Dutchman Brags About Native Land At K-C Breakfast

Here in America, it seems that practically every week of the year is designated for a special observance of some kind. We have National Safety Week, National Fire Prevention Week, National Newspaper Week, and dozens of other. This week happens to be Oil Progress Week.

Considering our way of life around Muenster, we can well afford to take special notice of this week. Oil progress has been a vital factor in the progress of our community. It has added the extra business and extra wealth which have lifted Muenster above the level of sound financial stability to a status of real prosperity.

With complete justification we can boast of our many achievements in this community. Our thrifty and industrious farmers have done a good job with their land. They have practiced a diversification of tillage and stock raising which has given them security and comfort. For many years there have been families who lived well off their milk checks and were able to pocket their harvest income as so much clear profit.

Meanwhile they are doing a fine job of conserving and improving their soil. They created additional prosperity in organizing their milk processing plant, and added to that prosperity when they pioneered in the area's rural electrification service. Long years ago they served themselves very substantially by organizing their own insurance and telephone service.

Operating on their own, the people of Muenster have done quite well. And that is why it can be said that oil progress has had a really terrific impact on the progress of the community. The wealth that it brought in was, in general, over and above the needs of the community, and it has been applied in reaching new heights of progress or comfort.

Through the past thirty years, since oil activity first started here, local landowners have been enriched by millions of dollars. There is hardly a farm in the entire area that has not received lease money at some time, and there are many that have received it for years. Many a place has drawn up to its full value in lease rentals.

In addition many received big money from the sale of royalty and more have reaped the handsome income of substantial monthly royalty checks. This column does not have the figures to estimate even vaguely how much wealth oil has brought to Muenster, but it can say with certainty that the total amount is really big money.

Another way of telling the story is to quote the oil industry's own figure. Landowners of Texas receive about a half billion dollars a year in leases and royalties. This area gets more than its proportionate share of that money.

But that doesn't near tell the whole story. Valuations of oil property net substantial tax revenue to our local school district. Operators of the various leases bring additional business to the town and provide employment for local people. Drilling rigs and well servicing outfits employ still more people and add substantially to the local business volume.

Another very considerable factor is the high wage level in the oil industry. The fellows employed in it don't have just a job but a good job. That fact is evident from the progress being made by many of the workers.

From that very circumstance stems another worth while community asset. Oil has kept a big percentage of local talent and energy at home. Men who probably would have moved away otherwise are settling here, doing their part toward building a better community.

Without exception every person in Muenster has reason to give thanks for the local oil activity. Most likely every family here has profited directly from it... in lease, royalty, employment or increase of business... and has also shared in the general prosperity created by oil.

Muenster has a terrific farm income and also a terrific payroll. Oil provides a substantial portion of both.

A delightful talk on conditions and customs in Holland featured the communion breakfast given Sunday morning by members of the Muenster K of C Council in their traditional observance of Columbus Day.

Knights and their wives received Communion in a group at the 8 o'clock mass and had their breakfast afterward in the public school lunch room.

The speaker was Dr. C. A. Trimbo, information officer for the Dallas office of the Netherlands Government, who warned at the outset that his speech would be in keeping with a well known Texas custom... he intended to brag. Then he began offering some of the facts, and figures revealing the outstanding records and achievements of his country.

He said that necessity has driven the Dutch to be extremely efficient and productive. On an average, land over there yields four times as much as American land and cattle give twice as much milk. This high production has been built up by intensive work in order to keep pace with the country's rapidly increasing population.

Cubs Lose 12-7 to Boys Ranch Kids; Play Again Sunday

Time was the big factor in a 12-7 loss sustained by Father Patrick's Sacred Heart Cubs Tuesday night on the Tiger field.

As the final whistle blew the little fellows were a yard short of the touchdown which would have given them a one point decision over the Boys Ranch kids.

Another factor that hurt the Cubs was the visitors' height advantage in their aerial game. Time after time the longer reach of the lanky Boys Ranch receivers enabled them to complete passes while the pint size Cubs were straining in vain to get their mitts on the ball.

In general the game was a contest of aerial and ground offensives. The Cubs had by far the best yardage on the ground, the Ranchers gained more on passes. With the exception of a few end runs, the visitors made practically no headway on the ground.

The Cubs scored first, in the early minutes of the game. After holding the visitors on the first series they blocked a kick then advanced promptly to the first touchdown. Bobby Walterscheid went over and Charles Bayer followed for an extra point.

Of Boys Ranch's two scores one was made on a pass and the other was set up by a pass.

As the final seconds ticked away the Cubs also advanced to scoring position on a pass, a beauty good for 30 yards. Two more plays went to the 1 yard stripe as time ran out.

Next on schedule for the Cubs is Sacred Heart of Wichita Falls at Wichita Sunday afternoon.

Tigers Face Tough Contest Saturday With Laneri Micks

The toughest game of the season and the traditional big event in Sacred Heart's football season looms before the Tigers this week as they go through their second week of special priming for the clash with Laneri's Micks at Fort Worth Saturday night.

Though rated to come out second best the red and white clad stalwarts are giving their intensive attention to this tussle, hoping to spring an upset on the Cowtown fellows. Father Christopher, the skipper, says they are in fine condition mentally and physically and capable of turning the trick if a few factors happen to learn in their favor.

According to some of the reports reaching Father Christopher from out Laneri way, the Micks do not quite match up with last year's outfit which trampled the Tigers 36-0. On the other hand Sacred Heart is probably more potent. So the big question is whether changes in power have been big enough to take up all the difference indicated by last year's score.

The Tiger coach also said that his boys are entitled to a better rating than indicated by their three touchdown loss at Texarkana. The game was closer than the score. Besides the Tigers have been putting polish on their game since then, especially in their offensive coordination.

Local fans planning to attend the game are reminded that they can avoid unnecessary traffic and mileage by taking a short cut soon after entering Fort Worth. Coming in on Belknap, turn left on Riverside (at the Tower Theatre), and follow it to Lancaster for another left turn. Henley High is a few miles east of Riverside on Lancaster. Game time is 8 o'clock.

Building And Improvement Notes

Francis Wiese had foundation poured Wednesday for his new home in the west part of town. It will be a 3-bedroom job with central heating and attached carport.

R. M. Zipper is well along with the painting on his new 3-bedroom house and attached garage on North Main. It is due to be finished in about a week.

Rody Klement expects carpenters to finish in about a week at his new house in the southeast part of town. It will have 2 bedrooms, central heating, carport, brick veneering and lots of built-ins.

Marty Klement, building near his brother, has a good start on interior woodwork for his new brick home. Its plan features 3 bedrooms, garage and central heating.

Marty Trubenbach has about a week of painting before he can move into his new house 4 miles southeast of town. It is 3-bedroom size with attached garage.

L. B. Bruns has also reached the painting stage on his new home on West Seventh. He has a 3-bedroom brick veneered job with carport and central heating.

Ikard Will Talk At Lions Meeting

Congressman Frank Ikard, representative of the Thirteenth District in the national legislature, will be in Muenster next Tuesday as guest speaker at the Lions Club luncheon.

Lion President Homsley announced Ikard's acceptance of the invitation to address the club and urged members to make special efforts to attend.

Mr. Ikard has not sent advance information on the subject of his talk.

MHS Plans Annual Homecoming Party For Ex-Students

Henceforth the Homecoming Day program at Muenster High School will consist of more than just a football game. Beginning this year it will feature a party and short organizational meeting for ex-students and ex-teachers after the football game.

Members of the Senior class and class mothers took the first steps toward organizing the annual homecoming event in a special meeting Tuesday night. They elected Herbert Meurer and Glenn Hellman to serve as temporary president and secretary until the meeting on Nov. 11 and also started preparing for the first alumni get-together.

This year's program, according to their plan, will begin with a queen crowning ceremony at the Muenster-Sanger game and end with a dance in the gym. Snacks will be served during the dance. A short meeting to elect officers for the coming year will be held just before the dance. At that meeting all exes will also be expected to register.

For the first time the ex-students will be the only persons to vote for homecoming queen. Candidates for the honor will be representatives of the four classes and votes are to be cast by the exes when they send back cards advising whether or not they can attend the homecoming.

In that respect seniors are requesting some urgently needed help. They need an up-to-date mailing list of ex-students, so they are asking ex-students and their parents to cooperate in submitting names and addresses. Just mail them in, give them to members of the senior class, or phone the public school office. Names of all students and teachers, regardless of how long ago they were at the school, are wanted.

The plan is to start sending out invitations early next week, so the sponsoring group would like to have names and addresses by Monday. However, persons who cannot submit names by then are still urged to send them in later.

Wilfred Sicking's Herd Leads DHIA In Milk Production

Wilfred Sicking's cows climbed to top spot as milk producers among DHIA herds during the month of September, according to a summary for the month released this week. The champs averaged 980 pounds.

Hoedebeck and Myers herd topped the butterfat production for the month with a 35 pound average and finished second in milk production with 950 pounds.

Other statistics for September show that 25 association herds were tested, that 528 cows were in milk and that 139 of the animals produced 40 or more pounds of butterfat. Average pounds of milk per cow was 609 and average pounds of butterfat was 23.

NEWS OF SICK AND INJURED

T. M. Hammer was dismissed from Gainesville Sanitarium Wednesday after being a medical patient for a week. He will return to the hospital in two weeks for surgery.

Mrs. Ray Otto received medical care at Gainesville Sanitarium during the week.

Mrs. Alvin Fuhrman has been dismissed from Gainesville Sanitarium where she was a surgical patient.

Hornets to Tangle With Callisburg in Second 10-B Game

A tougher game than originally expected seems to be on tap for the Muenster Hornets when they go to Callisburg Friday night to seek their second conference win of the 1955 season. Kickoff time for the event is scheduled for 8 p.m.

Earlier in the season a Hornet win at Callisburg was regarded practically as a cinch. The Wildcat's apparent shortage of manpower was reflected in their mediocre showing in the first two encounters. But then the picture began changing. They handed Gainesville's B string a sound walloping then came from behind to tie Alvord 13-13 last week on the Bulldogs' home field.

Allowing a little for their home field advantage, the Callisburg boys will be entitled to the Hornets' complete respect Friday night.

The change of team comparisons, however, applies only to the odds. The Hornets still rate as the favorites for this fracas, especially since last week's achievement in blanking the Valley View Eagles 13-0.

Muenster's defense was outstanding in holding the fast Eagle backs to a few scattered gains and stopping the pass attack cold. In the scoring zone they looked even better, smearing the visitors for one loss after another.

Hornet offense was equally good for the first quarter. If it can be stretched to the full time this week it should cause grief for the Wildcats.

Garden Club Plans Flower Show; Hears Talk on Rose Care

Initial plans for staging their annual flower show were discussed Monday night by members of the Civic League and Garden Club when they met in the home of Mrs. T. S. Myrick with Mrs. Steve Moser as co-hostess.

The discussion was presented by Mrs. Myrick and Mrs. Joe Luke, chairman of the flower show committee. In planning the annual event, the group decided to wait until chrysanthemums are in bloom and feature these flowers in their exhibits. The date will be announced later. Other exhibits for the show will include dried arrangements, driftwood with live flowers and Thanksgiving arrangements.

Mrs. Tony Gremminger, president, conducted the business session. Members voted to use the $125 community club awards prize money to landscape around the municipal swimming pool if this proposal meets with the approval of other organizations of the city who helped with the contest.

Members also decided they would not sponsor the Birthday Calendar this year.

Garden Club Day at the State Fair, Tuesday, Oct. 18, provided discussion and members are making plans to attend. The coming Rose Festival at Tyler was announced and an invitation was read to attend the state board meeting at McAllen October 25-26-27.

Cooke County DHIA Is Second in Texas In Milk, Butterfat

Cooke County Dairy Herd Improvement Association cows took runner-up honors in both milk and butterfat production during the 1954 testing year it was revealed this week by the Dairy Husbandry Research Branch of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The local producers were second only to Parker county's DHIA animals.

Cooke county DHIA's 625 cows averaged 8,992 pounds of milk and 356 pounds of butterfat per animal. Parker county's figures stand at 9,257 pounds of milk and 391 pounds of butterfat. There are 208 cows in the association.

The report also shows that feed cost per 100 pounds of milk produced in Cooke county was $2.07, next to the lowest of the 22 associations tabulated. The lowest feed cost per 100 pounds of milk was $1.97 by Dallas county.

System of Taxing Holds Future Key To School Control

Local school boards of Texas face a growing threat that control of their schools will be taken over more and more by the state educational heads. That was a possibility explained Tuesday night by Dr. Sam McAlister, head of the Government department of North Texas State College, in his talk before members of the Cooke County School Trustees Association in the Muenster High auditorium.

Control, he said, is determined to a great extent by money. The greater the ratio of funds a school receives from Austin the greater is the ratio of control accompanying the money.

Until a few years ago local districts raised most of their own funds and received only a per capita allotment from the state. But under the minimum foundation program schools now receive a larger percentage of state money, and also a larger measure of state control. Local and state funds on an average are divided about 50-50.

The real concern Dr. McAlister continued, is that local tax sources are strained to the limit, hence increases from now on are likely to come altogether from the state.

Behind this problem lies the difference in two tax structures. The state has a relatively painless way of raising money, through excises on oil, sulphur, liquor, cigarettes and an indefinite number of other items. Every time it needs more revenue it slaps on new taxes, and the public is hardly aware of paying in more money.

On the other hand local districts have to depend entirely on ad valorem property tax for their revenue. In many places that tax is already excessively high.

Dr. McAlister expressed the opinion that the problem of school control can be solved only by adopting another revenue raising system. Local districts need a painless way of raising money, or perhaps a portion of the excise taxes collected in their area before it is submitted to the (Continued on Page 2)

Hornets Open 10-B Season With 13-0 Win Over Eagles

Two snappy scoring drives following two fumbles by the Valley View Eagles were the factors that accounted for Muenster's 13-0 win in its conference opener on the Hornet field Friday night.

On the very first scrimmage play after the opening kick-off the Eagles fumbled and Muenster claimed the ball on the 34. Three plays, Richey's 4 and Biffle's 14 and 16 produced the first tally and Harris booted for an extra point.

The same tough break hit the Eagles on their first play following the next kick off. Muenster recovered the fumble 24 yards short of the double stripe and drove to the next TD.

Progress was slower on that push, however, as the green clad boys stubbornly contested every Hornet attempt. Four downs barely made the required 10 and four more netted 13, only a yard from pay dirt. Hellman made half that distance and Richey finished the job.

The rest of the game was a defensive struggle with each team occasionally picking up yardage but failing to put on a sustained drive.

K-C Breakfast

for an idea of the density of Holland's population, he said. It is one twentieth the size of Texas and has a population of 11 million. Furthermore the population is increasing rapidly. The country has the highest birth rate and also the highest life expectancy in Europe.

He was proud to state that his country has no problem with juvenile delinquency. For a few years after the Nazi occupation, he said, parents had to undo the ill effects of their own teaching. They had told kids it was patriotic to disrespect the invaders, destroy their property and give them all possible trouble. Later they had to correct the kids. Nowadays Trimbos said, juvenile delinquency is practically non-existent.

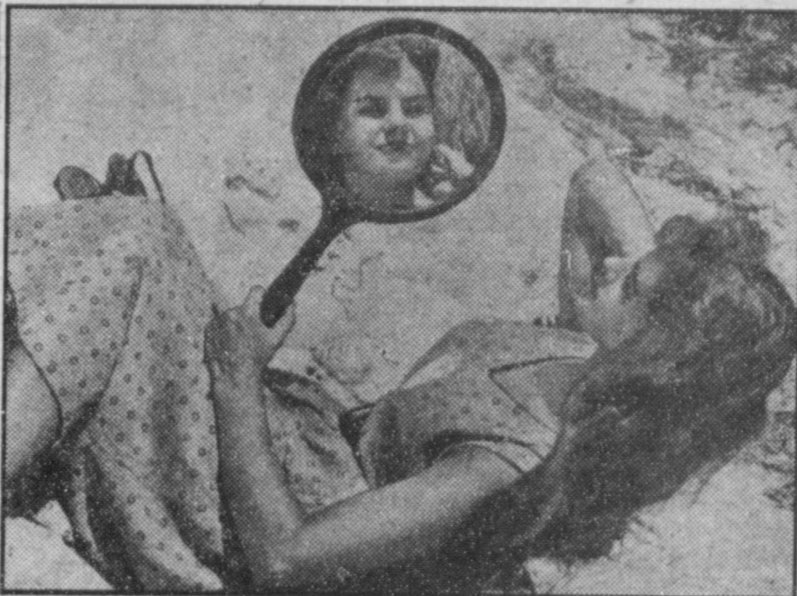

He attributes that condition principally to the system of education in Holland. The country is very religious, 87 per cent being active church members, hence a large majority go to denominational schools. That arrangement is made possible by the government's policy to support religious schools the same as public schools. Every school, public or denominational, has its own board of trustees who receive per capita allotments from the government and are responsible for the proper administration of the school.

The same religious background reflects in Holland's political system. Representation in congress is vested principally in a Catholic party and two Protestant parties. The small minority which claims no religious affiliation has a small representation.

Because of religion in representation the government of Holland has a record of following Christian principles in its legislation and administration.

Despite his bragging he admitted that his country is definitely second to United States from the ladies' viewpoint. Over there they have fewer comforts and conveniences and absolutely no help from the men. It's beneath a Dutchman's dignity to wipe a dish, or wield a broom, or push a grocery cart.

C. J. Meurers Have 50th Anniversary

Relatives and friends from here attended the golden wedding celebration of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. (Charlie) Meurer in Windthorst Monday. The day began with a solemn high mass in St. Mary's church and a renewal of nuptial vows by the couple. Rev. Cyril Lange, pastor, was celebrant of the mass assisted by Rev. Thomas Weinzapfel and Rev. Joseph Weinzapfel of Dallas, nephews of the goldenweds. A reception and dinner in the K of C Hall followed the church service.

Attending from Muenster were Messrs. and Meses. J. M. Weinzapfel, John Knabe, Bill Becker and Gus Hellman and Mrs. John B. Klement. Among others at the celebration were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Knabe of Hereford, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Otto, Mrs. Steve Otto and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Thoele of Wichita Falls and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Meurer of Slaton.

A farmer's barn had burned down and the agent from the insurance company arrived to discuss the claim. Explaining the policy that covered the structure, he told the farmer that his firm would build another barn of similar size instead of paying the claim in cash.

The farmer was furious. "If that's the way your company does business," he exploded, "you can just cancel the insurance policy on my wife!"

Farm Bureau Urges Land Bank Plan to Eliminate Surplus

WACO — An idea for a farm program which originated here in Texas will receive nationwide consideration this fall.

The American Farm Bureau Federation announced this week that its board of directors has recommended to its member Farm Bureaus in 48 states and Puerto Rico full discussion of soil fertility bank plans as part of a federal farm program. The soil fertility bank idea was endorsed in general terms at the AFBF convention last December in New York.

The main idea of the plan is to adjust total agricultural production in line with effective demand by taking a certain percentage of acres out of production. These idle acres would be seeded to soil-building crops or devoted to soil-building practices. Grazing or harvesting would be prohibited or these acres.

The plan was originally referred to as the "Hammond Plan" because it was conceived and promoted for many years by J. Walter Hammond, president of the Texas Farm Bureau. The state farm organization adopted the plan as its recommendation for a farm program in 1949 and has carried the idea to the AFBF convention each year since then. Last year was the first time that the parent national organization gave its approval to the plan.

Action of the AFBF in recommending the plan for study is aimed at getting the thinking of farmers and ranchers in all parts of the country so that consideration may be given to the plan at the 1955 AFBF convention in December in Chicago. The soil fertility bank idea is also likely to become one of the main issues at the Texas Farm Bureau convention which will be held Nov. 7-9 in Ft. Worth.

Hammond, president of the TFB for the past 16 years, began working on his plan back in the Depression days of the 1930's when farm surpluses almost ruined the agricultural industry. When World War II came along the idea was dropped because of the all-out efforts to produce food and fiber for war needs. Surpluses were beginning to pile up again in 1949 when the TFB adopted the plan. However, the Korean conflict alleviated any need for controlling production. By 1953 the problem of unmanageable surpluses was again plaguing the industry.

The original idea behind the soil fertility bank was to retire the percentage of acres that were causing surpluses and govern production through a system of variable price supports. Under the plan, the Secretary of Agriculture would determine the percentage of overproduction of all farm commodities. Then, each farmer would be required to take out of production that percentage of his tilled acres. According to Hammond, this would average about 10 per cent over a period of year.

Hammond charges that the present system of acreage controls discriminates against the South as it forces cotton, wheat, peanut, and rice farmers to bear the brunt of production controls.

"I didn't want to marry him for his money. It's just that there was no other way to get it."

It's better to get bent from hard work than to get crooked trying to avoid it.

THE FAMILY FARM

Farm economists tell us the family farm is here to stay. But it will be different — highly industrialized to produce the most of a few kinds of crops and livestock while keeping soil and water losses under control. The change has already come to many farms. A family devotes its full time to dairying while another produces broilers in the tens of thousands. Another may devote its full time to producing tons of beef on the lease possible acreage of grass.

Jeanette Walter and W. M. Karr Exchange Vows Here Saturday

The marriage of Miss Jeanette Walter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Al Walter, to William M. Karr Jr., son of Mrs. William M. Karr and the late Mr. Karr of Canadian, Texas, took place here in Sacred Heart church at 4 p.m. Saturday.

Rev. Louis Deuster, pastor, read the double ring service and officiated at the nuptial high mass. Anthony Luke, organist, played the wedding procession and remained at the console to accompany the men's choir which presented a Gregorian chant mass. The choir sang "On This Day" before the ceremony and "Ave Maria" at the offertory.

The bride entered with her father who gave her in marriage. She wore an imported crystal white French lace and tulle gown over satin designed with a fitted bodice with a picture neckline and long sleeves that tapered to deep petal points over her hands. The bouffant floor length skirt of layers of tulle was applied with lace and was worn over hoops and crinolines. She carried a natural orchid.

The bride's tiered veil of tulle was attached to a sweetheart bonnet of lace, and she carried a point lace handkerchief belonging to the groom's mother and carried for weddings in that family for four generations. She also carried a white concha bead rosary from Mexico belonging to her aunt, Mrs. Arthur Endres.

Attendants
Mrs. B. J. Swirczynski was matron of honor for her sister and Misses Margie Baumhardt, Waco, and Loyce Edwards, Dallas, were bridesmaids. Their waltz length dress, shading from beige to rose to raspberry were of silk pandit fashioned with oval picture necklines, Empire bodices and voluminous skirts. Their headpieces were designed in matching velvet and they carried bouquets of yellow rosebuds.

Little Miss Sandra Walter was her sister's flower girl. Her rose silk shantung dress was designed similar to the other attendants' and she carried a bouquet of yellow rosebuds which the bride placed on the altar at the Blessed Virgin's Shrine before the ceremony.

Bill Torbert of Amarillo was best man and Bob Dudek, Waco, and E. R. Castle Jr., Dallas, were groomsmen. B. J. Swirczynski and Eugene Walter ushered.

Acolytes for the mass were Rodney and David Walter, Regi Bayer, Clifford Endres, and Jimmy Walter of Gainesville, all cousins of the bride.

Reception

At 6 p.m. a reception and dinner was held in the Muenster High school lunch room for 150 guests. The bride's table was centered with a large double wedding ring cake. Seasonal flowers were used in decorations. Muted piano music was presented by Miss Margaret Milner and guests were registered by Misses Florence Henscheid and Joan Klement.

When Mr. and Mrs. Karr left on their wedding trip she was wearing a navy blue taffeta outfit with pink and garnet accessories and the orchid she carried at the ceremony.

The bride was graduated from Muenster High school and from St. Paul's Hospital School of Nursing in Dallas. Mr. Karr is a graduate of Canadian High school and received his BS degree from Texas A&M College in Range and Forestry this spring. He served two years with the armed forces. The couple will live in Lubbock where he is employed by the Soil Conservation Service.

Rehearsal Dinner

A rehearsal dinner was given at noon Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Endres as host and hostess in their home. Friday night Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Swirczynski entertained in their home honoring the couple, their attendants and out of town guests here for the wedding.

Out of Town Guests
Among out of town guests for the wedding were Mrs. William M. Karr, Mrs. Frank McMordie Sr. and Miss Daisy Childers of Canadian, Miss Helen Benito Carr of Brownfield, Mrs. Callie Baumhardt of Devol, Okla., Miss Christine Stone of McKinney, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Castle Sr., Misses Sandy Vaughn, Henrietta, Clifford, and Lorraine Lasselick, all of Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Walter and Max Jackson of Gainesville.

RETURN FROM TRIP
Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Hoeng are back at home after a vacation trip that covered more than 4,000 miles and took them to New Mexico, Colorado and Wyoming for sight-seeing and to Kansas and Nebraska to visit relatives. They were gone three weeks. Going, they stopped in Amarillo for an overnight visit with the John Furbachs. At Jackson, Wyo., they enjoyed deer hunting and now they're enjoying venison.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Swirczynski are living in Abilene temporarily while he is employed there installing air conditioning.

Pause for Reflection

... with James C. Ingebretsen President, Spiritual Mobilization

The accounts of those returning from Red China make harrowing reading. I think more of pity than censure is due at least most of those who "play ball" with the Reds either voluntarily or under pressure.

And I am inclined to agree with three American boys who first embraced and then rejected the Chinese Reds and who, according to the Associated Press, recently ridiculed as "childish" the U. S. Air Force's Nevada school against brainwashing.

The best preventive against brainwashing seems to be heartwashing. Two American women missionaries recently released by the Chinese Reds told how they resisted the pressure put upon them to admit spy charges.

Said Miss Dorothy Middleton, 42, a nondenominational missionary to lepers, "They tried to get me to say I was a secret agent but I never did it because it wasn't truth."

Miss Sarah Perkins, 63, a Presbyterian missionary, said she told the Reds, "You may shoot me tomorrow but I will still tell the truth."

These Christian women had spiritual strength that baffled the Chinese atheists. A person with a clean heart is usually not much affected by brainwashing.

On Farm Prices

Lyndon Johnson joins the rest of the professional politicians in weeping salty tears over the plight of the poor farmers—then says he's not making a political football out of the farm situation.

Lyndon ought to study the law of supply and demand if he skipped the course in economics up at San Marcos teachers college. We've got highly mechanized, scientific farming now. So one man can produce as much food and fiber as it used to require a dozen men to produce—and with proper care, an acre is producing 50% more than it used to. We just have a surplus of boiler-makers, who had to hunt other jobs when the diesel engine displaced the steam choo-choo. The Senator from Johnson City hasn't suggested that we let boiler-makers keep on making boilers and unload them on the taxpayers under price support. But then the Senator owns a farm, not a boiler shop... Kingsville Record.

Significance of Oil Progress Week

Each year the oil industry devotes a week to making a comprehensive report to the American people. The occasion is known as Oil Progress Week, and its 1955 observance takes place October 9 through 15.

It's hard to realize that the oil industry is less than a century old—the first successful well came into being in Titusville, Pennsylvania, in 1859. Few people were impressed by that achievement then. In fact, a New Brunswick driller brought in another well at about the same time—then shut it down, on the grounds that North America could support only one well!

No one ever did a more thorough job of wrong-guessing than that Canadian driller. Today 42,000 separate businesses serve American oil consumers. We produce almost 2,500,000,000 barrels of oil a year—yet, due to the

Words Sometimes Deceive Us

By Hon. Theodore R. McKeldin, Governor of Maryland

WORDS OFTEN exercise an illegitimate power, a tyranny, over us. This is because words can never be held to their legitimate dictionary meaning. Always we attach extra connotations to them and these connotations often reverse what Noah Webster says.

Take the phrase, "separation of Church and State." In its legitimate dictionary meaning that phrase is completely neutral. It implies no sort of emotional attitude on the part of either Church or State toward the other. It describes a status and nothing more. It is as devoid of moral significance as the existence of the Potomac river separating Maryland and Virginia.

BUT AN ASTONISHING number of people are not content to leave it at that. They insist on reading it as "antagonism of Church and State," and will not allow that a man can accept the doctrine without taking sides and becoming an antagonist of one or the other.

Against that particular tyranny of words I am in open rebellion. For Church and State are not antagonists and cannot be made so without perversion of the fundamental tenets both of religion and of Americanism.

SEPARATION of Church and State is the great bulwark of the rights of minorities, and every religious communion in this country is a minority. All of them taken together constitute a bare majority of the whole population, and any one, taken separately, is heavily outnumbered. Hence any interference by the State in behalf of one would work injustice on a larger number than it benefited. The State is forbidden to interfere because its interference would operate to the detriment of religion.

Too often, when we read the First Amendment to the Constitution we proceed as far as, "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion," and stop there. We ignore the immense significance of the next words, "or prohibiting the free exercise thereof." Yet the second phrase is as binding as the first, and as truly expressive of the attitude of the framers of the Constitution toward religion.

THEY BELIEVED that the free exercise of religion is an essential part of liberty. It is the tyranny of words that has betrayed many of us into accepting the error that the separation of Church and State implies an element of hostility to religion in the essential American doctrine.

However, this error is not common among those who have had much practical experience in administering government. Speaking as a public official I can say that I should face a hopeless task if our people's respect for the laws of God did not reinforce their respect for the laws of the state.

effectiveness of the exploratory and pioneering operations of the industry, a barrel-and-a-quarter of oil is found for every barrel taken out of the earth. Oil was a major weapon of victory in two world wars. On the farm, in industry, and in the home oil has worked revolutions. And petrochemistry, oil's fast-growing baby, is enriching our living standards.

In this country oil is a free enterprise. It's also one of the most intensely competitive of enterprises—all the way from risky wildcatting operations in search of new oil supplies to the corner service station. We, the American people, enjoy the fruits of that competition. Since 1925, as everyone knows, the cost of living in general has soared. Yet the cost of gasoline, aside from the special taxes the industry can't do everything about, has risen only about seven per cent—and it's far better gasoline, that does far more work.

government and there is no competition—uses a mere 76 gallons. Every American community has excellent service-stations providing all manner of services in addition to selling its wares. But in Moscow, one of the world's biggest cities, there are only five service stations. And at these the customer, when he buys inferior rationed gas, does the chores himself. All the attendant does is watch the meter and collect the rubles.

Oil progress and our national progress have gone hand in hand. That is the kernel of the story being told this week.

FALL is the time to Light Condition your home!

School homework requires the best in lighting to protect young eyes. Wall lamps, properly placed, will provide a perfectly-lighted shelf for study.

Properly placed table lamps, with the right sized bulb, also provide good lighting for study. Proper lighting promotes good posture and mental attentiveness, too.

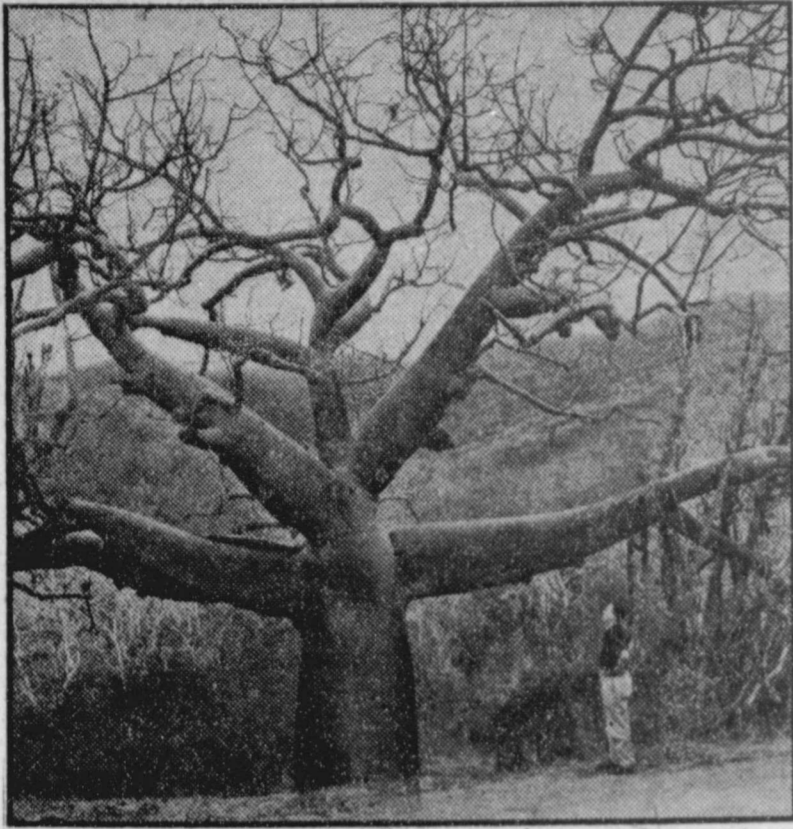

For the music student, proper lighting is essential. With a properly placed floor lamp, scores are easier to read, minute symbols can be seen readily.

Did you know that poor grades can often be traced to inadequate lighting at home? But whether there are school children in your home or not, you should have a Light Conditioned Home... and enjoy the advantages of lighter days and nights for work, play and happier living. Let the magic of light bring new comfort, enjoyment, and eye protection to your family.

S.H. Grade School Roommothers Plan Annual Carnival

Plans for the parochial grade school's annual Halloween carnival began taking definite shape Monday night when roommothers met to arrange a program and to appoint chairmen to supervise the event.

According to indications this year's carnival promises to be the best to date with the most concessions and games ever offered at the yearly benefit party. Proceeds from this year's carnival will buy books for the school library—general books for the lower grades and a set of World Books for the upper grades.

Mrs. Ray Stewart, president of the roommothers organization, is general chairman of the festival and 36 roommothers of the school are chairmen in charge of various stands, booths, games and contests. They will be assisted by other mothers of grade school students.

Highlighting the program for youngsters is the costume contest in which each contestant will receive a gift and winners will receive attractive prizes. Mrs. Lou Wolf is chairman.

Among program attractions will be fortune telling, a spook house, fish pond, pop gun shooting and dart throwing games, sandwiches and coffee, ice cream, cold drinks, home made candy, a cake stand, and a fancy stand featuring the latest styles in doll clothes. There will also be games for adults.

The carnival will be held on October 30 in the parish hall beginning at 2 p.m.

Margaret A. Lawson Has Birthday Party

Margaret Ann Lawson celebrated her birthday Sunday with a party at her home. She was eight years old on Saturday, Oct. 8. Mrs. Leo Lawson, mother of the honoree, was hostess and 27 classmates of the third grade parochial school, and friends, were guests.

As a special guest, Florence Walterscheid who was also eight years old on Oct. 8, received a gift from Margaret Ann and shared in honors of the occasion by also having a decorated birthday cake. This courtesy came as a surprise to Florence, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Walterscheid.

Party rooms were festive with decorations featuring vari-colored balloons and each of the guests received a party favor. In a series of games, prizes went to Shirley Vogel, Rita Trubench and Nancy Haverkamp as winners. All the guests brought birthday gifts for the honoree.

The refreshment table held the two handsome birthday cakes with their candles, and as guests gathered to be served the cake with ice cream and pink lemonade they sang the birthday song to Margaret Ann and Florence. Mrs. James Mollenkopf assisted with the serving.

Those present were Annette Fuhrman, Sandra Cler, Thresa Jo Fleitman, Dolores Ann Sickling, Rachel Endres, Elizabeth Knabe, Doris Lee Grewing, Laverna Otto, Eileen Hesse, Shirley Vogel, Alma Herr, Norma Lutkenhaus, Jane Hess, Nancy Haverkamp, Mary Knabe, Rita Trubench, Angeline Hess, Marilyn Walterscheid, Cindy Cain, Nancy Rathburn, Margie Sue Fuhrman, Cynthia Stoffels, Patsy Hartman, Linda Owen, Kathleen Yosten, and Margaret Ann's little brother Jimmy, and her grandmothers Mrs. E. Third Order Plans Reception Ceremony

Members of the Third Order of Saint Francis, meeting Sunday, held a prayer service in Sacred Heart church at 2:30, followed by a business session in the parish hall. Mrs. J. W. Fisher, secretary, led the prayers of the fraternity's office and J. W. Hess, prefect, conducted the business.

Principal discussion concerned the forthcoming profession ceremonies, tentatively scheduled for the latter part of November. Four novices, Mr. and Mrs. Edd McGannon, Mrs. Victor Hartman and Mrs. J. S. Horn will be professed at that time. New members will also be received in the order as postulants on the same date. Anyone wishing to join is asked to submit his or her name to the officers by November 13, date of the next meeting.

Program for the national convention to be held in Chicago was read. A chartered bus will leave Dallas on Oct. 25 and will return on Nov. 1.

To increase treasury funds the order is selling religious Christmas cards and gift wrapping. Quite a supply of both is on hand and anyone wishing to secure either cards or wrapping is invited to contact J. W. Hess or R. R. Endres.

Messes. and Mmes. Frank Yosten, Steve Moster and Andy Hofbauer from here Mr. and Mrs. Leo Schmitz of Gainesville were in Tours Sunday to visit relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Daffern of San Francisco are expected here this weekend to visit his parents, the R. V. Dafferns. Floyd received his discharge from the Navy Tuesday and the couple left for Texas the same day.

The C. V. Crabtrees were called to Ardmore, Okla., Friday night after her mother, Mrs. Willie Leaf Adams, had been hurt in a car wreck. Fortunately her injuries were not serious and the Crabtrees returned home Sunday.

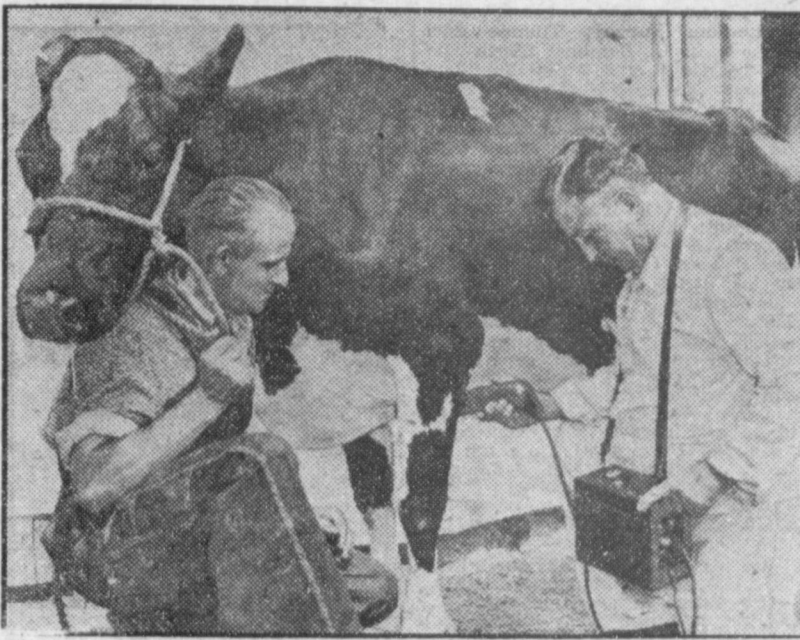

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Daffern the past week were Mr. and Mrs. Velmer Pedigo of Dublin.

Mrs. R. J. Samples was among guests at a reporters' party given by the Gainesville Register Friday afternoon at the Curtwood dining room. The get-together was for reporters of clubs and other organizations of the county. C. H. Leonard of the Register was host and Mrs. Eula West, society editor of the paper, talked to the group on "The Press Tells You How."

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Harrel returned from Pernell, Okla., Friday, after being there to attend the bedside of his father, Arthur Harrel, for several days. Mr. Harrel went back Monday and brought his father home with him after he was dismissed from the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Pickett of Healdton, Okla., visited the C. V. Crabtrees Sunday.

The old Dennis homeplace is undergoing complete remodeling inside and out. Bailey and Cleveland Dennis bought the place some time ago and are helping with the repairs. Sam Cannon of Olton is the carpenter in charge and others helping are Alex Cannon and J. G. Goff.

Bulcher Delegation And Commissioners Discuss Pavement

A delegation of 58 people from Bulcher and Saint Jo met with the Cooke county commissioners court in Gainesville Monday afternoon in a united effort to secure paved roads from Bulcher into Saint Jo.

Thirty-eight of the group were land owners and oil field employees of the Bulcher community and those living on the road into Saint Jo. The other 20 were oil operators and businessmen from Saint Jo and Montague county including Judge Howard Mays, Montague County Commissioner Edd Cooksey and Ernest Hayley, editor of the Saint Jo Tribune.

Important points stressed at the meeting, to emphasize the need of pavement, were that the road is a school bus route and a mail route, that citizens of Bulcher attend church in Saint Jo, and that the road is used in connection with activity in the Bulcher oil field, one of the oldest such fields in Cooke county.

The delegation from here included: Messrs. and Mmes. E. Newby, J. M. Shields, C. V. Crabtree, R. J. Samples, R. H. Sharp, Calip Cannon, Dick Harris, Gid Prather, R. V. Daffern, Lucion Vaughn, Mrs. Sam Williamson and Mrs. Claude Cannon, F. M. Webb, O. W. Cannon, E. L. Robison, Lee Morris, Dexter Dennis, Andrew Hutson, Charlie Hildebrand, Jackie Jordan, Wright Emery, Gilbert Blakely, Weldon Dennis, P. L. Tracey, Claston Bilbury, Ted Redman, Robert Hyman and Gerald Goff.

G. F. Miller, head of a rural telephone company, told the Illinois Commerce Commission his own phone line has 22 subscribers—and they all listen in on calls. "How do you know?" he was asked. "When I pick up my phone I hear 22 clicks," he replied.

Writes From Korea

Lt. Virgil Walter, writing Oct. 3, says he's still located in Korea and was recently made executive officer of his company. Life in Korea, he goes on to say, is very monotonous with little variation from the military. It's like one big army camp with the Koreans serving as a service corps. Virgil said that some time ago he discovered there is a good supply of pheasant in his locality and since then hunting has provided some weekend activity. The preceding weekend a group of boys joined him on a hunting trip and they got their limit. Hunting is good above the 38th parallel where the hills are still battle scarred and the bright colored birds are the only living things to venture back, he added.

Stationed in Japan

Marine PFC Meinrad Yosten has written his parents, the Nick Yostens, of his safe arrival at Atsugi, Japan, where he is assigned to duty at the U.S. Naval Air Station. He told about his trip from California by plane with stops in Honolulu and on Wake Island. At Honolulu he looked for Pat Stelzer, found his barracks, but missed him. Pat just happened to be out on a pass. The troop carrying plane landed at Toyko International Airport and the service men went from there by bus to Atsugi. Here's the new address: PFC Meinrad A. Yosten, 1482031; U.S. Naval Air Station; Navy 3835, Box 28; c-o F.P.O., San Francisco, Calif.

A man living in the Russian zone of Germany was arrested because foreign matches were found in his possession.

The judge said to him: "Foreign matches have been found in your possession. What have you to say for yourself?"

"Well, Your Honor," stammered the prisoner, "it is true that I use foreign matches — but only to light government matches!"

ALL STEAMED UP OVER THE MOVIES—Retired engineer W. B. Adamson, 74, inspects the historic balloon-stacker "Texas" on display in the Atlanta, Ga., museum, and pronounces the famous Confederate locomotive ready to roll at the drop of a script. Movie moguls may use her when they re-enact Texas' famous Civil War pursuit of the Union Army's "General," now on display at Chattanooga, Tenn., which is also believed to be operational. Patriotic organizations have urged that the two ancient locomotives be used in close-ups to replace replicas built to re-create the stirring rail race for a forthcoming film.

38,000 Oil Wells in North Texas Create Thriving Business

Large and small operators contribute to the thriving oil industry operations of North Texas — an area that includes counties in the north central portion of the state with San Saba the southernmost county in this group. Small operators have been able to compete in this area because of shallow production and small leases being available more often than in other areas of Texas.

The average depth of new wells in North Texas is a bit below 3,000 feet. With the exception of West Texas, the area has the largest number of producing wells of any area of the state, more than 38,000 crude oil and condensate wells at the beginning of 1955.

All phases of the oil business, exploration, production, transportation, refining, and marketing, participate in the well-balanced economy of North Texas.

Last year the industry drilled 7,138 wells in the area. Of these 3,997 were oil wells, 66 were gas wells, and 11 were service wells, the remainder were dry holes, according to THE OIL & GAS JOURNAL.

Seven refineries with a capacity of 31,000 barrels of crude oil per day were operating the first part of 1955 in this part of the state.

There were 67 gas processing plants in North Texas that averaged 24,000 barrels of liquid products daily during 1954. These plants have an operating capacity of 631,000,000 cubic feet daily. During 1954, North Texas led the way in starting new secondary-recovery projects such as gas or water injection operations to increase production. More than 90 projects of this type were approved by the Railroad Commission for the area.

Production in North Texas began in 1902. Since then 32 of its 38 counties have produced oil. The average daily production of crude oil in Cooke County in 1954 was 20,884 barrels.

P.O. Pamphlet Gives Hints on Packing, Wrapping Parcels

Helpful facts about wrapping and shipping packages are contained in a well illustrated pamphlet entitled "Packaging and Wrapping Parcels for Mailing" available free at the Muenster, Texas Post Office October 15, 1955, Postmaster Arthur Endres announced today.

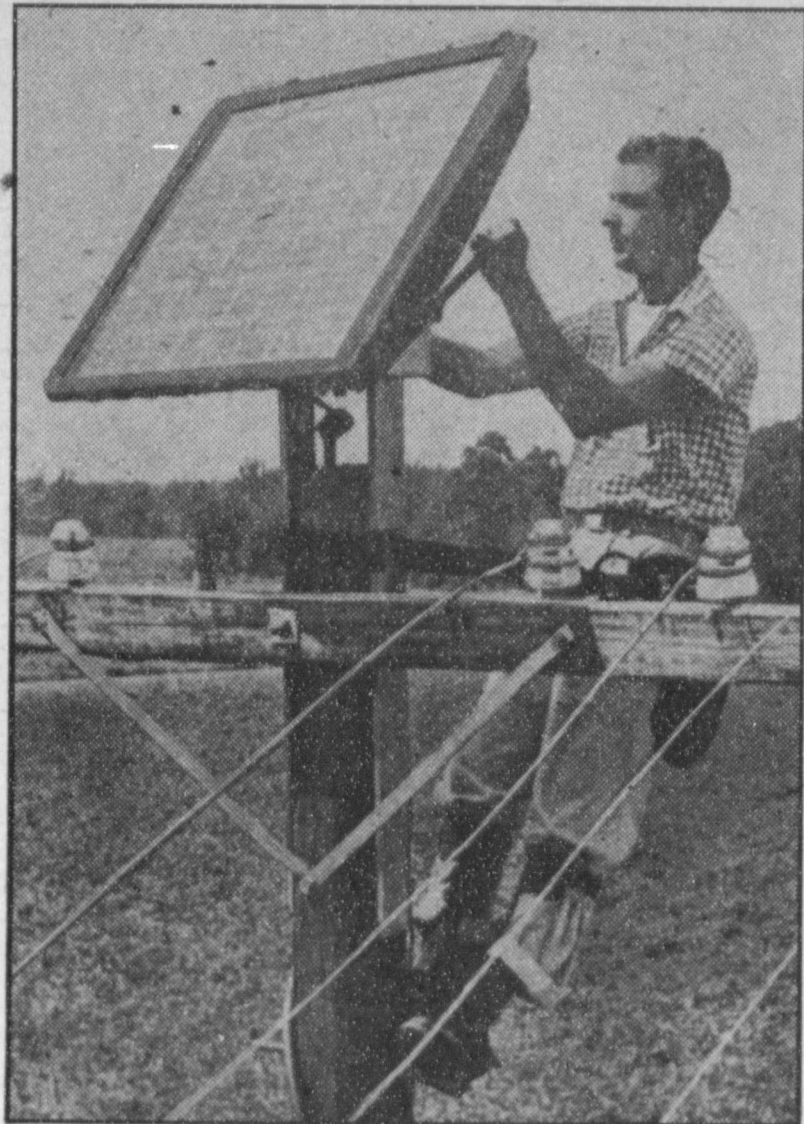

A new publication excerpted from the Postal Manual, this pamphlet describes the types and sizes of cartons best suited for outer and inner shipping containers; gives details for the internal protection for goods being shipped; lists hints on wrapping chinaware, stemware, framed pictures, books, and other goods, and gives instructions for making various types of parcels to insure the quickest possible delivery.

Written instructions are highlighted by numerous illustrations showing how to wrap and tie packages securely. Drawings of various types of containers and boxes and the best way to use protective material to guard goods against breakage are also used.

"If used in conjunction with the free pamphlet, Domestic Postage Rates and Fees," issued a few months ago, this pamphlet should answer practically all questions any user of the mails might have on fees, rates, special services, and protection of parcels in transit," Mr. Endres commented.

The postmaster emphasized that much of the delay in delivery of parcels, particularly at Christmas, and most of the damage enroute is due to lack of knowledge of basic rules to follow in mailing packages.

"I hope patrons of the Muenster Post Office will avail themselves of these two free pamphlets: 'Packaging and Wrapping Parcels for Mailing,' Post Office Department Publication No. 2;

He is tuning in on Solar Power (check numbers on your own telephone dial) in a key experiment to tap the sun's energy for a new type of rural telephone service. The device, a solar battery, converts the sun's energy directly into usable amounts of electricity, and excess current feeds into a storage battery for use at night and during periods of bad weather. The battery, developed by Bell Laboratories, is said to be at least 15 times more efficient than previous solar energy converters.

and "Domestic Postage Rates and Fees," Publication No. 3; which will answer most of their mailing questions, demonstrate the best methods of packing goods, and help the postal employees throughout the nation in their important work of moving the huge volume of Christmas parcels," Mr. Endres said.

Homemaking Hints

By Mrs. H. H. Homsley
Silver salt-shaker tops will not corrode if you cover the inside with hot paraffin. While the paraffin is cooling, open the holes with a toothpick.

Apply luminous paint or tape to rim of flashlight so you can find it when the electricity goes off. When you have paint left over from a job and you want to preserve it—melt paraffin and pour over top, just as you would over jam and jellies to preserve them.

Do you often get in a hurry and lump your starch? Don't fret or throw it away—pick up a sock from the wash and strain the starch through it. An old sock makes an excellent strainer for lumpy paint too.

Place a layer of freezer foil between your ironing board pad and cover to serve as a heat reflector and insulator. If the iron gets too hot it will not scorch or burn the ironing board cover.

A chrysanthemum by any other name would be easier to spell.

Some people are like blotters. They soak it all in, but get it backwards.

Mrs. Aubrey Tuggle Is WMU Hostess

Members of the Baptist Women's Missionary Union met with Mrs. Aubrey Tuggle as hostess in her home Thursday afternoon. During a short business session the group decided to meet each first and third Thursday of the month at 2:30 in the homes of members.

Mrs. D. S. Pettijohn gave the opening prayer and Mrs. Jack Tuggle brought the devotional. Mrs. Aubrey Tuggle gave the organization's annual report, October 1, 1954 to October 1, 1955, and Mrs. Don Cooke offered the closing prayer.

The hostess served fruit punch and cookies to those present. The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Pettijohn.

Journalism Class Visits Enterprise

Journalism students of Sacred Heart High school — the group that works with the school press club to put out Mosaics, the school paper — observed National Newspaper Week with a visit to the Muenster Enterprise Thursday morning.

Headed by the journalism instructor, Sister M. Eymard, who is sponsor of Mosaics, the class was escorted on a tour of the plant by Enterprise staff members. Operations of all departments were described including job shop operations.

Heading the Mosaics staff this year are Beatrice Zimmerer and Basil Reiter, co-editors. Helping them are Carol Voth, Florentine Vogel, and Patsy Vogel, page editors; Donna Hofbauer, girls' sports editor; Irma Starke, art editor; LaVerna Hess, circulation manager; Nelda Bayer, business manager. Florentine Vogel is secretary for the group.

First issue of the school paper for this term will make its appearance this month. It is printed by the Muenster Enterprise.

Soil Conservation Notes

Fish Ponds Stocked

To use each acre of agricultural land for the crop for which it is best suited, and the treatment of each acre in accordance with its needs for protection and improvement is soil conservation's objective. And that's exactly what cooperators of the Upper Elm-Red conservation district are doing with their land that's covered by water.

Cooperators are treating their livestock ponds so that the maximum pounds of fish will be produced. It means proper stocking with fish and proper fertilizing so that food for the fish is produced. Best results have been obtained by treating ponds with a complete fertilizer in the spring.

Fish deliveries were made to a number of cooperators in the Muenster-Saint Jo area last Thursday by the U. S. Department of the Interior Fish and Wildlife Service. Catfish to stock farm ponds and flood detention reservoirs were delivered at Muenster to Joe Mages, J. P. Flusche, Jess Lucas, J. M. Stoval, Tony Wimmer, Paul Sickling, Matt Muller, Herman Luttmeyer, Henry Henscheid, Roy Atteberry, Joe Knauf, John Kreitz, D. R. Rosson, Duesman Estate, Edgar Klement, Wilfred Reiter, Eugene Klement, Earl Walterscheid, H. N. Fuhrman, John Knabe, Bobby Lutkenhaus, Alex Lutkenhaus and Tommy Felderhoff. At Saint Jo deliveries were made to Delbert Grant, T. E. Giles, H. D. Fields, Vinc Freeman and Olin Merritt.

Fish, if properly managed will furnish food for the table and recreation for farm families. Another example of getting the best use out of each acre.

Cover Crops

District-owned combination seed and fertilizer drills are running full blast to get vetch, alfalfa, peas, and winter clovers planted in the Muenster-Saint Jo area. Many landowners are taking advantage of the good moisture conditions to prepare for getting a lot of soil improving crops on the land.

Terraces

Wilfred Reiter has just completed 4,000 feet of broad channel type terraces on the Meador farm he operates. He built the terraces with a three-disc plow using the island method of terrace construction.

A man who had just gone broke was approached by a friend who asked, "What was the trouble?"

IN THE ABOVE PICTURE, A TEXAS FARMER plows up to a rig drilling for oil on his land. Last year the petroleum industry put nearly $480,000,000 in the pockets of Texas landowners of whom a great portion are farmers and ranchers. This petroleum income represents the landowners' share of oil, gas, and natural gasoline produced by oil operators in the state. It is net profit for the landowner. In addition, there is an unestimated amount of rental and bonus payments made each year to landowners. Compared with income from this petroleum "crop" is Texas gross farm income of 1.9 billion dollars received during 1954 for all farm products.

Annual Oil Crop Nets $480 Million To Texas Farmers

Texas cash farm income for 1954 ran about 1.9 billion dollars. That's gross income — the amount of money the state's farmers and ranchmen received for the products they raised on the land.

Not included in that $1.9 billion is still another income figure which annually means a great deal to Texas farmers and ranchmen. This uncounted "crop" — definitely a product of the earth — is petroleum, and last year it put nearly $480,000,000 in the pockets of Texas landowners. That's nearly one-fourth the value of all the farm and ranch products raised in Texas in one year.

This petroleum income represents the landowners' share of the oil, gas and natural gasoline produced by oil operators in Texas. Most mineral leases provide that the land owner receives a royalty payment equal to one-eighth or more of the value of the oil and gas produced from his land. Out of the other seven-eighths, the oil operator pays all the expenses of finding the oil, producing it and marketing it. So, that petroleum income is net profit for the landowner.

Nor is this all the income realized by landowners from petroleum. When an oil operator leases land, he usually pays the owner an initial payment, called a bonus, for signing the lease. And this bonus is normally followed by an annual rental payment until production is established on the lease or the lease is surrendered.

There is no accurate way of estimating the total of all those bonus and rental payments. Bonus payments vary from a few dollars an acre in areas far from oil production, up to $1,000 or more in areas of active oil development. Rentals are often $1 an acre annually, but may be considerably higher for attractive leases.

Thousands of landowners whose land has never produced oil have received substantial payments from oil companies which thought the possibilities of finding oil were good, but later dropped the leases. Petroleum—even the possibility of having it under their land — has been a good "crop" for Texas farmers and ranchmen.

Jumping at conclusions is not nearly as good mental exercise as digging for facts.

Research Paces Oil's Progress

There are three reasons why America's petroleum industry has been able to supply the ever-increasing demand for energy called for by our mechanized way of life: 1, it has fearlessly invested its capital in the hazardous search for oil and gas; 2, it has steadily expanded its facilities; and 3, it has conducted endless research to find better, more efficient ways to make the oil products America needs.

Research! That's the key to the petroleum industry's progress. And the Humble Company assures itself a place of leadership in this field with two great research laboratories.

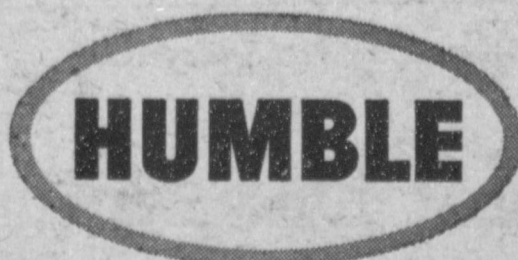

In the Humble Research Center in Houston scientists and engineers study all phases of finding, producing, and conserving oil and gas.

In the Research Laboratory at Humble's Baytown, Texas, Refinery, highly skilled technicians seek to develop new and better petroleum products, to improve those we already have, and to develop methods for making these products more efficiently.

Just as America's progress depends on oil, so oil's progress depends on research.

Hornets Win - - - tinued into its third offensive play when speedy Christian was heading for the wide open spaces on an end sweep and was tripped by his own blocker. Nevertheless, the run was good for 12 and two more tries added another first down before the Hornets braced and forced a kick.

Starting from their own 10 the Hornets appeared to be goalward bound again as they registered 3 first downs before fumbling on the Eagles' 32.

The woods would be silent if no birds sang except those that sang the sweetest!

Two guys met at a bar. "Say," said the first, "what does your wife say when you stay out as late as this?"

"Nothing," replied the other, "I'm not married."

The first fellow pondered a moment and said, "Then why do you stay out as late as this?"

HE SURE DID—Everett Durham, 22, of Scottsville, Mich., made the expression "He wrapped his car around a tree" come true at Ludington, Mich., when his car skidded one recent night as he tried to avoid hitting an animal on the road. Durham escaped with cuts and bruises.

The rest of the half was strictly a defensive affair with neither team allowing the other to make any headway.

That trend continued for the rest of the game. Each team managed four first downs for the second half but neither was able to make two in succession.

During that time, however, the Eagles lifted the spirits of their supporters on beautiful gains by Haynie and Christian. Both runs set up scoring opportunities, but the Eagles could not finish the job. Four tries following Haynie's zig-zag maneuver for 32 to the 11 resulted in a net loss of 4 yards. Shortly after that Christian's 24 yard romp from kick formation reached the 14 and three more tries resulted in an 11 yard deficit. But the next play was the big heartbreaker for Eagle fans. Big Kenneth Martin dropped a beautiful pass across the goal line.

Muenster's disappointments were less spectacular, happening in mid-field rather than near the goal. However, they put an end to the slow, steady push that characterized the Hornets after-intermission play. Twice they fell short of a first down by inches. Once they lost the ball on a fumble.

It was on defense that the Hornets stood out during the second half. Milner, Kaderli, Cain and Flusche frequently tore through to smear the speedy Eagle backs. Except for the two long runs they allowed to slip past they held their opponents to a net gain of only 2, and climaxed that performance by blocking one kick. They also blocked a kick in the first half. Ends Harris and Hamric joined in the good work by stopping the Eagles' wide maneuvers. Top performers in the Muenster backfield were Hellman Richey and Biffle. Besides being consistent for small gains they did a fine job of backing the forward wall and breaking up the Eagle passing threat. Valley View's only aerial completion of the evening was good for 25 yards on the game's last play. The Game at a Glance.

"ELEPHANT WALK"

Marcella Hermes,
William Zimmerer
Marry at Lindsay

Miss Marcella Hermes became the bride of William J. Zimmerer Wednesday, Oct. 12, during a nuptial high mass in St. Peter's church at Lindsay at 4 p.m.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Julius Hermes and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Zimmerer, all of Lindsay.

Rev. Conrad Herda, pastor, officiated for the exchange of vows in the double ring ceremony and was celebrant of the mass. Wedding music was presented by the church choir and Mrs. William Schmitz, organist. Mrs. Schmitz also accompanied Mrs. Ben Hermes, aunt of the bride and Mrs. Bruno Zimmerer, cousin of the groom, who sang "Mother at Your Feet" as a post-nuptial duet.

Given By Father

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of white chantilly lace and accordion pleated nylon tulle over bridal satin. It was fashioned with a tightly moulded bodice of lace with petal point sleeves and a tiny stand-up collar embroidered with seed pearls and sequins attached to a low-cut tulle yoke. The bouffant skirt was alternating layers of lace and pleated tulle. A lace half-hat embroidered with sequins and seed pearls held the fingertip veil of illusion and the bride carried a crescent shaped bouquet of white spoon chrysanthemums and valley lilies.

For something old and borrowed she carried the handkerchief her mother carried at her wedding 28 years ago, and for something new and blue she carried a rosary, a gift from the groom's sister, Sister Barbara James.

Attendants

Mrs. Glenn Hellman of Muenster, sister of the groom, was matron of honor and Richard Hermes, brother of the bride, was best man. Miss Angela Hermes, cousin of the bride, attended as bridesmaid, and Clarence Zimmerer, brother of the groom, was groomsmen. Misses Patsy and Mary Ann Hermes, young sisters of the bride, were junior bridesmaids.

The maid of honor wore a dress of gold taffeta and net and the bridesmaids wore tangerine colored frocks duplicating it in design. The dresses were made with bodices draped from the shoulders to form high surplice closings and the skirts were five tiers of net over the taffeta. They wore matching headpieces and carried bouquets of mums.

Walter Hermes and Herman Zimmerer Jr., brothers of the couple, ushered, and Pat Hermes, another brother of the bride, and Gilbert Hermes and Leslie Koon, cousins of the couple, were mass servers.

Mrs. Hermes attended her daughter's wedding in a light gray dress with black overtones and aqua and black accessories. Mrs. Zimmerer wore a blue dress with black velvet trim and black accessories. Both wore mum corsages.

Reception

A reception and dinner for 300 guests was held in the Lindsay Hall after the church services. Chrysanthemums carrying out the bride's colors were used in decorating. Misses Imogene Flusche and Alice Voth presided at the bride's book and Misses Virginia Zimmerer and Beatrice Zimmerer, cousins of the groom, served the wedding cake.

Wedding Trip

When Mr. and Mrs. Zimmerer left on a wedding trip of unrevealed destination she was wearing a charcoal gray suit with turquoise and black accessories. When they return they will make their home at 207 N. Red River Street in Gainesville. He is employed at National Supply Co. Both young people are graduates of Lindsay High school.

DEATH OF A FOREST — Powdered ash casts a snow-like mantle of death over this once-proud stand of towering sugar pines in the High Sierras east of Fresno, Calif., in the wake of the worst forest fires to hit the rich Pacific Coast timber lands in years.

GUESS WHO?—Strong soldiers are reduced to whimpering bundles of nerves when this GI answers the phone at the 599th Army Postal Unit, stationed at Poitiers, France. When they ask, "Who's speaking?" they get the tempering answer, "Guess." That's the GI's name—he's Specialist Third Class Don J. Guess, of Hickory, N.C.

Lindsay News

Adolph Fuhrman is making progress toward recovery following illness and surgery that has kept him in the hospital for more than two weeks. Visiting him at Gainesville Sanitarium during the weekend were his brother Louis Fuhrman of Algona, Iowa, his brother-in-law Peter Erpelding and daughter Mrs. Nicholas Wagner of Saint Joe, Iowa. They arrived Thursday and returned home Monday. The visitors were house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Fuhrman at Muenster. Henry, Louis and Adolph are brothers. The Erpeldings also visited the Joe Swirczynski family. Mr. Erpelding is the father of Clarence Erpelding, husband of the former Honey Swirczynski.

Word reached here Friday morning of the death of Sister Padua, former principal of Lindsay school. She was teaching in Fredericksburg this year. No details or other information was included in the message but apparently it was a sudden death as the Sisters here had had no previous word of her illness.

Miss Margie Hermes, a student nurse in Fort Worth, was at home for a weekend visit with her family.
