

FLOWER SHOW WILL BE HELD THURSDAY P.M.

First Event of its Kind In Muenster, to Include Quilt and Food Displays

All members of the Ladies' Civic League, and especially members of the flower show committee, have been working zealously during the week to make their first flower show a success.

On Monday evening the committee members, Mesdames T. S. Myrick, T. P. Frost, B. H. Hellman, Jackie Pagel, Joe Wilde, Joe Luke, Clarence Wilson and M. J. Endres, met in the Myrick home to make final plans for the event.

The show will be held in the K. of C. hall from 1 o'clock to 9 o'clock next Thursday, the 19th. The committee especially stressed the fact that all entries be made the day before, Wednesday afternoon, except articles that might be perishable, which must be in the hall by 8 o'clock on Thursday morning. The judging will take place at 10 o'clock.

Along with the display of flowers will be a quilt show and a food display. Those placed in charge of the different events are Mesdames J. M. Weinzapfel, Clarence Wilson and B. H. Hellman, respectively, with Mrs. T. S. Myrick as general chairman.

One feature of the show is to determine a favorite flower for Muenster. Each visitor will be asked to register his or her preference in a vote and after the result is known all people will be encouraged to favor that flower in their future gardening. It is hoped that the flower will become one of the outstanding identifications of Muenster. In the meeting Monday evening the committee made a list of the following that will be used in the vote: Iris, redbud, jasmine, petunia and crepe myrtle.

Exhibits in the flower show will feature cut flowers, pot plants and wild flowers. The quilt show will include applied or pieced quilts; knitted, crocheted, tufted and embroidered bedspreads, afghans and hand made rugs.

Mrs. Clarence Wilson who is the chairman of the quilt show stated that all who wish to make an entry in this exhibit and who are unable to bring in their articles on the day before bring them to her home at any time during the week and she will see to it personally that the entry is made.

Canned and fresh vegetables, cakes, cookies, pies, bread and candy will be in the food display.

Arrangements have been made with Sister M. Leonarda and her music pupils to present a musical program in the afternoon at 3 o'clock and another at 8 o'clock.

A small admission charge of 5 and 10 cents will be made to help defray expenses.

All citizens of Muenster and surrounding community are urged to enter some article in the show and help make it a success. Anyone desiring further information is asked to contact the particular chairman of the group in which the entry is to be made, or to get in touch with Mrs. T. S. Myrick, the general chairman.

SACRED HEART MUSIC PUPILS PRESENTED IN RECITAL SUNDAY NIGHT

Pupils of the Sacred Heart School of music were presented in recital Sunday evening in the parish hall by their teacher, Sister M. Leonarda.

An appreciative audience of almost 200 was made up principally of parents, relatives and close friends of the participants. The stage was banked with baskets of spring blossoms and pot plants, and numerous floor lamps cast soft lights making a very pretty setting for the program.

The pupils ranged from tiny tots to advanced pupils, all giving their selections in a creditable manner.

Piano pupils who gave selections included Rose Marie Becker, Georgie Ann Kathman, Dolores Lehnertz, Jeannette Meurer, Mary Anna Flusche, Paul Luke, Joe and Juanita Weinzapfel, Monte Hellman, Gladys Wilde, Helen Ruth Otto, Florentine Endres, Gerald Bayer, A. J. Felderhoff, Edmond Fleitman, Alma Marie Luke and Anthony and Dorothy Mae Luke.

Accordian numbers were played by David Lehnertz, Edmond Fleitman, Gerald Bayer, A. J. Felderhoff and Katie Mae Walterscheid.

Betty Lue Buckley and Leo Becker played violins, and Monte Hellman gave a clarinet solo. The school orchestra and rhythm band also appeared in several numbers.

MRS. ODE McFARLAND LAID TO REST AT HAYS TUESDAY AFTERNOON

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Ode McFarland, 69, who passed away Monday morning at her home in the Hays community, were held Tuesday afternoon in the Hays Methodist church with Rev. T. E. Hardy and Rev. W. E. Hand officiating. Burial was in Hays cemetery, in charge of George J. Carrol and Son Funeral Home.

Mrs. McFarland was born August 23, 1869, and had lived in Cooke county since 1898. She was the mother of eight children and was well known in the western part of the county.

Survivors include four sons, J. L. Borger; C. W. Lubbock; Reed, Midland; and Noel, Muenster; four daughters, Mrs. Joe Smith of Dalhart; Mrs. E. J. Biffle, Myra; Mrs. J. G. Cook, Muenster; Mrs. George Thompson, Lubbock; four brothers, two sisters, 13 grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

MILTON WADE NAMES PLATFORM IN RACE FOR COUNTY SHERIFF

Stressing especially his belief in the necessity of crime prevention, Milton Wade, well known throughout the county as manager of the Plaza theatre, requests this paper to disclose his platform as candidate for the office of Cooke County sheriff.

Crime prevention is his first interest. Mr. Wade believes it is more important to save men and women for useful citizenship than to wait until they have committed crimes and then bring them to justice. He believes in saving the self respect of individuals and the enormous cost to taxpayers of capturing, prosecuting and supporting law breakers. Through his boy guidance experience as scoutmaster of Cooke County's largest scout troop, Mr. Wade knows that peace officers can have a good influence on youth. If he is elected, he proposes to use his influence in discouraging youthful lawlessness.

As a law enforcement officer, Mr. Wade pledges himself to shirk no responsibilities. Believing that the protection of life and property is his first duty in this respect, he will concentrate attention on the epidemic of "modern rustling", house-breaking, shoplifting and the other forms of thievery that are costing thousands of dollars annually to citizens of this county.

As regards the beer situation, Mr. Wade feels convinced that a vast majority use it temperately and are in their own consciences law abiding citizens, also that many places selling it do so with a sincere conviction of conducting a legitimate business. Until such persons molest or transgress upon the rights of others, and until such places become a source of disturbance or evil influence, he would not include them on his list of lawbreakers. While he would not spend time snooping for beer, he would lose no time in prosecuting those who openly flaunt it and conduct disreputable beer parlors.

Mr. Wade is in the prime of young manhood, physically fit for the arduous duties of the office he seeks. Having the background of a splendid education and several years business experience, he is equipped to make mature judgments on the many important problems that confront a sheriff.

He has been a resident of Gainesville for 13 years, during which time he was engaged in the moving picture business. His interest in the welfare of youth became especially evident during recent years when he accepted the appointment of scoutmaster and developed an active, creditable troop. Boys' Day, which has become a county wide educational event, was originated by Mr. Wade.

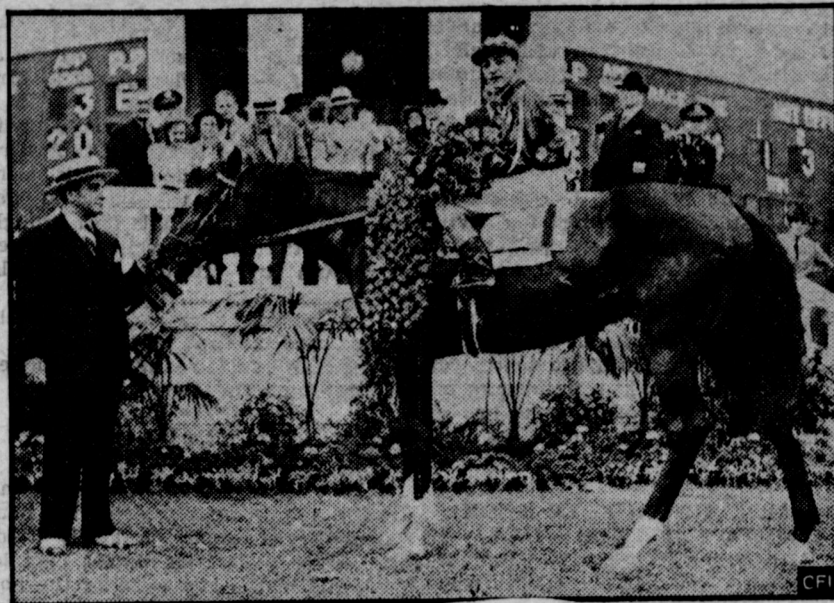

In the very near future he intends to begin his active campaign in this community. At that time he will attempt to make himself known to every voter, assuring in advance that he will never, knowingly, violate the trust imposed on him should he be elected. He invites all to consider his qualifications and to support him at the polls.

The business session of the meeting will consist chiefly in making final arrangements for the Flower Show to be held on the 19th.

Muenster Wins Two, Loses Two In Ball Games of Past Week

Muenster's softball prestige received a severe blow last Monday night when the Leo boys came over and earned a clean-cut shutout victory of 15 to 0, over Poss Swirczynski's club.

In spite of the loss the game was a treat to local fans. The visiting pitcher, Teague, gave the finest exhibition of underhand ball hurling that has ever been witnessed on the local diamond. He held batters down to four scattered hits, and permitted only two runners to get as far as third base. Usually he retired opponents with strikeouts, at other times snappy infield playing came to his rescue.

This same performer, conspicuous for his bright red satin ball pants as well as his ability, was no less active at the plate. He shared home run honors with Chism and F. Fletcher and sent out long range blows at every trip to the plate.

After the game was over Muenster had a slight taste of hitting when other pitchers came in for a two inning extra session.

Another loss by Muenster boys was sustained Sunday afternoon when the Colored Boys of Gainesville won over a crowd composed mostly of schoolboys. It was a hard ball game in which the big, seasoned High Browns held an advantage in every department and ended at the long end of a 9 to 3 count.

In two other games Muenster took undisputed honors. Skipper Paul Walterscheid and his crew won easily, 21 to 11, over the Marathon Runners, a team of Bruno Zimmerer's pals from Gainesville and Lindsay. In hits the teams were better matched, the Muenster Seniors gathering 15 while their guests took 12. Another game between these teams is expected to take place in the near future.

One victory for Swirczynski's lads was their 31 to 6 trouncing of the Forestburg boys. That game marked Forestburg's entry in the league race which will be under way every Wednesday night from now on.

COMMUNITY AUCTION SATURDAY IS BEST OF SEASON SAYS BAYER

John Bayer was all smiles after his regular bi-weekly community auction last Saturday. "It was the best we've had so far," he proudly announced.

A record crowd of attendants, most of them from surrounding communities helped to make the bidding brisk on an unusually large assortment of items. The items were large, too, Mr. Bayer explained. Included in the lot were 3 used binders, a wagon, cultivators, mowers, stalk cutters and other farm equipment besides the usual collection of household goods, grain, etc. The auction also offered more livestock than usual.

Coming with the return of more favorable weather, his success of Saturday, Mr. Bayer feels, can be repeated frequently during the summer and fall. It also convinces him more firmly that his sale is a distinctive community asset. At it many a person has the opportunity of selling a thing, he does not need, whereas another can find a bargain in a thing he wants.

The presence of newly constructed stock pens in the vacant lot adjoining Nick Stoffies' building was recognized as a convenient feature destined to help future successes of the sale.

One object of concern at the auction is the presence of children in the stock lot. Mr. Bayer says that his usual activity does not permit him to watch children and protect them from stock. To avoid accident he urgently asks all parents to cooperate by instructing children to stay away from the pens.

According to "Judge Landis" Nieball, there are now four teams in the circuit; Muenster's two teams, Bulcher and Forestburg. There is also a probability that Leo will become a league member. Mr. Nieball said, since it withdrew from the Myra loop rather than agree that its pitcher had an illegal delivery. The Marathon Runners may also occupy a place on the schedule. Ross Point, an early entry in the league, is reported to have withdrawn.

Under the present arrangement the regular loop schedule will be in effect every Wednesday night with a double header, and other games will be scheduled as regularly as possible. Some Gainesville clubs are anxious to match games and the Leo hot shots, whether or not they enter the league, stand prepared to trim any and all comers. They have an open invitation to the park.

One discouraging circumstance at the ball games, Mr. Nieball said, is that contributions toward the light fund have been inadequate. From the large attendance he estimates that collections would run at least twice as high if every adult spectator gave only a nickel or a dime. The normal cost of an evening is $3.00 for lights and $1.00 for a ball, an expense that should rightfully be carried by spectators but usually not reached when the hat is passed. To provide recreation for players and spectators alike Mr. Nieball asks all to kick in their nickles or dimes when the collector comes around.

Two one point games made up the Wednesday night card. In the opener Bulcher forged ahead for a wide margin lead which was cut down little by little until Skipper Swirczynski's Juniors squeezed through their winning run in an extra inning. The score was 13 to 12. Paul Walterscheid's gang lost to Forestburg in the second game. Very much like the preceding tilt, this one found Muenster stepping into a good lead and the visitors coming up from behind and winning 8 to 7.

New REA Ruling Demands Membership Fee, Easement Before Granting Allotment

BLINDNESS OR DEATH

CHICAGO, Ill. — Nurse Ruth Kuhnert with 5-week-old Helaine Judith Colan who was born a victim of glioma, a malignant tumor which destroys the optic nerve and then consumes the brain. The baby will die within a few weeks unless a delicate operation is performed which will save her life but destroy her sight forever. The despairing parents, Dr. Herman Colan, 30, a dentist, and his 23-year-old wife, Estelle decided to abide by decision of a jury of rabbis and doctors that will condemn their baby to a world of darkness or permit the child to die a merciful death. Specialists are unanimous that the operation, while destroying sight, is the only way in which the baby's life will be saved.

WORK ON BOILER AND COOLING TOWER UNDER WAY AT CHEESE PLANT

Progress in the improvement program at the Muenster Cheese Factory becomes more apparent. Since Tuesday men working on the giant cooling tower have been building their Babel-like structure at a rapid pace. The framework of Redwood poles gave some idea Wednesday of the structure's shape and size, and continued work for the next ten days is expected to bring it to completion.

The dimensions of the cooling framework are 28 by 16 by 1 feet 8 inches. With windbreaks extending four feet to each side the total ground dimension will be 36 by 24.

Another crew of men is making steady progress on the installation of the plant's new boiler. Wednesday they finished their brick inclosure work including a brick base for the smokestack and began construction on the wall.

Unlike the old smoke stack, that being built will not extend through the roof but will rest on a base at the side of the building. It will also be 8 or 10 feet higher.

J. W. Hess, superintendent of the improvement program, estimates that the new boiler will be fired for the first time about a week from Saturday. His present plan is to have the boiler in operation and the building completed before harvest time so that, if necessary, the work can be conveniently left for grain cutting.

Earlier plans to remove the old boiler before completing the wall have been changed. Instead a door large enough to permit the passage is being installed.

An interruption in the work is expected during harvest, but after that time it will continue until the whey condenser is in operation.

FORT WORTH NINE TO MEET MUENSTER BOYS IN SUNDAY CONTEST

"We will be in your city May 15 for a game, 3 p. m. sure," says a message received Monday by the local ball team from the Ernest Allen Chevrolet Club of Fort Worth.

Mindful of the fact that this same club won a 6 to 3 contest from the Gainesville Cookies last Sunday, local baseball enthusiasts realize that the odds are against them and that the best local talent available will have to be brought into the game. Since Muenster has no official hard ball crew, it is not known who will be included in the lineup.

One thing is agreed, however. The club that can defeat the pick of Gainesville players is strong competition. Muenster will enter the game in the position of having everything to win and nothing to lose.

State REA Engineer Offers To Assist in Meeting Necessary Requirements

A change in procedure at REA headquarters at Washington, which is of vital interest to every person anticipating rural electric service, requires that the local co-operative organization be formed and all membership fees be collected before Federal allotments are made, a recent letter from Wm. G. Morrison, state rural electrification engineer of Waco discloses.

"I am looking daily now for notice of the pre-allotment of your project and trust that it will not be long in forthcoming," he says "As soon as you receive this notice please advise me and we will assist you in getting the final requirements prepared."

As understood by J. W. Hess, chairman of the Muenster project, the new arrangement provides for a notice that funds are available. Before the allotment is made, however, the prospective customers must sign applications for membership in the co-operative, put up their $5.00 membership fees, and sign an easement for the line. The money is then submitted.

Mr. Hess regards the change as a very welcome one. Whereas an excessive allotment, resulting in an excessive financial burden, was possible under the old system, it is now impossible to contract for more line than is actually wanted. People who pay their $5.00 membership fee can be depended upon to maintain their permanent membership more so than those who merely signed the original survey.

As soon as the pre-allotment notice is received the REA committee will resume activity on its project, securing fees and easements at the earliest possible date. With the application on file in Washington nothing remains to be done here until the notice is received.

ATHLETIC AND SOCIAL EVENTS OF CYO TO BE HELD HERE NEXT WEEK

The first inter parish CYO athletic contest for Muenster is scheduled for next Sunday when the boys and girls in both singles and doubles take on the Sherman tennis entries, according to word received early this week from Earl Fisher.

Bernice Kathman, Bertha Jane Hoehn and Dorothy Fette were named as the probable girl contestants for Muenster.

Because of a conflict in time with the baseball game with the Ernest Allen team of Fort Worth, the boys' tennis entries have not been determined. Earl Fisher, Pat Stelzer, Norman Luke, Herman Fette and Walter Becker are some of those from whom the team will very likely be taken.

Following closely upon the open athletic event is the first social event, a dance in the K of C hall Tuesday night. It is strictly an invitation event open to CYO members of the North Texas division, which includes Muenster, Lindsay, Gainesville, Pilot Point, Whitesboro, Sherman and Denison. Berry Garner and his band of Gainesville will provide music for the event.

On Tuesday night a general invitation dance in honor of the young couple was given in the Lindsay hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Bayer will make their home on a farm 3 miles east of Muenster.

Miss Anna Sandman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Sandman, and George Bayer, son of John Bayer of Muenster, were united in marriage Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock in rites celebrated at St. Peter's Church. The Rev. Father Bonaventure acting pastor of the church read the ceremony and officiated at the nuptial high mass.

The Caecilia Choir, under the direction of the Rev. Father John with Miss Regina Fuhrmann at the organ, sang Bonner's mass in honor of St. Aloysius.

The bride chose for her wedding a gown of white satin made on princess lines with high neckline, and long fitted sleeves. It was fastened at the back with a row of tiny white satin covered buttons which extended from neck to waistline. Her full length veil of bridal illusion was held in place by a shepherdess wreath of lilies of the valley. She carried a bridal bouquet of white lilies, smilax and maidenhair fern tied with tulle.

Her only attendant was her sister, Rose, who wore a floor length dress of sky blue chiffon with draped Empire bodice and short puff sleeves. Her headdress was a bandeau of braided white satin with moline veil. She carried a bouquet of snapdragons, smilax and fern tied with pink moire.

Edgar Klement, an intimate friend of the bride and groom was best man.

Following the ceremony, breakfast was served in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Sandman to members of the wedding party. During the day, Mr. and Mrs. Sandman were hosts at a reception for

TCU STUDENTS TRIP
PROFS IN EXAMS ON CAMPUS SLANG USAGE

The collegiate worm turned out on TCU Hill recently.

It brought guarded chuckles to students, and caused considerable brow-knitting and pencil chewing among several good-natured faculty members.

Since students at the university have to take frequent tests in their teachers' language, they decided turn about was fair play and gave four profs a test in words and phrases in the students' 1938 slang.

The slang was furnished by TCU students.

And the best that any of the four faculty members could do was a low "C," just barely passing. Three of the four hold Doctor's degrees, and the other is an associate professor of English. Each was given 10 questions.

Dean Colby D. Hall had six right, missed two and was half right on two others. Dr. Newton Gaines, head of the physics department, answered five, had three partially correct and flopped on two.

Dr. Clinton Lockhart, venerable teacher of the Old Testament "busted" the test, getting three right, five wrong and two partly correct. Miss Mabel Major, the English teacher, made a strong finish and pulled up even with Dr. Gaines and Dean Hall.

Dean Hall defined "Gaudy Frail" as a showy flapper, and was half right since students use it to mean a good-looking girl. Dr. Gaines had never heard the expression before but he guessed right. Dr. Lockhart said he knew what both words meant but the two adjectives together meant nothing to him. Miss Major's answer was "an overdressed woman"—partly right.

All of them knew that a "sourpuss" is an unpleasant expression or person.

The word "slurp" had them all guessing, but none guessed correctly. Dr. Gaines said it might mean to slurp a lesson, while Dean Hall guessed that it meant to do a thing in a sloppy sort of way. The other two didn't attempt a definition.

Slurp? Why it means to sip noisily, while eating or drinking. Any TCU freshman knows that.

None of them got "slap-happy," which means silly or lightheaded. Dean Hall thought it meant a back-slapper. Miss Major had the same impression. Dr. Gaines guessed "in a rollicking mood," while Dr. Lockhart it suggested a prankster who slapped you on your vaccinated arm.

Three of the four tripped up on "rub," which means a dance to TCU students. Dean Hall first guessed that it meant a bridge game, because of its suggestion of a rubber of bridge, then he added: "It might be a dance, but I'm just guessing."

Dr. Gaines came fairly close with "some sort of reception where they rub elbows." Miss Major thought it might be the short for rubber stamp, while Dr. Lockhart insisted that a rub is a close call or an emergency.

"High as a kite," which means just plain drunk, wasn't so tough for the professors. Dr. Gaines called it good-humored or happy. Dr. Lockhart missed the word completely, while the other two had been informed that it meant tipsy.

All of them knew that "skirt" is another name for a young lady.

"Secret Passion" brought a variety of answers. Dr. Gaines called it "some kind of suppressed desire." Dean Hall was in the money with "unreciprocated affection." Dr. Lockhart said it sounded like someone's sweetheart, and Miss Major hit it still closer: "his girl that he does not tell everybody about."

Students define a youth's secret passion as a girl who doesn't know he cares.

"Doll" held no particular terrors for the Ph.D.'s. All of them knew it is what some swains call girls, but three of the four defined it as a dressed up girl, whereas Joe College uses the word generally to mean a pretty girl.

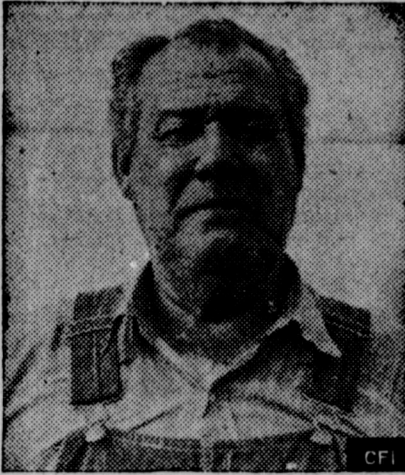

At TCU, "going to graze" means going to eat and the professors already had found it out.

The class in modern language is adjourned.—Allen Carney in Fort Worth Press.

NEW NICKLE DESIGN NETS $1000 PRIZE TO SCULPTOR OF CHICAGO

WASHINGTON.—A little 46-year old Chicago sculptor named Felix Schlag last week gave the U. S. Treasury Department a nickel, received $1,000 in change. Sculptor Schlag's was no ordinary nickel, but a prize-winning plaster design for a new issue to be minted this fall, replacing the Buffalo-Indian head, which has lived its minimum statutory life of 25 years. The 1938 nickel will have on its heads the profile of Thomas Jefferson, on its tails side his Monticello, Va., home. Schlag's design was chosen by Mint Director Nellie Taylor Ross, Sculptors Heinz Marneke, Albert Stewart and Sidney Waugh from 390 designs which showed Jefferson standing, sitting, amused, grim, spindly, fat and Monticello from all angles, in one case with an eagle perched on the roof.

FATHER OF THIRTY

April 23rd.—William T. Willis, 71 of Benton, Illinois, became a father for the 30th time with the birth of a son. He "married young" living with his first wife 20 years. They had 13 children. He lived with his second wife 12 years and they had 6 children. Mr. Willis' third wife lived only one month after their marriage. His fourth and present wife has been with him 19 years. They have 11 children. Willis is a retired coal miner and draws a pension from the state.

Had Sculptor Schlag won the $1,000 sooner, it might have saved the life of his 28-year-old bride of less than a year, who died of pneumonia in March after 22 weeks' illness. Schlag, who could not afford to send her to a hospital, designed the Jefferson nickel in such time as he could spare from nursing her.

TIRE DEPENDABILITY
OUTSTANDING FACTOR IN SPEED CLASSICS

"With National Tire Safety Week so prominent in the headlines, it seems almost paradox," says Ben Seyler, manager of Ben Seyler Motor Co., "to point to the automobile speedway as a major factor contributing to safer present day motoring."

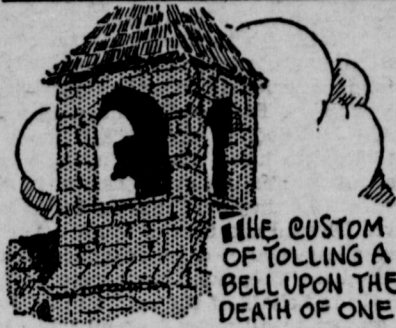

"Most people regard the Indianapolis Sweepstakes Classic in the light of a daredevil's holiday. In the heat of actual competition, the lead-footed speedsters at Indianapolis do appear to be utterly oblivious to any thought of safety. Actually, these same drivers have invested thousands of dollars and a whole year's work to insure their safety in this one day's race. Into every moving part has gone the finest engineering talent available. But always the keynote of these men who deal in speed is—safety."

"Of all the safety factors involved in speedway driving, the most important is tire dependability. For 18 consecutive years, Firestone has built and sold the tires that have been on the winning car at Indianapolis. During this period, drivers in the Memorial Day Classic, riding on Firestone tires, have rolled up a total of more than 130,000 miles in actual competition."

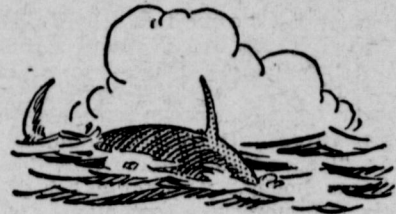

"On the Bonneville Salt Flats in Utah, Firestone tires have traveled records are well above the 150-mile-an-hour mark. Some reach a high point of 181 miles an hour.

"The same engineering principles, the same material and the same manufacturing methods that are utilized in making tires to withstand the terrific punishment of racing speeds at Indianapolis and Lake Bonneville are employed in the production of Firestone tires for the average motorist. Obviously, the ordinary driver will never subject his tires to the punishment of an Indianapolis race or a record breaking run on the Bonneville Salt Flats, but he will have the assurance and protection of that extra margin of safety that has grown out of these great speed performances."

"When the 33 cars line up behind the pace car at Indianapolis, the forenoon of May 3, there will be more involved than a dash for fortune and glory. Those drivers will be proving safety."

HE CAN'T HIRE SUB FOR PRISON TERM

NEW YORK.—It was an embarrassing moment for Mr. Americo Bongiorino, 26, when a policeman stopped him for a traffic violation, for at the moment, Bongiorino was supposed to be serving a five-day jail sentence for another traffic violation.

The policeman investigated and found that Bongiorino was in jail by proxy. He had hired an unemployed friend for $10 to take his place before the court and in jail.

Now both face long terms under the law which is harsh in such matters as impersonation and terms it a felony punishable by prison sentence up to 10 years.

THE COMPLETE PAPER

The first purpose of a small town newspaper is to publish news. This principle is the guiding axiom of better publishers everywhere and one that has been held up as a standard of the Enterprise. In the past, however, the staff of this paper has been disappointed every week to learn that in spite of its tireless efforts to "get it all" numerous items that had been missed appeared in the columns of a competing paper. At the same time our readers have agreed that all information included in both papers would make a complete Muenster paper.

Agreeing with that viewpoint the Enterprise staff is glad to announce this week that it has the complete Muenster paper. Rosabell Driever, the former editor and ace reporter of the Muenster News, has accepted an invitation to join the Enterprise. This is her first week as one of the staff.

In securing her help we confidently feel that we have just passed another milestone in our march toward success. Our paper, which has called forth the most encouraging comment from readers and other publishers, besides winning first prize in a statewide contest and building a prestige seldom found in a small town publication, now has a complete editorial staff.

It has been said that this is the beginning of a "fight to the bitter end" between the two competing papers of this town. Except for the word "fight" the statement is probably true. The word hardly expresses our tactics. We propose to publish the most complete, the best edited, and the most attractive paper we possibly can. Competition, on our part, will be based upon merit. If the other publication can secure support on the same basis, it has a right to go on, if it cannot, the subscribers and business men will eventually withdraw their patronage.

SALUTE TO THE LADIES

Next week the Ladies' Civic League will sponsor Muenster's first flower show, and incidentally the first civic activity since a community fair held so long ago that it seems almost like ancient history. All ladies of the league and especially those of the committee have been working long and energetically to insure its success. Nothing less than a grand triumph would be fitting compensation for their efforts.

To anyone giving more than mere casual thought to this event, it must have become evident that the flower show has an underlying motive far more important than the creation of a beautiful floral spectacle. Delightful as that would be, it is secondary to the creation of a more lively interest in city and community beauty. Those who are laboring for the show are thinking ahead to the time when Muenster homes will be distinguished for their attractive displays of flowers and shrubs.

With such an example before them, the men have every reason to feel they are challenged to sponsor other events with as constructive an influence on community development. Why not lay plans for a contest on farm development and on a specified date arrange for an excursion somewhat similar to the flower pilgrimage held recently in Dallas? Why not have a contest on most convenient home-made improvements? Or a community fair with all sorts of exhibits that could possibly help to give a neighbor a better idea?

Intense and varied interest is the first requisite of a thriving community. This interest should include methods of profitable management and a pleasant means of spending leisure hours. Thanks to Muenster's five year plan, there are several definite and worthwhile goals to be reached. It will be the work of a few to begin the move for progressive activity, and in time everyone except the plain shiftless will be falling in line.

These remarks are not made in a spirit of being ashamed of Muenster but rather in a sense of civic patriotism that longs to see the old home town better than others. We claim to have a thriving community and facts will bear us out in that view. But still there are a few things lacking that people in other places are privileged to enjoy. A live, interesting, co-operative community that is profitable and pleasant for us to inhabit and for others to visit, is our goal.

Contrary to commonly quoted objections, these advantages do not carry a prohibitive cost. What few dollars are involved will be swapped about until no one misses them. The only real essentials are interest and willingness to work.

Wise men of the ages say that we get out of any venture only as much as we put in. If we expect Muenster to offer more we must give it more to offer.

We congratulate the ladies for the fine work they have already done on their flower show. We hope soon to congratulate the men on a similar venture. Our golden anniversary is set for next year. Now is the time to arrange preliminary events and build up a peak interest.

WORK

Scripture tells us that man shall make his bread by the sweat of his brow. That passage seems to carry the implication that work is a penalty imposed because of human failings, and the attitude of a large percentage bears out the idea.

Viewed from another angle, however, work is the greatest blessing bestowed upon mankind. It is the only means by which a person can bring his talents into full development, by which he can maintain a sincere interest in life and occupy endless hours that would otherwise be boring to the extreme.

Personal ambition constantly seeks expression in worth while achievement. The man who is not a loafer at heart is always anxious to get ahead. He does not object to spending extra hours at his job, or at his hobby that has become as much a job, because the thing most important to him is to see his plan brought to a successful conclusion.

The names of dozens of prominent men could be listed as the products of intensive work. Lincoln did not spend his spare hours as a grocery clerk gossiping with town loafers, he studied law and continued his study far into the night. Ford spent endless hours of his spare time tinkering in his workshop before he began his career as an automobile manufacturer. The triumph of almost every star of stage and screen begins with long hours of patient work.

Accompanying details of all these early careers reveal that the persons were genuinely interested. They did not permit personal comfort or frequent diversion draw them from their path of chosen endeavor but sought in their work the same personal satisfaction that thousands of ordinary people find in smaller degree in other activity.

The success stories of leaders stand out as testimony that interesting work pays dividends in both the present and the future. It far surpasses ordinary diversion as a past time; it leads to a later career of usefulness and personal security.

The time to realize this fact is, preferably the early age when one first begins making his way in the world. If he is interested in his job he can use it as the background of success. If he is not interested he should embrace the first opportunity to change to the thing he likes regardless of financial remuneration. Monetary rewards can be expected to follow as soon as they have been earned. But the important consideration is the right kind of work. A good salary after all is poor compensation for hours of drudgery, whereas the first and greatest salary for pleasant work is contentment.

What Others Have to Say--

AN EDITOR'S PRAYER

Blessed are the merchants who advertise, for they have their faith in their business, and their prosperity shall increase many fold. Blessed is the woman who sends in a written account of a party or a wedding, for she shall see the details and names of her guests correctly reported. Blessed are those who do not expect the editor to know everything, but who tell him when ever an interesting event occurs in which they are interested, for they shall have a better newspaper in their town. Blessed are they who get their copy in early, for they shall occupy a warm space in the editor's heart. Blessed are they who co-operate with the editor in his efforts in behalf of the community, for their town shall be known to all men, far and wide, as a good place in which to live and do business. Blessed are they who do not think they could run the paper better than the editor runs it—yea, thrice blessed are they because there are so few of them in the community.—Hammond Vindicator.

PLUMBER . . . PLUS

(An Editorial from the Rotarian Magazine)

The plumber came to a friend's house the other day to fix the pipes. Just a plumber, his friend supposed; nothing more. But they got to talking. They soon discovered that he was a plumber . . . plus. It came out that he has a complete workshop in his basement at home, fitted with several hundred dollars' worth of tools. "I spend all my free time down there," he said. "It's my hobby." And for a hobby, he confessed, it's fairly remunerative. Last month, on spare-time work, he cleared more than $100.

He knows several inventors who get him to help make their models. He has invented several gadgets, and receives a small but steady stream of orders, especially from sailboat enthusiasts. He said he was working on a brake-tightening device that would enable a driver to tighten his own brakes as he drives.

The plumber is young. One of these days his basement hobby may blossom out into quite a business. Ford, Chrysler, Cartwright, Daguerre, plenty more, started about the same way. We are not so much concerned about that, however, as we are with an idea the plumber helped to confirm—namely, that what makes a civilization progressive, after all, is the opportunity it provides for each and every individual to express himself in the direction his real genius calls. National greatness comes from steady growth at the bottom. Incidentally, this plumber was said to have done a better job on his pipes than anybody this friend ever had.

ROUNDING UP THE RUSTLERS

With eight men in jail at Athens and Kaufman on charges of cattle theft, it is hoped that livestock stealing from farms of Henderson, Kaufman and Dallas Counties has been broken up. One of the accused men is said to have admitted participation in the taking of at least eighty-four head of cattle from this area in recent months.

Reports of similar thefts have been coming from many parts of Texas, despite the vigilant work of law officers and agents of cattlemen's association. Col. H. H. Carmichael, in charge of the Texas rangers, declared not many months ago that livestock theft had become more extensive than at any time in the last seventy years. Sheriffs and ranchmen give similar opinions.

The two-gun rustler of open-range days has had much attention in Western fiction, but his audacity was no greater than that of today's thief, who backs a truck to a pasture fence, loads in a few minutes and the next morning sells his loot at some point two or three hundred miles away. Oftener than not, the stolen beeves are butchered by the rustlers in some near-by thicket and the meat sold at bargain prices to dealers who refrain from asking questions.

Recent livestock thieving has resulted in better branding of cattle, renewed activities by cattlemen's associations and occasional vigilante action. Careful investigations, like that made by the Sheriffs of Henderson and Kaufman Counties, should result in trapping most of these thieves, who work in small groups. Stiff sentences at Huntsville may cure the appetite of many of the rustlers for fresh meat.—Dallas News.

TRY BOOSTING — NOT KNOCKING

It is just as easy to knock a town as it is to boost. But it is much more pleasant to be a booster and give the community in which you live a boost rather than a kick, despite the fact there might be a few chronic grippers who had rather see you agree with them than the home town is no good and it is a sorry place to live.

Every once in a while we run across fellows sitting around with their lips dropped down, head bowed, and who appear to have lost their last friend. All they can talk about is what a sorry place Hempstead is, and that it will never amount to anything. It is driving people away all the time and doesn't want to grow. It just hasn't a chance to go forward because its people are not progressive.

One of the main troubles with any small town is that it has so many belly achers who have never contributed anything to the community in which they live, don't want to, would not if they could and are living there but for one reason—because they are making a living.

If these kill-joys spent as much of their time putting in a good word for the town as they do in knocking it, what a town Hempstead would be!

The next time you are prone to knock your town and your townsmen, change a bit and put in a good word. It will make you feel lots better. Look around a bit at small towns the size of Hempstead and see if your own home town doesn't stack up pretty good after all.

We don't think Hempstead is going or has gone to the dogs. It will likely be here long after we present residents are gone, and if we fellows will start boosting, we can at least make a better town for future generations.—Hempstead News.

"What has become of the merchant who used to give the customer a cigar when he paid his account in full?" asks the editor of a weekly newspaper. The question should be, What has become of the customer who used to pay his account in full?—Washington Post.

W. J. NEU COMPLETES REBUILDING PROGRAM

Lindsay.—With the paint job on their newly constructed chicken house, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Neu have completed a long list of improvements on their farm south of Lindsay.

Since purchasing the estate from the heirs of his father, the late William Neu, several months ago, W. J. has been engaged in constructing, repairing, remodeling and otherwise improving the place.

Beginning with the house W. J. had the entire interior redecorated, added an oak floor to the dining room and built in cupboards, sink and piped in running water for the kitchen. A coat of white paint for the outside completed the house.

Other notable improvements are a newly constructed storm cellar, a brooder and a chicken house, and repainted barns and machine sheds.

In addition Mr. and Mrs. Neu have started a fruit orchard with peach, cherry, apricot and pear trees and set out numerous grape and berry cuttings.

An ornamental yard fence, native trees and shrubs and a bermuda sod further enhance the beauty of the old homestead.

REPORT ON CONVENTION FEATURES SODALITY MEET

Lindsay.—At the regular second Sunday of the month meeting, members of the Young Ladies' Sodality heard the reports of Misses Leona Berend and Wally Schmitt who represented the society at the district meeting of the Catholic State League at Rhineland on May 3 and 4.

The young ladies in their reports presented a vivid word picture of the league meeting and disclosed a wealth of knowledge which can be applied by each individual.

Points stressed at the meeting as cited by the delegates included the need for greater unity among Catholics, a deeper devotion to St. Joseph patron of the universal church, a demand for cleaner reading and cleaner literature at news stands and Catholic action in the home.

As a social stimulant members passed a motion to sponsor a harvest festival featured by an overall and bonnet dance during the second week in July. President Lonia Gieb appointed Misses Kathryn Bezner, Leona Berend, Wally Schmitt and Regina Fuhrmann as a committee of four to work out particulars concerning the entertainment.

For the good of the sodality acting pastor, Father Bonaventure suggested that sodalists acquaint themselves with more Catholic literature that is available in pamphlet form and start the ball of Catholic action rolling by studying these leaflets and passing them along to their non-Catholic friends. A feature for the sodality's next meeting will be short talks on Catholic Action by Misses Genevieve and Marie Bengfort. Twenty-four members were present for the meeting.

A. Morton Smith comments as follows in the Gainesville Register about Mayor LaGuardia's momentary stop in Muenster: "We imagine Muenster people are quite surprised to learn they figured in a 'kidnaping.' The mayor's motorcycle escort with sirens screaming caused several people to look up from their work as he passed through the city." Is it possible that the scribe of Town Topics doesn't know any better; or does he wish to belittle our village? For his information we offer the following corrections. Coming through Muenster was not the Mayor's idea. In fact he was well on his way down the detour that misses Muenster when he was overtaken and invited to come back. Furthermore, people did not look up from their work—they were not working but were gathered in a crowd to give the visitor a full fledged greeting. And there were no motorcycles nor, at Muenster, any sirens. Of course, one could hardly expect the author of Town Topics to be familiar with all details. As the Mayor and his escort breezed through his town he probably didn't look in time to see where the noise was coming from. After all the New York press agent's account wasn't quite as "inflationary" as Mr. Smith's was "deflationary".

Lot's of people here are enjoying a hearty chuckle at the expense of a fellow who lost his head over a recent incident and decided to start a fight. He's throwing things but he doesn't seem to realize that they are boomerangs. Under the circumstances there will be no fight. The other person is too much amused watching his ferocious adversary defeat himself with his own weapons.

That quintet of Fletchers who have been shearing sheep in record time hereabouts are regarded as tops in the sheep shearing game for this community but all five of them combined don't do much more than would be considered a good day's work by a Mexican mentioned last week in the Menard News. Jose Elpedio Torres is his name, and when clocked the other day, unknown to him, he sheared 5 sheep in 9 minutes, 10 seconds. Usually he shears about 300 a day. They say down south that they're going to consider him the world's champion sheep-shearer until someone can show a better record. It is doubtful whether a better record can be shown.

Some say that statistics can be found on any subject under the sun. Perhaps. But we would bet a cookie that not one of our readers can find statistics on how many squeezes, or strips or strokes, or whatever they call that muscular action by which a cow's milk is extracted, are necessary to fill a gallon pail. We add a bit to the world's storehouse of knowledge by submitting the figure of a man who actually counted them the other day. The cow was a normally easy milker, he said, and he required 850 squirts to get two and a half gallons. Now do him a favor and figure out how many are needed to supply the 60,000 pounds of milk brought to the cheese plant daily.

There are two sides to every story and we may have the wrong angle of this one, but right or wrong it gives a new light to the emancipation idea. It seems that one of the road fellows and a negro workman became involved in an argument which led to a bluff at gunplay, whereupon the negro dashed for the tall weeds. To have his fun the man fired in that direction several times then forgot the incident—until the negro returned with officers later in the evening. After the man convinced them that he had no intentions of murder they fined him for shooting on the highway. As much as to say that shooting at colored folks is good sport and legitimate as long as it isn't done in the wrong place. Legends of the wild and woolly West have a similar story about the notorious Billy the Kid. At the time of his death he had 21 notches on his gun, representing a victim for every year of his life. He is supposed to have made the boast that those notches represented white men, that he had shot lots of negroes and Mexicans but he did not consider it anything to brag about.

Will the two young men who argued themselves hoarse while on a bender a year or so ago take note of this little message? They could not decide whether a zebra was white with black stripes or black with white stripes. A zoologist who is supposed to know his zebras answered that one recently. "The basic color of a zebra is white and the stripes therefore are black."

SENATOR VAN ZANDT IS HEARD AT DINNER FOR COUNTY TEACHERS

Senator Olan Van Zandt of Tloga was principal speaker Friday of last week at the banquet for teachers and their guests of the Cooke County Unit of the Texas State Teachers association. The dinner was given in the dining room of the Whaley Memorial Methodist church. Roy P. Wilson, county superintendent and president of the unit was toastmaster.

Senator Van Zandt, co-author of the rural aid bill and chairman of the finance committee of the senate, began his address by commending Mr. Wilson on his expert management of the rural aid fund in the county. He pointed out that every teacher has two main jobs—first to teach the child and second to lead an exemplary life before the child. Dr. Everett Shepherd, director of the equalization fund for rural aid and former deputy state superintendent, now of Austin, was present and spoke briefly.

The program opened with a sing-song led by Elbert Perryman and invocation by W. E. Chalmers. A short musical program followed.

Members of the county board were introduced to the guests as were the wives and husbands of the teachers. Attending from Muenster were Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Burger, Miss Dorothy Fette and Miss Mary Bark-cr.

RHINELAND DELEGATES TO BE HEARD SUNDAY AT GENERAL MEETING

Announcement was made by the Rev. Pastors last Sunday that there will be a general meeting this Sunday afternoon in the parish hall for all the church societies, at which time a delegate from each society will give a report on the annual North Texas District Convention of the Catholic State League at Rhineland. May devotions will be held at 2 o'clock instead of the regular hour.

Because of her creditable delivery of her talk on "Clean Reading," Miss Marie Walter has been asked to repeat the address at the annual State Convention to be held in Hallettsville in June.

FATHER JOHN O. S. B. LEAVES FOR EUROPE ON JUNE FIFTEENTH

Lindsay.—The Rev. Father John in the company of Valentine Fuhrmann motored to Sherman, Tuesday to make arrangements for an ocean voyage that will include visits to France and Switzerland.

The Rev. Pastor will book passage on June 15 on the Manhattan U. S. L. which will take him to Le Harve, France. From there he plans to go to Gersau, Switzerland for a visit to his birthplace and his childhood acquaintances and friends.

On September 7 the Rev. Father John will embark at Le Harve for a return trip to the states on the Washington U. S. L.

The trip is pleasantly looked forward to by the Rev. Pastor for it comes as a gesture of gratification from his superiors at Subiaco Abbey for forty years of faithful service, and also as a health restorative.

MUENSTER PLAYERS WILL APPEAR SUNDAY IN THREE ACT COMEDY

Another screaming comedy, featured especially by confused identity and misplaced affection growing out of the excitement of a collegiate beauty contest and the properties of a beauty clay, is the presentation to be staged next Sunday night, May 15, at 8 o'clock in the parish hall. It is entitled "The Clay's the Thing" and will be staged by the Muenster dramatic group under the direction of Father Francis Zimmerer.

"Just screwy, puzzling and hilarious, with a dandy plot and witty dialogue, but not a serious thought," is the director's description of the play. Musical selections before and after the play and between the acts will be given by the Sicking Brothers and by Anthony Morzuch. The latter, who immigrated from Germany a few months ago, will play popular numbers of his native Rhineland on the accordion.

KINGERY CREW SETS RECORD PACE, DRILLS 905 FEET IN 88 HOURS

Drilling history was in the making last week, according to an account recently given by Pat Patrick, a driller on one of the Kingery rigs. In 3 days and two towers, a total of 88 hours, the three crews completed a 905 foot well on Tony Treubenhach's.

Normally a well of that depth requires about a week's activity, and 5 days is considered unusually good time.

Drillers on the job were Pat Patrick, Pete Morris and L. S. Clifford.

OIL ACTIVITY SLOW BUT 1300 FOOT WELL MAY REVIVE INTEREST

What little drilling is in progress at the present time may develop soon into a revival of activity, according to some observers in this locality. Since Kingery found a new sand at 1300 on the Andress lease, which is estimated to make about a 50 barrel well, Trumter began drilling deeper on its Number 1 Reiter. At the usual depth that well was declared a dry hole, but in the event a profitable sand is found at 1300 or less several offsets are due to follow. On the Johnson lease Mudge is nearing completion on its 26th location.

JEWEL ELZEY BECOMES BRIDE OF JOE YOSTEN AT DALLAS CEREMONY

In a wedding ceremony performed by Rt. Rev. Msgr. A. Danglmayr of Dallas, Miss Jewel Elzey became the bride of Joe Yosten. The rites were read on Tuesday of last week in Sacred Heart Rectory at Dallas.

Mrs. Yosten is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Elzey of Electric and will be remembered by many local people as the cousin of Miss Mary Barker whom she visited often. For the past two years she was employed in Gainesville. Mr. Yosten is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Yosten of this city and is employed in the KMA oil field, where the couple will make their home.

For the wedding ceremony the bride wore a beige crepe bolero frock with rust colored accessories. The couple was attended by Miss Elsie Yosten of Fort Worth, sister of the bride-groom and Albert Schilling of KMA.

Honoring the newly married couple, Mr. and Mrs. John Yosten held a family reunion in their home here Sunday. The guests enjoyed a delicious supper and spent the evening in old fashioned get-together.

Personnel of the party included the families of Frank, Bob and Nick Yosten, Joe Swirczynski, Roy and Werner Endres, J. S. Horn and Mrs. Pete Walterscheid all of Muenster, Miss Elsie Yosten of Fort Worth, Miss Genevieve Yosten of Gainesville and Mr. and Mrs. Leo Hoedebeck and children of Tishomingo, Okla. The honor couple received a large assortment of useful gifts.

John Bayer was host to the sheep-head players last Wednesday. John Walter scored high and Pete Rollman low.
