

Murillo Guilty of Manslaughter, Gets Probation

By PAUL SIMS
Managing Editor

A weary seven-man, five-woman jury assessed Ballentine Murillo seven years probation after finding him guilty of voluntary manslaughter early this morning in 22nd District Court. The jury deliberated more than eight hours—from 8:30 p.m. Thursday until 4:40 a.m. today—to find Murillo guilty of voluntary manslaughter, rejecting the prosecution's attempt to convict the Santa Fe employee of murder. It took the jury 55 minutes to decide on the punishment. Murillo could have been imprisoned for 20 years on the lesser voluntary manslaughter conviction. He was charged with the March 17 stabbing death of Hector Mata across the street from the Wishing Well dance hall at 2nd and Main. District Attorney Roland Saul asked jurors to imprison Murillo, while defense lawyer Patrick Abeyta of Lubbock asked for probation during the punishment phase of the trial. Quoting from the Bible, Abeyta told the jury: "Let he who is without sin among you cast the first stone." Abeyta also quoted from the Elvis Presley song, "In the Ghetto," during arguments on the punishment. Saul told jurors they should consider the effect of a probated sentence on potential murderers in the county. "If you want to deter stabbings in Deaf Smith County, if you want to deter killings, you have to say so by your verdict," Saul said. During the lengthy deliberations on Murillo's guilt-innocence, the jury sent District Judge George Miller of Floydada four notes. The first three notes requested, respectively, the statement prosecution witness Emilio Rincon made to police two days after the stabbing, a request to review the testimony of Oscar Ramos, another state witness and a copy of Rincon's testimony on whether Murillo had a knife in his right hand following the stabbing. The fourth note stated that the jury had reached an impasse in its deliberations (See TRIAL, Page 2)

United Way Day Surpasses $101,000

By PAUL SIMS
Managing Editor

Deaf Smith County United Way raised $101,137.68 Thursday for 11 participating agencies—a figure President Bud Eades said later was "pleasing" and would increase during a follow-up campaign during the next two weeks. United Way Day was Thursday at Sugarland Mall, with agencies sponsoring booths and fun-type events to attract persons to the mall. A table was set up to collect pledges from businesses and individuals and a running total was kept on a board.

The one-day drive was the brainchild of campaign chairman Doug Manning, who will also head the clean-up operation. Volunteers had hoped to raise $148,110 for agency operating expenses, but instead managed 68.3 percent of their goal. Still, Eades said today that he felt Thursday's day-long climax to the shortest United Way drive in local history was a success.

"It was a pleasing and successful campaign," Eades said. "We don't have anything of this type of campaign to compare it with in previous years, but for the first real day of the campaign, to have it better than two-thirds finished is very satisfying," Eades said.

Eades said the goal still could be reached. "We feel that there are enough prospects for donations that either haven't been contacted or did not bring their pledges to the mall that the goal can definitely be reached. It shouldn't take more than two weeks, which is in line with our philosophy of doing this drive as quickly as possible," Eades said.

Volunteers began contacting businesses last week and took pledges from most of them over the telephone. Business representatives or volunteer "runners" brought those pledges to the mall Thursday.

Most of the money raised Thursday was brought in between 3-5 p.m. Nearly $80,000 of the total was turned in between noon and 6 p.m.

Inside the mall, booths included a pie throw sponsored by Big Brothers-Big Sisters, a "bucking horse" operated by the YMCA, a Camp Fire Girls cake walk, Kids Inc. face-painting, a "jail" run by the Boy Scouts, Red Cross balloons, a chance to wear various hats provided by Family Svices Center and bingo sponsored by Hereford Senior Citizens.

The pie throw, which featured several local citizens as "targets," and bucking horse attracted most of the attention Thursday, while raising money for United Way agencies.

The largest contribution turned in by a business Thursday was $12,500 pledged by Armour Food employees. Hereford Independent School District employees pledged $4,924.

"We feel like the activities of United Way day did a great deal for Hereford in bringing the community together for one common goal. I feel like we were successful in that respect, too," Eades said.

United Way office manager Carolyn Baxter, who was responsible for taking pledges in the mall, said the overall community attitude "was good" Thursday.

"I thought it was great to see people come together and feel like they're working toward one thing."

Eades said that "at least a dozen" businesses utilized payroll deduction for their employees for the first time.

"Their employees discovered what an easy way this is to give to the agencies. Payroll deduction is the in-thing to do," Eades said.

He added that anyone who hasn't been contacted by a volunteer but would like to contribute may call the United Way office at 364-5220.

Volunteers are still hoping to raise the following allocations for United Way agencies:

YMCA, $47,500; Boy Scouts of America, $22,800; Camp Fire Girls, $19,768; Big Brothers-Big Sisters, $16,412; Red Cross, $11,355; Kids Inc. $9,500; Senior Citizens, $5,700; Salvation Army, $4,275; Family Services Center, $2,375; High Plains Epilepsy Association, $1,425; and Children's Rehabilitation Center, $1,000.

Volunteers hope to top last year's pledged total of approximately $138,000, which represented nearly 72 percent of the $191,815 goal. That was the largest goal and most money collected in Deaf Smith County United Way history.

Last year, the goal represented 100 percent of the agencies' operating expenses. No additional agency fund-raising drives or sales were permitted following the United Way campaign.

Castro County Named in Lawsuit Seeking To Alter Precinct Lines

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — A coalition of organizations, calling Texas "the most gerrymandered state in the Southwest," is asking federal courts to order 11 counties to redraw precinct lines.

William Velasquez, director of the Southwest Voter Registration Education Project, said Thursday the counties have intentionally drawn precinct lines that dilute Mexican-American voting strength.

Velasquez sat in front of a map showing 97 Texas counties in which he said Mexican-Americans are under-represented on commissioners courts.

He said continued losses at the polls in those counties have alienated Mexican-American voters and left them with little hope of representation.

The counties named in the federal suits Thursday were Atascosa, Medina, Refugio, Uvalde, Cochran, Edwards, Lynn, Dawson, Crosby, Victoria and Castro.

Of the 11 counties named in the suits, Uvalde County is the only one with a Spanish-surnamed county commissioner.

Velasquez was joined at the news conference by officials from the Mexican-American Legal Defense and Educational Fund, the League of United Latin-American Citizens and the American GI Forum. Texas Rural Legal Aid, Inc., also helped prepare the litigation, he said.

The suits are the result of a two-year study of county government in Texas, the officials said. Velasquez said the first 66 counties checked were gerrymandered — "some to an outrageous degree."

The suits charge the county precinct lines violate the one-man, one-vote doctrine. Federal law says the most populous precinct in a county should not be more than 10 percent larger than the least populous precinct.

Statistics gathered by the organizations showed all 11 counties are violating that law. In Edwards County, the largest precinct is 180 percent larger than the "ideal precinct" (based on the 1970 census).

The smallest precinct is 80 percent smaller than the ideal precinct, according to the figures.

Rolando Rios, director of litigation for SVREP, said staff members were "told to get out of the county by sundown" when they tried to look at voter registration figures in the Southwest Texas county.

Velasquez said more suits may follow. "We intend to remedy this problem even if it takes us suing all the counties," Velasquez said. He said the organizations have the funds to pursue the matter, but he added he hoped the counties would agree to negotiate new precinct lines.

Rios said reapportionment of the 97 counties would mean Mexican-Americans would be in the majority in 104 precincts. He said there are now only 17 Mexican-Americans on commissioners courts in the 97 counties.

El Paso Rep. Paul Moreno, chairman of the Mexican-American Legislative Caucus, voiced his support for the legal action. He said, "the only way the Mexican-American can get any political power is through the courts. Our state government is quite biased."

Phillips Explosion Kills 2

BORGER, Texas (AP) — A refinery worker says the poisonous gas that leaked from a pipeline, killing two men and injuring 11 others, smelled like rotten eggs and was probably lethal hydrogen disulfide gas.

But plant officials at the Phillips Petroleum refinery near this Panhandle city where the accident occurred Thursday said they don't know what toxic substance caused the accident or where it came from.

Federal investigators were summoned to the refinery today to try to determine how the accident occurred and what chemical overcame the men.

Greg Stout, 29, of Stinnett, one of the workers in the refinery's Unit 22 when the poisonous fumes belched from a pipeline, said it was hydrogen disulfide gas. "I recognized it from the smell," said Stout, who helped rescue other workers overcome by the fumes until he was also stricken.

"It smelled like rotten eggs at first — it didn't hurt to breathe — but within a few seconds your sense of smell is paralyzed and you can't smell it anymore. Then you get dizzy and if someone doesn't get you out of there, you die."

Stout said the first man killed, Fran McGahan, 29, of Fritch, was working on a platform two stories above ground in the refinery when he was overcome by the fumes.

"He fell about 20 feet to a structure beneath him — but that was where all the gas was coming from," Stout said. "Another man passed out and fell 10 feet. There was a tremendous amount of gas everywhere."

Another worker, Don Gibbs, 39, of Fritch, said he was working on a furnace when "I looked up and saw a guy hit the ground. I looked up to the platform and saw another guy pass out. Another one was hanging on a ladder."

"I went up one side of the ladder and another guy went up the other side and we lifted him back onto the platform. That's when I got it. I got dizzy. I managed to get onto the platform, and passed out. I don't know how long I was out."

The other fatality in the accident was Kim Manning, 27, of Fritch, who died several hours later in an Amarillo hospital of respiratory burns.

United Way Activities

Activities attracted young and old alike to the mall Thursday for United Way Day, in which volunteers attempted to raise money for participating UW agencies. More than $101,000 was raised through business contributions, employee gifts and fun-type activities, which included a pie throw, bucking horse and face painting. The one-day campaign was termed a success by President Bud Eades and campaign chairman Doug Manning. Much follow-up work is expected for the campaign during the next two weeks. [Brand photos by Paul Sims]

13% Inflation Rate Continues

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pushed by higher prices for food, fuel and housing, consumer prices increased 1.1 percent in September as inflation continued above a 13 percent annual rate, the government said today. At the same time, it reported that the purchasing power of workers' paychecks declined another 0.7 percent during the month and was down by 4.4 percent from a year earlier.

Easter Lions Sponsor Opry

"The Easter Opry Road Show" sponsored by Easter Lions Club will be presented Saturday at 8 p.m. in the Hereford High School Auditorium.

Musical entertainment for the evening will consist of "The Country Four," Holly Hodges; "Colonel" Woody Glass; Walker Parris; "The Foulaires," Ed Gallagher; "The Golden Age Quartet," Gary-McCleskey; "Frio Trio" and recording artist Zella Ellison.

Other performers include Billy Lytal, Kristi Lytal, Jerry Hodges, Herman McCleskey, David Burns, Art Reinauer, Homer Garrison, J.B. Noland, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Boyer, and Bill Marquis.

Master of ceremonies will be KPAN's Jim Tucker. Admission will be $1 at the door with any other donations appreciated, and proceeds from the event will go to the Satellite Workshop Building Fund.

Consumer Price Index for another month or two, said Patrick Jackman, a Labor Department analyst.

Jackman said consumer prices have increased at a 13.2 percent annual rate during the first nine months of 1979.

Set Clocks Back One Hour Sunday

Most Americans will be able to get an extra hour of sleep Sunday morning when the nation reverts to standard time. Everywhere except in Arizona, Hawaii and most of Indiana, which have remained in standard time for the past six months, clocks and watches must be set back one hour starting at 2 a.m.

At that moment, 2 a.m. becomes 1 a.m., signaling the shift from daylight-saving time to standard time. Unless you're staying up late, it might be easier to reset your timepieces before you go to bed.

Daylight-saving time is in effect from the last Sunday in April-April 29 this year-until the last Sunday in October. After extending daylight time for a longer time in response to the energy crunch caused by the Arab oil embargo in 1973-74, Congress returned the nation to six months of daylight time in 1976.

2nd-Largest Bank

Raises Lending Rate

NEW YORK (AP) - Citibank, the nation's second-largest bank, today raised its prime lending rate to a record 15 1/2 percent.

The bank leaped past other major banks, which earlier in the week raised their rates to 15 percent from 14 1/2 percent. Citibank, which normally acts only on Fridays, had not matched that increase.

The prime lending rate is charged by banks to their most credit-worthy corporate customers, with other businesses paying even more.

It does not directly affect consumer loans, and in fact some banks now make loans to consumers and homebuyers at rates below the prime rate. But it is seen as a key indicator of short-term interest rates.

The Federal Reserve Board in recent weeks has drastically tightened credit, in an effort to fight inflation by holding down the growth of the money supply.

Federal Reserve

Admits Big Error

NEW YORK (AP) - The Federal Reserve says it made a massive error in calculating the money supply for the first two weeks of October, an error that apparently played a large role in the rapid rise of interest rates this month.

The admission came Thursday, as the Federal Reserve released figures showing the previous week's report of the basic money supply was $3 billion too high. "The substantial cause of the revision was reporting errors by a large money center bank," a Federal Reserve spokesman said. He declined to give details.

In its efforts to control inflation, the Federal Reserve closely follows the money supply. A week ago, it reported the basic money supply rose a stunning $2.8 billion in the week ended Oct. 10. The same day, the Federal Reserve tightened credit, driving up interest rates.

But on Thursday, the Federal Reserve said the gain was actually only a modest $500 million for that week. It said the basic money supply for the week ended Oct. 17 declined $700 million, completely offsetting the previous week's gains.

The basic money supply, known as M1, includes cash and funds in checking accounts.

House Passes Aid

For Heating Bills

WASHINGTON (AP) - Details remain to be worked out, but House action appears to make it a safe bet millions of the nation's poor will have government help in paying this winter's heating bills.

The House of Representatives, responding to Speaker Thomas P. O'Neill's declaration that the country faces a crisis, voted 290-105 Thursday in favor of an emergency $1.35 billion fuel aid measure for low income households.

House members voted earlier this year for $250 million in such aid, bringing the total to $1.6 billion, the same amount approved by the Senate in different legislation.

Final approval for the money won't come until the two houses reconcile differences in the bills, but leaders in both houses have made it clear they want to make sure such a program is enacted.

The House approval came after congressional first decided to use the proceeds of President Carter's proposed "windfall profits" tax to pay for the costly program. A move to make the entire aid program contingent on passage of the tax was ruled out of order, however, and thus rejected.

Carter has urged Congress to approve the tax on the oil industry to soak up some of the increased revenues companies will receive because of the gradual removal of price controls.

Mortgage Money

Expected to Grow

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Carter administration has moved on several fronts to ease the nationwide mortgage money crunch, but at the expense of further boosting record high interest rates.

A federal official who requested anonymity said Thursday's steps will make money available for a while, "especially so lenders can make good on commitments. But who is going to borrow at the rates they'll have to charge?"

The supply of mortgage money is expected to grow as a result of revised Federal Home Loan Bank Board regulations which:

-Lower the minimum amount of money thrift institutions must keep in reserve, thereby freeing up to $2.4 billion that can be made available for mortgages.

-Give savings and loan associations permission to greatly expand their borrowing from "outside sources," starting in 60 days. Those sources could include such things as commercial banks and mortgage-backed bonds.

In a related move, the maximum allowable interest on single-family home mortgages insured by the Federal Housing Administration was raised a full point to a record 11.5 percent. For multi-family dwellings, the ceiling was raised from 10 percent to 11 percent.

Weather

West Texas - Generally fair and warmer through Saturday. Partly cloudy and cooler north Saturday. Highs 80s except upper 80s Big Bend valleys. Lows 42 to 35 except upper 30s southwestern mountains. Highs Saturday 70 northwest to 88 extreme south.

Girl, 7, Still Missing

DALLAS (AP) - Police held a man today who fit the description of the kidnapper of a 7-year-old girl who has been missing for four days, but officers admitted they were not optimistic about the possible suspect.

"Chances are very slim that he will be the suspect," said Police Sgt. John Adamcik. "He's just another one of many people that fit the general description of the kidnapper and drive an automobile that may generally fit the description."

Elsewhere, police continued to search the city for blond Elizabeth Barclay, the first-grader abducted Tuesday night as she walked to the store to buy some ice cream with her 3-year-old brother and 5-year-old boy.

The two little boys told police a husky black man in his 30s whisked Elizabeth into a black or gray 1974 Buick. Her playmates said the man told them, "I'm going to take her and throw her in the water."

The potential suspect was arrested Thursday night as they searched for 1974 dull gray Buicks.

The man, who was arrested on an outstanding traffic ticket, generally fit the description of the abductor. But Adamcik said, "Some of our investigators will talk to him, obtain photographs, get all the information as to his whereabouts on that particular day ... and chances are that he will be released."

More than 35 police officers used horses and helicopters to search creek beds, ravines and children, remained silent Thursday.

"I'm going to keep my kids in here," a man said from his doorway. "I'm not going to let them out."

Elizabeth's family has offered a $5,000 reward for Elizabeth's safe return or the arrest and conviction of her abductor.

Elizabeth was the third young girl in the Dallas area abducted in the past two years.

The body of a 12-year-old

Denton girl, Suzie Mages, was found behind a drive-in movie in southwest Dallas, and the body of 7-year-old Ladina McCoy was found along Interstate 20. Neither case has been solved.

Officers said mounted and tactical officers searched Mountain Creek Lake and an area roughly from Texas Stadium to Love Field and Irving Boulevard to Northwest Highway.

The courtyards around Elizabeth's northwest Dallas apartment, usually filled with playing

Davis Defense To Finish Case

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) - Cullen Davis' defense team was expected to begin wrapping up its case today in the millionaire industrialist's murder-for-hire trial.

Attorney Mike Gibson said the defense would finish its presentation today or Monday.

Thursday, a Tarrant County grand jury decided not to investigate a complaint against an unidentified photographer who took pictures of lead prosecutor Jack Strickland and witness Priscilla Davis as they left the criminal courts building one night last week.

Strickland said the man might have been part of a plot to harass Mrs. Davis, the defendant's former wife. He said she had received "numerous threats and abusive letters."

Because District Judge Gordon Gray had a prior commitment Thursday, the trial was recessed for a day.

Davis is accused of plotting the murder of his divorce judge, Joe Eidson. Davis, however, contends he is the object of a plot by Priscilla, state witness David McCrory and others. On Wednesday, Gray refused to allow the jury to hear testimony from one defense witness, Jerry Jones.

Reports Include Harrassing Calls

Hereford police Thursday received reports of several minor incidents, including three harrassing telephone calls.

Joe Sturgeon, 502 Blevins, reported that his house was egged Thursday.

Dema Arredondo, a Hereford High student, reported that someone removed the battery from her car after she parked it at the school.

Officers also investigated a report of a dog biting a child in the 200 block of Fuller, a family fight in the 200 block of Kibbe, a rock-throwing incident in the 400 block of Ave. I, a fight at La Plata Junior High at 6:18 p.m. and unknown trouble in the 300 block of Lake. In the latter report, a caller said, simply that police were needed, but officers could find no trouble upon investigation.

Officers arrested one person for driving while intoxicated and another for public intoxication.

There were 10 traffic citations issued Thursday.

Hereford Lions Host Zone Meet

The Hereford Lions Club hosted a zone meeting Thursday night in honor of District Governor Charles Cooley of Borger.

Zone chairman Gayle Cotten presided at the meeting, held at Hereford State Bank. He and deputy district governor Joe Don Cummings, both of Hereford, spoke briefly at the session before introducing the governor.

The meeting served as a time for the official visit of the governor to this zone. Previously the district governor has visited each club, but the zone format was chosen to save on travel and time.

Cooley emphasized membership and retention during his address to leaders from the clubs in this area. The local zone includes two Hereford clubs, Dawn, Easter, Simms and Nazareth.

Cooley reminded Lions that a District Cabinet meeting is scheduled Saturday on the Borger Girlstown campus.

and was sent to the judge at 3:15 a.m. Miller sent a lengthy note back to the jury which stated that if it could not reach a decision, the trial would have to be declared a mistrial and the case probably would be retried. Miller said in the note that another jury also likely would have problems in reaching a verdict and urged the panel to continue its deliberations and attempt to reach a verdict.

Forty-five minutes later, Miller called jurors into the courtroom and asked them, one by one, if it was improbable that they would reach a verdict. Each juror responded that a verdict probably would be reached. The verdict came shortly thereafter.

Murillo's wife sobbed loudly and was escorted from the courtroom by family members and friends after hearing the guilty verdict. However, she smiled when the probated sentence was read by Miller.

During final arguments in the trial Thursday night, Saul restated the events he said surrounded the stabbing—Hector Mata and brothers-in-law Emilio Rincon, David Rincon and Oscar Ramos stopped across the street from the Wishing Well to aid a man whose car had stalled. Murillo started a fight, Emilio Rincon struck another man involved in the fight with a chain, the Rincons and Ramos ran to their pickup. Murillo chased Emilio Rincon around the vehicle. Murillo stabbed Mata who was standing beside the vehicle. David Rincon struck Murillo on the head with a guitar, Murillo fell down and was kicked by Emilio Rincon and Mata fell to the pavement.

Saul told the jury that the testimony of state and defense witnesses "was basically the same, but there were differences, which proves that the state's witnesses were telling the truth."

Saul said that if there had been a conspiracy between the Rincons and Ramos to have Murillo charged with the killing, "their statements might have been the same."

In the opening round of testimony Wednesday, Emilio Rincon said he saw Murillo stab Mata, but David Rincon and Ramos stated that they did not see the knife.

Abeyta, in final arguments to the jury, said the prosecution was "chasing rabbits" and "convenientizing the evidence." Abeyta accused Mata's brothers-in-law of conspiring together to put Murillo in jail.

Abeyta's witnesses Thursday—Tiodoso Almandariz, Ray Rodriguez and Raul Sadana—testified they saw Murillo being beaten up across the street from the Wishing Well.

Murillo testified that he walked out of the Wishing Well, was jumped and beaten by several men and could not remember what happened afterwards. He said the fight occurred in front of the Wishing Well, instead of across the street.

Abeyta called Emilio Rincon a "perjurer," then reminded the jury that Rincon's statements made to police and in an examining trial before Justice of the Peace O.K. Neal differed from those made Wednesday in the district courtroom.

Saul spoke again during closing arguments, saying, "You've heard a lot of smoke. Mr. Abeyta's arguments are very clever, ladies and gentlemen, but I submit to you that the dog won't hunt."

"Ballantine Murillo was determined to hurt someone that night—he went out and picked a fight. Poor, ol' Hector Mata just happened to be standing in the wrong place at the wrong time, and he's dead."

Saul urged the jury not to consider a voluntary manslaughter conviction because "there wasn't any testimony brought out supporting voluntary manslaughter. It was not proven in this case."

Almandariz testified that he saw Mata inside the Wishing Well following the fight.

"Tiodoso was wrong about seeing Hector Mata in the Wishing Well," Saul said.

There were approximately 75 spectators in the courtroom Thursday night, and about half that number when the guilty verdict was read this morning. Throughout the jury's deliberations, spectators—mostly friends and family of the defendant—roamed the four floors of the county courthouse.

Trash, spilled coffee and other traces of the large crowd were evident throughout the courthouse this morning.

Inflation

meaning that if the same trend continues through December, that would be the total increase for the year.

It would be the highest inflation for any year since 1946, when prices were up 18.2 percent after the government lifted wartime price controls.

The Labor Department said its Consumer Price Index stood in September at 223.4 of the 1967 average of 100, meaning that goods and services priced at $100 in 1967 had risen in cost to $223.40 last month.

Prices had increased 12.1 percent in the 12-month period ending in September.

Jackman said the worsening of food prices in following four months of improvement clouds the outlook for an easing of inflation in coming months.

The Carter administration originally had forecast an easing of consumer prices to below a 10 percent rate by the end of the year.

"It's not a very pleasant forecast ... I don't see us getting worse, but it looks like we'll be staying right around where we are, with the highest rate of inflation since World War II," Jackman said.

Earlier in the week, Charles L. Schultz, the chairman of the president's Council of Economic Advisers, had said he expected the rate of inflation to be slightly under 13 percent.

Steadily worsening inflation in the economy caused the Federal Reserve Board to take drastic actions on Oct. 6 to slow growth of the money supply and boost interest rates to help contain the upward price spiral.

Schultz said the government's anti-inflation program, which includes wage and price guidelines and restraint on federal spending, is chiefly aimed at keeping higher energy prices from becoming a permanent part of the nation's rate of inflation.

Even if the program is successful, Schultz said the best that can be expected is an inflation rate of 8 percent to 9 percent, which will be much more difficult to reduce. But an effort must be made, he said. "We need a long-run objective of how to reduce the 8 to 9 percent that is probably the underlying rate," Schultz told an economic symposium of the Washington Forum on Thursday. He said the sharp slowdown in productivity growth is a key factor in the worsening underlying rate.

Until fairly recently, he said, the underlying rate of inflation was between 6 percent and 6.5 percent. The underlying rate is inflation after discounting unusual increases, such as higher energy costs.

To that, Schultz added 4 percent inflation from higher energy prices and about 2.5 percent from higher housing costs, including home mortgages, to arrive at the current 13 percent inflation rate.

After discounting energy and housing, Schultz said the current inflation rate would be about 7 percent to 7.5 percent.

Bullion Prices Drop

LONDON (AP) - The U.S. Treasury's surprise announcement that it will auction off 1.25 million ounces of gold on Nov. 1 sent the price of bullion plummeting by as much as $17.50 in Europe today. The dollar rose.

"People were expecting there wouldn't be any auctions for a while, and now we have more gold coming onto the market," said a dealer at Samuel Montagu Ltd., one of the big five London bullion merchants.

Gold opened in London at $374.50 an ounce, down $17.50 from $392.00 Thursday. In Zurich, the opening price was $376.50, down $15.50.

This compared with gold's all-time peak of $444.00 an ounce, hit in Zurich trading just 24 days ago.

Meanwhile, the dollar climbed.

Morning rates compared to late Thursday: Frankfurt—1.8035 West German marks, up from 1.8015.

Zurich—1.6665 Swiss francs, up from 1.6567.

Paris—4.2268 French francs, up from 4.2240.

Amsterdam—2.0025 Dutch guilders, up from 2.0015.

Milan—$30.10 Italian lire, up from $29.45.

The British pound was little changed in London at $2.1125, compared to $2.1135.

Aggie Moms Announce November Bake Sale

The Annual Aggie Moms bake sale, to be held Nov. 10 at Sugarland Mall, was main topic of business at Tuesday's meeting.

Elizabeth Brown, bake sale chairman, listed popular items at previous sales and asked for workers at the sale. Members showed enthusiasm in supplying numerous baked goods—cakes, pies, breads, sweet rolls, etc.

Proceeds from the yearly bake sale, the club's only money making project, apply to the scholarship given each spring by the club to a high school senior planning to attend Texas A&M University.

During "Aggie Brag" Opal Walterschied and Charmayne Klett announced to the group that their sons, Doug Walterschied and Wes Klett, had been selected to serve as members of the Ross Volunteers, the oldest student organization on campus. Membership is by invitation and is restricted to juniors and seniors in the Corps. The group serves as honor guard to the Governor of Texas in inaugural ceremonies and, among other events, is the lead marching unit in the Rex Parade during Mardi Gras in New Orleans, La.

Mrs. Klett, president, read the invitation to the District 10

Convention to be held Saturday at the Lubbock Club. Lubbock Area A&M Mothers Club will host the annual meet to be attended by several state federation officers.

Hereford members planning to attend are: Barbara Hardin, Margaret Ann Durham, Margie Ford, Pat Clark and Sue Hollingsworth.

Pat Clark agreed to serve as contact person for the "Moms". Anyone planning to travel to Texas A&M will notify Mrs. Clark, who will also receive calls from those wishing to send items to their student-children there.

The membership agreed to move the monthly meeting date to the last Tuesday of each month, rather than the usual "last Monday".

Attending the noon luncheon meeting at The Thompson House were: two new members, Sadie Brandt and Joan Ellis; Berta Ottson, Betty Whitaker, Leanna Walterschied, Opal Walterschied, Mary Lyles, Pat Clark, Linda Hicks, Barbara Hardin, Margaret Ann Durham, Norma Hendon, Nancy Scaggs, Mary Lou Aven, Elizabeth Brown, Merle Clark, Opal Blakely, Ruth Fish, Teresa Artho, Margie Ford, Charmayne Klett, Sue Hollingsworth and Betty Koelzer.

Scouting The Panhandle

By DAVID CORTEZ
District Executive
Boy Scouts of America

The First Annual "Scout, Tenderfoot, and Second Class" Skill-O-Ree will be held Oct. 26 and 27th. There will be 8 events that each Scout can compete in. This is not a troop against troop competition, rather, each Scout is competing against himself to try and earn a passing grade on each skill.

The events are 1) Uniform Inspection, 2) Flag raising ceremony, 3) First Aid, 4) Archery, 5) Compass, 6) Firebuilding, 7) Knots, and 8) Camp inspection. Camp inspection will be graded as a troop overall; with each Scout receiving a personal score according to what the "troop" scored overall.

To make the skills fair for each Scout, there will be an "A" & "B" division. "A" division will be all Scouts who have been in the troop for more than 4 months. "B" Division will be all Scouts in a troop active for less than 4 months.

Scoutmasters may decide for their scouts to put them in whichever division the SM thinks will be most challenging for the Scout.

The following requirements for each skill in each division are listed below:

1) Archery: "A" Division—Scouts will stand 20 yards from target and must score a total of at least 30 points to successfully pass this skill. Targets are 48" in diameter. Each scout will shoot 10 arrows, 5 arrows at a time. "B" Division Scouts will stand 10 yards away from the target.

2) First Aid: "A" division Scouts will be given a complex situation to see how well they handle the situation and five immediate First Aid. Be prepared for 1st, 2nd, and 3rd degree burns, broken bones, and fractures, heat stroke, cuts, arterial bleeding, and snake bites. (In short be prepared for any 1st Aid situation.) "B"—Be prepared to show First Aid for sprained ankle, broken arm, minor cuts, person fainted, head wounds.

3) Compass—Each scout will follow a course from a starting point. Grading will be determined by counting how many feet the scout is off from the finishing point. To successfully complete this skill, a scout cannot be more than 20 feet from finishing point. "B"—You will be given compass points and point what is in line or be pointed to a landmark and asked the degree reading for that mark.

4) Fire Building: "A"—"String Burning Contest"—Scouts must build, and light a fire with matches and burn string in half within 7 minutes. Scouts should bring their own matches. For every match a Scout uses over the first match, he will be penalized 10 seconds. "B"—light a fire within 5 minutes. For every match used over 1, a penalty of 10 seconds will be assessed.

5) Flag Raising: "A"—Three Scouts at a time. Scouts will raise and lower flags as if 100 Scouts were present. Two Scouts will raise and lower flag, with 1 Scout giving commands. Grading will cover, a) How effective Scout yells ALL PROPER commands. (b) Marching in unison toward flag pole. (c) Proper raising and lowering. (d) Marching back from flag pole. "B"—2 Scouts at a time give a 30 second history of our flag and fold the flag properly with as little red showing as possible.

(6) Uniform Inspection: "A" Possible 100 points as follows, (a) Neckerchief—neatness for 10 pts. (b) Shirt—all buttons fastened, buttons in align with zipper for 10 pts. (c) Belt—official Khaki web belt, "brass over brass" will be checked for 10 pts. (d) Insignia -- Correct placement: left pocket for 10 pts, right pocket for 10 pts. Left sleeve for 10 pts., right sleeve for 10 pts. (e) Appearance—face clean for 5 pts., (f) How well you stand at attention while being inspected for 10 pts. Total 100 points—Must score at least 70 pts. Bonus Points—headgear of some kind 5 pts., Scout trousers 5 pts. or shorts with proper Scout socks and tabs for 10 pts. Class A and B competition will be the same for Uniform Inspection.

7) Camp Inspection: Class A and B will be the same as follows: Total of 100 pts. possible. The troops will be inspected at 8:45 a.m. Sharp for overall camp neatness, tent neatness, (clean inside and stretched properly) trash picked up, campfire neat, safety in camp. The score the troop receives will be the score each Scout in that troop receives.

8) Knots: "A" Must know the knots and what that particular knot is used for. Square knot, sheet bend, half-hitch, 2 half hitches, clove whip the end of a rope. "B" tie square knot, clove hitch, bowline, taught line. Scouts don't have to know what the knot is used for.

Preparing Food Items
Meredith Wilcox, member of St. Thomas Episcopal Church is shown preparing a casserole for the annual Christmas bazaar scheduled for Nov. 2-3. Among food items for sale will be jelly, crepes, spaghetti sauce, chile, casseroles, as well as baked goods and candy. The food items will be made by the church members. ## FFF Club Convenes In Methodist Church Fun, Food, and Fellowship Club met Wednesday in the First Methodist Church Recreation Room.

Due to the absence of President Ozeppa Wilhelm a short program was given by Myna Mae Love and Sue Henslee. Each woman gave a special reading. Gospel singing followed with Ruby Jennings playing the piano.

A dinner was served with Sue Henslee giving the dinner prayer.

The next scheduled meeting will be Nov. 28 in the First Methodist Church Recreation Room.

Guest present were Ethel Logan, Esther Grimes, Essie Alderson, Roxie Davis, Lucille Berryman, Alice Cox, Pearl Ricketts, Mary Flowers, Mary Albracht, Hattie Jones, Mabel Wagner, Helen Starks, Irene Dzuik, and Bobby Metcalk.

Seventeen members were present.

Thanksgiving Dinner Scheduled in Bovina

St. Ann's Catholic Church in Bovina will sponsor their Annual Turkey & Trimmings Dinner Sunday, Nov. 4 from 11:30 a.m. - 2 p.m. at St. Ann's Parish Hall, 3rd Street in Bovina.

The dinner will consist of turkey & dressing, homemade coleslaw, home-canned green beans, mashed potatoes & gravy, cranberry sauce, buttered French bread, carrot or pumpkin cakes, coffee and tea.

Donations will be $3.50 per adult and $2 for children 10 and under.

Leonardo da Vinci died in 1519, the same year that Cortez began his expedition to conquer the Aztecs of Mexico.

Door prizes will be awarded. Co-chairmen for the special event are Vernie Schacher and Nancy Schwertner.

Cosmetology Chapter Attends Initiation

Hereford High School Cosmetology Chapter #489 of the Vocational Industrial Clubs of America (VICA) traveled to Plainview to hold an initiation ceremony. The initiates were new members of Radio and Television Repair Chapter #365.

The initiates were asked to recite from memory the pledge, creed, and motto of VICA and were later presented with Club Colors.

Officers doing the initiation were Faviana Valdez, president; Anna Castillo, vice president; Delilah Guerrero, secretary; Carmen Aguirre, reporter; Ramona Rhodes, treasurer; Renae Pagett, parliamentarian; Ledlie Ewing, Sgt.-at-Arms; Renae Dobbs, guide and Mrs. Mary Helen Askew, counselor.

Faviana Valdez, president, called attention to a picture of Christ describing him as "the immortal carpenter who is the highest example of perfection as man and as tradesman." She urged all new members to model their work and live after him. After the initiation Bill Cross held the installation of his newly elected officers.

Guests present were Mrs. Jackie Cabbiness, CVAE Coordinator, and Mrs. Billie Young, Cosmetology Instructor, both from Hereford High School.

Jerry Don George, Plainview High School principal and John Quinby, Vocational Director, both were former principal and vocational director at Hereford High School.

Buck Johnson, Area Consultant VI, and Bill Cross, Radio and Television Repair Coordinator of Plainview High School and his wife.

Also present were members and parents of Plainview Chapter #365 VICA.

Animal Orphans

These animals are available for "adoption" at the City Animal Shelter

An assortment of various dogs are available at the dog pound. For any information concerning these animals contact the City Police Department.

A female, snoopy-type dog, very shy, is in private custody. Information concerning this dog can be obtained by calling 364-5298.

Also ready for adoption are five kittens being held in private custody. They are very healthy kittens. Information concerning these kittens can be obtained by calling 364-6123 or 364-5298.

According to the Insurance Information Institute, nearly 2 million people have died and 132 million have been injured in 672 million highway accidents in the U.S. in the past 50 years. The loss to the nation economically from these accidents amounts to some $508 billion.

Our church celebration was well attended for the morning worship, and the afternoon session saw a full house in attendance.

Those former pastors who came were the Rev. and Mrs. W.B. Swimm from Plainview; the Rev. and Mrs. Johnnie Williams from Crosbyton; the Rev. and Mrs. Don Travis from Post; the Rev. and Mrs. Jesse Hodges and family of Hereford.

Mrs. Augusta Swanson (deceased Charter member) was represented by her son Mr. and Mrs. R.D. Swanson and Mr. and Mrs. Roger Morris Jr., grandson from Hereford.

Several former members were there for the days activities. Some from California to New Mexico to Oklahoma and Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Blair Ieunn Sr. of Phoenix, Arizona have been visiting with their granddaughter and family. The Rev. and Mrs. John Miller. While here he suffered a stroke and was carried to Amarillo Emergency Center by Adrian Ambulance. He was later transferred to St. Anthony's and underwent blood vessel surgery.

Member of the United Methodist Women met in regular session Oct. 24 with Mrs. Robert Jacobson presiding after a short business meeting. Mrs. D.C. Read brought the program on "Simpler Life Styles." Many thoughts and ideas were discussed and accepted. The meeting was closed with prayer by Mrs. Read.

Fossil bones found on Canada's Arctic Ellesmere Island have been put forth as evidence for the theory that a land bridge once linked North America and Europe, with the two land masses sharing the same animal species until 45 to 48 million years ago.

The largest area of Indian tribal-owned land is in New Mexico, with 3,329,270 acres distributed among 24 reservations.

Style Show Viewed By Hereford Club

The Hereford Study Club met at The Vogue for a Guest Night Style Show.

Fall and winter clothes were modeled by Kay Morrison, Maarke Hutto, Marge Lassiter, Dodi Brookhart, Karen Brookhart, Marcella McClain, Shirley Wilson, Charmagne Klett and Donna Vanderzee.

Refreshments of cucumber sandwiches, cheese wafers, nuts, Divinity candy, and hot spiced apple cider and coffee were served by the hostesses Mmes. Wallace Kirby, Melvin Thompson, and R.N. Yarbro.

Guests in attendance were Irene Conaway, Mrs. Lyle Holmes, Mrs. J.T. Glibreath, Jr., Mrs. C.J. Crump, Mrs. Ed Wieck, Mrs. Melvin Cordray, Mrs. Glenn Michael, Cora Gentry, Jennie Fowler, Doris Hair, Dorothy Renfro, Sandra Holifield, Mary Taylor, Leona Kimball, Marjorie Mims, Mary Hamlett, Elizabeth Cesar, Audine Dettman, Mrs. Jack Case, Grace Tinnin, Nedra Robinson, Beverly Bryant, Sue Hollingsworth, Bobbie Wilson, Peggy Wallace, Gladys Davis of Cokedale, Co., and Mtsie Blevins.

Members present were Mmes. Labry Ballard, Tommy Brady, Cawthon, Bryant, B.F. Cain, George DeBier, Wallace Kirby, Sam Long, Bob Poston, Don Robinson, Gladys Settiff, Louie Spinks, Joe Story, Maurice Tannahill, Melvin Thompson, Ed Wilson, and R.N. Yarbro.

DINNER FOR TWO
Fish Fillets
Snap Beans
Rice Salad
Fruit Turnovers

FILLETS FRANCS
My sister's ingenious and flavorful combination.
2 or 3 sole fillets (generous 3/4 pound)
Salt and pepper to taste
6 water chestnuts, thinly sliced (from an 8-ounce can)
2 tablespoons golden raisins
1/2 cup tomato puree, see Note
1/4 cup water
2 teaspoons lemon juice
1 tablespoon Worcestershire

saucé
1 tablespoon ketchup
Sprinkle fillets with salt and pepper; stuff each with water chestnuts and raisins; roll up and secure with toothpicks. In an 8-inch skillet stir together remaining ingredients; add fillets. Heat to simmering and cover; simmer, turning fillets once, until cooked through—about 20 minutes. Makes 2 servings.

Note: Juice, pulp and seeds left after scooping out fresh tomatoes were forced through a fine-mesh strainer to make the puree. Tomato shells had been used previously to stuff for a salad.

Cost of Neatness Can Be Too High, Counselor Says

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP) — If clutter burying your desk or other work space makes you feel guilty, you should find comfort in some advice from a University of Iowa psychologist.

As long as you can find everything you need when you need it and your clutter isn't causing problems for anyone else, quit worrying about it, advises Lynn Roney, senior staff psychologist in the U of I Counseling Service.

"We often expect too much of ourselves," she explains. "Keeping papers filed or supplies in apple-pie order takes time. Many of us could keep a full-time assistant or secretary busy labeling and filing work materials."

"But we'd need to justify the added expense by increasing substantially what we get done, and that might not be possible," says Dr. Roney, who has a doctorate in counseling psychology from the University of Texas, Austin.

If your work surroundings get into such a mess that you waste time looking for things, however, it's time to bring more order out of the chaos, she says. Starting a new job is a still better time to give some thought to how you can keep your work place orderly.

If you start out with enough desk files, shelving space and other storage, you can pigeon-hole work materials so you can put a hand on them instantly from the first day, Ms. Roney points out. Then you should be able to keep clutter from ever getting out of hand.

A visit to an office supply store can give you ideas for desk-top organizers, telephone indexes and other supplies which can help you keep just about any place you work in better order.

"You may be able to get ideas from a trip to such a store and improvise space organizers of your own that won't cost much," Ms. Roney notes. "For example, if you're organizing a work center in your own home for more efficient house-keeping, use plain cardboard shoe boxes for closet storage of household records."

Just put labels on the outside so you can see at a glance what's in each box, she suggests. An office supply shop can provide dividers, index cards or other devices for organizing contents of each container.

Another word of comfort if your work place tends to disappear under clutter — you're less likely to upset co-workers than is someone who keeps every paper clip in place, says Ms. Roney. And you're more likely to zero in on what really counts on the job.

"The compulsively neat person often tries to make the whole world neat," she explains. "He or she just isn't comfortable otherwise. The person who is so neat as to make rituals out of keeping the desk immaculate may be relieving anxiety generated by problems which he or she is sidestepping.

Use absorbent powder carpet cleaners at intervals to prolong the periods between wet cleanings, suggests a housing and home furnishing specialist.

This method will brighten and remove dull, dingy, oily deposits with a minimum texture change, explains Sue Young, with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Church Celebrates 'Old Fashion Day'

The Good Ole Days are back again at Hereford Church of the Nazarene. This Sunday will be Old Fashion Day, celebrated with costumes, special music and dinner on the grounds.

The Old Fashion Day will begin at 9:45 a.m. with Sunday School. Hereford Church of the Nazarene is cooperating with the Church of the Nazarene around the world in an attempt to have one million in Nazarene Sunday School. Hereford's goal is 208.

The worship service at 10:45 a.m. will feature a quartet singing gospel music, costumes will be judged and an award for the most original transportation.

Following the service a pot-luck dinner will be served and a special pie judging contest Phylecia Rowland and Karen Jones will be the official judges for the contest.

Connie Huffaker and Robin Umsted are team captains for the Sunday School drive. Whoever team loses will be getting a pie in their face from the other team.

The Hereford Church of the Nazarene invites the public to attend the special services.

ALICE SARKIS' GREEK ORANGE CAKE
From "Specialties of the House" (Our Lady of Grace Montessori School, Manhasset, N.Y.) — a recipe readers have asked for.

6 eggs, separated
1/2 pound butter, softened
1 cup sugar
Juice and rind of 1 orange, reserve shell for syrup)

1 teaspoon orange extract
1 cup sifted flour
1 cup farina
2 heaping teaspoons baking powder
1/2 cup milk

Syrup, recipe follows
In large bowl beat yolks, butter, sugar, juice, rind and extract until blended. Add flour, farina, baking powder and milk and mix well. Whip egg whites until they form stiff peaks, then gently fold into mixture. Pour into greased 13 1/2 by 8 3/4 by 1 3/4-inch baking dish. Bake at 350 degrees until golden-brown — 30 to 40 minutes. Cool cake in dish on rack. Cut into about 20 diamond-shaped pieces and pour hot Syrup over cake in dish. Refrigerate and serve well chilled.

Syrup: Simmer 2 cups sugar, 2 1/2 cups water and reserved orange shell for 25 minutes. Remove orange shell.

Note: I like this cake best served warm and sprinkled generously with brandy, but this may be heresy! — C. B.

Meal for Two Can Give Cook Some Problems

AP Wine And Food Writer

Statistics show that half the households in the United States today are made up of one or two people. This poses a problem: how to find easy and economical dishes to cook in such small amounts.

There are lots of recipes suitable for four, six or even eight at the dinner table, but not many for two.

A friend recently told us of one solution she had hit upon for a couple or a single person entertaining a guest. She turned to the nourishing and versatile banana.

Bananas are the diet mainstay in the East Indies and Central and South America, as well as the Pacific Islands and most of Central Africa. So they must have something going for them. For one thing, nutritionists discovered long ago that bananas sustain life in hot lands better than such tropical starches as arrowroot or tapioca.

And when there is only a small amount of growing space, as on many islands, bananas will support more consumers than wheat will.

Man is not the only fan of the banana. Among other creatures fond of it, there's a tropical American oriole that likes the fruit so much that it is known as the banana bird.

For small households, the banana has been packaged by nature in a size ideal for single or double portions. And this does not apply just to salads and desserts.

One savory main dish I tried recently is the banana squash boat. It consists of a halved acorn squash baked and stuffed with diced bananas, sausage meat, onion, celery, bread crumbs and seasonings. Buttered walnuts are sprinkled over the squash, which is baked only a few minutes.

It is practically a meal in itself, requiring only a tossed salad, or sliced tomato and cucumber plate to round out the repast.

If you are weary of potatoes, rice or noodles as a side dish, try Golden Bananas. Breaded and fried, they are good served with beef, pork or poultry. Here's a recipe.

2 small yellow bananas, peeled
2 tablespoons flour
1 egg, slightly beaten
1/4 cup Italian-seasoned bread crumbs
3 tablespoons vegetable oil

Slice bananas into 1-inch pieces; dip in flour, then egg, and finally in bread crumbs. Heat oil in a medium-size skillet. Saute bananas till they are golden brown on all sides. Serves 2.

MOTHER'S NIGHT OUT

I've been looking for the perfect opportunity to get out for an evening. Dad gets a night out why not mom?

Mother never gets "out"—not really. She is usually lurking around grocery check out lines or parked in front of a school somewhere, maybe even been arrested for loitering while waiting for a bus to return her star football player.

Halloween offers a unique opportunity. Think of it. Once a year you can become the real you.

Let's face it, it's been a long year of grape juice stains, "no sugar" campaigns, and tottering about on those cutie little shoes that are in style.

For just once wouldn't it be fun to re-visit the "ole" broom and go shrieking and cackling or whatever. The choice is yours for a perfect mother's night out.

Cowboys, Steelers Downplay Notion of Super Bowl Rematch

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys and the Pittsburgh Steelers may be headed for another Super Bowl clash, but both downplay that notion as they await their regular season game here Sunday.

"There ain't no money at stake. We're just trying to make the playoffs," said linebacker Tom Henderson of the Cowboys, edged by Pittsburgh in Super Bowl X and Super Bowl XIII.

"There's nothing special other than that we want to beat them for another win," said Steeler quarterback Terry Bradshaw. "They're considered a good football team and we want to beat good football teams."

Hereford JV Whips Estacado 12-0

The Hereford High Junior Varsity football team traveled to Lubbock last night to take on Estacado and came home victorious 12-0 raising its record to 6-1 for the year.

The first half was primarily a defensive battle with neither team getting on the score board. The JV jumped on the scoreboard in the third period on a seven yard touchdown pass from quarterback Matt Collier to Felix Mungia. The extra point conversion failed.

Monterey Leads District In Offense, Defense

Monterey leads District 4-4A in just about everything after last week's victory over Plainview.

The Plainsmen lead in total offense. They have 1762 yards on the ground, 579 in the air for a total of 2341, a 334.4 average per game. It's defense has only given up 903 yards all year for an average of 129 yards per game.

Hereford is second in total offense having 804 yards rushing and 605 yards passing for a total of 1409 or an average of 234.4 yards per game. Hereford is last though in defense having gave up 1402 yards or an average of 233.7 yards per game.

Plainview is third in the district in both offense and defense. They have 1253 yards on the ground and 142 yards in the air for a total of 1395 and the defense has given up 1134 yards.

Pittsburgh Favored Over Cowboys by Four Points

AP Sports Writer
Dallas against Pittsburgh.
Playing as they are on the Sunday before Halloween, you might suspect this matchup is the ghost of Super Bowl XIII. Instead, though, it could very well be a preview of Super Bowl XIV.

Either way, the result will be the same. Pittsburgh has beaten the Cowboys twice for the world championship and even though there's less at stake in the midseason meeting, the Steelers should prevail again.

Last week's 8-6 ran the season's record to 71-40 and a .640 percentage. The picks:
PITTSBURGH 24, DALLAS 20: John Dutton makes his debut for the Cowboys. It's too bad he can't play in the secondary where Terry Bradshaw should clean up.
WASHINGTON 28, NEW ORLEANS 17: Jack Pardee must be a magician. How else can the Redskins keep on winning?
NY JETS 17, HOUSTON 14: Look for Earl Campbell to be subpar. The new Jet spirit produces this upset special.
BUFFALO 20, DETROIT 10: Both teams are in a spin but Bills have more offensive weapons available.
NEW ENGLAND 31, BALTIMORE 7: Patriots' defense leads the NFL in every department. Colts' don't.
ST. LOUIS 16, CLEVELAND 10: Rookie Otis Anderson could make a lot of yards against Browns defenders.
MINNESOTA 24, TAMPA BAY 14: This is an important NFC Central matchup and if the Vikings plan on winning the division again, they'll have to win.
LOS ANGELES 21, NY GIANTS 17: The Rams are dragging with injuries right now but they'll beat the Giants from

Martin Says No

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (AP) — The question of whether New York Yankees Manager Billy Martin did or did not slug an Illinois man during an argument in a Bloomington hotel lobby remains unanswered today.

Martin says he didn't. And, while there are a number of people who figure he did, none of them is saying so outright.

The man best qualified to answer — Joseph Cooper, 52, of Lincolnshire, Ill. — was keeping his mouth, split lip and all, shut.

It matters because Yankees owner George Steinbrenner has warned Martin that he must be on his best behavior to keep his job.

Cooper, police, hospital and hotel officials all acknowledge that Cooper received 15 to 20 stitches in his lip following an incident in the lobby of L'Hotel de France about midnight Tuesday. At issue is whether he fell — as Martin contends — or if he was struck by Martin.

Walton Disabled

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Bill Walton, San Diego's $1 million-a-year star player is disabled indefinitely and attendance has taken a dramatic drop, but Irv Levin, owner of the Clippers, hasn't given up the ghost.

He's been down this frustrating road before.

"I remember the day when I was with the Celtics a few years ago that Dave Cowens walked into Red Auerbach's office and told us that he was going to stop playing," said Levin, who owned the Celtics at the time.

"Here he was making about $75,000 a month and telling us he didn't want to play anymore. Believe me, I felt a hell of a lot worse that night than I do now."

Levin's remarks came after the Clippers put Walton on the five-day disabled list with a strained foot ligament. Walton, who received a record $7 million, seven-year contract last May from the Clippers, hasn't played in a regular-season game.

He had his injured foot placed in a walking cast Wednesday and will be out of action four to five weeks.

Mavericks Down Plainview Red

The La Plata ninth grade team came back from a 12-0 first quarter deficit last night and went on to defeat Plainview Red 20-12.

Plainview managed two touchdowns in the first quarter but that is all they would score.

In the second period the Mavericks jumped on the scoreboard with two 25 yard runs by Raymond Martinez. Martinez also kicked the extra points, for a 14-12 LaPlata halftime lead.

The Mavericks picked up an insurance touchdown in the third period when Issac Gamboa went off right tackle for seven yards and a touchdown. Martinez attempted the kick and it failed leaving the final score at 20-12.

Maverick Coach Joe Spann called it "our best effort overall this year."

The LaPlata eighth grade lost to Plainview Red 38-22. Larry Jimenez rushed for 99 yards while Randy Stribling ran for 94.

Japanese Fems Have Problems

TOKYO (AP) — The 10-year-old girl wanted to be a sumo wrestler. She admired those loin-clothed man-mountains who strain against each other in the sacred ring of Japan's national sport.

Lawyer Mayumi Moriyama took on the girl's case, seeing her exclusion from the sport as philosophical, religious and historical — an echo of the "feudal sumo ethic" that considers women impure.

It was a losing cause; the girl was barred from a children's tournament.

It was a symbolic fight only, strikingly irrelevant to the problems of average Japanese women. In this tradition-bound society, even Mrs. Moriyama concedes women's lib is treading a rough road.

"It's still very hard for a woman to have equal opportunities for equal pay," she said. More difficult is the climb to executive power in a business world controlled almost exclusively by males.

As Director-General of the Women's and Minors' Bureau of the Ministry of Labor, Mrs. Moriyama is Tokyo's most vocal advocate of elevating women to power posts in government and business. Her personal success contrasts sharply with her often futile efforts.

"The fundamental obstacle," she said, "is that the social climate has not matured. People in general feel that women are weaker, inferior and suited for the simple job. Some women support us. But it's not the majority yet."

Mrs. Moriyama envies the energy and motivation of feminists in the United States.

"Once they decide to do something they organize it and everybody comes to work hard and achieve the aim," she says wistfully. "We are missing this way to do things aggressively. We have to agitate the people so much to get them to move."

Mrs. Moriyama, 52, is an exception to the Japanese rule of female submissiveness. She has made it to the top. Men listen when she speaks. Her story is unique.

She grew up during World War II. At war's end, she applied for admission to the universities, one of the new constitutional rights granted to women.

Her shocked mother opposed her plan to seek a law degree. "I had the support of my father, not my mother," she said. "My mother was a traditional Japanese woman. She was afraid I wouldn't have the chance to marry. She was just scared."

Her father, a business executive, had three daughters and no sons. He saw a successful future for Mayumi.

"He was traveling to various parts of the world and he knew what was happening," she recalled.

In 1947, the young woman entered prestigious Tokyo University.

"I found myself to be one of two girls among 600 boys in the law department," she said. "When I graduated, it was hard to find a job. Many of the boys were going to try the higher civil service exam. I just followed them. About half of us passed."

That was her entree to government service. In 1950, she became the first female career officer in the Ministry of Labor.

In 1948, allaying her mother's fears of spinsterhood, Mayumi had married Kinji Moriyama, then a member of Parliament. He is now Japan's Minister of Transportation. They have three children.

Moriyama approved of his wife's career goals.

"He was supporting me all the time," Mrs. Moriyama said. "When I was disappointed or so tired that I was complaining and said I would give up, he was the person who encouraged me and pushed me so I couldn't give up."

In those early years, "it was unheard of for a woman to go into the private sector. You couldn't even think of that," she said. Now female executives occupy high posts at Shiseido, Japan's largest cosmetics manufacturer, and the big Takashimaya department store.

Japanese women voted for the first time in the 1946 general election. Today they hold 26 seats in the two houses of the Diet.

Economic pressures are forcing more Japanese women into the job market.

"In the old days, it was the shame of a husband to have a working wife," said Mrs. Moriyama. "Now, little by little, that is disappearing."

At last count, there were 20.7 million working women, 38 percent of Japan's labor force, with the bulk employed in manufacturing, services and wholesale and retail trade. Teaching is among the most traditional professions for women, along with clerical jobs that occupy 32 per cent of women workers.

By contrast, women hold only 8.8 percent of all managerial posts. A mere 2.5 percent of Japan's judges, lawyers and prosecutors are women.

Many women cling to the traditional kimono and many feel it unseemly to demand advancement. Their complacency, said Mrs. Moriyama, is the legacy of hard post-war times.

"You have to understand," she said. "Our life was very hard until 15 or 10 years ago. So women of my age and older were thinking if we could just live in an independent house and have food enough to eat, that was all we wanted."

"Now we have all that, so they are satisfied."

Today In History

By The Associated Press Today is Friday, Oct. 26, the 299th day of 1979. There are 66 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1825, the Erie Canal opened, connecting Lake Erie to the Hudson River.

On this date: In 1760, King George III of England was crowned.

In 1959, the Soviet Union released the first pictures of the dark side of the moon.

In 1962, Soviet Premier Khrushchev offered to withdraw Russian missiles from Cuba in return for American withdrawal from bases in Turkey. President Kennedy said no.

In 1967, the Shah of Iran, already on the throne for 26 years, crowned himself and his queen.

In 1972, National Security Adviser Henry Kissinger declared that peace was at hand in Vietnam.

In 1973, President Richard Nixon, in a broadcast news conference, said he had no intention of resigning despite calls for his impeachment.

Ten years ago: General Electric was struck by a coalition of 13 unions representing 147,000 workers.

Five years ago: President Gerald Ford and Soviet leader Brezhnev agreed to a meeting in Ruzhna.

One year ago: Israel decided to expand existing settlement in the occupied territories, and the United States reacted with sharp disagreement.

Today's birthday: the deposed Shah of Iran is 60.

Thought for today: It is well that war is so terrible, or we should get too fond of it. — Robert E. Lee (1807-1870).

Tulsa Downtown Streets Made Attractive By City

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Transforming dingy, decaying downtown streets into parklike pedestrian malls has proved to be the most unexpected delight from municipal government since New York Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia read the funny pages to the kids over the radio.

Now the derelicts and the deadbeats can sip their muscatel in a pleasing, pollution-free environment of splashing fountains and floodlit trees, then sleep the morrow away under weatherproof, glassed-in arcades on benches generously provided by the taxpayers.

The hippies have a grassy oasis in the concrete jungle upon which to park their rucksacks and guru-garbed bones and light up smokeables not covered in the surgeon general's cautionary prose.

At noontime, when the office workers descend en masse from the skyscrapers upon the salad bars and hamburger emporia, the mall becomes a theater in the round for unreconstructed voyeurs who have yet to learn that those curvaceous creatures in the tight sweaters and slacks and thigh-high slit skirts are not mere sex objects but career-oriented achievers in quest of a role reversal between the powder room and the board room.

Grifters, drifters and occasional wallet-lifters can float among the shoppers, buoyed by the thought that they only have to outrun a cop and not a squad car.

Secure from traffic hazards, there is room here for baby carriages, skate boards, rampagingurchins and the shoplifter's free-form 100-meter dash.

Downtown Tulsa has one of the nicest, most democratic brick walk, convention delegates (like me) seeking succor from the stifling air (note the avoidance of the pejorative "hot") in the meeting rooms of the nearby hotels and a few double-knit, three-piece financial types playing hookie from their series in the Sooner Federal building because they'd sooner look at the girls.

All in all, the mall cost about $3 million and has been open for strolling for slightly over a year and a half. It not only saved downtown Tulsa, but it regularly provides for free the best show in town: humanity in review.

Earlier reports said only two ministers and 130 hostages were being held but a government source gave revised figures after negotiations began Thursday for their release.

Two of the captive Cabinet officers were Labor Minister Gabriel Gallegos Valdes and Economy Minister Manuel Hinds. The name of the third one was not immediately known. The hostages and the ministries were taken Wednesday.

A jacket in the Money Museum in New York contains about 2,600 strings of beads. It was made in the early 19th century by the Tsalal tribe of Formosa, and the jackets were used to purchase wives and cattle. The person who wore the jacket could also tear off strings of the beads and spend them for lesser purchases.

World Series Gives ABC Weekly Top Spot

NEW YORK (AP) — CBS, mired in third place in the ratings since the start of the 1979-80 TV season a month ago, took a run at the top in the week ending Oct. 21, and was thwarted only by ABC's success with the World Series, figures from the A.C. Nielsen Co. show.

CBS listed 10 of the 15 highest-rated programs for the week ending Oct. 21, including "M-A-S-H" in third place and "WKRP in Cincinnati" in fourth.

ABC, however, captured a record audience for the deciding game of the World Series between Pittsburgh and Baltimore, and did nearly as well with the next-to-last game.

ABC's research department estimated 80 million people tuned in for the game, more than for any other previous World Series broadcast.

ABC, overall, had six shows in the week's Top 20, and four of them were related to the baseball championships. The baseball pre-game programs were 11th and 12th in the ratings.

ABC's rating for the week was 21.2, with CBS second at 18.7 and NBC third at 16.8. The networks say that means in an average prime-time minute during the week, 21.2 percent of the homes in the country with television were watching ABC.

NBC, which surprised the industry by winning Nielsen's ratings race twice in the first four weeks of the new season, dropped to third for the first time this fall. NBC listed "Little House on the Prairie," No. 5 for the week, and had two other shows, "Quincy, M.E.," and a special, "TV Guide: The First 25 Years," in the Top 20.

In addition to "M-A-S-H," and "WKRP in Cincinnati," CBS spotted "60 Minutes," "One Day at a Time," "The Jeffersons," "Alice" and "Dallas" among the 10 top-rated shows.

For ABC, a runaway winner in the ratings last season, the victory was not without a drawback. The frontrunner placed three shows among the week's five least-watched, including No. 59 "Detective School," No. 62 "Out of the Blue," and No. 63 "A New Kind of Family." CBS' "Paris" was 60th, and "Eisched" on NBC 61st.

All five series are new this season.

Here are the week's 10 highest-rated shows:

World Series, Game 7, with a rating of 36.9 representing 28.2 million homes with television, and World Series, Game 6, 32.2 or 24.6 million, both ABC; "M-A-S-H," 30.2 or 23 million, and "WKRP in Cincinnati," 26.8 or 20.4 million, both CBS; "Little House on the Prairie," 26.3 or 20.1 million, NBC; "60 Minutes" and "One Day at a Time," both 26.1 or 19.9 million, both CBS, and "The Jeffersons," 24.9 or 19 million, "Alice," 24.5 or 18.7 million, and "Dallas," 23.8 or 18.2 million, all CBS.

The next 10 shows:

World Series, Pre-Game, Game 7, and World Series Pre-Game, Game 6, both ABC; "Lou Grant," "Trapper John, M.D.," and "Duke of Hazzard," all CBS; "Quincy, M.E.," and Big Event, "TV Guide: The First 25 Years," both NBC; "Archie Bunker's Place," CBS, and "Barney Miller" and "Ben-Son," both ABC.

Abortion Trials Protested in Spain

BILBAO, Spain (AP) — Angry feminists, some vowing to chain themselves in front of the criminal court in this Basque capital, converged today to protest the start of the trial of 11 women accused of having, or performing abortions in Catholic Spain.

The state was expected to move to postpone the proceeding, which has sparked the first big feminist revolt since the death four years ago of Gen. Francisco Franco and the end of Fascist rule.

Abortion is illegal in Spain, where Catholicism is the state religion. But a wave of pro-abortion rallies swept the nation Thursday, and feminists, demanding amnesty for the defendants, promised more protests today and during the weekend.

In a clash Thursday in downtown Madrid, police drove buses at a marching column of 600 feminists, then pursued the fleeing protestors with clubs and smoke grenades. Several demonstrators were injured. It was the second pro-abortion rally there in five days.

Demonstrations by women also were reported Thursday in Valencia, the Canary Islands, the resort island of Majorca and the university town of Santiago de Compostela, where police chased 100 women from a city hall sit-in.

A spokeswoman for a group calling itself the Assembly of Women said she expected hundreds of feminists from around the country to demonstrate today in Bilbao, 200 miles north of Madrid. At least 20 women planned to chain themselves outside the courthouse, she said.

The 11 women being tried face prison terms ranging from six months to 60 years. They include the woman alleged to have performed the abortions, her daughter, who allegedly assisted in the operations, and nine women who confessed having undergone the procedure.

The women who had the abortions have 17 children among them and say they could not afford larger families. They argue too that government health programs offered them no alternative.

Defense lawyers said they would try to use the trial to change the penal code, arguing that none of the women involved could get birth control help from the state.

Premier Adolfo Suarez's government is said to be embarassed by the trial, but it is barred from intervening by Spain's new constitution guaranteeing an independent judicial system.

Among those routed by club-swinging police in the first demonstration in Madrid was Carmen Diez de Rivera, the premier's former chief of staff.

Also joining in the protests were an estimated 300 men, including Santiago Carrillo, the leader of the Communist Party, who signed statements saying they had "lent a hand" in the abortions.

Last week, 1,300 Spanish professional women, including many of the nation's leading actresses, lawyers and singers, signed a public document saying they had had abortions. The independent Madrid newspaper El Pais has estimated that 300,000 Spanish women undergo abortions annually.

The nation's attorney general is threatening to enforce an 1870 law saying any Spaniard who commits a crime against another Spaniard, including a fetus, is liable for prosecution even if the crime took place outside the country.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — Downtown redevelopments are changing the face of this second-largest city in the Wolverine State, according to Mayor Abe Drasin.

Decaying warehouses and dingy commercial buildings are being replaced on the Grand River's west bank by parks and the Gerald R. Ford Presidential Museum. The east bank will become a new business district, anchored by renovated and new high-rise hotels, a convention center and a performing arts hall.

The 63-year-old Pantlind Hotel will be undergoing a $14 million major renovation this fall and will be named the Grand Plaza East by its new owner, the Arway Corp., which has also announced plans to erect another 25-story hotel on an adjoining site.

A common complaint

HEALTH

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB - I've been hoping you would write something about postnasal drip. I've been to a number of doctors and about the only advice I get is to move. An allergy doctor did skin tests and they proved that I'm not allergic to anything except the air I breathe.

The drip down the back of my throat causes me to feel nauseated and I have to clear my throat all the time, especially after a drink or a meal. This hawking is embarrassing and annoying. I know there are a lot of other people who would like to hear what you think about this.

DEAR READER - Postnasal drip is a common complaint. We all have it to some degree. Basically, the secretions that cause postnasal drip are normal and come from the "weeping of the sinuses." Those membranes are moist because they produce fluid and mucus material. If they dried out, we'd be in deep trouble.

The amount of secretions formed varies. Certainly some people do have allergic disorders that increase the amount of secretions. That's why individuals who have a lot of trouble with this disorder should see a doctor as you have done.

Smoking cigarettes is a major contributing factor in many people. Obviously, anyone with this complaint who smokes and wants relief should stop.

Any substance in the air that irritates the lining of the sinuses can increase your postnasal drip. In your case it's perfectly logical that one of the better solutions to your problem would be breathing clean air. Unfortunately, there is very little you dotors can do to solve that problem for you. Before moving for that reason it is wise to check the new location, as polluted air is everywhere.

Frequent blowing of the nose to remove the secretions helps to keep them from accumulating in the back of the throat and draining down the throat.

DEAR DR. LAMB - I wonder if you can help me. After we moved into our home, a factory was put into operation and it works 24 hours a day. I feel I'm losing my mind because I can't stand the constant hum of the motors. Thump. Thump. Thump.

I have an awful time getting any sleep. I usually end up on my sofa. Is there any place I can buy something to block out all sound? I've tried cotton and beeswax in my ears as well as covering my head with a pillow, but nothing stops the noise. I take Valium when it gets to my nerves too badly but I'd rather block out the noise.

I am 59 and at the nervous age although I'm not the only neighbor the noise bothers. I've appealed to the town council but the firm is too big to be forced to do anything.

DEAR READER - You could go to an ear, nose and throat specialist and be fitted for ear plugs. He or she can provide you with custom-made ear plugs by making molds of your ears. Some of these plugs are designed to eliminate the noises that are most annoying and still enable you to hear speech.

Unless you already have heavy curtains in your bedroom, they might help some to block out the sound. So will heavy rugs and any other form of increased insulation.

Since your basic problem is difficulty in getting to sleep, I am sending you The Health Letter number 10-6, Sleep And Insomnia. Other readers who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019. This issue will give you guidelines on improving sleep habits.

One of the important aids in getting to sleep is being in a quiet place and avoiding annoying light. It's also true that being nervous may interfere with sleep. I suppose if the noise irritates you when you get ready to go to sleep at night, it may also annoy you during the day. For that reason, you may find that the ear plugs will be helpful in the hours before sleep so you can relax a bit before bedtime.

DEAR DR. LAMB - My daughter is 12 years old and very active in swimming and other sports. I would like to know if it is advisable for her to wear Tampax while she is on her period. Her friends do, but I don't let her because of stretching the vagina as well as breaking the hymen. Please let me know your opinion.

DEAR READER - It's a personal decision. Your attitude is probably based on the idea that a girl should be able to prove that she's a virgin when she gets married. That's important to some people but to others these days it's not. Girls who have used tampons are better prepared for and appear to have fewer problems with their sex lives than girls who have never had any stretching of the vagina at all.

One of the worst things that can happen to a young woman as far as getting started off right in married life is to have an unstretched vaginal vault and be married to a man who is impatient to satisfy his desires. The end result is often very painful and results in her thinking that sex is a very unpleasant experience. It's a good way to ruin a young couple's sex life.

So since you asked my advice, I would say that having a satisfactory sex life after marriage is a lot more important than trying to prove that you have had no sexual experience.

DEAR DR. LAMB - You have stated several times that leg lifts work the back muscle. I can't stand it anymore. Come to the gym with me and I will do 20 or 30 straight-leg leg lifts and you can put your hand under the small of my back and feel that my back muscles are relaxed as I perform this exercise.

I am 58 and do have lower back problems but I can live with them nicely if I get good exercise, especially heavy exercise that strains the back muscle. Leg lifts are of no noticeable consequence to my back condition.

DEAR READER - And come with me to the anatomy lab and learn how the body works. I'm not the least bit interested in the muscles in the small of your back.

The ones that an orthopedic specialist or an anatomist would be interested in are those that bend the hip, associated with the leg lift itself. These, my good friend, are not the ones in the small of your back at all. They attach to the top of the thigh bone (femur), run up through the pelvis and attach to the front of the bodies of the vertebrae inside your abdomen. Specifically, these are the psoas major, the psoas minor and the iliacus. When you do leg lifts with the knee straight, the leg acts as a lever and the weight of the foot and rest of the leg produces a strain particularly upon these three muscles and their attachments to the lumbar spine, the area most apt to be causing the problem.

That's the very reason that back specialists don't like individuals to do vigorous straight leg raising. Of course, the more you can do to contract your abdominal muscles and use them, the less load there will be on the muscles that bend the thigh. Moreover, the stronger your lower abdominal muscles, the more support you will get to your back.

Yes, I wholeheartedly agree that properly done exercises that are very useful for most people who have a variety of back complaints. But I also would add that improperly done exercises in the wrong person can aggravate the problem rather than helping it. That's why I always ask patients with back problems to see their doctor before starting an exercise program.

In general, if you do leg lifts with the knees bent so you don't have the lever-arm effect, you have less risk of jerking and straining the muscles that bend the thigh and straining the back where these muscles attach.

I am sending you The Health Letter number 13-10, Backache And What To Do About It. It discusses many of the causes of backaches and the types of exercises that should be used to help relieve the problem. Other readers who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

POLLY'S POINTERS

Polly Cramer
Removing ironed-on stain

DEAR POLLY - How can I remove an ironed-on newspaper stain (orange colored) from a satin or silk blouse? The blouse is ivory colored. - CHEVEL
DEAR CHERYL - I strongly recommend that you take the blouse to the dry cleaner. If that is not possible, you must be aware that anything you try may be ruinous since you do not know what the material is. Presuming it is silk and washable, you could try putting a couple of tablespoons of hydrogen peroxide in a gallon of warm water and letting the blouse soak in this for an hour or two. Rinse well. This is suggested as a last resort before discarding the blouse. Packaged color remover is also a possibility but there is a chance with it, too, because of the delicate fabric content. - POLLY

DEAR POLLY - Recently I fell and sprained my middle finger. Thinking it might be broken, I went to the hospital for X-rays. Until I got to the hospital, I used a plastic spoon as a splint. The cup of the spoon fit over the end of the finger and protected it. This worked so well that I thought campers, scouts, etc., might like to know about it. - ETHEL
DEAR POLLY - Karen asked about removing chewing gum from her leather jacket and you suggested using an ice cube if her jacket did not water spot. I have an idea that does water spot. Put the ice in a plastic baggie and rub it over the gum. It will still be icy cold and there's no worry about water getting on the coat. - KIM
DEAR POLLY - When making jelly, I find a good quick way to strain juice is to place two overlapping facial tissues in a colander so all the holes are covered. Pour the juice carefully and rotate the colander until the juice is all strained. This makes beautiful clear jelly. - MRS. F.E.B.

LET FAITH BE YOUR LIGHT IN THE ROADWAY

In the eternal conflict between light and darkness, remember that light is a positive force, while darkness is merely the absence of light, without power of its own. Therefore, it takes but a small amount of light to carry you through the darkest hours of your life; if faith is the source of it. By living 'one day' at a time, you will allow this ray of light to cast its protective beam far enough ahead on the roadway to guide your footsteps. Then follow it to Church, where you will learn to walk in the light of faith and banish the darkness forever.

"Thy word is a lamp unto my feet, and a light unto my path."
— Psalms 119:105

It is better to light one little candle than to curse the darkness.
