VOLUME XX

MUENSTER, COOKE COUNTY, TEXAS,

APRIL 6, 1956

NUMBER 20

A new organization which deserves spontaneous and enthusiastic support from all straight thinking people of this country is the group known as FOR AMERICA, which describes itself as a "committee for political action" and announces a platform that is worthy of the serious attention of all the big wheels in our government.

Ideals of the organization reflect the well known opinions of several of its leaders, who have been outspoken in support of policies to safeguard the security and integrity of this country on both domestic and foreign issues. Those leaders are Dean Manion, Dan Smoot, General Robert E. Wood and Brigadier General Bonner Fellers.

Though it's hardly likely that the group will gain significant power before the coming elections, there is some room for a hope that it can exert a wholesome influence here and there, perhaps add welcome strength to the element which to date has been inadequate in coping with so many of the isms which are alien to Americanism. Ideals such as theirs cannot be brushed aside lightly, and they can grow into quite a power, as indicated by the fine public response to a popular rally on Washington's Birthday. New York's huge Carnegie Hall was packed and 4000 disappointed citizens had to be left outside.

The committee is vehement in denouncing the present internationalist policies which strain our finances, threaten our liberty and involve us in other countries' quarrels. It recommends foreign policies which are concerned primarily with the welfare of Americans.

To that end it is strongly in favor of the Bricker amendment so that no executive agreement or treaty can violate a provision guaranteed by the Constitution. It also recommends ending the Status of Forces Treaty which nullifies our country's protection to service personnel abroad. Sound judgment here would seem to dictate that a person should remain under our country's jurisdiction as long as he is under our country's orders.

Equally reasonable and far more important is the recommendation urging a re-organization of UN into an association of non-communist countries, otherwise discontinue our membership. Doing that would eliminate the present absurd situation of some UN members supporting the very aggression which the organization seeks to check. At the same time it would eliminate the unscrupulous red behavior which has hindered or prevented practically all proposals favoring human dignity and freedom.

"For America" is no less practical in its several proposals in domestic policy. It asks for less borrowing, less spending, and correspondingly less tax. It calls for gradual reduction of the national debt along with economics in the budget. Very wisely it suggests that the government get out of business and allow present tax eating firms to become taxpayers, also that the government adopt the Hoover Commission recommendations to save seven billion dollars a year.

In view of the self evident soundness of these ideas it is difficult for us to understand why the changes were not made long ago. The combined benefits of those few suggestions alone could reduce every individual's tax load tremendously and still reduce the national debt every year. More economics in the necessary functions of government would lighten the tax load even more.

The organization has quite a number of other fine suggestions. Such as abiding by the principle of Washington's Farewell Address and the Monroe Doctrine in dealing with other countries . . . reversing the trend toward socialism . . . demanding full responsibility of both business and labor organizations in relation to public welfare . . . applying the full pressure of our laws in dealing with communism . . . recognizing states rights in all matters not specifically listed in the constitution . . . decentralizing the power in Washington . . . reserving control of education to state and local governments . . . abolishing withholding tax . . . guaranteeing the right to work

THE SILENT ALARM—Trappist monks scan the heavens day and night from rooftops of Our Lady of New Mellary monastery, Dubuque, Iowa, as members of the nation's Ground Observer Corps. Those among the complement of 40 sky-watchers who man telephones to the Air Force Filter Center at Des Moines have been granted special permission by their religious superiors to break the order's vow of silence. The monks normally communicate by means of hand signals only.

Harris Wins Mile At Cowtown Relays

Jimmy Harris, fleet footed miler of Muenster High, boosted his prestige on North Texas tracks considerably last Saturday when he romped in for the blue ribbon at the Cowtown Relays.

Along with other members of the Hornet track team he was competing in the A division, which was open to members of A and B schools. The AA division of the meet included entries from the three higher classifications of schools.

Winning the race was the crowning achievement in Harris' track career to date. His competition consisted of the strongest A and B milers of North Texas, including two fellows who had nudged him in the Possum Kingdom relay at Graham a few weeks before.

Two other Muenster entries in the relay made a creditable showing, although failing to take ribbons. Hamric ran fifth in the 880 and the mile relay team, consisting of Hamric, Wolf, Richey and Harris, came in sixth. Considering the number and caliber of entries in those events, both achievements were worthy of notice.

Three other Hornet entries were eliminated in the preliminaries. They are Kaderli in the high jump, Milner in the discus and Richey in the 100 and 220.

Next on schedule for the team is the North Texas Relay at Denton on April 14. All the boys who participated at Fort Worth will be entered.

Following that, on the 28th, Muenster will compete in the Interscholastic League regional meet at Denton. All the members listed above, as first, second or third place winners in the district meet, are qualified to enter.

Moisture Here Measures 4.57 for First Quarter of Year

A short hard shower accompanied by heavy wind Monday night did not solve the present moisture problem but it may serve the purpose of helping sustain crops until the customary rains of April and May arrive. The measure, on Steve Mosler's official US weather gauge, was .31 inch, bringing the year's total to date to 4.88. Though far less than most people wanted, rain here during the first three months has been very near normal. On March 31 the total to date was 4.57. Last year it was 4.58 and the year before, which was a bumper crop year in the community, it was only 2.87. However another condition is different. The 2.87 was preceded by a quarter measuring 11.72 whereas the last quarter of last year measured only .55.

Compared with the 10-year average, the community is less than an inch shy in moisture. The average for the first quarter during the preceding decade is 5.47.

FFA Chapter Will Display Livestock Projects Friday

Members of the Muenster FFA chapter will have their first project show Friday when they display about 40 head of livestock and several groups of chickens at their recently completed project arena north of the Hornet football field.

About $200 worth of prize money and ribbons will be awarded to the winners of the show. Funds for the prizes were provided by the Cooke County United Fund out of its appropriation for club-boy and club-girl activities.

Animals and chickens will be on display at 11 o'clock and judging by H. T. Lester, vocational agriculture teacher of Era, will start at 1 o'clock.

The public is urged to come and see the displays any time from 11 until the judging ends, about 3 o'clock.

33 Vote, All for Kaderli, Lehnertz

In one of the lightest votes in Muenster's history M. D. Kaderli and Jimmy Lehnertz were elected to the City Council at the annual election Tuesday in the city hall. Only 33 persons bothered to go through the formality of officially approving the two candidates who were unopposed on the ticket.

The new aldermen succeed J. J. Wieler and George Mollenkopf, who declined to seek reelection at the expiration of their terms.

Other members of the council are Mayor Urban Endres, Rudy Hellman, J. A. Fisher and Herbert Meurer.

Club To Hear About Flower Arrangements

A talk on flower arrangements will highlight the meeting of Civic League and Garden Club next Monday night when the group meets in the home of Mrs. L. B. Bruns with Mrs. Richard Cain as co-hostess.

Mrs. Joe Luke will be in charge of the program hour. Her topic is "Color in Flower Arrangements." Members will answer roll call by naming their favorite arrangements.

Five '55 Holdovers Form Nucleus of Tigers' Ball Team

With five of last year's players as a nucleus and considerable up-and-coming talent in former reserves, Father Christopher Paladino is busy nowadays working to shap-up his 1956 Sacred Heart baseball team.

To date he has no official schedule for his Southwest Academic League games, which will consist of a 3 out of 5 series with Laneri to decide who will meet Catholic High of Texarkana for the district title. The district winner will then enter the state play-off. Buckner, another member of the SAL district does not have a baseball team.

Veterans on the Tiger team are Rodney Walter, Fank Fleitman, Tommy Herr, Virgil Henscheid and Howard Mollenkopf.

Besides SAL games the team will have two practice games with Windthorst and others if they can be arranged.

Trustee Election Set for Saturday

Dr. T. S. Myrick and Albert Fleitman are unopposed on the official ballot for the school trustee election to be held Saturday at the public school building. Both are candidates to continue serving on the board.

Myrick has completed one three-year term, Fleitman was appointed recently to fill the unexpired term of Herman Richey.

Polls will be open from 7 to 7 with Ervin Hamric as election judge.

MHS Banquet Will Honor All Students Receiving Awards

Athletes, band members and pep squad girls of Muenster High School will be honored Saturday night at the school's annual all-awards banquet in the lunch room. Replacing the traditional football banquet, the event recognizes students who participated in other sports and activities as well as the grid squad.

Featured speaker of the evening is Dr. T. C. Root, controller of Southern Methodist University.

The program, under direction of Dickie Cain as Master of Ceremonies will open with an invocation by Father Christopher Paladino and a welcome by Jimmie Jack Biffle. Mrs. M. D. Kaderli, president-elect of the PTA will respond.

Persons who were in charge of the several sports and activities will recognize the honorees.

They are Mrs. H. H. Homsley for the pep squad, Director Jim Harris for the band, Coach Lawrence Saye for girls' basketball and Coach John Hosea for football, basketball and track. Special awards will be made by Mrs. Homsley and Glenn Hellman, and acknowledgements of outstanding contributors will be made by Miss Queenie Homsley.

After awards and acknowledgements Superintendent Homsley will introduce Dr. Root whose address will be followed by a benediction by Rev. D. S. Pettijohn.

Contract Let For Red River Bridge

A contract for the Red River Bridge on U. S. Highway 77 between Gainesville and Marietta, Okla., has been awarded to an Oklahoma City firm, the State Highway Commission announced in Austin this week.

Imperial Paving Co. submitted the low bid of $478,411.90 on the project. Construction is expected to take 225 working days, according to L. B. Dean, district highway engineer of Wichita Falls. John C. Simpson, resident engineer at Gainesville, will be in charge of construction.

Service Pipe Line Honors Jim Cook at Retirement Dinner

After 30 years of employment with Service Pipe Line Company, James D. Cook retired April 1.

Smiling proudly he displays an engraved gold wrist watch and a diamond lapel pin, service awards, presented at a dinner honoring him Tuesday night in Bowie. Division Manager F. M. Willenburgh of Fort Worth made the presentation address for the company. Other gifts, from company employees, include two pieces of matched Samsonite luggage. More than one hundred area and district employees and officials attended the event.

J. P. Bradley, district superintendent for the company, was master of ceremonies and one of the speakers. He reviewed Cook's years of service with the company and was high in his praise of the 30-year employee. A special guest and also a speaker on the program was the honoree's brother, W. H. Cook of Mexia who is connection foreman for Service Pipe Line Company.

Jim Cook, who was 62 his last birthday, came to Muenster on Jan. 1, 1937, as a pipe line inspector. Before that he was with the company in Bowie working with a connection crew. Prior to coming to Texas he was a company employee in Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma. During the 19 years he "walked a line" in this area he averaged 12 miles a day, six days a week, for a total of about

Work Started on Road, Parking Area At Swimming Pool

With curb construction now under way and gravel work due to start promptly, City Manager Steve Mosler assured this week that driveway and parking facilities at the swimming pool will be ready in ample time for the opening of the pool, and some landscaping will probably be established.

The curb extends along the east and north sides of the pool and the adjoining concrete platform. Parking space along that curb will accommodate a few dozen cars and more space along with a lot at the opposite side of the street will provide room for several dozen more.

For this season the city will limit its park improvement to the curb and gravel work. The gravel work will consist of a driveway to the pool and the parking area. Other developments will have to await completion of other projects now demanding the city's time and funds.

Some such jobs currently under way are gravel for the Maple Street approach to the pool, curbing at both sides of the highway from the Main Street intersection to the city limit, sewer and water line extensions, the new sewage disposal plant, and additional paving. Water and sewer line work is in progress daily. Curb work along the highway will start as soon as park curbing is finished.

Landscaping at the park can begin in a few days. The Muenster Garden Club, invited to take charge of that detail, intends to establish some shrubbery this year, at least near the pool.

70,000 miles — close to three times around the world. He never had a lost time accident.

Now that he's retired, Mr. and Mrs. Cook will leave Muenster and live in Mexia where both have family members. They went to that city Wednesday to make their arrangements and plan to move their household furnishings next week.

A native of Willow Springs, Mo., Cook first saw Texas from a troop train in July 1918. In a camp at Waco he trained as an infantryman during world war I. After the armistice he went to work as a roughneck in the oil fields. Ever since then it's been Texas for him. His wife is a native Texan and they want to spend the rest of their lives in the Lone Star State.

Retirement will give them time to work at hobbies together — gardening, flowers, trees.

"But we'll come back to Muenster to visit our old friends and see how the city is going," they promise.

The hostess, assisted by her daughters Patsy, Marilyn and Diane, served lemon pie and coffee at the close of the afternoon to 12 members.

National Magazine
Tells Story About
Max Koesler Family

Mr. and Mrs. Max Koesler and their four children of Craig county, Oklahoma, are pictured in color on the cover of Capper's Farmer, national magazine, for April and there's a feature story entitled "The Four the Merrier" along with six other pictures of the couple and youngsters they adopted — all at one time.

Max, quite generally known here and at Lindsay, is a nephew of the Alfons Koeslers. His father, also Max, is Alfons' brother and his mother is Mrs. Koesler's sister.

The enchanting story tells about the young couple who celebrated their seventh wedding anniversary by adopting all four children of an abandoned family. The youngsters are Jack, 9, Gladys, 8, Richard, 7, and Carol Ann, 6.

Mrs. Koesler, who taught preschool children in her native Germany before she met Max during world war II and then joined him here, was an only child. She wanted a good-sized family of her own and her husband was all for a big family, too.

When Rotraud learned she probably would never be able to have children, she was heartbroken. And so they started the long process of adoption. At first they asked for a baby. But everybody wants a baby. They were told chances were better for older children. So they left the application for a boy and a girl.

On one visit to the orphanage, the priest laughingly asked, "How would you like four children?" Came Rotraud's answer, "I would love four."

The story goes on to tell about the family's life on their farm, their work, lessons, play time—days full of happy living.

"I had to learn fast becoming a Daddy to four kids in one day," Max grins. "Rotraud and I get together on decisions, show the children we mean business." They live on a 230-acre farm at Vinita.

Airmen Delbert and Wilmer Walterscheid, stationed at Abilene Air Force Base, had a holiday pass and spent it visiting their parents, the Harold and Alfons Walterscheids.

COMPROMISING WITH EVIL

American newspapers and news magazines gave prominent position to reports of the antics in London last week of Georgy Maximilianovich Malenkov, henchman of the late Communist dictator Joseph Stalin and a key man in the Communist international conspiracy to gain control of the world. News photographs showed a pudgy, smiling Malenkov mingling with women and children on London streets, being wined and entertained by high British government officials, speaking to applauding Socialist-Labor Party groups.

Malenkov was serving as Premier, immediately after Stalin's death, when the last big power struggle within the dictatorship resulted in the liquidation of hundreds of Reds once held in high favor. He was in London last week to inspect electric power installations. It was apparent, however, that his prime mission was as "advance man" for the other Communist bosses — Khrushchev and Bulganin — who are to follow him to London this spring.

People Taken In

An important commentary on Malenkov's London visit was the evidence it gave of people's susceptibility to the handshake and smile of a demagogue — even though the demagogue's smile may be a fraud on the basis of clear facts. TIME Magazine's London correspondent reported: "Scores of female garment workers hung out of the windows across the street to catch a glimpse. When Malenkov raised his hand and grinned his broadest, the walls echoed with a welcoming cheer. 'He was so clean-cut,' one sewing-machine operator told a reporter later, 'he looked like an American.'

Lord Citrine, British government official who entertained Malenkov, said of him: "A very friendly man, with a deep grasp of English cultural life." And yet, Lord Citrine surely knew that Malenkov had come to London straight from the Communist Party 20th Congress at which all the top bosses had rededicated themselves to the Marx-Lenin-Stalin-Bulganin goal of a Communist world — by whatever means are necessary. And, the people of Britain surely knew that Malenkov was a conspicuous member of the Stalin dictatorship which, in 20 horrible years, ordered the execution of tens of millions of innocent citizens in the nations overcome by Communism.

Blind To Facts

Most of the people of Britain knew these facts, no doubt; but they evidently felt that the Malenkov smile, handshake and charming manner somehow changed the whole character of this high ranking Communist. The instructions for behavior given out to his people by one leading British clergyman are interesting: The people were advised to "act with restraint and dignity" during the Russian's visit but to "set aside a day of prayer for Christians persecuted behind the Iron Curtain."

The photographs of Malenkov being accepted, greeted and entertained by the British government and the people of London will be widely distributed throughout the nations of the world — especially in the non-Communist countries where the Reds are working to capture the dominant political power, such as France and Italy and India. To hundreds of millions of the people enslaved by the brutal Communist dictatorship in 24 nations of the world, the bowing acceptance accorded to the Red leaders in London and elsewhere is shocking. It undermines the will of these people to resist the tyranny.

Deeds Unchanged

Communist smiles, promises and handshakes do not give evidence that the true nature of Communism is changing. Where are the deeds to back up the friendly smiles? This is the question that Britons and other people of the non-Communist world ought to be asking. There are no genuine friendly deeds from the Reds. The Iron Curtain still is the Iron Curtain. The Red slave labor camps still hold their millions of miserable human beings. Red dictatorship tramples the free will of the people in 24 nations. The mass executions continue.

And yet in Britain, say the news reports from London, a royal welcome is being made ready for Khrushchev and Bulganin, and the U.S. State Department announces blandly that the cocktail is its most important "tool" in international affairs. Are the free nations compromising with evil? Decency cannot win out in this way. Our own stake is every thing we hold dear.

Gumming Up The Works

Pause For Reflection

... with James C. Ingebreten
 President, Spiritual Mobilization
 On most weekday mornings during the past several weeks there has been on duty at the intersection of Fifth and Los Angeles Streets in Los Angeles a traffic policeman who is living proof that no honorable job need be boring or disagreeable if the right person is in it.

This big tall handsome policeman presides over his intersection as though he were a prince and the intersection his principality. He welcomes all comers into his domain with a courteous bow and a gentle wave of the hand. To the driver of a midget car — especially if it happens to be a pretty girl — he bows particularly low. And he smiles graciously on everyone.

This traffic policeman so obviously "gets a kick" out of his job that all who come under his ministrations of a morning are sent onward to their own jobs with a lift in their hearts, a smile on their faces, and a feeling that there is a lot of good in this old world after all.

Probably most of us have what seem to us at least to be more inspiring jobs than that of a traffic policeman. But how many of us bring to them the debonairness that lifts this policeman's job almost into a work of art?

How To React To The Atom Age

By Thomas E. Murray, United States Atomic Energy Commission

LIVING IN the atom age gives rise to various moods. People react to the new discoveries in different ways.

Some react with a mood of guilt, as though atomic energy was essentially evil. Others are seized by a mood of fear, giving rise to a policy of neutralism. Then there is the mood of futility, "There's nothing I can do about it, so I won't even think about it." Still others are just simply bewildered.

IT SEEMS to me that none of these is the Christian mood. The Christian mood is not escapist, nor is it bred of illusions. A Christian is always a realist.

The Christian sees in all things the hand of God. With Pope Pius XII he recognizes that "technological progress comes from God; and it can and ought to lead to God."

AS AN Atomic Energy Commissioner, I have been brought close to many evidences for the providence of God. In looking at the tiny atoms, with their protons, neutrons and electrons showing forth unbelievable complexity along with perfect order, one cannot help but see the hand of God.

Even scientists who once dogmatically excluded God from the universe begin to realize now that science cannot give man the answer to his fundamental problems. And doubting in the infallibility of science is a step towards humble belief in the guidance of God.

Pope Pius has told us that instead of shuddering at every new atomic discovery we should see a new door opening behind which we find God. God meant us to find the atom and if we use it in accord with His laws we can use it to bring increased happiness to man here on earth.

THIS FAITH in God's providence is an essential part of the Christian mood in the atom age. But we must go beyond faith. We must have recourse to God for the enlightenment of our understanding to use this great gift for man's good.

This duty of prayer, though most important for our leaders, falls upon all of us. It is a duty for all of us who have a stake in the survival of our nation.

WE HEAR much today about greater aid for our allies, better education and more schools as the answers to our problems. But these are not enough. Man alone cannot cure his ills.

God has given us the atom; He has also given us the freedom to use it wisely or madly. To face that responsibility, courageously and humbly, bowing prayerfully before the atom's giver, this is the Christian mood in our atomic-age, the age of decision.

Happy Ending With A "Familiar Ring"

Buck Howell says he and his Missus had quite a time at the Stockman's Convention in Chicago. But for a while they had a "breakdown in communications."

The phone bell in their hotel room was pitched so low they often didn't answer their calls. "Never knew if it was for us or not," Buck said, "always sounded far off — like it was ringing in someone else's room."

Finally, Buck hit on the obvious solution. He just made a deal with the hotel switchboard operator that whenever she called them she'd use two long rings and a short — their party-line signal back home.

From where I sit, our own familiar routines tend to make other ways of doing things seem strange. That's natural. For instance, if you've always had ice water with your meals, you might think it's odd that lots of us prefer a bottle of beer at dinner-time. I say you've a right to your own customs . . . but don't call mine wrong.

"This Hurts Me More . . ."

A "Temporary State Commission on Youth and Delinquency" will ask the New York State Legislature for a "parental responsibility" law under which parents can be fined or imprisoned, or both, for the misdeeds of their minor offspring.

In its report to Governor Hariman, the Commission urged that the courts be given the power to compel the parents of juvenile delinquents to restrain and correct their young hopefuls, and to take the rap if they fail. The suggested maximum penalties would be $250 fine or 30 days in jail, or both.

We congratulate the Commission on the sanest approach yet offered on this problem . . . and wonder if the solons will have the courage to implement it.

INCOME TAX FACTS No. 8
Plan Now for Next Year's Tax

(This is one of a series of articles on federal income tax filing. The articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Accountants and the Texas Society of Certified Public Accountants.)

The previous articles in this series were intended to help you in preparing your tax return for 1955. This article deals with your taxes for 1956 and beyond.

When the time comes to make out your tax return for 1956 it will be too late to take advantage of some possible tax savings. Here are some possibilities for reducing your tax which you can't do anything about after the end of the tax year:

1. If you are providing nearly half the support of someone who might qualify as a dependent, consider providing more than half so you will be entitled to a $600 exemption. The extra amount you contribute may be less than the tax saving.
2. Remember that unless a dependent is under 19 or a student, you will lose the exemption if his income is $600 or more. Be sure to check the income of everyone you expect to claim as a dependent.
3. If you are planning to be married, a wedding before midnight December 31, 1956, will give you the privilege of filing a joint return for 1956. This probably would result in substantial tax saving.
4. A baby born up to midnight December 31 qualifies as an exemption for the full year.
5. If your medical expenses are likely to be over 3% of your income this year and you expect them to be less next year, pay as many medical bills as possible before the end of the year, up to the maximum allowable deduction. If you borrow to do this, remember that you can also deduct the interest.
6. If your medical expenses are over the maximum deduction, perhaps you can defer part of the payment until after the end of the year.

7. Borrowing to pay your taxes can sometimes let you take the deduction a year earlier.
8. If you sell your home at a profit, remember that you do not have to pay a capital gains tax if you pay more for a new home within a year than the price you get for the old one.
9. When investing money, remember that stock in a domestic corporation offers the possibility of dividend exclusion and credit.
10. If you sell securities or other "capital assets" at a profit, it is usually better to wait until you have held them at least six months so that the profit will be taxed at the capital gains rate instead of an ordinary income.
11. When buying bonds, consider not only the interest rate but the fact that interest on state and municipal bonds is exempt from federal income tax.

If any of these points is likely to make a substantial difference in your tax, it will probably pay you to discuss your problems with the Internal Revenue Service, or to seek professional tax advice. Anything you pay for assistance in preparing your tax return is deductible from your taxable income.

But beware of any "tax expert" who claims he can cut your tax below the amount you really owe. It's a good idea to pick someone who has had experience in dealing with the Revenue Service, just in case the government should raise some question about your return.

(Final article of the series.)

Tray Grown Grass Hailed as Superior Feed for Livestock

A development which may revolutionize the livestock feeding industry is the Herbagere method, currently being tried out on at least a few dairy farms of North Texas.

The system, based on the principle that fresh forage is superior to dry and preserved feeds, provides a way of supplying fresh vegetation for the livestock every day of the year regardless of weather conditions.

The feed is grown from seed in six days and is fed roots and all to the livestock. Mechanical equipment for the job consists of a sort of chest with trays, each of which grows the feed crop for one day. As grass is taken from one tray and transferred to the feed trough another crop is seeded for use six days later. Seeding consists only of scattering the correct amount of seed in the tray of water to which the nourishing salt has been added. Ideal growing conditions are assured by electrical control of the temperature. The nourishing salts, besides sustaining growth of the plant, provide the proper balance of food elements in the plant. Available records show that the new feeding method has increased milk production while decreasing the over-all cost of feeding.

HERBAGERE

(FROM SEED TO FEED IN 6 DAYS)

Milk Production Increase Follows Use of Herbagere

Tests pointing to a higher percentage of milk production utilizing the new Herbagere soilless feed-growing machine were completed this week at the W. Lee Moore Dairy Farm at Plano.

The tests, under the supervision of Gene Elzey, herd manager at the farm, showed an amazing 21.9 per cent increase in pounds of milk in a 30-day period.

According to Elzey, 18 registered Guernsey cows increased their combined daily milk production from 461 pounds to 562 pounds in a 30-day test which was started Sept. 24 and lasted until Oct. 23.

Elzey said the cows were fed the miracle Herbagere feed along with the regular concentrate ration. Despite the fact that the cows were not on pasture during the test dates, the concentrate consumption has been cut four pounds per day per animal at a great savings to the farm, Elzey stated.

Because the Herbagere experimental feeding has proved to be successful, the owners of the dairy farm plan to expand the herd from 70 cows to 150 cows, all of which are to be taken from blooded lines, Elzey added.

The Herbagere plant-growing machine has been brought to this country by Niamco, Inc., a Dallas firm which is the sole manufacturing licensee.

The soilless growing method which produces vitamin and mineral enriched feed for livestock is the invention of Gaston Perin, a Belgian agronomist. Karl Wagner, president of Niamco, said that his firm is now shipping Herbagere machines to all points of the nation.

Gene Elzey says ...

During this month we have been able to cut the concentrate ration from 12 pounds per animal to 8 pounds per animal, thus saving 4 pounds per day per animal in feed costs of our concentrate. Since that concentrate costs us $4.50 a hundred, this is a savings of $5.40 per month per animal on the concentrate alone. In addition to this we have been able to make a considerable saving on our alfalfa and sudan hay that we are feeding. We have cut this around 16 or 17 pounds. In other words, at the present time we are feeding 24 pounds per animal per day of alfalfa and sudan hay, so we have made an additional saving there of around two cents a pound on our hay. What has previously cost 56c per day is now reduced to 5c per day by Herbagere forage.

Our animals are completely without pasture. The saving of food alone and the additional production, we feel that in a matter of six to eight months each animal would pay for his share of Herbagere machines. In addition to that we can readily notice the difference in the health of our animals.

In all of our years of feeding we have never been able to obtain the very fine glossy coat of our animals that they now have. The ones on Herbagere can readily be picked from the herd because of this factor.

The daily milk record has been as follows:

Measles May Lead To Serious Illness, Health Office Says

AUSTIN, — The incidence of measles in Texas last week was over twice as much as the five year median for this disease, said Dr. Henry A. Holle, Commissioner of Health.

Any contagious disease can spread to epidemic proportions if proper care is not used to isolate the patient and protect others from exposure. Measles has not approached a near epidemic stage, but proper nursing and isolation should be carried out to prevent further spread.

Measles alone is not necessarily a dangerous disease, Dr. Holle states, but serious complications such as streptococcus, mastoiditis and pneumonia which frequently follow, make it a disease to be carefully nursed, with close attention from a doctor.

Unskilled treatment of a plain case of measles can result in complications which often kill and is not to be regarded lightly as simply another childhood disease.

Dr. Holle, urges parents to watch exposed children carefully, and at the first sign of temperature, flushed face, sniffles or watering eyes, advises that the child be put to bed at once and placed under a doctor's care.

If your child is less than five years old and in poor physical condition, your family doctor may recommend giving him immune globulin. The Commissioner of Health emphasized the fact that this is not a permanent protection, lasting about three weeks. However, there is no limit to the number of times it can be used. Immune globulin can go on shielding a child until he is old enough and strong enough to stand an attack without risking serious consequences.

Fly Density Peak
Due in Six Weeks;
Start Control Now

AUSTIN — Fly densities in Texas will reach their peak within six weeks, state health authorities cautioned.

Temperature and moisture will be ideal for fly growth and propagation by May, and co-inciding with the increase in the number of flies will be a marked rise in the number of cases of dysentery diseases, State Health Commissioner Henry A. Holle predicted.

Last year in Laredo, sanitarians were able to accurately chart on a graph a rise in dysentery diseases side by side with a rise in fly densities. They found that by starting intense fly-killing campaigns at the right time, knocking off the peaks in fly densities as shown on the graph, a parallel drop occurred in the incidence of dysentery diseases.

"There is an object lesson in Laredo's experience for the rest of the state," Dr. Holle said. "Right now is the most important time of the year to begin really serious fly control programs."

More than 1100 deaths were attributed to dysentery diseases last year. Most of the victims were babies.

Senior Engineer Frank von Zuben of the State Health Department's environmental sanitation staff pointed to general community sanitation as the most vital aspect of fly control.

"If I had one choice of what I would like to impress on the mind of every man and woman in Texas, it would be neighborhood cleanliness," von Zuben said. "Neighborhoods are clean only when everybody living in them takes care to keep their places free of litter and fly breeding media."

It is known principle of disease transmission that flies "seed" disease organisms among some humans. Thereafter the sick persons spread the illness to their "contacts," even after peaks in fly densities have passed.

Another "peak" will come in the fall, after hot weather has passed and fall rains come.

With ideal conditions of temperature and moisture, flies may breed and lay eggs in a harmless looking pile of grass clippings. They won't pick up disease organisms in the grass clippings, but when the eggs hatch the flies will find an attractant — a privy, an animal shelter, or an open garbage dump where disease organisms are prevalent.

There in lies the importance of community wide sanitation.

Included among the major fly-borne diseases are tuberculosis, typhoid fever, bacillary dysentery, infant diarrhea, and the eggs of tapeworms and round worms.

If present trends continue, 25 years from now our petroleum needs will equal the lifetime output of an East Texas oil field every year. But the present rate of oil exploration and discovery shows that the petroleum industry can meet this need — and more.

USDA Distributed 800 Million Pounds Food in 6 Months

COLLEGE STATION — Almost 800 million pounds of this country's food surplus was donated to schoolchildren and needy persons in the country and abroad during the last half of 1955, reports the U.S. Department of Agriculture. In this country, surplus food went to about 11 million schoolchildren, about 1 million persons in charitable institutions, 100,000 Indians, and about two and a quarter million persons in needy families. Altogether, food distributed to these groups totaled nearly 300 million pounds. Foods were also distributed to hungry people in 70 foreign countries around the free world. Eighteen nongovernmental United States welfare agencies took part in this disposal, distributing almost 500 million pounds of food during the latter half of 1955.

ment taking full charge and responsibility for the distribution. Needs in this country are given priority, and sufficient quantities are reserved to satisfy all requests from State government. Several new developments point to disposal of even greater quantities of surplus food this year. The Department of Agriculture has purchased more than 102 million pounds of pork products which are now being distributed. Public Law 311, of the 84th Congress, authorizes distribution of wheat flour and cornmeal as a strictly domestic relief measure, and first shipments have already been made under this law, with much more expected to follow. The Department has also announced that wheat and corn have been added to commodities available to schools and charitable institutions, and wheat, corn, rice, and dry beans are now available for foreign shipment.

HE WON'T BILL YOU—But Uncle Sam WILL put the bite on you if your income tax return isn't filed by April 15. Although this old stork long since retired from the delivery business, other members of the flock brought exemptions to families across the nation all during 1955. Don't forget to count your little blessings when figuring your income tax return—they're worth $600 each in any man's hard-earned money.

gela's nieces, Marilyn and Margie Hundt, will be flower girls. Both young people were graduated from Lindsay High school and he served in the army for two years. The bride-to-be is employed in the First State Bank.

"... And Pass The Ammunition"

We all talk about Communism — about party members, fellow travellers, pinkos and the lunatic fringe under the Red hypnotism — and the progress this criminal conspiracy is making here in the United States. We have a dim, but distressing, awareness that subversion wears a hundred innocent disguises. We know that these sly enemies have infiltrated our schools and colleges, our newspapers and our entertainment industries. We know that dissension, disorder and disaster are tools of their trade, that they have forged a weapon out of our own Constitution and are beating us over the heads with it.

But we do not know the half of it. Our picture of subversion is more of a nightmare than a reality. Backed into an argument with one of these slimy renegades, few of us indeed can back him down with chapter and verse. But we SHOULD know the answers, and we'd BETTER know them if we are to survive this colossal and devious assault on our freedom.

The whole story is spelled out for us, most completely, most simply and most factually in "a handbook for Americans" entitled "The Communist Party of the United States" and issued last December by Senator James O. Eastland's Internal Security subcommittee of the Senate Committee on the Judiciary. Originally published by the committee, the relatively few available copies have long since been exhausted. But, "to insure that every American can procure a copy" of this vital 100 page document — complete and unabridged — The Bookmailer has published a paper-backed "trade edition" which it will send anywhere in the world, postpaid, for one dollar.

Every American adult should have this book, and read it, and be prepared to quote from it. Nothing else between covers is more informative, or more authoritative. Every schoolroom should have it and every library should have it. Thus, if you want to be a REALLY good citizen, you can order copies for your school-teacher and librarian friends, for your minister and the cop on the corner. If you order ten or more copies (sent to your address) the cost is only 55 cents each! But, whether one or a hundred, order from The Bookmailer, Box 101, Murray Hill Station, New York 16, New York.

If we ever hope to check-mate the tireless treasonists in our midst, it's time to "throw the book at them."

It was their third quarrel, and the young wife was by no means at a loss for words.

"Viper!" she hissed. "Scoundrel, blackguard, wretch, fool!" Quite unperturbed, her husband continued reading the evening paper.

"Brute!" she cried. "You serpent. You snake in the grass!" But still no sign. And then the uselessness of it came to her. Nothing she could say would shake that immovable calm. Her husband was a baseball umpire.

Principles such as those make a wonderful foundation on which to build a new political party in this country. For that matter this may be the beginning of a new party. If so, watch it a few years hence. It has the good, sound horse sense that appeals to millions of people. It also looks like a haven for scores of statesmen whose efforts are over-ruled by the radical elements in both of the present major parties. Perhaps even at this early date the group can have a refreshing influence in the coming elections.

A veteran of the Civil War, the old Southern warrior was being interviewed by the press. "You and two others are the only survivors of the Confederacy," one newspaperman told him. "And there's only one Union soldier still alive."

The centenarian struggled to his feet and emitted the old Rebel yell. "Now's the time to attack!" he cried. "We got 'em outnumbered at last!"

Lt. Cdr. C. O. Fiske, USN, now a pilot with the U.S. Antarctic expedition, has tangled firsthand with polar bears, dropped into icy crevasses in polar glaciers, fallen overboard in arctic waters, and has been involved in eight aircraft mishaps in the Arctic and Antarctic.
