

Every four years, it seems, we get a feeling that the election is leading up to the most crucial period in our history. This one is no exception. We wonder whether the red menace will reach its goal of world domination, whether the race for military superiority will go so far as to blackmail us into submission, or whether the horror of nuclear war will actually break out and leave civilization in shambles.

Or, escaping such catastrophe, we wonder whether deficit spending and inflation will crowd our economy to the breaking point, whether lawlessness will continue getting worse, whether the welfare program will continue piling burdens on those who pay the bills, whether the fault finding minorities will go on demanding rather than initiating their own improvements of society.

We're coming to the end of a disappointing political campaign. The only real concern we've heard for these problems has come from the third party candidate who doesn't have a chance. Of the other two one is bragging about his achievements in liberalism and the other is promising that, if elected, he will strive for even greater extremes in liberalism.

To this column's way of thinking, Nixon's improved harmony with Moscow and Peking may prove to be just a continuation of the red scheme for world take-over. For several decades we've had these hot and cold periods of doing more or less for the Soviets and through all of them the reds have become bigger and stronger. Will this be the same old story? Or is the president actually convinced that the enemy has changed and we are really entering an era of live and let live?

Likewise President Nixon has let us down economically and socially. He gave us lots of conservative promises on balancing the budget and stopping inflation but has gone farther in debt than anyone else and has barely slowed the inflation spiral. He campaigned on anti-busing and four years later we're still busing.

McGovern's only appeal to the voters is that he'll outdo Nixon in spending. He wants loafers to live as well as the workers. He favors busing. He wants to abandon South Vietnam to Communist conquest — including wholesale murder of all who struggled for freedom.

In this respect Nixon definitely is on the right track. While getting us out of the war he insists on conditions which will enable South Vietnamese to remain independent and determine their own kind of government. McGovern isn't concerned about those things. He only wants our troops and prisoners out of there. He's for abandoning South Vietnam to slavery and slaughter.

American party candidate John Schmitz agrees essentially with the president on the Vietnam issue but makes better sense on social, economic and security issues. He believes in law and order and a responsible attitude in minority groups. He believes in making ends meet. He believes in maintaining sufficient strength to keep others from pushing us around. Schmitz has the principles upon which this country grew and merited respect from the rest of the world. He's the man who would win the election if all voting were determined strictly on issues and not connected in any way with name or party.

But that's not how the election goes. Anybody can tell you that Schmitz doesn't have a chance. Hence there's no point in voting for him, so the smart thing is to choose between the two who are in the running.

That makes sense. While doing nothing to restore the old time solid principles of patriotism, economy and personal responsibility, it does avoid the plunge into an even worse degree of socialism. Experience of the past four years indicates that we can get along on Nixon's policies. Meanwhile we can hope that some of his professed conservatism will come through in domestic policy, and that his confidence in a mellowed red

Reiters Observe Golden Wedding Anniversary at Mass and Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. Clem Reiter, married in Muenster in 1922, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Saturday at a jubilee Mass in Sacred Heart Church and a reception and dinner in the KC Hall.

Their five children and families including 20 of their 22 grandchildren were present along with a gathering of the Hoedebeck-Reiter clans for about 120 guests.

Father Paul Hoedebeck, brother of the 50-year bride, came from Paris, Ark., to officiate at the religious service and children of the couple hosted the social observance.

Mass music was provided by Sister Yvonne Lerner, organist and Mrs. Clarence Zimmerer of Lindsay, a niece, vocalist. She sang "Always," "Ave Maria," "Panis Angelicus," and after Mass, "Silver Threads Among the Gold." Father Bede Mitchel preached the anniversary sermon.

Entrance procession was led by Father Paul and three grandsons of the couple, Steve Arendt, Adolph Knabe Jr., and Larry Joe Hoedebeck. Flower girls, granddaughters, Cindy Reiter, Stephanie Reiter and Donna Arendt, followed.

Grandsons Dwaine Knabe, Andrew Arendt, Bob Reiter and Chris Reiter were ushers.

Offertory gifts were presented by grandsons Jimmy Arendt, Steve Fagun, Jackie

Building Notes

Building activity in Muenster and the surrounding area continues at a steady pace with seven new houses currently under construction, another receiving additions and six being remodeled. Also, there's a new commercial building and remodeling on another.

In the northwest part of town work is well advanced on the new home for the Ray Wildes. It will have four bedrooms, three and a half baths, double garage, central heating and cooling, brick veneer.

Allen Reiter on East Fifth is building a three bedroom house with bath and a half attached garage, central heat and cool and brick veneer.

Similar specifications with different design apply to the house going up for the Harry Ottos on South Pine Street.

Preparation is under way now on a location for the Dan Lukes. It will be near Brushy Elm creek at the west city limits and will have four bedrooms.

Community Gives $1636 In UF Drive

Muenster's United Fund drive topped its quota and closed on schedule, Alvin Fuhrman, chairman, reported Wednesday.

He said that he sent a check for $1511.50 to the Cooke County headquarters and one local donor had given $125 directly to the headquarters. Hence the community's contribution exceeds its quota by $136.50. Last year's donations were slightly over $1300.

Fuhrman also stated that the campaign ended on October 31, as originally planned. At the time a few of the campaign packets still had not been returned, so it is not known whether more persons intended to give. If there are others their donations are still welcome and will still be accepted by Fuhrman.

The chairman expressed appreciation for the fine response he and his helpers received in the drive. He said donations were prompt as well as generous, a considerable saving of time and effort for the workers.

Muenster donors have the satisfaction of knowing that practically all of their contributions, perhaps more, are being used here at home. Included in the eleven participating agencies are the Muenster Youth Council, which is due to get $555. And the community also shares in funds allotted to Red Cross, the Salvation Army and the 4-H and FFA programs of the county.

A little know service is the help given by the Salvation Army to destitute people, principally transients. Steve Moser, representing the Salvation Army frequently provides meals or a gasoline fill-up to the unfortunate victims of circumstance. He checks out the applicant and approves a purchase from a store, cafe or service station, and Salvation Army honors the bill.

The Men In Service

FINISHES BASIC — Pvt. Steve Walterscheid has completed basic Army training at Fort Ord, Calif., and has gone to Fort Lee, Va., for specialized training. He did not get leave time or delay enroute to visit his parents Mr. and Mrs. Joe H. Walterscheid but is looking forward to spending Christmas at home.

Based At Fort Hood — Army Specialist Four Thomas Trachta is settled at Fort Hood following his return from Vietnam and a leave here with his parents, the David Trachtas. He is assigned to the 546th Personnel Service Company, 1st Personnel and Administration Battalion of the 13th Support Brigade at Fort Hood.

On Overseas Leave — Army Staff Sgt. and Mrs. Tom Webb and five month old daughter Rhonda Michelle will spend a part of his 30-day overseas leave here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Werner Cler and then go to California to visit his family. Mrs. Webb and the baby arrived Wednesday night by plane from Plattsburg AFB, N. Y., coming ahead of Sgt. Webb who will drive. His next assignment will be in Thailand. While he is overseas his wife and daughter will live in Muenster. Her parents met them on arrival at Love Field. This is their first time to see their granddaughter.

Sacred Heart and Lindsay to Meet

A double header football program with Lindsay is on schedule Saturday night on the Sacred Heart field. It begins with the seventh and eighth graders — Tiger Cubs and Lindsay Squires — and ends with the high school B teams.

As the junior teams square off each will be favored by pre-game statistics. Lindsay kids have the better season record, the only blemish being a 16-8 loss to Saint Jo The Cubs' 2-4-1 record is considerably less impressive, but it includes an 18-0 win over Saint Jo. Based on those comparisons, the game should rate as a toss-up.

The Tiger B team will go in as the underdog with ideas for an upset. This will be the second clash of the two teams. The earlier one three weeks ago was a 14-0 win for Lindsay. Tiger Bees have a 0-2 standing, their other being a two touchdown loss to Aubrey.

Local Jaycees Ask Foreign Addresses Of Muenster Men

Again this year, Muenster Jaycees will send Christmas packages to local servicemen overseas and are asking for addresses.

Time is near for shipments to get in the holiday mail and Jaycees are eager to get addresses as quickly as possible.

Parents or other relatives are being asked to leave addresses, clearly printed, at Fisher's or Hofbauer's stores, or with any Jaycee member.

Moisture Is Super After 5.04 in. Rain

The drought of 1972 was broken during the past week by the best rainfall of the entire year. Climaxed by alternate drizzle and downpour most of the day Monday, the rain measured 2.15 on the last day of October and brought the month's total to 5.04 inches.

The rain started with a fine soaker of 1.54 recorded on Sunday, the 22, and started again on the 26th, raining every day through the 31st.

November's record started with .25 on Wednesday and by noon another .18 had fallen. Total for the year at that time was 21.46 inches.

For the area's farms it was ideal. Generally the rain fell slowly enough to soak in and the volume was sufficient for a good sub-soil supply. It means that grain crops are off to a fine start and have good prospects of thriving through the winter. It also helps the grazing situation, giving pastures a great boost.

Lakes and ponds likewise got big benefits, especially from Monday's heavier rain. Runoff to the reservoirs increased greatly as heavier showers fell on already well soaked land.

Though the present situation is fine the year's total is still far below normal. Over 12 inches will be needed in the remaining two months to reach the average of about 34 inches for the year.

Nation Votes Next Tuesday

The long, bitter presidential campaign of 1972 will come to an end next Tuesday, November 7, in a general election which has the potential of being the biggest ever, but may, on the other hand, bring out the lowest percentage ever of eligible voters.

It is a strange contest that could be hurt by lack of voter interest, by apathy based on the big leads President Nixon has received in opinion polls or by the lack of confidence resulting from McGovern's poor showing. Whatever the public's response, it is a fact that a new high in voter eligibility resulted from lowering the voting age limit.

In Cooke County a record breaking 11,909 are registered. The figure includes 238 for the South Muenster precinct, No. 17, and 928 for the North Muenster precinct, No. 18.

South Muenster balloting will be held in the VFW Hall with Paul Fisher in charge as precinct chairman. The North Muenster voting box will be the K of C Hall with B. J. Swirczynski as precinct chairman. Hours at both places are 7 to 7.

The long ballot presents a full slate of Democratic Party nominees and partial slates for the Republican, Raza Unida and Socialist parties. The American Party ranking third in popularity, with John Schmitz and Tom Anderson as standard bearers, did not qualify for a place on the Texas ballot. Votes for it will have to be entered in the write-in column.

Persons wishing to vote a straight ticket will find their voting somewhat simplified. All they need to do is mark an X in the square beside the party name heading the column. Split ticket voters can vote for individuals of their choice regardless of the party heading. Such a vote is legal in spite of the misunderstanding caused by the pledge on Democratic primary voting ballots. Voting in the party primary does not obligate one to support its nominees in the general election.

Along with candidates the ballot has a list of 14 proposed amendments to the Texas constitution.

Auxiliary to Show Seventy Years of Women's World

With many people of the community, from housewives to professional men and women, involved, Muenster Hospital Auxiliary's extravaganza "You've Come a Long Way, Baby" is ready for presentation to the public next Tuesday, Nov. 7, in Muenster High gymnasium, 8 p.m.

In it fashions and talent combine for entertainment to show changes in a woman's world from 1900 to the 1970s.

Models, who also will perform, will be wearing authentic fashions of yesteryear to the present day and will turn back the pages of time in their acts to include singing, dancing, melodrama and comedy from Women's Suffrage to Women's Lib.

Antique fashions have been donated by local residents. Modern styles are through courtesy of The Charm Shop and Hamric's.

To kick off the event Auxiliary members will march on Main Street Saturday afternoon, Nov. 4, at 2 p.m. Many historic suffragettes will participate to advertise the show that will benefit Muenster Memorial Hospital. Participants include Faye Hamric, Elaine Stephens, Dolores Miller, Betty Kralicke, Dorma Flusche, Janie Monday, Betty Henschel, Betty Rose Walterscheid, Joan Walterscheid, Kay Pagel and Bernice Mol.

Garden Club Set For Flower Show Saturday 4 p.m.

Members of the Muenster Garden Club are busy with final details in preparation for their flower show Saturday, November 4, at the K C Hall.

Themed: "A Stroll Through a French Market", the flower show will be the first here in many years. The show is open to the public and visitors are invited between the hours of 3:00 and 9:00 p.m. There will be no admission charge.

In addition to the flower arrangements and horticulture specimens, there will be a sidewalk cafe, a sweet shop offering baked goods, candies, jellies, and holiday foods, a gift shop offering handmade gift items; a flower cart with plants for sale; a door prize and a display from the Garden Center.

The attractive posters announcing the flower show and seen in business houses in town were made by the art classes at Sacred Heart School.

FOURTEEN AMENDMENTS ON NOVEMBER BALLOT

AMENDMENT 10. The proposed amendment would change the provisions on the time at which the legislature may propose constitutional amendments, and the time and method of publishing notice of proposed amendments. The amendment would allow consideration of proposed amendments during special sessions if the governor submits the matter for consideration. Presently, only regular, biennially-called sessions can consider proposed amendments. Following are the proposed changes and addition to the time and method of notice of proposed amendments:

(a) Instead of requiring publication of the full text of the resolution as does the present provision, the proposed amendment would require publication of a brief explanatory statement of the nature of the amendment together with the date of the election and the wording of the proposition as it appears on the ballot.

(b) Instead of requiring publication of the notice in one newspaper in each county, the proposed amendment would require that it be published in every newspaper in the state which qualifies for publication of official notices.

(c) Instead of requiring publication of four weekly insertions beginning at least three months before the election, the proposed amendment would require that the notice be published twice, the first insertion to appear between the sixtieth and fiftieth day before the election and the second to appear one week after the first insertion.

(d) The new requirement would set a maximum on the rate of charge that the legislature shall fix for publication of the notice at no "higher than the newspaper's published national rate for advertising per column inch."

AMENDMENT 11. The amendment, if adopted, would raise the salaries of the lieutenant governor (while he acts as President of the Senate) and the Speaker of the House from $4,800 to $22,500 per year.

AMENDMENT 12. The proposed amendment makes the following changes in the state constitution:

(a) A provision is added allowing state employees or others compensated by state funds, who are not state officers, to serve as members of the governing bodies of school districts, cities, towns or other governmental districts, while still drawing a state salary, but receiving no salary as a member of the governing body on which they serve.

(b) Reserve and retired members of the air force and coast guard and officers of state soil and water conservation districts are exempted from the prohibition on dual office-holding. Members of the army, navy, marine, and probably the air force, were already exempted by existing provisions.

(c) The existing provision permitting non-elective state officers to hold other non-elective offices is changed by deleting the requirement that the legislature must first permit this dual office-holding and may limit or restrict it.

(d) A provision is added permitting a member of the legislature to be a notary public.

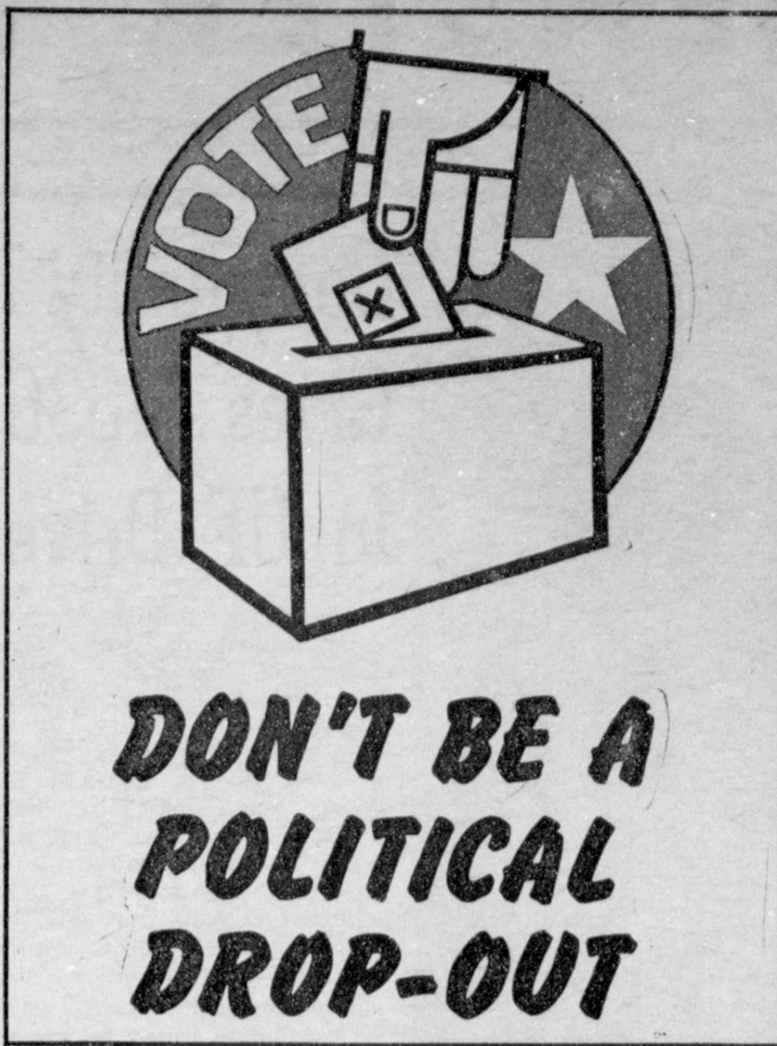

(e) The section on dual compensation is amended by prohibiting the holding of more than one "civil office of emolument" rather than using the present language, "office or position of honor, trust, or profit," which presently covers any paid state job as well as any office.

(f) The wording of the prohibition on dual compensation is changed from "The Accounting Officers of this State shall neither draw nor pay a warrant upon the Treasury" to "The accounting officers in this State shall neither draw nor pay a warrant or check on funds of the State of Texas, whether in the treasury or otherwise."

AMENDMENT 13. The proposed amendment would add a new section to the Texas Constitution. This new section would provide that agencies, instrumentalities, and subdivisions of the state that are authorized to issue bonds, whose maximum interest rates are limited by the constitution, could issue future bonds with maximum interest rates not to exceed a weighted average annual interest rate of 66 percent. The proposed section would be effective on adoption of Amendment No. 13 by the voters, and all constitutional provisions which set conflicting interest rates would be repealed.

AMENDMENT 14. The proposed amendment would add a new section to the Texas Constitution which would allow the commissioners court of a county to distribute a portion of the county permanent school fund to school districts in the county on the basis of scholastic population for the purpose of reducing bonded indebtedness or making permanent improvements. The commissioners are required by the proposal to retain a sufficient amount of the corpus of the county permanent school fund to pay ad valorem taxes on school lands or royalty interests owned at the time of the distribution.

America's No. 1 Killer

Safe and sure in the notion that it will never affect them, many Americans take a seemingly indifferent attitude towards drunken driving. They often disapprove vehemently, but seldom act.

Denying that drunken drivers can affect the average, moderate-drinking citizen is denying the facts. No illness takes such an awesome toll as do those driving under the influence of alcohol. Drunks are not always at fault, but their intoxicated condition means that they are often not alert enough to avoid a collision.

Highway mishaps account for more and more deaths every year. Many, if not most, are the result of a drinking driver.

Slower reactions, blurred vision and impaired judgment all contribute to the surging road death count. Recently, a government report stated that over half of last year's fatalities were attributed to alcohol.

Laws against intoxicated driving are of little effect. They are lenient and enforcement is lax. Nations with lower highway death figures have stricter laws than the U.S.

Changing U.S. laws is a necessity. Many rightly charge that unsafe automobiles and highways cause deaths. But this recent government survey shows that the drunken driver bears a disproportionate share of the blame.

Covering up this fact will only prolong the highway carnage. Continued improvement of cars and roads is almost pointless unless something is done about the nation's number one killer: the drunken driver.

Fortunately, something is being done. Uniform standards for determining whether a driver is legally drunk have been adopted by 38 states. A year ago, the figure was 15.

Better programs for determining intoxication, stiffer penalties for drunk drivers and more policing of the highways for the protection of the innocent driver are needed.

Chile Sliding Backwards Fast

Since Marxist Salvador Allende took over Chile eighteen months ago, socialism has borne its usual fruit: shortages. Hospitals use scotch tape, when available, because bandages are scarce. Surgical thread is non-existent, so doctors use common household thread.

Transportation is likewise suffering. Trucks, buses and railroads travel irregularly because of the lack of spare parts. Nationalization of industries has resulted in their control by native Chileans loyal to Allende. Often, these followers know nothing about the industry in their charge.

Miristas (Left Revolutionary Movement) terrorize the countryside and appropriate at will. Much of the drop in farm production is attributed to them. Miristas have gone to such excesses that it has even embarrassed Allende.

Results of the over-centralization have been harmful. Powdered milk has replaced fresh, starches are eaten rather than rarely available meat. Legions of loyal bureaucrats regulate all aspects of the economy. Farmers are not allowed to plant when they know it is time. They must wait until the government tells them to plant. Otherwise they will not get fertilizers and equipment.

Choices best made by the farmers themselves are thus made by a government that channels resources without knowing what is best. Crops are planted late so yields are low. Keeping the people under guard, it would seem, is more important to Allende than ruling for their benefit.

For some time, Allende's measures have led to a faltering economy. Added to economic misfortunes is flagrant terrorism. President Allende cannot be pardoned for either. His socialism has proved unproductive and he personally released two convicted bankrobbers who are his relatives.

It Does Not Make Sense

The Soviets militarily occupied Czechoslovakia in 1968 and were denounced by most of the free world. Yet today we are considering trade with them that would increase their truck production and computer capability. Soviet trucks carry supplies down the Ho Chi Minh trail and computers are the sine qua non of missiles and space.

Another outrageous event took place in 1968. The United Nations voted sanctions against — not the U.S.S.R. — Rhodesia. Chrome, essential in jet engines, is a key Rhodesian export. So the Japanese bought Rhodesian chrome and sold it to the U.S.S.R. The Russians in turn sold it to the U.S. at three times the price Rhodesia charged. The Senate barely rectified this situation.

Recently, for the first time, U.S. businesses were fined for trading with Rhodesia. A Federal judge fined a management company $200,000; a shipping firm got a $100,000 penalty, and three individuals were fined a total of $11,750.

What was their crime? Selling vital materials? Auctioning off nuclear secrets? No, they were going to build a fertilizer plant to increase Rhodesian crop yields. All Rhodesians, black and white, would have been better fed if it had been built.

But no, the U.N., supposedly interested in things like hunger, would frown on it. So, American citizens were tried in American courts by American prosecutors for violating rules laid down by an international organization. That the U.N. is largely bankrolled by American taxpayers and hardly friendly to American interests was not mentioned at the trial.

Tigers Jolt Whitesboro B In 66-0 Scoring Spree

Sacred Heart's Tigers, enjoying a highly successful record after three dismal seasons, celebrated Friday night with a scoring spree. They annihilated Whitesboro's B team 66-0.

They played an alert game offensively and defensively and cashed in on the hosts' apparent lack of experience. While claiming possession on five fumbles and an interception they gave up only one fumble.

The Tigers took charge at the opening kickoff. Kevin Pels did the heavy work in a drive that went 51 yards in 15 plays and fizzled on the 20. However they had the ball back on Whitesboro's kick ending the next series.

That was on the 42 and one play was enough. Davey Krahl got around left end and breezed all the way.

Following an exchange of kicks and a fumble on the last play of the quarter, Krahl was set up for a repeat performance. He took a pitch-out and successfully swept left end again, this time for 45 yards. A pass from Gary Endres to Myron Hess upped the count to 14-0.

Three plays after the next kickoff Kenny Hess intercepted a pass, got a key block from Steve Taylor and breezed 33 yards to pay dirt. Gary Endres made bonus points on a quarterback keeper play.

Whitesboro, after its only first down of the half, had to kick. Three plays later Pels, with the help of good blocks, went to the Bearcat 23 before being stopped, but he lost the ball in the fall. Four plays later the hosts kicked and the Tigers were going again. Krahl zipped 17 to the 30, a pass from Gary Endres to Myron Hess reached the 11 and Pels hit the line twice for the remaining yardage. A pass to Krahl added two points.

Whitesboro's fouled up plays after kickoff gave Sacred Heart its next opportunity. From the 25 one try lost 9 and the next one lost 6 plus a fumble. Ken Fleitman recovered for Sacred Heart on the 10. A pass went incomplete, Pels plowed up the middle for 8 then for the remaining 2.

Time remaining at that point was 2:18. On Whitesboro's third play Larry Bayer recovered a fumble on the 35. A 9 yard gain plus a face mask penalty reached the 13 and two more plays left them 5 yards short as time ran out. Half time score was 36-0.

The second half was more of the same except that Tiger reserves got into the action and Whitesboro did somewhat better.

After one first down Whitesboro fumbled on its next play and John Bartush recovered with 52 yards to go. Krahl made 14, an interference call on a pass put the ball on the 31, and Krahl went through right guard for a TD. Pels crashed over for two more points.

Next drive was interrupted by an exchange of kicks. The Tigers went 33 to the 42 and bogged down, then resumed from the 39 after Whitesboro's punt. Five tries were enough from there and the payoff was a run for 10 by Gary Endres. Endres went over again raising the count to 52-0. For the first time the home team got two first downs in a row then failed on the third series. That was on the Sacred Heart 20, the starting point for the next drive. Ten plays made the distance, big gains being 11 and 14 by Gary Endres, 12 by Mark Hess, and the 27 yard scoring romp by Krahl. Gary Endres' run added extra points.

Whitesboro moved again, going to the Tiger 45 before fumbling. Four plays later Sacred Heart kicked, Whitesboro fumbled and Myron Hess recovered on the 14. Three plays did it from there with Mark Hess scoring from the 2.

Insurance Plan Considered by Local Teachers

The Muenster Classroom Teachers Organization, made up of teachers of the local public school, in their October meeting discussed the possibility of a county-wide teacher health insurance plan. There to explain the program was Don Martin of Horace Mann Insurance which is set up primarily for teachers.

The organization, which is not affiliated with the state-wide Texas Classroom Teachers Association, was organized this school year at the public school.

Its purposes are "to unify our ideas; to promote better understandings and communications between school board members, teachers and administrators; to improve ourselves professionally and to work toward the betterment of our students."

At their September meeting the members decided to meet with the school board as a group. After that a representative of each division will meet with the board.

Freedom of speech was arranged by ancestors who couldn't possibly have had an idea of what-all was going to be said.

CRUSHER STASIAK

JOSE LOTHARIO

Pro Wrestling Booked Here for Saturday the 11th

Two of the top wrestling stars in the game will be in the same ring renewing a red hot feud when the professional sport comes to Muenster Saturday, Nov. 11th at 8 p.m.

A four match slate including a tag-team bout will be on the bargain priced, benefit program at the Sacred Heart high school gym.

Crusher Stasiak, one of the roughest, toughest tilters to hit the area in several seasons, will be battling popular Latin favorite and Texas champion Jose Lothario in the best of three falls feature.

Nationally recently the governing National Wrestling Alliance had to hold up the belt with Stasiak defending against Lothario when their match got out of hand.

In an ordered rematch, Lothario later took over the state championship. Lothario is famed for his scientific holds and aerial maneuvers while Stasiak relies mainly on the punishing "Heart Crucher" move.

Lord Robert Duncum, the husky blond rough-houser, who is seen in televised matches with his manager Bronko Lubich, will have Lubich as a bona fide team partner. The pair will take on popular Billy Red Lyons and Fred Curry, son of Bull Curry. The four split into preceding singles matches.

Muenster Juniors Win Two at Frisco

As if to compensate in advance for the Hornets' loss to Frisco Friday night, the future Hornets tagged the Frisco kids with a pair of losses Thursday night. Seventh graders won the opener 12-0 and eighth graders followed up with a 30-0 romp.

Both games were splashy muddy affairs on a field puddled by recent rain, and more rain fell during the second game.

Neither team was able to score during the first half of the seventh grade game. But the Little Monsters got going after intermission. Neil Walterscheid splashed 27 yards for the score just a few plays after Bert Walterscheid blocked a Frisco punt.

The next TD came late in the fourth following Frisco's fumble receiving a punt. That was 22 yards away and Gary Hermes went the distance in two efforts — first to the 7 then the rest of the way.

Muenster also led in first downs, by a count of 9 to 2, and was more decisive in the second game with a 15-3 lead.

First score in that contest started at midfield and ended with a 35 yard run by Mark Mollenkopf. Nick Walterscheid's run added 2 points.

The next one started when the Muenster lads blocked a Frisco punt. Mark Sicking followed up with the first of his three touchdowns. He went 27 yards and Tim Wolf upped the score to 16-0.

Then came a 60 yard march featured Mollenkopf's 20 yard run and Sicking's 20 to pay dirt. Nick Walterscheid added 2 more points.

Finally it was a steady push for 65 yards ending in Sicking's 17 yard scoot.

A boastful golfer on the pro tour, accused of magnifying his triumphs, explained, "I'm not a liar, sir. I just remember big!"

Crippled Hornets Mauled 49-0 by Coons of Frisco

Muenster's Hornets reached an all time high in frustration in their game with the Frisco Coons last Friday night. They lost 49-0 and they did a good job in holding the score as low as that.

In the first place Frisco is loaded with power — they're big, fast and experienced. At full strength and playing their inspired best, the Hornets would have been in trouble. But without the services of four men, including the quarterback and his replacement, they were overwhelmed.

Quarterback Jim Endres was sidelined with old injuries and Randy Wolf, who took over for him, sustained a broken arm about midway in the first quarter. As substitutes Louis Koelzer and Mike Davidson were not equal to the job. The Hornet offense eventually ended the game with a net yardage of -20.

But that wasn't all. Also out of the game were Hank Trachta who had been down with illness and Dan Sicking who broke a leg the week before. An added blow of tough luck was a sprained ankle for Alan Miller late in the game.

In spite of the handicaps Muenster defense did a good job in the first half. Despite a big disadvantage in size they held the Coons to only two touchdowns. In the second half however, they weakened to the incessant assault of the Coons and allowed five more TDs.

But offense was a sad story. Both rushing and passing were stopped cold. Occasional short rushes were more than offset by the losses when plays were smeared behind the line.

The first score came near the end of the first quarter following exchanges in which Muenster had to kick three times and stopped the visitors twice by recovering fumbles. Finally a big, break away run put the Coons on the board. Pelt went 35 yards for it and Edward Ortega kicked an extra point.

Muenster's best scoring chance was missed early in the second period after Frisco attempted to run on a fake punt. The Hornets were only 24 away but a penalty plus loss on an attempted pass lost 18 yards. The Hornets had to kick and Frisco put on a quickie drive for 75 yards and the next score. It used eight plays, the pay off being by Van Nichols for 45 yards.

Two more turnovers prevented Frisco from scoring again in the period. Glenn Henscheid intercepted a pass and later Roy Klement recovered a fumble. On their third attempt the visitors were moving again but ran out of time on the 10.

In the second half the Coons avoided the turnovers and settled down to steady scoring.

They lost the ball once on Miller's interception and once on a fourth down gamble. Otherwise they scored on every possession. Meanwhile the Hornets lost possession four times on fumbles and a good deal of yardage besides.

The first score followed one of those losses and a fumble on the 1. However; a stubborn Hornet defense held for two downs before allowing that 1 yard.

A fumble on the 23 put the Coons in business again. Four plays made the distance and Joe Ortega made the last 3 yards.

Then a 51 yard drive using nine plays and Ortega scoring from the 9.

Next one went for 43 in two passes — one for 36 and the other for 7.

On the kickoff that followed Muenster made one of its better returns but was set back to the 12 by a clipping penalty. On the next play Koelzer, trying to pass was caught behind the line for a safety.

And finally another 45 yard drive in two plays — a pass for 11 and a run for 34.

They also will attend a Christmas Mass in the cave of Christ's birth and spend the rest of December 25 visiting holy places in Bethlehem and Jerusalem.

These will include Rachel's Tomb, the Field of Boaz, Mt. Herodium, the Basilica of the Nativity, the Crusader's Cloister, Abraham's Tomb, the Cave of Machpelah, and Ein Karen — scene of the Visitation and birthplace of John the Baptist.

December 26 through 29 will take the pilgrimage sight-seeing including Jerusalem, Bethany, Kidron Valley, Beer-sheba, Jerico, Mount Tabor, Tiberias, Capernaum, Nazareth, Cana, Haifa, Jaffa and Tel Aviv.

On December 31 they will attend a New Year's Vigil Service in the Catacombs of St. Calixtus. This service will conclude with Midnight Mass, and the tourists will be off the next afternoon on a flight from Rome to Dallas.

Sister Genevieve and Sister Lenore feel the trip will help them tremendously in their teaching of religion to students of Sacred Heart School and students of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine classes.

The trip is a Christmas gift to the two nuns from a friend.

"The plain truth is that the ecology of nature is pretty severe on man, and man is constantly trying to modify it. Let's be honest: God put the worm in the apple; man took it out. God put the cockroach in the cracker barrel; man took it out. God put the potato bug on the potato; man took it off. God put the termite in the timber; man took it out. God put the malaria-laden mosquito in the backyard; man took it out. God put the mildew on the rose; man took it off. God put the parasite in the pork; man took it out. How far back to nature do our ecologists want to go? Or, if they are honest with themselves, do they really want to go at all? Let's be honest about it." — Secretary Earl Butz of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Between 75 and 80 percent of all cars in the U. S. now have safety belts and 2,500 to 3,000 lives a year are saved by belts, estimates the Department of Transportation. However, only about one in three motorists fastens his belt regularly.

Nothing is difficult if it is divided into small jobs.

"I find the great thing in this world is not so much where we stand, as in what direction we are moving..." — Oliver Wendell Holmes.

Two small boys were playing marbles together when a very pretty little girl walked by. One of the boys told his pal, "Brother, when I stop hating girls, she's the one I'm going to stop hating first!"

A newlywed sought valiantly to console his little bride. "Darling, believe me. I never said you were a terrible cook. I merely pointed out that our garbage disposal has developed an ulcer."

THE INFORMED CONSUMER

By Crawford C. Martin
Attorney General of Texas

At this time of the year most of us start thinking about our car's cooling system. Although there are some air cooled cars on the market, most are cooled by water.

While water is an effective agent for cooling the engine of these cars, and certainly it is cheap enough, it has several disadvantages as a coolant. Water contributes to rusting and corrosion of the metal parts with which it comes in contact. The freezing temperature of water is relatively high, 32 degrees, and it boils at comparatively low temperatures, 212 degrees.

Because water freezes so easily, we add an antifreeze solution to the water. This solution should do three things. It should prevent ice from forming in the cooling system during freezing weather. It should raise the boiling point of the coolant in your engine and it should help reduce rusting and corrosion in the cooling system.

There are two main types of antifreeze products. Methyl alcohol is generally composed of 90% or more methyl alcohol, balance of the solution is water, dye and, normally, corrosion inhibitors. If you mix one-half methyl alcohol and one-half water your coolant has a freezing point of 51 degrees below zero but the boiling point of the radiator fluid is lowered from 212 degrees to 173 degrees. It is apparent that a mixture such as this will boil away rapidly in the cooling systems of most modern automobiles.

Ethylene glycol is composed of about 93% ethylene glycol, 4% water, 3% rust and corrosion inhibitors and dye. In addition, some brands have anti-leak material. If your radiator contains one-half ethylene glycol and one-half water, your coolant has a freezing point of 34 degrees below zero but the boiling point is raised to about 265 degrees. Since this boiling point is high enough to prevent ethylene glycol from boiling away at usual engine operating temperatures, such a solution should last for thousands of miles of driving.

How can you tell which is the best quality of antifreeze? The best way is by reading the label on the container. The label will show the number of quarts of antifreeze coolant needed in your car's cooling system to prevent freezing at different temperatures. If a solution of one-half ethylene glycol and one-half water does not provide protection against freezing down to 34 degrees below zero, the product probably is below standard.

If for some reason you need greater protection against freezing, you simply add a larger percentage of ethylene glycol antifreeze. For example, a solution of 70% ethylene glycol and 30% water protects from freezing to 85 degrees below zero and also raises the boiling point of the cooling system to about 275 degrees.

Of course, before putting in a new supply of antifreeze should prepare your car's cooling system by draining and cleaning it thoroughly. Also check all hoses for leaks. To be sure you do this job properly, refer to the car owner's manual. If you use a cleaning solution, be sure to follow the labeled directions exactly and thoroughly flush your cooling system following cleaning. To be sure that you have not lost your protection, you should check your coolant solution from time to time throughout the winter.

A good booklet on antifreeze coolants is available from the Superintendent of Public Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. 20402. It is Consumer Information Series No. 7 and costs only 20 cents. If you have questions in this area, it might be to your advantage to secure a copy of this publication.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

A good seedbed is the most important part of grass planting but is taken very lightly by a number of people each year.

The initial plowing should be started now with a good, deep breaking. There are any number of pieces of equipment to do the breaking with, such as a moldboard, disc plow or a dozer and heavy disc on timbered land.

The ground should be left in condition to soak up rain, to break up any clods and to replace moisture that was lost during the plowing. Following several good rains the ground can be worked with a disc to level out and kill any competition that has come up. The discing will help firm up the ground and get rid of any air pockets before grass planting. With bermudagrass springing time here in January, there is not much time to lose.

New home owners who will be putting in lawns next spring should use the same basic principles as mentioned above for their yard. The equipment may be a little different but the objective, a good firm seedbed at grass planting time, is the same.

Anyone thinking of planting grass that may have some questions can stop by their local Soil Conservation Service office for information. The technicians available can provide this information.

Will Rogers on automobiles: "One way to solve the traffic problem would be to keep all the cars that are not paid for off the streets. Children could use the streets for playgrounds then."

Kin Attend Rites In San Antonio for Sister Christina

Relatives of Sister Christina Flusche, 95, attended her last rites Wednesday, Oct. 25, in San Antonio. She died Monday, Oct. 23, after an extended illness and hospitalization since last November.

Services were held at Our Lady of the Lake Convent chapel and burial followed in the convent cemetery. Sister Christina was a member of the Sisters of Divine Providence for 76 years.

She was born Sept. 11, 1877, in Westphalia, Iowa, daughter of Christina and William Flusche. She moved to Lindsay with the family in 1891 and entered the convent at San Antonio in 1896, the first girl from Lindsay to join the Sisters of Divine Providence. She taught school until she retired at age 84.

She is survived by three brothers Robert Flusche of Terrell, Otto of Gainesville and Alex of Corpus Christi; two sisters, Mrs. H. J. Fuhrman of Muenster and Mrs. Carl Gimple of Gainesville and a number of nieces and nephews in this area.

Those attending the final rites included Mrs. H. J. Fuhrman, joined in San Antonio by her son Jerry Fuhrman of Houston, and Messrs. and Mrs. W. J. Bezner, Julius Hermes, John Voth and William Flusche, all of Lindsay.

Never judge a girl by her appearance — the dumb blond might really be a smart brunette.

Why You Should Re-Elect President Richard Nixon Nov. 7

LET'S LOOK At AGRICULTURE And STOCK RAISING

WE HAVE one of the most abundant supplies of food in history. Our exports of livestock, fresh meats, grain sorghums and grain are going to add many dollars to the general economy.

WE'RE SELLING COMMODITIES of which we've had surpluses—and we're helping provide jobs on trucks and ships at the same time.

HERE ARE SOME OF THE REASONS

PRESIDENT NIXON'S AGRICULTURAL ACT OF 1970 gave producers more flexibility and freedom in operations.

PRESIDENT NIXON'S ADMINISTRATION has turned around the farm situation that saw farmers get an increase in income of 6 per cent between 1951 and 1969 while wage rates went up 6 per cent every year.

PRESIDENT NIXON gave agriculture one of the most effective spokesmen in recent history by appointment of Earl Butz as Secretary of Agriculture.

Fire Ant Control Program Started

A joint federal, state, local program designed to control imported fire ants in Fort Bend County is set to begin this month, Agriculture Commissioner John White said.

About 495,000 acres will be treated with Mirex ant bait which has approval of the Environmental Protection Agency.

Mirex is a slow-acting compound and takes 10 to 14 days to kill the ants. It is not toxic to fish, fowl, animal or humans, White said. The program is expected to last about three weeks.

The black bear has the habit of treading in the same path which becomes, in time, an easily recognizable trail, often leading to its destruction.

THE INFORMED CONSUMER

By Crawford C. Martin
Attorney General of Texas

Each time you take your children riding with you in your automobile, you should be concerned about car seats. Infants and toddlers especially need protection from quick stops or sharp turns.

The National Highway traffic Safety Administration suggests you consider the following guidelines when buying a new car seat or in evaluating one that was previously purchased.

Although many people still use them, seats that hook over the back of the seat of your car are usually not safe. Besides the possibility that this type of seat may not stay attached if you come to a quick stop, normally it does not give the child protection against whiplash injury.

The child's seat should give protection from front and rear crashes, cushioning the child and preventing him from being thrown free. The seat's belts should be at least 1 1/2 inches wide. The child's upper body should be restrained by belts or an impact pad.

Watch out for any seat constructed of easily bent, flimsy, bare metal strapping or padded only with thin sponge rubber. This type of seat often is extremely hazardous! Also avoid any seats made with sharp or pointed hardware that is not protected.

Make sure you use the right type of restraining system for the size and age of your child. Infants up to nine months can be placed in an infant car bed or infant carrier. Children eight or nine months up through four years will be safe in a child car seat or a child harness. Vehicle lap belts and shoulder belts should be worn by children four to five years old who are at least 55 inches in height.

A very informative booklet concerning the purchase of car seats entitled, "What to Buy in Child Restraint Systems," is available for 20 cents. Write to the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C., 20420.

And while you're checking to see if your children are safe, make sure to buckle up your own lap and shoulder belt. You'll set a good example while insuring your own safety.

The more you listen to political speeches, the more you realize why America is called the Land of Promise.

The best way to remember your wife's birthday is to forget it once.

A man who was known for his stinginess inherited a little piece of land on which oil was discovered.

Excited, he called his wife. "Now that we've struck it rich, we'll go out and buy some decent clothes!"

"Nothing doing," replied his wife. "I've worn decent clothes all my life. Now I want to dress like other women."

Confetti - - -

attitude will prove to be justified.
Another senseless Halloween has come and gone in Münster. It's been distinguished mostly by mess and destruction. Those who are responsible have earned the non complimentary distinctions of being thoughtless, malicious and even criminal. Yes, it is a fact that some of the vandalism involved in the so called pranks caused hundreds of dollars worth of damage for someone else to pay. At the very least they caused a messy clutter for someone else to clean up.
 It's not enough to say there ought to be a law or more adequate surveillance to crack down on the guilty persons. The regrettable fact is not that such behavior goes unpunished but rather that we have individuals who are inclined that way. We have to admit the embarrassing presence in our midst of a shameful disregard for civic pride, the golden rule and respect for other people's property.
 Though these values nowadays are identified with squares, it's still a good idea for some people to ponder how they'd like to be on the receiving end of their kind of pranks. How would they like to have a house permanently defaced or a car's paint permanently scarred by a smashed egg? How would they like to pick up tons of litter or pay for street damage caused by burning tires? Is this the kind of behavior they can be proud of? In some cases, is it the kind of behavior that rests well on their conscience? Those who vaguely remember the ten commandments may recall that vandalism is a violation of the law of God.
