

500 Children Join In Ceremonies to Crown May Queen

Five hundred school children marched in procession here Monday night in the annual May Day ceremonies conducted at Sacred Heart church. And all five hundred poured out their hearts in song and prayer in full-throated expression of tribute to Mary, Queen of the May.

Members of the congregation joined in this chorus of devotions after the procession and May Queen crowning. Father Christopher Paladino preached a short sermon and officiated at May devotions and Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

In his sermon Father Christopher called attention to Mary's beautiful shrine, erected for the occasion, in church and asked those present to build a shrine in their hearts as well. To kneel in the chapel of their thoughts, in front of the shrine of Mary that is in their hearts and pray there daily.

Climax of the children's participation in the devotions was the crowning ceremony at which Carol Ann Voth, prefect of the Blessed Virgin Sodality, presided. She placed a crown of fresh carnations on the head of the statue of the Madonna while the student choir sang a hymn. Then she led the act of consecration to Mary.

The colorful procession formed at school and marched to church at 7:30. In church, with lighted candles, the children marched through the aisles as they sang.

Some fifty little girls were in white dresses carrying pink carnations, other were in pastel dresses carrying gladioli, high school students formed a court of honor for Carol Ann and her attendants, Boy Scouts were in full uniform and more than 30 altar boys wore their red and white robes.

Leo Hess, cross bearer, led the procession in which the United States Flag, the Church Flag, the Texas Flag, the Scout Flag and society banners were displayed.

The program was arranged and directed by the Benedictine Sisters and was the parish's principal observance of May.

Mary's shrine, located in the center of the sanctuary, was a bower of blossoms and blue vigil lights. Flowers carriers in the procession deposited their bouquets at the foot of the statue as they passed by.

At CDA Reception In Ft. Worth Sunday

Mrs. Dan Luke and Mrs. George Swirczynski were among the 42 candidates admitted to membership in the Catholic Daughters of America Sunday at a district reception ceremony held in Fort Worth.

Others attending from Muenster were Grand Regent Mrs. Herman Fette, Mrs. Steve Moster, Mrs. Frank Yosten, Mrs. Joe Swirczynski and Mrs. Joe Horn.

A banquet followed the initiation. Rev. Edwin J. Ryan, as the featured speaker, elaborated on Unity and Charity, CDA motto. Dan Luke, George Swirczynski and Herman Fette joined their wives for the banquet program.

We now have almost nine million pet parakeets in the U.S.A.

Dogpatch Costumes Add Fun to Frolic At Auxiliary Party

Li'l Abner and Daisy Mae and most all the folks from Dogpatch were represented at the Sadie Hawkins party Sunday night in the VFW Hall. The costume affair was sponsored by the Ladies Auxiliary to the VFW Post for both organizations and their dates. About 100 attended.

The program started at 7 o'clock with a Dogpatch supper featuring ham, greens, cornbread, beans and all the trimmings. At 9 the dance got underway, the ladies asking the gentlemen for the honor and feeding the juke box.

Ray Swirczynski, carbon copy of Li'l Abner, and Mrs. Walter Rawley a brunette duplicate of Daisy Mae, won prizes as the best costumed. Their awards were a miniature Salome (plastic pig) for Ray and a bouquet of turnips for June.

Judges Alphonse Felderhoff, Anselma Falck and Rosa Driever were faced with a mammoth job of determining the winners with such elegantly dressed and accessoried characters in the costume parade. Outstanding among them were Messrs. and Mmes. Ray Evans, Howard Couch, J. C. Trachta, J. B. Golden and John Huchton, and Walter Rawley and Elmer Fette.

Mrs. Ray Swirczynski and Mrs. Walter Rawley were co-chairmen for the program and Mrs. Joe Lehnertz and Mrs. Conrad Jostwerner catered the meal.

Seven Sacred Heart Music Pupils Place In Amateur Show

Seven of Sister Leonarda's students of the Sacred Heart School of Music were winners in the Amateur Show held in Saint Jo Friday night. The youngsters gave three top winning performances, gathered up three second place awards and took one third prize.

Carol Henscheid, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Henscheid, was first in the junior piano division with her rendition of "Playing Daffodils," Delia Nell Burchfiel, was best in senior piano, with "Polonaise in A," and Jeanette Smith was tops in vocal, senior group, singing "Blue Moon." Delia Nell and Jeanette live in Saint Jo.

Robert Fetsch was second in junior piano playing "Tred-tack" and his sister Evelyn, vocalist, joined him in "Kentucky Babe" to take second in the miscellaneous division. They are children of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fetsch.

Charlotte Wolf, second in the junior vocal division, sang "Playmates" and was called back for more. She encored with "Rock an' Roll." Her sister Lu Rena played the piano accompaniment. They are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Lou Wolf.

Becky Mosman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Mosman, was third in the senior piano group.

Parents of the winners, along with other pupils and their parents attended the program in the school auditorium. The senior class sponsored the event. Junior division ages were from six to 12 years and seniors division ages were from 12 to 18. Instrumental, vocal and miscellaneous numbers were on the program.

Campus Day Slated At Mothers Meeting

Campus Day for Sacred Heart grade school students will be different this year. Instead of one day with activity on the school grounds, there'll be two days for two age groups and the programs will be held at the Parish Park.

Roommothers, meeting Monday night, made plans for the event and named committees to take charge of details.

Campus Day for grades one through four will be held next Tuesday, May 8; for grades five through eight, on Wednesday, May 9. Parents are urged to attend, and pre-school children are invited only on condition they are accompanied by a parent. Students will be taken to the park in school busses.

Each child will bring a sack lunch for the noon meal which will be served picnic style. Cold drinks will be available on the grounds. The day will begin at 11 a.m. and end at 3 p.m.

Other business at the meeting consisted of voting to give a fifty dollar donation from the organization's treasury to the City Park improvement fund to be used as needed in beautifying around the swimming pool.

Carla Sue Haverkamp, 17-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Haverkamp of Gainesville, was a patient at the Sanitarium Saturday night and Sunday for medical care after swallowing pills prescribed for her mother.

Classmates Guests At Birthday Party

Marilyn Walterscheid celebrated her ninth birthday Sunday with an afternoon party at the family home where her mother, Mrs. Paul Walterscheid, entertained. The honoree's sister Paulette assisted with hostess duties.

All the little girls of the third grade, Sacred Heart school, were guests. They enjoyed games and refreshments of sandwiches, ice cream and birthday cake.

Special guests were Marilyn's great-aunt, Mrs. Henry Walterscheid, who observes her birthday on the same day, and her aunt, Miss Theresa Mae Pels.

THE FARM PROBLEM

President Eisenhower's handling of the farm bill situation could prove to be a key factor in returning our American farm families to fuller independence and in safeguarding the freedom of all citizens. The action may lead to indisputable proof again that the free, competitive market is the best system to govern production and distribution. This system has lifted production, in all areas of our economy, high above anything ever before accomplished in the history of mankind.

High rigid support prices were established during World War II as a purely emergency measure to assure needed bumper crops to help feed our allies.

These supports should have been discontinued at the close of the war. For political reasons the high rigid support prices were continued long after the need for bumper crops diminished. Fantastic, wasteful surpluses of farm products have piled up. The cost to the government now for storage alone on the surplus farm products is over one million dollars a day.

Schemes Tried

Various schemes have been devised for controlling production by economic planning and rigid control of the farmer himself. But the high rigid support prices acted like a dynamo on production — surpluses piled higher and higher. The farmer became, in effect, a captive of the Government "program," rather than an independent operator. In many of our basic food commodities, production has been largely for Government warehouses and graineries because the market was glutted. It has become a serious problem, in which every American has a stake. It has greatly diminished our foreign farm trade.

During World War II, a friend of mine, a carpenter by trade, hired a few of his carpenter friends and started a small enterprise to build ammunition crates for the Army. The Army desperately needed the crates for overseas shipment, and it paid a premium price to expedite and expand production, to get thousands of people busy building crates. My friend rented an old warehouse, set up saw rigs and an assembly line, and turned out crates by the thousands. He made a small fortune.

Demand Halted

At the end of the war, the need for ammunition crates in huge volume abruptly stopped. My friend attempted to convert his plant to the manufacture of soft drink crates. He sold a few thousand crates, but the market soon became glutted, too many ammunition crate plants had converted to the same product. When my friend's production began to pile up in his plant, he finally halted operations, and told his employees that for the time being there was no market for his plant's production. There was never a thought of being paid for unneeded crates. The carpenters got jobs in the building boom just opening up; and my friend became a successful residential building contractor.

A wood-working plant and a farm are different enterprises. But there are elements in the experience of my friend the crate manufacturer which apply to the problem of Government stimulated surpluses. When, through any artificial device, we "freeze" people into productive positions

Delinquent Child? -- Delinquent Home

By J. Edgar Hoover, Director, Federal Bureau of Investigation
SOME TIME ago a juvenile "crime club" was broken up on the West Coast. Its members ranged from 9 to 15 years old. They admitted picking pockets, shoplifting, burglarizing, and other crimes.

Five of the twelve boys had parents who both worked full-time. Two of the other boys had been deserted by their mother, and were in a housekeeper's charge while their father worked all day. Another came from a broken home; his mother worked all day to support her children. Neglected at home, all these boys fell into bad company and became criminals.

Hoover

THIS STORY, and many like it, shows that we need sound family life, family prayer and religious instruction, to solve our growing juvenile delinquency problem. Children aren't born criminals — they become criminals.

A wholesome family life is of primary importance in the child's early environment. A happy home, glowing with love of God, provides a healthy atmosphere for the child. Every child imitates his parents' actions and attitudes. If he sees the good example of religious parents, he will tend to be a God-fearing man.

THE CHILD who sees parental fighting and bickering, immorality and irreligion in the home must look beyond the family circle to develop wholesome ideals. But where else can a young child look but to his parents? Invariably, the child who does not find proper guidance at home, never finds it at all. Juvenile delinquency is the result.

In the Midwest recently a fourteen-year-old boy was arrested for the murder of a man, his wife and daughter. He had no reason at all for killing them; they had always treated him very kindly. When the parents of this young criminal were questioned, they admitted that they both worked full-time. They had no time to instruct their child about God.

WE MUST remember that not only immoral parents produce juvenile delinquents. Well-meaning but careless parents, "too busy" to teach their children to love God, and "too busy" to give time to family prayer, frequently cause delinquent children. Against this carelessness, the parents of our citizens of tomorrow must be constantly on guard.

Write-in Campaign Elects Son-in-law of Ted Gremminger

Richard Wehman, husband of the former Marilyn Gremminger, was pushed as a write-in candidate and was elected to the Pleasanton city council in a whirlwind of last minute activity in that city's annual election — and all without his knowledge.

Word of the election reached here this week in a letter to Marilyn's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Gremminger.

Wehman received a total of 89 write-in votes compared with 53 for the candidate listed on the ballot. The write-in campaign started late in the day and most of the voting was done in the last 90 minutes before the polls closed. Wehman has agreed to serve.

Auxiliary Works to Make Poppy Sales Best Ever in 1956

Mrs. Richard Grewing, VFW Auxiliary president, who recently accepted general chairmanship of Buddy Poppy sales for 1956, has announced the names of committee chairmen who will work to make this year's sale the largest in the history of the city.

Serving as committee heads are Mmes. Steve Moster, Ray Evans, Joe Tempel and John Huchton. Each leader has appointed a group of helpers to include almost every member of the organization.

Buddy Poppies will go on sale in Muenster Saturday, May 26 when a sales force of Auxiliary members conduct their campaign in the business district. On the following day, at both local churches, workers will accept contributions after all the Sunday services.

The chairman stressed the fact that all money, except the actual cost of the poppies, stays right here in Muenster in a special fund for charity . . . to help needy families here at home.

Cost-of-the-popy money goes to disabled war veterans who made the bright little red flowers; to help these disabled servicemen and the widows and orphans of the men who didn't come home from war.

Recent Bride is Honoree at Party

Honoring Mrs. William Walterscheid, a recent bride, Mrs. Wendell Richey, Wanda Richey and Mrs. Dick Cain entertained with a miscellaneous gift party Tuesday night in the Cain home. The honoree is the former Queenie Homsley.

Red roses adorned the party rooms where the guests assembled for games relating to the bridal theme. Mrs. L. J. Roberg and Mrs. Ray Evans won prizes which they presented to the honoree.

The refreshment table, covered with white linen and net, held a bridal figurine under a flower arch as a centerpiece. Blue candles in crystal candelabra flanked this ornament and a crystal punch service and a decorated cake were at opposite ends of the board.

Wanda Richey poured the punch and Mrs. Arnold Wimmer assisted Mrs. Wendell Richey in serving the cake. About 50 guests were present.

Five Boys Advance In Scouting Monday

Three members of Troop 664 advanced to First Class Scouts and two moved forward into second class scouting Monday night when they passed a board of review held in the home of Scoutmaster Nick Miller. The three first class boys are Kenny Fette, Jimmy Gehrig and Clifford Endres, and the second class Scouts are Donald Hennigan and Tim Fette.

Board members reviewing the boys were Committeemen Jerome

Pagel, Fred Hennigan, Herbie Herr, Walter Becker and Paul Endres.

The evening closed on a social note with Mrs. Miller serving cake, coffee and cold drinks.

Sunday Scoutmaster Miller accompanied the three first class aspirants on a hike to the Lutkenhaus dam where they passed outdoor requirements preparatory to going before the board of review.

Wilfred Klement of Texas A&M Colleg spent Saturday and Sunday with his parents and family, the Norbert Klements.

Guests in the Foster Davidson home Sunday were the W. C. Needhams of Wellington, the Mack Needhams and family of Dallas, and the H. B. Snows of Gainesville.

Wendell Richey left Friday to be employed in oil field work at Sweetwater. His wife is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Cain, and will join him as soon as he secures living quarters.

J. T. Cole, Monroe King, W. B. Whitt, J. N. Shaw and Rev. Howard Bigham attended a

Brotherhood meeting at the First Baptist church in Gainesville Monday evening.

"WHEN YOU ENTERTAIN" TOPIC AT CLUB MEETING

Mrs. Bernice Thurman, county home demonstration agent, brought the program Friday afternoon at a regular meeting of the Marysville Home Demonstration club when members met with Mrs. Earl Robison as hostess.

"When You Entertain" was the program theme and Mrs. Thurman gave helpful hints on being a gracious hostess as well as an efficient one. She also stressed courtesy and politeness on the part of the guests. Membership attendance was 100 per cent.

It was announced that Marysville HD Club will be on the air over Gainesville's station KGAF on May 5, as a part of National Home Demonstration Club Week observance. Mrs. Melton Ramsey led the recreational hour, Mrs. Herman Richey won the game prize and the hostess served refreshments.

Bulcher News

By Mrs. R. J. Samples

BULCHER, May 2 — Mr. and Mrs. E. Newby had as weekend guests their son and family, the J. W. Newbys of Henrietta.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Samples were among guests at a banquet in the Curtwood at Gainesville Thursday night. The party was for members of the Cooke County TB Association. Mrs. Samples is a board member for the Bulcher district.

ANNUAL HOMECOMING AT SHILOH SET FOR MAY 13

The annual Homecoming and Mothers Day program will be held at Shiloh Baptist church on May 13 and members of the congregation are busy with plans to make it an outstanding religious and social event.

The program opener will be a preaching at 11 o'clock. Dinner will be served picnic style under the trees at noon, and the afternoon will be devoted to gospel singing and visiting.

KEWANEE'S NEW POLICY EFFECTIVE AT BULCHER

Kewanee Oil Company's new policy of disposing of all company-owned houses except those essential to operations of the leases is a disappointment to Bulcher residents.

Company employees are given priority to purchase the houses but will have to move them off company-owned property. Only two men will be left here, J. M. Shields and P. L. Tracy, field superintendent and production foreman, respectively. This means that about six families will have to find homes elsewhere by August 1. Houses not bought by employees will be sold at public auction.

R. V. Daffern has already bought a home in Muenster and the others are looking for locations close enough to drive back and forth to their jobs.

Captive Audience

If a member of a political party, or a civic or fraternal organization, doesn't like the policies and programs of the organization leadership he has a simple recourse. He can resign, without penalty, and join another group or none at all, as he chooses.

But suppose a member of a labor union doesn't like the stand on personalities and policies taken by the union officials. Then the situation becomes utterly different. As the Wall Street Journal accurately states the matter, "In many cases withdrawal from the union would mean withdrawal from his livelihood. So here he is, not only a captive audience for the union leaders' political propaganda but also — if he happens to disagree with the official union line — an unwilling accomplice in the promotion of that line."

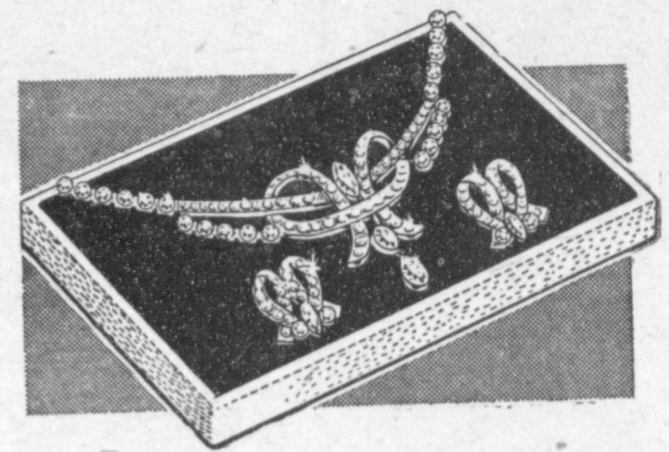

This, of course, is inevitable under the closed shop and union shop system — a system which is based, in effect, on the premise that a man must join a union and pay dues or be refused the right to work and earn a living for his family. That is intolerable in a supposedly free country. The solution is found in the right-to-work laws, which protect workers from either union or employer coercion, and which so far have been adopted by 17 of the sovereign states.

Baking soda is used for tierd feet, cleaning jewelry, sweetening the stomach, as a gargle, for burns and bites and washing bugs from a windshield.

Twenty-seven per cent of all accidents in the U.S. last year were drivers involved in fatal auto accidents under 25 years of age.

The best is none too good for mother . . . and the best, of course, is jewelry. Come, see our fine selection.

DARI-KOOL
BULK MILK COOLER
The Bulk Cooler that's 10 Years Ahead

Cuts Work and Handling Costs Improves Milk Quality —

Dari-Kool cools faster because it has a larger cooling surface than any other cooler. The milk cannot freeze because the coolant is ice water. Dari-Kool units are complete — ready to operate — nothing else to buy or install. All tanks are stainless steel inside and out. Get the cooler that leads in sales — leads in value — leads in performance!

DARI-KOOL MEETS ALL 3-A SANITARY STANDARDS

- ... Cools Faster
- ... Easier Cleaning
- ... Ready to Operate
- ... Milk Cannot Freeze
- ... Stainless Steel Tank
- ... Lower Bacteria Count
- ... Complete Service Available

The DARI-KOOL will pay for itself in use. HERE'S HOW...

The cost of hauling milk in cans is 40 cents per 100 pounds as compared with 25 cents per 100 pounds for hauling tank milk, thus a saving of 15 cents per hundred.

Elimination of wastage of milk spilled or left in the can at the plant is 7 cents per 100 pounds.

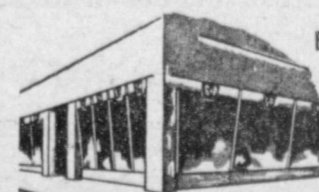

Improved butterfat test gained by selling all the cream instead of leaving some of it sticking to the can and lid account for another 6 cents per hundred.

THIS GIVES A TOTAL SAVING OF 28 CENTS FOR EACH 100 POUNDS OF MILK HANDLED. THIS 28-CENT A HUNDRED SAVING WILL PAY FOR YOUR DARI-KOOL.

A producer with an average of 10 cans of milk (86 pounds each) a day will sell 25,800 pounds per month. At 28 cents per hundred saving, he will be ahead by $72.24 each month.

The approximate cost of a 250-gallon tank installed is $2,400 with interest of $216 for a total of $2,616. This can be divided into 36 monthly installments of $72.11 each. THUS YOUR SAVINGS MAKE YOUR PAYMENTS FOR YOU. This estimate is without down payment or trade-in, which would cut the principal and monthly payment substantially.

Texas Reported 260 Diphtheria Cases During Past Year

AUSTIN — Last year there were 260 cases of diphtheria reported in Texas. According to Dr. Henry A. Holle, Commissioner of Health, this is a great improvement over 1946 when over 1500 cases were reported. The sad part of it is that none of these cases needed to have occurred.

There were 2,039 diphtheria cases in the United States last year. More important is the fact that the total number of cases may be greater this year. More diphtheria has been reported thus far in 1956 than was reported during the same period in 1955. During the first 12 weeks of this year, 514 cases have been reported compared to 426 last year. Texas has had 73 cases reported up to April 21.

"It is an accepted fact," Dr. Holle said, "that any community may control its death rate from diphtheria. Immunization has proven to be a safe and effective preventive measure."

Diphtheria appears more often during cold weather and often a secondary rise occurs in the summer. In former years practically everyone was exposed to diphtheria when young, and through many small exposures became immune. As a result very few adults developed the disease and most of the cases appeared among children. Now more people grow up without exposure and the development of naturally acquired immunity, so more adults get the disease.

Young children are particularly susceptible to the disease. As soon as a baby reaches six months of age parents should take him to the family physician and have him immunized. Older children in families who have not had the protective treatment should also be immunized.

Immunization is absolutely safe. There is but slight local reaction and practically no constitutional or troublesome after effects. To be certain that the immunization is complete the child should be taken to the physician six months after the toxoid is administered and given the Schick test. Booster doses may be needed periodically.

a combined capacity of about 24 acre-feet will hold the liquid for further purification by bacteria. By the time liquid drains from it into the creek it will meet requirements specified by the Game and Fish Department. A dike system will prevent run-off water of the area from entering the lagoon. The only additional water resulting from rains is that falling directly into the lagoon, hence there is little chance of the sewage liquid being flushed into the creek by floodwater. Engineers estimate that only a small percentage of sewage liquid will enter the creek. Most of it will be lost by evaporation and seepage.

A youngster, being scolded for a poor report card, asked: "Dad, what do you think is the trouble with me — heredity or environment?"
The doctor put down his instruments and looked severely at the patient.
"You're extremely run down," he said. "I prescribe less golf and a few more hours spent in your office each day."

SHARP SHIP—Designed to give the enemy a once-over thoroughly, USAF's supersonic "Starfire" F-104 has wing edges so sharp that they must be covered with felt shields when crews work around the needle-nosed plane. The Lockheed-built craft is the first production-line fighter ever equipped with a downward ejection seat for the pilot. She's said to climb at a speed approximating her level flight performance. Dimensions of the twin-jet ship are: length, 54 feet, 9 inches; wingspan, 21 feet, 11 inches; height at tail, 13 feet, 6 inches. She's pictured over the Edwards Flight Test Center, Calif., in this Defense Department picture.

that the annual outlay would be comparatively small because equipment would be carried over from year to year.

To assist in meeting current expense, especially lighting, two recommendations have been advanced. One is to make a small charge, probably a dime. The other is to solicit voluntary donations from spectators.

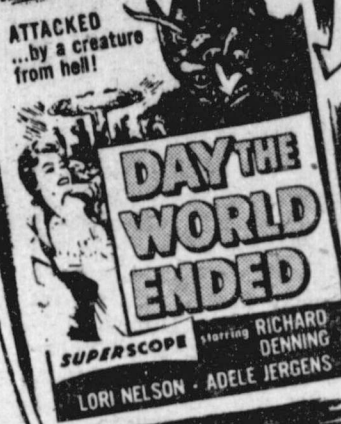

Father Christopher reported that 82 youngsters have signed up as desiring to play in a local Little League.

tunities combining a few walks with 5 hits for the 7 tallies.

Mollenkopf wielded the big club for two triples but lost the benefit of one as he tried to stretch it into a homer. Fleitman got a triple, Herr a double and Bayer a single. Laneri slapped out 10 hits.

In Friday's game here the Tigers lost 6-3 in spite of an 8-6 advantage in the batting record. The trouble was that Sacred Heart hits were scattered whereas better grouping along with walks and errors favored the visitors.

For the Tigers Mollenkopf hit a 4 bagger, Henscheid got a double and a single, Herr got two singles, and Bayer, Felderhoff and Hess got one single each.

A week before, at Fort Worth, Laneri won the first game 13-2.

Besides their coming game with the Micks, the Tigers have one more on schedule. It is at Windthorst, provided the two coaches can find an open date in the tight schedule of year-end activities.

self control and judgment. "Buy only what you need," he said, "but make that the best you can afford. Quality costs less in the long run." He also recommended buying from established firms.

Another financial tip was to avoid installment buying as much as possible. Carrying charges often add as much as 50 per cent to the cost of an item. The best method is to pay cash, the next best is to get a bank loan.

Dr. Bonk also said that people should consider their income when buying a home and not allow the cost to run over 2 1/2 to 3 times one's annual income. He gave the average cost of rearing a child to 18, as three times the amount of the father's annual income.

would be just as honest to start a campaign against countless medicines, drinks and stimulants that we take for granted. Excessive use or strong concentrations of their ingredients can be fatal. Even overeating of plain food has been known to kill some people. The point is that fluoride, in the recommended mixture does not harm anyone. At least the experts so far have not established such a case. But there is abundant evidence that fluoride is helpful toward dental health.

People who have been bothered by critical propaganda on the subject can derive some comfort from these facts.
