SUMACS DEFEAT LEOPARDS FOR COUNTY TROPHY

Manhattan Award Presented After Second Win in Playoff

The Sumacs are the basketball champions of Cooke County.

In their second game with the Leopard quintet of Gainesville Tony Burger's charges came through in a blaze of glory Thursday night to prove conclusively that they are entitled to the coveted Manhattan Trophy. Both teams looked 100 per cent better in their clean, hard fought contest ending 17 to 7 than they did in the 22 to 12 rough house two nights before.

Following a brief conference with Class C officials immediately after the game the championship trophy was presented to the Sumacs. It is thought that because of the very slim chance either of the Class C contenders had of defeating Muenster and also because of the nearness of the district tournament at Fort Worth, Muenster was simply awarded the title rather than required to go through the unnecessary formality of winning it.

Bud Hoehn gladdened the hearts of Muenster fans as he continued to show the improvement that has already marked him as the ace of next year's quintet. As usual he covered the entire court and figured prominently in all plays, and then capped scoring honors with three beautiful long-range shots. Pat Stelzer likewise made his bid for a share in the glory by playing a splendid floor game in addition to holding Gainesville's power man, Goddin, to a lonely field goal. Pat's five points are made up of one double marker and three charity points. Albert Hoehn and Dan Renfro each scored a field

MISSIONARY SOCIETY OF MYRA CHURCH HAS PROLONGED SESSION

The Women's Missionary Society of the Myra Baptist Church met Monday morning for an all-day session in study of missions. There were 24 women present and the pastor, Rev. C. M. Thomas, who brought the morning devotional. He used as his subject, "Follow Me."

Mrs. C. R. McClelland, wife of the county missionary, Rev. C. R. McClelland, was guest speaker and taught a book on missionary work in Palestine.

For the afternoon session Mrs. S. R. Crow brought the devotional, using the fifth chapter of Matthew.

Mrs. C. J. Tuggle had charge of the program for the afternoon. Missions in the Home Land were studied. Mrs. J. Higgins discussed "Missions Among the Indians"; Mrs. Fred Snuggs, "The Italians in Our Country"; Mrs. Clinton Tuggle, "Missions Among the Mexicans"; Mrs. Earl McGee, "Our Mission Work with the French"; Mrs. Albert Address, "Missions in Sections Where There Are Mixed Nationalities."

"Facing the Facts, and Making the Most of Our Opportunities in the Home Land," was presented by Mrs. John Blanton. The group sang "Rescue the Perishing," and special prayer for our missionaries was led by Mrs. C. J. Tuggle.

A covered dish luncheon was served at the noon hour.

Fire Discovered in Time to Save Home

Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Chandler almost lost their home Monday morning when the fire that broke out because of a defective gas connection burned a large hole in the wall and floor before it was discovered.

At the time Mrs. Chandler was visiting with Mrs. Ed Wolf, her neighbor, and it is thought that had she returned home five minutes later the fire would have been beyond control. Fortunately Ed Wolf, who was called to the rescue, extinguished the flames with a few well directed pails of water.

Considering the high wind Monday, it is thought that the fire, had it gone farther, might have caused considerably more damage here.

Mrs. Carra Pagel and her children drove to Saint Jo for a short visit with relatives last Sunday.

Drainage of Ball Park Up Before City

Most prominent among the problems under discussion at the City Council meeting Monday night was that of providing for adequate drainage of the water from the baseball lot and cotton yard.

Under present conditions the drainage water from these two lots cuts through Ralph Esker's and Al Walterscheid's gardens and causes them considerable grief.

To remedy the situation the City of Muenster plans to build a larger culvert to replace the broken down one just north of Ralph Esker's property, and dig a short drainage ditch to lead the water to a natural drain only a short distance away.

According to Mayor M. J. Endres work on the improvement will begin immediately so that it will be completed prior to the heavy spring rains.

LONG STAPLE COTTON TO BE INTRODUCED TO COUNTY GROWERS

Two carloads of seed cotton have already been received and two more are booked, Joe Felderhoff, manager of the Muenster Milling Co., stated Tuesday in explaining the proposed program to introduce Texas' Special long-staple cotton in Cooke County.

Mr. Felderhoff is working in cooperation with the Gainesville Cotton Oil Mill in offering the long staple variety to Muenster cotton growers at cost. Through this offer, Mr. Felderhoff and leading cotton men of the county feel that planters will be induced to change from the short staple to the long staple variety.

Estimates on the annual losses Cooke County farmers and cotton dealers are taking on short staple cotton run as high as $100,000. Generally the difference in price is about a cent a pound between the two varieties. That difference is first felt by farmers.

Next cotton buyers are penalized by brokers for the short staple and even though a lot happens to have long staple cotton no premium is given for it. The natural consequence is that cotton prices are lower in areas where short staple cotton is known to be grown.

That handicap in cotton prices Mr. Felderhoff and the Gainesville Cotton Oil Mill hope to remove by getting Cooke County recognized as a long staple area. Their method of procedure is to offer at $1.70 a sack seed cotton that, when ordered

Knights to Construct Four-Foot Sidewalk Around K. of C. Hall

Final approval was made Tuesday night by the K. of C. improvement project committee for the construction of a four-foot sidewalk to completely surround the building, H. P. Hennigan advised Wednesday.

Graavel hauling is now in progress and the sidewalk will be completed at the earliest possible date.

Almost 1200 square feet of sidewalk space will be provided by the new walk, which, according to plans is to be built five feet from the building and surrounding the 40x80 foot building. The five feet of space is being left to provide shrubbery beds in a contemplated beautification plan.

Construction of the curb, which has been considered for some time, was definitely postponed to some future date.

No contract has yet been made for the sidewalk job, but it is generally thought that C. M. Walterscheid will be called upon to build it.

Windthorst Boy Brings Valley Products Here

Bill Martini, a relatives of Miss Margaret Simmons and of F. J. Schenk, has recently added Muenster, Myra, and Lindsay to his list of distributing points for citrus fruits, cabbage, and potatoes from the Rio Grande Valley.

Being a resident of Windthorst before he moved to the Valley, Mr. Martini has been hauling products to Scotland, Rhineland, and Windthorst for some time. He made his most recent trip to Muenster Wednesday bringing potatoes, cabbage, and onion plants.

RECORD CROWD HEARS TALK BY STATE DEPUTY

Upholds Virtue as Most Effective Attack on New Menace

Before a crowd of more than 200 persons, the largest assembly that Muenster has drawn for an address in many a day, C. K. Walsh of Wichita Falls, State Deputy of the Knights of Columbus, exhorted his hearers to live their religion in order to successfully withstand the attacks of Communism.

Christianity should be carried in the heart rather than in the fist, he said in urging his audience to combat the new menace by virtue rather than strong arm methods. Especially did he dwell upon prayer as the surest method of winning the Divine favor needed to save Christianity in these days of strife.

Citing an example of the power of prayer he called attention to a beautiful church that lay in the path of the blaze in Chicago's historic fire. "People gathered at that church and prayed," he said, "that the beautiful structure would be saved. And the church was saved, buildings on all sides were destroyed but the church miraculously remained unharmed."

The speaker dwelt at some length on Communism and its principle of spreading. He condemned it as a force that survives and grows on destruction, blood, and murder. Following that remark he pointed out how priceless works of art and beautiful cathedrals, the heritage of centuries, were deliberately destroyed by the Reds of Russia, Mexico and Spain, also how those same groups, after they had strong-armed their way into office released thousands of bloodthirsty prisoners, armed them and then instructed them to murder priests and nuns.

At the same time he gave warning that the same gruesome drama could easily be repeated in this country. A very small minority, if put into power, could easily turn loose droves of murderous maniacs from our prisons, which even now are becoming known as schools of Communism.

In outlining to non-members some of the activities of the Knights of Columbus, Mr. Walsh called special attention to World War work, historical work, and the organization's present activity in combating the menace of Communism as well as defending Christianity when harmful legislation is being considered by our law-making bodies.

Other speakers called upon after Mr. Walsh completed his speech were District Deputy Dr. Joe Hesse of Wichita Falls, who commended the Catholic Daughters of America for their splendid co-operation with Knights of Columbus; Ed Hellman, Grand Knight of the Wichita Falls council; Joe Walter, Grand Knight of the Gainesville council; and Father Frown, chaplain of the Muenster council.

Fort Worth Red Cross Praises Muenster for Work in Flood Relief

Feeling that the citizens of Muenster as well as the Boy Scouts are entitled to credit for the splendid showing during the recent drive for clothing and funds, Scoutmaster Nick Miller submits the following letter received last Saturday from Red Cross headquarters at Fort Worth:

"Mr. Nick Miller, Scoutmaster Muenster, Texas. My dear Mr. Miller:

The check and clothing you and your scouts forwarded to Radio Station WBAP for the sufferers in the Ohio floods were received without delay and I assure you your fine co-operation was greatly appreciated by this chapter as well as by National Red Cross.

The Boy Scouts of Muenster under your fine leadership have certainly made a fine showing.

Sincerely yours, MARGARET McLEAN, Executive Sec'y."

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Zipperer, former citizens of Muenster, and now living in Dallas, are the parents of a new 10-pound baby boy, according to information recently received by Mrs. Clarence Wilson.

Death of Mike Kleiss Ends 8-Month Illness

J. K. IDENTIFIED AS JOHN KOLL, POSTMASTER

Last week The Enterprise printed an article submitted by Father Joseph Fuhrmann of Corpus Christi College. It was a letter written in German and appearing in an 1898 issue of The Rundschau inviting people of North Texas to attend the dedication of Muenster's new Sacred Heart Church.

The letter, signed by the initials J. K., caused some guesses as to the identity of its author. Along with the guesses came a more definite statement from Mrs. F. J. Schenk to the effect that J. K. is John Koll, a relative of hers and postmaster of Muenster at about that time.

Are there any dissenting opinions as to the identity of J. K.?

STATE LEGISLATURE READY TO VOTE ON CHILD LABOR BILL

Constitutional amendment committees of the Senate and House of Representatives at Austin both voted in favor of resolutions by their respective legislative bodies for Texas' ratification of the child labor amendment Monday.

Senator Holbrook of Galveston, stressing that Texas has no child labor problems led in argument against the proposed amendment. J. P. Pfeiffer of San Antonio, representing the Texas League of Catholic societies, also made a plea for opposing ratification.

Favoring ratification Mrs. George Francisco of Houston stated that she represented 10,000 Parent-Teacher members and J. P. Harper, an Austin attorney, held an open discussion on the meaning of "labor" and how courts might read its meaning in the amendment.

As a result of the two committees' action, the question of ratification will be left to the two legislative bodies.

Dr. Stocks, representative of this district, stated that he has received a great number of communications requesting his voting against ratifications, and has now taken a stand as opposing it.

Young Ladies Elect Officers at Sunday Afternoon Meeting

Fifty-four members of the Muenster Young Ladies' Sodality gathered Sunday afternoon, February 14, at the Sacred Heart school auditorium for their regular monthly meeting and election of officers for the coming year.

Replacing Agnes Walterscheid as president, Alvina Fette was chosen to head the group for the ensuing year. Irene Sicking will replace Della Fette as vice president and Marie Hoenig will serve another year as secretary-treasurer of the society.

The business part of the meeting was made up of a report on the receipts and expenditures for the year 1936.

F.M.A. Directors Vote To Beautify Grounds Around Cheese Plant

A resolution to beautify the premises of the Farmers Marketing Association was the principal achievement of the F. M. A. directors in their regular meeting Tuesday night, February 16.

The plan as outlined calls for leveling the ground, especially behind the cheese factory, and planting appropriate shrubs wherever they will improve the general appearance.

It was pointed out that the beautification project, besides giving owners and employes a greater pride in their company, will be one of the most important factors in giving tourists a favorable impression of Muenster. The cheese factory and its premises, because of its prominence on the new highway, is probably the most conspicuous location of Muenster in the eyes of passing motorists.

Prominent Citizen Dies February 13 of Throat Infection That Demanded Numerous Treatments and Confined Him to Bed Since June 1; Buried Here Tuesday.

Surrounded by his family, Mike Kleiss, 59, died at his home Saturday, February 13, as a result of the throat and chest infection that has kept him confined to his bed since June 1 of last year.

A Requiem High Mass for the repose of his soul was read by the Rev. Father Frown Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock and immediately afterward he was interred in the Sacred Heart Cemetery with Father Frown officiating and Nick Miller, assisted by George Carroll of Gainesville, in charge of funeral arrangements.

pallbearers, selected from members of the St. Joseph's Society, of which he was a member, were as follows: Felix Becker, Victor Hartman, Andrew Hoffbauer, Frank Bayer, Joe Mage, and Joe Hoenig.

With his sudden sinking spell almost a week before his passing, his family and friends feared that the end was near. Mr. Kleiss, already weak from the extended sickness, lost his strength rapidly when he began bleeding at the open infection on his chest and at the same time was unable to partake of nourishment. The Last Sacraments of the church were administered Thursday morning by the Rev. Father Francis. Sister Aloysia of Blytheville, Ark., was notified of her father's condition early last week. Driving over to Memphis, Tenn., and taking a train from there she arrived in time to be with him at the end.

The first trace of the ailment to which Mr. Kleiss succumbed was discovered about two years ago when he spent several days with a sore throat during which time he was unusually hoarse. After his recovery he suffered no pain but he found he could speak only in a normal tone

Personal Appearance Discussed by 4-H Girls At Lindsay Gathering

Lindsay, Feb. 17.—"Check yourself and see if you drink six glasses of water daily," Miss Nette Schultz, county home demonstration agent, advised members of the 4-H Club in a meeting with the girls on Wednesday morning, February 10, at 10 o'clock in the Lindsay school.

Miss Schultz in her program on "What Are You Doing for Good Looks," reminded the girls that in addition to the six glasses of water a day we need to consume four cups of milk because, she states, this important food contains minerals and vitamins which besides keeping down pimples and building up impoverished blood, acts as a tonic to our entire body with the result that we feel better, look better and are able to wear our clothes in a more becoming manner.

As a closing remark Miss Schultz stressed the importance of having the right kind of light while we work, saying that a light from the back or one which does not cast the shadow from the hand on the work, should be chosen.

As the conclusion of the meeting the girls escorted Miss Schultz to their newly constructed hotbed, raised the sash and viewed the tiny but rapidly growing cabbage plants. Miss Schultz was greatly impressed with the work done by the girls and complimented them on being the first club in the county to have the hotbed built and the seeds planted. Twenty-one members, the agent, the two sponsors and one visitor were present at the meeting.

The next meeting of the club will be held on Wednesday, February 24, with the sponsors in charge of the program.

Sheephead Group Play in John Walter Home

The cigars were on John Walter Sunday night as he paid off with smokes for his low score at the weekly sheephead session held in his home.

The usual crowd consisting of John Felderhoff, John Bayer, Joe Walterscheid, Joe Mage, Pete Rollman, Henry Henschel, Jr., and the host had a huge evening over their cards and Dutch lunch.

Joe Mage seemed to have a monopoly on the luck.

Sumacs Enter District Meet At Fort Worth

Leave Thursday to Face Hardest Competition of Season

Following their triumph in county basketball circles Coach Burger's champion Sumacs are facing tough competition this week end in a tournament at the T. C. U. field house in Fort Worth to determine the champion quintet of District 10.

The tournament, sponsored by the Interscholastic League, will be an elimination affair with titlists of the city of Fort Worth and Cooke, Denton, Tarrant, Hood, Wise, Parker, and Johnson counties competing for the coveted honor to carry on in the State cage race.

According to a report in Wednesday's Fort Worth Star-Telegram the teams competing in the tourney are Muenster, Poly High of Fort Worth, Burleson, Tolar, and Azle. Winners of Denton, Wise, and Parker counties were decided in games Tuesday night but results of the games are not available at this writing.

The Star-Telegram also reports that "preliminary games of the eight teams will be played Thursday afternoon and night with semifinals and finals on Friday afternoon and night." Pairings and the time of each game were decided at a meeting of representatives of the teams at Fort Worth Wednesday at 4 p.m.

The Sumacs and several fans left Thursday morning in time to permit a reasonable period of rest before going into the encounter.

Because of the fact that Mr. Burger and his charges would have to pay their own expenses on the trip Dr. T. S. Myrick and John Fisher organized a drive to raise money for defraying the team's expenses. As a result of splendid co-operation by Muenster people a purse of $25.50 was raised and presented to Coach Burger Wednesday night.

Along with his sincerest thanks for the generosity of Muenster people, Mr. Burger stated that his boys had the determination necessary to cop the coveted honor and unless competition is mighty tough they

MRS. WEINZAPFEL IS NEW PRESIDENT OF ST. ANNE'S SOCIETY

Mrs. J. M. Weinzapfel was chosen president of the Muenster St. Anne's Society Sunday, February 14, at the annual election of officers in the Sacred Heart parish hall. She replaces Mrs. Pete Bindel who led the organization for several years. The office of vice president fell to Mrs. John Kathman. Mrs. Joseph Streng was re-elected to the office of secretary-treasurer by acclamation.

Following the election of officers Father Frown, spiritual adviser of the society, spent several minutes in praising the members on their splendid work in parish programs of the past. To them he gave a large share of the credit for the success of activities that figured prominently in paying the school's debt. Next he asked for their continued co-operation in providing means for financing the new church now under consideration.

Father Frown briefly discussed the child labor amendment now awaiting ratification by the State Legislature at Austin. In his remarks he pointed out that the measure, as it is now worded, might result in the parents' loss of authority over their children, and might also result in the destruction of the parochial school system.

Mrs. Corrine Ludwick from Canada is visiting for two weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Chandler while her husband, an electrical engineer, is taking a special course of study under a German scientist at Houston.

WHERE THE TROUBLE LIES

LEST IT BE MISUNDERSTOOD that the Enterprise is defending the evils of Capitalism, we wish to state a definite view point on the present day agitation over Communism.

It is our conviction that there is nothing wrong with the capitalist system. However, faults are to be found frequently in men who work under its standard. For that reason we consider it illogical to say that capitalism has failed when the cause of trouble can be traced to the injustice of individuals.

Capitalism has not failed any more than has a nation that produced a traitor or a church that produced a sinner.

Would we destroy the nation or the church because of their traitors and sinners? We feel that the best thing is to reform them. Should capitalism be destroyed because of the dishonesty of a few? Again the answer is to try reforming them.

And if Communism should destroy capitalism it would substitute the conditions that are found in Russia. People would work together and the fruits of their labor would be gathered to make the nation more powerful.

But what do men cherish as their most sacred rights? Arent's they life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness? In Russia there is no liberty, everyone receives dictation from the government. If anyone attempts to assert his right to liberty he forfeits his right to life. There is no chance to strive for happiness because one is dependent solely on the command of those in authority.

Communism does not offer a cure for economic evils, it offers only a method of destruction for the entire system with all its good points.

That is why we contend that the solution for our troubles is to be found in Christianity. To create ideal conditions we must return to Christ's standard of respect for God and neighbor.

SPEED

THE IMPROVEMENTS and safety features added to automobiles in recent years would have sounded fantastic 20 years ago. What at that time would have believed that a car could tumble over several times and the occupants remain unhurt? Who would have believed that stability and brakes could be improved to their present standards?

But along with all the safety features another feature has been developing to offset the actual safety. Speed, one of the outstanding causes of auto casualties has increased constantly. At the present time cars are made to cruise at 65 miles per hour or more. And they can take it. For mile after mile they hold the breakneck pace without any apparent strain on machine or driver.

However, when danger looms ahead the story is different. The speeding machine is carried on to disaster by its own terrific momentum.

Barney Oldfield, one of the best known speed drivers in the United States, has a formula for drivers. "When you are going 50," he says, "think of 55, and when you are going 30 think of 33, because 55 or 33 feet is the distance a normal driver will go at those speeds before getting to the car's controls after danger is seen. Then to bring the car to a stop multiply the 55 or 33 by 3 to estimate the total distance to stop the car at those speeds."

Of course if the road is slick or the brakes in poor condition Mr. Oldfield's reaction distance would not be long enough.

Using that formula, let's figure out the stopping distance for a car going 70 miles per hour. First think of 77, the normal time needed to get at the controls, then multiply by 3. With the car, road, and driver in good condition it would take 231 feet to stop the car. Would it be enough?

In spite of all the ballyhoo one hears about safety features there is one important thing to remember. The laws of nature require a specified distance for a car to stop at a specified speed, and if the distance between care and trouble is not that great, there's going to be a crash.

If there is a crash safety features may save a life, but it is significant that thousands of people are being killed every year in the latest model "safe cars."

The greatest safety feature in any car is a safe driver behind the wheel.

Business people in Muenster are showing considerable spirit over the report that 15 or 20 families are expected to move in while paving work on Highway 5 is carried on and that more families are expected to move here as a result of increased oil activities.

H. S. Wilde suggests that farmers of this locality be on the lookout for an item of special interest to be announced in this paper soon. It concerns an implement show to be sponsored here early in March by the Allis Chalmers Co. Mr. Wilde expects a definite date to be set by next week.

Party From Lindsay And Gainesville Go To Norman for Visit

Lindsay, Feb. 17.—Fred Bierschenk and Fred Mosman of this city, accompanied by Joe Gieb, Nick Mosman and Lawrence Gieb of Gainesville left early last Sunday morning for Norman, Okla., where they spent the day visiting and renewing old acquaintances. While in Norman the party dropped in at the State hospital for a brief visit with their old friend, Jim Satos.

Jim is an old timer who spent a good part of his time in this community years ago. Their meeting was the first one in some 12 or 13 years. He will be remembered by many as the little man who helped to build the sidewalks in Lindsay.

Later in the day the party made "pop calls" at the homes of August and Toney Loeffelholz, close friends of Mr. Bierschenk, also of Norman. The visiting group returned home late Sunday evening.

of conversation. Whenever he attempted to raise his voice his vocal cords failed to function.

Mr. Kleiss spent a week at the Gainesville Sanitarium with his first severe attack of the throat infection. Following that he went to Chicago where he underwent an operation on July 6, his 59th birthday. After six weeks in Chicago he spent two months at home and then seven weeks in Dallas taking X-ray treatments. Since his return from Dallas on Thanksgiving Day he remained at home until his death.

Several months ago Mr. Kleiss lost his voice entirely. From that time he communicated entirely by writing notes until excessive weakness shortly before his death made it impossible for him to write.

The pain caused by the infection that spread from his throat to his chest was agonizing. Almost constantly since returning from Dallas the patient was kept under the influence of sedatives.

Mr. Kleiss was born at Pesotum, Champaign County, Illinois, on July 6, 1877. In 1901 he moved to Muenster to join his family who had established their home here a few years before. He was married to Miss Angella Rohmer on January 7, 1902, and lived at Pesotum for one year.

When Mr. and Mrs. Kleiss returned in 1903 they made their home on the farm now occupied by Joe Mages until Mr. Kleiss purchased the farm now occupied by his sons, Joe and John, six years later.

In 1925 he bought the home he has since lived in from John Fette. During the greater part of the time since 1925 he has been retired spending some years in his oil interests after a productive field was developed on his land and the rest of his time in helping his children along with their work.

He is typical as a man who started from the bottom and built a modest fortune by hard work and steady plugging. At the time of his marriage Mike was just another one of the fellows, at the time of his death he was one of the most substantial men of the Muenster community.

He was a member of the local St. Joseph's Society and of the Third Order of St. Francis. For years he was considered as a vital part of Corpus Christi processions and other church functions, serving as one of the canopy bearers for the Sacred Species. Likewise he stands out in his loyal support of his parish church and school.

Mr. Kleiss is also a charter member of the Muenster Farmers Marketing Association, which, through the support of others like himself, has grown into one of the most prosperous farmer co-operative organizations in the State.

Surviving Mr. Kleiss are his wife; his three sons, Joe, John, and Alois; three daughters, Sister Aloisia of appeal to all who are considering a cotton crop for this year.

Speaking of the recently tried scheme to improve the sample of cotton by planting alternate rows of the long staple, Mr. Felderhoff says that it causes nothing but grief. Spinning mills, it seems, cannot be set to handle both varieties at the same time, and when spinners discover any such cotton, it is traced to its source and the cotton reputation for the entire area is jeopardized.

Objections to long staple cotton in the past have been principally aimed at its later maturity with correspondingly greater losses from boll weevils. The Texas Special strain, Mr. Felderhoff states, has been developed to mature as early as the short staple varieties.

Mr. Fisch Rushes From Hospital to Be Home On 55th Anniversary

Though due to leave the Medical Arts Hospital of Dallas on Tuesday, J. P. Fisch prevailed upon doctors there to permit his return for his 55th wedding anniversary at home last Saturday. He was brought home by his son, Bert.

Upon arriving he was distressed to find his aged wife confined to bed with a severe attack of influenza, which, because of her age and the possibility of more-serious complications is the object of grave concern on the part of her family and friends. Mrs. Fisch is in the home of her daughter, Mrs. M. J. Endres.

Since returning Mr. Fisch is getting around surprisingly well for an 83-year-old man who has recently spent several weeks in the hospital. He wanders around the house and sometimes ventures the two block trip to town and enjoys lengthy chats with his visitors.

Bert Fisch and his son, Jerry, returned to their home at Fort Worth Saturday night after spending a few hours with Bert's parents.

Contestants Chosen To Represent Myra In Literary Events

At the school auditorium Tuesday night the declamation elimination tryout was held to determine which one of five girls entering junior declamation would represent the school at the county meet.

The judges, Mrs. Leroy Porter, Mrs. John Blanton and J. T. Biffle, selected Louise Pearson. The speakers were coached by M. C. Hays. Other declaimers are to be chosen later.

Miss Lillian Speake has charge of story telling. Bettie Joe Porter and Glenn Melton will represent the school.

Miss Lillie Perryman is directing the one-act play, "Who Gets the Car," which was presented for the first time Tuesday night. The cast consists of Darrell Melton, Oleta Rosson, Horace Lee Townsley, Guy Rosson and Laura Huchton.

The rhythm band, directed by Miss Claudene Brogan, gave several numbers. It is composed of pupils from first, second and third grades and does very fine work.

The teams to represent the school in junior, intermediate, and senior spelling are Dorothy Huddleston and Ruth Sluter, Jack Gallaheer and Jack Hays, Mary Billie Trew and Dorothy Rowe.

There are some contestants to be chosen later.

Muenster had a slight edge over Gainesville from every angle of the game. It had possession of the ball more than its half of the time, it led in field goals 6 to 2 and in foul goals 5 to 3.

After Gainesville had taken the lead with a beautiful trick shot by Gosdin Bud Hoehn placed his teammates in the lead with two long ones. From that time on the Sumacs continued to increase their lead to 7-3 at the half and 17-7 at the final whistle.

JOE FISHER TELLS OF AIR CONDITION COURSE AT DALLAS

The course in air conditioning engineering at the Santa Fe building in Dallas and sponsored by the Kelvinator Company was highly interesting even though slightly technical was the opinion expressed by Joe Fisher, Jr., after returning Friday night. Joe attended one week of the two weeks course.

Subject matter under discussion while he was at the school was that of heat loads. Under various sets of circumstances regarding temperature, humidity and air space the class estimated sizes of plants and the necessary loads on them to cool a building properly.

Surprisingly large is the number of factors that must be considered in creating ideal temperature conditions. Outside and inside temperature of the building, the walls, the material they are made of, and how much of their surface is exposed to the sun, also the area of window space and how much of the glass is exposed to the sun, humidity inside and outside the building, even the size and number of light globes are only a few of the items that enter into the engineer's calculations.

Charts and formulas for making the calculations are found in a manual, and it was in learning the use of the manual that the class spent the greater part of its time.

One point of special interest to Mr. Fisher is the vast effect that materials have on the temperature of a building. A light colored building is cooler than a dark colored one and one with a smooth wall is cooler than one with a rough wall. The reasons given are that the sun's rays reflect from a light colored object but are absorbed by a dark one and the smooth wall has less surface to gather heat than a rough one.

As an experiment the lecturer suggests that anyone wishing to know of the difference should expose a new and a rusty tin can to the summer heat and then feel of both. He also cited the experience of Professor Picard who on his stratosphere flights once used a black gondola and then one painted with aluminum. In the higher regions the black one absorbed enough of the sun's heat to make it uncomfortably warm but in the light colored one the temperature fell to 40 degrees below zero.

An idea mentioned, though it was not a part of the course, is the recently developed system of cooling with steam. As queer as it seems the method has been proven successful but will not be placed on the market until some time later when, as the speaker said, the public is ready for it.

Kraft at Denison to Make Poultry Feed From Muenster Whey

Whey, a by-product of cheese making, has long been a problem to the Farmers' Marketing Association, but may soon become the source of additional revenue since arrangements were made with the Kraft

Phenix Cheese Corporation of Denison to ship all the surplus whey to that company for evaporation into a poultry feed known as "Craco."

For the time being F. M. A.'s agreement with Kraft merely provides for the disposal of surplus whey which heretofore was run into a specially constructed pit about a quarter of a mile from the plant. Residents of Muenster are likely to be thankful for a provision that relieves them of the well-ripened odor that so frequently drifted over town with the summer breezes.

The first tank car to be filled with the whey arrived at Muenster on February 17.

Craco, the product to be made by evaporating moisture from the whey, is hailed as an unusually good feed for poultry. It is said that the lactic acid content is effective in preventing several poultry diseases.

At the present time some of the whey here is being used in feeding hogs and poultry. That practice will be continued but the surplus will no longer be wasted.

Boy Scouts Plan Hike On Elm Creek Sunday

One of the Scouts' hiking expeditions is in the offing for next Sunday unless unfavorable weather conditions cause a change in plans. Scoutmaster Nick Miller advised Wednesday.

The jaunt will take the youngsters up Elm Creek two or three miles to some location suitable for a regular pow-wow and working on several of the tests that must be satisfactorily completed by each Scout in order to raise his rank.

Outstanding in the day's program, Mr. Miller said, are cooking, fire building, lessons in the correct use of a hatchet, and trail blazing, which consists in following a marked trail a specified distance within a limited time.
