Census and Survey Sponsored by City Begins This Week

A news release sent out by State Conservationist H. N. Smith ought to help considerably in relieving the anxiety of some big city boys concerning water shortage in big reservoirs as a result of detention in small upstream reservoirs. The idea seems to be that evaporation in all those bodies of water would be enormous and would be a total loss to the big lakes.

But the SCS chief has some figures to offer, and they make the picture look altogether different. He says that the average yearly flow into Benbrook, Grapevine, Lavon and Garza-Little Elm amounts to about a million acre feet while evaporation from them amounts to about 131,300 acre feet. However evaporation on all the upstream dams now built, under construction and proposed amounts to only 13,700 acre feet annually. That means all little reservoirs combined will lose about one tenth as much water as the four big ones.

Smith also has figures on sedimentation. Protected by little reservoirs the big ones will collect less than half as much silt, more than doubling their length of usefulness. But overlooking the fact that the dams can last twice as long, let's decide which will cause the greater water loss, siltation or evaporation.

Obviously when the big lakes collect a total of 13,700 acre feet of dirt they lose as much by decreased storage capacity as the little dams do by evaporation... and from then on the water loss due to siltation becomes greater after every rain.

There's still another fact the big dam boys seem to overlook. Without detention pools upstream, rain gushes to the big reservoirs, fills them, and pours the surplus over spillways. That happens in a day or two, after which municipal use starts draining the water away. But upstream detention dams would keep water flowing in for two or three more weeks. To our way of thinking the big dam's gain because of this retarded flow again more than offsets the evaporation loss in small reservoirs.

When a person considers those very obvious facts it becomes evident that the big city Jeremiahs are far off the beam. What they need to do is think a little farther rather than listen to the prejudiced propaganda of Army and Reclamation engineers whose biggest fault is begrudging the appropriations going to the SCS men. The arguments those guys advance don't stand the test of common sense.

And of course they completely ignore the upstream flood control benefits offered by the little reservoirs. Somebody ought to remember that the people who depend on big reservoirs for their water supply also depend on the watershed's economy for some of their income. They're being mighty short sighted when they oppose projects which would eliminate our flood losses.

Getting back to the water supply problem, here's another thought. Water in the permanent pools of the reservoirs might even be considered an emergency supply for the big cities. Suppose the big lake levels ran low, as they did last year. We believe that many a lake owner could be persuaded to open his drain valve and let some of his permanent pool run down the creek. Again, the water available that way could easily exceed the volume lost by evaporation.

A small wager this column would gladly offer is that Muenster will suddenly become a lot safer town for both drivers and pedestrians. And that's not because we suddenly got acquainted with traffic regulations. In practically all cases it's because we don't want to get caught doing things that we knew all along we should not do.

Very few indeed need to be told that 30 is the speed limit, or that turning in the middle of a block is wrong, or that parking in front of a fire hydrant can cause trouble. But we all have a tendency to cheat on regulations when it's more convenient, especially when we think it makes no difference anyway. We can be ever so conscientious about other things and still we convince ourselves that it's all right to get

"Radio Hams" Prep For Disaster Work

Larry Hofbauer, joined by two boys from Gainesville, spent Saturday night with the Sherman Amateur Radio Club taking part in a contest in which other "hams" all over the nation participated.

Object of the contest was to make as many contacts as possible with emergency power. Purpose of the all night session was practice in case of a disaster. About 20 boys participated sending and receiving messages by voice and in code.

The group had three transmitters going constantly. They were located in a tent at Lake Loy.

Drivers Urged to Observe Standard Traffic Regulations

Since traffic safety is one of the principal reasons for the presence of a law enforcement officer at Muenster, Mayor Urban Endres this week urges all residents of the community to refresh their memories on traffic regulations and cooperate with Deputy Sheriff Bill Morris to improve local habits in both driving and parking.

Morris called special attention to the following regulations which are standard in all towns but are too generally disregarded here.

Speed limit throughout the city limit is 30 miles per hour except in the church and school zones where the limit is 20 miles per hour.

"U" turns are allowed only at street intersections which are not regulated by traffic light. The alternative at the traffic light is to go completely around the block or drive one block farther to make the "U" turn. Turning in the middle of any block is not allowed.

A right turn is allowed on the red light but only after a complete stop and granting right of way to traffic which might be proceeding on the green light.

Parking is not allowed in front of fire plugs or the theatre nor in street or alley intersections. The no-parking areas at the theatre and fire plugs are to be marked soon with yellow paint on the curb.

VFW Softballers Win 2, Move into Loop Top Bracket

With wins over Schlumberger and Shell the Muenster VFW team edged into the top half of the Cooke County softball league standing during the past weekend.

The first game, with Schlumberger last Thursday night, appeared to be an easy win until the first of the seventh when Schlumberger put on a rally that gave Muenster a scare. Three hits combined with two errors netted 3 runs for the close final count of 5 to 4.

Muenster scoring started in the second as Owens and Felderhoff singled and came in on Reiter's double. Two more came home in the fourth as Mages got on an error, Felderhoff singled and both scored on fumbled drive to the outfield. In the sixth Felderhoff walked and came in on Endres' single.

Hartman pitched all the way for Muenster allowing 8 hits and no walks while fanning 4. Puckett allowed 5 hits and 3 walks and struck out 3.

The game with Shell was a run-away as Muenster cashed in on 10 hits, 11 walks and 8 errors for 16 runs while holding the oilers scoreless on 5 hits, 2 walks and 2 errors.

After 1 run each in the first and second the boys cut loose in the third for 5 scores and ran wild in the sixth, pushing over 9 runs before they were finally retired.

Cain hurled all the way for Muenster and Shell used three pitchers. Mages and Walterscheid each slammed out a homer.

Next on the local boys' schedule are loop games with Callisburg and Cox-Hamon Thursday and next Tuesday and a practice game with Bowie here Friday night.

End Draws Near in 1954 Grain Harvest

The 1954 harvest season at Muenster has practically passed as history. Almost all combining is finished and the few threshers that are running have a good start on their short seasons.

Arthur Felderhoff said Wednesday that his elevator business is about ready to close. A little wheat is still coming in but what's left in the fields is mostly spring oats. Quite a number of farmers have already started their plowing.

Felderhoff said that he has handled about 65,000 bushels of wheat this season, most of it going into storage on the government loan program. And the figure, he estimates, about represents the community's total production. Early in the season, while Gainesville was accepting grain for storage some local grain went there because of the higher loan allowance. When storage space ran out, however, grain from that area came here because the loan allowance here was better than the market price there.

Felderhoff has been sending wheat to mills in Denton and Fort Worth. After deducting for hauling he allowed less than the Gainesville elevator, but his deal lasted through the season whereas Gainesville's space ran out about mid-season.

Reports of good local yields continued to the end of the season. On an average the community made about 20 bushels of wheat per acre, the crop being second only to last year's record breaker in recent years. Tests fell slightly toward the end, mostly because of larger percentages of weed and grass seed.

Lehnertz and Cain Nab 2 Suspects on Car Theft Charge

Failure to pay for gasoline at Jimmy's Service Station last Thursday led to the arrest of two teen age St. Louis boys on suspicion of car theft at Henrietta.

The chain of events which ended with the boys being turned over to Clay County officers started shortly after 10 o'clock when the two youngsters drove off without paying for the gas they had just bought.

When Jimmy Lehnertz called county officers at Gainesville to tell what had happened he was told that the car he described might be the one reported as stolen at Henrietta a short time ago. He then started toward Gainesville while officers came this way.

A short time later when Lehnertz and the officers met they decided the boys must have escaped on a side road, so Lehnertz returned to the station.

About two hours later he recognized the same boys driving west through Muenster. Dick Cain was in the station at the time and both took off in pursuit, forcing the pair to stop a short distance west of town.

They turned the suspects over to county officers who notified the Clay County officers.

Mrs. J. W. Morrison's Mother, 76, Passes

Mrs. Jane Akers, 76, of Breckenridge, died at about 5 p.m. Saturday in the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. W. Morrison north of town. She had been living in her daughter's home for the past month.

Funeral services were held in Breckenridge Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the First Baptist church with George J. Carroll and Son Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Akers was a native of Mississippi where she was born March 8, 1878.

She is survived by four daughters including Mrs. Morrison, four sons, two brothers, 19 grandchildren and 18 great-grandchildren. Mr. and Mrs. Morrison and Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Carver attended the funeral from here.

Girls of the local FHA chapter and their sponsor, Mrs. Bill Searcy, enjoyed a picnic and swim party at Gainesville Monday night.

Boys Spend Week At Camp Subiaco

Twelve local boys, accompanied by Father Christopher Paladino and three boys from Fort Worth, left here early Sunday for Subiaco, Ark., where they are spending this week at Camp Subiaco.

The camp, for boys aged eight to fourteen, furnishes a full program of sun and fun including swimming, games, trips to the mountains and lakes in the vicinity, evening movies and other activity.

Boys from here making the trip are Eugene Schoech, Charles Herr, Donald Swirczynski, Eddie Schmitt, Gilbert Knabe, Jimmy Schumacher, William Fisher, Gerald and Clifford Pels, Jimmy Gehrig, Charles Bayer and Pat Hess.

Fred Hoedebeck accompanied the group to spend the week with his son, Father Paul at the abbey where Mrs. Hoedebeck is spending a few weeks sewing for the padres.

State SCS Office Reveals Low Bids On Reservoir Jobs

Bayou Construction company of Houston and Roland L. Scherer of Weatherford were the low bidders for construction of the first two detention reservoirs on the Elm watershed, according to a report received late last week from state SCS headquarters by the supervisors of the Upper Elm-Red soil conservation district.

Contracts for the construction are due to be let before the end of this month, provided the customary SCS checkup reveals that the successful applicants have the equipment and financial resources to handle the job. A Department of Agriculture regulation requires an applicant be thoroughly investigated before he is permitted to contract for one of the detention dams.

Bids for the two construction jobs were opened at the state SCS headquarters in Temple on June 14.

The Houston firm's bid was $45,436.26 for building the reservoir on Site No. 1, which is on the Alex Lutkenhaus farm located on Copeland Creek in Montague County. The earthen fill in the dam involves 112,000 cubic yards.

The Weatherford contractor submitted the low bid for Site No. 2, which is located on the W. W. Grant Estate on Waller Creek southeast of Saint Jo. The earthen fill for this dam involves 126,000 cubic yards and the bid was $36,600.

Eddie Krahl Buys Texaco Gas Station

Muenster's Texaco Station is under new ownership and management since the past weekend when Al Eberhart sold out to Eddie Krahl.

Eberhart is re-opening the station across the overpass, selling Bell gasoline. He also intends to build a barbecue pit and set up picnic tables under the trees adjoining the station.

Krahl, a native of Gainesville, worked at the F. E. Schmitz Motor Co. and Leo Haverkamp Well Service since his discharge from the army in November 1952. He is married to the former Margie Eberhart of Muenster. He and his wife moved to Muenster last week.

NEWS OF SICK AND INJURED

Sister Genevieve was dismissed from St Paul's Hospital Saturday. Mrs. Ben Seyler drove to Dallas to bring her back to Muenster.

Frank Klement is a patient at Gainesville Sanitarium for treatment.

A. W. Van was admitted to M&S Hospital during the week-end for medical care.

Mrs. J. J. Arendt of Lindsay entered Gainesville Sanitarium as a patient during the weekend.

Bezner Motor Co. Sells and Leases To Tuggle, Yosten

The 21 year career of one of Muenster's most prominent business houses comes to an end Thursday afternoon as the Lambert Bezner Motor Company closes its doors and begins taking inventory preparatory to transfer of the business to Aubrey Tuggle and Henry Yosten.

The doors of the place will remain closed until July 1 when Tuggle and Yosten will open as an automotive repair shop and used car dealership. They will not continue the Chrysler-Plymouth dealership. It was cancelled out preparatory to this change earlier this month.

Tuggle and Yosten will take over the rest of the business practically as it is. They are leasing the building and equipment and buying the parts and accessories. They will continue the Phillips line of petroleum products and will take over the present stock of new and used cars.

As is generally understood to people of this area, Lambert Bezner Motor Company is actually a continuation of Ben Seyler Motor Company which was founded in 1933. When Seyler died in 1952 the firm remained in the family but the name was officially changed to meet the Chrysler-Plymouth dealership requirements. Bezner has been managing the business in addition to his work at the First State Bank in Gainesville.

Tuggle and Yosten both enter their new venture with many years of experience in auto repair work. Tuggle has worked in Seyler's service department since 1941 and Yosten has spent about as many years on auto repair and oil field work. At this time he is doing auto repair work for Leo J. Haverkamp Well Service.

Attack Is Fatal to Mrs. Rawley's Father

Alex Jensen, 69, of Coolidge, Texas, father of Mrs. Walter Rawley, died Thursday morning, June 17, in a Mexia hospital following a heart attack ten days earlier.

Funeral services were held Friday at six p.m. at the Methodist church in Coolidge and burial was there.

Jensen, a farmer and mink raiser, spent his entire lifetime at Coolidge.

He is survived by his wife, one daughter Mrs. Rawley, one son of Dallas and three grandchildren, Kiar, Gina and Mac Rawley.

Pointers Score in Extra Inning to Nip Muenster Boys 8-7

A rallying Pilot Point nine slipped up from behind and nosed out Muenster's Schoolboys for an 8-7 count on the Pilot Point diamond Sunday afternoon.

All went well early in the game as Muenster seemingly salted the win away with a 4 run lead before the Pointers scratched. But from there on the home team did more scoring and moved up to tie the count by the end of the seventh. The extra inning decided it. Muenster went scoreless and Pilot Point brought in the winner.

Willie Walterscheid pitched seven innings for Muenster and Henscheid relieved him in the extra inning.

The boys' next game is with Krum Sunday afternoon at 2:30 on the local field.

Allan Hoffman and his mother, Mrs. John Hoffman, have returned from a two-week vacation trip to Rosanky, Smithville, Houston, Galveston and San Antonio where they visited relatives and went sight-seeing.

Rev. Hubert Neu of Dallas, cousin of the groom, read the double ring service and officiated at the nuptial mass at 5 o'clock.

Mr. Otto gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a wedding gown of lace and net over satin designed with a strapless shirred net bodice topped with a long sleeved lace bolero; and full skirt of net with a lace plenum. The elbow length veil was edged with lace and she carried a silver and crystal rosary and an orchid surrounded by valley lilies.

WHERE TRADE WON'T AID

WASHINGTON, D.C.—General Albert Wedemeyer, author of the famed "lost" Wedemeyer Report on China, has added his voice to that of Bernard Baruch in agreeing with Spain's Generalissimo Franco that we are losing, not winning, the cold war with Russian Communism.

The Franco views were given to Roy Howard, head of the Scripps-Howard newspapers, in an interview with the Spanish dictator in Madrid, and presented by Mr. Howard in his papers. The Generalissimo pointed out the Soviet need of imports, and declared that a firm alliance of the anti-communist nations of both East and West could "strike at the Achilles heel of Communism" by an absolute embargo of all goods to Russia and her satellites. As it is, he said, confusion, disunity—especially among the "Big Three"—and lack of purpose are bringing the free world closer to defeat.

In endorsing Franco's idea of a strict and complete embargo, General Wedemeyer went even further and declared in favor of severing diplomatic relations as well between the US and Russia. Mr. Baruch pointed out anew the familiar fact that in war, hot or cold, ALL goods are strategic, and declared: "We will not win the cold war until we put the desire for peace above the desire for profit of every kind."

All of this brings to mind a revealing article in The Freeman magazine on Russian commercial blandishments, such as our British cousins are currently falling for. Author Leo Dudin, well-known analyst on the Soviet world, reminds us that with Russia, trade is not commerce, but "political warfare". He cites the record to show that Soviet exports, notably in luxury items such as caviar and furs, reached their peak from 1929 to 1933 in hopes their low prices would turn depression into chaos, possibly revolution by millions of unemployed.

As times improved in the West, Russian imports dwindled to an all-time low. Since 1953, Russia has been pushing barter sales of petroleum, of which she is acutely short, with France, Finland, Argentina and Iceland. The purpose is to make trouble for the US, to encourage French resistance to NATO and EDC. It is also a handy way, says Mr. Dudin, "to send new cadres of spies disguised as trade agents to these countries".

While we dread, from day to day, that we shall find ourselves sucked into another Korea in Indo-China, the British are planning to send a trade mission to Red China, and to receive one from Peiping. And to make it worse, our own foreign aid chief, Harold Stassen, the Republican Harry Hopkins, thinks more trade with Russia would be just dandy!

PRECIOUS POUNDS

WASHINGTON D. C.—One of our enterprising soap-makers believes the American housewife is worth her weight in gold—with which we hasten to agree.

But the soap people are going to prove it—by backing up their sentiments with the folding equivalent of that yellow stuff at Fort Knox—and at the going rate of $510.40 per pound!

There will be a contest with the usual gimmick of asking the ladies to tell them—in 25 words or less—why they prefer Product A over Product B, or vice-versa. But the prize makes all the difference. If the top winner weighs in at 90 pounds, she'll collect $45,936.00. But, if she pulls the scale down to 190, her reward will be $96,976.00!

The purpose of these soap contests, of course, is to sell soap. But here is one that we predict will boom the chocolate nut sundae market, the restaurant business, the grocery stores and butcher shops. It will put the pie foundries on three shifts, restore the fast-fading art of cake baking, and may even take care of that butter surplus.

It ought to be good for the dry goods trade too, for the style designers might as well brace themselves for the "new silhouette" which will require not only new clothes, but more goods to make them.

And if this is what it takes to persuade the girls that it's no longer smart to be undernourished, we shall all be indebted to these soap people for a better stronger America. No fooling!

TOO LONG A RULE!

The Republic of France, which has had troubles in plenty, furnishes an unhappy example of what prolonged Government control can and does do.

Rent control was slapped on French housing during the First World War, and it's been on ever since. Before that time, a Frenchman paid about 16 per cent of his income for housing. After the Second World War the proportion dropped almost to one per cent. Today it is still only about five per cent, after Government-decreed increases.

In such an unprofitable situation, French builders stopped building. As a consequence—and with the average house at least 125 years old—one out of every five citizens in Paris lives in a crumbling, overcrowded dwelling. Outside Paris it is even worse. No modern country houses its citizens so miserably—but Government rent control stays on!

Humility is Not Old-Fashioned

By Reverend Lawrence J. Riley

ON A MOUNTAIN SIDE in Galilee Christ answered a modern problem. "Blessed are the poor in spirit." It was not a panegyric of pauperism. Rather, it was a castigation of pride and a canonization of humility.

The fundamental viciousness of pride lies in the fact that the proud man makes himself his first beginning and his last end. He refuses to acknowledge his dependence upon God. He enshrines himself as an idol to be venerated, and burns before himself the incense of worship.

THE PROUD MAN attributes to himself his talents and his endowments. In his self-sufficiency and conceit he cries out, "I will live my own life." This is but a discordant echoing of Lucifer's blasphemy, "I will not serve."

Modern man so often disregards God, and doubts God, and denies God, and rejects God because he dreams of substituting himself for God. This pride is decaying modern society. By placing his trust solely in the things of time, by feeding upon material husks, a man starves his spiritual nature. And so he becomes more and more unlike God. He stains and defiles the image of God within himself.

WE KNOW THAT GOD does not simply desert the proud, or forsake the proud, or abandon the proud. Rather, as Holy Scripture says, "God resists the proud." For, "I am the Lord, this is My name; I will not give My glory to another."

Opposed to pride is humility. Humility is not weakness and falsehood, but power and truth. It is not self-abasement, but rather self-forgetfulness. It is not a prying into our souls to analyze how mean we are, but rather a gazing upon God to discover how Divine-like we can become.

MANY CONSIDER humility to be cowardice and timidity—the instability of pallid and colorless personalities. Yet, of all the virtues practiced by Jesus Christ, the one He singled out for our imitation was humility. "Learn of me, for I am meek and humble of heart."

For the individual and for society there is but one hope—return to God. And strangely enough, what God promises is this: that if a man serves Him in humility of heart and poverty of spirit, he will become like God. As St. Peter said, "He has granted us the very great and precious promises so that through them you may become partakers of the divine nature."

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

No Sale!

Right in front of Granny White's beautiful old house on Maple Avenue there's a brand-new sign: "Antiques. Inquire Within."

Now—don't get excited. Granny explained it all the other night—after we settled down in her parlor, me with my temperate beer, Granny with her tea.

I asked her if she was really going in the antique business. "Oh, no," says Granny, "I wouldn't sell anything. I put that sign up so folks would come in and talk—and look around. If they insist on a price, I tell them some outrageous figure! I guess I just like people," she said.

From where I sit Granny can be excused for her little ruse. She may be in her eighties, but her mind is young—and open. She's the kind of person who's made this town so wonderful. Granny not only likes people—but she respects them and their preferences and opinions. Come to think of it, "liking" and "respecting" mean much the same thing, don't they?

Proper Handling of Milk is Important

AUSTIN—Of all the kinds of food on the market today, there is none more important than milk, declares Dr. Henry A. Holle, State Health Officer. Milk is the first food of infants and one for which there is no fully satisfactory substitute. It contains a large amount of protein, also calcium, phosphorous and some but not all of the necessary vitamins.

The only drawback to milk is that it is highly susceptible to contamination and if it is contaminated, disease germs grow readily in it. Dr. Holle says that in order to keep milk safe for human consumption milk sanitarians of local and state health departments help Texas milk producers set up standards of cleanliness and freedom from disease organisms. Many cities in the state have adopted the Standard Milk Ordinance sponsored by the Texas State Department of Health. This ordinance requires that milk be graded on the basis of sanitation in production and handling and the bacterial count before it is put on the market. Several Texas cities require that all milk sold must be pasteurized.

Protection from contaminated milk starts on the dairy farm. The barn is a food factory and must be kept clean and free from flies. All utensils must be carefully washed and sterilized immediately after use and stored in a clean place free from dust and flies. Those working in a dairy must practice good personal hygiene.

Grade A pasteurized milk is the best for general use, in view of cost, food value, and freedom from disease producing germs. The Texas State Health Department joins in observance of June as Dairy Month and urges that consumers use only Grade A pasteurized milk.

AMERICA MUST REMEMBER ITS DEPENDENCE UPON GOD

WASHINGTON—In an address to Congress Rep. Rabaut recalled that Abraham Lincoln said, "We have been preserved these many years in peace and prosperity. We have grown in numbers, wealth, and power as no other nation has ever grown; but we have forgotten God. We have forgotten the Gracious Hand that preserved us in peace, and multiplied and enriched and strengthened us."

"It would seem," the Congressman continued, "that in view of the manner in which our country has been catapulted into the role of leadership of the free world . . . in the face of the long-continued and ever increasing attacks upon us by the forces of godlessness and atheism we need constantly to be reminded of our dependence upon God and of our faith in His support. We need always be aware, as were our founding fathers, that there is a Supreme Being Who watches over the destinies of man and nations." Rep. Rabaut was speaking in behalf of a bill he has introduced to permit post offices to cancel stamps with the words "Pray For Peace."

AS GENERAL ELECTRIC SEES IT

Few people realize how rapidly America's economy is growing

General Electric is backing its belief in a long-term period of industrial growth by the biggest building program in its history, spending more than a billion dollars since 1946

Anyone who spreads fears that we may be facing another major depression ignores completely how much America has changed since the 1930's.

First G.E. refrigerator helped create 100,000 jobs

Here are just two examples of what has happened.

The first electric refrigerator with a sealed-in mechanism was introduced by General Electric in 1926, and its production in that year required only a few hundred people. Today, refrigerators and freezers make up a billion-dollar business which employs more than 100,000 men and women in manufacturing, plus additional thousands in retailing and distribution. The freezer itself has made possible another whole

Today's new products and new industries . . .

In 1939, most of us knew electronics only as tubes in our radio, and the entire industry sold 230 million dollars' worth of equipment. Electronics is now a 4 1/4-billion-dollar business, and some experts predict it will grow to 20 billions in the 1960's. General Electric, just one producer, now has electronic-equipment factories in 13 different parts of the country and has stepped up its payroll in this field to 27,000 in just 15 years.

This trend of expansion is not slowing down. It's rapidly accelerating.

Many exciting new industries are predictable as we learn how to make full use of atomic energy. Another important new field will be electronic machinery that will make work easier, production swifter. Our scientists are experimenting with metal crystals 50 times stronger than any metals we now know. New and better home appliances are on the way. More uses for the gas turbine are coming out of jet-engine experiments.

... will continue to keep America's economy expanding

These are only a few of the things General Electric is interested in, and other companies, of course, are hard at work on equally promising projects.

Our belief in a long-term period of industrial growth is not wishful speculation. It's being backed by the greatest building program America has ever seen. Last year, the nation's industries spent 28 billion, 400 million dollars for new plant and equipment; this year, they will spend only slightly less. Our own investment since 1946 has already reached more than a billion dollars. In 1954, a record 175 million dollars will be invested in new plant facilities by G.E., 24% more than last year.

This is the kind of confidence we have in the country's future.

Clerk: No, it's an educational toy, especially designed to adjust a child to become an expert government-employee. Any way he puts it together, it's wrong."

I'm just back from shopping—but dinner's piping hot and ready to serve. With an electric range, you, too, can perform the same magic. All you do is put food in before you leave, set the controls, and forget it! Your electric range turns itself on and off automatically. Whether you're pressed for time or not, nothing's nicer to come home to than an electric range. Electric cooking costs so little—less than a penny a person per meal.

Soil Conservation Notes

Farmers cooperating with the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation District are continuing to do their share in applying soil conservation practices. In so doing they are adding to their own profits as well as preserving the bread basket of the country.

Now is the time to plant summer legumes on land that has been in grain. This should be done at the very earliest date. The summer legume on nearly all types of soil in this area is cowpeas of various varieties.

Chinese Red Peas prove good following grain harvest. These peas can be planted with a regular grain drill at the rate of 30 to 40 pounds per acre on a well prepared seed bed. The seed should be properly inoculated and a minimum of 200 pounds of 20 per cent superphosphate fertilizer or its equivalent should be applied in the soil. These peas provide a cover to the soil during the hot months preceding grain planting. They add nitrogen and much needed organic matter to the soil, and at the same time help control soil temperature. They are excellent in preventing erosion and improving soil condition.

Farmers of the Muenster unit who have recently planted Cowpeas are Eugene Klement 20 acres, Levi Busby 5 acres, H. J.

Fuhrman 5 acres, J. P. Embry 30 acres and H. Gibson 11 acres.

Another outstanding practice in this section is growing deep rooted sweet clovers, which are planted early in Spring months. They also add organic matter to the soil. At the same time the soil is conditioned so as to help prevent water run off and make farming operations easier. In order to plant these precious legumes a seed source is needed. This seed harvest is now beginning.

Farmers of the Muenster unit planning to combine Madrid Sweet Clover are: Urban Rohmer 12 acres, Walter Klement 9 acres, Wilfred Reiter 7 acres, Leon Young 20 acres, A. E. Leslie 10 acres, J. H. Embry 25 acres, B. C. Redman 8 acres, Joe Knauf 20 acres, H. D. Fields 20 acres, Ollie Trubench 35 acres, J. H. Fields 20 acres and Phillips Bros. 30 acres.

J. A. Dennison has 7 acres of Biennial White clover seed and 10 acres of Rye grass seed to harvest. Al Walter has sweet clover and also vetch seed to harvest. By leaving the residue on the ground for mulch, maximum benefits are obtained.

Fish from the Fish and Wildlife Service have recently been delivered to the following co-operators: Nig Wilson, Earl Walterscheid, Edgar Klement, Ray Klement, John Kleiss, Frank Bayer, W. H. Endres, Joe Wimmer, John A. Klement, J. W. Fleitman, Ike Fulton, Fred Payne and Joe Hoenig.

No channel cat were available on this delivery. Cooperators who ordered cat fish may expect to receive their fish on the fall delivery.

OCEAN CALLED NEXT GREAT FRONTIER

"Farming the ocean" may be agriculture's next project. All the resources of the land can be found in or under the seas, says the magazine Business Week, in an article which describes the oceans as "the next great frontier."

"The sea has a triple treasure: food in the form of fish and other marine animals and vegetation, some 40 minerals, and the wherewithal to produce power," the magazine emphasizes.

Studying Better Methods
Scientists and other research workers have joined forces to determine just what the seas can produce. They are studying better methods of fishing, and trying to make better use of fish now largely wasted, as well as experimenting with the raising of ocean fish under controlled conditions.

"Their efforts are beginning to pay out," the article says. "We may soon find ourselves eating marine vegetables and using them in other ways far more than we do today."

"Oil from under the sea is becoming an important resource. Manganese, uranium, and other minerals may in the future be taken from the oceans along with magnesium and bromine, which are produced chiefly from sea water. Other experiments are under way to produce power from temperature differences in the oceans."

Local News BRIEFS

Judy Trubenbach and her mother Mrs. Alois Trubenbach left here Wednesday evening for Detroit where on Friday they'll join a pilgrimage to Canada. It's principally a Marian Year pilgrimage to Three Rivers but for Judy and her mother it will extend to include a visit to the shrine of St. Anne de Beaupre where they visited last summer.

Mrs. John Myrick and infant son were dismissed from the Muenster clinic Wednesday evening, and along with Carol, are spending some time with Mrs. Myrick's mother in Gainesville. John has gone back to Austin to attend summer school and his family will join him later.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Luebbert and daughters Carol and Henriette of Fort Worth spent Sunday with her mother, Mrs. Henry Stelzer and Mr. Stelzer and her uncle and aunt, the Bill Stelzers. The Mmes. Stelzer prepared a fried chicken and barbecued beef dinner and the three families had dinner together. The day marked the fourth year of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stelzer's marriage. Henriette and Carol remained here for a several weeks' visit with their grandmother and aunt.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bellville and daughter Ronda, 11, are new residents in Muenster. He is assistant manager at the cheese factory. The family moved here from Gainesville and are occupying the house the Bill Searcys vacated when they moved into their new home north of the public school.

A group of American tourists were being guided through an ancient castle in Europe. "This place," they were told, "is 600 years old. Not a stone in it has been touched, nothing altered, nothing replaced in all these years." "Well," said one woman drily, "they must have the same landlord I have."

Marie Neusch and Victor Koelzer Wed At Lindsay Tuesday

Miss Marie Neusch and Victor Koelzer were married Tuesday morning in Saint Peter's church at Lindsay with Rev. Conrad Herda, pastor, officiating at the double ring ceremony and nuptial high mass.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo J. Neusch of Lindsay and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Koelzer of Muenster.

Baskets of seasonal flowers and greenery adorned the altar and members of the church choir furnished the wedding music.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a dress of imported Chantilly lace fashioned over satin with a tight basque bodice buttoned down the front and with long pointed sleeves. The bouffant skirt was floor length. A pill box headdress held her veil and she carried pink roses and stephanotis.

Miss Emma Neusch of Fort Worth was her sister's maid of honor and Miss Veronica Koelzer, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid. Their dresses, identical in design, were of blue and pink tulle, respectively, over taffeta. Both wore matching mitts and carried bouquets of carnations in shades of pink and blue, respectively.

Wilfred Koelzer and Lawrence Neusch, brothers of the couple, attended the groom, and Ivan Koelzer and Albert Zimmerer were ushers.

Mr. and Mrs. Neusch were hosts in the Lindsay Hall at 4:30 for a reception and buffet supper. Misses Alice Koelzer and Bertha Neusch, presiding at the bride's book, registered 150 guests.

When the couple left on a wedding trip, not revealing their destination, Mrs. Koelzer was wearing a maize linen suit with white accessories. When they return they will make their home in Muenster.

The bride attended St. Peter's school at Lindsay and the groom attended Sacred Heart school at Muenster. He served in the army two years with one year of duty in Germany and received his discharge in January. He is employed at the Muenster cheese factory.

MARIE NEUSCH HONORED AT PRE-NUPTIAL PARTY

Miss Marie Neusch who was married to Victor Koelzer Tuesday was honor guest at a pre-nuptial party and miscellaneous shower Sunday evening with a trio of hostesses entertained in the home of Mrs. Johnny Zimmerer.

Hostesses Beatrice Zimmerer, Bertha Neusch and Veronica Koelzer presented a white carnation corsage to the honoree and Beatrice entertained with piano and accordion selections before Marie opened and displayed her gifts.

Decorations in the party rooms and on the refreshment table carried out the bride-elect's colors of white, pink and blue. Flowers used were pink roses, white glads and blue larkspur.

by with a few things when we drive.

Well, from now on it's going to be different. Just being aware that we may be noticed will make us more law abiding drivers.

And therein lies the real merit of having an officer on duty. His mere presence will be a good influence persuading us normal law abiding citizens not to cheat on the rules. He's a good guy to have around even though he never has to lift a hand enforcing the law. In fact, that's how we want it to be. The less a cop has to do the better the town.

Then there was the man who appeared in a newspaper office to place an ad offering $500 for the return of his wife's pet cat.

"That's an awful price for a cat," the clerk commented. "Not for this one," the man snapped. "I drowned it."

Try Garden Hose for Sprinkling Clothes

COLLEGE STATION—A garden hose can wash away the chore of hand sprinkling starched clothes on busy laundry days.

Without even gathering the clothes from the line, the home-maker sets the nozzle of the hose on a very fine spray and gently plays the water on the starched clothes.

Minnie Bell, home management specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, advises the housewife to sprinkle clothes on one side only when she uses the garden-hose technique. All of the garment will absorb moisture when it is folded awaiting ironing.

As the sprinkled clothes are removed from the line, they should be folded and placed in a plastic bag-ready for ironing.
