The sidewalk idea has been getting in some good work in Clarendon lately. J. A. Barnett has just completed an elegant cement sidewalk on the north side of the Donley County Bank, which adds fifty per cent to the looks of the property. B. T. Lane has finished a similar walk in front of the Mickleburgher store, and McDaniel & Carroll have joined in on the chorus and extended this strip fifty feet further south along their front. Now comes the Martin-Bennett Co. with fifty feet, and the First National Bank with about a hundred feet surrounding their property. Let the good work go on.

The baseball games on the 3rd and 4th will be between the Clarendon and McLean teams. McLean is said to have a strong team this year, and will doubtless "interest" the local ball tossers. By the way, a big crowd of visitors is slated from the Gray county town on that occasion.

—Candies and fruits, all the market affords and the best only at the Clarendon Bakery.

A Pleasant Affair.

Mr. J. Dewitt Van Horn entertained a number of his friends, both lady and gentleman, at the opera house last Friday evening with a roller skating party. The affair was given in honor of Miss Lila E. McClelland. The skates were donned by those who have in the past learned to master them, about 8:30 o'clock, and a jolly time was had for a couple of hours when "lights out" was sounded and the entire party, escorted by the host, repaired to the Bon Ton Cafe where refreshments were served in elegant style. Those attending:

Messrs. and Mesdames J. B. McClelland, W. H. Patrick, F. D. Martin, J. E. Cooke, James Trent and W. H. Martin; Mesdames Rose Van Horn, C. O. Abernathy and Ben M. Terrell; Misses Lila E. McClelland, Elizabeth Martin, Maude and Mamie Harrington, Emily Gentry, Elizabeth Allen, Francis Cooke, Francis Collinson, Catherine and Harriet Chamberlain, Hazel Jefferies, Kittie Fleming and Bessie Barnett; Messrs J. BARNETT, SMITH & THORNTON.

The Banner-Stockman acknowledges a pleasant call Saturday from George Barragar, of Jericho, who was accompanied by Geo. W. Benedict, of Minnesota, who is visiting Mr. Barragar and Mrs. Capt. W. S. Lyons, his nephew and niece. Mr. Benedict is an old newspaper man of Sauk Rapids, Minn. He is now 85 years old, and is still quite hearty, having made the long trip to Texas alone. He likes the country here and thinks he will stay.

Surprise Party.

Mrs. C. O. Abernathy and her sister, Mrs. Ben M. Terrell, of Ft. Worth, who is visiting her, were surprised at their Clarendon Heights cottage last evening by a jolly party of young folks (and some old ones) who "just dropped in" to have a good time for the evening. The ladies were more than equal to the occasion, and in a very few moments the floors of the parlor and dining room were cleared and dancing was indulged in. Mrs. Terrell contributed generously to the entertainment of the evening by singing. She has an exceptionally sweet and strong voice.

Frank Kendall was in town the other day and said on account of the dry weather out his way it was the first opportunity he had had to report the arrival at his home on May 25th of a son and heir, who, for a new settler, is rapidly becoming acclimated and announces his intention of staying here and growing up with the country. Frank says a strip of country in his neighborhood has been badly neglected by the rainmakers this spring, but since he was here we understand J. Pluvius, Esq., has delivered the wet goods in copious quantities.

You will hereafter find Buster Brown in each issue of the Banner-Stockman. The Martin-Bennett Company, ever alive to the possibilities of effective advertising, have bought the exclusive rights for Clarendon to the famous Buster Brown system of advertising. Mr. Outcault furnishes the firm with a fresh drawing each week with which to illustrate the ads. Accompanying same is a special font of type, with letters like Buster makes on his bulletin board, this type to be used only in these ads. Watch for the ad each week.

The Clarendon Gun Club has sent out its program for the shoot on the 4th of July. There will be six events; three 20-rock, two 15-rock and one 10-rock, and the money will be divided on the per cent basis, 20, 30 and 50, the 20 per cent going to the low man. This is done to encourage the low-score men and insure sufficient entries to make the occasion pleasant. The shoot will take place in the afternoon of the 4th, beginning at 2:00 o'clock, at the shooting range near the picnic grounds. Visitors will be welcome.

Mr. Smythe, representing the Southwestern Paper Co., of Dallas, was here Saturday and sold the Banner-Stockman 100 bundles of news print. A significant feature of the purchase, illustrating the rapid advance in the price of paper stock, is that the paper costs us nearly one dollar per hundred more than on the occasion of our last purchase last December. If this thing continues the reading public (everybody) may expect an advance in the price of all periodicals.

Clarendon Chapter No. 216, Royal Arch Masons, at last regular meeting elected the following officers: J. W. Morrison, H. P.; W. P. Powell, K.; G. W. Baker, S.; W. H. Patrick, treasurer; Wade Willis, secretary. The Blue Lodge meets tonight and will elect officers for the ensuing year.

ANOTHER BIG ENTERPRISE

Texas Parties Figuring on a Flouring Mill with Meal and Feed Attachments for Clarendon.

COLLINSVILLE, Texas, May 28. ALEXANDER & COLE, Clarendon, Texas.

Gentlemen:—On my return home I was talking with a thorough grain man about the proposition of locating an up-to-date mill and elevator at Clarendon. We will put in a 50-barrel flouring mill, a 25,000-lb. corn meal mill, and a Williamson crusher, that will grind up all kinds of feed. Will handle Kafir corn, stalk fodder, in fact we will make a market for all kinds of farm products in way of grain, hay, fodder, etc. All will be done right at the plant in the town and will furnish employment for quite a number of people as well as a market for the farmer.

The plant will cost $15,000. We will take $10,000, and if the people of Clarendon will take the remaining $5,000, stock, we will put in the plant. Please let me hear what the outlook is at an early date.

Yours Respt., J. G. CAMPBELL.

ST. MARY'S ACADEMY

Commencement Exercises Greeted by Large Crowds and Excellent Training Shown.

The commencement exercises of St. Mary's Academy were in progress the first of the week and a great many visitors from other towns have been in the city in attendance. The various exercises have served to show a most careful system of training on the part of the Sisters and a corresponding share of application and progress on the part of the pupils as a whole.

Tuesday morning the art levee was held at the convent and a large number of the town people took advantage of the opportunity to inspect a handsome showing of specimens of painting by the various methods. There were also on exhibition many pieces of fancy work of various kinds, and in both lines the work was pronounced splendid.

Tuesday night at opera house an entertainment was given for which a small admission fee was charged to defray expenses, etc. The feature of this entertainment was the five act Roman drama, "Cornelia, the Vestal." A remarkable fact in connection with the production of this play was that notwithstanding its length and difficult language not one time did any of the pupils taking part make a bobbie of any kind. There was no forgetting of lines, no embarrassment of any kind; and in several instances, notably that of Miss Stella Ryan who essayed the part of the Roman Empress, exceptional histrionic ability was shown.

The house was packed and the entire performance well received. The program:

Chorus, "Music and Her Sister, Song," pupils.

Bridal Bells, Drumbheller, Misses Shaughnessy, Lyons, Myers and Ramsey.
Vocal solo, "Blind Girl to Her Harp," Glover, Miss Ryan.

Pantomime, Minims.

Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock the graduating exercises were held at the opera house and almost equally as large a crowd witnessed the same. The program as published in these columns last week was presented and some features of it were pronounced extraordinarily pretty. The graduates this year in the literary department were: Misses Stella Ryan, C. Slaughnessy, Ethel Myers, Pattie Morgan and Albinia Page. Master A. Asher was also a graduate of the business department.

The Mother Superior reports quite a successful year for the Academy and looks forward to still better things in the future.

Every Man His Own Doctor.

The average man cannot afford to employ a physician for every slight ailment or injury that may occur in his family, nor can he afford to neglect as so slight an injury often causes the loss of a limb. Hence every man must, from necessity, be his own doctor for this class of ailments. Success often depends upon prompt treatment, which can only be had when suitable medicines are kept at hand. Chamberlain's Remedies have been in the market for many years and enjoy a good reputation.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for bowel complaint.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough.

Chamberlain's Pain Balm (an antiseptic liniment) for cuts, bruises, burns, sprains, swellings, lame backs and rheumatic pains.

Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets for constipation, biliousness and stomach troubles.

Chamberlain's Salve for diseases of the skin.

One bottle of each of these five preparations costs but $1.25. For sale by all druggists.

The Public School.

Indications point to a larger and better organized public school for Clarendon than she has had heretofore. The scholastic census when completed foots up exactly 500, which is 66 more than last year. This number not only justifies, but demands that another teacher be added to the faculty of last year.

The scholastic census of last year was 434, while the enrollment was 510, showing conclusively the public school is keeping pace with the increasing population of the town. The large enrollment is due partly to transfers from other districts in the county, there being 25 of these last year.

It is well to note that there are no duplicate enrollments in the public school for they do not take into account the specialties, as music and elocution, that are taught to their students.

The board of trustees is considering plans to provide for this growth of the school, and there can be little doubt that by fall every accommodation will be provided for the comfort of those who attend. Under the present prosperous condition the enrollment next year will reach, if not exceed, 600.

Two new teachers have been employed both of whom rank among the best obtainable, and perhaps two more will be employed yet, to complete the faculty for the coming term. While Clarendon's public school has always been considered good, there seems to be little doubt of the fact that a wider field with more effective plans for the future of the school are taking shape.

The Summer Normal.

The summer normal, which is to open here June the 25th, gives promise of being the largest ever held here. Prof. Silvey and the other members of the faculty are receiving inquiries by nearly every mail, and many of them from a distance, indicating the fact that a great many expect to attend.

The local patronage will be large. The law requires all classes of teachers to attend these normals once in every two years in order to perpetuate their certificates.

Clarendon's school facilities are becoming proverbial in the Panhandle. Her summer normals have always been the best and the largest ever held in the Panhandle.

These gatherings of teachers for the summer are of great advantage to the schools of the town in which they are held. This fact is so generally recognized that every college or university of the state of any prominence is using its best efforts to induce the teachers to meet with them.

The present educational prominence of Clarendon is due largely to the advertisement given her by the teachers who have come here from summer to summer to attend these schools, and to the students they have returned to us. Whether Clarendon is to maintain her prestige or not is to be determined by her gratitude to such gatherings as these.

The present session is to be entertained in private families of the town, and generous indeed have been the offers so far for their accommodation. We sincerely hope that those who undertake to board the teachers will use all reasonable efforts to make the summer pleasant and profitable to them.

The board of trustees of the public school has kindly tendered the use of the school building to the faculty for the session. A more suitable building for the purpose cannot be found in this section of the country. One hundred new seats have been ordered and will probably be in use during the session.

Let every citizen who appreciates the schools of our country, and the teachers who teach them, and are coming here to better prepare for their work, assist the faculty in making their stay with us pleasant.

Citation by Publication.

THE STATE OF TEXAS,
To the Sheriff or any Constable of Donley County—Greeting:

You are hereby commanded, that by making publication of this citation in some newspaper published in the County of Donley, if there be a newspaper published in the said county (but if not, then in the nearest county where a newspaper is published) for four weeks previous to the return day hereof, you summon The Clarendon Land, Investment and Agency Company Limited, a foreign Corporation, Sir Francis Chas. Lewis by Thos. W. Potter, Geo. Richard Potter and Chas. West, Potter and Clara Wilson and Lillian F. Cathroe and her husband W. L. Cathroe for a valuable consideration, representing themselves as the sole and only heirs of R. Potter, deceased, that the said Wm. J. Lewis conveyed the same land to J. R. Leathers by warranty deed for a valuable consideration. That the said Leathers, plaintiff relied upon the said representations of the death of the said R. Potter and of the sole heirship of the said Lewis' said grantors.

WANTS BIG COMMISSION

Fred Horsburgh Sues Espuela Land & Cattle Co., for More than $63,000.

Suit for $63,750 has been filed in the district court of Potter county against the Espuela Land and cattle company, to recover that amount as commission alleged to be due for the sale of the Spar ranch in February to E. P. Swenson. The suit is brought by Fred Horsburgh, and an attachment has been served on the land in his favor.

Amount claimed by Horsburgh for commission is the largest ever made in this state on a single deal. The total amount involved in the sale of the Spar ranch was $2,550,000, the largest deal for Texas land ever recorded. The sale included 500,000 acres of land and 30,000 head of cattle and was concluded between the Espuela Land and Cattle Company, most of whose members reside in England, and E. P. Swenson, February 20, 1907.

In his petition Mr. Horsburgh states that in 1904 the defendant decided to sell the ranch and cattle and authorized Horsburgh to find a buyer, upon which he communicated with E. P. Swenson and interested him in the proposition; that he took Mr. Swenson upon the property and spent several days there with him, and also made a trip to England and other short trips, expecting that a commission of not less than 2 1/2 per cent would be paid to him when the sale should be accomplished. On February 20, 1907, he declared that he made agreement with E. P. Swenson, which was confirmed by the shareholders the same day.

The land of the Spar ranch is located in Dickens, Kent and adjoining counties. The suit for the plaintiff has been filed in the district court by his attorneys, Cowan and Burney, of Ft. Worth.

If three good physicians should pronounce your case hopeless. If they should decide that you could not live longer than six weeks. And if you should get well, after using only $12.00 worth of Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and Nervine, what would you advise a friend in like condition to do?

"I have to thank you for saving my wife's life two years ago. We had continued with the doctor until the third doctor, like the two previous ones, said that nothing could be done for her; that she had better be taken home from the hospital to quietly wait her time, which would not be over 6 weeks at the most. I brought her home, and then I thought probably Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and Nervine might help her, so I got a bottle of each and some Nerve and Liver Pills and commenced to give them to her. We soon seen an improvement, and encouraged by this we continued giving the medicine. We gave her eleven bottles in all of the medicine. She takes it occasionally now if she feels the need. I am in the ministry, and have been for 44 years."

Genda Springs, Kans.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. If it fails he will refund your money.

A COURTSHIP IN SCRIPTURE.
More Proof That Nothing is Impossible to Cupid.

If this story had come from Topeka, we should have been more readily inclined to believe it, because Topeka's familiarity with all things Biblical is proverbial. But it is a good story, even if it isn't its first appearance on earth, and it is told thus by the Jewell County Monitor: A young gentleman at church conceived a most sudden and violent passion for a young lady, in the next pew and felt desirous of entering into a courtship on the spot, but the place not suiting a formal declaration, the exigency suggested the following plan: He politely handed his fair neighbor a Bible open, with a pin stuck in the following text, second epistle of John, verse 5: "And now I beseech thee, lady, not as though I wrote a new commandment unto thee, but that which we had from the beginning, that we love one another." She returned it with the following, second chapter of Ruth, verse 10: "Then she fell on her face and bowed herself to the ground and said unto him, Why have I found favor in thine eyes that thou shouldst take notice of me, seeing I am a stranger to you?" He returned the book pointing to verse 12 of the third epistle of John: "Having many things to write unto you, but I trust to come unto you and speak face to face." From the above interview the marriage took place the following week.—Kansas City Journal.

"He Who Keepeth His Tongue."
An old fashioned minister was visiting his son in New York recently, and was taken to a fashionable church for the Sunday morning service. The pastor is a young man of great culture, but evidently his oratorical efforts did not greatly impress the visitor, for when they were walking homeward the son remarked approvingly: "That was a good sermon, an excellent sermon. The congregation like Dr. Blank very much." "Yes, a good sermon undoubtedly," his father replied. "It could not possibly have touched a sore spot anywhere."

Infection From a Glass Vase.
The authorities of the Royal museum at Dresden have discovered a glass vase in one of their showcases, dating from the eighteenth century, which shows every sign of suffering from a wasting disease, and not only is it wasting away but the authorities declare it has infected the other glass vessels in its immediate neighborhood. The vase has been carefully examined by experts and various medicines, externally applied, have been prescribed to stay the progress of the malady, but all to no purpose.

The Value of Water.
Medically, the internal use of water does more good than its external use. The man who drinks from a pint to a quart of clean pure water the first thing in the morning on getting out of bed will be in better health than the man who uses water only externally and rarely drinks water straight. The best way to do is to take a clean water bath both inside and outside every morning, and during the warm weather every evening also. It will bring sleep more effectually than all the morphine or other drugs. It will cleanse the system better than the contents of any drug store. A bathtub factory is the natural foe to the medical college and the undertaker.

Lucifer.
The word "Lucifer," found in Isaiah xiv, 12, coupled with the epithet "son of the morning," clearly signifies a "bright star" and probably what we call the morning star. In this passage it is a symbolical representation of the King of Babylon in his splendor and his fall. Its application, from St. Jerome downwards, to Satan, in his fall from heaven, arises probably from the fact that the Babylonian empire is in scripture represented as the type of tyrannical and self-idolizing power, and especially connected with the empire of the Evil One in the Apocalypse.

Another Sermon.

(Contributed.)

The pastor at the Christian church conducted a baptismal service Sunday night. A large audience was present quite a number going away for want of room. After the baptizing was done the minister said a few more things about the needs of Clarendon, emphasizing cleanliness in our streets and alleys and the necessity of employment for all our citizens. "Idleness is the bane of city life," said he.

"Down in East Texas there are places where you can see on any day of the year, from one dozen to one hundred or more men and boys sitting on the curb stones or goods-boxes, whistling, whittling and whiling away the hours that God gives us for better purposes.

"Did you ever see anything like that in Clarendon? Our business men complain at 3 cents a day for each business establishment; or a penny a day each for the men actually engaged in business pursuits within the business center of our little city, because the city dads have been paying that amount for the water service now being used! There is rarely a man who does not throw away two or three times as much, and probably some of us waste ten times the amount, continually. If the idle men and boys who infest the streets of some 'down east' towns just the size of Clarendon were put to work on the streets it would not be long until the gravel-banks and gulleys, now in our town, would pass away like a dream in the night!

"I trust that some brave public-spirited woman will call to her assistance others who love the Lord and their neighbors and organize that 'Beauty-Club' or 'Civic League' and have the town cleaned up before the 'dog-days' set in. Last Sunday evening I told you we had buried the dead cats, hens, etc., found around our place for fertilizing purposes and later I have promised (and paid) the boys 5 cents a dozen for all the old tin cans, buckets, etc., found lying around, and they run me in for about ten dozen, too! Fifty cents for 6 months, mind you. One-fourth cent a day! And two happy little boys down town spending dad's money after earning it in a good cause; instead of doing the same thing without having earned it. I count it a good investment.

"Near the city 'prospect for a park' there is a beautiful (?) lake. I stood on the brink of this lake recently and watched a herd of cattle slake their thirst from its filthy waters! When they had done so they wended their way across the 'prospect for a park' shaking their heads as if to say, 'Wish a musk-rat would cut out that dam—and let the inky fluid pass down the gulch to the sea, then the 'Pt. Worth and Danger' would put in sufficient water accommodations for the herds driven here for shipment."

"I shall not speak again of these things—until NEXT SUNDAY NIGHT. I am going to keep hammering along this line until others take up the work before us. I note with pleasure that those in charge are moving in the right direction and ere long the goal will be reached. And 'Greater Clarendon' will rejoice.

"I serve notice on the other ministers of the town that I have no copy-right on this talk of 'Civic Righteousness.' I, for one, believe there is GREATER patriotism in living for ONE ANOTHER than DYING for a CAUSE THAT MAY BE WRONG, and as ONE ENLISTED FOR THE FUTURE OF CLARENDON, I rejoice in her growth and glorious undertakings. Let Clarendon College continue to grow! Let us build another public school house with large and beautiful play-grounds. Let us invite, with our words and our money other educational institutions, and let us see to it the street-work, bridge building, etc., go forward. Let us have the '10,000 club' and the 'Woman's Civic League.' "Do it now."

The First and Probably Last Time in His Life.

Recently some one in Missouri has sent me a picture of the house I was born in. Heretofore I have always stated that it was a palace, but I shall be more guarded now. I remember only one circumstance connected with my life in it. I remember it very well, though I was but 2½ years old at the time. The family packed up everything and started in wagons for Hannibal, on the Mississippi, 30 miles away. Toward night, when they camped and counted up the children, one was missing. I had been left behind. Parents ought always to count the children before they start. I was having a good time playing by myself until I found that the doors were fastened and that there was a grisly deep silence brooding over the place. I knew, then, that the family were gone and that they had forgotten me. I was well frightened and I made all the noise I could, but no one was near and it did no good. I spent the afternoon in captivity and was not rescued until the gloaming had fallen and the place was alive with ghosts.—From Mark Twain's Autobiography in the North American Review.

THE LIFE OF SERVICE.

Merciful Sentence That Was Passed Upon Man by the Creator.

It was a merciful sentence which the Creator passed upon man for his disobedience — "In the sweat of thy face shalt thou eat bread;" for to the punishment itself he stands indebted for health, strength, and all the enjoyment of life. And, though, the ground was pronounced cursed for his disobedience, yet is that curse so ordered to be the punishment, chiefly and almost solely of those who, by intemperance or sloth, inflict it upon themselves. The stoutest timber stands on Norwegian rocks, where tempests rage and long, hard winters reign. The muscles are seen most fully developed in the brawny arm that piles the blacksmith's hammer. Even so the most vigorous and healthy piety is that which is the busiest, which has its hands full of good works, which has neither time nor room for evil, but, aiming at great things both for God and man, promptly and summarily dismisses temptation with Nehemiah's answer, "I have a great work to do; therefore, I cannot come down."—Montreal Herald.

Where Titles Are Cheap.

The cheapest country for buying a title used to be Portugal, says London Truth. When a man is made a baron or a count there, his patent recites the service for which the grant is made. I was once in Portugal, and I had some curiosity to discover what were the services for which an Englishman of my acquaintance had been made a Portugal baron. I therefore looked the matter up, and I found that it was for having introduced into the country a new tree. There used to be another plan for becoming a baron. It appears that there is—or was then—a convent which once had large possessions. All its tenants were, by the fact of being tenants, barons. But the convent had lost its possessions with the exception of one farm. It had an agent in London. For a very moderate consideration the agent let this farm to a would-be tenant. He therefore became a baron; and when he resigned the farm to the next applicant he retained the title.

The Coward in Us All.

One little sentence written by V. V. V. in the Sphere stabs one rather poignantly. "I am a coward at heart." There are things that a man suspects about himself but does not say, says a writer in the London Chronicle. For example, you may see a man grinning when he is accused of being a cynic, but one has not heard a man saying calmly and seriously, "I am a bit of a snob." Snobism is not a vice for the public confessional. You may accuse a man of being a "Lothario" and he will be pleased. If you call him a coward—it is a challenge. Yet there is always the snapping point. And V. V. V. shows his courage in confessing the universal failure of civilized man, "I am a coward at heart."

A One-Armed Life Saver.

One of the life savers along the Delaware river front is Paul Greenwood, now a resident of Chester. Greenwood lost an arm and a leg several years ago, but despite this misfortune he continues at his work of saving lives of people who fall overboard. Not long ago he saw five Philadelphians struggling in the water off Marcus Hook, their yacht having capsized. He jumped into a boat and hurried to the scene of the upset yacht and saved all of the members of the party, most of whom were women.

SOMETHING WRONG WITH MAN.

Scientist—Points Out How His Life is Much too Short.

What is the matter with man? March Phillips points out that there is this peculiarity in the condition of man, as compared with the other mammalia, that his life is shorter now than by analogy it ought to be. In other animals the period of growth is about one-tenth to one-fifteenth of the whole life. The lion, which is full grown at five, lives for 70 or 80 years. The dog, full grown at 18 months, is as old at 15 as a man at 80. Man, living as long as the lion, is not full grown till 20. The same proportion would give man from 320 to 400 years. Thus his physical life is not in this respect the normal life. It is cut exceedingly short, and its brevity points to some primal failure of vigor—to the presence of some nonnatural—that is, some diseased—condition sapping his vitality. Prof. Virchow notes that if we gather together the whole sum of the fossil men hitherto known and put them parallel with those of the present time we decidedly can pronounce there are among living men a much greater number of individuals who show relatively inferior type than among the fossils known of to this time.

AWED BY CONVICT AUDIENCE.

Speaker Unable to Address Inmates of the Penitentiary.

As an illustration of the embarrassment that sometimes confronts public speakers Representative Charles T. Towne told of the experience of an Irishman who was a member of the Michigan state senate. The Irishman accepted an urgent invitation to deliver an address to the convicts in the Michigan penitentiary on Washington's birthday. The unusual situation had not occurred to the orator until he faced his audience of hard-faced men in stripes. He survived them hesitatingly for a moment before he uttered a word, and then said: "I confess that I do not know how to begin. I cannot say 'Gentlemen,' because none of you is a gentleman or you wouldn't be here in stripes. I can't call you 'fellow citizens' because the laws of this state have taken your citizenship away. I cannot call you 'friends,' because if I did I would be suspected of being one of you. So I think I can't speak to you at all, though may God have mercy on your souls."

Parable with a Sting.

Bart Kennedy, the English novelist and sociologist, in the course of a bitter attack on the senate, said in Washington: "The senate is true to the American people. Oh, yes; very true to them. Very true indeed. Whenever I think how true the senate is to the people the case of Mary Miles comes into my mind. Mary's husband was a soldier. A soldier out in India, fighting for his king. And one day a friend said to Mary: 'Mary, are your thoughts always true to Charlie, away out there, fighting the hill tribes?' 'Yes, indeed, they are,' Mary answered. 'Whenever a man kisses me I shut my eyes and try to think it's Charlie.'"—Chicago Chronicle.

A Practical Joke.

New water mains were being put down and an immense line of pipes lay end to end in the road. Late in the night a half-drunken tramp rolled a pipe out of the middle of the line, curled himself up in it, and fell asleep, fairly well protected from the blustering wind. But on towards the small hours a couple of students discovered the tramp, and rolled his bed and himself back into place in the great line again. The tramp, awaking in the morning had to crawl through nearly a mile of pipe before he regained his freedom.

Much Money Awaits Heirs.

A will dated 1745 and deposited in the Bank of England has just been discovered in that establishment. The testator left his property—worth $25,000—to a family named Windel, living in Fuerstenburg, a village near Baden. During all the years that the will was forgotten the money has been increasing at compound interest and the sum is now $7,250,000. People at Fuerstenburg bearing the name of Windel have heard of the matter and have sent agents to London with papers that, they contend, show their descent from the Windel family named in the will.

Mary Won.

A young man who had a silent admiration for a young lady went with the intention of proposing to her one night. He sat gazing into her face for a long while, but at last, looking down suddenly, he exclaimed: "There's a feather on your dress, Mary!" "No wonder," she said. "I've been sitting by a goose all night!"—Life.

The Banner-Stockman.

Established 1892. Absorbed the Clarendon News July 22, 1904.

Official Organ Panhandle Stockmen's Association of Texas.

Published every Friday by
JOHN E. COOKE,
Editor and Proprietor

SUBSCRIPTION $1.00 PER YEAR

Entered at the postoffice at Clarendon, Texas as second class matter.

Clarendon, Tex., June 14, '07

THE Woodmen are many, many, many; and you will see them all at Clarendon on July 3rd. Come and be with us, is Clarendon's invitation.

HARRY KOCH'S Simplex typesetter seems to be getting in splendid working order. Last week's T.C. only had 15 columns of "b'iler" to 12 of "Simplex."

CLARENDON joins her Woodmen of the World lodge in extending to the various camps of the Panhandle a hearty invitation to come and be with us on the 3rd and 4th.

LOOSEN up on that purse string a notch or two and see that you do your part financially in entertaining the visitors on July 3 and 4. It takes money and every Clarendonite will be expected to "dig."

It is hoped that every old soldier in this whole country will avail himself of the opportunity to be present at the reunion in Clarendon on July 4th. Camp Sam Lanham invites you; Clarendon invites you, and ex-Governor Lanham will speak to you.

THE Northwest Texas Press Association will meet at Plainview on June 25 and 26. This editor will be there, and the outlook seems good for the balance of the boys. Plainview is a coming city and the trip over there will be an enjoyable one. We understand that Brother Shaffer will open up a fresh can of ink and otherwise celebrate the visit of his confreres. Here's hopin' that the whole craft will be present and that the anti-pass law as it applies to editors may be snowed under.

ONE man has been given a life term in the penitentiary for the murder of Earl Dockray in Amarillo some months ago. This was the foulest crime ever perpetrated in the Panhandle, and hanging seems too good for any man who is found guilty of participating in the murder. The evidence, while strong, was entirely circumstantial, which accounts for the fact that the death penalty was not assessed. There is another man yet to be tried for the same crime.

THE Gray County Herald, by F. L. Vanderburgh, is a new paper at McLean. The first issue shows Van's handiwork, also his headwork, to a considerable extent, and the Herald will no doubt be a strong factor in the future life of McLean. We can't help but be surprised at Van in putting (not butting) in the second paper at a town the size of McLean. We thought this early training in the "one-sheet town" of Hereford had been sufficient to show him the advisability of all parties concerned double-teaming on the one paper and helping push it forward to success. However, we suppose there must have been extenuating circumstances, so we extend our paw in brotherly welcome and beg to express the hope that McLean may soon grow to a size commensurate with its newspaper facilities.

THE annual celebration is near at hand. Come to Clarendon July 3 and 4. Special railroad rates and a special train applied for from Childress to Clarendon on the morning of the 3rd.

A Sound Doctrine.

There is some dissatisfaction and criticism of the school trustees by a few of the patrons of the school in regard to some discipline administered by the superintendent and his action upheld by the trustees. Not going into the details of the few cases in question we venture the assertion that nine times out of ten the teachers are too slack in regard to discipline and that the trustees very rarely do wrong in upholding the teachers' hands. We know that sometimes the teachers may be a little severe, yet it is the exception and not the rule. You start a boy to school with the idea firmly planted in his young life that the teacher is employed to teach him how to behave as well as how to study his lesson and that the teacher must be obeyed and you will have no trouble along the lines of discipline; on the other hand you let the boy hear his father question the wisdom of the teacher, or criticize the rules of the school adversely and even go so far as to forbid the boy obeying the teacher and that boy will be the exception if he ever amounts to anything real in this world, to say nothing of the endless trouble he will give the teacher and the sorrow and shame that will be heaped upon father and mother. Teach your boy the lesson of obedience at home.—Comanche Chief.

Why, Certainly.

The News has received a complimentary ticket to the anti-Bailey banquet to be given in Dallas on the 14th of this month, and is informed that anybody who wants to attend can get tickets at a dollar per. What call there is for an anti-Bailey banquet we do not know; what good it can accomplish we do not see. Bailey is senator for six years, and this meeting will be forgotten long before he is again before the people for election. Can it be possible that this anti-Bailey meeting is only intended as a boost for some aspiring congressional candidate from the Dallas district?—Bonham News.

Writes a Letter.

Recently the citizens of Denton held an indignation meeting on the new tax law. This prompted a letter from Gov. Campbell, in which he says:

"When the people fully understand the laws criticised in your meeting last Saturday I am sure they will indorse every one of them. I hope those who criticised these laws will at least read them and study the practical effect. A system of laws which takes two-thirds of the taxes from the masses and shifts it to the corporations and liquor traffic heretofore not paying their just share, is legislation that will meet the approval of the people when they are no longer deceived by misrepresentation. These laws are based on equality and uniformity as well as upon the eternal principles of justice and common honesty, and I am content to rest the case with a just people in whose interest they were enacted."—Childress Index.

Auction Sale a Success.

The auction sale of town lots by Lane & Priddy last Friday was largely attended and the prices very satisfactory. Sixty-three lots were sold in about one hour. The Index had considerable dealings with Messrs. Lane & Priddy and found them honorable gentlemen and we are sure all who had dealings with them can say the same. These gentlemen have a sale of lots at Quanah today.—Childress Index.

Walter Rush, a young man working with the night hostler crew, was run over by engine 155 about sunrise this morning, resulting in the cutting off of one leg just below the knee and the other between the knee and thigh. The crew was leaving the round house taking the engine down for passenger train No. 7, and after passing the turn table he signaled to go ahead and stepped on the pilot but lost his footing and fell beneath the engine with the above results. The young man was taken to the Y. M. C. A. building and given immediate medical attention, but it is thought he cannot survive the shock.—Childress Index.
