EDDIE CHILES IS NOT THE ONLY one who is mad. Beverly Bruner of Phoenix, Ariz., says she is planning a march on Washington to protest federal welfare payments to Iranians. An Associated Press report stated that Mrs. Bruner learned of the payments through a petition circulated in Phoenix by an unidentified Houston man.

"I'm very conservative and I've never organized anything in my life," said Mrs. Bruner. "But now I'm mad." She added that she knew of a needy 80-year-old woman who has lived in this country all her life and was told she couldn't have SSI (Supplemental Security Income).

The petition had an unconfirmed report that 9,000 Iranians are drawing SSI funds. A press officer at Social Security headquarters acknowledged that some Iranian immigrants have met the 30-day residency requirement and are receiving funds for the old and infirm. But, he said the total was probably about 50.

Why aren't there more Mrs. Bruners? If the majority of Americans do not want, ask for or agree with all the regulations pouring down upon us from the regulatory agencies, why aren't we doing more to stop them?

We believe that, to a considerable extent, it is because most Americans are caught up with the process of making a living, doing a job, running a business. They are concerned with their church and school...with the activities of their children.

It becomes a real burden for them to take time away from all of these activities to attend all of the hearings and the meetings needed to offset the influence of the do-gooders, the dedicated activists who never seem to be satisfied unless they are opposing and protesting something.

We have too many protesters who apparently have no other useful occupation. They are parasites on the very system they would destroy.

Buffalo Warning System Discussed

By JIM STEIGERT

CANYON—Members of the Save Buffalo Lake Committee heard reports last night that indicate excellent progress has already been made toward establishing a flash flood warning system for areas lying downstream from Buffalo Lake Dam.

Those reports came as heartening news to the committee, which was informed recently that consideration could be given to closing the gates at the Buffalo Lake dam and retaining some water in the impoundment once such an early warning system is established.

Water would be retained during an interim period while procedures are underway to have the faulty spillway at the Buffalo Lake dam repaired.

Jim Belleville of the National Weather Service office in Lubbock was on hand for last night's meeting at the Randall County courthouse here to solicit rainfall observers in the Buffalo Lake rainfall network, and to explain rainfall measuring and reporting procedures.

Belleville was particularly interested in locating several weather observers in the area between Hereford and Umberger, and passed out a number of raingages to be used by volunteer observers along the Tierra Blanca Creek watershed.

Observers were requested to contact the NWS in Lubbock or Amarillo whenever they receive one inch of rain or more in a period of 24 hours or less.

Belleville stated that due to the critical nature of rainfall reports for forecasting the amount of water expected in WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate, voting to keep alive Saturday mail, state revenue sharing and aid to local police departments, is complicating the drive to balance the federal budget for the first time in 12 years.

The Senate's refusal to ax those programs creates new conflicts between its defense-heavy, $613.1 billion balanced budget and the House package which favors killing all three.

The Senate approved its budget for fiscal 1981, which starts Oct. 1, on a 68-28 vote Monday night, with 19 Republicans joining 49 Democrats in favor of the spending plan.

The budget was scheduled to go today to a House-Senate conference assigned the task of reconciling the differences between the Senate's version and a $611.8 billion balanced budget approved by the House.

President Carter has proposed a $611.5 billion balanced budget that generally parallels the House proposal.

Although House negotiators were expected to object to the Senate's high defense outlays and deep cuts in social program, the Senate created a new batch of differences in its last-minute budget changes.

Along with funds for Saturday mail, state revenue sharing and law enforcement grants, the Senate also voted 87-6 to raise veterans spending by $300 million and pay for it by dipping $100 million into President Carter's $10 billion oil import fee.

In proposing to balance the 1981 budget, Carter and congressional leaders vowed not to use the import fee which is scheduled to begin Thursday and which will add about 10 cents a gallon to the price of gas.

Ironically to use the import fee money followed a 75-19 Senate vote expressing strong displeasure with the fee and making it easier for Congress to repeal Carter's authority to impose it.

"This vote will send a loud and clear message...to the administration that members of the Senate do not want the oil import fee," said said Sen. Howard Metzenbaum, D-Ohio, who sponsored the amendment with Sen. Bob Dole, R-Kan. Although congressional leaders had targeted the $10 billion from the fee for tax cuts, some have conceded that the money might be needed as a cushion to keep the budget in balance if the economy worsens.

The oil import fee has also been under attack in the House where the Commerce Committee has approved legislation intended to block the fee and a subcommittee of the tax-writing Ways and Means Committee was set to take up a bill today to repeal it.

The Senate's budget votes, combined with growing concern that the recession might be deeper than expected, sparked new concern about the likelihood that Congress will

Judge Studies Gas-Fee Suit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Retail gasoline prices may go up 10 cents a gallon Thursday — unless a federal judge rules against President Carter's plan.

U.S. District Judge Aubrey E. Robinson Jr. was considering a suit that claimed the gas fee is unconstitutional. The losing side is expected to appeal his ruling, which he promised by the end of today.

Carter announced the fee as a gas conservation measure, saying the higher prices would force drivers to use less gas and thus help cut U.S. imports, which now are 7.3 million barrels of crude oil daily. The fee is due to take effect Thursday.

But a coalition of congressmen, consumer groups and petroleum marketers filed suit, contending that the fee is actually a tax and thus Carter is unconstitutionally usurping the power of the House of Representatives to initiate tax measures.

While the tax was challenged in the courts Monday, it was also under fire in Congress. A House Ways and Means subcommittee on trade arranged to vote today on legislation to block the tax. The bill is sponsored by some 50 congressmen and is expected to easily pass both the subcommittee and the full Ways and Means Committee.

"This is a program without a constituency," said Rep. James M. Shannon, D-Mass., the prime sponsor of the bill. "Republicans are against it, liberal Democrats are against it, consumer groups are against it, oil states are against it."

There is considerable sentiment in both chambers against the fee, although it appeared doubtful that a two-thirds vote could be mustered to override a likely veto of blocking legislation.

Lawyers for the group filing the suit also argued that the fee may not reduce oil imports and could be passed on to home heating oil and diesel fuel customers instead of just automobile drivers.

The Energy Department's general counsel, Lynn R. Coleman, told Robinson, "The argument that this fee is a tax is clearly incorrect. It's an import fee...to reduce consumption of gasoline and hence to reduce imports. The fact that there is revenue raised doesn't mean it's a tax."

Administration officials said the fee would raise $10 billion a year. Coalition attorney Edward G. Modell said he is not challenging the amount of revenue, "although it is enormous," but is solely contesting the purpose of the fee.

Kennedy, Bush Fight for Lives

By WALTER R. MEARS

Defying the numbers that read Jimmy Carter versus Ronald Reagan for the White House, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy and George Bush pressed their never-say-never presidential challenges in the Maryland and Nebraska primary elections today.

Party leaders and pollsters say Kennedy and Bush could wind up even farther behind the frontrunners when the votes are counted. But the challengers said in advance that they wouldn't stop running before the national convention roll calls that install presidential nominees this summer.

President Carter entered the day's primary competition 347 delegate votes away from the majority he needs to clinch Democratic renomination against Kennedy.

Reagan was 220 votes short of a Republican majority. Bush was far behind.

The Maryland primary was for 59 Democratic delegates and 30 Republican nominating votes. Nebraska was apportioning 24 Democratic votes, 25 Republican.

The polls closed at 8 p.m. EDT in Maryland, 9 p.m. EDT in Nebraska.

Carter and Kennedy, Reagan and Bush, and an assortment of minor and dropout candidates were on the ballot in both states. In addition, Democrats could cast uncommitted ballots, a potential protest vote that

Iranians Report U.S. Helicopters

By The Associated Press

Several American helicopters flew over Iranian ships engaged in offshore oil operations in the Persian Gulf but changed course after Iranian forces were alerted, Radio Tehran said today.

The report said Iranian Oil Minister Ali Akbar Moinefar traveled to the scene this morning to investigate the incident Monday night and that the Iranian army, air force and navy were guarding the oil wells.

Radio Tehran also said the commander of the Bandar Abbas Air Base in southeastern Iran reported an unspecified military intrusion Monday night, confirmed by the Iranian navy, but that no helicopters were found. Bandar Abbas is located near the Strait of Hormuz, through which much of the world's oil passes for shipment overseas.

Man, 25, Killed In Wreck

Wayne Moton, 25, of 510 Samsport was dead at the scene of a one-vehicle wreck which occurred at approximately 5 p.m. Monday 30 miles east of Silvertown on Highway 256.

The semi-tractor trailer which Moton was driving had rolled several times, according to Department of Public Safety officials, who investigated the wreck. Cause of the accident has not yet been determined.

Funeral services are pending with Rix Funeral Home.

Born in Spur, Mr. Moton had been a Hereford resident for 12 years. At the time of his death, he was employed as a truck driver by Steer Tank Lines in Dimmitt.

He graduated in 1973 from Hereford High School, where he was photographer for the yearbook staff and a participant in football, basketball and track. He served in the U.S. Navy following graduation. He was married Aug. 10, 1973 in Hereford.

He was a member of Mount Sinai Baptist Church.

Surviving him are the widow, Leticia; a daughter, Venessa of the home; his parents, Frank Mjton of Clovis, N.M. and Mamie Moton of Hereford; two brothers, Robert Mercer and Chance Mercer, both of Hereford; two sisters, Ann Mercer and Tawana Moton, both of Hereford; and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. B.H. Food-Stamp Expansion Passes Panel

WASHINGTON (AP) — The approximately 21 million Americans who receive food stamps are getting some assurances from Congress that the subsidies won't be halted next month.

A Senate-House conference committee on Monday approved a $3.3 billion expansion of the food stamp program aimed at keeping it alive through the end of the fiscal year that ends Sept. 30. The previously approved $6.2 billion for food stamps is about to run out.

The action by the conferees removed one more major obstacle that could force an interruption in the program next month. The measure now heads to the floor of the Senate and House, where leaders will press for speedy approval this week.

County To Submit TRLA Resolution

By PAUL SIMS

A resolution urging Congress to discontinue funding for Legal Services Corporation will be presented to delegates at the annual National Association of Counties convention later this year, the Deaf Smith County Commissioners Court were told Monday.

Commissioners met Monday in regular semi-monthly session to discuss a lengthy agenda. Commissioner Bruce Coleman, whom the court appointed Monday as a delegate to the convention, said that he will submit the same resolution which was passed by the West Texas County Judges and Commissioners Association.

The resolution is a combination of statements from commissioners in Deaf Smith and Tom Green counties.

Legal Services Corporation allocates tax money to operate entities such as the Hereford office of Texas Rural Legal Aid (TRLA).

TRLA, which provides free legal assistance to migrant farmworkers, is involved in a lawsuit against Deaf Smith County Sheriff Travis McPherson over the jailing of persons believed to be illegal aliens.

Commissioners voted to submit the resolution to National Association of Counties delegates.

The commission Monday also tabled action on a proposed plat for four blocks immediately northeast of the Hereford city limits, discussed providing space for the juvenile and juvenile probation offices, delayed action on changing county policies regarding longevity benefits and sick leave for employees and authorized bids for renovation of the county jail.

Realtor Sam Nunnally had requested approval of the plat several weeks ago in order that he could sell the property as lots.

Nunnally urged the court Monday to decide quickly on the matter "because I need to liquidate assets and pay some bills."

The commission had tabled the matter several times in the past because the county had no defined policy regarding subdivisions and the construction of roads. Commissioners had obtained a copy of Randall County's complex policy, but it was lost.

Nunnally agreed that the county needed a written policy.

"You've got to get something down on paper, but I can't wait much longer," he said.

U.S. Sends Protest To Cuba over Jets

MIAMI (AP) — The State Department has lodged a protest with Cuba after two MIG jets tunned the crew of a Coast Guard helicopter with three dangerously close passes that left the chopper shuddering over the Bahamas.

"A strong protest" was sent to Havana, with formal written protests to be made today, State Department spokesman David Hall said in Washington.

A Coast Guard spokesman in Miami said the helicopter was buzzed Monday as it made a low altitude search around Cay Santo Domingo for four sailors lost in Saturday evening's sinking of the Royal Bahamas Defense Force gunboat Flamingo.

Lt. Norris Turner referred to the incident about 35 miles north of Cuba's eastern coast as "extremely dangerous harassment."

Chrysler Loan

Approved by Feds

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP) — Chrysler corp. gathered today for the good news and the bad news.

First the bad news. Chrysler is closing another assembly plant in Fenton, Mo., near St. Louis, is Chrysler's second such closing this year.

The good news, of course, is the final approval over the weekend by federal officials of the $1.5 billion in loan guarantees the company has been seeking since last summer.

In remarks prepared for the shareholders, Chairman Lee A. Iacocca again called for limitations on Japanese imports through a "gentlemen's agreement with the Japanese to stop shipments to the United States of all vehicles they produce on overtime." Iacocca said such an agreement would reduce exports from Japan by 300,000 to 400,000 vehicles a year without requiring the layoff of a single Japanese worker.

World Needs May Help U.S. Farmers

WASHINGTON (AP) — It is a grab-basket situation, but the Agriculture Department has some figures that may give an idea of how much grain and other crops may be produced in the year ahead.

Nobody is predicting anything now. But, based on current projections, some of the U.S. crops are shaping up.

"World demand for agricultural products is expected to remain strong in 1980-81," the department said Monday.

"Livestock and poultry output expansion and economic growth are likely to continue in most major importing countries, although the rates of increase may slow from 1979-80."

The report continued, "U.S. agricultural products will benefit from large world needs in 1980-81, perhaps setting the stage for another year of record exports."

Muskie Attempts

To Maintain Sanctions

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Edmund S. Muskie today begins the difficult job of persuading U.S. allies in Western Europe to maintain their sanctions against Iran.

Muskie will make the appeal at a Brussels meeting of the Defense Planning Council of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization — his first diplomatic assignment as Cyrus R. Vance's successor.

On April 22, the U.S. allies imposed trade sanctions on Iran in retaliation for that nation's holding of 53 American hostages. But recently, some allies have shown signs of buckling on the sanctions by exemption some current and lucrative contracts.

Muskie will try to convince American allies to stick to their sanctions when the European foreign ministers meet in Naples next weekend.

A senior U.S. official said late Monday that "nonviolent means" still offer the best hope of gaining the release of the Americans held in Tehran since Nov. 4.

Texas Briefs

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Texas cities with the local sales tax have been mailed checks for $38.7 million, Comptroller Bob Bullock said Monday.

The May rebate checks represent the cities' share of the city and state sales taxes collected by Texas. The state gets four cents of the sales tax and cities get one cent, where it has been approved locally by voters.

Overall sales tax collections from the first of the year through April are up 21.5 percent compared to last year, Bullock said.

Houston had the largest May rebate check, $8.1 million with a total of $42.2 million for the year.

Dallas got $4.4 million, making $23.5 million for the year.

Fort Worth received $1.6 million, a total of $8.1 million for the year.

San Antonio got a check for $2.2 million, making it $11.3 million for the year.

In addition, the San Antonio Metropolitan Transit Authority got a $1.1 million payment and Houston's MTA got a payment of $8.6 million. The metropolitan authority taxes are collected by the state along with city and states sales taxes.

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Joel Maddox, 15, San Antonio, was presented the Texas Boy of the Year award Monday by Gov. Bill Clements.

Clements said in Capitol ceremonies that Maddox was chosen from among hundreds of boys taking part in Boy's Club activities. The winners were chosen for participation in school, home, church and community activities.

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — A parole for Benjamin Lach, convicted of the 1967 scapel murder of a Texas Tech cleaning woman, is being considered, a member of the State Board of Pardons said Monday.

Connie Jackson, a member of the three-member pardons board, said she received Lach's parole request Monday with a 1-1 split recommendation from the two parole commissioners acting on the case.

"It probably will come before me in the next two weeks and my vote will determine whether it goes to the governor," she said.

Lach, 35, has been refused parole the last four years. Lach was a graduate student at Tech when the slaying happened on Dec. 4, 1967. He was convicted of murder with malice by a jury in Fort Worth, where the case was tried on a change of venue. He was sentenced to 40 years in prison on Nov. 9, 1970.

HOUSTON (AP) — Johnny E. Brown, who resigned as head of Houston's CETA program, said Monday the $35 million federally funded jobs-for-the-unemployed effort has been unsuccessful because of lack of support from City Hall.

Brown said he resigned Friday from the $33,500 a year job, effective May 23, because it was in the best interest of the city's Comprehensive Employment and Training Act projects.

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — The Texas Railroad Commission directed its staff Monday to gather more evidence on the application of Southern Pacific Transportation Co. to discontinue six agency stations along its Central and South Texas lines.

Southern Pacific has asked for permission to close stations at Brenham, Caldwell, Giddings, Llano, Beeville and Yoakum. The railroad proposes to serve the six towns through its facilities in Austin, San Antonio and Victoria.

Examiner James Houchins had recommended approval of the application. He reported that the Transportation Division had received only six "protest forms."

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — State District Judge Charles Matthews granted evangelist Lester Roloff a three-month delay Monday in the trial of the state's latest lawsuit to force Roloff's children's homes to obtain licenses.

Matthews reset the trial for Aug. 26 at the request of Roloff's attorneys.

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — The Texas Railroad Commission granted a 6.65 percent freight rate increase to the state's major railroads. The rate hike was $3.6 million less than the nine railroads sought.

The 6.65 percent increase was recommended by

Houston, which had requested a 10 percent increase. The rate hike was approved by a 2-1 vote of the commission's three-member board.

White said Monday a court order has been entered against Montgomery County and Western Refuse Co. of Texas, Inc., for allegedly violating the terms of a permit to operate a sanitary landfill.

White said District Judge Lee Alworth had enjoined the defendants from operating the landfill in violation of state law and had required them to provide at once a special unloading area for household garbage brought to the landfill site.

He said the county and Western Refuse also had been ordered to submit within 60 days for state approval plans on bringing the landfill into compliance with regulations of the Texas Department of Health.

If the plans are approved, the defendants would have six months to comply with the engineering plans.

The agreed temporary injunction was entered on May 6, White said.

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Agriculture Commissioner Reagan Brown predicted Monday the 1980 Texas wheat crop will fall 9 percent below last year's production.

Brown said that while farmers planted a million more acres to wheat, drought will reduce the size of the crop.

"We are studying the extent of the drought in several areas of the state and have found that the major wheat-producing counties in the plains have had adequate moisture so far, but in the Cross Timbers and South Texas regions, drought declarations have been made for many counties, and prospects are not promising there," Brown said.

Budget

stick to its goal of balancing the 1981 budget.

Some economists believe the recession alone could create a $40 billion shortfall by driving unemployment up to 9 percent — from its current level of 7 percent. The higher unemployment would cut tax revenues and increase aid payments such as food stamps and unemployment compensation.

In approving the 1981 budget, the Senate also agreed to raise the 1980 spending ceiling from $547.6 billion to $566.4 billion to handle higher-than-expected spending. The House approved a $571.6 billion revised 1980 ceiling.

By a voice vote, the Senate agreed to restore $300 million for Saturday mail deliveries, paying for that increase by cutting federal administrative costs an additional 1 percent across the board, except for defense.

Buffalo

from the Buffalo Lake dam to Canyon is already working efficiently, and that an early warning will prove even more effective with rainfall monitoring stations to the west of Buffalo Lake.

"A monitoring system can be ready to go in a couple of weeks. We're ready to work on this thing. There's no problem with a monitoring system, and a good flood monitoring network would cost all of about $300," Belville noted in the way of encouragement.

Belville added that a good flood warning system could prove particularly crucial during the period of actual spillway repairs at Buffalo.

SBLC supporters opted to publicize emergency warning systems available to downstream areas via brochures, and plans were made to inform Rep. Jack Hoyer of Vernon of progress made on the emergency flood warning system.

Further reports were also heard indicating that the Army Corps of Engineers will soon be taking control of the Buffalo Lake area for the period of spillway repairs.

"A monitoring system can be ready to go in a couple of weeks. We're ready to work on this thing. There's no problem with a monitoring system, and a good flood monitoring network would cost all of about $300," Belville noted in the way of encouragement.

Belville added that a good flood warning system could prove particularly crucial during the period of actual spillway repairs at Buffalo.

Thousands Call Over Program

By The Associated Press

Thousands of viewers called public television stations across the country following broadcast of a program about the execution of a Saudi Arabian princess for adultery — some worrying the Saudis would play rough with oil supplies in response to the broadcast and others defending free speech.

"I've been here eight years and this is the most number of calls we've gotten on a program," said Caroline Kowalski, a spokeswoman for television station KAET in Tempe, Ariz. The station received about 400 telephone calls Monday with negative calls outnumbering positive ones, she said.

A few of the 130 stations that broadcast the show — titled "Death of a Princess" — reported receiving bomb threats, but all turned out to be hoaxes.

The two-hour film dealt with the execution of an Arabian princess who took a commoner as a lover. The airing of the film in Great Britain last month prompted the Saudi government to expel the British ambassador. The Saudis complained the film was inaccurate.

The Public Broadcasting Service supplied stations on the network with a news segment on reaction to the film and a panel discussion on the program, as well as the film itself.

In Atlanta and San Francisco, federal judges on Monday rejected attempts to prevent the airing of the program.

U.S. District Judge Robert F. Peckham in San Francisco said a court order blocking the airing of the film would mean "turning our backs on 200 years of heritage."

A three-judge federal appeals court panel overturned a lower-court decision requiring a Houston TV station to broadcast the program. KUHT-TV had decided not to show the program.

Houston, which had requested a 10 percent increase. The rate hike was approved by a 2-1 vote of the commission's three-member board.

White said Monday a court order has been entered against Montgomery County and Western Refuse Co. of Texas, Inc., for allegedly violating the terms of a permit to operate a sanitary landfill.

White said District Judge Lee Alworth had enjoined the defendants from operating the landfill in violation of state law and had required them to provide at once a special unloading area for household garbage brought to the landfill site.

He said the county and Western Refuse also had been ordered to submit within 60 days for state approval plans on bringing the landfill into compliance with regulations of the Texas Department of Health.

If the plans are approved, the defendants would have six months to comply with the engineering plans.

The agreed temporary injunction was entered on May 6, White said.

At Wits End

By ERMA BOMBECK

In the beginning I joined the Book-of-the-Month club. I read a few pages each day at my leisure, usually finishing the book in a week. During the rest of the month and on Sundays, I rested.

Then one day I noticed a book I wanted was in the Literary Guild, so I began getting two books a month which I finished in 10 or 12 days. During the remaining two-and-a-half weeks and on Sundays I rested.

As a contributor to Good Housekeeping, I could do no less than subscribe to it. Naturally to keep abreast, I also subscribed to McCall's, Ladies Home Journal and Redbook. It took me a couple of weeks to read them from cover to cover, but the rest of the month and on Sundays I rested.

With two weeks of leisure, I made plans to redo the house, which necessitated subscribing to House Beautiful and Better Homes and Gardens. My husband said what I really needed was something to spark up my meals, so I duly signed up for Gourmet and Bon Appetit. I was now reading five days a week, but I rested on Sundays.

A friend noticed all the reading material and was appalled to note I did not subscribe to local publications. Sunset magazine and Arizona Highways found their way to my coffee table with the three local newspapers.

Another friend noted a "shallow, one-dimensional" look to my reading, so I added Time, Newsweek, the Saturday Review, Forbes, and the New York Times to my library. I read late and got up early, but on Sundays I rested.

My reading schedule was becoming as complicated as a railroad schedule. One day in the checkout line at the supermarket, I saw a headline in The National Enquirer, "Jackie Finds Cure for Excessive Spending and Water Retention." Impulsively, I grabbed it, camouflaging it between the covers of Woman's Day and Family Circle.

I was on the point of exhaustion. My eyes watered and I was too stimulated by what I read to sleep. I watched only what TV Guide recommended.

The tables and desks groaned under the load of books and magazines. They filled the closets and drawers. To same time I subscribed to Reader's Digest and Condensed Books.

Last week, my husband said, "You have a Sunday visitor." I signed up for 36 issues for $52.

4-H Firsthand Barbecued Chicken Suggested for Grill

By AGNES TAYLOR
Ass't County
Extension Agent

Hamstrung by the high cost of hamburger whenever you eye your barbecue grill? With the outdoor cooking season at hand and the cost of America's favorite food taking off for the stratosphere, what is a budget-bound family to do?

Why not try chicken on your grill. Nearly everyone loves chicken, especially when it's grilled outdoors. Chicken is economical and delicious and is a good source of protein.

Young people in the national 4-H food conservation and safety program offer these tips on how to make your chicken barbecue a success:

- * Be sure coals are ash-gray before placing chicken on the grill.

- * Spread coals evenly and place the grill surface 8 to 10 inches above coals to avoid excessive broiling.

- * Turn chicken often, using tongs to preserve inside juices.

- * Do not put tomato-based or sugar-based sauce on chicken until the last 30 minutes of cooking. Then baste chicken with sauce each time you turn it.

- * Pierce chicken with a fork only when you think it is done. If fork runs through easily. At dinner time. Barbecued chicken is best when eaten the minute it's removed from the grill.

4-H members 9-19 also learn-by-doing how to keep a variety of foods fresh and safely stored before barbecue day arrives, and how to transport them safely to a cooking site away from home.

The 4-H food conservation and safety program is supported by Reynolds Metals Company which donates $1,000 scholarships for six national winners. State winners receive expense-paid trips to National 4-H Congress in Chicago each November. Four 4-H'ers per county are eligible for medals of honor.

Winners are chosen by the Extension Service and awards are arranged by the National 4-H Council.

Youth interested in more details about the 4-H food conservation and safety program should contact the county Extension office, 364-3573.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socio-economic levels, race, color, sex, religion or national origin.

Ann Landers

Sticky Situation

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am seeing a man. It could be serious. He's a dream come true in many ways.

The clinker is his five-year-old son. The child has never had any discipline. He goes to bed whenever he zaps out. It could be midnight. He has a TV in his room and someone must lie down with him and watch the late show until he falls asleep. He is not bed-trained and wears diapers at night. He eats candy and popcorn before dinner and drinks soda pop with his meals. Both his mother and father let him run them ragged. He does as he pleases and gets anything he asks for.

They have a joint-custody arrangement and his father has him weekends. I'm afraid I'd freak out watching this kid drink pop with dinner and go to bed whenever he felt like it. I really feel sorry for him because it's not his fault. His parents are to blame. I love this man and hate to dump him because his child is so badly spoiled. What shall I do? -- Possible Stepmother

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Father needs to see a counselor about his inability to control his son. The pediatrician or family physician can recommend a clinic. At this point, the boy may need counseling, too. Tell "Dream-Come-True" if he wants to marry you he must get some outside help. Agree to go with him and sit in. It could be the best thing that ever happened to the child.

Parents who try to win the approval of their children by letting them do as they please make a big mistake. The kids grow up rudderless and insecure -- a problem to themselves and others.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: The letter from "Empty Arms," the woman who was harassed by calls from infant supply companies after her child died, was not half as sad as the plight of women who are left in maternity wards after losing their babies.

Couldn't they be placed in rooms together, where they might comfort each other? Or, for the sake of their sanity, be given a private room at the semi-private rate which the insurance companies cover?

Think of the psychological stress and agony forced on a woman who must witness a

Summerfield Club Installs Officers

Using quotations from the scriptures and Shakespeare, Mrs. Ray Johnson installed a new slate of officers to two-year terms Thursday afternoon during the closing luncheon of Summerfield Study Club at Caison's Barbecue.

Accepting office were Mrs. Clayton Sanders, president; Mrs. Guy Walser, vice president; Mrs. Thurman Atchley, recording secretary; Mrs. Mack Noland, corresponding secretary; Mrs. George DeLozier, historian; and Mrs. Johnson, parliamentarian.

A gift of appreciation was presented to Mrs. Johnson, who was concluding a two-year term as president of the club. In other business, the club voted to hold the annual community ice cream social on the first Thursday in August.

Reports of the 83rd convention of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs were presented by Mes. Sanders, L.H. Lookingbill Sr. and Johnson. "Solar Energy -- Today's mother's joy in her newborn child when she has just lost hers. Please, Ann, print this letter and alert the hospitals to the misery caused by this inhumane practice. -- Indiana

DEAR IN: Your point is a valid one and deserves the attention of hospital personnel everywhere. (Are you listening out there?) DEAR ANN LANDERS: I know you are not an authority on etiquette but this is more a matter of common sense. Please guide us. Is it in good taste to send wedding invitations to people who live hundreds of miles away when we know they will not be able to attend? Would it look like we were fishing for wedding presents? What do you say, Ann? -- Mrs. L.R.

DEAR MRS. L.R.: If you honestly would like these people present, by all means invite them. A wedding invitation is different from an announcement in that you are asking people to share something with you, not merely informing them of an event. It's up to the recipients to decide whether or not they can make it. To assume they can't could be a mistake and cause hard feelings.

Is pot a drug? Can LSD and pills open new worlds for you? Stop guessing. Get the facts in Ann Landers' new booklet "Straight Dope on Drugs." For each booklet ordered, send a dollar, plus a long, self-addressed stamped envelope (28 cents postage) to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11995, Chicago, Illinois 60611.

Members present were Mes. Atchley, R.B. Baker, DeLozier, J.R. Euler, Johnson, Lookingbill, J.B. Noland, Mack Noland, Sanders and Walser.

Caudle Initiated Into Honor Society

Linda Kay Caudle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Miles W. Caudle of Route 5 has been initiated into the Texas Tech University chapter of Beta Gamma Sigma, honor society for business administration. Miss Caudle's major is currently marketing. She is a Parents interested in preregistering their child are invited to contact Jana Duggan, 364-2423, or Tonya Kleuskens, 258-7583 before May 19.

Today In History

By The Associated Press Today is Tuesday, May 13, the 134th day of 1980. There are 232 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On May 13, 1607, English colonists landed near the James River in Virginia, and set to building what became Jamestown - the first permanent English settlement in America.

On this date: In 1940, Queen Wilhelmina and Crown Princess Juliana of the Netherlands fled to London ahead of Nazi invaders.

In 1968, peace negotiations officially opened in Paris between the United States and North Vietnam.

Ten years ago, Israel staged raids into Lebanon to try and wipe out Arafat guerrilla bases.

Five years ago, American Marines, warships and planes were placed on alert in the western Pacific following the seizure of the merchant ship "Mayaguez" by Cambodian gunboats.

Last year, Secretary of State Cyrus Vance said any attempt by the Senate to amend a new arms limitation treaty with the Soviets would probably kill it.

Today's birthdays: British novelist Daphne du Maurier is 73. Singer-composer Stevie Wonder is 30. Theater critic Clive Barnes is 53. Democratic Sen. Mike Gravel of Alaska is 50.

Dips Recommended For Snack

Planning an outing to celebrate the Memorial Day weekend? Dairy Council, Inc. home economists suggest two recipes for summer snacking your family and friends will enjoy: Tangy Sour Cream Dip, to be served with crisp vegetables; and Beany Bacon Dip, best with assorted crackers or corn chips.

Tasty Sour Cream Dip
Yield: approx. 1 cup
1 cup dairy sour cream
2 T. prepared horseradish
1 t. Worcestershire sauce
1/2 t. celery seed
1/2 t. salt
1/4 t. paprika
1 T. chopped pimiento-stuffed green olives
Crisp vegetables
Assorted crackers
Combine ingredients; mix well. Chill.

BEANY BACON DIP
Yield: 2 1/2 cups

1 can (11 1/2 oz.) condensed bean with bacon soup
1 cup dairy sour cream
1/2 cup (2 oz.) shredded Cheddar cheese
1 t. instant minced onion
Few drops liquid hot pepper sauce
Assorted crackers, chips
Mash soup with a fork. Stir in sour cream, cheese, onion and hot pepper sauce; mix well.

The dips feature sour cream and cheddar cheese from the MILK/CHEESE group in the U.S. Department of Agriculture's food grouping system, which groups all foods according to their nutrient content. All foods in the MILK/CHEESE group, for example, are high in calcium, riboflavin and protein.

The fresh vegetables used for dipping add nutrients from the VEGETABLE/

FRUIT group. And the crackers and chips are part of the GRAIN group. The bean with bacon soup of the MEAT group rounds out ingredients from all four major food groups.

Dairy Council, Inc. home economists suggest fresh fruit alongside the dips for extra nutrition.

Journal Allowed To Print Story

By SALLY CARPENTER
Associated Press Writer

DALLAS (AP)—A judge's ruling freed The Wall Street Journal to publish its investigative story about an oil and cement company, but editors declined to say whether they would print the article in today's editions as planned.

"As a matter of policy, we never announce publication plans ahead of time," a spokeswoman for the newspaper said in New York. State District Judge Joe Fish Monday reversed himself and dissolved a temporary restraining order he issued against the newspaper Friday.

Fish, who earlier admitted he did not know all the facts of the law before issuing the order, said he wished he had "more time to study the case." He said later he does not have a complete law library or law clerk to help in his research.

But since publication was scheduled for today, "I'm going to rule promptly on this request," he said.

Fish later said when the lunchtime request was made Friday, he was under the impression the newspaper would object strenuously to a temporary restraining order and that other judges had ruled similarly on the issue.

"It appeared to me over the weekend my impression was wrong on both those," he said. "This morning (Monday), I had a chance to look at the cases filed by Dow Jones & Co. (owner of the Journal) lawyers and upon review of the cases, it appeared to me it probably was a violation of the First Amendment to have signed the order I signed Friday."

"He found out he made a mistake and he changed his order," said Robert D. Sack, attorney for Dow Jones. Attorneys for OKC Corp., a Dallas company that was the subject of the article, said after the hearing they did not know whether OKC would appeal the decision.

They had asked Fish for more time so they could determine whether the newspaper illegally acquired a copy of a report on which much of the Journal story was based. The OKC attorneys contended publication of the report would constitute a violation of the attorney-client privilege. OKC attorney Arthur Mitchell said the Securities and Exchange Commission, which is investigating the company, and reporters for the Journal and The Dallas Times Herald conspired to publicize the report.

"My supposition is that the SEC purposely filed the report" in Fort Worth civil court, then a reporter made a copy of it, he said.

"The SEC gave it to them in violation of federal law," said OKC attorney Paul Hoover.

"It's no coincidence" the story was to be published the day of a stockholders meeting to decide OKC's fate, Mitchell said. But he conceded that more than 95 percent of the shareholders already had voted by proxy to liquidate the company.

Dow Jones attorneys argued that the report was obtained legally as a public document. They said the Journal was a third party and not subject to the privilege. They said the restraining order constituted prior restraint and censorship.

The attorneys cited the Pentagon Papers case in which the U.S. Supreme Court ruled in favor of The New York Times, despite the fact that the documents were obtained illegally.

The report was by a Dallas law firm commissioned by OKC to look into the company's financial transactions and its chairman, former Detroit Lions football player Cloyce Box.

The report by the law firm Locke, Purnell, Boren, Laney and Neely was released by a board member to an employee and has been quoted in several publications.

The published reports said the investigation found that OKC's brokers were friends, longtime business associates and relatives who were low on capital and inexperienced in selling oil.

The Newspaper Bible

HE LIVED LONG BEFORE HE WAS EVER BORN
Anyone whose Father is God listens gladly to the words of God. Since you don't, it proves you aren't His children.
"You Samaritan! Foreigner! Devil!" the Jewish leaders snarled. "Didn't we say all along you were possessed by a demon?"
"No," Jesus said. "I have no demon in Me. For I honor My Father -- and you dishonor Me."
And though I have no wish to make Myself great, God wants this for Me and judges (those who reject Me).
With all the earnestness I have I tell you this -- no one who obeys Me shall ever die!"
The leaders of the Jews said, "Now we know you are possessed by a demon. Even Abraham and the mightiest prophets died, and yet you say that obeying you will keep a man from dying!"
So you are greater than our father Abraham, who died? And greater than the prophets, who died? Who do you think you are?"
Then Jesus told them this: "If I am merely boasting about Myself, it doesn't count. But it is My Father -- and you claim Him as your God -- who is saying these glorious things about Me."
But you do not even know Him. I do, if I said otherwise, I would be as great a liar as you! But it is true -- I know Him and fully obey Him.
Your father Abraham rejoiced to see My day. He knew I was coming and was glad."
The Jewish leaders: "You aren't even 50 years old -- sure, you've seen Abraham!"
Jesus: "The absolute truth is that I was in existence before Abraham was ever born!"
At that point the Jewish leaders picked up stones to kill Him. But Jesus was hidden from them, and walked past them and left the Temple.

Hereford Realtor Honored

Melvin G. Jayroe of Hereford has been named to membership in the National Million Dollar Real Estate Club. It was announced this week.

Jayroe, broker-owner with Lone Star Agency, has been in real estate approximately 12 years.

Membership in the club is based on personal production for sales and listings. Standards and guidelines for membership are set annually by an advisory board comprised of well-known Realtors from across the United States.

Federal Housing Funds Withheld from Sunbelt

AUSTIN, Texas (AP)—Sunbelt states "are being had" in Washington when it comes to doling out federal money for housing, says Sen. Carl Parker.

Parker spoke to the Texas Housing Agency's nine board members, who were in sworn in Monday. He sponsored the legislation that created the agency in 1979.

"We're not getting our fair share of input or outgo from Washington. For some reason, congressmen seem to believe all the housing problems exist on the Northeast Coast. ... The Sunbelt states are being had, Texas included," he said.

Parker, D-Port Arthur, said Texas was one of the last states to set up a housing agency and as a result lost $100 million a year in federal housing money.

Executive Director Thomas White of the Council of State Housing Agencies in Washington said the nation is in the midst of an "extraordinary housing crisis."

He said fewer than one million houses have been built in the United States this year. For the past several years, White said, approximately 6.8 million new houses have been built each year.

The agency was created to sell bonds and lend the proceeds to low and moderate income homebuyers.

Gov. Bill Clements told board members at their swearing-in ceremony. "Many thousands of Texans who face difficulty in securing adequate housing will be looking to this agency for help -- especially in these times when the economy has made adequate housing an even more difficult goal for many to achieve."

Parker said, "If Governor Clements and I can agree on something, there must be an obvious need for it in this state."

The new home loan program will be restricted at first to $150 million, and, White said, the proceeds must be used by Jan. 1, 1981.

"Bonds represent to many, many homebuilders what they consider their only hope," he said.

Asked what he thinks the agency's purpose should be, White said such "state agencies primarily have been based on supplying housing for those who can't afford it or who are priced out of the market place for other reasons."

"Secondarily," he said.

"the impact has been to bolster local homebuilding economies, and I think that is reasonable."

Parker said he "would not like to see the agency compete with private enterprise or with local agencies."

He said Texans "are living in chicken coops in some areas of the state." He mentioned 50 persons in the El Paso area sharing one faucet and one commode. "Probably the poor will always be with us, but we should try to come to grips with those problems," he said.

Parker also said he hoped the board would find a way for the agency to pay for itself.

"One thing I don't want, and I hope will never be, is that this agency becomes just another layer of paper," he said. "If it gets to be that, I will be the first to sponsor a bill to repeal it."

Refugee Might Be Military Expert

By DAN SEWELL
Associated Press Writer

KEY/WEST, Fla. (AP)—Cristo Paz Martinez may be only a well-informed fibber or a double-talking agent. But if he is what he claims — a Cuban navy communications expert — Martinez may be a gold mine of information for the U.S. military.

Martinez was interrogated here by military intelligence officers and faces more interviews with the FBI in Miami.

Special Agent Arthur F. Nehrbass said if it is true the 23-year-old Martinez was a lieutenant in charge of communications at a Cuban base in Mariel, he is the first "Cuban military deserter" to reach the United States in the boatlift. There have been some ex-military personnel among the refugees.

Martinez arrived here Saturday and, instead of being immediately shipped to other processing centers, was given a temporary job helping feed other refugees.

The kind of information officials think he might have was exemplified when he was told about the Cuban attack Saturday on a Bahamian patrol boat about 30 miles north of Cabo Lucretia, Cuba. Martinez said it could have happened because there are two Russian submarine installations near there.

Pointing to a large map of Cuba, Martinez said Russian sub bases are located in the inlet just south of Cabo Lucretia and in an inlet about 10 miles east.

However, Pentagon officials in Washington said they had no evidence of any Russian submarine bases in northeast Cuba, and knew only of the one at Cienfuegos on the southern Cuba coast.

Officials said fewer than 1,000 refugees arrived Monday, bringing the number of Cubans immigrating to more than 37,000. A record 5,300 came ashore Sunday.

The 23-year-old refugee spoke in French, English and Russian, quoted lyrics by American pop music stars like the Eagles and Blondie and then returned to his native tongue, Spanish, to tell his story.

Martinez told The Associated Press he thinks he was allowed to leave Cuba because his father, Cristo Martinez Sr., is a high-ranking official in the government Ministry of Education.

The FBI said Alfred Alejandro Hernandez, 37, was charged with air piracy and conspiracy in connection with the Sept. 24, 1969, hijacking of a National Airlines flight from Jacksonville, Fla., to Miami. A total of 75 passengers and a crew of seven were aboard the flight.

Billy Martin Is Back

By HAL BOCK
AP Sports Writer

He warned you. He told you he'd be back.
He told you exactly what would happen if he got fired, how somebody else would take a chance and hire him, and how he'd come back and haunt you.
And wouldn't you know it, the rascal called the shot.
He's done it before, of course. First, he did it in Minnesota. Then he did it in Detroit. Then there was Texas and finally there was New York. Oh, was there ever New York.

to look down their noses at little ol' Oakland and the rest of baseball has been doing the same thing for the last few years.
Even when the team was winning three straight world championships, some baseball folks sneered at the Oakland operation. They called the coliseum, where the team plays, a mausoleum, and, to be perfectly honest with you, it sometimes resembled that. And when the baseball revolution came along, the A's best players fled as fast as they could, leaving Charles O. Finley with the shell of a franchise.
Baseball said sell and Charley, occasionally obstinate before this, tried to oblige the game. There were several near deals, but the sale always fell through at the last minute.

Then Martin crossed paths with the marshmallow man in Minnesota and was told by George Steinbrenner that the New York Yankees would no longer require his managerial services.
Along came the moribund A's, slumbering wistfully at the bottom of the pack in the American League West.
Finley was without a manager, not an unusual condition for him. Martin was without a job, something that has happened to him before, too. And the A's and Oakland have not been the same since.

Martin has the team playing his style of heads-up, aggressive baseball. They are running the bases with reckless abandon. You've heard of double steals? Well, Martin's A's pulled a triple steal against Detroit. When the man on the front end of that maneuver came sliding across home plate it was the A's second steal of home in that particular game. That sent Tiger catcher Lance Parrish into such a frenzy that he did a number on a dugout water cooler. He was fined $200 for rearranging the plumbing.
It's Billy Martin baseball and it has the town excited. The attendance for 18 dates is 161,196, unspectacular by baseball's boom standards but terrific for the mausoleum, where the A's had drawn 79,838 for the same number of openings a year ago. The increase is 81,358 and remember, it took Oakland 42 dates to reach 161,000 in 1979.

Profanity Increases On Courts

Tennis Turning Nasty

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent

They've come and gone, those racket-swinging, world-girdling gypsies in white shorts, leaving New York tennis fans with both pleasant and bitter tastes in their mouths.
It's good to see the old West Side Tennis Club, with its 65 years of tradition tracing back to Big Bill Tilden and Helen Wills, alive and jumping again — even if it is Lamar Hunt's WCT Tournament of Champions instead of the U.S. Championships.
But, my, how the scene is changed.
Who ever heard Don Budge grunt? Or swear aloud?
Tennis, 1980 version, is an orchestration of of grunts and groans, tirades against linesmen, unharnessed profanity, constant controversies with umpires and linesmen.

"It's dreadful," said Sheena Hamilton, a U.S. Tennis Association committee member who runs the Easter Bowl tournament for juniors. "This is an awful example to set for the kids."
"I heard somebody remark the other day, 'Isn't it too bad they can't bottle Arthur Ashe?'"
She is was one of the sensitive souls offended by John McEnroe's deportment in an early round match against Terry Moor of Memphis.
Although never in danger of losing, McEnroe got upset at one of the linesmen, Dr.

Ted Powell. He kicked up clouds of dirt. He purposely stalled. He got into a shouting match with Powell, using words you see written on latrine walls.
Twice the lady umpire, Judith Lessing, warned the gifted U.S. Open champion but she declined to exercise her prerogative and impose a point penalty. Powell strode to the umpire's chair, offering in writing what he said were the insults hurled at him.
"Only the umpire can impose such a penalty, and I didn't hear anything," Lessing said.
Forthwith, McEnroe obliged by walking toward the net and repeating the epithets within earshot of the lady ump.
"Penalty point!" barked Lessing.
This was just one of the incidents which marred a week of sparkling tennis.
Vitas Gerulaitis in Saturday's semifinals got in a nasty, continuing hassle with a linesman named Adrian Clarke.
In the final on Sunday, the crowd, having to choose between two sore toes, threw its allegiance behind the golden haired Gerulaitis.
The only rumpus occurred at 1-1 in the first set when McEnroe, drenched by rain, called Fred Hoyles, the English referee, to courtide and argued the match should be stopped.
Hoyles, citing the crowd and TV, refused.
"Okay, default me," McEnroe was heard to mutter over the air. Nevertheless, he agreed to go on, proceeding to lose 2-6, 6-2, 6-0, another in a series of recent disappointments.
McEnroe made no pretense at hiding his displeasure and finished listlessly, bereft of his old fire and spirit. The crowd cheered Vitas.

Tulsa Beats Jackson

By The Associated Press
Phil Klimas' two-run homer highlighted a four-run outburst in the first inning as Tulsa took a 4-1 Texas League baseball victory over the Jackson Mets Monday night.
In other Texas League games, Amarillo blasted El Paso, 13-2, and San Antonio trounced Midland, 10-1. Shreveport's game at Arkansas was postponed by rain. A doubleheader was to be played tonight.
In addition to the two-run homer by Klimas, the Drillers got a run scoring double by Mel Barrow and an RBI single by Tracy Cowger before the first inning was over. Jackson's only run came in the third when Brian Giles doubled, moved to third on a wild pitch and scored on Mike Howard's sacrifice fly.

Frankie George drove in seven runs as the Amarillo Gold Sox blasted the El Paso Diablos, 13-2.

Untimely Rains Delay Indy Practice Session

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Dark clouds skittered across the treetops and rain pelted down as Rick Mears peered out of his garage at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway.
"This doesn't really help," said the defending Indianapolis 500 winner, still dressed in his driving uniform and hoping to get back onto the track before the close of Monday's practice session.
It was much the same a few doors down where his teammates, Mario Andretti and Bobby Unser, waited out the rain.
But there was a bit more concern evident in Mears' garage.
Andretti and Unser both qualified their new Penske PC9s on the front row for the May 25 Indy 500. Mears, who won the pole a year ago, earned a spot on the second row, but considered it a disappointment.

"We're all working mainly on our race setup," Mears explained. "But I'm just trying to work on a setup, period."
"We had problems last week and never were able to get in enough laps. We had chassis problems, boost problems and engine problems — a little bit of everything."
"This is a new car and we just haven't worked with it enough at this point," the handsome, sandy haired driver added. "We'll probably continue working on it for two or three more days and, if the weather will hold out, we should be alright."

he's trying to retain that image.
"I don't handle this one (Indy) any different than any other race," Mears said. "If you get too excited, that's when you make mistakes. I don't want that to happen."
He didn't get back out Monday, though, since the rain closed the track two hours early. And, despite the fact that 14 positions remain open for the 33-car race field, only eight cars took advantage of the nearly four hours that the track was open.
Spike Gehlhausen, who qualified Saturday for the second row, went out for a shakedown cruise, while rookie Bill Whittington finished his Speedway refresher driving test.

Royals Rout New York

By KEN RAPPOPORT

Darrell Porter says he's finally at peace with himself.
That may be — but he certainly has been trouble for American League pitchers since coming back from his drug and alcohol problems.
"It's gratifying and exciting," Porter said as he continued his hot pace with five RBI in Kansas City's 12-3 rout of the New York Yankees Monday night. "But the important thing is that I'm at peace with myself and I've never felt that before."
Porter left the Royals in spring training after hearing a speech about alcoholism from Don Newcombe, the one-time pitching great who became a reformer of alcohol addicts. Porter spent six weeks at an Arizona rehabilitation clinic before rejoining the Royals on April 26.
Since coming back, he has played in nine games and built his RBI total to an impressive 15.
"Every time I come to the plate, it seems there are men on base," Porter said.
"I can't take all the credit with those .300 hitters and all that speed in front of me in the lineup," he added.
In other American League games, Texas beat Baltimore 5-1 and Minnesota edged Boston 4-3. In the only National League game, Los Angeles nipped Chicago 2-1.
Porter delivered a pair of bases-loaded singles and a run-scoring groundout in his big night. He drove in two runs in a four-run fifth inning against loser Luis Tiant, 2-2.

Rangers 5, Orioles 1
A two-run homer by Richie Zisk capped a four-run Texas rally in the first, and the Rangers went on to defeat Baltimore behind the nine-hit pitching of Jon Matlack. Matlack was aided by three double plays in winning his third game without a loss.
"Thank God for the defense," the Texas left-hander said. "I wasn't consistent, but I was fortunate to throw some double-play balls and (center fielder Mickey) Rivers made some fine plays in the outfield."

Twins 4, Red Sox 3
Butch Wynegar's run-scoring double in the ninth inning gave Minnesota its victory over Boston and helped the Twins snap a Red Sox hex. It was Minnesota's first victory in Boston in 15 games since Aug. 26, 1977.
Dodgers 2, Cubs 1
Rudy Law doubled home the tying run and scored the go-ahead tally in the third inning to pace Los Angeles over Chicago. Law stole four bases in the game.
Don Sutton, 3-0, and Bobby Castillo combined to scatter 10 hits as the Dodgers won their ninth straight game at home. Rick Reuschel, 2-3, took the loss.

Pan Am Whips Tech

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) — Pan American, led by rightfielder Marty Green's six hits, scored five runs in the 6th, 7th and 9th innings and pounded Texas Tech 19-10 Monday, as both teams tuned up for post-season baseball play.
The Broncos, who anticipate an invitation to the NCAA regional baseball tournament, raised their season record to 58-14, while Tech, headed for the Southwest Conference tournament, fell to 27-21.
Green was 6-for-6 in Monday's runfest, also collecting four RBIs and scoring a run. Other sluggers for Pan Am were Jorge Sanchez with four hits while Robert Johnson and Tommy Supak contributed three hits each in three RBIs apiece.

Tech had taken an early lead with a 5-run, second-inning outburst and was ahead 8-4 when the roof fell in on the Raider pitching staff.
Texas Tech will play Texas in round one of the SWC tournament Friday at 5 p.m.

La Plata Golfers Win Tourney

The La Plata A Division golf team devastated its competition for the second week in a row after the squad won the Dumas Junior High Golf Tournament — this past weekend with a team total of 321.
Borger rounded out the tourney with a total of 365 for second. La Plata's B team managed third with a 384. Canyon took fourth after netting 362. Stanton's B team beat out the A team's 397 with a tally of 393. Canyon B finished with 405, while the Dumas A and B teams brought in the tail end of the pack with respective scores of 384 and 433.
And in lieu of the fact that the La Plata squads both finished in the top three finishing team bracket, it wasn't surprising that all the representatives garnering medalist honors after two district meets, came off those two teams.
Kerry Beard capped low scorer of the tourney after he drove in a 75-76 score of 151. Steve Barrett brought in the second lowest medalist tally of the affair at 79-93-172.

Gary Long added up an 84-75-160, and Coby Kriegshauser notched an 88-91-179 as the second B team member to make the medalist squad.
Other La Plata B team golfers included: Stacy Evans score of 96 for the tourney, and Roger Hodges and Steve Welch's respective rounds of 104 and 105.
Eric Walterscheid became the only member of the Stanton A squad to cap a score beneath the 100 range as he drove in a round of 94 to lead that squad's efforts for the day.
Chad Stephan came in six strokes shy of Walterscheid's mark after he added up an even 100 for the tourney while Daniel King took a 101. Matt Albracht compiled a 102 and James Layman grasped a 105 in the competition.
In B team action, Robert Martinez turned in what would be the lowest round for either the A or B teams after he shot an 82 for the day. Scott Debor finished up with a 95 while Larry Cornwall and Michael Drake completed Stanton's team total with tallies of 106 and 110.

YOU AUTO KNOW
By Don Henslee

Q. I have a 1/2-ton pickup with an automatic transmission. I added an 8-foot overhead camper weighing 1,600 pounds. We are planning a trip to the mountains but I am afraid we might have problems in mountain driving. Even on short trips which involve no mountain driving, the floor over the transmission feels slightly warm. Is my camper too much for the pickup?
Conversion of your pickup for use as a recreational vehicle is acceptable, and its off-road operation is normal. But these conditions put high demands on the transmission torque converter. An auxiliary transmission cooler is good insurance against transmission overheat. It increases the rate of heat dissipation many times. You can get an auxiliary cooler kit from your parts dealer.

POLLY'S POINTERS
Polly Cramer
Block needs seasoning
DEAR POLLY - Could you tell me how to season or treat a built-in butcher's block? - M.R.
DEAR M.R. - If the block does not have a varnished or shellacked finish thoroughly rub in mineral oil and it will offer protection for quite some time. Wipe away any excess oil that might remain. - POLLY

DEAR POLLY - When my son came home from college he said he needed a cutting board for his apartment so he took mine rather than buying one for himself. To have one for myself I took two 12-inch square floor tiles and glued them together back to back. Now I have a pretty, practical, matching counter cutting board for my kitchen. - MRS. A.I.R.
DEAR POLLY - To retain the color and flavor of bananas I wrap them individually in foil and store in the refrigerator to use as needed. I thought of this myself and it works to perfection. - GRACE
DEAR POLLY - To keep my plastic aprons and tablecloths soft and pliable I wash them in water to which I have added a couple of tablespoons of glycerine. I think the effect is best if the glycerine is added to the rinse water. A cotton swab dipped in alcohol is handy for reaching under the wheel to clean the telephone.
Place your recipe that is being used under a glass pie dish so it stays clean and also magnifies the print. (Polly's Note - I like this idea but the print was not really magnified. Perhaps another brand of glass would tend to enlarge the print more.)
Both my husband and I like my usual but place one thin biscuit on top of another for a double decker. A slight pressure makes them stay together. Bake a few minutes longer than usual. They can be easily separated by hand and are not mutilated by cutting. - G.T.

HEALTH
Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.
Jogging and varicose veins

DEAR DR. LAMB - We've heard so much about the benefits of regular jogging and I jog one-and-a-quarter miles daily. Recently I've become worried about possible long-range harmful effects that may follow. I jog with my two sisters who are in their early 30s and I'm 24. We began our program several months ago. Since then my sisters have noticed an alarming number of varicose veins on their legs. I've not had any but I feel a thumping occasionally in the one large one that I do have. Since we are all of average weight for our height and build and wear the proper shoes and loose clothing, I wonder if there is more to this phenomenon than coincidence.

I'm also worried about the possible risk to tender breast tissue, especially those that are chronically cystic. For this reason, I've started walking the one-and-a-quarter miles instead of jogging. Any advice would be appreciated. Would we be better off walking?
DEAR READER - When you're walking or running the contracting leg muscles cause the veins in the legs to empty as long as you have normal veins in the first place. That decreases the pressure in the veins and actually protects against varicose veins rather than causing them.
Since both of your sisters are having problems, it reminds me that varicose veins do have an inherited tendency. That is, they're apt to affect numerous members of the family.
I do not know what you feel thumping in your legs, if that's what you mean, because veins do not pulsate with enough force for you to feel anything in them. Arteries, however, do. Perhaps you're feeling a normal artery in your leg rather than varicose veins.

Your sisters might want to wear some support hose while they're jogging. It will help them empty out the veins in case there's any problem in that department. Since there seems to be a familial tendency to the problem, you might want to wear them, too.
I'm sending you The Health Letter number 5-8, Varicose Veins. Other readers who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope. Send your request to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.
Now whether you should walk or jog depends on what your goal really is. If you want to exercise the heart so that it has a greater pumping capacity, then a higher level of exercise in a short time span does help. If you just want to burn calories to control your weight, then walking will do just about as well. You will use about the same number of calories walking a mile as you will jogging a mile.
Jogging or walking will not affect the cysts in your breast. But you should wear a brassiere to avoid stretching of tendons that provide normal support for breast tissue. This applies to standing, walking and particularly while jogging.

Paul Harvey News You are Being Robbed By Your Servants

President Carter is trying to reduce the federal budget and is getting help from almost nobody. Slashing federal government spending inevitably pinches and politicians don't want voters pinched in an election year.

Besides, as Calvin Coolidge said, "Nothing is easier than spending public money. It does not appear to belong to anybody so the temptation is overwhelming to bestow it on somebody."

The cost of living goes up for a drunk when he starts to spill more than he drinks.

Our government's several spending programs have been doing a lot of "spilling."

When any government agency diverts any money from its prescribed purpose, you are being robbed!

One Senate Committee computes that your loss to such thievery has totaled more than $5 billion over the past 30 months.

President Carter and his advisers who want to reduce federal spending in an effort to curtail inflation could start with ferreting out and firing the crooks and the careless.

The Social Security Administration acknowledges having paid out recipients. And that is a substantial increase from the $479 million thus misdirected the previous six months.

Include overpayments in a separate category of "Supplemental Security Income" and the misspent money totals $700 million!

More than one-third of all the fraud this committee has been able to trace was traced to federal employees. A 29-year-old social Security worker in Baltimore made out and mailed to herself and accomplices checks totaling $500,000.

The committee found 130,000 cases of fraud in 21 government agencies.

The Department of Justice prosecutes only about one-third of the cases and most of those get off with a slap on the wrist. Five Navy workers confessed stealing $5,000 worth of equipment from the Norfolk Navy Yard--and received only a verbal reprimand.

A large part of the problem relates to pell-mell hiring practices in government which render all departments vulnerable.

Let's face it -- with our economy recently running in overdrive -- and with government agencies hiring anybody to pad out their payrolls in anticipation of a personnel hiring freeze -- we've all added a lot of employees who are less than adequately qualified. And when government hires sticky fingers, they pluck you.

State Maintains Budget Surplus

COLLEGE STATION — Although the single most impelling problem facing our country today is inflation, the Texas treasury retains a healthy balance, the state treasurer said here recently.

State spending has increased greatly in the past nine years, but a phenomenal growth in existing tax revenues has kept pace with the growing budget, said Warren Harding at the annual County Treasurers Seminar sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

"The people of Texas have been fortunate in the past several years as far as increased taxes are concerned," Harding said. "Not since 1971 have state taxes been an important item on the legislative agenda."

The federal revenue sharing program and the adult welfare programs have also been a big help in relieving some of the burden on the state budget, he said. These two federal programs have added more than a billion dollars to the state's spending capacity over the past eight years.

"Thanks to the greatly increased revenues from our state taxes, plus a little help from Washington, the state ended fiscal year 1975 with an unexpected and unheard-of-billion dollar surplus. However, four years later, the surplus was down to $677 million," said the state treasurer.

"The budget for the state of Texas for 1980 amounts to more than $10 billion. In the vault in the state treasurer's office, we hold more than $13.5 billion in securities," he said.

Harding said about $300 million is received each year from the state tax on cigarettes alone.

But the healthy treasury may soon have to ward off a few menacing problems. Recently, the U.S. Senate passed the federal budget which called for the end of revenue sharing for states and a reduction in aid to welfare programs, Harding reported. This precludes the introduction of three major fiscal issues to the next legislative session:

1. The issue of how to adjust to a more modest growth rate in state revenues.
2. The issue of highway financing and especially the question of an increased gasoline tax.
3. The entire issue of financing government services.

Yet, Harding predicted much optimism for the Lone Star State.

Kennedy Shuns Demo Advice

HOUSTON (AP) —

Campaign workers for Sen. Edward M. Kennedy say 10 Democratic state chairmen asking Kennedy to withdraw from the race for that party's presidential nomination is no indication the race is over.

Texas Democratic Party Chairman Billy Goldberg and nine other state chairmen Monday asked Kennedy to pull out of the race, saying President Carter is too far ahead for the Massachusetts senator to catch up.

Goldberg read a statement signed by all 10 state chairmen asking Kennedy to withdraw so funds can be used to campaign against Republicans.

Jim Flug, a Kennedy spokesman, referred to the statement as something the "Carter-Mondale people" have been trying to put together and noted that since only 10 of 50 state chairmen sign, it "doesn't sound like a popular idea."

Goldberg, however, said he hadn't solicited all 50 chairmen.

He said Kennedy had little chance of gaining enough of the remaining 954 delegates to obtain the nomination over President Carter.

"Sen. Kennedy would need 860-875 of the remaining 954 delegates and that is unrealistic," Goldberg said.

"Both Sen. Kennedy and President Carter could still spend millions of dollars in this contest," Goldberg said. "If the election is over, and we believe that it is, then those funds could best be used to unite against the Republicans and not fight each other."

Joining Goldberg in signing the statement were: George Bailes, Alabama;

Richard O'Neill, California; Henry Topel, Delaware; Charles Whitehead, Florida; Donald Michael, Indiana; Jesse Bankston, Louisiana; Brad Hays, New Mexico; Paul Tipps, Ohio and Joe Murphy, Washington.

The statement said in part: "Issues can be debated through our Platform Committee hearings now being held throughout the country. We make this request with the hope and expectation that you will continue to serve and provide leadership to our party for many more years."

Goldberg said the statement was not a campaign statement for a Carter-Mondale ticket.

"This is a group that had been discussing and expressing the same thoughts," Goldberg said. "I don't know what the feelings of the other state chairmen might be."

"I worked very hard for John Kennedy in this state and we carried Texas by a small majority."

Goldberg said last week he thought Kennedy should get out of the race for the sake of the party but later said he would say nothing else about Kennedy's race until after weekend county caucuses.

With 69 per cent of the votes from Saturday's caucus reported, Carter had received 65 per cent, Kennedy 24 per cent and another 11 per cent was uncommitted.
