THE ANNUAL CELEBRATION

Clarendon Already Makes Plans to Entertain a Big Crowd of Visitors on July 3 and 4.

Clarendon wishes to announce to the world, especially that part of same situated within a radius of several hundred miles of this beautiful educational center, that AS USUAL her citizens will celebrate the Nation's greatest holiday in fitting style this good year of one thousand nine hundred and seven.

A citizens' meeting was held Wednesday morning and plans outlined for the occasion. While Clarendon has not missed this annual 4th of July celebration since the town was founded, and while she has gained a reputation all over the Panhandle as chief entertainer on such occasions, the present plans bid fair to include a celebration and an entertainment which will far outclass anything previously offered.

In connection with the citizens' celebration the old soldiers representing the Lost Cause will hold their annual Panhandle reunion here on that date. Also the Woodman of the World lodge will arrange for a grand rally and log rolling, their part of the program to include the unveiling of several monuments in which ceremony the Sovereign Banker of Head Camp, Hon. Morris Shepard, Congressman from the First District of Texas, has been invited to officiate.

The celebration will cover a period of two days—July 3rd and 4th. Special railroad rates have already been applied for, and it is confidently expected that we will have several thousand visitors.

At the meeting Wednesday morning the matter was taken up enthusiastically and in a most business-like manner. Mayor A. M. Beville was made permanent chairman, John E. Cooke, permanent secretary, and W. H. Cooke, permanent treasurer. An executive committee was named as follows: A. M. Beville, chairman; F. D. Martin, James Trent, W. H. Cooke and E. Dubbs. Committees of finance, grounds, barbecue and program were arranged for by appointing one member each of the executive committee as chairman of one of the other committees with power to select his own co-workers. Judge E. Dubbs was made chairman of the finance committee; W. H. Cooke, chairman ground committee; James Trent, chairman barbecue committee; F. D. Martin, chairman program committee.

It was the sense of the meeting that the Woodmen be extended a hearty invitation to join in the celebration, and that the citizens would do everything in their power to assist both them and the old soldiers in making the occasion a success. Camp Sam Lanham, No. 1383, U. C. V., is named after ex-Governor Sam Lanham, and he has already been invited to be present and make the speech of the day. It is most likely that he will respond, as this is the only camp in the state that has honored him by adopting his name. Other speakers will also be provided, and an unusually good quality of "hot air" will be dispensed from the platform on the two days. The usual program of field sports will be looked after, a complete program of which will appear in due time.

Clarendon cordially invites her neighboring towns and counties to come and celebrate with us. They will be assured of the best celebration in this end of the state.

The Woodmen Accept.

Woodbine Camp, No. 476, W. O. W. held a special called meeting Wednesday night to consider the invitation of the citizens' committee to join in the general 4th of July celebration. The matter was thoroughly discussed by a large gathering of the choppers, and the invitation was enthusiastically accepted. A committee was appointed to confer with the citizens' committee, and at the Friday night regular meeting the matter will be taken up and work begun. The Woodmen have four or five monuments to unveil, which ceremony will take place on the 3rd. Sovereign Banker Morris Sheppard, who is also U. S. Congressman, has been invited to officiate at this ceremony, and also to make a speech on the 4th. If he cannot come some other prominent W. O. W. official will be secured, probably Hon. O. S. Lattimore of Fort Worth.

The Woodmen will do things up brown on this occasion, and a cordial invitation is extended by the camp to all the Panhandle camps to come to Clarendon on the 3rd and 4th and help celebrate the occasion. Clarendon confidently expects to entertain five or six hundred choppers on those dates.

If Your Eyes Trouble You,

call on C. N. Bushnell, the graduate optician, at Dr. Stocking's drug store, Clarendon, Texas. Eyes tested free. Glasses scientifically fitted when needed. Satisfaction guaranteed.

Eye Specialist.

Dr. Jas. W. Hicks, specialist on diseases of the eye, ear, nose and throat, will be in Clarendon Thursday and Friday, May 2nd and 3rd, with Dr. Standifer.

Following the early closing movement which prevailed last week on account of the revival meeting, the Martin-Bennett Company this week announces that their store will continue to close at 7:00 p. m. each day except Saturday. This action on their part without waiting for the action of any other concern is deserving of commendation. Twelve hours a day is enough for the average store to remain open, and as much as the average man ought to be required to work. We trust all the merchants will do the same, and believe they will. This is said to be the only town of its size in the state where the early closing plan is not in practice.

Free Graphophones.

Our graphophones and tickets have been delayed in shipment but we expect them daily and as soon as they arrive we will begin issuing the tickets with each purchase made. When you get $35 worth of tickets we will swap you a fine graphophone for them. After you get the machine your tickets are good for records, $5 worth of tickets entitling you to a record.

A DOUBLE TRAGEDY

TWO MEN KILLED IN SHOOTING SCRAPE THURSDAY.

S. B. OWENS—B. TURBYFILL

Turbyfill Kills Owens and is in Turn Killed by Owens' Son, a Lad Only 18 Years Old.

Yesterday morning about ten o'clock S. B. (Sol) Owens, of Alameda, Gray county, and B. S. Turbyfill, of Utah, both former citizens of Clarendon, were killed in an altercation that occurred at the railroad crossing at Rockledge Switch on the Choctaw road about six miles from Jericho and only a few hundred yards within the north Donley county line. Solon Owens, 18 year-old son of one of the dead men, is in the Clarendon jail charged with the killing of Turbyfill. The facts are as follows, as near as we can get them:

Turbyfill and Owens had previous trouble over a commission claimed by the former on a land sale made by the latter a year ago this month, and involving $101,000. Turbyfill was here the first of the week, and in company with T. C. Fleming started Wednesday morning in a buggy to go over to Alameda, as it is said he stated, "to settle the matter or file suit." At the hour above stated they were driving on the public road from Alameda to Jericho, and Mr. Fleming had just gotten out to open the railroad fence gate, when they were overtaken by Owens and his son in a buggy. Mr. Fleming states that Owens drove up, stopped and called to him, "hold on there, old man, I want to talk to that —."

Immediately both Owens and Turbyfill rolled out of their buggies and began shooting, Turbyfill firing the first shot. Both men emptied their guns, and both were bloody, when Turbyfill, seeing the boy was getting in the game with a Winchester rifle, broke and ran down the fence, throwing off his overcoat as he ran. The boy fired twice, the first time bringing him down. Turbyfill got up and ran again when the second shot struck him in the back and he fell and was unable to rise. In the meantime Owens had managed to walk out to a fence post and eased himself down to the ground, dying immediately. Such is the substance of Fleming's statement.

Turbyfill lived three hours, and his dying statement as we hear it, was to the effect that Owens and son overtook them as above stated. Owens called out to him something about settling that difficulty, got out of his buggy and shot at him (Turbyfill) twice before he got his gun in action. Turbyfill's first shot broke Owens' right arm and the pistol fell to the ground. Owens turned and the second shot went in his back, through the liver and out at the front Young Owens, seeing the pistol fall, jumped forward, and picked it up and shot twice with it at Turbyfill, then threw it down and got his Winchester. Turbyfill in the mean time had emptied his gun at the boy and started to run. The balance of this statement tallies with Fleming's.

KIBLER ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

Former Citizen of Rowe Worries Over Business and ill Health and Decides to End All.

We regret to learn that J. W. Kibler attempted self destruction early this morning. Business worry and ill health unbalanced his mind, which caused him to attempt the rash act. It was noticed that his mind was not right this morning and friends watched over him, but while all were out of the room he picked up a flat iron and pounded himself in the head considerably, though not seriously, the doctors inform us. Mr. Kibler recently moved here from Rowe, and was busily engaged in putting in a telephone exchange. We trust his misfortune is only temporary and that he will soon be himself again.—McLean News.

Difficult Breathing

Short breath, fluttering, palpitation, sinking spells are symptoms of a weak heart, struggling to do its work. It must keep the blood in circulation to carry nourishment to make flesh, bone and muscle, and remove the worn-out particles. When it cannot do this, it must have help. Dr. Miles' Heart Cure gives strength to the heart nerves and muscles, and increases the heart action.

"I am glad to say that I am so much improved in health. Dr. Miles' Heart Cure cured me when several doctors failed. I think no other medicine could do for me what Heart Cure has done. My case was bad; bad as it could be at times. I had difficulty in getting my breath, my heart beat so fast at times that I thought it impossible to live without relief; the pain was very severe in my left side, and my nerves were all unstrung. I had almost given up all hope of being cured, and I am sure I would not, if I had not taken the Heart Cure. I take great pleasure in recommending Dr. Miles' remedies to all who suffer with heart disease."

MRS. MARY C. HAHLER,
Sullivan, Mo.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. If it fails he will refund your money.

Baby is Dead.

At 7:00 o'clock Saturday evening, George Alvis, the little 18-months-old baby boy of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. McCrae, died at the family home on First street. The little one had been sick for long and anxious weeks with pneumonia, and had been hovering between life and death for several days.

The funeral services were held at the Methodist church Sunday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock, Rev. W. C. Hilburn officiating. The interment was at the Odd Fellows cemetery.

DAMAGE DONE BY WOLVES.

Ranchmen Suffer Heavily From Depredations of Animals.

Vernon Bailey, of the forest reserve bureau at Washington, who has been making an investigation of the ravages of wolves on the ranches of the southwest, reports that in a certain part of New Mexico he learned that a moderate estimate of the stock killed by four wolves of which he got trace was a yearling cow or a calf every three days, or approximately 100 head of cattle to each wolf. "Counting all as calves," says Mr. Bailey, "at the low rate of $10 a head, each wolf would at this rate cost the ranchmen $1,000 a year. This estimate of $4,000 for the four wolves leaves out of consideration the five to ten hungry offspring of each pair, which begin to kill stock for themselves in the fall and continue to do so as long as they live."

Dice Throwing for a Bequest.

The singular sight of two servant girls throwing dice for charity money was recently witnessed at Guildford. The charity is known as "maids' money." This was left by John How in 1674, and each year there is a competition for a check for £11 9s. The dice throwers must have been employed for two years in one service in Guildford, but not at an inn. Laura Cadman secured the check with a double six, Emma Trimmer throwing six and three.

QUEER WAYS OF FISHING.

Trout Killed with a Hammer—Masked Lake Fishermen.

"I wore a woollen mask when I caught that fish," said the angler, pointing to a mounted specimen above the sideboard, "and the thermometer registered 12 degrees below zero at the time. It was on lake Michigan. On the lakes the summer fishing will aggregate 130,000,000 pounds a season. There is a winter fishing, too, when men in windmasks sit over little holes in the thick ice and, at a polar temperature, watch their teups. They don't catch much, but what they do catch they get seven or eight cents a pound for, and thus it is possible for the winter fishermen to earn $12 a day. I'd have earned $17 the day I went out if I had sold my fish. The little carp over the mantel was caught with a mirror. My line had a mirror behind the bait. When a fish approached his own reflection made him think that another fish was about to snatch the bait from him, and he bit greedily. The fine trout above the hole in the carpet I caught with a hammer. What? Yes, a hammer. That is the Georgia way. They wade up and down a stream and whack with a stout sledge every big stone they pass. Then they turn over the stone and find as like as not, a stunned trout underneath."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

EAGLE WHIPS A MAN.

Then Resumes His Flight With a Stolen Lamb.

Frederick Hollenbach, a farmer living on the Schoharie Ridge, near Saegertsville, was feeding the gray squirrels in his woodland when an eagle flew past that had in its talons one of his lambs. The big bird had been annoying the community for a month. Many farmers wanted to shoot it, but the game warden threatened to invoke the law providing for a $250 fine and imprisonment for killing a bald eagle. The eagle was flying low, and thinking he could save the lamb, Mr. Hollenbach struck the bird sharply with a stick. The eagle dropped the lamb all right, but instead of flying off made for the man, ripping open his face, his hands and chest with its talons and practically tearing off his clothes. After it had Hollenbach lying prostrate in the woods the eagle picked up the lamb and flew off. Hollenbach is in bed, with a doctor attending him.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Not Looking for Millions.

The head of a large concern engaged in the manufacture of various kinds of machinery, and especially that which is used in equipping plants, has a letter from a business correspondent which he prizes very highly. It came in response to an estimate submitted as to the cost of an equipment for a saw mill. The man had written to the house stating that he wanted to set up a saw mill and asked how much it would cost to supply it with the necessary machinery. This was right in line with the business of the house and after a careful estimate a modest total was reached of $3,000, and the man was informed that it would require at least that amount to give him what he ought to have. The response received by the firm was brief and to the point. "If I had $3,000, what in thunder would I want with a saw mill?"

The Boy Who Fell Down.

At Ausburg, in Bavaria, they have some curious laws and ordinances. An American family from Wisconsin were stopping there last December, and one of the sons, a boy 13 years old, slipped on the icy sidewalk one day. He was at once arrested and taken into court on the charge that he had fallen down to make trouble for other folks. It was held that when the boy fell down a number of people stopped to see if he had been hurt. Also, that the shopkeeper before whose door he had fallen felt humiliated over the circumstance. Also, that he frightened a horse. Also, that when a policeman came up he could not talk German to him. The case was tried in court, and the boy who fell down instead of standing up was fined three dollars.

The Bothersome 'Phone.

Except in business offices, hotels, police stations, and the like public places, telephones should be forbidden. There is neither peace nor privacy in the home in which these instruments find admittance. One's time and pleasure and very sleep are at the mercy of every gossip and busybody in the town. The women, children and servants of the household all catch the hell's fever, and life becomes a long nightmare of bell-ringing, wrong calls, yes-yesses, busy-nesses, and other distracting noises.—Virginian Pilot.

The Weather.

We were all "fools or newcomers" last week in this glorious Panhandle country. It is said that only fools and newcomers are surprised at any change in the weather in Texas, especially this part of Texas; therefore we were all either in one class or the other, for without doubt all were surprised to see snow in April—the 20th of April, at that. For two weeks the weather had been chilly and somewhat threatening at times. Friday night the clouds began to discharge their moisture, and during the night the rain turned to snow and when morning came the ground was almost covered. It continued to snow intermittently nearly all day Saturday, melting as fast as it fell, however, changing finally to a drizzling rain, and all together amounting to quite a nice little season for the thirsty soil. The cold was not severe enough to do any material damage here in this favored spot below the cap rock, but up on the plains they had freezing weather and considerable damage to vegetation, fruits and trees. At Texline a foot of snow fell; at Dalhart, ten inches; at Amarillo almost as much, and all accompanied by a considerable freeze.

The unusual weather has put the old timers to work trying to recall a similar spell. One gentleman tells us he remembers a worse spell away back years ago when the cowmen depended on grass alone and didn't begin their spring work until May. It occurred in the month of May, and was quite a blizzard. Nine years ago it is said to have snowed here in April, while six years ago, if we remember aright, there was snow on the ground after the fruit trees had bloomed.

Locally, no one is kicking; the spell has been broken, and no hurt, while the farmers are all smiles.

ALL THE WORLD TO HIM.

Wife and Child Beautiful in the Eyes of Poor Miner.

It was Sunday. The train stopped at a station. They got on—a woman and a little boy. The woman was a foreigner. She wore a cheap blue calico dress and a soiled apron, had a handkerchief around her head. She was ugly and fat. She carried a small-sized trunk, tied with rope in one hand, with the other she grasped the little boy as if afraid to lose him. He wore a cheap cotton suit, a little cap on his head and heavy-soled shoes on his feet. His face was red and shining. The brakeman hustled them through the aisle of the day coach to the smoker ahead. The passengers laughed at the odd sight, and several passed funny remarks. Some hours after the train stopped at a lonely coal mine station. Only the woman and the little boy got off. They were met by a poor Slav coal miner, in his working clothes. He kissed the woman and grabbed the little boy and hugged him with tears in his eyes. God! he was happy—they had come at last! —New York Telegraph.

Can't Kill This Man.

Henry Wright, a hodcarrier, employed in the construction of a new brewery at Bentleyville, this county, today lost his footing and plunged 83 feet from the roof of the structure. In falling he encountered two two-inch planks, which were broken in twain. Wright lay immovable for a few seconds and two physicians were summoned. As they entered the building they were met by Wright, who carelessly asked Dr. William Booth for a cigarette. An examination showed that not a bone was broken and but few minor bruises sustained. Wright resumed his work immediately. —Washington (Pa.) Cor. Philadelphia Record.

Character in Hats.

A milliner with a turn for philosophy declares that a woman's character is infallibly revealed by the hat she wears. "There are audacious hats, modest hats, ridiculous hats, and hats that reveal the wearer as cautious and secretive. As a rule, a woman of strong personality may be trusted to choose a hat to suit her. She is strong enough to withstand the temptation to wear something merely fashionable. The vulgar, self-assertive woman, generally selects a 'loud' obtrusive hat, but even that I prefer to the funereal style of headgear affected by the morbid woman."

CONVENTION AFTERMATHS

The Eighth Annual Meeting of the Panhandle Stockmen was the Best Ever Held.

Parties returning from Roswell where they attended the eighth annual meeting of the Panhandle Stockmen's Association, are all loud in praise of the entertainment afforded by the New Mexicans. It seems to be the consensus of opinion that all previous occasions have been eclipsed and a pace set that will be a hot one to follow by succeeding entertainers. In fact it is boldly claimed that Amarillo will have to "get a move on" if she handles the convention in anything like as good style next year as the Roswellites did this year.

President Thos. S. Bugbee reports the finest meeting yet. The entertainment, he says, could not have been improved on. The attendance was better than he anticipated, and the Association added fully as many new members as was expected, the stockmen of that section enrolling enthusiastically. As to trading, Mr. Bugbee says there were not a great many deals closed. The buyers were there, and the sellers were also there, "with the goods," so to speak, but the buyers were taking chances on the dry weather continuing and trusting to that fact having a tendency to lower the prices during the next few weeks, therefore few deals were made. Mr. Bugbee said the sellers were unanimous in holding up the price, and the rain following the convention so soon puts them all to rejoicing.

In the auction sale of fine cattle a reasonably good sale was had. We are not furnished with any authentic account of how the sale turned out, but understand that prices were very low, and that a good class of stuff was sold for little money.

The Price of Health.

"The price of health in a malarious district is just 25 cents; the cost of a box of Dr. King's New Life Pills," writes Ella Slayton, of Noland, Ark. New Life Pills cleanse gently and impart new life and vigor to the system. Satisfaction guaranteed at J. D. Stocking, druggist.

Inconsistent? Oh, No!

The legislator who drew twenty cents mileage from the State when he only paid three cents, or perhaps rode on a pass, is in good shape to pass a drastic anti-pass bill.—Athens Banner.

The legislators who affected to be afraid that, if the newspaper man were permitted to exchange the space in his paper for transportation over the railroad lines, the paper would seduce the public into a partiality for roads, was careful not to permit the anti-free pass law to go into effect until after his service a Austin was well over. Among other peculiarities of this last legislature is its extraordinary nerve. While the members were howling against the free pass system and legislating to break it up, they were asking the railroad "lobbyists," as they called the railroad lawyers, for passes to ride home and make trips elsewhere. This sounds hard, but it is true, and every man in Austin knows it to have been that way.—Dallas News.

TO OUR PATRONS

It has become necessary for me to announce that the Panhandle Steam Laundry will be run from this date forward on a strictly cash basis. Now, this has been said before; but this time it is going to stick. I have now been engaged in this business for six weeks, and the business has done much better than I expected, and if I were collecting all accounts would be paying very nicely. But by far the larger part of the business so far done has gone on the books in little amounts so hard to collect as to be almost worthless. Positively after this date no laundry will be delivered until paid for. If we can't get the money on delivery we don't want the work. We appreciate the patronage given us and wish it to be continued, but we must have the cash.

Yours truly,

Chas. L. McCrae

AUTOS DAMAGE THE ROADS.

Injury Already Done in Massachusetts Estimated at $50,000.

"It is hard to say what will be the ultimate damage to the roads," said a member of the Massachusetts commission to a representative of the Boston Globe; "but it has recently been estimated by the board that $50,000 damage has been done already by autos. This is small in proportion to the cost of the roads, but unless some new method of applying surface is adopted, the damage is likely to be continuous; that is, repeated as fast as it is made good. There is something about the broad rubber tires, on wheels of small diameter, peculiarly damaging to macadam roads. A vacuum is created by the tire, which sucks the surface, or binder, from the road, and it is blown away, leaving the stones exposed. The commission is experimenting with tar surfacing, which has been used in France successfully. Experiments have also been made by the park commissioners with an oil having an asphalt base. Something new must be adopted, and I have no doubt Massachusetts will not be behind in its adoption."

Wyoming Bank's Method of Identification of Customers.

When Mark Twain wrote "Pudd'n-head Wilson" it is doubtful if he realized into what general vogue this novel form of identification would come, and that its commercial value and utility would be incalculable. For a number of years thumb prints have been adopted as a means of identifying criminals, but it remained for the First National Bank of Cheyenne, Wyo., to adopt this method for the identification of customers. The bank has a large number of Japs, Greeks and other foreigners as patrons, these being employed in the railroad service. But few of these can write the English language, and some of them not even their own. As a result, each depositor is required to make an impression of his thumb, which is filed away for record, taking the place of the customary signature.

Discipline Hint.

Instead of punishing children learn to talk quietly with the little one about its disobedience or misbehavior, says a writer. Make it plain to the small boy and girl why they are in the wrong and encourage them to give a reason for their misconduct. Tell them kindly how to avoid a similar difficulty in the future. In other words make love the basis of discipline, and obedience will be prompted by the thought that mother or father will be displeased with an unkind act.

A WORTHY MOVEMENT.

There is a movement on foot among the best and most well-to-do citizens of Clarendon this week to guarantee the balance of the $50,000 which it has been decided to raise in Donley county for Clarendon College building fund. The financial agent reports approximately $30,000 pledged. This leaves about $20,000 yet to be raised, and in order that the matter may be closed up and the improvements be begun the movement above mentioned was this week taken up. In short, the idea is to guarantee that additional pledges will be obtained for the amount required within a specified time. This indeed is a worthy cause, and those men who are behind the matter are deserving of commendation for their public spiritedness.

MEET me at the barbecue.

CLARENDON, July 3 and 4, 1907.

DON'T allow yourself to lose sight of the fact that that $50,000 must be raised.

Now, all together for the greatest celebration Clarendon has ever pulled off, on the 3rd and 4th of July.

A WEEK or two ago it was announced in these columns by the Western Real Estate Exchange that they had perfected arrangements to buy all the produce offered for sale this summer by the Donley county farmers. In conversation with the secretary of the company this week he informed us that such arrangements had really been made, and that they expected to live up literally to the statement. They have connections in Colorado, and men traveling in the north all the time who will take charge of the shipments and sell them. They will ship almost entirely in car lots, and they expect to buy everything the farmer has to sell, cantaloupes, melons, fruits, vegetables, etc., etc., and they say they will be in such shape that they can handle every offering immediately when tendered, paying the spot cash for same. This kind of an addition to the business part of the town is one of the things that the Banner-Stockman has long and earnestly desired and advocated, and that it will be of untold benefit to the farmers goes without saying. Our heartiest good wishes are extended the firm for their ultimate success in the undertaking.

OUR ANNUAL EVENT.

As secretary to the executive committee having in charge all matters pertaining to the 4th of July celebration in Clarendon this year, the editor has been instructed to say to the public that the entertainment this year will be on a grander scale than ever before. It will cover two days, July 3 and 4. The ex-Confederates and the Woodmen have both signified their intention of joining in the celebration, and it is safe to say that Clarendon will be called upon this year to entertain more people than ever before at one time in her history. A few facts the committee wishes to get before the people.

1st.—The merchants and other business men will be expected to contribute handsomely in cash towards financing the celebration. Let none figure on giving less than $25 to $50.

2nd.—Fireworks of all kinds will be forbidden, and the merchants are earnestly requested not to put any fireworks in stock. It is believed that the small boy will find ample other opportunities to spend his dimes, and this fire-cracker business has heretofore been the cause of much complaint from our country visitors whose teams are kept in constant terror by the noise. The city authorities will strictly enforce the law against the use of fireworks.

3rd.—Visitors from the country and adjacent small towns not having friends in town to stop with will be provided with free grass and water for their teams, and with roof shelter for camping. They may bring their bedding and stay one or both nights. A shelter will be provided for them, and pasture for their teams—all absolutely free. They are urged to come.

4th.—Every citizen of the town will be expected to furnish a basket of eatables for the occasion. On the 3rd there will be a big basket dinner, with hot meat and coffee. On the 4th the barbecue proper will be given. Such of our country friends as may wish to bring baskets will be privileged, of course, to do so, but EVERY family in town will be expected to supply its part of the basket dinner.

THIS college matter must not be allowed to lag. Clarendon College not only needs the proposed benefits but it is the duty of our people to supply her with same.

A work train pulled up in time for the engine crew to see the final shots. The engineer stopped, investigated conditions, cut his engine loose and ran to Alanreed full speed for help. Both the dead man and the dying were taken to Alanreed, and an inquest started when it developed that the killing took place in this county and Sheriff Patman was immediately telephoned. During the action Owens's horse took fright, wheeled and ran away with the buggy. Fleming's horse was also very much frightened, and he says occupied so much of his time that his idea of the shooting is not very clear. This horse was shot in the nose by a stray bullet. An examination of the bodies showed that Owens was shot in the right arm and through the body as above stated. Turbyfill was shot in the thigh and through the body, the latter bullet entering just under his shoulder blade and coming out in the region of his heart.

Sheriff Patman went to the scene immediately and came back at noon today bringing the boy with him. Our reporter saw him at the living apartments of the jail and he said he had no statement to make until he had consulted with his lawyers. He has wired Madden & Truelove, of Amarillo, and they will be down on the evening train. The examining trial will likely be held tomorrow unless examination is waived.

Sol Owens was a prominent citizen of Gray county and a rich man. About two years ago he moved to Clarendon, bought the old Beverly place and sent his children to school. Later he sold out, went to Roswell, N. M., where he made big money, sold out again and returned to Alanreed. The trouble came up over the sale of his Roswell property. Turbyfill claiming to have made the sale and to be entitled to a commission of several thousand dollars. Turbyfill, in the meantime moved his family to Verno, Utah, and had only come back from there this week. He came down to see about disposing of a farm in Hall county and to effect a settlement with Owens. The disposition of his remains has not been heard from. He lived here for several years, peddling patent medicines and selling trees. While universally considered worthless he was also thought to be harmless, and his actions in this matter have been the cause of much surprise.

Mr. Owens will be buried at Alanreed tomorrow at 3:00 p. m. His brother, Jim Owens, of Matador, came in this morning and will go over to Alanreed this evening.

Sol Owens had friends all over this country and the tragedy is deeply deplored.

A STRONG INSTITUTION

The First National Bank of This City is Not Exceeded in Strength by Any Other Panhandle House.

Within the next few weeks the First National Bank of Clarendon will have operated seven years under its federal charter during which time it has grown from a comparatively small institution until today it has total assets of about a third of a million dollars, a record reflecting the confidence imposed in it by the people of this community and surrounding country.

Some recent changes in its office has made it one of the neatest, most conveniently arranged and best equipped banking houses in this part of the state. In addition to extra heavy vaults, burglar proof safe, time locks, etc., it carries a large line of burglary and robbery insurance to protect its friends against contingencies.

The capital, surplus and undivided profits is $80,000.00, furnishing the largest measure of safety to its depositors and placing it in a position to extend to all customers every courtesy and accommodation in the handling of their business consistent with legitimate, prudent banking methods. Its operations are confined to strictly commercial banking under the federal statutes and is examined by the U. S. government examiners.

The officers and directors feel justly proud of the fact that, during the past seven years the bank has not lost a single dollar through bad debts or otherwise and that the individual worth of its stockholders probably exceeds that of any other bank in the Panhandle. H. W. Taylor is President, Richard Walsh Vice President and W. H. Patrick Cashier.

EVOLUTION OF A CAT FISH

Childress Fish Makes Mistake in Selection of Habitat but Adapts Himself to Circumstances.

Several years ago believers in evolution were delighted to hear the news from Australia that a new species of rabbit had been developed, with claws that enabled it to climb fences the colonists had built to protect their crops from the rabbit plague.

Something similar has happened in this country, the truth of which is vouched for by Tan Turner, of Childress, who is notorious all over this country for telling the truth under any and all circumstances.

Tan says he was fishing in the railroad tank at Childress, and thinking what a pity it was that such a big tank hardly ever had any water in it. Apparently he was not alone in thinking so, for a fish came out of the tank, and while Tan was looking at it, calmly climbed the bank, and proceeded on its course, striking a bee line for Groesbeck.

Tan became fascinated; he rubbed his eyes thinking he was dreaming and seeing things, but no, after pinching himself a few times, he concluded there was no imagination about it, and he struck up a fox trot after the strange fish.

It proved to be a species of cat fish with four legs, which he was able to use, as Tan had observed. Tan is keeping the strange freak on exhibition in his room, and has made several efforts to get the editors of the two Childress papers to come and view his catch, but without avail thus far; both scribes professed a horror of reporting things like that, which might blast their reputation for veracity forever. Hence to accommodate a Childress friend of ours, we gladly publish the above, and refer every doubting Thomas to Mr. Turner who will take pleasure in convincing the most sceptical.—Quannah Tribune Chief.

The Grocers and Furnishers

Resolutions of Respect from Clarendon Lodge No. 700, A. F. & A. M.

Whereas—Our very dear good brother, Dr. Wm. H. Cooke, has fallen asleep, never more to greet us in this life; a little while delayed, later or sooner to one seat we hasten, we all fare thither, 'tis the last long home; and,

Whereas—Verily, our days of grief are many, and we are heart-sore continually for the death of one after another of our brethren, his was a ripe and mellow old age. He had not become decrepit or superannuated or declining towards the dotage of senility. Until his death he was quick and alert in action and movement, of intellect unimpaired, a hale, hearty, cheerful old man, serenely content and at peace with all the world and himself. One of those fortunate men whose sunny temper gild the edge of life's blackest cloud, a venerable patriarch who kept the noiseless tenor of his way along the quiet paths of homely life; and,

Whereas—The promise that God gave Abraham, "Thou shalt go to thy Father in peace, thou shalt be buried in a good old age," has been fulfilled to our brother, Dr. Wm. H. Cooke; and,

Whereas—He completed his mission here and has been called home, leaving his memory fragrant with the odor of good deeds. For such men it is but a little way from earth to heaven; and,

Whereas—We pause as we write and our thoughts go back to, and are busy with the past, and with those who are of the past, and whom our Brother Cooke has gone to meet again; and,

Whereas—We seem to stand alone upon the shore of a great sea, beyond which far out of sight lies a land unknown to us. We see the white sails less and less distinctly of the ships which bear away from us to that other land those whom we have known so long and loved so well. There are no sails coming back with messages of remembrance and love out of the remote region of that sea, but we know that the land of promise is there beyond the waters, and we believe that when we, in our turn, go across them we shall there see and know again the dead, whose memories are dear, and the token of their affections precious to us. Therefore, be it

Resolved—That this lodge, as a body, extend to the family of our deceased brother our heart-felt sympathy in their bereavement.

Resolved, further—That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of the lodge, a copy handed to the family of our deceased brother, and a copy furnished to each of the local papers for publication.

—seemed inevitable, until my husband brought home a bottle of Dr. King's New

Bitten by a Spider.

Through blood poison caused by spider bite, John Washington, of Bosqueville, Tex., would have lost his leg, which became a mass of running sores, had he not been persuaded to try Bucklen's Arnica Salve. He writes: "The first application relieved, and four boxes healed all the sores." Heals every sore.

say that they are curing me. I am now doing business again as of old, and am

You Wouldn't Believe Me

If I should tell you that you can obtain as good and in some cases better photographic work right here at home as you can in large cities. I have an ax to grind when I make the assertion and you know it. However, just to satisfy your curiosity, get a city picture, put a MULKEY photo by its side and see for yourself. Isn't this fair enough?
