VOLUME XX

MUENSTER, COOKE COUNTY, TEXAS,

JANUARY 6, 1956

NUMBER 7

According to opinions voiced around town lately, the abundance of firecrackers certainly did not add to the beauty of this community's holiday observance. Lots of people are convinced that the nuisance this year has surpassed anything they can remember.

Fortunately there have been no casualties, that is, none of a serious nature. However there have been incidents that might have caused real trouble if circumstances had not favored the would-be victims. Firecrackers have been thrown into cars, into crowds and under horses.

Of course there's no need of explaining what might have happened in those cases. Nor is it necessary to point out that kids have lost eyes and hands, and have received very severe burns from handling firecrackers. We've all read about such incidents. And, considering all the blasting that has gone on lately, we're very lucky not to read about a tragedy here. By the law of averages a serious injury is long overdue.

An effect that has been noticed here, however, is wear and tear on people's nerves. Folks have been rudely roused from their sleep during the wee hours of the morning and were not able to get back to sleep for hours. Some of them worried constantly over the danger of dry grass or rubbish breaking into flame. They had good reason for their anxiety, too. Fireworks have caused lots of fires. Not the least of the offenses was the desecration of the year's most beautiful feast. Our smart alecs saw to it that Christmas was not observed as Silent Night, Holy Night.

A person wonders about the mentality of youngsters who entertain themselves in that way. By what kind of twisted thinking can they enjoy spoiling old people's rest, or making a driver scramble to brush away a firecracker while keeping control of his car, or terrorizing a horse with a couple of kids on his back? Any normal six-year-old should know there's nothing funny about it.

The sad fact is that blasting firecrackers does not make sense, but still we see otherwise normal kids apparently having a big time with them. What's the answer? Is this just a way of expressing youthful disregard for the wishes and advice of elders? Is it a show-off complex in which kids try to exalt themselves by disregard of safety and authority?

If that's how it is, perhaps the guys concerned should pause and think a little further. It would be a lot smarter to distinguish themselves by consideration and judgment. That way they could impress smart people. By their way they impress only the smart alecs and imbeciles.

What to do about the nuisance? As the first corrective measure it seems we should work on a change of attitudes. Parents, schools and clubs can strive to convince the youngsters that shooting firecrackers is no credit to themselves or to the community. The more we can sell that idea the more noise we can eliminate, and we'll really accomplish something when youngsters themselves start showing disapproval. This thing can work out here the way safety consciousness has worked in some other places. Smart alecs start calming down when they discover they are becoming unpopular with smart kids.

Regarding those who can't be taught, there seems to be only one solution. A crack-down by the law. Lots of kids could have been arrested lately for disturbing the peace. Likewise anyone who sold fireworks within the city limits was subject to arrest. Both of those situations can be corrected, and it seems possible to do something also about open sales of the stuff between here and Gainesville.

Actually, this situation is serious enough to merit the attention of our state legislature. Fireworks should be available only on special permit to responsible concerns who use them properly, as supervised displays at fairs or other big occasions. But they should not be available as playthings for irresponsible kids.

NOTHING NEW UNDER THE SUN—Rare choir manuscript, dating back to the 16th century, is shown to Rev. William J. Monihan, left, University of San Francisco librarian, by Stanley S. Slotkin of Los Angeles. Hand-lettered on calfskin, it antedates TV prompting cards by four centuries, was designed for scanning by an entire choir from a distance of some 30 feet. Slotkin discovered three of the rare notations in a sealed room of a chair factory at Valencia, Spain. He presented them to the University.

Prairie Valley and Petrolia Win Top Tourney Trophies

Petrolia's boys and Prairie Valley's girls took the top trophies Saturday night as Muenster's second annual Holiday Tournament, the fastest and most thrilling ever played in the local gym, came to a close before a jammed house of cheering spectators.

According to Superintendent H. H. Homsley, the big basketball festival was next to perfect in almost every respect. Fans got their money's worth in a better than average percentage of tightly contested games. Weather was favorable. Crowds were big and orderly.

Other trophy winners were the Bellevue boys and the Midway girls as runners-up in the champ bracket, and Midway boys and Muenster girls as consolation winners.

A sportsmanship trophy in each division were the only individual awards presented. Nathalie Akin, known to the crowds as Midway's No. 8 and identified by some as the sweetheart of the tourney, was the girl selected for the honor. She was outstanding in spirit, floor work, team play and shooting accuracy. She was the tourney's second high scorer, being bested by Mary Mann of Prairie Valley. Favored for the boy's trophy was Mike McDonald, Petrolia's No. 55. Though not outstanding as a scorer, he distinguished himself by hustling, cheerfulness and magnificent ball handling.

The final session Saturday night was featured by the girls champ contest, in which Prairie Valley emerged as the 60-56 winner after an extra period. It was a thriller all the way with Midway leading 16-14 at the end of the first period and Prairie Valley leading 32-31 and 46-45 at the second and third, then ending as a 56-56 tie. In the overtime period Mary Mann iced the game away with a field goal and two charity tosses. As thrilling as the contest itself were individual performances by Akin and Mann. Akin hit the net for 40, including 20 out of 25 tries at the foul line. Mann scored 54, including 20 points and no misses at the foul line.

The Petrolia-Bellevue tussle for the boys champ trophy was a defensive classic for the first three periods, but ended with Petrolia pulling ahead for the comfortable final count of 42-25. The champs led 7-6 in the first quarter, and again 23-20 at the third after a 13-13 deadlock at intermission.

Muenster girls too had a struggle for their consolation trophy, winning 28-23. After the first period the teams were tied 6-6. At the close of the next periods Muenster led 16-12 and 17-15.

The boys consolation final was a cinch for Midway. They had the advantage all the way and ended as 65-36 victors over Sacred Heart.

Preliminaries and semi finals likewise had their quota of hot games. In the boys division five games were decided by 10 points or less, the closest being Sacred

MOVES PUT 7 FAMILIES IN DIFFERENT HOMES

Recent moves, and three more to come, are putting seven families in different homes.

The John Otto family has moved from 302 E. Sixth to 232 W. Second where they are occupying the house recently vacated by the J. A. Sanders. The place the Ottos vacated will become the home of the D. R. Martins who will move there from the former Grewing Estate, bought recently by Mr. and Mrs. Alfons Koessler who will move to town some time after the house is remodeled.

The Paul Tempels who bought the former home of Francis Wiese have moved there and the Lyndal Dickersons are occupying the house the Tempels vacated. The lease house where the Dickersons have been living will become the home of the R. P. Cain family and their house will be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Carl Mullins who are moving here from Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Maglaughlin of Spearman visited here during the recent holidays with friends.

Letson Hands Back Theatre Ownership To F. E. Schmitz

Effective January 1 the ownership of the Relax Theatre returned to F. E. Schmitz.

George Letson, owner and operator since early in 1953, announced last week that he has given up the local theatre venture as too much of a financial strain. He said that his net return after payments and operating expense were too small to justify his continued efforts at the show.

F. A. Kathman Jr. is currently managing the business for Schmitz. He is booking pictures and supervising operation of the show on a part time schedule while continuing his regular work with Endres Motor Company. Others working with him are Joe Horn, Marian Starke, Lu Rena Wolf and Mary Catherine Walterscheid.

Letson continues to operate his other theatre, The Metro, at Saint Jo.

Carl Mullins and Wife Join Staff at Livestock Auction

A man who is well known to local stockmen as a frequent visitor at the Muenster Livestock Auction sales became a member of the organization this week. He is Carl Mullins, who has been here often as a buyer for a Lubbock livestock dealer.

Mullins will be one of the regular staff at the Saturday auctions and will have charge of office details and other management at the barn during the week.

He will be joined in that work by his wife, newly appointed bookkeeper for the Livestock Auction. She succeeds R. P. Cain, who has taken over management of the Cain and Evans oil lease.

Mr. and Mrs. Mullins will move here next week, into the house now occupied by R. P. Cain, east of the sale barn. R. P. will move to the oil lease, into the house formerly occupied by Lyndal Dickerson.

MHS Teams Start Loop Schedule with Wins Over Alvord

Muenster High School basketball teams got off to a good start in their 1956 conference race by edging Alvord in two tight contests Tuesday night in the MHS gym.

The local girls used a comfortable lead to advantage during the last quarter for a 43-40 win in spite of a rally by the visitors. After a slow start they trailed 6-3 at the first period, and held an 18-14 lead at half time. In the next quarter they extended their lead to 39-29, then held out for their final 3-point margin. Top scorers were Haverkamp with 21 and Pick with 14.

Muenster boys came from behind in the last quarter for their 50-46 decision. The game was a thriller all the way with Hosea's boys crowding constantly but unable to take the lead until the final 6 minutes. After that they got to an 8-point lead at one time but saw it shrink to 4 at the end. Alvord's biggest margin was a 6-0 lead after a fast start. At intermission Alvord led 27-22.

An improved record at the foul line possibly accounts for the Hornet victory. They made 20 of 24 tries. Top scorers were Dougherty with 21 and Cain with 15.

Next games on schedule for the teams are a non-conference tussle at Bellevue Thursday night, a conference game at Calisburg Friday night, and a conference game at Era next Tuesday night.

Final Installment On Tax Due Jan. 16

Taxpayers making quarterly installments on individual estimated income tax should mark January 16 in their date book.

This, according to H. P. Moore of the Fort Worth office of the Revenue Service is the deadline for paying the final installment on 1955 estimated tax. January 16 is also the last day to amend a prior declaration of estimated tax return to avoid possible penalties for under-estimation.

Auxiliary Maps Plan For Annual March Of Dimes Campaign

The annual March of Dimes campaign in Muenster will again be sponsored by the Ladies Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars and members are arranging a well organized drive. It is the organization's fourth March on Polio of this nature.

The Auxiliary mapped its campaign at a regular meeting Tuesday night and Mrs. Richard Grewing, president, accepted general chairmanship. She will be assisted by almost the same group of workers who brought last year's campaign to such a successful goal-topping conclusion. Receipts in 1955 totaled over $500. The group did not set a definite goal this year but hopes to do as well in the current drive.

Plans for contributions include personal solicitations at the doors of both local churches, the traditional one-hour porch light campaign, a Variety Show by Red Gordon and his entertainers, and collections through the small containers that will be left in business houses in the city.

Chairmen in charge of activity include Mrs. Steve Moser, church collections; Mrs. H. H. Homsley and FHA chapter members, the porch light drive; Mrs. Lou Wolf, the Variety Show, and Mrs. David Trachta, the containers for business houses.

Definite dates for the church collections and the Variety Show will be announced when arrangements are complete.

Gremminger Buys Main Cafe Building

Ted Gremminger is the new owner of the Main Cafe building. While it was being prepared for moving early this week he and Anthony Luke made a deal whereby he acquires the building and a one year lease on the location to which it is being moved. He has not indicated whether he intends to move the building again or wreck it for salvage at the end of the year.

The purpose of the present move is to clear the site for erection of Luke's new Variety Store, which is due to begin about January 15. Temporary location for the cafe building was provided last month when Fred Hennigan salvaged the old Stelzer Estate building.

The Cafe was cut into two sections for the moving job. The front section was moved Thursday and the other will follow in a few days.

The two groups met separately with officers of each conducting the business session for their clubs.

Austin Firm Gets Contract to Build City Sewer Plant

Clyde Smith, Austin contractor, has been given the job of building Muenster's sewer disposal plant. Members of the city council awarded the contract on the basis of his low bid $37,000 for the complete construction and installation.

According to agreements made since by the city and the contractor his job, and his fee, will be cut down somewhat in order to turn over some of the work to the city's workmen and to local contractors. Some jobs figured in that category are excavation for the disposal plant, shaping the lagoons and installing pipe from the plant to lagoons.

Work is due to begin within the next few weeks and should be completed in May or June.

The new plant is designed to handle more than twice the volume of sewage that the city has at this time. According to the engineers it will accommodate a population of 2,500 plus twice the volume of waste presently coming from the NTPA milk plant.

If the city continues its past rate of growth the new plant will be adequate for more than 15 years. When the original disposal plant was built, in 1940, the population was about 600. Now it is estimated at near 1200.

Income Tax Report By Farmer Not Due Until February 15

COLLEGE STATION. — Farm and ranch operators should be happy to know that their income tax reports are not due until February 15, 1956. The previous deadline for filing the reports was January 31. The ruling was made in 1955 but was not announced in time to affect many taxpayers, says C. H. Bates, extension farm management specialist.

There is an exception, points out Bates. Every farm employer who owes the two percent employer tax and the two percent employee tax must file a return on Form 943, and pay the taxes, on or before January 31, 1956. Farm employers should file their returns on time in order to avoid the penalty which may be charged for late filing.

For the first time this year self employed farmers who net $400 or gross $800 or more annually are subject to reporting for social security benefits. The Act was amended by Congress in 1954 and applies to farm and ranch income for 1955.

Because of the possibility of retirement benefits and insurance features of the plan, farm and ranch operators should study procedure for reporting. Each person will need a social security number before making report for benefits and paying the tax.

Information on various phases of tax reporting says Bates, may be obtained either from county extension agents or the Social Security and Internal Revenue offices. Even if copies are available only for study, persons interested will find the reference covers the self-employment phases in some detail. A helpful booklet, "Farmers' Tax Guide for 1955", is available in limited quantity from county extension service offices.

Mary Jo Walter and William R. Graham Wed at Gainesville

Miss Mary Jo Walter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe B. Walter of Gainesville, became the bride of William Ray Graham in a New Year's eve ceremony in St. Mary's church. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Graham, also of Gainesville.

Rev. Michael Gormley performed the double ring ceremony and officiated at the nuptial mass for which the children's choir furnished songs. Miss Ann Gallagher was accompanist.

Mr. Walter gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a formal gown of magnolia white peau de faulle and hand-clipped French Chantilly lace. An original model, the dress was designed with a lace yoke with a portrait neckline and a moulded bodice of faulle with long fitted sleeves. The very bouffant skirt of lace had an overskirt of faulle divided in the back to show ruffles of lace that descended into a court train. Her veil of illusion edged in lace was held to a tiara of seed pearls and rhinestones and was worn over the face until after the vows were repeated. Her flowers, yellow roses surrounded by white roses, were carried over a prayerbook, a gift from the groom.

Miss Rita Walter attended her sister as maid of honor and Mrs. Wayne Plumlee and Mrs. Bob McCabe were bridesmaids. They wore identical dresses of oriental copper colored velvet designed with street length skirts that flared out over crinolines. Their headdresses of velvet matched their dresses and they carried colonial bouquets of yellow roses.

Little Dianne Sicking, niece of the bride, was flower girl, gowned identically as the other attendants of the bride. She carried a basket of yellow and bronze pompon mums.

Ralph Clodfelter was best man and Barry Blevins and Ted Ellis were groomsmen.

A reception in St. Mary's school followed the services. Miss Joyce Hughes presided at the punch service and Mrs. Andrew Wimmer and Miss Christine Deckard served the cake. About 200 guests were registered by Mrs. Leroy Case.

When the couple left on a wedding trip she was wearing a two-piece turquoise blue box jacket suit with black and white accessories. They will make their home at 532 1/2 Moran Street in Gainesville.

Auxiliary Sets Jan. 22 As Dinner Date

A dinner party will be an added feature at the VFW Auxiliary's regular game social on January 22. Members made plans for the event at their meeting Tuesday night.

The affair will be for VFW and Auxiliary members and their guests. Mrs. Joe Lehnert will do the catering and plates will be a dollar each. Serving will begin at 7 p.m. and will continue as long as anyone wishes to be served. The games will start at 8 o'clock. The dinner is a benefit for the Auxiliary's treasury.

Other business during the meeting Tuesday included reports of standing committees, the donation of a cash contribution to the Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation, and mapping of plans for the annual March of Dimes campaign which the Auxiliary will sponsor again this year. It was announced that there will be a game party next Sunday night, Jan. 8, beginning at 8 p.m.

St. Anne's Society
Hears Talk On New Year Resolutions

A talk on New Year's resolutions featured the meeting of Saint Anne's Society Sunday afternoon when Father Patrick Hannon, spiritual director of the organization, addressed the group. In his talk he suggested fewer resolutions, well kept rather than a long list of resolves that will be impossible to keep up with during the year.

During the business session Mrs. Victor Hartman presided and reminded members that Friday, Jan. 6, is a day of special indulgence for those who hold membership in the society. She urged reception of the sacraments and prayers for the intentions of the Holy Father.

It was announced that old felt hats are still being collected. These hats are converted into shoes for Korean babies. One shipment, contributed locally, has already gone to Mrs. Ben Moore at Sherman, Chairman of the NCCW deanery's Social Charitable Welfare committee, who tends to forwarding the hats to their destination.

Mrs. Gary Hess, president of the local Confraternity of Christian Doctrine, spoke briefly telling about activity of past few months and listing things hoped to be achieved in the future. She invited membership in the confraternity.

The meeting in the parish hall preceded the regular prayer service in church. Thirty-seven members were present and Mrs. Henry Fette won the attendance prize, a framed picture of St. Francis of Assisi.

1st Graders of 1927
Have Class Reunion

A class party, with Rev. Thomas Weinzapfel as honored guest, was held during the recent holidays by those who started school at Sacred Heart in 1927. The class reunion observed Father Weinzapfel's tenth anniversary as a priest.

Forty classmates who started school 28 years ago attended the event that featured visiting, reminiscing, singing and refreshments. It was held in the parish hall.

Beginners in 1928 totaled 72, the largest number of first graders ever enrolled in one year. The class still holds the championship for membership, and it was figured out at the meeting won't be surpassed until 1951 babies start school. There were 81 infant baptism that year.

The group looked at school and class pictures taken through the years, recalled former teachers, among them Sister Anastasia of blessed memory and Sister Bertha, now teaching in Wiener, Ark. Two former teachers, Sister Leonarda and Sister Gebharda, here again this year, were special guests. Father Louis and Father Christopher were also present, as were husbands or wives of the class members.

Sister Leonarda played the piano and the group sang songs they remembered from school days, along with modern numbers and Christmas carols.

Mrs. Tim Stormer and Mrs. Leonard Yosten were hostesses in charge of refreshments. Mrs. Maurice Pagel took pictures. Those attending presented a purse to Father Weinzapfel as an anniversary gift.

Out of town class members attending were Urban Flusche and his wife of Dallas and Mrs. Leo Prescher, the former Hilda Sickling, and her husband from Valley View.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Ratliff and sons Mike and Sam of Lubbock returned home Sunday after a four day visit with her parents, the John Fettes, her sister and family, the Herbert Meurers, and other relatives and friends.

Pause For Reflection

In his address to the recent AFL-CIO convention, Gov. Harriman of New York, according to news accounts, said, "... we must always make clear to everyone in the world that self-determination of nations is the basic principle of our foreign policy everywhere in the free world." Certainly this is sound. It was, of course, too much to hope that Gov. Harriman would go on and say, as I think he should have, that "self determination of individuals ought also to be the basic principle of our domestic policy everywhere in America, subject, of course, to the limitation of no aggression against anyone else." But then, if Gov. Harriman had said this, he might not have got to finish his speech before an organization that evidently believes the basic principle of our domestic policy should be legalized compulsory union membership with aggression against everyone.

It is a tragic commentary on present trends that in neither Gov. Harriman's speech nor Secretary of Labor Mitchell's address to the same meeting on the same day was there a single word to indicate that either of them believes a workingman in America has a basic right to be a free man un beholden to any organization — labor union or anything else. If self determination is right for nations, why in the name of common decency is it wrong for individuals?

Farm Machinery Prices

One complaint made by farm spokesmen is that prices in general are high, and in some cases are rising, at a time when farm income has declined. Farm machinery has been one of the targets of criticism in this connection.

The Movies Need Morals

By Martin Quigley, Editor of the MOTION PICTURE HERALD and the MOTION PICTURE DAILY

WHEN I was developing the Movie Production Code, there were clearly in evidence two contrasting views about the nature and purpose of the movies. These two opposing camps are just as opposed and vigorous in their opinions today—but today the issue is sharper and more important.

Quigley

One viewpoint, which has the largest access to newspapers and magazines, holds that the sole purpose of movies is the realistic re-creation of life to provide entertainment. This viewpoint—commonly called liberal—falls to recognize the moral law. It seems to ignore the rules of conduct set forth in the Ten Commandments and written in the hearts of men.

THE OPPOSING CAMP recognizes movies as fulfilling an urgent need for recreation and diversion. They also recognize in movies enormous possibilities for education and culture.

But most important, this opposing camp recognizes that movies may greatly harm human thought and behavior if they ignore or reject the eternal and unvarying mandates of the moral law. This school disapproves of any scene competently judged to be potentially dangerous to the moral life of movie audiences.

THE ISSUE between these two camps is now sharply—even bitterly—drawn. The point at issue between these two camps is whether the motion picture producer is to be his brother's keeper—whether the morals of the audience is the producer's concern.

"Art for Art's sake" is an argument frequently advanced to support the claim for unrestricted freedom of expression. Some take this to mean that the artist or producer has no obligation or even concern for the moral influence of what he conveys to the public.

MANY WOULD give this unlimited freedom of expression to the artist in our society, a clear indication of our departure from the religious traditions that are the core of Western civilization. All art is moral. Art is created by human beings who must observe the mandates of the moral order. Art is intended for human beings who likewise are bound to observe the mandates of the moral law.

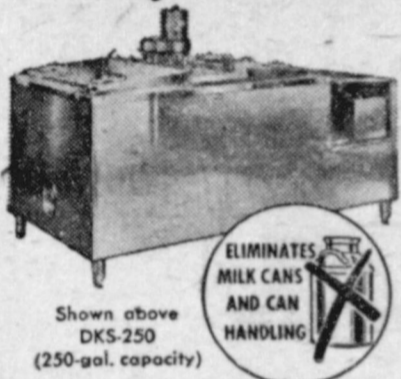

Motion pictures, as well as literature, painting, and sculpture, must obey this rule of morality in art. Those who argue freedom from moral restraint in movies are headed not to freedom but to personal and social enslavement.

THE TRUTH that makes men free will not be gained by indulgence and license. Only a conscientious respect for the moral law which has been Providentially imposed on every person born into this world will bring man to the only goal consistent with his dignity and destiny.

ON GUARD

Soil and water conservation is a never-ending job. Constant vigilance against the ravages of wind and water must be maintained. Encroachment of brush and weeds in pastures must be prevented. Rodents and insects must be kept from injuring soil building crops.

Soil management plays an important part in Conservation. Good soil management may be described as the guardian of soil and water since it guards against those foes that would destroy the soil building program. It's a good idea to keep up the guard.

An informative contribution to the controversy was made in a letter written by the head of one farm equipment manufacturer to Secretary Benson. He said: "Farm prices and farm machinery prices are both affected by long-range trends in general price levels and the general level of economic activity but . . . in the short run, there is no essential relationship between them. Farm prices are determined largely by world prices, governmental policies, and crop yields. Farm machinery prices, on the other hand, are determined in large part by the prices of iron, steel, rubber, and other industrial commodities, and by wage rates."

He then showed what has happened in the case of his company, which is typical of the industry. Since mid-1950, average hourly earnings of its factory employes have increased by 34.4 per cent in wages alone. In addition, there have been greatly increased costs in fringe benefits. The cost of materials, also, has risen substantially.

Yet, since mid-1950, the prices of the machines it sells (including an increase posted very recently) have risen but 25.1 per cent — much less than the wage increase alone.

In other words, to quote him again, "the cost of making farm machines . . . has gone up further and faster than the prices of farm machines." That fact should be emphasized in any discussion of farm prices and farm costs. So should the fact that the newer machines are more efficient and productive — which in itself is a major economy to the farmer.

It looks high priced
...but it's the '56 Chevrolet!

THE NEW BEL AIR SPORT COUPE—one of 19 high-priced-looking Chevrolet models.

Who wouldn't mistake this handsome new Chevrolet for a high-priced car!

It looks strictly "upper bracket" with its bold new Motoramic styling... its longer, lower hood... its proud new grille that spans the full front end.

Even the details would do credit to an expensive car... like the sleek, high-fashion taillights (the left one hides the gas cap!).

But, even beyond the costly appearance of its Fisher Body, Chevy gives the high-priced cars a run for their money. For it's one of the few great road cars built today!

It brings you the added security of nailed-down stability on turns and lightning acceleration for safer passing. Horsepower now ranges all the way up to 205! All engines now have hydraulic-hushed valve lifters.

Of course, Chevrolet has safety door latches in all models. In addition, you can have seat belts, with or without shoulder harness, and instrument panel padding at extra cost.

There's a new Chevrolet just made for you. So come in and highway-test it.

Soil Conservation Notes

By Emmitt Yoder

At the beginning of each new year it is the custom to glance back over the events of the past year in the fond hope of benefiting enough from our experiences to enable us to better serve our fellowman and to make our own life fuller and happier.

As we jump feet first into a new year with a clean slate, it might be well to consider the accomplishments of landowners in the Muenster-Saint Jo area who are cooperating with the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation district to save soil and water.

In spite of the drought which is the worst long-period dry spell that has been recorded, farmers and ranchers of this area have gone right on with the soil and water saving practices that were planned on their lands. These plans call for proper land use and that each acre be treated according to its needs for protection and improvement.

Here is a glance back at last year's accomplishments. Co-operators in the Muenster-Saint Jo area planted some 18,845 acres to soil building legume cover crops such as sweet clover, alfalfa, vetch and peas. These crops cover the soil with a blanket of green foliage to protect against soil erosion from hard rains. Their roots penetrate deep into the soil and greatly increase water intake into the soil, their root nodules offer homes for bacteria that enrich the soil with nitrogen taken from the air and their tops and roots add tons of organic matter to the soil to help following crops.

Waterways had a pretty fair year. There were 22 wide grass waterways successfully planted last year. They will serve as terrace outlet areas and will make it possible to terrace many acres of sloping farm-land near Muenster. Waterways also do double duty by serving as good pasture strips.

Deferred grazing was practiced on over 5,000 acres in '55. This practice gives the grass a three to six months rest during the growing season so that it will improve in vigor and thicken the stand by making seed. Over 6,000 acres of short grass pastures were grazed in rotations to allow the grass periods of rest during the growing season.

Fifteen miles of terraces were built by landowners to help protect some 500 acres of sloping fields from damage of run-off water. And 41 ponds were constructed for livestock water. These ponds will aid greatly in better management of grasslands by giving better distribution of grazing and will enable farmers and ranchers to practice rotation grazing.

Brush and trees were removed from 467 acres to make way for grass planting and grasses were successfully planted last year on nearly 500 acres.

It has been a pretty fair year in spite of adverse weather. Now is the time for all district cooperators to lay plans and resolve to do a bigger and better job of putting soil conservation practices to work on their land in the new year ahead.

Miss Mary McGannon, Larry Hofbauer and Allan Dale Eberhart left Monday to return to classes in San Antonio. They are students at Our Lady of the Lake College and St. Mary's University. Charles McGannon who was also here for the holidays left Saturday to return to St. Edward's University in Austin. Enroute he stopped in Dallas to spend New Year's day with friends.

RED CHAIN CHICK STARTER
A Complete Feed • Mash or Granules

ONLY A LITTLE NEEDED SO IT MUST BE Tops!

Baby chicks have a very small capacity for feed but when growing normally they attain 20 times their hatching weight in eight weeks. This means that the feed you give them must be high in nutrient levels . . . and every particle of feed must contain the right quota of the various ingredients. Only by using the most modern weighing, blending and mixing machinery can this be assured. For example, when 10 grams of antibiotics is provided in a ton of feed each 100 pounds of finished feed must contain 1/2 gram. This is equivalent to 1/2 teaspoon of antibiotics. Very small amounts of vitamins and minerals are also needed . . . but these amounts also must be present for fast, healthy growth.

When you feed your chicks RED CHAIN Chick Starter you provide them with the very best feed we know how to make. SEE YOUR RED CHAIN DEALER TODAY.

First Sgt. and Mrs. Ernest Arendt of Lawton, Okla., spent the New Year weekend with his parents, the Paul Arendts. Other members of the family joined them Sunday afternoon and Ernest showed colored slides of scenery and interesting places taken while he was in Alaska before being assigned to Fort Sill recently.

The Paul Zimmerers of Norman, Okla., were guests of his parents, the I. A. Zimmerers during the recent holidays.

Miss Viola Bezner left Sunday for Saint Louis, Mo., where she is taking an 18-month anesthesia course at Barnes Hospital. A graduate nurse, Miss Bezner had been on duty at M&S Hospital for the past several months.

Rev. Alcuin Kubis left Tuesday to return to Subiaco after a visit with homefolks. Going with him were his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Kubis who will remain for an indefinite visit, and three students of Subiaco Academy, Alcuin Paul Kubis, Richard Hess of Muenster and Johnny Walter of Gainesville. The boys are resuming classes after the holiday recess.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lueb and three children of Oklahoma City visited her parents, the Martin Friskes and family, during the recent holidays.

The Ben Sandmann family enjoyed the recent holidays with all members of the family at home for a reunion. Their soldier son, PFC Bernard Sandmann, was on leave from Fort McClellan, Ala., and their Air Force son, Max, returned home on Dec. 24 with a discharge after four years of service. He came from Rapid City, S.D., where he was based for three and a half years. He held the rank of airman first class. Coming to Lindsay with him were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Sandmann of Petersburg, Neb., who vacationed with relatives and were honored at a number of family gatherings.

Mark Hermes and Ray Zimmerer left Tuesday along with Gerald Pels, Charles Herr and Eugene Schoech of Muenster, to return to classes at Subiaco Academy. Ed Pels took them to Sherman where they boarded a bus for Fort Smith. They were met there by Father Harold who took them to Subiaco in a school bus.

Mr. and Mrs. Tony Hermes entertained with a dinner party Wednesday, Dec. 28, honoring their son Mark, at home from Subiaco for the holidays, and her brother Rev. Leo Koessler, also of Subiaco who spent a short vacation with homefolks. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfons Koessler were among guests. Later in the evening other family members gathered for a reunion at the Hermes home. Included in the party were Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Caplinger and three sons of Sherman, Tony and Alfons Koessler Jr., and the Norbert Koessler family of Muenster. It was Father Leo's first visit with his new nephew, infant Randy Joseph Hermes.

New Unemployment Tax Law Applies to 38,000 Texas Firms

Almost 15,000 firms employing four, five, six or seven workers are now in the process of being covered under the recently amended Texas Unemployment Compensation Act, Weldon Hart, Chairman of the Texas Employment Commission announced.

"Operators of these firms have responded to letters, publicity and efforts by our local offices to advise them of their tax liability," Hart said, "However there are 23,000 more who have not responded as yet. It would be to their advantage to do so immediately, so that penalties and assessment of back taxes can be avoided."

Following amendments to the Federal Unemployment Tax Act last year, the Texas Legislature changed the state unemployment law accordingly. Any business which has as many as four employees on 20 days in 20 different weeks after July 1, 1955 becomes liable for unemployment tax on its payrolls during 1956. Beginning January 1 any firm which has 20 such weeks during a calendar year in which four or more persons are employed on any day, will pay unemployment taxes.

"Not only firms which regularly employ as many as four employees will be affected," Hart explained, "but also a small business which has four people working only Saturdays, or one which regularly has two employees during the day and two others at night, will owe the payroll tax at the end of each calendar quarter."

Any employer who has employed four persons in 20 weeks during 1955 should notify the Texas Employment Commission in Austin now, Hart added, so that an explanation of how to comply with the law can be sent to him.

"We have had little experience yet with the 35,000 firms that have four to eight employees," Hart said, "but we think that the group includes many, many stable firms that have very low turnover — the drug store, grocery, barber shop, service station and cafe. This stability suggests that unemployment insurance claims may be made very rarely, and consequently tax rates can be held low."

The opportunity to save taxes through the "experience rating" system in the state law is one of the reasons why the Legislature brought in the smaller firms. Had the Legislature not done so, these employers of four to eight would have had to pay a full 3% federal tax. Under the Texas "experience rating" plan, tax rates after a qualifying period of from 1 1/2 to 2 years can range from a maximum of 2.7% to a minimum of 1/10 of 1 per cent. The TEC collects the State Tax and the Federal Government collects 3/10 of one per cent for administrative purposes. This feature of state operation of the unemployment insurance program saves Texas businessmen millions of dollars each year.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Luke spent the weekend in Subiaco, Ark., visiting their son, Ray, who is recovering from recent surgery.
