Soaring energy prices boost May inflation

Hole In Wall

Fire carved a hole in the wall at 414 Western today. Neighbors near the Joe Bradley residence called the fire department around 9:30 a.m. when alerted by smoke coming from windows and vents. Cause of the fire, which started in the attic, was unknown.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite soaring energy costs, wholesale prices rose 0.3 percent in May, still the biggest rise in five months, the government reported today.

For the first five months of 1983, those prices fell at an annual rate of 2.2 percent. Prices were up 3.7 percent last year.

Largely responsible for last month's jump was a 2.2 percent advance in energy prices. Those prices, pulled down by the worldwide oil glut, had fallen for five straight months. They were off 2.8 percent in April.

Home heating oil prices soared 6.4 percent, the largest increase since March, 1981. Gasoline prices climbed 2.3 percent, the most since last July, the department said in releasing its Producer Price Index for finished goods.

Food prices fell 0.5 percent after rising the previous three months. It was the sharpest fall in those prices since last July when they tumbled 1.6 percent.

May's pickup in prices was forecast by economists who, however, were looking for a bigger jump than that reported by the department. They also were looking for further rises in the months ahead. The increases, though, were expected to be only temporary and not a sign of a fresh surge in inflation.

The new report supported analysts' predictions that inflation at the wholesale level will rise at least as slowly as last year. Indeed, one analyst is forecasting an increase of less than 1 percent, which would be the smallest since the mid-1960s.

The bright inflation picture has been widely attributed to the sharp recession and the worldwide oil glut which had sent gasoline and fuel oil prices tumbling.

In recent months, those prices have been stabilizing and starting to climb.

Reflecting that price reversal, the report said the increase in fuel oil costs was the first this year. Those costs had dropped 6.3 percent in April.

Gasoline prices had fallen for eight straight months before turning around in May, the department said.

Natural gas prices were down 0.6 percent, less than the 3.5 percent in the previous month.

The department's energy price calculations actually lag a month, so today's results represent March prices. Energy companies report their prices too late for inclusion in the most current monthly measure, department analysts say.

The report also said fresh fruit prices tumbled 9.6 percent in May, after soaring 15.7 percent in April. Vegetable prices rose 0.8 percent after climbing 5.6 percent in April. The earlier price boosts had reflected unusually wet weather in California and cold snap in the East earlier in the year.

Egg prices skyrocketed 24.1 percent last month, compared with April's 6.9 percent increase.

Governor seeks across-the-board solution to education problems

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Mark White would like to see Texas' prime legislative problems solved in one special session but admits it may take two.

At the same time, White told a news conference Thursday he was trying to settle a controversy involving the Texas Employment Commission without including it in a special session.

"All of these factors — brucellosis, TEC, public school finance — I am going to try to settle in an orderly fashion so we can maximize the work we are accomplishing," he said.

"I'd rather for them (the Legislature) to do it all at one time but it may take two."

White did not set any dates for a special session.

He also said he thought public school problems should be considered in an across-the-board manner with an increase in teachers salaries just one phase of the solution.

"I am persuaded beyond any question that we can take any group of kids anywhere in the state, that you give them good instruction and motivation, I don't care if they come from a non-English speaking home or a low-income base, they can be well educated and they can move quickly upward," White told a news conference.

"It is just a question of commitment," he said. "We're fools if we don't accept that commitment. We have to do this job. The future is in our hands and if we were to fail at this time because of lack of dedication, it would be a terrible tragedy."

"Teachers salaries are just one ingredient in the entire package of excellence in education," White said in reference to a special study of public education authorized by the 1983 Legislature.

"If we can get improvements across-the-board, that will be very, very important," he said.

The governor said he was in a lengthy conference Thursday with opposing factions of the controversy over the brucellosis quarantine and would be talking later with the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

The USDA ordered a ban on out-of-state shipment of breeder cattle June 1 after the Legislature failed to pass a bill bringing state control of the cattle disease in line with federal standards.

However, the state and several large cattle raisers obtained a federal court order stopping enforcement of the quarantine for at least 10 days. A hearing to extend the order is tentatively set for June 16 or June 17.

White also said the state was negotiating with the U.S. Department of Labor concerning the Texas Employment Commission.

The Legislature failed to pass a bill that would continue operations of the TEC, which administers jobless benefits in Texas from federal-state funds.

"We will continue to have a TEC," White said. "It is just a matter of how we can do it in an orderly manner. We will take whatever action necessary to be certain that the situation will not occur where people will not be able to get unemployment benefits."

Blackout shuts down Austin; tests residents' resourcefulness

By KEN HERMAN
Associated Press Writer

AUSTIN (AP) — A surgeon calmly finished an operation by flashlight and assistants ran some life support systems by hand during a major blackout that darkened lights and flared tempers in this capital.

Scores of people were stranded in elevators, office buildings and hotels, and some civilians directed traffic on streets congested by the power outage that tested the resourcefulness of the 420,000 residents of Travis County.

Early today officials speculated, but still were not certain about the cause of the failure that knocked out power to all of Austin and Travis County and parts of the adjacent counties of Williamson, Hayes and Bastrop.

Dr. Gerald Baugh said he completed pacemaker-implant operation by working for 15 minutes with a common household flashlight that is routinely on hand in surgery.

"Some of our life support systems had to be run by hand, but everything seems to be OK," said Baugh, who said the surgery was uncomplicated and went smoothly.

"It's hardly worth reporting," he said. "The lights went out and we finished by flashlight. We have them all over."

Twister kills Fritch woman

A killer tornado claimed the life of a Fritch woman and injured her 73-year-old mother late Thursday night as a series of severe storms passed through the Panhandle, providing an exhibit of loud thunder, bright lightning, and high winds.

Here in Hereford, the KPAN radio station officially recorded .25 of an inch of rain from a storm which passed through the area around 11 p.m. Thursday. The city's two-day rainfall total is now .66 of an inch.

The brunt of activity occurred in the northern region of the Panhandle, however, when a line of heavy thunderstorms moved through the area.

In addition to the death of the woman, whose name has been withheld, the twister also destroyed two mobile homes, flipped over a tractor-trailer rig, and damaged several houses at a housing development along Lake Meredith, north of Fritch according to the DPS in Amarillo.

A second tornado also reportedly touched down in Sanford, near Fritch, but no injuries were reported as a result of that storm.

The shower activity had decreased in severity and moved into the South Plains before dawn, the National Weather Service said.

Mostly fair skies were the rule across the rest of the state. Temperatures were mostly in the 60s. Readings at 4 a.m. ranged from 60 at Amarillo to 74 in Brownsville.

Southerly to southeasterly winds near 10 mph were the rule.

The forecast called for fair to partly cloudy skies with warm afternoon temperatures through Saturday. Scattered thunder-showers were possible in the afternoon hours.

'Country Caravan' show slated Saturday night

Combine the classic entertainment format of the Grand Ole Opry and the slick, sophisticated package of the Barbara Mandrell Show and what do you have?

"Country Caravan," the 1983 edition of the popular country music traveling show produced for the past six years by South Plains College at Levelland.

The Caravan and its cast of talented performers will bring a program of contemporary country music and the "golden oldies" to Hereford Saturday. Showtime is 7 p.m. at Dameron Park, and the program is free under the sponsorship of the Hereford Lions Club.

SPC's road shows have played to thousands of country music fans since 1977, traveling from Sundown to El Paso and even audiences as far away as Miami and Pensacola, Fla.—thanks to Continental Airlines.

The show is different, however, with its all new contemporary format spotlighting singers, dancers and instrumentalists in the style of the Opry and recent tv specials.

A key to "Country Caravan's" new format is a much stronger, hotter vocal sound, according to Joe Hartin, lead guitarist and instructional coordinator of SPC's country-bluegrass music program. Eight vocalists, the largest number of singers to perform for any of the road shows, were selected after intensive auditions this year.

Another first is the introduction of the Caravan Cloggers, a colorfully-costumed dance troupe, patterned after the world-famous Tennessee Travelers, who will be spotlighted in four big dance numbers during the show.

More than 50 country music hits of today and classics of yesterday will be performed during the two-hour show Saturday. The Lions will have a concession stand at the park. The nucleus of the show is the seasoned four-member faculty ensemble, all multi-instrumentalists and professional musicians in their own right. Hartin performed professionally for 20 years before joining SPC in 1975. The college is one of a few in the nation which offers an associate in arts degree in country and bluegrass music, and the only college in the state of Texas.

Tim McCasland, who rejoined the cast after a summer's sojourn, is equally gifted on pedal steel, banjo, electric guitar and mandolin, to name a few. This is Dan Hanson's first year as vocal director and arranger, although he has performed in previous shows. He plays a dual role as percussionist and keyboardist for Caravan.

Nashville-trained Randy Ellis supervises the show's sound and is also narrator and base guitarist. An SPC graduate, Ellis studied at Nashville's Belmont College and returned to SPC to set up the sound technology program.

Four students in the cast are veterans of the road show. Scott Barton, pre-dental major from Levelland, is a vocalist and dancer. Ira White, gospel and blues singer from Tahoka, and an SPC theatre graduate, returns to the show for her third season.

Canadian-born singer Kathy Tutt joined the cast last and is a country-bluegrass major at SPC. A graduate of Muleshoe High School, she plans to perform professionally.

New cast members are vocalists Lori Drachenberg, 19, from Roswell, N.M.; John D. Carson of Delta, Col.; and Cindi Cone, 20, from Had-dam, Conn.

Seven arrested in fraud case

Seven Hereford residents were arrested Thursday on welfare fraud offenses totaling $6,800, according to Roland Saul, Deaf Smith County District Attorney.

Charges of tampering with government records, unlawful possession of food stamps and theft over $200—under $10,000 were filed on Olga Cerda, 26, 701 E. Second; Linda Lopez, 29, 405 Ross; Celia Gonzales, 63, 307 Crest; Juanita Vele, 24, 321 Analita Calle; Adolpho Rocha, 26, 208 Harrah; and Rosa Ramos, age and address unknown. Guadalupe Garcia, 22, 610 E. Third, did not receive the unlawful possession of food stamps charge.

Arrestment is set for June 20, the pretrial hearing on Aug. 15 and the trial on Aug. 22.

Saul said each were separate cases with some offenses going back approximately two years.

Sidney Hester, a welfare fraud investigator with the Texas Department of Human Resources, had been working on the cases for about six months, Saul said.

Car failed to protect woman, jury says

HOUSTON (AP) — Jurors who found a 1976 Pontiac Trans Am did not provide a 23-year-old woman sufficient protection have awarded her $750,000 in damages for the accident which left her paralyzed from the chest down.

Holly Shipp, a University of Houston student, was crushed between the roof and driver's seat of the car when the vehicle rolled over in 1980.

The jury, which returned the decision Thursday after deliberating for 20 hours, did not find that the car was defectively made.

Ms. Shipp's lawyer, J. Graham Hill, had asked for $3 million in damages from General Motors, claiming that the roof of the car was badly designed and contained defective welding.

Ms. Shipp's car left the pavement and rolled over once in the accident near San Angelo, where she was going to college. The young woman, who was driving four friends home after a party, was the only person seriously injured.

Ms. Shipp testified she had drunk two beers at the party but said her judgment was not impaired.

Hill said he was pleased with the verdict and added that the $750,000 award "will be adequate funds to cover her medical costs in the future."

Magnet schools destroy myths about minorities

HOUSTON (AP) — Black and Hispanic children transferred to magnet schools are challenged by the atmosphere they find there, resulting in higher scores on standardized tests, Houston's school superintendent says. "Amazing things happen with these children," Billy Reagan said. "We get them in a competitive environment and we let them develop their particular interests. We're destroying the myth that minority children can't learn."

Reagan told the Kiwanis Club Wednesday that the report showed scores on the Iowa Tests of Basic Skills this year were at or above the national average at every grade level at 27 of 40 magnet elementary schools. Four schools scored at or below the national average in every grade while the other nine showed mixed results.

Magnet schools are the district's main method of integration. Many magnet school students are transferred from their neighborhood schools to institutions with special training programs, more teachers for fewer students and other "extras."

Judge reluctantly overturns death sentence

BEAUMONT, Texas (AP) — A federal judge has reluctantly thrown out the death sentence of a man convicted of slaying a receptionist, saying the prosecution unfairly introduced testimony from psychiatric interviews during the punishment phase of his trial.

U.S. District Judge Robert Parker told Byrd's lawyer, John Mitchell, Thursday that the Death Row inmate "well deserved what he got," but cited a 1981 Supreme Court decision in striking down the death sentence.

Byrd, 30, was convicted in 1976 for the kidnapping and murder of a 26-year-old dental receptionist in San Augustine County.

The Supreme Court ruling holds that "introduction of psychiatric testimony in the penalty phase of a capital murder trial ... violated the Fifth Amendment right of the defendant against self-incrimination," Mitchell told Parker.

Byrd was not told during his psychiatric examinations at the Rusk State Hospital that what he said could be used against him in his trial. A psychiatrist that interviewed him later testified that Byrd was "antisocial" and showed marked "hostility toward women."

The dental receptionist was abducted from her home June 5, 1976, tied to a tree and shot three times at close range. Her decomposed body was found three weeks later.

The state can retry Byrd, drop the charges, or ask Gov. Mark White to commute the sentence to life in prison.

Republicans tackling education issue

By DONALD M. ROTHBERG
AP Political Writer

DALLAS (AP) — Republican officials are taking a tour of the site of their next nominating convention and also getting a preview of an issue — quality of education — they think will help them in the 1984 elections.

Education Secretary Terri Bell was the featured speaker today at a meeting of the Republican National Committee.

The choice of Bell to address the political meeting was part of a pattern of emphasizing education in recent weeks and particularly such issues as merit pay for teachers.

President Reagan is scheduled to discuss education next week with Gov. Lamar Alexander of Tennessee and also address a Parent Teachers Association meeting in Albuquerque.

Dallas officials gave the GOP effusive offers of cooperation Thursday as they described arrangements being made for the 1984 convention.

"Let us know what we can do for you," said Dave Fox, chairman of the Dallas Welcoming Committee.

The City Council was in session at the time, and was in darkness.

The city lost all electrical power at 7:24 p.m., while it was still light outside. About 95 percent of the power had been restored by midnight.

"The whole city went down — just like someone pulled the plug," said Capt. J.W. Phillips of the Austin Police Department.

Austin police said there were no reports of serious injury or looting. They said they made telephone checks with people on life support systems at home. Paramedics also said they answered 40 calls from residents who depend on electric-powered oxygen respirators.

A fire triggered by a gas leak related to the blackout destroyed a mobile home, but firefighters did not find any occupants in the structure.

During the worst of the blackout, Mayor Ron Mullen asked residents to remain calm. Department of Public Safety spokesman Larry Todd said he saw "some civilians directing traffic" after the blackout rendered traffic lights useless.

"Somebody's got to do it or we're going to have a big pileup out here," said Donny McNeas, a gas station attendant who left his job and directed traffic at the intersection of 45th Street and Jefferson.

Dennis Deel, shift supervisor for capitol security, said a custodian was stuck in an elevator for just over an hour at the Stephen F. Austin state office building, but otherwise there were no problems from the blackout that occurred while it was still light outside.

"We turned tourists away after it got dark," he said. Valery Caselli, night receptionist at the Headliners Club on the 21st floor of the American Bank Tower, said everyone was calm when the lights went out.

"If they wanted to leave they had to walk down 21 flights of stairs," she said.

"We set candles out and most of the people were concerned about whether they'd get their food or not."

Becky McGill, the nurse on duty at Holy Cross Hospital said backup generators prevented any problems.

"We had our lights on the whole evening ... They came on within three seconds. This is the place to be in a blackout," she said.

Nick Overby, assistant administrator at Brackenridge Hospital, said everything ran extremely well.

"We had practiced many times for this type of situation and everything ran very smoothly with one or two hitches," he said.

with protest group organizers."

Later, Davis said that organizers were predicting that if President Reagan is renominated there could be more than 200,000 demonstrators in Dallas advocating a variety of causes including the nuclear freeze, the Equal Rights Amendment and more funding for social programs and less for defense. Davis said the organizers estimated far fewer demonstrators would show up if the president decided against running for a second term.

After Bell's speech, the GOP agenda called for a guided tour of the Dallas Convention Center.

Members of the convention arrangements committee reported that the party already has a firm commitment for 22,619 rooms in 125 hotels and expects to receive many more.

Mrs. Nancy Apgar of Oklahoma, chairman of the housing subcommittee, said she planned to send each state party detailed specifications of available hotels and ask each delegation to state its first through fifth choices.

The arrangements committee also adopted a resolution stating that only Dallas police and Secret Service agents would be allowed to bring guns into the convention hall.

The resolution was directed in part at security agents for officials such as state governors.

John E. McKenzie, 40, Dale Bonura, 34, and Stephan Farar, 31, sat stonily in the packed courtroom Thursday as U.S. District Judge Jerry Buchmeyer sentenced each to five years in prison for a felony civil rights violation and one year for a misdemeanor rights violation.

The terms will run concurrently. The three were convicted of beating black residents of New Orleans' Algiers neighborhood during an investigation of the 1980 killing of white officer Gregory Neupert.

The three remained free on personal recognizance bonds pending an appeal. Buchmeyer maintained "the loss of their jobs is not sufficient ... punishment."

Search for man in ranch murder focuses on border

By YARDENA ARAR
Associated Press Writer

CHINO, Calif. (AP) — Hundreds of officers combed the U.S.-Mexican border for an escaped mental patient charged with slashing four people to death and seriously wounding a fifth at a posh hillside home.

The search for Kevin Cooper, 25, was being concentrated in the border area near Tijuana after several reported sightings of the man, also wanted on a kidnapping charge in Pennsylvania, San Bernardino County Sheriff Floyd Tidwell said Thursday.

"The more we looked at it, the more we put it together, the more it comes down to one man," Tidwell told a news conference in Chino, about 30 miles east of Los Angeles.

Evidence "places Kevin Cooper at the crime scene, and we have other evidence that gives us cause to believe Kevin Cooper was responsible for the murders," Tidwell said.

He declined to elaborate on the evidence, but noted that clothes, bloodstains, open cans of food and fingerprints had been found in an empty house 150 yards from the murder scene.

A sheriff's deputy who asked that his name not be used said early today that Cooper had telephoned a female friend in the Pittsburgh area from the hillside home and horse ranch where the killings occurred.

The bodies of Santa Ana chiropractors F. Douglas and Peggy Ryan, both 41; their daughter Jessica, 10, and Christopher Hughes, an 11-year-old family friend were found murdered in the home Sunday.

The Ryan's 8-year-old son, Joshua, survived the attack, which the coroner said was carried out early Sunday with a hatchet found near the Ryan home and a knife and a screwdriver or ice pick, which have not been recovered.

A district attorney's complaint filed in Chino Municipal Court on Thursday charged Cooper with four counts of murder, one of attempted murder and one of escaping from the Chino prison.

Two dozen San Bernardino County sheriff's officers were in the border area looking for Cooper on Thursday. In the Mexican border city of Tijuana, police Capt. Armando Mazon said more than 300 Tijuana Municipal Police and Baja California state judicial police officers were watching for the suspect.

The San Diego County sheriff and city police departments and federal agencies such as the FBI also were involved in the search. The suspect, described as black, about 6 feet tall, weighing about 155 pounds and with an Afro hair style, "is considered very dangerous," Tidwell said. "No one should try to apprehend him."

Senate limits speech income

WASHINGTON (AP) —

The Senate, struggling with the politically-sensitive issue of setting its own pay and compensation, has sharply limited how much its members can earn from giving speeches to private organizations.

At the same time, the Senate also denied itself a 15 percent pay increase which would have raised its salary to the $69,800 earned by the House of Representatives.

A new fight is possible next week, but for now, the Senate has decided to end a controversial 6-month-old practice of allowing unlimited fees to the 100 senators for speeches, many to groups with issues pending in the Congress.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., the chief supporter of curtailing unlimited honoraria, said there is a

Police check burglary

Hereford police are investigating a burglary at 406 Gracy where two radios, 8-track tapes and miscellaneous items were taken.

Police also checked out a harassing phone call complaint and arrested one person for disorderly conduct. Patrolmen worked one accident and issued 15 citations.

Treasury preparing for withholding despite Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) —

The Treasury Department still is making preparations to withhold taxes from interest and dividends beginning July 1 despite the virtual certainty that Congress will repeal the law.

Pressed by the banking lobby, the House and Senate have voted by lopsided margins to repeal the withholding law due to go into effect at the beginning of next month, but Congress has been unable to agree on the specifics of repeal. Thus, the law will remain on the books until the House and Senate approve precisely the same repeal language.

Sen. Robert J. Dole, R-Kan., chairman of the Senate Finance Committee and a strong advocate of withholding, acknowledged on the Senate floor earlier this week that "withholding is dead. We are going to repeal withholding."

But pending a final resolution, some legislators had sought assurances from Treasury Secretary Donald T. Regan that no money would be spent to prepare for withholding since it would be repealed.

Senate opponents of withholding tried to pave the way for another vote on the issue Wednesday night, but Dole was able to avert a potential parliamentary tangle on the Senate floor when he suggested that the Treasury Department might make a commitment to stop spending money to implement withholding until Congress decides whether it should be repealed.

Sen. John Melcher, D-Mont., one of the withholding opponents, said such a commitment would be satisfactory.

However on Thursday, Assistant Treasury Secretary John E. Chapoton told Melcher in a letter that the Internal Revenue Service still is taking steps to implement withholding.

The only action the IRS is taking in anticipation of the repeal of withholding is to halt the printing of withholding explanation cards which have been mailed along with income tax refund checks.

Otherwise, the letter to Melcher said, the IRS is pursuing "a number of ongoing

Judge ignores scapegoat charge

DALLAS (AP) — A federal judge turned a deaf ear to defense contentions he was making scapegoats of three New Orleans police officers, sentencing each of them to prison terms for beating citizens during an investigation of a patrolman's death.

John E. McKenzie, 40, Dale Bonura, 34, and Stephan Farar, 31, sat stonily in the packed courtroom Thursday as U.S. District Judge Jerry Buchmeyer sentenced each to five years in prison for a felony civil rights violation and one year for a misdemeanor rights violation.

The terms will run concurrently. The three were convicted of beating black residents of New Orleans' Algiers neighborhood during an investigation of the 1980 killing of white officer Gregory Neupert.

The three remained free on personal recognizance bonds pending an appeal. Buchmeyer maintained "the loss of their jobs is not sufficient ... punishment."

Four people were killed in Algiers during a police crackdown after the shooting of the officer. Although no charges were filed in connection with the deaths, the New Orleans Police Superintendent James Parsons and his top lieutenant resigned amid the controversy. A federal judge in New Orleans moved the case to Dallas.

Alleged victims of the beatings also have filed an $8 million civil rights suit against the officers.

Defense attorney Ralph Whalen asked the judge to sentence the officers solely on the illegal detention of Robert Davis, one of five people who claimed they were kicked, beaten and choked by the officers interrogating them.

"Assuming there was a mass roundup and civil rights were violated, this has nothing to do with these three individuals," Whalen said.

Mrs. Tom Hargrave is a true Herefordite. She has lived in Hereford since 1913.

"I haven't lived more than 10 miles from Hereford since we moved here when I was one," Mrs. Hargrave said.

Mrs. Hargrave is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. G.P. Owen.

Along with eight brothers and one sister, Mrs. Hargrave attended school in Hereford. She went to grade school and junior high in the old Central School building and high school at Stanton Junior High. "All of my children and some of my grandchildren have attended Hereford schools," Mrs. Hargrave explained.

She was married in 1929 to her first husband, Mike Cassels. They had three sons and one daughter. One of her sons, Dwayne, still lives in Hereford.

In 1960 she married Tom Hargrave. Hargrave has four sons by his first marriage. He is employed by the Soil Conservation District. Between the two of them they have 17 grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

In the late 1950's Mrs. Hargrave attended San Jacinto Beauty School and received her beautician licenses. She owned and operated her own beauty salon for 14 years.

While living in Hereford, Mrs. Hargrave has been active in two clubs. She belongs to the Birthday Breakfast Club and Cultural Extension Club. She has been a member of the Cultural Club for 12 years.

She was also involved in the Extension Homemakers Council for nine years. During her years in the club she was chairman, reporter, treasurer and a committee chairwoman.

In 1975 Mrs. Hargrave received the award for Woman of the Year, presented by the Hereford Brand.

Her hobbies include crocheting sewing and cooking. For entertainment she plays "42" dominos. She attends the First Baptist Church in Hereford.

A few of her family's favorite recipes are Doritos Chicken Casserole, Heavenly Hash Browns and All Bran Rolls. The rolls are a recipe given to Mrs. Hargrave 40 years ago by Clyde Estes.

DORITOS CHICKEN CASSEROLE

1 chicken cooked and boned
1 8 1/2 oz. pkg. Doritos
1 small onion, sauted in butter or broth
1 can cream of chicken soup
1 can cream of mushroom soup
1 can Rotel tomatoes with green chilies

Cover the bottom of a dish with doritos, then a layer of chicken. Make 2 layers of doritos and chicken. Cover the chicken with the sauce mixture of onions, soups and tomatoes. Cover the whole mixture with grated cheese and bake in 350 degrees for 20 to 30 minutes.

ALL BRAN ROLLS

1 cup crisco
3/4 cup sugar
1 cup All Bran Cereal
2 eggs
2 yeast cakes dissolved in 1 cup lukewarm water
6 1/2 cups flour or more salt to taste

Mix shortening, sugar, All Bran, salt and boiling water together until shortening begins to melt. Add eggs. When cooled slightly add yeast mixture; then flour to a good bread consistency. Let rise until double in bulk. Make into rolls, let rise and bake at 350 degrees.

Can substitute 1/4 cup honey for 1/4 cup sugar. Can also add 2 or 3 tablespoons wheat germ.

HEAVENLY HASH BROWNS

4 eggs beaten
2 cups sugar
1 1/2 cups flour
1 1/2 cups pecans
1 tsp. vanilla
1 cup margarine
One-third cup cocoa
1-6 1/4 oz. Marshmallows

HHS class of 1923 holds 60th reunion

The 60th reunion of the Hereford High School class of 1923 was held recently at K-Bobs Steak House.

Eleven classmates and their guests were able to attend the reunion. Those in attendance were Ruby Moreman Baker, Agnes Elliston Branson, Gladys Bryant Carter, Lucille Woodward, Walter R. Galley, Ida Hopper Jesko, Travis Klegg, Lucille Megert McIntyre, Glenola Poulson Meacham, Bessie Sanders Smith, and Ethel Wornble.

An informal discussion was lead by Mrs. Carter. After silent prayer, Galley offered a prayer in memory of 15 classmates and teachers who had died. Class pictures of past reunions were enjoyed and there were some discussion on how life used to be.

An inspirational reading was given. The books used in the readings were "Try Giving Yourself Away" and "The Upper Room Devotional."

A suggestion was made that the reunion be held each year around the time of Pioneer Day.

Soliz earns B.S. degree

Rita Soliz, 23, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Soliz of 101 Quince, recently graduated from the University of Texas at El Paso.

Miss Soliz received her bachelor of science in education degree. Her major was in all levels of physical education and health.

Her extra curricular involvement at El Paso was the 1982-83 treasurer for the Physical Education Major Club and membership in the

Ann Landers

Uninterested but not gay

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am a good-looking, 26-year-old male college grad and definitely asexual. This is not the way I want it to be, but after 15 dates with lovely, interesting young women, and not the slightest desire to kiss even one of them, I know the truth.

My problem is how to deal with those who assume that because I do not sleep around I am gay. Several friends have hinted and offered "understanding and acceptance anyway." Relatives have suggested counseling. I admit I have problems but homosexuality is not one of them.

Years ago, when dealing with my fear of relationships, I considered the possibility that I was gay. But I have never been attracted to males, so that's out.

My shyness has made me reluctant to form close relationships, and I'm sure there are others like me. Please print this letter so all the bloodthirsty clunks out there will stop whispering about us and offer, instead, a little understanding. -Nowheresville in Loveland (Bloomfield Hills, Mich.)

DEAR BLOOM: Simply ignore the innuendoes. He who excuses himself accuses himself. Get some additional counseling. Your life will be enormously richer when you conquer your fear of close relationships.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I have an unusual problem. My husband's father was named John Q. Smith. My husband is John Q. Smith Jr. Our son is John Q. Smith III.

My father-in-law passed away in November. My niece (who knows EVERYTHING) says my husband is now John Q. Smith and our son John Q. Smith Jr. All my husband's records (baptism, marriage license, insurance, etc.) state his name is John Q. Smith Jr.

Last Christmas the gifts were sent to John and John Jr. Also my mother-in-law, who now lives with us, opens all letters from my niece addressed to Mrs. John Q. Smith.

Is my niece correct? I have never heard of changing names this way. We have a lot of friends named "Jr." who use it even though their fathers are deceased. She says this is the legal way of doing this. Is she correct? -Buffalo Question

DEAR Q.: Like most "know-it-alls", your niece has half-baked information. The facts can be found in Amy Vanderbilt's book on etiquette by Tish Baldrige--still the best one around. Here they are:

A man who is a Jr. usually drops the "Jr." unless both he and his late father were so well-known that to drop it would cause public confusion.

(For example, Franklin Roosevelt Jr. kept it after his father's death). A man with a II after his name is not named for his father but for someone else in the family, perhaps an uncle or a grandfather of the same name. Upon the death of the original holder of that name, he would drop the "II," unless, again, there would be confusion because both names were so well-known. Someone carrying the suffix III or IV usually keeps it until he dies, or until his predecessors have died and he is tired of using it.

When a suffix is dropped, the Internal Revenue Service and voter's registration office should be notified - also charge accounts and clubs. In addition, business cards should be changed.

Little rule of life: Do a good turn and, chances are, you'll discover someone has changed the "turn" rules.

To say an auto's "totaled" means that the cost to fix it exceeds the sum of its parts.

Optimists get a boot out of life, pessimists regard it as a kick in the pants.

Texas beats Alabama in 10-inning contest

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — If it could have been written in advance, the script for the 1983 College World Series couldn't have been any better for Texas baseball Coach Cliff Gustafson.

"This is pretty much the way I'd like to have it," said Gustafson after his No. 1-ranked Longhorns defeated Alabama 6-4 in a 10-inning winners bracket final here Thursday night.

"We really hope we can take back the championship. Nothing else really matters. I'm extremely proud of this ball club having won three games here and earning a spot in the championship game, but if we don't win that championship it won't matter," he said.

Texas, 64-14, won an automatic spot in the NCAA Division I title game. The Longhorns, making their 22nd appearance and having won the title in 1975, must face Michigan, 50-8, Friday at 8:10 p.m. (CDT), following Alabama, 45-10, against Arizona State, 44-23, at 5:10 p.m.

The winners will advance to Saturday's 7:10 p.m. contest, which could be for the title should Texas win Friday night. A Texas loss would match Michigan against Friday's first-game winner for the right to meet Texas in a Sunday title game at 7:10 p.m.

Texas pitching shut down the hot bats from Alabama in Thursday's contest of tournament unbeatens. The Crimson Tide had a .340 team batting average and the nation's leading hitter, David Magadan, coming into the CWS.

But Calvin Schiraldi, a 14-2 first-round pick in Monday's major league baseball draft, put the clamps on the Tide. He fanned 11 in 5 1-3 innings of relief.

Freshman second baseman Bill Bates sparked the Texas offense with his three runs scored and game-winning RBI with a double in the 10th.

Schiraldi had a 4-3 lead and had retired seven straight batters heading into the eighth when he faced Madagan, who had eight hits in nine at bats coming into the game. The Alabama junior hit a pitch over the left field fence to even the game.

"The first time I faced Magadan I didn't know what to throw him so I kept it low," said Schiraldi. "It (the homer) didn't upset me too much. What really made me mad was the next guy got the double."

After Rob Skates' double to left, Schiraldi struck out the side. He gave up another double and a walk to bring Magadan to the plate with two out in the bottom of the ninth.

"The next time I faced Magadan the coach said to keep it in and I kept it high," said Schiraldi, a first-team Natioerican.

He fanned Magadan to end the threat, then struck out the side in the bottom of the 10th to secure the victory.

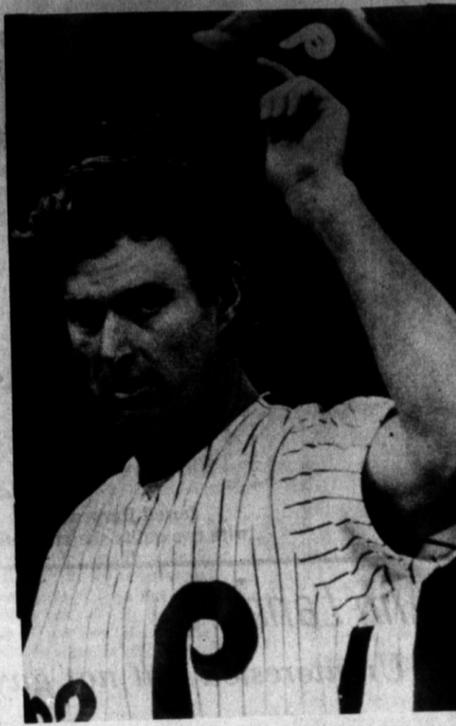

"I beat Schiraldi once then he beat me," said a dejected Magadan. "The guy made me look foolish and I felt foolish. I had no concentration. A batter should have his mind blank so he can hit on instinct. He had me guessing at the third strike. I looked for something low but he came with smoke up high."

Gustafson is not taking the title bid lightly.

"There are four very good teams left in this thing," he said. "Any one of them is still capable of winning it. Michigan is a fine ball club. Arizona State has been there before. Alabama is an excellent hitting team. I still think we've got a difficult road ahead of us."

Michigan Coach Bud Middaugh, who watched Texas rally twice to beat Alabama, said the Longhorn pitching is simply "outstanding."

"We need good defense and pitching to play with them," he said. "If Texas gets runners on, we've got to hold them close. They have so many offensive tools and the ability to hit the ball out. That's why they're No. 1."

Leading, For The Moment

Philadelphia Phillies pitcher Steve Carlton doffs his hat to an appreciative crowd after passing Houston's Nolan Ryan as the all-time strikeout leader. Carlton fanned six St. Louis Cardinals Tuesday, and now has 3,526 strikeouts in his career. Ryan is just a few whiffs behind, however, and the battle for the title is expected to shift back and forth this season. (AP Laserphoto).

Houston's new USFL team signs Jim Kelly

HOUSTON (AP) — Quarterback Jim Kelly will be to the fledgling United States Football League what Joe Namath was to the American Football League, says the managing general partner of the team that signed him.

Kelly, a University of Miami athlete who signed a multi-year contract with the newly chartered Houston Gamblers Thursday, was the 14th player chosen in the National Football League draft.

Buffalo used the second of its two first-round picks to select the 6-3, 210-pound Kelly. The Bills took Notre Dame tight end Tony Hunter, the 12th pick overall, with their first choice.

Jerry Argovitz compared Kelly to Namath, who signed a $400,000 contract with the New York Jets in 1965, then led the club to the AFL's first world championship in a 16-7 Super Bowl victory over the Baltimore Colts in 1969.

"We had him outside throwing and he was winging the ball 60 yards with a flick of the wrist," Argovitz said.

Kelly is the second NFL first-round draft choice to sign with the USFL. Gary Anderson, Arkansas running back, signed with the Tampa Bay Bandits.

The terms of Kelly's contract were not disclosed, but the Houston Chronicle reported he would be paid $2.5 million over four years.

The Gamblers, whose franchise was awarded last month to Argovitz, a former sports agent, will begin league play next year.

Houston also announced the signing of running back Mark Rush, Kelly's roommate at Miami. Rush was the fourth-round pick of the Minnesota Vikings.

Kelly was injured in the third game of the 1982 season, separating the shoulder of his throwing arm while playing Virginia Tech. Gene Burrough, the Gamblers general manager, said the injury was completely healed.

"All we got to do is get some offensive linemen and make sure he doesn't get another one," Burrough said.

Burrough said football scouting services ranked Kelly only slightly behind Stanford's John Elway, the first pick in the NFL draft.

"Kelly is more ready to play pro football than some of the others because of the type of offense he was under in college," Burrough said. He said the Gamblers' offense will emphasize the passing game. Kelly and Rush are the 11th and 12th 1983 NFL draft choices to sign with USFL teams.

WHO AM I?

My nickname tells the story. I was the American League strikeout king in 1949. For 17 seasons, batters had to face my pitches. I did OK. I won 177 games (including 31 in relief) and saved another 30.

Knepper tosses two-hitter

Detroit sweeps Boston; Rangers lose by 3-2

By JOHN NELSON AP Sports Writer
Detroit's street corners will be buzzing with this one, Tigers right-hander Dan Petry says.

It will be a source of pride for a long time. The Detroit Tigers came into unfriendly Fenway Park four days ago at an even .500, 25-25. They left it with a record of 29-25 and their first four-game sweep of Boston at Fenway since 1973, knocking the Red Sox out of first place in the American League East.

The Tigers now have won five in a row and 12 of their last 15.

Petry, 6-3, capped the series with a five-hitter, beating Boston 8-2 Thursday night with the help of a six-run fifth inning. Kirk Gibson had a bases-loaded triple in the spree.

The loss dropped Boston into fourth, one game behind Detroit and four behind the division-leading Baltimore Orioles, who beat Milwaukee 10-8 despite committing a club record-tying six infield errors.

In other AL games, Kansas City edged Minnesota 6-5, Oakland downed Toronto 3-1, California edged Chicago 3-2 and Seattle defeated Texas 3-2 in 11 innings.

Detroit took a 2-0 lead off Red Sox right-hander Dennis Eckersley, 4-3, in the first inning. Trammell beat out an

Reinhardt is leader in LPGA

MASON, Ohio (AP) — Alexandra Reinhardt couldn't break 100 when she went to college, but now, one decade later, she's leading a women's major professional golf tournament.

The 30-year-old product of the University of New Mexico used a 5-under-par 67 Thursday to take a one-shot lead after the opening round of the 29th LPGA Championship.

She needed just 23 putts, saving six pars and one bogey with one-putt greens.

Aware that Hall of Famer JoAnne Carner, Patty Sheehan, Alice Ritzman and Debbie Massey were only a single stroke behind, Reinhardt was making no predictions that she would score her first victory in nine tour years.

Jane Bialock, a winner 27 times, was two shots back at 69 with Lauren Howe and LeAnn Cassady. Donna Caponi, the LPGA champion in 1979 and 1981, and Alice Miller, last week's winner at Wheeling, were in a group at 70.

Among those at 71 were two-time Open titleholder Hollis Stacy and Jo Ann Washam. Nancy Lopez had 72, Beth Daniel and Pat Bradley 73 infield single and scored ahead of Lance Parrish's two-out homer, No. 4 this year.

Boston tied the score with two out in the fourth on a walk, a double by Wade Boggs, and run-scoring singles by Carl Yastrzemski and Dave Stapleton.

Detroit won the other games of the series 11-6, 4-2 and 6-3.

Orioles 10, Brewers 8

Leo Hernandez's three-run homer sparked Baltimore's seven-run first inning, and the Orioles blundered their way to a fourth straight victory, including a three-game sweep of Milwaukee.

Hernandez, a third baseman, committed two of Baltimore's six errors, leading to five unearned runs. First baseman Eddie Murray committed two errors and second baseman Rich Dauer and shortstop Cal Ripken Jr. had one apiece.

Ken Singleton also homered for the Orioles, and Jim Gantner hit one out for the Brewers.

Royals 6, Twins 5

Pat Sheridan drove in Kansas City's winning run in the eighth inning with a squeeze bunt. Hal McRae led off the eighth with a single, but when Willie Aikens doubled, McRae came up lame at third. Onix Concepcion ran for McRae and scored on Sheridan's bunt.

The Royals started the winning inning against Twins reliever Rick Lysander, who lost for the sixth time in seven decisions. Kansas City reliever Rick Castro got the win, and Dan Quisenberry earned his 15th save by pitching the ninth.

Randy Rush and Gary Ward homered for Minnesota.

A's 3, Blue Jays 1

Tom Underwood checked Toronto on four hits over 7 1/2 innings, combining with Steve Baker on a six-hitter, and Wayne Gross gave the A's an insurance run with a homer in the eighth inning. The victory was the sixth in eight games for the A's.

Angels 3, White Sox 2

Tommy John logged his fourth straight winning decision, scattering 10 hits in his sixth complete game of the year. John yielded only two unearned runs and, over his last 27 innings' work, has given up just two earned runs for an ERA of 0.67.

The Angels erased a 2-1 Chicago lead with two runs in the seventh, ignited by Juan Beniquez's third single of the game. Ron Jackson followed with a single, and Doug DeCinces walked to load the bases. Fred Lynn's grounder tied the score 2-2, and, after Bobby Grich was walked intentionally, Bobby Clark drove in the game-winner with a sacrifice fly.

Mariners 3, Rangers 2
Todd Cruz snapped an

0-for-20 slump with a homer and drove in the winning run in the 11th inning for Seattle with a two-out single. Cruz's fifth-inning homer, his seventh of the season, ended a string of 23 scoreless innings for the Mariners, who had been shut out the previous two nights by Texas.

Reliever Bill Caudill earned his first victory of the season by retiring the final nine Texas batters.

Seattle right-hander Jim Beattie at one point had retired 12 in a row before walking two batters in the eighth, when the Rangers tied the score 2-2.

Jefferson, Moody in 5A finals; Snyder wins in 4A

AUSTIN (AP) — Xavier Hernandez struck out 10 batters and shut out Klein on one hit Thursday night to become the second winningest pitcher in Texas schoolboy history as Port Arthur Jefferson beat the Bearkats 1-0 in a Class 5A semifinal game.

Jefferson, making his first trip to the state tournament since 1956, will play Corpus Christi Moody, a 4-1 victor over El Paso Burges, for the 5A title Friday night.

The Jefferson-Klein game ended near midnight, because the start was delayed by two hours by a widespread power blackout.

Hernandez raised his season record to 19-1, second only to the 21 victories David Larson of Brazosport had in 1966.

Jefferson scored the only run of the game in the third inning when Trace Hammond scored from third on a wild pitch. Hammond got on base on an infield hit, went to second on an error on the same play and was sacrificed to third.

Losing pitcher Kyle Atkinson got the only hit off Hernandez, a leadoff single in the fifth, and advanced to third on a wild pitch and passed ball. Hernandez then struck out two batters in a row and got Stanley Chapman to bounce back to the pitcher.

Moody's Danny Aleman, 15-3, handcufted Burges in the other Class 5A semifinal game Thursday.

In 4A semifinals Thursday, Snyder beat New Braunfels 4-3 and DeSoto beat Austin Westlake 3-2.

In the day's biggest upset, Pollok Central beat defending 2A state champion Southlake Carroll 5-1.

DeSoto managed only two hits, but the Eagles used a suicide squeeze bunt by Todd Worley to score the winning run in their victory over Westlake.

In other semifinal play Thursday, Cayuga beat Prosper 5-1 and Valley Mills beat Windthorst 6-1 in Class A. In 2A semifinal play, Gladewater Union Grove beat Troy 8-2.

By BRUCE LOWITT AP Sports Writer
Bob Knepper and Bruce Berenyi took a couple of things into their own hands — bats as well as baseballs.

Knepper, who had been on a personal six-game losing streak, pitched a two-hitter — his second shutout, second complete game and second victory of the season — and drilled a mammoth run-scoring triple as the Houston Astros defeated San Francisco 3-0 Thursday night.

Berenyi, who had been on a personal four-game skid — the same length as Cincinnati's tailspin — scattered seven San Diego hits and contributed a two-run double as the Reds pounded the Padres 8-1.

Elsewhere in the National League, Los Angeles beat Atlanta 4-2 to take a 2 1/2-game lead in the West Division, Pittsburgh defeated Montreal 6-3 and, in a pair of 1 1/2-inning games, Philadelphia edged St. Louis 6-5 and New York topped Chicago 6-4.

"I was off to a 1-8 start," said Knepper. "You can justify all you want to but you're paid to win ballgames — and I wasn't doing that. This is really satisfying. It's been too long in coming."

"Last season when the season started, I didn't have a good curveball. I started messing around with a cut fastball (a sinking fastball) and made it my second pitch. Without realizing it, I was starting to nibble around the plate and get behind the hitters. I just went back to my bread-and-butter pitches, what got me here." What it got him was 10 strikeouts, matching his personal best.

Phil Garner, with a double, and Jose Cruz, with a triple, each drove in a run for Houston in the first inning, then Bill Doran doubled in the second inning and scored on Knepper's triple to center field.

"I'm pretty awesome as a hitter," Knepper said with a laugh. "I have a lot of fun hitting. Sometimes the pitcher throws the ball where I swing."

Reds 8, Padres 1
Berenyi hadn't won since May 7. Like Knepper, he decided it was time to get back to basics.

"In my recent starts I was just trying to stay within myself. Tonight I said I was just going to let it all hang out," he said after striking out eight Padres. "I threw the ball as hard as I could with each pitch."

Paul Householder, with a double in the second inning, Berenyi, with a double in the sixth, and Gary Redus, with a single in the eighth, each drove in two runs for Cincinnati.

Johnny Bench, who is to announce today that this season, his 16th, will be his last, had a run-scoring single for the Reds.

Dodgers 4, Braves 2

Steve Yeager drove in all of the Dodgers' runs, three of them with an eight-inning bouncer up the first-base line that turned into a tie-breaking triple when Chris Chambliss failed to short-hop the ball.

"It was cheap, but I'll take it," Yeager said. "I couldn't have placed it any better."

"I thought I could get it," Chambliss said. "It was just a slow-hit ball that I didn't catch."

Snyder, 26-6, picked up its other runs in the fourth on some daring base running.

DIVORCE WITHOUT DEFEAT

Yeager also had a second-inning RBI grounder. Claudell Washington singled and doubled, driving in one run and scoring one for the Braves.

Pirates 6, Expos 3

Tony Pena drove in three runs with a single and a double and Larry McWilliams survived 10 Montreal hits and hit a two-run double in Pittsburgh's romp against Steve Rogers, the ace of the Expos' pitching staff.

The Pirates raked Rogers for 11 hits and all of their runs in 4 2/3 innings, his earliest departure since Sept. 17, 1981. "I wasn't getting what I thought were strikes at the bottom of the strike zone," he said. "There was nothing wrong with me physically, so I guess it was a mechanical thing."

Phils 6, Cards 5

St. Louis' hard-luck hurler, Joaquin Andujar, took a four-hitter and a 5-1 lead into the eighth inning. But Pete Rose doubled, Greg Gross and Joe Lefebvre singled for a run, then Joe Morgan hit his second homer of the game and fifth of the year to tie it up. And in the 11th, Von Hayes reached base on a one-out error by shortstop Ozzie Smith and Rose singled Hayes to third. When Gross failed to make contact on an attempted suicide squeeze, Hayes was trapped and tagged out. But Rose took second during the rundown and raced home with the winning run when Bob Dernier singled up the middle.

Mets 6, Cubs 4
New York, limited to one hit through seven innings, woke up with four runs in the eighth. And after Chicago tied it in the ninth, the Mets won it in the 11th on Bob Bailor's two-out, two-run double.

Mike Proly retired the first two batters in the 11th before Mike Jorgensen, who had triggered the big eighth with a pinch-double, doubled again. Danny Heep was intentionally walked before Bailor delivered.

Former resident only woman officer certified in firearms instruction

Sgt. Judy Murray, a former Hereford resident and currently a West Texas State University police officer, has become the only woman officer in the state certified in firearms instruction.

Murray, who has been a WTSU police officer since August of 1981, is the only woman to pass the 40-hour advanced firearms training. She completed the two-week course at the East Texas Police Academy at Kilgore College.

Murray began her law enforcement career as a dispatcher for the city of Hereford and the Deaf Smith County Sheriff's office from 1973-76. She also worked as a field deputy with the Deaf Smith County sheriff's office at Hereford.

She is from Farwell where her father, Vernon Symcox, two sisters and one brother reside.

Murray passed the advanced firearms instruction course before enrolling in and completing another 40-hour course to be trained to teach firearms techniques.

The class involved 20 commissioned officers and was instructed by Bob Butler, a special agent with the Federal Bureau of Investigation at Dallas. Butler said three other women have tried to complete the training course, but Murray is the only woman to succeed.

Students in the course shot 900 rounds of ammunition from a pistol. They fired handguns and shotguns from 50 yards, 25 yards, 15 yards and from point blank range while standing prone, from behind barricades and while getting out of cars, she said.

JUDY MURRAY

Their scores were totaled from points gained on hits areas. Targets were figure outlines.

After completing the course, Murray said she is qualified to operate and supervise a firing range.

Before she obtained the qualification, Murray said WTSU police officers completed firearms training with Canyon police officers or at Amarillo College. WTSU police officers receive training at the Canyon firing range or at a range for the training of Randall County sheriff's deputies.

During the first part of May, Murray also completed training in crime prevention at San Marcos. She learned procedures for investigating crimes such as rape and robbery, preserving evidence and to help prevent rape and robbery.

Another part of her training involved commercial and private business and home security surveys. She said community residents may call her and receive at no cost information on upgrading home or business security.

Summer speech, theatre camp scheduled at WTSU

Students attending the annual Summer Speech and Theatre Camp at West Texas State University July 24 to Aug. 6 will receive training and experience in seven areas.

The WTSU Department of Speech Communication and Theatre hosts the camp for high school students. In conjunction with the camp will be a workshop on coaching speech activities to help sponsors and instructors observe and work with students after spending one week in classroom instruction on theories of forensics.

The workshop will be directed by Guy Yates, assistant professor of speech and forensics director at WTSU, July 18 to Aug. 6.

Enrollment deadline for the Speech and Theatre Camp is July 1. The tuition cost is $100 which includes social activities, tickets to the musical drama "Texas" in Palo Duro Canyon, make-up, scripts and a debate source book. At a cost of $135, students will eat in the East Dining Hall.

Male students will be housed in Guenther Hall while female students will reside at Hudspeth Hall. A $40 deposit must accompany the application.

Yates is camp director and he will be assisted by Robert A. Busch, a teaching assistant in speech communication and a graduate assistant in forensics.

Camp sections and instructors will feature novice debate, Lois Hintze, debate coach and teacher at Oklahoma City Heritage Hall; advanced debate, Stuart Baker, debate and speech coach at Midland High School; Lincoln-Douglas debate, Debbie Dehlinger, debate coach at Thomas Jefferson High School at San Antonio and president of the Texas Forensic Association.

Also, extemporaneous speaking and oratory, Jackie Jarrett, head of the speech department at Lubbock Coronado High School; oral interpretation, Virginia Myers, assistant professor of speech communication and theatre at WTSU; and drama, James Buchanan, speech and drama teacher at Sonora High School.

An enrollment limit has been placed on workshop sessions. The limit in novice and advanced debate, beginning and advanced drama is 40 students in each section, and 30 students will be accepted in the sections on Lincoln-Douglas debate, extemporaneous speaking, oratory and oral interpretation.

Students participating in the debate and public speaking sections will compete in a workshop tournament at the end of the two-week camp. Drama students will be cast in one of four one-act plays while oral interpretation students will participate in a festival with public performances.

Directors for the one-act plays are Judy Carter, Amarillo High School theatre director; Lou Lindsey, speech and drama teacher at Brownfield High School; Terry Marrs, theatre director at Odessa High School; and Marion Sweatman, theatre director at Marshall High School, San Antonio.

Persons interested in obtaining undergraduate or graduate credit during the coaching workshop may register for the workshop and other WTSU second summer session courses on July 7. Students interested in enrolling only in the workshop may register at the first class meeting.

Today In History

By The Associated Press
Today is Friday, June 10th, the 161st day of 1983. There are 204 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On June 10, 1610, the first Dutch settlers in America landed on Manhattan Island.

On this date: In 1776, the Continental Congress in Philadelphia named a committee to draft the Declaration of Independence.

In 1942, the Nazi Gestapo killed 173 male residents of Lidice, Czechoslovakia to retaliate for the assassination of a German official.

In 1967, Israel agreed to a United Nations ceasefire with Egypt, with the Israelis holding conquered territory four times its own size.

And in 1972, a flash flood hit Rapid City, South Dakota, resulting in 236 deaths.

HEALTH
Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

Lean meat is important
DEAR DR. LAMB - Some years ago, after pains in my chest from exertion, I was diagnosed as having "relative coronary insufficiency." Recently I had X-rays taken because of back trouble which incidentally showed sclerosis of the abdominal aorta. Since then, as I have been advised, I have tried to avoid foods high in fats and cholesterol.

When buying hamburger to make meat loaf or to make meat sauce for spaghetti we have always bought the leanest meat sold. But this winter I boiled a pound of it vigorously then set it out in the snow overnight. In the morning I found a quarter inch of fat solidified on top of the water.

Would it not be advantageous to follow this method of getting rid of the fat?
DEAR DR. LAMB - You have discovered a variation of something I often recommend. Even the leanest meats contain some fat in the meat fibers. If you partially cook the meat, such as roasting, then put it in the refrigerator to cool, the fat rises to the top of the juices and can be removed. You can then finish cooking the meat. The same would apply to cooking ground meat for meat sauces.

While you may have been shocked at the amount of fat in the hamburger from your experiment, there is a way to have ground meat for meat loaf and hamburgers and still eliminate most of the fat. Buy very lean meat, such as round steak. Remove all the visible fat. Then grind the lean. Your ground meat will then have less than 5 percent fat by weight or about 30 percent of its total calories will be fat. That is pretty good.

You need to be careful about your choice of cuts of meat and preparation to avoid fat, but you can use meat and still be on a low-fat diet. I am sending you The Health Letter 8-12. Red Meats: Good and Bad, to give you some guidelines on the choices available to you. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

The lean hamburger meat you can buy in the store will have about twice as much or more fat than the ground lean meat you can prepare at home for yourself, so it is worth the effort to make your own.

DEAR DR. LAMB - Exactly what are the differences among a cardiac angiogram, a catheterization and a thallium scan?

DEAR DR. LAMB - Is there a product you can use for a permanent finish on a silver coffee pot, creamer and sugar bowl? I'm tired of polishing these pieces. - LILLIE
DEAR LILLIE - Regular use and frequent washing in warm, sudsy water will keep silver looking good with fewer polishings. However, if you do want a permanent finish on those pieces, take them to your jeweler. They can be lacquered, which prevents tarnishing and thus eliminates polishing forever. However, it is a job that should be done professionally for best results.

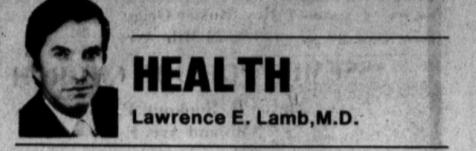

To reduce your polishing chores without giving the pieces a permanent finish, the 3M company has developed a special tarnish-resistant material that, when placed on the shelf next to your silver pieces, will inhibit the formation of tarnish for quite a long period of time. For information on this product, write to the Customer Service Department of 3M, St. Paul, Minn. 55101. - POLLY

DEAR POLLY - You recently had a letter about making chocolate-covered pretzels. I cover pretzels with white chocolate and find that melting the chocolate in my electric crockery cooker makes the job much easier. If I have broken pretzel pieces, I crush them and mix them into the chocolate, then drop the mixture onto waxed paper with a teaspoon for pretzel "clusters." The crushed pretzels also make a nice substitute for nuts on ice cream sundaes. - MRS. G.R.
DEAR MRS. G.R. - I think your idea of melting chocolate slowly and safely in the crockery cooker is a wonderful pointer - along with your tasty ideas for using broken pretzel pieces! Your Pointer of the Week earns you an autographed copy of Polly's Pointers: 101 Helpful Household Hints for Making Everything Last Longer. Thanks. - POLLY

DEAR POLLY - When decorating a child's room with cartoon-character wallpaper, you can use the excess wallpaper by cutting out the characters to decorate windows, closet doors and toy boxes. - CATHY

DEAR POLLY - My beekeeper husband and I have discovered the following remedy for crystallized honey. Place the opened jar (with the cap off) in a pot of water. Bring the water to a boil and let it simmer until the honey becomes liquid again. Then remove the jar from the water and let the honey cool before using. - ANTOINETTE

DEAR POLLY - When a family member has a cold or the flu, wash their dishes in hot soapy water to which a tablespoon or two of chlorine bleach has been added. This helps kill any germs lurking around to infect other family members. Of course, the dishes should be thoroughly rinsed before drying. - CALLIE G.
DEAR POLLY - If shaving with ordinary soap irritates your skin, try shampoo worked up to a thick lather. - R.K.

Lean meat is important

DEAR DR. LAMB - Some years ago, after pains in my chest from exertion, I was diagnosed as having "relative coronary insufficiency." Recently I had X-rays taken because of back trouble which incidentally showed sclerosis of the abdominal aorta. Since then, as I have been advised, I have tried to avoid foods high in fats and cholesterol.

When buying hamburger to make meat loaf or to make meat sauce for spaghetti we have always bought the leanest meat sold. But this winter I boiled a pound of it vigorously then set it out in the snow overnight. In the morning I found a quarter inch of fat solidified on top of the water.

Would it not be advantageous to follow this method of getting rid of the fat?
DEAR DR. LAMB - You have discovered a variation of something I often recommend. Even the leanest meats contain some fat in the meat fibers. If you partially cook the meat, such as roasting, then put it in the refrigerator to cool, the fat rises to the top of the juices and can be removed. You can then finish cooking the meat. The same would apply to cooking ground meat for meat sauces.

While you may have been shocked at the amount of fat in the hamburger from your experiment, there is a way to have ground meat for meat loaf and hamburgers and still eliminate most of the fat. Buy very lean meat, such as round steak. Remove all the visible fat. Then grind the lean. Your ground meat will then have less than 5 percent fat by weight or about 30 percent of its total calories will be fat. That is pretty good.

You need to be careful about your choice of cuts of meat and preparation to avoid fat, but you can use meat and still be on a low-fat diet. I am sending you The Health Letter 8-12. Red Meats: Good and Bad, to give you some guidelines on the choices available to you. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

The lean hamburger meat you can buy in the store will have about twice as much or more fat than the ground lean meat you can prepare at home for yourself, so it is worth the effort to make your own.

DEAR DR. LAMB - Exactly what are the differences among a cardiac angiogram, a catheterization and a thallium scan?

DEAR DR. LAMB - Is there a product you can use for a permanent finish on a silver coffee pot, creamer and sugar bowl? I'm tired of polishing these pieces. - LILLIE
DEAR LILLIE - Regular use and frequent washing in warm, sudsy water will keep silver looking good with fewer polishings. However, if you do want a permanent finish on those pieces, take them to your jeweler. They can be lacquered, which prevents tarnishing and thus eliminates polishing forever. However, it is a job that should be done professionally for best results.

To reduce your polishing chores without giving the pieces a permanent finish, the 3M company has developed a special tarnish-resistant material that, when placed on the shelf next to your silver pieces, will inhibit the formation of tarnish for quite a long period of time. For information on this product, write to the Customer Service Department of 3M, St. Paul, Minn. 55101. - POLLY

DEAR POLLY - You recently had a letter about making chocolate-covered pretzels. I cover pretzels with white chocolate and find that melting the chocolate in my electric crockery cooker makes the job much easier. If I have broken pretzel pieces, I crush them and mix them into the chocolate, then drop the mixture onto waxed paper with a teaspoon for pretzel "clusters." The crushed pretzels also make a nice substitute for nuts on ice cream sundaes. - MRS. G.R.
DEAR MRS. G.R. - I think your idea of melting chocolate slowly and safely in the crockery cooker is a wonderful pointer - along with your tasty ideas for using broken pretzel pieces! Your Pointer of the Week earns you an autographed copy of Polly's Pointers: 101 Helpful Household Hints for Making Everything Last Longer. Thanks. - POLLY

DEAR POLLY - When decorating a child's room with cartoon-character wallpaper, you can use the excess wallpaper by cutting out the characters to decorate windows, closet doors and toy boxes. - CATHY

DEAR POLLY - My beekeeper husband and I have discovered the following remedy for crystallized honey. Place the opened jar (with the cap off) in a pot of water. Bring the water to a boil and let it simmer until the honey becomes liquid again. Then remove the jar from the water and let the honey cool before using. - ANTOINETTE

DEAR POLLY - When a family member has a cold or the flu, wash their dishes in hot soapy water to which a tablespoon or two of chlorine bleach has been added. This helps kill any germs lurking around to infect other family members. Of course, the dishes should be thoroughly rinsed before drying. - CALLIE G.

FAITH IN GOD WILL RESTORE YOUR SELF-CONFIDENCE

Are you ever consumed by doubts of your own abilities? Do you sometimes fear that you may be unequal to whatever task you are assigned in your chosen work? Then let faith in God give you the assurance that if the work you are doing is right, then you will be given the ability to perform it adequately and that there is nothing you cannot do if it is required of you. God never intended that man should be limited in his capacity for good work, so go to Church this Sunday and trust Him to give you all the courage and self-confidence you will ever need.

"If ye have faith as a grain of mustard seed, ye shall say unto this mountain, Remove hence to yonder place; and it shall remove; and nothing shall be impossible unto you."
— Matthew 17:20

The reason birds can fly and we can't is simply that they have perfect faith, for to have faith is to have wings.
— Sir James Matthew Barrie
