

During Commission Meeting

Sheriff, TRLA Attorneys Lock Horns

By JIM STEIERT
In a marathon session that ran for most of the day Monday Deaf Smith County commissioners considered numerous items relative to the budget for the upcoming fiscal year and also let themselves in for a lengthy verbal session centering on the controversy surrounding the Texas Rural Legal Aid office here.

resolution requesting commissioners to endorse his attendance of a session that will apparently be held in Austin for the purpose of discussing possible violations of the Legal Services Corporation charter by TRLA offices in the Rio Grande Valley, in addition to the Hereford area.
A delegation of TRLA attorneys and supporters rapidly questioned McPherson's participation in the meeting, and whether he was asking to attend at county expense.
McPherson responded that he would attend at his own expense, but was requesting county backing of proposals to eliminate funding for TRLA offices, based on allegations that TRLA has violated the terms of its charter.

TRLA attorneys Bill Beardall and Edward Tuddenham then became engaged in a running debate with McPherson over the purpose of the mysterious Austin session and other allegations against TRLA, after which a local delegation headed up by Rinaldo Garcia of Hereford presented approximately 1,000 signatures on petitions supporting the presence of the TRLA office here to the county commission.

Under questioning about the session he proposes to attend, McPherson reported that the session will be held before the Texas Advisory Council, and added that he had been invited to attend by the law firm of Fullbright and Jaworski.

TRLA supporters zeroed in on McPherson's comment that the session is being held by the Texas Advisory Council.

"Who is the Texas Advisory Council? What do they stand for? For all we know they could be representing the Ku Klux Klan or the Nazi party. If the county commissioners are to be asked to participate in an activity on behalf of all the citizens in the county, they ought to be better informed on just what's going on," commented Tuddenham in remarks to McPherson.

"Has the county already decided to participate. Are you requesting the county to endorse you?" Beardall queried.

Beardall then charged that TRLA has not been consulted over any recent actions by the commission seeking to have funding for the agency done away with.

"Mr. Beardall, you didn't ask the county to participate in any way before your agency filed suit against us," McPherson fired back.

Tuddenham then remarked, "I don't think it's proper for the county to endorse your participation in the meeting without knowing what the meeting is for."

McPherson responded, "I think the meeting will inform us of possible violations of the Legal Services Corporation charter. I charge that TRLA has gone out and recruited and has sought frivolous lawsuits. TRLA also continues to encourage cases on behalf of illegal aliens and that is not in keeping with the charter of your organization which is funded with tax monies."

Pleading For Reason

Garcia helped salvage a meeting of sorts Sunday afternoon when a session scheduled inside the Bull Barn broke up shortly after it was opened. Union members of varying viewpoints engaged one another in debate outside the Bull Barn and agreed that the issue will be "had out" during a union meeting at Armour tomorrow night. Only about 50 out of the work force of 450 at Armour attended Sunday afternoon's session. [Brand photo by Jim Steiert]

Commission Eyes Budget

By JIM STEIERT
While a confrontation over the activities of the TRLA office in Hereford created the fireworks at Monday's regular session of the Deaf Smith County Commission, county fathers found there was plenty of routine work to attend to as well in a lengthy meeting which saw them open bids on jail renovations and consider numerous aspects of the budget for the new fiscal year that is approaching.

Commissioners considered two bids on renovations to the Deaf Smith County jail.

Gilbert Building of Amarillo submitted a bid of $11,985 plus a proposal of a time and material basis for working on a locking mechanism of $34.54 per hour plus mileage.

Tago Industries of Hereford submitted a turnkey bid of $17,498, including modifications for the locking mechanism.

After some discussion on the high cost of work on the locking mechanism based on the per hour rate bid by the Amarillo firm, Commissioner James Voyles moved that the county accept the bid submitted by Tago Industries.

The motion was unanimously approved.

Debs Knox and Marjorie Daniels of the Hereford Senior Citizens Center appeared before the commissioners to request funding for accounting help, secretarial help and an activities director, with the total appropriation sought for the part-time help of $8,248.

Mrs. Daniels reported that there are nearly 600 members of the senior citizens here now, and that a growing load of accounting work has interfered with her work as nutrition planner for the center.

Commissioners praised the work of the senior citizens in providing a vitally needed service to the community and assured Knox and Mrs. Daniels that the appropriations will be given careful consideration in the new budget.

Sheriff Travis McPherson reported to the commission on the need for some additional furnishings for the jail when it is renovated in order to keep it in line with minimum standards for the facility.

Among items that will be needed are fire-resistant clothing for prisoners, and fire-resistant mattresses and linens.

Commissioners viewed the list of requirements but took no action on them at Monday's session.

Donald Hicks and Andrew Kershen of the Deaf Smith County Historical Society appeared before the commissioners to request a salary adjustment for County Museum Director Lois Gilliland.

The local men pointed out that Mrs. Gilliland isn't able to draw retirement pay, and requested that funds that have been set aside in a retirement account be used to give Mrs. Gilliland an increase in pay amounting to about $50 per month.

Kershen explained that in addition to her duties at the museum, Mrs. Gilliland has also been made treasurer of the historical society, and that additional duties of that post justified extra salary. The matter was taken under advisement for the new budget.

Carter Claims He Didn't Notice Rock, Bottle Barrage

MIAMI (AP) — President Carter says he didn't notice the rocks and bottles tossed at his motorcade by a jeering crowd, but the mayor of this racially torn city is worried that the incident could spoil any benefits of the president's visit to a riot-scarred neighborhood.

It was one of the most violent encounters in Carter's presidency.

One photographer was hit with a bottle, but no one was reported hurt — or arrested — when 600 people scrambled for safety late Monday as the motorcade was bombarded. Carter had waved to the crowd, at which point the crowd began booing and shouting insults. When the rocks and bottles came, Carter ducked into his car and sped off.

Dade Metro Police Cmdr. Douglas Hughes said "a few kids at the back of the crowd" had thrown the debris.

The incident, which followed demonstrations by blacks and Cuban exiles, occurred as Carter left a meeting with black leaders in Liberty City, the neighborhood burned and looted last month in racial riots that claimed 16 lives. Police in riot gear cleared the block and the only damages reported were broken windows on another motorcade vehicle. Carter's car was nicked by a beer bottle.

"I think the bottle-throwing incident is a natural expression of people who are frustrated," said Mayor Maurice Ferre. "Most of the crowd wasn't involved...I don't think they were throwing bottles at Jimmy Carter, but at the presidency. This is a continuation of the other — it is an expression."

Ferre said he feared "this one little incident that took five seconds" would detract from Carter's attempt to soothe raw nerves in the black and Cuban communities with promises of jobs, justice and compassion.

Armour Meeting is Disrupted; Union Will Decide Tomorrow

By JIM STEIERT
Brand Farm Editor

Members of the United Food and Commercial Workers union employed at the Armour Foods Hereford plant will "have it out," as one union member put it, during a closed union session Wednesday to determine if there is sufficient interest between the union and Armour Foods to renegotiate a contract to keep Armour's beef slaughtering plant here open.

That development comes in the wake of an information meeting that almost wasn't Sunday afternoon at the Bull Barn.

Sunday's session was called to give union and prospective union members an opportunity to express their opinion on the status of the announced shutdown of Armour's plant here and their views on the possibility of renegotiating a contract with the Phoenix-based company.

The afternoon session was brief, frequently disrupted, and revealed only the dissatisfaction of union members with the way things are now.

Sparsely attended, the session drew only about 50 out of a work force of 450 at the Hereford Armour plant.

Thomas Reed, a member of the UFCW who organized the meeting emphasized at its beginning that the session did not represent an effort to break the union here, and from that point on, remained under fire from members of the audience for most of the brief 30-minute session inside the Bull Barn.

Tom Lawson, an employee of Armour for 14 years, took the floor during a question and answer period and commented: "I feel like we're just wasting our time. The Chamber of Commerce in Memphis Tennessee did the same thing the chamber here is doing and it didn't change a thing: The best thing that can happen is for Armour to make up its mind and act accordingly, but this meeting is a waste of time."

Lawson, whose comments referred to the role of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce in securing the building for Sunday's meeting then walked out of the session and was followed by the majority of those present.

Reed closed the meeting shortly thereafter, but an informal session of Armour workers on the Bull Barn parking lot ensued and the real dialogue of the afternoon took place there.

Albert Garza, a seven-year member of the UFCW, pleaded with Armour employees for a reason in attempting to resolve the issue of a wage scale relative to the Hereford Armour plant.

"If we don't try to act reasonably we can't accomplish anything. We have to get together and discuss this thing so that the union can do something for us," claimed Garza.

Garza then became involved in a running debate with Paul Dennett, president of the local UFCW, concerning the role of the union here and Armour's interest in the fate of the local plant.

"This whole business is between Armour and the Union. The city shouldn't be involved. They didn't give a damn about Armour until they found out how important we were, until it hit them in the pocketbook," charged Dennett.

Garza countered, "We are all union members and we have a right to be protected by the union. Shouldn't the union try and help us if we want to keep the plant open here?"

Reed again became involved in the conversation, asking questions of Jesse Alaniz, a 20-year employee with Armour who worked at a San Angelo plant that was closed down by the firm.

Alaniz maintained that the local plant will be closed down despite what is done locally to keep it open.

"Are you saying that the union did everything it could in San Angelo to help the Armour plant there stay open, and that the company still closed it anyway?" asked Reed.

"That's right," Alaniz answered, adding, "If you want to put up $2 million of your own money here you can save the Hereford plant, otherwise it's gone."

World Oil Cartel Displays Signs of Split Over Prices

ALGIERS, Algeria (AP) — Iran and Iraq got into a shouting match at the OPEC meeting during the night, Qatar stalked off and Saudi Arabia stayed away, another sign the world oil cartel is so badly split it won't be able to compromise on a uniform price.

But conference sources said even without a compromise that prices would stay about the same for the rest of 1980.

The sources said during the session Monday night that Iranian Oil Minister Ali Akhbar Moïnfar accused Iraq and Saudi Arabia of "serving American imperialism by raising production rates."

They said Iraqi Oil Minister Tayeb Abdel-Karim shouted back that Iraq was the first power in the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries to nationalize Western-owned oil operations.

The sources said Saudi Arabia's minister did not even attend and Qatar's walked out of the hall in the middle of the session. However, all 13 ministers are to meet today to take up the pricing issue in detail.

Iraq has proposed that all OPEC nations charge $32 a barrel for their oil. Under the proposal, OPEC hawks — including Iran — would have to drop present prices by $3 a barrel, middle-of-the-roaders would raise theirs $2 and Saudi Arabia, which produces one-third of all OPEC oil, would increase prices $4.

But Moïnfar said "there was no way" Iran would decrease prices, that he was "sure" there would be no agreement and that along with Algeria, Libya and Nigeria, Iran will continue to sell oil for as much as it can get for it.

Iraq and Iran are at ideological odds and recently, have engaged in sporadic fighting along their shared border. Iran accuses Iraq of being a stooge of the United States.

For different reasons than Iran, Saudi Oil Minister Sheik Ahmed Zaki Yamani is resisting the Iraqi plan, which would raise the world's oil bill and boost U.S. gasoline and heating oil costs more than 7 cents a gallon.

Yamani told reporters he was "very pessimistic" the pricing-structuring plan would succeed. The Saudis oppose the plan in hopes that a slackening demand on world oil markets will force other OPEC nations to charge less for their oil later this year, conference sources said.

Yamani recently predicted oil prices will collapse by fall because of reduced demand caused in part by the U.S. recession.

Members of the 20-year-old organization have not been able to agree on a uniform pricing policy since February, 1979. Several previous efforts to restore uniformity have failed, most recently at the organization's meeting last December in Caracas, Venezuela.

Small Quake

Shakes Panhandle

AMARILLO, Texas (AP) — One woman said her house swayed, but no damage or injuries were reported from a small earthquake that rumbled through the Texas Panhandle and western Oklahoma Monday evening.

The U.S. Geological Survey's Earthquake Information Center in Golden, Colo., said the 5:37 p.m. CDT tremor registered 3.6 on the Richter scale.

The National Weather Service here said the quake, which lasted only a few seconds, was felt 70 to 80 miles from the epicenter in the Miami area of the eastern Panhandle.

"It shook parts of Gary, Hudson, Carson and Potter counties," a NWS spokesman said.

Sinkhole Feasts, Then Grows Quiet

KERMIT, Texas (AP) — The West Texas sinkhole, apparently satisfied with a 50-foot by 8-foot chunk of earth it had for breakfast Monday, was quiet the rest of the day. Cracks extending from the crater continued to widen, however, and officials theorized a recent rain may have been a factor.

Winkler County Sheriff's Deputy Randy Tenney said the latest cave-in occurred on a corner of the chasm away from Petro Lewis Corp.'s oil well and Shell Oil Co.'s tank farm.

CWA Strike Will End

SAN ANGELO, Texas (AP) — Communications Workers of America pickets will end Wednesday, and strikers will start returning to work at General Telephone Sunday.

The strike termination, announced jointly by representatives for the Union and General Telephone Co. of the Southwest Monday, came after negotiators reached a tentative settlement in the three-week strike.

Union spokesmen said the strike will end at 12:01 a.m. Wednesday. Members will receive ratification ballots in the mail, and CWA officials said they expected the vote to take two or three weeks.

Workers will be called back by seniority beginning Sunday, and by June 30, all workers should be back on the job, the spokesmen said.

Commissioner Vincent Guy of the Federal Mediation Service announced about 3:30 a.m. Monday that the two sides had reached a settlement.

Pryor Given

1 in 3 Chance

SHERMAN OAKS, Calif. (AP) — Comedian Richard Pryor, burned over 50 percent of his body when a cigarette lighter exploded, remained in critical condition early today with only a one-in-three chance of surviving, a hospital spokesman said.

Only 33 percent of third-degree burn victims injured as severely as Pryor recover, according to physicians treating the celebrity at Sherman Oaks Community Hospital.

Pryor, 39, was severely burned over his chest, back, face and arms, Grossman said.

Sgt. Hal DeLong of the Los Angeles Police Devonshire Division said officers were called to Pryor's home in Northridge when the accident occurred and were told he had run screaming from the house when his clothes caught fire.

Weather

West Texas — Partly cloudy and warmer through Wednesday. Widely scattered late afternoon and nighttime thunderstorms south this afternoon and tonight. Highs 80s north to near 100 Big Bend. Lows 60s except 70s Big Bend. Highs Wednesday 90s except near 105 Big Bend.

Sheriff

Beardall responded that the issue should be allowed to be resolved in the courts and Tuddenham then stated, "I would urge the county to be very careful about going on record in support of any meeting without knowing more about who is behind the meeting. The county should be very careful in who and what it endorses."

TRLA supporters expressed concern over efforts to cut off funding for an agency whose primary purpose is to represent those who cannot afford private attorneys in civil matters.

"If there is concern over TRLA's violating the charter of the Legal Services Corporation, there is a forum in which it can be decided before an unbiased judge," stated Beardall.

County Judge Glen Nelson eventually intervened in the debate between the TRLA attorneys and McPherson and asked a series of questions of his own.

Speaking to Beardall he stated, "Do you feel TRLA has exceeded its authority in Deaf Smith County? Who tells you what action to take?"

Beardall replied, "We represent clients in essentially the same manner as regular private attorneys and explain the alternatives open to them. It is up to the client as to what line of action we follow."

Nelson: "There have been charges TRLA has solicited clients in the Deaf Smith County Jail."

Beardall: "There have been instances where clients we have been representing have been in jail and we have met with them there if the need arose."

Nelson: "I believe you'll recall that when your office opened here, I was there and spoke with you then, stating that I felt both your purpose and our own was to see that fair and equal justice is administered. But when these rumors come around about your soliciting cases here, I have some doubts."

Beardall: "I don't think there have been any instances where we have advised people criminally. We have assisted in getting their referrals to criminal attorneys."

Nelson: "Some of these accusations have been made in an attempt to determine if TRLA has actually violated its charter."

Beardall: "If you have information indicating that we (TRLA) violated our charter, I would encourage you to pursue it. As long as there is full disclosure of information to the public concerning the purpose of organizations and the identity of the agencies holding meetings in that regard. If you have complaints over alleged violations of regulations by TRLA I urge commission members to come around to our office here. As a matter of courtesy I would encourage you to invite any of us to either public or private meetings with you to discuss such matters."

Nelson: "That's the way it ought to be done, but we don't seem to have had the opportunity to meet beforehand with TRLA before you filed suit against the county."

Beardall: "That's left up to the discretion of our clients, whether there are any negotiations. It is our responsibility to outline their alternatives to them. I urge the county to allow the legally established process to deal with the issues, rather than to take action which would deprive those who are entitled to legal representation of their right to be heard in court."

Following the exchanges between McPherson, Judge Nelson and the TRLA spokesmen, Commissioner Bruce Coleman moved to table the issue of endorsing McPherson's participation in the Austin session over continued funding for TRLA.

Coleman then questioned the process by which TRLA was awarded court costs in a recent case it won concerning re-apportionment of precincts in neighboring Castro County. Beardall explained the procedure is similar to that followed by private attorneys, adding that TRLA attorneys are entitled to be paid for court costs in such an instance, "rather than having our already limited resources diminished."

Coleman then quizzed Beardall concerning several complaints he has heard of the TRLA attorneys refusing to take the cases of indigents here.

"We are set up to represent migrant and seasonal agricultural laborers. Some are turned away because they do not meet this criteria. We also have to make some priority decisions on the cases we will take. Our funding limits us in how many individuals we can represent," stated Beardall.

After a repeated invitation for the county commissioners to enter into dialogue with TRLA attorneys at any time

they have questions about TRLA's operations here, Coleman remarked: "We appreciate your offer of an open door policy, but we would also appreciate some dialogue from you before we're sued next time."

Following their debate with the TRLA attorneys county commissioners heard comments from Rinaldo Garcia, who presented petitions containing approximately 1,000 signatures from local residents in support of the TRLA office here.

"I don't think all of the people resent TRLA being here. Everybody should have their day in court," stated Garcia.

Garcia reported that a copy of the petitions in support of the TRLA has been forwarded to Rep. Kent Hance along with Senators John Tower and Lloyd Bentsen.

Commissioners voted to accept the petitions to end what was one of the longest and possibly most nerve-stretching portions of Monday's regular commission meeting.

Armour

Claims were then circulated that an "outsider" disrupted a union meeting here recently when the issue of the Hereford plant closing and possible re-negotiations were to be considered.

One union member pleaded, "Those of you who don't care about Armour or keeping a plant open here, please don't interfere with the efforts of those who do, or hurt our future in this town."

Several employees expressed concern about maintaining seniority with the Armour firm, pointing out they would lose seniority pay, vacation time and other benefits if they are forced to work for another firm. Many expressed their intention to transfer with the company, if they have sufficient seniority, but concern was expressed by many who will not have that opportunity due to their low accumulation of time with Armour.

One union member expressed his confidence that another company will take over the beef slaughtering facility operated by Armour here, but announced his plans won't keep him in Hereford in the event that occurs.

"We know someone else will take this plant, located in this area like this. I'll transfer with Armour if I can though, and keep my seniority and benefits," he stated.

While most of those in attendance were left wondering just exactly what had been accomplished in holding Sunday afternoon's meeting, the session evidently touched off sufficient dialogue to force some new action on the matter of the Armour shutdown and possible contract negotiations.

representatives of Armour present at a union meeting to hear input on the matter after oft-repeated questions of "Where are the Armour people?"

Indications from those gathered at the Bull Barn were that such an invitation might be welcome, and union members also called for some participation by the Washington office of the UFCW in helping to work out some type of compromise on the issue.

The overriding sentiment

expressed by most at the session, however, is that they would look elsewhere for employment before accepting a wage cut here.

Dennett wrapped up the parking lot debate by stating, "Let's hear a proposal from Armour and then I'll sit down and talk. This is between Armour and the union. The city shouldn't be involved. We have a union meeting set for Wednesday at Armour; and we need to have this out then."

Ambulance Makes Emergency Runs

Emergency units from the Deaf Smith General Hospital made two ambulance runs Monday to the scene of an industrial accident and a one-vehicle mishap on FM 2943.

Danny Mendoza, 20, of Friona, was treated and released at Deaf Smith General after a half-beef fell on him while he was working at Caviness Packing Co. here, Mendoza suffered bruises in that mishap.

Shortly before 1 p.m.

Monday emergency units were summoned to the site of a one-vehicle accident on FM 2943.

Ben Shreve, 62, was the victim in that accident. He suffered a fractured hip and broken ribs and was admitted to Deaf Smith General.

According to an investigating DPS trooper, Shreve was northbound in a 1971 Ford pickup when one of the vehicle's tires blew out, causing the pickup to strike a highline pole.

Bryant Claims Gain

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Rep. John Bryant, D-Dallas, said Monday he had a "significant net gain" of votes for speaker as a result of the Democratic run-off primaries for the Texas House on Saturday.

He termed the results of the 14 run-offs a "major setback" for Speaker Bill Clayton and for Rep. Gil Lewis, D-Fort Worth, the leading conservative candidate to succeed Clayton if Clayton drops out of the speaker's race.

"I had a significant net gain in terms of certain votes next January while Mr. Lewis sustained a noticeable net loss of votes, including those of three incumbents who were defeated," Bryant said.

County

Commissioners voted to award a contract to R.W. Taylor Construction Co. for the installation of a sewer system at the San Jose Labor camp south of Hereford.

The firm submitted the low bid of just over $276,000 at the commission's previous meeting and the commissioners had to seek the express approval of EDA and HUD before making the award.

Word of approval from those two agencies was received Monday, and the action of the commission will set the actual construction process in motion.

Commissioners also granted Warner Lawson and Jake Diel permission to install 500 feet of curb and gutter on a property line on Progressive Road at owner expense.

In another matter relative to the San Jose community, commissioners voted approval of a Community Action Corporation Self-Help Grant for San Jose, which will involve weatherization and rehabilitation work on residences at the labor camp.

Roy Rogers of the Panhandle Community Action agency appeared before the commission to explain the ramifications of the program, pointing out that PCA will handle the funding for such projects for the San Jose area in the event that a grant is approved.

"People would do the work themselves under supervision on the houses we feel could be brought up to standard by this program. The PCA is willing to supervise if the residents are willing to do the work," Rogers stated.

Rogers reported that there are 210 families at San Jose and that approximately 52 families would be eligible for the self-help program.

He estimated an average of $2,000 per house in rehabilitation expenses.

"Even if we don't get a grant we'll try to do weatherization on some of the houses at San Jose," stated Rogers.

Monday's action concerning the self-help program marked the latest in a long string of actions by the county commission over the past two years aimed at improving living conditions in the San Jose community.

Foremost among the efforts has been the installation of a $600,000 water system at San Jose through grants obtained for the project, and the sewer system, to be constructed with grant funds obtained through the efforts of the county commission and other groups.

In a period of discussion on seal coating and paving of county roads, Commissioner Bruce Coleman moved that the precincts divide revenue sharing transportation funds amounting to $187,000.

The motion, which was approved, gave each precinct approximately $46,000 for seal coating and road work.

In subsequent action, the commissioners approved seal coating of six miles of roadway in Precincts 2 and 3, and four miles of seal coating plus road work in Precinct 1, all to be paid for out of those same revenue sharing funds.

Precinct 4 Commissioner James Voyles reported that he is

Wishing Well Fight Investigated

By DAWN OAKLEY Brand Staff Writer

A fight was reported last night at the Wishing Well, 201 N. Main, and it was alleged that one of the combatants had a gun, police said.

Upon arriving at the scene police were flagged down by security guard James Russell who told them that Paul Moreno had been severely beaten.

When police put Moreno in the car, a group of people began shouting that a man with a gun had fled down the alley, and police proceeded to check out the alley, they said.

Russell, however, called the officers back, and said that he had chased a man with a gun in the direction of the courthouse, but had been unable to catch him.

The security guard refused, however, to give police a statement, and none of the onlookers would identify the man, according to police. "No body wanted to put the finger on him," police said.

During the confusion, police received a report that there was a man with a gun at the city pool.

Upon arriving at the pool, police found that deputies had a man in custody. Deputies claimed the man had been holding something shiny in his hand, which he apparently threw away when they tried to apprehend him.

No weapon was found by police after a thorough search of the park.

Two Allsup's stores were robbed over the weekend, and an undertermined amount of money taken, police said.

Denis Vigil, 20 of 111 Bradley, as arrested and charged with two counts of robbery.

The first holdup was reported to police by the store at 15th and 8th, and the license number of the suspect's vehicle was also given to officers.

Police sent a car to the house where the vehicle was registered.

Seventeen minutes later, the store at S. Main and Austin was held up, but the man was arrested by police waiting at his house when he returned.

Some of the money was recovered, police said.

Someone apparently went on a shooting spree last night, putting holes in windows at several businesses.

Taylor's Furniture at 603 E. Park reported three holes shot in a plate glass window, police said.

La Plata Insurance Agency, 914 E. Park, had small holes in two windows, while Thriftway, 426 N. Main, had holes in three windows.

Radio Shack, 311 N. Main, had a hole in a plate glass window, and Garza Discount Center, 116 E. 2nd, had holes in two plate glass windows. Damage there was estimated at $400.

Tommy's T.V. at 309 N. Main reported damage of $23 when the plate glass window at that firm was shot out.

Hereford Glass Co. at 1302 E. Park and Hereford Janitorial Supply at 1301 E. Park also reported small holes having been shot in their windows.

Maurilio Iruegas of 209 Brevard reported that the left front window had been shot out of his '61 Ford Pickup.

Police said that all the damage was done with either a BB or pellet gun.

Several hundred dollars worth of meat was ruined at O.J.'s Drive In, 1605 E. Park.

According to police, someone tore the screen door off and went in, propping the door to the freezer open. Nothing was taken.

Several prowler reports are under investigation, police said. Lynn Tarr of 307 16th, reported a prowler trying to enter through the front door.

Alan Thompson of 410 W. 3rd reported that someone had been in his house, but nothing had been taken.

A man and his wife in the 300 block of Star reported that someone had tried to enter through their back door, but had been topped by the chain latch.

One man was attacked when he confronted a prowler at his house.

Gilbert Alaviz, 601 Austin, also reported a prowler at his residence and told officers he was struck by the individual.

Several robberies were also reported to police over the weekend.

A watch, a set of rings, and a Home Box Office attachment were taken from a house at 716 Ave. F.

Three orange and blue tents, valued at $300 were taken from a trailer in the 1500 Block of 17th.

Richard Lyn Black of 505 25 Mile Ave., reported that his car was broken in to while parked on the Avenue Baptist Church parking lot.

His two way speakers and eight track tape player were taken.

A radar detector valued at $286, and $90 worth of tapes were taken from a truck parked at the Red Carpet Inn.

Ann Landers

Kinky Sex

DEAR ANN LANDERS: What can I do about my husband? We have been married 11 years. He insists that we make love in front of the fireplace (on the floor), in the shower, on our back lawn, in the car -- parked at the very place we did our early courting. Now he wants to buy a waterbed because he heard it's "different."

I love him madly. He's a terrific person and a great guy, but is this sort of behavior normal?

I am ashamed to discuss the matter with anyone I know. I could never get the words out. Please tell me what to do. -- Pennsylvania Doubter

DEAR P.D.: Count your blessings, honey, and hope it lasts.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My bride-to-be is physically stronger than I am and doesn't know it.

I made this discovery in a "tickling game" when I found myself underneath "Jane" with my shoulders pinned to the floor. I demanded a rematch, thinking it was just luck -- but it happened again. Afterwards she said I should not have let her win. (Well, I didn't.)

Jane is not an Amazon. She is five inches shorter and weighs at least 25 pounds less than I. She grew up with brothers and is a fine athlete.

I don't care if Jane is stronger, but I wonder if this is some kind of kinky sex turn-on or if she's a women's lib type who takes special delight in beating a male.

I don't want my future home to be a battleground. Shall I talk this out with Jane, or let her think I'm something I am not? -- Harrassed

DEAR HAR: Talk it out. You may learn something of value. And while we're on the subject, "tickling" games, wrestling and roughhousing between sweethearts is adolescent, unattractive and could be a little sadistic.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: You really threw the book (in fact the whole damned library) at the woman who thought her mother should pay for the gas when she drove her around to do chores. You undoubtedly made a few friends among the mother crowd, but I'll bet plenty of daughters hated your answer.

I also wonder how many mothers mailed that column to their daughters. There's nothing like pouring on the guilt with the help of an "expert". You do know how to make trouble. Buttercup.

I have a hunch the woman who wrote was exhausted from hauling her mother around. I've been there, and I know the feeling. Do you have an idea how many mothers, aunts, cousins, sisters and neighbors impose on a person who has a car? Well, I do, and it's a pain in the lower extremities.

You will never print my letter, but I feel a lot better for having gotten this off my chest. You're not always right, Ann, but you're always there. Thanks, Toots. -- Glendale, Cal.

DEAR CAL: Sorry, in spite of the blasts, I'm not budging from my original position. You can have aunts galore, cousins by the dozens, sisters aplenty and loads of neighbors. But you've only got one mother. Assuming she's a decent person, even though she might be a bit of a kvetch, she's entitled to special treatment. So there. Now I've started it all over again.

Do you feel awkward self-conscious -- lonely? Well, come to the club. There's help for you in Ann Landers' booklet, "The Key to Popularity." Send 50 cents with your request and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11995, Chicago, Illinois 60611.

Republican Women Organize Club In Deaf Smith County

Garth Thomas, the Republican county chairman for Deaf Smith County, spoke recently at a meeting of the Deaf Smith County Republican Women's Organization.

Thomas said one thing Republicans can do to help the party is to try and recruit disillusioned Democrats. According to Sue Coleman, recently elected reporter for the club, Thomas said that the Democratic party has now become so liberal that conservative Democrats have found themselves squeezed out.

"Conservative Democrats are now really Republicans in everything but name," Thomas is reported to have said.

Republicans in Deaf Smith County also need to work to have more candidates for local races, Thomas said.

Contests always build interest.

Thomas also reported to the club that six delegates from Deaf Smith County will be going to the Republican state convention, to be held June 21 in Houston.

At this convention, delegates to the national convention will be selected.

Another Republican convention will be held in San Antonio in September, at which time statewide party business will be attended to.

Delegates from Deaf Smith County to the State convention are Carol and Ruth Newsom, Garth and Edwina Thomas, Donna Medina and Sam Nunnally.

Deaf Smith County delegates will be arriving in Houston a day early, in order to participate in a pre-convention social billed as a

"Peanut Stomp."

Also during the meeting, the club's treasurer reported that dues for eighteen members had been sent to the State Republican Women's Organization, through which the county organization receives its charter.

Membership in the newly founded club is open to any interested women in Deaf Smith County, and dues are $13 per year.

Meetings will be held on the second Monday of each month, during the noon hour. Ladies attending may bring a sack lunch if they wish.

According to Sue Coleman, the meetings will be held downtown and at noon in order that working women may be involved.

Monday's meeting was held at the Hereford State Bank.

At Wits End

By ERMA BOMBECK

Dressing for success was never one of my priorities. When you write from a utility room, your changes for making it big in the corporate world are somewhat limited no matter what you wear.

What I'm really "into" is how to dress for intimidation. I'm not just talking about luncheons where the deafening sound of ultra-suede rubbing together makes conversation impossible. I'm talking about little tricks women employ to make you feel inadequate.

One of these days I'm going to have a charm bracelet that sounds like an anvil every time I hoist my glass. Embarrassed by the clatter, I will hastily explain. "I told my husband a typewriter charm with 44 diamonds on each key was too much, but he insisted. And of course my six grandchildren, Robin, Ricky, Renee, Rush, Richie and Rothmoor had to be immortalized in gold!"

I dream of the day when I sail into a room with one of those organizer handbags that has a pocket for everything, and everything for a pocket. Oh, I had one once, but I stored discarded nose tissue under credit cards; safety pins under passport; pizza coupons under calculator, and a broken watch under address book.

Do you know what I'd give to walk into a room wearing shoes with a big "G" on the heels that stood for Gucci and not Grasshopper?

Of course, there's nothing that intimidates me more than to enter a room with a woman dressed completely in white. Talk about clothes making a statement! Everyone who crowds around her knows and respects her. When her clothes talk, everyone listens. She is thumbing her nose at the world. Bring on your mustard oozing out of a sandwich, your dusty chairs, your friendly dogs, your long cigarette ashes, your clumsy waiters, your filled-to-the-brim coffee cups, your oil on the car door, your low-flying birds. This woman is defying the odds.

And if she's wearing a hat...that tears it. It doesn't matter if it's a large brim, a veil with an ostrich plume, a beach straw, or a tennis cap with a visor. I feel as practical as a woman who launders and hangs her zip-lock bags out to dry.

But the real test of security is the tennis court. I sprang for the tennis dress, Chrissie Evert shoes, little socks with the ball fringe over the heel, and a racket press, but the moment my opponent walks out wearing a sweatband...it's all over.

Thompson's To Meet For Family Reunion

June 13, 14, and 15 will be the dates for the 30th annual Thompson Family Reunion, to be held in the Ramada Inn in Amarillo.

According to Jewel Thompson Bryce, secretary for the Thompson Family Reunion, between 75 and 90 people are expected to attend.

The 30 year old tradition started in 1951, when the first Thompson Family Reunion was held on July 4th, in Breckenridge. 43 people attended that first gathering, when the family had a picnic-style barbecue and went boating and swimming. During the fifties, the annual reunion was held in various towns in West-Texas, including Breckenridge, Hereford, and Lubbock, but the site was finally set permanently in Amarillo.

Although one of the original Thompson sisters is now dead, the family has grown until in 1979 there were 92 people in attendance at the reunion.

This year, family members will be gathering from New Mexico, California, Oklahoma, Louisiana, Mississippi, Colorado, Kansas, Maine, and Pennsylvania. The family is originally from Hereford.

Jesus Rally Approaches

Hereford and area churches will be sponsoring a Jesus Rally, to be held June 27 and June 28 in the Deaf Smith County Bull Barn.

Programs, consisting of special singing and ministering of the word, will begin at 7:30 each evening.

The rally is open to the public.

Goodwin Receives Degree

Gwendolyn L. Goodwin, a 1976 graduate of Hereford High, recently received her undergraduate degree in English from Evangel College in Springfield, Mo.

Miss Goodwin, the daughter of Sandra L. Goodwin of Springfield, received her degree with honors.

During commencement, Miss Goodwin received the Robert J. Greer Award. During her college career, she was a member of the Epiphany staff, an English club publication consisting of student writings.

Families at home can also play an important role in 4-H exchange programs by hosting 4-H'ers in their homes for one to three weeks.

Former 4-H'ers interested in international understanding can spend three to six months in one of 35 cooperating countries as an International 4-H Youth Exchange delegate. During their stay, delegates live with host families, studying 4-H programs abroad and sharing customs and traditions.

Elks Celebrate Flag Day

Special ceremonies will be held at Hereford Elks Lodge located at 131 E. 2nd, on Sunday, June 15, at 3 p.m. The Elks have long endorsed Flag Day, which commemorates the adoption of the Stars and Stripes as the official flag of the United States on June 14, 1777 by the Continental Congress.

In 1908 the Elks became the first fraternal order to mandate the observance of Flag Day throughout the organization. Flag Day did not become an official national holiday until 1949 when President Harry Truman, himself an Elk, signed a resolution.

"A courageous display of support for our country and its flag, just as Harry Truman manifested through his ultimate endorsement of Flag Day observance will demonstrate our country's resolve to stand united," Jerry Johnson exalted ruler of Hereford Elks Lodge said.

The Hereford Elks are calling on local residents to make a special effort to commemorate the Stars and Stripes on Flag Day, June 14, as a demonstration of public support for this country.

On that day over 1.7 million of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, including the local members of Hereford lodge will honor the flag and renew their faith in America as part of a special ceremony.

"The state of world affairs, the conditions in the Middle East, and the feeling that our property and citizens overseas can be unlawfully seized and held without recourse, now more than ever before, requires a public display of solidarity in this country," Johnson said. "We call on the citizens of Hereford to join us in honoring the flag, the symbol of freedom and humanity throughout the world," Johnson said. "Americans have had little opportunity to show unified support for their country since the crisis in the Middle East," he continued. "Flag Day offers that unique opportunity to demonstrate the solidarity of support for our country."

4-H'ers Learn Through Travel

By AGNES TAYLOR
Assistant County Extension Agent

Summer is ideal travel time. And this year hundreds of boys and girls will combine vacations and learning through the Texas 4-H and youth program.

Through short-term exchange trips, 4-H'ers travel to other Texas counties to learn about the area history, industry and agriculture. Intra-state exchanges also help stimulate new program ideas for 4-H volunteer leaders and members.

Several Texas counties conduct two-year interstate exchange programs. These involve travelling one year to a selected county in the United States and then hosting the out-of-state 4-H program the next year. The young people with the help of their county Extension agents and volunteer leaders select a 4-H group similar to their own. For example, a 4-H ecology project group in Texas may visit a similar group in Tennessee to study their educational activities.

Hereford-Borger Duo Captures Partnership Golf Title Here

Borger's Butch Turner and James Salinas of Hereford should have possibly received an interior decorating merit award for their efforts in the Hereford Men's Golf Partnership here Saturday.

They had just turned the tables around in fine fashion, and as a result became the disrupters of the championship flight after slipping with a first round total of 70 and then vaulting back with a final round 63 to win the affair at 133.

Brothers Keith Kitchens from Shallowater and Kelly Kitchens of Hereford drove in the lowest first round score of the flight's field with a 65 and finished up the tournament match with 69 for a one stroke shy total of 134.

But the Kitchens clan did manage to retain solid command of the second place berth in the flight while three other competing teams failed to break a third place stalemate.

way tie after driving in a 68-71-139.

Amarillo's Doug Barron and Glenn White did their part to win the first flight competition after adding up a 67-69-136. Dennis Beebe and Larry Lewis of Borger outdistanced second flight

Hereford Legion Team Splits With Borger, Bows to Canyon

After dividing a twinbill with Borger Friday, the Hereford American Legion baseball team lost a 7-6 extra-inning game to Canyon here Sunday afternoon.

The Sunday contest was tied 6-6 after the regular seven innings. In the eighth, losing pitcher Mike Mason was attempting to give an intentional walk to Canyon's Watson, in order to load the bases and hope for a force-out.

Watson crossed up the strategy when a pitch came to close to the plate, and he reached out and stroked a single. Mason gave up 11 hits in the game, while striking out nine and walking five.

Hereford collected only one hit--a double by Randy Kerr--but eight Canyon errors enabled the locals to stay in the contest. Hereford also had nine stolen bases in the game. Harben was the winning pitcher.

The teams usually play a doubleheader, but only one game was played after the umpires showed up late.

At Amarillo Friday, Hereford scored a close 7-6 victory in the second game of the twinbill, after losing the opener by a 10-3 count.

Matt Collier and Ron Plummer limited Borger to five hits in the opener, but six walks issued by Collier and three errors afield led to the 10 runs by Borger. Hereford recorded six hits in the losing cause. Mark Tucker slashed a two-bagger.

In the second game, Steve Bartels had four runs-batted-in, including the game-winning blow as Hereford tallied a 7-6 win. Randy Kerr gave up six and six hits in winning. He struck out eight and didn't issue a walk.

Bartels rapped a triple to drive in two runs for Hereford. Cosper went 2-for-3 at the plate.

Hereford plays Tascosa in Amarillo's Bonshaw Park at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Martin Charges Umpire Pushed, Wants Suspension

OAKLAND (AP) -- What's good for baseball player Bill Madlock should be good for baseball umpire Dale Ford, according to Oakland A's Manager Billy Martin.

American League President Lee MacPhail will have to decide whether, as Martin charges, Ford pushed the manager during an argument early in Sunday's game against the Boston Red Sox.

"If Madlock can be suspended and fined, so should an umpire. There should be no double standard," said Martin, citing the case of the Pittsburgh Pirates' third baseman now under suspension for sticking his glove in an umpire's face.

Ford denied pushing Martin during their argument, which followed Martin's ejection from the game, and the umpire also denied Martin's charge that he challenged the manager to fight after the game.

"I'd say he was the one doing the challenging," said Ford, who is in his fifth season as a major league umpire.

He said he "might have brushed" Martin as they faced off near home plate, but said the allegation he pushed the manager was "an out-and-out lie."

Martin said television tapes will prove him correct, and he said a radio reporter's tape of the postgame confrontation also will support his story. Ken Kaiser, a former professional wrestler in the 250-pound range who was Sunday's third base ump, stepped between Martin and Ford in the second inning and also after the game.

Ford noted that this was his first run-in with Martin, and he said, "After this one, I don't believe it'll be my last."

Both Ford and Martin talked by telephone Monday with MacPhail to give their versions of the action, which started after Ford ruled in the second inning that the A's Tony Armas struck out on a swing he tried to check. Martin said he merely yelled from the dugout asking Ford to check on the call with another umpire and that Ford ejected him before he left the dugout. Under baseball rules, a manager automatically is ejected if he comes out of the dugout to protest a strike call.

"He took one step onto the field, and that's when I ran him," said Ford.

Richie Phillips, executive director of the Major League Umpires Association, said in Philadelphia Monday: "From everything I have received to this moment, I would say that the association will support Dale Ford in every way, but before making a definitive statement, I want the opportunity to look at the (video) tape, to see the written report and to hear the cassette of the conversation between Ford and Martin."

He added: "I have always had a great deal of respect for Dale Ford as an umpire and for Billy Martin as a manager. I know that he (Martin) is somewhat feisty, and has been somewhat problemsome to some of the umpires over the years, but I've a always had great deal of respect for him as being a great competitor."

Astros Beat Cubs, 6-2; Cards Snap Loss Streak

By BRUCE LOWITT
AP Sports Writer

It took a while for Whitey Herzog to get his first victory as a National League manager. But that was nothing compared to how long it took San Francisco to win its game Monday night.

"We went through a lot of these games last year," Herzog said after the former Kansas City Royals manager returned triumphantly — sort of — to the major leagues at the St. Louis Cardinals' helm.

Herzog, succeeding Ken Boyer, needed a lot of help from George Hendrick, namely his run-scoring single in the first inning, RBI-double in the sixth and three-run homer in the 10th inning that gave the Cardinals a nail-biting 8-5 victory over Atlanta and ended their five-game losing streak.

It took the Cards 2½ hours to make Herzog a winner. In Philadelphia, it took an incredible 7½ hours from first pitch to last — including the five-hour rain delay — before the Giants locked up a 3-1 victory.

Elsewhere on the National League's weather-plagued schedule, the Cincinnati

Reds and San Diego Padres played to a 6-6 tie with the game called for 10½ innings following 3½ hours of rain delays, the Los Angeles Dodgers' game against the Mets in New York was rained out before it began and the Houston Astros beat the Chicago Cubs 6-2. Pittsburgh and Montreal were not scheduled.

The Cardinals still have the worst record in the majors, 19-34, having won only six of their last 28 games. "We dug a little hole for ourselves," the 48-year-old Herzog said, "and we've got to put a streak together to get back in it (the pennant race). And that's hard to do without good pitching."

He got five innings of good pitching from 41-year-old Jim Kaat, then the Braves began chipping away at St. Louis' 5-0 lead, finally tying it in the ninth on Glenn Hubbard's RBI-single off winning reliever John Littlefield.

"It's tough when in my first game back my starting pitcher's older than me," Herzog joked before the game, nodding toward Kaat. And after the see-saw affair

Herzog joked again: "A laugher. That's the way they say all our games have been."

"I was very particular about the job I'd take," he said. "This was the first one offered to me — so I took it."

"I don't think we are a last-place club," he said of the Cards, who trail fifth-place Chicago by five games and first-place Montreal by 12 in the NL East. "Things have happened and I'm not blaming anybody. We've just got to right it."

In the 10th inning, Keith Hernandez walked and Ted Simmons, who had homered in the third inning, singled off Larry Bradford before Hendrick greeted Gene Garber with his 12th homer of the year.

Giants 3, Phils 1
For four innings Steve Carlton pitched perfect ball and had a 1-0 lead thanks to Bob Boone's homer. Then the rains came...and came...and came...

And when they finally stopped, Carlton lost his perfect game. And after he left, the Phils lost the game as well when Jack Clark unloaded a two-run homer off Dickie Noles in the eighth inning.

Umpire Bob Engel, the crew chief, insisted he wasn't thinking about Carlton's potential perfect game when he refused to call the game a washout.

"I'd like to see it stop, get the game in, get the gate in, be fair to both sides," he said during the delay. "There are so many things to consider. You're damned if you do and you're damned if you don't."

Reds 6, Padres 6
San Diego appeared to have a 6-2 victory in the bag, especially when it started pouring in the middle of the eighth inning. But the ump's waited out the rain and, more than 1½ hours later, play resumed.

And in the ninth, Cincinnati erupted for four runs, three on Dave Concepcion's bases-loaded double, the other one on Ken Griffey's single. Dave Collins had a two-run homer for the Reds in the fifth while Jerry Turner and Willie Montanez each drove in three runs for the Padres.

Astros 6, Cubs 2
Ken Forsch retired the first 15 Chicago batters he faced, then needed relief help in the sixth inning to pick up the victory. But it was his two hits, one of them a run-scoring single in Houston's five-run third inning, that had him smiling. "I enjoyed that," he said. "I enjoyed getting those hits as much as anything else."

Follow Through

Arkansas Wins Pair; Tulsa Sweeps Jackson

By The Associated Press

Fred Tisdale's grand slam home run powered the Arkansas Travelers to a 5-1 victory over the Shreveport Captains Monday night in the first game of a Texas League doubleheader.

Arkansas also won the nightcap, 2-0. In other Texas League action, San Antonio beat El Paso, 8-4, and Tulsa swept a doubleheader from Jackson, 4-1 and 7-0. Amarillo's game at Midland was postponed because of wet grounds.

Wayne Pechek's solo homer accounted for Shreveport's only run in the first game of the twin bill.

LONDON (AP) — Roscoe Tanner struggled for almost two hours to beat Rod Flawley 3-6, 6-1, 9-7 in the first round of the Stella Artois Tennis Grand Prix at the Queen's Club.

Jackson Sparks Yanks; Seattle Rallies by Bosox

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

Despite swinging from the left side of the plate, the Yankee slugger has been defying baseball logic by hitting southpaws with unaccustomed regularity.

Eight of his 11 homers have been socked off left-handers, including one Monday night that helped the Yankees beat the California Angels 8-7 in 10 innings.

"I usually hit better against right-handers," said Jackson, who can enjoy it but can't explain his success against southpaws.

In addition to his dramatic solo homer in the ninth inning off Dave LaRoche, which tied the game at 7-7, Jackson had a two-run double off LaRoche in the seventh, when the Yankees scored four times to wipe out a 4-0 Angel lead.

"My thought was to give the team, the manager and myself the best chance," said Jackson, recalling his thoughts before the seventh-inning double. "I wanted to get the fat of the bat on the ball with a good compact swing."

In the only other American League games Monday night, Baltimore beat Oakland 3-2 and Seattle edged Boston 8-7 in 13 innings. Rain washed out the contest between Kansas City and Cleveland.

After Jackson tied the game in the ninth, Bob Watson won it for New York in the 10th with a two-out RBI single. Bobby Brown had reached base on a fielder's choice and stole second before Watson singled off Dave Lemanczyk, 2-6.

Rich Gossage, 1-0, picked up the victory with 22-3 innings of one-hit relief.

Orioles 3, A's 2

Eddie Murray's sacrifice fly in the ninth inning scored Pat Kelly from third base, leading Baltimore over Oakland. Before Kelly drew a walk, the Orioles had been virtually helpless for more than six innings against the A's Rick Langford, 4-5. After three straight hits in the second inning; Langford retired 22 straight batters.

Ken Singleton sent Kelly to third with a single and Murray followed with his sacrifice fly to right.

"The ball wasn't too deep and I knew the right fielder had a strong arm. But I wasn't going to wait until the 22nd inning," said Kelly after beating Tony Armás' throw to the plate.

Mariners 8, Red Sox 7
Juan Beniquez hit his first homer of the season in the 13th inning, lifting Seattle over Boston. Beniquez hit the first pitch from Dick Drago, 2-3, with one out. Dave Heaverlo, 4-4-0, worked the final 22-3 innings to pick up the victory for Seattle.

Behind 5-0 after three innings, the Mariners finally caught Boston at 6-6 in the seventh on Tom Paciorek's run-scoring single and Jim Anderson's sacrifice fly.

Only 3 Astros Left From 1975 Team

HOUSTON (AP) — Five years after leaving the Astros, Preston Gomez would need a press guide to recognize the Houston Astros lineup now.

"I was talking to (Cub batting instructor) Billy Williams today," said the Chicago manager, who absorbed a 6-2 loss from the Astros Monday night.

"The turnover in this ball club has been tremendous, and it's only been four or five years since I left."

Ken Forsch, J.R. Richard and Cesar Cedeno are the lone regulars remaining from Gomez' 1974-75 tenure. Enos Cabell and Jose Cruz were added the year of his departure.

"They moved Puhl (Terry) up through the system," said Gomez, who is in his maiden season in Chicago after coaching at St. Louis and Los Angeles after his dismissal from the Astros in August of 1975.

"But everybody else has been acquired, even the pitching staff," he said.

But it was home-grown Forsch who roped the Cubs Monday as he banged out two hits and knocked in a run during a six-hit, third-inning rally off Cub starter Dennis Lamp, 4-6.

Forsch, 7-4, lasted 5 2-3 innings before the Cubs touched him for a run on singles by Steve Ontiveros and Tim Lincecum and a double by Mike Tyson. Randy Niemann and Frank La Corte finished up for Forsch, who said his pitching has been better.

"I don't think I had exceptional stuff. Tonight, they were hitting the ball hard. The sixth wasn't anything like I wanted it," Forsch added.

"I was really struggling with my slider. I tried to get a fast ball in on Tyson, and he just turned on it pretty good."

The Astros also turned on Lamp, sparked by a two-base throwing error by Cub left fielder Dave Kingman. Cruz, Denny Walling, Cabell, Cedeno, Alan Ashby and Forsch produced four runs in the third on six consecutive singles, with the last three collecting RBIs. Cruz knocked in a first-inning run with a single after Joe Morgan doubled.

Olympics May Lure U.S. Individuals

LAUSANNE, Switzerland (AP) — The door was still ajar Tuesday for athletes from the United States and other boycotting countries to get into the Olympic Games as individuals.

The executive board of the International Olympic Committee (IOC), meeting in Lausanne less than six weeks before the opening ceremony in Moscow, awaited a report from Arpad Csnadi, its Hungarian member and technical adviser.

The board adjourned earlier than expected Monday night to give Csnadi a chance to contact the international sports federations to see if they would agree to a bending of Olympic rules.

Lord Killanin, IOC president, gave Csnadi the job of trying to find a way past a situation that has blocked individual athletes from the Olympic Games for the last 84 years.

"I may be able to tell you more in 24 hours," said Killanin in an interview — a clear sign that something might happen.

Under the Olympic charter, athletes have always been prepared and entered for the Olympic Games by the National Olympic Committees which have been the basis of the Olympic movement. IOC members fear that if this rule is changed the movement might be undermined.

When the U.S. Olympic Committee responded to President Jimmy Carter's call and decided to boycott the games in Moscow, many American athletes who wanted to compete despite the Soviet military action in Afghanistan found their entry barred.

The national committees of Canada, Japan and West Germany, among some 36 countries, altogether, followed the U.S. line.

But the Japanese women's volleyball team wants to go for a medal in Moscow.

Masaji Kiyakawa of Japan, a vice-president of the IOC, pushed the claims of the Japanese volleyball women at the executive board meeting Monday.

Inevitably, Kiyakawa was supported by another vice-president, Vitaly Smirnov of the Soviet Union, who for obvious reasons wants get as many athletes from as many countries as possible in the Olympic Games opening in Moscow July 19.

Moves to bring individual athletes into the games have failed in the past. This

Q. I bought one of the first 1980 Ford Mustangs out last fall and it has never produced the mileage projected on the sticker. In fact, I barely get the estimated MPG for in town when I take it on the highway. Are there any adjustments I can make to improve the mileage?
A. Gas mileage performance figures posted by manufacturers are estimates attained in the laboratory under ideal conditions. Weather and road conditions and driving practices affect fuel consumption, as well as mechanical conditions. Excessive speed, prolonged warm-up and jackrabbit starts and stops waste fuel — lots of it! To find mechanical problems, look first for fuel leaks around fittings and gaskets if necessary. Then check the air cleaner. A restricted filter blocks air, forcing the engine to run on an unnecessarily rich mixture. Replace dirty filter.

HEALTH
Those hot flashes

DEAR DR. LAMB - I'm a 67-year-old female and for years, ever since my menopause, I've been getting these terrible sweats. My whole upper torso from my head down to my waist is drenched with sweat. Sometimes these occur every hour. It's very uncomfortable and my clothes get soaking wet. I have friends with the same problem, too, and our doctors can't help us. Will you?

DEAR READER - I wish I could help but it's difficult to treat this problem. Anyone who continues to have such a disorder certainly should have a medical examination. Hot flashes with sweats associated with the menopause phase of life really shouldn't last more than a couple of years at the most.

I'm afraid the general understanding of this problem is limited. There is some new information, however, that suggests that these attacks are associated with some abnormal function of the thermostat in your brain that regulates your body temperature. Whenever your body needs to be cooled, there is a whole heat-loss mechanism that is turned on that causes increased circulation to the skin and sweating. This area is located very close to the pituitary gland in the floor of the brain that's associated with your hormone system.
Apparently that's why the whole mechanism gets out of whack at the menopause time.
Some doctors are now testing the use of progesterone, the other common female hormone besides estrogen, to see if it can help control these.

There's also some evidence that these are associated with the release of adrenaline.
That can be associated with stress or perhaps other factors. For this reason, some doctors are now treating such disorders with Inderal. Normally this medicine is used for high blood pressure and irregular heartbeats and a variety of other disorders.

You might ask your doctor about this. If he's willing, he might want to try you on Inderal and see if that will relieve your problem for you.
Inderal is not a medicine that everyone can take, but it just could be the answer to some women's problems with recurrent episodes of hot flashes and sweating. You can take my column along to your doctor. He won't mind.

DEAR DR. LAMB - I'm going on a weekend fishing trip where females will be present. I'm afraid of cancer.
If it so happens that we do have sex and one may have a trace or more, even of skin cancer, would I catch it? I'm a good working taxpayer, fair and square with everyone.
They've asked me to go and I want to but I need some reas-urance about this point.

DEAR READER - It's not possible for me to tell you exactly what you might or might not catch, fish or otherwise. But one of the things you won't catch is cancer. There is no evidence that physical contact with a woman who has develop cancer or vice versa.

DEAR DR. LAMB - I'm an 18-year-old female who enjoys jogging and exercising.
My mother has been concerned about this because she has read that jogging breaks down the breast tissues and can damage the uterus. Is this true? I have noticed that since I have started to jog and exercise, I have lost weight from the waist up. My mother is sure that this is not best for me. I don't want to do any harm to my body but most of the books that I have read on running favor women jogging.
Is jogging good or bad for a woman's body? Mom told me to get a doctor's advice so that's why I have written to you.

DEAR READER - The old saying, "Different strokes for different folks," certainly does apply to the use of exercise. The choice of an exercise program for any one individual depends on his or her health status and the goals to be achieved. In other words, why do you want to exercise?

Now, I'm all in favor of exercise because I think it improves people's health. Certainly a major portion of our population is too inactive for its own good. Exercise can be done in the wrong way or the type of exercise a person may elect to use may not be the right one for the goal he or she wants to achieve.

Women who do not wear brassieres tend to develop sagging breasts, whether they

There are exercises that do help improve the figure if you're concerned about your bust. Specifically, these are the exercises that involve the chest muscle and maintaining proper posture. A woman who has developed proper muscle strength between the shoulder blades and stands up properly with her shoulders back will have a more attractive bustline.

Also, if the muscles underneath the breast are developed, even a small breast will appear larger and result in a more attractive figure. So if your goal is to improve your bustline, you might consider an overall exercise program that is related to developing all the muscles of your body and helps you maintain an optimal posture.

POLLY'S POINTERS
Polly Cramer
Statue has termites

DEAR POLLY - Last fall I bought a statue of a horse in Mexico. It seems to be made of a light-weight wood and must have termites, because when I dust it there is always some sawdust on the horse's back and small holes in it. Do you know how it can be treated? It's so beautiful and I hate to think of it being ruined.
- LORI

DEAR LORI - Do move your statue off the table it is on or the wood in the table may be attacked, too. I think you need to first determine whether or not the piece is really wood - you seemed to have some doubts.

Do take it to a pest control company so they can determine what is eating on it. It might be some other wood-boring insect, but they can do the proper spraying and advise you. Termites work from the inside out and the damage is often not visible on the outside until a piece is ready to collapse. - POLLY

DEAR POLLY - I am answering D.J. who wants to remove paint spots from polyester pants. I am an artist and often get oil or acrylic paint spots on my good clothes. I find rubbing a cream hand cleaner into the paint and letting it stay overnight and then washing as usual does the trick. I bought such a cleaner at the hardware store. Sometimes the process has to be repeated but it is most effective, especially when the spots are fresh. - LEE

DEAR POLLY - I use the laundry room in our apartment building and often forget to add fabric softener to the rinse cycle. Now I set my oven timer for 15 minutes to remind me.
Also I cut out the pretty pictures on birthday and other such cards and use them to make a mobile to go in baby's nursery.
- MARILYN

DEAR POLLY - To solve that problem of a napkin slipping off one's lap I use a sweater guard and fasten one end to the napkin and the other to my dress. - MRS.B.R.

Polly will send you one of her signed thank-you newspaper coupon clippers if she uses your favorite Pointer, Peeve or Problem in her column. Write POLLY'S POINTERS in care of

Scholarship Presented To Student

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

The Newspaper Bible

A COMPANION WHO WILL NEVER LEAVE YOU

If you love Me, obey Me; and I will ask the Father and He will give you another Comforter, and He will never leave you.

He is the Holy Spirit, the Spirit who leads into all truth, the world at large cannot receive Him, for it isn't looking for Him and doesn't recognize Him. But you do, for He lives with you now and some day shall be in you.

No, I will not abandon you or leave you as orphans in the storm -- I will come to you.

In just a little while I will be gone from the world, but I will still be present with you. For I will live again -- and you will too.

When I come back to life again, you will know that I am in My Father, and you in Me, and I in you.

The one who obeys Me is the one who loves Me; and because He loves Me, My Father will love him; and I will too, and I will reveal Myself to him.

Judas, (not Judas Iscariot, but His other disciple with that name) said to Him, "Sir, why are You going to reveal Yourself only to us disciples and not to the world at large?"

Jesus replied, "Because I will only reveal Myself to those who love Me and obey Me. The Father will love them too, and We will come to them and live with them."

John 14:15-25

2 T. lemon juice
2 1/2 C. flour (divided)
1/3 C. sugar
2 tsp. baking powder
2 eggs
2 T. milk
1/2 tsp. vanilla
1/4 C. melted butter
1/2 C. brown sugar
