Mrs. F. J. Yosten Wins Flower Show Sweepstakes Title

Mrs. F. J. Yosten was sweepstakes winner at the Civic League and Garden Club's Spring Flower Show Sunday, gathering up a total of six blue and four red ribbons. Mrs. T. S. Myrick and Mrs. Yosten tied for blue ribbon exhibits and red ribbons were counted.

More than 150 persons viewed the exhibits in the public school lunch room between the hours of 4 and 9 p.m.

Dozens of attractive arrangements were on display in each of the sections and classes. Vieing with these exhibits for visitor-interest were a wild flower display, a soil conservation exhibit and picture boxes depicting national holidays.

The show was themed "Flowers on Parade" and was arranged in a garden setting centered with a huge blue sun umbrella and garden furniture.

Out of town judges Mmes. S. D. Meador and J. H. Lauderdale of Saint Jo and Mrs. Wayne Morris of Gainesville, tagged entries with blue ribbons for first place, red for second, white for third, and green for honorable mention.

Entries were judged on the standard system with the exception of picture boxes and specimens which judged by the point of merit system.

The picture boxes were especially attractive dramatizing national holidays and included May Day, Japanese Holiday, Washington's Birthday, Thanksgiving, Christmas and Easter.

In the iris division Mrs. Joe Luke showed several of the newer varieties including the Rocket, Golden Fleece, Prairie Sunset, and Great Lakes which she grows. They were not entered for competition.

The unusual display of wild flowers consisted of more than 50 plants that grow in this area. They were gathered and processed by Mrs. Lee Toothaker.

Emmitt Yoder and his personnel of the local soil conservation service arranged an interesting and educational conservation exhibit headed with the following words spoken by Senator John Ingalls in 1872: "Grass is the forgiveness of nature . . . her constant benediction. It yields no fruit in earth or air, and yet should its harvest fail for a single year, famine would depopulate the world."

Grasses and legumes, grown for conservation purposes in this area, were on display and included Little and Big Bluestem, KR Bluestem, Indian, Brome, wild rye and Johnson grass, vetch, alfalfa and sweet clover.

SH Juniors Treat Seniors at Banquet

Senior class members of Sacred Heart High were honored guests of the juniors Sunday night at the school's annual junior-senior banquet in the parish lunch room. The 23 seniors, their parents, the juniors, and special guests including Fathers Louis Deuster, Patrick Hannon and Joseph Weinzapfel brought attendance at the event to eighty-five.

"Moonlight and Roses," theme at this year's banquet, was emphasized in decorations throughout the dining hall. A huge half moon, suspended from the ceiling, held a vantage spot and specially placed lighting produced "moonlight" for the scene. Red roses, and blue and silver nut cups adorned the tables. Senior class motto "Don't Equal It—Better It!" was prominently displayed in blue and silver.

Father Patrick was the banquet speaker, and Theresa Mae Felderhoff, junior class president, emceed the program. She also extended welcome after which Clara Flusche, senior class president, responded.

Musical selections included "Moonlight and Roses" by a guitar quartet consisting of Denis Hofbauer, Carl Walterscheid, Daniel Owen and Larry Hennigan, two vocal selections by senior girls accompanied by Carrie Ann Gehrig, pianist, and a piano number by Allan Dale Eberhart. Also on the program was a reading by Rosina Hess and Frances Knabe.

The fried chicken menu was prepared by mothers of the sophomores and served by the sophomore class.

Band Units Win 2 Firsts, 1 Second at Regional Meeting

Muenster entries were awarded two top ratings and one second rating in the sectional band contests held in connection with the annual regional band meet at Denton on April 24 and May 1. Sectional events were held last Saturday and the complete band will play this week.

Dan Hamric was given a first place rating on his trumpet solo and Peggy Hudspeth was given the same rating on her baton twirling.

The saxophone quartet, consisting of Earline Walterscheid, Gretchen Hellman, Margaret Milner and LuRena Wolf, just missed the first place rating by rushing through its number. The judges' report stated that notes were true and interpretation was good but the piece should have been played more slowly.

Bands and sections are not competitively judged at the meet but are rated according to a standard of excellence. The ratings are divided into five classifications.

Era Groups Hits, Wallops MHS 12-5

A favorable grouping of hits errors and walks gave Era a long margin over Muenster on the score sheet Friday afternoon in spite of a small advantage in those factors. Era got 12 runs on 10 hits, 6 walks and 5 errors whereas Muenster got only 5 runs on 7 hits, 5 walks and 4 errors.

That loss put MHS next to the cellar in district standing with a record of two losses and one win. Saint Jo, with three straight losses is at the bottom.

The other four teams, Era, Sanger, Callisburg and Valley View, are tied for the loop lead with two wins and one loss each.

Next on Muenster's schedule is a game at Saint Jo Friday afternoon at 1:30. It will decide whether Muenster drops to the bottom of the list with Saint Jo or joins two other teams with a 2 and 2 standing.

The American Way

ARE WE OUTSMARTING OURSELVES

By DeWitt Emery

Are we outsmarting ourselves? Has the atom bomb, for example, solved more problems than it created?

Another example — insects. Someone not too many years ago came up with DDT and there was much rejoicing over our 'having insects licked. All we had to do was spray with DDT and they died, died like flies. But did they? The weaklings died, but the largest and strongest didn't, and their off-spring are now bigger and stronger, heartier than ever. Sure a new stronger insecticide will kill the weaker of the present super breed, but will it exterminate them, or will another turn of the cycle give us a new crop of still bigger and still stronger insects?

Then there are the wonder drugs. Surely they are a great blessing to mankind. Certainly they have been to me personally. I've taken at least a ton of them during the past two years. I probably wouldn't be here today if these drugs had not been available. But just the other day I heard a group of doctors discussing the wonder drugs and they were very much concerned that they are being relied on too much; are being too widely prescribed for minor ills so that when the real killer strikes, the wonder drug will have lost its effectiveness so far as that individual is concerned. Are we outsmarting ourselves?

Another great blessing to all of us is the automobile, but even so, there are times when one wonders if it has solved more problems than it created; if it wouldn't after all be better to go back to the horse and buggy. These thoughts are most apt to occur on a hot Sunday afternoon in August when one is trying to get back to his home in any of our larger or medium sized cities. Recently it took me thirty-three minutes to drive six blocks in the loop in Chicago. Old Dobbin in his day could have traveled the same distance in five minutes or less.

In the beginning, only a very few could afford to own an automobile, and they couldn't use their cars very much because they were forever breaking down, and when they did run, there wasn't such a thing as a good road for them to use in going any-

The Atom Age Needs Christian Principles

By Dr. Vincent Edward Smith

SCIENCE AND RELIGION can work harmoniously together. Science develops matter in the service of man. Religion develops man in the service of God.

There is a rich, positive value in science, for science enables men to become masters of nature. Science enables men to construct whatever they need to make their material lives more comfortable, more convenient, and more conducive to their human dignity and to their divine destiny.

THOUGH NOT DIRECTLY perfecting the inner man, science eases his outer life, so that his inner nature can develop the more freely and fully. But there is one thing that science cannot give men. It does not give the uncontrollable and immeasurable truths that govern men's minds. Christianity gives these truths.

We must square what is positive in science with well established truths known by other means. We must integrate science within a full perspective, divine as well as human. Then will the science, which man's genius has carved out, serve the cause of truth, the cause of man, and hence the cause of science itself. SCIENCE FITS IN with the organic Christian culture of the past and with the eternal Christian principles. The task of Christian culture, which is really our western culture, is to bring science to the service of man's destiny. It is not an easy task. It demands hard, patient labor. But upon its achievement in this, the atomic age, there hangs in the balance the future of all our civilization.

Already in the infancy of the atomic age, it is quite apparent that science alone cannot protect man. There is an immediate need for Christian principles to control the power which modern science has lavished on modern man.

OUR TEACHERS and our writers and our statesmen must emphasize that even political control of atomic power will not, in the final count, be enough.

The atom bomb could be controlled by a Christian conscience, because Christian conscience is controlled by God's truth. We need a Christian conscience. A Christian conscience can guide scientists and guard society.

WITH CHRISTIANITY and science pooling their resources, civilization in its spiritual and material totality can advance beyond measure.

place. Gradually this changed over the years, an ever-increasing number of people were able to buy automobiles, and as cars became more numerous the taxpayers—the motorist has always paid more than his share of taxes — put up an ever-increasing amount of money to build highways, and later super highways.

Even so, however, particularly since the end of World War II, highway construction has fallen way behind the production of automobiles, until today the condition of the highways throughout this country is a national disgrace. Here and there, in any section of the country, one finds a really good stretch of highway, but more often than not it is preceded by a rough, narrow road which should have been widened and rebuilt years ago, and is followed by more of the same old road.

I've heard it said that there ought to be a law to prevent Detroit from breeding cars like flies. Maybe so, but if we ever got such a law there wouldn't then be any traffic problem. In the first place, no one would be going anywhere; and in the second place, no one except the commissars would have money enough to buy a car.

I heard Will Rogers say one time that he could solve the traffic problem overnight. His solution was to pass a law providing "that no one who didn't have any business going where they were going couldn't go there."

There is a very simple solution to the highway problem. It is for the federal government to return to the states all of the gasoline taxes it collects. If this was done, it would provide funds for a really gigantic highway construction program in every state in the union. An important by-product would be the creation of literally millions of jobs.

Maybe, if those of us who drive automobiles every day went to work on it, we could persuade Congress to take action "right quick." What has been done so far at both the state and federal level is grossly inadequate. I know about highways. I have just returned from a 4,700 mile drive through ten states.

The frequently heard statement that nobody believes in miracles these days is in error. Millions of people not only believe in miracles, but they expect the candidates they vote into office to put them into effect as promised.

Trouble is like an ugly dog—looks worse coming than going.

LOYALTY DAY

Loyalty Day, celebrated each year on May 1, was originated several decades ago by members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars along the eastern seaboard as a counter to the annual May Day demonstrations of Communists—loyalty as opposed to disloyalty.

The idea caught on, grew and spread until in 1950 the observance was inaugurated by the VFW on a nationwide basis, not only as a successful counter to Communism but to afford an opportunity on a specific day each year when all loyal Americans could stand up and be counted.

Earl Robison, chairman of arrangements, disclosed that the day's program will begin at 10:15 with a special morning message by Rev. Stanley Daniels, pastor, and will be followed by a basket dinner at noon.

Other talks, entertainment and the renewing of old acquaintances will fill the afternoon. Everyone is invited to attend and bring a basket lunch.

Homemaking Tip? Do a Better Job While Being Lazy

COLLEGE STATION—Be lazy, and do a better job, say homemaking experts. Leave anything undone that you can, get someone else to do it, or don't do it all.

Of course, experts call it "smart lazy" or good management.

Relax while you ask yourself three questions. (1) What can you leave undone? (2) What can you get someone else to do? (3) Does the job have to be done at all?

Knowing what to leave undone, as well as what to do, makes the load lighter, says Minnie Bell, Home Management Specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Consider what you can leave undone. If you don't want to bend, stoop, stretch or reach too far, THINK, and you can avoid it. Store things within easy reach. Hang pots and pans on hooks.

Let someone else or something else do the job. Let dishes dry themselves.

Does the job have to be done at all? You don't need to iron sheets, towels, cup towels, socks, knitted underwear.

Since some things do have to be done, so leave out all the steps possible. Use a tray or utility table to carry dishes and food to and from table. Store all cleaning supplies in a basket so one trip takes them from room to room.

Store together things that are used together. Sit when you sprinkle, iron, or prepare food.

"Has your husband changed much in the years you've been married," asked one wife of another.

"No," was the reply, "but he thinks he has. He's always talking about what a fool he used to be."

THE INNER MAN
By Estelle McConnel

He says "I seen" and "I have saw."
"To boil" comes out "to bile."
But when someone needs a helping hand
He is there with a cheery smile.
He wears old clothes and a battered hat,
He has no cash to spend.
But he'll walk four miles, in a blinding rain
Just to comfort and help a friend.
Don't judge him by the clothes he wears,
Or the way his words are said.
If you would truly know a man
Look into his heart instead.

Soil Conservation Notes

"In the Spring a young man's fancy..."

Observers of activity in the Upper Elm-Red District would finish the quotation with "seriously turns to thoughts of conservation."

Spring weather has landowners of the district spending every possible moment of their time on jobs that will preserve their precious top lands and keep the soil they love to till at home.

Observations this week:

Ollie Trubenbach has seeded a one hundred foot wide strip to King Ranch Bluestem on his farm near Myra. This broad flat strip which follows a natural drain will be used for a protective outlet for terrace water after the grass is well established.

E. Newby has also planted a wide strip of KR along a drain on the farm he operates for Mrs. Florence Craig at Bulcher. Hill water running down the unprotected drain has created a gully that threatens to cut the field in two. As soon as the grass is established small spreader dams can be put in to stop the overflow that is gnawing away at the field. Water from these dams will spill on the grassed waterway so that no further erosion will occur. The grass strip will also serve as a safe outlet for diversion terraces that will divert hill water from the cultivated land.

Al Wiesman has seeded a natural drain to KR. After the grass has made a good cover on the drain Al plans to construct terraces to outlet on this waterway.

T. E. Giles of Saint Jo has planted six acres of King Ranch Bluestem in an old field area. This grass will make excellent grazing or hay and will also stop soil losses along a natural drain where run-off is concentrated.

Giles also shaped and sodded a gully that was eating back into the field. Once established to Bermuda grass sod this shaped chute will lower run-off water safely into a larger channel and stop soil losses.

J. W. Hess, a supervisor of the Upper Elm-Red District, has just finished planting ten acres of KR Bluestem in an old field area on his farm north of Muenster. He has had excellent results from previous seedings of this grass and says he is well pleased with its value as a grazing plant and its erosion resistant habit of growth.

B. C. Redman is planting a 20-acre block of his farm northeast of Saint Jo to KR and will use the block as additional pasture when the grass is well established.

J. T. Cole of Marysville has also sodded KR to ten acres of his field area for grazing and as a protective cover for the soil.

All these plantings were made with special grass drills furnished landowners by their local conservation district. Technical assistance was furnished by personnel of the Muenster Soil Conservation Service.

The next step local cooperators will take is to give their grass life insurance by spraying or mowing weeds which come in to choke out the grass seedlings.

Warm weather is fast bringing on thoughts of another job, which if done properly will mean extra money in the pocket of the farmers' blue jeans. This is the job of planting blue panic grass.

In this area blue panic grass is one of the newer grasses but several plantings have been made and farmers who did plant this grass are mighty glad they did. Blue panic furnishes large amounts of forage which cattle relish, and it gives the soil a helping hand by making a tremendous fibrous root system to open up the soil and increase organic matter, allowing more air and moisture to get into the soil instead of going down the drain with precious top soil and plant foods.

The local Soil Conservation District has special grass seeder drills and equipment with which to plant both King Ranch Bluestem and Blue Panic.

Contact the local SCS for additional information and assistance in the proper seeding of these two soil saving grasses.

J. A. Denison of Saint Jo has completed nearly a mile of field terraces. He used farm machinery. The terraces outlet onto a Buffalo grass waterway sown for that purpose. Denison is using a 24-acre pasture of cool season grasses including Brome, Fische and Rye-grass, and alfalfa in rotation with his regular summer pasture. The winter pasture is furnishing early spring grazing and is being used to allow the summer grasses to rest and make good growth. The deep-rooted cool season grasses also pay extra dividends by improving soil condition through the addition of organic matter and by helping open up the soil so that more water can penetrate.

New tank owners are Paul Boyd of Saint Jo and Adrian Parker of Muenster. These farm ponds will serve as a source of livestock water and will help in getting a proper distribution of grazing so that better grass management can be carried out and the grass improved.

Feed Mixed In a Hurry

We've got that extra dry mixer in operation now. That gives us 2 dry mixers each connected with the syrup coater.

You know the mixing process. All dry ingredients go into the dry mixer, then the mixture is run out... into sacks or through the syrup machine. It has to be emptied before the next batch can be started.

But, with another dry mixer on the job we can let one unit run full while the other runs empty. SAVES LOTS OF TIME... YOUR TIME AS WELL AS OURS.

WE LOST A COMBINE CUSTOMER

Yes, we lost a customer on a combine sale a couple of weeks ago and we sure did hate it, too. The man agreed that if anything the Dearborn-Wood Brothers was the better machine but he could apparently save some money on the other combine.

Now, as we have said before, our combine is not supposed to be the lowest priced because it is the finest and best in design and construction. However, we do know that some people consider quality only after finding low price (and the lowest quality in combines is not the lowest in price)

Now understand, we ain't mad at nobody, but we don't aim to lose anymore combine business on account of price. We have been offering the biggest value in combines all spring; considering that you can't get as good a machine for any price in the 6 foot class. Well now we are going farther than that; WE WILL MEET ANY LEGITIMATE COMPETITIVE PRICE for a limited time. (that means till our banker catches us)

So this means that you can now, for a while, buy the BEST 6 foot combine built at as low a price, as you could buy any combine. We are in business to stay for a long time and combines are part of our business and if you don't think we'll sell or trade with you just come around and give us a chance.

We'll try to trade with you for your old combine or separator and if you need a little time we can finance it any way your credit will warrant.

Lindsay News

Mrs. Adam Beyer and Mrs. John Bezner accompanied the Ferd Luttmers and daughter Mary Kay of Muenster to Fort Worth Sunday to spend the day with relatives. Mrs. Beyer and the Luttmers were guests of the Carl Beyers and Mrs. Bezner visited in the home of the Ralph Bezners. The group attended the 8 o'clock mass at St. George's church and witnessed First Communion services. Johnny Bezner and Carol Ann Beyer, grandchildren of Mmes. Beyer and Bezner, were members of the class.

Tony Beyer entered Gainesville Sanitarium Sunday for treatment of infected tonsils.

Cecilia Neu observed her 14th birthday with a party for classmates of the seventh and eighth grades of Lindsay school. After the honoree displayed gifts from the guests the group played games and took pictures. Mrs. Joe J. Neu, mother of the honoree, and her sister Antoinette served refreshments of ice cream and cake squares iced in white and decorated with pink rosebuds.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Arendt and Mrs. Lena Schmitt have returned home after a month's visit with relatives. The Arendts were guests of their daughter, Mrs. Albert Bauer Jr., and family at LaFeria, and Mrs. Schmitt visited her son Gus Schmitt and family at Alice.

John Schmitz of Dallas spent Sunday here and at Muenster with family members.

Bruno Zimmerer attended an insurance salesmen's meeting in Greenville, Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Bode and twins of Brownwood were here to spend the weekend with her mother, Mrs. Anna Popp.

Members of the Christian Mother's Society sponsored a successful benefit picnic Sunday on the parish grounds. Proceeds from the event have been added to the fund to help pay for the new floor in the church. St. Peter's church recently was favored with brown and tan tile flooring in a marbelized effect.

Mrs. Joe Bezner finally has the cast off her left leg, broken just above the knee last January while she was visiting in Dallas. She's still in Dallas at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Bob Young, and isn't permitted to put her weight on the limb yet, but is going through a series of prescribed exercises to strengthen it.

The Val Dieters Jr. and family left Monday to return to their home in Pasadena, Texas, after a five day visit with his parents. Joining them for a weekend visit were Val's sister and family, the Al Bierschens of Fort Worth.

Catholic League - - - and Frank Pelzel, St. Thomas Society president, of the host parish. State Officers Joseph H. Steinle of Dunlay and Mrs. S. J. Marturano of Jarrell, spoke to the gathering, the latter directing her address especially to the women in attendance.

The meeting, dedicated to the youth of the district, opened with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament in St. Thomas church and concluded with a social hour and refreshments in the parish hall.

Rev. Louis Deuster and twelve members of Sacred Heart parish represented Muenster at the convention.

Confetti - - - exposing crooks and subversives rather than attempt to avoid embarrassment by covering up. It demands truth of the press, radio and TV instead of slanted statements which are intended to harm the opposing person or party.

It's a good idea to observe Loyalty Day with a display of Americanism that will put the red May-day paraders to shame. But let's remember, too, that it can and should be a far more significant event. For loyalty, after all, amounts to a lot more than anti-communism. It means primarily pro-Americanism. If we will set our minds and energies on that phase of loyalty we can take the other for granted. Communism just can't stand the pressure of real Christianity.

Tiger - Texarkana Series Will Decide 1954 District Title

With four straight victories to their credit the Sacred Heart High School Tigers are looking forward to a 2 out of 3 play-off series with Catholic High of Texarkana for the District 3 baseball championship of the Southwest Academic League.

The Tigers have played four loop games to date, two each with Laneri and Boys Ranch, and have qualified for the playoff regardless of the outcome of the two remaining games on the schedule. The next game will be played at Boys Ranch Sunday and Laneri has agreed to cancel the last game.

Winner of the Sacred Heart-Texarkana contest will be eligible to enter the Academic League state play-off at San Marcos on May 14 and 15.

Arrangements for playing Texarkana are not complete at this time, but Father Christopher Paladino said two games will be here, probably Friday and Saturday of next week. If a third is needed to decide the series arrangements will be made here after the second game.

Willie Walterscheid pitched his usual steady game for the 7-2 win at Laneri last Friday. Mollenkopf taking over in the 6th with his team leading 4-0 got into trouble promptly and Walterscheid went back to the mound after the Micks had scored 2 and loaded the bases. That put an end to the threat. Walterscheid's triple in the first also helped the cause along. He drove in 2 and scored later on Mollenkopf's long fly. Another run in the fourth and 3 in the final inning accounted for the Tigers' 7.

Playing Boys Ranch here Sunday Sacred Heart put on the pressure every inning for its final win of 7-1. Henscheid hurled and allowed the visitors only one hit.

Walterscheid's no-hit pitching combined with his teammates' snappy fielding held Laneri helpless in the contest here Tuesday afternoon, and the Tigers won 9-0. Two Micks reached first base, one on a walk and 1 on an error. Meanwhile the Tigers banged out a total of 11 safe blows, 7 of them in the fifth for a total of 5 runs.

Nogglor Wins 100 And 220 Dashes at 3-B Regional Meet

Joe Nogglor, with two first places and a third, was near the top and possibly the leader for individual high point honors in the Region 3-B Interscholastic League track and field meet in Denton last Saturday.

He was winner in the 100 and 220 dashes and third in the broad jump, and his total of 12 points gave Muenster High fourth place in the meet.

Twenty four schools were listed in the final tally of points but the report failed to show teams that entered but did not score.

Jim Harris was fifth in the mile run, just one place short of getting a mention on the tally sheet. The other Muenster entries were Wendell Richey, Wallace Dougherty and Eugene Walter.

Top teams of the meet were Mansfield, 26½, Chilton 23, Midway 17½ and Muenster 12. Valley View was the only other team of this district to place in the meet. Tommy Turner accounted for 3 points by coming in second in the 100 yard dash.

Coach Bob Williams said this week that he intends to take Nogglor to the Interscholastic League state meet in Austin on May 7 and 8. The two will be joined by the Valley View coach and Tommy Turner, who is also eligible to enter the meet.

Due Home, Discharged
