BURNS JURY UNABLE TO DECIDE IT

DISCHARGED AFTER 36 HOURS STEADY BALLOTING

REEDY IS NEXT

Companion Case Set Down For Trial Friday. Cases Handled

The jury in the case of the State of Texas vs Archie Burns, charged with being a principal to the killing of W. J. Rich, were unable to agree on a verdict last Saturday and were finally discharged by the court.

The case was very ably conducted on both sides and the result was always in doubt.

A companion case, the State of Texas vs Arthur Reedy, charged with the same offense, has been set down for trial next Friday, November 18, and will probably call for another special venire of jurymen.

Other cases handled by the district court so far include: Cora Lee Frye vs W. E. Frye; divorce granted as prayed for. W. E. Neal and son vs Panhandle and Santa Fe railroad; now in hands of jury.

Some Good Luck Also Other Kind In Gridiron Game

Armistice Day in Hereford was spent quietly, with most of the stores closed and the people either resting at home or away to neighboring celebrations. Many went to Amarillo, while delegations of rooters accompanied the high school boys to Clovis and the town team to Vega.

It might be mentioned in passing that both football elevens took a licking, Clovis High winning something like 50 to 0, and the strong Vega Outlaws taking the long end of a 19 to 0 contest. The last game was a pipkin, if Hereford did lose. Features were the end work of "snapper" Pitman and the vociferous rooting of C. A. Skelton.

The Hereford town team played a funny game, only three quarters long, with the Friona aggregation at Hereford Monday afternoon. The visitors did not arrive until five o'clock and the game was halted at the end of the third period with the score 28 to 0 against Friona. Jack Murphy's swift end running and the terrific end play of Ilo Chamness featured the contest. Murphy showed dazzling speed while Ilo lit 'em quick, low and exceedingly hard. Staley, Friona right end, grabbed a fumble in the second period and had a clear field for a touchdown, but unfortunately for himself he looked back and that hesitation gave Alban the fraction of a second needed to reach him. He was thrown hard and Friona's chance to score faded out.

The town team has another game scheduled for Wednesday with the Canyon Normal second eleven, and in all probability will play Vega a return match at Hereford next Saturday.

MOTHER PARKER'S LIFE OF USEFULNESS HAS ENDED

Mrs. Emrette Faulkner Parker passed away Sunday morning at 3:25. She arrived in Hereford on September 3rd on a visit to her son, G. A. F. Parker. She had been in her usual health until Saturday, November 5th, when only troubles were the infirmities of age, and her end was peaceful.

She was born in Ulster County, New York July 28, 1834, and was therefore more than eighty-seven years old. She leaves three sons living, G. A. F. Parker of Hereford, Edwin B. Parker of New York and Houston, and Oswald Parker of Beaumont. Her son, Charley, and daughter, Annie, have passed away.

Deward S. Parker arrived in Hereford November 11th, and with his brother, George, and family, watched with his mother until she passed to her reward, Monday morning the two brothers, with Annie Fitzhugh Parker, left with the remains for Houston, where Edwin B. Parker, now on his way from New York, will meet them, and where the body will be buried.

A good Christian soldier has fallen at her post, living a good, useful, happy, hopeful life to the last.

MINING COAL FROM RIVERBEDS

For a century the hard coal miners of eastern Pennsylvania have dumped "reject" or waste coal into the rivers. This coal was of supposedly poor quality, but geology scientists have discovered that after the waste coal has been washed down a river by the current, the grinding it received has made it better, in heat units, than the coal from the mines! Accordingly, the Susquehanna, Shamokin and other rivers are now dotted with scows on which are the best coal pumping machinery. The Shamokin gives up 750,000 tons a year. Popular Science says that a geologist, poking around, has just found a bed of coal in the Shamokin of two million tons.

Sugar Content Of Beets Raised At Hereford Higher Than Average Of Beets From Colorado

Just what sugar beets will do in the shallow water portions of the Plains country has again been demonstrated at Hereford this year by D. L. McDonald.

Mr. McDonald planted one and seven-eighths acres of sugar beets on his irrigated farm three miles north on Twenty Five Mile Avenue in June. In October he harvested thirty tons of fine beets from this acreage. Samples were sent to the chemist of the sugar refinery at Johnstown, Colo., who reports that the sugar content was fourteen and a half per cent. He expressed it as his opinion that this content was higher than the general average of Colorado sugar beets.

Mr. McDonald gives some interesting facts regarding this experiment. About half the patch of ground used was old alfalfa ground and this ground produced much better beets and more of them than the remainder of the plot. This, convinces Mr. McDonald that alfalfa in connection with other experiments, is the thing to use for any follow crop, as the alfalfa enriches the soil and makes it more productive. He has just finished plowing up some more land which has been in alfalfa for the past eight years. He intends to plow it again and then plant it to Irish potatoes in the spring.

The beets raised this year were irrigated three times and turned out to be good size and good type. They will be fed to cattle this winter.

Rodent Campaign Will be Planned Soon at Amarillo

The Hereford Chamber of Commerce is in receipt of the following letter from the Amarillo Board of City development:

"Representatives of the U. S. Biological Survey, the State Health Department, the Extension Division of the A. & M. College, the Health Department of the City of Amarillo, the Federated Women's Clubs, and others, will hold a meeting for the purpose of devising some means of control and extermination of rodents, November 17th, at 10:00 a.m., City Hall, Amarillo, Texas. These organizations will appreciate your presence at this meeting. Will you kindly attend this important conference and get representative citizens of your town to come with you."

The Hereford organization is endeavoring to find a suitable delegate who will represent the city at this meeting on Thursday.

HOME TALENT PLAY WELL RECEIVED IN TWO OTHER TOWNS

The play, "The Poor Married Man," was presented at the Happy school house on Tuesday evening, November 8, to a rather small, but appreciative audience. The cast of characters was the same that played at Hereford with the exception of the part of Rosalind Wilson, handled at Hereford by Miss Inez Hodges and at Happy by Miss Bruce Bradley, who coached the play. Earl Gough sang two solos which were enjoyed very much, and Miss Bradley read between acts.

On Thursday evening the play was presented at Dimmitt. The illness of Sank Ramey, leading man, necessitated the substitution at the last moment of W. B. Betty who, in spite of the handicap of not knowing his part acquitted himself splendidly.

Miss Bradley is considering the advisability of taking the play to other near-by towns.

er, George, and family, watched with his mother until she passed to her reward, Monday morning the two brothers, with Annie Fitzhugh Parker, left with the remains for Houston, where Edwin B. Parker, now on his way from New York, will meet them, and where the body will be buried.

Community Day Nov. 25th

EXPRESS OFFICE IS MOVED TO DEPOT

SAME SERVICE PROMISED MOVE TO SAVE EXPENSES

Hereford has lost her up-town express office, but retains practically the same service by wagon and otherwise as heretofore.

Several months ago the Chamber of Commerce was advised that the Santa Fe railway was figuring with the express company on taking over the express work, transferring it to the depot, cutting out delivery service, and handling it through Agent Garton's force. The matter was at once taken up with the express people and they advised that before any action was taken they would confer with the organization.

Last Saturday E. A. Ford, Route Agent of the Express company at Amarillo, visited Hereford and conferred with the officers of the Chamber of Commerce. He said that the express company would handle the business themselves as in the past, but wanted to cut out one man, the up-town office, and handle it all from their room at the depot. He promised the same service as in the past and the agent, Sank Ramey, is to work on a commission basis hereafter instead of an eight hour salary basis, which really means more continuous service. Wagon deliveries will be continued as in the past.

This action is taken, Mr. Ford explained, owing to light business, hard times and slim outlook for volume the coming year. The transfer of the office to the depot occurred Monday.

Red Cross Sunday November 20; To Hold Union Meet

Next Sunday, November 20, has been designated as Red Cross Sunday for Hereford, and the combined church organizations of the city will hold joint services at the Christian Church. Chairman Knight of the local Red Cross Chapter, assisted by a special committee headed by Homer Wilkinson, is preparing a suitable program, which will be published in Friday's Brand.

The Sunday meeting is designed to be the high peak of the Annual Red Cross Roll Call for Deaf Smith county and it is hoped to pack the Christian Church to the doors. The American people owe a debt of gratitude to the American Red Cross that must be paid and the local Chapter officials are confident that the people of this county will be on hand Sunday and will "carry on" Deaf Smith county's proudest of this great work for humanity.

R. F. D. ROUTE IS IN PROSPECT FOR SOUTHEAST FOLKS

There is a possibility of Hereford obtaining a rural route to the southeast. When Inspector Johnson was here recently he went over the proposed road and afterwards stated that in all probability it would be put in. A good many technicalities have to be overcome, however, before the final O K will be given.

The route will be about fifty miles in length for the round trip and will serve 75 families six days in the week.

Progressive Has Pie Auction; is $45 Better Off

The big Pie Social staged by the Literary Society of the Progressive School, Friday night, November 11, was attended by about 150 people, many of them from Hereford and the Askren school district.

The program was patriotic throughout, splendidly rendered, and hugely enjoyed. C. C. Bowman, president of the Society, presided. The Society is working hard to raise funds with which to purchase a piano. About seventy-five pies were sold at auction Friday night, netting about $45 for the piano fund.

EDWIN RAMEY NOW GAME WARDEN FOR COUNTY OF CASTRO

Edwin Ramey has been appointed County Game Warden for Castro county, according to information received by The Brand from Deputy District Game Warden B. D. Garmon of Panhandle, Texas.

Mr. Garmon was here recently and appointed Andy Godwin as game warden for Deaf Smith county. He states in his letter that his rounds of the Panhandle country show very few violations of the game laws and an apparent desire on the part of all citizens to cooperate with his efforts to preserve the game for future generations. He will pay this community another visit in the near future.

MR. AND MRS. B. F. GUTHRIE TO VISIT MISSOURI FAMILY

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Guthrie and son, Keith, left Hereford Sunday for Princeton, Missouri, where they expect to visit relatives and friends until after the holidays. Bruce and Gwynne Guthrie, who are in school at Wichita, Kansas, will be as near their parents at Princeton as at Hereford and will spend the holidays with them at that point.

CITY ASKS COOPERATION OF COUNTRY

FEDERATED CLUBS AND CHAMBER OF COMMERCE JOIN

ALL DAY AFFAIR

Will Gather at Christian Church, Shake Hands, Eat Basket Lunch

A big Community Day for all the people of the Hereford country is being planned for Friday, November 25, the day following Thanksgiving.

The organization work for the event is in the hands of the federated women's clubs of the town, and is being directed by Mrs. J. Frank Potts and a staff of assistants from the various clubs.

The idea is to invite all the people in the rural sections of this community to come in on that day, participate in a general "get together" meeting, become closer acquainted with their neighbors, and possibly plan to meet oftener to cooperate with each other in many ways throughout the year.

As now planned the meeting will be held at the Christian Church and will be an all-day affair, with a basket dinner and a suitable program. "All the ladies' clubs" and other organizations in the county are to participate, including the Hereford Chamber of Commerce. The idea was endorsed Monday by the business men and the officers and members will lend every possible aid to the ladies in making this day a big success.

The Brand is asked to extend a most cordial invitation to every man, woman and child in the surrounding country to attend this Community Day and aid in wedding a closer tie between neighbors and friends. Details will be given in an early issue of The Brand.

Tri-State Poultry Men are Interested in Show Here

Announcement of the coming Hereford Poultry Show has excited the interest of the Tri-State Poultry association at Amarillo, as is attested by the following story in the Tribune:

"The Hereford Poultry Show, to be held at Hereford some time during the month of January, will receive the full support of members and officials of the Panhandle-Plains Tri-State Poultry Association, it is declared by members and officials of that organization here. "We are glad to receive the announcement of the Hereford show," declared W. W. McDonald, president of the Tri-State Association, Saturday, "and it is our hope to be able to cooperate with the Deaf Smith County poultry raisers in promoting the cause of breeding thoroughbred poultry."

"We are always pleased to hear of more poultry shows being held over the Panhandle, for it is an indication of growing interest in the poultry raising industry, which is the primary purpose of any poultry association and its poultry shows."

WEEKLY LUNCHEON DISCUSSES POST-OFFICE PROBLEMS

Monday's luncheon of the business men was thinly attended but was interesting throughout. Discussions regarding the postoffice site were continued with W. B. Parmer, the club voted to join the ladies in the big Community Day, November 25, and several other matters talked over. No decision about the postoffice has yet been arrived at.

Next Monday the meeting will be at the City Cafe and W. E. Dameron will be a special speaker. Mr. Dameron was out of the city on last Monday and his talk was advanced on the calendar one week.

MRS. L. GOUGH IS MUCH BENEFITTED AT HOT SPRINGS

Mrs. L. Gough reached Hereford last Saturday morning from Hot Springs, N. M., where she has been for the past six weeks. She says she never felt better in her life and the rheumatism from which she suffered has disappeared.

Remember that it takes a long time for a tree to grow, but a few blows of the axe can lay it low. Evil environments may undo in a short time what the parents have been doing for years for their child. Then why should not every father and mother take time to look after the company their children keep, and guide them over the "uncertain" age?

If a teacher would live in the minds and hearts of her pupils in after years, she must show the child while he is with her in the schoolroom that she is intensely interested in him—in all his joys and sorrows and expectations of life.

The Tenth Grade of the Home Economics Dept., has just closed a very interesting week in their work in the Culinary Dept. On Wednesday morning one-half of the grade were hostesses to the other half at a very appetizing breakfast, and on Friday morning, the other half served breakfast to the former. The appointments of each table showed that the girls are well versed in the art of "table-setting." The table on Friday morning was decorated in honor of Armistice Day.

to them. This world, in many ways, is trying to cheat the boy out of what belongs to him. Every boy has a right to a strong body, and everything that others do to prevent this, or that he does to hinder it, is a wrong to a boy. Every boy has a right to a clear, strong brain and that means that he has a right to study hard. A boy has a right to friends—friends that will make him more manly. Again, every boy has a right to character. He has a right not to be measured by what he can earn, but by what he can be.

FREDERICK WARDE AT HEREFORD FOR LYCEUM, NOV. 18

Frederick Warde, distinguished actor, author and lecturer, will appear in the second school lyceum number at the Central School auditorium Friday evening, Nov. 18.

For more than half a century Mr. Warde has been a leading American actor—one of the foremost of the English speaking stage. Henry Irving, Lawrence Barrett, Edwin Booth, and many others have been associated with him in his work and closely identified with his career. He ranks with Sothorn and Marlowe as one of the truly great Shakespearean interpreters of today.

There will be many in the audience on Nov. 18, who have heard Frederick Warde again and again. These individuals are voluntarily assisting the school board in advertising his coming

In Memoriam
John T. McFarlin was born in Burnet County Jan. 14, 1860. He went out into the bozone of no return Nov. 4, 1921. He was married May 21, 1910, to Miss Maude Williamson, of Liberty Hill. To this union were born two children, a daughter and a son.
May 18, 1921, he suffered a fatal spinal injury in a car accident, and in the long trying days that followed, his cheerfulness and courage were an inspiration to all with whom he came in contact. His unflinching thoughtfulness for others, the quiet calm manner with which he awaited whatever fate was in store for him, whether it be health and strength, or the long sleep, is something that shall remain with us always.
July 21, he was taken to Rochester for treatment by the famous Mayo clinic, and it seemed for a time he was improving, but complications arose and all that medical skill and loving attention could do was of no avail. His faith never wavered thru al his suffering and he so quietly dropped to sleep in Jesus.
He leaves a wife, two children, father, mother, three sisters and one brother, also a host of other relatives, to mourn his untimely end.
He was laid to rest at the old South Garbier burying ground near the place where he was born. Quantities of beautiful floral offerings, and the wet cheeks of those, the congregation of old friends, showed what a close place he held in their hearts. We can say at his passing, "He loved his fellow man and his friends were legion."

Card of Thanks

I've no word to voice my appreciation of the many kindnesses of the dear Hereford folks to me and mine. Be assured each word and act is remembered. And oh, my friends, my wish for you when your hour comes, is that you may go as sweetly, as peacefully, and with the sublime faith our loved one and friend had.

GOOD HAS SHAME BEATEN TEN THOUSAND TIMES

A publisher, about to sell the writings of a noted American scolder, in book form, advertises its contents as "the shame of the world." In other words, it is deemed attractive, for money-making purposes, to blazon over the country the fact that the world has shame.

What's the matter with us Twentieth Century folks anyway? Why is it that so many of us Americans are always mocking something, always looking for the bad in anything, always ready to believe that wrongs are advancing on us, always suspicious of some abomination or other?

The "shame of the world," forsooth! Most certainly there is shame in the world—always has been and always will be as long as it is inhabited by human people. But there is ten thousand times more chastity, ten thousand times more good on this earth than there is shame, and there always will be—BECAUSE THIS EARTH IS INHABITED BY DECENT HUMAN PEOPLE.

Rules are made to have exceptions. There is no rule where there is no exception. The human heart in the mass is sound and moral and lovable. In only the exceptional human is the heart shameful. And that's all there is to it. Habit does a lot of things. Habit will even change the heart. If it is going to be a habit with the mass of us to look for shame, cussedness and general infamy, we may be sure that the 11th will cling to us and it may even turn into a cancer afflicting the whole.

WHO WOULD HE SOAK FOR TAXES?

Senator LaFollette's a clever man, but when he talks of taxing ALL WEALTH in America to the limit, he goes quite a distance.

The nation's total wealth is estimated at about three hundred billions ($300,000,000,000) in round numbers. In this sum are reckoned city houses and lots, farms, clothing, stock, crops, bridges, public buildings, as well as stocks, bonds, factories, railroads and cash.

Take the farm item alone. Ten million odd farms and their buildings, stock, machinery and crops alone figure up to well over one-third of our wealth of three hundred billions. More than ten million houses and lots in cities and towns, will carry the farm one-third to considerably over one-half of our wealth. Then add the value of all national, state, county and municipal pal public buildings and public works in America, and all the public lands, and you account for at least two-thirds—if not three-fourths—of the nation's wealth of three hundred billions.

Now, does Senator LaFollette mean to tell us that he would hoist taxes to the sky on the farms, town and city homes, the crops, the food and the clothing of the people? Would he make the people pay huge taxes to the government on the people's public buildings, public works and public lands?

Or does he really mean that he would pick out the millionaires, the railroads and the big manufacturers and soak them?

HONEY PHILOSOPHY FOR 1921

There are too many of us who are always saying, "I ought to do this" or "I ought to do that." Boys, don't get into that habit; it's too risky. You may easily become a failure through it. The real man says "I shall do this" or "I shall do that."

WATCH FOR CHOLERA SYMPTOMS If Hogs Stop Eating and Act Drowsy You Have Cause for Alarm

At a time when hog cholera has appeared in many different states, any information regarding the disease is welcome. The following question and answer are taken from the Drovers Telegram:

"We have a herd of spring shoats that have been very healthy and thrifty all summer. This week one of them stopped eating, refusing everything but occasionally a swallow of cold water. Now three more are acting about the same. They lie in their beds most of the time, very still, as though sleeping. If they get up it is easy to see that they are hollow in the flank and so weak that they weave from side to side as they attempt to move the hind limbs. The bowels are not particularly loose. Can you name this disease and tell us what to do for it? We are feeding corn and slop and still have some blue grass pasture."—S. G. D., Iowa.

Answer: Hog cholera is the disease that you should suspect in a herd that is acting as you describe. Indeed, you have written about as good a train of symptoms of hog cholera as you can find in the world anywhere, except that you have not told us how high the fever is, but if you will take the temperature of these pigs there is no doubt that it will be high. You had better get busy and vaccinate the hogs still strong enough to save, but don't expect results if a pig is weak and hoarse or coughing and with a fever of 105 or more. It does not work that way, but it will save most of the herd if you act at once. Every day you delay is precious time lost. Burn the dead and clean the place the very best you know after the worst is over and stop all traffic into and out of this hog lot that is not absolutely essential for this will help to check its spread in the neighborhood.—Poland China Journal.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Nov. 12, 1921.

CATTLE

Cattle receipts dropped off sharply this week, but the decline in supplies failed to stimulate the market appreciably and the undertone has been weak throughout, only about 6000 head on the market for the week. A few loads of steers from Texas averaging in the 1050 class brought $4.85, while odd lots made up the balance of packer purchases. For the week the steer market closed generally a quarter lower, maybe not so much in spots, while there were others that a quarter hardly covered the decline. The butcher market is steady for the week, with not much good stuff here. The calf market is fully steady on weaners, while heavies were moving around a quarter lower, top being $8.50.

The stocker and feeder market continues steady with a slight decline of from 25c to 35c for the week. Good stockers are quotable around $4.00, while feeders are bringing $4.50 to $5.00. No country demand here at all this week, which is the cause of the decline in the market.

HOGS

Around 200 head of hogs on the market this week, with a much better showing of quality and the market showing an increase of 10c for the week, outsider top being $6.00 and packer top $6.50.

Stockers were very scarce with the best selling around $7.00 to $7.25.

SUICIDES UNDER WHEELS OF TRAIN

Saturday afternoon, about 2:00 o'clock, a man whose name is thought to have been H. Swartz committed suicide by jumping on the railroad track just in front of a freight train No. 18. The tragedy occurred one mile north of Memphis and was witnessed by a negro cottonpicker, who stated that Swartz hid behind a bunch of crossties till the train approached too near for the engineer to stop. Then he ran out on the track and threw himself in the middle of it, and was struck by the engine.

The engine was being driven by Engineer Blakenship, but he never saw the man and no one on the train knew of the incident until the train had passed entirely over the body. Looking back from the rear of the caboose, Conductor Lynes saw the body on the track, had the train stop and back up and carried the body back to Memphis, where it was taken charge of by local officials. Papers on the body indicated Waco as the dead man's residence. Officers wired for instructions and were told to dispose of the body there.

From the best information obtainable, it appears that Swartz had been an inmate of an insane asylum, but had been discharged. It is supposed that his mind had again become unbalanced and that he determined to bring his life to a close by allowing the train to run over him.—Childress Post.

JOEL

We are sorry for the oversight in not reporting the interesting meeting at the schoolhouse on Nov. 4th. The school children rendered a good program and all were interested in the talk of Mr. C. F. Walker on farm bureau work and that of Judge Gough on wheat growers association. We are glad to have these gentlemen with us and hope they will come again.

There is to be a program Friday night, Nov. 18 at the school house and the literary society will be reorganized for another year.

Horace Hershey has been trying his hand at picking turkeys for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hershey and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Galley attended the pie supper and spelling match at Progress schoolhouse Friday night and report a fine time and plenty of pie.

Lewis Smith and family took advantage of the beautiful day Sunday to go to Summerfield to visit his sister, Mrs. Hubert Odell, and the new baby.

O. L. Sharp has sold the small house his son lived in and it has been moved to Hereford.

I. N. Trimble has finished his visit at Happy and Canyon and has returned to his daughter's, Mrs. Lester Galley.

We will follow our usual custom and have a dinner at the school house on Thanksgiving Day. There will be music and a short program.

We are not sure whether or not there will be a sermon. Come and enjoy the day with us.

GENERAL HULEN IS GLAD TO HEAR OF RIFLE CO. HERE

Houston, Texas, Nov. 10.—Organization of a national guard company in Hereford would prove beneficial to that city in many ways, in the opinion of Major General John A. Hulen, as expressed in an interview here today.

"In the first place it would show that the people of Hereford are willing and ready to do their patriotic duty of contributing to the defense of the nation, so that we will not be unprepared in case another war should come," said General Hulen. "Of course, nobody wants war and we all hope there will be no more wars, but we never can tell what the future holds.

"In the second place, it is a wonderful outlet for the energies of the young men of the town, with their drilling rifle, practice on the range and their social evenings in the company armory. It makes better men physically of them and makes better citizens of them.

"In the third place, the pay of the officers and men and the cost of the upkeep of the armory is borne almost entirely by the federal government, with a small contribution from the state, and this brings in thousands of dollars annually to the town."

General Hulen, while active as president of the Trinity and Brazos Valley railroad, devotes much of his time to the affairs of reorganizing the Thirty-Sixth Division of the national guard, of which he is the Commanding General. He observed from report of the inspectors that a unit is being organized at Hereford, which prompted his statement.

"I am delighted to know that a company is being organized in Hereford," said General Hulen, "and I trust that the good citizens of the town will put all their support back of Captain Ewell D. Morris, who is organizing the company."

"It is our plan to have a rifle range for every company, and the boys enjoy learning to shoot—not just shooting, scientific marksmanship, in which elevarious ranges, windage and the other three points are taught and practiced. It is probable that we will soon have competitive score matches all over the state, and I would like to see a team from Hereford winning a trophy for high scores."

Llano county, Texas, will ship 25,000 turkeys to market this fall and winter.

Coal costs $14 to $15 per ton in addition to the hauling from the station, while the farmers receive but $8.50 per ton for corn, which they must also haul to the station.

larger portion of about two carloads of hay stored in the barn. The hay consisted of alfalfa, millet and prairie-baled stuff and was exceedingly hard to put out.

The fire boys as usual made a splendid fight to save the property. The roof was burned off, but the firemen lassoed the walls and pulled them down, then scattered the hay over the earth. They were busy most of the day stamping out the smoldering embers. Mr. Harrison was so pleased with their work that he presented the company with $25 for their treasury.

The blaze originated while Mr. Harrison was burning a fire guard around the barn. A small blaze sneaked through a crack and started all the trouble.
