Voting Light in 'Most Courteous' Salesman Contest

Business managers report public voting in the "Most Courteous Salesman and Saleswoman" light through the first week of the contest and request heavier participation by shoppers.

The contest, promoted to stimulate better acquaintance between sales people and shoppers, will run through May 28, but public balloting will end May 24. A secret committee of five local business men not in actual retail trade will investigate the top five finalists in each category and announcement will be made May 29.

All contestants are wearing name cards while working. Each participating store has ballot boxes for voting, and a list of sales people are made available on each ballot box for easier identification.

Each of the two winners will receive for being named Most Courteous $50 savings Bonds. Winners will be featured in the Pioneer Day parade May 29, by riding in an open convertible.

The contest is sponsored by the Hereford Boosters, a retail trade organization of the Chamber of Commerce.

City manager Dudley Bayne said that he had unofficially learned O. Dell Poteet, contractor on the Municipal Airport, was to begin work in the near future to complete construction of the runway.

New Spud Grading Standards Are Set

Potato growers and handlers of this area will begin operating under a new schedule of grading standards on July 15, according to an announcement by the U. S. Department of Agriculture this week.

The revised standards, the first major changes in potato grades in 25 years, were developed by the USDA with close cooperation of trade representatives. Suggestions for further improvements have been invited.

AL TRAUTMANN of Trautmann Brothers, vegetable growers-producers, stated he had always believed that "... as long as they get stricter on quality, it made it even better for everybody."

Trautmann added he thought it would improve conditions and market all the way from the grower to the home.

Under the new standards, there will be no U. S. Extra No. 1 grade. Instead, there will be a newly defined U. S. Fancy grade, similar to the former U. S. Extra No. 1, except that it calls for higher requirements for maturity, shape and cleanness.

IN ADDITION, the new standards involved modifying the definitions of "damage" and "serious damage," to improve the accepted standards of U. S. No. 1, U. S. Commercial and U. S. No. 2 grades.

Scoring of defects in all grades now is based solely upon the individual potato, not on the general appearance of defective potatoes in the lot.

Changes in size classifications also are included and tolerance of oversize is reduced from 15 to 10 per cent. A new Size C classification has been established to include potatoes ranging from one inch to one and a half inches in diameter.

Band Officers, Twirlers, Members Honored at Dinner

More than 200 band and choir officers and faculty members attended the annual Hereford High School music banquet at Shirley School Friday night.

Announcement of awards, band officers and twirlers for next year was made.

The officers are David Larsen, president; Gene Meacham, vice president; Zell Crump, secretary; Colleen Reeves, treasurer, and Ann McCarver, reporter.

Twirlers will be Betty Paetzold, head twirler; Zell Crump, Jeanette Rayburn, Colleen Reeves, Ruby Bruten and Cherry Holt. Alternates are Pam Clay and Mary Lolis Coker.

The annual John Phillip Sousa award to the outstanding bandsman was given by director Charles Bell to Eddie May and Joan Brown. Bell said the award is supposed to go to just one person but he couldn't choose between May and Miss Brown.

Bell also announced that Sunny Hudson had been awarded a band scholarship to Texas Women's University at Denton.

The band students presented a gift to Bell and choir director Don Moore received a gift from his pupils.

After-dinner entertainment was provided by the Charlie Phillips Trio of Clovis, N. M.

GWIN MORRIS gave the invocation. Carol Willoughby was toastmaster. Joan Brown gave the welcome and David Larsen the response.

He added that the new standards would mainly serve to give buyers more confidence in their purchases in the future.

Plan Improvements For County Hospital

THE HOSPITAL BOARD Thursday evening voted to have acoustical tile installed on the ceilings of the Deaf Smith County Hospital lobby, solatium, hall ways and nurses working station.

Hospital manager T. E. Selgier told the board there had been numerous complaints in those areas, and many times patients in serious condition had to be moved to other parts of the building to get them away from the noise.

Of two bids submitted, $23 by the McCallin Lumber Co. was the lowest and was accepted.

Selgier told the board, "Our plant, staff, equipment and board was complimented by the accreditation inspector who was here today."

The investigator is from the national board which issues accreditation certificates to hospitals. Being accredited, board president Dr. A. T. Mims explained, only means that the hospital is operating at standards set by leading medical authorities in the nation.

Accredited hospitals must have a minimum of 25 beds to qualify. The county hospital received its first accreditation last year. Results of this weeks investigation will not be learned until the national board releases it.

Selgier told board members results of the "Walking Blood Bank" a few weeks ago were "real good."

He said they had figured on only 500, but actually had more than 800 applications.

At the request of the board two months ago, Selgier compiled a report of out-of-county patients who had not paid their hospital bills.

The manager's report stated, for 1957, $482.22 for O. B., $1,042.43 for surgical and $811.98 for medical. For 1958, the report read $579.95 for O. B., $2,761.65 for surgical and $3,297.30 for medical.

Selgier added that much of the money was tied up in insurance claims, and would eventually be paid. The problem of non-county residents coming to the local hospital is being studied by the board.

Two Teams Tied In Little League

AFTER ONE WEEK of play, the Yankees and Cardinals are tied for first place in the Little League without win and no defeats each.

Thursday night the Cards scored a 4-2 win over the Giants and Friday night the defending champion Yanks knocked off the Dodgers, 8-2.

The Yanks and Cards were scheduled to open the season Monday but were rained out.

Frank Cain and Mike Ransport combined pitching talents to limit the Dodgers to only two hits and Mike Ferguson hit a home run in the Cardinals win. The Cards tallied two runs in the third and fifth innings. The Dodgers scored in the first and sixth.

The Yankees batted out nine hits, only one of them for extra bases, as they toppled the Giants, Danny Cates and Van Smith allowed only three hits to the winless Giants.

New Baptist Site Open House Today

Open house will be held by the First Baptist Church Sunday, June 1, from 2 p.m. until 5 p.m., to afford the people of this area an opportunity to inspect the recently completed Elementary Educational Building, located in the east 100 block on 6th Street.

The new building of some 14,000 square feet of floor space will house 10 nursery departments, six beginner departments and two junior departments. The building and furnishings will approximate $150,000 in value.

The public is invited to attend the open house of this new building.

Main Street Hereford Takes On 'The New Look'

By BOB HAMILTON If you had taken a trip away from Hereford, or maybe just plain moved, from January 1, 1958, to January 1, 1959, then came back — you wouldn't recognize the city's Main Street. For that matter — our business district as a whole would be hard to recognize.

Spring cleaning seems to have taken over in a big way — everything from painting to constructing buildings. New business houses are being built, stores are having their fronts remodeled and interiors painted and redecorated, while other businesses are moving from one location to another.

On a quick check this week it was found that 17 businesses along Main Street are being affected in one day or another, and seven on side streets within two blocks.

Everything is going on in the improvement way along Main Street from a couple of hundred dollars worth of painting to construction of a $200,000 building. New fronts are being, or are planned to be, installed giving Hereford's main shopping street a new and more modern appearance. And certainly a more attractive appearance.

The First National Bank building on the corner of 3rd and Main is probably capturing more interest than any other under construction. Sidewalks have had to be blocked while workmen go about their business and at times even streets were blocked for heavy moving.

McGee Furniture on the corner of 6th and Main, which is estimated to cost $50,000, will also make another attractive business establishment for the city. Construction is nearing an end for the exterior and the grand opening is estimated to be about the first part of June.

The City Drug Store is presently remodeling, both inside and out. A new aluminum front on the store was completed this week and new lighting, painting and moving of facilities will be carried out within the next week or so.

Other Main Street businesses planning new or remodeled store fronts are Rogers Drug Store, Hereford Hardware and The Brand.

Hereford Hardware is planning a new brick-type vanier front which will cover the two different colors of brick now on the building which gives the impression of two separate stores. There will also be new all-metal doors installed and a curved aluminum awning. The inside is slated for a new coat of paint, too. A paved parking area was completed a few weeks ago in the rear.

Rogers Drug is slated for a new look in front, with work to begin this week to take out the indent wall and set it flush with the sidewalk, enlarging floor space inside the building.

The Brand has in planning a new front for its building, but no particular material has yet been decided.

A new company is to be established in the S. O. Wilson building next door north of Black Furniture. Although a contract has not yet been signed with Dixie Stores Inc. of New York, an agreement will probably be reached this week for remodeling both interior and exterior at a cost of $7,000 to $8,000. Dixie Stores Inc. sell ladies ready-to-wear merchandise. The building is presently unoccupied.

New businesses on Main Street within the first five months of 1958 have been Gunn Bros. Stamp Store, which moved from the 100 block on west 3rd; B. F. Goodrich Store, moved from the 700 block on west Highway 60; and a Spanish-American cafe next door south to the Texas Theatre.

The B. F. Goodrich Store occupied building space formerly housing H&H Furniture. The latter held an open house for its newly constructed building located on the west side of town on Highway 60.

The Lone Star Insurance Agency now at 136 Main is slated to move into a new building on the corner of 6th and Main sometime in the fall. Occupying the old First Christian Church site, the new structure, costing $50,000, will also have rental unit.

Other Main Street businesses which have moved out, leaving room for more "new look" are in the 100 block of the main thorough-fare on the east side. The Sewing Center was recently vacated, as was the Smoke House, a domino hall located in that building for several years. Lemley's, a dry goods store located across the street from the Texas Theatre constructed last year, is unoccupied and will also have a new occupant within the year.

The U. S. Post Office has been and is still getting a new coat of paint inside the building. Woodwork for the windows on the outside also was painted.

And, if you go way down south on Main Street, almost to the bridge, you'll see another new business on west side. Where the miniature golf course stood last year, a new "Pitch and Putt" course, nine holes, is being laid out and should be in operation in late summer.

Dr. Milton C. Adams, Optometrist, held open house last month for his new office building, built next door south of Edwards Pharmacy.

Also in Adams' area is the new huge Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. communications building, and the recently completed research laboratory which was added on (Continued On Page 2)

A former Hereford man, Larry Trimble, 33, was found shot to death in his office in Odessa Tuesday. Verdict of death was by a self-inflicted gun wound. Assistant manager of the Odessa Chamber of Commerce, for the past few weeks, Trimble was a graduate of Hereford High School. He was manager of the chamber of commerce at Quanah before going to Odessa.

A two-hour talent show sponsored jointly by the Hereford Boosters, Army recruiting service in Amarillo and KFDD-TV, will be staged at the corner of 3rd and Main Saturday, starting at 2:30 p.m. Talent from all over the Panhandle area will participate.

The sequoia tree is estimated to live 2,500 to 3,000 years and reach heights of more than 300 feet.

LEROY SAUL of Kress has announced his candidacy for the State Senate from the 30th Senatorial District which includes Bailey, Farmer, Deaf Smith, Castro, Motley, Hall, Donley, Collingsworth, Childress, Armstrong, Swisher, Hale, Briscoe and Floyd Counties. ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (AP) — A quirk of fate ended Thomas Yorder's three-year absence from the eye of a probation officer who had seen his charge only once after he pleaded guilty to burglary.

Capt. Elmer J. Janssens and Detective Sgt. Chester C. Brandt were walking along Chicago's State Street when they spotted Yorder, 39, working in an arcade.

They obtained a warrant for his arrest and brought him back to Rock Island to show cause why his two-year probation should not be revoked.

INTERNATIONAL FIRE SUPERIOR, Wis. (AP) — Authorities in Wisconsin had to call officials in Minnesota to get permission to extinguish a truck fire. The vehicle developed an overheated tire and caught fire south of here. The truck, loaded with aluminum scrap, was sealed because it was on an international freight trip from Canada. So Sheriff Louis Bannick telephoned the customs office in nearby Duluth, Minn., to get permission to break the seal and fight the fire inside the truck.

HURRICANE ALARM
LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — L. W. Hamlin, a Little Rock manufacturer, thinks he has a simple answer to the need for a household alarm system for approaching hurricanes.

It's a wooden block containing a barometer, buzzer, switch and batteries for power. It operates on the principle that a sharp drop in barometric pressure always precedes a dangerous storm. The buzzer is linked with the barometer in such a way that at a predetermined point it goes into operation. Hamlin says it's loud enough to wake the heaviest sleeper.

McLean Insurance Agency at 127 west 3rd is scheduled for a completely new appearance. The front will be beautified by new glass windows and aluminum and the interior will be completely redecorated. To start about the middle of June, the cost is estimated around $35,000.

Just down the street from the McLean office the vacated Gunn Bros. Stamp Store has been newly painted, both inside and out, and is awaiting occupancy.

Jim Hill Hotel is getting a new paint job in various parts of the building.

NICE, BUT NOT TRUE

Mixup Brings Undue Credit

A wrong impression has resulted in Hereford area farmers being credited — at least temporarily — with an electronics-age "first." But the misunderstanding has been corrected and credit for the first radio-controlled tractors has been returned to where it belongs: Australia.

but magazine which said a radio-operated tractor had been demonstrated in Australia.

Writing a letter to the magazine, Koller said: "I believe if you will check on farming methods in the vicinity of Hereford, Texas, you will find that radio-controlled tractors have been operating since 1951, and possibly before."

"In my utter amazement at seeing a tractor cutting beautiful furrows with absolutely no one in attendance, I forgot completely that I was driving 40 mph and almost wound up in a ditch."

"Later interrogation on the subject produced the fact that farmers ran their tractors around the clock."

Industrial Distribution forwarded the letter to Electronics, a McGraw-Hill publication in New York. Electronics, originator of the Australian story, was interested and wanted more facts and a possible article on the "radio-controlled" tractors in Hereford.

Thursday Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce manager Bill Lenderman received a letter from Koller with attached copies of letters to and from the magazines and a clipping from Industrial Distribution. Koller also asked for information on the radio-controlled tractors.

The self-operated tractors Koller had seen in this region were, and are, those equipped with furrow guides. The shop-made guides are attached to the front wheel of the tractor and follows the previous furrow.

LENDERMAN HAS informed Koller of the use of furrow-guides here and ended his letter:

"So far as we know, there has not been a radio operated tractor in this area, so do not believe we can claim a first in this connection, as much as we would like to."

REMEMBER WHEN?

By CHARLIE SEEDS

It was a revolutionary change. Many a Hollywood star's career came to an end because of it... and many another star was born. For this was the year when the first full length "talkie" was released.

Actually, it wasn't really a "talkie," for it contained only 291 words spoken aloud. But its songs took the country by storm, and even this first crude attempt at sound heralded the dawn of a new era of entertainment.

The star was the famed Al Jolson. The picture, "The Jazz Singer," in which Jolson appeared in blackface and sang the songs which became identified with him, and brought tears to the eyes of millions of movie fans.

Silent pictures still dominated the theater marquees that year... but this was their last silent gasp, for "The Jazz Singer" was an important first, and because of it movies would never be the same again.

Remember the year? More and more Americans were discovering the pleasure of motoring that year. If a man couldn't get a new car, he bought a used one... and he expected to get a lot of safe, useful service out of it.

The year was 1927.

He have a big selection of safe, dependable used cars in our stock... trade-ins on the popular new 1958 FORD. So if you're hopping for a good, clean used car at real savings, look over our selection now... and buy from a reliable new car dealer, CHARLIE SEEDS MOTOR CO., INC. 146 E. Second, Phone EM 4-2727.

AUDITED PAID CIRCULATION

What a fix we'd all be in without those standards of measurement for the goods you buy and sell. Imagine the confusion, waste and doubt in business transactions if we didn't have accepted standards of weights and measures—known values.

We believe it is just as necessary for us to tell you what you get for your advertising dollars, in terms of known circulation value, as it is for you to do business with your customers on the basis of recognized standards. That's why this newspaper is a member of the Audit Bureau of Circulations.

WHAT IS THE A.B.C.? The Bureau is a cooperative and nonprofit association of 3450 publishers, advertising agencies and advertisers in the United States and Canada. Organized in 1914, A.B.C. brought order out of advertising chaos by establishing a definition for paid circulation, rules and standards for measuring, auditing and reporting the circulations of newspapers and periodicals.

WHAT A.B.C. DOES FOR YOU. At regular intervals one of the Bureau's large staff of experienced circulation auditors comes to our office and makes a thorough audit of our circulation records. He has access to all of our books and records to obtain the FACTS that tell you what you get for your money when you advertise in this newspaper.

WHAT A.B.C. REPORTS TELL YOU. The circulation FACTS obtained by the A.B.C. auditor are condensed in easy to read A.B.C. reports which tell you: How much circulation we have; where the circulation goes; how it was sold and many other FACTS about the audience we provide for your sales messages. Make your advertising investments on the basis of this audited information. Ask for a copy of our A.B.C. report.

Commissioners pointed out that during dry spells the course water supply was utilized at its maximum output, which would leave little or no water for homes off the same line.

Seal coating the asphalt parking area around the court house square was approved by the commission. The pavement, as on many other city streets, has become pitted by heavy rains and snow this past winter and needs the improvement, Bayne told commissioners.

A parking area for the city tennis courts, located in the 100 block on Ave. D, was approved by the commission. Bayne reported that particular section of curb was slated to be torn out and improved for proper water drainage anyway. The parking area will be for vertical parking and will probably accommodate some 8 or 12 automobiles.

Bayne reported to the commission that the Public Health Department was in need of a used pickup for servicing heavy equipment at the dump grounds. The commissioners agreed with the request and approved purchase.

The schools have purchased their own Dempster Dumpsters, Bayne said, and will pay the city for dumping services.

Seldom-used streets, Bayne reported, are growing in weeds and serve only for creating a muddy thoroughfare and might possibly be closed so land owners could improve them. Commissioners said they would study the situation and the subject was tabled.

A request for furnishing a water supply from the golf course water pipe to the Coneway Addition was studied by the commissioners. It was brought out that a guaranteed amount of water could not be made to the new homes to be built soon, and such an agree-

School Expansion Plan Greatly Needed IT'S: HER POINT OF VIEW

By BETTY BABIONE
IT LOOKS as if we can expect an announcement to come from the next School Board meeting, in regards to a definite date for another bond election.

Anyone with an ounce of perception can see the terrific need for an elementary school in the northwest part of town and improvements and repairs for the junior high and Central school buildings. The average layman probably won't readily discern the benefits of the provision for special housing for administrative offices but, as I had the advantage of being present at the school board meeting when the idea was first introduced and discussed, I am convinced that it would be a great asset to the efficient management of our educational system.

Both of these propositions will be included in the new bond issue, and Jane and John Q. Public would like to start right now to study the published accounts of all details concerning the issue. It seems strange to me that people will elect a school board and then not support the board in their behavior to meet our school needs. I wonder at the number of "no" voters who don't even have a clear picture of what is at stake in a bond election. Of course, the "yes" voters should realize the significance of what they are doing.

THE FACT that a new school, to be located in the northwest section of Hereford, is a proposal in a pending issue may be primarily due to the efforts of Pat Hill and Wanda Jones. Lots of citizens are interested in getting an elementary school built in that area, but it appeared that no one was going to do much about it until these two determined, young mothers beat the bushes with a petition to present the school board.

SOME OTHER gals who are being commended for setting out and getting a job done are the Executive members of Beta Sigma Phi Hereford. Thirteen women of the Epsilon Alpha Chapter accepted the responsibility of the local Pioneer Crusade's Neighbor to Neighbor campaign, which involved solicitations in the residential areas. The campaign was successful to the tune of $1,315.74 and the society members are quick to share credit with residents whose generosity and co-operation made all possible; they cite Mrs. J. L. Ritsinger, Mrs. Mary King, Mrs. I. Hardwick, Mrs. R. J. Richardson, and Mrs. Bob Brotherton being among those who were especially helpful to the workers conducting the drive.

Mark Woodall and his volunteer workers all had pretty much of a feeling of going into this year's crusade with the odds against reaching the county's goal. Everyone was extra pleased, and a little amazed, when contributions totaled over $2,500—exceeding the goal by more than $600. It goes to show, ya can't always be sure but what something will turn out to be successful even tho it doesn't look like there's a Chinaman's chance.

AND SPEAKING of successes, the recent Rider's Club-sponsored horse show was sure one big one. Over a hundred entries and, according to the judge, one of the hardest jobs of judging he had ever had. The show was well attended and the entire event proved to be quite a feather in the club's cap. But you've heard all this by now.

What you may not have heard was how Meredith Ireland, Freda Beauchamp, Neil Spradley and other ladies of the club membership really navigated the byways to help square away the Bull Barn night. Witnesses say those gals were sho gettin after it. And I can think of lots easier tasks than sweeping out the Bull Barn—anytime, much much less after a horse show.

WE'LL HAVE the opportunity to pay recognition for the courtesy of sales men and women by voting for the man and woman of your choice during the last week of the city-wide contest. When you go shopping, why not take half a minute to drop your votes into the ballot box where you trade? Some lucky sales person is gonna have a nice award when the contest is over—in fact, there will be one for a man and one for a lady—and it may as well be someone YOU think deserves it.

MRS. F. P. Lyons reports that she won't question Jim Witherspoon's first place position of my Best Dressed Men list, but she sure thinks that J. W. Robinson Jr., ought to hold the number two spot. Now I think that's a pretty nice tribute, coming from a mother-in-law. And nobody will argue the point that J.W. certainly one of our town's most consistently well dressed men. Furthermore, that takes a bit of doing for a man of J. W.'s size (hubby says if J. W. didn't make the best dressed men list, he would surely be in the running for the MOST dressed man.)

It's graduation time again and such a hustle and bustle from now till school is out. Guess I'd best go check the calendar and see if I'll have a day next week to catch

Watch That Early Spring Sunburn

By DOROTHY V. WHIPPLE, M.D.

Every spring I see a few cases of severe sunburn, some so serious that they have to have hospital care. Decoration Day is the favorite time for this to appear.

Skins have whitened out during the winter and ready to react to the sun's rays.

Most people do not seem to realize the strength of the sun's rays during the early spring days. The sun is at its maximum intensity on June 21 (in the northern hemisphere). On noon of that day a one-minute exposure to the full strength of the sun in a cloudless sky will produce a mild burn in most light-skinned people. It is at this time that the sun's rays are most vertical and pass through the smallest amount of air in reaching the earth.

From June 21 at noon the relation of the sun and the earth changes so that the least amount of sunshine is received on December 21 at noon. So you can see that toward the end of May the sun is as strong as it is in mid-August when the weather is likely to be hotter. It is not the temperature that is important — it is the layer of atmosphere that the sunshine must penetrate that makes the difference in the strength of the sun's rays.

Of course the warmer the day in early spring the more likely children will be to pull off their shirts and expose their winter-white skins. The warm sun feels good and not until hours later do they realize what that nice sun has done to them.

The younger the child the thinner is his skin. Babies sunburn very easily, more readily than older children. The amount of natural pigment in the skin is a factor, too. Dark-skinned people have more natural pigment in the skin and this pigment acts as a barrier to the ultra-violet rays of the sun — the ones that do the burning. Most people develop pigment in the skin in response to exposure to the sun's ultra-violet. A small exposure will stimulate the skin to make this pigment, but a huge exposure just overwhelms it, and the skin is burned. There are a few unfortunate people who are unable to make this pigment in their skins. Such people never tan and must always be careful of sunshine.

The younger and fairer the child the shorter should be the first exposure of the season. A safe time for the average little child might be about 10 minutes in the middle of the day during May. Early in the morning or late in the afternoon the exposure could safely be twice or even three times this amount. If you are going to be out on an all-day excursion in the early spring and before the children have developed any tan it's a good idea to insist on shirts and slacks being worn from 11 a.m. until 1 p.m. (Sun time — if you live by day-light time add an hour at each end — noon until 2 p.m.) Then let them be exposed before and after these hours, but watch their skins and at the first evidence of any redness get them out of the sun.

Later when they have developed a good coat of tan they can stand hours of strong sunlight.

Sun-tan lotions help when the skin is winter-white. They reduce the amount of ultra-violet penetrating the skin. They help, but do not depend blindly on them.

A severe case of sunburn is not only most uncomfortable but it can be very serious. I had a little blond 2-year-old patient who was so badly sunburned I had to put him in the hospital and treat him in the same way as though he had been burned in a fire. He was in the hospital for almost three weeks.

Because they have specialized high schools music is only taught in the Music High School."

She also explained to the group how the exchange students are chosen.

During the business session reports of officers and special committees were heard and members heard how the Community School Concert Series was organized last spring with Mrs. Bill Bradley, acting president, and Mrs. W. T. Carmichael representing the Music Club.

Dawn Music Club Celebrates 10th Anniversary Tuesday

The Dawn Music Club celebrated its 10th anniversary at an end-of-the-year luncheon held in the home of Mrs. H. H. Miller Tuesday.

The club was organized in the fall of 1947 out of a growing need for a program of musical interest and a medium for musical expression in the community. Its object, "To elevate the musical standard of members and the community," has been foremost in planning the programs which have been built around approved courses of study to meet the tastes in music from grand opera to folk music.

To help advance the musical standards of the community, programs for the public — church music and operettas — have been sponsored and many guest performers have been presented.

The needs of young music students were first met with local recitals but this proved to be inadequate, and in 1949 the Dawn Musettes was organized, an active junior music club which has grown steadily in scope as well as numbers.

Each year district and state officers have been featured speakers on federation day and Miss Mattie Mae Swisher, now of Amarillo, who was instrumental in organization plans, has assisted the group from time to time. Last March a choral workshop was held with Mrs. Robert Alexander of Graver, chairman 7th District Choral Music, TFMC, as instructor. The music of Radie Brittain and Houston Bright was featured.

In April Mrs. Carl Wimberley, who has served as district historian and treasurer, was elected 7th District vice president.

During the years reciprocity teas have been held from time to time. In April the club entertained with a reciprocity tea in the home of Mrs. Gayle Neal with members of the Hereford Music Study Club and Miss Josephine Malacara, pianist, winner of the 7th District, TFMC scholarship award for the past year, as special guests and performers.

The club colors of red and white and the club flower, the carnation, were noted in appointments for the luncheon. The table from which the luncheon was served was centered with an arrangement of red and white peppermint carnations with the treble clef sign and musical notes interspersed among the flowers. Red and white satin ribbon inscribed with the number 10 in silver formed the base for the flowers. Double candleabra holding white tapers flanked the centerpiece.

Quartet tables were laid with white cloths and centered with miniature pianos, from Mrs. Bill Carthel's collection from around the world representing different periods of time, filled with spirea and lilacs.

The credenza was banked with iris and spirea in white, purple and lavender.

Following the luncheon Mrs. H. H. Miller, retiring president, presided over the program. The TFMC collect was read in unison and Mrs. Carl Wimberley gave the club's history tracing the club's growth and development during the past 10 years. She pointed up the achievements and accomplishments of the group during the years, and paid tribute to outstanding members.

The newly-elected president then presented Mrs. Wimberley with a junior counselors pin as a gift from the club in appreciation of her work with the Dawn Musettes.

Mrs. H. H. Miller, retiring president, conducted installation rites for new officers, comparing each to a member of an orchestra and presenting each with a gold pin in the form of a miniature musical instrument, corresponding to her duties of office.

New officers include Mrs. N. R. Miller, president; Mrs. James Alston, vice president; Mrs. Gayle Neal, recording secretary; Mrs. Robert Strain, treasurer; Mrs. Ray T. Stewart, parliamentarian; Mrs. Carl Wimberley and Mrs. Orval Galley, counselors; Mrs. R. L. Johnson, reporter and Mrs. Bill Carthel, historian.

In conclusion Mrs. Miller presented the incoming president with a gavel made of wood found in the woods surrounding the McDowell Colony.

Past presidents attending were Mesdames H. H. Miller, E. C. Reinauer, Carl Wimberley, J. B. Caraway, Gayle Neal and R. T. Stewart.

Others present were Mesdames N. R. Miller, Zed Stewart, H. V. McCabe, Bill Carthel, L. W. Tooley, R. L. Johnson, Orval Galley, Melvin May, Lester English, Robert Strain and L. L. Airhart.

Hemphill County First to Get Highway Right-of-Way Payment

CANADIAN, (Special) — Hemphill county last week became the first in the state to receive right-of-way payments from the State Highway Commission for highway right-of-way purchased under the new 50-50 right-of-way bill passed by the last legislature.

Several other counties in the Panhandle district have contracts now being processed, and are scheduled to receive cost-sharing right-of-way payments as soon as final details are worked out, according to Pete Styner, district right-of-way engineer.

Among those slated to receive the payments are Deaf Smith, Randall, Potter, Armstrong, Moore, Gray, and Hutchinson counties in the Texas Panhandle.

Styner came to Canadian to make formal presentation of a $9,163 check to Hemphill county officials. A special meeting of the Commissioners court was called by Hemphill County Judge E. C. Fisher, with county attorney William J. Jackson, who had assisted with the contract preparations, also present.

"All of the Commissioners, the County Judge, and the County Attorney should be complimented," Styner said. "They have been most cooperative and we really appreciate it."

Styner presented a letter from Charles W. Smith, district highway engineer of Amarillo, who wrote:

"I am sure you will be interested to know that Hemphill County is the first in the State to be reimbursed under the new 50-50 right-of-way law. We feel that this accomplishment is due to the cooperation and hard work of the representatives of Hemphill county, and we wish to express our sincere appreciation for your efforts. We feel your method of handling the right-of-way acquisition was very efficient and a saving to Hemphill county and to the state."

The payment covered purchase of right-of-way for new construction on U. S. Highways 60 and 83 southwest of Canadian.

AIR THEATER

NEW YORK (AP) — Comes now the theater in a balloon. Two summer theater impresarios, working independently, have announced plans to utilize the air-house principle in future projects.

Under the plan, a fabric structure is kept in position with a small amount of air pressure, instead of requiring the poles and supports of an old-fashioned carnival tent.

Buildings sufficiently large to house 2,500 show fans are practical, say backers. It probably will be another year or so, however, before the first air theater is erected.

Apples were being grown in Nova Scotia as early as 1635.

Proposed School Bond Issue Founded on Public Demand

Trustees of the Hereford Rural High School district this week announced preliminary plans for a new $630,000 bond issue proposal, centering around $341,000 in new school construction and $289,000 in the form of repairs and remodeling of present facilities.

The new proposal follows defeat of a $690,000 bond issue by a vote of 606 to 432 last January and, from all appearances, it makes every possible effort to eliminate objections voiced by voters in the earlier election.

In the first place, the school board has approached the problem from an entirely new angle, commonly known as "6-3-3." This, in brief, means expansion of Stanton Jr. High rather than expansion of the high school; it also means three years in the junior high building and three years in high school building for the graduate.

The proposed cafeteria, another item under considerable fire in the last election, appears again—but with an entirely new look. This section of the new plan calls for combination with administrative office units in an expensive building which, at the same time, would release additional classroom space in the present high school building.

The new plan shifts westward to include an elementary school on the tract purchased from W. N. Hodges. The new, eight-room plant would be subject to future expansion and calls for a total expenditure of $115,000 as initial cost.

The current proposal, for the first time, appears to embody construction of a type more popular in the South Plains territory than on the North Plains. This factor, too, was considered and discussed by numerous voters in the January election.

Texas, the most significant aspect of the plan is by far adoption of the "6-3-3" training program. Ultimately this means more emphasis on training at the junior high level and, should the bond issue be successful, there will be no option regarding adoption of the "6-3-3" plan in Hereford schools. And, once again, this leaves the school board in complete harmony with the public. The

Dawn Music Club Has A Birthday

Less than a decade ago huge buses started picking up students and transporting them into larger centers and, almost everywhere you went, people were predicting that community life would cease to exist in America's rural areas.

In some instances, the predictions have come true. In many others, however, there exists stronger ties than the small communities previously knew.

Appearing in this issue of The Brand is an item dealing with the Tenth Anniversary of the Dawn Music Club. Those who read the accomplishments of the Dawn group will without doubt agree that communities, like people, have personalities, and that some communities are bound to survive almost any situation.

Founded upon the advancement of culture and community service, the Dawn Music group has expanded its influence far beyond the metes and bounds of the community in which it originated. Individual members, in addition to area honors, have personally benefited far beyond the humble expectations of the original founders.

Today, the Dawn Music Club is recognized on state levels. It is a community of which all of West Texas is duly proud. Those who have benefitted most, though, are the residents of Dawn who enjoy social and musical gatherings from time to time, and who live more thoroughly from day to day.

Certainly no club, regardless of its affiliations, could boast more. It is a pleasure to join in a salute to the Dawn Music Club and its members, past and present, for outstanding achievement.

Hale-Aikin report, based on months of study by interested local citizens, urged adoption of the "6-3-3" plan in Hereford "as soon as possible." We would also point out that this plan has been recommended through other school surveys and from other levels.

Whether the program is better than the previous one, few people would be qualified to say. However, we do believe that the school board merits a lot of credit and some pats on the back from their constituents.

In January they recommended a bond issue which they thought the schools needed. The people were not satisfied and turned the issue down. Instead of getting mad—or attempting to cram what they had recommended down the throats of the public—the board members made a careful study of what people said they wanted. They tempered their finding with suggestions toward practical application, economy and sound general operation and, after extensive study, presented the new bond issue proposal.

The school board, in our opinion, has made a sincere attempt to meet the people more than half way. They have deleted all possible frills. They have "gone long" on classroom space, and they have made every attempt toward sound economy.

The problem is now up to the people. We can accept the new bond issue—or we can close out the 1959-60 term back in the churches. We either want to meet our obligation to the children of the community, or we don't care about them. Certainly, the school board members have done their part in an efficient, thorough manner—and The Brand feels that each member deserves credit for a job well done.

WE WONDER IF . . .

Russians Also Hold Children's Clinics

A tired, but happy group of physicians, local Shriners and their wives Saturday night leaned back and reflected on their accomplishment as the Oasis Shrine Club completed its third annual free clinic for children over a seven-county area.

Complete figures were not available on the clinic, but sponsors felt that the 131 children who went through the clinic in 1957 were far exceeded in number this year. And if the sponsors were inclined at any time to lose interest, they were spurred on by the fact that 30 of the children examined in 1957 are now in special hospitals undergoing the best medical attention the nation can afford.

To point out or extoll the value of the annual clinic is needless, because most people already appreciate its value—most of all the children who benefit and, frequently, become rehabilitated on the road to normal health and citizenship.

It is in order, though, to express appreciation to all persons who helped with the program: the local practitioners and outside specialists who contributed their time and talents without thought of monetary rewards; the business men and working people who left their firms and their jobs to help do their bit; the wives who contributed food and volunteered their services to make the clinic more effective.

These things are a far cry from guided missiles, atom bombs and nuclear warfare, but they might well appear closely connected with any great difference between Russia and the United States in these days of uncalculated cold wars.

So long as we continue to produce unselfish citizens who are willing to sacrifice for the future welfare of some unknown child we cannot, somehow, become too alarmed over the future of these United States of America.

THE GOLDEN YEARS

Hug-Me-Tight Buggy Brought Luck and Love to P. H. Luck

By MRS. R. L. CRISWELL

Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Luck of 120 Higgins have been married more than 54 years. They were married Jan. 24, 1904.

"We began our courtship in 1902, but were not married until Jan. 1904. We did our courting in an HMT; hug-me-tight buggy that is, and a buggy is a wonderful vehicle for courting. I bought the first HMT in Greer Territory, Oklahoma," said Luck.

"I could hardly wait for my first date with my girl as I wanted to show that new buggy with the red wheels to her. Her father came out and gave it a critical eye and eyed the seat with a critical eye and said, 'too narrow for decency' turned to me and said, 'her horse is saddled and I will have one saddled for you.' My brother drove the buggy away and my girl and I rode sedately behind the buggy until we were out of sight. We climbed into the buggy and drove away leaving my brother with the horses, he met us and we rode the horses on hoe.

"THE FIRST TIME I ever saw Maggie she was only 8 or 10 years old and had the whitest hair I ever saw. She was a lovely platinum blonde. I just did not know little girls could have such white hair.

"We lived in a half-dugout for a year after we were married. I built a house and had it almost finished, when one of the men helping asked, 'Why don't you build a dining table?' Well, I made one and unthinkingly made it long and wide. The other men were working outside and I was working on the table. I had it up and was doing some finishing touches, when one of them came in to see how I was making out with the table.

"He stepped in, stared at the table a minute and began whooping and yelling; of course the others rushed in and they too doubled with laughter when they saw my 'honey-moon table' as they called it. It was 3 by 6 feet. I have never lived it down; I cut that table down in a hurry but I really should have kept it as we have reared four boys and three girls.

"All four of the boys served their country when they were needed in World War II. I was drafted in World War I. At that time I was running a small movie theater, The Lotus. (It seated about 150 people and tickets were 10 cents), a grist mill and a blacksmith shop all in the same building. I sold them all and was ready to leave for camp on Nov. 12, 1918. As you will remember the armistice was signed on Nov. 11, 1918. It sure left me in a fix. I had sold my business and now had nothing left with which to make a living. I went to Burk Burnett and worked in the oil fields. My wife had taped a $20 gold piece in my shoe, but I was lucky enough not to need it, however I did not make much money there.

"AFTER MY RETURN, my father wanted someone to drive a car to the Plains. Since I was interested in the Staked Plains, I decided to drive it for him. I drove the old Model A Ford sitting on an old spring seat taken from a wagon and bolted on the car. There were seats made of a 1 x 12 in.

boxing plank around the bed of the car just as there are in pickups today. We made the trip in three days. I fell in love with the Plains and bought a tract of land west of Hereford, hoping the climate would help my health.

"My family and I traveled for five days in a covered wagon and settled west of town on what is the Art Lewis farm today. I built a house and broke 170 acres of land and made a big grain crop. I ran a thresher, one of those big engines that resemble a freight train engine with a big separator. I threshed over Deaf Smith, Castro, Randall and Parmer Counties. We had good fun and worked hard too. We were threshing near Dawn and the ladies, bless their hearts, pulled a joke on me by heaping my plate high with chicken gizzards. The women worked together to cook for the threshing crew as sometimes there were more than 40 men in a crew. "In 1931 I had planted 576 acres in grain. Made a crop of 35 bushels of wheat on each acre and I sold it for 16 cents per bushel. (Continued on Page 5)

P. H. Luck with valuable heirloom gun. (Staff Photo)

107-Year-Old Gun Is Valued by Local Man

P. H. Luck has 107-year-old, 36 caliber cap and ball pistol, which was once owned by his grandfather, James W. Leatherwood.

Leatherwood, a member of the Confederate Army, carried the gun and used it in battle during most of the Civil War. When the war ended, Leatherwood and several friends began the long walk home from the state of Pennsylvania to Mississippi. They had to walk as there was no other way for them to travel. They had no money with which to buy fare or horses to ride.

While walking home, Leatherwood was stricken with pneumonia and died. His friends carried his personal effects along with the gun, to his wife, then living near Louisville, Winston County, Miss.

While visiting his sister, Mrs. Leatherwood, Frank Lindsey was given the gun. He used it in fighting Indians and later was in service during the Spanish-

American War in 1898. He gave the gun to G. H. Luck and it was in his possession until his death. He willed the gun to his son, F. H., and he is not its owner.

The gun is a Colt, 36 caliber, powder loading cap and ball pistol, with a 7 1/2 inch barrel. It was made in 1851. It is wholly original as each part has the same serial number of 146920 engraved upon it. It also carries his grandfather's initials on an engraved plaque. There is an inscription along the top of the barrel, "Col. Sam'l Colt, New York, U. S. America."

The cylinder has "Colt" engraved on one side, and "U. S. Patent" but the numbers are so worn it is illegible. It is not engraved as some of the later "Dragon" models were when they were made for special presentation.

After the war hundreds of these guns were turned in for repair. As they were taken apart all parts were put in like piles. As they were reassembled little attention was given the serial numbers. One gun would have a different serial number on each part.

Luck sent his gun to a firm in Dallas for an inspection and they reported the gun would be worth from $135 to $2500. He has several letters from New York and Dallas checking its authenticity. It is in good condition and highly treasured by Luck.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

New Eating Place Cited As Business Needed Here

What new businesses do you think would help Hereford most?

MRS. DEWARD ROBERSON—We sure do need some good eating places. We love to eat out on Sunday and the eating out around here, well, ugh . . .

BILL PATTON—I wouldn't have any idea. I just wouldn't want to comment because I just don't know of anything.

MRS. RALPH GRAGG—A rental equipment business might do well. People could rent garden tools and things like that and it would be a great help to people around here.

URLIN STREU—I should say most any kind of manufacturing endeavor or food processing plant with a year around payroll would be of maximum benefit to this town.

MRS. ROY JOWELL—What I think Hereford needs is a big cafeteria that serves good food as you see in other towns, however, I am not sure Hereford is big enough to support such a place.

GLEN NELSON—I think if we could attract some type of a manufacturing company here that it would benefit Hereford. We are in a good locality for such a company. Possibly a garment manufacturing company or an automotive battery company would be good.

MRS. JACK NUNLEY—I think just a new nice restaurant in town would be a good thing. There just aren't very many good places to eat in town.

$1,500 REACHED IN SCHOLARSHIP FUND DRIVE

Castro County citizens have pledged or actually contributed $1,505.50 in preliminary contribution solicitations toward setting up a JayCee sponsored county scholarship fund. The announcement came this week from Bill Reisdorph, who with JayCee Calvin Lippard, is directing the project. The money will be set up as a perpetual trust fund, to be administered over the years. According to Reisdorph, several students from all three county school systems have said they would like to apply if the fund is made available. Preference will be based on college aptitude tests given applicants. CASTRO COUNTY NEWS.

SHS STATE GOLF CHAMPIONS

Shamrock High School golf team won the State Class A Championship last weekend, out-shooting other regional winners from throughout Texas competing in the interscholastic league meet in Austin. It was the first state athletic title ever won by the local school. Adding to the laurels of the Irish team, John Shackelford was State Medalist of the Class A division with a score of 152 during two days of play. The Shamrock golfers posted a team score of 641 strokes, 29 under the 670 total of San Felipe High School of Del Rio, last year's winner. The Irish placed second last year.—THE SHAMROCK TEXAN.

GOVERNMENT PONDS HELIUM PROGRAM

A recent announcement by the Department of Interior has set off a wave of speculation, particularly in this area, concerning the future of the helium production industry in the United States. Interest became intense after Secretary of Interior Fred Seaton announced from Washington that 12 helium "recovery" plants are being planned for construction at a cost of approximately 224 million dollars. No definite construction dates, however, have been set. Asked where he thought the plants would be located, Congressman Walter Rogers said Moore County is in a "prime spot" for future construction.—MOORE COUNTY NEWS.

HEAVY STORM CAUSES POWER FAILURE

Hard rains and high winds hit the Littlefield area Thursday night as a massive storm moved through the South Plains. The high winds caused a power failure which left homes in several parts of town without lights for a short time Thursday night. The weather launched a smaller, weaker storm in the area again Friday night. The rains brought the total for the year for Littlefield to 8.26 inches. It was 6.89 at this time last year. County Agent Bill Kimbrough said that some farmer may have to "scratch the ground" to get their cotton up after Thursday night's downpour.—COUNTY WIDE NEWS (Littlefield.)

The BOOTLEG Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his bindweed farm assigns the scientific mind some old problems, his letter this week reveals.

Dear editor:
I know everybody is supposed to be concentrating all his efforts these days on keeping up with Russia in guided missiles and space exploration, but the way I see it, even if we make a landing on the moon and open up a lot more planets for occupation, somebody is going to have to stay on this earth, and I've been thinking.

We don't want to get so busy we neglect life around here, and I would like to propose a few problems for the scientific minds to tackle.

For example, up to now, the scientific mind, with all its vast accomplishments, has never been able to permanently stop a leaky faucet. They can stop one from leaking temporarily, but sooner or later it'll start leaking again. What I'd like to propose to the world of science is a rubber washer that'll last a lifetime, or else throw out the whole washer idea and invent a hydrant that works without one.

Also, while I have given up expecting the automobile industry to build a car that'll last a lifetime, if I was in the business I wouldn't be interested either, you don't catch me urging anybody to invent a cow that'll supply meat to one family forever, still I would like to see the scientific mind perfect a tail pipe that'll last at least four years, certainly longer than one or two.

Another thing the scientific mind ought to be turning its attention to is a wrinkle-proof car fender. If they can do it with shirts and pants, why can't they do it with car fenders? I could go on listing a lot of other things, but you are as familiar with them as I am. I'm in favor of the schools turning out more scientists, but not just scientists to work on satellites and guided missiles. What we need is a great body of scientific brains tackling the every-day problems.

I still contend there's nothing more ridiculous than a space scientist, just after launching a new satellite, having to come home to a leaky faucet and a bill for straightening out a car fender his wife has just dented because somebody apparently narrowed the garage door during the night.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

The Golden...

In those days you could buy 50 pounds of flour for 50 cents. I put 150 buses in the Packard building Co. and had them grind it. It kept several families from getting hungry in those depression days. I surely hope we never have another as it is a pitiful thing to see able bodied men in a bread line."

"YOUNG PEOPLE are the same the world over, yesterday and today," added Mrs. Luck. "I often wonder what my father would have said to me if he had known I began my dates horseback until I was out of sight and quickly climbed into the HMT and went joyfully on my way until it was time to get home."

"We have had a number of experiences in our married life. One of them was in 1951. The Rev. Oral Roberts was holding a revival in Amarillo. We had heard him on the radio, and still do for that matter, and decided we would go and hear him in person. The weather had been unsettled but we went on. Heavy clouds came up at the beginning of the service.

"Everyone was so interested that the storm came on us quite unaware. Suddenly there was a loud clap of thunder and the rain began. I had to tell but most of the congregation were under the tent. The wind blew so hard it broke the light poles and we were in darkness, as the poles went down, the tent went high and tight, like a balloon, then settled gently, as a blanket you would spread to cover a bed.

"God was there, for no one was frightened and everything was so quiet it was amazing. Some men on the outside cut a long slit in the side of the tent, and we crawled out unharmed, but thoroughly convinced that God had cared for the huge crowd. Only 50 people were injured and none of them badly. The organist and pianist had on beautiful organ dresses in pink, they were the most bedraggled of the crowd as the tent went down it had gone too far and left the organ, piano, and the preacher all in the rain and hail, but they were uninjured. It was a wonderful experience.

"People did not want to leave until they were sure that everything was all right. You would think they would have been in a hurry to get home but they were not. Perhaps it was the felt presence of God and one did not want to hurry away when one has seen the wonders He can do.

"My job was the children and I was always busy trying to keep the house in order and the children clean. Yes 54 years is a long time but it has been a wonderful life and the Staked Plains is a wonderful place to live, especially when you live in Hereford."

Precautions on Bloat Are Listed

Now that cattle and sheep are moving onto lush pastures, farmers need to keep a special alert for signs of bloat and be ready to take prompt emergency measures against it, according to a bulletin by the American Foundation for Animal Health today.

Bloat is caused by an accumulation of gases. It most frequently occurs among cattle and sheep pastured on alfalfa, clovers, peas and other legumes. The pre-bloom stage appears to be more dangerous than the mature plants.

The Foundation listed five precautions which should be taken to combat the bloat problem:

1. Supply cattle and sheep plenty of rough, high-fiber hay before turning them into legume pastures.
2. Keep dairy cattle and sheep off legume or young grass pastures, if possible, until after morning dew has evaporated.
3. Inspect cattle and sheep on legume pasture three times a day during the peak of the bloat season.
4. Get some type of bloat remedy from the veterinarian and keep it handy for emergencies. This may help to stave off death temporarily, until the veterinarian can get there to administer proper treatment.
5. Time is a vital factor in saving animals affected by bloat, so every moment gained increases the chances of saving the animal.

ALVIE KNOWS A LOT OF ANSWERS

How long does it take to hatch an ostrich egg? . . . How many bachelors in Bolivia? . . . How much blubber in a male whale? Alvie knows these answers and a jillion others. Folks smile and agree that Alvie is a regular encyclopedia of "useless information" but they never question the accuracy of his peculiar knowledge. That's because everybody knows Alvie gets his "answers" by memorizing the little space-fillers we all see in our newspapers. And to all of us, what we see in our home-town newspaper is immediately acceptable and believable!

The same is particularly true of advertising. To put your advertising message before all the people . . . put it in your HOMETOWN NEWSPAPER!
