Future Farmers excel FFA Chili Supper and Muenster FFA wins district sweepstakes Auction a big success

On Monday, Nov. 14, the Muenster FFA won sweepstakes at the district leadership contest held in Decatur. The day proved to be a success. Muenster won first place in four of the eight contests. First place teams included: Nicki Shotwell, Creed Speaking; Chris Kubis, Doug Hennigan, Mike Gobble, and Rex Huchton, FFA Quiz; Greenhand Farm Skill members were Jim Eckart, Mike Vogel and Jason Biffle; Greenhand Conducting Team members were Steven Fisher, Justin Ramsey, Connie Black, Kelli Ford, Joey Serna, Jennifer Lippe, Jannet Reeves, DeAnn Hamilton and Misty Vogel. These four teams will advance to Area V Competition this Satur-day at ETSU in Commerce.

Other teams competing and their plaques were: Chapter Farmer Conducting, 4th; Chapter Farmer Farm Skills, 4th; Extem-poraneous Speaking, 4th; and FFA Radio Team, 6th.

Last Saturday proved to be a huge success for the FFA members of Muenster. With support of the community, the goal was met of raising funds for the years ac-tivities. In all, over $5,000 was raised.

The evening began at 4:00 with all the leadership teams perform-ing their contest that they would on Monday in Decatur. Many of the parents were on hand to see the deventersteries. the demonstrations. At 5:30, chili was served in the school cafeteria. Gertie Wimmer, Herkey Biffle added spice to the auction as the bidders took part. In all, over eighty lots were sold which added greatly to the success advancing the aims and purposes of the FFA. They look forward to future events involving the community.

Muenster United Way donations near double

Last year, contributions to the Cooke County United Way in Muenster totaled about $4,500.00. On Wednesday, local fund drive chairperson, Mattie Swirczynski, reported that Muenster gave

$8,100.00 this year. Reaching the set goal has been tough, however, because last year's $5,000.00 was raised to $10,000.00 this year. Mrs. Swirczynski expressed her sincere thanks to her helpers and all the contributions. She noted that three Muenster firms met 100% of their quotas with each employee in the business donating: Muenster En-terprise, Muenster Telephone Co. and Valenite.

Cooke County Campaign Chairperson Sharon Driggers said Wednesday that the county total so far was $186,828.00, topping the goal of $172,000.00. Last year, the county gave $170,000.00. Driggers said Muenster should be proud of nearly doubling their previous total, especially considering the condition of the energy industry and the economy in general. Dear Editor and Residents of the Community:

The ravages of Diabetes is of special concern to many people in the country as one person in 20 is stricken with this disease an its serious consequences, and no one knows whose family will be hurt next.

Many have donated money over the years and much research has gon into finding a cure—but nothing really positive has come out of it since the discovery of insulin which controls but does not of the reasons why we have sus-tained that heritage - the American Veteran. A significant event occurred in world history on the 11th hour of the 11th day of the 11th month of 1918. All became quiet on the Western Front. Nearly five million Americans had donned a uniform to serve during the "war to end all wars," and 116,000 of them lost their lives. For 70 years this nation has taken time to remember and honor its veterans on this special day. So as we gather across our country today, we continue a tradition that has been with us for many years. And it is certainly proper that we do so again this year. Our veterans deserve our thanks and our respect. They have been there when they were needed at every stage of history. We should reflect on the great debt we owe all of our veterans. The lives of more than one million should reflect on the great debt we owe all of our veterans. The lives of more than one million Americans have been part of the price. So have the dedication and sacrifices of the 27 million veterans who are living today. There's something pure about ideals that have been tempered by sacrifice for America. The strength of those principles is cer-tain when they've been tested in the rigors of battle. And ideals that stir the hearts of our nation's veterans have permanence. You veterans have permanence. You can see that in the youngest men and women in our ranks - those who still wear the uniform of our who shill wear the uniform of our armed forces. Take the Americans who serve in the Persian Gulf to-day, for example, in their commit-ment, you'll see a mirror image of the patriots who fought under George Washington in the Revolu-tionary War.

A grass roots movement began this summer in Omaha, Nebraska, and is sweeping the nation to declare November 20, 1988, as an Interderominational Day of Prayer to call upon God with a united voice and pray in churches and synagoques, prayer groups, and individually that a cure for Diabetes might be granted to our measurch people. arch people.

The help of concerned individuals in your community is desperately needed to get the word out to friends and relatives in other areas that they might urge their churches or synagogues, relatives, and friends to participate. Remember, it is strictly a grass roots movement with no central organization which is relying on the help of many concerned individuals. PLEASE CLIP THIS LETTER AND SEND IT TO OTHERS TO HELP SPREAD THE WORD OF THE NOVEMBER 20, 1988, FRAYER DAY FOR THE CURE OF DIABETES.

The idealism of men and women under arms has been with us since the beginning. In many ways, veterans have continued to serve long after the guns of war

As individuals, all of us change as we grow older. None of us is the same young person who bore arms on the soil of France, the South Pacific, the Chosin Reservoir or the Mekong Delta. If age had not the Mekong Delta. If age had not changed us, the history of this cen-tury certainly would have, this in-credible century has changed credible century has changed everything. We may view that change as good or bad. We can focus on the massive growth and progress of 20th century laid at our feet. Or we can choose to look at the pain and conflict of this century. Surely all of that is present, and all of it has affected veterans. But one constant remains even as Lee the has affected veterans. But one constant remains even as I see the change that life has wrought in me, in my nation, and in the human race. And I see that cons-tant in my fellow veterans. Some forces are too compelling, too true to ever change. So it is with hearts of the men and women of honor who have served this nation so who have served this nation so well and I know, too, that the same rock-solid belief I have is shared by millions of Americans. The unchanging nature of the pride grows more important to me each year. All of us have had our faith in mankind badly shaken by the deceifful or dishonest action of others. Our faith in our friends, our neighbors, our communities and our government have all been tested at one time or another. Our nation's call to service for many of us was the ultimate test of faith. Those who served America honorably and well passed that ultimate test. And that is something that can never be taken away from America's veterans. The extraordinary thing is, America continues to produce such men and women, true patriots continue to step forward. Today's Army, Navy, Air Force and Marine Corps are rich with young people of absolute convic-tion, unwavering duty. They cherish, just as dearly as their parents, the special privilege of be-ing an American, and the special duties which that citizenship re-quires. They clearly see their obligations and enthusiastically embrace their challenges. The meeting agenda includes a review of the 100-point system, discussing the ways to draw statewide publicity, developing a mascot character and theme, com-ing up with a float for the Centen-nial Parade, and developing a reward system for those who help pick up other peoples trash. Tigerettes drop opener to Eagles yea a 24 game Tigerette winning streak. Valley View jumped out to an early 11-7 lead and a 27-23 advan-tage at the half. Vickie Schmitt paced the Tigeretts with 11 first half points. The third frame was all Valley View as the Eagles upped their lead to as many as 10 before the Tigerettes cut the deficit to 8 at the quarter.

Sacred Heart's Tigerettes tipped off the 1988-1989 basketball season on a sour note Tuesday evening as the Valley View Eagles soared over the Tigerettes by 48-46 count. The Valley View win snap-ped a 24 game Tigerette winning streak.

The final period saw both teams exchange hoops with the never die Tigerettes mounting a charge in the final four minutes. The Tigerettes cut the 8 point lead down to one with 30 seconds re-maining but a Tigerette turnover resulted in a Valley View score to up the lead to three. A Lisa Hamric three point attempt fell short as she was fouled with one second remaining. Hamric canned the first and missed the second in hoping for rebound and a score. BACK TO WORK If office workers were fully ware of how poorly-designed chairs compromise the health of their backs, they would ask for new chairs instead of pay raises. People who must slump over desk work have more stress exerted on their discs and muscles of the lower back than with almost any other position. In fact, it is more difficult for the back muscles to maintain tention now to carry them through the winter in good shape. All of us know what a small for-tune we have invested in garden tools, equipment and supplies. So it just makes good sense to protect these investments. And it only takes a few minutes to do so. Here are some suggestions aim-ed at helping you winterize your lawn and garden equipment. Lawn mowers, rototillers, gasoline edgers: Run engine until empty. Do not leave gasoline in tank over winter unless owner's manual instructs you to do so. Add gas treatment if needed. Once engine has cooled, clean housing thoroughly, scraping off ac-cumulations of dirt and grass clip-pings. Disconnect spark plug wire. Remove and sharpen mower blade. Clean or replace air filter. Drain Oil. Tie a reminder tag on the handle to fill with oil in spring. Store in garage or storage building out of the weather. Rechargeable electric shears, out of the weather. Rechargeable electric shears, edgers, etc: Most of these pro-ducts suggest they be stored discharged. However, some avid gardeners recommend to recharge them fully and run them several times during the winter. Clean and
