Dement Sees Delay in Highway Work; Charges Countered

The start of paving operations on the 25 Mile Ave. (Highway 51) project north of Highway 24 to the city limits is apparently delayed for another week. Moving of various utility lines is taking more time than city officials estimated during a meeting June 24 with highway department leaders and the contractor.

Ivan Dement of Amarillo, the contractor on the project, outlined his position in the matter in a letter written Thursday to W. V. York, Amarillo, resident engineer for the state highway department. Copies of the letter were forwarded to The Brand and to other interested parties. It read:

"SINCE there has been so much unjust criticism of our progress on the construction of the project in Deaf Smith County, it is my desire to get on record that we are ready to go to work and pave the street from the intersection of Highway 51 and 60, north, to the end of the project, and we have been ready for some time, but have been delayed on account of utilities.

"In our meeting with the city officials at Hereford on June 24th, it was understood and agreed that we would go to work on the street paving just as soon as the city and gas company removed the gas lines, water lines, sewer lines, and at that time the city officials estimated that it would be cleared in two to three weeks.

"Yesterday, our representative, Mr. Murray Gray, was in Hereford, and went over this utility removal with Mr. Bayne, city manager, and Mr. Carroll, water superintendent.

"The gas company is working on the gas lines, but very little has been done on the water or sewer lines. In addition, there are more lines to be removed than anticipated on June 24th.

"THE CULMINATION of the discussion yesterday was a statement by Mr. Carroll that the city didn't have a ditching machine, and used a privately owned ditching machine when it was available, and that he wouldn't even hazard a guess as to when the water and sewer lines would be removed.

"As you well know, this street cannot be paved until the City of Hereford gets their part of this project done, and I will reiterate, we are ready to pave the street just as soon as the city gets their part of this project done."

City Manager Dudley Bayne on Friday, when questioned by a Brand reporter, said that he believed that both the gas company and the city would be able to complete all work on gas, water and sewer lines on or before July 20. Earlier, he had estimated that the work should be completed by July 13.

"WE HAVE already completed the work on water mains," Bayne said, "but are still in the process of lowering the sewer lines."

"We now have two digging machines on the job and the city's crew is working about 15 hours a day in order to complete (Continued on Page 2)

PAINTER HURT IN FALL AT NEW BUILDING

A painting contractor, W. R. Dean of Lubbock, was seriously injured in a fall about 1:15 p.m. yesterday at the new telephone exchange building here.

Dean, about 55, suffered a skull fracture when he fell about 12 feet onto the concrete floor of the building's basement entrance. His attending physician said that Dean's condition "is serious, but not critical."

His son, W. R. Dean Jr., said that his father suffers from a heart condition that ordinarily prevents his working but that he had come to Hereford Saturday morning in order to help his crew complete work on the new structure.

No one saw Dean fall, but he was believed to have been tossed into the air when a prop slipped from beneath a two-wheel compressor cart. He was discovered lying unconscious on the concrete floor by Woodrow Cagle, a painter, who said that he was changing clothes in the basement when he heard "a noise just outside that sounded like someone had dropped a sack of cement."

Start County-Wide Insect 'Bombing' Early this Week

The first county-wide anti-mosquito campaign in Texas' history is set to start here early this week. To include aerial spraying of lakes with chemicals and treatment of bar ditches with distillate, the work has been planned by members of the county commission to offset the danger of a recurrence of encephalitis disease here.

Their action followed the recent declaration of a state of emergency by County Health Officer Dr. R. R. Willis. The commissioners were directed to take whatever steps necessary to eliminate the threat posed by mosquitoes.

ENCEPHALITIS (sleeping sickness), for which there is no known cure, is believed to be carried by culex-family mosquitoes, an insect variety widely scattered over the irrigated High Plains area. Eighteen cases of the disease were reported by Deaf Smith County Hospital authorities last year.

"We must insist that individuals do anything necessary to prevent mosquito reproduction on their premises," said Commissioner Otto Massie, who with Commissioner Charles Sowell has handled detailed planning of the insect "war." Mid-July is regarded as the start of the sleeping disease season.

Val-Air of Hereford pilots, flying spray planes in formation, are scheduled to begin treating the scores of shallow lakes that dot rural Deaf Smith lands as soon as weather conditions permit. One-half pound of BHC chemical per acre has been recommended as the best mosquito larvae killer for use in the extensive project.

DUE TO the low concentration of BHC chemical required to kill the "wrigglers," the spraying is considered non-injurious to either humans or livestock. The commissioners earlier asked that property owners with lakes they do not want sprayed notify either the county judge's office or their precinct commissioner of their desire.

Massie said that only two individuals have asked that their lakes not be treated. "However," he said, "we know of several keep lakes in the county that contain fish and we do not intend to treat them because BHC is toxic to fish and entomologists we have consulted assure us that the fish and minnows, where they are present, control the mosquito problem."

Road maintenance crews this week will begin spraying bar ditches with distillate, using a high-pressure ground rig, to kill mosquito larvae that might hatch in waste irrigation water, Massie said.

"We plan to hit all ditches, including those that may drain into lakes," Massie declared.

"Preventing any recurrence of encephalitis disease is our first consideration," the commissioner said.

"But complete cooperation of all landowners, their taking action to eliminate any mosquito breeding places that we may miss, is absolutely necessary if this campaign is to succeed," he concluded.

COST OF the project has not been determined. The county will provide the chemical in liquid form to be sprayed from Val-Air planes and will aid in refueling the aircraft. Cost of the aircraft and pilot usage by the county will be $40 per hour, Massie said.

Val-Air owner Hollis Schunter and the commissioners scuttled that rate after the pilot agreed to undertake the project "at cost."

Schunter, who uses three Super Cub aircraft in agricultural dusting and spraying work in the Hereford area, said that he hopes to bring in a fourth aircraft to speed the work. He plans to begin spraying the lakes southwest of Hereford first, as a means of affording the maximum protection to the most people as quickly as possible, and estimates that with average weather conditions the complete job will be completed within a week.

Lakes that have already dried-up following early summer rains will not be sprayed but may be treated with dry-form BHC if funds are available. Mosquito control specialists and entomologists at Lubbock, who have advised the commissioners during their planning of the insect "war" have recommended this treatment as a means of eliminating the pests as they hatch.

State health department fieldmen in Lubbock have informed The Brand that a complete county-wide program against insects has never been undertaken previously.

City's Paving Is Cited as 'Bargain'

The city street paving project, expected to begin this week with Poteet Construction Co., of Ralls doing the work, will be the lowest cost paving to be laid down in Hereford in modern times, declared Sam Nunnally, Plains, Western and Buttram streets are expected to be the first to be completed.

"The amazing thing about this three mile project," said Nunnally, "is that property owners will generally be getting a first class paving job on a street 37 feet wide, plus five more feet for curb and gutter, for less money than they would have paid during the depression."

Average cost per front foot for the paving and curb and gutter has been figured at $3.93. Nunnally, Hereford real estate man who last week began contacting individual property owners for their approval of assessments, pointed to the $3.93 per foot cost as a real "bargain."

"IN BLEVINS addition," he said, "similar paving on a private contract completed recently cost $5.25 per foot. Costs on private street development that I'm having done will be $4.60 per front foot."

"Poteet Construction Co., whose work in Clovis and other cities over the region has proven very satisfactory, entered a bid well below their competitors for this work," Nunnally concluded.

One reason cited by other observers as the basis for the low cost of the paving is that the contractor is not required "to handle the paper" and work-up individual contracts with property owners.

PONY LEAGUE

All 4 Teams Break Even

All four Pony League teams broke even in the first brace of doubleheaders played to open the second half of the season. Each team won one and lost one.

The first half champion White Sox defeated the Tigers, 10-4, Thursday but lost 8-1, to the Red Sox Friday.

The Red Sox lost to the Indians, 6-5, Thursday. The Tigers nipped the Indians, 5-3, Friday. So each team is now playing .500 ball.

An accelerated schedule with four doubleheaders per week until July 25 will be played through July 25 so the league can complete its schedule and compete in the area playoff against Pampa.

State Draft Call for August 547

AUSTIN, — The state quota for Texas draft boards in August calls for 547 men, Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director, said Wednesday.

The state's August call of 547 compares with a quota of 661 for July and June and 665 for May.

The August call is the state's share of a national call for 11,000 men. The national call was 13,000 in July.

At the same time he announced the August quota for induction, Colonel Schwartz also announced a call for 1,561 men to take pre-induction physical and mental examinations in August.

The men to be examined will come from approximately half the local boards. Those not receiving such a call in August will receive one in September.

Local board quotas for the August induction and pre-induction examination are scheduled to be mailed by state Selective Service headquarters Wednesday.

The August quota will be filled with men who are at least 22 years old on August 1, with the exception of volunteers or delinquents, who may be younger.

By defeating the Cardinals, 13-7, Friday night, the Yankees ran their second half record to five wins and one loss. The Yankees downed the Giants, 9-4, Thursday to establish their mark at six wins and one loss.

The Yankees were behind briefly in the first inning but scored five times in the second to pull away. They got the five on four hits and three walks.

Van Smith and Bill Overall pitched for the winners while Wayne Edwards went all the way for the Giants.

Judon Fambrough pitched and batted the Dodgers to their victory. He hit a home run and a single and limited the Cards to four hits.

In minor league play, the Yankees clipped the Giants, 4-2, Thursday and the Cards mauled the Dodgers, 29-11, Friday.

Bayne added that the previously had believed the Dement paving crews should be able to start paving behind the city and gas company line-moving crews.

John Sims of Pioneer Natural Gas Co. said yesterday that work on gas lines beneath 25 Mile Ave. "should be finished within a week. Possibly, it will take a few days longer than that."

He said that Pioneer crews moved onto the project almost immediately after Dement completed laying the storm sewer mains, and added that with the gas main designed to lay within inches of the sewer, it was impossible to begin work on its relocation before the storm-sewer installation was finished.

A bouquet for Lon Stewart, grounds supervisor at the hospital. Lon went to work on the hospital lawn shortly after the new wing was dedicated this spring and, despite the condition resulting from the building program, now has one of the nicest lawns in town. He mowed it for the first time Monday. The variety is English Blue grass and he says he used a lot of water. However, most of the fellows who have outstanding lawns will agree that the best ingredient was "elbow grease."

Remember the paragraph about the plum crop on the Ornamental plum tree in the G. W. Brumley yard? Well, the same thing happened for Mrs. J. O. Clark — only Mrs. Clark made up a big batch of plum jelly and was kind enough to bring a glass of it by the office. Despite the fact that these trees never bear plums, I would say that the jelly is out of this world. I wish John Estes was still here. Whether he really knew or not, I am sure that he would explain the phenomenon in detail. Maybe Hugh Clearman or Argen Draper will come up with an answer.

ANOTHER UNUSUAL circumstance this year rests in the fact that you can drive around Hereford and occasionally run into a cherry tree literally groaning under its load of fruit. This was seldom true 40 or 50 years ago when Bill Kerr, George Stambaugh and Cliff Acker were youngsters. Understand, I am not saying they didn't produce cherries back then. I am merely pointing out that the trees didn't moan under the load — not for long, anyway.

Down where Ansel McDowell and I were reared, it was watermelons instead of cherries. These days the kids seem to be getting a lot better, or maybe just lazier. Sometimes, when I compare my childhood modern times, I wonder how any of us oldsters have the gaul to ever use the word "delinquent." All of the former Wellington folks out this way will smile to themselves when they read the words, "Watermelon Rogers." And I doubt if there is a single one of the bunch who never tasted his melons. Some may have even bought a few.

Tom, Dean and Kenneth Bryant are just back from Conchas and say that "fishing is fine." They caught somewhere around 30 channel cat, mostly around two pounds. Dean likes to talk about his big one, though. It weighed 8 1/4 pounds and was landed on an ordinary rod and line.

Meanwhile, have you seen the sporting goods shop which Make Allen and Arthur Dean are building up out on Park Ave. They have boats, motors and all kinds of sporting gear. This is something Hereford has been needing for a long time. What's more, the boys are getting an exceptionally nice stock of first quality merchandise.

SIDNEY FULLER, the CPA, is moving to Lubbock Monday and will be followed by the family a-

Fourteen letters of acknowledgement for Junior Red Cross gift boxes were received this week by Mrs. M. W. Nobles, JRC chairman for Deaf Smith County.

Smith County schools packed 134 gift boxes and sent them to the JRC distribution center in Maryland to be sent as exchange greetings to young friends overseas.

The acknowledgements were for boxes sent from the Dawn, Shirley, Stanton Junior High and Hereford High schools. These were the first gift boxes ever received in the Belgian Congo.

Only 12 letters comprise the Hawaiian alphabet.

New Fee Schedule Will Be Adopted By County Office

An increase for more than 40 fees in county and district clerk offices was authorized by the Texas Legislature in its latest session. The increase, to go into effect Aug. 22, is for the purpose of adding to the fund for payment of county salaries.

County Clerk Ralph Smith said the new law will not have a lot of effect on Deaf Smith County because many of the fees that have been raised are for services not required in this county to a great extent. He estimated the revenue increase will be 10 or 15 per cent for his office.

He said the hike in fees will affect probate, civil and criminal court cases. The docketing of each proceeding, formerly 25 cents, will go up to a dollar. The cost of subpoenaing a witness will double from 25 to 50 cents; swearing in a jury, from 50 cents to $1, and issuing citations and notices, from 75 cents to $1.50.

Filing of papers in cases will change from 10 cents to 25 cents. Recording final judgments, formerly 50 cents, will be $1, and recording abstracts of judgment, $1 instead of 75 cents. In the past a $10 cost deposit was required on probate and civil cases. This is being increased to $15.

The cost of a marriage license, now $2.50, will go up to $3. The fee for filing chattel mortgages on realty will double from 75 cents to $1.50. The 50 cent charge for issuing certificates of facts is being increased to $1.

Also to cost $1 are several services which have heretofore been issued free. These include the issuance of licenses other than marriage licenses and filing notices of franchise tax liens in mortgage records.

"I think we'll continue with the same recording fees as we have in the past," Smith said. "The additional fees would be only 5 cents per 100 words, so I don't think we'll make any change in our recording fees."

Dr. Warren Richards warns that self-medication with the new drugs can be harmful and asserts that a moderate amount of alcohol is preferable for temporary relief from nervous tension and anxiety.

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Mrs. Ernie Jones said she heard the crash of glass and looked up to see a horse staring at her — his head through her shattered picture window.

Mrs. Jones threw her shoe at the horse and he backed out. The animal had run away from a nearby farmer.

POKER GAME

MIDNIGHT, Miss. (AP) — This small town in Mississippi's agricultural Delta was named for the hour it was won in a poker game.

Around the turn of the century, pioneer land owners would take time out from clearing the land and relax over a poker game.

One of the land owners bet and lost all of his cleared land and the game broke up. The new owner glanced at his watch and announced he would name his land "Midnight."

Plans Vary for Ex H.H.S. Footballers

Plans for the future are varied for the football players who graduated from Hereford High in May. Most of them plan to attend college, but their major subjects differ and not many of them plan to play college football.

Bill Calloway and Jerry Malone are taking six months training with the Marine Corps in San Diego. They plan to attend Texas Tech when the tour is over. Calloway will major in chemical engineering and Malone will study chemistry. Calloway isn't sure whether he will play football.

Glenn Mutter also is going to Tech. He will not take part in any athletics. He will major in business.

Ed Schroeter will enter the University of Texas in September with a major in mathematical physics. He said he will devote full time to his major.

Going to Texas A&M to study agriculture will be Bill Dufur. He says he will play basketball if he has time.

Also planning for A&M is Wheeler Sears who will major in engineering. He will not play any sport.

Bob Veigel is going to Texas Tech for a course in engineering. He says he will not have time for football.

Danny Elliston, all-state end for the Whitefaces last year, is going to study pre-law and says he definitely will not play football.

Taylor Sims is planning to enter Tech, but had not settled on a major subject as yet. He said he will try out for the baseball team. Chick Weems said he will stay at home and work for a while.

New Deferment Regulations Are Put into Effect

AUSTIN, — Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director, Tuesday announced receipt of draft regulations which will defer additional thousands of Armed Forces reservists.

Previously, thousands of members of units of the Ready Reserve of the reserve components of the Armed Forces were not eligible for draft deferment despite their reserve activity.

Authority received by the state director of Selective Service is copy of an executive order signed by the President. This authority already has been passed on to the local boards, Colonel Schwartz said.

The state draft director warned draft registrants that it is their individual responsibility to see that their local boards are advised when they are members of units of the Ready Reserve of a reserve component.

Reporting such membership in a unit is also the responsibility of the commanding officers of the units in the case of draft registrants. The report is made on a special Department of Defense form, No. 44.

The individual reservist, if liable under the draft law, will receive an order to report for induction if his membership in the reserve unit is not reported.

"As far as the draft board is concerned," Colonel Schwartz said, "a man is not a member of a Ready Reserve Unit if he or his commanding officer don't notify the board in the officially prescribed way. The board cannot defer without information." Minor changes in regulations involving aliens, dependency, appeals, examination and induction procedures, and critical skills program were also received.

Women's Organizations Give Life Memberships as Tribute to Members

MRS. GRANT HANNA IS SELECTED BY W. S. C. S.

Mrs. Grant Hanna (Angel Photo)

The purpose of presenting life memberships in the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist Church is two-fold: To provide a way to honor members for outstanding church activity, and to add to the funds for carrying on the work of the woman's division of Christian service.

MRS. GRANT HANNA, retiring president of the WSCS was recently presented a life membership, not only for her work as president, but also for her work as recording secretary and secretary of promotion. The year she was promotional secretary the Hereford First Methodist Church was the only honor society in the district having attained the 100 per cent goals.

She has also served as Amarillo District secretary of youth work the past two years and was re-elected for another two years in April. She has also headed the youth award project. She is also working with a district committee to send a youth to Mt. Sequoyah this summer to a missionary conference.

Mrs. Hanna has served as recording secretary and president of the local United Council of Church Women and it was under her leadership that a board was set up to help carry out the migrant labor project. She is now serving as the 19th District vice president of the United Church Women of Texas.

Mrs. Hanna's activities are not all confined to church work. She has served as president, vice-president, recording secretary and chaplain of the local American Legion Auxiliary-Unit 192, and served as poppy chairman last year. She is a member of the 40 et 8 Fandangle Salon 512.

She and her husband live on a farm and have two little girls, 7½ and 5½ years old.

Bud To Blossom Club Names Mrs. Manjot

MRS. A. L. MANJOT who has done district, state and local garden club work for many years, was recently presented an honorary life membership in the Bud To Blossom Club which she helped organize in 1947. Since its organization she has served the club as counselor, mother advisor, helped put over projects and shared her knowledge as a qualified flower show judge.

She provided an incentive to hold on when the interest of members lagged and helped them to build their work around the club motto "To increase the knowledge of horticulture, study flower arranging and landscape design, and to encourage the development of civic beauty."

Mrs. Manjot has been an active member of the Hereford Garden Club since 1939 and has held every office in the club including the presidency. She is an accredited flower show judge and her flower show schedule which she originated for the club flower show here, has become nationally known for its Biblical background and beauty and has been used in several states.

IN 1953 she was elected governor of District 1, Texas Garden Club numbers of garden clubs. She is now serving as district vice-councilor. In 1951 she received the highest honor bestowed by the Texas Garden Club Inc. for the study and growth of gladioli.

A member of the local O. E. S., she has served as worthy matron and as mother adviser for the Order of Rainbow For Girls.

She has taught a S. S. class in the First Baptist Church since 1915 and a Bible class almost that long. She has served as president of the Woman's Missionary Union for two terms and has built her service in all the organizations around the theme "Lend a Helping Hand".

ONE OF her hobbies is her backyard flower garden and she gives away hundreds of bouquets and plants every year. One of her main interests is making corsages and she takes a keen delight in making them for brides, parties, for the sick or most any occasion.

She has one son, Capt. Lloyd H. Manjot, now in Germany, and one granddaughter.

Shower-Tea Given To Honor Bride-Elect Barbara Rogers

Miss Barbara Sue Rogers, bride-elect of John Robert Miller, was honored at a miscellaneous shower-tea given in the home of Mrs. O. L. Click Tuesday afternoon. Approximately 100 guests called between the hours of 3 and 6 p.m.

Hosting the courtesies were Mesdames Joe Story, J. R. Allison, Robt. Wagoner, G. W. Newsom, Don Zimmeraman, C. O. Brown, Jim Bookout, Jimmie Allred, W. C. Meharg, Taft McGee, Deward Roberson, John Pool, Evelyn Winget, Jack Burrus, C. C. Billingslea, Chas. Shipley, Maurice Tannahill, Earl Plank, Tom Chessar of Amarillo and O. L. Click.

Decorative accents and appointments carried out the bride-elect's chosen colors of blue and white. The refreshment table was laid with a natural cut-work linen cloth and centered with a long, low arrangement of white gladioli and daisies touched with blue glitter. Arrangements of flowers about the house repeated the color theme.

Mrs. Jack Burrus presided at the punch bowl and Claudia Green secured names for the bride's book. Mrs. Jesse Click assisted in the house party.

Making up the receiving line were the honoree and her mother, Mrs. Grady Rogers, the future bridegroom's mother, Mrs. H. E.

EASTERN STAR CHOOSES MRS. VERN WITHERSPOON

Mrs. Vern Witherspoon

When Mrs. Vern Witherspoon retired after 24 years of service as secretary of the Hereford chapter of the Order of Eastern Star, she was presented with a life membership into the organization. She joined the local chapter in 1924 and served as associate conductress, conductress, associate worthy matron and as worthy matron.

IN 1924 the chapter was very small and she took great interest in its growth from a few members to its present roll of approximately 200. She has also been instrumental in instituting and organizing chapters in nearby towns.

In May, 1957, Mrs. Witherspoon was named "Chapter Mother" for her continuous service in the O. E. S. She has held an office in the organization for 27 years.

One of Hereford's real pioneers, she considers Eastern Star work of paramount importance, both to the individual and to the community. "No one can live up to the obligations and responsibilities of the work without becoming a better citizen," she commented.

She is a lifelong member of the Presbyterian Church and has taken active part in its interests, especially the women's work. She is the mother of two sons, Buddy of Hereford, and Burl of Amarillo. She has five grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

MISS LUCY REED was presented a life membership by the O. E. S. recently in recognition of her loyalty and faithfulness as an officer and member.

She came to Hereford 42 years ago from Albertville, Ala. and served the Order as worthy matron in 1916-17. She served several years on the instruction committee, served as associate worthy matron and filled all the star points. She is still active in the work and is now serving on the O. E. S. life memberships. They include the late Mrs. Ollie Bradley and the late A. O. Thompson.

Mrs. Ray Johnson Is Elected by F. W. C.

MRS. RAY JOHNSON who was presented with a life membership in the Deaf Smith County Federation of Women's Clubs at the closing tea in May, is a charter member and life member of the Summerfield Study Club, serving eight years as club president. She has been a member of the Pioneer Study Club for the past several years and is the immediate past-president of the club.

She was instrumental in organizing the Deaf Smith County Federation in 1929 and has served in some official capacity ever since. She was president for two terms and assisted in its projects of organizing the Hereford Garden Club and Child Study Club.

Mrs. Johnson came to Summerfield to teach in 1921 and married Ray Johnson in 1924. She has been a leader in Hereford and Summerfield community affairs, has given countless book reviews, given lecture programs on parliamentary procedure and Federation work, and has been active in Castro County politics since 1942. She is now precinct chairman for the Democratic Party and has been county chairman. She is also a member of the newly organized Ground Observer Crops.

SHE WORKS in the Summerfield Church and takes active part in the women's work of the Hereford First Methodist Church.

Mrs. Johnson has a wide variety of hobbies which she has used in promoting better community interests, urging more participating among the women. Gardening and flower arranging probably leads the list and she has collected dried bouquet materials from many states and foreign countries. Rarely a day goes by that someone doesn't receive flowers or cuttings from her large collection of house plants.

Perhaps her club work might be called a hobby. She has been on the Seventh District, Texas Federation of Women's Clubs board for

Newport Ball Revives Era of Old Elegance

Ghosts of bygone belles and beaux are stirring in the once gilded halls of Newport, R. I., as hurried and heedless socialites of the eastern seaboard pause to remember past glories.

The occasion for all this nostalgia is the upcoming Tiffany Ball, to be held July 13 in the Marble mansion which cost the Vanderbilts nine million dollars, and where 300 humming-birds fluttered around the flower-banked fountain at the debut ball of Consuela Vanderbilt in 1895. The great house has been closed for many years but estate executors of Frederick H. Prince, the last owner, have cooperated in plans to open Marble House for one more magic night. Tiffany, famed jewelry firm, has underwritten the ball, which will benefit the Preservation Society of Newport County, and the public, at $25 per head, will have the run of the great house, the gold ballroom and the romantic rose garden dipping down to the sea.

The purpose of all this is restore the old homes and preserve for posterity some of the glory that was Newport, the gilded resort which had two golden eras—the colonial period notable for stately homes and gracious hostesses, and the mauve decade of the Edwardian era around 1910. It was then that New York society opened its 50-room "cottages" along Bellevue Avenue every summer, and ladies took 90 Paris gowns and their diamond tiaras for a month's stay.

A member of the ball committee gives an interesting account of what a Newport belle might have worn to a great party in the colonial era. The flowered brocade of her gown would have come from France, along with the garlands of lace that decked it. Her head would have been coiffed in a sheer confection of a cap, and diamond siffaires would have glittered in her ears.

Data on the gowns of 1890 to 1910 are easy to come by, for the attics of Newport mansions are still stocked with the trailing satin and velvet gowns, laden with heirloom laces, hanging in storage closets. Those were the days when ladies wore plumed hats to Bailey's Beach at noon, and flaunted diamond chokers and feather fans at dinnertime.

And what will people wear to the 1957 Tiffany Ball? New York custom dressmakers, busy with orders, predict flowered silks and chiffons, layers of misty lace, flower colors in organza and tulle—all floor-length ball gowns, of course. And the lucky possessors

She was presented the Deaf Smith County Federation of Women's Clubs life membership in recognition of her outstanding club work and her willingness to serve the organization in any capacity at all times. She has one daughter, Mrs. L. P. Hansen, and three grandchildren, now in Scotland. Other life memberships have been presented by the CFWC to Mesdames Lee Curry and J. P. Slaton.

Out of town guests attending were aunts of the bride-to-be, Mrs. Bob McCoy of Pampa, Mrs. H. T. Dickens of White Deer, and Mrs. Biggs Horn of Amarillo.

TELEPHONE TALK

by W. L. Leavy, Manager

NEW TELEPHONE FOLKS

Two young men and their families have been moved to town to help take care of the new dial system. They are L. D. Berna, who has moved here from Arlington, L. D., his wife and three daughters have moved to 610 Union. Jim Bennett and his family have moved from Quannah. Jim is staying at a tourist court until he can find a house.

L. D. and Jim, together with Ray Bosley of Hereford have been in a special school since January. By the way, Frank Farmer, Wire Chief of Hereford, reports he will be back from his special school in St. Louis in August.

VEGETABLE HARVEST

I doubt if there's a business in town that isn't affected by harvest season. Certainly we've been looking forward to it for sometime now. The switchboard has been enlarged and we have been hiring new operators for the last two months.

With onion marketing in full swing calls have jumped to almost 1600 a day. That's as many as some towns twice as large as Hereford have.

A BIT OF COLOR

The trend today is toward color... whether in new cars, ladies' fashions or telephones.

The selection of modern telephone sets now available is certainly keeping step with today's colorful living. We have phones that blend into an overall room scheme; others that contrast with any background; and sets that harmonize with your present color scheme.

A color set will brighten up any room in your home, and you'll be surprised to find out how reasonable they really are. If you'd like to find out more about the eight decorator colors that are available, just call the telephone company. Or better still, drop in to see them the next time you're close by.

REACH—DON'T RUN

Can you think of anything that makes you madder than running from one end of the house to the other to answer the telephone only to find that there's no one on the line?

A handy extension telephone would have saved those extra steps—and might have meant that the call would have been completed, too.

Extension telephones, conveniently located throughout your home, can make it possible for you to REACH for the phone instead of RUNNING to answer it.

And with the cost so small (only 3 cents a day), you can afford to have an additional telephone in the kitchen, bedroom, den, or just about any place where you spend a lot of time.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

Many a bridesmaid has parlayed the big event into a wedding ring for herself.

That's the attitude that every budding bridesmaid should take. What could make for better man pickin' than a wedding? Or put the ushers and male guests in more of an orange-blossom frame of mind?

It's perfect time not only to snare a new man but to rekindle romantic fires in your steady flame.

The idea is to look as pretty as the bride. You won't detract from her. She'll have her own special radiance and audience. But you'll want to choose your makeup and coiffure with the same special consideration as the bride.

If there are many bridal attendants, they will all be dressed alike, wearing the same design in hats, dresses and shoes. Makeup and hairdo will be your only edge, unless of course your figure is a prize winner.

Ruel, chief hair stylist for Coiffures Americana, trend setters, suggests a hairdo with a "feathered look" for this season's bridesmaids. The hair is brushed up and out from the head in wispy waves and curls. It is fuller, softer and curlier than the carefully waved hairdos popular in spring. It is a "careless" hairdo, Ruel explains, an ideal bridesmaid hairdo that typifies youth and gaiety. It can be set a little on the perky side, somewhat coquettish or downright flirtatious, depending on your type.

If you worry about the hairdo being suitable to your bridesmaid's hat, you can solve the problem easily. Ruel suggests you take your hat to the hairdresser with you so that your new coiffure may be coordinated to it. Then you may be sure of a charming coiffure and hat that will enhance your appearance.

When it comes to makeup, it's a good idea to take the gentle attitude. The bride surely will not make up like a burlesque queen, and she'll hardly expect her bridesmaid to detract from the wedding party by over-burdening her face with cosmetics. The prettiest makeup is the one achieved with a minimum of artificial beauty props.

DRAMA SPREADING
NASHVILLE, Tenn. — There has been a tremendous increase in the interest in religious drama, according to the Rev. A. Arlyle Knight, director of the National Methodist Religious Drama Workshop.

"We receive, throughout the year, an average of at least one request a day for help in using religious drama in the Christian education program," the Rev. Knight said in announcing plans for the group's second annual meeting.

The workshop is for adults, including both professional and lay workers in the local church and at colleges.

They Say... In Paris

By NADEANE WALKER

PARIS, (AP) — A dark, sleeked Paris mannequin with tiptiled nose has started a trip around the world to show French fashions.

Fabienne, star mannequin for Carven, took an 86-piece wardrobe in 20 striped cabin trunks when she sailed recently aboard the Liberte.

According to Madame Jenne Carven, she picked Fabienne as her fashion ambassador to celebrate the 10th anniversary of her job with the house. The mannequin left several years ago when she married French movie director Bernard Borderie, and appeared in several films. Now divorced, she has returned to modeling.

She will wear creations mostly in cotton in the Bermudas, Havana, Mexico and Acapulco, reverting to dressier silks for the United States, Honolulu, Hong-Kong, Singapore, Colombo, and finally Rome. The whole tour will take two and a half months.

WHILE THE number of top-flight Paris high fashion houses continues to shrink (latest fatality: Fath), smart boutiques flourish and multiply.

Latest to open is Jean Lefebvre, a former partner of Henry a la Pensee for some 30 years.

The Lefebvre salons feature mostly day dresses and suits, described as "high luxury ready-to-wear." Prices run from about $40 for a simple jersey dress to about $200 for a washable kid leather coat. Knitwear is a specialty, and has a wonderfully casual air.

The owner's wife helps to design the clothes. Original costume jewelry, bags and little hats also are offered, some for a few thousand francs.

Lefebvre is on the Rue du Cirque, between the Faubourg St-Honore and Champs-Elysee gardens.

THE SPREADING fashion empire of Christian Dior has just grown a little bigger with the opening of a Dior ready-to-wear shoe shop here, at the same time the first non-custom-made Dior shoes went on sale in America.

ON THE HOUSE

Unless you check with your local authorities, you never can be quite sure how much electrical work you can do around your home. The regulations are made, of course, for your own safety. But regulations or not, it's a good idea to know something about the electricity in your house, even if you never expect to do anything more useful in that line than changing a fuse.

Speaking of changing a fuse, the important point in that simple operation is to use a replacement of the same amperage. A fuse protects an electrical circuit. When it blows out, it means that the circuit is overloaded or there is a break in the line. If the fuse did not blow out, overheated wires would result in a fire. When a fuse is rated at 15 amperes, it means, generally speaking, that it will carry a certain load of electricity before it gives way. If you put in a new fuse that is rated higher, it will carry a heavier load all right—but the protection will disappear.

The lesson: when a fuse blows out, always replace it with a fuse of the same amperage. And since you know it blew out for a reason, find out what the reason is. Did you have too many appliances connected to one circuit? Or is there a break in one of the extension or appliance cords?

It used to be considered a smart idea to use a penny as a substitute for a fuse when a new one was not immediately available. Since a penny gives no protection to the circuit at all, lots of fires started that way. Although fire authorities have warned of this danger for years, investigations have shown that some householders still use pennies in place of blown fuses. By keeping a few extra fuses on hand at all times, there never will be any temptation to use a penny or any other substitute.

Many newer houses use circuit breakers instead of fuses, in which case a switch or lever is thrown to restore the flow of electricity. Also, there are several new types of fuses on the market, one of which calls for pushing a button, another for making a little adjustment which enables the fuse to be used several times before it becomes useless.

Don't use wiring for purposes for which it is not intended. A lamp cord is perfectly safe when used as a lamp cord, dangerous when used as an appliance cord. Extension cords are useful, but are not to be used as permanent replacements for additional receptacle outlets. In doing any outdoor wiring, be sure to use weatherproof wiring and outlets. Don't immerse electric toasters or other appliances with heating elements in water. Power tools, washing machines and similar heavy-duty apparatus must be grounded. Prompt attention to frayed electrical cords will avoid short circuits. When there is a possibility of a small child pulling out a plug and poking something into the outlet, use the type of safety plug that cannot be removed by a child.

The average house circuit, which carries a 15-amp fuse, has a maximum capacity of 1,650 watts. All fixtures and appliances attached to that particular circuit should not total more than 1,650 watts. Any appliance with an Underwriters Laboratory label on it has the wattage stamped on the name plate, so you can figure out yourself whether the line is overloaded. Keeping electricity under control may be a little trouble, but it's a small price to pay for safety.

Rains To Affect Farmers' Social Security Payments

Probably few farmers have seen any connection between the recent rains and their social security payments. According to a statement from John R. Sanderson, manager of the District Social Security Office in Amarillo, there is such a connection.

Over 1,200 farmers have filed claims for monthly social security payments in the Amarillo Office this year. Except for farmers who became age 72 before 1957, payments cannot be made for all months of the year to a farmer who has net profits of over $1,200 in 1957. Because of the recent rains, many farmers who did not expect net profits of over $1,200 when they filed their claims now expect more than that amount in 1957.

Sanderson urges any farmer now under age 72 and receiving social security payments to have these payments stopped if he feels that his net profits will be over $1,200 in 1957. If he fails to stop the payments and does have net profits of over $1,200, he will have been overpaid and will have to refund some or possibly even all of his 1957 payments. At the end of the year, when the exact amount of 1957 profit is known, an adjustment will be made to pay the farmer for any additional months due him or to collect from him the amount of any over-payments already made to him.

Since both 1955 and 1956 were low income years for most farmers, it is quite possible that a good crop in 1957 would cause an increase in the amount of a farmer's social security payments. Applications to have payments refigured to include 1957 profits cannot be filed before July 1, 1958.

Tourist Finds His GI French A Bit Out of Step with Times

By HUGH MULLIGAN

PARIS (AP)—Open letter to the secretary of defense from an American in Paris—

Dear Mr. Wilson: Thousands of old soldiers will be returning to Paris this summer to see how the old town of happy fur-rough memories has fared in the 13 years since the liberation.

Many of them, like myself, probably will dig through their war souvenirs for a tattered copy of Training Manual 30-602, the little French phrase book issued by what was then the War Department.

It was a handy little reference work in its day, but times have changed. To preserve Franco-American relations, it might not be a bad idea if your department whipped up a new phrase book specifically designed for the ex-GI tourist.

How far can a fellow get in Paris today with sentences like "donnez du fourrage a mon cheval" (feed my horse) and "les troupes creusent-elles des tranchées?" (have the troops been digging trenches?)

YOU WILL get a better idea of what I am talking about when I tell you what happened on my first morning back in Paris after an absence of more than a dozen years.

Clutching the old phrase book, I set off boldly down the Champs Elysee from my hotel on a little shopping tour, confident that its phonetic simplicity would serve me as well in my tourist present as it did in my military past. "This phrase book," the first page reassured me, "contains all the words and expressions you are likely to need."

My destination was a little specialty shop in the Rue de Rivoli. My objective: a collapsible umbrella, a charm bracelet, some perfumed bath salts, a printed scarf and a few other trinkets requested by relatives.

I accosted a blue-caped policeman for directions, but first hastily flipped through my Army language guide for some prefatory greetings. Several were suggested. Among them: ne tirez pas (don't shoot), alignez-vous (line up), planquez-vous (lie down), abritez-vous (take cover), and montrez vos papiers (produce your identification).

All seemed a trifle curt so I settled for one far down on the list—bonjour—and threw in a dashing "victoire" for good measure.

IT WAS ALWAYS a conversational pick-me-up in the old days, but he only scowled.

I hurried to the business at hand. How to get to Rue de Rivoli? How to find a specialty shop? The table of contents failed to cover either situation. I could have asked for directions to a foxhole (trou-abri individuel), a minefield (champs de mines), a pillbox (blockhaus) and a booby trap (piege), but unfortunately none of my relatives collects foxes, mines, pills or boobies.

A high school French teacher from Ohio with a variety of handy expressions like "le crayon de ma soeur est bleu" (my sister's pencil is blue) finally directed me to the shop but again the Army guide book deserted me at the crucial moment.

No mention of collapsible umbrellas, printed scarfs or perfumed bath salts. Shopping tastes have changed drastically since the war. Then masks de gaz (gas masks), de talc a pied (foot powder), bonnets de police (garrison caps) and laxatifs (laxatives) were all the rage.

EVEN THE grand old expression, "Le gouvernement des Etats-Unis vous paiera" (the United States government will pay you), aroused suspicion and failed to evoke Gallic huzzahs as in the days of old.

You will be glad to know, Mr. Wilson, that I did manage to get the charm bracelet. It was a real find, adorned with some very unusual trinkets that most tourists never get to see. They included one mitrailieuse (machine gun), an canon lour (heavy artillery piece), un fusil (rifle) and un fusée (rocket). To give the Army its due—at least I fared better than the Ohio teacher. Turns out his sister hates blue pencils.

NEW BIBLE WORK Philadelphia (AP)—The huge library of Bible translations receives an addition soon—a new rendering from the Aramaic dialect used by Palestinian Jews, and the language spoken by Christ M. Lamsa, noted scriptural scholar. It will be published by A. J. Holman Co. in October.

The work contains several hundred textual changes from the King James version. Sample: "Again I say to you, it is easier for a rope to go through the eye of a needle, than for a rich man to enter into Kingdom of God." (St. Matthew, 24:19.)

We the Voters are Calling the Tune!

One Man's Ideas About Our Future

(Editor's note: The following article appeared recently in the "Farm and Ranch" magazine under the by-line of Tom Anderson. It is reprinted in The Brand by special permission, chiefly because we feel that Mr. Anderson discusses some points about which every American should devote extensive thought. While in some instances we do not agree with Mr. Anderson, we do believe that he points up some basic problems which in a few years might well change the manner in which each of us live.)

"We cannot revert to the theories and practices of 1890." Who said that, F. D. R.? Harry Truman? Hubert Humphrey? Walter Reuther? No. It was our new President, the Modern Republican Eisenhower.

What is "Modern Republicanism?" It appears to be sort of an honest New Deal which Sherman Adams has convinced the President most of the people will vote for. Sherman's second march to the sea may end in even more devastation—and for the whole nation this time, not just for the South.

Bunking Party

Recently Mr. Eisenhower said some people become highly economy-conscious without knowing what they are talking about.

Guess who said this: "We can have more defense for less money. They say you cannot defend the country for less dollars than we now are spending. That I will guarantee you, is bunk."

That was candidate Eisenhower in 1952. (The 1951 military budget even with the Korean war going on, was $20 billion. The 1956 peacetime military budget was $35 billion.)

General Eisenhower, the candidate, also proclaimed, "I believe that inflation is as dangerous an enemy as any we face today." "I believe that taxes are too high." "My administration will knock down the idol of cheap money, getting unified action from our economic agencies, and slicing the fat out of the budget."

Mr. Eisenhower's budget contains 37 proposals for new and expanding activities. Before they got in office the Republicans were against big government but the "Modern Republicans" now recommend the addition of 105,000 federal employees.

There are already more millions on federal payrolls than in the peak days of the New Deal. There are more millions getting government checks for not working than at any time during the great depression or since.

In 1952 the public debt was $255,222,000,000. Now it's $274,000,000,000.

Middle-of-the-Roadmanship

Businessmen are disillusioned, disappointed and disgusted by the Modern Republicanism their erstwhile idol General Eisenhower has learned. Why should they be? It's no more than they deserve. They sacked the greatest statesman of our time, Senator Taft, for a candidate who could win. They didn't know what party or what church he belonged to, and neither did he. Both are now finding out. He's a Latter Day New Dealer.

Mr. Eisenhower says he can't cut the budget. Most congressmen say they won't. Not really deep-down cut it. They're afraid to—until we the people tell 'em where to cut it and then demand that they do. Most congressmen, let it be remembered, are more interested in staying in Washington than anything else in the world. Getting reelected is more important than budgets. So we the voters are calling the tune. Let's call it!

Senator Harry Byrd, Democrat of Virginia, has pointed out how $6.5 billions could be cut, resulting in more defense and better government. But the President has said he does not believe the budget could be cut as much as $2 billion without impairing national security and curtailing needed domestic programs. Thus, his efforts to cut the budget have been as restrained as an undertaker's smile. Would it be endangering national security or "going back to 1890" to bury some of the ridiculous projects? For instance:

They are re-locating the Botanic Garden Greenhouses at a cost of $587,000. They are charging you $328,000,000 to air-condition federal buildings—so you'll be comfortable when you come to Washington to visit...

I guess those foreigners will stop teasing us for having no culture now! The Commission of Fine Arts of the Department of Interior "advises the President, Congress, and the department heads on matters of architecture, sculpture, painting, and other fine arts." That's costing you $37,000 this year. But won't it be nice to see how cultured your congressman is when he comes home. The Department of Health, Education and Welfare is asking Congress for $228,000 to teach you how to fish. The Forest Service in Agriculture wants $11,500,000 from you next year to provide recreation in the forests. Your government has become quite a Party Girl. Wants to give you a good time, at your expense.

Greenback Door

The $16,500 doorkeeper of the House of Representatives has been raised from $6,000 to $16,500 during the last eight years. If you'd like the job at $6,000 just write your Representative.

The assistant doorkeeper gets only $12,500. Eight years ago the job paid $3,500, which is more than the average schoolteacher makes today. Of course, compared to the budget, that's just peanuts—but there are thousands of those peanuts.

Let's cut the benefits for all government people—from the President on down. They're living higher on the hog year after year, $9,000 chauffeured Cadillacs and other fringe benefits for themselves, at your expense. For instance, now for the first time in history, Supreme Court Justices retire for life on their full $35,000 yearly salary.

There's No Place Like Home

We can cut the budget. Where shall we start? Let's start at home, with us and ours. The reason we're spending ourselves into uncontrollable inflation and bankruptcy is that we let the federal government take us over. We sold out for Federal Aid. We gave up States Rights, state responsibilities, and many of our individual freedoms for money from Washington. For 25 years we've fought for a front row position at the federal trough to get everything we could for ourselves because "if we don't get it somebody else will."

We got it. It wasn't free like we thought though. It was our money which trickled back to us from Washington. But about 35 cents

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

Physical Education Plan Promotes Varied Thoughts

Changes in the school curriculum of Texas schools to be introduced in the immediate future will include compulsory participation in physical education classes. This new requirement, in part, accounts for Hereford school trustees proposing the building of a girls' gym at the high school. Have you considered the physical education program, as handled in past years within our schools, an adequate program for our children?

LUTHER LESLY—While I have always considered that participation in physical education programs and athletics should be an optional matter, I do feel that we need a better rounded physical education program here. More instructors, more physical training equipment, and additional gym space are needed to permit the offering of a better program.

HOMER HENSLEE—I have always felt that physical education should be a required part of the school curriculum. I favor a well rounded physical education program.

JUDY PATTERSON (High school junior)—While I do not believe physical education should be compulsory for girls, I feel that if it is to be required, the program should include such varied activities as gymnastics, badminton, tumbling, tennis and swimming. The program, in the past, has been too limited in scope, and more instruction has been needed.

EUGENIA ALEXANDER (High school junior)—Like Judy, I do not feel that physical education should be compulsory for girls. But if it is to be required, I would like to see a better rounded program offered than has been the experience in the past. In addition to the introduction of different sports and individual athletic activities, there should be interschool games. The study of "health" should be eliminated from the P. E. period.

FRED CUNNINGHAM—My answer is, in part, yes, and in part, no. We have not had 100 per cent participation of those eligible about 60 per cent of the students last year took part in our health, physical education and recreation program. Health has always been a cardinal principal of the complete education curriculum.

JIMMIE ALLRED—In my own thinking, I have regarded our program as pretty complete with the exception of not offering a competitive sport, such as basketball, for girls. I feel that any addition to the present program would be desirable, but I have no criticism of the program we have had.

MRS. W. H. LONDON JR.—The physical education program and facilities in our high school seem to have been entirely adequate in meeting the demand for those who have wished to participate, particularly for the girls. However, if the state board of education accreditation requirements of 120 minutes physical education per week per pupil are to become compulsory and are enforced, our present facilities will be inadequate unless some method of doubling-up can be devised, such as a method of scheduling which would allow the present gymnasium to be used for boys and girls on alternate days.

OUR RECENT VISITORS, the foreign student group that visited Hereford last weekend, impressed the homefolks, apparently, with their intelligence and poise. But we wondered at the agility the youngsters displayed during their swimming party. Both in and out of the water, even to walking on their hands, above, from pool to dressing room, the boys and girls from abroad put their hosts in the shade and the shade, incidentally, is where their hostesses spent most of the time devoted to the swimming party. But the visiting boys and girls, at least those we observed at the Newell pool, generally displayed exceptional athletic ability, a fact they credited to routine physical education programs of their schools abroad. Their impromptu demonstration prompted this Question of the Week. (Staff Photo)

PORTABLE HOSPITALS

NEW YORK—The Federal Civil Defense Administration plans stockpiling fully-equipped portable hospitals.

By 1962, a total of 6,000 such units may be available to provide emergency aid to as many as 2.5 million victims in the event of a major natural disaster or an enemy air attack.

These van-transported emergency hospitals, equipped to handle 200 bed patients at a time, are being distributed throughout the U.S.

Steelways, official publication of American Iron and Steel Institute, said that the portable facilities and supplies can turn a pre-selected empty school or church into a hospital within four hours, complete with its own water, power and light, three operating rooms, an X-ray room, a sterilizing room, a reception and sorting room, laboratory, a pharmacy and medical needs sufficient to last 36 to 48 hours.

EASY START

WATERTON PARK, Alta.—Black bears are out of hibernation in this rocky mountain resort area, but they're not necessarily awake. The first reported bear of the season was seen dozing peacefully in the afternoon sun, in front of the firehall.

SERVICES BY RADIO

SPRING GROVE, Minn.—Trinity Lutheran church of this farming village of 1,200 people has found an unusual way to keep in touch with the shut-ins of its scattered parish.

The church has set up a radio system which broadcasts worship services, weddings and various church meetings through a hook-up with local telephone circuits to special receiver sets in the shut-ins' homes.

The service now is carried in to some 40 private homes, and to the local infirmary and hospital.

HEALTH DEPARTMENT URGES MOSQUITO CONTROL

Mosquito control rests with the individual home owner, Floyd County residents were told recently when the Texas Health Department information on mosquitoes was presented in Floydada, under the sponsorship of the Chamber of Commerce. W. D. Power, field representative of the department, and R. E. Peel from the vector control division gave the information at the courthouse. "Start at home by proper screening, spraying and destroying breeding places," Peel said. "As the mosquito life cycle is shortened by sunshine, weeds and grass should be cut to eliminate mosquito resting places," he said. Floyd County farmers will also play an important part in the program. Preparing fields and irrigated pastures so that water is not pooled, properly constructing irrigation ditches to prevent standing water or vegetation, spraying livestock sheds and treating lake beds with chemicals are ways farmers can help in the program, it was pointed out.

MEMPHIS COUNCIL VOTES IN DIAL SYSTEM

The Memphis City Council voted last week to grant a rate increase to the General Telephone Company of the Southwest. Mayor O. L. Helm said the increased rate will go into effect on Sept. 16, and the dial service will be installed within 30 months. In the original request filed with the city council June 10, the telephone company present a report of earnings showing that the local telephone operation was not making a sufficient return on the investment. Mayor Helm stated that the council members were of the opinion that the conversion to the dial system would be the best thing for the city.—THE MEMPHIS DEMOCRAT

The BOOTLEG Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his bindweed farm is ranging far from his farm this week, his letter reveals.

Dear editor:

While it may sound a little odd for a country that can't figure out how to ban a crop surplus of its own to be attending a meeting of world leaders on how to ban the world-wide testing of the Hydrogen Bomb, none the less I was reading about the conference they held over in London recently on banning these H-bomb tests and I went to the trouble of skipping working in the field two whole days just to think about it.

As I understand it, the United States is willing to ban these tests, providing Russia will agree; and Russia will agree, provided we'll take her word for it.

Now I'll tell you. Outside of trying to buy a money order on the installment plan, I don't know of anything harder to do than trying to get Russia to live up to an agreement.

If Russia agrees to ban further testing, it means one of two things: either she already knows all she needs to know about the things, or she'll go right on testing them.

If some inspector heard one go off, the Russians would smile and first say there wasn't a thing to it, it was just some kid exploding a firecracker back in the Ukraine. If the inspectors swore their detecting devices showed it was a hydrogen bomb, the Russians would promise a full investigation, and after six months of talk would admit a bomb did go off, but it was an accident, some scientist was leaving the laboratory in a hurry to get home to supper and thought he was turning off the lights when he flipped the wrong switch.

I'll tell you, the Russians have a Russian answer for everything. If I had one of 'em living next to me on an adjoining farm and his cows got over into my pasture and I complained, he'd come out with an indignant statement that my pasture was attacking his cows and I owed him money for the outrage.

All I've got to say is I'd like to meet some of these people who will accept a signed agreement from Russia on anything. I've got some Confederate bonds I'd like to sell them for cash.

Yours faithfully,

J. A.

One Man's Ideas . . .

out of every dollar was kept by the bureaucrats for running expenses. On the round trip to Washington, dollars have to pay their freight each way, plus handling charges. Instead of keeping up an army of bureaucrats, freeloaders, tax-gatherers, we should spend our money ourselves. Then we'd get what we really want at the price we can afford to pay, rather than what the bureaucrats think is good for us. We pay exorbitant federal taxes for things we didn't need enough to spend our own money for.

Let's Go to the Store With Our Own Money

Let's buy, pay for and run our own schools, hospitals, etc. There's no such thing as "public money." It's ours—and our children's and our children's children's. And there's no such thing as federal aid without federal control.

In the budget is a request from the State Department for $4,900,000 to build a stadium in Cleveland, Ohio, for the Pan American games. Cleveland already has one of the finest municipal stadiums in the nation, seating 85,000. But the State Department thinks our Latin-American friends would like us better if we built a new stadium.

Senator Lausche, Democrat of Ohio, fought the proposal even though his own state would be "given" the stadium. Lausche said, "The federal budget must be cut. I cannot support for Ohio something that I would oppose in another state." That is Statesmanship.

Why do Congressmen favor a budget-cut graveyard in which there is only one headstone, epitaphed: "Spending outside my state."

The Urban Renewal and Slum Clearance Program is slated to get $175,000,000 this year, but the nation's mayors met with Mr. Eisenhower recently and he told 'em he'd consider raising it to $250,000,000. Remember when slum clearance was a New Deal make-work program, to be discontinued when we came out of the depression? Any good reason why you should pay for slum-clearing in New York, Nashville or Nantucket?

Federal grants-in-aid is 'the greatest con game ever invented by politicians.

Life of the Party

Some claim the budget is not too big. Life Magazine, for instance, says the only item that really needs cutting is the subsidy to farmers. Life fails to mention cutting its own postal subsidy, estimated by the Postmaster-General at $7 to $9 million yearly.

The President has talked a good game of economy while steadfastly maintaining that foreign aid is, like Caesar's wife, above suspicion. Much foreign "economic aid" which you would oppose if you knew what it was really for, is hidden under the bed of "defense." Who can be against "defense?"

Where can we cut? Practically everywhere. But let's make the biggest cut foreign aid! I'm not a charity-ends-at-home advocate. It's just that we've given too much, too loosely, too long, to the world without end. President Truman assured us the foreign aid program—Marshall plan as it was then called—was an emergency program which would last but four years and cost but $15 billion. It's now 10 years and $51 billion later, and we're finding new ratholes every day.

Let's Make the World Safe for America

"We're joined in the common cause of freedom," says the International Cooperation Administration. Freedom? Playing footsie with Tito and Franco? That's freedom?

We're maintaining Socialism in England, dictatorship in Yugoslavia and harems in Saudi Arabia. What connection does King Saud have with "democracy?" We give him millions for harems and gold Cadillacs. We gave only our prayers to Hungarians waging one of history's most dramatic struggles for freedom.

The original excuse for big foreign aid was to strengthen the under-developed countries so they could resist Communist aggression. An empty belly and an empty head breed Communism, it was claimed. Some of our most full-bellied, double-yolk eggheads in this country and the world are dyed-in-the-wool Communists. France, one of the oldest cultures, and now more prosperous than in decades, is riddled with Communists. We've subsidized the foreign farmer so that he can take our markets away from us. We've Point-Four-ed ourselves out of hundreds of millions of dollars of farm exports by subsidizing our competitors all over the world.

Lenin and Stalin both said it was the purpose of Soviet Communism to get the "have not" countries. It appears that we will continue endless aid to the undeveloped countries until we raise them to our standard of living or until we sink to theirs, which is the Soviet grand design.

Why Not the World Bank?

Britain has cut her armed forces in half to provide tax cuts and expansion for her welfare-state Socialism, while postponing payments on her debts to us—again. Britain, having long since waived the rules, now waives the expenses. And good old Uncle Sam has the responsibility—and the bills for the world. Maybe England and the other countries who've reduced their taxes ought to give us foreign aid.

Instead of an enlarged program of long-range "loans" to friendly nations why not let the World Bank do it? Forty-four nations are members and stockholders. The U. S. owns one-third of the stock.

Forty cents out of every foreign aid dollar, according to former Ambassador Spruille Braden, goes to "a pack of bureaucrats who feed off the rest of us."

Poteet Will Pave Bull Barn Area

A contract to pave a 23,000 square yard parking area around the Bull Barn was awarded this week to Poteet Construction Co. of Falls on a bid of 40 cents a square yard, County Judge Homer Henslee announced.

Four companies bid on the contract: Thomason Construction Co. bid at 45 cents a yard; Messer Construction Co., 41 cents; and Rutter & Robinson at 39 cents. The latter bid did not include provisions for supplying any base material, Judge Henslee noted.

McMorris & Co., engineers, advised the commissioners court Monday that at least 100 cubic yards of additional caliche base material will be needed to complete a substantial base for the asphalt paving job.

The work is expected to begin during the latter part of July, the judge said. The Poteet company is the same firm that recently received a contract to pave about three miles of streets in Hereford.

Seed fired a one-under par 71 to go with his 75 of Thursday for a total of 146, nine strokes ahead of second place Bob Lindsey. Tied for third in the championship flight were Dale Taylor, John Etheridge and John Renner. Taylor won the playoff on the second hole with a birdie four.

Meredith Ireland shot an 88 Sunday for a total of 178. She had fired a 90 Thursday. Helen McWhorter was second with 185 and Hootie Gilbreath third with 186.

First flight honors were won by Reno Archer with a 149. J. A. Pitman was second with 158 and F. M. Cogdell third with 161.

Don Vaughn took first in the second flight with 163. Joe Kerr came in second with 170 and Doc Cowan third, 171.

Third flight title went to Glen Redner with a 163. Taylor Sims and Bruce Wooddel tied for second with 171 each.

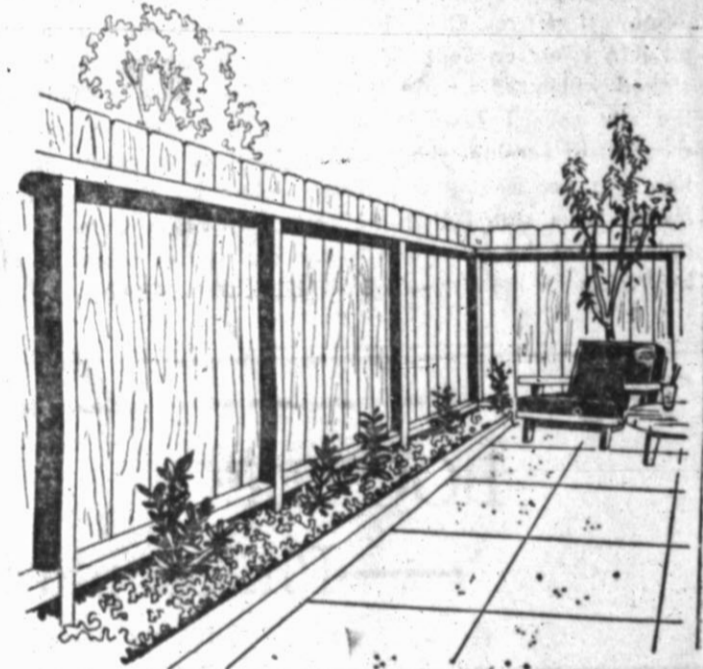

In the fourth flight, Dave Carson shot a 181 for first, Dr. H. A. Cavness, second, 187; Troy Moore, third, 188; fourth place tie between G. L. Mings Sr., Don Little and Cliff Arnold, 192.

A playoff for fourth will be held this week.

The annual city golf tournament has tentatively been set for either August or October, according to pro Bud Posey. The sixth annual Invitational Tournament will be held Sept. 12-15, Posey said.

Posey added the ladies city tournament will be held sometime in October.

CAMEL MART—Bedouin tribesmen huddle market has become one of Israel's leading among their animals at the Arab camel market at Beersheba, Israel. The colorful outdoor tourist attractions.

Bedouin Camel Market Israel's Tourist Draw

By ROBERT TUCKMAN
BEERSHEBA, Israel (AP)—Want to buy a camel?
It takes a bit of hard Oriental haggling, but you can get a good one at the Arab camel market here for $165 (300 Israeli pounds).
Scores of these "ships of the desert" are offered for sale every Thursday morning by Bedouin tribesmen who converge on the outdoor market from the surrounding Negev desert.
There is also some trading in donkeys, goats and sheep.
If you spot a camel you like, you grasp the hand of the owner in a firm handshake and hold it throughout the ensuring bargaining. It could be a 30 minute handshake.

You offer half of what you expect to pay. He asks twice as much as he expects to get.
WHEN you've reached a price you are willing to pay, you let go of the seller's hand, slap it three times with a big sweep of your arm (the sweep's important) and—you've bought a camel.
The Bedouins who flock here each week with their women present so colorful a picture in their Arab headdress and flowing robes that the market has become one of Israel's leading tourist attractions.

The women take no part in the deals. They sit in small groups off to a side, nursing children and cooking food over open fires. Many wear long chains of silver coins from their foreheads, symbols of their wealth.
Unlike the men who will readily pose for tourist-photographers, the women turn away or hide their faces behind black veils. Sometimes, they throw small stones at would-be picture takers.
LEADING trader at the camel market is Israel's paramount Arab sheikh, Suleiman el Husell, who owns 500 to 600 camels.

Heat Limits Wheat Yield

By MRS. S. N. THWEATT

Wheat harvest is over in this community. The weather has been real harvest weather, hot and dry.
N. A. Brown harvested 420 acres of dryland wheat which made 13 bushels of 28 pounds per acre. S. N. Thweatt harvested 60 acres which made better than 10 bushels per acre. The hot winds hit it about a week early or it would have made much better.
Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Brown visited Mrs. Brown's brothers and families Sunday afternoon. They are Mr. and Mrs. Roy Potts and Mr. and Mrs. Cordie Potts. They also visited with Mrs. Brown's nephew, Walter Potts, who is in the service. He is the son of the Roy Potts of Rosedale, N. M. He arrived home Sunday at 6 a.m. with a cousin, Dwight Potts. They completed boot training at Fort Ord, Calif., and have a week leave before reporting to school in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Elmer Northcutt and daughter Wanda had trouble Friday while hauling wheat to Frisco. They ran a wheel off of their truck. No one was hurt; there was just a delay in hauling.
Mrs. S. N. Thweatt has a new nephew, Timothy Douglas Howard, born June 12. The parents are Mr. and Mrs. Coy Howard of Whitehall. The Howards have another child, a daughter, Terri.
Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Thweatt received an announcement of the arrival of Cynthia Rae Delle to Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Harvey June 30. Mr. and Mrs. Harvey are the first teachers to teach in Walcott's new school. They now live in Amarillo where they have been teaching since leaving Walcott. Cynthia is their only child.

Bedouins say the best age of a camel (when buying) is five years old. They say the camels live to about 30 years of age.
The camels are used for ploughing, as a means of desert transportation, for carrying food, water and goods, and, on occasion, for racing.
A camel in good form, the Bedouins say, can travel 60 kilometers (37 miles) a day. Contrary to legend, they cannot go long stretches without water but instead must drink every three to five days.
Some of the camels sold here are used for meat, although camel steaks usually do not appeal to Western tastes. Slaughtered camels also are used to make mattresses, carpets, tents and paint brushes as well as camel's hair clothing.
If you don't want to buy the camel outright, you can rent one. The cost is about $4 a day (7 or 8 Israeli pounds).

Mrs. Josie Busby left Saturday for a visit in South Dakota. She went with her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Carol Busby.

Los Angeles Posse Rides in the Sky

By JOHN DECKER

LOS ANGELES — The ultimate in modern cops and robbers plots reached a climax recently — appropriately near movie-land — with the capture from the air of a thug named Melvin Evans.

Evans, hiding out in a remote canyon after shooting a man, suddenly found himself looking up at a helicopter bearing the star of the Los Angeles sheriff's office. He scurried deeper into the brush — too late.

FLYING LAWMEN: Capt. Sewell Griggers pilots Los Angeles Aero Detail helicopter in demonstration man-hunt while his brother, Sgt. C. L. Griggers, handles the 'COPTER' armament — a shotgun with special pistol grip.

Capt. Sewell Griggers set the 'copter down and put a detective armed with a tommygun on a ridge behind Evans. The fugitive surrendered, was brought in, and later was convicted of attempted murder.

Although Evans, as far as is known, is the first criminal to be successfully tracked, spotted and captured by helicopter, the idea of putting wings on the old sheriff's posse has spread far since Los Angeles organized the nation's first aero detail in 1929. More than 350 have an air arm, but none is as mighty as Los Angeles.

Its strength lies in the 100-plane stand ready to volunteer their time and skill and aircraft for any task to which the aero detail summons them — and in the slim, 51-year-old airman who leads it.

CAPT. GRIGGERS, as head of the aero detail, is the squadron commander, and says of his winged posse: "These ain't any other group in the world that has such an accumulation of flying time."

The squadron includes two reserve Air Force generals, a retired Air Force general, a retired Marine general, and the chief test pilots of four aircraft plants, and several airlines.

Speed pilot Paul Mantz is a member; so is Charles Correll, and Andy of the Amos 'n Andy radio team. Another 100 applicants are waiting for a vacancy so they can join up.

"We can put everything from jets to Cubs in the air in a matter of minutes," says Griggers who can remember when the aero details had one detail missing — namely planes.

That was back in 1933 when Griggers closed up the little airport he had been running since 1926 and joined the sheriff's office in order, as he puts it, "to get a meal ticket" during the depression.

unaccustomed to having the eagle eye of the law peering down from the skies.

THE FIRST to feel the chill gaze were the buoyant, carefree private pilots. Fond of buzzing the houses of girl friends or scaring the daylighters out of ocean bathers by skimming the waves, the flyers found it hard to believe they were no longer as free as the birds.

"We had eight of them in jail at one time," Griggers said. "They were all doing from 30 to 90 days. Didn't have much trouble after that."

"The volunteer squadron does most of its flying in search of downed or missing aircraft. A map in Griggers' office has 109 pins spotting accidents — most of them in the San Gabriel Mountains — which Griggers and his men have found, and from which they have removed 261 bodies and 30 survivors.

Griggers finally moved into the aero detail in 1941, by which time the volunteer squadron was losing altitude fast as its members flew off to war. And the detail still had no planes of its own.

Actor Robert Taylor came to the rescue at this point, donating a four-place, single-engine plane to the sheriff's office. The venerable craft is still flying. Movie director Clarence Brown, a squadron member, bestowed another light plane on the detail in 1950, and a year ago it purchased a helicopter to round out its own little force.

In the years since the war, Griggers has startled many a person

Babies Cost Less Today, Say Experts

By RENE CAPON

NEW YORK (AP)—Having a baby today is not only much safer for everybody involved than it was a generation ago, but it's actually cheaper, the Health Information Foundation reports.

Not that you pay fewer dollars for doctor and hospital. But, HIF says, if you adjust the figures for inflation, present-day parents come out ahead financially — on paper, anyhow.

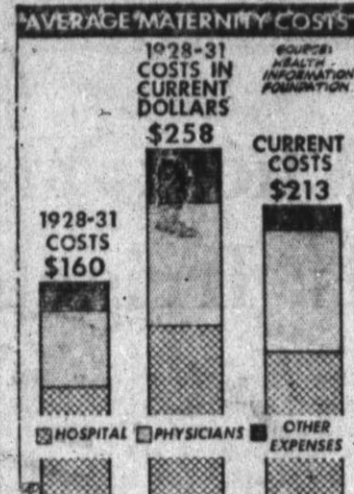

A 1930 study of maternity costs showed the average expenditure per child was $160. Translated into today's cheaper currency that would represent some $258.

Now, a recent survey places average maternity cost at $213. And that's about 15 or 18% lower than the real cost — in terms of purchasing power — 25 years ago.

"This fact is as welcome as it is startling," HIF President George Bugbee commented. "Maternity care is a significant part of all medical care."

HE SAID the research foundation's study showed that physicians' fees for maternity care — a gain measured in "comparable dollars" — have increased slightly in the 25-year-period.

"But this increase is small," he noted, "in view of the greater proportion of physician time devoted

Charting the strides in maternity care in the past generation, the HIF also reported this striking contrast:

In 1935, 63 per cent of American babies were born outside hospitals and 13 per cent of live births were unattended by a physician. Today almost 95 per cent of U. S. babies make their debut in hospitals and doctors duly preside over fully 97 per cent of all births.

FURTHERMORE, the foundation said, mothers in recent years averaged nine consultations with their physicians during the prenatal period.

The average hospital stay of obstetrical cases has been reduced from 12 days 25 years ago to 5, the foundation said, and even, "at a higher cost per day of hospital care, the average hospitalized patient is paying less for hospital care than in 1930 — $92 as contrasted with about $102 (comparable dollars).

Local Chapters Give to Crippled Children's Fund

A check for $14,321.17 was presented to the Texas Society for Crippled Children and Adults at the Beta Sigma Phi sorority state convention in June by Martina Hanigan of Abilene, state project chairman. The check represented proceeds of activities sponsored by sorority chapters in Texas who last year chose the TSCCA, the Easter Seal organization, as their state project.

The two Hereford chapters, Kappa Iota and Xi Epsilon Alpha, contributed to this project from their treasuries, which they maintain with local projects. Other chapters donated in this way or carried on specific projects for the fund.

The sorority adopts a worthy organization each year as its project and since 1953 approximately $50,000 has been raised for such groups. The project chosen for 1957-58 is mental health.

EL RENO, Okla. (AP)—Fifty-six horsemen here dressed like the old U. S. Cavalry to participate in a charge against an Indian village during a ceremony.

The riders had the same equipment as the old Cavalry except for one extra detail — foam rubber saddle pads to make it easier riding.

Sheldon Proctor was home from Channing over the weekend, visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Proctor.

GLOBE RECLAIMED

NEW YORK (AP)—Another Broadway theater has been recaptured for the stage instead of movies.

The Globe theater has been bought by a partnership for $1,200,000. The group plans to spend another half million in refurbishing the 1,500 seat auditorium.

The Globe was built by Charles Dillingham in 1910, played numerous stage hits before bowing to the great movie craze in 1931.
