The Quill, official publication of the Society of Professional Journalists, has an enlightening article on Religion in its February issue pointing out a need to have more extensive coverage of religious news and comment in the current media. The logic of the statement is obvious. First of all the subject concerns the big majority of religious membership, and besides religion and morality are so often associated with political and social developments. The problem, however, is that there appears to be a scarcity of interested and capable writers or TV personnel as well as a tendency to downgrade the importance of religious writing.

The idea has merit. Without doubt it would be helpful for all civilization to keep in touch with religious reality, especially in relation to the effect on government, the economy and society. It's easy to believe that progress will come easier in all of those areas when it is guided by an awareness of the relation to basics.

A more distressing fact in the article is the report that so many of the media people are fundamentally secular, a far greater proportion than we find in the general public. A random survey of all people in news production — including reporters, columnists, department heads, bureau chiefs, executives, film editors, anchor men, correspondents, etc — was conducted in the profession and ended with these results. Only 76 percent answered the survey. Of those, 50 percent claimed no religious affiliation; 8 percent attend church or synagogue weekly; 86 percent seldom or never attend.

Over all, the survey indicated a non-religious aspect of the media, which was described as cosmopolitan, Northeastern, liberal and highly educated. The real tragedy about this situation is that these are the people who shape the greater part of thinking in our country. Their thinking comes through in the thoughts they present, devoid of the fundamentals which are needed in an orderly society.

Another survey reveals that 85 percent of the public considers adultery to be morally wrong but only 15 percent of the media elite regards adultery as morally wrong. The fact must have a bearing upon the moral decline so evident now in promiscuity and sex crimes and the programming of TV and movies. Likewise violence on the screen spills over into every-day violence.

While acknowledging that the presentation of religious news would be pleasing to many people and otherwise exert a good influence on society, it seems more important to do something about anti-religion. There has to be more emphasis on eliminating the evils which are being flaunted as the way of American life.

Getting this done is a big order. It means establishing a completely new standard of thought with God replacing the materialism and humanism that have made their ugly appearance in recent decades.

Meanwhile the other side of the program requires a revival of Biblical and Early American thinking to get

Industrial foundation dissolved, assets divided

Members of the Muenster Industrial Foundation in a special meeting last week Wednesday voted to dissolve their organization and divide its assets in proportion to the equity of individual shareholders.

As pointed out by Jerome Pagel, president, the purpose of the meeting was to take note of the fact that the Valeron Corporation, owner of the Valenite machine tool factory on Mesquite Street, intends to exercise its option to buy the plant and to decide on the foundation's future plans.

Toward that end it revived the organization that had been inactive for several years, first re-electing its former board of directors and making one change to replace a person who moved away several years ago. Urban Endres succeeds Ernest Jaska in that position and the re-elected members are Jerome Pagel, Steve Moster, Earl Fisher, Ray Wilde, Al Felderhoff, Vincent Felderhoff, W.J. Miller and Alvin Fuhrman. Pagel, Moster, Fisher and Wilde continue as president, vice president, treasurer and secretary. The officers and board will have charge of details relative to the settlement with Valeron and dividing assets among the members.

Details reviewed by Ray Wilde brought out the fact that Muenster Industrial Foundation was organized in July 1959 to assist Sam Raden in establishing a dress factory here. At that time it had 75 members with a total investment of $18,000. The foundation now has 104 members holding a total of $25,000 in certificates. Dealings with Roden continued until 1966 when Lou Kreditor purchased the dress factory, changed the name to Jr. Elite, and arranged his own financing.

The change left Muenster

Industrial Foundation without a project until July 1967 when the Valeron Corporation indicated an interest in locating here. Interest soon developed into an arrangement whereby the Industrial Foundation would finance construction of the plant and Valenite would lease it for 15 years with option to purchase it at the end of that time.

A small part of the construction fund was made up of payments and interest earnings of the previous eight years and a considerably larger portion was raised by loans which were partially secured by personal endorsement of several members.

With expiration of the contract the foundation has recovered all of its original investment plus rental and interest earnings. And more is expected from sale of the building.

Members were faced with a choice. They could leave their money in the foundation for possible future investment, or they could divide and dissolve. The consensus was that many now are elderly or survivors of deceased and prefer to have the money for estate convenience or otherwise. Negotiations of the sale and division of assets are due to be finished in about six weeks.

As the foundation prepares to phase out Earl Fisher reminds the members that they have performed a worthwhile community service in helping establish two local industries and providing jobs at home for many home town men and women. He added that the service was especially praiseworthy because many had the idea they were donating rather than investing. Under the circumstances it is satisfying now to get back the money with a modest earning.

The Muenster Cub Scout Pack was well-represented in the council-wide scout show held in Fort Worth in November, with featured numerous activities, such as the lashing demonstration and construction of a tower shown above. Cubs in America this week celebrate the 53rd anniversary of the Cub Scout institution and the Boy Scouts of America observe the 73rd anniversary. Please see page 7 for additional pictures and stories.

Energy aid program initiated

Mike C. Murphy, Texas Power & Light manager in Gainesville said last week that the company's Energy Aid Program would be implemented Feb. 1 and that information about the program will be in customers' bills in February.

TP&L first announced the Energy Aid Program in early January and said at that time the program would provide employees, local businesses and other TP&L customers a chance to make voluntary, tax deductible contributions to help needy people pay their energy bills.

"TP&L has donated $50,000 system-wide to start this program and now we are sending our customers, through their electric bills, information that will explain to them how they can participate in Energy Aid," Murphy said.

He said all money collected in Cooke County will be turned over to the Texoma Regional Planning Commission. The office will be open Thursdays of each week from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. in the basement of the Cooke County Courthouse.

Former resident expects to be next VFW state commander

Emmett (Andy) Stelzer, a native of Muenster, will return to his home town as representative of the Department of Texas when the Veterans of Foreign Wars hold their district meeting here on Saturday and Sunday, Feb. 19-20.

Andy is the senior vice commander of Texas, elected to that position at the 1982 VFW state convention in Dallas. If custom is followed he will be elected state commander at the next state convention.

He is a member of the John Miller Post at Post, has held all offices at the post level including two terms as commander, also commander of District 7 and a Department instructor, and a leader in Veterans affairs in West Texas and the South Plains for a number of years.

Andy Stelzer

The 34-year VFW member served in the Army Infantry during World War II, including 21 months in the Rhineland and Central Europe. He received the EAME campaign ribbon with two bronze stars, an army of occupation ribbon, a WWII victory ribbon, and two overseas bars.

Andy is an independent oil producer in the Post area. He and his wife, Rosemary, have three children; David, Linda and Mary Ann.

County Commissioners approve repair projects

Discussion on repairs to the county jail and various parts of the courthouse dominated a special meeting of the Cooke County Commissioners Court Monday.

A bid of $6,910 for repairs to the county tax assessor-collector's office submitted by Ken Rucker was unanimously accepted by the commissioners and Rucker told the court the work would be completed within 60 days. Because persons working in the tax office cannot move out during that time, Rucker said he would do the work at night and on weekends so as not to disrupt office business.

Discussion on repairs to the district clerk's office was a bit more complicated after County Judge Jim Robertson opened bids on the project.

Several area contractors criticized the specifications on the project, claiming they were vague. Robertson said the specifications may have been somewhat ambiguous and suggested the court redraw the requirements and re-advertise for bids. The Commissioners agreed and later decided on more detailed specifications on the particular grade of suspended ceiling to be used, along with more specific grades of carpet, floor covering and paint.

The court also voted to go ahead with repairs to the courthouse dome and roof. The repairs involve replacing ribs which connect the sections of copper covering the dome. Two of the ribs were blown lose in a heavy wind storm last summer.

Commissioners were told by Dennis Bell that $5,000 in state money could be obtained to help with the cost of repairs to the old jail building. That amount, the court decided, along with $8,000 already allocated for the repairs, was enough to go ahead with repairs under the $13,646 bid from B&J

Construction. During the meeting, Robertson told the other commissioners of a storage problem in the Grand Jury room where an increasing number of books are being stored on the floor, some 200 at this time. After Robertson's motion, the court voted to have shelves installed in the room to accommodate the state and federal law manuals.

In other action, the commissioners appointed members to the Cooke County Historical Commission for the 1983-84 term. The Court also tabled two items for further consideration at its next regular meeting Feb. 14. At that time, they will discuss policies and prices now being paid for pauper's funerals.

Commissioners will also consider an office site for Precinct 3 Justice of the Peace Bob Gray. The proposed location is the former office of the Lake Kiowa Realty near Lake Kiowa.

Good News

Mark 1:14-18

After John's arrest, Jesus appeared in Galilee proclaiming the good news of God: "This is the time of fulfillment. The reign of God is at hand! Reform your lives and believe in the gospel!"

As he made his way along the Sea of Galilee, he observed Simon and his brother Andrew casting their nets into the sea; they were fishermen. Jesus said to them, "Come after me; I will make you fishers of men." They immediately abandoned their nets and became his followers.

Whose groundhog is right?

The message from the Pennsylvania varmint on February 2 is that he did not see his shadow hence winter is over. However his prediction is disputed by the home grown rodent, whatever he's called, who had plenty of time to see his shadow. He predicted that six weeks more of winter is coming. So, now it's a matter of wait and see.

Whoever wants another sign got it Monday, based on the old-timer's prediction that thunder in January will be followed by a freeze in 60 days. Well, it thundered on January 31.

The thunder came with a rain measured at 1.21 on Feb. 1. Previous moisture measured .75 inch, so the present total is 1.96 inch.

Library board elects officers

Newly elected officers of Muenster Public Library, named during the January meeting are: Jim Hoedebeck president, Tony Trubenbach vice president, Sue Trachta treasurer and Pauline (Sis) Stelzer secretary.

New members of the Board of Directors, appointed by the city council for three year terms are: Norbert Koesler, Frank Felderhoff and Joe Sicking.

Members of the Building and Maintenance Committee include Tony Trubenbach, Frank Felderhoff and Norbert Koesler. On the Finance and Extension Committee are Joe Sicking, Sue Trachta and Pauline Stelzer.

The Owner's Manual

Our study today is about Enoch, the seventh from Adam, who served God before the flood. Genesis 5:21-24 tells us "And Enoch lived sixty-five years, and became the father of Methuselah. Then Enoch walked with God three hundred years after he became the father of Methuselah, and he had other sons and daughters. So all the days of Enoch were three hundred and sixty-five years. And Enoch walked with God; and he was not, for God took him."

Here it is worthy of notice that the sacred writer says once that Enoch "lived;" but he changes the word and writes Enoch "walked with God;" thus teaching us that communion with God was Enoch's life, and truly so it ought to be ours. He was not a mere talker about God, but a walker with God. This holy patriarch lived in unbroken intercourse with the Lord for over three hundred years, not now and then visiting with God, but habitually walking with him. This is a point of great difficulty. To draw near to God is comparatively easy; but to remain in undivided fellowship, "this is the work, this is the labour". Yet the Holy Spirit can enable us to accomplish even this. Continued communion is what we should aim at, and we should not be content with anything short of it.

Some excuse themselves from seeking after unbroken fellowship with God because of their calling, and their numerous engagements. Enoch had the cares of a family upon him, and he was also a public preacher, and yet he kept up his walk with God; no business or household cares should make us forget our God. Society with God is the safety of saints, it is their solace and delight, it is their honor and crown. More to be desired is it than gold, yea that much fine gold.

Happy was Enoch to enjoy it so sweetly, and so continuously. The long intercourse of this good man with his God ended in his being borne away from earth without death to that place where faith is lost in sight. He did not live like others, and therefore he did not die like others.

Surely, we would all do well to let Enoch be our example of the kind of person we would like to be, as we strive to walk with God each day of our life.

Looking Ahead

Most of the serious problems which concern Americans, and others around the world today, are economic problems, but they cannot be solved by economic means. Writes Dr. Carl Wiegand:

"... Our economic problems are ultimately not 'economic' in the narrow sense. They can be solved only through a drastic change in the philosophy of life of the western world. To put it in an over-simplified form, a change from today's 'entitlement' philosophy to the much-maligned Calvinist work ethics of yesteryear."

In an important recent article Professor Wiegand explained that a clearer perception can be gained if we view economics in a wider sense, "as a structure of three circles — one inside the other."

The inner circle is economics proper, consisting of "economic laws," basic economic relationships. Says the professor:

"These are economic forces which we can study, and whose effects we can predict with a degree of confidence. Yet, they do not function in a vacuum; they operate within an institutional framework, which represents the second circle..."

stitutional framework where economic problems are aggravated as the socio-political and technological influences are brought to bear. These include labor unions, councils of churches, welfare pressure groups, the Federal Reserve, International Monetary Fund, World Bank, Export-Import Bank, United Nations, and untold thousands of other forces and technological problems which affect our lives.

"But the multitude of socio-political and technological changes which impinge upon the purely economic order, are in turn to a large extent the product of cultural changes, which constitute the third circle," says Wiegand.

These cultural changes have included a drift away from the Calvinist or Puritan ethic which ordained that it was man's responsibility "to make this physical world a better place through conscientious work and frugality." (thrift)

At the same time another significant cultural change was taking place. Instead of emphasizing individual responsibility and self-reliance, the people began to stress equality of material benefits regardless of contribution to production.

Dr. Wiegand summarizes: "Half a century ago, the poor depended largely upon private charity, and when private charity could no longer take care of all the needy during the Great Depression, the government provided 'relief' as a temporary emergency measure.

"But as the depression ended, relief gradually developed into welfare, which continued to take an ever larger share of the Nation's resources. In the 1970's a subtle change took place as welfare turned into 'entitlement'. In other words welfare became a right to which people were entitled.

We know what to do to curb inflation, lower interest rates, stimulate production, and create jobs. To do the latter requires huge investments which can only come from a tremendous increase in savings—but this can only come from "a substantial reduction in public and private consumption."

Professor Wiegand leaves us to ponder the all-important question upon which the future of America and all of Western Civilization depends:

"Are the people ready to build for tomorrow, rather than live for today?" (The outcome of the recent election would tend to answer, "No.")

Perspectives

High utility rates may be a thorn in the side of many Texas consumers, but the idea of electing Public Utility Commission members is not a good one, and certainly not a viable solution to the problem.

Members of the PUC are now appointed by the governor, and that's the way the policy should remain.

For one reason, making elected positions out of PUC appointments would politicize the commission. Mark White said it himself during the campaign (though he's since changed his tune). He rejected the idea of an elected commission a couple of months ago because he said he was afraid the wealthy utility companies would find it quite easy to heavily finance candidates who were sympathetic to their cause, and ultimately gain control of the commission. That was probably Mark White's most accurate assumption during the campaign.

His position may have changed in the past few months, but the situation hasn't. It's still a bad idea.

There's yet another reason why appointing PUC members is the best way to go. Appointing these people is the most sure-fire way of assuring that they'll be qualified.

In electing members to the PUC, there's a bigger risk in getting someone who is inexperienced in the workings of the utility companies. And if that happens, it's going to be bad for everybody. It's the same way with any position of authority. The more experienced a person is, the less prone to making a mistake the person is. A lot of mistakes which may affect one of the state's biggest industries will have adverse effects on the state's economy in the long run.

Also, there's the danger that candidates running for such elected offices will too easily find themselves making price-slashing promises to the voters — in a game of always trying to be one promise up on the other candidate, that will ultimately result in the crippling of utility companies across the state.

A lot of consumer groups are strongly in favor of some type of reform — that's fine. Frequent consideration of reforms is one of the best ways to insure that present methods of any operation are the best available. Besides, the PUC was created in 1975. Maybe it's time for a close examination and possibly even a bit of corrective surgery. But PUC elections are not the best medicine for this illness.

It's bad enough that the PUC was one of the biggest issues of the recent gubernatorial election — a lame issue at best when placed beside such pressing concerns as the state's water supply, its energy exploration and its high crime areas. Nevertheless, we're being faced with it now.

If the situation needs improvement, then it should be improved. But not the way Mark White is suggesting.

Heritage News Forum

Though there have been noticeable changes in the character and handling of U.S. foreign policy in the few months that George Shultz has been at the State Department's helm, the American ship of state still sails on troubled water.

There is movement in the right direction. The President has all the right instincts, if left to himself. But that's not the way things work in the nation's capital, as the "Let Reagan Be Reagan" buttons that continue to adorn the clothing of Washington conservatives will attest; the President has neither the last word, nor the only word, about anything—not even within his own administration.

Thus, we find government changing course on a daily basis, not necessarily because conditions have changed, but because the internal tuggings-and-pullings within the bureaucracy lead to ebbs and flows of power. Though they're not all visible, there are literally thousands of branch chiefs, section chiefs, division chiefs, assistant secretaries, under secretaries, and deputy assistant secretaries, commissioners, and bureaucratic "supergrades" trying to get their way on policy matters. An administration often is dragged along, not necessarily against its will, but because nobody realizes the shifts are taking place until they become "fait accompli."

The results make for good newspaper copy, but not good policy. As Middle East expert James Phillips pointed out during the mid-December Washington visit of Pakistani President Zia ul-Haq, "Since the United States began arming Pakistan in 1954, it has adopted eight different arms policies for South Asia, a record that is not likely to inspire confidence." The eight shifts coincide with only five presidencies.

While nobody would argue for a rigid foreign policy, there are great dangers in having one that by appearance or reality lacks direction. Yet, that has been the hallmark of U.S. international dealings for many years now.

Maj. Gen. Henry Mohr (U.S. Army-Ret.) asks in a savvy essay in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat: "Does anybody really know what is U.S. foreign policy toward Cuba? Or Communist Nicaragua? Or Red China? Or Taiwan? Or South Africa and all of southern and central Africa?" Indeed.

"Can anyone say what would actually happen—if what the United States would really do—if any country where U.S. interests are involved (outside NATO) were attacked, or attack appeared imminent?" How about Israel. Do the Israelis really have any reason to believe the United States would be there to prevent their national annihilation if push came to shove?

Of course, a certain amount of uncertainty is good. "For example," General Mohr says, "the Russians aren't too sure that we won't use nuclear weapons against them if they try to swarm over Europe with superior numbers of tanks, artillery and troops. And the Russians aren't too certain about what the United States might do if they move to seize some coveted objectives in the Persian Gulf-Middle East region either."

But neither, I suspect, do we ourselves know.

back on the right course. As regards the starting point for such a change, it appears to be a job for religious leaders along with the enlightened social leaders. Somehow, it has to be arranged so that the American way will be guided by the right kind of media influence.

Among the gripes of the so-called intelligentsia is the well-known hassle of separating church and state. It is a good idea as presented by our founding fathers, but it is not good when twisted to separate God and state. Originally America had a solid basis of religion and morality. That basis changed to immorality and irreligion when God was banned.

Drug traffickers are robbing our kids of their future. Over 17,000 Texas high school seniors are daily drug users... an alarming statistic that merely scratches the surface.

Kids from age twelve to seventeen are the victims. Their innocence earns these criminals easy money. Now is the time to shut down this business in Texas. It won't be easy. Dealers are just the bottom of the drug dealing pyramid. These pushers get their drugs from the kingpins... those at the top of the network... the drug traffickers.

Drug dealing to minors is a hideous crime and those criminals must be stopped. A joint effort by law enforcement and concerned citizens is necessary in declaring war on drug traffickers. There are no absolute answers but a major step has been taken. A statewide anti-crime hotline is answered 24-hours a day. This hotline is designed to aid law enforcement in a crackdown on drug traffickers.

For the month of February, the Crime Stoppers Advisory Council is focusing its statewide "Crime of the Month" on drug trafficking. Any citizen having information about major drug trafficking is asked to call Texas Crime Stoppers at 1-800-252-TIPS. Cash rewards are available for information leading to the arrest and indictment of criminals. Citizens do not have to reveal their names, just their information, and they will be given a unique code number for identification purposes.

City receives rebates from drink sales

The city of Muenster has received $860.72 from Comptroller Bob Bullock as its rebate for mixed drink tax collections here during the last quarter of 1982. A tax of 10 percent on mixed drinks is collected by the Alcoholic Beverage Commission and 15 percent rebates on that amount are sent out by the comptroller to the cities and counties where the collections are made.

Bullock said the total mixed drink tax received by the state during the quarter was $35.1 million and the total rebate to the 221 counties and 410 cities where collected was $10.2 million. The remaining $24.9 was retained by the state.

The comptroller's statement revealed that Muenster's total revenue from mixed drink tax was $5,738.11 and the city's rebate was $860.72. Also Gainesville's total tax was $1,145.13 and its rebate was $1,521.77 and Lindsay had a total tax of $20,398.81 for a rebate of $3,059.82. Total mixed drink tax collected in the county was $41,019.28 and its rebate was $6,152.89.

Income tax reminders Unemployment income may be taxable

Taxpayers receiving unemployment compensation in 1982 may be required to include some or all of the money they received as income when filing their federal tax return, the Internal Revenue Service says.

Generally, unemployment compensation payments are taxable, in whole or in part, if the total adjusted gross income, including unemployment compensation, exceeds $12,000 for single taxpayers or $18,000 for married taxpayers filing a joint return. Married taxpayers filing separate returns must report all unemployment compensation regardless of their adjusted gross income levels.

Unemployment benefits totaling $10 or more during the calendar year are reported to the IRS by the agency making the payments. The agency should furnish a record of payments made to the taxpayer on Form 1099-UC by the end of January 1983.

Detailed information regarding the computation of the tax on unemployment compensation is contained in IRS Publication 905, Tax Information on Unemployment Compensation, which is available free by using the order blank in the tax package.

Sick pay is taxable income

Taxpayers who become sick or injured on the job and receive sick pay benefits from their employer must include the payments as income on their federal tax return, the Internal Revenue Service says.

The payments are taxable whether they were made directly by the employer or from a welfare fund, a state sickness or disability fund or an insurance company, provided the plan was paid for by the employer.

Benefits received under an accident or health insurance policy for which the employee paid the premiums are not considered taxable by the IRS.

More information on sick pay benefits is contained in the free IRS Publication 525, "Taxable and Nontaxable Income," which can be ordered on the handy order form in the tax package.

Itemizing deductions may save tax dollars

Double check, the IRS says. You may pay less tax by filing Form 1040 because you can claim itemized deductions that cannot be claimed on Form 1040A or 1040EZ. Charitable contributions, interest, certain nonbusiness taxes, medical and dental expenses, certain losses, and other expenses may be itemized as deductions on Schedule A (Form 1040).

Silver anniversary celebration held for Dickie & Norma Cain

A surprise silver anniversary party to honor Dickie and Norma Cain, following a wedding celebration for their son Scott and Mary Jane Cavnar, could add up to, as the song says, "The End of a Perfect Day."

It happened on Saturday night, Jan. 29 beginning with the wedding in Ardmore in Southwest Baptist Church, a reception in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Cavnar and a drive to Muenster, to attend, they thought, a birthday party for Rita Richey and Jan Cain.

When Dickie and Norma Cain arrived at the Knights of Columbus Hall, they were met by a large number of relatives and friends, who made arrangements for the second party.

A silver bells theme decorated the reception room where buffet tables held a bountiful array of beautiful foods. The anniversary cake, by Betty Rose Walterscheid and the birthday cake for Rita and Jan were on a table with a silver punch service. Guest tables had special silver decorations, as did the anniversary gifts table.

Guests danced to music by the Cherry Rhones of Wichita Falls and enjoyed a fifth-generation program by young Hogans, accompanied on the piano by their grandmother, Donna Hogan Volkman of Burleson.

Norma and Dickie Cain were married in Sacred Heart Church on Feb. 5, 1968. She is the former Norma Klement, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Klement. He is the son of Mrs. Eula Grace Cain and the late Richard Cain.

They are parents of four children, Mrs. Lynn (Tami) Davis of Marietta; and Troy, Scott and Shawna of Ardmore. There is one grandchild, Stacie Davis. Dickie is owner of Ardmore Livestock Auction.

Ultrasound devices studied for harmful pregnancy effects

Medical researchers at two American universities and one in Britain have launched a three-year study to determine if ultrasound devices widely used in pregnancy diagnosis and on muscle injuries have any harmful side effects.

Dr. David Gross, a Texas A&M University veterinary scientist, emphasized that no evidence exists of any ill effects from ultrasound scans used on pregnant women, or on patients who have their injuries treated with the devices.

In pregnancy diagnosis, ultrasound operates on the same principle as World War II sonar to produce a "picture" from inside the womb by measuring sound waves which are transmitted and bounced back.

Cub Scouting — Enriching young lives

At Cub Scout Day Camp there were "Fun and Games" most assuredly but there was "Physical Fitness," too in this "Tug of War." Janie Hartman photo

Scouting anniversaries to be celebrated at Sunday service

Observing the 73rd anniversary of the origin of Boy Scouts of America and the 53rd anniversary of Cub Scouts, members of Muenster's Cub Pack 664 and Scout Troop 664 will hold a special ceremony next Sunday, Feb. 6 at the 11 a.m. Mass in Sacred Heart Church. The liturgy will feature presentation of religious medals earned by five Scouts while they were Webelos. After the church service, Cub Scouts and their families, along with invited guests, will have a banquet in the VFW Hall.

Muenster Cub Scouts earned the Summer Time Pack award for 1982 by participating in 3 summer time fun events. During the summer months, they picked up litter and trash 3 times a week in the City Park, another group of boys mowed the newly developed Mid-Park, downtown. Pack 664 Cub Scouts were involved at Harvest Hoedown, and prepared a float for the Christmas Parade. Community involvement plays a big part in the Cub Scout program.

Their annual fun time events, include a "Turkey Shoot" in November, A "Pinewood Derby" car race, and a bicycle safety rodeo in spring and, Summer Day Camp held at the Muenster City Park. They also take part in the Longhorn Council Scout Show in Fort Worth, where for the past 2 years they have earned the "President's Award".

Muenster can be proud of its Cub Scout Pack, their leaders, and their parents. Scouting is an important tradition. A Cub Scout display will be set up at Hamric's and The Charm Shop windows on Monday, February 7, showing pictures and crafts made by the boys.

Scouts work on merit badges; plan February 18 camp-out

The local Scouts are concluding final requirements for the Environmental Science merit badge with their counselor, John Bartush, and they have started work on the Communications merit badge with Mrs. Juanita Bright counseling.

Reece Parton, a recent addition to the Sacred Heart School faculty, is the troop's new assistant scoutmaster working with Scoutmaster Waylen Poole and Assistant Scoutmaster John Walterscheid. Parton comes into the troop with an extensive background in scouting, including the rank of Eagle and the Ad Altari Dei award. He was introduced to the Scout committee at its January meeting and was appointed the assistant scoutmaster at that meeting.

The troop will participate in a special Scout anniversary ceremony Sunday, Feb. 6, 11 a.m., in Sacred Heart Church. Rehearsal will be held Saturday, Feb. 5, 1:30 p.m.

The next Scout camp-out is scheduled February 18, 19, 20 at the Bartush campsite on Red River. The scouts have an opportunity to attend a special merit badge work day in Denton February 26 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. Every required merit badge except swimming and lifesaving will be offered. The event is considered an excellent opportunity for the boys to make progress on the more difficult required badges. Additional information will be available soon.

Cowboy Doc boosts Hereford bull sale

The Wichita Falls Record News found something good to say about the Dallas Cowboys' loss to the Washington Redskins. Indirectly it upped the average sale price of Hereford bulls at the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show. Since the Cowboys were eliminated, their team physician, Dr. Marvin Knight, was out of a job at the Superbowl, so he chose to attend the Stock Show, and paid $7,500, the day's top price, for a Hereford bull.

Junior football applicants invited

Boys of the third, fourth, fifth and sixth grades who are interested in playing Boys Club football will have to act soon to be included in this year's program. Larry Holloway, who is assisting the Gainesville Boys Club, said that the deadline is near for those who want to start in September.

He includes herewith a form to be completed and turned in on or before the next meeting night on February 15 in the city hall at 7:30. To excuse the sponsors from liability in case of accident, the applications need the signature of parents. The following form may be used.

Name _____
 Address _____
 Phone No. _____ Will be in grade _____
 Parent's signature _____

Mail to Larry Holloway, Box 129, Muenster, Tx. 76252 or bring in person to the city hall.

WITH YOUR ENERGY AID CONTRIBUTION, YOU CAN GET A WARM FEELING IN YOUR HEART.

AND HELP OTHERS SIMPLY GET WARM.

Right now across Texas there are people who, for whatever reason, are having a hard time heating their homes. But now there's a program where you can help.

What we're talking about is the Energy Aid Program. It's sponsored by your electric company and this is how it works. You'll get a pledge card in this month's electric service bill. Make your pledge and send it in with your bill. Your tax-deductible contribution will be collected by the electric company and sent to us and other charitable agencies in the area.

When we get the money, we'll give it to those who need it most. To pay for natural gas, propane, electricity or even a cord of wood if that's the only means of heating. The funds may even be used to make emergency minor repairs to heating and cooling systems.

So you see how much your contribution could do. Pledge today. Someone needs your help. And you could probably use the warm feeling it will give you.

Space Center director is Texas A&M graduate

COLLEGE STATION — The new director of the Johnson Space Center (JSC) in Houston, a graduate of Texas A&M University, forms another link in a long association between the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) and Texas A&M.

Gerald D. Griffin, former deputy director of the Kennedy Space Center in Florida and the Dryden Flight Research Center in California, received his degree in aerospace engineering from Texas A&M in 1956. He will take over the position held for the past 10 years by Christopher C. Kraft. Kraft had been a visiting professor at Texas A&M.

Among the links in the long-standing relationship with the university, NASA provided funds to build the Olin E. Teague Research Center on the Texas A&M campus. The visitor center at JSC was named in memory of Teague last summer.

Texas A&M's research association with NASA spans more than a decade, with the space agency funding projects at a level of about half a million dollars annually. Texas A&M also held, until last year, the longest running contract ever granted to a university by NASA.

Legislature program set

The Texas Public Broadcasting Association, composed of nine public television stations and 8 public radio stations statewide, has announced it is carrying a weekly half-hour wrap-up program on actions of the Texas Legislature this year on television.

"Many states already have programs on their respective legislative bodies. We believe it is time for Texans to have an opportunity to take a look at their own legislative process," said Bill Giorda, president of TPBA.

The program features three Austin-based political journalists who will discuss the issues and events of that week's session.

The Texas Report originates from Austin Friday nights and can be seen on nine Texas public television stations. Viewers in public broadcast areas should check their local listings for times.

IN THANKS

THANKSGIVING Novena to St. Jude. Oh Holy St. Jude, Apostle and Martyr, great virtue and rich in miracles; Near kinsman of Jesus Christ; Faithful intercessor of all who invoke your special patronage in time of need. I have recourse to you from the depth of my heart and humbly beg, you to whom God has given such great power, to come to my assistance. Help me in my present and urgent petition. In return I promise to make your name known and cause you to be invoked. Say 3 Our Fathers, 3 Hail Marys and Glorias. St. Jude, pray for us and all who invoke your aid. Amen.

Publication must be promised. This novena has never been known to fail. Adv. 11-2C1P

My sincere thanks to Dr. Knight, Dr. Juarez, Fr. Victor, Fr. Placidus and Fr. Denis and Bishop Dangelmayr, to all my relatives and friends for visits, flowers, phone calls and cards; to all who showed friendship and to the great nurses who took care of me. Thanks to all who helped in any way. Special thanks to Ben for great care. All my family joins me in thanking you. May God bless you.

Mrs. Ben Haverkamp 11-1C1

We wish to thank everyone who helped us during the past several weeks. Our gratitude is expressed to the wonderful nurses of Muenster Memorial Hospital, to Dr. Juarez, Father Victor, Father Denis and Bishop Dangelmayr. Also to Joan Walterscheid for special instructions concerning Al's special diet, and to Bud and Donnie Boydston who took care of our sheep and relieved us of many worries. Also to our family for their special concern and to all who sent cards or visited.

Al (Lee) and Mary Haverkamp 11-1C1

My sincere appreciation is extended to all those who visited me, and for the many cards and calls received while I was a patient in Westgate Hospital. Your concern and many acts of friendship aided greatly my recovery.

Especially thoughtful were the priests and the deacon of Immaculate Conception Church, Denton, and their kindnesses I truly appreciate.

Hilda Self 11-1C1

County Agent's Report

Recently we received new brucellosis information from the Texas Animal Health Commission, and a main portion of the regulations encourage vaccination for brucellosis control.

The regulations that have gone into effect in Texas apply to cattle being shipped into Texas as well as cattle being moved intrastate.

The two-area program for Texas has become Class B and Class C, effective January 12. The Class B area is composed of 140 counties in the western half of the state, and the Class C area is composed of 114 counties in the eastern and coastal areas of Texas. These areas were previously known as the Class A control and Class B control areas. It has also come to our attention that Cooke County is presently under emergency status, and we are considered in the new B area.

New vaccination requirements for cattle entering either area of Texas from out-side the state include:

After July 1, 1983, female breeding cattle four months of age or older must have been vaccinated before entering Texas with these exceptions:

- a. Cattle from a certified free herd.
- b. Cattle being shown in fairs or exhibitions
- c. Cattle from commuter herds.
- d. Cattle for slaughter or quarantine feedlot.

Female cattle four months of age or older born after January 1, 1983, must have been vaccinated when moving from one area to another in Texas, while those born before that date can move within Texas without having been vaccinated.

Cattle born after January 1, 1983, changing ownership within the C area must have two negative tests at least 60 days apart unless they have been officially vaccinated. Officially vaccinated heifers of dairy breeds under 20 months and beef breeds under 24 months which have not calved and are not pregnant are exempt from test. Non-vaccinated female cattle entering either B or C area of Texas from a Class C state or area require two negative tests 60 days apart until July 1 of this year, after which all females will need to have been vaccinated.

With these new regulations, it seems even more important to continue calving vaccination of beef and dairy heifers by Cooke County producers.

A dutch treat lunch will be served. Dairymen in Cooke County are urged to attend.

PIK participation gives farmers increase in FCIC guarantees

Farmers who participate in the Payment-in-Kind (PIK) program are eligible for increased insurance guarantees on insured wheat, corn, grain sorghum, rice, and upland cotton at no extra cost, says F.W. "Ted" Crouch, Jr., Director for the College Station Field Operations Office of the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation (FCIC).

To encourage the widest participation possible in the PIK program, FCIC will accept downward revisions of previously reported acres and increase the per acre guarantee on the remaining acreage. Downward revisions of acreage reports may be made until March 11, 1983.

For the 1983 crop year only, insurance guarantees on the eligible crops will be increased by the following proportions: a 6 percent increase for acreage reductions of 10 to 19 percent; an 8 percent increase for reductions of 20-29 percent; and a 10 percent increase in acreage reduced on 30 percent. "Percentage reductions are calculated for acreage reductions above the regular farm program set aside," Crouch says.

Farmers may participate in the PIK acreage reduction on one farm and not another. "Any increase in coverage," says Crouch, "will be in effect for the farm selected for PIK participation, without affecting the guarantee or premium on the other insured farm(s)."

"Upon acceptance of the revised acreage report, the premium will be recomputed on the reduced acreage and the per acre guarantee will be increased for the remaining acreage," Crouch states.

Under a bid arrangement, farmers may reduce the entire acreage to zero. In that case, a zero acreage report may be made to the agent by March 11. Farmers should verify acceptance of the bid with their agent by March 18. If the bid is not accepted, the farmer remains insured for the acreage intended for harvest.

"Insured farmers should contact the local agent authorized to service their FCIC policy before March 11 to report any downward revisions on insured acreage and to gain the advantage of the increased protection," Crouch says.

Grades K-4 see "Kids on the Block"

The Kids on the Block visited grades K-4 of Muenster Public School recently.

They are large puppets, operated without strings. The operator's hands control the puppet's mouth and arm and leg movements.

Used in programs in schools, particularly, the puppets and their behavior are designed to foster understanding of handicapped people. "Because the puppets are handicapped in some way," explained Mrs. Barbara Marshall, director of the Cooke County Special Education Co-op and Mrs. Margaret Plumlee, co-director of the Voluntary Action Center.

The "kids" of Kids on the Block are indeed handicapped, but their program emphasizes many things they can do. The kids are Mandy, who is deaf, speaks only a little, but communicates with sign language and gets the audience involved in learning some signs. There is Mark, in a wheel chair who has cerebral palsy, but excels in math and science. There is Melody with a visual impairment, whose brothers tease and torment her.

There is Reynaldo who is blind, but plays baseball with a buzzer ball. There is Ellen Jane who is retarded, but at age 19 graduated in a work-study program and works in the animal hospital. And there is one who thinks she is fat and that is her "hang-up." And Jennifer, who is learning-disabled and wears a ring on her right hand to distinguish it from her left. She is also a victim of teasing.

All of the "kids" go to school and have added problems because their classmates "don't understand them."

It has been the experience of those presenting the program, that children in the audience become so attentive and involved that they hardly notice the operators who wear black to help minimize their presence. After the program the students may ask questions of the puppets.

"Hopefully," commented Mrs. Marshall, "there won't be so much misunderstanding of the handicapped in the future, if we start (with the children) in educating the public."

History of folk music at CCC

Some of the best lessons in American history can be learned to the accompaniment of a guitar or banjo, according to Merlin Mitchell of Cooke County College.

Mitchell will be proving his point in a special non-credit course in the history of folk music to be offered through CCC's Division of Continuing Education beginning February 17.

The course, scheduled to meet from 7 to 9 p.m. on Thursday evenings through May 5, will include a survey of the history of folk and country music from the British ballads to modern country and western songs.

"The best way to really appreciate this music is to listen to it being performed and to perform it yourself," says Mitchell. "For that reason, the class will feature extensive musical demonstrations."

The course will explore such categories of folk music as the war eras, the movement of the frontier, the cattle trails, lumberjacks, sea chanteys, mining and oil field ballads, folk hymns and hurrican and other "disaster" generated songs.

Cost of participating in the course will be $20 per person.

To enroll, interested persons may come by the CCC Division of Continuing Education Office in Room 120 on campus, or they may call 817-668-7731 or Metro 430-0352, extension 220.

Every year we set aside a special week to celebrate an extremely important aspect of the Church's catechetical apostolate. This year this special week, Catholic Schools week, is Feb. 6 through Feb. 11.

The theme for this year is "In God we trust and teach." As Catholics we are sincerely appreciative of our country, which does not stand in the way of our right to religious freedom. As Catholic educators we teach our students a love and awareness of our American heritage. Additionally, and more importantly, we teach our students that no matter where we live, or what our material state, God loves and cares for us. We can truly trust in our God.

Principal asks support for priests on retreat

Dear Students and Parents:

Recently, the priests of our diocese began a special program of spiritual renewal, the Emmaus Program. Phase one of this program, a Presbyterial Assembly, has already been completed. Phase two will take place Feb. 27-Mar. 17 as the priests make retreats at Monserrat Retreat House. During this phase of their renewal, all the priests need our encouragement. The Prayer Committee of the Emmaus Program has asked that we send letters of prayerful encouragement to the priests while they are on retreat.

Each of our religion classes will be asked to participate in this letter writing campaign. Additionally, I ask that each family take the time to send a note of encouragement to our priests, Fr. Denis and Fr. Victor, as they make their retreat.

Although we don't know specifically when they will make their retreat, letters sent to the retreat house will be held for them.

The address is Fr. Denis Soerries or Fr. Victor Gillespie, Emmaus Program, Monserrat Retreat House, Box 398 Lake Dallas, Tx. 75065.

SH teams head for TCIL tourney

In spite of being nudged out of the TCIL race by Alamo High of Amarillo, Sacred Heart has returned to the competition and will participate in a district tournament this weekend at Wichita Falls hosted by Notre Dame.

The Tigers are playing as alternates since Alamo decided to bow out and give its spot to Sacred Heart.

The tourney will include four girls teams and four boys teams. In the girls division Notre Dame and Tyler Gorman play first and Sacred Heart meets St. John's in the next, then the winners of those games play for the tournament title. Sacred Heart and Gorman play first in the boys division and Notre Dame meets St. John's in the second. Then the two winners meet for the title.

During the past week the Tigerettes were involved in TCIL activity twice but the Tigers, not yet invited to take Alamo's place, were idle twice.

All alone under the goal, Anne Felderhoff has an easy shot against the Tyler Gorman team.

Last Wednesday SH girls defeated ND 57-44 at Nocona for the zone title and Saturday they mauled St. John's 60-24 at Lewisville for the league title.

A strong first quarter for a 25-13 lead seemed to set the margin of Sacred Heart's win at Nocona. Remaining quarters were near even with SH leading 34-23, 44-29 and 57-44. Susan Walterscheid led the way with 30 points and 15 rebounds. Marilynn Hartman had 10 points and 16 rebounds, Anne Felderhoff scored 11, Sandra Walterscheid 4 and Laurie Endres 2.

The Tigerettes were at the season's peak in running away from St. John's 60-24. With a season record of 19-5 and a TCIL record of 5-1, they appear to be shaping up for another trip to the state playoffs. Again Susan Walterscheid was the MVP with 28 points, 17 rebounds and 5 steals. Anne Felderhoff scored 18, Sandra Walterscheid 6 and Laurie Endres 4.

MHS wins three of four games

Heading down the home stretch of the district schedule, Muenster teams improved their record in their two double headers of last week. Each has a 5-4 standing and another game to play before the district tournament.

Lindsay girls continued their perfect record with an easy 40-21 win. The Hornets were in contention the first half, trailing only 17-13, but then Lindsay turned on the power, outscoring MHS 23-8 in the second half. Rita Walterscheid led Muenster scoring with 10 and Stephanie Richey hit 6.

The boys' game was more of a contest as MHS led by 4 at the first quarter and by 5 at the end. Scores by periods were 10-6, 18-14, 28-22 and 41-36. Kevin Felderhoff hit 18 of the points, Wayne Carroll 12 and Ronnie Fisher 7.

Hosting Alvord, the Hornets were busy protecting their small margin. After a 2-2 first quarter they took a 10-6 half time lead and gained a point in the second half by leads of 15-11 and 28-23. Top scorers were Rita Walterscheid 10, Shelly Zimmerman 7 and Stephanie Richey 5.

Fisher 6, Jay Mollenkopf 2. Each of the double headers was preceded by a junior varsity game. JV girls of Lindsay followed the varsity example and ran away from Muenster in a 58-37 win. MHS scorers were Dana Dankesreiter 17 and Deanna Walterscheid 14.

Alvord JV boys also were in command but less decisively. They started by trailing 12-9 and led 29-20 and 46-30 in the second and third. In the fourth the Hornets took up some of the slack and ended at the short end of 54-47.

A First Texas 80's Report: On Investment Options.

"No matter what interest rates do in the future, First Texas has the right plan now."

Will interest rates go up? Or will they go down? These days, nobody knows for sure. But one thing you can be sure of is your options. And First Texas has just the right plan for you, no matter what you think interest rates will do in the future.

Take advantage of rising interest rates with Money Maker Plus.

If you think interest rates will rise, you'll want the First Texas Money Maker Plus account. This short-term investment gives you the high interest of a money market fund. Plus, there's one big difference: it offers an escalating interest rate, so the more you invest, the higher your interest rate. And throughout 1982, First Texas interest rates on similar investments were consistently higher than average rates of money market funds.

Under	$2,500	$2,500	$5,000	$10,000	$50,000
Deposits:	5.25%	9.00%	9.25%	9.50%	9.75%

These sample rates illustrate the increments of this investment. Actual interest rates will probably differ and may vary daily.

There are more pluses with this account: Your principal and interest are insured safe up to $100,000 by the FSLIC. You can open an account with a minimum deposit of only $2,500. You can write checks, pre-authorize drafts, and make additional deposits or withdrawals of $500 or more.

Plus, when you open this account, you can receive a free First Texas regular checking account for one year. You also have no activity or management fees, and you even receive a monthly statement.

Lock in a current interest rate with Money Market Certificates.

If you think interest rates will fall in the future, First Texas has a choice of long-term Money Market Certificates.* These investments are a safe way to lock in a current money market interest rate for either two and a half, four, six, eight or even ten years.

You can start with an opening deposit as small as $500. And you know your investment is safe because the First Texas Money Market Certificates are insured by the FSLIC. Plus, there's an insured, 6-month Certificate with a minimum opening deposit of only $2,500.

Long or short term. The choice is yours.

The fact is, no matter what you think interest rates will do, First Texas has a plan that's right for you, right now. Come into the First Texas office nearest you today to open an account.

Or call this toll-free number: (800) 442-1256; or in Dallas, call 458-4790 and they'll open it over the phone.

First Texas. They can make the most of your money. And that's what beating the 80's is all about.

Yes, I want to open a new high-yield investment.
