

That feller on Tierra Blanca Creek says the best time to buy nything is last year.

An optimist these days is a person who thinks the situation deteriorating less rapidly than before.

OUR EXPERIENCES IN THE newspaper business have taught us that people really get stirred up when we have a controversial article that could affect their kids, pocketbooks, or pets--and not necessarily in that order.

What brings this to mind, of course, is all the talk around the community this week about the possibility of changing some student makeup in the elementary schools. Much of the talk Monday and Tuesday was based on rumor, but that was understandable because the press had not reported any discussion of the matter in a school board meeting.

We learned from Supt. Harrell Holder that the board did discuss the possibility of making adjustments in elementary school enrollments in a closed-door session Tuesday. He answered questions about those discussions, and they were reported in Wednesday and Thursday's editions of The Brand.

Sallie Strain, board president, explained that the executive session to discuss "personnel" was placed on the agenda so trustees could talk about the possible transfer of teachers. should any adjustments be made later. She admitted that the discussions, however, went beyond the scope of 'personnel." That is a no-no.

Let us hasten to add that we do not question the honesty or good intentions of the board--most of them are good friends. The board made no definite decisions and took no votes in that meeting, which is according to the law.

Executive sessions are allowed under the Open Meetings Law for specified subjects. These include discussion of personnel, land acquisition, litigation with an attorney, discipline of a student, and several other minor items.

When enacting that law, the Texas Legislature noted that "public servants do not have the right to decide what is good for the people to know or what is not good for them to know." All governmental bodies should keep that in mind, and we believe it is our obligation to remind them.

Socialists Attempt To Free Hostages

By The Associated Press

European socialists were reported preparing to launch a new initiative to free the American hostages in Iran, who spent their 202nd day in captivity today. The militants holding the hostages said again the captives will not be released until the deposed shah and his "plundered wealth" are returned to Iran but added "any other decision" will be up to the Iranian nation.

Meanwhile, Iran reported two more executions, raising to 31 the number of people killed by the revolutionary regime in

The Spanish socialist headquarters in Madrid said Spanish socialist leader Felipe Gonzalez would fly to Tehran Saturday where he would join other European socialists for an effort "to mediate the conflict over the American hostages."

A spokesman said the Socialist International, an organization of socialist political parties, had planned the mediation effort for some time. He did not elaborate. Unconfirmed reports said the other Europeans might include Austrian Chancellor Bruno Kreisky and Swedish socialist leader Olof Palme.

In Vienna, Austrian officials clamped a news blackout on the socialist project, but they hinted it was unlikely Kreisky would leave the country on such short notice.

In a statement broadcast by Tehran Radio, the militants who seized the U.S. Embassy in Tehran last Nov. 4 said: "Once again, ... we declare ... that until the traitor (shah) Mohammad Reza (Pahlavi) and his plundered wealth are returned to Iran, the hostages will not be released."

"Any other decision will be up to the Iranian nation, and the representatives of the nation," the statement continued. This presumably referred to the inauguration of the newly elected Iranian Parliament.

In reporting the latest executions, the Iranian news agency Pars said two members of the defunct Moslem People's Party were executed in Tabriz and a third was sentenced to life in prison after being convicted of "revolting against Iran's Islamic republic. Pars said the three were connected with the party which fought supporters of Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini in Tabriz some months ago. The report did not say how the executions were carried out.

In Tehran, an Iranian firing squad executed nine more convicted drug smugglers Thursday, bringing the total to 29 in two days of sentencing by the regime's toughest judge. The nine were shot immediately after being sentenced at the end of a two-day trial by Ayatollah Sadegh Khalkhali, the official Pars news agency reported. It said one woman convicted on drug charges Wednesday had her death sentence commuted to life imprisonment.

Holder: Plans Created To Save Funds

By PAUL SIMS Managing Editor

Two plans under consideration by the Hereford Independent School District-one to pair elementary schools and the other to adjust attendance zones--are purely economic moves, Superintendent Harrell Holder told teachers Thursday.

Holder met with about 50 mostly elementary school instructors in the high school auditorium to discuss the plans. A third plan--closing Shirley Elementary--was not discussed in detail, leading some in attendance to believe that the option is not being seriously considered by school officials.

The superintendent will conduct a similar meeting with the general public next Thursday night in the auditorium. The school board may take action on one of the plans at its June 10 regularly-scheduled meeting.

The two major plans were revealed to the public this week. Elementary teachers were informed Tuesday--one day after someone, believed to be a school official, leaked information concerning the plans to the public.

The pairing plan, designed to balance pupil-teacher ratios throughout Hereford's six elementary schools, would involve putting grades kindergarten through 3 on three campuses and 4 through 6 on the remaining

A school housing kindergarten through third-grade students would be paired with one containing grades 4 through 6.

Shirley and West Central have some classes with more than 30 students per teacher, Holder told the teachers. Aikman and Tierra Blanca have classes with a few as 17 students per teacher.

Pairing, he added, would utilize fewer teachers per grade level and balance pupil-teacher ratios.

The second plan involves busing 58 students living at Blue Water Garden Apartments, and currently attending Aikman, to Tierra Blanca.

Two buses which are presently taking students who live north of Hereford to Aikman would carry them to Bluebonnet under the Students living in the 100, 200 and 300 blocks of Ave. C and 300 block of Ave. D would be transferred from Shirley to Those living in the 400 block of Ave. F would be transferred from Shirley to Bluebonnet.

Students in the 200 block of Star would move from Shirley to Aikman.

The plan, which Holder called a short-term solution, would reduce enrollments at Shirley and Aikman so each grade level could be handled by two teachers. It increases enrollments at Tierra Banca, Bluebonnet and Northwest, allowing sections to be taught with three teachers. It also decreases overcrowded conditions at West Central.

Aikman would be most affected by the plan--losing 100 students and six teachers to other schools.

However, Aikman teachers sent Holder a supportive note, which he read at Thursday's meeting.

"Whatever the change, the Aikman faculty could and would adjust," the note read. Holder told the teachers Thursday that utility costs are expected to increase by $51,000 from this school year to 1980-81, (See SCHOOLS, Page 2)

Miami Awaits Weekend

MIAMI (AP) - Although most of the nal Guardsmen have pulled out and there were only a few minor incidents during the night, police in riot-scarred Miami say the weekend will be "a very critical point in time."

Meanwhile, Michael Watts, whose acquittal with three other white former policemen in the death of a black man touched off the rioting, was in critical condition today after an apparent suicide attempt.

According to police, Watts said he was contemplating suicide because of trouble with a girlfriend, not the Arthur McDuffie

Some 2.000 National Guardsmen went home Thursday, but 1,000 others remain on standby as police warned of rumors that racial violence may flare anew this weekend.

after the acquittal Saturday, 15 persons died and fires and looting caused $100 million in damage.

Touring the rubble-strewn streets of the city's black northwest section late Thursday, Gov. Bob Graham government reported today. The increase in the Consumer Price Index last month was a marked improvement from the 1.4 percent increases registered in each of the first three months this year.

If prices continue to rise for the next 11 months at the same rate they did in April, the year will end with an inflation rate of about 11 percent, compared with 13 percent last year.

Prices had been going up at a compounded annual rate of 18 percent in the preceding three months of

The Labor Department report credited "smaller price increases for energy items, particularly gasoline" and less rise in the cost of food, clothing and home financing rates.

"About half the slowdown can be directly attributed to gasoline prices, which were # unchanged in April following a nearly 4 percent increase in March," said Patrick Jackman, a Labor Department economist.

"With interest rates continuing to come down and food stable for at least another month, I'd expect next month's inflation rate to be the best we'll see in a while," he added.

In another report, the Labor Department said the inflation-adjusted average weekly earnings Americans fell 1.2 percent from March to April. The decline came as inflation outpaced a 0.3 percent decrease in hours worked and no change in hourly

Spendable earnings what a married worker with three dependents would have left to spend after federal income tax and Social Security deductions - also dropped 1.2 percent from March to a level 6.7 percent below April 1979.

The April increase matched the 0.9 percent rise in January 1979 and was the smallest since a 0.6 percent increase in December 1978.

The report gave these breakdowns: - Food prices went up 0.5 percent last month, compared with a 1 percent increase in March. - Housing costs rose 1.3 percent in April, com with 1.6 percent in the preceding month. "Mortgage interest rates rose less than in March, but house prices rose more," the report said. It added that home heating oil prices went up 0.5 percent, "the smallest in-

- Transportation prices went up 0.6 percent last month, compared with 1.7 percent in March and 2.8 percent in February, as gasoline prices held steady and used-car prices fell. It was the smallest increase in almost two years for transportation items, the report said.

Bush virtually conceded the GOP presidential nomination to Reagan on Thursday by canceling weekend appearances in

"We're putting the campaign on hold," said Bush's deputy campaign press secretary, Susan Morrison. "We are pulling people out of California because we do not have the Bush's actions fell short of actual withdrawal, but they seemed to leave him no other real choice with only 10 days left in the primary season. He was expected to announce a decision next week, as early as Sunday, on whether he was quitting the race.

Reagan had no comment Thursday on Bush's likely withdrawal, and a Reagan spokesman, Joe Holmes, said the campaign was being cautious about interpreting the underdog's moves as a sign he was quitting.

Carter, used to attacks from Republicans and from party rival Edward M. Kennedy, found himself being criticized Thursday by fellow Democrat Henry M. Jackson.

The senator from Washington, an unsuccessful candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1972 and 1976, told a party dinner in Chicago that the Democrats are in trouble under Carter. "Many Americans in this election year would like to vote for 'none of the above," he said in apparent reference to Carter and Reagan as the likely candidates in the general "We would be kidding ourselves if we failed to recognize among the voters a distinct lack of enthusiasm for the choices they are likely to face in November," he said. Although he said his criticisms were "not directed personally" at Carter, Jackson omitted Carter's name from a list of Democratic presidents he said had "made America work." "When large numbers of working people believe that a Democratic administration has reverted to the economic policies of Herbert Hoover, we are in trouble," Jackson said. "When Democrats are accused of trying to fight inflation by throwing people out of work - the very thing we accused Richard Nixon of doing - we are in trouble.

Jackson, a former Democratic national chairman, has been neutral in the battle between Carter and Kennedy. He has been mentioned as a possible compromise candidate, but Rick Cocker, his press secretary, said he "has not encouraged anyone to do anything on his behalf."

Carter spokesmen said Thurday night that they'd have no immediate comment on Jackson's blast.

Kennedy also kept up his barrage against the president on Thursday. Speaking at the Martin Luther King Hospital in Los Angeles' black section, he accused Carter of not having a commitment to "providing decent, quality health care to the citizens of this nation.,"

Kennedy has been campaigning hard in the three biggest states with primaries June 3 - California, Ohio and New Jersey. On Thursday, it was announced he will give a "major foreign policy speech" May 29 in Cleveland - the same day (See CARTER, Page 2)

In a statement released Thursday from her Miami Beach mansion, Miss Bryant said her husband had "violated my most precious asset; my very conscience."

She claimed Green had cooperated "with certain hired staff members who conspired to control me and to use my name and reputation to build their personal careers instead of my ministry.'

There were some of the yellow ones in the yard of the late Byrle Elliston's home, and Elliston, the "Hereford booster" par excellence, insisted this variety is the original Yellow Rose of Texas.

It probably is, because it was the type of rose grown mostly all through the South in the nineteenth century, and early Texans-brought cuttings from their former homes ,"back east" when they settled this state.

Impressive Column

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Now that summer is here and millions of teenagers will be driving, I wish you would run a column that made a terrific impression on me. Before I read it, I was a pretty wild kid and liked to show off. After I read it, I swore I'd never again take any foolish chances. You may have saved my life .-- Could Have Been A Statistic

DEAR COULD HAVE: Every summer I get a rash of requests to repeat that column. I do so now, with pleasure.

THE DAY A TEENAGER DIED

Please, God, I'm only 17. The day I died was an ordinary school day. How I wish I had taken the bus! But I was too cool for the bus.

I remember how I wheedled the car out of Mom. "Special favor," I pleaded. "All the kids drive."

When the 2:50 bell rang, I threw my books in the locker. I was free until 8:40 tomorrow morning! I ran to the parking lot, excited at the thought of driving a car and being my own boss. Free!

It doesn't matter how the accident happened. I was goofing off--going too fast. Taking crazy chances. But 1 was enjoying my freedom and having fun.

The last thing I remember was passing an old lady who seemed to be going awfully slow. I heard the deafening crash and felt a terrific jolt. Glass and steel flew everywhere. My whole body seemed to be turning inside out. I heard myself scream.

Suddenly I awakened. It was very quiet. A police officer was standing over me. Then I saw a doctor. My body was mangled. I was saturated with blood. Pieces of jagged glass were sticking out all over. Strange that I couldn't feel anything.

Hey, don't pull that sheet over my head. I can't be dead. I'm only 17. I've got a date tonight. I am supposed to grow up and have a wonderful life. I haven't lived yet. I can't be dead.

Later I was placed in a drawer. My folks had to identify me. Why did they have to see me like this? Why did I have to look at Mom's eyes when she faced the most terrible ordeal of her life? Dad suddenly looked very old. He told the man in charge, "Yes, he is my son."

The funeral was a weird experience. I saw all my relatives and friends walk toward the casket. They passed by, one by one, and looked at me with the saddest eyes I've ever seen. Some of my buddies were crying. A few of the girls touched my hand and sobbed as they walked away. ·

Please! Somebody wake me up! Get me out of here. I can't bear to see Mom and Dad so broken up. My grandparents are so wracked with grief they can barely walk. My brother and sisters are like zombies. They move like robots, in a daze. No one can believe this. And I can't believe it either.

1 box (1-3/4 oz.) powdered fruit pectin

First prepare the jars. Wash, scald and drain jars and lids; or use automatic dishwasher with very hot rinse water. Then prepare the fruit. Stem and thoroughly crush, one layer at a time, about 2 quarts strawberries. Measure Place over high heat and stir until mixture comes to a hard boil. Immediately add all sugar and stir. Bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard I minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and skim off foam with metal spoon. Ladle quickly into jars, filling to within 1/8 inch of top. Wipe tops and threads of jars with clean damp cloth. Cover with twopiece lids, following manufacturer's directions. Process in boiling water bath 5 minutes, timing when water returns to boil. Cool, test for seal and store. Makes 8-1/2 cups or about 8 (8 fl. oz.) jars.

Witness to Worst Air Disaster Still Won't Fly

CHICAGO (AP) - Ray Devito sometimes feels he's still running - racing across runways, sprinting down a highway, stumbling across fields - three miles to the burning wreck of a DC-10 that carried his girlfriend to death a year ago.

He saw the jet make its death plunge after losing a wing engine at lift-off with 271 persons aboard. Never higher than 600 feet, it banked sideways for 60 seconds then hurtled into a field, a terrible fireball.

All aboard were killed; two people on the ground were burned to death. It was this country's worst air disaster.

The cockpit recording from American Airlines Flight 191 en route to Los Angeles from O'Hare International Airport stopped with the word "damn." It was 3:04 p.m. on May 25, 1979.

Devito, a machinist at a tractor works in Joliet, had driven his girlfriend, Debra Ann Moruzi, 21, and her friend, Doreen Malek, 22, from Joliet to O'Hare to catch the plane and wish them well on a Hawaii vacation.

"When they were aboard, I went to the observation deck," Devito recalled. "I looked down at the gleaming DC-10 and I thought to myself, 'What beautiful equipment.' And I followed it taxiing out to the runway and taking off. And I saw puffs of smoke, and I saw it come out from behind a building at a crazy angle, and I watched it start falling, and then this great pillar of smoke.

"I ran downstairs, somehow climbed the fence, ran across runways and kept running to the smoke and flames," Devito continued. "I broke through a police line that was forming and got near enough to be next to part of a smoldering un-dercarriage. I didn't see any bodies - my mind was like a blank. I probably didn't want to see any. I knew no one could be alive out in that inferno."

Devito said he has thought about that day every day

"I can't forget Debbie. We were talking about getting married," said Devito, who lives in Mokena, near Joliet. "I wonder what she was thinking about when it happened. Oh, why couldn't the car have broken down so I couldn't get to the airport?

"My uncle is a pilot for United Airlines. But I haven't been up in a plane since that day," said Devito. "The hardest thing is that every time a jet flies by, it brings it all back, and at times I can almost feel myself running there again."

Debra Ann's mother, Lillian, said: "It's still a nightmare. Not a day passes than I don't think about it

"I was using the vacuum cleaner at home and had turned off the television and radio, and never turned them back on. So I didn't know about it at the time," Mrs.

Maruzi said. "When Richard, my husband, came home from work he asked if I had heard about the crash. He didn't know what time our daughter was to take off. But I had seen the tickets and I knew. And I knew then it was her plane, and later we knew for sure."

Andrew Bellavia, 47, was working near a construction equipment garage. The plane crashed 100 feet away. showering him with flaming fluid. He lived. Two friends died. He will not talk about the crash.

"He has therapy every. day," said his wife, Betty.

"He can't drive. I take him everywhere. He can't take the cold and can't take the sun. When he sits, he gets very stiff.

"But thank God, it hasn't affected his mind. He can Firefighter Doug Goostree, one of the first on the scene, said: "I'll never forget it, but I don't have bad dreams. It's: probably because the dead didn't look like people. They were more like the debris. There was no blood. No. intact bodies."

Goostree's lieutenant, Fred Rohrer, arrived 15 minutes after the crash, "but what I remember most was meeting Linda that night."

"I kept an invitation to a out," Rohrer said. "Linda was there. She was a

It was 3 p.m. and Brennan had brewed coffee. He was standing near a wall. His wife was seated at a table, putting sugar in her coffee. "All of a sudden, she looked at me and said: 'Listen to that plane coming.' I said: 'Planes are always coming over. It's par for the course.' 'Not this time,' she said. And then that awful, sickening crash, and flames and smoke, 100 yards away. A piece of flaming fuselage hit the trailer next to ours, setting it afire. And a piece went into us. Our place was burning. "My wife was thrown out of the chair. I was not knocked down. We got out. Eleanore seemed to be in shock. The people next door and down the drive all got

"I was a Marine in the Pacific during World War II," he continued. "I saw some pretty rough stuff taking those islands. I don't think of the crash much, mainly remembering a river of flaming fuel like it was gushing from a broken dam.

"What I remember is my wife. She was never sick a day in her life. But she never recovered from what happened. In November she took a nap and never woke up.

"Most of those in the trailer park were elderly," said Brennan, who still lives there. "Within weeks after the crash there were four heart attack deaths. And in the last year I've heard of about 10 such attacks of those who were here at the

"It was one of those million-to-one shots," he said. "... Now you wouldn't know where it came down. The field was bulldozed, and grass was planted. Just another field collecting weeds."

Board Votes to Forget Starr County Prison

AUSTIN. Texas (AP) -Board of Corrections members gave in to local opposition and voted to forget about building a prison in Starr County, but they said residents of the border community have missed out on a good thing.

One month after voting to spend $7.8 million for La Casita Farm, board members voted unanimously Thursday to look for another location. although they still think the 5,293-acre farm is the best available site.

They succumbed to unwavering local criticism.

"If they'd given us a year, we'd make useful members of their community," said Windham James Livingston, chairman of the Board of Corrections. "The pluses would outweigh the minuses."

Several board members said they failed in efforts to sell that idea to the community. Ruben Montemayor of San Antonio, who made the motion to give up on La Casita, said public hearings in Rio Grande City showed the residents had wideranging fears about what a prison would do to their county.

"I believe that had they known more about how a prison system operates ... I believe that these fears were really not founded," he said.

Gov. Bill Clements, chairman of the Prison Approval Board, commended the corrections board for its decision. On April 22, minutes after the corrections board voted to buy the land, the Approval Board ordered a 30-day delay.

The delay was sparked by complaints from Rio Grande City officials who said they had not been told of the deal. During the 30 days, prison officials wooed Starr County officials, but failed!

"It's just the board's decision that we don't want to move in an area where we overwhelmingly have no community support," said Windham.

Clements told Windham, "That was a very judicious decision.'

"You have reached a proper decision. I applaud your decision.

Batters Up, No Strikes as Agreement Reached

By HAL BOCK AP Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) -Baseball's longest night has resulted in a settlement of the lingering contract dispute between players and management and averted a strike which threatened unprecedented interruption of the major league season.

Marvin Miller, executive director of the union, and chief Ray Grebey, negotiator for the 26 owners, struggled through a marathon day and night of negotiations, finally hammering out an agreement in a seven-hour wrapup session.

Terms were not disclosed immediately because the settlement must be presented to the Player Association's Executive Board and membership for ratification. Neither party would comment on the final disposition of the difficult free agent compensation issue, the major stumbling block throughout the talks.

Miller called the settlement a victory for both sides. - 'That's what collective bargaining means," the union chief said. "When you reach an agreement without a strike, it's a great victory for everybody concerned."

"It's a good deal all around," said Commissioner Bowie Kuhn, who made his first appearance in the talks. 'There was a lot of honest goodwill all around. The parties worked hard at it. I'm ecstatic."

This mutual victory was not easy to achieve and several times as the final day of negotiations stretched into night, it seemed a strike was inevitable.

The crisis atmosphere began at 10 a.m., EDT, Thursday when Miller and his negotiating team, which included attorneys Dick Moss, Don Fehr and Peter Rose, arrived for talks. The management team was one hour late, setting a pattern which was followed throughout the day. Grebey and the owners' negotiators were also close to an hour late for an afternoon meeting and a half hour late for the final night session. Miller was clearly annoyed by management's tardiness throughout the day.

The first meeting between the two sides lasted only 1 hour, 25 minutes, from 11:15 in the morning to 12:40. When Grebey and his people left the midtown hotel where talks were held, they seemed downcast.

"Right now, things don't look so good," said Lee, MacPhail, president of the American League.

He might have been even more disheartened if he had heard what Miller had to say at that point.

"There has been a lack of good faith (in the bargaining) from beginning to end," Miller said."

What could prevent a strike, he was asked. "It would take a small miracle," Miller snapped. Federal mediator Kenneth Moffett also painted a gloomy picture. Miller was asked if the strike deadline still stood. "There's no reason to stop need an agreement."

Thirty minutes later, at 10 Grebey's team p.m., returned to the hotel, again a hour late for a scheduled meeting with Miller. "We're still working away." the veteran labor negotiator said.

This time, they kept on working.

As Thursday night's games ended one by one, the talks continued on the 17th floor of the midtown hotel.

Finally, the last game was completed at about 11:45 p.m. and the possibility still existed that the strike would be declared.

The first indication of a break came at 2:20 in the morning when Moffett and Vaughn arrived to report that the two sides were still bargaining and that progress had been made. Moffett said" he thought they might have a statement in about an hour. Grebey's party then team few blocks to American League headquarters where they met with a committee of management people, including members of the Player Relations Committee and Executive Council, and presented terms of a tenative agreement.

The settlement provides a new collective bargaining agreement, with improvements in minimum salaries and pensions among

The key issue throughout was the clubs' demand for a system of free agent compensation, allowing teams losing a "premium" free agent to receive a replacement. The union had rejected the owner formula for determining whether a player warranted compensation and there was no immediate indication of what compromise might have been reached to permit a set-

Bell's Battery Paces Rangers To 12-6 Victory Over California

By CHARLES RICHARDS

AP Sports Writer

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) - The spectre of a players' strike came in the midst of the best start Buddy Bell has had in nine years in the major leagues.

'Usually I'm hitting .200 at this time of the season," he said after his two home runs and two singles drove in four runs and led the Texas Rangers past California 12-6 Thursday night.

"But despite the good start I don't think a layoff would be any harder for me than anybody else. I don't think I've been thinking about it, although it's been in the back of all our minds," Bell said. His 4-for-5 night raised his average to $350 for the year.

Both Bell's homers came off reliever Jim Barr, who took over for starter Don Aase, 3-4, after Mickey Rivers' RBI single, Bump Wills' two-run homer and Al Oliver's single in the fourth.

But Bell greeted Barr with a towering homer into the leftfield bleachers, then came back to hit a solo home run in the sixth. California manager Jim Fregosi brought in Chris Knapp to pitch the final two innings.

"I think Jimmy got me out of there so I wouldn't have to face him (Bell) again, but it would have been different the third time," Barr said.

Asked what he would have done differently, Barr laughed and said, "Walk

Texas starter Jon Matlack, the player representative. was knocked out by four hits and five runs in the third inning and admitted the possibility of a strike might have affected his pitching.

"Not consciously, but it may have," Matlack acknowledged. "I pitched non-professionally tonight. I did not pitch my game.'

He left with two outs in the third, after Al Cowens' threerun double completed a rally that wiped out a three-run lead and put California ahead

But Danny Darwin sparkled in relief for Texas. He struck out six of the first eight men he faced and watched while Bell and Wills hammered away to give him his third victory in four decisions.

Darwin finished with 10 strikeouts. He and Matlack together had 15, a Ranger record.

"Danny had to be throwing 95 to 98 mph, in that area," Ranger catcher Jim Sundberg marveled. "He really threw some fast balls past some fast ball hitters. His control was exceptional. His fast ball was running in on some righthanded hitters.'

Cowens, who hit a threerun homer for the Angels in a one-run victory Wednesday night, was 3-for-4 Thursday.

"I don't consider it a good night when we don't win. But vou can say Darwin's got a good arm on him. He's got a good fast ball and a good slider, and he throws the ball hard," said Cowens, who singled in his first appearance against Darwin before becoming his 10th strikeout victim later in the

Astros Defeat Mets 8-5 Despite Niekro's Pounding

NEW YORK (AP) -Houston Manager Bill Virdon was a reasonably happy man considering the curious atmosphere surrounding the Astros' 8-5 victory over the New York Mets.

Two of the things that pleased him the most were home runs by Craig Reynolds and Cesar Cedeno. Those two homers lifted the Houston season total to 21 compared to the club's total of 49 for all of the 1979 season.

Reliever Frank LaCorte was another source of pleasure for Virdon as the hard-throwing right-hander earned his fourth save in relief of Joe Niekro, 5-2, who gave up 11 hits in less than seven innings.

"We're way ahead of our schedule," said Virdon of the homers which were part of a 17-hit attack on five Mets pitchers. "We try to enjoy them when we can get

Reynolds' first-inning drive off New York starter Mark Bomback was his first of the season while Cedeno's two-run homer in the fifth off loser Kevin Kobel, 0-4, was his third.

"LaCorte has greatly improved his control," Virdon said after his reliever lowered his ERA to 0.45 for 15 appearances. "That's the thing he's done this season that he hasn't done before. The arm has always been there." LaCorte's career ERA coming into this season was 6.20.

LaCorte limited the Mets to two hits over the final 21-3 innings after New York had pulled within 8-5 with a three-run seventh that finished Niekro. Reynolds staked Niekro to an early lead but New York tied it with a run in the second on a double by Steve Henderson and two wild pitches by Niekro.

Niekro claimed that his position as Houston's player representative didn't distract him from concentrating on his pitching. But Virdon said, "I didn't think he was real sharp tonight, he got the job done; that's about all." Houston went back in front against Kobel in the third when Alan Ashby singled in one run and Niekro double home another. But the Mets scored again in the fourth on the first of Mike Jorgensen's two doubles and Henderson's RBI triple Cedeno's homer put it out of reach despite Niekro's. continued struggles.

"I made some good pitches," said Niekro, "but I also made some bad pitches. The bad ones were mostly the ones they hit. But we won the game and that's the important thing."

Garry Parman capped a 65-yard march by the Whites in the second quarter, diving over from the 4-yard line. The Maroons had the drive stopped at one point, but a 15-yard penalty gave the Whites new life.

The third quarter was scoreless, thanks to fine effort by the Maroon defense. The Whites got the ball on the Maroon 21 after a fumble, but after driving to the i, the Whites lost it back on a fumble. Late in the period, the White team got to the 18, but a field-goal attempt by Daniels was blocked by David Gonzales.

Amarillo, Jackson Split Texas League Twinbill

By The Associated Press

Wayne Pechek scored winnings runs Thursday night and Shreveport swept a doubleheader from San Antonio in Texas League baseball action.

Pechek walked, stole second and then scored on a single by Dave Wiggins to lead Shreveport to a 1-0 shutout over San Antonio in the opener.

San Antonio took an early 1-0 lead in the nightcap. But Shreveport rallied in the fifth inning to win 2-1 on Pechek's two-run, two out single.

In other Texas League games, Tulsa beat El Paso, and Arkansas nipped

Midland. Amarillo and Jackson split doubleheader.

Gene Dotson belted his second home run of the year to give Arkansas a 10-7 victory over Midland. Louis DeLeon got the win over Tom Spino. Designated hitter Phil Klimas knocked two doubles and drove in two runs to pace Tulsa to a 9-6 victory over El Paso. Larry Reynolds added three RBIs. Mike Bishop slammed three homers for El Paso.

Oil Buyer Shares Memorial Golf Lead

By GEORGE STRODE

AP Sports Writer

DUBLIN, Ohio (AP) Bobby Walzel's job as a crude oil purchaser is suffering this week.

His share of the lead in the Memorial Golf Tournament stands in the way.

"This week, I may not touch it (oil). I'm too pumped up," said Walzel after he and Bruce Lietzke equaled the Muirfield Village 'course record Thursday with 5under-par 67s in the opening round.

Walzel virtually quit the game last year. After an operation to remove a benign tumor from his rib cage, the

"I was down on golf. I was frustrated. But I started practicing well at Christmas time. So I decided to go back to golf," said Walzel, who one-putted 10 times on Muirfield's treacherous Walzel's bid to win his first regular tour title in seven years could be difficult. Lietzke has been a leader in his last five rounds and admits his adrenalin is in high gear.

"I had confidence coming in here." said last week's winner at Fort Worth, Texas. "It was a very casual round 30-year-old Texan went to today. I didn't put too much pressure on myself." The 7,116-yard monster

Jack Nicklaus created may have played as easy as it ever will. Ideal weather led to 27 sub-par rounds, eight of them under 70. Former Masters and PGA National champion Ray Floyd was one shot behind at 68. Tom Weiskopf, Don Pooley, Tom Purtzer. Peter Jacobsen, and Mike Reid matched 69s.

The ominous figure of Nicklaus, mired in the deepest slump of his career, loomed at 71. The tournament's host said, "I've made some changes in my putting and my short putts were better today."

Tom Watson, seeking his fourth title in his last five starts, struggled to his highest round in his last seven tournaments. This year's leading money winner had 74.

Walzel labeled his 28-putt round his best in a year and cracked, "Now I know how Watson must feel each week. I played with him a couple of times this year. He showed me the attitude it takes."

Walzel, the winner of $166,000 in his checkered career, sank a downhill 40foot eagle putt at 15 to go with four birdies. Lietzke also eagled the 490-yard par-5 15th with an 18-foot putt.

Associated Press Writer AUSTIN, Texas (AP) Four warm weather teams with a combined victory total of 208 games opened play today in the NCAA Central Regional baseball playoffs. Pan American, an at-large entry from Edinburg, Texas, was matched against Hawaii in the 1:30 p.m. opener. Texas, the No. 4 team in college baseball, and Louisiana Tech were paired at 7:30 p.m.

The tournament winner goes to the College World Series at Omaha, Neb., June

In the past 10 years, the Central Regional winner has finished in the top four seven times, and Texas won the national championship in

"We've met Pan American and Lousiana Tech so much in the playoffs, I'm almost tired of seeing you guys," joked Coach Cliff Gustafson of Texas, the Southwest Conference champion and host team for the tour-

"We've had a keen rivalry with Pan American," Gustafson told a press conference Thursday. "I can't recall any game that was not close and hard fought ... I can say the same about Louisiana Tech."

Texas and Hawaii have never played, but Gustafson said Hawaii "had possibly the toughest schedule of any team here."

Gustafson said he would bypass pitcher Keith Creel, the second leading college winner with a 15-1 record, and start Jim Acker of Freer, Texas, in the opener with Tech, the Southland Conference winner. Gustafson said Creel might be tired from the recent SWC tournament. He said, however, professional scouts rate Acker, 9-3, a better

Tech lost its first two games to Texas and was 15-16 at the Easter break but has won 27 of 33 since the spring holiday.

Tech's Keith Thibodeaux, 10-1, of Opelousas, La., will start for Tech. Thibodeaux has pitched three shutouts and has an earned run average of 1.79. Lefthander Alan Maria of Nanakuli, Hawaii, was scheduled to open for Pan American against his native state. Pan American's 61 victories - including a string of 29 that was broken - is tops in the nation. The Broncs have lost 16. Maria, a transfer from Pima Junior College in Arizona, is 12-2.

... "We're a very pesky type of ballclub," said Hawaii Coach Les Murakami. "A lot of people are not that impressed with us. We're not as strong but we're the same type team as Texas."

"One thing that might be to our advantage is that we're coming back to our home park to play ... that should be a little boost for us," said Gustafson.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I've always heard that a pregnant woman should not smoke while she's carrying a child. I do not smoke but I work in an office where most of the men smoke. Will this hurt my

DEAR READER - That's

a very good question and I don't believe there's sufficient information available to answer it. I'm inclined to say that it depends on how much smoke is in the room and how adequate the ventilation is. The truth is that nonsmokers do pick up some of the adverse effects of cigarette smoking if they have to stay

You're correct in saying that a pregnant woman should not smoke while carrying a child but the problem goes beyond that point. Recent studies have shown that a number of the hazards to the baby caused by maternal smoking can't be eliminated simply by stopping during the pregnancy itself. The only way to prevent increasing the risk to the baby is for the mother not to begin the smok-then I've had all of the tests to study my function and I ovuseems to be no real reason why I can't get pregnant. The doctor then asked my husband to come in for a check and it turned out that he had a very poor sperm count. It was so low the doctor didn't believe I could ever get preg-this matter? My husband and

DEAR READER - Tell your husband that a biopsy of the testicles is relatively routine. It's often done in men who have fertility problems, specifically low sperm counts.

By taking a very small piece of tissue — so small it can fit in the end of a needle — and putting it under a microscope, one can see the architecture of the testicles and from that, have a pretty good idea what problems are affecting these glands. This also helps them

Gone on a diet

DEAR DR. LAMB - My husband is 46 years old and he has what he calls "gone on a diet." He doesn't eat any breakfast or lunch - only coffee. And he tries to stay on a 1000-calorie diet for supper. He works hard on a construction gang and before he eats supper, he jogs two or three

I told him he's hurting his health but he won't listen to me. Maybe if you told him he would pay more attention. He started at 240 and dropped 20 pounds in only a few weeks. He wants to weigh 200. What do you think of this? DEAR READER — Too much too soon. It would be, much better if your husband learned to eat properly. That might also involve some changes in how you prepare his meals.

Most authorities believe that a person shouldn't lose more than two pounds a week on a weight losing diet. I think it's better if a person consist-ently loses about a pound a week and readjusts his life style on a permanent basis rather than on a crash project. I'm sending you The Health Letter number 4-7, Weight Losing Diet. Other readers who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019. You and your husband can use this diet. as a model to build a balanced diet for him. Once his weight is at the level he wants it, he can merely add enough foods to this diet to satisfy him and keep his weight at a stable level. Thus he'll be learning to eat right while he's on the diet even though he may not lose weight quite so fast.

I'm glad he's physically active because exercise helps to prevent muscle loss when a person is on a diet. And I don't think you should discourage him too much but try to help him direct himself toward a program that will last on a long term basis.

It is true that excessive severe dieting over a long period of time can cause problems including loss of muscle mass, loss of important min-large part of the history of any free nation has had to be writ-ten in the blood of its heroes who gave their lives on the field of battle in order to preserve that freedom. For every privilege that you enjoy today, you owe them a tremendous debt of gratitude; and the only possible way you can repay it is to live your own life in a manner worthy of their supreme sacrifice. Honor them the year 'round by attending the Church of your choice regularly - itself one of the freedoms you owe them - and by maintaining an ever-alert vigilance against any erosion of your liberties, presented under the guise of protection. The finest memorial you can give your nation's heroes is the assurance that they have not died in vain.

Under God, we are determined that wheresoever, whensoever, or howsoever we shall be called to make our exit, we will die free men -Josiah Quincy

"Hereby perceive we the love of God, because he laid down his life for us; and we ought to lay down our lives for the brethren." -I John 3:16 CHRISTIAN ASSEMBLY
