

Thousands March on Tehran Embassy

By The Associated Press

Thousands of Iranian demonstrators chanting "Death to America!" marched on the U.S. Embassy in Tehran today as President Anwar Sadat was reported to have offered his personal jet to fly the shah from New York to Egypt to help secure the release of some 60 Americans held hostage in the Iranian capital.

Witnesses in Tehran, reached by The Associated Press from Bonn, West

Germany, reported the march on the embassy, where the Americans have been held captive since Sunday by Iranian demonstrators demanding the United States extradite Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi. The witnesses said the marchers were urged on by Moslem clergymen.

Meanwhile, NBC-TV's "Today Show" said the Egyptian president told its correspondent in Cairo during the night that the events in Iran were "a disgrace to Islam," and that he believed that flying the shah to Egypt from his New York hospital bed would help meet the Iranians' demand the monarch be sent out of the United States.

President Carter's sent a peace mission en route to Iran two days ago but the Iranians rebuffed the overture. They also rejected a mediation bid by the Palestine Liberation Organization.

Carter reacted to the bleak situation by halting shipments of spare military parts to Iran during the crisis and underscored his concern by postponing a two-day state visit to Canada.

"Americans are suffering from international terrorism and being held against their will and my responsibility is to protect their lives," Carter declared.

The rejection of the PLO overture, reported by Tehran Radio, left world leaders groping for solutions to the stalemate that began Sunday when Iranian demonstrators took over the embassy.

Insist that their position reflected the views of Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini, the demonstrators said Thursday they would not "open talks with anybody or accept any mediation" unless the United States sent Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi back to Iran for trial.

They released what they said was embassy correspondence showing that the United States originally planned last summer to allow the deposed leader to stay in the United States permanently.

"It is our religious duty to force America to send back the Shah, and in questions of religious duty there is no place for negotiations," a spokesman for the demonstrators said.

AMBULANCE SERVICE in Hereford and Deaf Smith County is at a dangerous intersection and there are no signal lights to indicate what happens next.

The two local funeral homes have announced their intentions to quit ambulance service on Dec. 1. We should add that this is not a sudden decision—it is one that has been contemplated for many months, and one that the funeral homes have been talking about for a long time.

Unless someone comes up with a better idea, the only option seems to be for a local governmental unit—or combination of such—to take on the subsidy funding and operation of the ambulance service. At least, that seems to be the way it has been accomplished in other communities.

When the funeral homes called attention to their Dec. 1 cutoff date this week, it apparently caught the governmental units by surprise. Possibly there has been a lack of communications in the matter, but we feel confident that the men who hold leadership positions for the city, county and hospital district will get together and come up with a solution.

I believe most citizens of the county realize that we must have an ambulance service, and that it will probably cost some tax money to provide the health care. If taxes must be raised a little, we're not too particular about who does it...but we want someone to take the responsibility!

Cold Front Drops Rain on Area, Postpones Grain Sorghum Harvest

By JIM STEIERT

A developing low pressure system set off light showers across Deaf Smith County late Thursday with the rain expected to end today.

Precipitation will further delay the conclusion of the grain sorghum harvest here, and has also stalled the launching of the area cotton harvest.

Sugar beet harvesting has moved tentatively here this week with digging and hauling of the crop proceeding wherever field conditions have permitted.

Heavy thunderstorms developing early today prompted the issuing of tornado watch for much of northeast Texas and the sightings of at least two funnel clouds were reported yesterday in the Lubbock area.

Additional moisture received from overnight rainfall is more icing on the cake for much of the local wheat crop, although rainfall amounts were mostly small from drizzling conditions that continued into today.

One of the heaviest moisture reports came from the Dawn community east of Hereford where .25 inches of rain fell.

KPAN radio-logged .10 inches of moisture for the city of Hereford while the Holly Sugar Corporation's Hereford plant reported .12 inches.

South of Hereford, light showers were reported at Easter, and to the west in dryland wheat country, .20 inches was reported from Bootleg Corner.

Clint Homfeld reported that only light showers fell at his farm 47 miles northwest of Hereford, but added that moisture received over the past 10 days has prompted improved performance in the wheat crop and young plants are now rooting down well to take advantage of subsoil moisture.

North of Hereford, only a small moisture accumulation was reported from Pioneer Fertilizer at Milo Center, and light moisture was also reported from Northwest Grain, west of Farmer's Corner.

Chuck's Garage near Ford reported .10 inches, and heavier rainfall was reported from an area near Farmer's Corner and to the west of Ford.

Forecasts call for clear to partly cloudy skies statewide by this evening as storms move eastward out of the state.

Today's high in the Panhandle was only expected to reach into the 40's, with the low tonight in the 30's.

Fair and colder conditions are expected to carry over into Saturday, and Saturday's high is again expected to be in the 40's.

A—All funds expended by the Hereford Independent School District are audited by an independent firm annually, as required by the state. Federal and state governments conduct spot audits on funds they have allocated to HISD. As an example, in April, all Title I and Title II Migrant expenditures were spot audited. The funds are allocated categorically, according to Superintendent Harrell Holder. In other words, expenditures are approved in the application prior to the actual spending. Directors of programs in HISD are responsible for expending monies in accordance with the guidelines for their programs. In answer to your third question, all financial records in the school district are open to the public.

"We've created a monster out here," laughed Bill Walden as he showed off Triangle Pork Producers, which he started in 1968 with 54 sows and a pile of grain sorghum.

Triangle today boasts around 4,000 head, including 400 sows, housed in a dozen buildings and fed with sorghum grown on Walden's nearby 1,300-acre farm.

"We've just grown over the years," said Walden, who started the hybrid swine operation and farm with two brothers-in-law. "When you talk about pigs, you're talking about one sow producing two litters of eight babies each, so you can see how it builds up."

Walden's operation begins with farrowing sows and ends with taking 210-pound adults to market. Young pigs are raised in nurseries until they reach 40 pounds, then are moved to finishing barns until they are ready for market.

The name of his business stemmed from three factors—the Magic Triangle (Deaf Smith, Castro and Parmer counties), it was a "triangle" which started the operation (Walden and two brothers-in-law) and three types of pigs (Yorkshires, Hampshires and Durocs) were used to produce the white hybrid sold by Triangle.

"When we started, we had little knowledge about how to do it. We just had to learn it. It's not been a high-profit thing, but it's been fairly profitable," Walden said.

"We like white hybrids because they have a little more vigor. We strive for a meaty animal, no fat on him. A packer prefers a white animal because it'll gain a small percentage on dress out."

Walden, who is sole owner of Triangle, has six employees.

"I hope I don't lose them" because they'd be hard to replace," he said. "Only one person in a bunch likes hogs. You can't take a cowboy and make a hog man out of him. My employees are good, they're better than good."

"Everytime you meet someone that likes hogs, you just make a little note, so you've got somebody to call in case you ever need him."

Triangle's employees are provided good benefits, such as a retirement program.

Walden calls himself the "maintenance man" at Triangle.

"We built this thing by hand mostly, and I maintain it with my hands. I enjoy it. If I didn't enjoy getting out here and playing in the dirt, I'd do something else."

"I guess you'd say my hobbies are carpentry and plumbing. To create something from scraps of metal is one of my biggest enjoyments in life."

"You've got so many mechanical things breaking down out here—feeding systems, tractors, motors, pumps. That's primarily what I do. My employees do all the breeding and feeding."

Walden, who was born and raised at Olton, studied agronomy at Texas Tech. In the midst of his college years, he spent four years in the Navy, two in Japan

Crop Estimates Due From USDA Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Experts at this year's outlook conference at the Agriculture Department generally shared an optimistic view that over the long haul U.S. farmers will continue to benefit from an expanding world demand for grain.

The optimism is timely because U.S. grain output, led by another record corn crop, is at an all-time high this year. Department analysts continue to update crop production estimates and their projections on how much corn and other grain will be used in the year ahead.

New production estimates of this year's crops of corn, soybeans and some other commodities were due today. Those figures later will be used in analyzing the supply and demand situation for 1979-80.

At the department's annual outlook conference, which concluded Thursday, Maurice P. Brannon of Cargill Inc., one of the nation's leading exporters of farm products, said he found it "difficult to disagree" with USDA projections of record world grain utilization and trade in 1979-80.

Texas Democrats Seek to Rebound

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — Texas Democrats, still smarting from their key election losses in 1978, have already begun a 1980 rejuvenation with a bi-partisan victory committee they hope will raise $1 million and rebuild the party's traditional superiority. That coalition might also head off a fatal split in the state party ranks if the fast-developing Kennedy-Carter clash becomes nasty, Texas Democratic Chairman Billy Goldberg said Thursday. The committee includes Democratic National Committeewoman Billie Carr of Houston, a leading supporter of Sen. Edward Kennedy, and Democratic National Chairman John White and Goldberg, who both back President Carter.

White has warned Democrats at the meeting here of the party's national committee that they are in the "extremely dangerous" position of becoming hopelessly split by the Kennedy-Carter fight and losing in 1980. Goldberg said, "It's not an attempt to ward off any split. But it might very well have that effect. I don't anticipate any split."

Senate Committee To Recommend SALT

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Foreign Relations Committee approval of SALT II would close one long and crucial chapter in the debate over the strategic arms limitation treaty with the Soviet Union.

The committee was ready today to recommend that the Senate ratify the treaty, despite stepped up criticism.

Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., gave a boost to treaty opponents by declaring he no longer believes Soviet compliance with SALT II can be adequately verified.

Although the committee's overall support for the treaty seemed assured, the margin of that support was in some doubt.

There are 15 committee members and estimates of their ultimate position on the treaty range from 10-5 to 8-7. A close vote would be a less-than-auspicious beginning for the Senate debate on the agreement.

Three committee Democrats — John Glenn of Ohio, Richard Stone of Florida and Edward Zorinsky of Nebraska — have joined four of the panel's six Republicans in voting for amendments which treaty supporters claim would have killed the pact by causing the Soviet Union to withdraw from it.

Glenn has said he will vote against the treaty in committee because, like Goldwater, he has concluded it cannot be adequately verified at this time. Stone and Zorinsky have not revealed their positions.

Rosalynn Tours Camp Of Cambodian Refugees

SA KAEW, Thailand (AP) — Rosalynn Carter visited this Cambodian refugee camp today, said the sight of the sick and dying was "emotionally overwhelming" and she would "go home and tell my husband" about it.

"It's been very difficult for me as a wife and a mother and a human being...I can only say I want to go home as fast as I can and mobilize people and do all we can to help the people here," she said.

Trailed by about 300 reporters and a contingent of Thai and U.S. security men, Mrs. Carter toured the 18-day-old camp facilities and took a walk through the sea of bright blue tents that house some 31,000 refugees, 100 miles east of Bangkok and 30 miles from the Cambodian border.

In the hospital, she went from bed to bed stroking people's foreheads, holding their hands and asking the doctors to explain the diseases.

"Does it hurt?" She asked one old woman.

"Give me a smile," she said and kissed the woman on the forehead.

Mrs. Carter and her entourage flew to Bangkok on Thursday on what the White House said was an official fact-finding mission for President Carter.

something," Walden said.

"So, when we moved to Hereford in 1965, I felt like a farmer could benefit by taking his grain and feeding it to some kind of livestock. That's how I got involved with hogs here. In 1968, we got a small loan and started out with 54 sows."

Walden is president of Deaf Smith County Farm Bureau, chairman of Tama Hog Market Association, which is an affiliate of Texas Agricultural Market and Development Association, and represents the state's hog producers on the High Plains Research Foundation. He also is a director of the county's Soil Conservation Service.

Walden and his wife, Norma, have three adult daughters and a son, Cory, who works at Triangle and with his father on the farm.

"We like Hereford. Everytime we leave town, we can't wait to get back," Walden said.

The Waldens, in their spare time, enjoy snow and water skiing.

of the candidates, all of the party. I expect national committee members to make endorsements and I'll make mine. Certainly I support the president," he added.

After the sharp exchange in the committee meeting, other Kennedy supporters called for White to either stop such public support or step down as national chairman.

"If he is going to campaign for the president, then he ought to go on (Carter's) staff as (Robert) Strauss has done. That's an ethical thing to do. I think he's the chairman and should be neutral," said DNC member Billie Carr of Houston.

Strauss, a special Middle East ambassador, was chosen chairman of Carter's re-election campaign Tuesday.

He later defended White, saying that before 1968, party chairmen had often supported incumbent presidents who were being challenged by another Democrat.

"I think it's absolutely a fraud if John White were to go before the Democratic Party and committee and say he's neutral. If he said anything contrary to that, they should kick him out of office because he would be lying," said Strauss.

Strauss had been scheduled as the committee's keynote speaker today. But his pending job change and the official campaign announcements by Kennedy and California Gov. Edmund Brown forced White to extend invitations to Kennedy and Brown campaign officials to speak too.

Strauss said Chicago Mayor Jane Byrne was tentatively scheduled to give a speech on behalf of Kennedy.

White said he believes about 60 percent of the 363 DNC members support Carter.

The national chairman said he had anticipated a "tranquil, routine meeting with not much to do" before the Kennedy and Brown announcements charged the political atmosphere.

However, the mood throughout the United States was turning to anger. U.S. longshoremen refused to load ships heading to Iran, American airport workers said they would not service Iranian planes, and other Americans scuffled with Iranian students in several cities Thursday.

At the United Nations in New York, a spokesman said Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim had obtained the help of Pakistan and was seeking the help of other Islamic and Arab countries in an effort to free the hostages.

Pope John Paul II dispatched Archbishop Annibale Bugnini to Tehran to ask for the hostages' safety and freedom, Vatican sources said.

In Austin, about 50 pro-American demonstrators met on the main mall of the University of Texas campus for some stump speaking. There was no trouble.

In Dallas, actor Richard Thomas and oilmen said they were incensed over the holding of American hostages in Iran, but some Iranian students in the Dallas area said they felt there was nothing wrong with the action.

"We cannot refuse hostage action," said Ali Reza, a graduate student at the University of Dallas. "I don't think they will kill anyone of those American people over there, because I just can't see that as a reaction. The United States will succeed in getting the release of the American hostages, but I think the United States will show its weakness about this situation."

Behzad Abedy, another student, blamed the U.S. government. "I think the Americans have put themselves in this dilemma," he said.

One student from the group interviewed decried the taking of hostages, but asked not to be identified. "Those people (Iranians holding the hostages) are irrational people. They'd do anything. I'm so choked up I can hardly talk about it."

Dugas Receives Death Penalty For Murder of 3-Year-Old Youth

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas (AP) — A defense attorney for Ovide Joe Dugas admitted after the trial that he had little hope his client could escape the death penalty.

"In all fairness to the state the evidence was overwhelming on both guilt and punishment," said court-appointed attorney Bruce Smith of Beaumont.

It took jurors 44 minutes Thursday to decide that Dugas should be put to death by lethal injection for what prosecutors called the "carefully plotted murder" of a 3-year-old boy.

Dugas, 33, of Port Acres, was convicted of capital murder Tuesday in the death of Jason Phillips. The boy, his parents and grandparents were shot to death execution style and buried in a shallow common grave not far from the grandparents' Southeast Texas farm last year.

The trial was moved here on a change of venue. Dugas sat impassive throughout the punishment deliberations, even when Jefferson County district attorney James McGrath pounded his fist on the table and shouted, "You killed them. You killed all of them and they had done nothing to you."

Defense attorneys Smith and Hayden "Sonny" Cribbs pleaded with the jury to show compassion in their punishment deliberations.

But McGrath responded, "When Jesus was on the cross and the thief asked him forgiveness he forgave but he left him on the cross."

Dugas joins Linda May Burnett on Texas' Death Row. She was convicted in March for her part in the killings and is the only woman in Texas currently under the death penalty.

During punishment phase arguments, McGrath showed the jury a picture of the grandparents' bedroom, where the boy's rocking horse stood.

He said that picture struck him harder than any other piece of evidence during the trial's detailed and gory testimony.

"That rocking horse the little boy rocked on, he'll never rock on it again. Why? Because that fiend killed him," McGrath shouted, pointing at Dugas.

McGrath reminded the jury of the state's contention that Dugas originally had planned only to kill the grandparents, Bishop and Esther Phillips, who were his former in-laws, but ended up killing them, their son Elmer, his wife Martha and their grandson Jason, too, simply because they were present at the time.

"I told you I thought those four people gave their lives so this man would not harm their baby," McGrath said. "But their bodies were still warm when he blew that child's brains out."

"You have the opportunity to say to Bishop and Esther Phillips that you did not make a mockery of their sacrifice."

Smith referred to the prosecutors' calls for the death penalty as "hymns of hate," and asked the jury to remember the Biblical commandment "Thou shalt not kill" during deliberations.

McGrath praised the jury's decision.

"I feel justice has prevailed," he told reporters. "I hate anyone who would do what he (Dugas) did."

Presiding State District Judge Larry Gist did not immediately set a date for formal sentencing.

Legion Breakfast Scheduled

Hereford's American Legion will serve a Lafayette Escadrille breakfast to veterans and their families from 6:30-8:30 a.m. Saturday at Veteran's Hall.

The breakfast is given to honor both those who served during WWI and those who call themselves Marines, as November 10 is the 204th anniversary of the founding of the U.S. Marine Corps.

Marines, soldiers, sailors, and airmen of any American wars and their families are invited.

Natural Gas Honors Newman

Natural Gas Pipeline Company of America will honor several area residents, including one from Hereford, for their long-time employment and on-the-job safety during a dinner at the Holiday Inn in Clovis, N.M. on Nov. 13.

A 10-year service award will go to Joel D. Newman of Hereford.

Service awards will be presented to two employees with the evening's top award for 30 years, going to William J. Collier of Morton.

William H. Burford, district superintendent of Natural's Hereford facilities, will serve as master of ceremonies for the dinner. Other participants in the dinner will include additional area employees and their spouses, as well as executives from the company's Chicago headquarters.

Natural Gas Pipeline Company is the transmission subsidiary of Peoples Gas Company. One of the nation's largest interstate pipeline firms, Natural operates more than 11,000 miles of pipeline supplying 49 customer utilities in the upper Midwest.

Will Rogers Quotation Prompts Book Attack

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — A Houston textbook critic took Will Rogers too seriously in her criticism of a textbook for a typewriting class, a publisher's representative says.

Mrs. Riddle said the "human life and turnips" exercise so incensed her husband that he probably would be protesting textbooks next year.

Fluorocarbons Ruining Ozone

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Academy of Sciences says fluorocarbon chemicals are destroying the Earth's atmospheric layer of protective ozone at a rate twice as fast as earlier predicted.

The report released Thursday renewed concerns that depletion of the ozone layer could result in increases in skin cancer and changes in the Earth's climate.

The academy's National Research Council said new calculations indicate atmospheric ozone could be reduced 16.5 percent because of worldwide use of fluorocarbon chemicals. Half of this depletion will occur in the next 30 years, it said.

Three years ago, the council predicted an eventual 7.5 percent ozone reduction. But new atmospheric measurements and mathematical estimates revised the prediction upward, it said in a report to the Environmental Protection Agency.

Ozone is a form of oxygen made in the stratosphere and concentrated in a layer about 20 miles above the Earth. It is the planet's main defense against deadly ultraviolet light from the sun.

If more ultraviolet light reaches the Earth, some scientists fear widespread increases in skin cancer, possible unpredictable effects on plant life and changes in climate that could have many repercussions.

For example, scientists at Temple University have predicted that a 5 percent drop in ozone could cause a 10 percent increase in new skin cancer cases each year among fair-skinned persons. The American Cancer Society estimates there are 400,000 new skin cancer cases a year in the United States, most of them curable.

The principal culprits in ozone depletion appear to be fluorocarbons. Fluorocarbon gases rise and accumulate in the upper atmosphere. Once there, sunlight breaks them down and releases chlorine or chlorine compounds that destroy ozone, scientists say.

Fluorocarbons are used principally as refrigerants in cooling systems, in industrial solvents and as propellants in aerosol spray cans.

In April, the United States banned almost all fluorocarbon use in aerosols, which previously accounted for more than half the fluorocarbons produced in this country.

However, worldwide use of fluorocarbons has been increasing despite warnings of ozone damage.

Buddy Poppy Sale To Be Held Today

Members of the VFW Post # 4818 Auxiliary will be offering the Buddy Poppy to local residents today with all proceeds going to the relief and welfare of the needy veteran, his widow and orphans.

Local citizens will be asked to give a donation in exchange for the Buddy Poppy, which is assembled by disabled and needy veterans in hospitals throughout the United States. The Buddy Poppy has been the symbolic flower of Memorial Day since its first sale by the VFW in 1922.

Nearly 100,000 volunteers donate a day of their time and effort each year to conduct the VFW Buddy Poppy Sales. Slogan of the yearly campaign is "Honor the dead by helping the living."

More than 200 orphans of veterans are being cared for in the VFW National Home at Eaton Rapids, Mich. A portion of the cost is raised through the Buddy Poppy sales.

Club Approves Annual Donation

In lieu of exchanging Christmas gifts, La Afflatus Estudio Club members again voted to make a yuletide donation to the state hospital at Vernon during a business meeting Tuesday afternoon in the home of Aileen Montgomery.

Alberta Higgins, club president, called the meeting to order and conducted a routine business session.

The guest speaker, Mayor Bartley Dowell, was introduced by Della Stagner, program chairman. Dowell opened his program with a brief history of the city of Hereford, stating that Mayor L. Gough called an election on Nov. 2, 1906 for the purpose of incorporating the community. After the balloting it was revealed that 107 citizens had supported the measure and 102 had opposed it. (The community's population was 470 in 1906.)

Currently, Hereford has a population exceeding 17,000 residents, Dowell said. He explained that the City of Hereford has 74 full-time employees and 22 part-time workers. One of the main problems faced by the City is vandalism to City property, which runs as high as $500 per month, Dowell said.

The mayor also expressed pride in Hereford's Volunteer Fire Department, which is rated No. 1 in the state among volunteer and paid fire departments.

Following the program, refreshments were served by Mrs. Montgomery and her cohostess Opal Elliston.

The club's next meeting is slated Nov. 20 in the home of Tresa Hale. The program is to be presented by Pet Ott. Her topic will be "They Say Patriotism—I Say Americanism."

Attending Tuesday's meeting were Madeline Bell, Eva Gilliland, Tresa Hale, Mrs. Higgins, Ailene Johnson, Irene Markham, Mrs. Ott, Mrs. Stagner and Emily Suggs.

Inconsiderate Bulldog

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am living with a guy (no lectures, please) and we get along fine. We've each been through a lousy marriage and are going to make sure we are right for each other before we middle-aisle it again.

The problem is Bill's bulldog. He snores. This is no joke. You would not believe a dog could make so much noise. I called a veterinarian last week and asked if anything could be done about it. He said, "Sorry, no. This is the way the bulldog's nasal passages are constructed." Then he gave me worse news. "The older they get the louder they snore." He suggested earplugs.

When I told Bill about my conversation with the vet, he said, "It's funny that I don't hear a thing. If you force me to make a choice between you and the dog, I'd have to choose the dog." What do you think of this, Ann?—Black Circles From A Crazy Triangle

DEAR B.C.: Buy earplugs. Or, get rid of Bill.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: God bless you for your answer to "Drained Dry," the woman who was being driven half crazy by her depressed neighbor. Your advice was, "It's OK to ring off and remove yourself from the situation if a depressed person leans so heavily that he or she begins to threaten your mental health."

Of course your advice was right, but surely you must be aware that anyone who has been leaned on by a depressed relative or friend feels guilty if he doesn't continue to listen, or if he must disassociate, even for the sake of his own sanity.

I once shared an apartment with a young woman who had no self-esteem, very little confidence and became involved in some unfortunate relationships with men. She would sink into spells of depression that lasted for days. I had to force her to eat. There was always a threat of suicide. She once told me she was all set to slash her wrists but didn't have enough strength to walk to the bathroom.

Mormonism To Be Topic Of Speech

The general public is invited to hear Devin Dodson, 10 year evangelist and pastor, speak on "The Truth About Mormonism" Nov. 11 at 6:30 p.m. at Stephen F. Austin Junior High School, 1808 Wimberley in Amarillo.

Dodson is a graduate from Texas State University and South Western Baptist Theological Seminary.

For more information one may call 373-8197 in Amarillo.

Extension Club

Plans Annual Bazaar Dec. 8

Members of Westway Extension Homemakers Club have scheduled their Third Annual Country Christmas Bazaar for Dec. 8 at the Community Center from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Entries are welcomed and tables can be rented at a cost of $5 each.

Deadline for entries is Nov. 24. Interested persons are asked to contact Debbie Keyes at 364-5699 or Joan Bookout at 364-0076.

Finally, I couldn't take it any more. The girl was keeping me up nights and making a wreck out of me. I gave her 60 days' notice that I was moving to a different city. She was very hostile at first and accused me of abandoning her. (She really knew how to lay on the guilt). When we parted I wished her luck and urged her to get psychiatric help. As soon as I became settled I dropped her a note saying I wanted to hear some GOOD NEWS when she had some. Six months later she telephoned—"greatly improved and enjoying life." Four years after that I attended her wedding. She was a totally different person.

My only advice to others who are being leaned on too much is this: Don't be cruel. Give your depressed friend some warning. Don't cut her off without a word of explanation. Let it be known that you will always be a friend but you can no longer serve as a crutch.—Been Through It

DEAR B.T.I.: Thank you for the evidence to support the theory that sometimes we have to be "cruel" to be kind.

BE A FRIEND, HAVE A FRIEND

JOAN DWYER DIRECTOR

FOLLIES FEVER By Corda Glover

Follies Fever or Strictly Bull II has once again afflicted approximately 116 of the Hereford community. As of yet the government has not announced an immunization to protect our unsuspecting citizens.

The fever seems to attack attorneys, chamber board presidents, dentists, morticians, newspaper publishers, banker's wives, businessmen, farmers and "Y" directors. One symptom is a burning desire to romp and frolic across a stage in a tutu or 19' sequined costume. Only those who made promises to their mother, when born to never make a fool of themselves, are immune.

It seems to run its course in 11 days. With the on-set they begin leaving their homes every night between 7:00 and 8:00. Then the pain sets in. It affects the leg muscles or perhaps the whole body, depending on age.

There is nothing a loving spouse or concerned parent can do to stop this madness. I suggest you remain sympathetic and mute at all costs. Back East one husband lost a wife to the Mississippi Mud dance and can still be heard screaming, "Twirl your WHAT?"

sandwiches and develop your own technique for finding lost P.J.'s. Now is no time to cross sensitive feelings and sore muscles. Hats off to the Chamber Exec's wife who will be babysitting for all those in need, thanks to her severely affected husband who highly recommended her.

A specialist, Bob Shelflow has been flown in to work with the afflicted and is miraculously doing a super job, however, I bet he has an ever increasing admiration for Ziegfeld and the Radio City Rockettes.

Bob feels the symptoms will peak around the 15th, 16th, and 17th of November. The most calming effect for now is the sound of his voice as he says "This is Show Biz, honey. Here we go!"

Attorney Advises Making Out Will

The importance of a last will and testament was stressed by attorney Schalan Atkinson Tuesday evening when she spoke to the young Homemakers of Texas during a meeting in the home of Shirley Carlson. Ms. Atkinson answered questions from the members and guests, emphasizing the need for young parents to possess a will.

After the program, refreshments were served and the business session called to order by Marilyn Culpepper. Mrs. Carlson presented a report of the eye screening conducted recently by YHT members at First Baptist Church Kindergarten.

Members were informed that the club cookbooks, to be sold as a fund-raising project, should be back from the printer in early December. Also, a Christmas party for the members' children will be held Dec. 6 in Pioneer Natural Gas Flame Room.

Members approved a motion to make photographs of children with Santa Claus during the Westway Country Club Christmas Bazaar on Dec. 8 at the Community Center.

Following adjournment, the hostess read a brief devotional, "At Day's End".

Other members in attendance were Deana Beames, Gail Blain, Connie Gilbert, Bobbi Patzig, Karen Smith, Little Sister Beth O'Con and chapter advisor Beryl Burelsmith.

Guests present were Kerrie Steiert, Claudia Bradley, Melva Swopes, Connie Gragson and Robin Betzen.

The Young Homemakers' next meeting is scheduled Dec. 4 in the home of Brenda Campbell. A Christmas program is to be presented by Amy Gilliland.

A&M Moms to Stage Bake Sale Tomorrow

The Aggie Moms' once-a-year money-making project, the traditional bake sale, will take place Saturday at Sugarland Mall.

Beginning at 9:30 a.m., members of the Aggie Mothers Club will sell home-baked items throughout the day until all their goodies are sold.

Along with breads, sweet rolls, cakes, pies and other baked goods, one should also find this year's jellies and pickled foods. The Moms appreciate the loyalty shown by several customers who return year after year to supply their freezers with sweets for the coming holidays.

The Aggie Moms concentrate their efforts on this annual event as their success determines the size of the scholarship they will present next spring to an aspiring Texas A&M University freshman.

Rhonda Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wendel Clark and Eugene Campbell, received the 1979 scholarship and is now involved in Texas A&M academics and activities along with her roommate, Lisa Blakely, also from Hereford.

Public Invited To Hear Talk

Claire Lasser of Spokane, Wash. will be speaking at Christian Assembly Church on South Main St. Saturday, Nov. 10, at 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. Lasser, a well-known speaker on the west coast, is in this area presenting programs to Women's Aglow chapters.

The public is welcome to attend Saturday night's service.

Herd Seeks First District Victory

Monterey and Coronado will take the field tonight at 7:30 at Whiteface Stadium in a District 4-4A football clash. It will be the final home game of the 1979 season for the Whitefaces.

At halftime tonight the football queen will be crowned from one of three senior candidates. The senior candidates are Gay Youston, Lesley Moore, and Jennifer Griffin. The junior attendant is Crystal Zinser and the sophomore attendant is Delyn Dickerson.

Going into tonight's contest the Herd has a season record of 4-4 and 0-2 in district competition.

Monterey leads the district with an overall record of 8-1 and 3-0 in district play. Monterey broke into the AP Schoolboy top 10 this week at the number 10 position.

The Plainsmen also lead the district in both offense and defense and it doesn't really look like anyone will come close to catching them this year. Monterey has 2422 yards on the ground and 697 yards in the air for a total of 3119 yards or an average of 346.6 yards per game. On defense Monterey has given up only 1151 yards all year or an average of 127.9 yards per game.

Plainview is second in both offense and defense with 2028 yards of offense and 1587 yards of defense.

Hereford is behind Plainview in offense having gained 968 yards on the ground and 811 yards in the air for a total of 1779 yards. On defense the Herd has given up 1879 yards.

Monterey who also claims the leading passer and rusher in the district has only one game left and that is against the Whitefaces Thursday night in Lubbock. It will be the final game of the year for Hereford while Monterey will go into bi-district playoffs.

HONG KONG (AP) — Jimmy Connors beat John Newcombe 6-0, 6-2 and Butch Waltz downed Ken Rosewall 6-2, 5-7, 6-4 in the $75,000 Hong Kong Tennis Classic.

In other matches, Tim Wilkison beat Steve Denton 7-6, 7-6 and Pat Dupre downed Chris Delaney 6-1, 6-4.

Ryan Narrows Shopping List To Four

ALVIN, Texas (AP) — Nolan Ryan, who became a free agent after the 1979 baseball season, says he definitely won't return to the California Angels and has whittled his shopping list to four teams, two of them in his home state of Texas.

Besides the Texas Rangers and Houston Astros, the 32-year-old righthander said he is negotiating with the New York Yankees and the Milwaukee Brewers.

"From the standpoint of being a contending team, being competitive in the negotiations and also places where I could take my family and adjust to living there, I feel these are the four choice clubs," Ryan said from his home in Alvin, which is about 25 miles south of Houston.

"I definitely expect to have a final decision within the next two weeks. Early next week I've got to go to California to put my house on the market, and then I'm going to be real busy about making a final decision."

The Angels and 12 other teams selected Ryan in last week's free agent draft, but Ryan said a longstanding personality conflict with California vice president Buzze Bavasi has ruled out his playing with the Angels again.

"In the past, I had told the California people the only trade I'd approve would be to one of the Texas teams. Then, with the free agent situation, it was in my interest and the interest of everyone who drafted me not to show favoritism toward the Texas clubs," Ryan said.

He said his agent, Dick Moss, has talked several times with the Yankees and the Astros.

"What I'm looking for in a contract will be three to five years because I feel this will be the last contract I sign. I'm not looking for a lot of cash up front. I'm not trying to drive a hard bargain," Ryan said.

From Small College To Superstardom

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent

If you aren't hooked already, you're going to like this new kid who is quarterbacking the New York Giants' football team.

He has superstardom written all over him.

It doesn't happen often but occasionally in this calloused, cynical world of professional sports, a star flashes across the firmament and automatically you say to yourself:

"This guy's got it. He can't miss."

So it is with Phil Simms, an obscure young man out of an obscure little college in Kentucky who, thrust onto the firing line a third of the way through the season, turned the fangless and futile Giants into snarling tigers.

Mark him well. He has poise. He has talent. He has looks.

More than that, he has those intangible qualities that help round out those rarities who ultimately become legends.

His blond head hasn't shown an inch of expansion from the sudden attention and adulation that has swept down upon him in a very short time. Not a trace of arrogance, instead a quiet modesty and a "Yes, sir," "No, sir" politeness. He is considerate of teammates, fans and the press.

This was never better illustrated than at the annual meeting of the Touchdown Club in New York this week when key members of the Giants and Jets were guests at one of the city's fashionable eateries.

The prospect of seeing the Giants' new jewel brought out football buffs in droves, and the kid was the center of the show.

Scores queued up to get a handshake and his autograph. He was trapped for almost an hour after the luncheon but he never gave a hint of boredom or impatience.

"Come on, Phil, we have a meeting at 3 o'clock," urged his agent, Michael Merkow of Century City, Calif.

Simms never wavered. "Just a minute until I finish these autographs," he replied. He didn't disappoint a single one.

A right-handed passer, he signed autographs with his left hand. Someone mentioned that this was unusual.

"I write with my left," he explained, "throw and bat in baseball right-handed, kick left-footed, play golf right-handed."

Then later, despite the urgency of another appointment, the rookie quarterback sat down to answer questions of a few newsmen who had been unable to get within yards of him earlier.

"How in the world did you wind up at Morehead State?" someone asked him.

"They were the only ones that offered me a scholarship," he replied.

Simms demanded few headlines. At Morehead, in the little Ohio Valley Conference, he endured four losing seasons, figuring in a total of 10 victories while dropping 26 games. He wasn't even all-conference.

How did the Giants decide to pick him No. 1 in the college draft?

"We had heard about him," said General Manager George Young.

"Just before the Easter holidays, Coach (Ray) Perkins made a swing to look over quarterback prospects, including Jack Thompson (Washington State), Jeff Rutledge (Alabama) and Chuck Fusina (Penn State).

"Ray, who was a receiver himself, ran some patterns with Phil. We looked at movies of some of Phil's games. We were both convinced. Simms was our man. What impressed us most, besides his remarkable poise, was his accuracy and acuity."

George uses Ivy League words. The dictionary describes "acuity" as "sharpness, keenness of sense perception." A less erudite man might say Simms has the eyes of a bombardier. He sights targets quickly.

Giants fans are ecstatic.

At first glance, Simms is deceptive. He has a cherubic face crowned with a Prince Valiant hairdo. Hardly awesome. But he is a sturdy 6-foot-3 and 216 pounds with steel trap mind, a slingshot arm and the nerve of a burglar.

Injuries Plague Rams and Bears

By HAL BOCK

AP Sports Writer

Which is more important to a pro passing game — the quarterback or the wide receivers? Los Angeles and Chicago find out Sunday when the Rams use their No. 3 passer against the Bears — who are down to second-string wide receivers because of injuries.

Rookie Jeff Rutledge is the man on the spot for Los Angeles, replacing regular Pat Hadden, who's out for the season with a broken pinky, and backup Vince Ferragamo, still recuperating from a broken hand. The Bears will use Brian Baschnagel and Steve Schubert at wide receiver, replacing Golden Richards, out with a bad knee, and James Scott, who suffered a broken leg last week.

The hunch here is that the Bears will prevail, mostly because of Walter Payton, who's not hurt.

Last week's 9-5 ran the season record to 86-52 for .623. The picks:

CHICAGO 17, LOS ANGELES 13: Payton's healthy legs make the difference in this one.

MIAMI 24, BALTIMORE 17: This score could reverse if Bert Jones goes the distance for the Colts.

NEW YORK GIANTS 21, ATLANTA 10: Phil Simms and Co. bounce back from the Dallas disappointment.

NEW YORK JETS 31, BUFFALO 14: These Jets travel on the ground, not in the air.

GREEN BAY 16, MINNESOTA 10: The Ice Bowl trophy goes to the Packers this year.

DENVER 23, NEW ENGLAND 20: Go for the home team in this interesting matchup.

PITTSBURGH 28, KANSAS CITY 7: Start the Super Bowl. The Steelers are ready.

HOUSTON 19, OAKLAND 14: The Raiders' secondary leaks enough to intrigue Dan Pastorini.

ST. LOUIS 21, WASHINGTON 13: The Redskins are beginning to play the way folks thought they would at the season's start.

CINCINNATI 24, SAN DIEGO 21: Upset Special. A down week on the road for the Charger roller coaster.

NEW ORLEANS 20, SAN FRANCISCO 10: Title-hopeful Saints can't let up against the down-and-out 49ers.

CLEVELAND 24, SEATTLE 3: Expect the Seahawks to improve on last week's minus-7 yards offense. Plus 7, maybe?

TAMPA BAY 23, DETROIT 7: Lions' treadmill to oblivion won't disturb the first-place Bucs.

DALLAS 31, PHILADELPHIA 17 (Monday Night): Cowboy offense due to break out.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Nick Saviano traded match points with Stan Smith in the final set and then won a tiebreaker to prevail 6-7, 6-4, 7-6 to qualify for the third round of the Stockholm Open.

In other action, Harold Solomon beat Rich Meyer 6-4, 6-4; Gene Mayer advanced with a 6-4, 6-3 victory over Sherwood Stewart; Peter Fleming defeated Briton John Lloyd 6-4, 6-3; Mark Cox of Britain edged Tom Gorman 6-4, 7-5; Ray Moore of South Africa beat George Hardie 7-5, 6-4; Czech Tomas Smid downed Bruce Manson 6-4, 6-4 and Swede Jan Norback whipped Marty Riessen 6-2, 6-0.

Costello Leads Bowling Tournament

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Pat Costello of Union City, Calif., took the lead after eight games of match play in a $65,000 Women's Professional Bowling Association tournament.

She had plus 793 points, with a pinfall for 26 games of 5,553, while runnerup Lorrie Nichols of Island Lake, Ill., had plus 760 points and a pinfall of 5,550.

Third was Claire Livesay of Pompano Beach, Fla., plus 694 and 5,554, followed by Nikki Gianullas, Vallejo, Calif., plus 688 and 5,478, and Cheryl Robinson, Van Nuys, Calif., plus 610 and 5,460.

Dallas Hopes For NBA Franchise Soon

DALLAS (AP) — The National Basketball Association's board of governors will approve a franchise for the city of Dallas, perhaps as early as Thanksgiving Day, according to the man who has been working for four months to bring a pro basketball team here.

Norm Sonju said he is in the final stages of preparing his report to the NBA, and is confident the league will grant his application.

concurrently with the league's all-star game in Washington.

Axelson said the leading candidates for new franchises are Dallas, Minneapolis, St. Louis and Hartford, Conn.

An arena, designed with pro basketball in mind, is under construction downtown and is scheduled to be completed before the start of the next NBA season.

Home-run hero Babe Ruth, as a pitcher for the Boston Red Sox, led the American League in earned run average in 1916 with 1.75.

Babe Ruth was unbeaten as a World Series pitcher, winning one game for the Boston Red Sox in 1916 and two in 1918.

Richard Sheppard, D.D.S. General Dentistry Hours by Appointment 909 E. Park 364-7490

"I talked with (commissioner) Larry O'Brien last Friday, and he asked me if I was still shooting for Thanksgiving Day. I told him I sure am. I don't think the NBA is going to sit there and wait until February if we're ready to go before then," Sonju said.

Joe Axelson, director of NBA operations, said earlier this week the league will announce its next two expansion teams Feb. 3 at an NBA meeting held

Stanton Takes Advantage of Turnovers

Despite the rain that fell throughout most of the game, the La Plata and Stanton eighth grade squared off last night at the stadium with Stanton coming out on top 20-6.

The LaPlata team had the same problem that the Stanton ninth grade had last week, turnovers. The Dogies turned two turnovers into touchdowns to give them the edge.

The Dogies jumped on the scoreboard in the second period when the Dogies recovered a LaPlata fumble at the Maverick 20 yard line. Unable to gain the first down yardage, Stanton gambled on a fourth and two and it paid off with a 13 yard touchdown pass over the middle from quarterback Jeffery Streun to Keith Bridwell. The two point conversion was good and Stanton had an 8-0 lead.

The Stanton defense held La Plata in the next set of downs and with 38 seconds left in the half, Ted Ramirez intercepted a pass from La Plata quarterback Robert Martinez and carried it down the side lines 63 yards for the second Stanton touchdown of the night. The extra point conversion was missed and Stanton went into the dressing room at halftime with a 14-0 lead.

The Mavericks capitalized on a Stanton fumble early in the fourth quarter to put its first score of the night on the board. The drive started on the Dogie 35 and on the seventh play of towards six more points. Ramirez got his second touchdown of the night when he hit the end zone from four yards out. The extra point failed and the score was 20-6, a score that stood at the end of the game.

Late in the fourth quarter on a last ditch attempt, La Plata tried to convert a fourth and three but the Stanton defense rallied and stopped the drive, giving them the ball at the Maverick 27. After a personal foul against the Mavericks moved the ball to the 12 the Dogies continued a drive

The Stanton victory gives each school one victory. The LaPlata ninth grade defeated Stanton last Thursday.

The LaPlata-Stanton seventh graders will play Tuesday.

HEALTH

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.
See your physician

DEAR DR. LAMB — I'm writing to see if you can give me some advice about hemorrhoids. I'm 65 years old. I've had hemorrhoids since I gave birth to my two children and they've never bothered me. I retired some time ago but I keep myself busy. My place was overrun with English ivy and I ripped it all down. The roots go deep underground for yards and I was pulling and yanking them out.

That was three weeks ago and ever since then when I sit down or lie in bed on my back, it feels like I have to have a bowel movement. I'm using a preparation but it doesn't get rid of the pressure. There's no pain and no blood. Do you think that pulling those vines had anything to do with it? I don't want to go to a doctor because I hate that examination.

DEAR READER — The sensation of fullness and feeling like you have to have a bowel movement is a symptom of hemorrhoids. But, of course, that sensation can be caused by other problems as well. It's also true that lifting and pulling literally anything, which increases pressure inside the abdomen, can aggravate hemorrhoids.

After all, they're simply large dilated veins and when you increase the pressure inside the rectal area, these veins have trouble draining and tend to pop out.

In truth, that's how childbirth produces hemorrhoids to begin with. The pregnant uterus presses on the veins that drain the rectal area and they tend to enlarge and pop out. The final insult is the birth process itself when the child's head comes through the birth canal. The pressure and squeezing on the veins at that time will really make the hemorrhoids stand out.

I'm sending you The Health Letter number 13-12, Hemorrhoids: New Treatments for an Old Affliction It will explain the different types of hemorrhoids and symptoms and what can be done for the different types. Other readers who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

Now I'm going to have to scold you about not going to see your doctor about this complaint. You don't know that this is due to your old hemorrhoids and I'd hate to think that you might have a tumor in the rectal area that's filling up the canal and causing you to have the pressure sensation while you're simply ignoring it.

Anyone who has symptoms of this sort should go see his physician for an examination. It may not be the most exciting thing in the world and it can be embarrassing for some people. But, after all, it's a fairly simple procedure.

Cancer of the colon and rectum are the second most common cause of cancer deaths in both men and women. The vast number of these deaths could be avoided if the cancers were detected early enough for most effective treatment.

It's also true that a tumor in the rectal area can cause hemorrhoids to pop out. It can be the source of the pressure on the veins, so please don't neglect your problem any longer.

Rogers Portrait Set For Saturday Dedication

GRANITE, Okla. (AP) — A 28-foot-tall mosaic portrait of Will Rogers made from tiles of Oklahoma red granite will be dedicated Saturday. It is the first of three giant portraits planned in this rural Oklahoma town.

The 30-by-28-foot bust of the renowned humorist, a Claremore, Okla., native, is the creation of Bill Willis, who said the dedication will mark the beginning of the final leg of the world's largest granite mosaic.

Willis originated the "Giants of the Great Plains" project, which will cost an estimated $1 million. Besides the three portraits, roads and a tourist center will be built. Willis said he expects the project to be completed by November 1981.

The other two portraits will be of Sequoia, the Cherokee Indian who invented a system of writing in the 19th century, and the late Olympic gold medalist Jim Thorpe.

Willis is making the mosaic by piecing together granite tiles, which will be flesh tone when polished. He is using quarter-inch black and white dots to give the figures depth.

When completed, the mosaic will stand 116 feet tall and 124 feet wide, with a base 100 feet off the ground. The names of persons who donated $25 or more toward the project will be engraved on background panels, but the names will be visible only with the use of a telescope.

Oklahoma Lt. Gov. Spencer Burnard will be the host of the ceremony at 11 a.m. Saturday, and Lawton Mayor Wayne Gilly will be the emcee. A public barbecue will follow the ceremony.

Dr. Melvin Jones, president of Mark Twain Insurance Corp.,

will be the keynote speaker. A Vernon, Texas, jazz ensemble will accompany a Granite singing group.

Rogers, a member of the Cherokee nation, will represent the philosopher, Willis said. He said Rogers was chosen because of his worldwide appeal and his compassion for Americans.

Sequoia, leader of the Cherokees, was chosen to represent the intellectual for his love for his people and his desire to educate them.

Track star Thorpe, a member of the Sac and Fox tribe, was selected to represent the athlete for his perseverance in achieving goals and becoming the best in his field, Willis said.

Willis is using as models portraits by Charles Banks Wilson that hang in the Oklahoma Capitol.

"Now, more than ever, we need to hold before our young the great values of superior performance and the vision of greatness it inspires," Willis said.

Barriers Used To Contain Oil

GALVESTON, Texas (AP) — Coast Guardsmen have adopted a new strategy in hopes of keeping oil spilling from the ruptured hull of a tanker ablaze in the Gulf of Mexico from ruining Texas beaches — corral it as it spills from the crippled tanker.

Coast Guardsmen deployed about 2,000 feet of floating oil containment barriers about 800 feet from the crippled tanker and along one side and behind it Thursday.

"There's a 200-foot gap between the two barriers that we're going to fill with the Coast Guard's 612-foot skimming barrier in a U-shape, kind of like a pool pocket," said Chief Richard Griggs.

"We hope the oil will go in there, where it can be sucked up as it spills from the tanker."

Firefighters from the Netherlands pumped water and foam on the British-owned grounded ship, the Burmah Agate, in a battle to quell the inferno that erupted eight days ago when the tanker and the freighter Mimosa collided before dawn.

Thirty-two men were believed killed in the accident, although so far only 15 bodies have been recovered, the latest one washing ashore Thursday.

Explosions that have rocked the tanker sporadically have caused the fire to burn with greater intensity each time, forcing firefighters to retreat repeatedly.

Unburned oil has seeped daily from the bowels of the battered tanker, which had been carrying 390,000 barrels.

Changing gulf winds have blown some of the oil onto several beaches along a 120-mile stretch of coast already. Winds continued blowing from the south and east Thursday, prompting Coast Guard warnings that the escaping oil could hit the Texas beaches in large quantities.

Griggs said a light film of oil did stain the Jamaica Beach area on Galveston's west end Thursday. But the current was working against the wind and holding the oil about a half mile off shore, he added.

"Patches of oil were breaking off from the streamer coming from the tanker and drifting southwest, then swinging in an arc and heading toward the beach on the east end of Galveston," he said. "But the currents were picking up the oil and carrying it just off the shore in a line parallel to the beach."

He said there were no other reports of oil on the beaches, and officials of the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, who were monitoring the oil spill, said the winds were expected to begin blowing from the north today, holding the oil offshore.

Another body was found Thursday afternoon near the Freeport jetties, about 40 miles south of last Thursday's collision.

The discovery raised to 15 the number of confirmed dead as a result of the crash. Seventeen tanker crewmen remained missing and presumed dead.

POLLY'S POINTERS

Polly Cramer
Help for musty cupboard

DEAR POLLY — I cannot get the musty odor out of an old bread cupboard that had been stored in my aunt's basement and had gotten wet once. I have scrubbed it with baking soda, put vinegar in it and left the drawers and doors open so it could air out but nothing has helped. I need the extra space this nice cupboard would give me so hope you have a solution. — KATHY

DEAR KATHY — Crumple newspapers up and fill the drawers and interior of the cupboard, close it up and leave for a couple or three weeks. Also pans of charcoal could be placed on the shelves and in the drawers that should then be closed and left for a time. — POLLY

DEAR POLLY — I set my small individual molds in a muffin tin before putting in the gelatin and then there are no spills when carrying them to the refrigerator. This would also be a sure way for Mrs. L. H. to get her cupcakes baked in ice cream cones to the oven without spilling. Stand a cone in a muffin cup. — JULIE

DEAR POLLY — Every morning my neighbor found several dog "calling cards" on her lawn. This went on for years until I took her some oregano shoots and told her she should plant them in her yard where the dogs always went. She did and it worked. She is amazed and has not had one mess since then. Oregano is easy to plant as you just stick a shoot in the ground. If dogs like to come up your steps and raise their legs on the door, etc., put a pot of oregano at the foot of the steps or rub some leaves in the area. — MRS. K. I.

DEAR POLLY — After replotting plants I used to wash my hands and scrub my nails but could never get all the dirt out from under my fingernails. Now I take a thin hard sliwer of soap and run it under each nail while my hands are in water and every speck of dirt disappears. — FREDA

DEAR POLLY — If you are president of a club or have some similar job, jot down on the calendar what you wore to the last meeting. Do this each time and you will not repeat the outfit at a future date. If your slip straps slip, tuck them under your bra straps and have no more trouble.

I pull out the cotton that is in the top of a pill bottle, pour out the pills and put the cotton in the bottom, replace the pills and the cotton does not have to be taken out every time.

I use a plastic measure in my sugar canister because the sugar does not stick to it as it does to a metal measuring cup. — SALLY

FAITH WILL TEACH YOU HOW TO PRAY

Prayer is intended to be a beautiful communion with the Almighty, but we sometimes turn it instead into a request for some material gain, often of doubtful benefit. To do so is to dishonor God by assuming that He is not already aware of your needs. So go to your Church this Sunday and pray for His guidance to help you become a better person. And, instead of attempting to give God information, just thank Him for what you already have and reaffirm your trust in His infinite wisdom in knowing what is really best for you.

"And it shall come to pass, that before they call, I will answer; and while they are yet speaking, I will hear."
— Isaiah 65:24

Who rises from prayer a better man, his prayer is answered.

— George Meredith
