarine at 25½ cents per pound, the Department of Agriculture was selling 5,500,000 pounds of surplus butter to Italy at 15 cents per pound.

What effect did this large scale "scare" buying have on prices? Since June, 1950 the price of Army blankets has risen from $7.82 to $16.00 each. Combat boots went up from $6.03 to $11.63 per pair, army mattresses from $7.83 to $13.42 each and so on and on throughout a list longer than your arm.

An ideal wife is any woman who has an ideal husband.

In God's Good Hands

By Joseph A. Breig

Our teen-age daughter was preparing a school paper. "Daddy", she asked, "if somebody said there are too many people in the world, what would you say?"

"I'd ask him how many are too many," I answered.

She thought about that for a moment. Then she said: "He'd say there were too many when there wasn't enough food for everybody."

"Then he'd be answering himself", I told her.

She wrinkled her brow. "I don't see how."

"If there isn't enough food," I said, "then THAT'S what's wrong. Not too many people, but too little food. The thing to do is to grow more food."

"I know," she said. "But some people say there isn't enough land"

No Trust In God

I shook my head. "That's an insult to God. That's saying that He brings His children into the world and condemns them to starvation. It's blasphemy. What's wrong is not too little land, but too little love. Too little love of God. Too little love of people. Too much greed. Too much selfishness. Too much laziness—which is another form of selfishness. And too many closed and locked doors in the House of Our World."

She pondered. "You mean that if the different countries would let people go to where the land is—?"

"And if the people would work," I answered. "If they would let themselves be taught how to work. Just open your geography. Look at the empty spaces. Then imagine what good farmers and good ranchers would do with them. Imagine how Christianity would transform India or Africa or China—or Russia."

Problem Is Religious

"You mean it's a religious problem?"

"ALL human problems are religious problems. Christ is God, isn't He?"

"Certainly," she said.

"Then we have it on the word of God Himself that if we seek first after God and His justice, all these other things will be added unto us. Look, honey; that's not just a pretty sentiment. That's the flat, unqualified promise and pledge of Almighty God."

What's So Funny?

Just finished reading a magazine article that "proves" you and I don't know what's funny.

A bunch of psychologists came to this sad conclusion after telling jokes to college students. Very often they would give out with what they considered a side-splitter—and not get even a chuckle in response. Other times the students would laugh their heads off at stories that weren't considered really funny.

Maybe I'm wrong, but what makes a psychologist such a better judge of humor than the rest of us? If a man gets a kick out of a joke that proves it was funny to him—doesn't it?

From where I sit, when psychologists try to set up a standard for a sense of humor they're getting too serious for me. Stands to reason that different people laugh at different things, just as they have different tastes for most everything. I'm partial to a glass of beer with meals myself—but I promise not to make any "wise-cracks" if you prefer tea.

Bulcher Community Enters Contest for Range Improvement

The Bulcher community Thursday night decided to enter the Statewide Community Range and Pasture Improvement contest for the 1951-52 year.

County Agent B. T. Haws, meeting with Bulcher residents, explained the program. Purpose of the program, he said, is to stimulate individual, family and community interest and effect in community cooperation and improvement; to increase the quality and quantity of forage for livestock of both stored or reserve and green grazing; to promote better utilization of cropland through a wise cropping system which includes sod crops — pasture or meadows — and to promote wider use of range, perennial pastures and forested lands.

Bulcher has already entered the 1951 Rural Neighborhood Progress contest, and is the first county entry in the range improvement contest. County Agent Haws told citizens that the range contest will go hand-in-hand with the neighborhood contest.

The range contest is sponsored by the Dallas Morning News and radio station WFAA in cooperation with Texas A&M extension service. The contest offers prize money of $250, $150, and $100 on a district basis only.

Bulcherites elected Claud Cannon as general chairman of the contest and Mrs. Calip Cannon as secretary.

A social hour with refreshments of ice cream and cake followed the business meeting. Mr. Haws presented Bulcher with a set of pitching horse shoes for the park in behalf of Claude Jones, president of the First State Bank of Gainesville, as an award for being a prize winning community in the 1950 progress contest.

Ben Luke Honored On 63rd Birthday

Ben Luke's 63rd birthday on Thursday, July 19, provided the occasion for a delightful family party and lawn supper at his home. His wife arranged the affair as a surprise. Assisting with hostess duties were her daughters, Miss Mary Ann Luke and Mrs. R. N. Fette, and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Anthony Luke. A decorated cake and gifts for the honoree added a festive note to the informal party.

Present were Messrs. and Mmes. R. N. Fette and Anthony Luke, Daniel, Gene, Ray and Mary Ann Luke, children of the honoree; the Joe Lukes, the Henry Lukes and Ann, Theresa and Alfons Luke, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Endres and the Joe Gormans and son, Hank.

Mr. Luke was born in Leopold Mo., on July 19, 1888. He came to Muenster when he was 14 years old. His father was a teacher in the Muenster school and served as church organist for 50 years. This month Ben Luke completed 50 years as a member of the church choir.

Mr. Luke married Miss Mary Herr in 1916, and next Wednesday, Aug. 1, the couple will observe their 35th wedding anniversary. They have 10 living children and two grandchildren. Children not present for the birthday observance are Bernard with the Navy in Corpus Christi, Bill of Iraan, Harold with the Navy in Japan, and Mrs. Charles Denny of Corpus Christi.

Mr. Luke has served as a rural mail carrier here for 43 years. He recalls that for 21 years he made his rounds with a horse and cart. In addition to his rural route he manages a farm. It is on this farm that Muenster's first wildcat oil well came in in 1927.

Marie Lutkenhaus has returned to Gainesville where she is at home at 514 West California street after a visit here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lutkenhaus. Her father, who spent several months at Amarillo with another daughter, Mrs. Oscar Detten, is back in Muenster.

GARDEN PARTY HONORS MISS ERNIE ZIPPER

A garden party and miscellaneous gift shower honored Miss Ernie Zipper, bride-elect of Jim Stockman of Dallas, here Saturday evening at the home of her parents, the R. M. Zippers. Mmes. C. J. Kaiser and Ewald Berend of Gainesville were hostesses.

The bride's chosen colors of white, orchid and yellow, predominated in the garden setting and soft colored lights enhanced the outdoor living room scene.

The gift table was covered with a hand crocheted cloth over yellow and was centered with a yellow floral arrangement in a crystal bowl. Miss Marian Berend of Gainesville presided at the bride's book in which 32 guests registered.

At one end of the garden, greenery backed the refreshment table which was covered with an imported lace cloth over orchid. The table held an arrangement of orchid flowers in a crystal bowl, the crystal punch service and a huge decorated angel food cake inscribed with "Ernie and Jim." Miss Joan Zipper, sister of the honoree, poured the punch. Mrs. Martin Klement served the cake.

The hostesses conducted an informal game session in which Mmes. Joe Haverkamp, Henry Wiesman, and Al Wiesman and Miss Evelyn Vogel won prizes which they presented to the honoree. Miss Zipper opened and displayed a large assortment of lovely gifts from the guests. Mrs. Earl Lehnertz assisted her in opening the gifts.

Miss Zipper and Mr. Stockman will be married in St. Joseph's church in Dallas on August 4.

Lime green and coral pink, the bride's chosen colors, predominated in decorations in the party rooms, in floral arrangements and in refreshment plates served by the hostesses. Guests placed their shower gifts for the honoree in an inverted umbrella of green and pink crepe paper which centered the white linen covered gift table.

In paper and pencil games, prizes went to Mrs. Lawrence Roberg, Alma Louise Kubis and Anita Fuhrmann. Rosalee Fuhrman won the guest prize. They presented their awards to the honor guest.

Upon her arrival at the party Miss Kubis was presented a white carnation corsage by the hostesses.

Twenty-five guests from Muenster and Lindsay were present.

Miss Kubis and Mr. Felderhoff will be married on Thursday, August 9, in services at St. Peter's church in Lindsay.

Mrs. H. J. Fuhrman and daughter, Rosalee, returned last week from a visit in Iowa with relatives and friends. Their return home was delayed on account of the floods and they came by bus as trains were not running. They drove through rain and high water all the way from Kansas City to Tulsa, Okla. While in Iowa they spent most of their time in LuVerne with Mr. Fuhrman's sister, Mrs. John Till who is a wheel chair invalid. They also visited in Algona and St. Jo, and went to West Bend to see the Grotto of the Redemption.

The Do-Nothing 82nd Congress

... by Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON, July 22.

Most capital observers agree that not in years has there been such a tired, listless, indifferent, do-nothing Congress as the Eighty-second. The famed Eightieth Congress, against which President Truman campaigned to victory in 1948, was a stem-winder by comparison.

Not only has the Eighty-second Congress failed to pass a single appropriation by the end of the fiscal year, on June 30, but a good many members don't seem to care. They don't even seem to care that they are being called the "horse-meat" Congress.

Never in my recollection have both morale and morals been so low, leadership so lacking.

Never in my recollection has there been less idealism, less patriotism, such poor party discipline; never such shameless absenteeism. Some congressmen are present in Washington only one day a week.

This is the tail-end of a tired, uninspired administration — probably the end of a long period of Democratic rule.

Nobody, except a few incurable optimists, really expects this administration to be re-elected. When that frame of mind exists in Congress, there can be no party discipline, no leadership.

Without leadership, every congressman adopts the law of the jungle — every man for himself. Instead of voting what's good for the country, he votes what's good for himself or the lobbyists who helped fill his campaign chest. He knows that, in many legislative problems, the nation's interest has to be put above his district's interest. A flood-control reservoir may dislocate a hundred or so people in his district, but their dislocation may save the lives and property of millions below the reservoir area. However, an "I'll get mine, you get yours" spirit has become rampant in this Congress. The law of the lobbyist and the local interest reigns supreme.

There has been no firm hand on the reins. This is true both of the White House and of the Democratic leaders on Capitol Hill. The President has alternately begged and scolded. He has seldom inspired.

Terracing — one of the more important structural beams in the building of a permanent and prosperous agriculture — is getting under way in the Muenster area of the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation District. The terracing job at present is being sandwiched in between sweet clover seed and grain harvest and hay baling operations, but will blossom into a bigger task during the next two months. Terrace maintenance, the plowing up of terraces so they will retain their maximum water carrying capacity, is another very important job to be done as plowing fields gets underway after harvest.

Construction of nearly a mile of terraces has been started on the Paul Fetsch farm northeast of Muenster. The terraces outlet onto a bermuda grass waterway that Paul sodded two years ago. Alfred Bayer, Arthur Hellman, Alfred Sicking, Bill Lutkenhaus, H. N. Fuhrmann, Joe Lewter and Joe Hoenig all have started blow-built terraces and have them in various stages of completion. More plowing this year will bring the terraces up to District standards.

Sweet clover seed harvest around Muenster shifted into high gear last week as the hot sun turned seed coats a golden brown. Paul Fisher used a binder to windrow his biennial white clover at night while the dew made it more shatter resistant. He then enlisted the aid of Al Hess to combine the seed. The seed take from 17 acres amounted to an estimated 4500 pounds, or an average yield of 265 pounds per acre. Gene Klement has windrowed his Madrid and is ready to start combine operations. R. M. Zipper also plans to combine his clover this week.

Miss Ruth Fisher returned Sunday after spending several days out of the city. Saturday she attended the wedding of a former OLV College classmate, Peggy Scott to David Horne in Plainview. She made the trip in company of two other former classmates, Dorothy Gross and Margaret Manning with whom she visited in Fort Worth before going to Plainview. The girls accompanied her home and were dinner guests in the John Fisher home before returning to their homes.

Reduce Hazards and Form Safety Habits, Governor Advises

COLLEGE STATION.— Governor Allan Shivers on July 6 signed a proclamation designating the week of July 22 as Farm and Ranch Safety week in Texas. President Harry S. Truman has also designated this some period as National Farm Safety Week.

Governor Shivers' proclamation pointed out that the continued high rate of avoidable accidents on farms and ranches are causing deaths and injuries among the rural residents. Such accidents, he said, cause an economic burden that is one of the primary social and economic problems in the state.

Governor Shivers urges all members of families to join in a continued drive to reduce hazards, and to adopt practices that will lead to fewer accidents on the farms and ranches as well as in the rural homes of the state. He says, "I am also asking that all organizations and persons interested in farm and ranch life promote the use of safe practices through their educational programs."

The State Farm Safety Committee headed by J. Walter Hammond, president, Texas Farm Bureau Federation, is commencing a drive during the week that will continue through the year, aimed at making every rural Texan accident

SURPRISE PARTY GREETS MRS. KYLE WAGGONER

A delightful surprise party and layette shower greeted Mrs. Kyle Waggoner at her home on Thursday afternoon, July 19, with Mmes. J. W. Watts and Joe Luke as hostesses.

The guests arrived in a group at the Waggoner home where party rooms were decorated with seasonal flowers. An arrangement of blue tinted daisies and pink roses, arranged by Mrs. Luke on the coffee table, carried out the pink and blue color scheme. A bassinette with a baby doll held the gifts that the honoree opened and displayed.

An ice course in pink and blue was served by the hostesses to Mmes. Waggoner, her mother Mrs. Burl Williams, and Mmes. Charley Clayton and D. H. Long of Saint Jo; Mmes. Bill Roberts, Juanita Burden and Lambert Bezner of Gainesville; Mmes. Ben Seyler, John Huchton, Aubrey Tuggle, Marty Klement, Leo Lawson, T. S. Myrick, Ray Evans and T. M. Hammer of Muenster. Mmes. Ervin Hamric, Dick Trachta and Ray Temple who were unable to attend sent gifts.

conscious. The committee members believe that safety is the individual responsibility of every citizen and not until all practice safety in their daily living can the accident toll be reduced.

E. C. Martin, state agricultural leader of the state of Texas Agricultural Extension Service, reports that county extension workers are encouraging both adults and 4-H club members to practice safety in connection with all farm and home operations. He points out that time lost on Texas farms from accidents can mean the difference between success and failure for the family involved. The labor shortage now faced by Texas and U. S. agricultural producers is of tremendous importance to the general well-being of the state and nation and the present situation can be further complicated if the continued high rate of farm accidents continue.

Chapter Treats 4 FFA Grads on Trip
Four of last year's FFA graduates accompanied by their sponsor, Ralph Maglaughlin, left early Wednesday on a round-about trip which will take them to New Mexico, Old Mexico and a number of interesting places in Texas.
The trip is an annual event financed by the chapter as a graduation present to its senior members. It is the chapter's way of returning to the boys money which they earned by chapter projects in their school work.

The Henry Picks, the Fishers, and the John Fettes had as visitors during the week Mr. and Mrs. Julius Gerald of California. Mrs. Gerald is remembered as the former Noema Naughton. Her family resided south of town when they lived here as neighbors to Joe Fisher Sr.

this Franco episode is the attitude of Britain and France. Both want our help in checking communism, but both for their own shabby reasons, insist that we continue to boycott Spain. Atlee's sentiment may possibly be influenced by the fact that he fought as a Loyalist in the Spanish War. France may be influenced by a hope that Americans will concentrate in France and do France's fighting again.

Confetti---

France Spain can be explained in only one way. Men in high places are too stubborn to admit that they have been taken in both by the Kremlin and by the Kremlin's propagandists over here. Injustice to Spain was just one of the many prices we had to pay in our futile effort to get along with Joe Stalin. To justify our action we advanced a conglomeration of absurd reasons harmonizing to the letter with the official communist pack of lies.

Our betrayal of Franco has been as disgraceful as our betrayal of Chiang Kai-shek. Both men have had the principle and courage to stand up and fight for humanity. Both were on our side and both were sold out by us because our leaders permitted Stalin to make saps of them. Thank goodness both are still holding their own in spite of our betrayal, patiently waiting to help us in the cause. We only hope that our leaders will come out of their trance and join with both in a solid alliance for God and mankind.
Another shabby sidelight in

Incidentally England's attitude has been equally suspicious regarding China. It wanted to recognize the communist regime, keep sending war materials to the reds and forsake Chiang altogether. Remember? A few more such incidents and we'll have cause to wonder where Britain really stands. Really, isn't it quite a puzzle? Our supposed allies play right into Stalin's hands. The men we mistreated have been most steadfast in opposing Stalin. Still the Washington fellows don't know who is on their side.

NEU, NEHIB, SICKING CONSTRUCT TERRACES

Joe Neu is constructing approximately 1 1/2 miles of channel type terraces that empty on native pasture. He is building them with a maintainer.

Tony Nehib is building three-fourths of a mile of channel terraces using the same type equipment. The terraces empty on waterways he sodded to Bermuda grass in 1949. In addition to being terrace outlets the waterways are used for permanent pasture.

Lawrence Sicking has started terraces on his farm he bought recently two miles south of Spring Creek church. He is using a three disc plow and a large farm tractor to build the terraces by the Island Method.

Era 17, Veterans 0
There was just too much Sid Felker when the Veterans played Era here last Friday. His dazzling pitching held the local boys helpless and permitted only two to get on base during the game. Meanwhile Era batters were rough on Jack Reiter's pitching. The result 17 to 0.

A curtain raiser Friday night was the Junior Scouts' tussle with the Pee Wees. It was another long first inning game, the scouts pushing over 11 runs for a comfortable margin that stood up with points to spare. The rest of it was more of a ball game and the scouts won 13-5.
