Cubans To Be Screened First

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a move that could effectively stop the flow of Cuban refugees to the United States, President Carter says that henceforth only those screened in advance by U.S. authorities in Cuba will be accepted.

If Cuban President Fidel Castro accepts those terms, Carter said Wednesday, the United States will send boats and planes to ferry the refugees safely out of the island country.

No longer, Carter declared, will the United States allow itself to be used as a "dumping ground" for Cuban criminals and mental patients.

A few hours after the president appeared before reporters at the White House to reveal the new policy, a jetliner chartered by the U.S. government removed several officials and their dependents from the U.S. Interests Section in Havana, at least temporarily.

It was not clear how many were left behind, although the State Department, which accused Cuba of a "virulent and continuing anti-American campaign," said some essential employees would remain in Havana.

With no formal diplomatic relations between the two countries, the Interests Section is what passes for a U.S. Embassy in Cuba.

There was no immediate indication what, if any, direct connection the decision to remove most U.S. diplomatic personnel from Havana had with Carter's new policy on accepting refugees. However, Carter noted in his announcement of the policy that he did not know how it would be received by Castro. He said the Cuban leader "has so far refused to cooperate with us."

Under the former policy of accepting any Cuban who could make it to a U.S. port, an estimated 39,000 have poured into the United States in the last three weeks via an illegal, ragtag armada of small craft, often operating under unsafe conditions.

Carter said Castro has "refused to permit a safe and orderly" exit of refugees, and reported that seven deaths have resulted. "Responsibility for those deaths rests on the shoulders of Fidel Castro," the president asserted.

Many Cuban exiles and refugees already in Florida expressed support for Carter's new policy. But they warned of uncertainty as to how it will be received by Castro.

"In Cuba, you never even know what time of day it is," said refugee Juan Hernandez, 50, as he arrived late Wednesday in Key West. "One day, Castro thinks one thing, one day another."

Exile Alexias Muni of Miami, waiting at the government dock in Key West in hopes his 80-year-old mother would come in, said he didn't think Castro would agree to Carter's conditions.

"I just came in yesterday (Tuesday)...and they are doing everything possible to squeeze the dollars out of the Americans," Muni said of Cuban authorities. "I doubt very much if Castro is going to give up that fountain of dollars for a quick solution."

The Coast Guard, meanwhile, ordered all Americans in the Cuban port of Mariel, where refugees have been loaded during the boatlift, to return immediately to the United States — without refugees.

But a crewman on the 65-foot Greyhound IV, which brought 164 refugees into Key West late Wednesday, said an immediate return may be impossible for the estimated 1,000 to 2,000 boats still at Mariel.

"We were basically prisoners there for 21 days," said John Cochren. "They can call us back all they want, but there are three big gunboats in that harbor. I'm not going to run a blockade of machine guns."

One Cuban exile not satisfied with Carter's plan is Manuel Antonio de Varona, a former Cuban prime minister who is now president of a Miami-based coalition of 158 exile groups.

Over Foreign Buyers Farmers Union Plans All-out War

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — The Texas Farmers Union will "put all its guns" next year behind a bill prohibiting foreign purchases of Texas farm land, a spokesman says.

Press Officer Ron Butler acknowledged, however, at a Wednesday news conference that "We have had complaints from members of our own organization that they don't want to be restricted to whom they sell things."

Butler said older farmers "weren't hot on the issue" in 1979, when the House killed a bill prohibiting further purchases of Texas farm and ranch land by foreigners.

Real estate and oil interests opposed the proposal.

Asked how much acreage foreigners own in Texas, Butler said foreigners voluntarily had reported ownership of 500,000 acres. "It's got to be many, many times that," he said. "I say even half a million is a problem."

Butler said foreign speculation in prime Texas farm land drives prices up and "threatens the family farm system" by making it impossible for young farmers to acquire acreage.

"The problem is not any better" than it was in 1979, said Butler. "In fact, it is worse."

He said despite the federal disclosure law he was unable recently to track rumors that foreigners were buying Brazos River bottom land in the Waco area for speculation. He said all he found was that the land was first purchased for "$1 and other considerations" by a Colorado investment firm and was being held in trust by a Chicago bank.

"We're not only against foreigners owning land but also against many absentee corporations," said Butler. "It doesn't matter whether they live in Tokyo...New York City or...Mexico City."

He said with the erosion of the dollar and the instability of foreign economies, there is additional pressure to invest in the United States. "We're not trying to add to any international tensions," he said.

Battling Blaze

Hereford volunteer firemen had their hands full at mid-morning today, fighting a barn fire on the Andrew Kershen farm two miles west of Holly Sugar. Fire trucks had difficulty in reaching the fire because of extremely wet roads, and by the time firemen arrived, the barn had been virtually destroyed. A fuel tank next to the barn exploded before firemen arrived, and volunteers battled the blaze before it reached a second tank. Kershen's home, which also is next to the barn, had not been damaged by the fire at Brand presstime. Cause of the blaze was not known. [Brand photo by Paul Sims]

Muskie Studies Afghan Plan

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Secretary of State Edmund S. Muskie today discounted the pro-Soviet Afghan government's new peace plan, calling it "cosmetic," and a senior American official said the proposal was, "Nice, but no sale."

"I think it is significant more for its timing," Muskie told an airport news conference shortly after he arrived in Vienna to discuss the plan with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko. "I regard it as cosmetic," Muskie added.

The news secretary of state said he was "not optimistic that the talks (with Gromyko) will mark any significant change" in U.S.-Soviet relations.

Gromyko arrives in Vienna on Friday for the 25th anniversary of the end of Austria's postwar occupation by the United States, Russia, Britain and France. Muskie and Gromyko will meet following the anniversary ceremonies.

State Department analysts traveling with Muskie said the Afghan plan was designed mainly for "propaganda effects" and was a blatant attempt to gain "legitimization" for a regime supported by nearly 100,000 Soviet troops.

However, the officials, who declined to be identified, said they found one promising "new element" in the proposal, the formal acknowledgement that the Soviet army's presence must be dealt with in an overall settlement.

Muskie is certain to insist on a Soviet troop pullout as a precondition for a settlement, they said.

Clayton Says Speaker Candidates Too Hopeful

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Speaker Bill Clayton says candidates to succeed him as leader of the Texas House are counting their votes too soon.

"The magic number doesn't come until January when you see it on the board or in the ballot box (when the Legislature meets in January)," Clayton said Wednesday at an impromptu news conference.

He said he sticks by his statement that he will seek an unprecedented fourth term as speaker unless he is indicted in the FBI's Brilab

(bribery and labor) investigation and not vindicated by around Labor Day. Clayton said he set the Labor Day deadline because "if you get through by then, then it doesn't carry over into the fall elections."

"I was pleased it didn't carry over into the primaries and hope it doesn't affect the general election," he said.

A federal grand jury in Houston is studying evidence gathered by the FBI and reportedly will take some action in early June.

Campaigners for Rep. John Bryant, D-Dallas, who is running against Clayton, claim he has the votes to win. Rep. Gib Lewis, D-Fort Worth, says he can beat Bryant if Clayton is not running.

Clayton said he was disappointed that conservative Rep. Lynn Nabers, D-Brownwood, chairman of the House Criminal Jurisprudence Committee, dropped out of the race to succeed him. He said it was healthy to have numerous candidates.

Nabers endorsed Bryant on Wednesday, but only if (See SPEAKER, Page 2)

Walcott Studies '80 Budget

Walcott Independent School District Board of Trustees this week saw, for the first time, a proposed $253,000 budget for school operations in the 1980-81 fiscal year.

The board took no action on the proposed budget, which will be studied in meetings prior to the Oct. 1 start of the fiscal year.

The board hired Melvin Morris as seventh- and eighth-grade teacher and basketball coach during the regular monthly meeting. Morris, who will move from Boys Ranch, taught and coached at Walcott in 1974-77.

Board members received the tentative 1980-81 basketball schedule, which included a Nov. 6 starting date. Walcott will compete in District 1-B with Hartley, Channing, Texline and Adrian.

In other business, trustees decided that WISD would pick up the premium for accident insurance for students, approved the deed for 5.85 acres of donated land and purchased a house for an instructor.

Congress Close To Saving Stamps

WASHINGTON (AP) — the two versions. Congressional leaders said beforehand they expected the group to complete its work in time for both houses to approve a final figure by day's end.

The Senate also gave Bergland a pointed warning Wednesday that he can expect no further help from Congress for the rest of the fiscal year — even if the money runs out. That was intended as an alert to the administration that benefit levels should be cut if necessary to make the appropriation last.

Some senators argued against that warning, citing a deepening recession and rising unemployment. With one in 10 Americans already receiving food stamps, they said, Congress might have to again rescue the program if the economy performs below

Iran: 96 Americans Loose in Mountains

By The Associated Press

Iran claims 96 armed American saboteurs and assassins and 19 Iranian exiles are on the loose after being landed in the mountains by helicopters and says two other Americans have been arrested for taking part in the unsuccessful attempt to rescue the 53 U.S. hostages.

"Ninety-six Americans have landed in various parts of Iran with the intention of carrying out acts of sabotage in the next two weeks, as well as assassinations in various cities," President Abolhassan Bani-Sadr said in an interview with Tehran Radio Wednesday.

He said 19 longtime Iranian residents of the United States were with the Americans, and that the team and arms were landed by two helicopters in the mountainous Bakhtiari tribal region about 250 miles southwest of Tehran.

The State Department had no comment on the charge. The Pentagon said the only U.S. forces in the area are the two dozen U.S. Navy ships off Iran's southern coast. Two of them are aircraft carriers, and three weeks ago helicopters from the carrier Nimitz took part in the attempt to rescue the American hostages held in Iran since Nov. 4.

Following that attempt, the militants who had been holding 50 of the Americans in the U.S. Embassy in Tehran announced their captives would be dispersed around the country to make any attempt to rescue them more difficult. The (See IRAN, Page 2)

A frontal system stretching from the Atlantic across the Gulf Coast states and lower Mississippi Valley into the lower Rio Grande Valley touched off strong thunderstorms in southeastern New Mexico, across the Panhandle and into southwestern Texas Wednesday afternoon and the waterworks were continuing in the local area today.

Showers continued intermittently through the afternoon and leaving some of the heaviest moisture accumulations this year over widespread areas of Deaf Smith County.

Heavy downpours prompted flash flood warnings for Deaf Smith, Oldham, Potter and Randall counties, and Buffalo Lake at nearby Umberger was reportedly receiving runoff this morning as a result of widespread shower activity.

Amarillo weather officials reported that very heavy thunderstorms were located over the four local counties in the flash flood warning area and residents in the Hunsley Hills section of Canyon and campers at Palo Duro Canyon State Park were warned to immediately move to a place of safety.

Excellent rainfall accumulations were reported from virtually every area of Deaf Smith County early today as showers continued to fall.

The heaviest rainfall accumulations were once again to the east of Hereford near the Dawn community and on the watershed of Buffalo Lake.

One report of a three inch rainfall accumulation was received from farmland to the north of Dawn while a spokeswoman at Dawn Co-Op in the Dawn community proper reported that about one inch of rain had fallen there.

To the north of Dawn at Farmer's Elevator, located at the intersections of FM 808 and FM 1062, a rainfall accumulation of 2.50 inches was recorded shortly after 8 a.m. with more still coming down.

A spokesman at the elevator reported that water was standing over the highway at several locations in that area with ditches running full.

A report of 2.50 inches of rain was also received from the Carl Kleuskens farm northeast of Hereford, near Dawn.

KPAN radio had logged 1.50 inches of rainfall for the city of Hereford as of 8 a.m. and to the south of Hereford 1.50 inches of rain had fallen

5 Lawsuits Filed

Over Botulism

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) - Five lawsuits, seeking $12.65 million, have been filed in federal court in connection with one of the largest botulism outbreaks in the nation's history at a fashionable country club in Clovis.

In April 1978, 34 persons were stricken with botulism after eating at the Colonial Park Country Club in Clovis. Two of the 34 stricken later died.

The suits, including one filed by the country club, name as defendants Joan of Arc Co., a Delaware corporation with its principal place of business in Illinois, and Johnston Food Co., a Texas company with its primary place of business in Amarillo, Texas, and a distributor of Joan of Arc products.

The suit filed by Colonial Park asks for $1.25 million. The suit contends that there was negligence in the preparation and packaging of cans of Read brand three-bean salad sold to the club.

Nothing done by the club's employees could have caused the botulism and they were unable to detect its presence, the suit contends. Two of the suits were filed by representatives of the men who died from botulism.

Americans Flee

Cuba by Jet

MIAMI (AP) - A 727 jet whisked 17 Americans - diplomats and their families - out of Havana to a Miami hideaway early today to wait out a "virulent and continuing anti-American propaganda campaign" in Cuba, State Department officials say.

The sudden evacuation was prompted by fears that an anti-American demonstration on Saturday might endanger the Americans.

"We simply think it would be irresponsible for us not to pare down our staff and not withdraw our people," said State Department spokesman David Hall.

"A virulent and continuing anti-American propaganda campaign is underway there and a nationwide anti-American demonstration is planned for Saturday," he said.

State Department officials expected the evacuation of the diplomats, who work at the U.S. Interest Section in Havana, to be brief.

Some U.S. officials remained in Cuba, according to State Department spokesman Mark Sawolski, but he could not say how many chartered Eastern Airlines jetliner left Miami Wednesday night, returning with the diplomats just after midnight.

Autonomy Talks To Pass Deadline

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) - Prime Minister Menachem Begin said today the Palestinian autonomy negotiations with Egypt and the United States would continue past the May 26 target date.

Egyptian President Anwar Sadat met in Cairo with top officials to map a negotiations strategy after he swore in a new Cabinet and ordered it to fight Egypt's soaring inflation.

May 26 marks a full year since the start of the negotiations after Israel and Egypt signed their peace treaty. In just less than a year of talks, the two countries remain far apart on how much authority to grant the future Palestinian administration.

The last session floundered on the issue of security, with Israel demanding total control of matters relating to Israeli defense and Egypt proposing a wide Palestinian role. Other difficult issues haven't been touched yet.

Valedictorian Named

Dr. Harrell Holder, school superintendent, announced the Valedictorian and Salutatorian during the Hereford High School's annual Awards Assembly in the school auditorium. Janelle Coupe, Valedictorian, had a final grade point average of 5.5629 with Lisa Gail McCabe, Salutatorian, ranking closely behind her with a grade point of 5.5611. The two girls received Outstanding Scholar Awards from Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce in recognition of outstanding academics and citizenship. Rain at the Easter community. Heavy rain was reported from sections of the dryland country to the west of Hereford as well.

Bill Page had recorded two inches of moisture at the county barn at Bootleg Corner as of 8 a.m. today with more rain falling, and 28 miles west of Hereford at the Eldred Brown home another two inch rainfall accumulation was recorded.

Rainfall from Wednesday afternoon and last night brought the rainfall total for the Bootleg Corner area to three inches for this month. The rain may be too late to be of much benefit for the summer dryland wheat crop, but will provide excellent soil moisture for starting sorghum and forage hay crops.

At the Clint Homfeld farm 47 miles northwest of Hereford only .60 inches of rain was recorded, but heavier rainfall amounts fell on areas to the south and east of that location.

A rainfall report 2:30 inches was received from Westway Fertilizer at the Westway community, and a spokesman for that firm reported that some water was draining toward the Tierra Blanca Creek, the main tributary of the Buffalo Lake watershed.

Heavy rainfall apparently knocked out phone service to areas north and west of Hereford in the Milo Center and Farmer's Corner areas and weather observers could not be contacted for rainfall reports in that region.

Word was received of a two inch rainfall accumulation at the Simms community, well to the west of Farmer's Corner, however.

Heavy weather also apparently resulted in a power outage over portions of Hereford early today, and phone service in some areas was hampered by the damp conditions.

Forecasters were warning of the possibility of flash flooding over much of the state today after thunderstorms rumbled across most of Texas last night, unleashing heavy rain, gusty winds and some hail.

Forecasters were indicating that some sections of the state could receive an additional two to four inches of rainfall tonight.

Up to a 90 percent chance of additional rainfall was predicted for tonight and thunderstorms, some locally severe, were predicted for the area east of the Pecos today.

Today's highs in the northern portions of West Texas were expected to reach only into the 50's in the north and tonight's lows are expected to be in the 40's.

High's Friday for the northern portion of the region are expected to be in the 60's.

Bond Restrictions Delayed

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Senate Finance Committee is sending a message aimed at spurring the depressed housing industry: Any new restrictions on mortgage bonds will be delayed until next year.

At the urging of its chairman, Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., the committee, voted unanimously Wednesday to serve notice that House-passed restrictions on using tax-free bonds for home mortgages would not go into effect before January.

Although the resolution is officially nothing more than a statement of the panel's sentiment, it is highly improbable the changes approved by the House could become law this year over the committee's objections.

Long told the committee that the measure passed by the House "is keeping people from owning homes - keeping states and counties from coming to the aid of their citizens. That bill has got at least a million people out of work in the country right now."

The committee's vote was an effort to remove a cloud that has hung over the housing industry since a bill was introduced in the House April 25, 1979, to restrict use of tax-exempt bonds for single-home mortgages. Even though that bill has never been passed, its introduction by senior House members put the housing industry and financial markets on notice that restrictions were in the offing.

The bill actually passed by the House March 26 is less restrictive than the measure originally proposed by Reps. Al Ullman, D-Ore., and Barber Conable, R-N.Y., chairman and senior Republican, respectively, of the House Ways and Means Committee.

Bernard Shapiro, director of the Joint Committee on Taxation, said there is no way to tell whether the Finance Committee's vote will be a strong enough signal to revitalize the housing-bond market. But he predicted such a result could be assured if Ullman and Conable publicly endorse the Finance Committee vote. There was no immediate indication whether the two House members would back the Senate panel's action.

Donald Lubick, an assistant secretary of the treasury, said the delay favored by the committee would double to $20 billion the value of tax-exempt housing bonds expected to be issued this year. That increase would cost the treasury $250 million in lost taxes in the next budget year, he said.

Lubick said guaranteed tax-free treatment for the rest of the year would prompt 33,000 new housing starts, at a tax loss to the treasury of more than $7,500 per home.

The Finance Committee has not yet decided what changes to make in the taxation of housing bonds, although there is agreement among members that such bonds have been abused. It was in response to such abuses that the House voted the crackdown.

In recent years state and local governments have issued large amounts of tax-exempt development bonds to finance the purchase of owner-occupied homes. Typically, the government agency will issue the bonds and lend the money to private institutions, which, in turn, make loans for individuals to buy homes.

The legislation passed by the House generally would allow tax-exempt bonds to be used for single-family, owner-occupied homes only if the money is for the borrower's principal home; the borrower has not been a homeowner for the past three years; the borrower's income generally does not exceed 115 percent of the median family income of an area; and the price of the home is no more than 80 percent of the average in the area.

The bill also limits the total amount of housing bonds that may be issued in each state.

Burglaries Investigated By Police

Police this morning were investigating a burglary at McDowell Drug Store, 336 N. Main, where cash, watches and jewelry were stolen. Investigating officers said they could find no sign of forced entry. Taken were 10 Timex watches, several necklace chains and $120 in cash.

The total value of the missing items was approximately $500.

Someone broke into a truck and pickup at the Santa Fe Dept., 148 E. 1st, last night or early today and stole a flashlight from the pickup. Nothing was taken from the truck.

Speaker

Clayton is out of the race.

Asked what he thought of the endorsement of Bryant by Rep. W.S. Heatly, D-Paducah, a longtime Clayton supporter, the speaker said, "Makes you wonder what the commitment was."

Clayton said he was convinced Bryant's votes include "quite a few" who actually endorse Bryant as a second choice if Clayton drops out.

What if he is defeated for the speakership? "I'd play the role of a member," Clayton said.

Reps. Bill Prenal, D-Bryan, and Tom Uher, D-Bay City, announced later

Wednesday that they would support Lewis if Clayton is not a candidate.

Prenal and Uher are committee chairman, and Uher previously indicated he might become a candidate for Speaker.

"While I pledge my support for the 67th session, I am not closing the door on my own candidacy for Speaker in 1983," Uher said in a joint release with Prenal.

Prenal said it is important for "someone as honest and practical as Lewis to be ready to assume the role of Speaker in the event a change is dictated."

Iran

Americans have been reported scattered among 13 cities, and today Tehran Radio announced a group was being sent to a 14th point, Hamadan, 175 miles southwest of Tehran.

The broadcast said an additional purpose of the transfer was "to prepare the spies for the day of trial." Spy trials for some of the hostages have been urged both by the Americans' captors and by leading members of the hardline Islamic Republican Party which will dominate the new Parliament that is to decide the fate of the hostages.

Meanwhile, the Iranian prosecutor-general's office said two American men were arrested for taking part in the aborted hostage rescue and put in Evin Prison in Tehran. No clue to their identity was given, and the State Department said it had no information on them.

The London Daily Telegraph said after the rescue attempt that more than 100 infiltrators, including Farsi-speaking CIA agents and Green Berets, were infiltrated into Iran to assist the commandos who never got to Tehran. But the New York Times reported at the time that it was told all the infiltrators had escaped from the country.

The Chicago Sun-Times on Wednesday said sources in Washington told it the rescue attempt was much larger than American officials have said publicly. The sources were quoted as saying about 400 undercover agents, most of them Iranian, were mobilized to stir up trouble during the rescue.

Food Stamps

expectations this summer.

But Sen. Henry Bellmon, R-Okla., who sponsored the warning amendment, said it was time to impose "discipline" on the Agriculture Department.

"There might be some minor disruption" for food stamp recipients if there is a cutback in benefits, he said. "But it wouldn't be unduly painful for any recipient. We have been quite generous. We've got to get some discipline."

An even higher amount, $3.3 billion, was recommended to run through Sept. 30 by a separate Senate-House conference that approved raising the food stamp budget for the remainder of this fiscal year and for fiscal 1981.

But that measure, approved by the Senate on Wednesday, only outlines how the program is to be operated and sets spending ceilings. It does not actually provide any money.

Congressional food stamp critics say the administration has deliberately tried to stampeade action on extending the program to prevent a more deliberate review that could reduce cheating and overspending.

The program's cost will continue to spiral, according to the Congressional Budget Office, which estimated the cost would rise to $10.4 billion in the next fiscal year if unemployment reaches 8 percent, as some economists have predicted.

would be prepared to enter discussion on guaranteeing Afghanistan's neutrality," one official said.

The Afghan plan, as reported by the Soviet news agency Tass, called for Afghanistan and neighboring Pakistan and Iran to sign bilateral agreements barring hostile action against each other. These would be guaranteed by the Soviet Union and the United States, and the United States would also pledge not to conduct "subversive activities" against Afghanistan.

"The question of the withdrawal of Soviet forces from Afghanistan will depend on the resolution of the issue of effective guarantees of the bilateral agreements of Afghanistan with Pakistan and Iran," the Afghan government's statement said.

The Russians contend they intervened in Afghanistan because of rebellion supported by the United States, China and Pakistan against the communist regime in Kabul. All have denied the charge, and Chinese Vice Premier Li Xiannian said today talk of the Soviet army withdrawing from Afghanistan "is a lie. It will remain there."

Muskie said the burden is on the Soviets to show they are interested in normal relations with the United States and its allies, and their first step should be the withdrawal of the 100,000 or more troops they have sent into Afghanistan in the past five months to try to crush a tribal rebellion against communist rule.

He said he expects from Gromyko considerable "probing to see any soft spots" in the U.S. position on Afghanistan because of the Soviet interest in the advantages of détente. But he indicated he would be emphatic in his response, saying: "I think it would be a mistake to raise expectations to the point where there is any doubt in their mind of our determination to pursue the goal of withdrawal."

The NATO allies at their annual spring meeting in Brussels Wednesday fell into line with President Carter's call for a stronger anti-Soviet stance, pledging to increase military spending by 3 percent a year and assume more of the burden for their own defense.

He said the ministers whose countries are also members of the European Common Market also pledged to carry out their decision to impose economic sanctions against Iran if there is no "decisive progress" by Saturday toward the freeing of the 53 Americans held hostage since Nov. 4. But there was considerable doubt the sanctions would be as severe as the United States wants.

Scouting the Panhandle

Scouts To Help Clean Grounds

By DAVID CORTEZ
District Executive
Congratulations to Bobby Boyd and Wayne Lady as they are the new Tierra Blanca District Commissioner and Assistant District Commissioner, respectively. This weekend (May 17) will be a work weekend to start cleaning the Hereford Scout Grounds. Any Boy Scout or Adult Scouter are encouraged to come to the Camp grounds and help with the cleaning. There will be a truck there to pick up all rocks, trash etc., from the area and we need all the help that can be there!! Bring your own sack lunch, and plan to stay until 4 or 5 p.m. Scouts who are First Class and up can receive service hours for their work.

CONGRATULATIONS to Troop 50, 51, and 52!!! Last weekend these troops competed in the Annual Council Field Day. What is a Field Day? A Field Day is a troop by troop competition in just about every skill imaginable. The skills are described below with the possible number of points earned in each event.

1. ATTENDANCE -- 500 points -- figured on a percentage basis. 2. SILENT DRILL AND UNIFORM INSPECTION -- 400 points -- The troops had to maneuver over a designated area by having the Senior Patrol Leader give silent signals with a minimum of 8 different commands. 3. CAMP INSPECTION AND COOKING -- 1000 points -- Judges inspected each campsite for cleanliness, safety, uniformity in camp set-up, display of flags, appetizing and healthy cooking. 4. ARCHERY -- 216 points -- 4 scouts shot 6 arrows 20 yards away for accuracy.

5. BAITCASTING -- 400 points -- Five hoops 26" in diameter are placed 30, 40, 50, 60 & 70 feet from starting point. Scouts cast twice at each target for accuracy, for every foot off target, 1 point is deducted from beginning score of 100. 6. MARKSMANSHIP -- 500 points -- each troop selects their best 5 shooters to shoot 5 shots each; 50 feet from target. 7. COMPASS TRAIL -- 500 points -- Compass courses were set with each troop given 4 compass bearings to follow for accuracy. 8. FIRST AID -- 400 points -- 8 Scouts from each troop showed their stuff in artificial respiration, choking on food, arterial bleeding, and shock.

9. KNOT TYING -- 160 points -- A drawn team of 8 scouts had to tie various knots correctly. The carrick bend, sheet bend, hitching tie, slip knot, bowline on a bight, bowline, tautline hitch, clove hitch, timber hitch, square knot, millers knot, sheepshank, 2 half-hitches, barrel hitch, diamond hitch, and surgeon's knot. 10. NATURE STUDY -- 400 points -- 50 specimens were listed out of which 20 were used for a nature trail that each troop had to identify. 11. SIGNALLING -- 100 points -- Each team had to send and receive 100 symbols in 20 minutes by using Morse Code or Semaphore. 12. TENTING -- 400 points -- Each team had to make their own tentpeds from furnished materials, set up the 7' x 9' wall tent using proper knots on tent ropes, arrange tools neatly, and stand at attention until graded by the judge. 13. FIRE BY FLINT AND STEEL -- 500 points -- Scouts had 10 minutes to start a fire with flint and steel and boil water over the top of a can. 14. FIRE BY FRICTION -- 500 points -- Scouts had 10 minutes to start a fire using friction, and boil water over the top of a can. 15. TEAM COOKING -- 500 points -- Scouts reported as if on a hike with supplies and equipment properly packed and carried in a backpack. Each team had to start a fire, prepare 4 cups of cocoa, 4 pieces of warm toast, 8 strips of crisp bacon, 4 eggs well done in 30 minutes.

After the competition was over, the points were totaled to see which troops made a Class A -- 4000 points or more, Class B -- 3000-3999 points, or Class C 2999 points or less, 18 Troops from the 9 County Council participated with approximately 275 Scouts competing. Last year only 3 troops earned a Class A Rating, (all from Amarillo) with those troops having experienced scouts in their units.

No Troop has ever entered the Field Day Competition in its first year and earned a Class A rating -- until this year. Troop 51 totaled 4,154 points for their Class A Rating -- but there is a big difference; most of the boys competing were 11 years old except for the troop leaders -- Terry Morris, and Paul Plummer (both Life Scouts). The troop leaders made the difference in guiding the young scouts to their rating. Troop 50 also made a Class A Rating with a total of 4,207 (highest in Hereford) Troop 50 did as I predicted and expected of a Class Troop. They have a few older scouts, but still 90 percent of Troop 50 are only Scout and Tenderfoot rank. Last year Troop 50 earned 3,752 points for a class B rating; A SUPER IMPROVEMENT!!

Troop 52 earned 3,763 points for a class B rating. But I am equally impressed with Troop 52's showing as I am Troop 50, and 51. All Hereford Troops have something rare that most other troops don't -- 95 percent of all scouts are only 11 and 12 years old and most have not reached scoutings' first rank -- TENDERFOOT. Troop 51 and 52 competed this year for the first time and surprised everybody! Troop 52 should be more proud of themselves than any other troop. The only experienced leaders are Mike and Hunt Foster. Last year Troop 50 and Troop 132 (My old Troop) entered and did not make a class A rating, yet Mr. Billingsley and myself had some experienced scouts. Troop 52's Scouts are the youngest among all troops and just barely missed class A by 1 event.

Last weekend, after the competition, I asked each Scoutmaster and the boy troop leader (from the Randall and Tierra Blanca District - the 2 districts I serve) to have a brief meeting with me so I could congratulate them. All earned the class A rating except Troop 52. The boy leader from Troop 52 could hardly hold back the tears because they did not earn the Class A Rating.

Troop 52 is so young and yet just barely missed class A. I'm extremely proud of Troop 52; I could hardly talk when I saw the boy leader hold back the tears. Troop 52 has nothing to be ashamed of -- and everything to be proud of. Troop 52 gave the example of how deep pride runs among all Hereford Troops.

Other Troops in the Council had better watch out for the upcoming Hereford Troops!!

I'm proud of all the Troops who participated in the Field Day and the way they represented Hereford. Most of us are so inexperienced -- but we're up there on TOP! Participants in the Field Day were:

Troop 51
Victor Cantu, Scott DeBord, Richard Evars, Terry Morris, Jerry Pacheco, Paul Plummer, Alex Schmucker, John Simnacher, Bruce Walterscheid, Gary Robinson, Scoutmaster, Al Simnacher, Asst. Scoutmaster, Vince Walterscheid.

Troop 52

Adults
Gary Billingsley - Scoutmaster, Joe Hacker, Richard Patzig, Tommy Bowling.

A Tough Commitment

At the dedication of our nation's new Department of Education, President Carter promised "a tough new commitment."

He said, "Our country faces new challenges. We are on the cutting edge of change; of progress. If we are to prevail against our challenges we need a tough new commitment to education in America."

Obviously, he believed that the new education department can be a catalyst for such a commitment.

Gov. Reagan, if elected, would seek to abolish the Federal Department of Education and allow educational supervision to revert to the states.

Who's right? Public education in our nation is failing its purpose: the academic skills of our young people which need to be enhanced are, instead, eroding.

Scholastic Aptitude Test Scores dropped again last year for the twentieth consecutive year.

A Ford Foundation study concludes that federal programs aimed at wiping out illiteracy have not done so--that 64 percent of Americans are unable adequately to read and write.

The Rev. Jesse Jackson says that in our public schools there is "a national epidemic of failure."

The one professional group you would expect to support public education--is public educators. Yet they--principal and teachers of public schools--more than any other professional group--send their children to private schools.

Since 1970 enrollment in nonsectarian private schools has increased 60 percent, is now 1.8 million.

Why? Better education.

Whatever the factors inhibiting public education--and they include violence, vandalism, narcotics--it costs three times as much as private school and delivers less quality instruction.

Here are the latest results from the Stanford Test of Academic Skills:

First graders in Christian schools are nine months ahead of the national average.

Eighth graders are 12 months ahead.

At high school level results become progressively more impressive.

In the top quarter of the national group--where the average public school juniors and seniors are reading at the 99th percentile. Actually, what that number means is that their reading skills are beyond the upper reach of the exam.

Dr. Paul Kienel is executive director of the world's largest association of Christian schools. He says the larger benefits of a Christian education are not academic--but because this is presently the world's standard for judging the merits of an educational system, he is proud that the "numbers" parallel the greater advantages.

tages. These he describes as a "Bible ethic for worship and work, for moral purity and personal integrity."

Does this indicate that the diploma from "a religious school," heretofore disdained, will hereafter be prized? I expect so.

They have a new bureaucracy in Washington -- the Blue Tape Office. It distributes reels of blue tape with which to tie all the red tape in bundles.

From the looks of the stuff, the beanery's tossed salad must have been used in a couple fast games of handball before being served.

Closing one's ears to office gossip may be very high-minded, but it makes for an awfully long, dull work day.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

The "Show" is over, but the music lingers on. That is just what happened Saturday night, when the "Woody McDermitt Memorial Opry" was staged in IOOF Temple.

The music lingered, not only in the minds of those who heard it but also in the east hall as two fiddlers and two guitar pickers got in a huddle to play old-time fiddle tunes and other songs from past years just for fun.

The show was a great success for musicians and audience alike.

We would like to take this opportunity to thank each one who had a part in the activities to make it the best we have ever had.

A special thanks to the Hereford Brand, especially Kerrie, Denise and Paul Sims and KPAN Radio Station for the great publicity they gave us preceding the show.

To all of the musicians who performed -- "The Country Four," Holly Hodges, Lois and Vicki Varner, Judge O.K. Neal, Jody Hamilton and Phil Sciumbato, Woody Glass, "Freckles and Lottie," T.G. Hasten, Harold Manning, Carla Greenway, Senior Citizen's Quartet, Carolyn and Brenda Tackett and Gary and Herman McClesky--you all did a wonderful job.

Thanks to Jody Hamilton for getting the programs ready on such short notice.

To Mayor Bartley Dowell for proclaiming May 10 as "Woody McDermitt Day." Thanks to the Odd Fellow and Elks Lodges for their cooperation in helping get the hall ready.

And a very big and special "thank you" to Judge Glen Nelson for all his time and work in coordinating the show, working with the musicians, acting as master of ceremonies and also performing with the musicians.

If we have failed to mention anyone it is surely unintentional. We appreciate all of you.

Thanks again to all you beautiful people and until we get together again.

God Bless You Everyone.

Texas Briefs

HOUSTON (AP) — Harris County Sheriff's detectives are investigating the shooting death of a man free on $20,000 bond after being charged with a double murder.

A passerby found the body of Stephen Phillip Cotton, 22, next to a rural road Tuesday. Officials said the victim had been shot at least seven times in the head and chest.

Cotton and Jackie Leehorn West, 25, were charged May 1 with murder in connection with the shooting deaths of Robert Don Lee, 34, and Delinda Lois Cole, 37.

Deputies said it appeared Cotton was killed elsewhere and then his body dumped next to the road. They said there was no apparent link between Cotton's death and the two murders he was charged with.

JOHNSON SPACE CENTER, Texas (AP) — A total of about 16 astronauts and mission specialists will be added to the space shuttle program at the end of the month, a JSC official says.

The newest members of the space program will come from about 3,300 persons, who originally applied, said JSC spokesman George Abbey. The final 16 will be chosen from the 121 applicants who remain and have been interviewed over the last several weeks.

Abbey said Wednesday once the candidates are selected, about eight will undergo pilot training and the rest will become mission specialists.

HOUSTON (AP) — The principal of the Houston Independent School District says he sees a tax increase for the second year in a row, but promises the hike will be "minimal."

Billy Reagan said Wednesday that unless the school board cuts its current operating budget by $14 million, the tax increase will be necessary.

He said the money is needed to fund a record 14 percent pay increase awarded to the district's 17,000 employees earlier this year.

Reagan said a "minimal" tax increase of four or five cents added to the present tax rate of 98 cents per $100 of assessed value would raise from $8 to $10 million to help fund the pay hike.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — Bexar County's successful system of administering emergency utility assistance programs for low-income and elderly families might be used as a nationwide model next year, officials say.

Program evaluators from two federal agencies were in San Antonio last week to study the program administered by the city's Community Action Division.

"We established a pretty good system which they are going to take back to Washington and possibly use as a nationwide model," Community Action Director Mercy Pena said Wednesday.

"Other agencies around the country have been having problems with administration, especially in large metropolitan areas, because the programs are so large and there is only a short planning time," she added. The city agency designed administrative forms and procedures that solved many of the problems, she said.

Needy families apply for the financial help on their utility bills. A $200 limit per family has been observed, and some $570,000 has been issued to help pay bills for 9,436 persons in 2,865 homes, officials said.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — Problems with new military weapons systems are not the result of design flaws, but of a decision to initially spend more on acquiring equipment than maintaining it, says a top Defense Department official.

"We decided to spend the money we had on acquiring new equipment without allocating enough to keep it going, but we plan to spend more on maintenance and spare parts in the future,"

Dr. Walter B. LaBerge, undersecretary of defense for research and engineering, said here Wednesday.

The "buy-now, fix-it-later" decision was made because it requires up to five years for delivery of a new weapon after it is ordered, he added.

LaBerge's comments came in reaction to news reports critical of frequent breakdowns in the revolutionary new gas turbine engines of the XM-1 battle tank and chronic parts shortages for F-14 and F-15 aircraft stationed at domestic bases.

Irving Man Sentenced For Kidnapping Girl

LITTLETON, Colo. (AP) — Elmer Glenn Sweeney, 37, of Irving, Texas, has been sentenced to two to four years in prison for kidnapping a 17-year-old girl in Cleveland and forcing her to ride to Colorado.

The girl, a runaway from Bellevue, Mich., claimed during Sweeney's trial in Littleton District Court that Sweeney forced her to ride nearly naked in the truck cab and one time offered her sexual services over his citizens' band radio for $50.

The girl was freed by sheriff's deputies on Interstate 70 at Strasburg after they were contacted by a passerby whom the girl had asked to help her.

Sweeney claimed the girl rode with him willingly. The girl said that she met

Sweeney at a Cleveland truck stop and asked him to take her to Florida. Sweeney said that he would do so, but that he first had to drop off a load of furniture in Utah. Sweeney was a driver for North American Van Lines.

Asked why she did not run away from Sweeney during the trip, the girl said Sweeney told her he had a gun in the truck.

Many Seek How-To-Kill-Yourself Handbook

By MAUREEN JOHNSON
Associated Press Writer
LONDON (AP)—Flooding into a basement office in London's Kensington district are thousands of letters from people who want to know how to kill themselves. They want to pay $11.50 for a controversial 'do-it-yourself' guide to death that has been compiled by Britain's 45-year-old Voluntary Euthanasia Society, which recently renamed itself 'Exit, the right to die with dignity.' The booklet was written by a committee of doctors, lawyers and social scientists, and publication is planned for June or July if the society's lawyers decide it is not illegal.

Exit will not give details in advance. But it says the guide lists four bloodless methods, including specific instructions on fatal overdoses of pills available at drugstores without a prescription. The organization, which has long pressed unsuccessfully for liberalized euthanasia laws, has held up publication while its lawyers decide whether it could be prosecuted. Suicide has been legal in Britain since 1961, but—as in the United States—'aiding and abetting' suicide is an offense, punishable here by up to 14 years in jail. 'We are deeply concerned with the plight of the dying, and determined to go ahead and publish,' Exit's secretary, Nicholas Reed, 32, said in an interview. The suicide guide is intended primarily for the painfully and incurably ill and aged persons who are incapacitated. Reed contended there is increasing public acceptance of the viewpoint that it is better to die than to linger on when incurable disabilities 'make each day and night a death in life.' He concedes that Exit's rule that the booklet will be sold only to members of three months' standing, is scant precaution against its being acquired by the healthy in despair, including the impulsive. The British Medical Association, dismayed by Exit's plans, declared in a recent statement that the booklet was liable to wide abuse and 'may discourage people suffering from acute depression from seeking help.' The Samaritans, an international suicide-prevention organization. Not a single major city in the country's northeast or northcentral regions increased its population during the first half of the 1970's. In fact, only four southern or western cities with more than 500,000 people showed population gains. The Conference Board notes. They were San Diego; San Antonio, Texas; San Jose, Calif.; and New Orleans.

takes an equally dim view. Jean Burt, its joint general secretary in Britain, said most survivors of suicide attempts are glad to be still alive, but 'Once people know how to do it, they probably will, and then there's no second chance.' 'It's fear of bungling it that stops many people.' Before scientists understood seasonal changes, astronomers believed that the sun, in its apparent 'path across the heavens' paused over the Tropic of Capricorn (on Dec. 21 or 22 by modern calendars) and again when it reached the Tropic of Cancer (about June 21). Ancient astronomers named each moment 'solstice,' from the Latin 'sol,' (sun) and 'sistere,' to stand still.

Ms. Burt added. Exit argues that it is precisely because dying, like living, can be a risky and painful business that it compiled the booklet. Since Exit announced last fall that the booklet was finished, membership in the society has soared from 2,000 to more than 6,000, including about 100 Americans. The membership fee is $6.90 a year for residents of Britain, $23 for foreigners and $69 for life. Most of the sheaves of letters Reed produces come from middle-aged or elderly people who say they are healthy and happy now but want the information just in case. But a sprinkling of members intend to use the booklet right away. 'Mostly they regard it as a safeguard,' Reed said, 'but we have about 10 people just waiting for it to come out.' Some new members describe watching parents or others they loved die slowly and in agony and say they do not want it to happen to them. A 36-year-old New Jersey teacher wrote of his father-in-law's lingering death. 'What I watched made me realize, if possible, I would prefer to make my own decision,' he said. Another member wrote: 'I'll just feel better, knowing where the exit is.' Reed says he has had only two calls from unhappy teenagers.

Exit wants euthanasia legalized under strict controls and says its booklet is a 'second-best.' 'Doing it yourself is never as reliable as getting professionals to do it,' Reed said. He pointed out that the booklet is not practical for the severely disabled who would have to ask for help. The plight of such desperate people is well publicized in the current London and New York theater hit 'Whose Life Is It, Anyway?'—about a young quadriplegic who longs for death but is physically incapable of killing himself. 'I suppose in a sense we should measure our success by the number of members we lose,' said Reed.

Fans 12 Astro Hitters for Win

Fryman Holds Up Expo Bullpen

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

At the age of 40, when he very well might be retired to his tobacco farm in Ewing, Ky., Woodie Fryman is out there pitching.

And Montreal's "old man" is looking like a young man these days, helping to hold up the Expos' bullpen with his strong left arm.

Fryman has retired 17 straight batters in relief, including 12 Wednesday night when the Expos beat the Houston Astros 1-0.

"The last two or three times out I've been in that groove and that's been my secret," said Fryman. "I had good breaking stuff and a good fastball and I was hitting the spots. It's easy to look good when you've got all that going for you."

Fryman preserved the victory for Scott Sanderson, YMCA Classes

Slated To Start

The Hereford YMCA will start a new season of Jazzerise classes beginning May 27th ending July 12th. The classes will run for 8 weeks and meet Tuesday and Thursday morning classes 9:30 to 11 am, and Evening classes 6:30 to 8 p.m. Registration fee for members is $15.00 and $30.00 for Non-Members. The Minimum Enrollment is 6 per class Maximum is 8 per class. For more information call 364-6990.

3-2, pitching the final four innings.

"The old man did one heck of a job tonight," Expos Manager Dick Williams said. "This was his longest work of the year, but it didn't seem to bother him, did it?"

In other National League action, the Chicago Cubs beat the Los Angeles Dodgers 5-2, the New York Mets edged the Cincinnati Reds 7-6 in 10 innings, the Pittsburgh Pirates stopped the San Francisco Giants 3-2, the Philadelphia Phillies whipped the Atlanta Braves 9-1 and the St. Louis Cardinals defeated the San Diego Padres 2-1.

Tony Bernazard's fifth-inning double scored the only run the Expos needed. Houston starter Ken Forsch walked Gary Carter to lead off the fifth. Carter went to second on Warren Cromartie's grounder and scored when Bernazard's hit rolled down the right field line just out of the reach of first baseman Denny Walling.

Sanderson held the Astros to four hits until the sixth inning when he was removed from the game with a muscle spasm in his lower back. Sanderson had walked Joe Morgan to start the sixth but Fryman retired the side to end the threat.

Cubs 5, Dodgers 2
Dave Kingman slammed his eighth home run and drove in three runs to lead Chicago over Los Angeles. Lynn McGlothen, 2-0, earned the victory with relief help from three pitchers. Bullpen ace Bruce Sutter, the last of them, recorded his ninth save.

Burt Hooton, 3-3, took the loss.

Mets 7, Reds 6
Jerry Morales snapped an 0-for-23 slump with an RBI single in the 10th inning to lead New York over Cincinnati. John Stearns opened the 10th with a double and two outs later, Morales who had come into the game as a defensive replacement — slapped a single to left.

Pinch-hitter Harry Spilman had tied the game for Cincinnati with a three-run homer in the bottom of the ninth. It was the second straight pinch homer for Spilman.

"He hit a good pitch," loser Tom Hume, 3-2, said of Morales' game-winning hit. "I threw a sinker and jammed him."

Pirates 3, Giants 2
Jim Bibby and Kent Tekulve combined on a five-hitter to lead Pittsburgh over San Francisco. Bibby, 5-0, left the game in favor of Tekulve after giving up a leadoff double to Bill North in the eighth inning. Tekulve gained his fourth save.

The Pirates ended a 19-inning scoring drought with unearned runs in the first two innings off Bob Knepper. Dave Parker's RBI single in the eighth provided the Pirates with their winning run.

Phillies 9, Braves 1

Steve Carlton gave up only two hits in six innings and Pete Rose drove in four runs as Philadelphia routed Atlanta.

Carlton, 6-2, did not allow a run until Bob Horner led off the sixth with his first homer of the season. Carlton, who struck out four and walked three, now has yielded only five hits to the Braves in 15 innings this season.

Rose had an RBI double in the second, keyed a four-run third with a two-run single and doubled home another run in the fifth.

Cardinals 2, Padres 1
Keith Hernandez singled and scored two runs, the second on an error in the sixth, to give Roy Thomas his first victory of the season as St. Louis edged San Diego.

Thomas, entering the game with a 6.61 ERA, allowed just one run on five hits through seven innings before giving way to reliever Silvio Martinez. Martinez himself needed last-out relief help from Mark Littell, who earned his second save.

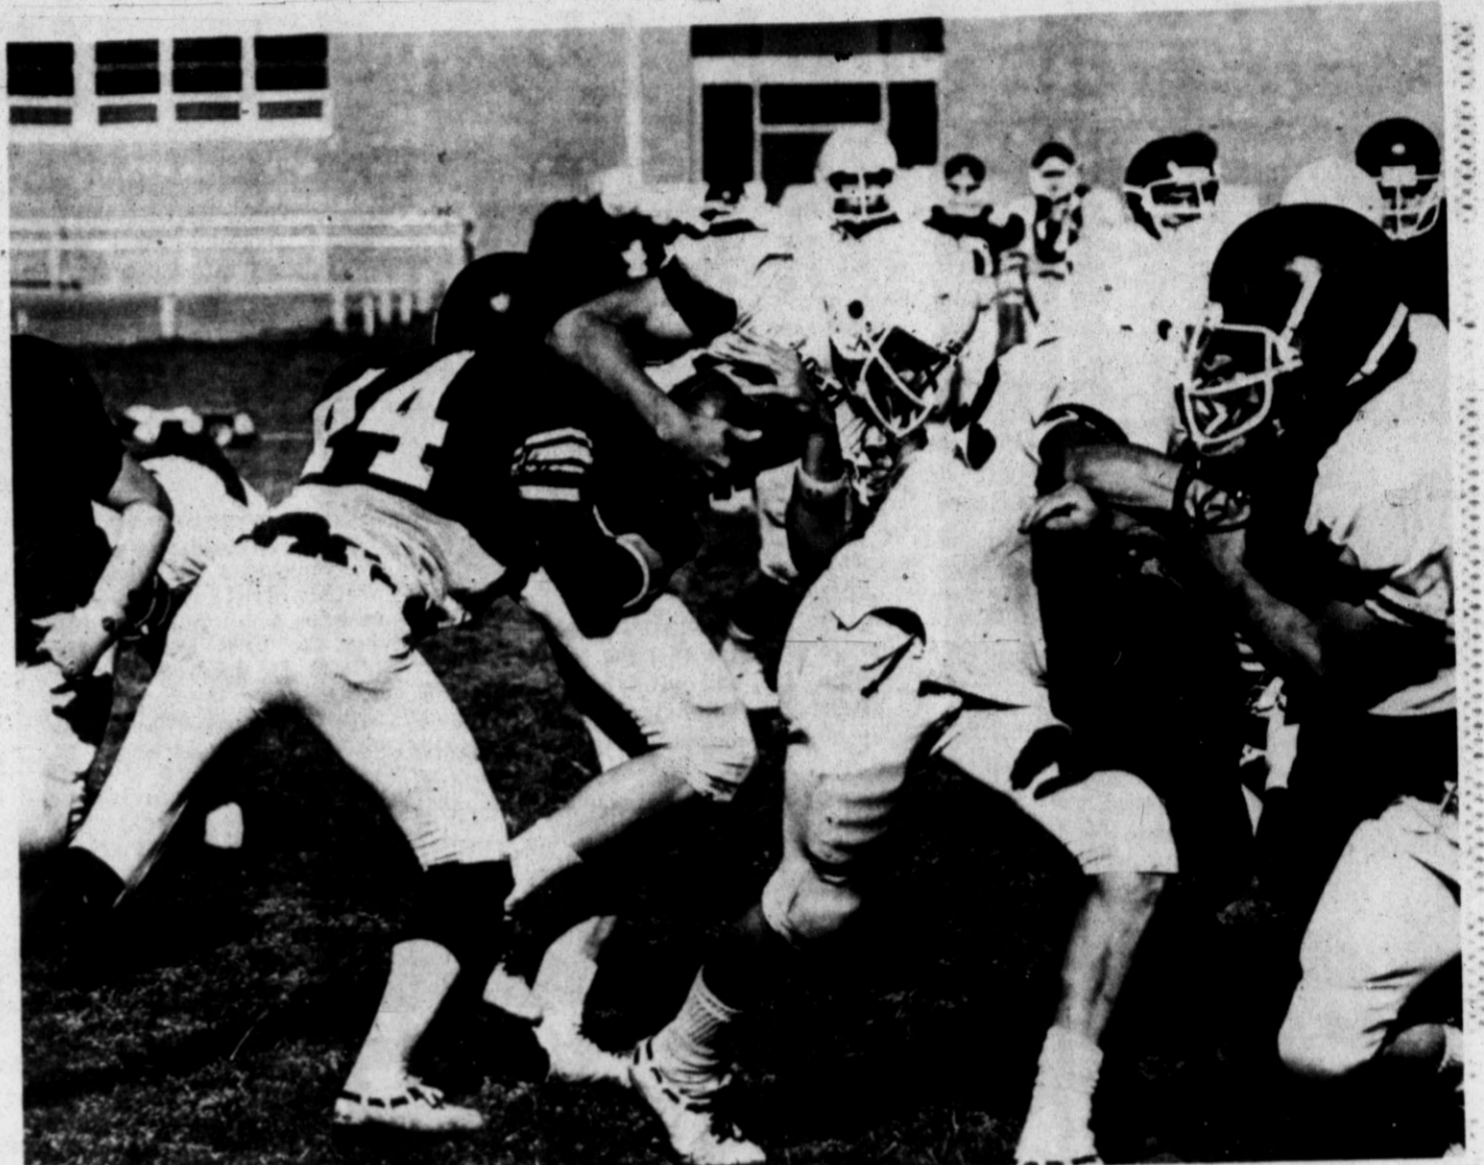

NFL Rejects

Redskin Gripe

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Football League has rejected complaints by the Washington Redskins and the Philadelphia Eagles accusing the Dallas Cowboys of illegally working out athletes eligible for this spring's draft, according to a published report.

The Washington Post, in its Thursday edition, says that the Cowboys were accused of administering an illegal hand-eye reaction test to potential draftees who were in Dallas for physical examinations.

Under NFL rules, any type of workout must be conducted away from the team's city and without the use of league players.

Lakers Need Final Win

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Lakers need just one more victory to wrap up the National Basketball Association championship, but if Kareem Abdul-Jabbar's hurting, they may be, too.

The Lakers won 108-103 Wednesday night to take a three games to two edge over the Philadelphia 76ers in the best-of-seven championship series, but Abdul-Jabbar suffered a sprained left ankle which may limit his playing time — or efficiency.

Answers to Abdul-Jabbar's availability for Friday night's sixth game in Philadelphia — and to a possible seventh in Los Angeles Sunday — are expected Friday morning. Team physician Dr. Robert Kerlan said that an evaluation would be made then to judge "what the pain and discomfort is."

Abdul-Jabbar hurt the ankle when he came down on it awkwardly after a shot late in the third quarter. He left the game but returned in the fourth quarter. Although limping, the 7-foot-2 center scored 14 of his 40 points in the final period and tallied a key three-point play that broke a 103-103 tie with 33 seconds left. Before being whisked away to a nearby hospital for precautionary X-rays after the game, Abdul-Jabbar said, "It really hurts, but I felt I had to come back."

Playing his finest game of the series, Abdul-Jabbar hit 16 of 24 floor shots and eight of nine from the free throw line, and also had 15 rebounds and four blocked shots. Amazingly, he even dominated the game by his absence when he went out to have the ankle examined and taped.

The contest had been tight all the way, and Los Angeles was ahead 69-67 when Abdul-Jabbar hobbled off. The fired-up Lakers then ran off a 12-6 string to go into the fourth quarter with an 81-73 lead. The 76ers began closing the gap in the final five minutes of the contest, tying the game before Abdul-Jabbar's layin and free throw and Norm Nixon's two insurance free throws in the final seconds.

"The difference was our inability to control the game when Kareem went out," said Julius "Dr. J" Erving, who scored 36 points for the 76ers and sparked the late comeback. "They scrambled and gambled and put up a lead and then we had to play catch up."

"That lead we built up when Kareem was out was the big thing," said the Lakers' Earvin "Magic" Johnson, who had 15 rebounds and 10 assists to go with his 14 points for Los Angeles. "They came back, but they couldn't come back enough."

"It was the wounded animal syndrome," said Laker Coach Paul Westhead, explaining the scoring spurt. "We played group basketball. We weren't going to let the absence of Kareem keep us down."

Guard Norm Nixon chipped in 20 points for the Lakers, and forward Jamaal Wilkes added 14.

Darryl Dawkins had 23 points for Philadelphia, and Lionel Hollins, with 10 points, was the only other 76er in double figures.

Ali, Holmes

Fight Moved

NEW YORK (AP) — The promoter of the Muhammad Ali-Larry Holmes World Boxing Council heavyweight title fight says the bout, which will mark Ali's return to the ring from retirement, will take place in this country sometime in August.

Murad Muhammad said Wednesday that the undefeated Holmes and Ali will meet in the United States in late summer rather than in Brazil on July 11. The 165,000 Maracana Stadium in Rio de Janeiro was to be the site but was ruled out because of several problems, one of which was complaints by the stadium executive that construction of the ring and seats would damage the grass at the height of the soccer season.

"We feel that the United States is the best place for the fight," Murad Muhammad said. "It was our investors' decision to bring it here, but the July 11 date was too soon."

Designated Hitter Clips Winning Home Run

Mariners Blitz Blue Jays

By BOB GREENE
AP Sports Writer

While slugger Willie Horton has been struggling this season with a .181 average, he has been able to keep things in perspective because of 15-year-old Brad Hobbs, who was paralyzed playing baseball.

Wednesday night, Horton repaid the debt with three hits, including his first home run of the season.

"This kid has been helping me through the slump," Horton said. "I've been going to the hospital everyday to see him and it's been helping me keep faith because that's what life is."

"He slid into home and caught his head on the (catcher's) shinguards," Horton said. "I read about it in the newspaper and I've been dropping by to see him."

"I promised when I left (Seattle) Sunday that my first home run would be for him." The Seattle designated hitter scored twice and drove in two runs in the Mariners' 7-0 victory over the Toronto Blue Jays.

In other American League games Wednesday, Boston edged Minnesota 7-6, Texas stopped Baltimore 6-3, California crushed Cleveland 13-7, Detroit nipped Oakland 6-5, the New York Yankees clobbered Kansas City 16-3 and Milwaukee downed the Chicago White Sox 5-1.

Bill Stein also belted a two-run homer in the Mariners' victory to back the five-hit pitching of Glen Abbott.

The loss dropped Toronto out of the AL East lead.

Abbott, 3-2, struck out five and walked two in pitching his third complete game. The only hits he allowed were three singles by Roy Howell and one each by Rick Bosetti and Damaso Garcia.

Angels 13, Indians 7

Catcher Dave Skaggs, obtained from Baltimore for his defensive skills, made his Angels debut by driving in five runs with a home run and two singles, leading California over Cleveland.

Skaggs was purchased from the Baltimore Orioles Tuesday.

Toby Harrah and Tom Verzyer homered for the Indians.

Cleveland's Mike Hargrove singled in the seventh inning to run his hitting streak to 22 games, tops in the major leagues this season.

Brewers 5, White Sox 1

Robin Yount doubled, tripled and singled, scoring three times, and Larry Hisle knocked in three runs to lead Milwaukee over Chicago.

Chet Lemon homered for the White Sox leading off the sixth.

Red Sox 7, Twins 6

A bases-loaded walk to pinch-hitter Jim Dwyer forced home Butch Hobson with the winning run in the bottom of the ninth inning, giving Boston its victory.

Minnesota rookie Doug Corbett retired nine batters in a row until Hobson singled in the ninth. Jerry Remy followed with an infield hit and Carl Yastrzemski walked, filling the bases. Dwyer then walked on five pitches.

Jim Rice drove in four runs for the Red Sox with his fifth homer and a single. Roy Smalley homered for the Twins.

Rangers 6, Orioles 3

Dave Roberts slammed a bases-loaded home run, and Mickey Rivers and Richie Zisk added solo blasts to power Texas past Baltimore.

Tigers 6, A's 5

Alan Trammell's single to right field scored Rick Peters and Lance Parrish in the bottom of the ninth inning, boosting the Tigers past Oakland.

It was Trammell's fourth hit in four official at-bats in the game. The Detroit shortstop also walked and scored three times.

The A's had taken a 5-4 lead in the top of the inning on Rob Picciolo's two-out single.

Yankees 16, Royals 3

Bucky Dent, Graig Nettles and Rick Cerone slammed two-run homers in New York's rout of Kansas City.

Dent's homer was the first inside-the-park homer of his career.

Willie Randolph drove in three runs with a bases-loaded walk and a double, while Rupert Jones and Bobby Brown had two RBI each as the Yankees scored their most runs in a game this year.

Kansas City's Willie Wilson ripped the first pitch of the game for an inside-the-park home run and Darrell Porter homered in the sixth for the Royals' second run.

U.S. Awaits Allies Vote on Games

By The Associated Press

With one of its chief allies voting to attend the Summer Olympics in Moscow, the United States was hoping another important friendly nation decides the opposite way today.

After the French Olympic Committee voted Wednesday to send its Olympians to the Summer Games, Secretary of State Edmund S. Muskie called the move, "incomprehensible...that a free people, whether Europeans or Americans, whether athletes of non-athletes," would choose to attend the Olympics in view of the Soviet Union's military intervention in Afghanistan.

Now it was the West Germans' turn to decide on boycotting the Games.

The 54-member West

German Olympic committee met today in Bonn for that vote. An emotional debate was expected to precede the final balloting.

A pro-boycott vote by West Germany is regarded by the U.S. as essential in helping persuade other countries not to send teams to Moscow. Nations expected to follow West Germany's lead are Australia, Japan, The Netherlands, Portugal—and possibly Italy and Denmark.

The U.S. Olympic Committee voted by a 2 to 1 margin last month to follow President Carter's call for a boycott, but the West German Olympic Committee vote was expected to be much closer.

The Bonn government and parliament have passed resolutions urging the committee to vote against participating in the Games, and a majority of the West German public has said in opinion polls it backs the sanction.

Most West German Olympic team candidates have condemned the boycott, claiming they are being made to suffer unfairly in a political dispute that has nothing to do with sports, and have urged their federations to vote against the boycott.

A top West German sports official predicted the committee would decide 56 votes to 44 in favor of a boycott. But Claus Hess, president of the West German Rowing Association and an opponent of the boycott, also said new arguments in today's debate could swing the vote against a boycott.

The 23 Olympic sports federations each cast three votes for a total of 69. The other 31 ballots were to be cast by individual members of the committee, who include former Olympic athletes, honorary members and senior sports functionaries.

West German President Karl Carstens invited the 54 Olympic committee members to his Bonn mansion Wednesday to reiterate the government's call for solidarity with the United States.

Heading the forces opposed to the boycott was West German Olympic Committee President Willi Daume, who huddled in Bonn with East German Sports Federation President Manfred Ewald.

The East Germans, a close Soviet ally, have warned that relations between the two Germanys could deteriorate if the West Germans boycott the Games.

F. Don Miller, executive director of the USOC, confirmed Wednesday that discussions had taken place among several Olympic committees regarding a postponement of the 1980 Games.

Watson Trys for Fourth Tourney Win, Colonial Prize

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — Tom Watson, riding the hottest streak in golf, had his sights today on the $300,000 Colonial National Invitation and a jackpot only he can claim.

And if his capitalistic colleagues are correct, Watson may just pull it off.

"The odds are against it of course," said former Masters champion Charles Coody, "but if any guy can do it, he's the one."

Watson, 30, said he would like nothing better than to extend his current victory streak to four, which would give him the $54,000 Colonial prize plus an additional $200,000 bonus.

Called the "Texas Bonanza," sponsors of the Byron Nelson and the Colonial offered golf's greatest cash prize to anyone who could win both tournaments.

"Tom's on such a streak now it doesn't make any difference if he's playing for $600,000, $60,000 or $60," said Ray Floyd.

"I'd say the odds really are in his favor...His chipping and putting covers up a lot of sins," said Ben Crenshaw.

Watson captured the Nelson crown and $54,000 last week in Dallas and extended to 12 the number of consecutive rounds in which he has either held or shared the lead.

"Just four more rounds," he grinned.

A Disappointing Look Inside a Census Office

EDITOR'S NOTE — Is $1 billion of taxpayers' money being well spent for the census? To find out, Associated Press writer Malcolm N. Carter worked for more than a month as a census supervisor. He identified himself on his application as an AP writer, but nobody seemed to notice. The following story details the waste, disorganization and bungling he found.

By MALCOLM N. CARTER
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — In five weeks as a supervisor at a Manhattan district office of the U.S. Census Bureau, I found waste, inefficiency and lax management existing alongside an effort to make an accurate count.

I worked as a crew leader in charge of eight enumerators, who went to households from which questionnaires were not returned by mail, and discovered these lapses at the North Manhattan office:

—A whole week went by with virtually no work by any of the 38 crew leaders. At the end of the week, which cost the government more than $7,600 in wages, the crew leaders got overtime pay over the weekend to help the office staff catch up on paperwork. In other weeks, they put in only 10 to 12 hours for 40 hours' pay of $204 and, in effect, got $20 an hour instead of $5.10.

—Enumerators get two days of training, by the book, and then get paid according to the number of questionnaires they complete. But our bosses said they did not yet have the lists of households which hadn't responded by mail and told us to train for an extra day. The waste: $208 for my eight enumerators and perhaps $6,000 for North Manhattan.

—Ironically, these enumerators got less than a week's work in the end. And while some of the same census takers were being let go, others were being recruited.

—Crew leaders were told to hire fewer enumerators than they could supervise so the work could be extended and they could prolong their jobs.

—The lists of households to be counted, called Master Address Registers, were inaccurate. Some had whole apartment buildings listed twice, while others failed to register those households for which questionnaires had been received.

—And there were reimbursements to crew leaders for expenses not incurred, such as taxi fares for crew leaders who rode in carpools.

Confronted with this inside view of the census he administers, Director Vincent P. Barabba commented, "Yours is not a unique experience. Our system is not perfect."

Saying that the waste was not troubling compared with the private sector, Barabba added: "I haven't heard about anything out there that I don't think we can handle...My guess is we get a helluva bang for our buck."

He also said that New York is one of the most difficult and aberrational areas in the country, if only because a 12-day transit strike may have stalled mail and delayed return of the forms.

Of the Census Bureau's 409 district offices nationwide, Manhattan has five, including North Manhattan, where I worked. That office is counting the individuals in 125,000 households.

But there are problems elsewhere, too. "Things are so disorganized in the office that I have not ruled out sabotage," declared a crew leader in the South Manhattan office. Saying he may quit in disgust, he added that lists were in such disarray he expected the count to be wrong.

"I know that work is being done that doesn't need to be done," he said, "and all we're doing is enumerating clerical errors."

His experience points up certain inconsistencies. While the crew leaders in the North Manhattan office were allowed to waste entire days each week, the South Manhattan office made him work every day plus overtime to help straighten out botched address registers.

Crew leader training, which began on Census Day, April 1, was supposed to run four days. But the field operations assistants, FOAs, in North Manhattan stretched it to five because the office clerks were running behind in compiling address registers.

Names of some applicants were provided, but far fewer than the number supposedly needed. So the crew leaders, who were instructed to check on "suspicious" application forms, lacked the inclination — never mind the resources and the knowhow — to look up such things as criminal records.

"I feel like I'm contributing to the delinquency of the country," crew leader Bertha Fuller-Rodgers remarked later. "I just think the whole thing kind of stinks."

One enumerator discovered that her Master Address Register was clogged with duplications. After spending six hours untangling the confusion in her list without pay — enumerators get piece rates, up to $4.45 a form — she found that some 350 uncounted households had become perhaps 100, or seven days' work.

Whole days passed without census work. And I was paid $40 for each one, work or no. No one seemed sure what to do with the seven parts of a form that crew leaders fill out to transmit the questionnaires to the office.

Clerks there often sat around with nothing to do, explaining that they sometimes waited all morning until they got questionnaires to check over for completeness.

Youth Musical Slated

The youth musical, "Let the Son Shine In" will be performed by the Welcome Back Singers of First United Methodist Church at 10:55 a.m. Sunday, May 18.

To be performed at the church, the musical was composed by Louis Harris and Margaret Davis. The performance will include slides, audience participation and dramatic interpretation. According to music director Doug Henry, the production invites the lost as well as the undecided to come to the Son for salvation and light--and encourages Christians everywhere to commit themselves more fully to Christ, being happy witnesses.

The Welcome Back Singers

is a youth choir composed of seventh through twelfth grade Christian musicians at First United Methodist Church. Most of the Singers play several musical instruments and have consistently received high marks in UIL competition. All have been involved in the church choir program since the age of 3 or 4.

The choir's director, Doug Henry, is completing his fourth year as part-time musical director at the Methodist Church. His duties include directing adult, youth, children's and handbell choirs. As choral director for Dimmitt Public Schools, Henry directs two school choirs and the show choir as well as teaching fifth and sixth grade music classes.

As an elementary teacher, Henry is certified as a Level I Orff instructor. He has served as clinician at various clinics and choir camps throughout the Panhandle. This summer, Henry will be serving as clinician at the annual Orff-Kodaly Summer Workshop for elementary music teachers at Stephen F. Austin State University in Nacogdoches.

First United Methodist Church has an approximate membership of 1,150. The church has gained reputation for support of music ministry with more than 150 members active in the music program on a volunteer basis.

Finalizing Plans

The Hereford Art Guild will host their annual arts and crafts show May 25 in the Community Center from 1-5 p.m. Fine arts, oil paintings, watercolor and various other crafts will be shown by the members of the Art Guild. The public is encouraged to attend the event. From left Carrie Mae Doak, Jolene Bledsoe and Louella Cowser complete arrangements for the upcoming show. (Brand photo by Denise Smith)

Appetite Booster

Beef top loin steaks, broiled on the grill, spur lazy-day appetites. Cut 1 to 1 1/2 inches thick from the top loin and usually boneless, these steaks are juicy and tender when broiled over ash-covered coals. One-inch steaks should be placed 2 to 3 inches from the coals and 1 1/2-inch steaks, 3 to 4 inches from coals. When first sides are browned, turn, season with salt and pepper and finish cooking second sides. Turn and season, and they're ready to serve. Steaks cut 1 inch thick require 12 to 15 minutes for rare and 18 to 20 minutes for medium doneness. Steaks cut 1 1/2 inches thick require 22 to 25 minutes for rare and 28 to 30 minutes for medium.

Plainview Slates Pioneer Day

The Pioneer Round-Up, scheduled for Saturday, May 17, will be the 52nd consecutive year the Plainview Business and Professional Women's Club has sponsored this event. The theme chosen is "Down Memory Lane."

The first celebration took place March 14, 1929 in the City Auditorium in Plainview when Mrs. Adella Drew served as president. Lou Ella Scarbrough, the current president of the Plainview BPW Club, stated all activities this year will be held in the Hale County Agriculture Center.

The reception beginning at 10 a.m. at the Hale County Agriculture Center in Plainview, is a big feature and is a time when the real "old timers" get together to reminisce and exchange stories of the past. Mrs. Era Cox, chairman of this committee, and her assistants are expecting many pioneers from near and afar to arrive soon after 10:00.

One of the few remaining parades in Plainview will be staged at 2:30 p.m. originating at the Santa Fe Depot on north Broadway. Those participating are asked to be on hand by 1:30 p.m. Parade will move south on Broadway to the American Legion Hall where it will disband.

Durward Lynch will be parade marshal. The color guard will also head the parade and the Plainview bands will march. Some floats have already been entered and Jan Tye, chairman of the parade committee, stated additional floats are welcome on that date. Antique cars, riding clubs, and miscellaneous riders are some of the other attractions scheduled for the parade. Winners will be announced at the night program.

The concessions and Kountry Kitchen will be open all day at the Hale County Agriculture Center and Jacqueline Masso and Verne Shields are the chairmen. Sandwiches, pies and cakes will be available at lunch time. Everyone is invited to shop for baked products made by members of the Plainview BPW Club.

The evening activities will also be held in the Hale County Agriculture Center. From 6 to 8 p.m. the chuck wagon supper will be served.

"Take out" plates will also be available. The meal will consist of son-of-a-gun, barbecue, sour-dough biscuits and all the trimmings. Lou Ella Scarbrough, chairman of the foods committee, gives assurance that plenty of food is being prepared and that this year the members of the BPW Club will be responsible for the food and assist in the cooking. The club members will "rock the beans" on Thursday afternoon with the cooking beginning early Saturday morning.

The program, chaired by Dorothy Morton, will begin at 8 p.m. and will feature three dance groups. There will also be group singing.

To highlight the evening's activities, the Pioneer Woman of the Plains will be announced. Prizes will be awarded to the couple who have been married the longest, the oldest pioneer present and to the pioneer (over 60) traveling the farthest distance to attend the Round-Up.

The square dance will conclude the Pioneer Round-Up again this year. Helen Pemberton, chairman of the committee, has announced that Roy Johnson, Amarillo, will be the caller. She stated that all who like to square dance, waltz, polk and participate in other couple dances are invited to do so. The Agriculture Center is air conditioned and will be comfortable for dancing from 9 p.m. until 12 midnight.

Tickets, $3.50 (tax included) includes the supper, program and square dance, and may be purchased from any member of the Plainview BPW Club or secured at the door. Mildred Tucker is ticket chairman. People of all ages are most welcome and are cordially invited to attend and help make this 52nd Pioneer Round-Up on May 17th the best yet.

Other committees appointed to help carry out activities during the Pioneer Round-Up are as follows: registration, Doris Henderson; door, Betty Veal; serving, Helen Pemberton and publicity, Jo Ann Clements.

Pageant Tickets Now Available

Frances Berry, president of the Chamber Women's Division, has announced that tickets to the Miss Hereford/Miss Teen scholarship pageant are now on sale at the Chamber office, both banks and the schools.

The annual pageant, sponsored by the Women's Division, will be staged June 14 in the high school auditorium.

Today is the final opportunity to sign up as an entrant in the competition, which will result in the awarding of scholarships valued in excess of $1,850. Entry chairman Rosie Griffin explained that the minimum age requirement for Miss Hereford contestants will be 17 while Miss Teen entrants should be 15 or 16 years old.

The upcoming pageant is to be produced by Sharon Hodges, director, and Carrell Ann Simmons, assistant director. A special appearance is planned during the pageant by the winners of the Little Miss Hereford Pageant, which is to be held this Saturday evening.

Ann Bradley Feted At Bridal Shower

Miss Ann Bradley, bride-elect of Thomas Kemp, was feted Saturday morning with a pre-nuptial shower in the Frank Prowell home, 336 Douglas.

The couple is engaged to marry on June 14 in First Baptist Church.

Receiving guests with the honoree were her mother, Mrs. Joe Bradley, her fiancé's mother, Mrs. Tommy Kemp, and Mrs. Prowell. Each wore a corsage of white carnations tied with blue ribbon.

blue votive candles. Inviting guests to sign the registry was Dawn Wright. Hostesses assisting Mrs. Prowell were Meses. J.J. Durham, Arliss Edwards, Bud Kelley, Norman Kerr, Lynn Kester, Gene King, R.L. Layman, Baxter London, Richard Montgomery, George Muse, Gerald Nunley, Gary Phipps, Ron Rowan, Homer Rudd, Ray Skelton, Bill Taylor, Randall Tidmore, Ivan Tipples, R.C. White and Dale Wright.

Judy Wright and Tandy Walden served refreshments to guests from a table centered with a milk-glass vase holding blue carnations and white daisies, flanked by

Newcomers Club Appoints Nominating Committee

Hereford Newcomers Club met at K-Bob's Steak House on Tuesday for their monthly luncheon meeting. The president, Brenda Campbell, officiated and welcomed guests and new members.

Minutes of the previous meeting were read by Marjorie Mehlberg and adopted as read. Janet McEachern was named as chairman of the nominating committee with Mrs. Mehlberg, Vera Threewit and Kathryn Ruga to serve with her. The proposed slate of officers will be presented at the June meeting with installation planned for the month of August.

Janet McEachern, first vice president and program chairman, announced that the June 10 meeting would be held at the Community Center at noon with members providing their own lunch, including beverages. Keith Ann Gearn will present a program on interior decoration. The July meeting will be a family picnic in Veterans Park.

Helen Rose, a daughter of a pioneer Hereford family, was the speaker and elaborated on the history of Hereford. Her remarks were both informative and entertaining as she quoted excerpts from The Hereford Brand issues of the early 1900's, which, while reporting many historical events and national news, also furnished items relating to the social activities and "gossip" of the day.

Those in attendance were Mesdames Dean Green, Marjorie Mehlberg, Judy Baker, Barbara Garnett, Pat Walsh, Martha Hall, Kathryn Ruga, Mary Ann Carroll, Charlotte Hughes, Vera Threewit, "Shorty" Weston, Leona Carruth, Helen Rose, Janet McEachern, Terry Parker, Brenda Campbell, and Donna Mandina.

At Wits End

By ERMA BOMBECK

I finally figured out why I have never become a success in this world.

Most of the things taught me in my childhood guaranteeing me a place in history have become obsolete.

Take the sheep shank knot. When I was trying to move up from a Tenderfoot Girl Scout to first class status, I was led to believe the sheep shank knot was my ticket out of the ghetto and into the big time. Everyone could tie it except me. Every Tuesday at 3:15 I had a "knit tutor" who would take me aside and coach me. After six weeks of dedication, I finally succeeded in tying it.

Not once in all these years has anyone asked me to shorten anything with my sheep shank knot.

Diagramming a sentence is another piece of intellectual dead weight that I've carried around for years. I spent nearly two years making funny little diagonal lines and labelling parts of speech. I'll be honest with you, if I don't start diagramming a sentence pretty soon, my predicates will be too pooped to perform.

This won't choke you up, but I can recite all the books in the Old Testament in order. This feat seemed quite critical to a Sunday School teacher I had in the fourth grade, yet not once have I been able to dazzle anyone with my recitation. You'd think a game show or Hollywood Squares would think it was worth 15 points, but no.

And what about Miss Schneble's "rope climbing" skill? Miss Schneble was a physical education teacher I had in the fifth grade who invented fear. There were four ropes that hung from the ceiling of the gym to the floor and it was Miss Schneble who told me that climbing those ropes to the top and coming down again would prepare me for life. (My choice would have been death.)

I climbed those ropes one terrifying morning in 1949. Since then, I have looked for "rope climbing" in every competition in every physical fitness program offered. Maybe when jogging and roller skating fads pass, we'll get into "roping climbing."

So many of my talents have remained dormant. One of the specialists I had in high school was hanging my head out of a car window and making a noise like a siren. You cannot imagine how many cars I pulled over in the name of humor, and how much attention it got me. Can you believe that today there are no calls for it?

It makes you wonder if your entire childhood was a waste of time, doesn't it?

"The essential structure of the ordinary British sentence is a noble thing."

Junior Pageant To Be Saturday

Local residents are invited to attend the Little Miss Hereford Pageant, which will be presented at 7 p.m. Saturday in the high school auditorium.

A total of 79 entrants, aged 4 through ninth grade, will be competing in four age divisions at the pageant, which is an annual presentation of the Chamber

Women's Division. Admission, costing $2 per person, will be available at the door on the night of the pageant, according to steering committee chairman Carolyn Canon.

Tom Simons from KPAN Radio will be serving as master of ceremonies. No talent presentations by the entrants are planned.

First place winners as well as two runners-up will be named in each of the age divisions, which are: Cutest Miss, ages 4-5; Miss Petite, ages 6-8; Little Princess, ages 9-12; and Miss Junior High, grades seven - nine. The four title-holders will make a special guest appearance at the June 14th Miss Hereford/Miss Teen scholarship pageant.

Little Miss entrants are reminded that rehearsal is scheduled tomorrow, beginning at 2:45 p.m. for Cutest Miss contestants and at 3:45 for all other entrants.

Spring Dance To Be Friday

Members of Merry Mixers Square Dance Club are reminded that their "Spring-time Dance" will be at 8:30 p.m. Friday at the Community Center. Members are asked to bring fresh cut flowers for decorations.

Caller will be Gary Cox from New Mexico.

Square dance students will be graduating Monday evening during a ceremony beginning at 8 p.m. Freddie McKee, class instructor, will present certificates to 22 couples who completed the course.

Mrs. Canon expressed appreciation to Flowers West, Larry Bain and Bain Signs and Stan Simmons with Simmons Carpets for their help with stage decorations. She also recognized the members of her steering committee, composed of Mary Arnold, Janice Conk-wright, Marilyn Culpepper, Debbie Gonzalez, Lucy Rogers, Debbie Tardy and Donna VanderZee.

Methodists

The name "Methodist" is thought to refer to the methodical manner in which members of the original movement performed engagements which a sense of Christian duty induced them to undertake. It was first applied to Charles and John Wesley and several other Oxford students in 1729. The movement was brought to America in 1760 by emigrants from Ireland.

Calendars

Calendars based on the movements of the sun have been used since ancient times, but none has been perfect. The Julian calendar, under which western nations measured time until 1582 A.D., was authorized by Julius Caesar in 46 B.C. (the year 709 of Rome). The Julian calendar, on the assumption that the true year was 365 1/4 days long, gave every fourth year 366 days.

Jan Dudley Chosen 'Mother of Year'

Jan Dudley, ending a term as president of Young Mothers Study Club of Texas was chosen as the "Mother of the Year" by club members Monday night at the E.B. Black Historical House. She was presented an inscribed pewter platter by last year's "Young Mother of the Year," Leota Kelso. Installation of officers was held and corsages presented to the new slate of officers. Those elected to serve the club were Darla Stone, president; Kathy Boyd, vice-president; Jo Schilling, secretary; and Debbie Holmes, treasurer. The installation program was conducted by Jan Dudley. Following installation, the club adjourned for a salad supper. Guests present were Mickey Josephson and Billie Landrum. Members present were Jan Dudley, Kathy Boyd, Janie Street, Sherry Wilson, Maureen Self, Leota Kelso, Kandi Castillo, Linda Cumpston, Donna McGee, Dee Dee Coker, Jody Josephson, Debbie Holmes, Jo Schilling and Darla Stone.

Dawn Club Officers Installed Tuesday

Past President Arliss Stewart, District 1, Federated Music Club of Texas installed new officers in Dawn Music Club at a luncheon held Tuesday May 13 to close out the season. Officers installed for 2-year terms, 1980-82 were: Helen Caraway, president; Glenna Tooley, vice-president; Sharon Johnson, secretary; Lottie Wertnerberger, treasurer; Becky Caraway, choral director; Corrinne Smith, historian; Susie Curtsinger, reporter and Arliss Stewart, parliamentarian.

Committees were appointed by the new president to help carry on the work designated, keeping music in the home and community.

A program of ensembles was presented with Susie Curtsinger honoring all mothers with Erma Bombeck's "When God Created Mothers," a musical arrangement with Ruby Wimberley playing "M-O-T-H-E-R" by Theodore Morse.

Sharon Johnson sang "Sound of Music" by Richard Rogers and "I'd Like To Teach the World To Sing" by B. Backer, B. Davis, R. Cook and R. Greenway, accompanied by Ruby Wim-berley at the piano. "More" - Theme from Mondo by R. Ortoland and N. Oliviero and "Largo," by Dvorak and arranged by Lois Van Haest were rendered in "two piano" duets by Mrs. Wimberley and Mrs. Stewart. Mrs. Wimberley and Mrs. Curtsinger played "Amazing Grace" by John Newton as a two piano duet.

The program was closed with the singing of the Hymn of the Month and repeating the Federated Music Clubs "Collect."

Earline Manning, a member of Dawn Music Club until her death was honored with a period of silent meditation and a prayer. Others attending the meeting were Genevieve Miller, Mae Heath, Lulu McCabe and guests Jeanni Cook, Melissa and Aaron Caraway.

Firefly

The average lightbulb doesn't hold a candle to the firefly. A good bulb converts only about 10 percent of its energy into light, wasting the rest as heat. A firefly operates its lamp without heat at better than 95 percent efficiency.

Opry Termed 'Success'

Hereford Rebekah Lodge #228 met Tuesday evening in IOOF Temple with eighteen members present.

Noble Grand Martha Bridges presided at the business meeting with sick and distressed being reported. Cards were signed to send cheer to them.

A report was made on the success of the "Woody McDermitt Memorial Opry" on Saturday night, May 10. It was termed the "best show we have ever had." Susie Curtsinger expressed her appreciation to everyone who had a part in making it the success it was.

Donations were voted on to be given to the "Heart Association" and "World Eye Bank and Visual Research."

A committee was appointed to arrange the Annual Memorial Day observance to honor deceased members of all branches of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows in Hereford.

Bessie Lawrence was hostess to Nellie Beauford, Faye Brownlow, Verna Sowell, Ola Hacker, Peggy Lemons, Guy Lawrence, Gene Bishop, Anna Conklin, Ursalee Jacobsen, Lydia Hopson, Martha Bridges, Susie Curtsinger, Ruth Rogers, Edna Mathes, Glesie Shelton, Frances Parker and Leona Sowell.

Stanton Dogie Roundup

Achievements Recognized On Stanton Awards Day

Awards Day was today! This assembly of all those held is probably the most enjoyed by students and teachers. Special awards in music were given, and approximately 800 "S" awards were handed out to 392 students in the areas of athletics, math, science, music and to those who had served in various school service areas.

The Dogie staff is preparing the last issue of the newspaper, which will be sold on May 22. This issue will be larger than usual and will contain as much of the last of school news as can be obtained before publication time. Stanton is exchanging papers with twenty other schools at this time.

Students enjoyed a choir concert Monday, band concert Wednesday, and talent show will be tomorrow.

These last two weeks of school have been and will be filled with activities every day as well as the usual school day of classes.

Jeff McBrayer, Stanton freshman, had begun working with the football program at high school in the capacity of trainer. Coach Walls interviewed Jeff twice during the past two weeks about this position. He will be attending a trainer workshop in Roswell, N.M. during late July.

Debtors Protected From Harassment

COLLEGE STATION -- Employment and debt collection "don't mix," unless you or a court of law say it's OK.

Whatever your reasons for not paying your debts, you have the right to keep your private financial affairs from becoming common office knowledge.

Harassment at work or any place is illegal.

DO'S, DON'TS

There are legal do's and don'ts to debt collection, of course.

Linda McCormack, a family resource management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, says consumers should be aware of them -- and know what steps to take in case of harassment.

COLLECTORS' RIGHTS

A debt collector can call you at work, unless it's inconvenient -- if you tell him it's inconvenient, he cannot call you at work anymore.

Collectors can, however, contact you to say no further collection efforts will be made -- or to say a specific action will be taken against you.

Or, if the creditor has actually taken court action against you, and if the court has ordered that your wages be attached (money can be collected from your wages before you receive your paycheck), then your employer will have to know.

Also, collectors can call people in your office to try locate you -- a "locator" call. In a "locator" call, a collector may only give his name and the purpose of the call, such as to confirm your work and home addresses and home phone number.

"Locator" calls usually may be made only once, and they may not indicate you owe money.

COLLECTOR 'NO-NO'S'

Of course, as mentioned above, debt collectors cannot call you at work if you tell them it's inconvenient. If they do so in that case, they are breaking the law.

In addition, the law says that collectors cannot use postcards to reach you.

And they cannot use envelopes which indicate that the sender is in the debt-collection business.

In summary, the Fair Debt Collection - Practices Act (FDCPA) prevents debt collectors from telling your boss or co-workers you owe money, unless:

- 1) you say it's all right.
- 2) a court says it's all right.
- 3) such an announcement is part of a court judgment.

DEBTORS' RECOURSE

If you feel you've been the victim of debt-collection harassment on the job, follow these steps:

Tell the caller not to phone you or anyone at your job again. Follow up with a letter saying the same thing -- it's a good idea to send it by certified mail with a return receipt requested, and keep a copy of the letter.

Make a list of all calls received by you or others after that time -- with time, date, the caller's name, what was said, the general tone, how you responded and anything else worth noting. Also, save any message slips from debt-collection messages left for you. These will be helpful if you have to take legal action later.

If the calls continue, report the matter to your state Federal Trade Commission (FTC); "Debt Collection," Suite 2665; 2001 Bryan Tower, Dallas, TX 75201.

In addition, you might also want to consult an attorney about taking legal action against the debt collector.

If you can't afford to hire an attorney, you may qualify for free legal services from a local legal aid program.

Otherwise, your local bar association's lawyer referral service may be able to recommend a private lawyer qualified to handle your case.

Kerri Vinton, eighth grade daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Vinton, 315 Star St., has been notified that she will receive a $100 cash prize and bronze medal as winner of the National Achievement and Photography Award.

ed in New York City by Kodak, who sponsors the nation-wide contest.

Last year, the Stanton student won the Kodak Medallion of Excellence in Panhandle competition, which entitled her and two other award recipients to participate in the New York exhibit. She won top honors for two photos which she entered this year in an Amarillo art show.

Ice Cream Bars Easy, Nutritious

A favorite children's game, "Mother May I," brings to mind summer evenings and yard games with young friends. May is the month spring turns to summer and everyone looks forward to the long summer evenings.

As the weather turns warmer, Dairy Council, Inc. home economists suggest this simple recipe for a cooling after-dinner treat that is nutritious and fun for everyone in the family.

BAZOOKA ICE CREAM BARS
2 pts. chocolate, vanilla, or strawberry ice cream
ice cream sticks
flaked coconut peanuts, chopped
miniature marshmallows, chopped
Unfold each hard-frozen, pint sized ice cream carton and stand brick of ice cream on its side. Slice into three servings. Insert a stick in each for a handle. Let each person coat his ice cream bar with his favorite treat of coconut, marshmallows, or nuts. To keep extras, insert bars in slits made in a milk carton and freeze.

For a special coating, melt 2 tablespoons butter in small skillet. Add 1 cup coconut, 1/2 cup chopped pecans, and 1/2 teaspoon salt. Heat and stir until coconut is brown. Cool.

Each ice cream bar (minus coating) contains 200 calories, along with notable amounts of vitamin A for healthy eyes and tissues; riboflavin for cell growth and vitality; thiamine for promoting healthy nerves and good appetites; calcium for tooth and bone growth.

Women Benefit From Training

COLLEGE STATION -- Women worldwide need agricultural training, too, says a family life education specialist, Dr. Betty Jo Smith.

And the U.S. government is recognizing this -- mandating women's involvement in future international agricultural development projects, she says, to assure increased family and community stability in those countries.

Dr. Smith, with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, points to developing countries, in particular, but stresses that people everywhere must understand the idea for the greatest effectiveness worldwide.

Here's why:

We often think of agricultural labor being "men's work," but in the developing world, anywhere from 40 percent to 80 percent of the labor is done by women -- they're the local food producers.

Either result, then, causes an equally serious problem: the decline of family and community stability.

La Madre Mia Study Club Conducts Installation

Installation ceremonies were held Tuesday evening in Dimmitt at "Something Special" with Sharon Hodges, retiring La Madre Mia Study Club president installing new officers using the theme "La Madre Mia Zoo."

Those installed were Betty Lady, president; Sandra Martin, vice-president; Joyce Allred, secretary; Judy Williams, reporter; Ruth Black, historian; Sharon Hodges, parliamentarian; and Lucy Rogers, treasurer.

The newly appointed president, Betty Lady, conducted a short business meeting following the installation. She announced the following standing committees for her term:

Yearbook chairman Mary Beth White with committee members, Bunny Anderson, Carolyn Baxter, Mysedia Smith and Betty Taylor.

Membership chairman Sandra Martin with committee member LaJean Henry.

Finance committee with Lucy Rogers as chairman and Carrell Ann Simmons.

Social chairman Georgia Sparks with committee members Beverly Bryant, Gladys Merritt, Ruth Black and Jo Ann Lane.

Courtesy chairman Marlene Watson with committee member Sharon Hodges.

Telephone chairman Marcia Snyder and members Betty Owen, Glenda Geries, and Debbie Tardy.

Project chairman Tricia Sims and members Joyce Allred and Mary Herring. Lucy Rogers was appointed Home Tour chairman.

Gifts were presented to Carrell Ann Simmons and Betty Lady for a perfect attendance record this year. Special gifts were also presented to Mary Beth White and Mysedia Smith for their service to the club during the year.

Those present were Joyce Allred, Bunny Anderson, Ruth Black, Kyleene Gentry, Glenda Geries, Mary Herring, Sharon Hodges, LaJean Henry, Betty Lady, Jo Ann Lane, Sandra Martin, Gladys Merritt, Lucy Rogers, Carrell Ann Simmons, Tricia Sims, Mysedia Smith, Marcia Snyder, Georgia Sparks, Debbie Tardy, Betty Taylor, Marlene Watson, Mary Beth White and Judy Williams.

Petunias Recommended For Splash of Color

COLLEGE STATION -- It's time to stop taking the petunia for granted. No other plant has the wide range of color, few have the variety of flower sizes, and none shows off more dramatically in a variety of locations.

The hybrid petunia has moved from a small-flowered, fussy annual to an extravagant bloomer, points out Dr. William Welch, landscape horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

The petunia is equally at home in mass plantings, snuggled around green shrubs, cascading from hanging baskets or decorating window boxes or tubs.

Look for F1 hybrids, whatever your petunia preference, suggests Welch. Selective breeding to develop F1 varieties has resulted in expansive blooms characteristic of single grandifloras, carnation-like fullness of double grandifloras, and prolific blooming qualities of hybrid multifloras.

To fill a hanging basket, the horticulturist suggests a "Cascade" variety. For a massive display of outdoor color try any of the "Magic" series. And select "Bouquet" varieties if doubles are desired.

To accent summer evenings spent on the patio, try an edging of hybrid white petunias, says Welch.

Whites also set off the sparkle of bold colors and can give a decorator's touch when planted in drifts among other annual flowers.

Turn it on with

GAS OUTDOOR COOKING

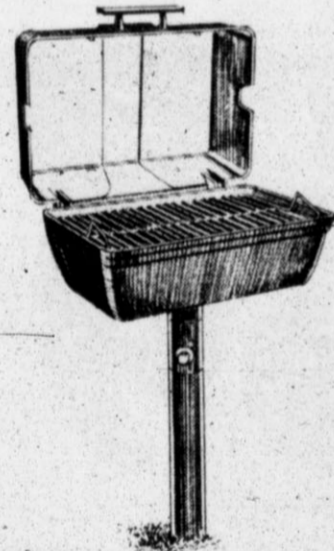

Sizzle a steak. Grill a burger. Bake a potato. Nothing turns on summer fun like outdoor cooking. And no outdoor cooker can compare to a gas grill. You can cook full family meals, everything your indoor range or oven can cook, and all with that great outdoor flavor.

Just look at the advantages of a gas grill:

- solid, sturdy construction for many summers of cooking enjoyment
- no charcoal, no lighter fluid and no wait
- gas grills reach cooking temperatures fast
- controlled heat for perfect cooking everytime
- new features for more efficient energy use
- keeps your house cooler because the heat is outdoors
- and, if you buy before August 1, 1980, you'll save 20% off the purchase price.

Good fun, great taste and savings. Turn it on with a gas grill on the patio.

Kings Manor News

Manor Celebrates Birthdays

By RUBY STEVENSON Birthdays celebrated in April were Marvel Caruthers, Bertie Hale, Ola Davis and Virgil Dodson. The Sweet and Fancy furnished lovely cakes in their honor.

April was a month greatly enjoyed by King's Manor. Our blessings seem to grow and multiply as the good people of Hereford and this area remember King's Manor in so many ways.

The Pastors who brought Vesper service each Tuesday in April were: Rev. McReynolds, Rev. McCarter, Rev. Jessie Hodge and Rev. Bobby Huffacker. Each bring an uplifting message in their own way.

The American Legion

Auxiliary again brought an evening of fun in bingo for the Manorites. The Golden Age Quartet thrilled everyone one evening. My how we enjoy the beautiful songs and our good time together.

Rev. Jerry Wyatt from Midland, visited King's Manor and presented a Lionel train as a gift from a couple in First United Methodist Church of Midland. Many people are fascinated and amused by trains as a hobby and when we get this set-up I'm sure visitors will enjoy the train also.

The United Methodist Women of First Methodist Church in Dimmitt had a luncheon and program for all the ladies of King's Manor on April 1st. Their hospitality and delicious food was wonderful. Thanks for a lovely day and program.

In the month we were pleased to have Arthur and Ida Robison from Killeen, join King's Manor as new residents. Welcome to you folk and we shall endeavor to make you happy.

Easter is a special occasion for us all. We were privileged to have the choir from The Church of the Nazarene present their Easter Cantata "Can It Be" in the Lamar Memorial Garden Room. Our hearts were overflowing with joy with this beautiful act of praise.

The Children's choir from First Christian Church came to sing for us. How sweet their voices and all were thrilled. Also children from the Presbyterian presented their Easter program. Again the residents felt blessed by their thoughts of King's Manor.

The Yellow Daisy sent two beautiful, Easter Lillies for our Alter in the Lamar Memorial Garden Room. The kindergarten of the First Baptist Church brought lovely small flower arrangements for the dining room tables.

We were all saddened by the death of two King's Manor residents, Mrs. Marvel Caruthers and Mr. Virgil Dodson. Our love and prayers go out to their loved ones. We will greatly miss these two lovely people.

The First Christian Church has continued to bring beautiful floral arrangements that we all enjoy. They enhance the beauty of our home.

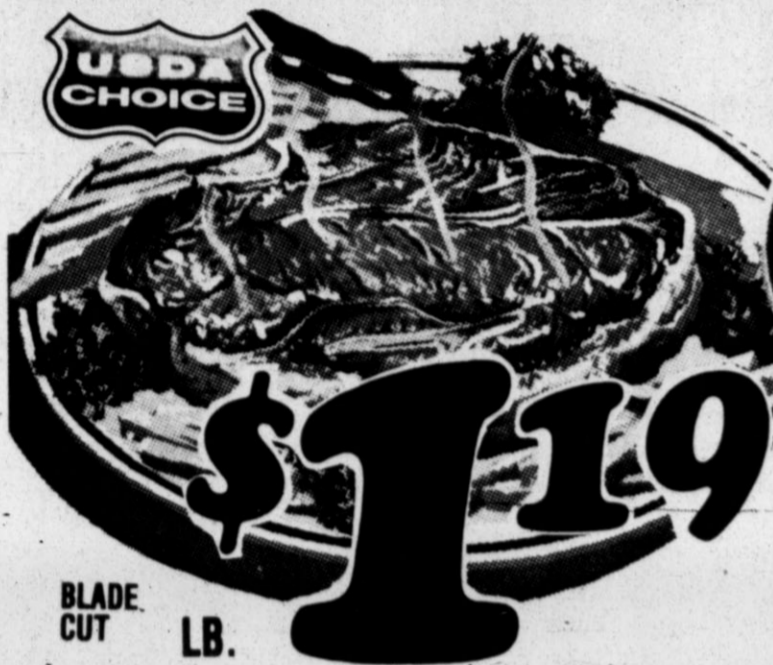

We are indebted to Della Stagner for seeing that someone is available to take the ladies of the Manor shopping each Tuesday. She enlists the help of different clubs of the city and friends.

How thankful we of King's Manor are to be a part of big hearted Hereford.

Reception to Honor Mrs. Newsom

The children of Mrs. G.W. (Ethel) Newsom of 130 Avenue C will honor their mother during a reception from 3 - 5 p.m. Sunday May 18 in celebration of her 80th birthday. Friends of Mrs. Newsom are invited to attend the reception at the Hereford Country Club.

Mrs. Newsom's children include Carroll Newsom of Hereford, Wayne Newsom of Estes Park, Colorado, John Newsom of Morgan Hill, California and Jane Bookout of Auisin. She has 12 grandchildren and 5 great-grandchildren.

Ethel Daniels was born May 15, 1900 at Unionville, Missouri, one of eight children. Gladys Short, a sister of Kansas City, Mo., Richard Daniels of St. Louis, Mo. and the honoree are the surviving members of this family.

The former Ethel Daniels moved with her parents to Laclede, Mo. as a young child and then on to Meadville, Mo. where she graduated from high school. She attended Kirksville State Teachers College at Kirksville, Mo. for two years earning a teacher's certificate and then taught at Meadville for 5 years. She married Guy W. Newsom in Meadville, September 6, 1923.

The couple lived in Chillicothe, Mo. before moving to Amarillo in 1926 and on to Stinnett to open a bank in 1929. Both were working at the bank in that year when it was robbed and Mr. Newsom was taken hostage. He was let out of the robbers' car after hours of driving through the oil fields while they debated whether to kill him and was returned to his home that evening.

The couple continued to operate the Stinnett bank until 1933 when Franklin D. Roosevelt became president and all banks in the nation were closed for a short time. Insurers would not permit the Stinnett bank to re-open because there was not enough protection against robberies in that town. So that year Mr. and Mrs. Newsom accepted positions with the Panhandle State Bank in Borger as cashier and assistant cashier, respectively.

They moved from Borger to Hereford in 1939 when Mr. Newsom was employed by the First National Bank. When Mr. Newsom retired from the bank in 1945 the family moved to their farm 6 miles southeast of Hereford, returning to live in town in 1953. Mrs. Newsom died in

The Newsoms traveled extensively in the United States and enjoyed a trip to Hawaii in 1951 and a trip to Europe in 1959.

Both Mrs. Newsom and her husband were active in the American Field Service and in 1955, kept a foreign exchange student from Germany in their home.

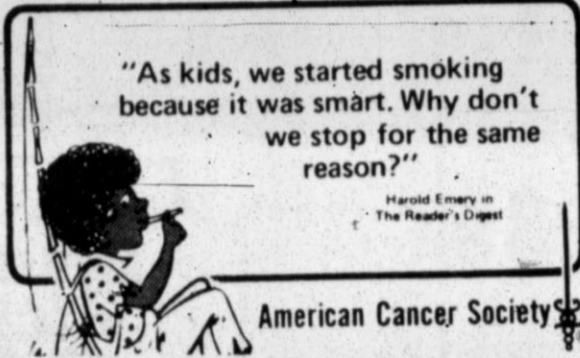

An avid gardener and rosarian, Mrs. Newsom arranged flowers for 18 years for the Sunday morning worship service at the First United Methodist Church where she holds membership. She was honored by the church last year on Mother's Day with a plaque and a special ceremony in commemoration of her years of service.

A former member of Wyche Home Demonstration Club, the honoree is a member of the Lone Star Study Club and the Hereford Garden Club.

The honoree requests that no gifts be brought by reception guests.

Branda Campbell was chosen to display her tote and decorative painting items in the County Library for this month. Mrs. Campbell, taking lessons from Carol Gerck, has been making these crafts since 1977. She uses her talents on several unique pieces including old tin, boards, cocoa cans and jars. The hobby is "my own gift-giving idea," stated Mrs. Campbell. The display is located just inside the library entrance. [Brand photo by Denise Smith]

Ann Landers

Restricted Activities

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am an unmarried male, 25 years old. Recently I bought into a housing arrangement and replaced my cousin as an occupant and owner. My roommate, an old friend, rents a room from me and shares the bills in this small, crowded, two-bedroom place.

Before I moved in, my roommate's girlfriend was spending three days and nights a week here. She continues to do this. I keep erratic hours. Sometimes when I come home in the morning, after my roommate has gone to work, I find his girlfriend sitting in the kitchen wearing a bathrobe. (She works the night shift and lives in another county.) I have also on occasion found the front door unlocked. The girl has no key.

Another annoying problem: I am afraid to get out of bed at night and go to the kitchen for a drink of water because they make love on the couch, or on the floor in the kitchen - wherever they happen to be when the mood hits them. I have been reading your column since I was ten years old and know you give good advice. Please help me find a way out of this mess. -- Headache In Louisiana

DEAR HEADACHE: Talk to your roommate like a Dutch uncle. Tell him he must restrict his amorous activities to the bedroom or move out. Get tough and stick to it.

You say nothing of a lease, so I assume there is none. Meanwhile, have a key made for Miss Passion-Flower before someone walks into your apartment and strips the place.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I couldn't resist passing on this bit of idiocy. The advertising copy reads: "If you want your dog or cat to be socially accepted, this company has come up with a new cologne and deodorant for pets. The cologne is made from the finest imported perfume oils, and the deodorant is the roll-on variety. Apply these substances once a week, and your favorite dog or cat will never be accused, even by its worst enemy, of suffering from pet odor." Ann, dear, since we dogs perspire only on our feet and tongues, are we supposed to lick this stuff or step on it? -- Tau II, S.R. Calif.

DEAR TAU: I don't have the foggiest notion. Why don't you write to the president of the company and ask him?

DEAR ANN LANDERS: The letter from "Berkeley Reader" hit home. She was the high-school girl whose aunts were angry with her mother for giving her a Sweet 16 party the same week her father died of cancer.

On June 11, my 19-year-old son died in an accidental drowning. His sister was scheduled to graduate from high school on June 14. Like the Berkeley mother, I, too, felt it would be inappropriate to have a party with a big cake, congratulations and laughter, the day before her brother's services. But after some soul-searching I decided it would not be disrespectful to try to be happy as soon after our devastating loss. I knew her brother would have wanted us to go ahead with the party -- and we did. It was a huge success. Please print this letter for her and others who may face a similar decision in the future. -- Another One

DEAR ONE: I'm with you, dear. Life is for the living. Do you feel awkward, self-conscious -- lonely? Welcome to the club. There's help for you in Ann Landers' booklet, "The Key to Popularity." Send 50 cents with your request and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11995, Chicago, Illinois 60611.

News From The Lodge

By SUSAN OWENS
Community Relations Chairman

Reasons for coming to Camp Fire are as varied and different as the individual who brings those reasons to the Camp Fire Lodge. Reasons for staying with Camp Fire are not as varied. Camp fire offers volunteers and young people alike, values not seen on the surface. Involvement amplifies these values.

Camp Fire is like other things to which people make commitments - the rewards are only equal to the labor. For those making a total commitment, Camp Fire gives these individuals a sense of belonging, a feeling of self-worth. Camp Fire accepts each person as is, and makes maximum use of his/her talents. We stress the value of each person. Maybe the purpose of Camp Fire as defined by National Camp Fire, Inc. will show why so many of the adult volunteers and young people are a part of the Camp Fire Family.

"The Purpose of Camp Fire, Inc. is to provide through a program of informal education, opportunities for youth to realize their potential and to function effectively as caring, self-directed individuals responsible to themselves and to others; and as an organization, to seek to improve those conditions in society which affect youth.

"To achieve this purpose, Camp Fire, Inc., working with individuals, communities, and society as a whole, shall encourage the development and preservation of spiritual and ethical values; the realization of the dignity and worth of each individual; the elimination of human barriers based upon assumptions which prejudice individuals; the practice of responsible citizenship exemplifying the highest standards of a free and democratic society; the wise use of human and natural resources; and shall provide experiences which stimulate curiosity and learning; provide renewal and adventure; develop sensitivity skills in human relationships; initiative, self-reliance, a positive self-image and responsible attitudes; encourage an understanding and appreciation of the environment, the development of skills in outdoor living, and the search for and maintenance of optimum health."

For all of this, and because Camp Fire cares about children, we are here.

State VICA President Attends Local Banquet

Industrial Cooperative Training held their 12th annual employer-employee banquet Monday evening at Caison's Barbecue with special guest Janette Taylor, State VICA president.

Opening ceremonies were conducted by chapter #469 officers. Serving this year were Kris Cardinal, president; Ricky Moore, vice president; Carol Day, secretary; Roy Stallings, treasurer;

Laura Ivins, reporter; Dan Brinkley, parliamentarian; Shane Scott, Sergeant at arms; and Ray Barber, coordinator.

After dinner, District and State VICA reports were given by Kris Cardinal and HHS principal Ron Geyer gave the state Contestants' recognition.

Approximately 29 local merchants were present for the banquet.

Garage Sale Set Friday

The public is invited to attend a garage sale at 103 S. Texas from 8 a.m. - 4 p.m. Friday.

Merchandise will include all sizes of children's and adults' clothing, books, toys, plants and a variety of other items.

Sponsoring the fund-raising event is TOPS #576, which is joining other TOPS chapters throughout the state in similar projects. Proceeds are used to send members to State Recognition Days, held each year. Chapter #576 is also planning a bake sale to be held just prior to Father's Day.

The Newspaper Bible

HEY, I'M NOT BLIND ANYMORE!

Then they took the man to the Pharisees. Now as it happened, this all occurred on a Sabbath. Then the Pharisees asked him all about it. So he told them how Jesus had smoothed the mud over his eyes, and when it was washed away, he could see!

Some of them said, "Then this fellow Jesus is not from God, because he is working on the Sabbath."

Others said, "But how could an ordinary sinner do such miracles?" So there was a deep division of opinion among them.

Then the Pharisees turned on the man who had been blind and demanded, "This man who opened your eyes - who do you say he is?"

"I think He must be a prophet sent from God," the man replied.

The Jewish leaders wouldn't believe he had been blind, until they called in his parents.

And asked them, "Is this your son? Was he born blind? If so, how can he see?"

His parents replied, "We know this is our son and that he was born blind."

But we don't know what happened to make him see, or who did it. He is old enough to speak for himself. Ask him."

They said this in fear of the Jewish leaders who had announced that anyone saying Jesus was the Messiah would be excommunicated.

Salmon Casserole Rich in Nutrients

It's a good idea to make sure your diet contains a variety of foods from all four groups every day.

SPRING SALMON SUPPER

Loaf pan, 9x5x3 inch, or Casserole dish, 2-quart

6-8 servings

Preheated 350 degree oven

1 1-lb. can red salmon

1 10-oz. package frozen peas

1 1/2 cups cottage cheese

1 egg, slightly beaten

1 cup cracker crumbs

1/2 cup crushed crispy rice cereal

1 cup shredded Cheddar cheese

3 T. chopped green pepper

1 T. chopped onion

1 T. lemon juice

1/8 t. pepper

salt to taste

Drain salmon. Partially cook peas in the salmon liquid. Mix together remaining ingredients. Add peas and salmon, which has been broken into chunks.

Spoon into loaf pan or casserole dish and bake 45 minutes. Garnish with lemon wedges and parsley.

Serving suggestion: To add a contrasting texture to Spring Salmon Supper, serve this Lemon-Almond Butter Sauce:

1/2 cup (1 stick) butter, melted

2 T. lemon juice

1/2 cup blanched, slivered, toasted almonds

Mix together butter, lemon juice and almonds; heat to serve.

Real Estate Tips
by Tommy Bowling

We found a peculiar brass circle embedded in our sidewalk and were told it is an elevation "bench mark". What does this have to do with our house? Actually, there's little relationship between the bench mark and your house except for the fact you have a very official reading of the altitude of your property. Bench marks are part of the government's land measurement and identification system. The skeleton of the system is a network of bench marks located throughout the country. Each mark is situated by latitude and longitude and is fixed to a permanent object such as an iron post, stone monument or embedded in a sidewalk. Inscribed upon the face of each bench mark is the officially established elevation-above-sea level for that geographical point.
