VOLUME XXXV

MUENSTER, COOKE COUNTY, TEXAS 76252 JUNE 11, 1971

NUMBER 29

A few days ago Commentator Paul Harvey was talking about the increasing sales of small cars, indicating an apparent trend that the American public is losing much of its yen for bigness and luxury and becoming more interested in those other features that the little cars have to offer — such as economy of both initial cost and operation, greater maneuverability in limited space and the feel of a sports car.

He recalls that Europe and Japan got the jump on us in this trend mostly because incomes were lower and the mini cars simply were easier to get around in. He might have added that the high cost of gasoline in those countries made the big gas guzzling models a lot less desirable.

Regardless of the history behind big and little cars, it's interesting to note that we seem to be headed for a more practical era. A greater number are less concerned with luxury and more concerned with the basic function of a car, which is to transport a person from one place to another, and with the problem of parking, which definitely favors small cars, and the operating cost, which again favors the little cars. According to Harvey, the big cars will be the conspicuous ones in the future.

About the time of his comment the news was telling about that big air show in Paris, dominated of course by the display of Russia's SST, the TU-144. Between the lines of the report we all read a bitter and humiliating message. Our country, which pioneered air travel and has led in its development all these years, was conspicuously absent this time. Furthermore we could not even say that ours was in the making. All the world knew that our Congress had scratched the program only a short time before.

Cancellation of the SST came as a severe blow to many of us. We thought of the thousands of people who might have had jobs building it. We thought of billions of dollars worth of business selling the planes here and abroad. We regretted our plunge of prestige. Imagine being beat by the Russians and French and British at our own game!

But on second thought one wonders whether the story of our trend to small cars may suggest a possible trend in air transport. Some of the senators who laid the SST project to rest said they were influenced by such factors as the much higher cost per passenger mile of operation, the need of larger airfields, and the fact that not enough orders were assured.

There is a possibility that our country's loss of the SST was a blessing in disguise. Who knows but what we were headed for an aerodynamic Tower of Babel? and that Russia may already have one on its hands? While we are awe-struck by the thought that this giant of the sky can carry five times as many passengers.

Community Nears Completion of Half-Crop Harvest

The 1971 harvest season in Muenster will be history in just a few days. Reports from local dealers Wednesday were that many farmers have finished the job and most of them will be finished by the end of the week. Only a few scattered fields on the larger farms will be left.

The season has been a very unusual one in at least two respects. First of all, yields have been pleasantly surprising. The expected crop failure following a seven months drought turned out to be half to two-thirds of a normal crop. And quality, due to a scarcity of weeds and grass, was better than average. Tests were high in oats, barley and wheat.

Also this season was probably the shortest ever for this community. One reason is that there was far less rainfall than usual, even though the harvest was interrupted by the heaviest rain in seven months. Except for that the drought continued through the harvest. And apparently the acreage was lower than ever, possibly because the poor prospects several weeks ago induced some farmers to turn their fields over to the livestock.

STATE CHAMPION CO-OP 4-H TEAM — Peggy Sicking, left, and Cathy Rohmer teamed up to win state championship honors in the co-operative demonstration contest of the annual Texas 4-H Roundup June 2-3 at A&M University. They are the daughters of Mrs. Ed Sicking and Mr. and Mrs. Urban Rohmer. They were coached by Bob Smith.

COMMUNITY IMPROVEMENT STATE CHAMPS — Winners of the Community Improvement Contest at the 1971 Texas 4-H Roundup at Texas A&M University are Linda Miller, left and Sandy Reiter, right. They are daughters of the William J. Millers and the Wilfred Reiters.

Council Okays Effort to Correct Sewer Problems

Complaints about offensive odors in the south part of town and the city's decision to try a proposed method of meeting its sewage treatment problem made up practically all of the city council's meeting Monday night.

Seventeen residents in the southeast part of town were there to tell the council that the sewer plant's odor is terrible and seems to get worse as the weather gets warmer.

Richard Grewing, Rody Klement and Joe Moster, speaking for the city, said they were aware of the problem and its cause and they had brought two representatives of Roberts Research Associates of Dallas to the meeting to help seek a solution.

Industrial waste from the milk plant was identified as the offender. The bacteria of a normal sewer plant cannot digest the milk waste, so sewage treatment is incomplete. The research people of Dallas claim to have a product that will digest the milk waste just like normal bacteria digests the domestic waste. The city will give that product a try.

Vernon Sparkman, manager of the milk plant was present and assured the council that AMPI will gladly go along with the proposal and also cooperate in whatever kind of special treatment is necessary to stop the trouble.

Joe Moster, sanitation superintendent, said that residents are not the only people unhappy about the local sewage trouble. A report from the Texas Water Quality Board states that the sewer plant's discharge into Elm Creek does not meet the state's requirement. Pressured by law as well as public opinion, the city is working hard on the problem, Moster said.

In other business the council amended a recently passed ordinance relative to speed limits on Highway 82 in the city and approaches from both sides. Speeds specified for the zones still applies but errors were discovered in the distance specified in one zone. The ordinance become effective when the Highway Department erects its signs.

After the religious ritual there will be an open house until 8 p.m. for visitors to tour the new building. During the open house a social will be held in the Parish Hall with members of the Parent-Teacher Club serving refreshments. The public is invited to attend.

At 9 p.m. a dance will begin in the cafetorium with music by Doug Martin and the Metallics.

Two Muenster Teams Are A&M Roundup Champs

Four Muenster 4-H girls came home from A&M University as champions in state contests during the annual Texas 4-H Roundup.

Cathy Rohmer and Peggy Sicking were top winners in Cooperative Demonstration. They are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Urban Rohmer and Mrs. Ed Sicking.

Sandy Reiter and Linda Miller were state champions in Community Improvement. Their parents are Messrs. and Mmes. Wilfred Reiter and W. J. Miller.

Winners received wrist watches.

Capturing third place in the state Dairy Demonstration were Lenora Fleitman, daughter of the Eddie Fleitmans, and Kim Reiter, sister of Sandy. They received medals.

Other entries from Cooke County were Lou Ann Pybas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Pybas of Sivells Bend, who emerged as second in Food and Nutrition Allen Fleitman, son of the Eddie Fleitmans, Muenster, and John Schumacher, son of the Richard Schumachers, Dwayne Dennis, son of the B. J. Dennises and Paul Smith, son of the David R. Smiths, all of Gainesville, who were seventh in Range and Pasture Plant Identification; Larry Bayer, son of the Alfred Bayers, who was 12th in Tractor Operation; and Laura Cage, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Cage of Callisburg, who placed high in Clothing Educational Activity.

Mrs. Wilfred Reiter received a certificate for coaching. She accompanied the group and coached the dairy team. Also with the county group were Extension Agents Miss Dona Brewster and Craig Rosenbaum.

Cooke County's entries made an outstanding showing this year in state competition. They were among 1800 4-H'ers from all over the state of Texas testing their skills in approximately 30 different categories on the campus of Texas A&M University June 2, 3, and 4.

Only 4-H clubbers who had won first in county and first or second in district were eligible to compete in state contests.

JCs Plan Giant Fireworks Display For July 4 Picnic

Business at Muenster Jaycees' meeting Thursday night consisted of making plans for the July 4 picnic they will sponsor.

Discussion included a gigantic fireworks display with Mike Frost and Dave Berres as chairmen.

Also planned were games and rides for the youngsters and a horseshoe tournament for older folks.

The event will be the Jaycees' first benefit for a pavilion at Muenster City Park. Charles Bayer is general chairman.

Plans previously discussed included arrangements for a bike and trike parade with prizes for best decorations, a watermelon eating contest, and eats and drinks.

The Jaycees want to get the word around early that everybody is invited to the Independence Day celebration.

Fleitman Brothers Named 4-County Distributors for Tom's Foods Inc.

James and Leon Fleitman, who started a one-truck peanut and candy servicing business a year ago in eight cities of this area, have just expanded their operation to a four county distributorship with five delivery trucks.

Under the name of James-lee Distributing Co., they have the franchise to represent the nationwide Tom's Foods Ltd. in Cooke, Denton, Wise and Montague Counties. In addition they are operating a Grade A dairy farm southeast of Myra.

When the brothers started they represented a Fort Worth distributor and operated one truck in delivering Tom's products in Muenster, Lindsay, Gainesville, Valley View, Sanger, Saint Jo, Whitesboro and Thackerville.

In March they purchased their franchise for the four-county distributorship and added two trucks. Since then they have added another truck and are about to add another. The plan includes full development of Denton County with addition of two more trucks, making a total of seven.

James and Leon have located their business in the Joe Walter warehouse, just north of Twelve Oaks Inn in Gainesville. Merchandise is delivered to the warehouse once a week in Tom's trucks. It includes a wide variety of candies, peanuts and other snack items sold by counter, rack or vending machine in stores, schools, plants, recreational facilities, etc.

The brothers are sons of Mr. and Mrs. John Fleitman of Muenster. Leon is married to the former Betsy Reed of Houston, who is secretary and office manager of the firm. They have four children: Ginger 6, Shannon 5, Scott 4, and Tejay 18 months. James is married to the former Nita Walterscheid of Muenster. They have two children: Rhonda 18 months and Chad 3 months.

Paper Pickup Saturday
Sacred Heart High seniors will conduct a scrap paper drive Saturday, June 12, from 9 a.m. to 12 noon. Persons with paper to give are asked to have it out at the curb by 9 o'clock. Students plan to pick up paper every two weeks during the summer.

Final Rite for Mrs. J. Kathman Held Wednesday

Funeral services for a native and lifelong resident of Muenster, Mrs. John Kathman, 75, were held Wednesday at 10 a.m. in Sacred Heart Church followed by burial in Sacred Heart Cemetery.

Father Leonard Wangler officiated and Nick Miller Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Bearers were nephews: Arthur Hess, Herman Stoffels, Frank Haverkamp, Leonard Haverkamp, Dan Haverkamp, Raymond Walterscheid.

Rosary was recited in the Miller Chapel Tuesday at 4 p.m. and a wake service was conducted there at 8:30 p.m.

Mrs. Kathman was found dead at her home Monday morning about 9 o'clock by her neighbors Mrs. L. A. Bernauer and Mrs. Victor Hartman and a niece Mrs. Herman Stoffels. Mrs. Bernauer became alarmed when she did not see her as usual around the house and when she failed to answer her telephone. She called the other two. Mrs. Kathman had suffered a heart attack while watching television from an easy chair. It was known that she had a heart condition for some time.

The former Tessie Haverkamp was born May 18, 1896, in Muenster and was married to John Kathman here on July 18, 1933. He died Feb. 27, 1958.

Surviving are one daughter Mrs. John Caughey of Peoria, Ill.; four grandchildren; one sister, Sister Anselma Haverkamp of Jonesboro, Ark.; seven brothers, John, Ben, Bill and Alois Haverkamp of Muenster, Joe and Charlie of Gainesville and Frank Haverkamp of Lindsay.

Parish Gives $358 to Cemetery Fund

People of Sacred Heart Parish gave $358.51 in the semi-annual collection for cemetery maintenance Sunday when members of the Civic League and Garden Club accepted donations after all services in Sacred Heart Church.

This was the first collection this year. Each year, except last year, donations are accepted on a Sunday near Memorial Day and on All Saints' Day, Nov. 1. This year's Memorial Day collection was postponed due to the annual Buddy Poppy campaign.

Persons who forgot or were not in town Sunday may leave their contributions at the Bank, with Mrs. Steve Moster, club treasurer or Mrs. Arthur Endres, president.

The fund is used for water, mowing, trimming shrubbery and replacing it. Mrs. Moster, cemetery chairman, thanked all who contributed.

Presently work consists of mowing and trimming after a late start due to the drought. Adolph Fuhrmann is cemetery maintenance man. He succeeds John Streng who was forced to give up the job for health reasons.

In other work not under Garden Club supervision is renovation of the statues in the crucifixion group.

Hess Furniture Adds Western Auto Line

A new business and/or a business expansion is on schedule for Muenster about July 1.

It will be a Western Auto Associate Store in connection with Hess Furniture Company and the combined business will be operated under the name of Western Auto.

The store will be owned and operated by Al Hess and his son Dennis. As an associate store it differs from those which are owned and operated by the company.

At this time Dennis is in Kansas City attending a special two-weeks course by Western Auto on store management.

Hess announced his plans Monday. He said that the first shipment of shelves, counters and stock has arrived and installation is due to start on June 21. Normally the work takes a week to ten days, so the new department should be in business on July 1.

A grand opening is planned for about August 1. Hess said the company's experience indicates better success with the formal event if additional time is allowed after the first opening.

The expansion comes just after Hess has finished a store-wide remodeling and face-lifting job. Work included new carpet and new interior paint throughout, partitioning a room into two offices — for Hess Furniture and Modern Floors — plus additional built in furnishings and an additional door at the south side. Outside masonite siding is at the site awaiting installation. Another addition to the building is a stock room for Modern Floors.

When the combined store goes into operation the Western Auto line will take up the south part of the building and a portion of the north part for appliance display. The rest of the north side will be used for furniture. Farther back in the building a part of the former warehouse space will be used for display. Also in the plan is conversion of a nearby garage into a service shop for installation of tires, batteries, etc.

Items to be stocked in the Western Auto line are appliances, automotive parts and accessories, housewares, sporting goods, hardware, along with the usual assortment of things found in auto stores. An added convenience is a catalogue order department. The catalogue lists the full Western Auto line. An item not carried in stock can be ordered through the catalogue.

And prices will be competitive, Hess added. Affiliation with a system of 6,000 stores gives this store the benefits of volume purchases.

June 23 Set for Donations to Local Blood Bank

Residents of the Muenster Hospital District were reminded this week that Wednesday, June 23, is Blood Bank Day. The event, which provides free blood for patients of the Muenster hospital and residents of the hospital district is sponsored by the Muenster Knights of Columbus and Grand Knight Dan Luke urges all who can to come and give.

The blood donor facilities will be set up in the K of C Hall and the hours, formerly ending at 5, will extend to 7 p.m. for the convenience of people who want to come after work.

The council is trying for a minimum of about 150 volunteers, of which, according to normal procedure, about 80 per cent will be accepted as donors. That will give the bank 120 pints, just three more than were used by the district and hospital during the past year. At the same time the sponsor has hopes of topping the minimum by a stout figure. It is eager to have a surplus, in case it's needed.

As a member of the Red Cross blood bank system, this community has an efficient and economical arrangement for blood transfusions to patients of the local hospital and residents of the hospital district who receive transfusions elsewhere.

There is no charge for the blood, because it is given by local people for the use of local people. The only charge covers costs of collecting, packaging, storing, transporting, infusing and other services.

It means that the patient pays $25 to $30 less for a unit of blood. It also means that the hospital saves about $150 per month on stocking fees.

Items to be stocked in the Western Auto line are appliances, automotive parts and accessories, housewares, sporting goods, hardware, along with the usual assortment of things found in auto stores. An added convenience is a catalogue order department. The catalogue lists the full Western Auto line. An item not carried in stock can be ordered through the catalogue.

That Commission On Pornography

When President Johnson wanted to set up a commission to study pornography a few years ago, the American Civil Liberties Union was opposed to it. The President set it up anyway, but the powerful ACLU took the Commission over. It used Commission funds to hire an executive of the ACLU as its chief counsel.

Charles Keating, the only member on the Commission appointed by President Nixon, said putting an ACLU lawyer in charge was like "putting a burglar in charge of the jewels," since the ACLU had such a long record of opposing laws that curbed obscenity.

The results of the Commission were predictable: it called for the repeal of most of our existing laws against obscenity, arguing that pornography did not cause criminal behavior.

To sit back complacently and reason that smutty literature has its place is to condone national suicide. As columnist James Kilpatrick pointed out: "The heart and soul of this racket is not the grown-up sucker. It is the curious child . . ."

Psychiatrists and police officials point to the results: rebellion against authority; venereal disease; illegitimate children; the shattered lives of unwed parents; an expanding population of sick perverts; a philosophy of self-indulgence that condones adultery, destroys the home, and threatens our whole society.

For the damaging results of salacious literature you need only look to the judges manning the juvenile courts of our nation. They pointed out at their national conference how pornography has had such a profound effect on our society that it is changing the very nature of juvenile delinquency. Said the chief psychiatrist of the County Court in Philadelphia: "The greatest single cause of sexual immorality in adolescents is pornography." Inspector Herbert Case of the Detroit Police Department said he has never yet seen a sex murder where obscene literature was not involved. So testify the other experts, right down the line.

Sign of Our Time

"Thou art my battle ax and weapon of war; for with thee will I break in pieces the nations, and with thee will I destroy kingdoms," Jer. 51:20.

The Good Lord has always used his people as a deterrent against evil aggression, otherwise, evil would engulf the world. If His people will not assume that responsibility then we're hopelessly lost.

It was God's people who stopped the Mohammedans. It was God's people who stopped Napoleon. It was God's people who stopped the Spanish. It was God's people who stopped the Kaiser. It was God's people who stopped Hitler, Mussolini and Tojo.

But today we have senators, representatives, adults and young people who refuse to stop communist aggression. We also have politicians that have so muddled the waters of resistance that victory is virtually impossible.

Their design is to so weaken us militarily and otherwise that communism will seek dominance and World War III become inevitable.

If we rebel against being God's battle ax against communism, whom will He send against evil aggression. — Cecil Waggoner in Claude News.

"The Virtue of Socialism"

Winston Churchill made the observation that "the vice of capitalism is its inequitable distribution of blessings. The virtue of socialism is its equitable distribution of misery."

The saying is not entirely correct, as socialist leaders usually live in the finest palaces and villas they can find. But there is no doubt that the overwhelming majority of people in socialist and communist countries live under much poorer conditions than in their countries were free and enterprising.

Tillman Durdin, New York Times correspondent now in Red China, writes that the people are poor, "their ill-fitting clothing patched and worn, their cities drab and gray. . . ." He also reports that there is "a conspicuous new factor in the picture compared with former times — the presence of military men in every organization. . . . Many oldsters may still be unhappy at the regimentation, drabness, leveling and conformity of life, the lack of intellectual freedom and the constant propagandizing, but members of the new generation have known nothing else. . . ."

Durdin also points out how dirty, drab and run-down the cities are on the Mainland, with their "dirt-encrusted windows, sagging doors and trash under staircases." Debris, he writes "clogs many side streets." Even Shanghai, he said, looks "grimy and run down." Yet the places shown to newsmen, he said, are mostly showplaces.

He refers to the pollution from thousands of smokestacks. "Factory chimneys," he reported "belch uncontrolled coal smoke," a reminder that such problems are not always to be blamed on private enterprise. Even in the United States, the worst polluters are the city governments, carelessly dumping their sewage into lakes and rivers. The idea that pollution is not done by governments, or that pollution will disappear if the government takes over, is clearly false.

Landmark Legislation

In case you missed it I repeat a news story that announced a move last week by the Texas Legislature that may be far reaching in stamping out many communicable childhood diseases. The article says:

Gov. Preston Smith has signed into law legislation requiring school children to be inoculated against six diseases and preschool children immunized against eight diseases.

"This is a landmark legislation in the field of health," Smith said Monday. "For the first time in the history of the state of Texas we will be able to make some headway in eliminating these diseases."

The governor predicted the laws will "sharply reduce the disease rate in our state."

The health bills require preschool children to be immunized against diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus, polio, rubella, rubeola and smallpox before they can enter child care facilities and school children be inoculated for diphtheria, rubeola, rubella, tetanus, polio and smallpox as a prerequisite for admittance into any Texas elementary, secondary or university facility. —Cecil Waggoner in Claude News.

Crowd Estimates

When the radical leftists led the first of the spring marches in Washington, the earliest estimates of the crowd given over the radio were 500,000. As the day wore on, the guesses fell to 300,000 and then 200,000. Later it was said that the number was 175,000.

What was intriguing about the figures is that the biggest one was given first. Afterward the estimate progressively diminished. That's the way it happened when the peaceniks were having their day. Now see what happened on May 8, when the Rev. Carl McIntire led the Patriot's March for Victory.

The first estimate given over the radio was that only 2,000 or 3,000 paraders had turned out in the national capital. Later in the afternoon the number was put at 5,000 — practically double the first figure. Then at about 6 p.m. it was said that 14,000 had gathered.

It is hard to figure out how this kind of thing happens so often. Not that anybody is trying to favor the radical side over the conservative side. Perish the thought! But it does happen that way. —U.S. Press Assn.

Heal Better Electrically

"You'll heal better electrically. . ." says the Oklahoma Gas and Electric Company in their publication, "The Meter." It went on to explain how an article in the " . . . Tinker Air Force Base newspaper, The Take Off, describes in detail how a group of doctors at the University of Pennsylvania Medical School have helped fractured bones in animals heal faster . . . with electricity. The doctors have implanted small 'power packs' beneath the skin of animals which have resulted in complete healing of fractured leg bones in just 18 days, much shorter than the normal healing period. The battery powered unit delivers a whopping one hundredth of an ampere and one of the two electrodes is secured directly across the fracture. The study, sponsored by the U. S. Navy, has not yet included human patients but probably will in the future."

Lawmakers Submit More Amendments For Constitution

By Vern Sanford
AUSTIN, TEX. — Legislature in regular session agreed to submit 14 more proposed constitutional amendments to voters in November, 1972.

Among major ones is HJR 61, which would authorize the 1973 Legislature to serve as a constitutional revision convention.

Two others (HJR 58 and HJR 95) would provide for raise in salaries of legislators (to $8,400) and lieutenant governor and House speaker (to $22,500).

Other amendments on the general election ballot in 1972 will be:

SJR 1 — Providing four-year terms for governor and other statewide officials now limited to two-year terms.

SJR 16 — Guaranteeing that no rights will be abridged because of sex, race, color, creed or national origin.

SJR 7 — Permitting local governments on popular vote to exempt $3,000 of assessed value of resident homesteads of persons 65 or older from all ad valorem taxes.

HJR 68 — Providing for advertising (twice) of proposed constitutional amendments in clear, concise language in all legal newspapers in Texas.

HJR 35 — Authorizing a tax exemption for disabled veterans and a partial exemption for partially-disabled veterans.

HJR 57 — Permitting county commissioners to reduce the county permanent school fund and provide for payment of money to independent and common school districts on a per-scholastic basis.

SJR 29 — Providing that state employees can serve on non-paying school boards and city governing bodies without forfeiting state pay.

SJR 20 — Exempting soil and water conservation district directors from dual office-holding prohibitions.

HJR 61 — Relating to rates of interest to be borne by bonds.

HJR 41 — Requiring that justices of the peace be compensated on salary basis.

HJR 31 — Abolishing Lamar County hospital district.

Confusion of Terms

There are those who espouse higher education as a right. However, some things cannot be achieved as a right simply on demand. Education is one. All across the country, institutions of higher learning are feeling the economic pinch. A publication of the California Taxpayers' Association lists a few of the universities that have been hit the hardest by falling revenues. It reports that Princeton University has announced a budget of $1 million less in 1971-72 than in 1970. Michigan State University has announced a 1.5 percent reduction in budgets. Dartmouth College is reducing the size of its faculty. Stanford University is trimming $6 million from its budget over the next five years. In addition to budget cuts, tuition is rising. In the state of Oregon, the higher education system has announced plans to charge 75 percent of actual instruction cost for state residents with the state paying the other 25 percent. Out of state students will be charged 100 percent of education costs.

We should stop confusing rights with privileges. A higher education is a privilege.

When a man's pushing 50, that's exercise enough.

Army Nurse Corps Is 70 Years Old

In addition to treating sick and injured servicemen, Army nurses also take care of their dependents.

Army nurses throughout the world are celebrating the 70th anniversary of the Army Nurse Corps this year.

Founded on February 2, 1901, the Army Nurse Corps is the oldest military nursing corps in the world. Its 4,700 members currently serve at more than 400 locations in the United States and 11 foreign countries, including Vietnam.

Throughout the 70 year history of the Nurse Corps, Army nurses have been devoted to their job, whether they were treating a private or a general, a soldiers wife or the President of the United States. Their performance has earned them numerous medals and professional awards. Army nurses are among the most professionally trained in the world. Approximately 41 per cent of them hold a bachelor's or higher degree. Seven Army nurses hold a doctorate degree.

Army nurses are used at Army hospitals, whether they be temporary structures in a combat zone or a general hospital such as world famous Walter Reed in Washington.

Since 1955 men have been included in the ranks of the Army Nurse Corps. Today over 18 per cent of the Army's nurses are men. This compares to only one per cent of the civilian nursing population.

What would you guess is the fastest-growing business in the United States? Electronics? Wrong. The correct answer is government. Roughly one of every seven employed Americans now works for the government — federal, state and local. And government employment is growing much faster than employment in private enterprise. In effect, every six private workers in the U.S. must support themselves and the seventh who theoretically works for them. It is now apparent why taxes at all levels are high and going higher? —Everett Wash. Herald.

Morris, North Texas Zone Manager for the Ford Motor Company; Mr. T. D. CCJC Receives Automotive Units from Ford Motor Co.

Automotive equipment worth $4,708.00 has been donated to Cooke County Junior College by Ford Motor Company.

The equipment was presented to T. D. Bolinger, Vocational-Technical Director of Cooke County Junior College, by R. T. Morris, North Texas Zone Manager for Ford Motor Company. The presentation was made at the Automotive Shop of Cooke County Junior College, Gainesville, Texas.

The items donated included 2 engines, 2 rear axle assemblies, and 4 transmissions.

In making the presentation, R. T. Morris said the donation was a part of Ford Motor Company's aid-to-education program. The purpose of the program is to provide deserving schools with modern equipment to train student auto mechanics, he said.

The automobile mechanic of today is a highly trained technician whose abilities are widely respected and whose services are in great demand, according to R. T. Morris. Opportunities for young people with technical training in the automobile industry have never been greater, he said.

Nationally, Ford Motor Company donated hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of automotive equipment to schools across the country during the past year. The aid-to-education contributions are made in cooperation with Ford, Lincoln-Mercury, Ford tractor and Ford truck dealerships which, in many instances, provide advice and maintenance service for the schools receiving the equipment.

With each major automotive assembly donated to eligible institutions Ford also provides teaching aids to help teachers explain intricacies of the equipment, principles of operation, diagnosis, adjustment, repair, and overhaul.

In addition, Ford furnishes lesson plans, instructor notes, and other supplementary material to assist in preparing a training course.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hoberer and family have moved to Lindsay from Hood and are occupying the Paul Arendt Estate home which they bought. Their son and family, the Erwin Hoberers have moved from Gainesville to occupy the place his parents vacated at Hood.

Sister Emma Marie Herr, four day visitor here, houseguest of her aunt, Mrs. Joe Luke, was honored at a reunion of the Herr and Friske families Thursday in Leonard Park at Gainesville. The group took food for a picnic dinner. Sister Emma Marie arrived last Wednesday from Bakersfield, Calif., and went to Hereford Saturday in company of the Frank Herrs and Miss Elizabeth Herr. They were all guests of the nun's father Emil Herr and saw other relatives. The Muenster trio returned Monday evening. After a visit in Hereford Sister Emma Marie will return to California.

passengers as our 747 and at twice the speed of sound, we are puzzled by problems that are likely to be encountered.

We can easily imagine for instance, the daily quota of passengers to Europe would justify an SST flight. But how about their destinations in Europe? From a central landing place most of the passengers would have to book flights to Paris, Berlin, Rome, Madrid and various other cities. Obviously the SST would not have sufficient loads to justify direct flights to several European cities, and if so it probably would not have sufficient landing and take-off space.

So we encounter an unavoidable question. Which is better, direct flights by smaller planes to a number of cities or the SST flight overseas followed by other flights? It's doubtful that such passengers would save time or money by using SST. The same applies to trips to the Orient. Could the giant save the passengers time and money?

After getting over our first disappointment on the SST demise it seems like a good idea to observe for a while and see whether it's all that it's claimed to be. Maybe SST is too big, and we're lucky that Russia, France and Britain made the mistake instead of us.

Meanwhile it seems smart to keep on doing what this country has done for years. That is to build the best planes for the present kind of flights. There will always be a need for them even if SST does all that's expected of it. Maybe Russia will get to sell a few dozen TU-144s. At the same time we can sell hundreds of 747s and 707s to firms who need those sizes of planes.

It pays to advertise with the Muenster Enterprise.
